MIDLAND ASKS LARGER AIR FORCE

DECISION ON WELL IN DAWSON COUNTY TO BE MADE TODAY

Contract Depth Is Reached But May Deepen

Decision was scheduled for today on whether to deepen or plug and abandon Ray Albaugh No. 1 Robinson, northwest Dawson county wildcat test. With original contract depth of 4,500 feet reached, and considerable discussion among geologists as to the character of the line section, several companies interested in the area are reported to be anxious to see the test drilled further into the lime.

Arco Royally Company No. 1 Burner, wildcat test in the northeast corner of section 6-205-32e, Lea county, about 15 miles northwest of the Lea pool, has been plugged and abandoned after encountering a sulphur water from 2,920-25 feet, the total depth.

John I. Moore's northern Glasscock county Ordovician test, No. 1 McDowell, which is being closely watched for its possibility of deep production is reported as having run drill pipe into the hole and cleaned out a bridge 20 feet off bottom, making two more feet of hole to total depth of 9,522 feet. More oil was reported in the additional drilling, and operators are planning to core.

Gulf No. 103 McElroy, deep western Upton county Ordovician test, is drilling below 11,762 feet in soft formations of red sandstone, shale and sand and limestone. The McElroy test is now the deepest operation in the world by some 400 feet.

WEST TEXAS OIL MEN INJURED IN COLORADO WRECK

BIG SPRING.—H. A. Harmon of Pecos and Joe L. May, 2429 Shirley avenue, Fort Worth, are in Big Spring hospital, following an automobile accident on the highway east of Colorado which occurred Friday morning at 11 o'clock.

Two men prominent independent operators were riding in an automobile driven by C. O. Byrd of Fort Worth, the party being enroute to the oil field near Jol, New Mexico.

As they were approaching Colorado, another car in front attempted to make a left turn into a road without giving a signal. The car, driven by Byrd, was swerved to the left, after side-swiping the other car, and went into a ditch. Although the car did not overturn, it was badly damaged, and Harmon and May each received a fractured right thigh. The injured men were brought to Big Spring by a Colorado ambulance.

They were reported resting as well as could be expected Saturday. The occupants of the other car were not injured, according to reports.

The oil men were driving a Packard touring car.

This Man Has Name For Dog Poisoner

A well known citizen, who owns a dog and likes the animal so much, venomously today of persons who go about under cover of darkness, feeding ground glass or poison to innocent "poaches."

His name, known to the management of the newspaper, was withheld from his statement lest some professional dog poisoner take vengeance on the writer's dog. However, he expressed himself as follows: "I do not think it proper, humane or decent to poison dogs. Dogs have been the companions of mankind since the world began. They have their peculiarities. And so have human beings and if humans have peculiarities why is it not in order to go ahead and poison a few human beings. If you carry out that idea which is reasonable go ahead and poison some of us and so even up the score. The result would be, if apprehended that a few individuals would sit in the hot seat."

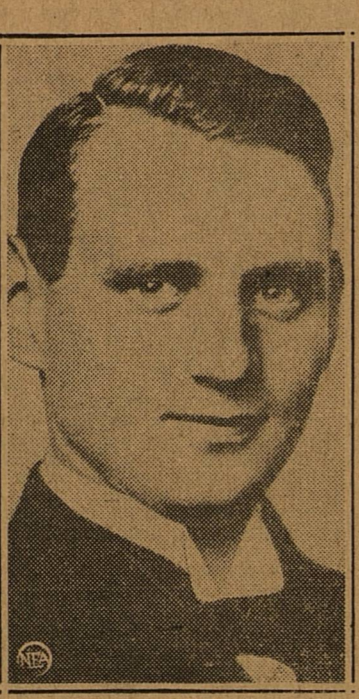

"Most dogs are pets and highly praised for their devotion and watchfulness. If my neighbor doesn't like my dog let him come into my house and complain about my poach and he will receive a graceful reception, not enthusiastic, but he will be listened to carefully and if he proves his case I will set it to that my nut is kept away from his premises and his children, but when he throws ground glass into a bit of meat and leaves it for my dog to feast on I feel that my six shooter is not doing its duty if it fails to get into action."

"I do not mean this as a threat. I mean it solely as a suggestion that the present method is not right and that it is reprehensible. It is in the dark after you have gone to bed."

"I have talked with the authorities and they agree with the idea. If your dog is a nuisance tell the owner but for the love of 'Mike' give the dog a chance for his life 'for he doesn't know when he is doing wrong. He's just a dog, same as you are just a human being.'"

Dane Crown Prince Wins Ingrid

Hailed as a love match, the engagement of beautiful Princess Ingrid (right) of Sweden and Crown Prince Frederick (below) of Denmark provides a new bond between the long independent Scandinavian countries. She is one of the few princesses who was eligible to marry the Prince of Wales.

Floyd Is First With Thoroughbred Foaled at Ranch

Jay H. Floyd, breeder and trainer of polo ponies was the first Midland horseman to receive a thoroughbred foal this season, it was made known today.

A bay filly colt out of Justina F, thoroughbred mare Floyd acquired last year from an El Paso army officer, arrived March 1. The filly is by Sir Dar, the renowned station son of Sweep which Floyd sent back to Fort Reno two weeks ago after using him four years.

Justina F won sizeable races at two and at three years of age, later being put on the polo field. She was voted the most outstanding polo pony on at least three nationally recognized fields. She is of imported thoroughbred stock, her breeding tracing to the Bend Or and Hamburg strains. Sir Dar traces to the Domino and Sen Brush lines.

Announcement was made March 14 of the arrival of a chestnut colt at the Tom Nance ranch, the colt being by the imported Grandace and out of Anna Fair, granddaughter of Fair Play and Tracey.

Oratorical Abilities of Long, Coughlin and Johnson Put Them in Public Eye

This is the fifth of a six chapter series of articles about the early history and subsequent lives of principals in America's three-cornered "Debate of a Century," the final chapter will appear Wednesday in this newspaper.

With George N. Peek, the agricultural expert, Hugh Johnson went into the agricultural implement business after the war. The two took charge of the Moline Plow Co. at Moline, Ill., and tried for seven years to give and reorganize an overexpanded "war baby." But it folded up at last, and the bankers got it.

Johnson worked furiously at his plans for NRA before it had been given the congressional O. K. When the law was approved on June 16, 1933, Johnson had his staff already picked, his plans made. At last he was the No. 1 man in a big job—the job of organizing industry into a partnership with government which should eliminate the ravages of competition in matters of wages, hours, business practices, so that all might be improved together.

As the country galloped toward the bank crisis of 1933, the voice of Father Coughlin had been growing in volume. Successive attacks on the Versailles Treaty, banking practices, prohibition, had shown the radio priest the way to his audience. A talk on "Hoover Prosperity" brought more than 1,000,000 mail replies, a record.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., March 19.—Mrs. Mary E. Ford, 23, a farmer of near Continental, Ohio, and Miss Josephine E. Knoll, 19, of Fort Wayne, fainted here Saturday while applying for a marriage license.

The girl swooned first and as deputies revived her, the intended bridegroom collapsed. After both were brought to consciousness they received the licenses.

"KLAPPROTH BILL" IS PROTESTED BY BIG SPRING BAR

BIG SPRING, Mar. 19.—Big Spring bar in no uncertain terms, has declared against a bill introduced in the Texas legislature to reduce the number of weeks of district court in Howard county from 21 to 17.

On resolutions to oppose the bill and to oppose any reduction of time for Howard county, the bar was unanimous. It was considered very probable that the local bar would be represented when the bill comes up for a hearing today before the senate judiciary committee.

While the bill was introduced by Senator Ken Reagan of Pecos, it is known among attorneys as the "Klapproth Bill" after Charles L. Klapproth, 70th district court judge.

First intimation of a contemplated change in length of terms came here when Judge Klapproth furnished the local bar with copies of a proposed bill. The present bill represents a modification of the first suggested measure.

Under the terms of the bill introduced by Senator Reagan, Howard county would be given a total of 17 weeks, Midland 12, Ector 9, Martin 5, Glasscock 2, or a total of 45 weeks. This compares with the present total of 21 weeks. Howard county 21, Midland 14, Martin 7, Ector 7, and Glasscock 2, a total of 49 weeks.

Members of the Big Spring bar pointed out that on the basis of population, cases filed, or cases tried, Howard county was entitled to a greater proportion of the district court time.

The local bar at one time the past week seriously considered introduction of a counter measure increasing the number of weeks for Howard county on the basis of population or actual number of cases filed and tried. This, however, did not materialize.

The local bar in the past week seriously considered introduction of a counter measure increasing the number of weeks for Howard county on the basis of population or actual number of cases filed and tried. This, however, did not materialize.

Under a proposed amendment offered by Senator Gordon Burns of Huntsville, clemency would be vested solely in a board of pardons.

Warned Strachey of Arrest

"Some good may come of this. Maybe I'll get back to you and the baby sooner." That says Mrs. John Strachey, wife of the young radical writer arrested in Chicago for deportation because of his alleged Communist activities, was her husband's comment when she was told that Federal agents sought him. She and 9-month-old Charles are shown in their New York apartment. They plan to sail for England March 29.

PROBE DEATH OF DEMING MERCHANT

DEMING, N. M., March 19.—(P)—F. L. Dutcher, about 60, proprietor of a small grocery store and filling station, and a resident of Deming for a number of years, died Monday of a bullet wound received early Sunday morning under mysterious circumstances.

Sheriff R. G. Franey of Luna county, who is conducting the investigation into the case, said Mr. Dutcher was fatally shot in his back by an unidentified assailant who fired into the room through an open window.

Mr. Dutcher was wounded in the stomach. The officer said he had no definite clues to Mr. Dutcher's slayer but suspected that the shooting was done by an enemy. Mrs. Dutcher died about a year ago.

BYRD ASKS RELIEF BILL BE SLASHED

WASHINGTON, March 19.—(P)—Senator Byrd of Virginia today asked the Senate to reduce the $4,800,000,000 (billions) district work relief bill by $3,000,000,000 (billions).

Senator Byrd asserted that $485,000,000 of the original public works appropriation of 1933 was diverted to ordinary departmental expenses.

Missouri Bank Is Robbed of $16,000

SEDALIA, Mo. Mar. 19.—(P)—The Sedalia Bank and Trust Company was robbed of approximately $16,000 at the opening today by three men after holding assistant cashier James Norlin prisoner for most of the night.

The trio seized Norlin, National Guard officer, while he was returning to his home during the night.

Herman Phillip of Midland was considerably improved after a mastoid operation in a Lubbock hospital Sunday, according to a letter received by his mother here.

AUSTRIA DEMANDS RIGHT TO COMPEL MILITARY SERVICE

Air Maneuvers in Germany; First Since War

LONDON, March 19. (P)—The English Government today asked the House of Commons to appropriate nearly $18,000,000 more this year than last for national air defense.

The government's plea for increased armaments followed their protest to Germany's reestablishment of conscripted army with air planes in violation of the Versailles treaty.

Government spokesmen said that Britain's defense weaknesses were not only a danger to themselves but also a danger to the continued cause of peace.

Meanwhile reports from Paris indicated that France considers the British protest, sent to Hitler yesterday, "weak."

BERLIN SEES FIRST AIR MANEUVERS IN 16 YEARS

BERLIN, March 19. (P)—A squadron of German bombers and pursuit planes roared over Berlin today in the first military air maneuvers in Germany since the World war.

Germany's first conscripted soldiers under the new compulsory military law will be called to the colors next September, a high Reichswehr officer said.

MUNITIONS FACTORIES WORK AT WAR-TIME SPEED

BERLIN, March 19. (P)—The British note of protest against Germany's rearming was presented to the Foreign Ministry Monday. Immediately after replying to the note, Germany, through its Propaganda Ministry, said it "already possessed a powerful and well-equipped army with excellent artillery and huge reserves of trained men."

"German arms factories," said Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels, "are working virtually on a war footing, material is being supplied from them in an ever-increasing volume."

FAT STOCK SHOW HERE SATURDAY

Midland will be the scene of a "Fat Stock Show" of its own Saturday afternoon if present plans of the promoters work out.

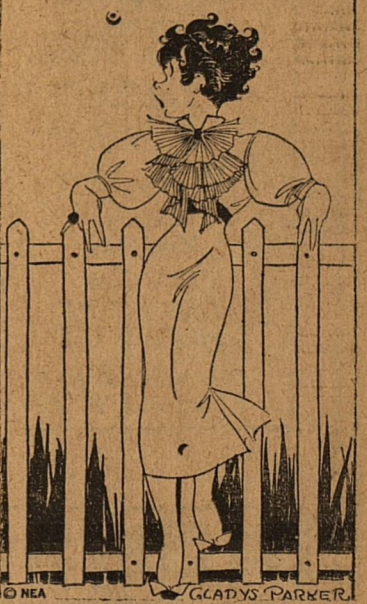

Plans have been made and all owners of livestock, horses, mules, cattle or poultry are asked to assemble and exhibit their stock on the vacant lot on Missouri street, opposite the Reporter-Telegram building.

It is planned to make the event a weekly one and after the first exhibit to turn it into an old-fashioned trades day. After this week, which will be devoted strictly to exhibition of the stock entered anyone having anything to sell or trade will be asked to meet at the same place.

It is expected by those interested in promoting the meet to prove successful as it is a weekly feature in many of the towns in other sections of the state.

IN HAPPY AGREEMENT

When both capital and labor agree that the country is beginning to come out of the depression, there must be something in it.

On the same day that the American Federation of Labor—usually deeply pessimistic—announced that “under the ruffled surface of the business stream, currents of revival are steadily gaining strength,” the United States Chamber of Commerce noted that a rise in production figures which began in December has continued steadily into March.

While the Federation saw small promise of jobs for the jobless in the immediate future, the Chamber estimated that 700,000 should have been re-employed by March 31 over the beginning of the year.

Certainly the conjunction of these two reports would seem to indicate pretty definitely that a real upward trend is at last in progress.

Over Grazing Is Stock Loss Cause

WASHINGTON, March 16—Over-grazing probably is the greatest single obstacle in the reduction of livestock losses from poisonous plants on the western ranges, in the opinion of Arthur B. Clawson of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, who spends each summer in the mountains at Salina, Utah, in the heart of a great cattle and sheep country.

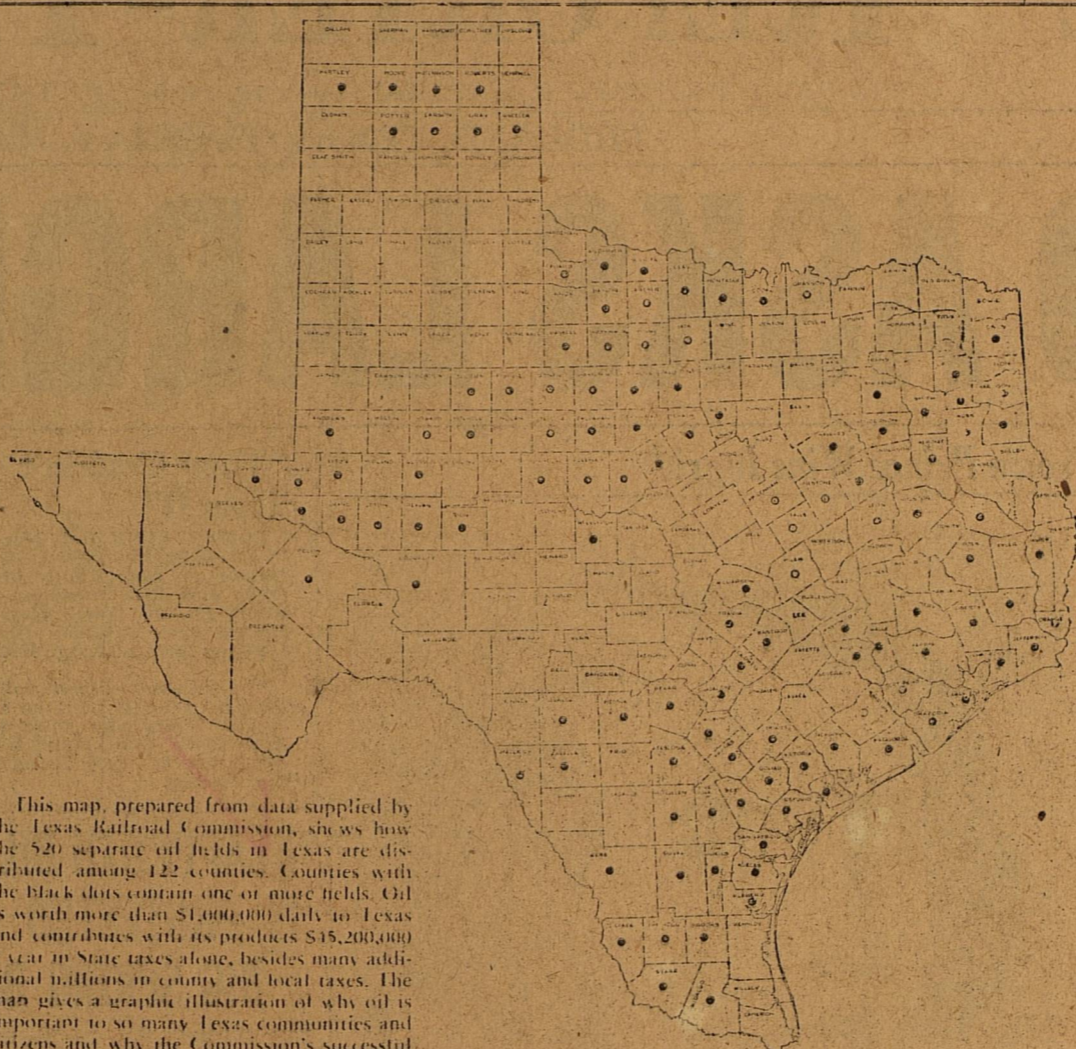

Plant poisoning usually increases as feed becomes scarce or limited as to variety. This condition means hungry animals, and the Bureau of Animal Industry finds that very frequently it is livestock with vigorous appetites which eat poisonous plants. It is the opinion of many stockmen, however, that some animals with deranged appetites actively seek out certain poisonous plants, such as the loco weed.

Sometimes vigorous appetites are the result of greediness. More often animals are hungry, possibly for something lacking in their feed, but more often because they do not have enough palatable feed, a direct result of over-grazing.

When feed is scanty because of a lack of rain, as has often been the case in the last few years, over-grazing may be unavoidable. But over-grazing because of over-stocking can be avoided. Some ranchmen report that plant poisoning over a number of years has increased as their pastures have been over-stocked and over-grazed, and has decreased when the number of animals was reduced and vegetation allowed to become more abundant.

The U. S. Forest Service, realizing the danger of over-grazing, has been gradually cutting down the number of cattle and sheep grazed on certain over-stocked national forest ranges. Many of the cases of livestock poisoning reported may be blamed on dry years. Light rainfall means, in addition to scanty growth of grass, that many areas cannot be used because waterholes or streams are dry.

WHAT OIL MEANS TO TEXAS

This map, prepared from data supplied by the Texas Railroad Commission, shows how the 520 separate oil fields in Texas are distributed among 122 counties. Counties with the black dots contain one or more fields. Oil is worth more than $1,000,000 daily to Texas and contributes with its products $15,200,000 a year to State taxes alone, besides many additional millions in county and local taxes. The map gives a graphic illustration of why oil is important to so many Texas communities and citizens and why the Commission's successful fight to retain supervision by the State instead of turning regulation of Texas oil over to Washington bureaucrats has won favorable consideration by the Legislature of the Commission's request for a slight increase in the allocation of taxes paid in by the industry, so that efficient supervision can be maintained.

With the realization that plant poisoning probably has as its basic cause a shortage of feed, unavoidable in the case of drought, but avoidable when pastures are deliberately over-stocked, the problem becomes more a matter of learning the how and when to graze rather than a matter of complete eradication of poisonous plants, says Mr. Clawson. Eradication of such plants is a poor policy, of course. Many ranches feel that the cost of destroying certain growing plants is more than offset by the livestock saved. But it is almost impossible to eliminate all poisonous plants. Many, such as the whorled milkweed, grow from roots that are difficult to eradicate. Others, such as some of the locos and lupines, come from seeds which may be dormant in the soil for years, so that large areas which apparently are free from some noxious weed will become infested again when conditions are right for seed germination.

The Bureau of Animal Industry, in more than 30 years of work on the range, each year has acquired more information as to what plants are poisonous, when they are dangerous and where these plants grow. The investigators try to find cures, when possible. But the problem is mainly one of precaution, avoiding the dangerous plants when possible and at other times grazing in spite of them by making sure that animals have plenty of safe feed both as to variety and quantity.

Mr. Clawson pays tribute to the practical information which is obtained from livestock men. While some know only that their livestock losses are caused by a “poisonous weed,” others more vigilant cannot only point to the specific plant, but often know where it is found, when it is to be avoided and what remedy, if any, is effective. While no two men are likely to agree on all of the hundreds of plants which may be poisonous, a study of those suspected and elimination of those proved “not guilty” adds to the definite information already available.

Baby's Play Fights Should Be Ignored, Parents Are Told

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"What shall I do about my little girl not quite four?" asks a mother. "She is at the age when you say it is high time for her to have some playmates, but the only ones about her for her to associate with make her cry. Day after day I try to fix matters up, but it is all to do over again, and I notice her disposition changing."

Which is right in line with our discussions of the little pre-school youngster and one more problem to untangle today.

When Mary or John has achieved the third birthday and entered the magic world of self thinking and self establishment, it is right for him or her to mix around with other people besides those in the family, especially if the family has no other children. Children need children to round them out. No need to give up space to the why's and wherefore's here.

It happens very often that the only available children do not fill the bill. Sometimes it is because they are undesirable. Sometimes because they are too old. Again, they are too different in temperament and disposition from the child in question to be compatible.

Is it better then to keep our Johnny or our Mary apart? Or let the struggle go on and make the best of it? The rule says to give them company so must we obey the letter and trust that things will come out all right?

First, we had better look at Mary herself. Is she a snappy little piece of humanity accustomed to bossing her way about? And is she so accustomed to commanding that she takes offense at the slightest opposition? In other words are we trusting to the street or neighborhood to do the training we have neglected?

This matter is important. We fond mothers have a habit of doing just that. We even leave the miracle to the school and kindergarten. They can do much, but not all. Like everything else, the more co-operation in this respect, the better.

However, let's take it for granted that Mary is a well-balanced, nice normal little girl who knows a bit about give-and-take, has had to bow her will just often enough to realize the world wasn't invented for her, and who is sporty enough in her small way to take a bump to her feelings, either emotional or muscular, without someone sobbing over her.

Then if we have tried, as this mother has done, to fix matters up and it is of no use, it is time to make a change. By a little strategy it is usually possible to find other small playmates, or even one who won't ruin a perfectly good disposition, cause a daily unhappiness so important at this age, and thwart, offend, shame or coarsen our darling because

COLUMBUS Before the WISE MEN of SPAIN

HAD it not been for his persistence, Columbus would never have entered on his voyage that led to the discovery of America. For five years he appeared at intervals before a court of Spain's picked wise men—clergymen, scientists, mariners—pleading his case, yet the court advised Queen Isabella that Columbus' plans were impractical. Later, as he left for France, Isabella recalled him and gave him funds for his voyage.

This five-year inquiry, held often at Salamanca, is pictured on the one peso of 1899 and the one-half centavo of 1900, issued by the Dominican Republic in its drive for funds to build a mausoleum for Columbus' remains.

About 25 women were present.

Mrs. M. J. Allen taught a lesson from the book, "Orientals of America" at the joint meeting of all circles of the Methodist missionary society at the church Monday afternoon.

FEMININE FANCIES

BY KATHLEEN EILAND

When you were six years old and mother shampooed your hair, didn't you always squirm at the feel of warm soapsuds running down your neck and soap stinging your eyes? Here is a practical hint for busy mothers that we clipped from a woman's page.

A wide-brimmed rubber hat without a crown makes shampooing a little girl's hair much easier than it ever was before. You slip the hat on over the little girl's head, pull her hair up through the hole which would be the crown and soap and wash. Not a particle of soap can get into the little girl's eyes and the hat makes the whole chore into a game for one.

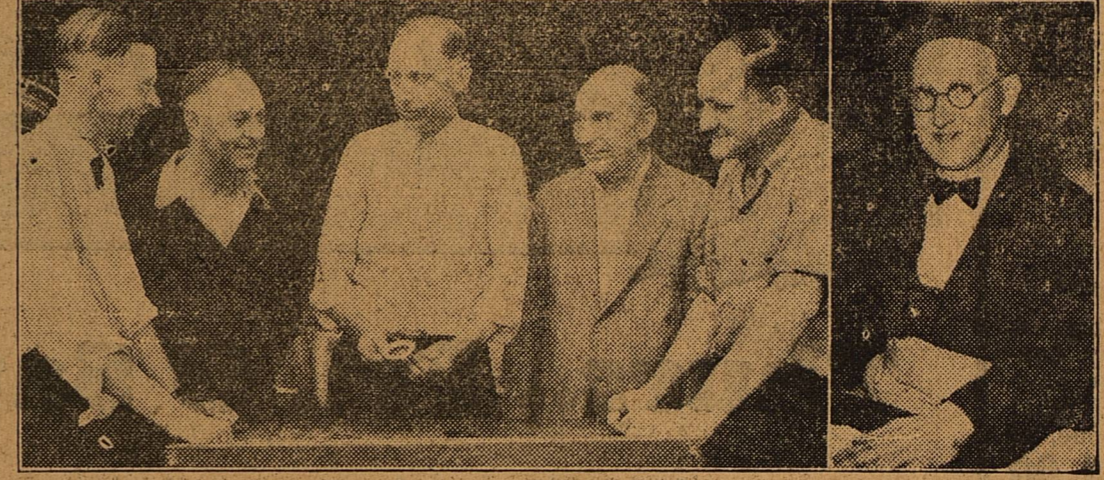

A brown leatherette wastebasket is handsome as well as practical. Its rich, dark coloring and roominess lend a dignity to furnishings which the gay, metal baskets can not do.

We've come to believe that a multiplicity of aids does not always really lend assistance. For example, we have a watch, our next-door neighbor keeps an alarm clock, and there are two other clocks in the house that strike regularly and yet we can't get to work on time. We wonder sometimes if we really are sleepheaded. We prefer, however, the explanation of confusion, arising from the fact that no two of the four keep the same time.

The red squirrel is equipped with a set of sensitive nerve bristles, which help guide its step. Some are on the forefeet, some on the stomach, and some on the cheeks.

Possibility of being struck by falling meteorites is so slight that, in a state the size of Kansas, an average of one person would be struck in 14,000 years.

HARDIN-SIMMONS IS ELIMINATED IN AAU TOURNAMENT

DENVER, Colo., March 18.—A game bunch of Hardin-Simmons university Cowboys dropped from the running of the National A. A. U. basketball tournament here this afternoon when they lost a heart breaker to the Rock Springs Sparks.

Leading 16 to 15 at the half, the Texans found themselves on the short end of the court immediately after the opening of the second stanza. A pair of free throws by Karsner and Witsack sent Shakopee ahead for the first time and they stayed on the top to the end, with Witsack making five goals and two free throws in the second half besides the nine points he contributed in the first.

Hardin-Simmons opened up a rally when behind 24-36, and narrowed the gap to four points. McCollum hit three consecutive baskets from the side in that abortive rally.

At one time the Cowboys held a 10-point lead over their opponents but frequent fumbling and irregular basket shots caused the Texans' downfall.

Shakopee plays the Wichita (Kas.) Gridleys in the second round.

"It pays to be consistent"

AN inconsistent advertiser is one who has good merchandise, and knows it... but doesn't know the right channel through which to present it, to build volume sales. In other words--an inconsistent merchant fails to advertise in his home newspaper, and therefore loses the trade of the very neighbors who would be most anxious to patronize him if they knew about his merchandise. But the successful advertiser is always consistent! He makes sure that he has what the public wants, and he presents it through regular advertising in the newspaper they all read. And when Brother Bobby, Sister Sue, Mother and Dad all see the advertiser's name before them regularly, they become so familiar with him and his goods, that it's second nature for them to patronize him. What do you say, Mr. Advertiser? Will you be an inconsistent watch-them-go-by, or will yours be the door to which all shoppers beat a path to buy... buy... buy...?

MR. MERCHANT: The Reporter-Telegram will gladly introduce you and your business to our thousands of daily readers.
