

The Hansford Plainsman

VOLUME V., NUMBER 14

SPEARMAN, TEXAS

THURSDAY, JANUARY 16, 1964

Come on Spearman! Let us wake up and take advantage of the opportunity for growth our new irrigation boom is offering us.

The other two big towns north of the Canadian are already making their bids to become known as irrigation towns. Dumas had a big meeting Wednesday on Agribusiness and Perryton is having a meeting Feb. 8, to promote irrigation.

Dumas is on the west side of the irrigation and Perryton on the east, but if those of us in the middle do not become more aggressive in promoting the new businesses and growth that comes with water, we will be left dead in the middle.

We have yet to talk to anyone who was not willing to help get more oil connected industries into Spearman, but somehow, all these willing workers were not organized. Little was done and much of the industry that could have been ours went to other towns.

It is time to stop our internal feuding, bury our personal dislikes for individuals and present a solid, working team to secure more irrigation business.

Is Hansford County going to have two girls' basketball teams in the state tournament in Austin this March?

This happy turn of events could be possible. Gruver girls look like the class of the A competition in the entire area. Spearman could go if they return to earlier form.

There is not a class A team in the Panhandle or South Plains that can match the Gruver scoring punch and defensive speed.

If Spearman regains its earlier speed scoring punch and stellar defensive work, then the big battle could be at regional against Friona.

Spearman has lost to Friona by three and Gruver by 13, they beat Gruver by nine, but the Lynxettes and Friona battle could be a toss-up if both teams are ready.

Spearman has had little opposition since the Gruver game and at times have looked slow and careless when leading by 10 to 20 points.

The performance tonight against White Deer could be a key as to how far they will go this season.

Talent Show and Auction To Benefit March of Dimes

One of the biggest fund raising efforts in many years for the County March of Dimes is being planned this year.

A giant three hour radio broadcast on Sunday, Jan. 26, designed to raise money for the March of Dimes is now being planned by Dimes Chairman, Mrs. Virgil Mathews and her assistants.

The broadcast on KBMF-FM will feature talent from over this area and an auction of merchandise and "White Elephants" donated by business firms and individuals. There will also be an auction of talent. Some of the reluctant singers and performers will not perform until a cash bid is made.

Both adult and student talent is in demand for this program. Anyone who would like to perform for the March of Dimes should contact Mrs. Louis Schnell in Spearman.

Different talent groups from the Spearman, Gruver, and Morse schools are being asked to assist with the program.

Spearman Jaycees will assist with the pick-up of items donated to the auction. Anyone having items to donate is asked to contact the Chamber of Commerce office, phone 659-3330, and the items will be picked up.

Many of the items to be auctioned will be on display in Spearman for several days, so people will have a chance to see what is being offered.

The broadcast will be from the High School Auditorium so there will be plenty of room for people who want to attend the show, see, as well as hear, the talent and bid on the merchandise and talent.

Mrs. Mathews said this is going to be a big undertaking and require lots of volunteer work, but the March of Dimes continues to help persons stricken with arthritis, birth defects and polio. There are still polio victims who need help.

Teams Meet White Deer In Games Friday Night

Spearman's district leading Lynxettes will get their toughest test in district Friday night when they and the Lynx invade White Deer for district clashes. There will also be B games for both boys and girls.

Cates Grocery Will Continue

The long line of Cates Grocery stores will continue in Spearman, it was announced this week.

The line of Cates Grocery stores here was continued this week when J. C. Cates and his son, Don, purchased Cates Grocery from Lucian Cates.

The store was closed for a few days while it was repainted and some remodeling. It reopened Monday.

Poll Tax Sales Continue To Lag

Poll tax sales in Hansford County have increased, but there are still more than 1,000 persons who have yet to pay the tax and become qualified voters.

Sheriff, Tax-Assessor-Collector J. B. Cooke said this week that only 950 persons have paid the tax.

Persons who have become 21 years of age since Jan. 1, 1963 are eligible to vote by obtaining an exemption 30 days prior to an election. Persons who are 60 years of age or older may vote without a poll tax or exemption, Cooke said.

There are only two more weeks to pay the poll tax. To help give more persons a chance to become qualified voters, poll tax booths will be set up in the Gruver Hotel on Wednesday, Jan. 22, and the Phillips Plant on Thursday, Jan. 23.

Spearman Jaycees will have poll tax booths set up on Saturday, Jan. 25 at different locations in Spearman.

New Doctor To Practice With Gregg

The expansion of the medical staff at Spearman Clinic was announced this week by Dr. Damon Gregg, clinic owner.

Dr. Lowman E. Gober is moving here from Brady to join the staff of the clinic. He will begin his practice here Monday, Jan. 30.

Dr. Gober is a physician and surgeon and a graduate of the University of Texas Medical School. He did post graduate training in the Public Health Service in California.

The 27-year old doctor has practiced in Houston and Brady. He is married and has four children.

Another doctor, Dr. Han Y. Shynn, an ophthalmologist is seeing patients at the clinic on Wednesday afternoon of each week. He is a specialist in surgery and diseases of the eye. Dr. Shynn sees patients by appointment only.

Post Office Remodeled

Remodeling of the Spearman Post Office is nearing completion. The work will enlarge the mail handling building and provide an office for the Postmaster.

The post office will now occupy all of the building owned by Mr. and Mrs. Archie Castleberry of Amarillo.

The wall separating the post office and the part of the building formerly occupied by a beauty shop was removed to give the office more working area. The postmaster's office will be at the front of the beauty shop building.

This is the third time the post office has been enlarged since it moved to the new building in 1958. The first enlargement was made on the rear of the building when the working space was almost doubled.

The need for more space was brought on by the city delivery service and a greater volume of mail.

In a prepared release Postmaster General John A. Gronouski stated, "Although we are continuing to build new post offices where they are needed, we constantly re-assess our lease construction program to determine whether present buildings can be altered or remodeled to take care of our expanding volume of mail."

Mrs. Schnell Is Bridge Hostess

Mrs. Louis Schnell was hostess to the Luncheon Bridge Club on Jan. 14 in her home.

Mmes. Irvin Davis and Dee Allen tied for high score and Mrs. Davis won the traveling prize.

Attending were Mmes. Jimmy Crawford, Laurence Brown, Don Floyd, Glen Mackie, Don Smith, Don King, Fred Dawson, James Lair, Irvin Davis, and guests Mrs. Dee Allen and Mrs. Edward Dear, and the hostess.

Probable Republican Candidate Speaks To Spearman Lions Club Tuesday

A probable opponent for Rep. Walter Rogers spoke to the Spearman Lions Club Tuesday as a guest of Mayor Bob Vaughn. The speaker was Smith B. Sybert, a Pampa dentist.

Sybert is not an announced candidate for the seat held by fellow Pampan, Walter Rogers, but he indicated he had the running fever.

The dentist said you could call his political philosophy conservative. However, he said no two people could agree on what makes a conservative.

Now is the time, according to Sybert, to stop, regroup, redefine and see what our common goal is going to be. The possible candidate indicated his pattern for reaching a better America could be reached by following a strict interpretation of the Constitution and a return to Christian faith.

Lynxettes Win As Rattlers Beat Lynx

In a night of slow basketball, the Spearman Lynxettes won their second district game and the Lynx lost their second encounter playing Stinnett teams.

The Lynxettes had little trouble handling the visitors and methodically went about the task of winning the game. Complete bewilderment of the Lynx by the Stinnett zone defense in the first quarter, left the Lynx so far behind that a third quarter surge could not pull the game out.

In the girls' contest Stinnett got their shots and lots of rebounds, enough to win the game, but they could not come close to the basket. Spearman won 48-29.

Northern Natural Club Meets

The Northern Natural Womens Club met Jan. 14 in the hospitality room of the First State Bank with Mary Brown and Marilyn Webb as hostesses.

The meeting was conducted by President Jay Reimund. Discussion of future programs was held.

Jay Reimund gave the program on "Interior Decorating."

Cake and coffee was served during the social hour to Frankie Grange, Hazel Stumpf, Patty Spoonmore, Fern Welch, Jay Reimund, Jackie Banks by the hostesses.

Vickie Wilde led the Spearman scoring with eight field goals and eight free shots for 24 points. She fouled out midway of the fourth quarter.

Phyllis Patterson hit five field goals and six free shots for 16 points. Helen Greever had three field goals and two free throws for eight points.

Spearman had 16 field goals, 16 free shots, 19 fouls and 48 points. The guards and Stinnetts' wild shooting limited the Rattlerettes to seven field goals, 15 free shots and 19 fouls.

The Spearman B girls won their game 53-20.

The Lynx could not get any shots from the field and missed their free shots, 9 of 23, as they lost to the Rattlers 44-35.

Spearman refused to shoot in the opening frame and picked up only two free shots to be trailing 11-2 at the first stop. Stinnett was shooting but were wide of their mark, or the score would have been higher.

The Lynx went to work in the second quarter, led by Jim Kirkland, scored 11 points to trail 13-22 at the half. In the third quarter the Lynx started shooting, led by Pat Pattison, and pulled to within one point of the leaders.

Stinnett's Jobby Bain continued to fire from the outside and opened the gap to 32-23 at the quarter. Spearman surged again in the final quarter and came within five points of the lead, but Stinnett broke the Lynx's full court press and went through the middle of the Lynx defense to score some quick baskets and kill the Spearman threat.

Pattison had 15 points, 12 in the second half, to lead the Spearman scoring. Kirkland hit 11, Johnny Crawford had 6, Larry Butt two and Ken Shufeldt one. The Stinnett B team won 33-17.

ryton High School Cafeteria, Jan. 6 at 7:00 p. m.

The FTA colors, red and white, were used in the table decorations, cake and punch.

Following the tea, Mr. Gilbert Mize, superintendent of Perryton schools, who has just returned from a tour of Russia and Scandinavian countries spoke to the group relating many observations and experiences by the group of educators on the tour. Colored slides were shown and discussed.

Russian children attend classes until 1 or 1:30 p. m. after which time they receive two hours of instruction in their favorite hobby. They stress labor. Each high school student must labor two days a week. After high school graduation, each student must spend two years working before they will be admitted to a University.

THE HANSFORD PLAINSMAN

County Agent's Report

What fun can a sewing club possibly have when every member shows up?

HERBICIDE

A new pre-emergence sorghum herbicide for grain grown for feed or seed will be ready for farm use on the Plains this coming season. The herbicide, propazine, will eliminate cultivation under certain conditions, reports A. L. Wiese, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station agronomist. Until late in 1963, the herbicide was approved for use only on grain sorghum grown for seed.

Wiese says propazine will be most useful on irrigated fields where weeds have been difficult to control by mechanical means. The herbicide also will be beneficial to farmers in the Blacklands and Gulf Coast regions.

Propazine is a wettable powder and must be applied at 35 to 40 gallons of water per treated acre. Considerable agitation is required or the material will settle to the bottom of the spray tank. A pump with a return capacity of 10 gallons per minute is satisfactory for agitation with a four-row rig.

Application must be made to the soil immediately after planting. Rain then leaches it into the root zone. If rainfall occurs before chemical application, weeds may germinate and grow through the propazine on the soil surface.

The biggest advantage of propazine is it controls both grasses and broad-leaf weeds. A second advantage is even if chemical drift occurs during application it is not toxic to cotton. Propazine is dependable, Wiese continues, because it will work well even if rain does not follow soon after application.

This residual action is also the biggest disadvantage of propazine. Susceptible crops cannot be grown for 18 months after application of the herbicide. The only crops which can be grown successfully the year following propazine applications are corn and sorghum. Because of the long residual period, propazine use is not advised on dryland fields in west and northwest Texas.

Research with propazine on the High Plains was initiated by Wiese in 1958. Since then about 25 chemicals have been tested as possible sorghum pre-emergence herbicides. None have proved as effective as propazine. Because of favorable results in test plots, propazine has been applied to field-size plots on two farms each year since 1961. Average yields of grain were 6090, 5830, and 5620 pounds per acre for areas receiving 1, 2, and 3 pounds per acre of propazine. Where cultivation alone was used for weed control, yields averaged 5710 pounds per acre.

Suggested rates of propazine application for the High Plains area are two pounds per acre on the silty clay loam soils for control of both grasses and broadleaf weeds, says Extension Agronomist Billy Gunter. If careless weed or pigweed are the only weeds present, one pound per acre broadcast is sufficient for season-long control. (Goat heads will not be controlled with one pound per acre.) In fields where the soil type is fine sandy loam or coarser, Gunter says, one pound per acre should be the maximum rate applied. It is not advisable to use propazine on fields of pure sand because serious injury to the crop may result.

The most profitable use of propazine on the High Plains will be for weed control in narrow-row sorghum. Sorghum planted in 10-inch rows is difficult to weed mechanically but will produce up to 1,000 pounds per acre more than sorghum planted in 40-inch rows.

GROWING SUGAR BEETS

"Growing Sugar Beets on the High Plains," a leaflet covering the crop from virtually every angle, is now available. The 12-page leaflet answers many of the questions farmers are asking about the crop, according to co-author John Seibert, Extension Farm Management Specialist.

Seibert points out sugar beet production is an exacting business and also says a contract should be obtained for disposing of the production. Present producers value their allotments highly and consider beets a low-risk crop. Precision operations and amount of capital required calls for top farm managers and adequate labor throughout the growing season.

All beet acreage has been contracted to sugar companies who operate under USDA quotas. Farmers should always have an acreage contract with a sugar company before producing beets, the specialist cautions.

Just a few of the many topics discussed in the leaflet include: fertilizer and irrigation practices, varieties, weed, insect, and disease control; rotations; and harvesting.

In a chart in the leaflet, Seibert has listed possible production and harvesting costs with expected returns from beets under average conditions. Total specified production costs are charted at $86.27. Harvesting costs are listed at $36-- for a total of $122.27 in production and harvesting costs. Income is charted at $180 with 18 tons per acre assumed pro-

Experimental Feeding Benefits Area Ranchers

Experimental beef cattle and swine feeding studies are taking on increased importance at Panhandle A&M College.

"We feel the experimental work stimulates the thinking of staff members, and benefits the swine and beef cattle industries of this area", says Marvin McKee, President of PAMC.

Current feeding trials under the supervision of M. W. England and Myron McCartor of the Animal Husbandry staff center around high concentrate and high roughage feeding of cattle, and confinement feeding of swine.

"Cattle are basically roughage consuming animals, of course" says McCartor. "Often, however, we are faced with shortage of reasonably priced roughage and would like to have an alternative." "We know that high concentrate or all grain rations result in rumen damage and more-or-less abscesses." However, McCartor and England feel that cattle on all concentrate rations will do well for about 140 days.

"Most feeder cattle will reach a grade of high good or low choice, and fall in the 900 to 1100 pound weight range on the all grain ration says England, who is also in charge of PAMC's bull testing station.

Steers on a high concentrate study last summer gained from 3.05 lbs. per day on rolled barley plus a supplement to 3.21 on rolled milo and 10 percent corn silage. Feed efficiency was best for barley fed cattle. They only required 6.1 lbs of total feed per pound of gain. Poorest feed efficiency was recorded for cattle receiving dry rolled milo and 10 percent cottonseed hulls plus the protein supplement.

"While the gains and feed efficiency are good, the cattle did have the advantage of added stilbestrol and an antibiotic" commented McCartor.

Very little difference is seen duction and $39.60 added for a government subsidy payment of $2.20 a ton. Total gross income per acre is this $219.60. This leaves net return per acre at just under $100. This figure, Seibert says, might be too low in view of tonnages produced per acre this crop year on the High Plains. Income is determined by the following; the sugar company pays on the basis of (1) average net proceeds from sugar and (2) the sugar content of the grower's beets. The government payment is determined by the commercially recoverable sugar from the beets marketed.

The leaflet can be obtained from my office.

in the performance of barley versus milo fed cattle. "Feed efficiency, and cost of gain and percent condemned livers favored the barley fed cattle, while daily gain dressing percentage and grade favored the milo fed cattle" says McCartor. No condemned livers were found in the twenty cattle on barley, but 30 percent liver abscesses were found in the milo-cottonseed hull fed group. "While the higher incidence of abscessed livers in the milo-cottonseed hull group may be accidental, more studies are planned to check these early findings.

Currently six groups of light feeder steers are being fed varying periods on corn silage plus a protein supplement, before being placed on high grain rations.

Two pens were started on high grain rations within three weeks of being placed on test. Two other pens were fed corn silage, plus supplement for 56 days and then changed to a high grain ration. The last two pens will be fed 112 days on silage and supplement, then be changed to high grain rations. Silage to grain ratios are slightly different between each pair of pens, with one pen being placed on a ration of 90 percent concentrate and 10 percent silage, the second pen of each pair receives 70 percent of concentrate and 30 percent silage.

The PAMC feeders hope to discover if light calves (weight on test was 450 lbs.) will feed out successfully, or if they should be fed a "growing" ration for a time before going to a high grain ration. The steers will be taken off the test as they reach a predetermined grade.

Rabies Vaccination Monday in Morse

The Safety Committee of the Community Improvement Association of Morse will sponsor a rabies vaccination for all the dogs and animals in the community and surrounding area Monday, Jan. 20 from 9 to 11 at the Community Building.

Charge for the shots will be $2.00 and the veterinarian from Spearman will give the shots.

Panhandle A & M Assists Interested Swine Feeders

Commercial swine feeding in relatively undeveloped in the Panhandle areas of Oklahoma and Texas, but work at Panhandle A&M College is designed to help interested swine feeders get into the business.

"We feel there is a tremendous potential for swine feeding, however most of us have never considered feeding swine on a commercial scale," says M. W. England, head of the Animal Husbandry department.

The high plain area generally has an excess of grain, which is the major feed item needed in swine rations.

"The only real disadvantage for swine growers in this area is a lack of strong market, particularly for high quality meaty-type hogs" says Myron McCartor, associate professor of Animal Husbandry, who is in charge of experimental feeding at Panhandle A&M College. "Also, protein supplements are more expensive here than in the traditional hog raising areas. Because of the greater shipping distance." Quantity purchases of soybean meal, and the use of vitamin-mineral premixes are saving money for many producers, however.

Last April McCartor converted an unused adobe poultry house into a confinement swine finishing barn with a capacity of 112 pigs. A new sloped concrete floor and gutter was run in the 20 by 70 building, and a lagoon dug for manure disposal. Pens with slatted floors were built in one half of the building, while pens in the other half have concrete floors with a slatted gutter at one end.

"We started using the building in May, and have finished out about 170 market weight hogs" says McCartor. Pigs raised on the slatted floors gained no better than pigs on concrete during the summer trial. "Most management studies indicate little or no performance improvement in pigs fed on slats" says McCartor. "However pigs on slats require less labor." Some disadvantages for slats listed by the PAMC Animal Husbandry department are: Increased initial cost for facilities, more problems with feed wastage from self feeders; difficulty of adapting limited feeding systems for use on slats.

In addition to management studies, the PAMC workers have carried out studies on the value of an added amino acid, and an antibiotic in cooperation with Romer Agricultural Enterprises of Holly, Colo. who supplied the experimental materials.

Romer is also cooperating in a current study to evaluate the use of limited feeding equipment for finishing swine.

"While we expect to increase the market grade of our pigs by reducing backfat we still feel that the best way of producing a meaty market hog is to improve our breeding stock rather than limit the amount of feed," says McCartor.

3.12 Pounds Gain On Test Program

Exceptional good gains have been made by 135 Hereford, Angus, Shorthorn, and Polled Shorthorn bulls in the current Panhandle A&M College beef cattle improvement program.

At 80 days the entire group of bulls averaged 3.12 pounds per day gain according to Milton England, Professor of Animal Husbandry, in charge of the bull test.

The high gaining pen is made up of three bulls owned by Willis Blau, Del Norte, Colo. The five Hereford bulls have averaged 3.63 pounds per day since going on test.

Second high gaining pen which averaged 3.59 pounds per day is owned by George Coffee of White Deer, Texas. The high gaining pen of Angus bulls are owned by Alnia Angus Ranch, Ponca City, Oklahoma, and have gained 3.14 since starting the test.

Percy Powers, Perryton, had the second high gaining pen of Angus at 3.03 pounds per day gain.

High gaining bull in the test is a Hereford, CRD Prince 4, owned by George Coffee, which has averaged 4.50 pounds per day. England calculates the feed efficiency based on total digestible nutrient intake rather than pounds of feed. So far the bulls have produced 100 lbs. gain on 5.02 lbs. of TDN. The ration is made up of 60 percent concentrates and 40 percent corn silage, says England.

Trap Shoot Announced

The Morse Lions Club will sponsor a trap shoot Sunday afternoon, Jan. 19 at Morse. Practice rounds are scheduled for 1 p. m. with the shoot beginning at 2 p. m.

Everyone is invited to attend.

ATTEND CHURCH

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Buchanan Speaks To 4-H Club

J. W. Buchanan of the North Plains Water Conservation district spoke to the Morse Junior Leaders 4-H Club last Wednesday afternoon at the school auditorium.

Buchanan spoke on "New Trends in Agriculture" and stressed the fact that it takes a highly skilled operator to be a farmer now. He gave the details on the essay contest that is sponsored by the water district.
