State Empowered To Regulate Motor Trucks And Buses, Federal Circuit Court Says In Decision

AUSTIN, (UP)—The state is empowered to use its police power to control traffic on its highways, fixed by statute as regulator of interstate or intrastate business, a three-judge United States district court held. The court gave its opinion in refusing injunctions to the Wald Storage and Transfer company and D. A. Beard, who had asked that the Texas railroad commission be restrained from interfering with them. The railroad commission, fixed by statute as regulator of motor trucks and buses carrying passengers and freight on the highways, had refused permits to the applicants for authority to haul over the highways. The court referred to its decision in the Galveston Truck Line company case to point out that the commission has no right to refuse permits simply because to do so would impair existing transportation facilities. In the Galveston case the court had granted an injunction restraining the commission from interfering with that company's trucks because the commission had based its refusal of a permit on the ground to do so would impair existing transportation facilities. Permits were denied to the Wald company and Beard, however, wholly upon considerations of traffic conditions. The opinion said the state had full right to control by prohibition and permit as to intrastate business and that it had the right also to control the use of the public roads by persons desiring to use them for hire as to interstate business.

Farm Near Salado Scene Of Search For Gold Treasure

TEMPLE (UP)—More than a century ago, so legends say, Indian Chief San Savas stood near a fork of Salado creek and looked at the sweating backs of Indian braves who tolled with heavy rocks. For six months the Indians had swarmed over a hillside, digging, moving boulders, and even transplanting a tree. They were weary. Chief Savas raised a hand in signal, his men gathered about him, and with a backward glance the entire party silently disappeared in the underbrush. Behind them, so traditions say, they left 500 jack loads of gold buried in a sealed, water-filled cavern.

This week a farm two and a half miles west of Prairie Dell teemed with suppressed excitement. Machinery, spades, picks and other equipment jolted across ploughed fields to the site of a large tree. Beside it was a hole that led to an unknown cavernous depth. A few persons believe it leads to the fabled $1,000,000 worth of lost gold bullion. At least, G. C. Pope, Williamson county farmer, and his associates intend to find out the truth of the tradition. W. F. Cullen, former telegraph dispatcher at Temple, Harry Allen of Belton, T. J. Nelson, Temple and S. C. Robertson of Salado, have joined in the expensive task of seeking the treasure cave.

They propose to pump dry the water-filled cavern, and explore it. An Indian laborer, who worked on the Pope farm, told the story of the San Savas treasure, claiming the Indian chiefstain was his great grandfather. Many points in the Indian's tale have been verified, it was claimed.

1. The Indian declared two air holes leading from the top of the hill into the cavern were marked by elm trees on the north side of each. Pope said these were located. 2. A glance into one of the air holes would reveal a stalactite formation resembling a man's leg. The Indian claimed, Pope said this, too, was found true. 3. Equipment of the old San Savas mine included a smelter and a rock crusher, according to the tale. Pope found a crusher bearing the date 1811 stamped into the metal.

4. The Indian said the treasure cavern was flooded with water from Salado creek. Pope declared that muddying water in the cave also muddied Salado creek. 5. The Indian claimed the cavern runs beneath the creek. Pope said that smoke from a fire built in the mouth of the cave escaped from crevices in a pasture two miles on the other side of the creek.

The Indian also claimed his grand father, Red Eagle, entered the cavern through a secret entry in 1884 and carried away $400,000 worth of gold. The entire cache of

Food Consumed In Large Quantities By Big Spring Reforestation Army Members Stationed In New Mexico

Food, food, and more food seems to be the cry of all the members of Company 843 of the Reforestation Army judging from a letter from one of the army, Jack Dean, of Big Spring.

He gives the impression that the forty Big Spring boys are on their good behavior by stating that five of them were appointed foremen. He also says that they are working hard.

The letter is written as follows: Monica Magdalena, N. Mex. June 21, 1933.

Dear Editor: This is Company 843, located 275 miles northwest of El Paso, and 45 miles from the nearest town. Sure wish you could enjoy the scenery we have here. There are about 40 Big Spring boys in this company. Jack Glenn, Frank Griffith, Horace Smith, Jack Dean, and Howard Houser have been appointed foremen. All are doing well. I will send you a little note and try to give my home town some idea of how we are being fed, of course that is the most important thing here. We use: Meat—100 lbs daily. Bread—75 loaves daily. Eggs—3 cases daily. Coffee—10 lbs. per meal. Sugar—10 lbs. per meal. Beans—25 lbs. per meal. Spuds—150 lbs. daily. Rice—25 lbs. daily. Onions—25 lbs. daily. Pies—45 per meal. Fruit—75 lbs. per day. I suppose you are wondering what kind of work we are doing. Well, we are building 45 miles of road through the mountains and believe me we sure work.

Tell J. E. Payne I hope his ball club the best of luck and I will see you all Christmas. Yours, JACK DEAN.

Abilene Adopts $560,000 Budget

Citizens of Abilene Friday gave silent approval of the city's proposed budget of $560,921.18 for 1933, and the schedule, tentatively approved by the board of commissioners May 26, was formally adopted.

The approval, on the part of citizens at large, was silent because not a resident appeared for a public hearing on the budget, set in keeping with requirements of a state statute. The commissioners made the approval unanimous, all voting in favor of the proposed schedule. The budget allows $203,460.60 for operating expenses, a reduction of $18,000 from the amount set up for 1932, while the larger portion—$257,501.86—is set aside for bonds, interest, note and warrant requirements.

There is $42,000 allowed for paying off bonds due this year; $108,522 for interest and commission on bonds; and $18,976.86 for other warrants and notes with interest falling due before May 1, 1934, and of the current fiscal year.

The commission apparently was not surprised at the absence of citizens from the hearing—it practically became a formality a month ago when the chamber of commerce public expenditure committee indicated approval of the tentative set-up. During 1931 and 1932, around $160,000 was shaved from the city's budgets by the expenditures committee.

The commission at its regular session Friday inaugurated a new custom, inviting department heads and other city employees in for brief interviews on their work. They all got a pat on the back from Mayor C. L. Johnson and the commissioners. Indications being that the city's activities are running quite smoothly and efficiently.

Speed Shown By Industries With Recovery Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Hugh S. Johnson, head of the National Recovery Administration, said Friday work of bringing industry into trade agreements, was moving faster than he had expected. Before next Tuesday, when the first formal bargaining begins on the textile code, a "consumers" board will be created to advise along with boards representing labor and industry. Efforts will be made to discontinue price fixing. Johnson intends soon to add somebody to his staff to aid in stabilizing the oil industry.

WITH ROBINSON & SONS

C. A. Johnson, who for the past three years has been affiliated with the Clare Grocery, has accepted a position with Robinson and Sons. gold may have been removed. Silver and gold from the old San Savas mission, and a 250 pound solid gold bull's head the Indians worshipped, are said to be hidden in the cavern. Mineralogists and historians, asked to comment on the tale, acknowledged an interest in the story, but denied any conviction that the vast wealth actually lies buried in the cavern.

A MESSAGE TO ALL FORD WORKERS

You and I together are credited with having created "mass production." We use it to make more things in less time at lower cost. By it the people have more and better goods at cheaper prices. Workmen earn higher wages with less strain—not less work. The level of American family comfort has been visibly elevated.

Industry never harms a country; harm comes from elsewhere. But Industry bears the brunt of it. After the slump came, we increased our $6 minimum wage to $7 a day, which continued for 22 months. Today our wage rate is the highest in our line. But Industry still suffers for something she did not cause. Between making and using things, something outside Industry has stepped in to prevent the maker from making and the user from using.

We pioneered the 8-hour day, the 5-day week, a minimum wage that has always exceeded the market rate. Relations between employees and the Company have always stood on a just and human basis. We are as interested in social progress, and possess as sensitive a social conscience as any reformer whose theories have never met the test of a pay-roll. We pay for doing what we think is right. And we achieved these industrial decencies not by regulation or compulsion, but by being free of financial control and "gentlemen's agreements"—free to do what we saw was right and necessary.

We have no fears of what is ahead. We can make good motor cars under any just system. I think industry will spread out. Big factories, crowded industrial centers, will dissolve. Instead we shall have workshops in village and country. Nearness to the land will prevent the worst shocks of economic change. The benefits of "mass production" can be retained without the evils of massed industrial crowding. That is the next step.

You and I are able to take this next step because of what we learned in taking the present one.

The trouble started because the front men were not let in on the exchange manipulation secret. They felt embarrassed not knowing what they were talking about.

Signals also were changed on the 10 per cent tariff cut and other matters. Our whole attitude about the conference altered after they left for London.

That it have been so bad, but Mr. Roosevelt was not here to issue the new orders himself. He let Moley do it.

Some of the conference delegates wanted to know if Moley was president.

Stabilization

Government officials are swearing the dollar is being permitted to find its own level.

That is being said merely to maintain a sanctimonious attitude internationally. The truth is we have a managed currency. It is being very well managed for its effect on both the London Conference and our international protection.

We will put the dollar down when we want it down and up when we care to. The only country able to fight us is France. Apparently she has been too busy with her own financial troubles to go chasing the dollar with gold.

What the administration has in the back of its mind is stabilization of currencies in about two months. They hope by that time to be far enough along on the road to recovery.

They intend to fight against the natural summer slump with their new powers. You can expect more inflationary measures and stronger ones as soon as the forces of nature start pushing business down.

Revaluation of the gold dollar will come after stabilization, if at all.

Notes

The British first asked us to stabilize the dollar some weeks ago at three dollars, forty cents.

We laughed. Baruch is not on the government payroll and his activities are supposed to be very informal. The men at the top here are bitter about France.

The things they said in that curt note were only half of what they said privately. You can be sure France will get very little consideration.

Moley will set himself up in a hotel room in London and run our end of the conference from there.

The announcement that he would stay only a few days was made to save the regular delegates' feelings.

He may remain in London indefinitely. No one need shed any tears about the three press boats following Mr. Roosevelt and detouring him from his privacy.

He has lived like a godfish all his life and does not let it bother him. The boats cooperate to guarantee some privacy. They appear only twice a day to get news.

Most of the time Mr. Roosevelt shouts it over the rail in person.

NEW YORK

By James McMullin

Markets

The current buoyancy of the stock market is wholly speculative. If the London Conference blows up it ruptures many established firms. The shock would create extreme confusion and probably drive the markets down sharply.

An accurate forecast of the future may be possible after the main results of a London breakup are behind us and it becomes clear how far domestic inflation is going. The best posted insiders will tell you that it is impossible now.

At present all the speculative markets are swinging in direct production in dollar exchange. The situation is virtually ignoring all other factors. This is especially noticeable among the lesser commodities. Freely surplus stocks and failure of consumption to reach expected levels have registered on the minds of very few bulls.

New York generally accepts the 1928 price level as the administration's objective.

Stock prices have already reached 80 per cent of that level while other more basic elements lag far behind. Wholesale prices have reached only 64 per cent, retail trade 63 per cent, general industrial production 64 per cent, freight 49 per cent and steel production 47 per cent.

Most of the stock market gains of all factory payrolls are still only 50 per cent of what they were in 1928.

Industry

The government's biggest job under industrial control will be to keep purchasing power ahead of production. The idea is to get four million people back to work by the end of the year without letting production get out of hand.

It will be a grand trick if they can do it but New York is skeptical. Plenty of business men who pay lip service to the industrial control plan are panting for the profits they foresee but are not as keen to share them with labor.

General Johnson needs a mailed fist to save labor from holding the bar.

Other business men are willing to try higher wages and higher prices but are dubious about selling their product at increased rates. They sought comfort from the government on this point but have been told that marketing is distinctly their worry.

Earnings

The stock market may take it on the chin when the government wage program becomes clearer. Many current stock prices anticipate juicy earnings based on the low costs now prevailing. It will be a shock when the speculators discover that costs are going up.

Inflation

Domestic inflation is still in the talk stage but the dope is that it won't be long now.

Positive action will be needed to offset the effects of the Securities Act and the Glass Banking Act. Both of these are strongly deflationary.

The first step likely to be official devaluation of the dollar by 30 or 25 per cent. That is under consideration in inner circles. But it will be kept in reserve as long as possible partly because it is more effective as a threat than as an accomplished fact in international affairs.

Also there is much point in springing it until the well of boom psychology begins to dry up.

Inflation via Treasury notes is also in prospect in connection with the closed bank situation. Inside sentiment is growing that the best thing to do with the closed banks is to rest them out of their misery.

The government would take over their assets and pay off their depositors. Paper money is the only way this could be done since it would be a question of at least three billion dollars.

The Committee for the Nation is strong for the move as a means of boosting purchasing power. The Committee also used its influence against the closed banks. It still has a swell record for getting what it goes after.

Test

New York hears that British holders of U. S. bonds are preparing to bring a case before the U. S. courts to test the constitutionality of gold payment repudiation. The verdict is expected to uphold cancellation of the gold clause.

Plenty of other cases are in preparation to test various aspects of the new security, bank and industrial laws. The trick is that nobody wants to be the first to bring suit.

Utilities

Some of the big utility chains are in for an unhappy summer. The Consolidated Gas group in particular is due to be thoroughly curbed on its wage policy. The New York Public Service Commission has started the ball rolling and the Federal Labor Department stands ready to pinch-hit.

been one-quarter bale per acre (125 pounds of lint). He would be paid $7.00 per acre for the 30 acres returned or $210. He would also be given an option at six cents per pound on 7 1/2 bales the amount 30 acres would produce according to former yields and then if cotton went to 10 cents per pound he would be paid the difference between what cotton was sold and the option price.

Plan No. 2

Under Plan No. 2, farmers wanting all cash payments and not desiring to take an option on Government cotton are offered a higher scale of cash rental payments than offered under the first plan. The cash payments on this plan are made according to the following production table yields to be determined on the basis of former average yields per acre.

Land yielding 100 to 124 pounds of lint per acre $7.

Land yielding 125 to 149 pounds of lint per acre $9.

Land yielding 150 to 174 pounds of lint per acre $11.

Land yielding 175 to 200 pounds of lint per acre $14.

Land yielding all over 200 pounds of lint per acre $20.

Under this plan the farmer who retired 20 acres out of 100 acres planted to cotton, and whose former yields are determined, is to have been one-quarter bale per acre, he would be paid this summer $200 per acre for 20 acres or a total of $200.

A meeting of farmers from the different communities of Howard County has been called in conference with the County Agent and Manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce to have the different plans explained before a general meeting of farmers called for ten o'clock Monday morning at the City Hall.

The committees appointed by County Agent Griffen are: Elbow, W. R. Cotter, J. F. Caudle, J. H. Bruton.

Lomax, L. E. Lomax, A. J. Rice, A. J. Stallings.

Cookman, A. W. Thompson, P. R. Spears, C. J. Engle.

Public Meeting

In a further effort to be of assistance to the farmer in this cotton reduction plan, the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce has secured the services of J. E. McDonald, Secretary of Agriculture, to be in Big Spring in a public meeting on June 30. Mr. McDonald has recently returned from Washington where he was in conference with U. S. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace when the plan was announced.

Mr. McDonald will be in position to thoroughly explain this project. Farmers and business men from adjoining towns and counties are signifying their intentions to attend the meeting here on June 30th.

The county agent will visit the following communities during the coming week and with the help of the committees in session today explain the Cotton Retirement Plan. Highway, Monday at 2 p. m.; Fairview, Monday night; Moore, Tuesday, 10 a. m.; Coahoma, Tuesday, 2 p. m.; Tuesday night; Stanton, Wednesday, 10 a. m.; Lomax, Wednesday, 2 p. m.; Center Point, Thursday, 10 a. m. The meeting to be held at Center Point will be for the convenience of those living in the Center Point and R-Bar communities.

Cowboys Play Ackerly Here

Other Tri-County League Games Slated At Colorado And Forsan

Dusty Diamond clients will have a chance to see Sammy Bain's Cowboys put up a real bottle today at two o'clock. Sain and company, as the Tri-County League comes into the home stretch of the first half of the split season, will be battling for a first place position.

At present Ackerly and Col-Tex are tied for first place honors with the Cowboys in second place. Since the Punched seem to have the edge over Ackerly, they will be in position to win the first half of the split season.

Col-Tex plays Coahoma at Colorado while Forsan entertains the Mexican Tigers on their home field.

Barring any earthquakes or upsets, Col-Tex and the Tigers should take their games fairly easily while the Cowboys will have the Ackerly nine with the sack.

IN MEMORY OF EDITH MARY NABORS

To know Edith was to love her. The better one knew and understood her, the more they loved her. One had to know her intimately to know her true worth.

She was the woman who was more loyal and true to her friends and loved ones than she.

She was biggest-hearted, kindest, most loyal and most self-sacrificing woman I have ever known.

A part of her religion was to do some kind deed each day for someone, and to do all she could for those who needed help.

Some of us may live a lifetime and never know for sure just who our true friends are. But I for one know that she was a true friend, for she had stood the test and was not found wanting.

She had suffered so much for more than a year, but would never complain to her friends. So how were we to know the intense agony she suffered? Untold number will now miss her helping hand and financial help to her friends.

She did so much good and wanted absolutely nothing said about it. Wanted no praise or thanks for any kind deed. "Oh, that is nothing, bless your heart" was always her reply to thanks and words of appreciation. A dinner on her lawn she had planned for this afternoon (Friday) for her four pals and husband. A how we will miss her cheery words, how we will miss that telephone call each morning.

Just a few hours before she left on that same sweet cheerful voice came over the wire, "Hello, dear, how are you?" She is gone. But the memory of that dear kind voice will linger always with us.

I am sick from heart ache and sorrow in the loss of my dear friend.

One who loved her dearly. MRS. BOB EUBANK.

The fact is the American Federation of Labor has been the most powerful enemy of communism and other poisonous influences that sought to strike at the very roots of our government and our system.

The union worker will tell you that there is only one excuse for cutting wages and salaries. When every effort is made to maintain revenues of a business and those revenues nevertheless fall below the amount being paid out, then something must be done. And, they want to be certain revenues actually are below expenditures, too.

Just the other night in Big Spring we heard a railroad brotherhood representative declare he would favor additional taxes to maintain wages and salaries of city employes.

Not every union man, perhaps, would favor additional taxation. His service will be in the nature of a memorial service, after the date the church has set for observing and commemorating the nativity of John the Baptist, June 24.

The Episcopal church has set aside two natal days to be observed as days of fasting and prayer, the nativity of John, Baptist, and the Nativity of our Lord.

In older times in England, the church people would go into the woods and break down branches of trees, which they brought in and placed above their doors with demonstrations of joy. This was done in continuation of the promise of the angel concerning John; "Many shall rejoice at his birth."

The sermon will be in keeping with the day.

FIRST METHODIST

"Without Reservation" will be the Men's Sunday School topic at First Methodist church Sunday morning.

The pastor, the Rev. J. Richard Spann, will preach at both the 11 o'clock and 8 o'clock services. The choir, directed by Mrs. Chas. Morris, will provide special music.

The Men's Bible class lesson will be of special interest to the men who have been following the teacher's study in the Life of Christ.

New officers of the bible class are providing specially interesting worship services at 9:45.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

"The Endless Quest" an "Our Lord in the Garden" will be the subjects of the Rev. John C. Thorns, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, today at 11 and 8:15 morning services. These sermons close the month's series on prayer. In the morning Mr. Thorns will sing "Teach Me To Pray, Lord."

Buck Brothers' Trial Summed Up By Counsel

BARNSTABLE, Mass. (AP)—The prosecution and defense counsel summed up Saturday in the case of Kenneth and Cyril Buck, alleged kidnapers of Margaret McKeith.

Judge Edward P. Hanly said he would deliver the charge after a noon recess. The case then was expected to go to the jury.

Drought Fails To Effect Sales Of New Automobiles In Big Spring

Save for a stubborn drought that refuses to be broken, Big Spring joins the business front of the nation in a more optimistic outlook.

New car sales refuse to be checked. Thirty had been registered Saturday noon for June with six more days to go.

Post office receipts, although showing no marked increases, are holding more than their own seasonally.

Building permits, although not markedly up, show a greater number of substantial permits or a hundred dollars or more.

Certain merchandising centers here report slightly increased volume of business.

SCOUT NEWS

Annual council camp will be held July 12-26 near Barksdale. Many Big Spring scouts will attend both weeks while more than half will likely be in camp for at least one of the two weeks.

The camp is located on an improved site where ample facilities are already provided. There is an abundance of pure test water, and the swimming hole is clear and cool.

Routine will be early rising, morning exercises, a plunger, breakfast, rest, inspection, test, passing and instruction, morning swim, lunch, rest, instruction, test, passing, pleasure time, games, afternoon swim, dinner, council fire, and taps.

All swimming is conducted under the buddy system, that is boys are paired before being permitted to enter the water. Every few minutes a whistle is blown and each boy must come up with his buddy. If the two do not stay together, they are made to get out and dress.

Boys who have never been able to swim a stroke are classed as "Sinkers" and are confined to very shallow water. Those who can keep themselves afloat are classed as "floaters" and can get in water little over waist high. Those who can swim even better are "B" and "A" swimmers are permitted to splash with the "A's." It is the ambition of every boy to graduate one or two ranks during camp.

Food is cooked as well as Mother can do it, and in more plentiful quantities. No boy goes hungry.

Monday 7:45 p. m. Board of Review will begin at the First Baptist church. The board meeting will terminate an advancement contest which has been in progress for five weeks.

Thursday evening Court of Honor will be convened at the First Methodist church. Badges will be awarded to all who have advanced one rank or more.

Area Executive Williamson boys call him "Chief." He will be present for both sessions.

TROOP MEETINGS Troop No. 5—Eagle Patrol furnished the color guard and Charles Smith opened the meeting with the Pledge of Allegiance.

After patrol meetings, a first aid contest was held. Mistakes of each patrol were pointed out. The scoutmaster asked a few questions about what had been done wrong.

Most boys present said they were planning to attend the council camp.

The troop engaged in a fun drill contest, and after the meeting was dismissed a few passed tests.

Those present were: Dale Smith, Marvin House, Gerald Alexander, Buck Tyree, Lloyd Stamer, Durwood Riggs, James Ogie, Jack Dabney, Howard McMahen, Randall Lovell, Preston Lovelace, Charles Ray Sikes, Ed Tyson, Charles Smith, James Figford, the Scoutmaster, and the Mascot, Leonard "Lightning" Ogie.

Troop No. 3—Although vacationing put a crimp in the attendance record, the troop had a good meeting. Loy Acuff, scoutmaster, led the troop in the Scout Oath to open the meeting. After the opening a few songs were sung and a plan was put before the troop to make Home On the Range their official troop song. This plan met with approval.

"SOUTHWEST REVIEW" AUTUMN

This issue is a trifle late and we have a hunch we have seen it before (due mostly we believe) to Flora Lowrey's several articles on Mexican social service work in Dallas—they call it there a project in interracial cooperation. But we are of the opinion that the southwest can not become too well acquainted with its own products, hence this review.
