Panhandle Eastern Gives Playground Equipment

Spearman City Parks will have six more pieces of playground equipment thanks to Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co.

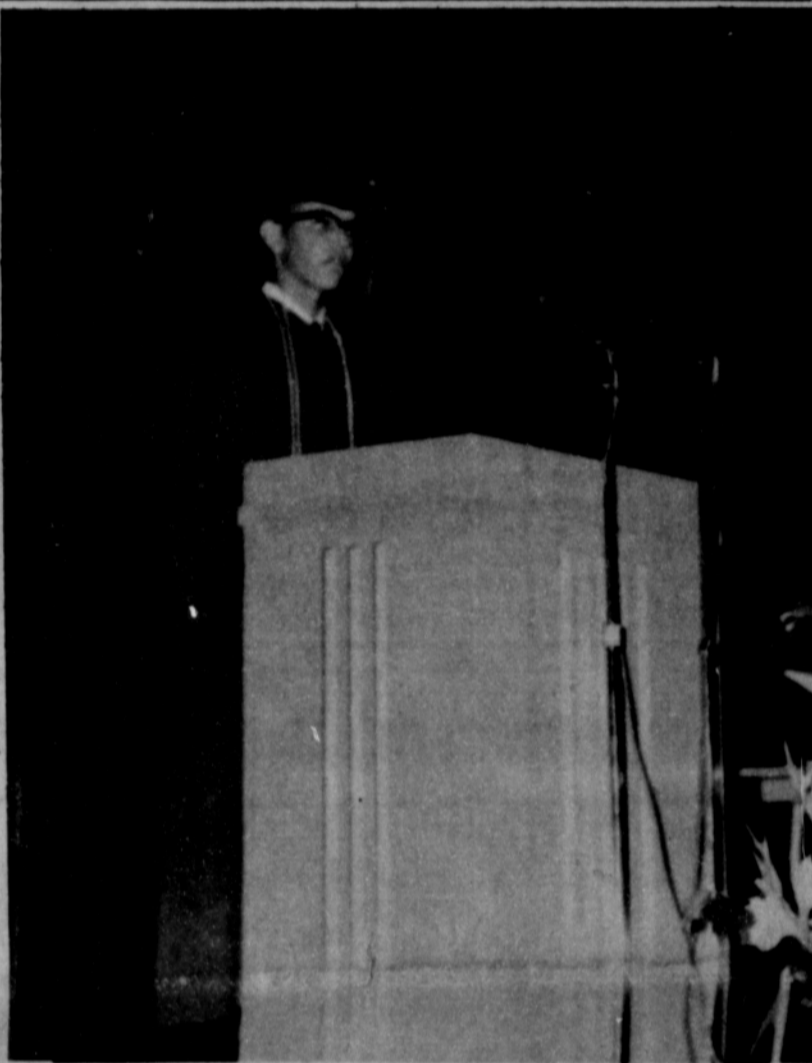

Tuesday, Mayor Bob Vaughn and City Manager Ken Conrey accepted the six pieces of playground equipment from Ed Wright, Manager of the Panhandle Eastern Plant at New Hope.

The swings, slides and other equipment is on the playground of the New Hope school. The school is to be moved off the plant property within the next year.

The New Hope school building has been on the plant property since it was built in 1944. The company built the building, then the district paid the company.

It was a large eight-grade school until the plant housing was closed last year. Enrollment then dropped to nine students. Three graduated this year.

New Hope students have come to Spearman to high school and graduates of that school have been some of the honor students of the Spearman graduating classes.

VALEDICTORIAN-Spearman Valedictorian Burton Williamson delivers his speech to his classmates and a capacity crowd at graduation Tuesday night.

County Receives Half Inch Of Slow, Soaking Moisture

After so many months of waiting a small dent was chipped in the drouth Tuesday night when from a half to one inch of rain fell over most of the county.

In Spearman the official total was .6 of an inch. This brings the official total for the year to 1.92 of an inch of moisture, according to records kept by Mrs. Pat Cates for the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Her record shows Spearman has received measurable moisture four times this year. The amounts have been .07, .11, 1.14 from the big snow, and .6 Tuesday night. According to the Texas Almanac our average annual moisture is 21.86 inches.

Charles Brillhart reported .40 at his house in the New Hope area. Ellzey Vanderburg reports an inch at his farm five miles southwest of Spearman.

Bill Jackson estimated a half inch at his house five miles east of Spearman.

An inch is estimated in the Morse area and to the west. Morse received .3 in a shower Tuesday afternoon, then an estimated three-fourths of an inch Tuesday night.

Gruver received .6 and about that figure was reported all around in that area. Bob Bailey of Gruver said the rain appeared heavier in the southwest part of the county and on to Sunray.

At the O.C. Holt farm 14 miles southwest of Spearman .8 was measured.

Although the rain is too late to be of much benefit to much of the dryland wheat, it will take some of the pressure off the irrigation wells. It will also provide some moisture for planting the maize crop and bring some grass to the pastures that are still dead.

Democrats and Republicans Set Party Run-Off Voting Places

Democrats and Republicans will each have two places to vote in the parties' run-off elections Saturday, June 6.

There will be both Republican and Democratic polling places in Gruver and Spearman.

County Democratic Chairman J.D. Helms said a box will be set up in the Gruver School for voting precincts two, three, four, five, seven, eight and nine. A second box will be placed in the Spearman Courthouse for voting precincts one, six and ten.

Democratic voters will have one race to decide, United States Representative at Large. The candidates are incumbent Joe Pool of Dallas and Robert W. Baker of Houston.

Republican County Chairman

S.B. Hale Jr., says there will be two polling places for the GOP voters. One at the Gruver school and one at the Spearman Courthouse.

Republican voters will be deciding upon the Republican candidate for Senator to oppose Ralph Yarborough in the General Election in November. The two men seeking the job are George Bush and Jack Cox.

Students Can Enroll Now

Students can enroll in the Spearman High School Summer School Session through June 1, when classes start, Dean Weese said this week.

Weese, director of the school, said plans now are for teaching all four years of high school English, American and World histories, Texas History and Civics.

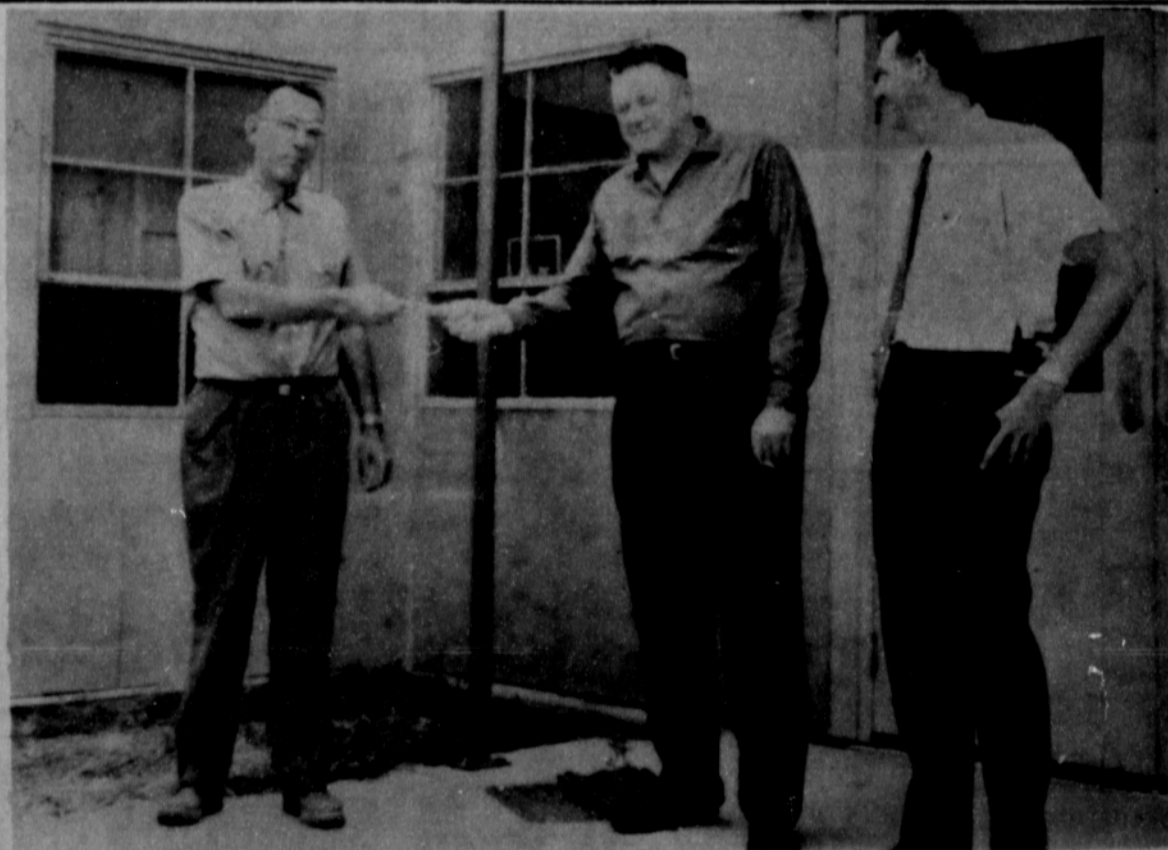

Students will be accepted from any high school and the credits from these courses are transferable to any school. Tuition is $40 for a full credit and $20 for a half credit.

The classes will be conducted in the new air conditioned Spearman High School from 7 a.m. until noon five days a week for six weeks.

Mrs. Sam Patterson will teach junior and senior English. Weese will teach World and American History and Allen Alford will teach Texas History and Civics.

A remedial reading class will be offered for Spearman elementary students. The classes will also be in the air conditioned high school. Tuition for the reading course is $40.

Students may register for the reading course on June 1, from 8 to 9 a.m. Classes for reading students will begin at 8:30 a.m. and be finished at 11 a.m.

OWNERSHIP CHANGES--Ed Wright, Manager of Panhandle Eastern Plant at New Hope, presents Spearman Mayor Bob Vaughn with a receipt of ownership for the playground equipment at the New Hope School. Manager Ken Conrey watches the transaction.

Sherman County Forms SCD

Sherman County resident-landowners voted last Monday 92 to 40 in favor of forming a Soil Conservation District.

The landowners will meet within the next few weeks to elect supervisors to govern the District. These supervisors will complete the organization procedure.

After their organization is set up they will be in a position to enter into a Memorandum of Understanding with the Soil Conservation Service to furnish technical assistance.

Miss Romas is a Cuban refugee who was a music teacher and student in the University of Havana before leaving the country. Her father owned a book store at the University before communism came to power. The family has lost all of its possessions under the communist rule.

The young woman is a forceful speaker who keeps her audiences at an emotional peak throughout her talk.

She believes she will return to Cuba, but she said her parents wanted she and her brother to leave so they could have a better life, if the communist do retain power in the small country.

It is her contention that unless the United States does not change its policies in Latin America we will lose all of the countries in South America to communism.

Miss Romas, like so many Latin American students, is well versed in the politics of her country and its neighbors. She has definite opinions about western problems and is forceful

Sprig Midland Bermuda by July 1

John McAlister
Soil Conservation Service

Farmers or ranchers planning to sprig acreages of Midland Bermudagrass this year should make every effort to have their grass sprigged by July 1st. Planting by July 1st will greatly increase the chance of getting a good stand of grass and getting a good cover the first year.

Midland Bermudagrass, a hybrid between Coastal Bermudagrass and a cold hardy Indiana Common Bermudagrass, is producing excellent yields of forage under irrigation in the High Plains Area. Midland is best or maybe a day. The sprigs should be kept moist and shaded from the time they are dug until they are planted. By protecting your sprigs from sun and wind; you greatly increase your chances of getting a good stand of Midland Bermudagrass.

Management is the secret of success with Midland Bermudagrass just the same as it would be for a maize, wheat or cotton crop. Midland will not yield best results if it is sprigged and forgotten about.

Weed control is perhaps the biggest factor in determining the quality of the stand and how rapidly the ground is covered by the grass. Weeds may be controlled by several methods such as by the use of a rotary hoe, (for small weeds) mowing or using chemicals where they can safely be used. Conventional cultivators may be used for weed control until Midland runners are 10 to 12 inches long.

Allowing the grass to become well established before grazing is also a very important management factor. Little if any grazing should be expected the first year. Generally, Midland Bermudagrass requires the first growing season to develop a good ground cover and a healthy, vigorous stand. Grazing should not begin until the Bermudagrass reaches a height of approximately ten inches. The grass should not be grazed below a height of about five inches.

When grazing after frost, approximately 2,000 lbs. of residue per acre should be maintained for soil protection.

A system of rotational grazing will solve the problems of watering and fertilizing. By separating your Bermudagrass into two or more plots; you can fertilize and water one plot and graze the other plot. This rotation can be carried out on a set schedule. For help in setting up one of these rotations, contact your local Soil Conservation Service Office. The SCS technicians serving your Soil Conservation District will be glad to assist you in working out a rotation schedule for your Midland Bermudagrass pasture.

adapted for use in the High Plains where some winter killing may be expected with Coastal Bermudagrass.

Sprigs for planting Midland should be well developed and plump to give the best chance for vigorous new plants. Allowing sprigs to dry out will seriously reduce their viability. Common Bermudagrass exposed to the wind and sun from 12 to 2 p.m. lost 70 percent of the viability during this two hour period of exposure. There is practically no loss of viability of sprigs when they are kept shaded and moist. For this reason, it is best to obtain only enough sprigs to plant for a half-day

Joyce Sparks Has Wreck

Joyce Sparks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sparks, escaped injury in a car wreck eight miles east of Gainesville at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Miss Sparks, a student at East Texas State College in Commerce, was enroute home when the accident happened. Her father went after her and they returned home Tuesday.

She said a car turned left across the four lane highway in front of her and the two cars collided. Neither driver was injured.

A wrecker was following behind Miss Sparks and he just stopped and waited until the highway patrol finished investigating the accident, then towed the cars to Gainesville.

Sure-Fire Fire Starter

A sure-fire fire starter, even in wet weather, can be improvised by mixing sawdust with a small amount of kerosene. Pack the mixture in screwtop cans or jars and take them along on your next trip afield.

OPINIONS -- The "Calcutta Pool," a betting system used in some sporting events, such as horse races, golf tournaments, tennis matches, skeet and trap shooting, is illegal, according to Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr. He says the Calcutta Pool system constitutes a lottery.

Carr also held a district court may not commute (shorten) the sentence of a parolee, since state law vests the power to grant reprieves and commutations in the governor.

In another opinion, Carr gave the state insurance board a go-ahead to prevent insurance firms from offering credit as a customer come-on.

Khapra Beetle Eradicated

The world's most destructive pest of stored grain, the Khapra beetle, is believed to be completely wiped out in Texas as well as the rest of the United States and Mexico.

The beetle's appearance in the El Paso area was great cause for alarm about five years ago. Texas Department of Agriculture inspectors, along with U.S.D.A. officials and grain storage owners waged a hard-fought and expensive campaign to wipe out the initial infestations. The insect is an extremely "dirty" eater, destroying 90 per cent more grain than it actually consumes and a very light infestation quickly grows, ruining grain in an entire elevator or storage bin in a remarkably short time.

The last known evidence of the Khapra beetle in the U. S. was found on July 11, 1962. In Mexico, no new infestations have been discovered since mid-1961.

Control officials point out, however, that even though no beetles are now known to exist in this country or Mexico, there is still a possibility of local infestations being found from time to time. During the past few months, some 28,000 properties in 11 Western states have been surveyed.

The Khapra beetle, whose name means "brick" in its native India, has not been easy to eradicate. It is hardy and adaptable. Its name came from the fact that it has been known to work its way through a two-foot brick warehouse wall.

The first insect was found in California in 1953, later spreading to Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and Mexico. The extensive fumigation program inaugurated to wipe out the pest required wrapping warehouses in gas-tight tarpaulins before methyl bromide gas could be released.

One difficulty is that beetle larvae can live three years without food. With ample food and favorable temperatures, they can produce as many as 12 generations a year, attacking all grains and grain products.

Texas and federal inspectors will keep a sharp watch for any evidence of new infestations in coming years. But the victory achieved thus far is remarkable.

Homemaking Notes

By Linda Webb

Home Demonstration Agent

Favorite recipes of many homemakers in Hansford County were collected and made into a recipe book by members of the Home Demonstration Clubs. These cookbooks are now available to anyone from any home demonstration club member or from the County Extension office. The price is $2.00 per book, and the recipes--well, why not get a cookbook and try them out for yourself?

Summer time is salad time--and there is a salad for every meal and every occasion. Cool, crisp and colorful are watchwords in salad making. Make tossed vegetable and fruit salads just before serving so the vegetable and fruits will not discolor.

Instead of getting in a salad rut, try different combinations of ingredients. And, get acquainted with many kinds of salad greens. Combine greens whenever possible for color contrast and taste appeal. Here are only a few suggestions you might try if you don't use them already: endive, spinach, young beet and celery tops, tender turnip or mustard greens, and parsley.

Whatever greens you use, remember to select only crisp tender greens; remove wilted or bruised sections immediately; wash them thoroughly in lukewarm water, then drain or dry them in a soft towel; store in a vegetable crisper or a plastic bag in the refrigerator. "Salads", extension bulletin B-945, has recipes for many appetizing salads and salad hints for a cooler summer at your mealtime. It's available to you for the asking at the County Extension office.

Make ahead desserts are a boon anytime to a busy homemaker. One of today's trends in glamorous make ahead desserts is to the chilled and frozen kinds. The recipe I'm passing along to you today is "Rocky Road Refrigerator Cake." One of the beauties of this type of dessert is that the flavor mellows upon storage. This cake actually cuts better if allowed to stand in the refrigerator for a day before serving. What's more, it will freeze successfully, holding quality up to three months.

Rocky Road Refrigerator Cake
 1/2 cup dark seedless raisins
 1 (1-pound) package fudge brownie mix
 1 teaspoon instant coffee (optional)
 1 teaspoon vanilla or rum extract

Rocky Road Filling

Chop raisins coarsely. Prepare fudgy brownies according to package directions; stir in raisins, instant coffee, and flavoring extract. Turn batter into greased 9-inch-square pan. Bake according to package directions, being careful not to overbake. Cool thoroughly, then cut square into 3 equal strips. Put strips together with Rocky Road Filling, spreading some of the filling on top. Chill 4 or 5 hours or overnight before serving.

Rocky Road Filling

1/2 cup dark seedless raisins
 1/2 cup California walnuts
 1 cup whipping cream
 2 tablespoons cocoa
 1/8 teaspoon salt
 3 tablespoons sugar
 1/2 teaspoon vanilla or rum extract
 8 or 10 marshmallows, cut in pieces.

Coarsely chop raisins and walnuts. Beat cream to soft peaks; beat in cocoa, salt and sugar. Fold in raisins, walnuts,

Day By Day

That .60 inch of rain Tuesday night was wonderful but it sure wrecked my column for this week. Now you'll never get to read all that "dry" wit.

There's a truthful and yet entertaining article in this month's McCall's magazine entitled "Weekends, U.S.A.: What Ever Happened To Fun? Leisure Is Our Two-Day Rat Race".

It's a timely article to read with the Memorial Day weekend so close at hand. As for me though, it didn't change my mind. I'm still going to be a weekender who must travel to the water to hunt a good time, to corner it and seize it with both hands.

I've always liked those delicacies called Spudnuts that are sold by little boys every now and then. Since their selling days are very few and far between anymore, here's a good recipe for Spudnuts, the only one I've ever come across.

SPUDNUTS

1 cup milk
 1 cup mashed potatoes
 1/2 cup shortening
 2 eggs
 3/4 cup sugar
 1 tsp. salt
 1 tsp. baking powder
 5 to 6 cups flour
 1 pkg. dry yeast
 1/2 cup lukewarm water

Place dry yeast in water to dissolve. Add sugar, shortening, and salt. Allow to cool.

Add potatoes, eggs, yeast, flour and baking powder to the milk. Cover, set aside and allow to rise until doubled in bulk.

Roll out dough and cut for donuts. Let rise about 1 1/2 hours. Fry in deep fat, drain and dip in glaze. Yields about 60 donuts.

GLAZE TOPPING

To one stiffly beaten egg white, add: 1 box powdered sugar and 1/2 cup cocoa (which have been sifted together.) Blend in hot water to thin to glaze consistency.

Mrs. Trayler Is Hostess

Mrs. Joe Trayler was hostess to the Arts & Craft Guild Friday, May 22.

Attending were Mmes. Guy Fuller, Ned Turner, F.J. Hoskins, P.A. Lyon, Sr., and the hostess.

There will be no meeting Friday of this week.

The Victoria Falls are in Southern Rhodesia.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Brinkley announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carla, to Mr. Coke Cudd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Cudd of Perryton.

The wedding will take place July 10 at the First Baptist Church.

Carla is a graduate of Spearman High School and attends WTSU. Mr. Cudd is a graduate of Perryton High School, attended Panhandle A&M and WTSU.

EDITORIALS

Memorial Day

Since 1776 Americans have been paying for the right of freedom with blood and suffering. May 30 is Memorial Day, the National Holiday for honoring these war dead.

To most of us it will be a holiday, marked with fun and loafing. Very few will pay attention to the few speeches, and services honoring the men who have paid an installment on the high cost of freedom.

If we cannot take time to listen to a speech, read the tributes or attend special services, let us at least once in the day say thank you to the men who died that we might have the right to ignore the small tributes being paid them on Memorial Day.

MEMORIAL DAY · MAY 30

Beginning and End

It is completed! It is started!

This week 42 seniors of Spearman High School received their diplomas for 12 years of work and play in the elementary and secondary schools. This exercise marks the end of childhood and the beginning of a life that will add to, detract or pass unnoticed across the pages of history.

These seniors, like millions of others across the nation, have been spoon-fed some kind of education for the past 12 years. In their minds have been planted the basic tools of learning; and, we hope, the ability to think and reach sound conclusions from the mass of information and misinformation that will be poured upon them the remainder of their lives.

This ability to think and reason is probably the most important tool with which the students can be armed. Until now parents, teachers and others have helped guide these growing bodies and minds through the pitfalls of life. Now, these young adults will have to depend upon their own minds for the remainder of their education and guidance.

Parents and others will help, but now the final decision will be with the individual. College instructors will not insist they study or attend classes, employers will not force them to work. The progress they make in education, business or professions will depend upon that ability to think and use the tools of learning.

The future and its unlimited opportunities belong to this class of 1964. The first step to achieving it requires the students to begin thinking immediately. He or she must decide if the rewards are worth the effort.

Exploded Myth

It has been a bitter pill for Northern politicians to swallow, the strong showing in three state Democratic primaries of Alabama governor George Wallace, who ran in these primaries for no other reason than to explode the generally held notion that everybody was in favor of the current Civil Rights bill except the South.

Wallace stunned the civil rights advocates first in Wisconsin where he got 33 per cent of the votes. In Indiana he captured 30 per cent and in Maryland he scared the daylights out of the home folks by polling 43 per cent of the votes cast.

This kind of showing is proving a point--that northern people are not unanimous in favoring the proposed civil rights bill because it is obvious that North as well as South would be subject to the proposed new federal intrusion and control over their affairs.

As time goes on, the civil rights bill is being amended and compromised and even weakened as Congressmen from Northern states are hearing from their constituents and learning that the demand for passage of the bill is not as great as first believed.

There are those people, and we are among them, who doubt that a civil rights bill is the answer to the segregation integration question. Witness New York, which has all the civil rights laws ever devised, where the Negro has all the rights of voting, housing, employment, etc., yet still New York is a hotbed of racial unrest.

It makes one wonder what would finally satisfy the Negro. Would it be the wholesale abdication of jobs by the whites, vacating of homes by the whites, and the total assimilation of the Negro into the social culture of the whites? If this is the final answer, we have a long wait ahead.

The civil rights bill seeks to establish by force a new pattern of attitude among white and Negro alike. It seeks to change, by law, generations of social attitudes that are deeply entrenched.

The civil rights bill does not rely upon the basic freedoms enumerated in the Bill of Rights and our federal constitution, such as freedom of religion and freedom of press, but are concerned rather with a relentless drive to wipe out "discrimination" and "bias" based on race and religion, mainly the former.

The trouble with the bill now before the Senate is that nobody can read it and tell exactly what it permits or prohibits. Whether "discrimination" occurs in any particular instance is left to the judgement of the persons administering the bill.

Advocates of the bill say we should have faith in the judgment of the bureaucrats administering the law. Most Americans have by now had enough experience with the hard headedness of federal bureaucrats to be highly suspicious of their good judgment.

Governor Wallace has made a point. Civil rights is not a problem solved by the stroke of a pen.

Spearmanites Study With Famous Artist

Ruth Hutton and Vera Beth Hicks of Spearman and Mildred Hindergard of Gruver returned Monday after a weeks study under the famous artist, Charlie Bunnell of Colorado Springs.

TEXAN

You cattlemen and bankers can quit worrying about the collapse of the cattle market. Everything is going to be all right. According to the government, by 1975 we are going to eat our way out of the surplus beef and prices will be back to a profitable level.

Of course, you cowmen have to put off eating until 1975.

In a March 18 issue of the Tulsa Herald we were reading H. M. Baggerly's column and found a statement with which we can find some agreement. The statement:

"The Conservative of our time consistently fail to come up with a solution to the problem at hand. They sit back, wait for someone else to make a move, then oppose it."

This is the one big failure we find in the campaigning of the conservatives. They are against a strong central government running everything, but they fail to present solutions that will take the place of the fouled up government intervention they oppose.

Baggerly goes ahead to state that the conservatives pretend the problems don't exist. He writes that the conservatives' actions tells everyone to leave the problems alone and they will go away.

We do not think any responsible conservative politician does not realize the nation is beset by domestic and foreign problems. However, he thinks they can be solved without more government.

If the conservatives ever expect to make any real strides into political power, they are going to have to put their ideas, solutions to problems, and the results before the people. Americans are great at looking at something before they buy.

There are many people who do not think the current trend of letting Uncle Sam do everything is good. However, they are not going to vote for a party of "aginers", they want someone who can show them how and why the conservative or individual freedom method is best.

Any door-to-door salesman can tell you that you are not going to make any sales, just knocking your competitor, you have to prove your product is better.

Several scholarships and awards were presented to Spearman graduates Tuesday night. The Junior Chamber of Commerce added another scholarship to the list of those given. This is one of the finest ways an organization can help the community.

Principal Frank Cockrell said, as he presented the awards, he hoped more organizations would find ways to help high school students go to college.

We may not get these students back after college, but their education will serve to make some other community a better place and that in turn will help us.

Lawmakers' Report

"Senior Citizens Homes, price spread between farm prices and store costs, and civil rights concern the three lawmakers in Washington representing our area.

Senior Senator Ralph W. Yarborough is on a committee looking into longterm care for patients in nursing homes. The Senator says the committee is "working to upgrade the nursing homes, to better care for our elderly citizens in Texas and the nation."

Congressman Walter Rogers is wanting to know what is wrong with the farmer's share of the food dollars. His share of the dollar has dropped from 47 cents in 1950 to 37 cents today. In the past 16 years, the prices received by the farmers for their products have dropped 12 percent while the prices paid by consumers have increased 29 percent.

"In an effort to find the answers to these and other questions involving the food industry, the Senate this week passed and the House will soon consider legislation establishing a "National Commission on Food Marketing." This 15-member bipartisan panel (including five Senators and five House members) would make a thorough study of the food industry from the farmer to the consumer.

"The inquiry would be aimed at these points:

"What changes actually have occurred in the structure, concentration, and business relationship of food marketing firms?"

"What will the food industry be like in the future if present trends continue?"

"Will this food industry structure be consistent with the national longrun interest? What will be the effect of this structure on the family farm--on the consumer?"

"What kind of food marketing system do we want?"

"The food industry involves expenditures of $70 billion annually at retail. About 11 million Americans are employed by it. All segments of the food processing industry--farm organizations, major food chains and grocer associations, and labor unions--support the proposed Commission study. The President has recommended enactment of the legislation."

Senator John Tower thinks the Civil Rights Bill needs lots of amending. He said the opponents of the bill lost their fight to get the jury trial amendment in the bill by one vote, but other jury amendments are going to be presented.

"There are other jury trial amendments to be considered and voted on. One of them, sponsored by the leadership, would allow a citizen to have a jury trial if his sentence is to exceed a fine of $300, 00 or 30 days in jail. In other words, if the judge is convinced of the citizens' guilt, and if he anticipates that the fine will exceed $300 or 30 days in jail, he may allow the citizen to have a trial by his fellow citizens. This seems to me an exceedingly strange approach to justice.

"I am supporting amendments that guarantee our citizens a right to jury trials whether the judge thinks they are guilty or innocent. I would prefer that the decision be made in accordance with traditional Anglo-Saxon concepts of justice and freedom--namely, a trial by jury."

Tower says he is also introducing an amendment to the bill that will protect the freedom of the press from federal encroachment. He said the amendment would remove employees of newspapers, television and radio from coverage under the bill.

He said he did not want some federal bureaucrat determining the hiring practices of those who report and interpret the news.

There is some criticism of the amendment because some do not feel that the press should be singled out for special attention. Tower says the framers of the Constitution thought the press should have special attention and said so in the first amendment.

NACOGDOCHES — Built in 1779 as a Spanish trading post and fort, the Old Stone Fort is now a museum, located on the campus of Stephen F. Austin State College in Nacogdoches. Over its walls have flown eight flags.

Nacogdoches Has Beauty And Historical Interest

It has been said that you may spend your holiday in any type surroundings that suit your fancy—and still be in Texas. If you prefer forests, then East Texas is for you.

Here you drive through gently-rolling country, along highways that tunnel through deep woodland. In the spring, thousands of dogwood trees in full bloom add to the beauty of the landscape.

In making a tour of East Texas, you will find it worthwhile to visit Nacogdoches, where history and progress join hands. The Spanish founded a mission in Nacogdoches in 1716 and the site has been a settlement since that time.

Motorists can travel to Nacogdoches on U. S. Highways 59 and 259, or on State Highways 7 and 21.

There remain a number of historical sites and buildings in the town's history. Among these are the Old Stone Fort, a restoration of one of the oldest buildings in the state; and Hoya Memorial Library and Museum, a homebuilt by Adolphus Sterne in 1834.

There's old Nacogdoches University, the only building still standing from an educational institution chartered by the Republic of Texas.

Nacogdoches is also the site of Stephen F. Austin State College. The original building was erected by Antonio Gil Y'Barbo in 1779. Over its walls have flown eight flags. The museum is open daily from 9 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 5 p. m. except Sunday mornings. There is no charge.

Nacogdoches University, a non-sectarian school, was founded in 1845 by the Republic of Texas. The old building on Washington Square was completed in January, 1859. The University continued to function under different auspices until 1904 when the property was sold to the Nacogdoches Independent School District.

Old North Church was constructed in 1838 and was used by a union church for Protestants but later became the property of the Missionary Baptists. It is said to be the first Protestant church in Texas. The present building replaced the original in 1852.

In Oak Grove Cemetery may be found the graves of many early settlers who played a prominent role in Texas' colorful history. Among these are the graves of four signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence. The State of Texas has placed granite markers at these graves.

Texas' first producing oil well was drilled in Nacogdoches County in 1866 by Confederate veteran Lynis T. Barrett. The well was completed in the "oil spring" region of the county. Site of the well has been cleared and plans are underway to develop the area as a park.

For a pleasant overnight stop, the community-owned Hotel Fredonia offers excellent accommodations in a beautifully landscaped setting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lackey and Ann returned home Monday from Enid where they had visited relatives. Tim Lackey stayed for a longer visit with his grandmother and aunts. Mr. and Mrs. Andy Gene Rhodes of Irving spent last weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy J. Rhodes.

Mrs. Lurah Rhodes of McLean, mother of Andy J. Rhodes spent last week in the home of her son.

Wheat Harvest Is Started

Wheat harvest has started down state, according to the Texas Employment Commission Wheat Harvest report. Combines have been seen in some dryland wheat in the Amarillo area.

From a line from Childress to Abilene eastward the wheat and small grain is reported in good condition in most areas. The production is expected to be average or above. There is no shortage of men or machines in these areas where the wheat is ready.

The Vernon, Crowell and Quanah area report a surplus of men and machines.

On top of the Caprock from the bottom of the wheat belt to the top of the Panhandle dryland wheat is almost nil. The report says that 75 to 80 percent has been abandoned and more is being abandoned each day.

Most irrigated wheat is reported in average condition with heavy irrigation continuing. The wheat is now in the dough stage needing water.

In the northern tier of counties the irrigated wheat is expected to produce average or above average yields.

All of the High Plains counties expect the irrigated wheat to be ready to harvest about June 15.

Card of Thanks

We would like to express our appreciation to our friends for the cards, flowers, food and memorials at the loss of our loved one, May God Bless each of you.

Mule Train Greeted By Bigger and Bigger Crowds

All of the wagon train mule-skinners are back on the train, according to the latest reports.

Harry Shedeck was sick in Quanah and a day or two out of Quanah, but his daughter, Mrs. Jack McWhirter said he never went to the hospital and is back on the wagon.

Mrs. Shedeck had to do the driving for a couple of days while Harry recovered.

Charlie Hipp has been sick and was to undergo tests in the hospital, Mrs. McWhirter said.

She also said that contrary to reports here, Harry Crooks has not been sick and everyone is withstanding the heat and travel.

Mrs. McWhirter said the crowds and receptions at each town is getting larger the farther east the train travels.

The group will be in Jacksboro this weekend for the Fort Richards celebration. The trip ends next week in Graham.

Two visitors to Washington, D.C. were riding down Constitution Avenue in a taxi when they passed the National Archives Building.

Seeing an inscription, "What Is Past Is Prologue," written across the base of a statue in front of the building, one of the passengers asked the cab driver what it meant.

"That," the cabbie said, "means 'Brother, you ain't seen nothin' yet.'"

6,000 Swimmers To Drown This Summer

The summer swimming season is here again. If past averages hold, somewhat more than 6,000 Americans will drown. Most of these drownings could be avoided.

The basic rules of water safety should be well known to everyone old enough to read; they are repeated each season by health and safety organizations throughout the nation. And yet most drownings occur when someone has violated one of the safety rules.

There are the fundamentals—Never swim alone; Don't swim just after eating or when overly tired; Don't overestimate your ability and endurance; Swim at protected pools or beaches under the supervision of a trained lifeguard; If a boat overturns stay with it and don't try to swim a long distance to shore; Never dive into unknown waters.

Know about artificial respiration and how to apply it. The mouth-to-mouth method is explained in the First Aid Manual of the American Medical Association. It's not very difficult—start immediately, the victim can survive without oxygen to the brain for only a few minutes; put the victim on his back, pull the chin well up, make certain the wind-pipe is clear; put your mouth over the victim's mouth, pinch shut his nose, and blow hard; Repeat 12 to 15 times per minute; keep it up until medical help arrives.

Water skiing is another exhilarating sport, but it also has hazards. The man handling the boat should know what he's doing. The skier should always wear a life jacket. Private pools are gaining rapid favor in the United States. If you have a pool, or use a neighbor's, there are certain safety fundamentals—Is the pool kept clean and the water chemically purified? Walk, don't run, about the pool, and be careful with horseplay; Fence the pool and keep the gate locked to keep out small children; Keep rescue equipment such as long poles and ring buoys handy; Keep bottles and glasses away from the concrete pool deck.

In connection with the Bible study, a Vacation Bible School will be held each morning from 10:00 to 11:15 for all children in the area. Mrs. Waner will be teaching this, also.

These activities are in connection with the Community Improvement Program which has been carried on at Morse for the past two years.

JUNIOR LEADERS MEET

The Morse Junior Leader's 4-H Club met Tuesday afternoon for a final business meeting. The main item of discussion concerned the community improvement program for 1964-65.

For the past two years the Junior Leader's 4-H club has sponsored this program in Morse. The chief handicap, according to the Junior Leaders, has been the lack of adult ideas. Most adults in the community have backed the efforts of the young people, but the club members feel that the adults should take more part in planning the program for the coming year; therefore, the Junior Leaders Club suggests that the entire community have a meeting in the late summer to adopt goals and select officers for the program.

The club voted to contribute half of the $50.00 won in this year's contest to the library and half to the community park.

The county agents met with the group going to roundup after the meeting adjourned. Those going to Roundup on June 1 will be Evelyn, Don and Desmond Kelly, Sharon and Sylvia Parks, Allen and Bill McCloy, Gene and Suzanne Dixon, Linda Webb and Robert Adamson.

The Morse Community 4-H club met Wednesday afternoon for a picnic to close out their year's activities. This was the first group to use the new community park.
