IN NARCOTICS CASES

One Is Sentenced On Plea Of Guilty

A plea of guilty to four narcotics counts resulted in sentences of five years each against one individual this morning, as hearings opened in 118th District Court on a series of cases alleging possession and sale of marijuana.

Eulalio Zubiate, one of 14 defendants, pleaded guilty to four indictments. He was found guilty by the court and had his punishment set at five years in the penitentiary for each case.

Zubiate asked to be sentenced immediately and Judge Charlie Sullivan announced that the four terms would run concurrently in groups of two, making a total of 20 years.

Another plea of guilty was received by the court immediately following the Zubiate hearing. Defendant in the second guilty plea is Joe Nunez, who was arrested by members of the sheriff's department on Jan. 7. Nunez was charged with possession of marijuana.

Defendants in other cases called this morning are Willie Murphy, Adelia Woolfolk Zubiate, Jacinto Hilario, Juan Garcia, Robert (Big Brother) Jones, Manuel Hernandez, C. M. Madrid, Joe Baltier, Roberto Morales, Alex Banks and Juan Lopez.

All of the cases, except that of Nunez, resulted from raids conducted by Federal, State and County officers on March 14 and 15.

A jury panel which reported at 10 a. m. today was excused until 1 p. m., pending hearings on pleas of guilty.

The charge was filed against Mrs. Charlene Looney, 37, of her husband, Winfield Hugh Looney Jr., 39, died Thursday night of what District Attorney Ward Burke said was a knife wound.

Burke signed the charge which was filed today with Justice of the Peace C. P. Crouch.

Bond for Mrs. Looney was set at $2,000 at Burke's recommendation.

Mrs. Looney was at home today in seclusion. Burke said he understood that relatives and friends would make the bond after the warrant for her arrest is served later today.

Beating Victim, F. Villa, Dies; Rites Tuesday

Francisco Villa, victim of a beating on the night of April 19, died in a local hospital at about 7:30 a. m. Sunday.

Officers said murder charges probably would be filed sometime today against two men who are being held in connection with the beating.

Officers said Villa was attacked in the 600 block of Northwest Fourth Street, and apparently was beaten with a club and slashed with a knife.

Services for Francisco Flores Villa, 50, will be held Tuesday at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Big Spring.

Villa died Sunday morning at a hospital here. He was a native of Big Spring, having been born here March 9, 1902.

The remains were to lie in state at the Sacred Heart Hall until time for services, and burial will be in the Catholic Cemetery with Nalley Funeral Home in charge.

Surviving Villa are his widow; 19 sons, Julian Villa, Tony Villa, Lejandra Villa, Gregoria Villa, Jose Villa, Ramon Villa, Alberto Villa and Gilbert Villa Jr. of Big Spring, Francisco Villa Jr. and Felix Villa of Los Angeles, Calif.; and two daughters, Lupe Espinoza, Rowell, N. M., and Mary Villa.

Queen Sets Date For Coronation

LONDON, April 28 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II announced tonight she would be crowned June 2, 1953.

A brief announcement from Buckingham Palace said: "The queen has been pleased to appoint Tuesday 2nd June, 1953, to be the day of Her Majesty's coronation."

Coronation day thus will fall in Britain's greatest social week of 1953. The following Friday, June 5, the Queen's official birthday will be celebrated.

Commissioners Talk Courthouse Plans

County Commissioners this morning discussed Courthouse building plans and made arrangements to clear underground water and sewer lines from the site for the proposed new building.

W. A. French Jr. of Puckett and French, architect and engineer, reported that final plans and specifications for the proposed new Courthouse building probably would be completed in about two weeks.

The commissioners court then entered into an agreement with F. M. Purser to remove the water and sewer lines from the site between the present Courthouse and jail grounds to clear the way for excavation.

The county has been allotted steel for the new building in the third quarter of this year.

Transfusions Ordered For Injured Woman

ODESSA, Tex. (AP)—A weak "yes" from critically injured Grace Marie Olliff and arrest of three relatives resulted in the pretty 20-year-old divorcee's getting a blood transfusion.

Officers jailed her two Brooklyn, N.Y., brothers and her father from nearby Midland, Tex., on charges of disturbing the peace. Members of Jehovah's Witnesses, they had objected for days to the transfusion because "it would be a violation of the scriptures of the Bible to tamper with blood."

William Olliff, 51, the father and Ben, 23, and John, 27, had alternated at guarding the girl's room at the Medical Center Hospital.

They were jailed after a scuffle and loud shouting in the hospital room yesterday as attendants prepared for the first of multiple transfusions ordered by doctors.

"You're trying to kill my girl," the father shouted.

Japs Sign Treaty With Nationalists

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese government announced today a peace treaty with Nationalist China was signed today at Taipei, Formosa.

The treaty ends 15 years of official and unofficial war that saw the invasion of Manchuria and occupation of much of mainland China.

The form of a 1,000-word letter to Maxwell Hamilton, American chairman of the 13-nation Far Eastern Commission.

Panyushkin is Russia's representative on this group.

In his letter, Panyushkin also branded as "a new illegal act" the United States move to abolish the commission now that Japan's peace treaty is in effect.

The commission was set up as a result of the 1945 Moscow conference. Its function was to advise the Allied Supreme Commander in Japan on occupation policy.

Simultaneously graph 4. Simultaneous with the effective hour of the peace treaty, a security pact between Japan and the United States went into force. This guarantees the continued presence of American troops in the Japanese islands for as long as necessary to protect the presently disarmed and defenseless country against any aggression from Communist Asia.

The peace and security pacts became effective over the steadfast opposition of Soviet Russia.

The treaties were put into operation at a simple ceremony in a State Department conference room. Tokyo and Washington had agreed that the hour of final action should be 8:30 a. m.

Secretary of State Acheson, according to a carefully worked out program, presented to the State Department's legal chief, Adrian S. Fisher, a document which President Truman had signed several days ago declaring that the United States would not recognize the Japanese government.

Solons Blame AF, Congress For 'Strikes'

Better Screening, UMT Would Hove Halted 'Sit-Down'

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON WASHINGTON, April 28. (AP)—Two Senators said today that Air Force leaders and Congress are partly to blame for recent refusal of some World War II flying officers to resume flight duty.

"No one wants to approve mutiny or disrespect of authority," Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) said. "But these veterans feel real resentment when they must return to flying duty."

He said some responsibility rests on Congress for its failure to enact a Universal Military Training (UMT) program under which a new generation of flyers could have been trained.

Sen. Hunt (D-Wyo) suggested that all combat veterans who are reservists "should be carefully screened before being ordered back to duty."

"The Air Force has not trained enough flyers since World War II or the start of the Korean War," Hunt added. He is chairman of an Armed Services "task force" now studying the problems of special pay for flying, hazard and combat duty.

The case of the sit-down fliers has attracted wide attention, although actually only 14 men have been involved publicly among the 62,000 Air Force men on flying status.

Two of the 14 are pilots. Others are navigators, bombardiers and radar observers. All are veterans of the last war, recalled from the reserve after the outbreak of the Korean War.

They had shown their courage during World War II, and many have medals of bravery to prove it. But they had reached a point where they didn't want to fly again. Some gave "fear of flying" as their reason.

They had asked to be grounded, but the Air Force refused. When they refused to fly, charges were brought against them.

Charges against two were dropped, but two others were court martialled. One of these received a two-year prison sentence, the other was given a dishonorable discharge. Charges are pending against the others.

The problem is a touchy one, but both Johnson and Hunt said they expect Air Force and Pentagon leaders to solve it without congressional action.

Enemy Builds Defense Belt Across Korea

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Stormy weather today held air and ground action in the Korean War to a minimum.

Allied night fliers had poor hunting. The Fifth Air Force said pilots destroyed 29 Red supply vehicles at Wonsan on the Northeast Coast but generally air strikes were fruitless.

About 100 Chinese, supported by mortar fire, attacked an Allied position northeast of Kumhwa on the Central Front. They were thrown back after the skirmish closed to within hand grenade range.

Two Allied patrols on the Central Front occupied a Communist position southeast of Kumsong after a daylong battle Sunday.

In Tokyo, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters said the Reds have built a defense belt—a crude "Siegfried line"—across Korea since truce talks began 9 1/2 months ago.

An official Army analysis said the Red buildup does not yet pose a threat to U.N. forces. The report placed Communist troop strength at more than 750,000 men, mostly Chinese, and said more than half the Red's 1,500 planes were jet-powered.

Allied warplanes still control the air over Korea, the report continued, but this has not prevented the Communists from building up their front line supplies.

Red troop changes and other buildups have not "in themselves indicated offensive intentions," the report declared, but the Reds have shown their "intention of maintaining a strong position in Korea."

GEN. RIDGWAY

UN Offers New Truce Solution

By ROBERT TUCKMAN MUNSAN (AP)—The United Nations Command today gave the Communists what it called an "overall solution" to the three critical issues blocking a Korean armistice.

Details were not disclosed. But the Communists, after agreeing to keep the full-dress negotiations secret, asked for an indefinite recess. Presumably they want to submit the plan to Peiping and Pyongyang.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckels, U.N. spokesman, said: "The United Nations Command feels that an overall solution to the problem is possible and for that reason such an overall solution was proposed today."

It was handed to the Communists at the first meeting of the main Allied and Communist armistice delegations in Panmunjom in more than two months.

Blocking progress in the 9 1/2 months of truce negotiations are the issues of prisoner exchange, nomination of Russia by the Reds as a neutral observer during any armistice and a U.N. demand for restrictions on aerial construction.

Vice Adm. G. Turner Joy, senior U.N. negotiator, proposed at the outset of the plenary session that the discussions be secret. This meant that there would be no announcement of what takes place.

The Communists, after thinking it over for a half hour, agreed.

The U.N. communique said: "The United Nations Command today proposed an overall solution for the remaining unresolved issues standing in the way of a military armistice in Korea x x x"

Despite official secrecy, there was little doubt the prolonged talks had entered a new and perhaps decisive phase.

The next meeting of the top negotiators will be called by the Communists. Meantime, discussions at the staff officer level were suspended.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, top Communist negotiator, asked for the indefinite recess.

There appeared little doubt that the package proposal centered on the all-important question of prisoners and how to exchange them.

Only Friday, the Communists ended secret negotiations on POW exchange after the U.N. Command advised them that only

Mark Clark Goes To Far-East Post

WASHINGTON, April 28: (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway was appointed today to succeed Gen. Eisenhower as Supreme Allied Commander in Europe.

President Truman announced at the same time the appointment of Gen. Mark W. Clark to succeed Ridgway as the U. N. Commander in Korea and Commander in Chief of the U. S. Forces in the Far East.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther will continue as Chief of Staff to the Supreme Allied Commander in Europe. This is the post he has held under Eisenhower.

Truman in a statement: "I have every confidence that Generals Ridgway and Gruenther will make an outstanding team for our common and defense effort."

Ridgway's appointment and Eisenhower's release as Supreme Allied Commander will become effective approximately June 1.

The nomination was submitted to the home capitals of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Powers. Rome officials believed Ridgway had been named, rather than Gruenther, because of his more extensive command experience. All of Gruenther's major assignments have been in staff jobs.

Gen. Ridgway, 57, won fame as the commander of the 82nd Airborne Division in the invasions of Sicily and Normandy in World War II. He parachuted into France on D-Day.

He was sent to Korea in December, 1950, to succeed Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker, commander of the Eighth Army, who was killed in a jeep accident. He succeeded Gen. MacArthur when the latter was relieved by President Truman in April, 1951.

Truman's nomination was sent to the 14-nation North Atlantic Treaty Organization council immediately after the council had asked him to name Eisenhower's successor.

As the council met for the first time since its move from London, its new secretary-general, Lord Ismay, told them they were to choose Eisenhower's replacement and "in a way, therefore, this is a sad occasion."

"But our hearts are filled with pride and gratitude for what he has done since he was appointed supreme commander in Europe," Ismay continued.

"It may well be that when history comes to be written, say 100 years hence, that the contributions which he has made towards saving peace will be acclaimed as not less worthy of renown than his contributions toward winning the Second World War."

Eisenhower will leave Paris about June 1 to return to inactive duty in the United States, where he is a major contender for the Republican presidential nomination.

An Associated Press survey indicated there was no desire from any NATO country for anyone but an American in the job. The European nations feel such an appointment will help maintain U.S. interest in the buildup of Western defenses and will tend to suppress jealousies among the European nations.

Ike Did Not Have Time To Hit Massacre

PARIS, April 28 (AP)—Gen. Eisenhower said today that he was "fairly busy at the time" just after World War II when a U. S. Congressman thinks he should have been charging the Russians with the Katyn Forest massacre of 4,500 Polish officers.

That was his only comment when told the criticism had been made at hearings now going on in Frankfurt, Germany.

The general was interviewed at Orly Airfield before he took off for the British Zone of Germany to begin a farewell tour of Allied troops in Germany.

Eisenhower was rapped by Rep. Thaddeus M. Machrowski (D-Mich) who said in Frankfurt: "I personally think it very strange that at no time Eisenhower made any effort to get any sort of determination for this atrocious crime."

Eisenhower was wartime Supreme Allied Commander in Europe. After Germany's surrender, he was U. S. occupation commander in Germany until November, 1945, when he became U. S. Army Chief of Staff.

DeSoto Steers Easy As Dialing A Phone

Work is now underway to provide Big Spring with dial telephones which are simple and convenient to operate and which mark another milestone on the trail of telephone communication progress.

But even ahead of the dial telephones in Big Spring is an automobile that is as easy to steer as the modern dial telephone is to operate. This car is the brand, sparkling new, brilliant V-8 De Soto powered by the Fire-Dome engine that has been described as "spectacular" by impartial engineers. This engine develops 160 horsepower, and never before has any American automobile engine developed so much horsepower per cubic inch.

The De Soto is being sold in Big Spring by the Clark Motor Company (Ray C. Clark) at 215 E. 3rd at the corner of Johnson. The Clark Motor Company is also agent for complete shop service for the repair of all makes of cars. The complete service station, handling Phillips '66' products, and which is operated in connection with the sales and service is open from 6 a.m. until 10 p.m. daily.

Among the special services rendered by the Clark Motor Company is the Bear system steering and wheel alignment service. The Clark Motor Company is now calling attention to the fact that this is the season to have the automobile readied for summer driving and they are prepared to render this service with all the work being done by skilled and trained mechanics. This preparing for the hot weather ahead includes draining and cleaning of the water cooling system and a general tuneup of the engine.

But Ray Clark is especially proud to present the new De Soto Fire-Dome Eight with the De Soto power steering that will assist those motorists who have not become acquainted with it, as they learn they can turn the steering wheel of the new De Soto with the pressure of one finger more easily than they can turn the steering wheel of the average car with the strength of both arms. Even when standing still, turning the steering wheel of the new De Soto with a fingertip is practically effortless, because with De Soto steering, as the Clark Motor Company will demonstrate, the driver is controlling a strong, dependable hydraulic power which in turn does the hard work of turning the wheels. This makes for easier parking, the taking of sharp corners with ease and reduces the hazard of negotiating curves.

The new De Soto is also equipped with ignition-key starting, and the fluid drive, no-shift transmission, but may be had with the conventional transmission and overdrive.

Also optional is the new fluid torque drive which gets the driver across a busy intersection in an instant from a standstill.

Also with the tip-toe shift which permits the driver to step on the gas to go and on the brake to stop without any hand-operated shift lever, the new De Soto has something that no other car has, and this is a clutch pedal which is a wonderful aid in inching into close parking spaces, or for what is still more useful in West Texas, for rocking out of sand when stuck. Many West Texans who have been stuck in sand with an automatic transmission know how difficult rocking a car out really is, even when they have been able to accomplish it.

Among other outstanding features of the new De Soto, the Clark Motor Company lists bigger, safer brakes that require far less pedal pressure, with linings that have no rivets to score the drums; safety-tim wheels that reduce danger in case of a blowout; a bigger, stronger frame, and a complete waterproofed ignition system, as well as new and super-comfortable shock absorbers.

Iran Lower House Formally Convenes

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The lower house of Iran's 12th parliament (Majlis) formally convened yesterday with almost half its members still to be elected.

With only 76 of the 136 seats filled and voting continuing, Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi opened the first session with a 4½-minute speech calling for a higher standard of living for the peasants and workers and development of the country's resources, including its nationalized oil.

Yesterday's meeting was brief. After choosing a temporary president and a committee to investigate members' credentials, the Majlis recessed until May 8.

Spred-Satin Dramatone Is Featured At Cooper Store

The Spred-Satin dramatone Color System, one of the most revolutionary paints of its kind to reach the market in many years, is being made available here at Cooper's Glidden Paint Store, located at 417 East Third Street.

The colors, and there are 180 of them, either true colors or innermixes, come ready to use and can be applied easily. No special surface preparation is required. The Glidden product can be scrubbed. Some 40,000 rigid laboratory scrub strokes failed to mar the paint's satin-smooth color surface.

Its water-proof, Rubberlike Spred-Satin film, painted on a newspaper, will hold water until it evaporates. Spred-Satin can be washed as easily as you wash your sink. Ink, crayon, finger marks, etc., can be spot-washed easily without telltale streaks showing any place. Spred-Satin even withstands eye or any kind of similar abuse. No other wall paint can take so much punishment.

The Spred-Satin Dramatone Color System is for ceilings as well as woodwork, as well as walls. It leaves no brush marks and dries in 20 minutes.

Cooper's Glidden Paint Store also stocks a complete line of wall paper and inlaid linoleums and can offer three-day service on custom-made Venetian blinds. Those blinds can be ordered in any popular color and in any size.

If you want to undertake a painting job around your household and are somewhat shy of funds, you can purchase your needs in the paint line at Cooper's Glidden Paint Store with no down payment. Too, you have up to 36 months in which to pay.

The concern is owned and operated by A. A. Cooper, who boasts long experience in that particular field.

Angelo Sailor Praised After Ship Disaster

TOKYO, April 28 (AP)—Damage control crews and volunteers who last Monday rushed into an explosion wracked turret of the heavy cruiser St. Paul were praised by the U. S. Navy today for bravery "in the face of grave danger."

They found no survivors among the 39 men in the forward turret. Gun powder exploded as the warship was shelling Communist positions on Korea's east coast.

The Navy said a typical courage performance was that of Seaman Charles E. Dunn, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Dunn of 2009 North Oak St., San Angelo, Tex.

Dunn reached the scene shortly after the explosion.

"Some of the boys on deck had opened the right turret hatch but it was jammed from inside," Dunn related. "I went in through the center hatch and could hardly see in the turret, but I got over to the other hatch and managed to free it. We had those men out just a few minutes after the thing happened."

Dunn made two more trips removing the bodies.

Mother Seeking To Get Son Out Of Texas Prison

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A tearful mother from Owens, Ia., expected to see her 15-year-old convict son today and possibly take him back to the family farm. She had thought him dead.

Mrs. Edna Fletcher arrived here last night hopeful that she could get her son Herbie out of the Texas Central Prison Farm No. 1 near Houston.

Young Fletcher was sentenced to 10 years for robberies in Georgetown, Tex., and Fairfield, Tex. He was tried as an adult after telling authorities he was 17 years old.

Had he told his correct age he would have been handled as a juvenile offender.

The family had supposed Herbie drowned Oct. 15, 1951, after his bicycle was found on the banks of the Missouri River at Decatur, Neb., a town near his Iowa farm home.

A week ago, the family received a letter from Central Prison Farm that asked so many personal questions that the parents guessed it was from their son. It was signed William H. Adams, the name Herbie had given officers and the name under which he was committed to prison.

The Fletchers wrote the warden and Herbie admitted his identity. Tearful Mrs. Fletcher said last night she hoped prison authorities would release her son and that she can persuade authorities in three Texas counties not to try him as a juvenile offender.

"He had never caused us any trouble," she said.

'Just Plain Nice' Is Texas Weather

By The Associated Press Texas had chamber of commerce weather Monday—sunshine, soft breezes, mild temperatures.

"Just plain nice," the Weather Bureau called it.

West Texas ranchmen and farmers would consider it nicer if they had more rain. No measurable amount fell in the state Sunday, but widely scattered showers were forecast for West Texas Monday afternoon.

Temperatures early Monday ranged from 44 at Amarillo to 66 at Brownsville. Presidio had a warm 91-degree high Sunday, but most maximums were in the 80s.

Except for Houston where there was a little fog early Monday, all the state had clear skies and spring-like weather.

Vocational Group To Honor Bosses At Banquet Tonight

Distributive Education students, who combine classroom work with on-the-job training, tonight will honor the business men who have provided them with their jobs.

The occasion is the annual "Bosses' Banquet" a formal program which will be held in the Candlelight Room at the Wagon Wheel. Some 15 students and their employers, along with supervisory people, will attend.

Toastmaster for the affair will be Bobby Hammond, the DE Club president.

Following invocation by Hollis Meek, and introduction of bosses by the students, Patsy McMillan, club secretary, will give a review of the year's activities. Fern Crabtree, the club sweetheart will recite the Distributors' Creed, and Mrs. Johnny Allison, an ex-student, will discuss "What DE Has Done For Me." Principal address will be made by Walker Bailey, Howard County Superintendent.

Jackie Marchant will play organ music. A pirate theme is being carried out in table decorations and menu.

Merchants Serve Training Program In Advisory Way

An advisory committee of business and professional people functions with school officials in charting general policies of the Distributive Education program.

Curt Grigsby has served as chairman of the committee for two years, and J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager; W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of schools and Ruby Powers, coordinator of the program also serve on the committee. Until he recently moved from the city, Roland Bates was another member of the advisory group.

It is a consultative body which makes recommendations in the common interest of the vocational program and helps bring about closer cooperation between businesses and the school.

Honor Awards, Diplomas Go To DE Studes

Honor awards are being presented to Distributive Education students as they near the end of the school term, and winners of these will be announced at the Bosses' banquet tonight.

Special recognition goes to two students who have (1) been in the program for two years; (2) have made exceptional grades in all other subjects; (3) have made outstanding progress on the job; and (4) have contributed something noteworthy to the success of their club and the DE program.

Winners are Bobby Hammond, a trainee at Stanley Hardware; and Patsy McMillan, in training at Hemphill Wells.

The Texas Education Agency's Vocational Division is awarding diplomas to those who have been in the program two years, have worked 2,000 hours, and have been successful in class work and on the job. Students receiving these include:

Lenna Tynes, Annette Green, Patsy McMillan and Bobby Hammond.

Seniors who will receive certificates for one year in the program are Fern Crabtree, Lois Craft, Grace Arnett, Joy Parrish, Linnie Fay Reese and Anita Beseril.

Girls Are Getting Free Ride To College From Fathers' Boss

NEW YORK (AP)—Two children of taxi drivers are having their way paid to college by their dad's boss.

Daniel G. Arnstein, president of two taxi firms, recently presented his fifth annual scholarship covering all college expenses for both undergraduate and graduate work.

One winner, Miss Gloria Jessie, plans to study medicine while Donald Rosenberg will concentrate on aeronautical engineering. Each is 17 years old.

Program Has Objective Of Aiding Distributive Field

The 18 pictures on this and an adjoining page show students currently enrolled in the Big Spring High School Distributive Education program, DE is a training program which has as its specific objective the task of training employed people who can make distribution more efficient.

This vocational program thus is carried on by both the school and local business firms.

This year marks the third for the DE program in Big Spring High School, the newest of the vocational courses that has made a place for itself in the educational curriculum. It has developed into a by-word for good training in the merchandising, retailing and wholesaling fields. And its success to date is gauged by the fact that an increasingly broad segment of interests have supported it. These interests include the teacher-coordinator, Ruby Powers; the school administration; merchants and business people participating; and the advisory committee and ex-students. Distributive education covers a broad field, since statistics show that a little more than 31 per cent of all paid employes in Texas work in some type of a distributive job. Demand exists for more efficient help in this field, and each year, more requests are made by merchants for trainees through the High School program.

To Attend Meeting

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—Malaya will send five representatives to the Rubber Study Group Conference in Ottawa in May. They will be advisers to the British Colonial and Department Territories Delegation.

Distributors Creed Used As Guidance For Trainees

Members of the Big Spring Senior High School Distributors' Club adopted this creed when they applied for their charter in the state organization in 1949. It is intended to make members more conscious of the role they are to play in the world.

"I believe in the future which I am planning for myself in the field of distribution, and in the opportunities which my chosen vocation affords.

"I believe that by rendering the highest measure of service to my customers, and by cooperating to the fullest extent with my fellow workers, that I will be rewarded with a feeling of inward satisfaction as well as with material wealth.

"I believe in the democratic philosophies of private enterprise and competition—that these philosophies allow for the fullest development of my abilities and the fullest use of individual initiative.

"I believe that the ethics of conduct laid down by the Great Distributor of all good gifts should apply to my personal relationships in the field of business.

"I believe that by doing my best in every way to live according to these high principles, that I will be of most service both to myself and mankind."

U.S. Swain Best, Travelers Report

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Travel note for you girls who are taking the grand tour of Europe this summer: have the answer ready because the Continental swains will pop the question.

Two West Hartford girls, Mildred Ann Cohen and Rhoda Marcus, turned down 10 proposals of marriage. The proposals were in six languages, but somehow the girls got the "pitch." Sometimes it was by signs and gestures—one tried thumping his manly chest.

But after all the flowers, perfumes, tears and hand-kissing, they said they preferred the frank American approach "by a magnificent margin."

Trio Could Break A Republican Deadlock

By JACK BELL
 WASHINGTON — Two governors and a national committeeman might hold the key to the Republican presidential nomination if a convention deadlock develops between Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

The three are Gov. Earl Warren of California, Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania and Michigan's national committeeman, Arthur Summerfield.

All three will be under extreme pressure at Chicago because together they apparently control a majority of a bloc of 186 of the convention's 1,205 delegates. This represents the largest group of delegates publicly uncommitted to either Eisenhower or Taft likely to be chosen for the July convention.

With surveys indicating that neither major candidate now is in a position to win the 603 votes needed for a first ballot nomination, the trio probably could swing the prize either way.

Or, if they chose to act together and early enough, they could form a powerful bloc to start a compromise candidate on his way if a tight deadlock develops.

Unless Eisenhower can make a clean-up in three doubtful states—Massachusetts, Missouri and Texas—Taft seems likely to go into the convention with a small lead in the number of delegates.

Taft has claimed he will arrive at the convention with 650 votes. On the other hand, Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., Eisenhower's national campaign manager, said, "Nobody will ever catch up with us" after tomorrow's Massachusetts primary, where 38 delegates will be chosen.

As the situation now stands, after a busy weekend of delegate picking, an Associated Press tabulation shows Taft with 266 votes and Eisenhower with 233. Taft forces dispute this, claiming more than 300 delegate votes.

Missouri will begin its selection of 28 delegates with a district convention tomorrow. Texas will delay its choice of 38 delegates until May 27, with Eisenhower and Taft backers each claiming they will wind up with at least 30 of them. If Eisenhower should win the majority of the total number of Massachusetts, Missouri and Texas delegates, Taft would offset this by his expected pickup of most of Ohio's 56 in a May 6 primary and Indiana's 32 in a July 2-3 convention.

This would put additional pressure on Warren, Fine and Summerfield individually to swing their delegations to one of the two major candidates.

Ike Meets Taft In Last Primary Test

By RELMAN MORIN
 BOSTON — The Massachusetts primary brings Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower into a last direct test of strength with Sen. Robert A. Taft tomorrow and gives him a chance to draw practically level in the race for Republican convention delegates.

Taft holds the lead, nationally, at this point.

The latest Associated Press tabulation gives the senator 266 delegates and Eisenhower 233. This figure is based on the total number who are pledged, instructed, or known to favor one of the two men.

Taft's organization claims more than 300—a little less than half the necessary number to win the GOP nomination for the presidency.

One of Eisenhower's three top campaign leaders said privately last week that they hope to win 30 of the 38 Massachusetts delegates in tomorrow's election. This, in effect, would constitute a clean sweep.

There are 28 delegates to be elected in 14 district races. Of the 10 at-large delegates, Taft and Eisenhower already have two each. The other six are uncommitted.

Along with the delegate elections, Massachusetts has a preferential vote this year, the familiar "popu-chusetts delegates. Eisenhower's

Fight To End Pledged Over African Laws

By ARTHUR GAVSHON
 CAPE TOWN, South Africa — Winding up a two-day council, leaders of the Torch Commando said last night they have mobilized their 175,000 members for a "fight to the end" against government attempts to tamper with South Africa's constitution.

Delegates from the union's four provinces bluntly warned Prime Minister Daniel F. Malan they will meet "action with action" if he pushes through a bill to strip the Appeals (supreme) Court of its power to pass judgment on parliamentary acts.

The bill, which passed its first reading last Wednesday, was Malan's answer to a court decision which threw out his law restricting voting rights of coloreds (persons of mixed blood) in the Cape Provinces. Full debate on the bill begins in parliament Wednesday.

The Torch Commando, organized by war veterans who opposed the Nationalist government's drastic measures for enforcing white supremacy in the union, laid down a three-point program at its conference to resist the Malan regime, informants said. The Torchmen would:

1. Rouse public opinion through nationwide rallies in hopes of ousting Malan in the 1953 general election.
2. Meet "unconstitutional action" by the government by unconstitutional means. These means were not disclosed, but it was stressed they would be short of civil war—"unless the other side starts one."
3. Resist "any move" by the government against the Torch Commando even if this means going underground.

Violence Breaks In Italian Vote Drive

ROME — Italy's local election campaign rolled in heated high gear today following week-end openers highlighted by Communist violence and the largest Fascist demonstration since World War II.

A crowd of 50,000 packed Rome's Piazza del Popolo and roared approval yesterday as Black Shirt veteran August de Marsanich shouted against both Premier Alcide de Gasperi's "incompetent" Christian Democrats and "the barbaric Tartar hordes" of communists.

A bomb blasted the headquarters of an anti-Communist labor movement in Catania, Sicily, yesterday, and Reds were blamed. Communist deputies who bolted the party last year had set up the opposition labor center.

Current political campaigning looks toward municipal elections in Italian communities. Chances for Communist victories have been enhanced by refusal of De Gasperi's moderate government party to form a united front with American Reds in 1956 had secret orders to infiltrate the Catholic priesthood and that at the time in America "there was hardly a prominent newspaper commentator who did not have a Communist secretary, although he or she did not necessarily know it."

Jap Treaty is Gamble To Keep Nation Friendly To The West

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Return of sovereignty to Japan today represents a deliberate gamble in United States foreign policy.

The gamble, which had a share of Republican support as well as the backing of the Democratic administration, is that freedom and independence will make a better and more dependable ally of Japan in the struggle against Soviet communism than retention of military control would have made.

This was a major issue within the government for a long time prior to the decision last summer to go ahead with the signing of the Japanese Peace Treaty at San Francisco in September. It seems likely to continue to be an issue as between the government and its foreign policy critics because it is one of a fundamental problem, which is how best to carry out the real interest of the United States.

The argument over the peace treaty, the device by which Japan now regains its independence and freedom from American occupation, initially involved the State and Defense Departments. Some officials in each favored and others opposed an early Japanese peace.

The dominant military view two or three years ago was that instead of giving Japan complete independence, United States security interests in the Pacific could best be served by retaining but retaining occupation controls.

The dominant State Department view was that Japan could not be kept under occupation restraints indefinitely and that with basic reforms out of the way the nation should be given its independence. This was one of the great questions on which Gen. MacArthur, as Allied occupation commander, and the State Department saw eye to eye. MacArthur argued that no occupation could profitably last much beyond five years and he pressed repeatedly for an early peace treaty.

The outbreak of war in Korea raised a new complication. By that time Secretary of State Acheson had given Republican adviser John Foster Dulles the task of negotiating a pact with or without Russia's co-operation and Dulles finally concluded that the Korean war made the Japanese settlement more rather than less urgent.

Dulles reasoned the Japanese would be trustworthy allies only when they were free men, and the Korean War placed a great premium on their importance as Allies. The Joint Chiefs of Staff agreed to let negotiations for a treaty proceed but it was not until a short time before invitations for the San Francisco conference actually went out, last summer, that the military accepted the idea that a peace pact should be sought as soon as possible.

The military price, as it has sometimes been called, was the security treaty drafted to come into force simultaneously with the peace treaty. This was fully supported by Dulles and the State Department. It assured the continued presence of American troops in Japan after the occupation. It assured that Japan would not be left disarmed and defenseless, an easy prey to the Reds.

Despite this treaty, however, the big new fact of Japanese-American relations is that from here on the United States can no longer tell Japan what to do. It can negotiate and request, and it has tremendous power because of Japan's economic and military weakness for the time being. But the Tokyo government has achieved real independence.

Now, the decisions have been made and the occupation ends. It is up to the people, politicians and diplomats to determine finally how the great gamble will work out.

GEN. GROW

General Grow Faces Army Court Martial

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—The Army today brought court martial charges against Maj. Genl Robert W. Grow, former military attache in Moscow whose diary was copied by Communist agents in Germany last year.

The Army announcement by Secretary Pace said that Grow had been charged with "improperly recording classified military information in private records and failing properly to safeguard classified military information."

The Army announced this step, Pace said, after investigations here and abroad.

Grow had written in the diary that he thought war with Russia is imminent.

Gen. Grow has been assigned to the headquarters of the Second Army at Fort Meade, Md., since his return from Europe. His case has been referred to the commander of the Second Army, who will hold further hearings to determine whether the charges shall be referred to a formal court martial.

The Army said the hearings will be closed in view of the security aspects of the matter.

Army officials said in March that someone believed to be a Soviet agent had slipped into Grow's room in Frankfurt, Germany, during his absence last summer and had photographed portions of the diary.

Excerpts were printed in a book, published in East Berlin, which the Army said tried to "prove" Gen. Grow and the U. S. were "tools of Wall Street" and "warmongers" and that Gen. Grow was a spy.

An Army spokesman said the photographs were delivered to the author of the German-language book, Richard Squires. Squires was identified as an "English officer" in the book's title.

The Army released portions of the German book contained these quotations attributed to Grow:

"War! As soon as possible! Now!"

"Our attack should be directed at enemy weakness. Although the military services are primarily concerned with military weapons and methods, we must understand that this war is total war and is fought with all weapons."

8th AF General OKs Term Of Striking Flier

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 28 (AP)—Maj. Gen. S. E. Anderson, commanding general of the 8th Air Force, today approved the court martial sentence of 1st Lt. Verne Goodwin of Biggs Air Force Base, Ft. Worth.

Goodwin was sentenced to two years confinement, forfeiture of pay and dishonorable discharge from the Air Force by a court martial for refusing to fly on a flight to England.

The case now goes to the Judge Advocate General of the Air Force in Washington where a board of review will act on the sentence.

Upon reaching a decision the board will notify the officer and Lt. Goodwin will have 30 days to appeal any point of law by petition to a Court of Military Appeals in Washington.

The appeals court, composed of civilians, can either hear the case or decline to hear it. If the court decides to hear the case it is referred to the Secretary of the Air Force for action.

In case the appeals court decides to hear it, they will review the case and if they find any point of law that it is not proper it is referred back to the Judge Advocate General for proper action.

If the appeals court approves the case then the Secretary of the Air Force makes final disposition.

Harmony Reigns As Okla. Dems Ready To Meet

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—All threat of a floor battle on any issue disappeared as the Oklahoma Democratic convention delegates prepared to convene here today.

Controversial issues were settled either by compromise, withdrawal of opposition candidates, or by tabling quarrelsome issues. An atmosphere of complete harmony was expected to prevail, and cut-and-dried endorsement of all resolutions appeared likely.

The chief battle, between Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.) and Gov. Johnston Murray for control of the 24-vote delegation to the party's national convention, was compromised.

An Executive Committee resolution passed yesterday was favorable to both camps. It instructs the delegation to vote for Kerr, but allows the delegates to release themselves from the Kerr endorsement any time they feel he is out of the running.

Murray is expected to be chairman of the state delegation. He originally came out strongly for an unstructured group.

Another contest which threatened the convention's harmony was settled yesterday when Mrs. Carl Mason of Shattuck withdrew from the race for Democratic national committeewoman. The withdrawal assured the election of Mrs. Gertrude Fields of Lawton.

Benny Compton Picked District H-Y President

Benny Compton was named district president of the Junior Hi-Y and Betty Anderson secretary of the Junior Tri-Hi-Y club at the district party in Odessa Saturday.

A large number of delegates from here made the trip under the direction of Tolly Baker, YMCA program director. Bill Daves, the Junior Hi-Y sponsor, gave the closing dedication address at the conference. Grover Good, YMCA general secretary, was director of the group for leaders.

Among the adults who accompanied the youngsters were Betty Gray, Junior Tri-Hi-Y sponsor, Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. C. L. Mason, Mrs. Bill Edwards, Mrs. Tom Guin, Mrs. Bill Sheppard, and Mrs. E. B. Compton.

AIR GUARDS STRENGTHENED

Plane Spotters Hold Test As Air Force Projects Progress

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—More than 1,000 radio stations took part early Saturday in the nation's first large-scale test of emergency facilities for broadcasting civil defense instructions in case of atomic attack.

Next month airplane-spotting stations in 27 states will start operating on a round-the-clock basis.

The Defense Department, which ordered both developments, described them as part of the regular defense training process, not to be construed as evidence of any tightening of international tensions.

Nevertheless, they demonstrate that the nation is moving ahead in its air guards. At the same time there have been these recent indications of progress in offense developments as well.

1. The Republic F-84 fighter-bomber has a top speed of more than 600 miles an hour, weighs up to 25,000 pounds, and can carry up to 4,000 pounds of bombs.

2. Confirmation of the existence of three new Air Force projects involving planes that fly faster than the speed of sound—the North American F-100, in the 500-mile-an-hour class, and the McDonnell F-101 and Convair F-102, said to be even faster.

3. Maiden flights this month of the two long-awaited high-speed heavy bombers, the first pure jet aircraft of that size—the Convair B-60, a development of the B-36, and the Boeing B-52, a larger model of the six-jet B-47.

4. Disclosure of plans to refuel the B-52 in flight.

The B-52, like the B-60, has eight jet engines. Pure jets have such a high rate of fuel consumption that their range is limited. Refueling in flight, however, could give the B-52 the range of the B-36. The latter has six piston engines and four jet engines and can carry 10,000 pounds of bombs 5,000 miles to a target and then return.

The 338,000-pound B-36 is generally regarded as the potential No. 1 carrier, for the Air Force, of atomic bombs. However, its top speed is in the "over 435-mile-an-hour" class, well below that of jet fighters.

Using special equipment, the stations broadcast emergency civil defense instructions in such a manner that enemy bombers would have been unable to use the radio beams as navigational aids.

also had been observed from the ground in the act of recapturing the F-84. Defense officials declined to comment on this.

One speculation concerning the B-36 mothering project was that the F-84 might carry a small atomic bomb, and might be dispatched to the target because of its superior speed and its better chance of escape.

Other theories were, however, that the fighter would be carried along to escort the big bomber over a target area, and to fight off interception.

The radio station exercise, from 1:30 a.m. to 5 a.m. local time Saturday, was designed to test the ability of all stations to remain unidentified while broadcasting over either of two prescribed channels.

Using special equipment, the stations broadcast emergency civil defense instructions in such a manner that enemy bombers would have been unable to use the radio beams as navigational aids.

Jap Flags Again Fly Over Nation

By OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO (AP)—Quiet peace fell over the misty Japanese islands tonight. No incident marred the night that officially ended history's bloodiest war in the Orient.

Japan again became independent at 10:30 p.m. (8:30 a.m. Eastern Standard Time) — the hour set arbitrarily by the U.S. and Japanese governments to mark the close of six years and eight months of Allied occupation. The peace treaty signed by Japan and 48 other nations became effective at the same time.

There was no dancing in the streets, but peace prayers were offered at shrines. Japanese peace lanterns swayed on the Ginza, Tokyo's Broadway.

Millions of Japanese flags—the rising sun on a white field—fluttered for the first time since the occupation began.

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida called it a "magnanimous peace unparalleled in history." He urged his people to "march joyfully, courageously and resolutely on the broad highway of peace and democracy."

Political leaders generally followed his lead. But the Communists were dour. They said today was one of "national humiliation. . . . A blot on the nation's history that has never been seen before."

There was no official word from the Emperor Hirohito nor the empress.

Tomorrow is Hirohito's 51st birthday—a national holiday. The full celebration of the conclusion of the peace agreement will be held Saturday.

The new American ambassador to Japan, Robert D. Murphy, was scheduled to reach Tokyo from the U.S. at about midnight.

For Japan it was a great day on the diplomatic front.

Nationalist China and India made peace with the 84 million Japanese just as had the United States, the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, Pakistan and France.

Red China and Russia technically still were at war with Japan. Neither signed the San Francisco peace treaty nor joined in the Allied peace move that restored Japan to full sovereignty in the family of nations.

The Japanese government issued a white paper calling attention to Russian psychological warfare activities in the Orient. The document said the government was determined to "Russia is not yet determined to resort to an all-out war to win over Western Europe and all of Asia."

The Japanese Ministry of Foreign Affairs said arrangements had been made with Belgium, Brazil, Ceylon, The Netherlands and Norway for the resumption of diplomatic relations. Missions will be exchanged with The Philippines and Indonesia.

The government and Parliament expressed determination to follow the cause of world peace. A resolution was adopted by both houses of Parliament expressing Japan's determination to serve the cause of world peace and the promotion of the welfare of mankind.

A peace amnesty affected 1,200,000 Japanese. Some 3,500 criminals were released from prisons.

METHODISTS TALK OVER LOCAL CHURCH CHANGES

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Recommendations for changes in the organization of every Methodist church in the country come before the Methodist General Conference today.

They are based on an eight-year study. They are not to be confused with a controversial survey report which would revise drastically the upper level of church organization.

Debate on this issue is scheduled late today.

Bishop Copten J. Harrell of Charlotte, N. J., who headed the Commission on the Local Church, noted that the study "adheres to the main line of our historical development and suggests no radical change in our established pattern."

"We are agreed," he said, "that any attempt to reorganize the local church on any other basis would confuse our people and would not serve the ends we have in view."

The commission's principal recommendations:

1. Organization in every local church of an official board and four basic commission (evangelism, missions, education and finance) and as many committees as necessary, all subject to the official board. The board would be composed of the trustees, stewards elected by the quarterly conference, and officers of the local church and church organizations.

2. The quarterly conference would function as the basic body of control in every local church and as the link with connective methodism.

The sharpest battle since the conference began Wednesday centered on the $240,000 survey on streamlining organization of the church as a whole. As a result, each side named three persons to a committee to report today on areas of agreement.

The survey calls for a new coordinating council as the top administrative body. The number of church agencies and publications would be slashed and total board and agency membership cut 20 per cent.

In an address last night, Rev. Dr. Ralph W. Sockman of New York told Methodists "if we support the Church only as an insurance for our property, and practice prayer only as a means to success, then we are materialistic even as are the Communists."

County HD Clubs To Join In National Observance

Howard County Home Demonstration Clubs will entertain at a tea May 5 in honor of State President Mrs. R. M. Almanrode of Munday as their part in the observance of National Home Demonstration Week, April 27-May 3.

Mrs. Almanrode was prevented by previous engagements from appearing here during the week designated.

National HD Week is observed in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

In issuing the proclamation on Texas' observance, Gov. Allan Shivers recognized the many contributions the more than 41,000 members of 2,023 Texas HD Clubs have made to the advancement of rural living.

In 1912 the first home demonstration agent in Texas was appointed to work with girls' tomato clubs and in 1915 demonstration work began with women. The county personnel has gradually increased until today there are 235 home demonstration agents and assistants.

Governor Shivers said that home demonstration clubs have reflected credit on their sponsors, the United States Department of Agriculture, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of A&M College and the commissioners courts by building a greater Texas as they build better homes.

Mrs. M. M. Edwards of Coahoma will be in charge of arrangements for the tea, and Mrs. Sam Armstrong of Coahoma is publicity chairman.

(Recipe for Starred Dish-Follows)
SPICY GLAZED PORK SHOULDER BUTT
 Ingredients: One (about 2 pounds) boneless pork shoulder butt, whole cloves, 1/2 cup light brown sugar, 1/4 cup syrup from canned fruit or sweet pickles, 1/4 teaspoon dry mustard, 1-1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-1/2 teaspoon ginger.
Method: Cover butt with water, bring to a boil, and simmer (do not boil) for 1 1/2 hours. Remove from cooking water and stick entire top surface with cloves at about one-inch intervals. Line a small oven heat-resistant platter or shallow baking pan with aluminum foil, folding foil over edges of platter or pan; place butt on it. In small saucepan put sugar, syrup, mustard, cinnamon, and ginger; stir over moderately low heat until sugar and spices are dissolved; pour over butt. Bake in hot (425F.) oven, basting twice, about 20 minutes or until lightly browned. Allow meat to stand for 5 or 10 minutes before slicing and spoon syrup in bottom of pan over it a few times. Makes 5 to 6 servings. If served on baking platter turn browned edges of foil in.

Informal Coffee To Fete CO's Wife

An informal coffee from 9:30 to 11 a.m. Tuesday will honor Mrs. Ernest F. Wackwitz, wife of the commanding officer of the Big Spring Air Force Base.

The affair will be given at 1106 Wood and hostesses will be Mrs. L. G. Bradford and Mrs. W. S. Smallwood. Wives of all officers stationed at the base are invited to meet Mrs. Wackwitz at that time.

No written invitations are being sent and officer wives are requested to consider this notice as a personal invitation to call at any time between the designated hours.

Silver Spoon Help Teach Etiquette

It may seem handier to use whatever utensils may be available for feeding baby, but too much of this is hardly conducive to instilling good manners and an appreciation of fine things in youngsters.

Let that silver spoon for the infant be the beginning of the training which resolves itself eventually into a poised youngster who will be at ease and admired when company comes.

Mass production methods have brought good silver designed for every age, within the reach of almost every family, from the infant's spoon which is made so little fingers may learn to grasp it, to knife and fork and spoon sets for the "older" youngster.

In fact, points out the Jewelry Industry Council, there are now complete place sets in junior sizes including saucers, forks and soup spoons.

There are also the silver mugs to be added to the list from which admiring relatives can select especially delightful gifts for "baby" that will be cherished as well as used, for a long time.

Molasses Pitcher Returns

The molasses pitcher that graced Grandpa's table for so many years is returning to the American table. In those days it was as commonplace as salt and pepper shakers. Grandpa wanted the molasses pitcher handy so he could pour molasses over his morning cereal, griddle cakes and piping hot biscuits. For in-between-meal and bedtime snacks, he liked to spread this savory sweetener, together with freshly churned butter, over thick slices of Grandma's delicious, homemade bread.

The molasses of which Grandpa was so fond was the rich, mild-flavored, sweet-tasting kind. This same type is obtainable today and is known as old fashioned, un-sulphured molasses.

The grand old sweetener was not just a flavor treat to Grandpa. It helped to keep him healthy, because it contributed extra nutritional values. It is a good source of iron and natural sugars, both of which are in the form that is easily assimilated by the body. It supplies calcium and some vitamin B1. Of course, Grandpa didn't know much about minerals and vitamins. However, his body needed them.

The large quantity of molasses that he also helped supply these important nutrients.

For Grandpa, in her cooking, old fashioned molasses was also a must. It gave the delicious, satisfying flavor and appetizing color to her baked beans, brown bread, cookies, cakes and gingerbread. These were the dishes that made her cooking famous. Here is one way for you to enjoy Grandpa's and Grandma's favorite sweetener.

Harder In Winter

Children are harder to awake in winter because the snowy season demands at least a half-hour more of rest. In winter, children should be put to bed earlier or allowed to sleep longer. Awaken children gently, or allow them to awake spontaneously.

Cleanliness Important

Even after sterilizing days are over, it is of the utmost importance to keep baby's dishes and foods absolutely clean. To insure their cleanliness, scrub jars and cans of food with hot suds before opening. Dip baby's dishes into hot soap and water before use as well as immediately after.

Simple Furniture Designs Given Prizes By Decorators

By ELIZABETH HILLIER
 The newest home furnishings to receive design awards from the American Institute of Decorators show a striking contrast, — the furniture is starkly simple and all other furnishings are much more complex. The leading decorators, makers of trends in the home, chose from actual products on the market in 1951 twenty-first prize winning tables that are made of metal and wood. The one sketched, by designer Peter Rooke Ley of San Francisco, has a laminated top and a base of metal tubing. The other, by Florence Knoll of New York, laminates plastic on wood for the top and has a structural steel base. Fabrics that made the prize list, sketched, are a screen print on linen; top left, by Lucienne Day of London, England, a contemporary abstract, and one of the new easement cloths, right, by Maxwell Harker of Los Angeles, in an unusual combination of cotton, linen and jute. Other winners include the eight-branch wall sconce of wrought iron by Harry Lamwenda sketched at lower left, a contemporary wallpaper with leaves and rectangles by Ben Rose of Chicago and a linen rug that has a marbled effect by Estelle and Erwin Laverne of New York.
