Spearman Team Meets Carson County's Best

Lakewood, Calif. ---- Our dream of being a foreign correspondent is now fulfilled. We are filing our first bit of civilian news copy from a foreign land. Any fifth grade geography student can tell you we are mixed up as usual, but even if California is attached to the rest of the U.S., it still is a foreign land.

It fills all the qualifications for such. The people speak a different language, the mode of dress is strange, the fatter they are the less material they use to cover it; the food is different and they travel in rockets from outer space. These rockets look like older model American cars, but no one outside of California, would think of driving an old American junker like these are propelled along. If one is not exceeding the speed limit by at least 10 to 15 miles per hour he is a road block.

One of these days these rocketeers will figure out something and then much of the "dragging" will be over. From a little experimenting, when we were in the rear of a pack, we found if one stays on the speed limit, the lights on some of the main streets are set and will let you keep going without stopping. If you are in front of the pack, don't slow down to see, just do like the Californians: Burn rubber at each green light and skid to a stop at the next red.

Eight years, a fat civilian look and no Navy blues sure make a difference in the treatment one receives here. You are seated quicker and at better tables in cafes, the waiters and waitresses are more polite and the invitation to come again is more sincere.

If the trail ride to Canadian was not exciting enough for the adventurous in Hansford County, then turn your horse to pasture, climb in your car and head out on U.S. 66 or Interstate 40, they are the same. The Memorial Day 500 may be as exciting, but we doubt it.

There is the thrill of bumper to bumper traffic at high speeds on four-lane highways. While this gives one a thrill, it is nothing to the spine-tingling anti-

Fire Insurance Rate May Be Lowered Soon

Bob Overall, engineer with the State Insurance Commission, will be in Spearman for the next six weeks to check for fire insurance ratings of every mercantile building.

Spearman's fire insurance rate at the present is 51 cents, according to Kenneth Conrey, city manager. Much work has been done in the past few years to make the city's fire department and water supply adequate to lower the insurance rate. Conrey hopes the new rating will be as low as 30 cents

Two engineers from the commission have been in Spearman the past few weeks checking the water supply, the fire fighting equipment and other aspects pertaining to the city's insurance rating. Conrey said the two men told him that Spearman, which had previously had a key-rating of two, now qualifies for a one rating.

Overall's finding from the survey will be submitted to the insurance board in Austin for study before the city can get a new rating. Conrey said that November would probably be the earliest date that the new rating could go into effect.

Presbyterians Get New Minister

Treat Everyone Equal

If members of the present administration continue to give vocal support to the Negroes rioting and demonstrating for their "rights", then we can look for other "oppressed" minorities to disregard the rights of others and turn to the same means to voice their true and imagined complaints.

This week the leader of a Latin-American group in California advocated that Latins should follow in the Negro's path and use demonstrations and riots to make their demands for "equality" felt in all places.

True, many of the minority groups have complaints, real and imaginary. And, we are sure if our skin were a different color we would be impatient, also. However, if the government is going to use federal troops, marshalls and all other means of force to impress on the white majority that we must respect the law and courts of the land; then to give the minorities the same equality they demand, these same methods should be used to impress upon them the respect for law and our courts.

What kind of nation will we deteriorate into if everytime some group has a complaint, we use riots and demonstrations to force a settlement?

Improve Yourself

The editor of a large Japanese newspaper in California last week told the Negroes they should exert as much effort in improving themselves as trying to tear down the segregation barriers.

He wrote that his race had been socially segregated and even put in concentration camps, better known as relocation centers, during World War II. However, his people returned after the war and made an effort to be better citizens.

The editor said he had found many Negro leaders did not want to be reminded that much of their troubles were caused by actions of their own race.

"A man does not have to have a dime in his pocket to restrain himself from raping a woman or robbing a man," the editor pointed out.

Tourist Marker Sought For Hansford County

The Hansford County Historical Committee met June 28 at 2:30 in the County Judge's office.

The committee's first project in trying to preserve the county's heritage and mark historical places, is to erect a tourist marker on the Old Tascosa, Dodge City Trail where it crosses Hwy 282 near the townsite of Old Hansford. In a recent trip to Austin, Judge Lee was assured of the approval of the application for the marker and the committee hopes to arrange for the erection of the marker in the near future.

There are no funds allotted for this project and it is hoped that it can be financed by donations. Anyone wishing to contribute may give his contribution to any member or to Judge Lee.

Mrs. Gertie Archer presided in the absence of the President Tom Jones. Correspondence from Rep. A.C. Hallmark and Senator Grady Hazelwood was read. Members attending were Mmes. Gertie Archer, Olin Sheets, Lee McClellan, N.F. Renner, Judge Johnnie Lee and a guest Earl Blankinship, manager of the Spearman Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. H.P. Cates, Charles and Sandy Latham were visiting last week in Brenham with her sister Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Bassell. They returned home Friday.

Mrs. Ray E. Lackey and Tim went to Enid Friday to pick up Ann Lackey who had spent the past two weeks with her grandmother Stephens.

Here's A Twist

The latest Supreme Court ruling on school prayers and Bible reading didn't cause much stir, but a cartoon in the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram a few days ago pictured a small-size school boy hiding his Bible behind a large geography book... and that's a real twist on an old saw.

The Canadian Record

Who Pays ?

Administrative overhead of any socialized welfare service is so great that the people who foot the bill are invariably left holding the bag.

Let's take the social security system, for instance. It was established in 1937 on the theory that it would provide benefits not available under a private plan.

Let's now take a look at what actually happens. A man who goes to work at 21... on his own and through his employer... contributes about $18,000 by the time he is 65 years of age. If that same money were banked at 4 1/4 percent compounded quarterly, he would accumulate about $50,000 by retirement.

This investment would bring in at 4 1/4 percent an income of $2,125 annually while social security would provide him with only $1,524. Social security also terminates upon death except for very small benefits to widows. It builds no cash reserve. There is very little the socialists can do that. Left alone by government... private enterprise cannot do better.

Now We Know

Sometime ago an announcement was made by the postal department that no envelopes smaller than 4 1/4x3" would be accepted for mailing in any US post office. At the time many of us wondered why this change was being made.

Now we know. Since we have ZIP code numbers the small envelopes would not be large enough to accommodate a mailing address and a return address.

Double Ring Vows Unite Miss Prachar, D.A. Cator

In an impressive double ring ceremony June 20 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Miss Patricia Louise Prachar of Spearman became the bride of Durwood Allen Cator of Gruver.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Prachar of Spearman and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Cator of Gruver.

The First Methodist Church of Spearman was the setting for the vows which were directed by Rev. Charles Gates, pastor.

Eddie Martin, organist, presented traditional wedding selections and Mrs. George C. Lowe of Gruver sang "At Dawning", and "The Wedding Prayer", accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Glenn Truax of Gruver.

The altar was decorated with baskets of orchid, white and yellow flowers.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of nylon tulle and lace designed with a square neckline and long sleeves ending with lace trim at the wrists. Her fingertip veil was attached to a crown of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of lily of the valley centered with an orchid atop a white Bible.

Miss Judabeth Lovett was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Bonnie Prachar, sister of the bride and Angela Cator, sister of the bridegroom. They wore rainbow colored dresses of silk chiffon and carried nosegays of white carnations showered with satin streamers.

Jimmie Eting of Gruver was best man and ushers were Gary Prachar, brother of the bride, Bill Cator, brother of the bridegroom, Frank Pittman, brother-in-law of the bridegroom and Billy Whitfield of Sunray.

Mrs. Prachar, mother of the bride, wore a blue linen jacket dress with patent leather accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Cator, wore a dress of orchid lace with matching accessories and an orchid carnation corsage.

A reception was held following the ceremony in fellowship hall of the church. The three tiered wedding confection was white trimmed with yellow roses and lily of the valley. A cluster of yellow wedding bells and a miniature wedding couple topped the cake. Double crystal candle holders with white tapers flanked the setting and hellow punch and cake were served from the table which was appointed in crystal.

Mrs. Tommie White, sister of the bride, was hostess, assisted by Loriece George of Gruver, Beverly Utt of Walsh, Colo., both cousins of the bride and Sandra Bortz of Walsh, Colo.

The bride chose for her wedding trip, a burnt orange colored linen ensemble with matching accessories and the orchid from her bouquet.

After reading through The Plainsman this week, see if you can tell that it's an "editor-less" edition.

For the first time in its almost four year history, The Plainsman has gone to press without Burl, who was called to California last Wednesday to be with his favorite uncle who suffered a heart attack and is critically ill.

Even though Burl hasn't been here to sell ads and write news and editorials and such, Jim and I and our staff are trying hard to gather the news and get the paper out on time. But if some vital news story is left out, chalk it up to the fact that our news staff is "all Indians and no Chief" this week.

I received an interesting letter this week from Marilyn Crawford Hogan, daughter of the Cecil Crawfords, who lives in Denver, Colo.

Marilyn writes about her grandmother, Mrs. Nina Miller of Spearman. I've never met Mrs. Miller but she sounds like an interesting and talented person. Here's the letter:

Dear Day,

Have finally decided to write to you, for I think I have something of interest for your column.

You have, living in Spearman, quite an unusual person. She is Mrs. Nina Miller, owner of Miller's Trailer Park. She is my grandmother, and since I was a little girl I've been interested-no fascinated by the poetry she writes. It is warm, humorous and stirring.

I am taking the liberty of sending some of her poems to you. I'm sure she'll not mind.

the couple are at home south of Perryton where the bridegroom is employed.

The bride, who has attended high school in Spearman, will finish her senior year at Perryton High School.

The bridegroom graduated from Gruver High School and attended Sul Ross College in Alpine and Amarillo College.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included Messrs. and Mrs. R. L. Cator and D. W. Hawpe of Sunray, Loretta Silvey, Beverly Utt, Sandra Bortz and Don Wright all of Walsh Colo. Mr. and Mrs. Theo Mayo and Thesia of Skellytown, Mrs. Luther Foust and Walter of Plainview, Mrs. Erlis Pittman and Bill of Morse, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Tilley of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Mitts of Gruver, Mrs. Lola Mae Cator of Gruver, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Cator, Gruver, Mr. and Mrs. Anson Ward, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Lowe, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford George and Lorlie, Mrs. Jolene Thompson, Rickey and Shonna, Mrs. Mary Davis and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Davis, Sr., also of Gruver.

I hope you see fit to make it a point to meet this lovely person and get to know her.

Sincerely,

SPIRIT OF '36

by Nina Maud Miller

The lightning flashed and the thunder roared,
And the trees blew round like switches,
And tho, like "old Jack," we beckoned and pulled,
No rain ran down the ditches,
The Rain God is sore at we Panhandle fools,
And has been for many a day,
For no water stands in little pools,
There's no moisture to grow our hay.

And tho we plant rhubarb and carrots and beans,
We've still got to live off of lambs quarter greens.

But I guess just to work and to starve is no sin,
So we'll tighten our belts and try it again!

And then, !
The lightning flashed and the thunder roared,
And the trees blew round like switches,

And without a single pull or haul,
The rain ran down the ditches,
And father cried, "Hip Hip Hooray!

"This rain's a benefactor,
We're gonna have so durned much hay,
I'll have to buy a tractor."
And Ma said "You ain't got no dough,
And you couldn't run your face. . ."

And Pa said "Heck, that's all you know,
I'm gonna buy a Case,
And since my credit is so good,
I'll pull a few more wires,
And stretch it just another notch,

To put on rubber tires.
And with my Case, both day and nite,
I'll never never stop.

On rubber tires so smooth and soft,
Just watch me raise a crop!"

ODE TO THE TEXAS PANHANDLE IN THESE HYAR TIMES

The moon comes over the mountains
On these vast and mighty plains,
There's so durned much dust you can hardly breathe-
Everytime it rains.

The horses guzzle gasoline,
While tractors gobble hay,
And little kids do all the work,
While old folks run and play.

The dogs are sprouting reathers
And hens are growing hair,
We sit upon the table,
And put our food upon the chair.

Do you have the urge to get out in the open and go camping, boating, or just walking in the woods and fields? If you do, you may find just what you are looking for on a farm right close by.

A new publication by the US Department of Agriculture Miscellaneous Publication No. 930 "Rural Recreation - New Opportunities on Private Land" is just out that gives the latest information on ways to enjoy the out-of-doors. You can get a copy from the local office of the Soil Conservation Service in Spearman according to Wayne Chapman, Work Unit Conservationist.

Chapman, who is assigned by the SCS to assist the Hansford Soil Conservation District, said that the new publications lists the opportunities for outdoor recreation close to home, gives suggestions on how to find them and describes the farm and ranch people who will be your hosts. It tells about campgrounds, vacation farms and ranches, swimming and boating, fishing and hunting. Just walking and enjoying nature are there for your asking.

A copy of this publication may open up ideas for enjoying outdoor fun right in your own neighborhood that you never realized existed.

You may also wish to examine your farm or ranch for the possibility of providing this much needed service. Your Hansford Soil Conservation District will be glad to furnish you the information they have on this subject and provide the Soil Conservation Service technicians to you in planning recreation as part of your Conservation Plan.

4-H'ers TO ATTEND ELECTRIC CAMP

Six 4-H members, three girls and three boys, will attend the District I 4-H Electric Camp that will be held near Cloudcraft, N. M., July 29 to August 2. This camp is sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Co. The three boys who will be attending are: Allen McCloy, David Johnson, and Lynn Stedje. I will be attending this camp also.

LIVESTOCK PRODUCER TO ASSIST SCREW WORM PROGRAM

The Livestock producers in Hansford County are being asked to assist and cooperate in the screw worm eradication program. They are being asked to send in specimens of screw worms found in livestock wounds.

A Mailing Kit is available for your convenience. This kit contains: a glass tube to put the screw worms in; instruction for collecting worms; information sheet; a free Mail Address label that you place in the Mailing Kit.

These kits are available in my office and they will also be placed in stores over the county. Look for the sign: Mailing Kit for Screw worms.

You may want to pick one of these kits up and carry it with you so when you find a case of screw worms you can collect a sample.

The use of credit by farmers and ranchers will probably continue to increase for several years, says John McHaney, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

His prediction is based on trends toward continued consolidation and enlargement of farms, further increases in capital investments, and higher prices for farm real estate and many items of production. He points out that farm mortgages recorded during 1962 amounted to $3.5 billion, or 16 percent more than the preceding year. Also the number of farm mortgages recorded was two percent higher and loans averaged 13 percent larger than in 1961.

New technology and the price-cost squeeze are major factors which have increased the need for more credit, says McHaney. Funds are generally wanted for more land, livestock or equipment; shifts from crop to livestock production; increased use of fertilizer and for control of insects and weeds; and for the modernization of facilities for efficient agricultural production.

Another reason for increased

Rogers Reports About Defense Appropriations

After two days of debate, which no one would characterize as spirited, the House recently passed the major defense appropriation measure for the next fiscal year--a bill calling for expenditures totaling $47 billion. The sum represents more than half of all money to be spent by the government in the year which began July 1. After cuts were made in Appropriations Committee sessions and on the floor during debate, the appropriated amount was $1.9 billion less than the President had requested in his budget message and $1.25 billion under the actual similar expenditures for the fiscal year just ended.

The vote on passage in the House was 410 to 1. That the debate was so routinely conducted and the final vote overwhelmingly bears out what every American knows anyway: That there is simply no way around the Nation's vital need to maintain its military forces at unequalled strength. There is no alternative if we are to preserve our sovereignty.

As my colleague from the South Plains, George Mahon, said as the debate opened: "All the bills which Congress passes are important to somebody. The bill before us today is important to everybody--to everybody in the US, and to all the peace-loving people of the entire world. This is true, because this is the legislation which, more than any other, enables the US to maintain its position of military superiority over the Soviet Union."

Congressman Mahon said: "Our military strength will not necessarily insure peace, but insofar as military strength can avert and deter war, this Government has what it takes."

During the debate, one Congressman presented the 1962 Department of Defense payroll, military and civilian, and Department of Defense total expenditures for each state. The figures spell out just what military spending means to Texas economy.

In Texas, the military payroll totaled $778,798,000 and the payroll of civilian workers for the Defense Department was $361,742,000--for a combined total of $1,006,253,000. Total Defense Department expenditures in Texas were $2,146,793,000. Only one other state exceeded the Texas totals. California, with its heavy concentration of aircraft manufacturers, had a combined Defense Department payroll of $1,709,585,000, and that figure coupled with the enormous sums spent in California for procurement sent the total of Defense Department expenditures in that state to a staggering $7,702,829,000.

Military installations were placed in these states and military procurement contracts assigned to manufacturers there for good reasons. No one would argue that the economies of Texas and California do not benefit greatly from this situation. Almost as much money is spent by the federal government in these two states--for defense purposes only--as is taken out in total taxes. The taxes paid into the federal treasury from Texas, for example, totaled in 1962 $3,329,247,000 on defense payrolls and contracts.

Several Congressmen from Southern states expressed concern during the debate over what they regard as an implied threat that military installations in the South will be deactivated unless nearby cities do not act to desegregate public facilities. The objections raised by these Members of the House followed news reports that Defense Secretary McNamara had been ordered to investigate integration conditions in cities near military bases. If such a situation actually does develop, you can be sure I will be among Congressmen speaking out in vigorous opposition. I concur wholeheartedly with my colleague from Alabama, Congressman George W. Andrews, who told the House: "Military bases were selected on the basis of what was good for the defense effort and not to appease minority groups."

This past week it was my privilege, as a member of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, to attend the dedication of the Saline Water Conversion Demonstration Plant at Roswell, N. M. The plant is designed to desalt brackish underground water to fresh water at the rate of one million gallons per day. Fresh water produced by the plant will be sold to the City of Roswell, and the research work to be conducted there will help show the way to solutions--at least partial ones--of the Nation's vital water conservation problems.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mullins, Margaret and Sandra Miller returned late Sunday night from Ponca City, where they had spent the weekend with relatives.

Corvair 700 Club Coupe

The hardest part about parking a Corvair is finding a nickel

That may be a slight overstatement, but such jauntiness comes easily when you're a Corvair owner.

And you can usually back it up--as easily as you can back up a Corvair. You'll find yourself doing that occasionally, if only to adjust the brakes--they're self-adjusting. That's all there is to it, and that's a good example of how delightfully easy Corvair is to own, drive and maintain.

But since we began by talking about driving, let's stick with that awhile. A large factor in the fun of driving a Corvair is the location of its engine in the rear. Why the rear? It gives Corvair extra traction on any road surface. It provides a nearly flat floor for more useable interior space. Best of all, it produces steering so light, so responsive, you wonder why no other American-made car thought of it.

Corvair's engine is also air cooled, we might add, which means there's no anti-freeze or water for you to add. Ever.

All that pleasure from something so practical almost makes you think Corvair is unique among American cars. Which isn't surprising, because it is!

THE WAY I SEE IT

By Robert Cordes

"NOT LOST TO GOD"

The little plane flew on and on. Around, for miles and miles, was a huge ocean of fog. The pilot, Mr. Williams, was afraid, but he didn't tell his wife and two children.

He watched the dials and knew what direction he was going but didn't know what was below--it could be trees, lake, buildings. In a little while there would be no more gasoline. He called again on his radio.

Then he heard a voice. "This is the radar control at Johnsville. Come in."

Down on the ground the men watching the radar screen saw a white dot. The dot was the Williams plane. They told Mr. Williams what to do, when to turn. "Turn just a bit to the left. That's it--keep coming. Now down." A row of lights appeared like magic. The plane bounced lightly on the ground and rolled to a stop. They were safe.

Did you ever feel as though you were lost in a fog? Maybe you were lonely, and you felt as though you were forgotten by everyone. Maybe you felt hopeless or all mixed up and didn't know what to think or do. Many times children as well as older people feel this way

At times like this it is good to remember that God sees us better than on a radar screen. He knows how we feel and is ready to guide and help us. That's why the Bible tells us: "Cast all your cares (worries and fears) on Him, for He cares for you." (1 Peter 5:7)

As Mr. Williams trusted the men with their radar, we can trust God to see us through, and much more, when we are lost.

You see, for Jesus' sake He loves and cares about us. He only asks that we cast our cares upon Him--that we acknowledge Him as the Lord and master of our life

Many go through life filled with worries because they don't take them to the Lord. Worry is a sin. So cast your complete life upon The Lord and notice the peace that comes to your troubled mind.

Draft Quota Is For 552 Men

The state quota for Texas draft boards in August calls for 552 men. Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Tuesday.

The state's August call of 552 compares with a quota of 349 for July and 187 for June. The August call is the state's share of a national quota of 12,000 men, all for the Army.

Colonel Schwartz also announced pre-induction physical and mental examinations for 1,500 men in August.

Local board quotas for the August call already have been figured and sent to the state's 137 local boards.

The August quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 years old on August 1, except volunteers and those legally termed delinquent under the draft law, who may be younger.

All males are required to register under the draft law on their 18th birthday or within five days thereafter.

Many books tell how to manage after retiring. What's needed is one explaining how to manage until.

E.C. Green Improving

Mr. E. C. Greene, who is in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo following a stroke, is gradually improving and is having therapy treatments. The family reports, that if his condition continues to improve he may be able to be moved to Spearman in about a week.

Tall Texan ...

cipation you have when suddenly the four lanes of high speed traffic are funneled into two narrow lanes on a winding, rough dusty detour. New Mexico and Arizona apparently rebuild all of their roads in the summer.

By the time one has made the 1200 mile race he will feel like he has driven the "500" and the great European road races as well. Surprisingly, we did not see a single scratched fender on the trip.

It is truly a small world. While sitting in the hospital lobby we were talking to Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Shell, who, by the way, work for Shell Oil Pipeline here in California. We were discussing Texas and the Panhandle. Mrs. Shell said she graduated from West Texas in 1933, she was Ruth Truss then. Her first school was at Hartley and she said she had to take some girl basketball players to Spearman one night in a dust storm.

She and Mr. Shell both are long time ago friends of Red Wedgeworth of Pampa and his brother who was Superintendent in Perryton.

It seems that 90 per cent of the people out here in the oil business originated in Texas.
