Grange Head Says Conditions Are Ripe For Farm Depression

PORTLAND, Me., Nov. 10. (U.S.) Economic conditions similar to those which caused farm collapse and subsequent depression following World War I now face American agriculture, National Grange Master Albert S. Goss said today.

"Unless adequate provision is made to prevent a recurrence of the price break," Goss said in an address prepared for the Grange National Convention, "we can expect a repetition of the debacle of a generation ago."

"With the major exception that farmers have kept their debts down and are in better financial position to weather a storm," he declared, "almost every factor which led to the farm crash and eventually to the greatest depression in history is present today."

Goss said the Grange favored defenses against the disaster of farm collapse:

1. Full and effective use of present marketing facilities by pushing the products in surplus supply and sparing the items in short supply, a factor in adjusting demand to fit supply. Such a program would call for a Federal Farm Commission responsible for a perpetual inventory of food supplies and data on prospective demand.
 2. A flexible price support similar to that provided in the Alcorn bill which becomes effective in 1950—creating a price floor designed to prevent unjustifiable sharp fluctuations in price.
 3. A "stop loss floor" set at a level which would not be incentive in character but which would protect producers from bankruptcy and below which prices would never be allowed to fall.
- Even under full employment conditions, Goss said, "our marketing system is such that a small surplus may result in a collapse in price which would destroy the producer of the plenty upon which prosperity depends."
- As a move toward fitting national supply to demand, Goss would create a "moderate stockpile of grain and fibre—enough to give us reasonable assurance of plenty to carry us through some adverse production years or meet some emergency requirement."

Official Warns Of Soil Loss

BROWNWOOD, Nov. 10. (U.S.)—Almost 800 million tons of Texas topsoil will wash away in the next year.

That warning came from W. S. Davis, Jr., of League City, president-manager of the Soil Conservation District Supervisors Assn. The association's eighth annual convention ends here today.

Addressing a convention dinner last night, Davis said:

"A total of 796,748,000 tons of topsoil is going to wash and flow off the surface of our great, proud state in the next 12 months. Letting our topsoil, our lifeblood, disappear this way and at this rate is squandering astronomical sums of money."

"The 10 million dollars we are asking the state legislature for during the next two years is peanuts by comparison. In years to come, continued losses such as these are going to cost us and our children the civilization we know today."

Another speaker, J. C. Dykes of Washington, urged the supervisors to adopt a policy of dealing only with organized groups instead of piece-meal with individuals. Dykes, assistant soil conservation service chief, said this way the job would be done "faster, cheaper and better."

Recorded Talk May Be Used In Texas Court

LONGVIEW, Nov. 10. (U.S.)—For the first time in a Texas court, a recorded conversation may be allowed as evidence here today despite objections of defense attorneys.

The case is that of Bertha D. Allen, Gregg County school superintendent charged with incompetence and gross negligence. The state charges that Gregg County claims for the school lunch program exceeded funds actually spent.

At the conclusion of yesterday's testimony, Judge Otis Dunachan of Tyler said he planned to allow introduction of the recorded conversation as evidence.

Dist. Atty. R. L. Whitehead of Longview, prosecuting attorney, said the recorded conversation was between Mrs. Allen and D. M. Brown, principal of a Gregg County School for Negroes.

Brown and Essie May Adams, a home economics teacher in the same school, testified yesterday regarding the school lunch claims. Whitehead presented records which he said showed a discrepancy between state and county accounts of funds spent for school lunches. He said the records sent to the state for claim purposes had been altered.

Dallas Butchers' Strike Is Over Except At Wyatts

DALLAS, Nov. 10. (U.S.)—The four-day strike of AFL butchers was over today so far as the Safeway and A&P grocery chains were concerned—but no settlement has been reached with Wyatts, the third chain involved.

The union ended a two-hour meeting last night by voting to accept $5 weekly wage increases offered by Safeway Stores, Inc., and A&P super markets. The union originally had asked for a $10 increase.

The settlement left unchanged the butchers' 50-hour week, which they had wanted reduced to 45.

Sam Twedell, international vice president of the AFL Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers Workmen's Union, said Wyatts was not represented in negotiations yesterday for the agreement reached last night.

Safeway closed its meat counters soon after the strike began Saturday. A&P operated its meat markets with store managers behind the counters. Wyatts began to hire new workers the day after the strike began and remained open.

Twedell said pickets will be removed from A&P stores today but did not say whether picketing will continue at Wyatts. Safeway was not picketed, apparently because it closed its meat counters.

Myers Hopes Plan To Stop Congress All-Night Stands

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (U.S.)—Sen. Myers (D-Pa.) is hopeful the new Democratic Congress will adopt his let's-look-where-we're-going plan.

Known by the more formal title of "legislative program resolution," the measure is designed to do away—by law—with all-night wind-up sessions of the House and Senate.

Myers' argument is that the two top deliberative bodies of the most powerful nation on earth should not go through such frantic antics. Not only are they not good for the nation, he says, they hang years from the lives of the lawmakers.

His proposal evoked much praise when it was introduced during last summer's special session after the regular session wound up in a bedlam early on Sunday. Nothing came of it then, but Myers told a reporter he plans to offer it again come January and—"I think it has an excellent chance."

City Fathers Speed Plans For New Airport Building

City commissioners took action Tuesday to speed plans for a new administration building at the Municipal airport.
Preliminary plans for the project have already been approved by the Civil Aeronautics Administration, said City Manager H. W. Whitney, and the next major step will be the filing of a formal application for a Federal grant of funds to help finance the construction. Required forms for the application have been obtained and commissioners granted authority for the application to be completed and forwarded to the proper agency.
Puckett and French of Big Spring who assisted in preparing preliminary plans, will be retained as architect and engineer for the project.
In other business at Tuesday's session, commissioners authorized the city manager to purchase and install two traffic signals, one at the intersection of Third and Goliad streets and the other at Third and Nolan.
Three delegations appeared before the commission to submit requests. Commissioners voted to repair floors in the building at the West Side park after hearing a request from a group of women representing churches of the city.
A delegation from the Colored Civic League requested additional street lights, street maintenance work, and new fire plugs for an area west of Trade street in the northwest part of the city. Commissioners assured the group that steps would be taken to fulfill their requests as rapidly as possible. The delegation also asked the commissioners to urge the gas company to boost pressure on its lines in that area.
Another delegation representing a group of Latin-American residents pledged cooperation with local authorities in promoting strict law enforcement in northwest Big Spring. They discussed plans for curtailing public disturbances in that sector, and commissioners instructed the city manager, city attorney and the chief of police to make a detailed study of the problems there.

Two Congressional Leaders Back Farm Price Supports

NASHVILLE, N. C., Nov. 10 (AP)—The American farmer today had the assurance of two congressional leaders that farm prices still will be supported at 90 per cent of parity.
Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-NC), who likely will be chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, said he is in favor of the support program if production controls are linked with it.
Joining Sen. Elmer Thomas (D-Okl.), who is in line for the Senate Agriculture Committee chairmanship and who earlier approved the same support level, Cooley said: "I am definitely in favor of a 90 per cent support program" for the basic commodities—cotton, tobacco, wheat, corn and peanuts—production controls.
Sharply critical of Republican farm legislation passed by the last Congress, Cooley said it provided for "large payments during periods of scarcity."
"That's when it is needed least, because the law of supply and demand will take care of you when you have a short supply. What the farmers need is something that will protect them against unforeseen situations which might result in a temporary surplus."

Woman Is Freed Of Murder Charge

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 10 (AP)—A 12-man jury has freed Mrs. Edna Grace, 39-year-old blonde, of charges of murdering the husband she married while he was a life prisoner.
The defendant, attired in black, sat throughout the second day of the trial in criminal district court yesterday, with a handkerchief tightly knotted in her hands.
She fainted when the jury returned its verdict after one hour and 10 minutes of deliberation.
The state had accused her of firing a bullet into the neck of her husband, William Grace, during a birthday party for her the night of Aug. 19.

Cruiser Dayton Is Being Placed In 'Moth Balls'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Navy is putting the 10,000-ton light cruiser Dayton in moth balls to save men and money for its stepped-up anti-submarine program.
The Dayton has just finished a complete overhaul at the Boston Navy yard, where it will be stored with other ships of the Atlantic Reserve Fleet, the Navy said Tuesday.
Commissioned in 1945, the Dayton served with the Third Fleet off Japan. The cruiser, which recently returned from service in the Mediterranean, normally carries a crew of 47 officers and 870 men. She was built by the New York Ship Building Corp., Camden, N. J., with war bonds bought by the citizens of Dayton, Ohio.
The Navy explained that the vessel's inactivation will release more men and money for the "intensified anti-submarine, carrier and destroyer training program." The 45,000-ton Battleship Iowa was laid up Sept. 1, both to save men and funds and because the modern Navy's emphasis is away from battleships.

The Dayton is one of 15 light cruisers in the Navy's active fleet. Other ships include one battleship, 11 carriers, three light carriers, seven escort carriers, 10 heavy cruisers, six anti-aircraft cruisers, 147 destroyers, 13 destroyer escorts and 80 submarines.

Record Vote Significant And Ought To Alert Us To Duties

Howard county has tacked up a new record vote in polling 5,855 ballots in the Nov. 2 general election.

This is significant in that many things turn upon the vote polled, particularly that for governor, which happened to be 5,094. That alone would be a new record. The vote is more significant, however, in the percentage of turnout. It indicates that Howard county people are steadily awakening to their responsibility in participating in elections. The records have been in that direction all year, for in practically every vote that has come along, including the first and second democratic primaries, the school trustee and the city elections, the poll list has hit new highs.

Under such conditions decisions mean something. They may not necessarily be decisive, although a large vote generally does establish a definite trend, but they do tell office holders and official boards more of what the people think.

Increasing population and a presidential year no doubt have contributed to the greater interest in elections. Next year is an "off" year so far as primaries and general elections are concerned, but there will be city, school and possibly other matters up for consideration. We don't have an inkling of any bond proposals or other special issues which might arise, but arise they might.

The point is simply this—the obligations of voters go on year in and year out. There is no recess. Those who are alert will pay their poll taxes and will exercise their cherished right of franchise at every opportunity.

Chest Heads For Last Round Up; Are You In The Fold?

There is a popular song of yesteryear—"Heading for the Last Round Up"—which might keynote the clean-up drive of the Community Chest. That's what Chest officials are aiming toward in their efforts to gather in the remaining $7,000 needed to reach the total objective of $37,000.

Considering that there are yet hundreds and hundreds of people who ought to give to the Chest and who have not yet done so, the goal is not at all out of reach. It ought to be attained, and promptly.

This year there has been a phenomenal record on the part of those asked to work and those to give. Chest officials said they had not yet had a turn down on persons asked to take a responsible place in the campaign. Those who have worked report a negligible amount of persons declining to give.

The weak points, as always, have been in the number contacted directly, and in the failure of many donors to grasp the fact that they are giving to six agencies in their single gift. One or two dollar contributions just won't get the job done for the simple reason that six agencies cutting in on those gifts don't get but a few cents each. In the vast majority of cases it's not that people aren't able to give a bit more, but that they have not stopped to realize that this is the big push.

It is to be prayed sincerely that those who have not yet given will do so at once; that they will do so thoughtfully; that they will do so because they believe in these welfare and character building agencies as investments in a better community. How about it: Have you given?

Social Security Expansion Is A Presidential Promise

WASHINGTON, (AP)—PRESIDENT TRUMAN has promised a better Social Security program, covering more people and giving higher benefits.

It now covers about 30 million workers. He wants it widened to take in over 20 million more.

To go into those parts which affect retired workers and their dependents:

Congress passed the Social Security Act in 1935 for this purpose:

To give workers some protection—in the form of insurance—when they become too old to work, and insurance for their dependents when they die.

THIS WAS NOT CHARITY. WORKERS and their employers have had to pay equally for this insurance through a social security tax.

The employer pays a yearly tax of one per cent on his wages or salary but only up to the first $3,000 he makes a year.

And the employer pays a tax of one per cent on the wages or salaries his employees make but only up to the first $3,000 for each of them.

This tax goes into a fund called the social security, old age and survivors insurance fund. Payments from it are running about $465 million a year.

About 2,055,000 men, women and children are receiving benefits now under the program.

But not every worker is covered. Who are those 20 million unprotected people whom President Truman wants brought under the act?

They include farmers, farm workers, self-employed people, domestic servants and people working for non-profit organizations like the Red Cross.

WHO GETS THE INSURANCE AMONG the 30 million workers who are covered? Retired workers, men and women, who have reached 65; an additional monthly benefit to a retired worker's wife if she is 65, and for his unmarried children under 18.

If the covered worker, under or over 65, dies, monthly benefits to his widow, if she is over 65; his widow of any age if she has dependent children under 18; unmarried children under 18; his parents if they were chiefly dependent on him and if he left no widow or children.

What's the most insurance a 65-year-old worker can get if he retires right now? The maximum for him would be $44.80 a month and then only if he has been paying his tax into the fund since 1947 and if his salary since 1937 has averaged at least $250 a month (3,000 a year).

And the most his wife can get if she reaches 65 now, is half of the sum of retired husband gets—or $22.40.

But—although the maximum pay to a retired worker now is $44.80 a month, the average is only $25. The minimum is $10.

LAST SPRING PRESIDENT TRUMAN asked Congress—without result—to increase the maximum pay by 50 per cent, so the retired worker would be getting only $44.80, would then receive $67.20. If he dies his widow's share would be greater.

He probably will ask Congress to increase the present one per cent tax on employers and employees to one and a half per cent on each, starting maybe around July 1.

And, instead of taxing only the first $3,000 of pay each year, the first $4,500 probably would be taxed. At least that's what President Truman asked for before.

If You Were Born Homely And Poor, Why Take Heart

NEW YORK, (AP)—IF YOU WERE BORN poor and homely, take heart, man.

A hundred years from now the scholars may be turning handspins over you.

At least the most exciting literary rediscoveries of recent years have dealt with two men of genius who were regarded by their contemporaries as uncouth in appearance—or downright ugly.

One was Abraham Lincoln. The opening of his long-sealed papers in 1947 still has historians astir. They expect them to throw new light on the civil war era.

A single letter by the gangling, awkward Lincoln, who learned to read and write by firelight and rose from the log cabin to the White House, sold at auction here last April for $5,800.

Equally as dramatic as the opening of the Lincoln papers was the assembling of a lost treasure trove of literary material surrounding Dr. Samuel Johnson. It is the outstanding literary event of 1948.

THE COLLECTION CLIMAXES A 22- year search by Lt. Col. Ralph H. Isham, son of a New Jersey railroad financier, who drained his own personal fortune to buy it.

It consists of literally thousands of papers left at his death in 1795 by James Boswell, whose monumental study of Johnson is the best known biography in all literature. They were lost for more than a century in the rubbish of castles in Ireland and England.

Scholars expect them to give a complete new picture of this golden age of England, over whose literary life Johnson ruled with an iron tongue.

Johnson is only a dimly-remembered figure to most schoolboys. But to those who have taken the trouble to wade through Boswell's massive biography he is one of the most interesting men who ever lived.

He was a kind of Noah Webster, Dorothy Parker, Alexander Wolffcott and H. L. Mencken rolled into one. And something more, too. But except for Boswell, who trotted at his heels for 21 years noting down everything he said, Johnson would be known today only as a minor poet, dictionary maker and literary historian.

FOR FEW PEOPLE NOW BOTHER TO read what Johnson himself wrote, they read what Boswell says he said. Such as: "Patriotism is the last refuge of a scoundrel."

"Hell is paved with good intentions."
"A man of genius has been seldom ruin-

"SOME CABINET REMODELING TOO, BOSS?"

Washington Merry-Go-Round — Drew Pearson

Truman's First Cabinet Meeting Is A Sober Back-To-Work Session

WASHINGTON — President Truman's first cabinet meeting after the election was no back-slapping affair. It was a sober, down-to-business, back-to-work session.

Only humorous note came as the stragglers were filing in, when Vice President-Elect Alben Barkley told about an incident occurring at a Kentucky political rally. When the chairman announced there would be a two-minute wait before going on the air, someone piped up:

"I would like to take the two minutes to say a prayer for the Democratic Party."

President Truman did virtually all the talking at the cabinet meeting and finished in less than 15 minutes. He asked his cabinet to go to work on a future program which would put campaign promises into action. He said:

"I want you fellows to get your programs in shape for discussion immediately, because we've got to present them to Congress when it reconvenes."

Significantly the President gave no hint of firing anyone from the cabinet. He talked about his long-range program as if everyone present would take part. Only Secretary of State Marshall, now in Paris, did not attend. The man with the least to say was Dewey's friend, Secretary of Defense Forrestal, who didn't let out a peep.

RUNS STATE DEPARTMENT Truman advisers were discussing changes in the State Department. Donald Dawson of the White House staff remarked that Averell Harriman had been suggested as Secretary of State.

Remarked Clark Clifford: "One Union Pacific man in four years is enough."

(He referred to Undersecretary of State Bob Lovett who embarrassed Truman so frequently during the campaign. Lovett is a partner in Brown Brothers, Harriman and Co., while Ambassador Harriman owns a large part of the Union Pacific.)

HE BET ON TRUMAN One man who didn't go wrong on the election was Navy Chief Francisco Regacho, aide to Adm. Louis Denfeld. Regacho backed with cash and won $1,500.

"I was in the Navy six years under the Republicans," explains Regacho, "and I couldn't get promoted beyond 1st class. But under the Democrats I got to be chief. Naturally I bet on my friends. Also I knew my boss, Admiral Denfeld, was for Truman."

PEARSON'S CAT Now that the election is over and we can worry about other things, I am reminded that this is National Cat Week, and that, thanks to my friend, Bascom Timmons, I am chairman of National Cat Week.

Behind that shrewd political visage of his, Mr. Timmons has a tender heart and a fondness for cats. He promoted National Cat Week last year, and, without consulting me in advance, got me appointed chairman for 1948.

Perhaps I should admit, however, that it was not so much Bascom, but my cat Cinder that got me into this.

Cinder sits on my desk when I am writing a column and acts as unofficial censor. As far as I know she cannot read, but she has uncanny instinct. For when I heave a brickbat in the direction of Bascom's boss, Jesse Jones, Cinder purrs with pleasure. But if I want to start writing anything critical about her friend, Harry Truman, she stages a sit-down strike on the paper and won't move until I pry her loose. Cinder is pure black—hence her name. Actually Cinder belongs to my daughter. When she was a small kitten my daughter took such a fancy to her that she insisted on taking her away to school and kept her there for a term.

Later my daughter graduated to other things and has been kept busy with a husband and son, so I have inherited Cinder.

While I realize that some people don't like cats, I would like to call their attention to the fact that the No. 1 enemy of our grain crop is rats. If the rats in our farm areas were eliminated, enough grain could be saved to feed all the people who starve in China.

And in cities, the rats carry more disease and filth than most of us realize. So, even if you don't like cats, remember—this week and all other weeks—that they are one of man's best friends in counteracting one of man's worst enemies.

CANADIAN AIR ARSENAL The joint chiefs of staff in cooperation with the British have decided to make Canada the arsenal of the British Air Forces. Factories will be set up in Canada shortly to turn out jet bombers and transports plus a special Arctic jet fighter.

American aircraft companies have agreed to provide their technical "know-how" and help supervise production. Britain's famous jet fighters will still be made in England though later transferred in part to Canadian factories. As the first step in putting this plan into operation, Fairchild Aircraft will permit its noted transport, known as the workhorse of the airways, to be manufactured in Canada under a special licensing system.

The U. S. Army and Air Forces enthusiastically approve of the idea for two reasons: 1. It will disperse the highly vulnerable British aircraft industry; and 2. boost production of fighters and bombers in the Western Hemisphere.

The American embassy this week quashed a secret plan to bring Communists into the French government.

French Socialist leaders had quietly suggested the move as one way of stopping the Communist-led coal strike, a now threatening French recovery. But American Ambassador Jefferson Caffery got wind of the deal, went to see Foreign Minister Schuman and solemnly warned him every nickel in Marshall Plan help would be shut off if this happened.

Schuman, who was against the idea anyway, agreed to talk to his colleagues. Using the threat of American disapproval as a weapon, Schuman succeeded in convincing French politicians to drop the whole idea—at least for the time being.

However, the American embassy fears an attempt to revive the plan later, especially if the Communists continue to order strikes in vital French industries. (Copyright 1948 by Bell Syndicate)

Being A Movie Star Isn't Job For Youth

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—So you think that being a movie star is a young person's job?

Would it surprise you to learn that the average age of top male stars is 40 years?

And for the women—32 years? Those are two of the startling facts I have uncovered in a survey of the 100 top stars in U. S. movies.

First of all, we must understand what a star is. Not every film personality is a star. The best way to judge is whether the person's name means anything at the box office. Does the person attract a large audience on the strength of his or her name alone?

Strangely, there are more male stars than female. This is harder for me to narrow down the men's list to 50 names. But I finally reached a count of 100 names, equally divided between the sexes, and the list contains every star who is really important in Hollywood.

The matter of age is a big eye opener. The male average of 40.7 and the female of 32.4 years may cause some controversy about whether the screen is giving youth sufficient opportunity. Of course, it can be argued that some of the younger players have not reached star status, and it takes time.

Oldest male star is Wallace Berry, 59, and youngest is Mickey Rooney, a mere strapping of 23. Marlene Dietrich, the world's most glamorous grandmas, is the eldest of the ladies at 44. Film veteran Shirley Temple ranks youngest at 20.

Male stars have averaged 14.4 years in the movies, the women 11 years. It should be noted that some of them worked here several years before reaching stardom. The highs and lows:

Myrna Loy and Joan Crawford, 23 years apiece; Elizabeth Scott, 4; Wallace Berry, 59 years; Burt Lancaster, 3.

The survey may help to explode notions about the multiple marriages of stars.

Blizzard Of '33 Was Worst In Modern Annals Of Area

First breaths from the north always seem colder than they really are, and each cold snap somehow draws comparison with those that have gone before. Anytime the mercury flirts with zero, those with short memories are always pegging it as the worst yet.

Having arrived on the scene two or three generations after the Indians were induced to move on, I can't rightly single out the "coldest" snap this section ever had, but according to weather bureau records the worst one in modern annals occurred 15 years ago. That blizzard back in '38, or whenever it was, may have topped it, and if so the old timers are welcome to it. That was the time that cattle froze by the thousands. The late Uncle John Wolcott used to recall how herds froze to death standing up that year. The drought of 1917-18 produced a similar catastrophe although in lesser proportions. In both instances cattle were weakened and ill-prepared for such treatment at the hands of the elements.

The winter of 1932-33 found them better prepared. Crop conditions had been spasmodic, but the record carry-over of underground snow, plus a timely summer shower, had yielded a bumper feed crop and reasonably fair pasture. It is a good thing.

Coming into February of 1933 the winter had been mild. Several alarms of "blue northers" had been sounded but somehow they failed. Nobody was especially aroused when the forecasters said another one was on the way. A day after it was due it would not have been uncomfortable in shirtsleeves. Right up until time the cold wave hit it seemed like the area was in for premature spring.

Then, about midnight, a gale roared in with paralyzing effect. The mercury shriveled. With unbelievable rapidity temperatures dropped below freezing and headed for the zero mark.

At first snow flurries came. When it got too cold to snow, ball sleet peppered over the area. Still the wind blew. Automobiles stalled. Radiators froze before they could be drained. Other cars, protected by anti-freeze, began to suffer cracked blocks.

Activities were called off and business came to a virtual standstill. Occasionally someone tried to walk over the Gregg street viaduct and barely lived to tell about it. Those who plodded through the mess found that the icy wind cut through like a knife. Ears hurt as though someone were mashing them before turning numb. Eyeballs ached as though they were being pulled from the sockets. Feet felt like jagged stumps. Trees, like weird skeletons, stiffly cracked. The few cars, winter-proofed sufficiently to get about, literally crawled.

In homes and businesses, people huddled about gas space heaters. At bedtime every piece of cover in the house was pressed into service, and cries for quilts and blankets came from the hard-pressed welfare agencies.

Not until the bureau had registered a reading of seven degrees below zero did the spell begin to moderate, and even then it was not an overnight process. As the mercury got back within a few degrees of freezing, it seemed warm by comparison.

When spring finally came, hundreds of trees and shrubs that had been around for years were no longer in the land of living. Thus the population drank in the steadily warming sun. When, on July 14, of the same year, the thermometer climbed to 111 degrees, nobody wished for February. They had all the cold they wanted for awhile.—JOE PICKLE

Oppressed Peoples Will Revolt Against Dictators

AP NEWSFEATURE
SOVIET FOREIGN MINISTER MOLOTOV, in opening the Moscow ceremonies marking the 31st anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, declared the defeat of Thomas E. Dewey in the presidential election "shows that the great majority of Americans are against a policy of aggression."

Molotov is dead right in thinking the great majority of Americans don't want war. But he is wrong in drawing this conclusion from Governor Dewey's defeat, since the latter persistently campaigned for peace.

Americans want peace, and the thing that grips us most is that the Communists won't let us have it. Sure, we are arming; we are bolstering our fighting forces; we are helping non-Communist Europe get on its feet economically and militarily, and we are considering a military alliance with Canada and countries of Western Europe.

But all this is in the interest of defense. Were the Russians so naive as to think we would sit twiddling our thumbs and let the Red steamroller run over us?

Yes, the average Russian also wants peace. But the average Russian isn't a Communist. He is one of the scores of millions who are ruled by a small minority of Bolsheviks who dominate by force and the terrorism of secret police.

Thus the problem is how to release the world from the fear of this minority dictatorship which has spread itself by strong-arm methods over many countries. The way things look now the solution is to continue the erection of barriers of military preparedness and so hold the Red advance until the peoples already under its domination are able to deal with the menace in their own way.

There is nothing more certain than that the oppressed peoples will revolt against totalitarianism in due course.

Matter Of Fact — Joseph And Stewart Alsop

Truman To Stand Or Fall By Men He Picks As Aides

WASHINGTON—Some points about the second Truman administration are clear already. For example, the President means to have a second New Deal if he can. But government is people, as some sage has remarked. In his second term, Truman will really stand or fall by the men he hires as his subordinates.

Very roughly speaking, this vital problem of the personnel of the new administration may be divided into two parts, foreign and domestic. The foreign part is the more important, for the peculiar reason that the campaign tensions poisoned the relations between the President and the ablest men on his present foreign and defense team. The White House currently is a constant source of rumors that the days of Under Secretary of State Robert A. Lovett are numbered.

In a lesser degree, the same hints are given about Secretary of Defense James V. Forrestal. And even Secretary of State George C. Marshall's standing is being openly called in question.

The men disseminating these rumors are, of course, such White House advisers as David K. Niles, who have fought the Marshall-Lovett-Forrestal policies, on Palestine particularly. The sources of the rumors are suspect. Yet the peculiarly well-integrated committee of brilliant men who have directed our foreign and defense affairs is none the less about to be dissolved. Forrestal may stay on for a transitional period, although he desires to leave. But Lovett has long intended to get out on January 20, whatever the President may wish, and the same apparently applies to Secretary Marshall. Thus replacements must be found, at least for Lovett and Marshall, and perhaps for Forrestal as well.

For the State Department, Chief Justice Vinson, Averell Harriman, Dean G. Aderson, Will Clayton and Sumner Welles (whom the Zionists are pressing) are the names most often mentioned. The insiders are betting on Vinson if he will consent to leave the Supreme Court. For the Defense Department, a long list of offered—former Secretary of War Harry Woodring; Woodring's bitter enemy, former assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson, who was Democratic fund-raiser in this campaign; Secretaries of War, Navy and Air Royall, Sullivan and Symington, who are all active candidates; and the President's crony, the lame duck Governor of Washington, Mon C. Wallgren. The insiders seem to have no choice among these alternatives.

The reported candidates for the State Department are all conspicuously able men, but at least two thirds of the names on the Defense Department list are downright hair-raising. This in turn suggests the nature of the biggest danger now ahead.

Human mediocrity has been spreading over the Administration like a rather nasty fungus disease over infected skin, ever since the original Truman cabinet began to disintegrate. The question is whether mediocrity is now to be promoted to rule over the really crucial fields of policy-making. And even although the President names a Vinson, Harriman or an Acheson to the State Department, the choice will not counter-balance the appointment of a Woodring or a Wallgren to the Defense Department.

In the field of domestic administration, the problem is approximately the same, although complicated by a political factor. The complication is that in the domestic field, none of the President's subordinates had the slightest excuse for sitting on their hands throughout the campaign. Several of them, led by the President's special crony, Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder, nevertheless held themselves rather glaringly aloof from all the awful hurry-burry. Their line was that they would write checks but would not make speeches.

The complication is important, because the hand-sitters, by an understandable coincidence, also comprise most of the Truman subordinates who have consistently opposed the Left-wing policies on which the President won the election. But the fact remains that when the President returned to Washington in triumph, Secretary Snyder was triumphing right next to him in the receiving line. The President's nature is to keep by him these men who are personally close, while he gladly lets such men as Lovett go. Thus the betting is that the political Luddites will stay on if Truman likes them, unless they prefer such prosperous private employment as the Bank of America position which Snyder would have taken if the election had gone the other way.

There are those in the White House who strongly oppose this tendency, urging that if the Presidents wants a second New Deal, he had better hire some New Dealers. For this reason men like Wilson Wyatt and Paul Porter will no doubt be brought in for such special jobs as housing and standby price control. But here again, the betting is that the general, basic character of the Administration will be unchanged.

The reported candidates for the State Department are all conspicuously able

Asks For Lowering Of U. S. Standards For Grain Storage

WASHINGTON, Nev. 10 (AP)—An emergency lowering of government standards for storage bins in which corn and other crops may be placed under the farm price support program was urged Tuesday by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.).

He told a reporter he would ask the Commodity Credit Corp. to permit farmers to store corn, wheat and other grains "in improvised cribs, barns and other buildings" so that they may obtain loans.

Unless farmers have an approved place to store their crops they are unable to receive government loans on their products at 90 per cent of the parity price.

Midland Can Be Had, But 'Dogs Tough

Baylor Favored Over Tulane, Or Is It?

By the Associated Press

If comparative scores mean anything, Southern Methodist, Rice and Texas should win the Southwest Conference football games of the week. That is, if you don't look too far among the comparative scores.

Here are the games:

Southern Methodist vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville. Southern Methodist beat Texas, Texas A&M and Rice. Arkansas lost to Texas and Rice. Texas beat Baylor and Arkansas. Texas Christian lost to Baylor and Arkansas.

Rice vs. Texas A&M at College Station. Rice beat Arkansas and lost to Texas and Southern Methodist. A&M lost to Arkansas and Southern Methodist. A&M almost beat Southern Methodist, however, while Rice lost to SMU 33-7.

The only clear claim to favoritism goes to Texas over Texas Christian. In the cases of SMU, Arkansas and Rice-A&M, the issues are somewhat clouded.

And after all this is digested, the reader should just throw it out the window. At this stage of the Southwest Conference race, there is no way to gauge the relative strength of the teams. The main reason is that the boys are through playing for fun. It's serious business now. Each team has another one it wants most to beat. The team gets "up" for that game but is "down" the next week.

The most puzzling feature of the campaign is this situation—and it doesn't concern conference play: Santa Clara beat Oklahoma 20-17, Oklahoma beat Missouri 41-7, Missouri beat Southern Methodist 20-14, and Southern Methodist trampled Santa Clara 33-0.

Which brings up next Saturday's game between Baylor and Tulane at New Orleans—not that it is related to any of the foregoing but because it follows the "form" of most of the games this season will result in a big victory for Baylor. You see, Baylor was tied 7-7 by Mississippi State and Tulane beat Mississippi State 9-0. That should qualify Baylor as the favorite.

AP's 'Lineman Of Week' Is Lou Hoitsma

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Lou Hoitsma, William and Mary end, pulled a Bill Swiacki catch against North Carolina last Saturday. This feat brought him today the honor of being named the lineman of the week in the Associated Press poll.

Football fans will remember it was Swiacki's great catch a year ago that brought Columbia startling upset triumph over Army. Hoitsma's feat gave the underdog William and Mary team a surprise 7-7 tie with the previously unbeaten and untied Tarheels.

Hoitsma's remarkable catch came in the second period. Tommy Korczowski got off a long pass toward Hoitsma in the end zone. Two North Carolina players were guarding Hoitsma, but somehow he leaped up and snared the ball for a touchdown.

Hugh Fullerton, Jr., Associated Press sports writer who covered the game, said Hoitsma "was making tackles all over the field. He pulled down Justice (Charley Justice, N. C. back) on his long run, intercepted a pass in addition to his remarkable catch and recovered two fumbles."

Laurence Leonard, of the Richmond News-Leader, asserted "I've never seen better end play."

Hoitsma's performance overshadowed the play of his teammate, center Tommy Thompson, and that of Paul Kelly, Penn State guard.

Kelly, an Erie, Pa. youth, was the fifth man in the Penn backfield as Penn State topped Pennsylvania from the select group of unbeaten, untied eleven. In the second period, for instance, he broke up a pass threat by dumping Penn backs for losses on three successive plays.

Thompson's play brought this comment from Chauncey Durden of the Richmond Times-Dispatch: "You'll have to go all the way back to 'Alex' Wojciechewicz to find a better linebacker than Thompson was against North Carolina." Smith Barrier, of the Greensboro (NC) Daily News, declared Thompson was "The guy who stopped North Carolina's offense cold."

Locals Tangle With Abilene

Coaches Wayne Bonner and Good Graves take their Big Spring high school B football team to San Angelo Saturday to play that school's Kittens in a contest starting at 2:30 o'clock.

The Shortorns won their last start, trimming a good Lamesa club, 13-12, in a game unrecalled here last Saturday night. Carol Cannon, Billy Tubbs and Robert Cobb all had a big hand in the victory.

FRIDAY NIGHT Bulldogs Host Bronte Eleven

COAHOMA, Nov. 10.—Ed Robertson's Coahoma Bulldogs entertain the Bronte Longhorns in an important District 9B football game here Friday night.

Bronte has long fielded one of the strongest teams in the conference. Coahoma is new to the league, having played six-man ball last season, but boasts one of the better records among smaller teams in this part of the country.

In their last start, the Coahomans blasted Tuscola of Taylor county with yards to spare.

Enemy Pointing For Longhorns

If the Big Spring high school football Steers are to win another game this season, it may be this weekend—but all odds point the other way.

Friday night the Longhorns invade Midland for their fourth of six District 3AA games. After Midland comes Abilene and Sweetwater and the Longhorns will be the decided underdogs in both of those outings.

Both Abilene and Sweetwater hurled Midland, which showed the Canine can be had. However, Barnes Milam's troops are as tough as the proverbial boot. They killed San Angelo by a touchdown the week before the Bobcats invaded Big Spring and made off with a 13-0 victory.

The Dogs have had two weeks to prepare for the Big Spring outing and, no doubt, are still smarting from that 20-0 defeat handed them by the Longhorns here a year ago.

Big Spring won't be in top shape for the struggle—as a matter of fact, the Steers have been handicapped by injuries since the start of the season. But the presence of Arless Davis in the backfield and a line that showed much improvement last time out gives them some chance against the Bulldogs.

The Bovines have been brushing up on their plays and their pass work in drills this week. Coach Mule Stockton can't work his boys too hard because of the possibility of further injuries. Many more mishaps and the lads would have to start playing six-man ball.

Schoolboy Adds Yards To Kicks With Bare Foot

RODESA, La., Nov. 10. (AP)—Bay Worsham, who plays football with Rodessa High school, kicks the pigskin distances of 70 and 80 yards.

That's phenomenal punting and would be even for a collegian.

But the most unusual feature about Worsham's booting is that he does it barefooted.

Last September when Coach Pat Riser issued the call for football practice, Worsham told Riser he had discovered that he could add 15 yards on his kick without the use of a shoe.

Three weeks ago the Red Bulls were playing Sarpta, La., in a conference game and were losing, stiff opposition. Riser, recalling what Worsham had told him, sent the boy in to kick. Off came the shoe and into the game went Worsham. He booted the ball 83 yards. He was called upon again to kick and got off a 70-yard effort. The game ended tied 6-6.

The next week, the Red Bulls played Catholic High School of Texarkana, Ark., and again Worsham did the kicking.

Last Friday night, as Rodessa played St. John's High at the Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport, Worsham bucked a heavy wind and still averaged 40 yards.

The youngster, a sophomore with two more seasons of eligibility left, plays guard while he's not back kicking or doing the safety chores.

Petrovich Top Man Of Primary

AUSTIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—George Petrovich, big hard-charging University of Texas tackle, received top Southwest Conference lineman-of-the-week honors in the Austin American-Statesman's weekly poll.

Petrovich rose to great defensive heights as the Baylor Bears last Saturday, playing a key role in stopping two Baylor drives inside the Longhorn 10-yard line. He turned in an equally steady performance on defense.

Close behind the Texas lineman in the scrap for recognition from the sports publicity directors of the seven conference schools, whose ballots determine the weekly contest, were Andy Hillhouse, Texas A&M end, and Bill Stancil, Arkansas tackle.

Hillhouse caught a touchdown pass, totaled 50 yards on aerials, and was a rock on defense against Southern Methodist.

Stancil made tackle after tackle for the Hogs, and was brilliant despite the fact he was on the losing side against Rice.

Pioneer Abilene Londerow Found

LUBBOCK, Nov. 10. (AP)—A pioneer Abilene londerow reported missing for more than six hours in a desolate ranch country was found last night on a highway near Crosbyton.

At least three planes as well as a large party of men on foot and in cars had taken part in the search for Morgan James, about 70. He was found at 8:30 o'clock last night apparently well despite the cold and a brisk wind.

Jones and his son, Roland, had been making an inspection of the elder man's sprawling Half Circle "S" ranch southeast of Crosbyton. About noon Jones left his son to search for a can to catch gas leaking from the weapons carrier they were using. He did not return.

The next week, the Red Bulls played Catholic High School of Texarkana, Ark., and again Worsham did the kicking.

Last Friday night, as Rodessa played St. John's High at the Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport, Worsham bucked a heavy wind and still averaged 40 yards.

The youngster, a sophomore with two more seasons of eligibility left, plays guard while he's not back kicking or doing the safety chores.

Petrovich Top Man Of Primary

AUSTIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—George Petrovich, big hard-charging University of Texas tackle, received top Southwest Conference lineman-of-the-week honors in the Austin American-Statesman's weekly poll.

Petrovich rose to great defensive heights as the Baylor Bears last Saturday, playing a key role in stopping two Baylor drives inside the Longhorn 10-yard line. He turned in an equally steady performance on defense.

Close behind the Texas lineman in the scrap for recognition from the sports publicity directors of the seven conference schools, whose ballots determine the weekly contest, were Andy Hillhouse, Texas A&M end, and Bill Stancil, Arkansas tackle.

Hillhouse caught a touchdown pass, totaled 50 yards on aerials, and was a rock on defense against Southern Methodist.

Stancil made tackle after tackle for the Hogs, and was brilliant despite the fact he was on the losing side against Rice.

Pioneer Abilene Londerow Found

LUBBOCK, Nov. 10. (AP)—A pioneer Abilene londerow reported missing for more than six hours in a desolate ranch country was found last night on a highway near Crosbyton.

At least three planes as well as a large party of men on foot and in cars had taken part in the search for Morgan James, about 70. He was found at 8:30 o'clock last night apparently well despite the cold and a brisk wind.

Jones and his son, Roland, had been making an inspection of the elder man's sprawling Half Circle "S" ranch southeast of Crosbyton. About noon Jones left his son to search for a can to catch gas leaking from the weapons carrier they were using. He did not return.

Enemy Pointing For Longhorns

If the Big Spring high school football Steers are to win another game this season, it may be this weekend—but all odds point the other way.

Friday night the Longhorns invade Midland for their fourth of six District 3AA games. After Midland comes Abilene and Sweetwater and the Longhorns will be the decided underdogs in both of those outings.

Both Abilene and Sweetwater hurled Midland, which showed the Canine can be had. However, Barnes Milam's troops are as tough as the proverbial boot. They killed San Angelo by a touchdown the week before the Bobcats invaded Big Spring and made off with a 13-0 victory.

The Dogs have had two weeks to prepare for the Big Spring outing and, no doubt, are still smarting from that 20-0 defeat handed them by the Longhorns here a year ago.

Big Spring won't be in top shape for the struggle—as a matter of fact, the Steers have been handicapped by injuries since the start of the season. But the presence of Arless Davis in the backfield and a line that showed much improvement last time out gives them some chance against the Bulldogs.

The Bovines have been brushing up on their plays and their pass work in drills this week. Coach Mule Stockton can't work his boys too hard because of the possibility of further injuries. Many more mishaps and the lads would have to start playing six-man ball.

Schoolboy Adds Yards To Kicks With Bare Foot

RODESA, La., Nov. 10. (AP)—Bay Worsham, who plays football with Rodessa High school, kicks the pigskin distances of 70 and 80 yards.

That's phenomenal punting and would be even for a collegian.

But the most unusual feature about Worsham's booting is that he does it barefooted.

Last September when Coach Pat Riser issued the call for football practice, Worsham told Riser he had discovered that he could add 15 yards on his kick without the use of a shoe.

Three weeks ago the Red Bulls were playing Sarpta, La., in a conference game and were losing, stiff opposition. Riser, recalling what Worsham had told him, sent the boy in to kick. Off came the shoe and into the game went Worsham. He booted the ball 83 yards. He was called upon again to kick and got off a 70-yard effort. The game ended tied 6-6.

The next week, the Red Bulls played Catholic High School of Texarkana, Ark., and again Worsham did the kicking.

Last Friday night, as Rodessa played St. John's High at the Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport, Worsham bucked a heavy wind and still averaged 40 yards.

The youngster, a sophomore with two more seasons of eligibility left, plays guard while he's not back kicking or doing the safety chores.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Last year, the Big Spring high school football Steers slipped up on the Midland Bulldogs in a game here and won a 20-0 decision. The Bulldogs were ambushed without their ace back, Dunny Goode. The Longhorns might have beaten Barnes Milam's gang with Goode in the saddle but the contest would undoubtedly have been a lot closer.

This weekend, the Steers take on Midland in Midland. They'll be meeting a team primed for them, physically and mentally. The Bulldogs will have had two weeks to recover from any bruises they absorbed at the hands of San Angelo. No one will be caught napping. If Our Town's hopefuls win this one, they'll have to play like all get-out.

TEXANS DOING A'RIGHT IN PROFESSIONAL BALL

Texans are still earning their keep in pro football. Layne isn't getting to play too much because of the presence of two other seasoned quarterbacks, Sid Luckman and Johnny Lujack, on the Bear squad. However, he's busy what time he is in there.

Four Texans—Jack Sanders, Pete Layden, Jack Russell and Bruce Ahford—helped mightily in the New York (football) Yankees' victory over Los Angeles last week.

Still another ex-Southwest Conference star, Ray Mallouf (of SMU) is earning wages as a member of the Chicago Cardinals. Wray's Column in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch had this to say of Mallouf recently: "... There's more to the fine showing of the crippled Cards than surface things like lucky breaks, freak plays and goofy-house strategy... Perhaps the eye passes over the rather obvious fact there's a guy named Raymond Lucien Mallouf, a veteran of several years with the team, who came up from Southern Methodist university to the Cards in 1941.

"Mallouf's completed passes during three previous years of football service (he was in a US uniform the remainder of the time) totaled 50 percent of his attempts... This year, to date, subbing for (Paul) Christmas at quarterback, and doing the passing as well, he has completed 38 of 70 efforts for a percentage of 54.3... in the league's statistics, he is placed third, ahead of all but (Tommy) Thompson and (Jim) Hardy.

"Mallouf also rates among the top 10 kickers... The idea of all this is that the Cards haven't missed Christmas's passing and generalship, as much as has been feared."

STERLING CITY FIGHTERS HUNGRY FOR ACTION

Sterling City boasts several amateur-fighters, including a boy who has won a number of titles, seeking action in Golden Gloves boxing competition this winter.

No tournament will be conducted here but such cities as Odessa and Abilene will stage regional meets in January or February. Promoters there can bid for appearance of the Sterling simon-pures through O. T. Jones, superintendent of the Sterling schools.

DEMO WIN ASSURES MANY FEDERAL JOBS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—The election gave thousands of federal jobholders a tighter grip on their jobs—but for some 900 of them it meant they'll get their jobs officially.

Sen. Lucas (D-Ill) said today one of the first acts of the new Democratic-controlled Senate in January will be the speedy approval of all stalemate nominations.

"There'll be no delay in confirming those appointments," Lucas predicted to reporters. And his word carries weight because he is generally expected to be the new majority leader.

Beginning early this year, the GOP-controlled 80th Congress refused to act on the huge batch of nominations sent to Capitol Hill by President Truman. Party leaders were confident that by doing nothing the plums would fall to Republicans under a Republican president.

But the Democratic victory at the polls last week assured the hundreds of anxious nominees their jobs are safe.

More than 700 of them are postmasters scattered throughout the country.

Among others whose nominations now appear certain are James Boyd of Colorado to be director of the Bureau of mines; Thomas C. Buchanan of Pennsylvania to the Federal Power Commission; and Roy W. Harper of Missouri to be a federal judge in that state. Harper is a former Missouri state Democratic chairman.

Boyd was named bureau of mines director in August, 1947—and has served for the past year without pay in his $10,000-a-year job.

YEARLINGS TRIM COAHOMA, 20-19

COAHOMA, Nov. 10.—The Big Spring Junior high school football Yearlings won their second game of the season from the Coahoma Junior high team here Tuesday, 20-19.

The Big Springers had far more trouble with the Coahomans than last time out, however.

HORSE WINNERS

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—The National Horseshow's major winners were crowned before 12,000 in the Garden last night at the end of the eight-day show. In the military jumpers division, the international military perpetual challenge trophy was won by Mexican Army team.

Most Texas College Teams Face Big Test This Week

By The Associated Press

Important games of the Texas college football schedule for the week-end. Twenty-six of the twenty-eight schools have contests, and every conference has battles counting heavily in the championship standings.

Sul Ross, the only undefeated, untied team, does not appear in danger of losing its status. The Lobos meet the New Mexico Teachers at Alpine. The powerful Sul Ross team won its major test of the New Mexico Conference last week when it beat Adams State of Colorado.

All the six members of the Southwest Conference are in action. Southern Methodist, leading the conference, meets Arkansas at Fayetteville; Texas, fighting to remain in the race, battles Texas Christian at Fort Worth and Rice and Texas A&M hook up in a cellar fight at College Station. Baylor plays an interconference game, tackling Tulane at New Orleans.

Three of the four Texas teams in the Border Conference have games. Texas Tech, leading the circuit, is idle this week. West Texas State and Hardin Simmons get together at Abilene and Texas Mines meets Arizona at Tucson.

Two games in the Texas Conference are crucial. Three of the six teams are in a virtual tie for the lead. They are Howard Payne, McMurry and Southwestern. Howard Payne and McMurry play at Brownwood and Southwestern takes on Hardin at Wichita Falls. Abilene Christian College and Austin College clash in the other tilt on the schedule.

In the Lone Star Conference, unbeaten Southwest Texas State plays last-place Sam Houston State at Huntsville. Second-place North Texas State takes on University of Houston at Houston. Trinity plays

East Texas State at San Antonio. The other member of the conference, Stephen F. Austin, engages Independent University of Corpus Christi.

Two of the three other independents—Daniel Baker and East Texas Baptist College—meet each other. Texas A. and I. has an open date.

The Texas college schedule for the week:

Thursday—West Texas State vs. Hardin-Simmons at Abilene.

Saturday—Texas A&M vs. Rice at College Station, Southern Methodist vs. Arkansas at Fayetteville, Baylor vs. Tulane at New Orleans, Texas Christian vs. Texas at Fort Worth, Southwestern vs. Hardin at Wichita Falls (night), Trinity vs. East Texas State at San Antonio, Daniel Baker vs. East Texas Baptist College at Marshall (night), Sul Ross vs. New Mexico Teachers at Alpine, University of Houston vs. North Texas State at Houston, Texas Mines vs. Arizona at Tucson, Ariz. (night), Sam Houston State vs. Southwest Texas State at Huntsville (night), Austin College vs. Abilene Christian College at Sherman, Howard Payne vs. McMurry at Brownwood (night), Stephen F. Austin vs. University of Corpus Christi at Nacogdoches.

Morgan Retains Cosden Title

Jack Morgan fired an eagle on the 19th hole to nudge Bob Satterwhite, 1-up, and grab the annual Cosden golf tournament at the Big Spring country club last weekend.

First flight finals produced the same heated competition, with George Grimes forcing the match through the 19th before bowing to Ripp Smith, 1-up.

Rayford Lyles sidled George Zachariah, 4-2, to win the second flight, while C. C. Bell topped the special flight for non-golfers by trimming Ray Shaw, 2-1.

In consolation play Sam Hefner defeated Leonard Morgan in the championship flight, Jack Smith trimmed Bill Sandridge in first flight, Joe Burrell edged Doug Orms in second flight and E. W. Richardson won over Rube New in the non-golfers flight.

Bold Thieves Take Ice Box

Thieves are getting pretty bold. Local officers are ready to admit.

When Alvie Hughes of 1209 West Fifth street returned from a weekend trip Monday, he discovered his electric ice-box was missing.

Hughes asked his neighbors if they'd seen anything resembling an ice box leaving his house during his absence. The suspicious or the curiosity of no one had been aroused.

Chrysanthemums comprised the room decorations and both the Thanksgiving and Armistice day theme was used in the refreshments.

Parents Taking Traffic Posts

PONTIAC, Mich., Nov. 10. (AP)—Indignant parents assumed jobs of unofficial traffic cops today on a busy state highway.

It was the result of the death of five-year-old Muriel Hernandez on "Orchard Lake Road," a state highway which runs past a school.

Muriel, who was deaf, was hit by a truck. The driver told police he had vainly blown his horn.

A group of mothers and fathers, with the tacit approval of school officials, decided to direct traffic on the road. At the same time they demanded installation of a signal light by the state.

"We're going to camp right here until we get a traffic light," said Mrs. Charles A. Sant, one of the volunteers.

Pink Boll Worm Menace Must Be Fought In Winter

Howard county farmers face a future of living with the notorious pink boll worm unless methods are undertaken to whip the menace now. So predict local agricultural agencies.

Recent tests in East Howard county proved that the worm is laying its eggs in the seed, which will survive the winter because all the seed is usually stored in a warm place.

M. Weaver, county ACA supervisor, says the problem can be licked through "heat treatments." Such an undertaking will kill the eggs but will not harm the cotton.

An estimated 65 percent of the cotton within the county is now out and pickers seem to be more plentiful than at any time previously this fall, Weaver said.

Authorities Hunt Suspects In Theft

Authorities here this morning were seeking three men who reportedly entered a residence at Sand Springs and made off with something over $70 in cash last night.

Police said they were notified by Mrs. Dick King that her house was entered while she was away from home and that about $71 or $72 apparently was missing.

Lawmaker Will Renew Fight Against Un-American Probers

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—A Democratic lawmaker promised today to renew his fight to abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee.

In its stead, Rep. Huber of Ohio proposes a joint Senate-House committee on civil rights.

Huber, re-elected to a third term last week, introduced a bill to carry out his ideas last February. But the measure died in the House Rules Committee.

The Ohioan said he will re-offer the bill on the first day of the 81st Congress, Jan. 3.

Huber has been a consistent critic of what he calls the "unfair methods" of the Un-American Activities group—up as a permanent committee four years ago and headed for the past two years by Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.).

Thomas, awaiting a trial on charges of conspiring to defraud padding of his office payroll, is due to surrender the chairmanship to Rep. Woods (D-Ga.) in January.

SLEEP FISHING RULED ILLEGAL

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C. Nov. 10. (AP)—A magistrate fined a fisherman $25 yesterday for fishing in his sleep.

Ed Simmons of Stevenson told Magistrate M. Johnston he set his pot at 3 a. m. and set an alarm to awaken him at 5 a. m. The alarm failed to awaken him and a fisheries patrol found Simmons, still asleep and with his net still in position, at 7:50 a. m.—an hour after fishing season closed.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Nov. 10. (AP)—Signs of recovery were posted in a briskly active stock market today.

Strong buying support was present at the opening gong to halt the abrupt slide that carried most issues down yesterday. Overnight accumulations of selling orders were well absorbed, and demand for stocks, minors, and some rails soon lifted prices in these sections fractions to more than a point.

Shareholders in the list narrow changes in either direction persisted. Activity continued at a fast pace, but there was no sudden lifting of the lops.

Prominent gainers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, Studebaker, Goodyear, Nickel Plate, Johns Manville, Montgomery Ward, Schley's Lockhead and Standard (N.Y.).

Lower at times were Skelly Oil Transcontinental & Western Air Westinghouse Electric and J. L. Case.

Chest Moving For Clean-Up

Continuing their plea, "Give enough for five," Community Chest workers moved forward on general clean-up chores this morning.

Several workers who launched the clean-up work yesterday under direction of Dr. R. B. G. Cooper, and K. H. McGibbon already had submitted reports this morning, and others were expected during the afternoon. They are contacting prospective contributors who were missed during earlier phases of the campaign.

Most of the general clean-up work is expected to be completed by Thursday noon.

Estimates were this morning that approximately one third of the employe reports covering classified businesses are still out. Work in that division is continuing, however, and contacts probably will be completed in the next day or two, spokesmen said.

W. T. Alexander, division superintendent, has announced that some 16 workers are canvassing employes in all departments at the T&P. The railroad canvass was delayed because of changes which developed with recent establishment of division headquarters here, making it virtually impossible to organize for a representative campaign there. Despite the delay, however, all departments will be canvassed thoroughly, and reports will be made as rapidly as possible, Alexander declared.

Fender Fixers Average High In Earnings

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—A reason for that big fender-fixing bill on your car: Body repairmen have the highest average earnings of any auto shop workers.

A Labor Department survey Tuesday showed the body repairmen average $1.37 to $2.36 an hour. Their earnings were the highest among workers in auto repair shops in all but five of 30 cities surveyed.

Top mechanics ran the dent-removers a close second, with earnings ranging from $1.31 to $2.15 in the 30 cities. Greasers got from $.78 to $1.84 while car washers averaged from $.64 to $1.50.

A dented fender probably will cost you more to fix in Detroit—where many of the cars are made—than in most other cities. Detroit body repairmen lead the nation with a $2.36 hourly earning average. Other figures: Toledo $2.29, Cleveland $2.28, San Francisco $2.20 and Washington $2.19.

The Labor Department said the auto repair shop wages generally are higher in Great Lakes and Pacific Coast cities, lower in Southern and New England cities.

State Demos Aim For Harmony Meet

CORSICANA, Nov. 10. (AP)—A meeting aimed at reuniting the quarreling factions of the Democratic Party in Texas will be held Nov. 18 in Dallas.

Officially it will be a meeting of the state democratic executive committee. But in setting the date yesterday, State Chairman John C. Calhoun said he is inviting some party leaders who have been at odds with each other.

It will be the committee's first organizational session since the explosive September convention in Fort Worth. Pro-Truman forces took over the Fort Worth gathering, ousting those opposing the president's re-election.

"I hope we can meet in harmony," Calhoun said, "and I hope there will be no talk of reprisals against those who failed to see eye to eye with us earlier in the year. This is a meeting to patch up our differences and get the party back on a harmony course."

Executive committee members will meet jointly at 10 o'clock with the state association of democratic county chairmen. The committee will name various subcommittees for the next two years. Calhoun expressed belief that because of a suit now pending in Fort Worth the question of party loyalty pledge signing, decreed by the Fort Worth convention, will not come up.

After the morning session with county chairmen, committee members will hold a semi-private session at 2 p.m.

Speakers before the two groups—the executive committee and the county chairmen—will include Sen. Tom Connally, Rep. Sam Rayburn, Gov. Beauford Jester, and probably National Democratic Committeeman Wright Morrow of Houston, Byron Skelton of Temple, and Senator-elect Lyndon Johnson, Calhoun said.

JayCees Deny Action On Poll Tax Plan

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 10. (AP)—Melvin B. Evans, president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, denied today that his organization has taken any action on a proposal by Sen. Rogers Kelley of Edinburg for a special election to decide whether the poll tax should be abolished.

Kelley said in a statement at Austin Saturday that he had "secured favorable action" on his proposed legislative resolution from several organizations, including the state junior chamber of commerce.

"This organization has not taken any action on this issue," Evans stated today in a telegram to the Associated Press.

Davidson was credited with rescuing Mrs. Pearl Brown, 52, who opened the two-story rooming house only 10 days before the fire.

Bricker Urges Fight Against Price Controls

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10. (AP)—Sen. Bricker of Ohio yesterday called upon his fellow Republicans in the 81st Congress to continue to oppose Democratic proposals for price controls or repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act.

"If we were right in the 80th Congress," Bricker told a reporter, "we're still right."

"We shouldn't say: 'We were licked, so we'll join you.' We'll fight for what we believe is right."

Neither did the election indicate, Bricker said, that Republican-sponsored tax cuts in the last Congress, passed over President Truman's veto, should be cancelled.

"The programs must be hammered out on the anvil of debate pro and con, in the Congress and at the crossroads of the country," Bricker said.

"The opposition ought to be stated clearly and the Republicans should be the ones to do it."

Bricker was Dewey's running mate in 1944.

New Red Traffic Controls Imposed

BERLIN, Nov. 10. (AP)—The Russians imposed new traffic controls Tuesday in an effort to seal off the last trickle of supplies from the Soviet sector into blockaded Western Berlin.

The Russians announced they had set up six major roadblocks at sector borders to inspect all vehicular traffic. The points are manned by Soviet-controlled German police with Russian forces in reserve.

No foodstuffs or other cargo are being passed, unless accompanied by "release permits" signed by Communist city officials. All other cargo is being confiscated.
