Palo Duro Dam Vote Set For August???

Palo Duro River Authority directors Tuesday cancelled a request for the Texas Water Development Board to buy $11.150 million in storage from a proposed Palo Duro Creek lake and are asking the agency to purchase instead a $22.3 million bond issue.

A tentative date of Aug. 26 is set for the election in the river authority, which consists of Moore and Hansford counties and the City of Stinnett.

The $22.3 million bond issue will be for funding to build the dam, northwest of Spearman.

It will be the first stage of a 2-part project. The second will complete the project by constructing a water treatment plant and a supply pipeline to Dumas, Sunray, Cactus, Gruver, Stinnett and Spearman.

The water supply facilities will be built in the future after the lake begins to fill.

A formal election call, however, cannot be made until PDRA directors meet with the Texas Water Development Commission.

That meeting will be held July 17 in Austin when the PDRA presents its request to the state.

The $22.3 million bond issue is a new development, growing out of a proposal this week by the state agency to purchase the entire bond issue with Texas Water Plan funds.

Initially the state agency planned to "buy" storage in the 69,000 acre foot reservoir for half of the dam construction cost. The $11 million, in effect a loan, would have been paid by the PDRA at a variable rate of interest.

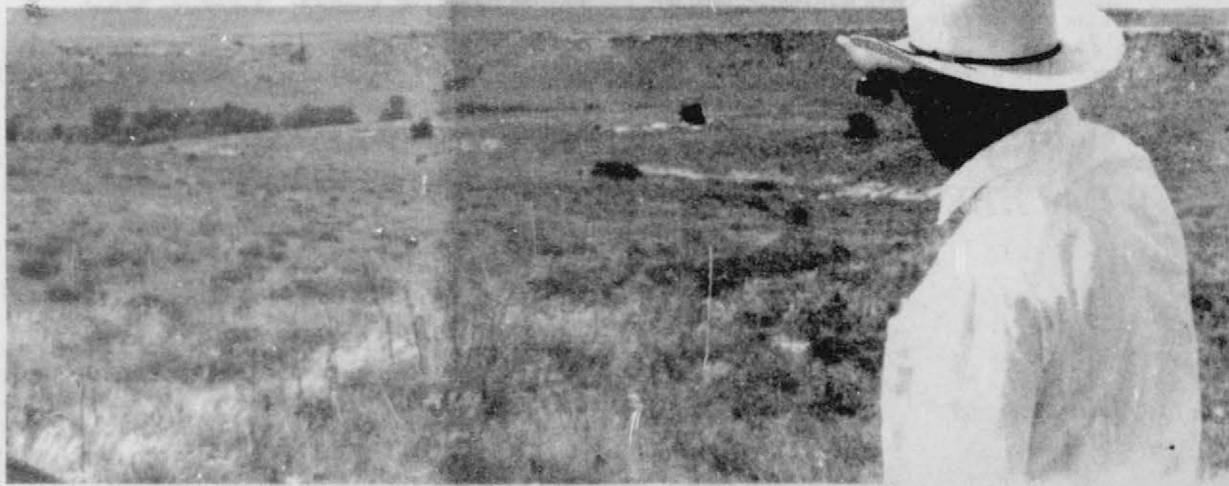

"Under the new proposition, the interest rate is locked in at 7.6 percent for 25 years," reports Johnnie Lee of Spearman, PDRA general manager. "Bonds will be issued as we need the money."

The bond election date hinges on approval by the state water commission of the Palo Duro authority request. If approved, it will be the first use in Texas of state water plan funding.

PDRA directors have set a special meeting on July 22 to set the election. It will be held at 10 a.m. in the Shield-knight Building in Spearman at 10 a.m.

The bond election for the entire cost of the project is a change in direction for the river authority which was anticipating a loan from the water development agency.

Directors believe the new proposal is a more favorable financing option.

JOHNNIE LEE points to the new dam on the Palo Duro. The work on the new dam could begin as early as late 1987. It will take about three yrs. to complete the project which is 4900 ft. long and 119 feet high.

NATURAL SPILLWAY: The Palo Duro dam will have a natural spillway made of almost solid natural rock.

USDA'S Forecast

The crunch on U.S. farm exports may be winding down, and an era of long-term growth could be at hand if the signals are correct, an Agriculture Department economist says.

During the 1970's a time of escalating farmland prices and inflation, the volume of U.S. farm exports increased an average of 8 percent per year. So far in the 1980's including 1986, the amount shipped has declined annually.

Clark Edwards of the USDA's Economic Research Service says the forecasts indicate, "the worst may soon be over", for exports, which have become vital to the financial well-being of so many of the nation's farmers.

"The foreign exchange value of the dollar has been dropping against many major currencies, and our commodity prices are closer to market clearing levels," Edward said in new agency report. "Farmers' production costs are stabilizing and rates of return on investment in agriculture are recovering from reduced levels for many farm enterprises."

Representatives for the Texas Wheat Growers Association said the report talks of increased volume, but that increase will not do the farmer any good unless it has a price to go with it.

The representatives also said the currency that is lining up with the American dollar is not in major wheat buying countries.

Other agriculture experts also criticized the USDA's forecast saying, "I think its only wishful thinking."

Softball

Servitors will be hosting their 2nd annual coed softball tournament of August 15, 16, and 17. There will be trophies for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd places and individual trophies for 1st and 2nd place teams. Also there will be a most Valuable player chosen for a man and a woman.

The entry fee for the tournament is $100. There is a 16 team limit and the deadline for entry is August 13. For more information Contact Peggy Varnon at 9-3993 or Jan Howard at 9-2875.

How to Honor Outstanding Grandparents

The Texas Department on Aging is again offering free certificates to honor outstanding grandparents on National Grandparents Day.

These certificates, signed by Texas Governor Mark White and Department on Aging Executive Director Bob Bobbitt, will be special two-color editions commemorating both National Grandparents Day on September 7 and the Texas Sesquicentennial. They are printed on parchment paper and are suitable for framing.

Certificates can be obtained by writing to: Texas Department on Aging,

P.O. Box 12786 Capitol Station, Austin, Tx 78711. The agency's telephone number is (512) 444-2727. All organizations needing more than five copies are asked to order now. Individuals should order in early August.

Those who are ordering certificates are asked to give their own address, not that of the recipient or recipients. Due to the large number of orders received, the Department on Aging regrets that it cannot engrave the names of grandparents on the certificates. An open space is provided where the presenter or a calligrapher can inscribe the outstanding grandparent's name.

Sharks?

Those who go to beaches nowadays think about sharks - mainly because of recent films and other publicity about killer sharks. But an expert suspects there is some needless worry.

Dr. Carter Gilbert of the Florida State Museum has pointed out the danger of attack by sharks is less than the danger faced on the highways. He suggests swimmers in a group are safer than lone swimmers - especially in certain danger areas.

Danger areas include those where food of any kind is thrown into the water, where blood from cleaned fish is in the water, or where bright objects or erratic vibrations might attract their instinctive curiosity.

But, Gilbert says, a shark couldn't have a vendetta against a boat (as in films). And many at beaches who think they have been bitten by a shark have, instead, been bitten by a barracuda.

Indigent Health Care

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday released guidelines to county governments in Texas to simplify accounting for the state's new indigent Health Care (IHC) Act.

"It is our responsibility to provide a system that will make the paperwork easier for the Texas counties while they give health care to the areas that need it most," Bullock said.

The IHC law, passed in 1985, requires county governments to provide medical assistance to the county's residents who can not support themselves. The IHC act will affect 70,000 Texans who do not qualify for other federal or state health care programs.

Texas counties are likely to spend as much as $20 million in the 1986-87 biennium on medical services as a result of the IHC act, Bullock estimates. The Indigent Health Care Accounting Systems Manual is a step-by-step approach to deal with these funds.

The over 200 page manual can be used independently or integrated into the Standard Financial Management System for Texas Counties, also produced by Bullock's office. The Comptroller's Financial Management System for counties and the system designed for cities are both highly praised for effectively helping local governments in Texas with their accounting functions.

The IHC manual includes sections on budgeting for IHC, accounting procedures and financial management procedures. Also included in the manual is a section on internal auditing. In each of these sections comprehensive examples are given to show transactions that relate to the IHC program.

A copy of the Indigent Health Care Act is also included in the manual along with a glossary of accounting terms that are commonly used.

The IHC accounting manual was produced by employee Glenna Hastings during her internship with the Comptroller's office this past spring. Hastings was one of the first nine college students to participate in the Comptroller's Honors Internship Program.

Higher Deficit Budget

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Monday said Texas lawmakers should expect the state's budget deficit to go higher.

"A skyrocketing unemployment rate will be one key factor moving the state's budget deficit well above the current $2.3 billion. Workers without jobs and paychecks reduce economic activity and taxes," Bullock said.

He said the 10.5 percent jobless rate announced last week is not the only economic indicator that will push the budget deficit higher.

"We expect to finish a new revenue estimate before August 1, and, frankly, none of the indicators contain an ounce of good news."

Bullock said losses in the oil and gas industry are having a detrimental effect on most other areas of the Texas economy as well as other industries.

"I'm not going to second guess the exact number we'll be facing at the end of the month, but with deteriorating conditions in the Texas economy it will be substantially higher than the current estimate."

Bullock said besides oil, construction and unemployment there are other factors affecting the state's revenue picture.

Federal energy rulings, court cases, Gramm-Rudman, loss of state income interest, to name a few, pose potential losses in the hundreds of millions, Bullock said.

He said analysts working with the latest tax and economic data have preliminary findings that indicate the state's budget crisis has not leveled out.

Life is long to the miserable, but short to the happy.

Mangosuthu Buthelezi

Mangosuthu Buthelezi, the leading moderate black leader in South Africa, recently told a crowd of 13,000 supporters that sanctions against South Africa by western countries would hurt blacks most.

Buthelezi, leader of six million Zulus, probably represents more blacks than the Anglican bishop Tutu, so frequently quoted in the western press.

Buthelezi is traveling abroad to warn foreign governments of the harm economic sanctions would bring to blacks. He is also warning of the rapidly increasing danger of large scale fighting between blacks, which he says will never be stopped even if liberation should come to tomorrow, once it begins - between radicals and moderates.

Britain's Margaret Thatcher believes sanctions will hurt blacks first, causing unemployment. She agrees with Buthelezi.

This is a side of the sanctions question not frequently heard, in the flood of moral indignation, understandable, about South African policies. Most Americans have probably never even heard of Buthelezi.

Malcolm Baldrige, Commerce Secretary:

"Growth is being held down by the trade deficit, cutbacks in the energy sector and inventory adjustments in the auto industry."

Vladimir F. Petrovsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister, on summit plans:

"Dates have no consequence. What is important is the content of the meeting."

Paul Warnke, U.S. negotiator on SALT II treaty:

"The administration should take advantage of the Soviet request for a meeting of the special commission."

VOTE "YES"

Texas Farmers Union Urges Texas Farmers to Send a Loud and Clear Message to Washington

Waco, Tx. - July 8, 1986. Texas wheat Farmers and landowners can send a loud and clear message to Congress and the Administration by voting "Yes" in the USDA Wheat Poll, Texas Farmers Union President Joe Rankin declared.

Rankin said, "A 'yes' vote will indicate that farmers are ready and willing to assume the responsibility of reducing production - in return for an adequate and fair price in the market place. 'A 'yes' vote says to Washington, this new farm program is headed in the wrong direction. The 1985 Farm Bill has 'legislated poverty for farmers by driving down the price of American exports.' It is unbelievable that we sell our grain on the world market at less than the cost of production. Despite lower and lower prices, for the first time in 20 years the United States actually imported more farm goods than it exported in May."

With the announced loan level being reduced from $2.40 per bushel in 1986 to $2.28 per bushel in 1987, the direction and results are apparent - more bankrupt farmers.

Rankin urges Texas Farmers and spouses to answer all questions on the ballots and mail their ballots to the County ASCS office no later than Monday, July 14, 1986.

"An overwhelming 'YES' vote by wheat producers is the only hope, and perhaps the last chance, we have of changing the present 'legislated poverty for farmers' into a cost effective supply management program in return for a fair price," Rankin said.

Spearman may profit from local stamp promotional plan

Spearman is expected to be the winner in a new community promotion just begun by Blue Stamp redemption centers, including the Western Gift Store manager here.

In the promotion, non-profit organizations, such as scouts, churches, service organizations, etc., receive community project points for each book of stamps redeemed and asked to be credited to that particular group. When 48 points are accumulated, the organization has one book toward an item of their choice, either something in the store or catalog or anything that can be ordered.

It has worked for others it can work for you. A junior high school bought new band uniforms. A town group bought gifts for the needy. Hundreds of charitable groups in all areas of interest and walks of life have acquired thousands of dollars worth of much needed equipment by gathering points from others redeeming stamps.

According to the literature on the project, the cost of the program is being underwritten by community merchants who issue Blue Stamps.

Tops Meeting

TOPS TX. 1245, Spearman was brought to order with Marion Rogers presiding.

It had been two weeks since our last meeting due to the Fourth of July Weekend. All the members reported that they had enjoyed themselves but we all over did it as was shown at last night's weigh-in. Sherry Shields reported she had a great time at 20 year Reunion. But she is glad they only come every 20 years! Our newest members was TOPS Best Loser, she was awarded the Basket and let all the members in the TOPS Pledge.

Marion Rogers was best loser for KOPS and she led the KOPS Pledge and received the Basket.

A short quiz was given by Mrs. Rogers on "8 Points to Being Thin", needless to say the score results were not great! But this gave the members something to think about and some ideas on how to change some of their habits. There was then an open discussion. This always most helpful to us because it gives us all a chance to share some of our success and some of our failures with each other.

Wayne Biggs had the voting for the Inspiration Angel. It was a tie between two of our members. Congratulations goes to Sherry Shields and the other Angel. We all think your doing wonderful!

We then drew for our "Buddies" for this month. Contacting our Buddies is most helpful to remind us that we are all working together to succeed in our battle, we are not alone. The members planned to start "The Picnic Basket" contest next week as one of our members is away in Glorieta. Hurry back Kathy Biggs we need you and we miss you.

This is going to be a great contest so lets all work hard to get it off to a great start!!

The meeting was then brought to a close with each member wishing the other well and offering encouragement for a successful week. Are you fighting the same battle as we are? Are you tired of carrying that extra weight around? Come and join us next Thursday, 7:30 at Boyd's Beauty Salon and see what TOPS can do for you, become a winner at the battle. See you lighter!

Cleanse your hands, ye sinners, and purify your hearts, ye double-minded.

Harkins - Fultz Vows Exchanged

Mr. & Mrs. David Ken Fultz

Pamela Lynn Harkins and David Ken Fultz were united in marriage on June 6, 1986, at 7:00 p.m. at the Idalou Church of Christ in Idalou Texas. David V. Fultz, father of groom, performed the ceremony.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Harkins of Idalou, Texas. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. David V. Fultz of Spearman, Texas.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white silk organza over illusion and taffeta. The Victorian neckline was accented with silk Venise lace and seed pearls. The fitted bodice was embellished with white silk Venise lace and seed pearls. The short, full, petaled sleeves were accented with motifs of silk Venise lace and scattered pearls. The waistline was encompassed by streamers of lace down the front of the full gathered skirt with scattered motifs of silk Venise lace flowers flowing to the back holding a chapel length train, with finished hem of embroidered scallops. To complete the ensemble, the bride wore a matching white veil of teardrop chapel of silk Venise lace edged in silk flowers, with rose filaments, and pouff holding a two-tiered illusion veil with scattered flowers and penciled edge.

The maid of honor was Kayla Harkins, sister of the bride, of Idalou, Texas. Other bridal attendants were Tina Covey and Terri Moore, both of Lubbock, Texas. The attendants wore identical gowns of teal silk organza, with sweetheart necklines and double ruffles on the neck and sleeves. The fitted bodice was accented by a full tea-length skirt and satin ribbon belt.

The groom wore a white tuxedo and white shirt with accenting black tie and black cummerbund. The groomsmen were attired in black tuxedos and all wore white shirts, black ties and black cummerbunds. Best man was Bruce Williams of Morton, Texas. Groomsmen were Curt Miller and Ky Graham, both of Friona, Texas.

Serving as both candlelighters and ushers were Stan Grantham and Steve Grantham, cousins of the bride, of Idalou, Texas. Charles Crouch of Lubbock, Texas served as an usher. The ushers wore black tuxedos with white shirts, black ties, and black cummerbunds.

Attending the bride as flower girl was Misty Langford of Clyde, Texas. She wore a drop-waist dress of white eyelet with a teal taffeta sash. The ringbearer was Tyler Wiggains, nephew of the groom, of Hooker, Oklahoma. He was attired in a black tuxedo with a white shirt, black tie, and black cummerbund.

The guest book attendant was the bride's aunt, Mrs. Charles Grantham, of Idalou, Texas. Yellow rose rice bags were distributed to the wedding guests during the reception by Harmony Wiggains of Hooker, Oklahoma, and Melissa Veale of Richardson, Texas, both neices of the groom, and Dawn Langford of Clyde, Texas. The young ladies wore drop waist dresses of white eyelet with teal taffeta sashes.

Music for the ceremony was sung by friends of the bride and groom from Lubbock Christian College. The songs performed were: "Wisemen Say," "Follow Me," "More," "Sweet, Sweet Spirit," "Wind Beneath My Wings," "As for me and my House," "Flesh of my Flesh," "The Wedding Song," "I Pledge my Love," "Holy Father, Grant us Peace," and "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee." Soloist were Brad Thornton, former member of the groom's male quartet, the Good News singers from the Meistersinger Acapella Chorus, Warren McNeill, Debbie German and Dana Burton.

On the opposite end of the table was a silver punch bowl on a silver tray decorated with fresh flowers and greenery.

German chocolate cake and coffee were served from the groom's table which was draped to the floor with a teal cloth. The serving pieces were of brass.

On the evening of June 5, Mr. and Mrs. David V. Fultz hosted a rehearsal dinner at Western Sizzlin' steak house in Lubbock, Texas, honoring the bride and groom. Guests were family members and members of the wedding party.

La Leche League Met

This Fourth of July weekend was conference weekend for Rebecca Bairley of Spearman.

The La Leche League State Breastfeeding and Parenting Conference at the Austin Marriot was a family event. Governor Mark White proclaimed July 5th La Lech Day in Texas.

"It was a real 'family first' weekend," said Rebecca Bairley, who has been active in the group two years.

The La Leche League is an international volunteer group providing information and support for breastfeeding. In addition, they address themselves to other issues concerning the family. Workshops on child development, gentle discipline, schooling, nutrition, and childbirth were among the 86 topics covered in workshops at the three day event. John E. Valusek, Ph.D., gave a keynote address, "Kids Are Not for Hitting."

Speakers included nationally known lactation consultant Kittie Frantz and Marion Thompson of La Leche League International.

For more information on local group activities, contact Rebecca Bairley 659-5217 or Theresa Kirk 659-2794.

Center Piece

We had our regular Monday Luncheon. We had everything to eat. We need more members to join us. So bring your dish and come join us either Monday Noon or Tuesday Night at 6 p.m. Please try to come to one or both times.

We met last night had home made ice cream, cake, cookies and sandwiches. Jodie and Carol brought five ladies from the Manor. They seem to enjoy themselves. We play progressive pitch and would like to get progressive forty-two started. Need Players, so come on and join us at the center. We need you.

Mrs. Murphy told us about the endowment given in memory of Ruth Caro. And how we could all keep our Center going even for the next generation. Please ask Pearl Pierce or Marsha Murphy about the endowment fund.

Please come and join us for fun, relaxation and food. See you at the Center.
