5th And 8th Armies Take Twenty Towns In Forward Drive

By EDWARD KENNEDY ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Driving forward in three important sectors in Italy, the Fifth and Eighth armies put more than twenty towns and villages into their bag today and stood poised in positions immediately before the massive line which the Germans have established as the first southern section of their fortress of Europe.

The British with Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth army occupied Mondragone, where the Germans have built strong positions anchoring the western end of their line.

Frank Ferrel To Be Honored Posthumously

SGT. FRANK FERREL

T/Sgt. Frank C. Ferrel, whose death during the famed raid on the Ploesti, Rumanian oil fields on Aug. 1 was confirmed in a war department communication to his wife last week, has been recommended for a posthumous award.

This information came from Brig. Gen. U. G. Ent, commander of Sgt. Ferrel's group, in a letter to his wife, Mrs. Maurese Ferrel of Putnam, S. C. Ferrel was the son of Mrs. G. W. Ferrel of this city. Gen Ent's letter did not state the nature of the award, but he did add that "T/Sgt. Ferrel is one of the great heroes of this war. . . . I am the proudest commander in the world—no commander ever had a braver, more efficient force than the one which bombed the Rumanian oil refineries."

His widow also received letters from Lieut. Gen. H. H. Arnold telling how the raid, on which he lost his life, was the "straw that broke the camel's back. . . . that those who gave their lives did so that others might live."

Sgt. Ferrel, 31, was born at Roby and was graduated at Sylvester, At McMurry, where he received his BS degree, he was on the all-ITIA basketball team in 1936 and played in many leading AAU tournaments. He was married in June 1941. At Leuders he was coach for two years and served three years as principal at Plains.

Volunteering at Lubbock April 7, 1942, he trained at Sheppard Field, went to a specialist school at Camp Kearney, San Diego, Calif., received aerial gunnery at Las Vegas, Nev., and had additional training at Tucson, Ariz., Alomogorda and Clovis, N. M. Flying to England with a bomber group in April 1943, he participated in raids over Germany before going to the Middle East in June. From there he was in on the first Rome raid before the Ploesti mission.

Singers Convene Today At Garner

Singers from a wide area are expected to join today in the combined meeting of the Howard County Semi-annual Singing Convention and the Tri-County Singing Convention at the Garner school.

N. F. King, president of the Howard county unit, said that the Pickering Quartette from Clovis, N. M., the Campbell quartette from Levelland and the Weaver quartette of San Angelo were to be on hand for the all-day session. He urged singers to bring their lunches and songbooks and make a day of it.

Cotton Picker Mob Quelled By Officers

LUBBOCK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Hockley County Sheriff Ed Hofack of Levelland said an angry crowd of cotton pickers of Latin-American origin gathered today at Levelland after a brief fight but that serious trouble was averted through arrival of officer reinforcements.

Levelland has a normal population of about 3,000.

By comparison with our last year's quota, we have done well on our National War Fund drive so far, but in comparison with the quota of $17,900, the $5,000 in hand so far means only that we have failed miserably to give what was expected of us.

Water consumption is still running around 1,750,000 gallons daily, which is in excess of the safe rate of production for the city's wells, City Manager B. J. McDaniel said Saturday.

Proposed Tax On Liquor Cut In Half

By ALEX H. SINGLETON WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The house ways and means committee today cut in half a proposed $4-per-gallon boost in the federal liquor taxes, but voted to stiffen several other levies—including those on cigars and parimutuel betting—to pick up a net of $49,000,000 more from excise tax sources.

The action on the liquor assessment, aftermath of vigorous protests that too high a rate would "put a premium on bootlegging," set the tax at $8 a gallon. The previous tentative decision was to hike it from $6 to $10.

The resulting $242,000,000 loss in the estimated revenue the bill would produce was more than offset by the increases as the committee reviewed about half its previous decisions on excise taxes. It will complete the work of today's session came these recommendations:

1. A 100 per cent increase in the tax on cigars. The present rates, on a sliding scale, run from a tax of $2.50 per thousand for cigars sold at retail at two and one-half cents each, to $20 a thousand for those priced above 20 cents. The proposed rates would start at $5 and run up to a maximum of $40. Estimated additional revenue—$28,000,000.

2. A boost in the tax on parimutuel betting from four per cent—the previous tentative proposal—to five per cent. There is no federal tax at present. The estimated yield from such a tax is $27,500,000.

3. A 25 per cent levy on electric light bulbs and tubes—five times the present rate and ten per cent above the previous tentative figures. Estimated yield—$10,000,000.

4. A 100 per cent boost in the tax on jewelry. The present rate is ten per cent. The committee repeatedly voted for 15 per cent and decided today—upon 20 per cent. Estimated revenue from the extra five per cent—$40,000,000.

5. A 25 per cent tax on domestic telegraph, radio and cable messages, as compared to the present 15 per cent rate and the tentatively-proposed 20 per cent rate. Added income—$15,000,000.

Jap Island Defenders Pushed Back By Allies

By DEAN SCHEDLER ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sunday, Oct. 31 (AP)—Allied invaders of tiny Treasury Island are pushing its few hundred Japanese defenders toward the northern tip and seaborne American paratroopers who landed on Choiseul, splitting enemy forces there, are consolidating their positions.

These developments in the newly-opened offensive on the approaches to the last big Japanese Solomons base of Bougainville were announced by headquarters today.

Belatedly it was disclosed that after American and New Zealand amphibious troops landed Wednesday on Treasury, 30 miles south of Bougainville, 25 Japanese dive-bombers and fighters tried to interfere. They were intercepted to the north of the eight-mile long island by Lightnings, Kittyhawks and Aircobras which shot down at least 12. All the interceptors returned to their bases.

The report was the first of any appreciable enemy air activity in the sector where his bases were bombed out prior to the invasions. An indication that the Japanese also may be moving inland reinforcements was given in a report that north of Bougainville a troop-laden coastal vessel was bombed and sunk.

On the southwestern shore of Choiseul, where paratroopers achieved unopposed landings from ships Thursday at a village close by a Japanese barge staged a defense itself to "our ground troops are consolidating their position." There was no indication that any fighting had occurred yet.

At South Pacific headquarters of Admiral Halsey, a spokesman who elaborated on MacArthur's memorandum said the invaders "continued to push enemy forces back." First reports after the landing told of the Japanese withdrawing without a fight.

He also amplified the Treasury air battle, saying the enemy planes appeared in mid-afternoon whereas the landing operations began at dawn that morning. The Allied interceptors slightly outnumbered the enemy. The spokesman made no comment on the results of the Japanese bombing attempts.

(Radio Tokyo made the unconfirmed claim that Japanese planes sank an American warship.)

Hog Market Faces Fall In Prices

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The War Food Administration, fearful that farmers may dump more hogs on the market in December and January than processors can handle, has quietly sent out word that the government may not be able to carry through on its guarantee to support hog prices at specified levels.

A memorandum to state agricultural war boards warns of a possible collapse of the marketing, processing and distribution machinery, particularly if farmers follow the normal course of shipping a large proportion of their hogs to market during December and January.

The WFA estimates there are from 25 to 30 per cent more hogs on farms available for marketing during these months than in the corresponding months a year ago when the market run was at a record level.

Berlin Speculates On Outcome Of Moscow Tri-Partite Session

By WILLIAM SMITH WHITE LONDON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Moscow three-power conference plunged Berlin into restless anxiety today.

Nazi propagandists relayed Swedish reports that the Allies had given Russia a "fixed date" and all details for launching a major front in western Europe.

Betraying the Nazis' deep uneasiness over the dangers staked for them in President Roosevelt's disclosure that the conference was succeeding, Berlin sounded this general line: The United States and Britain have been "compelled to yield to all demands of Moscow," and lost their grip upon exiled governments by giving up their insistence upon independence of small European states after the war.

From this, it was argued, Ger-

New Council A Bid For Close Cooperation

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Several elaborate blueprints for federal post-war planning have been laid before White House officials but indications now are that President Roosevelt may spike all of them for an informal, piecemeal policy—making done more or less jointly by government, business, labor and agriculture.

The president fitted the newest piece into place Wednesday by creating a war advisory council of business men. This is now widely interpreted as a frank bid for close industry-business cooperation during the closing months of the war and in the post-war era as production shifts back to peacetime goods.

What probably surprised the eight business and industrial leaders most in their initial meeting with the chief executive Wednesday was his statement that since congress eliminated the National Resources Planning Board several months ago he had no overall long-range planning agency and no funds with which to do such work.

Several of the business men came away with the feeling, later expressed, that present government efforts to arrange for returning the country to a peace economy are developing without much overall coordination, and will continue to do so unless the president and his assistants, already jammed with immediate problems of the war, can find time to do the job.

Mr. Roosevelt gave the business men a hat full of specific problems on which he asked them to advise. One estimate is that there were 18 different problems in the bunch. The group will report back to him with specific proposals on several of the most urgent of these matters on Nov. 22.

Commission Reports Well Completions

AUSTIN, Oct. 30 (AP)—The railroad commission reported 66 regular well completions for the week ending today, bringing the year's total to 1,846 compared to 2,781 for the same period in 1942. Three gas wells were completed. Drilling applications numbered 113 for a 1943 total of 4,104 compared to 4,146 a year ago.

War Fund Drive Below Quota

The National War Fund drive which combines the USO, seaman's and 15 other assorted relief and welfare agencies under one banner for financial support—was still less than a third of the way toward its goal here Saturday.

Total contributions to date stand around $5,000, and most of these have come from employees who were contacted by their employers last week in a canvass of the business district by committees under C. J. Stailes.

This response, said Pat Kenney, general chairman, has proven the one bright spot in an otherwise rather dismal showing. The county quota is $17,900.

"Big Spring, more than any city I know," said Kenney, "ought to rally to this campaign if for no other reason than its USO. We have here one of the finest clubs anywhere for a city this size, not to mention a good center for colored soldiers. USO, I am satisfied, has spent well over twice as much for installation alone as we are being asked to put into the entire drive."

While most employers accepted the responsibility of canvassing their employees, not all business firm heads have turned in their firm contributions, reported Kenney. He made a special appeal for generosity by businesses. The chairman also renewed his appeal to "the thousands who have not been invited to give to this cause. Please don't let this be your excuse for not giving liberally to the NWF fund. Any gift you have may be left at or mailed to the USO headquarters here and it will be applied to the fund quota."

Story Of American Minstrels Told In 'Dixie,' With Crosby, Dottie Lamour

Called a new high in musicals is "Dixie," a Technicolor picture glorifying America's old-time favorite entertainment—the minstrel show—which headlines the Ritz theatre's program for today and Monday.

Bing Crosby and Dorothy Lamour head the cast, Bing playing the role of Dan Emmett, the first of the nation's beloved minstrel men, and the composer of the immortal tune from which the picture takes its name.

Bing is given opportunity to do a lot of singing in his most ingratiating style. He is well cast as the lovable troubadour, Emmett, whose music has lived a hundred years so far and will probably live forever. Dottie and Marjorie Reynolds are the two women in Bing's "Dixie" life. You remember Marjorie—she was his sweetheart in "Holiday Inn."

The story of "Dixie" is the story of how the song came to be written and of how the first minstrel show shocked and then thrilled the South and, subsequently, all America. It tells of Bing who leaves his fiancée, Marjorie Reynolds, in their home town while he goes to New Orleans to make his way. There he meets Dorothy Lamour, landlady of a boarding house for deadbeat actors. Dottie's father, Raymond Walburn, is an ex-actor who, much to his disgust, attracts members of that profession to their house, among them Billy de Wolfe, Lynne Overman and Eddie Foy, Jr.

Bing conceives the idea of a minstrel show for which he writes the words and music. He puts the show together with the help of the actors mentioned above. How the little group grows to a successful troupe of forty blackface song-and-dance men and how the Crosby-Lamour-Reynolds triangle works out, is entertainment at its very best.

The minstrel show numbers, oddly enough, offer something entirely new in screen fun, "oddly" because the minstrel show hasn't been new since 1843, a hundred years ago. It's so old that to this generation it's new, and the odds are that some of the old tunes by Bing in "Dixie" are going to make the Hit Parade just as will the new ones. There are six of each.

Bingo!—Sinatras may come and Sinatras may go, but Old Master Singer Bing Crosby keeps going on forever; and he's said to hit the jackpot in his latest starring vehicle, a melody-filled story of the old minstrels, called "Dixie," and story is built around the writing of the famed southern song and the minstrels which helped make it famous. And extra-added to all the music is Dorothy Lamour, who shares leading laurels with Crosby.

Ameche, Oakie, Blair In Musical Comedy At The State Theatre

Don Ameche, Janet Blair and Jack Oakie combine their antic and romantic talents in a gala musical, "Something To Shout About," the Gregory Ratoff production which is featured at the State theatre today and Monday. It is a film studded with songs, dances, laughs and loveliness.

Producer-director Ratoff also makes able use of the talents of such assorted individuals as William Gaxton, Broadway musical comedy star for the past 15 years; Cobina Wright, Jr., social registerite and darling of the night clubs; and Hazel Scott, whose swing piano-playing made her the musical sensation of New York's Cafe Society and radio's listening millions.

There is room, too, for the sensational canine comedy troupe, The Bricklayers; Jaye Martin, radio singer; David Lichine, Russian ballet star who also acted as choreographer, and six Cole Porter song hits. Miss Blair appears in "Something to Shout About" as a would-be songwriter from Altoona, Pa., who gets "discovered" by a press agent, Ameche. Ameche, in turn, "sells" her to a Broadway producer, Gaxton. And Gaxton, while taking her songs, tries to ease her into the starring role of his newest show, which is headed for certain failure because his leading lady is a young woman of no talent beyond the possession of a million or so dollars. Eventually the "star" walks out, taking with her the costumes and the scenery for which she has paid, and leaving behind little more than an empty theatre and an unpleasant memory.

Gaxton promptly proceeds on a "bender." Ameche and Oakie, an ex-vaudevillian with a boarding house filled with ex-vaudevillians, promptly try something "new" for Broadway—a vaudeville show!

Miss Vincent and Bruce appear in the roles of turbulent newlyweds who seek to regain their honeymoon bliss. Though carefully planned, the project almost ends disastrously when their intentions are misunderstood by a pair of innocent rivals. The latter are portrayed by Miss Hilliard and Cameron.

Locale for much of the hilarious action is a swank mountain lodge where the guests find relaxation and rhythm to the tunes of Ozzie Nelson and his orchestra. Franklin Pangborn, one of Hollywood's most popular comedians, has a featured role and musical sequences of the picture present the celebrated dancing duo, Veloz and Yolanda.

Simone Simon Goes In For Songs, Dances

Comedy in the modern manner, a whole batch of swell songs, and a grand cast headed by Simone Simon and Dennis O'Keefe—these are the attractions in Republic's "Tahiti Honey," which plays today and Monday at the Queen theatre.

In contrast to the highly dramatic roles she has enacted in many previous films, Simone turns to singing and dancing in "Tahiti Honey." Dennis O'Keefe scores with a brilliant performance.

Outstanding in the supporting cast are Michael Whalen, Lionel Stander, Wally Vernon, Tom Seidel, Dan Seymour and Tommy Adams. Top honors on the technical side go to John H. Auer, who was the associate producer.

There are no less than seven songs in the picture, and all of them are excellent. The title tune, "Tahiti Honey," was written by Jule Styne, Sol Meyer and George R. Brown; while Charles Newman and Lew Pollack are credited for the others—"This Gets Better Every Minute," "You Could Hear A Pin Drop," "Koni Plenty Hu-Hu," "Any Old Port In A Storm," "I'm A Cossack," and "Ten Gallon Hat."

Musical Comedy Is Featured At Lyric Theatre

A mirthful matrimonial mishap is the story basis of Universal's comedy-musical picture, "Honeymoon Lodge," offered today and Monday at the Lyric theatre. Announced as a laugh-filled movie spiced with sparkling vocal and instrumental interludes, the new film has a special cast which promises solid and satisfying entertainment.

Harriet Hilliard, David Bruce, June Vincent and Rod Cameron are the headliners. Miss Vincent and Bruce appear in the roles of turbulent newlyweds who seek to regain their honeymoon bliss. Though carefully planned, the project almost ends disastrously when their intentions are misunderstood by a pair of innocent rivals. The latter are portrayed by Miss Hilliard and Cameron.

What Goes On?—Santa Claus may be out of season, but nothing stays altogether on a beam in "Honeymoon Lodge," a merry musical comedy featured today and Monday at the Lyric theatre. June Vincent and Rod Cameron are pictured here as Harriet Hilliard, Franklin Pangborn, Ozzie Nelson and his orchestra, Veloz and Yolanda, Tip-Tap & Toe, and David Bruce.

Lots Of Talent—A great lineup of entertainers, including Jack Oakie, Cobina Wright, Jr., Don Ameche and Janet Blair, keeps things moving at a gay and musical pace in "Something To Shout About," a comedy romance with fine tunes which is at the State theatre today and Monday. Gregory Ratoff directed the entertainment, and songs are by Cole Porter.

Estimates On Cotton Crop Range Upward

Cotton ginnings may approach 25,000 bales this season if estimates of the per cent of the current crop already turned out hold good.

Through Saturday the gin total for Howard county stood right at 17,500 bales on the basis of local gins handling 45 per cent of the volume. Friday afternoon the Big Spring ginning figure was 7,906 bales.

Most ginneries estimated the crop was 70 per cent out, and all agreed that yields were turning out considerably better than at first figured. Ginners were hard put to stay abreast of the volume, although there was a little decline in the amount rolling ginward during the week.

It was agreed that the bulk of farmers were "catching up" but the second picking will be in full swing all over the county in another week.

Prices were steady with lint averaging around 19 cents in the loan, where virtually all offerings were going. Seed advanced $1 a ton to $55 on the base.

Feed prices were stable but strong. Head maize was bottomed at $25 a ton and was quoted up to $28 with some asking as high as $30. Most trading was confined to the lower figures, however. Threshed grain was bullish with $1.70 cwt. the lowest quoted price. Much moved out at a dime higher and a gain in prices asked up to $2 and beyond. Hegler pulled down five to seven cents a bundle depending upon weight and quality.

AAA Mails More Soil Applications

Nearly all of Howard county's Soil Conservation Payment Applications were sent off for final audit Saturday from the AAA office, M. Weaver, administrative officer said Friday.

Of the 900 eligible for payments in the county, 750 completed and signed applications have been sent for final check to College Station. The remaining 150 applications have never been signed by the county farmers and cannot be sent until they are completed.

Those who are eligible for payment should contact the office as soon as possible in order that their application may be approved and sent to the state office. Otherwise, no payments can be made, it was explained.

Fraternity Pledges In Court Contempt

NEW YORK — Fifteen college students, sporting Red Pork-Pie hats, entered Kings county court as part of their fraternity initiation.

Judge Peter J. Brancato looked up, frowned on the hats atop the crew-haircutted heads. Told to remove them, the youths remained as immobile as wooden Indians. The judge held them in contempt, clapped them in a cell.

One of the Collegians was Peter J. Brancato, Jr. — The Judge's son.

They finally were released.

Gas Receipts Up In Mitchell County

COLORADO CITY — Mitchell county ginning receipts are moving steadily upward during the continued fair weather. The total number of bales ginned to date this season is now 12,002.

Lorraine gins report a total of 4,455; Westbrook, 1,975; Buford, 1,351; and the six gins in Colorado City, a total of 4,221.

From 69 associations in 1938, the cooperatives of China now number 1,590 with 22,680 members, with 10 times that number directly benefited.

Air - WAC's Invaluable To Armed Services

The time-tested phrase "the proof of the pudding is in the eating" is still regarded as pretty good horse sense. And while it is far-fetched to liken an AIR-WAC to a bowl of pudding, still if she does her job well, she's as valuable a part of the Army Air Forces as the soldier she relieves for combat duty.

If she hadn't taken over that soldier's duties here at home, there would be one soldier less available for the all-important job of keeping 'em flying against the enemy, and the war would last just that much longer.

The life of an AIR-WAC is not all glamour as it is commonly believed. There is hard work involved, and there are important jobs to be done—jobs that all play a vital part in the successful prosecution of the war. Just to touch on a few of the accomplishments of our AIR-WACS, here is a cross-section of opinions coming from officers of the Big Spring Bombardier school, regarding the efficiency of the AIR-WACS stationed here.

Major Gleason, personnel officer: "We use eight AIR-WACS in this office and they are doing a swell job. Several of the men they have replaced are already overseas fighting against the Axis."

Warrant Officer W. O. Henderson, radio repair: "We use ten AIR-WACS in this department. We were badly in need of men until they came along, but the girls pitched right in and now have everything running smoothly. They really surprised me. They're good workers and do every job thoroughly."

Captain James Anthony, photographic officer: "Sixteen AIR-

WACS have replaced sixteen experienced soldiers in the photographic laboratory. We want as many more. They do the same work as the men whose places they took, and they do it very well."

Lt. O. E. Schnuelle, budget and fiscal: "The duties performed by the AIR-WAC in this office require a good knowledge of accounting. Her work is very satisfactory."

Captain J. T. Bender, Jr., intelligence officer: "I am using one AIR-WAC in my office. She is very resourceful and accurate in all her work. I've already asked for another."

Captain W. H. Nigh, commandant of cadets: "We have an AIR-WAC typist, and another acting as mail clerk. Both of these girls are doing jobs that were previously handled by men. They've replaced two experienced soldiers for combat duty."

AIR-WACS are doing fine jobs in many other departments of the school, but many more are needed here and in other army air forces posts throughout the country.

Captain Arthur Foulks, the AIR-WAC recruiting officer at the Big Spring Bombardier school, has launched an intensive campaign to recruit more of these efficient women between the ages of 20 and 30 years.

Accompanied by his AIR-WAC recruitment team, Captain Foulks is touring 15 counties in the neighborhood of Big Spring and is expected soon to concentrate on the city of Big Spring in particular. He will explain how women can select any of 150 jobs for which they may be best fitted. Any inquiries may be addressed to him at the Big Spring school.

BLAMES THE BLACKOUT

LYNNFIELD, Mass. (U. P.) — Compelled to explain a 1,461-gallon shortage in his gasoline coupons, a filling-station operator here blamed the dimout. He said he couldn't see the pump indicator and thus had probably given customers more than their coupons called for.

Coal Delivery Is Curtailed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP) — An emergency regulation prohibiting the delivery of anthracite coal to any domestic consumer having more than 10 days' supply on hand was ordered today by the solid fuels administration.

The emergency regulations also prohibit retailers from delivering and consumers from accepting more than a half-ton of anthracite.

The emergency order is effective at once. The British gallon is almost 20 per cent larger than the U. S. gallon.

Figures Show Climb In Ration Books

Ration Book Four registration which officially closed Saturday evening after an extra week of issuing books totalled 24,666 for the county or 1,190 more than were registered here for Book Two.

This would tend to show an increase in the county's population since the last registration although applications of out-of-county persons were accepted.

Any who failed to get Book Four last week will now have to apply at the ration office and wait some weeks before the applications can be approved.

150 War Plant Workers Poisoned

DALLAS, Oct. 30 (AP)—At least 150 workers at North American's aviation plant near Grand Prairie became ill from food poisoning early today and a six-way investigation into the cause was begun.

Dr. J. L. Goforth, chief of the emergency medical service of the Office of Civilian Defense (OCD), who estimated 55 workers were under care in four hospitals, said blood plasma was administered in the more critical cases.

The workers became ill after eating food served from a privately owned cafeteria. Investigators for federal, state, county, and city governments, the company and the cafeteria were checking causes of the mass illness.

A chemist was sent by plane from the state health department at Austin to investigate. Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said that this was the first large-scale instance of food poisoning in Texas war plants that he had heard of.

Cotton Executive Aids Mitchell Farms

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 30 — Roy L. McDonald, who came to Mitchell county at the beginning of the cotton season to check the migratory labor movement for the Office of Emergency Management, War Manpower Commission of the U. S. Employment Service, will remain in the county for two more weeks, he has announced. McDonald came here from San Antonio and works through the county agent's office to help supply pickers for farmers.

Estimates since the drought have agreed on a prospect of only 16,000 bales for Mitchell county. McDonald's new estimate gives the county a possible 18,000. He will go from here to the plains when 75 per cent of this area's crop has been picked.

Experiment Farm Feeds Fifty Calves

Fifty calves are now on preliminary feed at the U. S. Experiment Farm in preparation for the annual feeding test.

They were brought here Wednesday from the state experiment station at Sonora and averaged 420 a head, which is from 30 to 40 pounds lighter than the average for several years. They were, said F. E. Keating, superintendent, good feeder types.

After about a month on a ration of roughage and cottonseed meal, the calves will be divided into six lots of eight calves each (two being held in reserve for replacement in event of feed lot casualties). Tests will not differ materially from last year, which centered largely around the effect of minerals in the ration, except that one lot fed cottonseed hulls for roughage will this year get ensilage.

Lot No. 1 will receive a basic ration of milo, meal and sunac with an ounce of limestone daily. Lot No. 2 is identical except it uses corn for grain instead of milo. Lot No. 3 is the same as lot No. 1 except it has two ounces of limestone flour daily. Last year this double mineral supplement with milo produced the best gains. Lot No. 4 is the same as No. 1 except it starts with four ounces of bone meal daily for mineral and will be increased up to half a pound at the end of the test. Lot No. 5, which had the hulls last year, will be fed without any mineral supplement except salt. Lot No. 6 will be identical with No. 1 except it has ground milo heads for grain. J. M. Jones, head of the range animal division for the Texas A. & M. extension service, was here last week to go over test plans with Keating.

It's 24 Candles On Birthday Cake For Cunningham-Philips

It's another anniversary — the 24th — for Big Spring's oldest drug firm.

Monday marks the birthday for Cunningham & Philips, operators of stores at 217 Main and in the Petroleum building. It'll be another day of work for Shine Phillips, who has put in many an hour in being friend and counselor, as well as pill-roller and salesman for thousands of people in the community.

Shine has been sole operator of the business since the death of his partner, C. W. Cunningham, two years ago. In tribute to the latter, the name of the firm remains unchanged.

Philips has marked the anniversary with expressions of appreciation to his patrons, and to the physicians he has worked with for so many years. "We are truly grateful for the patronage and goodwill that has been ours for all 24 years," he said.

Three Oil Tests For This Week

Three oil explorations in this area may go on test this week.

Saturday the J. B. Hawley, Jr. No. 1 J. W. Cook, western Howard county wildcat, 1,980 feet from the north and west lines of section 23-34-1n, T&P, had cleaned out to bottom at 3,290 feet following a 750-quart shot and was to run tubing and rods today preparatory to a test run. Operators reported 1-100 feet of 28 gravity oil in the hole. This test is five miles north and slightly west of nearest production in the Harding pool, small southwestern Howard producer.

J. B. Hawley, Jr. No. 1 H. H. Wilkinson, 1,980 feet from the north and east lines of section 33-34-1n, T&P, a mile to the southwest of the Cook well, set surface string at 180 feet Saturday. Hawley No. 1 Cowden, 330 feet from the east and 2,310 feet from the north lines of section 18-33-1s, T&P, less than a mile north of Harding pool production, was to drill plugs from seven-inch OD casing set at 3,140 to test for the pay horizon.

In southeastern Borden county, Cosden and Coffield & Guthrie No. 1 Elta M. Conrad, section 79-20, LaVaca, had cleaned out to bottom at 4,150 feet and had approximately 800 feet of oil in the hole. Operators had established that what water was in the fluid column was bottom hole water and not from a liner up the hole. A small bailer capable of slipping through the liner was not of sufficient size to lower the fluid and tubing and rods were being run for a pumping test.

Standolind No. 1 Echols, section 6-30-1s, T&P, a promising western outpost to the East Howard pool, was reported ready for a test. Higher structurally than even the Sinclair No. 1 Emma Davis, which was completed natural at 495 barrels for one of the pool's best wells, the No. 1 Echols has not been heading, but it has filled as rapidly as it could be balled. It topped pay at 2,464 feet and had its best show from 2,468-75 feet.

In northeastern Howard county the Cosden and Coffield & Guthrie No. 2 Allen, northwest diagonal offset to the discovery No. 1 Allen northeast of Vincent, had completed a troublesome fishing job that had held up operations for more than a month. Drilling was to be resumed Monday. Location is C NW SE 57-20, LaVaca. Across in the southwest corner of section 58-20, LaVaca, Coffield & Guthrie No. 1 Guy Guffey was waiting on spudder to be moved in from the Conrad test before resuming operations at 3,763 feet.

Northwestern Mitchell county saw the M. L. Richards No. 1 Erwin, a deepening experiment on an abandoned Sinclair test, chalked up as a failure below 4,100 feet. Casing was being pulled Saturday. Cosden and Coffield & Guthrie No. 1 R. L. Solomon, C SW SE, section 7-37, H&TC, was pulling five-inch string from 945 feet in order to plug back and test Westbrook pay sections below 2,700 feet. This test is to the east of the abandoned Richards exploration.

Cosden No. 2 Read, section 48-30-1n, T&P, still fished for a bailer lost in cleaning out following a shot from 2,737-2,937 feet. Ray Oil Co. No. 5-A Read, 990 feet from the south and 330 feet from the west lines of section 48-30-1n, T&P, was chalked up as a failure at 2,920 feet. It was a direct north offset to the Cosden No. 1 Willard Read in the southwest corner of the section, a test that could not be pumped in a 24-hour run.

Like all American youngsters, Girl Scouts are air-minded, and Girl Scouting offers the Senior Scouts (15 to 18 years old) a special program of pre-flight training in Wing Scouts. Here a Western Air Lines officer shows a Wing Scout how to "shoot the sun" as part of her training.

Here 'n There

Mrs. Ruth Airhart, Mrs. Mabel Groves and their nephew, Max Filippin were in Big Spring from the Lewis ranch in Mitchell county Thursday evening to meet their sister, Mrs. D. R. Thornton, who came via airlines, from Meridian, Miss.

Fire Saturday afternoon resulted in total loss to the Nelson estate house at 210 San Jacinto and of its contents, which belonged to Mrs. Nell Thornton. The house was well ablaze when the alarm was sounded. Hardly had the truck returned to the station when another had to be rushed to 302 E. 6th street where a studio couch, too close to an open gas fire, had ignited. It was out on arrival, reported Fire Chief H. V. Crocker.

Another dairy sale is scheduled next week when the G. E. Peterson herd, located four and a half miles east of Lamesa, goes on sale Wednesday. Around two dozen Jersey and Holstein cows are on the block along with some farm equipment.

Mrs. Ida Collins received word this week that her son, Ensign Jesse Collins, is now in Hawaii where he is attending school for special training for the navy.

Mrs. G. C. Ragsdale left Sunday morning for Mineral Wells to attend funeral services of her brother-in-law, J. H. Hester, who was killed in an automobile accident last Wednesday. He was serving in a construction battalion at Providence, R. I.

J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, will attend a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Managers Association of West Texas meeting Wednesday evening of this week in Abilene. The session has been called by M. J. Benefield, Brady, president. Greene, a former CCMAWT president, is a director in the organization which will be holding its parley coincidental with that of the fall session of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Lovelace To Head Farm Federation

Frank Lovelace, Coahoma, was elected Saturday as president of the Howard county chapter of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation.

He succeeds J. A. Bishop, R-Bar, who has served as head of the organization, one of the strongest chapters in the state, for the past two years.

Other officers named were Ed J. Carpenter, Vincent, vice-president, and C. T. DeVaney, Coahoma, who was returned as secretary-treasurer. Directors selected were Sam Little, Akin Simpson, Joe McIlvain and Albert McKinney.

The officers along with E. T. O'Daniel and Joe McIlvain were named as delegates to the state convention meeting Nov. 16-17 in Dallas. Bishop, Wayne Ingram, and Akin Simpson were selected as alternates.

Various problems were discussed by the membership at the parley, including plans for extending membership over the district. Howard county has more members than the other 11 counties of this district combined.

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 30 (AP)—Big Steve Van Buren moved Louisiana State a notch nearer a post-season bowl bid here tonight by pacing the Tigers to a 14 to 0 win over Texas Christian's Horned Frogs before 18,000 fans.

The two Tiger touchdowns were the first ever scored in a Texas Christian-Louisiana State football game. The Frogs won two of the three previous games, 3 to 2 and 3 to 0, and one game was a 3-3 tie.

Rodden Asks For Pooled Interviews

Big Spring employers, particularly those who are frequently in need of sizeable numbers of workers, have been urged by O. R. Rodden, manager of the US Employment Service to conduct pooled interviews at the USES offices to fill their needs.

Rodden suggested that it would be wise for local employers to conduct these interviews in advance of similar ones arranged for out-of-town and out-of-state labor recruiters. He also suggested that these pooled interviews (whereby a large number of prospects can be contacted in a single day at the USES office in contrast to the usual method of referral to the concern over a much longer period of time) should be preceded by newspaper and other advertising. This method, he said, had been established as the most effective by war industry worker recruiters.

Union Service This Evening

Churches represented in the Big Spring Pastors association will join forces again at 8 p. m. today in another Fifth Sunday union service.

The First Baptist church auditorium will be the site for the combined worship service, and as is the custom for these special events, the preacher who is to bring the message will not be required until he steps into the pulpit to speak. The combined choirs of the city will furnish music.

"A Weak Strong Man" will be the topic of the morning message by the Rev. J. E. McCoy at the First Christian church. The choir is to sing the anthem, "There is a Land."

Dr. W. H. Foster, Lubbock, secretary of home missions for the El Paso Presbytery, will speak at the morning hour at the First Presbyterian church. The pastor, the Rev. J. E. Moore, is ill.

At the Christian Science service, held at 2-1 1-2 Main, the topic today is "Everlasting Punishment," with the Golden Text taken from Psalms 130:7. "The destruction of sin is the divine method of pardon," according to a citation from Mary Baker Eddy. Among Bible references is one from Isaiah 43:25.

the pressure a bit Monday morning when it comes to getting the youngsters off to school. The starting time has been moved back to 9 a. m. for all schools.

The announcement that at least 5,000 tons of soybeans have been pledged to the Big Spring Cotton Oil mill to relieve a critical protein feed shortage here has an aspect farmers ought not to overlook. Ranchers may learn to like that protein feed as well as cottonseed meal. If so, then soybeans might become permanent competition to cottonseed. In that case, eventually the beans would hammer down the market for cottonseed. To make a long story short, the practice of cutting ranchers off from cottonseed meal is one fraught with danger to the cotton farmer.

The rancher feeder and dairyman constitute his real market. The commissioners court has been patient thus far in dealing for right-of-way on the Garden City road. We think the time has come for some action substantially stronger than patience.

We recorded another traffic fatality here last week, which brings us back to an oft repeated belief that we are not paying enough attention to promotion of safety on our streets and highways this year. Wartime is no time to slow down on this type of program.

Turkey Day Dinner Will Be Costly

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The country's Thanksgiving dinner this year will cost some $7,500,000 more than it did last year. The Office of Price Administration announced today that retail cost of dressed turkeys would go up from 1-2 cent to 3 cents a pound, as the result of new ceilings for turkey processors. The higher ceilings, it said, were necessitated by higher farm prices.

PULPWOOD NEEDED
NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—Walter M. Dear, chairman of the newspaper pulpwood committee, said today production of pulpwood—from which paper and paper products are made—must be increased during the rest of the year if the 13,000,000-cord goal set by the War Production Board is to be reached.

HOME OWNERS!
Don't Let That HEAT Escape!

Most homes are actually guilty of leaking heat! It slips out through the roof and walls and heat bills go sky-high because you are heating the whole outdoors! Insulation is the solution to this problem—an immense saving on your fuel bill, and added protection because it helps make your home fire-proof!

Local building supply firms (or lumber yards) can supply you with material to insulate your home and help you SAVE HEAT. If you see your lumber dealer NOW you can make this improvement in your home before winter comes.

Only Thing Lacking In AAFBS Musical Is Name

By HELEN WILSON

It's a show without a name, and as rehearsals progress each day, and enthusiasm increases in the "brain child" of three GIs in the special service section, the soldiers and WACs at the Big Spring Bomber School are becoming more doubtful as to what they should call their all-army musical which will be presented for soldier and civilian entertainment soon.

During "office hours," the fellows and girls in the cast work in the radio control tower, serve KP in the mess hall, work on the line, and fill many other essential jobs, but come rehearsal time, and they're off like men of tomorrow for the post theatre where daily rehearsals are held.

Sprawled over theatre seats in the front rows, with fatigue caps turned up in front, down behind, the fellows practice their lines, learn the lyrics to the catchy tunes which have been written especially for the show, and exchange suggestions for improving their lines with the WACs, all of whom share roles in the line leads and in the chorus.

Although there is no commissioned officer who is directly in charge of production, Lieut. John Auerbach is supervisor of the show.

The idea of the musical was conceived several months ago when other camps presented similar shows, and so the boys in special service section, Cpl. Edd Todd, Sgt. Dale Francis and Cpl. Phil Tucker got together, and before they knew it, their plans were taking shape.

Backed by their professional experience in civilian life, their work with the show, and the work of the cast, is far from 'amateurish.' They have written ten songs which range from the sentimental "Khaki Is More than a Color," to the comic tune "Why Do They Start The War So Early In The Morning."

Cpl. Todd, who wrote the music for the show, and who is serving as director of the musical, played the base violin with George Morris' orchestra in one of New York's better dinner clubs before coming into the army.

Cpl. Tucker, dancer and comedian, joined the army during an all out recruiting drive in Chicago, Ill. He'd planned to give up his career for the duration, but no sooner had he been assigned to the local field than he was back in the harness, doing the thing he liked best of all—dancing and singing. He supervises choral effects in the musical.

Sgt. Dale Francis, script writer for the musical, was in civilian life a newspaper man, a radio commentator, a minister and was featured on variety programs over WLOK, Lima, WING Dayton and WHO, Dayton, Ohio.

The show is slated to be one of the best entertainments presented by an all soldier-WAC cast in the country, and every detail for the two hour entertainment is shaping up remarkably well, but a name for the two hour entertainment.

Clifton Sanders Listed Missing

LIEUT. R. C. SANDERS

Lieut. Roy Clifton Sanders, Flying Fortress pilot, and son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sanders of Big Spring is officially listed as missing in action since October 14th according to word received by his parents.

October 14th was the day that 60 American fortresses were shot down over Schweinfurt, Germany, in a devastating raid on the ball bearing plants there.

Lieut. Sanders had recently written his family that he was captain of a new crew to take over the famous "Hell's Angels," flying fortress. The ship, which was one of the original group of U. S. bombers to operate from Britain, had been in 41 operations and shot down 16 enemy planes when Lieut. Sanders became its pilot.

Lieut. Sanders, who won his wings at Lubbock Flying field last February has been in England for the past two months. He was graduated here from high school. His wife is now residing in El Paso. He is a brother of Garland Sanders of Big Spring and Capt. Preston R. Sanders formerly of Big Spring and now of Hot Springs, Ark., and Mrs. Henry Carpenter of Big Spring. The pilot had been flying a Fortress "Butzie" named for his wife, until his transfer to the famous "Hell's Angels."

ITALIAN PRISONERS MAY WORK OUTSIDE OF CAMPS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—Italian war prisoners who have been in custody for at least six months and "who have shown by their demeanor that they can be trusted" will be allowed to do work outside of prison camps without guards.

In making this announcement, the war department said the new system for prisoners will be instituted gradually, with its operation "closely supervised by the military authorities." The department said "no prisoners will be paroled; that is, released into the custody of individuals who would assume full time responsibility for them."

The announcement apparently reflected the first change of policy regarding Italian prisoners since Italy became a co-belligerent of the Allies.

The army said employers will be required to report to military authorities any instances of unsatisfactory conduct on the part of prisoners, or of violations of pledges given by them.

"Each prisoner placed in this category," the announcement said, "will be required to sign a statement that he will obey all rules and regulations; that he will not escape, attempt to escape, or help others to escape; that he will at all times wear identifying clothing issued him and carry at all times the prisoner of war identification card, and that he will perform honestly and faithfully the work assigned to him."

Officials Gather Here For AAA Meet

County committee members and administrative officers from 12 counties in district 8-N of the AAA met at the courthouse Saturday morning to receive instructions on payments for dairy subsidies to be handled through local AAA offices.

W. I. Chenault, administrative assistant, and A. H. Jeffries, field officer, both of College Station, were in charge of the session.

In Howard county, producers of milk and butterfats may make application for payment to the county committee each Saturday for the subsidies of 50 cents per 100 weight on whole milk and six cents per pound on butterfat.

Producers are required to bring their receipts of sales as evidence to the AAA office and after approval by the county committee, checks will be issued through the local office.

Payments will be made in November on sales made during October and November and December sales payments will be made in January, Jeffries explained.

According to Jeffries, the AAA offices will be ready by November 1st to accept receipts and applications for payment. M. Weaver, local AAA administrative officer, said that the Howard county office will approve applications each Saturday. He suggested that producers may turn in their evidence as soon as they wish and that the applications would be approved and payments made as soon as the necessary forms are received at the office.

Around 25 persons attended the Saturday session.

Prisoners Spoon With Jap-Am Girls

DENVER, Oct. 30 (AP)—Major W. L. Wolcott, chief of the prisoners of war branch of the seventh service command, says army officials are at loss to explain how German prisoners of war in a camp at Trinidad, Colo., found it possible to "spoon" with Japanese-American girls in the area.

"I know very little more about it than you do, but you can be assured, however, that everything necessary is being done," he said in an interview with the Denver Post, whose publication of snapshots showing Japanese women and Nazi prisoners in arm's embrace prompted an F. B. I. investigation of the Trinidad matter.

New Patrolman For Big Spring

Roy M. King of Lamesa, highway patrolman, has been transferred from the Lamesa station to Big Spring, effective November 1st, Burl Haynie, local highway patrolman, said Saturday.

King has been with the state highway patrol department in Lamesa since January of 1942. He will replace John White, former patrolman here, who is now in the coast guard.

Mrs. King and their three children will move to Big Spring to make their home here with him.

Family Quinine To Aid Soldiers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—family medicine chests and from druggists' shelves have created a new stockpile of hard-to-get quinine, as important as bullets in the Pacific war zones.

The American Pharmaceutical Association announced that approximately 150,000 ounces of Quinine—enough for six and a half million doses—had been contributed to a national pool hastily gathered after the Japanese conquests cut off 90 per cent of our former supply from the far east. Quinine is the only sure fore of malaria.

The association, which started the pool last February, in cooperation with the defense supplies corporation, said approximately 18,000 donors had responded to the call.

VFW Circus Nets Organization $50

The VFW sponsored circus held here Thursday and Friday at the city auditorium netted the organization around $50, Dr. C. W. Deats said Saturday. This money will be turned over to the Ladies Auxiliary to be used for inside improvements in the newly purchased home.

The funds along with money raised by dances given at the hall each Saturday are being used to retire the debt on the home. The VFW is already three years ahead of its contract for payment, Dr. Deats said, with around $500 still due to be paid.

More money was expected to be raised from the circus but "hard luck" dogged the show, Dr. Deats explained. En route here, the equipment truck blew out a tire and was so delayed that only two days performances could be given instead of the three as planned.

APPROVE BILLS

County commissioners in session Saturday went over bills with the county auditor, Claud Wolf, and approved those presented for payment.

Work Begins On Pipeline Monday

The job of laying pipe on the Midland to Corsicana pipeline, being constructed for the Magnolia Oil company, will begin Monday according to the Oklahoma Construction company in charge of constructing 250 miles of 12 inch line.

Right of way gangs have been at work since October 25th and ditching machines have cleared between three and four miles for the pipe.

According to Charlie Ice, superintendent of the company, it will take about four months to complete the 12 inch line that will carry crude oil. Around 100 men are employed now on the job but others will be taken on with the actual laying of pipe.

The pipeline when completed will probably be one of the feeders to the famous Big Inch line which the company has just completed working on. Headquarters of the construction company are in the building formerly occupied by the National Oil Well Supply company here.

B'Spring Men Are Taken Into Service

College Students Getting Down To Business Now With Class Officers Elected

By BETTY BOB DILTZ

LUBBOCK, Oct. 29th — Routine of college work is 'deep down' in mid-semester and students are getting down to business on studies, particularly 'little ole fish.' There is the matter of Freshmen Progress Reports being turned in to the Dean's office which tends to make the fish co-eds try a little harder for those special privileges that come with passing reports.

Now all campus organizations are complete with class officers, socials, and regular meetings... all colleges have probably three or four dances down and many more to go... football season is in its midst... homecoming isn't long off, might be over for some... social clubs are busy with pledges... maybe the lucky colleges are planning on a special to a football game... anyway the students are kept busy with activities and are very much accustomed to the 'crazy' routine of college life.

Classes vary from day to day and run a schedule of MWF and TTS, these meaning Monday, Wednesday, Friday and Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday. If a student is working for 16 hours credit this semester, she spends 16 hours in classes during the week. Certain number of credit hours classify the student as a freshman, sophomore, junior, senior, or post-graduate. An important item to us is the 18 cuts we are allowed a semester, and usually they are used up plenty fast.

One little shuck which seemed quite different was the fact that if the instructor is TOO late all students in that class take a "walk." In case we don't care to "walk" the Prof thanks YOU for waiting on him.

With so many extra-curricular activities occupying college kids' time, we wonder if college was organized for educational studies or what?

Bridge Club Has Dinner And Bridge

Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscapes was hostess to members of the Entre Nous club when the group met in her home Friday evening for dinner and a Halloween costume party.

Prize for the outstanding costume was awarded to Mrs. Herbert Johnson.

Roses and marigolds were placed at vantage points in the entertaining rooms, and individual tables were ornamented with miniature black cats and autumn leaves.

Bridge was entertainment for the evening and a Halloween motif was furthered in bridge tallies. Mrs. Lewis Murdock won guest high, Mrs. R. L. Pritchett club high, and Mrs. J. T. Johnson and Mrs. Garner McAdams binged.

Those playing were Mrs. H. V. Crocker, Mrs. R. L. Pritchett, Mrs. Herbert Johnson, Mrs. R. F. Bluhm, Mrs. Garner McAdams, Mrs. J. T. Johnson, Mrs. Lewis Murdock and Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscapes.

Mrs. Crocker will entertain the club next.

Notes

MARY WEALEY

Today is Halloween and that made us think of Thanksgiving coming up and from thinking of Thanksgiving we thought of turkey. (Always got our mind on the finer things in life.)

First we read that the army was going to get all the turkeys and we sort of got in the mood to eat a ham bone or something else we could work out of the ration book and find in the grocery store.

Next we heard that the army was only going to take what they needed and the civilians were going to get the rest. That being the case, we figured on first come, first served, and we planned on being one of the "first come."

Next the army snorted indignantly and said it had no priority on Tom Turkey and would try to buy them if they could, but that there was no such agreement between the turkeys and the army.

That stopped us for a while for we could almost taste that big slice of turkey sitting on top of some good dressing and covered with gravy. But, not for long. It wasn't but a few days till we heard again. "No turkeys for you civilians."

By now we've reached a don't care attitude. Maybe some soldier we know will sneak us out a turkey and if not, well, that's what we get for not joining the WACS.

Ags Trim Razorbacks, Texas Whips SMU, Rice Bests Tech

Aerial Attack Does 13-0 Job For The Cadets

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 30 (AP)—The beardless Texas Aggies went completely pass-happy here today to wallop the Arkansas Razorbacks 13-0.

Some 4,500 homecoming fans looked on as the youthful Texans strengthened their bid for Southwest conference honors by scoring against the punchless Porkers in the second and fourth periods.

Babe Hallmark and Earl Beesley tossed 20 passes, completing 15 of them for 201 yards while suffering two interceptions. Passes accounted for both Aggie touchdowns.

After a listless first quarter of punt swapping, the Aggies opened up with their aerials. They began their first touchdown drive on the Arkansas 33. Hallmark tossed to Don Flanagan for 26 yards and on the next play Hallmark connected with Jesse Burditt, subbing for Bob Butchofsky, in the flat for four yards and Burditt dived over for the score. Stan Turner converted from placement.

The Texans hit pay dirt again midway of the last period when Center Dick Wright took in an Arkansas pass on the Porker 40 and moved up to the 34. After two futile tries at the line, Hallmark breezed around his own right end for 24 yards to the 10-yard stripe. One pass missed fire but the next one, to Flanagan, was good for the touchdown. Turner's try for conversion from placement was blocked.

The burly Aggie line, featuring a crackerjack guard, Herbert Turley, stopped the Razorback running game cold. Turley was largely responsible for their puny yardage of 38 from rushing. The fast charging Aggie line also tied knots in the Porker passing game and the Arkansas connected for only three of their 15 attempts.

Yale Falls Before Dartmouth, 20-6

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 30 (AP)—Dartmouth's powerful football team, returning to action after two weeks lapse overcome stubborn Yale resistance and a muddy field to wallop the Eli's, 20 to 6, today in the 27th game of their long-standing series. A crowd of about 5,000, one of the smallest in modern Yale history, saw the game.

Pitt Slams Carnegie

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 30 (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh took to the air today to run rough-shod over its traditional foe, Carnegie Tech, for a 45 to 6 victory before more than 10,000 fans—one of the biggest margins the Panthers ever marked up over the Skibos.

Service Men Play Shining Roles In Saturday Games

By ORLO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Navy and Marine football players who leave the college campuses within the next few days turned in outstanding performances today as Notre Dame continued to set a fast pace in the national gridiron parade.

Angelo Bertelli, headed for the Marine training base at Parris Island next week, probably gave his best performance in leading Notre Dame to a crushing 33-6 triumph over hitherto unbeaten untie Navy before 82,000 fans—the largest turnout of the day. The 173-pound commander of the Irish's "T" formation completed five out of eight passes, three of them for touchdowns, counted the final score himself and added three extra points.

And while the Irish were rolling to their sixth successive triumph, undefeated Army and Pennsylvania failed to reach a decision in the rain and mud of Philadelphia's Franklin Field. They ended up in a 13-13 deadlock when the Quakers completed a 71-yard aerial from Joe Michaels to Bob Odell in the last period. A crowd of 71,000 saw this thriller.

Thus the stage was set for next week's foremost games for Notre Dame, minus Bertelli, tangles with Army at New York and Navy meets Penn in Philadelphia.

While this was going on Purdue's Norfolk-bound Sailor Tony Butkovich paced the Boilermakers to their seventh straight victory, whipping Wisconsin 32 to 0. Bill Daley wound up his playing days for Michigan with two touchdowns and long gains that set up two others in a 42-6 rout of Illinois.

Don Buffire and Herman Frickey, who with eight teammates leave Northwestern's campus next week, were outstanding in the Wildcats' 42-8 whipping of Minnesota's Gophers.

Down in the south, Duke nosed out Georgia Tech 14 to 7 with a last period touchdown. Tulane put up a great stand against Georgia Pre-Flight but the passing of Steve Filipowicz, once of Fordham, and expert place kicking of Pat Harder, formerly of Wisconsin, gave the Skyscrapers the decision, 14-13.

Southern California retained its position at the top of the southern division of the Pacific Coast league by beating California for the second time this year, 13-0. Washington remained undefeated, beating the Second Air Force 41-7.

Texas and the Texas Aggies remained in running for the Southwest conference title with comparative easy victories. Texas defeated Arkansas, 13-0, and the Aggies downed Southern Methodist, 20-0. Tulsa, however, had its hopes of going unbeaten dashed for the second straight year marked when Southwestern of Texas held the Oklahoma to a 6-6 tie.

There were a few mild upsets such as Holy Cross' 14-7 licking of Colgate and Indiana's 20-14 win over Ohio State with Bob Hoernschemeyer throwing the winning pass in the final minute. Dartmouth, with many of the Green's early season stars transferred by the navy, returned to action after a three-week layoff and whipped Yale 20-6. Cornell bounced back into the victory column with a 33-6 decision over Columbia.

In other games, Great Lakes beat Western Michigan, 32-6; Penn State triumphed over West Virginia, 32-7; Iowa Pre-Flight defeated Ft. Riley, 19-2; North Carolina rolled over North Carolina State 27-13; Wake Forest beat Clemson, 41-12 and Virginia turned back V.M.I., 34-0.

Ponies Fail To Get First Down In 20-0 Defeat

DALLAS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Mighty Texas didn't allow Southern Methodist the solace of even a first down today in rolling over the Mustangs 20-0 in a Southwest conference football game.

The Longhorn machine sputtered at times but mostly it was driving deep into Methodist territory and using the terrific running of Ralph Ellsworth and J. R. Callahan to better the gallant Mustangs for touchdowns in the first, second and fourth periods.

A crowd of 12,000 cheered the rugged battle put up by the youthful Methodists but it was obvious from the start that Texas wasn't to be stopped today.

When the running game bogged down Texas took to the air for pay-off punches with Ellsworth switching from his galloping to pitch telling strikes in the clinches.

The first touchdown was on a 42-yard march after fleet Ralph Park had brought back a long punt from the toe of Lloyd Parker. Ellsworth and Park took turns at smashing for two first downs, then Ellsworth passed to Joe Magliolo who fell on the one-foot line. Calahan ripped tackle for the score and park added the point.

The next touchdown followed a punt return by Ellsworth to the Mustang 33. It took just three plays, Andy Robinson passing to Joe Parker for 14, Calahan crunching over right tackle for 17 and then rapping guard for the score. Calahan added the point.

A 35-yard dash through guard by Calahan brought Texas from deep in its territory, where Parker's fine punt had put the Longhorns and Texas got its final score in a hurry. From the 44 Ellsworth ripped right tackle for a first down and in two more tries tore down to the SMU 31. On the first play of the fourth quarter Ellsworth passed to George McCall who took the ball out of the hands of two Mustangs and ran eight for the touchdown. Park missed the goal.

Kirtland Field Wins Without The Aid Of Kimbrough

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 30 (AP)—Jarrin John Kimbrough of Texas Aggie fame rode the Kirtland Field bench with a pilled muscle today while two fellow Texans sparked Kirtland's football team to an 18-0 victory over South Plains Army Air Field of Lubbock, Tex.

The Texans — Halfback Connie Sparks of TCU and Quarterback Walf Malphurs of Sam Houston—engineered the Kirtland Flying Kelly's attack.

They alternated at ball carrying on a 53-yard drive after which Malphurs sneaked over for the first touchdown in the third. Sparks ran back Center Charles Lawrence's punt 55 yards for the final touchdown midway of the fourth. Guard Jack Cohen converted both times.

Cosden Encourages WAC Enlistments

Women employees of Cosden Petroleum Corp. won't find it standing in the way of their joining the Women's Army Corps; indeed Cosden is supporting the enlistment campaign in a positive manner.

Not only has R. L. Tollett, president, been sympathetic with those making inquiries about the WAC, but he has posted a notice on the bulletin board that one month's salary will be awarded to the woman who lays aside her work for Cosden to take a job in uniform for Uncle Sam.

SOUTH HARPSWELL, Me. (U. P.) — Fishermen who question the abundance of lobsters on the Maine coast would do well to consult 17-year-old Hatley C. Baxter, who sports a monthly catch of 390. 32 Qualify In Mexico Event

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 30 (AP)—The defending champion, Spee Goldman of Dallas, Texas, and a Mexico City hotel manager, Jack Somers, formerly of Greensboro, N. C., set the pace today as 32 players qualified for the forty first annual amateur golf championship of Mexico.

Goldman and Somers shot identical cards of 33-39—72 on the difficult par 35-36—17 Chapultepec Golf club course.

Next in line were Jose Rivero, second ranking Mexico City player; Ed Brady Jr., of Harlingen, Texas, and Chick Evans, the Chicago veteran, with 73's.

In the women's championship flight, Aurora Ologaray of Mexico City was medalist with 82. Other qualifying men included Ed Brady Sr., Harlingen, Texas.

Boilermakers Make It Seven In A Row

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 30 (AP)—Purdue's mighty Boilermakers scored their seventh straight victory of the season today by defeating a weak Wisconsin eleven 32 to 0. Fullback Tony Butkovich scored three touchdowns, the last with less than a minute to play, to break the Big Ten scoring record for one season.

Oklahoma Triumphs Over Iowa State

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 30 (AP)—Oklahoma topped Iowa State from the Big Six leadership today with a neat example of power and aerial work that added up to a 21-7 football victory before 9,000 spectators.

DUKE WINS, 14-7

ATLANTA, Oct. 30 (AP)—A fourth period touchdown pass from Spook Murphy to G. M. Carver won Duke a 14-7 victory over Georgia Tech today before a near-sellout crowd of 30,000.

13-0 Victory First Of Year For The Owls

HOUSTON, Oct. 30 (AP)—The Rice Owls passed and ran their way to their first victory of the season today, defeating Texas Tech's Red Raiders 13-0.

The five-time losers outplayed Tech all the way except for two brief flurries when Rice second-stringers were in the game, and it was the second half before the Raiders could get past midfield.

A crowd of 5,000 watched the Owls three times drive within the Tech ten-yard line before they could score.

It looked as if the Owls never would strike pay dirt in the first half.

Then they got going. Dave Parrish was sent in as a sub for Charley Haden at wingback. The Whiteflight boy grabbed a pass from Sheffield on the Rice 45 and galloped 85 long yards for a touchdown, outrunning one tackler, shaking off another, while George Grininger, Rice end, blocked out the last man in Parrish's path. The play was good for 66 yards.

Sheffield again put Tech in the hole with his kicking to set up the second touchdown. He kicked to the Tech 7. Rice started on Tech's 40, and two passes, one to Dick Isaacs and another to Bob Smith, made first on the 20. Sheffield and Kucera alternated for first down on the 9. Lucera plunged over in three tries.

H. D. Tate, at center, Scroggs, Kucera, H. J. Nichols, at guard, Bob Smith and Grininger, at end stood out for the Owls.

For Tech, Buster Melton, 175-pound back, did a fine job defensively, and Bob Brewer and Freddie Brown were constant threats offensively.

Rice made 13 first downs to 9 for Tech, gained 201 yards rushing to 123 and 100 yards through the air to 50.

Game Proposed For SLI And Randolph

DALLAS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Marine Captains Charles J. Maisel and Andrew R. Davis today proposed a football game between the Southwestern Louisiana Institute eleven, composed of Marine Corps trainees, and the Randolph Field Flyers, champion service team of Texas.

The contest, suggested here Nov. 13, would climax a week's celebration of the 168th anniversary of the Marine Corps.

SLI, untied and undefeated conqueror of Southwestern University of Georgetown, the only team that holds a decision over the University of Texas, has expressed a willingness to meet any available opponent. Randolph Field, boasting an all-star cast headed by All-American Glenn Dobbs, formerly of Tulsa University, is being contacted and a definite answer is expected Monday or Tuesday.

A&M WINS AGAIN

MEMPHIS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Unbeaten, untied Arkansas A and M, featuring a slashing attack, roared to its fourth victory of the season today, repelling Miami (Ohio) University before 3,000 fans at Crump Stadium, 35 to 0.

Tulsa Held To Tie By Southwestern

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 30 (AP)—Tulsa's hopes for a second straight all-victorious season were shattered today by the burly Marines of Southwestern University, who battled the Golden Hurricane to a 6-6 deadlock before 10,000 fans in Skelly Stadium.

Supposedly shot to pieces by transfers of service personnel, Southwestern showed up with its full crew of former college stars and after yielding a first-period touchdown, stormed back to tie the score in the third with a vicious running attack.

The Hurricane forged into the lead with a 51-yard aerial march. Clyde Leforece hitting Barney White with the payoff throw from the one-yard line. But Leforece, who had connected with 19 out of 22 placement kicks for extra points in Tulsa's four earlier games, missed this all-important boot by a narrow margin.

Southwestern got its touchdown with startling suddenness midway in the third quarter. Leforece had passed to Nip Goodnight on the Marine 28-yard line, but mighty Bob Barnett, Southwestern tackle, neatly plucked the ball from his arms as he was knocked down.

R. W. Macgruder then heaved a long pass to R. L. Cooper on the four-yard line, and on the next play Cooper plowed down the middle to score standing up.

Thirteen of Southwestern's former Texas, Texas Christian, Rice and Baylor stalwarts had been transferred, but it wasn't effective until Monday, and all of them were in action. Three of the Marine backs — Ken Matthews, Bo Robinson, and Jackie Fields—were benched by injuries.

Speer Wins 2-1 Over Moon In Golf Tourney

Lying 150 feet from the green, Roy Reeder used a putter instead of a pitching iron and sunk the shot to carry D. A. Watkins out 3-1 in a highlight first flight match. Other results in this flight were: Bob Watkins over Bob Hodges, 1 up in 19 holes; Tom Coffee over Jimmie Little, 7-5; Dave Duncan over Pat Kenney, 5-3.

In the second flight, R. E. Dobbins topped Lieut. Jackson back, 6-5. Capt. J. L. Duke outstroked Grady Downing, 4-3, and Jack Roden defeated Lynn Speer, 5-4.

Stevenson's Runs Feature Of Steers' 33-13 Victory Over Tahoka Bulldogs

Texas League Moguls Will Be Urged To Renew Operations Next Season

DALLAS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Serious consideration to resumption of Texas league operations next year will be urged by J. Alvin Gardner, president, when representatives of his eight-member clubs assemble here at his call Nov. 13 for their first official meeting since the Shreveport gathering.

Aside from being optimistic over the prospects for an early, favorable turn in the war, Gardner is thoroughly convinced that the public wants baseball and needs it for its recreational and morale stimulating qualities.

"Last year I thought the people wouldn't want baseball," he explained. "Now I see that I was wrong. The professional leagues that did operate last season drew well."

The manpower situation presents a problem, the league president admitted, "but I believe it can be solved. I don't think we'll have too much trouble rounding up enough talent to operate a very good league."

Gardner will not insist upon a definite commitment at the Nov. 13 meeting. He does think the magnates should go on record, however, as being agreeable to resumption of play in 1944 if world conditions permit and have tentative plans laid before the national convention in New York in December.

Forsan Trims Garden City In Six-Man Game

Forsan stayed right in the middle of the district No. 6 six-man football race Friday by trimming Garden City 44-6 in a game at Garden City.

It was Forsan's game all the way, although Bogard got loose for Garden City in the second quarter and romped about half the length of the field untouched. However, Forsan already had a safe lead at the time.

Grant contributed 18 points and McDonald equalled his total with another three touchdowns. Porter picked up six extra points kicking and Painter added two more.

This weekend the Water Valley-Courtney struggle is apt to throw considerable light on the possible champion of the league since Forsan is expected to stay in the race by handling Sterling City at Forsan. Garden City will be idle.

Starting lineups for the Friday game at Forsan follow: Forsan—Hoard and Peacock, ends; Milliken, center; Grant, McDonald and Porter, backs; Garden City—Hunt and Ratliff, ends; Overton, center; Francis, Cox and Bogard, backs.

Michigan Registers Win Over Illinois

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 30 (AP)—Michigan's borrowed backfield stars, Bill Daley from Minnesota and Elroy Hirsch from Wisconsin, scored two touchdowns apiece today as the Wolverines beat Illinois, 42 to 6, for their fifth win in six starts, and their third straight in Western conference play. It was Daley's last game before reporting Tuesday to the Norfolk Naval Training station.

Tulane Edged Out

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 30 (AP)—Steve Filipowicz pitched two touchdowns passes here today and Pat Harder kicked both extra points as Georgia Pre-Flight downed Tulane 14-13 before a crowd of 18,000.

0 of 0	1 of 5	4 for 89	1 for 5
1 for 66	4 for 89	1 for 5	1 for 5

Big Spring's Steers measured the Tahoka Bulldogs 33-13 here Friday evening in as ragged a game as fans have witnessed in many weeks.

But for the scintillating play of Dewie Stevenson, one of the area's finest backs, it would have been a dismal affair. Although Steer reserves played much of the game, some of the most glaring errors were contributed by the regulars. In the fourth period, so impotent had the Steers become that two drives peled out inside the 10 yard line before Stevenson took matters in hand and skirred around end for 11 yards and a counter.

Angelo Takes Top Place In 3-AA Standings

WEEK'S RESULTS
Midland 28, Abilene 21.
San Angelo 15, Odessa 7.
Sweetwater 65, Lamesa 12.
Big Spring 33, Tahoka 13.

DISTRICT STANDINGS
Team	W.	L.	T.
San Angelo	3	0	0
Sweetwater	2	0	0
Odessa	3	1	0
Midland	2	2	0
Big Spring	1	2	0
Abilene	0	2	0
Lamesa	0	4	0

It's the San Angelo Bobcats at the top of the 3-AA district grid ladder today, and Odessa's Bronchos are the sorrowful ones. The Odessans nearly had a victory Friday night, but in the final quarter the Bobcats turned on the steam to push over two tallies and win 13-7.

Meanwhile, the Sweetwater Mustangs stayed in the running by trampling Lamesa 65-12. The Ponies haven't been beaten yet, but will have a tough test when they meet Odessa on Armistice Day.

Abilene took a licking from Midland Friday as the Bulldogs scored late to overcome a lead and chalk up a 26-21 win. This put the Midlanders up to .500 in the standings, and left Abilene in the winless column. Big Spring's 33-13 triumph over Tahoka was not a district game.

All 3-AA clubs are idle this week, and will clash on the November 11 holiday.

Big Spring travels to San Angelo, while the Midland-Lamesa and Odessa-Sweetwater tilts are other conference affairs.

Southern Cal Keeps Its Record Clear

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30 (AP)—Southern California remained the only unbeaten, untied, and unscored-on major college football team in the nation today with its 13 to 0 defeat of the University of California.

Thirty thousand saw the Trojans score their second win of the year over the Golden Bears. They beat them earlier in the season in Berkeley, 7 to 0.

Barron's Passes Spark Yearlings To 19-6 Victory

These Barron boys are great hands to throw a football.

Bobby Barron has been doing the passing for the Big Spring Steers this season, and Friday afternoon his brother, Jackie, sparked the Yearlings to a 19-6 win over the San Angelo Kittens.

Early in the first quarter Jackie found D. D. Douglass, Yearling end, with a pass and Douglass turned it into a 30-yard play for a touchdown. In the second quarter, the left linebacker for Angelo grabbed a pass from Robert Miller and ran it back about 40 yards for a score and evened the count at 6-6.

Miller made up for this bad luck in the third canto when he grabbed an Angelo pass and ran 50 yards to score. Another interception put Big Spring within scoring position in the fourth quarter, and Jackie Barron exercised his pass magic again, throwing to Joe Bruce Cunningham 30 yards for the score.

The Yearlings are scheduled to return the engagement with the Kittens on the morning of Nov. 11 at San Angelo. That is the day of the traditional game between Big Spring and San Angelo. The win Friday gave the Yearlings two wins out of four games.

Soybeans Pledged To Local Oil Mill

The Big Spring Cotton Oil Co. has been pledged a considerable tonnage of soybeans as soon as it has finished its crush of cottonseed, Marshall Allen, superintendent, announced Saturday.

The beans have been pledged by Dec. 15, provided the mill is ready for them, but unless the local labor situation improves, it is doubtful that the cottonseed crush will be completed before the end of the year.

Allen said that a minimum of 5,000 tons of beans had been promised, and that if the mill could handle them quickly that perhaps substantial additional shipments could be expected. This was due to relieve the protein feed shortage in this area.

Allen said the mill had been successful in securing a good supply of seed this season, but farmers hold meal certificates against most of it.

Thus far the plant has been operating only on one shift, but Allen had hopes that a second shift could be added Monday. The entire difficulty has been in securing mill hands.

Middies Fall, 33-6 Before The Power Of Notre Dame

CLEVELAND, Oct. 30 (AP)—Notre Dame's mighty Irish took a long stride toward the national championship and their first perfect season since 1930 as they smothered hitherto unbeaten-untied Navy 33 to 6 today before 82,000 fans in Cleveland's jammed lake-front stadium.

71-Yard Pass Gives Penn A Tie With Army

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30 (AP)—Pennsylvania, a 5 to 2 pre-game underdog in its own home town, struck with a spectacular 71-yard pass and run play early in the fourth period today and gained a 13 to 13 tie with Army in a grid-iron test between unbeaten eleven.

Pennsylvania was back on its own 29 when Joe Michaels cocked his arm for a long toss to Bob Odell, a very great football player today. Odell reached up over the heads of four Cadets on the Army's 35 and then was chased across the goal line by all members of both teams.

Frank McKernan, the Quaker place kicker, trotted in from the sidelines and added the extra point that brought ecstasy to most of the 71,000 rain-soaked spectators and new life to the Quaker team.

Prior to that touchdown play, the Cadets had soundly outplayed Penn and seemed to have broken the jinx that has never allowed them to beat Pennsylvania on Franklin field.

The Cadets scored in the first when George Maxon fumbled on the one-yard line and the ball was recovered in the end zone by Tom Lombardo for a touchdown to climax a 53-yard march.

Pennsylvania's first touchdown also came by the aerial route, Joe Kane tossing to Frank Quellen after Glenn Davis, famed Army back fumbled an attempted second period punt return on his own 29 with Walt Bublief recovering.

McKernan missed that point and set the stage for his re-appearance in the fourth after Maxon registered another Army marker shortly after the third period began.

Army's second came when Michaels sent a puny punt that only travelled to the Quaker 35-yard line. From this point the Cadet started a steady march down field, Maxon doing the heavy work and finally hit center and went over from the one-yard marker. Murphy's attempt from placement was wide.

Late Tally Gives Indiana 20-14 Win

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 30 (AP)—Bob Hoernschmeyer passed Indiana to a 20 to 14 win over Ohio State today, completing the winning touchdown pass 32 seconds before the final gun after the Bucks had gone ahead with two touchdowns in the final period. MINNESOTA CRUSHED

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 30 (AP)—Buffumre playing his last game for Northwestern before being transferred for further Navy training, scored two touchdowns and passed 20-yards for another as the Wildcats crushed Minnesota 42-6 today before a homecoming crowd of 32,000.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 30 (AP)—Mrs. Payne-Whitney's Shut Out won the seventh running of the Pimlico Special today, racing to a nose decision over Slide Rule after the two had thrilled 17,595 persons at Pimlico race course with a head duel down the stretch.

The four-year-old son of Equipoise carried the $25,000 winner-take-all purse, a blanket of chrysanthemums, the Maryland Jockey Club gold cup, and for his trainer, John M. Gaver, $2,500 and a trophy.

The $25,000 boosted the Green-tree Stable star's all time earnings to $314,807 and moved him up from 10th to eighth place among the country's all time money winners, passing Mate and Zev. The victory was his fifth in 16 starts.

Texas' Part In Oil Picture Of The Future

On the word of State Comptroller George H. Sheppard, Texas' crude oil gross production taxes brought into the state treasury for the fiscal year 1942-43 the sum of $25,855,048, an increase of $2,120,241 over the preceding year.

Good business, you say; but Texas' natural oil reservoirs were tapped to the tune of 525,102,523 barrels to yield that much revenue—$25,102,523 worth of crude oil at a dollar a barrel, though the prevailing price was higher. Most of this oil was produced under distress conditions within the industry, due to a number of factors not the least of which is the present price of crude.

In fiscal 1942, when Texas produced 489,280,927 barrels of crude on which gross production taxes yielded $23,734,807, the gasoline tax brought in a gross of $60,798,410.45 of which about ten percent was refunded to non-highway users for a net tax of slightly over $50,000,000.

This $50,000,000 in net revenue was not levied upon oil or upon the oil industry or upon the refiners, but on the consumers. And it represented only a small portion of the huge quantity of crude oil produced from Texas' vast storehouses of petroleum. The bulk of the gasoline distilled from the approximate half billion barrels of crude went out to enrich other states which levy a gasoline tax on the consumer, or to enrich distributors and retailers all over the world.

Thus all the people of Texas have to show for their half-billion barrels of crude oil (considered strictly as a raw product of the soil) is $25,000,000 in tax revenue, which is just half the sum they were forced to pay out of their own pockets as consumers of gasoline distilled from a small fraction of that tremendous quantity of crude.

About 85 percent as much crude as is produced in Texas is also refined in Texas, but as we understand it that doesn't mean our refineries worked only on Texas crude; much of it was imported from other states and countries, while a vast amount of Texas crude left this state in its original form to be used as such elsewhere or to be processed.

The point is simply this: that Texas crude is going away for a song to all parts of the world, there to be consumed in its various forms without enriching the state of Texas beyond the gross production taxes amounting to about $25,000,000 annually at best.

Of course there are other taxes levied on the industry, but we are talking about crude—that fabulous mineral resource which underlies about 145 of the 255 counties of Texas. And that happens to be the meat of the cocoon.

The production tax on crude, levied by the state of Texas, is 4.125 CENTS per barrel as long as the selling price is $1 or less, and 4.125 PERCENT per barrel when it exceeds $1.

To gather what we are driving at is necessary to understand what is happening to the oil industry NOW and what will happen to it after the present past. After the war, it will be a still greater emergency for some years to come.

That day is gone forever. In consequence of wasteful and un-economic production due to war, in consequence of the destruction of many of the world's biggest fields by military action, in consequence of a heightened post-war demand for oil as a result of aviation development and tremendous demands from travel-starved motorists, the world will come looking for Texas oil as never before and will pay almost any price to get it. We don't think Texas oil will ever again be a drug on the world market at ANY price.

In the face of this certain post-war demand Texas will have the battle of its life to prevent the rapid and total depletion of its petroleum resources, and the loss forever of its principal source of revenue. The state of Texas cannot levy an export tax on crude oil, natural gas or gasoline, but it can achieve the same result indirectly. It can declare bonuses to those who operate within the state—all producers and royalty owners, most of the refineries, and all the consumers.

This could be achieved in a number of ways. If the tax on every barrel of oil that comes out of Texas soil were sufficiently large, it would make it possible to remove most of the ad valorem taxes now levied on real property. It would permit a scaling down in various other taxes, of which the state's oil business bears a large share. Part of the tax money derived from oil could be used in the work of conservation of petroleum resources, in carrying on research and experiments to better the industry, and to foster and encourage wildcatting which is the very lifeblood of the industry. And it would make possible the lifting of all or part of the tax on gasoline, which is borne 100 percent by the consumers.

These benefits would be shared by the people and the industry of Texas, and at the same time we would realize a decent return on the hundreds of millions of barrels of crude which crosses our borders and is then lost forever as a source of revenue.

It is better to have a healthy, prosperous industry that lasts 50 or 100 years, than to permit its quick dissolution and ruin by overproduction to satisfy an outside demand that is already terrific, and which will gradually become more so unless the state acts soon to put on the brakes. We believe the oil shortage will become so great that the outside world will gladly pay almost any tax in order to get the oil. We can take care of our own people and keep the industry alive by the judicious use of the taxing power. We can't levy a tariff on exports or imports, but we can give our producers and royalty owners and taxpayers a break.

Capitol Comment— Anti-Poll Taxers Hit South

By GEORGE STIMPSON
Herald Washington Correspondent
All guide service at Mt. Vernon has been discontinued because of the war.

Indians on some of the western reservations are on the war-path, figuratively speaking, because Maury Maverick's government division makes them sign applications before they can get guns and ammunition to hunt with.

Congressman Wright Patman, chairman of the house committee on small business, says the number of business failures in the United States has decreased about 63 per cent compared with the averages for the previous eight years from 1935 to 1942.

Transportation company, Corpus Christi, to provide additional transportation equipment in Texas at a cost of $100,000, making the overall commitment to that company $250,000.

The senate is wrangling over the exact wording of a more or less meaningless post-war resolution. There's no harm in passing resolutions, but I think we better buckle down and make sure there is to be a post-war world "for us." Right now the order of business is "to whup the Gerps."

Congressman Ed Gossett, of Wichita Falls, says:

"I believe every real American does his duty without artificial stimulus, most especially when his country is in peril. Nevertheless, if we are going to distribute pennants, flags, buttons, and ribbons to civilians, then some medal bigger and better than all the rest should be given draft board members, ration board members and others who have made real sacrifices for our war effort on the home front. In service, like Abou Ben Adhem, their names lead all the rest."

Washington weather has been sort of betwixt and between lately. Many people here dress according to the calendar instead of the thermometer. You see some going around in their shirt sleeves while others wear overcoats.

Lost Pilot Heeds Water Tower Sign

PITTSBURG, Kans. — Lt. Ian P. McGreal, soaring around over the Kansas plains, suddenly realized he was lost.

He recalled flying instructors had told him to swoop low over a water tower and read the name of the town, if he got lost.

He spotted a tower and had to drop to 500 feet before he could read the sign.

It said: "Go to church Sunday."

McGreal finally found his way back—and he went to church Sunday.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds— He Follows Montgomery

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Rule: No actor who looks like an established star can hope to get anywhere.

Exception: John Hubbard.

A few years ago Robert Montgomery, making a movie called "Fast and Loose," stepped up to a new actor on the set and said, "Say, it's a funny thing, but I've been studying you and it's uncanny, the way we look alike."

The new actor's name then was Anthony Allen, a tag pinned on him by Mervyn LeRoy, who had made "Anthony Adverse" by Hervey Allen and figured the combination lucky. Back in East Chicago, Ind., where he was born and grew up, his name was Jack Hubbard. It became "John Hubbard" when he left M-G-M for Hal Roach's studio, and has remained John Hubbard since, but no matter what the name he keeps looking more and more like Robert Montgomery, younger edition.

Montgomery, apparently, never resented the resemblance. He used to give Hubbard friendly advice: "You've got a future in this business," he said once, "and here's one way to make it sure: no matter what part you're acting, nor how tired you are, get up there and make it plenty clear that you're doing the best you can."

And what came of it? Whether by accident or producer design, the Hubbard career has paralleled almost exactly the career of Robert Montgomery.

Montgomery clicked in pictures as a glib, smart-aleck, cocktail-shaking ne'er-do-well—a white-tie-and-tails boy. Montgomery didn't like it. It wasn't his type at all. But it paid off.

By the time Hubbard came along, the cocktail shaker wasn't so "smart" and "sophisticated" but Hubbard played glib, smart-aleck, white-tie-and-tails boys.

Montgomery, always wanting to do some first-rate acting, finally bought himself a story and, after years of argument and pleading, won studio permission to do it.

He played a psychopathic, baby-faced killer—and "Night Must Fall" was a dilly of a movie.

Hubbard has always wanted to get a first-rate part too. He isn't sure that he's had it yet, but his latest picture is a little number called "Whispering Footsteps." In it he plays a baby-faced hero who might—or might not—be a killer, and nobody's telling you until the end.

If it were a "big" picture (which it isn't) the Hubbard-Montgomery parallel might go on to bring big-time stardom to Hubbard now.

Wendell Willkie has been in the city courting the favor of republican congressmen. Wendell is unique; he's different from anybody, including himself. Some people fear, however, that he has contracted the disease which is characterized by the mind running in four-year cycles.

A bunch of anti-poll-taxers here in Washington are fixing to get ready to hit the South a blow under the Bible belt.

Food Administrator Marvin Jones, emerging from a conference with President Roosevelt, shoots through a gang of waiting newspapermen like greased lightning to avoid being interviewed.

Vice President Henry Wallace, in his Dallas appearance, expresses the hope that Sam Rayburn's constituents will reelect him to Congress. That isn't exactly bullet-proof strategy, however, here's precedent for a man running for Vice President and congressman at the same time. John Garner did it in 1932.

The war has eliminated floaters from Washington. I very seldom receive visits from panhandlers these days. There's really no good excuse for anybody to be out of work now.

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

G-GIRL
By LYDIA GRAY SHAW

Chapter 6
Weeks later, when Sally knew her way around the creaking halls of Emergency Hospital as well as she knew the well-worn route to the War Commission building, she was to remember the first night she reported for duty, a qualified Nurse's Aide. All the classroom lectures, the hours spent shoving Dora the Dummy around in an immaculately made bed, the pulses she'd taken so accurately on her fellow students, couldn't prepare her for that horrible moment when the floor nurse said, "Get that light on 528, will you, Miss Thayer? She's probably coming out of the ether."

Sally's hands were ice cold as she looked fearfully around the screen that shielded 528 from her three fellow patients. "Nurse, I think I'm going to vomit," gasped the girl on the pillow. Sally grabbed the basin just in time. When it was over and the girl had smiled gratefully as she washed her face with cold water, Sally staggered weakly out into the hall, feeling as though she'd been under ether too. But she was triumphant. She had done the job—and next time it wouldn't be so hard.

The floor nurse, an understanding soul, noticed Sally's face and sent her to take the eight o'clock temperatures in the men's medical ward. The medical ward was in the convalescent stage, with no one very sick, and the enthusiasm with which they greeted the new Aide restored some of Sally's equilibrium. She was slow with the temperatures, partly because of the wisecracks sizzling around the room, but at least her hands had stopped shaking when she was through.

Tramp, tramp, tramp, up and down all evening in her heavy-soled shoes. Toward ten o'clock, when she was to go off duty, she was stiff with fatigue. Nurses went by, operating room attendants wheeled stretchers in and out, other Aides passed and re-passed her, visitors whispering nervously to each other tip-toed up and down like characters in a movie.

Three hours, Sally thought. That's all I've been here. How do the regular nurses stand a full shift? Changing wearily back to street clothes in the locker room down in the nurses' home, she wondered if she'd live to get home to bed. Her feet felt swollen to twice their size. She winced as she eased her feet into her spectator pumps carefully. If she only didn't have to stand up on the street car! There were two changes to make to take before she could get home.

She was too weary to focus on anyone as she waited on the narrow safety platform for the street car, until a familiar voice spoke behind her. "If it isn't the glamour girl! I begin to think you're shadowing me."

Sally didn't even turn around. "Go away."

'Filipino Borah' Turns Into A Jap Quisling

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — I wouldn't say that Washington or the Philippine government-in-exile was surprised when Japan picked Jose P. Laurel as first "president" of the newly independent Philippines, but an examination of the record of this latest Axis Quisling leaves one a bit staggered.

Lanky, scholarly, President-in-name-only Laurel probably owes the United States as much as any Filipino living. He is a product of the public school system which the United States established in the Islands. When he got ready for college, he chose Yale university and found his surroundings so sympathetic there that he was able to graduate magna cum laude in the law school.

He went back to the Islands to become a professor in the U. S.-sponsored University of the Philippines school of law. He wrote textbooks, which were adopted without quibble by the Philippine school system. He was recognized and honored as an authority on international law.

He played a prominent role—and note this—in drafting the Philippine constitution under the terms of the Tydings Independence Act, which would have become the law of the land when the Filipinos were given their real independence in 1946.

If not with assistance, at least without any obstruction from U. S. authorities, he rose to a place of power and eminence in the Philippines. He became known as the "Filipino Borah," principally because of his "silver-tongued" oratory.

When it came time to send his son to college, he selected Harvard for him and Sotero Laurel was graduated in the class of '41. There-on hangs a bit of family drama, for while his father is playing the role of the Laval of Manila, young Sotero is working hard as an employee of the Philip-around in front of her, hatless, his coat collar turned up around his neck. Sally couldn't see his face clearly in the shadowy light, but she didn't want to see it. His usual sardonic expression was all too familiar. "Won't talk, eh? Don't you even want to fight?"

STORY

"No."
"What a congenial soul! By the way, what are you doing in front of my hospital?"
"Your hospital!" Sally came to sudden life. "Are you on the Emergency staff?"

"I certainly am. Right now, I'm almost the only doctor there not on crutches. Though I don't know why your sudden interest."

"Oh, my soul. I guess I'll have to be transferred," Sally groaned.

"Transferred to what?"
"I just started as a Nurse's Aide at Emergency. It never occurred to me you'd be there to sneer at me every time I went on duty."

The doctor whistled softly. "A Nurse's Aide! Lady, do you know what you're in for?"

Sally was too weary to think of any brilliant responses. "I have a rough idea. I just got initiated."

"You amaze me." The doctor shook his head, looking down into Sally's tired face. She wasn't a glamour girl, really. Pretty, but not striking. He knew at least den Japanese puppet rule are 125,000 really free Filipinos here and in Hawaii (many of them in the U. S. armed forces); the Philippine government-in-exile here, with ailing President Quezon, but very active Vice President Osmena (who seems to be the political heir-apparent to the Quezon regime) at its head.

half a dozen better-looking girls. But she had a sparkle that set her apart from the crowd—especially when she was angry. Which was whenever she saw him. Tonight, though, he didn't feel like taking her head off the way he usually did the times they'd run into each other before.

Maybe he'd guessed wrong in her case. But he'd seen so many useless females, full of noble sentiments about helping their country, who petered out miserably when work became exacting. They'd led self-centered lives for so long they couldn't forget themselves and their whims of the moment even in the midst of a world crisis.

He'd roared at this girl because she looked like the same type—and because an unsympathetic army officer that day decided that anyone who'd had infantile paralysis should not be shipped overseas. He barely limped now—most people didn't notice it at all—and he'd argued that anyone who could stand the grueling hours he put in at Emergency could certainly qualify for any Army spot. But they'd turned him down after his physical report. So he was stuck at Emergency, and loaded down in addition with all kinds of odd jobs, like the War Commission clinic.

He asked Sally now, "Would a cup of coffee brace you up so you could insult me?"

Sally stared at him. "Are you in your right mind? I'm the government girl you despise and detest."

He smiled at her, trying to make the smile show how he suddenly felt. He wanted her to come even if she did insult him. "I'm trying in my simple little way to bury the hatchet, unless you are determined to hang onto it." Sally stood uncertainly. The street car clanged as it bore down suddenly on them.

The doctor grabbed Sally's arm and steered her off the platform. "Here we go. I'll make up your mind for you. Now tell me how delighted you are with my invitation, and how glad you are to see me. I dare you."

Sally broke into a peal of laughter. "Is this all technique or are you merely crazy?"

"Just crazy, baby. But I have a good time. So will you."

Sally had forgotten how tired she was. This was fun—even if it didn't make any sense.

From that time on his spirit of "cooperation" with Japan's new order has been perfect.

A few months ago, it was reported by radio that a "fanatical" Filipino had taken a pot shot at the illustrious Quisling while he was playing golf on a suburban Manila course. Although the assassin was said to have made a hole-in-one shot, the man who was to become the Japs' first "president" of the "independent" Philippines apparently was not seriously wounded.

Just what subterfuges the Japs have used to enlist the services of a man of 52-year-old Laurel's calibre isn't known here but the fact that they have been able to do it at all demonstrates clearly that they are exerting every effort to bring the 17,000,000 Filipinos under their thumbs in the "new Pacific order."

What they are struggling for now is to create a feeling among the Filipinos that "we are doing fine. General MacArthur, and we don't care if you never come back."

GRANDMA didn't have Nylons, either. You've taken on lots of her ways . . . especially her ways of thrift when it comes to buying.

Remember her "good lavender," her "good coat?" She bought quality, and she got her reward in years of service. Like her, you're buying "good" things today . . . things that will last the duration.

That's why we're making it a special point to search for quality merchandise today. That's why everywhere you turn here in our store you find names that are famous for workmanship, beauty, wear . . . names like Printzess, for over half a century a mark of fine tailoring in coats and suits.

Printzess is just one of many fine names you'll find here . . . one of many names we're proud to feature in war as in peace . . . names of products you'll be proud to own now and their whole long lives through.

Do HALF of your Holiday Shopping in NOVEMBER

- Help Prevent—Overloading your fellow American workers.
- Help Prevent—Poor service due to last-minute shopping.
- Help Prevent—Overtaxing and overburdening store facilities.
- Help Prevent—Waste of manpower in offices and stores.

In co-operation with the Government's program to level off the Christmas rush, and spread the Holiday shopping between two months, we urge you to make plans now . . . and DO HALF YOUR HOLIDAY SHOPPING IN NOVEMBER. There are many reasons for this . . . some of them listed below . . . reasons brought about by war conditions, the urgency of manpower, and the necessity to maintain as far as possible normal service in the channels of distribution. Uncle Sam has said:

"Buy now for Christmas . . . and mail your gifts before December 1st"

That means, in plain words: DO AS MUCH OF YOUR HOLIDAY SHOPPING IN NOVEMBER as you possibly can. We feel that if the Holiday shopping can be leveled off and spread between the two months, many dislocations in civilian life can be avoided . . . and we will be able to render a more complete and more normal service to the people of this community. We urge your co-operation in the interest of the war-effort and the maintenance of healthy civilian morale.
