Hogan Hancock And Orchestra Here Thursday

HOGAN HANCOCK

Hogan Hancock and his recording orchestra, a Music Corporation of America attraction, will appear at the Settles Hotel Thursday evening, October 20 for a dance in the crystal ballroom.

The theme song will be "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" during Hogan's stay and dancing will come into its own in reality because Hogan and his boys are "that way about music."

Hogan has played a trombone for years and still indulges now and then after proper persuasion. In the meantime he has a remarkable and uncanny knowledge of every instrument in the band, and he continually uses this knowledge to impress his men as well as his audience with the fact that dance music when played with deliberate perfection can be the source of no end of real enjoyment.

Football Star Murdered Before 70,000 Witnesses; Who Is Guilty?

Authenticity is one thing the producer of "70,000 Witnesses," a football mystery drama comes to the Ritz Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, had no trouble getting into their effort. For eight members of the cast, as well as its director, its screen writer and its associate producers, are college graduates.

Of its four principal players, Phillips Holmes, Dorothy Jordan, Charlie Ruggles and Johnnie Mack Brown, only Ruggles is not a college man. Holmes is from Princeton, Miss. Jordan from Southwestern University and Brown from the University of Alabama, where, incidentally, he was star halfback on the championship 1925 eleven.

Lew Cody, in a prominent role, attended McGill University, Montreal; Kenneth Thompson went to Carnegie Tech, Pittsburgh; Reed Howes studied law at Harvard; Dr. Farrell MacDon-

Truck Interests Will Advertise Objectives

AUSTIN—In an effort to present facts concerning motor transportation, the Texas Motor Transportation association, Austin, is planning a series of newspaper advertisements and radio programs to be used by all Texas newspapers and all Texas radio stations, beginning early in October and lasting for some two or three months.

There is an appalling lack of information concerning the true facts in the transportation situation in Texas and in the nation, according to Tom Jones, Dallas, president of the association, and this campaign will be designed to present to the public a few of the facts that heretofore have not been generally known.

Asked whether this campaign represented an attack upon the railroads, Jones stated that it was not in any respect an attack upon other forms of transportation and that in all probability railroads would not even be mentioned in the entire series.

"This is a constructive effort, as all our efforts are intended to be," he declared, "and not an attempt to discredit or injure any other form of transportation."

The general plan of the campaign, according to Jones, will be to present the benefits derived by the public from the use of motor trucks and to show that motor trucks are paying adequate taxes, are not causing undue wear and tear upon the highways, are giving more safety than any other mode of transport, and are improving their safety by each passing year.

Chevalier In "Love Me Tonight"; Edward G. Robinson In "2 Seconds" Features On Ritz Card For Week

The man who has kept the critics thoroughly baffled. That's the title which even the critics agree might be applied to young Robert Mamoulian, stage and screen director, whose latest production, "Love Me Tonight," starring Maurice Chevalier, comes to the Ritz Theatre today and Monday.

In the five brief years during which the critics have been attempting to classify Mamoulian according to the type of production he does best, he has fooled them time after time with his versatility. Called to New York, he fooled them the first time five years ago. When the Theatre Guild announced it had secured the young Armenian, totally unknown in New York, to direct its all-negro play of Southern life, "Porgy," they began to suspect the Guild of being a done deal. He has fooled them time after time with his versatility.

However, they were soon forced to seek other explanations. His next play was "Wings over Europe," in which his task was to manipulate twelve men, who, for the greater part of the play, were seated around a table. He did it so well that a staid first-night audience cheered him. By that time the critics had given up trying to classify him and when Paramount signed him for motion picture work, they agreed that he was not a "type director."

Dear Mr. Wolcott:

For your information, wish to say I am very much pleased with the operation of the new Ford V-8 Deluxe Coupe that we purchased from you some days ago.

A few days ago I had to make a rather quick trip to Wickett, Texas, leaving our plant with a full tank of Gasoline I drove to Wickett and back to Midland, speedometer reading being 175 miles. There I refilled my Gasoline tank taking 9 gallons, giving me an average of 19 1/2 miles per gallon, at a speed of 35 to 38 miles per hour.

We are also using three of your Ford Trucks that are giving us wonderful service and quick deliveries at a very reasonable operating cost.

Yours very truly,

Cotton Ginners And Buyers From Fort Worth And Denver Territory Testify For Lower Cotton Rates

DALLAS—Three cotton ginners and buyers from territory served by the Burlington-Rock Island and affiliated lines continued presentation of the railroads' application for lower freight rates on uncompressed cotton from southwestern points to Texas ports before the interstate commerce commission and Texas railroad commission.

The witnesses were J. C. Pace of Vernon, C. K. Malloy of Oklaunion and H. Q. Kennedy of Bowie. They declared that the proposed lower rates on the uncompressed or "flat" cotton would draw business from trucks to the railroads in those communities.

Pace stated that on a 6-cent price at Vernon, he would deduct 1 cent from the rate to farmers the full 11 cents but if the rate were 48 cents per 100 pounds, as the proposed lower rates would provide, he would deduct that amount, with the difference going to the farmer. That was brought out in direct examination by John H. Crooker of Houston, representing port interests.

The witness admitted, however, under questioning by A. L. Reed and J. K. Moore, representing interior compress and warehouse interests, that if additional compression and handling costs were added at the ports he could not be certain as to what price he would be able to pay. Prompt re-examination again enabled the witness to insist that if a reduction in rates were made he would be able to give better prices to the farmer.

Representatives of the railroads privately declared they were interested simply in obtaining rates which will meet truck prices, with trucks now charging a compression cost which amounts to from 9 to 13 cents per 100 pounds. They are not interested they said, in compression measures.

Interior compress representatives, insisting that the entire hearing is an effort to take business away from them and ruin interior markets for cotton were fighting the proposed rate reduction vigorously. Kennedy testified that the Fort Worth & Denver City railroad, one of the lines interested in the new rates, is a pioneer in its territory and could be put "out of business" on present rates.

Frank Hafer, acting general freight agent for the Burlington-Rock Island, also gave testimony tending to show that the railroads would gain business from competing trucks if the interstate commerce commission should grant the application.

Frank Wallace, attorney for the applicants, said he had only three more witnesses to take the stand and indicated that testimony for the railroads interested might be completed Saturday. That would mean opponents of the reduction would mean opponent of the reduction would take the stand no later than the first of next week.

CALL OF THE WEST

By R. G. MONTGOMERY

CHAPTER XXII

Dona let the big man take his own course. She was suddenly aware that the reason she did not want to marry Dudley Winters was because she did not love him. The rush of mingled feelings that had almost swept aside her control when she faced Stanley Black had been a revelation to her. One thing made it easier for her to think of marrying Dudley. That was the fact that Stanley obviously did not share her feelings. He could not possibly have acted so cool and controlled if he cared for her.

The roan, left to his own devices took a short cut that led straight to the camp. Dona was not aware of this until they entered a little clearing at the lower edge of which stood a neat log cabin. Trees shaded the place and made it an inviting picture. Suddenly the girl realized that she was hot and thirsty. She pulled the roan to a halt at the open door of the cabin. Here was a chance to get a drink.

At the top of her skirt on the door moldin, a woman's voice answered. A second later a dark-eyed Spanish girl appeared at the door. She had seen Dona approaching and had made a hasty attempt to toss aside several articles that lay about. Dona smiled.

"Could I beg a drink of water?"

"Yes, Miss. Will you come inside and rest?" The little Spanish girl was very attractive and her voice was alluringly soft.

Dona stepped in, and found the cabin had two rooms, one a kitchen and living room and the other a bedroom with two cots. Everything was clean and neatly arranged. A bright shawl hung from the back of a dressing girl occupying a little shelf in one corner. Dona caught all the romantic atmosphere of the place and she settled back with a sigh.

"You ride far?" the Spanish girl asked. Her wide, dark eyes were fastened on Dona's riding boots and trousers.

"Not so far, but I'm thirsty just the same." Dona met the dark eyes and decided that the little Spanish girl was as attractive as any man from old Seville.

"I go for water. Excuse please." The girl bowed and vanished out of a back door.

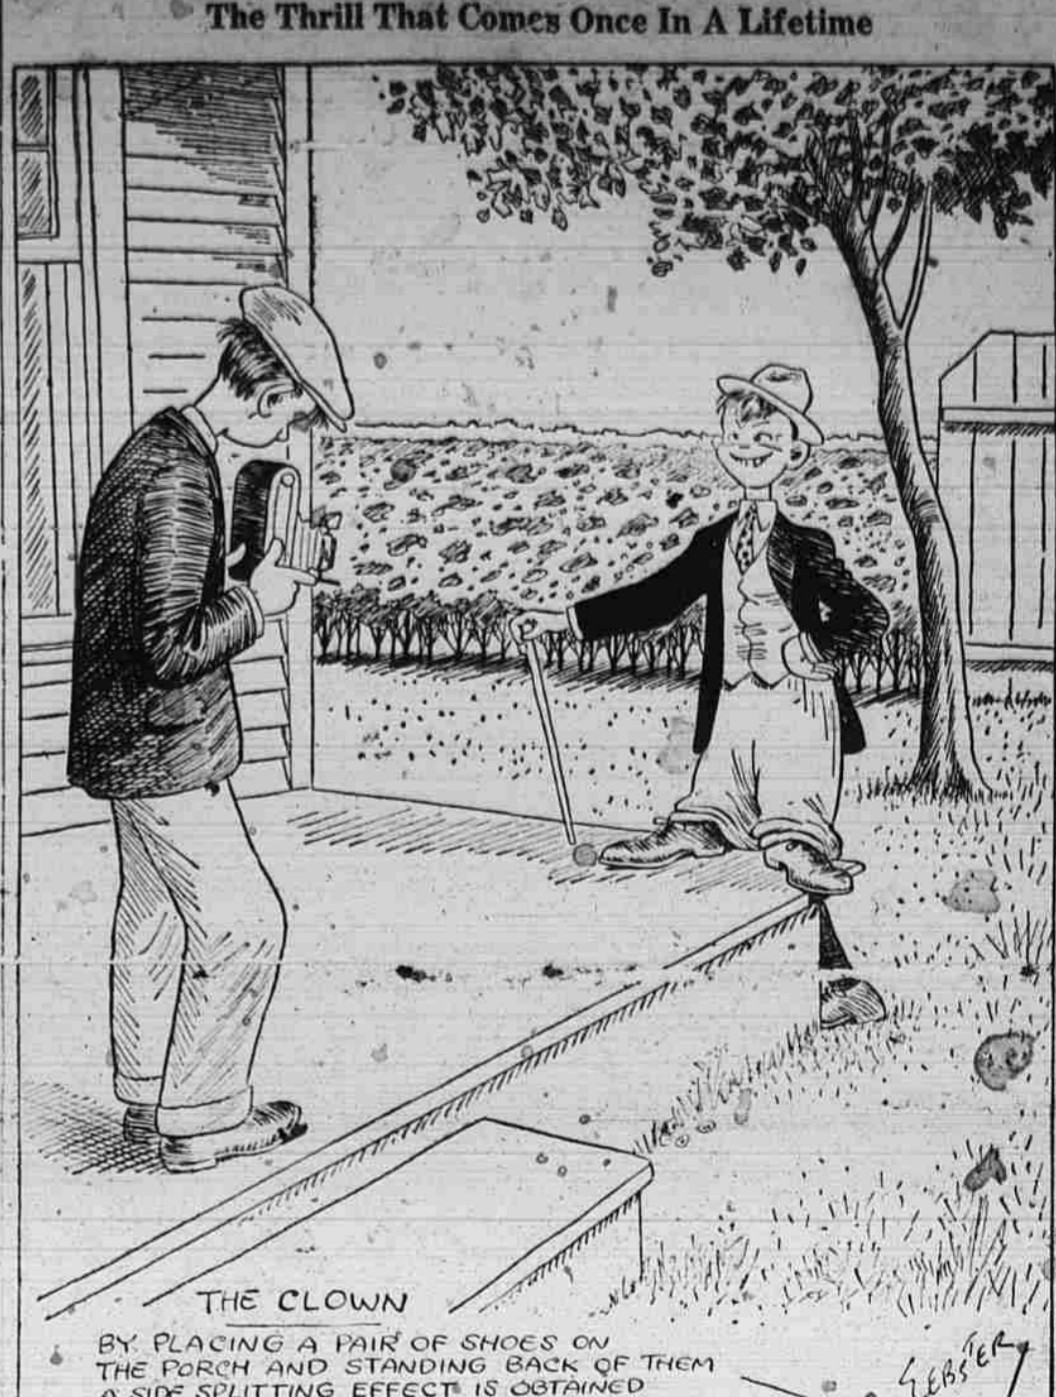

Dona sat looking curiously about. An object caught her eye and held it. It was a buckskin glove such as most cowboys wear. The right glove. Dona's eyes narrowed and a queer stab that might have been jealousy went through her heart. She remembered that Stanley Black had worn on glove on his right hand. Dona caught herself up short. She had no right to crit-

Buff Eleven Beaten 38-0 Here Friday
Harris And Morgan Take 'Em Out—Richbourg, Koberg Carry Ball
Exhibiting a strong attack in the first two periods and playing an all-out defensive game, the Big Spring High Steers won their final warmup contest of the year from the Stanton Buffaloes Friday afternoon 38 to 0.

Call Of The West—
by calling to him. "I just full the saddle off your buckskin. If you want to ride again this evening let me know and I'll run in another horse. Horses that come in after four are turned out to graze." The tall corral boss grinned wickedly as he spoke.

Thirty Men Play
Thirty members of the Steer squad saw action during the contest, with length of service almost equally divided between the first and second strings. The Bovine forward wall smothered all attempts at a running attack, while out of three attempted passes by Stanton two were incomplete and one was intercepted. Big Spring gained thirty-six yards on the aerial route in eight attempts.

Stanton Scored
The Steers scored in the first three minutes of play. A six yard plunge and a five yard penalty gave the visitors a first down, after Houston had returned the kickoff to his own 28 yard line, but a trio of running plays netted only six yards and Epley's kick was brought to midfield by Harris. Harris circled right end for 29 yards and Richbourg made it first down on the Stanton 1 yard line a moment later. Richbourg stepped out of bounds for no gain but went over standing up on the second play. Try for goal failed.

Scarcely two minutes later the thundering Herd scored again. Houston was brought down on his own 24 yard line on the kickoff, and Schwarzenbach made a nice return of Epley's punt to the Stanton 27 yard stripe. Richbourg tore off 20 yards to the Stanton 7 yard line and went around right end for a touchdown on the second play. Richbourg kicked goal.

Late in the first quarter the Bovines chalked up their third touchdown. Stanton kicked off, Morgan returning to his own 39 yard marker. Big Spring was penalized 5 yards, Koberg feeced off 7 yards, failed to gain, and Koberg sent a long punt to the Stanton 63 yard line. Sanders dropped Epley after a 3 yard return. Big Spring was penalized another five yards, but on the next play a wall of Steer linemen bludgeoned Stanton. Epley's punt to the Big Spring 45 yard line set the stage for a score. Koberg reeled off 21 yards after Stanton had been penalized for offside to place the ball on the 27 yard line. Fred Townsend scampered around left end for eight, and Koberg made it first down on the Buffalo 13 yard stripe. Big Spring was penalized 5 yards, but Neel passed to Townsend for a first down on the Stanton 3 yard line. Koberg went across the goal line standing up. Townsend's kick was blocked. Big Spring 26 Stanton 0.

Richbourg terminated a 73 yard march by dashing around end for fifteen yards and a score late in the second quarter. Epley's punt to the 27 yard line had given the Bovines possession of the ball, and Koberg and Richbourg teamed together to make four consecutive first downs. Richbourg's kick was blocked. Big Spring 32 Stanton 0.

A second-string lineup failed to score against the visitors in the third quarter, but the advantage was all with the Bovines. One scoring threat after Epley had punted only 11 yards to his 31 yard stripe was terminated when Peters intercepted a pass on his own 10 yard line. Morgan tried for a field goal later in the period, but Hawkins broke through to block his kick and cover the ball on the Stanton 22 yard line.

The Steers concluded their scoring in the fourth quarter. The first team took the field after Neel had brought a punt back to his own 40 yard line and scored after an exchange of punts netted them possession of the ball on the Stanton 49 yard line. Richbourg gained 23 yards on the first play, and a second later Koberg dashed for a touchdown. Richbourg's kick was low.

Schwarzenbach intercepted Epley's pass and returned to the Stanton 20 yard line as the whistle blew.

SPORTS ON PARADE
By CURTIS BISHOP
The Steers staged their greatest defensive show of a lifetime against the Stanton Buffaloes Friday afternoon. The Bovines during the entire afternoon, considering both passes and running plays, gained a total of well, twelve yards backward. Running plays cost the visitors exactly eight yards loss after all was said and done, while out of three passes attempted none was completed, and one was intercepted by Schwarzenbach and returned beyond the line of scrimmage. Therefore passes cost the Buffaloes four yards in actual territory and the loss of the ball as well. Both of Stanton's first downs came as the direct result of penalties, and out of an eighty-yard total assessed against the Thundering Herd for offside talking, or what have you, only twice did the Buffaloes make their fardage.

It is hardly necessary to say that the Longhorns are improving. It is our contention that they will improve considerably more before next Saturday afternoon, when the Sweetwater Mustangs come to the local afternoon for a friendly test party. Big Spring scored thirty-two points in the first half. It is obvious that they could have scored as many more in the third and fourth quarters had Bristow so desired.

The same coach that was anxious for every touchdown possible last season tried to prevent his charges from piling up a big margin over the Hydemens. For one thing Ed Hennig was sitting on the sidelines, and we are positive that there is a resemblance between the Mustang mentor and Karl Dane now. Any advantage is in favor of the movie star, Clyde Parks.

Colorado's Wolves were far from impressive, we understand, in a 6 to 0 victory over the Roscoe Plovers Friday afternoon. Burris scored the winning touchdown with Bud Hall clipping off two long runs to bring the ball within scoring position. Colorado meets the Midland Bulldogs next weekend, and since Friday's showing are due, to again be the underdog in District 3 play.

We are moved to tears because of our dismal failure in predicting the result of the Big Spring-Stanton contest. Our guess of 31 to 0 was published after lengthy and detailed consideration, and imagine our embarrassment to discover it seven points shy of the total.

However, since one of the Steers' markers was more of an accident than anything else it was not such a bad stab at that.

Circus To Appear Here October 22
A circus with side shows, menagerie, bands, clowns, calliope, 50 performers, elephants, camels, an emu, scores of other wild and unusual animals, 30 horses, aerial artists, wire walkers, trained dogs, ponies, and monkeys will show here Saturday, October 22 at Third and Bell streets.

And it's a crackerjack of a circus. The Harrington Ninkle Plate Circus carries a brand new 300 foot circus tent which will seat 3000 persons at each performance. It has been packed in crowds all over Kansas. At Chanute, Lawrence and Fort Scott extra performances had to be given to take care of people turned away at regular performances.

There are not less than twelve out of town refineries receiving large tribute through gasoline sales to Big Spring citizens.

Big Spring - I believe that refineries full time with wonderful payrolls. What is the present status of our refineries? Coden Refinery, making that wonderful Coden Liquid Gas, has never closed for a day except for repairs.

It is possible for the people of Big Spring and Howard County to handle their gasoline business in such a way that every one now handling gasoline could receive more remuneration, and at the same time add one hundred unemployed to the payroll at fair wages.

BUY CODEN LIQUID GAS IF FOR NO OTHER REASON THAN TO BETTER YOUR OWN POSITION ECONOMICALLY

For Sale, A Baby!

Think of the storm of indignation such a sign or advertisement would arouse. You probably will never see it. You do read notices daily that call attention to the sale of furniture, automobiles, real estate, etc., to satisfy a claim for non-payment of the account. These circumstances are not pleasant but they are legal. They represent the last step in a transaction in which the individual securing the merchandise and service failed to complete his or her obligation to pay for it.

There are hundreds of infants (and some young folks) in this community whose entrance fee into this world has not yet been paid for. The physicians who answer calls at all hours of the night to give devoted service in these cases make many sacrifices in both time and money. They answer the anxious call and give unsparingly of their skill and time until the emergency has passed and a proud Dad and happy mother are joyfully telling friends of their happiness.

Then what? The physician serves until his attention is no longer required on the case but he is equally busy with others. Time passes and he does not find time to send a statement or a collector. He knows he should, but he feels that to do so would take time that is urgently needed elsewhere.

Does the father appreciate just what his friend the physician has meant to him? In a vague way, yes. But there are many who do not show even as much interest in paying for the service rendered as they do in their monthly garage bill.

Is this because the garage man can reclaim the car and offer it for sale? Perhaps not, but the fact remains that a service that helps men and women enjoy God's greatest blessing is left unpaid, for much longer periods, than any other accounts are allowed to run.

No group of men in the world perform a greater service to mankind than your physicians. When you call a regular recognized M. D. you know you are to have the most intelligent and conscientious service nearly a score of years of experience can provide. You know you will be treated fairly and the least you can do is pay the small fee promptly.

Those who can, should pay cash and others should be fair enough to discuss conditions frankly with their physician and make some definite arrangements. To do less is to encourage a higher rate of fees and perhaps a plan which will mean more and more physicians will adopt a cash basis plan, as many other professions and institutions have done.

less of anything and everything. But the difference between a majority of 200 for Sterling and the same majority for Ferguson in this county in the last primary was this - depression.

Let us hope that in spite of ourselves our county will receive this much-needed highway construction. No coal-headed citizen will argue that good roads are not of prime value to any county, especially when the county is not called upon to bond itself to help pay for the roads.

Part of the highway fund already has been saved for real tax relief to the people through assumption of county road bonds. The main thing that Howard county should be interested in, no wise, to do its part to see that the legislature does not follow the Ferguson platform in its next session.

It is plain that Mr. Ferguson is getting ready to change things in Austin so that they will adapt themselves more to his method of operations. He can not stand the idea of having his wife in the governor's office and not be able personally to determine what shall be done with the money the people pay in taxes.

The sum and substance of that, of course, is that if James E. Ferguson, am the law when my wife is governor. How dare you intimate that I, Jim myself, shall not dictate how every department of the government shall be operated. How dare you think that this government is not operated for, by and under me. Ain't it a shame.

Thomason Gets Federal Relief For His District

WASHINGTON-The decision of Congressman R. E. Thomason to return to Washington and try to hasten relief for the sixteenth congressional district has resulted in aid for cities in the district already.

The congressman returned here from his home in El Paso last month and immediately began a series of conferences with members of the Public Buildings Commission which lasted for many days. Last week the list of new buildings to be started soon under the terms of the Garner-Wagner relief act was announced and of the nine in Texas, three are in Mr. Thomason's district. They are Pecos, Kerrville and Colorado.

He has been assisting Brewster county and El Paso in presentation of their applications for relief loans. Mr. Thomason has not gone out to speak for the Democratic National Committee, but he might do so later. He was asked by the committee to speak at a rally in Pennsylvania last week, but declined in order that he could stay here and finish his conferences with the R.F.C. officials on the relief loans.

BERLIN (AP)-Germany Saturday rejected a plan for a four-power conference on her demand for arms equality, as agreed by Premier Herriot of France and MacDonald of England.
