REP. R. E. THOMASON WIRES NEW TENTATIVE PLANS NOW IN HANDS OF SUPERVISING HEADS

Not Stated When Actual Construction Would Start; Plans Must Be Approved By Supervisors In Washington, Then Be Sent Back To Dallas Architects

BUILDING SITE ALREADY PURCHASED

Mr. Thomason Promises To Keep In Close Touch With Situation In Wire To C. T. Watson, Chamber of Commerce Manager; Appropriations Already Provided

New tentative plans for the federal building to be erected here are now in Washington being approved by the supervising architect, a wire from Congressman R. E. Thomason said Thursday.

Thomason said as soon as tentative plans are approved they must be sent back to Dallas to architects Laroche and Dail, who will make working drawings. Once back in the hands of the supervising architect's hands the project will be ready for bids.

The congressman did not indicate in his wire how long it would be before actual construction work would be in order here.

Thomason, who pledged himself here September 14 to find why the federal building had not been started with appropriations already made, sent the following wire to C. T. Watson, chamber of commerce manager.

"Talked to supervising architect today about Big Spring building. Delay has been caused by necessity of making changes in plans. New tentative plans now here being approved. Then they must be sent back to Dallas for working drawings to be made. Will keep after officials here and do all I can to hasten construction."

Location for the building has already been purchased at Scurry and West Fourth streets. First plans were presented the supervising architect in Washington more than a month ago.

The railroads had proposed negotiations for a 20 per cent cut to take effect February 1.

In a letter to W. F. Tiehoff, of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, A. F. Whitney, chairman of the labor committee, notified the rail heads of the committee's flat refusal to meet with them.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The publication of "Coronado's Children," a story of buried treasure hidden in various parts of the Southwest, especially in Texas, made a tremendous hit with critics in the East and with Texans everywhere, in Texas and out of it.

Mr. Dobie is a professor at the University of Texas. He has been granted a leave of absence this year to accept a fellowship which will give him sufficient funds for a year's study in northern Mexico.

Telling yarns is Mr. Dobie's chief interest in life, telling them and listening to them. He has as good a collection of yarns as any man in Texas. He will spin many of them Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium under the auspices of the Library Club.

Pecos Gunman Being Sought

PECOS—Officers of this section Wednesday sought a gunman who engaged in two holdups and kidnaped a watchman in his effort to escape.

The first victims, a young couple of tourists, were held up at Wickert, Ward county. The man took from them several dollars in cash and some jewelry. He then proceeded to Pyete, eight miles from Wickert, where $15 in cash was taken from a store proprietor.

The watchman, guarding a washed-out bridge, was forced to drive the man toward Fort Stockton after his own car had stuck in a ditch.

The gunman jumped from the watchman's car and escaped when he saw lights at a road camp, apparently thinking they were those of officers.

'Divorce Schedule' Is Maintained For Divorcees' Benefit

Jesse Maxwell, the energetic manager here for the American Airways, isn't a lawyer and isn't trying to promote domestic discord in the homes of Big Spring couples, but he carries in his mind what he terms as his "divorce schedule" to accommodate those couples who are in a hurry to consummate their agreement to disagree.

To those who insist on speed, he sells tickets on the west-bound planes with arrival in El Paso in a few hours. An hour in a Juarez courtroom is sufficient for the separation.

By leaving here on the day schedule, arriving in El Paso at noon, the couple may be duly divorced, and the next morning have their "divorce breakfast" at separate counters here in Big Spring.

Eagle Scout To Be Honored By Kiwanis Club

Kiwanis club in regular meeting Thursday noon at the Crawford Hotel made preparations to honor the first boy in the club's sponsored troop to become an Eagle Scout, which honor falls to Halbert Woodward, a scout in Troop 3. Save and except, Eagle Scouts out of Troop 1, he is the only scout in Big Spring to become an Eagle Scout and the Kiwanis club will recognize him in a special way immediately after receipt of his Eagle badge.

Thursday's program was under the supervision of Kiwanian Jack Cummings, who had a series of questions addressed to the individual members, answered by the membership. The program was entertaining and instructive.

Rev. Ives Townsend responded briefly to a request and stated that as time goes on, it becomes more apparent that the needs of a Kiwanis club is a vital element in community life. He is conducting a revival at the First Christian church here.

Visitors included Rev. D. R. Lindley and Dr. P. W. Malone.

Two Farm Leaders Say Holiday Declared Thursday Is Doomed

NO PICKETING

State Official Declares It Impossible To Keep Cotton Off Market

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—With two farm leaders predicting "failure" of an Oklahoma farmers' holiday was declared in effect Thursday by its organizers on livestock, grain, and cotton.

A decline in local livestock receipts of about 50 per cent on hogs and about one-third on cattle followed.

President Harry B. Cordell of the state board of agriculture said that under present conditions it was impossible to keep cotton off the market.

No picketing of highways was reported.

BIB SPRING PROPHET PREDICTS NO FROST BEFORE NOVEMBER

Farmers and town people, for that matter, who want 40 days of bright sunny weather for cotton, may at least be assured that there will be no freeze before the 15th of November.

C. H. McDaniel, local weather forecaster whose word is accepted by many farmers and most of his friends, has a trick of his own for determining when the first killing frost will come.

He says it will come 90 days after the first north in August. The prediction is one he heard from his mother and weather prophets in East Texas. He began applying it when he first came to West Texas and he declares that it has never yet failed him.

He allows three days one way or the other for the frost, but that is all the leeway he permits. It has never missed it by more than three days, on any year.

His chief trouble, he says, is learning when the north comes in August because he is in the store enough he doesn't feel the changes. (Weather prophets call any decided change in August temperature "the north.") This year the first change of that nature occurred around the 15th of the past month, figure the rest for yourself.

When Mr. McDaniel had been in business for only a few years a farmer came in to buy some twine for his feed which he intended to cut. Mr. McDaniel told him he had plenty of time before frost and could wait several weeks if he wanted to.

"It would save me a $1000," answered the farmer, "but I'm afraid to take the risk."

He cut his feed at once. That year the first heavy frost came on the very day Mr. McDaniel predicted.

WOMAN KILLED BY LIGHTNING TWENTY MILES NORTH OF CITY; RAILROAD, HIWAYS DAMAGED

Mrs. J. L. Ulmer, 37, With Husband, Was Picking Cotton When Bolt Struck; Husband Knocked Unconscious; Burial To Be In Stamford

NEAR CLOUDBURST

City Streets Badly Washed And Considerably Damaged; Disposal Plant Is Slightly Damaged; Telephone Service To Ackerly Disrupted

One death by lightning and extensive damage by heavy rains is the result of the freakish turn of weather here Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. L. Ulmer, 37, was killed instantly Wednesday afternoon when struck by lightning at her home 20 miles north of here. Her husband was knocked unconscious and remained so more than an hour.

On the eastern outskirts of Big Spring water washed out 100 yards of tracks on the Texas and Pacific railway. Traffic was delayed for six hours.

Highway Washed Out

Near by water surged over Highway No. 1 and blocked traffic for more than two hours. Forty feet of topping washed away together with about eight feet of grading and right of way, according to Resident Highway Engineer Edward Lowe.

Streets Damaged

Damage to streets of Big Spring was estimated at $500 Thursday morning by City Engineer J. B. Wootton and City Manager E. V. Spence. Most damage was reported in the north portion of the city, where rushing water gutted many streets. Slight damage was reported elsewhere in the city.

Phone Service Disrupted

Telephone service with Ackerly was disrupted and had not been restored at noon Thursday. No rain was reported at Lamesa.

Were Picking Cotton

Mr. and Mrs. Ulmer were picking cotton in their field Wednesday afternoon when a violent electrical storm drove them to seek shelter. Walking slightly in advance of her husband, Mrs. Ulmer was struck on the left side of the head by a bolt. The bolt is reported to have passed through her head, skinned down her right arm and into the ground. She died instantly.

Mr. Ulmer was knocked unconscious by force of the bolt. He was taken to the house by a son who witnessed the accident. Body of Mrs. Ulmer was taken Thursday to Stamford for burial. The family moved to their home five miles southwest of Vealmoor three miles ago from Stamford.

Near Cloudburst

A near cloud burst in this vicinity fell between noon and 2 p. m. Down town gauges registered little less than five inches for the two hours. Most of the precipitation fell during the noon hour.

Streets here were turned into river beds as mad torrents swept down them. Water was over curbing on most city streets from East and West 9th to the railroad tracks. Scores of automobiles stalled in high waters on Runnels and East First streets.

Yards Inundated

Texas and Pacific yards were inundated in a sudden. Rise east of Parriss proved 100 yards of track went out when water swirled over the grade and onto Highway No. One.

A large crew of men had the track in shape for passage by 10 p. m. The rise caught Texas and Pacific passenger train No. 3 just before it reached the wash out. Passengers were forced to walk across the washout on improvised cross tie bridges and track. They were brought to town in a special coach.

People Jam Highways

Hundreds of persons swarmed along the adjacent highway watching away portions of the track and highway grade. Two automobiles, attempting to cross in the torrent, were almost swept from the road. The highway bridge west of town under which most water passes normally, had water backed up in surrounding pastures.

Land east and west and north-east of here in the draw was completely inundated.

Sewers Clogged

City storm sewers were almost totally clogged by sand and debris washed from hills and ditches within the city limits. Before the rain huge holes were dug at the outlet of storm sewers to catch sand and sediment. These were filled and sand backed up into the openings.

Many city streets were stripped of topsoil.

Local Kiwanians Plan To Attend Convention In Harlingen Oct. 23

Unusual plans are being made by the Kiwanis club of this city to attend and have a large representation at the annual convention of the Texas-Oklahoma district to be held in Harlingen on October 23-24-25, and more than a dozen local Kiwanians have signified their willingness to attend.

A policy of many years' practice has been that the district governor and district convention alternate between the two states and the convention city is usually held in one state and the district governor elected from the other. Dr. L. D. Hudson of Dewey, Oklahoma, is present governor of the Texas-Oklahoma district.

At last week's meeting the local club went on record as making a bid for the 49th convention to be held in Big Spring and a strong effort will be put forward to bring that convention to this city.

Among those who have stated that they will attend the district convention are:

G. A. Woodward, Carl Blomsheld, Dr. W. Webber, George Gentry, Ralph Linck, Ray Wilcox, Merle Stewart, Arnie Dorbandt, Jack Cummings, C. B. Porter, Dr. J. B. Dillard, Jess Slaughter, Loy Acuff, Cal Boykin and others. Matamoros will probably attract a large delegation when it is announced that part of the convention sessions will be held in that city.

A Million Does Begging

... of feminine stress that 91,000 depositors in closed banks in Toledo, O., would fail to respond to repeated invitations of "Please come and get your money" but such is the case.

The story goes this way: Officials of the state's banking department re-straightening out the affairs of several defunct banks and calling on depositors to come and get certain percentages of their money that are ready to be repaid. Lots of depositors have done so. But 91,000 depositors who have $1,249,000 to their credit on the books and for whom $279,000 is now ready for immediate distribution have for some reason not accepted the invitation.

That approximately 90,000 of these accounts are those of school children who deposited their pennies and dimes in school savings systems, explaining something about everything. Why have the other 60,000 depositors not come forward to claim their money? Frankly, nobody knows.

Perhaps there are people who have deposited money in banks years ago and forgotten all about it. Perhaps there are others who have opened secret bank accounts without mentioning the same to relatives and have died and have left deposits that have no claimants.

Certainly it is difficult to believe that anyone would deliberately ignore an invitation from a defunct bank to come forward and recover his money, or a part of it.

Unless these deposits are claimed by the time liquidation of the banks is completed, the money will be placed in the state treasury. There it will be held for a certain period of time and, if still unclaimed, it will be given into the state's general fund. The law provides this course.

In a nation that has seen 2,000 bank failures during the past few years, many of them bringing disaster to unfortunate depositors, Toledo's experience is most certainly rare one.

But one can't escape the conclusion that if the depositors—with the exception of the school children—are so careless and indifferent toward their money then perhaps it's just as well that the state should have it where it can be used to help lighten the load on the already overburdened taxpayers.

Texas Topics

By Raymond Brooks

AUSTIN—Rep. H. N. Graves, chairman of the joint legislative organization efficiency committee, has held the last word in the debate over the crucial question—when does a legislator's term end?

He disagreed with Rep. W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi, who is proposing to call together the members elected in November into an emergency self-starting session.

Pope cited the constitution that the members' terms were for two years "from the date of election."

"Election" in this usage means the date the lawmakers take their oath and qualify, Rep. Graves pointed out.

His view will leave such retiring members as Rep. Bill Sanders free to continue their work on legislative committees from the general election on until the date the new legislature convenes Jan. 19.

Also the secretary of state is the officer designated by the constitution, to administer the oath to the incoming members.

Until they take the oath, they can't function as members and only this official can administer the oath. Therefore, unless Miss Jane Y. McCallum should consent to recognize a self-started session and preside over it and administer the oath, the new members could not begin their duties before the customary date.

This is highly important this year because so many members have been retired to private life and so many pro-Ferguson house members named to replace them.

Rep. Graves' interpretation of the law, unless overruled, stood as a definite block to the assembling of a self-starting session of the legislators to be in November.

New Books on The Library Shelves

Mrs. B. T. Cardwell, librarian of the Public Library announces that the following new books have arrived: "Pekin People" by Anne Bridge, the novel that won the Atlantic Monthly prize. "Ma Cinderella" by Harold Bell Wright. "Nymph Errant" by Laver. "Four Blind Mice" by Donald Joseph, instructor in French at the University of Texas.

"After 3 o'clock" by Elizabeth Corbett, author of the very popular "The Young Mrs. Meigs." "John Bartlett, Jr." by Don Henderson Clarke. "Self-Made Woman" by Faith Baldwin. "Desert Sand" by Margaret Pedersen.

In response to the demand for good biographies, Mrs. Cardwell announces the arrival of "Jefferson Davis" and "Stonewall Jackson" both by Allen Tate. "The Books and Elsie Jane" "So Fine So Good" will be put on a special table and will be two-week books, regardless of how new they are.

Rep. B. M. Hubbard of New Boston is the author of the composite tax relief county-reimbursing bond payment law described the yardstick theory in which the new law bases its claim of constitutionality.

The amount of county and district bonds and warrants now outstanding and maturing after Jan. 1, 1933, is used as the "yardstick" for determining the amount of compensation to be paid the counties and road districts for money advanced on the state highways, he pointed out.

Both he and the other authors, Reps. Coke Stevenson, Ben Brooks and Bowd Farrar, shy away from the term "assumption" of county bonds. It isn't the assumption, but a means of discharge of a pre-existing obligation, they insist.

A Huge Increase In Miles Flown By U. S. Planes

Government figures show that there was an increase of 4,000,000 miles in flights of American operated air lines during the six months of the year in comparison with the same months of 1931. The 588 planes in scheduled service on American operated lines flew a total of 2,688,434 miles, according to the report of the aeronautics branch of the Department of Commerce in the six months period and there was an increase of 55,940 passenger miles during that time over the January-July traffic of 1931.

In their operations, the planes consumed a total of 11,178,807 gallons of gasoline and used 317,656 gallons of oil for lubrication. American Airways, principal operator in the south reported that it had flown its planes 4,676,672 miles during the period but that in July its operation advanced to schedules calling for more than 1,000,000 miles of flight monthly. During the six months period reported American Airways planes carried 35,310 passengers and in the following two months, July and August, averaged more than 10,000 passengers for each month, indicating that passenger business for the third quarter of the year would approximate that of the two previous quarters combined.

They believe they have a constitutional bill, but have agreed with Gov. Ross Sterling that it will go just as well to submit a constitutional amendment in January to make the thing sure and to keep future legislatures from trying to change up the newly inaugurated state policy.

The new law describes counties and districts as agents of the state in having advanced money to get the roads built more quickly, the highway system being one of general welfare and the advances toward a property state expense.

Colorado Has Large Squad

Coach Cantrill Says It Is Best Team In History Of School

By CURTIS BISHOP

This is the second of a series of articles dealing with District Three.

"Big" Jim Cantrill, Colorado's idol, stands ready for his first appearance in Class A company this season.

Blessed with the largest squad he has ever had, with thirteen of them veterans of the 1930 and 1931 teams, the former T. C. U. star does not mind admitting that he has one of the best teams in school history, and that his Wolves will be a dynamo for no one this year.

At the helm of a high school team for the first time since his resignation in 1929 Cantrill finds himself with a squad of 28 men, with all of them due to see action during the season.

Around "Lefty" Shelton, a south-paw palmer, Cantrill hopes to build up an aerial egos equal to the task of competing with District 3 teams on even terms. Running in the backfield will also be P. J. Burris, eligible for competition after a great year in 1930. Morrison, Lorry and a pair of new material.

Staghor, all-around athlete, will handle one wing department with Jack Cox, a veteran, favored to blind off the threats of Potsy Doss, the best punter on the club. Pennington, Henderson and Kirby, Red Church, transferred from end to tackle, is at present suffering from an injured hand and may give way for the earlier part of the schedule to P. Ware, Bridgeford and Gray.

Three veterans enable Cantrill to fill the guard posts easily. Alexander, Hagler and Byrd are all-seasoned campaigners, veterans of the 30 and '31 seasons. At center Barrett, a squadman last year, is not expected to win a regular's berth over Wiggy, a newcomer who is the sensation of the practice session.

The Wolves will open their 1932 campaign against the Roby Lions, a traditional Class B veteran and meet their first conference opponent on Oct. 8 when Clyde Parks McCamey Badgers visit the Colorado field. On Oct. 21 Midland plays host to Cantrill's club and the Wolves will not begin on the local field until Nov. 19 when San Angelo visits Colorado.

gravel topping. Regrading will have to be effected in many instances.

Almost Entirely Local. Heavy downpour was almost entirely local. San Angelo reported only 7 of an inch. Sterling City reported fairly heavy rains. Only light showers were reported West of Stanton. Lakes that have already risen over the highway five miles this side of Stanton had not been affected. Lamesa reported no rain. Yalmar reported slight electrical displays but little rain.

The extreme southeastern tip of the city failed to experience anything like as heavy rains as all downtown. While Big Spring was receiving more than four inches, airways gauges west of town registered less than one inch. Rain here was preceded by an electrical storm.

In their operations, the planes consumed a total of 11,178,807 gallons of gasoline and used 317,656 gallons of oil for lubrication. American Airways, principal operator in the south reported that it had flown its planes 4,676,672 miles during the period but that in July its operation advanced to schedules calling for more than 1,000,000 miles of flight monthly. During the six months period reported American Airways planes carried 35,310 passengers and in the following two months, July and August, averaged more than 10,000 passengers for each month, indicating that passenger business for the third quarter of the year would approximate that of the two previous quarters combined.

They believe they have a constitutional bill, but have agreed with Gov. Ross Sterling that it will go just as well to submit a constitutional amendment in January to make the thing sure and to keep future legislatures from trying to change up the newly inaugurated state policy.

The new law describes counties and districts as agents of the state in having advanced money to get the roads built more quickly, the highway system being one of general welfare and the advances toward a property state expense.

Colorado Has Large Squad

Coach Cantrill Says It Is Best Team In History Of School

By CURTIS BISHOP

This is the second of a series of articles dealing with District Three.

"Big" Jim Cantrill, Colorado's idol, stands ready for his first appearance in Class A company this season.

Blessed with the largest squad he has ever had, with thirteen of them veterans of the 1930 and 1931 teams, the former T. C. U. star does not mind admitting that he has one of the best teams in school history, and that his Wolves will be a dynamo for no one this year.

At the helm of a high school team for the first time since his resignation in 1929 Cantrill finds himself with a squad of 28 men, with all of them due to see action during the season.

Around "Lefty" Shelton, a south-paw palmer, Cantrill hopes to build up an aerial egos equal to the task of competing with District 3 teams on even terms. Running in the backfield will also be P. J. Burris, eligible for competition after a great year in 1930. Morrison, Lorry and a pair of new material.

Staghor, all-around athlete, will handle one wing department with Jack Cox, a veteran, favored to blind off the threats of Potsy Doss, the best punter on the club. Pennington, Henderson and Kirby, Red Church, transferred from end to tackle, is at present suffering from an injured hand and may give way for the earlier part of the schedule to P. Ware, Bridgeford and Gray.

Three veterans enable Cantrill to fill the guard posts easily. Alexander, Hagler and Byrd are all-seasoned campaigners, veterans of the 30 and '31 seasons. At center Barrett, a squadman last year, is not expected to win a regular's berth over Wiggy, a newcomer who is the sensation of the practice session.

The Wolves will open their 1932 campaign against the Roby Lions, a traditional Class B veteran and meet their first conference opponent on Oct. 8 when Clyde Parks McCamey Badgers visit the Colorado field. On Oct. 21 Midland plays host to Cantrill's club and the Wolves will not begin on the local field until Nov. 19 when San Angelo visits Colorado.

Harvesting Day the Wolves will meet Big Spring at the Steer stadium.

gravel topping. Regrading will have to be effected in many instances.

Almost Entirely Local. Heavy downpour was almost entirely local. San Angelo reported only 7 of an inch. Sterling City reported fairly heavy rains. Only light showers were reported West of Stanton. Lakes that have already risen over the highway five miles this side of Stanton had not been affected. Lamesa reported no rain. Yalmar reported slight electrical displays but little rain.

The extreme southeastern tip of the city failed to experience anything like as heavy rains as all downtown. While Big Spring was receiving more than four inches, airways gauges west of town registered less than one inch. Rain here was preceded by an electrical storm.

UNTRIED BACKFIELD IS DARTMOUTH'S PROBLEM

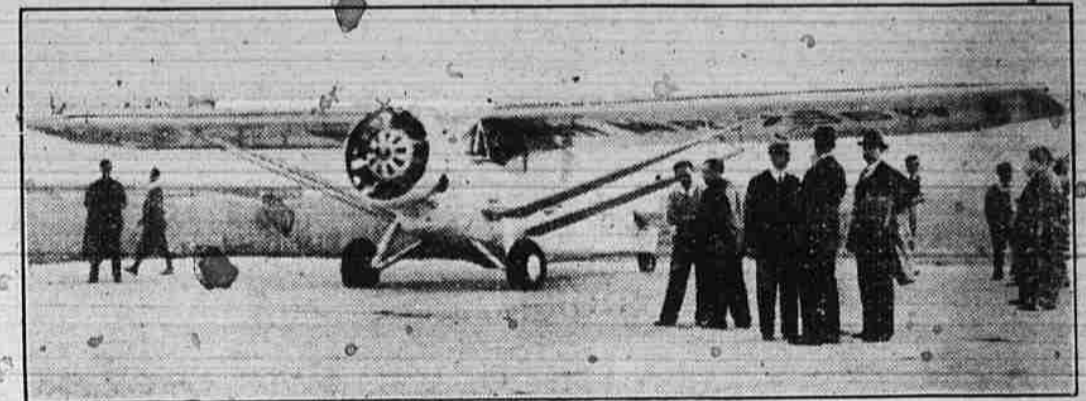

With a veteran line ready for the opening kick off, the chief problem at Dartmouth is the development of a new crop of ball toters. Decker, who is having his first fling with the varsity, may find a berth in the backfield and Hedges, one of two veteran secondaries, seems headed for a job at fullback. DIVIDED ON ELIGIBILITY; ROBERTS CASE IS SHELVED

Attention of district 3 committee was divided Saturday at San Angelo between eligibility cases and "rooster" rule hitting two Sweetwater backfield prospects.

Mike Roberts, man mountain in the local line, was not declared eligible or ineligible. His name was submitted by local officials and not challenged for the time. His case will probably come up at the next district meeting.

George Dethers, butmark of the San Angelo Bobcats, was declared eligible until further evidence of his ineligibility. George Gentry, local principal, made motion to allow Dethers to play.

The "rooster" rule, as is known in Sweetwater, was left unharmed by committee. George Gentry said he had assurance from Roy Henderson, interscholastic league head, that the rule was sound.

B. H. McClain of Sweetwater was appointed with Gentry on a committee to present evidence pro and con as to whether the rule applied to the Bobcats.

Most important of all, the district chiefs voted to reduce game prices. Admission will now cost only 50 cents for students.

Those attending from here were Coach Obie Eristow, Principal Geo. Gentry, and Superintendent W. C. Blankenship.

Mrs. Barrett, I. D. Eddins Residing Here

Pioneer Mother Worked Day and Night But Helped Church

Only two charter members of the First Christian church are living today to participate in the celebration of the fifty-fifth anniversary of the church.

They are I. D. Eddins, who was active in its organization and Mrs. M. E. Barrett.

The wife of Mrs. Barrett, who has how hard it was for pioneer mothers to find the time to give to church affairs.

Well, she sewed until 2:30 a. m. and then got up at 4 o'clock to fix breakfast for fifteen boarders.

The sewing machine was set between the two tents. One tent was the kitchen and dining room and the other was the bedroom where Mrs. Barrett and her husband and three children lived.

In spite of this terrific pressure Mrs. Barrett found time to give a Sunday School of little tots for 12 years. The class met on Sunday afternoons. She willingly gave it spare time during the week.

Among the men and women of today whom she taught are the famous: Earl Read, Dan and Jim Tamsitt, Fred and Winnie Bloomfield, Roy Hamp and Laura Eddins. She and Maggie Sutton and her own two daughters, May and Julia.

Hardships And Persecutions, Are Recounted

The story of the rise of the First Christian church in Big Spring is not at all a tale of smooth sailing.

Although Big Spring was notorious for its saloons and fights, it had no dislike for churches as such.

It opposed only a few and the Christians being new were one of the few who were victims of whatever persecution there was.

The Young Peoples' Conference of the church has held its annual conference at the school house.

The association voted to subscribe for the Child Welfare magazine. Mrs. Edward Lowe, a new member in East Ward, was introduced to the members.

Those present were: Misses G. E. Long, James Wilcox, Raymond J. Smith, John N. Lane, Don L. Ringler, P. H. Childers, L. A. Fuller, C. E. Prather, J. L. Terry, G. D. Coats, W. P. Mims, Dutch Henry, Edward Lowe, J. C. Ray, George Pearce and J. J. Tatroop, and Miss Audrey Phillips.

Another one dollar appropriation on the state appropriation for 1931-32 was received here Saturday.

The school house was not used on Sunday and was then a small frame building on the corner of the West's clubhouse new occupies.

They met there for a short time. One morning they went to service to find the doors and windows nailed up by order of Judge Walcott.

They were given and one of the members carried five gallons of kerosene to the church that morning for the lamps.

That evening when the preacher and his flock went to the church they found the door locked.

Nothing daunted Mr. Eddins resolved it in his mind. He had done everything a man could do in his home for the church. He had built a reservoir in his back yard especially for the purpose of baptizing the converts.

At last Mr. Eddins went to see one of the lumber yards. The proprietor was friendly and said that in the congregation there was only one man whose name he would not put on notes for the "lumber yard" in this name.

The women pitched in and helped. When the building was almost finished—only the ceiling to be put on—they took out of lumber and improvised tables and the town was plastered with invitations. They made $300 that night, a sum that no church supper could realize today.

Greatly Widens Usefulness With Special Attention To Young Folk

One of the features of the First Christian church in recent years has been its educational program.

The church school has as its motto: "Every Teacher With a Leadership Training Certificate."

Save Mrs. Ferguson's Case From Court Election Contest, Then Be Legally Sworn In As Governor

BY RAYMOND BROOKS

AUSTIN—Mrs. Ferguson could lose in the court election contest, and still legally be sworn in as governor—this is the theory of lawyers friendly to the Ferguson cause.

"It doesn't make a particle of difference," said one pro-Ferguson lawyer, who has studied the election laws, "whether there is a decision by Governor Ross R. Sterling's court, or what the decision is. Mrs. Ferguson will be on the ticket, she will be elected, and will be inaugurated."

"All this will be by strictly legal proceedings under the election law," he said. "He did not debate the merits of the contention of illegal voting, but said the election law is such that time limits make Mrs. Ferguson's victory certain. That, he said, will be in line with the ultimate Ferguson court strategy in the election contest. He described the mechanics of beating out the court test, and added that only the legislature has the right to pass on the qualifications of a person once elected to office."

If the election contest in Judge Robertson's court should be against Mrs. Ferguson, this lawyer pointed out, her attorneys would have the right to file a supersedeas bond to take the case up on appeal.

Or, after October 7, when the time came for Mrs. Jane Y. McCullum, Sterling appointee as secretary of state, to certify the nominee for the general election ballot, Ferguson attorneys would demand of her whether she would certify Mrs. Ferguson's name. Unless she agreed to do so, they would have a right to go to supreme court for a mandamus to compel certifying it, with precedents already established in her own former case before the court assertedly upholding her right to compel printing her name on the ballot.

Then, after the general election, the primary election contest would become moot. If the court finally held that Mr. Sterling was the legal nominee, he would not have been governor, and thus could not take office. Mrs. Ferguson would have been elected, and could not be denied the office by any court.

The legislature of Texas, during the first week of the 33rd session, will convene for the general election results for governor and lieutenant governor, and declare the result of the election. This is required to be done before the governor is inaugurated.

Surveying For Highway No. 1 Is Underway

State Engineer And Crew Of Four Working East From Martin

Surveying the route for state highway No. 1 continued Monday as a state highway department engineer and a crew of four worked east from the Martin county line.

Monday morning Judge H. R. Debeport, county magistrate, was involved in a study of the recently passed highway bond assumption bill. He will begin immediately in checking county records to see how much Howard county is due under provisions of the bill.

Information on property touched by highway No. 1 was being sought by commissioners. Howard county will be ready to take definite steps towards securing right of way once Glasscock county does the same.

All-Stars Get Sound Beating

Fifty-one Howard county baseball fans made one mistake when they chose their all-star nine. Lefty Doss Wright, the Tigge ace, proved that Sunday afternoon when he let the slugging all-stars down with just two hits in nine innings.

Lefty Wright holds opponents to two hits, striking out 14.

Lefty Wright was completely master of the situation. Boone Cramer's challengers fell upon Shorty Walden, Forsan, in the fourth inning, and before the dust had cleared away had planned four runs on three hits. Pap Payne, the Big Spring right-hander, then entered the game and allowed only one hit in four innings, but the damage had been done.

Walden did very well for three innings, allowing only one single. Then Raymond Cruz started the offensive in the fourth by securing a base on balls, went to second on Hutchinson's single, and scored when Harris' throw to third escaped Martin's clutch. Rose sent a single skipping to center field and Bill Tate drove one just over first base into a row of automobiles that went for a home run.

Lamesa Tries Desperately To Take Cup

Season's Competitive Play Is Brought To End On Local Links

Bob Scott Turns Back Frank Rose To Take Individual Honors

Colorado's rolling legion runner-up in 1931, captured the championship of the Sand Belt Golf association as the 1932 competitive season was brought to an end on Big Spring's country club links Sunday afternoon.

Lamesa, desperately trying to gain the eighteen points necessary to give them first place, won over Colorado 23 to 21 on the Lamesa course, but the twenty-one points gave the Mitchell county club a total of 350 and easy possession of the beautiful championship trophy. Big Spring advanced into third place in the league standing by tying with Odessa 22 to 22 as Sweetwater was idle. Snyder won over Midland 24 to 20 in the third match on the day's schedule. Season's total: Colorado 350, Lamesa 334, Big Spring 319, Sweetwater 314, Midland 264, Snyder 242.

Shareholder In "America" Head Is Chosen In Howard

Proper Cunningham, county democratic chairman, has been designated as the first "Shareholder in America" in Howard county.

Under the shareholder slogan democrats will finance the campaign of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt and John Nance Garner for the presidency and vice-presidency. James Farley, chairman of the national democratic committee, notified Cunningham as leader of the Democratic forces in this county.

Cunningham was presented with the official Roosevelt-Garner Medal, official insignia of the energizing campaign. The medalion was designed by Gutzen Borglum, renowned sculptor.

In keeping with Franklin Roosevelt's idea of making "this people's campaign" the medalion will sell for one dollar. Cunningham announced he would appoint a county committee to make a drive on it. He sold the first medalion to a Herald reporter.

Governor Roosevelt became first "Shareholder in America" a little more than a week ago at his home in Hyde Park.

Chamber Of Commerce Postpones County Fair; Directors Opposed To Texas Centennial Amendment

Directors of the chamber of commerce voted Thursday afternoon to postpone the Howard county fair in the face of one of the most beautiful yields in the history of the county. Reasons were purely financial.

It was not the wish of the directors to ask merchants to contribute toward the affair at this time. It was estimated that the fair would cost between $300 and $500.

Members of the agricultural committee were instructed by directors to proceed with plans in supervising feeding out of calves by 4-H club boys.

A resolution opposing the legislative appropriation of money for a Texas centennial celebration was adopted by the body.

Civic committee members were to meet Friday evening at 8 o'clock to outline a program.

Program Officially Opening Municipal Building Proves Popular With Large Crowd

$65,000 Of $150,000 In Expenditures On General Construction Spent In Big Spring, C. S. Lambie Tells Audience

Fifteen hundred Big Spring neighbors gathered Thursday evening in their splendid new community meeting house, the auditorium of the municipal building, cheered their municipal officials, the men who planned and supervised construction of the imposing edifice, accorded a warm reception to their representative in the lower house of the congress...

This well-balanced program put everybody in a cheerful and neighborly mood for inspection of the entire building—the city offices, the city jail, the central fire station, the city court room and all the other many features of this most complete municipal home.

Garland A. Woodward, who was in charge of the program, presided. The orchestra provided the instrumental music. Dr. J. Richard...

Mr. Woodward introduced Mayor J. B. Pickle, Commissioners C. E. Talbot, H. Hinman, J. L. Webb and R. V. Jones; C. S. Lambie, the general contractor; N. L. Peters, of the firm of architects which planned the structure; City Manager E. V. Spence, and Mr. Thomason.

Mr. Pickle reviewed the movement which resulted in erection of the building and congratulated the citizenship, a majority of which voted to issue the bonds making possible the construction, upon completion of their public building.

"I'm sure all who have inspected the entire building, inside and outside, appreciate it," said the mayor. "As Mr. Woodward has said, this auditorium will be highly beneficial to development of our educational and social life. We have often wondered what we would do if necessity of entertaining a large gathering arose. That worry is no more."

Mentioning that he had been designated on the program to bring salutations of the city to the audience, Mr. Pickle recalled that in school commencement the salutatorian is the pupil winning second honors. "I don't know which of the boys on the commission would be the valedictorian but I do know that the minute you take the oath of office as city commissioner you begin going to school. You learn much about municipal affairs and a lot about human nature, too."

The building would have cost at least $275,000 for construction and equipment, instead of a few dollars more than $200,000, the actual cost of the building itself, with equipment, if the contract had been let a year before it was declared C. S. Lambie, head of C. S. Lambie Construction Co., said.

He cited these examples of the difference in prices of materials used in the building and what they would have cost a year before they were purchased: tile for roof, $1,600-$2,800; steel windows, $3,800-$6,400; hardware, $2,400-$4,800; acoustical work, $2,400-$3,600.

The general contract totaled less than $150,000. Of this amount $65,000 was spent in Big Spring for labor and materials, said Mr. Lambie. Skilled labor was paid $1 per hour, unskilled labor 40 cents per hour. Total expenditure for labor was $40,000. Rock and crushed stone, bought locally, cost $10,000. Lumber and other materials bought here cost $15,000.

Mr. Peters, the architect, spoke briefly. W. T. Strange, Jr., his partner, now residing in Longview, was unable to attend as planned. Mr. Thomason...

In introducing Mr. Thomason, Mr. Woodward said that "his effort in our behalf are well-known. He is just as proud of this building as you are. He is enroute to Washington and will renew his efforts to have our federal building erected."

"I hope my next trip to Big Spring, six or eight months from now will be to dedicate one of the finest federal buildings in West Texas," said Mr. Thomason. "I will be in Washington in a few days and I am going to make it my personal business to appear before the interdepartmental committee and the supervising architect and learn why contracts have not been let for this building. The plans and specifications have been finished by the architect and approved by the supervising architect of the treasury department. Progress on the project should be started at once."

"You people have been far kinder to me than I deserve and I want to know your wants and your feelings," he said. "As I listened to the gentlemen preceding me by thoughts ran back incidents of 50 or 60 years ago, when the Texas & Pacific first reached Big Spring and, looking about this magnificent building, I knew more than ever that the pioneers of our great country laid a firm foundation."

Local Pastor In Third Year With Church

D. R. Lindley One Of Most Successful Young Ministers

Rev. D. R. Lindley, the present pastor of the local church in the midst of his third year's ministry here, having been called here from the Central Christian church at Weatherford early in 1930. Upon entering into an agreement with the local church, Mr. Lindley was presented with a petition by the Weatherford church asking him to reconsider and remain with them and a number of the officers of the Weatherford church journeyed to Big Spring seeking his release. Believing in the future of Big Spring however, he assumed his work here April 1, 1930. Since taking charge of the local work, Mr. Lindley has received 183 new members into his fellowship of the church, almost half of the present membership having come in during his ministry.

Mr. Lindley also began assessing the teaching task of the church, especially emphasizing leadership training. Young People's Conference work and the Daily Vacation Bible School. He is himself an active member of the Disciples' Department of Religious Education and has issued more than 150 leadership training credits to the workers of the church during his ministry. Last summer, in connection with the Presbyterian church, he and his workers conducted a Daily Vacation Bible school with an enrollment of more than 150 pupils. Each summer he serves on the faculty of the Disciples' Young People's Summer Conference near Kerrville, Texas, and has built up a local conference club of 12 members who have attended Conference.

During his ministry in Big Spring, Mr. Lindley has been active in civic as well as church affairs, being active in Boy Scout and H-Y work and having served as one of the directing members of the local Community Chest. He is called upon frequently to address local service clubs, and is an active member of the local Leo's Club. At the present time he is serving his third year as chairman of the local Pastor's association.

Rev. Lindley began preaching at the age of 18, and is now in his twenty-third year. He is a native of Chickasha, Okla., as a country evangelist. Mr. Lindley received his preparation for the ministry in three of the most prominent educational institutions of the Christian church, having begun his training at Johnson Bible College, Kimberlin Heights, Tenn., transferred to Phillips Union, where he received his A. B. degree and later taking more than two years of degree work in T. C. U. for his B. D. At the present time he is one of the most prominent of the younger ministers among Texas disciples of Christ.

FRANCE STUDIES ARMAMENTS PARIS (AP)—France has under consideration a plan to ask for an international investigation into German armaments, it was learned Saturday. In event the inquiry is held it will follow Germany's demand for equality with other great powers.

At the same time of the Campylyva movement of like nature movement for unity in Pentecost took place in Kentucky under the leadership of another Presbyterian minister, Barton W. Stone. Stone and Alexander Campbell met in 1824, and began a series of conferences which resulted in the fusion of the two groups. Union was proclaimed in May 1841, which was the first church of the new movement. The group was accepted into the Redstone Baptist association, but the practice of the Washington Association of recognizing as Christian those who had not been immersed and its liberal attitude of fellowship toward all converts led to a breach which resulted in the formation of a separate movement. Thus the movement, inaugurated by Thomas Campbell for the union of scattered and hostile forces in the church, within only a few years resulted in a movement that became a distinct movement.

Union The early preachers of the movement for unity were special students of the New Testament, and preached with scriptural power. This emphasis upon a study of the New Testament caused a laxness of interest in educational institutions for a time, but later the movement was marked by the founding of numerous colleges throughout the country, until today, it sponsors important educational institutions in all parts of the country. Chief among these are Drake University, Phillips University, Texas Christian University, Bethany College, Eureka College, Transylvania College, and Butler University.

The official headquarters of the United Christian Missionary Society, the official missionary organization of the church is at Indianapolis, Indiana. Under the United Society, the work of six formerly independent boards is being carried on. The church has an impressive missionary program, having a missionary program, that reaches to Africa, China, India, Jamaica, Japan, Mexico, Philippine Islands, Porto Rico, South America, and Tibet. Other work being done under the United Society is under the Boards of Home Missions, Church Extension, Benevolence, Religious Education, Missionary Education, the Board of Christian Literature, and the Board of Christian Unity and the Board of Temperance and Social Welfare.

Church Makes Great Strikes Within Nation

Movement For Unity Inaugurated In America Century Ago

BY D. R. LINDLEY Maintaining that all Christian bodies should unite into one body, and that this union can be attained only upon the basis of the New Testament scriptures, the Christian church of Disciples of Christ has made phenomenal strides forward during the past century. Beginning with a small group early in the nineteenth century which sought to soften the intolerant spirit then prevailing among the churches of America, the movement has been marked by a phenomenal growth which at the end of a hundred years has placed it as the fifth largest religious group in America, numbering more than two million communicants. Probably the greatest success of the movement has been not in its organic growth, but in the success with which it has turned the keenest thinking minds in all the large religious bodies to a study of the problem of Christian Unity.

The movement had its inception at the beginning of the nineteenth century with the work of men like Thomas Campbell, Alexander Campbell, and Barton W. Stone, who definitely set themselves to the task of breaking down the exclusive and intolerant walls which had been reared between the denominations of that day.

Thomas Campbell brought his credentials in the efforts to effect a union of the Burgher and Anti-Burgher Presbyterian Churches of Scotland, in 1807. Thomas Campbell migrated to America both because he desired working with churches of a more tolerant religious spirit. The religious situation in America, however, was no less confusing than it was in Ireland. The Congregational church was the established church of New England; the Anglican church was the established church of the southern colonies; and there was a mixture of denominations in the middle colonies. The Dutch Reformed church led in New York; the Lutheran church was the most important in Delaware; the Quakers were prominent in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Assigned The Baptists and Presbyterians were scattered throughout the middle colonies. Thomas Campbell brought his credentials from the Seceder branch of the Presbyterian church in Scotland, and was assigned by the Churches Presbytery to a group of scattered churches in Washington county. His breadth of thought and scholarship soon won for himself a place of recognition in the New World, but his liberal spirit toward Christians of other religious bodies soon resulted in charges being preferred against him before the Pres-

Planning to inaugurate the national Boy Scout campaign in the Buffalo Trail Area, to enroll one out of every four boys in the country, with the ultimate aim of having one out of every four male citizens scout-trained, a meeting of the executive committee has been called for Big Spring next Monday evening.

The meeting was called by Charles E. Paxton, of Sweetwater, president of the council and was announced Tuesday morning by A. C. Williamson of Sweetwater, area executive.

Mr. Williamson is just back from Mineral Wells, where he attended a regional meeting of scout leaders from Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

National leaders who attended the Mineral Wells meeting included E. Ulmer Goodman, director of the division of programs; Stanley A. Harris, director of racial activities; and O. H. Benson, director of rural scouting and the founder of the Club movement in this country.

Now Oil Well Near Blackwell May Be Commercial Producer

SWEETWATER—George Luke, the driller on the Mid-Kansas Oil and Gas company's test southwest of Blackwell, says that the new well did not pick up its show of oil Tuesday from the same sand as found in the Mid-Kansas No. 1, Lacey well, which made a show in April, 1929, at 3,755 feet.

Luke drilled the Lacey well and has been with the Mid-Kansas for years. He drilled in the No. 1 Yates in Pecos county, which was the discovery well in that field, the greatest oil pool in West Texas and one of the largest on the North American continent.

He says the No. 1 C. J. Henry, the present Blackwell test is going to make a well. He is not convinced that there is enough gas to justify this well as a natural producer, but believes it will make plenty of oil on the pump.

He does not join with some geologists in believing that the Henry well is 200 feet low on the structure found in the Lacey test—because he thinks it is an entirely different structure and may or may not be an edge well.

Luke reasoned that as the well was so much lower than the Lacey test that it would have to be on the edge of the structure, and would undoubtedly have less oil than the Lacey, which was never completed as a producer.

Luke thinks it is a new structure and a new sand and knows it is a new grade of oil. The Lacey oil was 42 gravity, the Henry oil tests but 38. He reasons that the Lacey well was the fluke—not the Henry well.

CALL OF THE WEST

By R. G. MONTGOMERY

CHAPTER II

Dudley Winters tapped the cork tip of his cigar on the arm of his chair and smiled. He had just delivered himself of an order and he was expecting it to be taken with the weight. The person to whom this mandate had been directed was curled up in a deep chair, gazing meditatively out the nearest window.

"Don't be antique, Dud! Engaged men don't rush around drelling their fiancées what to do in this age," Dona Delo turned impatiently and pursed her lips in a most tantalizing manner.

"Winters arose and strode across the room. He bent over the easy chair and scowled at its occupant in a mock fit of anger. "Want me to drag you out of that chair by your hair, woman?" He bent over and tried to steal a kiss but Dona evaded his lips and pushed him aside.

"Full your cave in after you, my returned. I have things on my mind," Dudley straightened and a defiant frown clouded his handsome face. His mouth drooped a little at the corners when he frowned and Dona fancied her.

"You're thinking about that wash out, Black, when you should be listening to me," Dudley could not hide the way he vanished shows what he thinks of you."

Dona uncurled and let her little heels click on the floor. "He certainly took a great deal of pains not to make himself unpleasant." Her eyes showed that she had not liked that remark of Dudley's.

Sensing a quarrel, the young man arched and changed his tactics. "After all, why worry about this fellow Black? He was plainly a one-day visitor to the city and already I'm dumping him back in the hills and mountains of his own country. He drew Dona down among the cushions and pinched her arm. "Mr. Black is a true knight and I shall thank him for saving you when you find him."

"Dad will locate him when he gets back," Dona flashed moodily. "Your Dad must be out for big game on this trip," Dudley said, seating himself upon the arm of her chair. He sent a thin spiral of smoke curling toward the ceiling.

"He had his rifle and one of those portable cannons commonly known as six guns out on his desk and all-out."

The girl smiled and straightened. This was news to her. She had been so busy checking upon the whereabouts of a certain Stanley Black that she had forgotten all about her father's trip to Three Rivers. "Guns?" she echoed.

"Sure. A young arsenal and whole pile of cartridges. He had all the accessories, too. A sleeping bag and a pile of regular western paraphernalia. Dudley was glad he had struck upon a topic that had no fire in it.

"Where did you see him?" Dona demanded uneasily. "I had not expected her father to return to the rough country. He had promised her he was through with the dangerous game."

"Accident," Dudley said. "Her anxiety was aroused at once and she caught herself wondering where Stanley Black could be. If he were at hand she knew he would be able to tell her what to do.

"I stopped in upon him at the office when I was looking for you make him mad and he'd tell me to and moved nearer with her face bar closer to him. "If I drag your Dad back from Three Rivers without his having killed anybody what will be my reward?" His lips were eagerly near to hers now.

Dona smiled up at him. "What would you ask?" she queried.

"You ask me that?" He pulled her against him. "What have I been asking for the past three months?"

Dona pushed him away. "You'll have to make a lot of preparations. She was smiling now. Dudley had come through with more credit than she had expected and she was ashamed of the thoughts that had been lurking in the back of her mind.

"Your answer first, my little lady. He caught and held her tightly.

"Whatever you ask, but you must get father to give up this wild idea of shooting anyone." Playfully she shoved him away as he tried to gather her slender shoulders in a close embrace. "Your reward, Sir Knight, must wait upon your success."

Dudley shook her lightly and released her. "You are a hard taskmaster, Princess." He bowed with a wide sweep of his arm. "But your knight rides forth at dawn to do your bidding."

"At dawn and in my roadster. I am going to Three Rivers with you, sir."

"No you don't! This may be a case of long-tying your four parent and shipping him back of express. Dudley was smiling at the thought of being involved in it. You will sit right here and wait the by from the telegraph office. Once every hour or oftener he will deliver a report on the progress at Three Rivers."

Dudley patted his chest and struck a heroic attitude that was gravely comical.

Standing before her in his faultlessly tailored suit, his hair combed back smoothly and his tie knotted with careless perfection, Dudley Winters looked more capable of braving the dangers of a bridge party among dowagers than of rough mission. Dona was certain however that he had the strength to handle the job.

"Just the same I'm going. I'll stay at the company hotel and be perfectly safe and I may be able to help. Don't you want me where you can see me every day?" She arose

Vote Contest

Opinion Given By Senators

Russek, Parrish, Neal, Hornsby And Martin Criticise Movement

AUSTIN, (UP)—Denouncement flared in the state senate of accusations made by Governor Ross Sterling in his election contest suit against Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson on the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, filed in district court here.

Five senators whose districts irregularities were charged stated their resentment from the senate floor. These were Senator Margie Neal, Carthage; Gus Russek, Schulenburg, Pink Parrish, Lubbock, John Hornsby, Austin and W. M. Martin, Hillsboro.

"I think it a reflection on the state to accuse so many people and I protest such action," Senator Russek said, opening the barrage of statements.

"In my opinion," Senator Parrish said, "Governor Sterling did not have the knowledge of accusations made in these charges. I resent them."

"It seems strange that only the four counties in my district are being accused," Senator Hornsby said. H. G. Woodruff, Cedar, said his district would welcome an investigation although the accusations doubtless were groundless.

The discussion ended when Senator Thomas Pollard, Tyler, raised a point of order that the discussion of the matter was not proper and should be left to the court for determination.

"However," Pollard said, "I think I would make my allegations more specific if I were making them."

Senator Walter Woodul, Houston, attempted to ridicule the attackers by pointing out that they had insisted the matter be left to the courts when the senate investigation resolution was being considered and "now that that has been done you are fussing because they have done so."

How the election contest can be pushed through before the time for certification of the nomination was puzzling state officers.

Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum counters the law to call for her nomination to county judges to be kept out 30 days before the general election, which will be on November 8.

Five days after that would make Tuesday, Sept. 20, the earliest day on which a hearing could be forced. Nineteen days would be left for contesting the ballots in 128 counties, perfecting an appeal to the court, taking an appeal to the supreme court, the act making a civil appeals court decision final in an election contest, does not apply to state offices, it was said.

Judge Ocie Speer, who with Judge Luther Nickels, both former members of the supreme court commission, filed the Ferguson mandamus application, said he had expected to file it on Wednesday. Only a $10 cost bond was filed with it. That is sufficient to pay the citation charges but a $10,000 bond is expected if the call is made for election boxes.

Mrs. A. T. Hammett and son, W. A. of Albuquerque, N. M., wife and son of former Governor A. T. Hammett of New Mexico, passed over Big Spring Monday evening on American Airways eastbound ship, en route to Wagon Springs, Texas, where young Hammett will undergo treatment. He was injured in an automobile accident two years ago, and as a result has been paralyzed from the hips down. They returned to Dallas overnight, but took the morning plane for Atlanta, and will go from there to Wagon Springs. It will be remembered that Wagon Springs is the resort where Governor W. C. Rousevelt underwent treatment.

The little fellow was taken off the ship here by American Airways attendants, and taken to the company's hospital room, while the big ship was being refueled.

PASSAGE OF BOND ASSUMPTION BILL TO RELIEVE HOWARD CO. OF $127,000, IT IS ESTIMATED

This Figure May Be Larger When Measure Is Finally Approved; County Rate May Be Reduced 15c; Total Bonded Debt $238,000

COUNTY TAX RATE ALREADY LOW

After State Aid Is Applied, Total Bonded Indebtedness Of Howard County Will Be Less Than $100,000, Says Judge Debenport

(By JOE PICKLE) For several months now citizens of this county have listened to the airy nothings of politicians clamoring for tax reductions brought about by reduced governmental operations cost.

This decline in the tax rate here has come about, or will come about, due to the passage and signing of the highway bond assumption bill proposed by the governor and enacted into law during the special session of the legislature Wednesday.

The surprise which B. F. Robbins, president of the Business Men's Luncheon Club, promised last week materialized Wednesday in the announcement of a series of five-minute talks by different speakers on "Needs of Big Spring and Howard County."

Luncheon Club Hears Talk On Community Needs

The surprise which B. F. Robbins, president of the Business Men's Luncheon Club, promised last week materialized Wednesday in the announcement of a series of five-minute talks by different speakers on "Needs of Big Spring and Howard County."

Bruce Fisher initiated the series by a talk on the usefulness of a local slaughter house for properly killing and chilling meat for human consumption. He stated that such towns as San Angelo, Temple and Lubbock had such abattoirs.

Howard county has $238,000 bonded indebtedness with assets totaling $10,867.29 in sinking funds. County Judge H. R. Debenport estimates that $127,000 of this amount will be lifted by the state. He even says there is a possibility that only $100,000 or less will be needed to pay off the bonded indebtedness for this county.

His reasons for believing that this county will be eligible for more than $127,000 is that engineering costs preparatory to surfacing roads are not as high as in other counties. He also pointed out that the highway bonds are being sold at a discount.

Another feature in the county's favor is the clause providing that each county may determine means and manner of payment. The bonds can be sold in one lump sum over a period of years. The state method is followed, therefore, the state will fall in line.

In 1926 Howard county spent large sums placing gravel on highways. No. 9 miles in each district. In 1932 No. 9 was given the most thorough treatment of any county before being turned over to the state.

It was in 1925 that this county agreed with the state to lay a three-layer asphalt topping on all of No. 9 and on ten miles of No. 4. The county went through with the end of the bargain but it is history that the contractors for the state only placed one layer of the three on the roads mentioned.

Regardless of what happened to the other two layers, it is a fact that this county paid for thirty-two miles of topping on No. 9 and ten on No. 4. Not only that, this county paid all engineering costs.

Right now Judge Debenport is the busiest man in Big Spring. He must finish his budget for next year and have commissioners approve it. Then he must search all records to find exactly what Howard county is entitled to under the provisions of the assumption bill.

This time he will supervise efforts to have the highway bonds sold at a discount. He will also see to it that the state will pay for the state's share of the cost of the roads.

But back to local tax relief. Indications are that the county commissioners court will levy the original seventy-cents. They will make sure it is constitutionally correct. It will instruct Tax Collector, Loy Acuff to collect only four-fifths of the levy. Such is an example of legal expedience, but relief is relief.

FLOWER BEDS IN FRONT OF CAMERON LUMBER COMPANY SCENE OF BEAUTY

(By O. B. F.) A little over five years ago a stranger to Big Spring called on one of the leading real estate agents and told him he was looking for a half block of property fairly close in. The stranger was G. R. Porter and the property was for the site of a Cameron Lumber yard.

For several days the two men rode up and down the Big Spring streets and everytime Mr. Porter went down Scurry he liked that street. The real estate agent knew nothing of the reason for the sale except that it was for a place of business. But that was enough, to make him throw up his hands in horror at the idea of erecting a business house on the sacred precincts of Scurry south of Fifth.

One day Mr. Porter knocked on Mrs. J. I. McDowell's front door and asked her outright how much she would take for her lot. She named a cash sum right off. Later on the advice of her bankers she advanced the sum by $2500.

Porter's interest in the garden plot that extends across the front of the yard. When Mr. Porter discovered what a strong sentimental feeling the townspeople and especially the residents of that section of Scurry had for the large attractive lawn of the McDowell's, he compromised to the best of his ability by making a showplace of his front.

It is a policy of Cameron's, he said, to have attractive fronts wherever possible. Throughout East Texas periwinkles always bloom before the peculiar burnt orange fronts of Cameron's lumber yards—a paint color, by the way, they originated.

Last year zinnias tossed their many colored heads along the curbing and beside the walks. At the same time four cox combs donated to Mr. Porter personally by W. B. Clark were growing beside the front walk. Mr. Porter kept some of their seed and planted some along the curbing this year. The result is a bed of a rich purplish red—a bed that many people stop to admire.

This year, too, the cannas in their round beds have grown and added more color against the background of rich shrubbery. Only the poplars have not done well; they are not suited to this country, to Mr. Porter's great disappointment.

There is another reason, too, for the flowers. This is Mr. Porter's love for them. He has done a great deal of the work himself as well as the supervising. He has driven by late on cold winter nights and spent hours shaking the snow from the trees; he has had all kinds of soil food ordered and planted.

Keeping up the place is not an easy thing, financially or otherwise. The water bill runs between $10 and $20 a month. It takes three days of solid running, he says, to give the whole front a complete soaking.

The place is making the coxcomb fashionable. There is today in Mr. Porter's office a list of almost fifty people to whom he has promised seeds and some of the young plants. He is going to cover Big Spring with coxcomb.

Eighty To Ninety Millions To Be Taken Off Counties Highway Fund

AUSTIN (AP)—Governor Sterling Saturday signed the bill enacted by the legislature relieving counties of indebtedness incurred to construct highways now a part of the state road system.

The law is designed to remove from individual taxes levies sufficient to take care of interest and sinking fund requirements on debts aggregating between eighty and ninety millions of dollars in building highways.

The governor sent a message to the legislature congratulating it "upon the fine work you have done."

Fair Weather Hastening Picking After Late Wet Spell

Fair weather for another week will flood roads to Howard county with a parade of cotton loaded wagons. Local gin managers expressed such a belief Saturday.

Wet and cold weather in late August and early September slowed up opening cotton just as bollworms are beginning to break. Once more the sun is beginning to do its work and all that is needed is a hot rain, in the opinion of farmers, that fell in the last week of August did not harm cotton, but possibly in some instances helped it.

Cotton growers are of one voice in declaring that this is not a worm year; hence worms are not likely to do extensive damage. Most harm from a bad stretch of pre-autumnal weather came to feed stuff. Some farmers had stuff in shocks at the time, while others were preparing to cut and bundle. Young feed stuff about to head was materially damaged in some sections by a bad stretch of pre-autumnal weather came to feed stuff.

All in all appearance more than quality was hurt in the feed damage. It still has qualities of good cattle feed, but will not bring much on the market.

DALLAS (UP)—Texas' cotton crop has suffered considerably from recent heavy rains, the Dallas Morning News said in its weekly crop survey report.

The excessive dampness will cause root rot, greatly increase damage from insects, prevent opening and delay harvesting, the report said.

Two birds of the cotton growing area of the state will be the subject of possible heavy damage by weevils, according to the News.

Except for the northwest and west portions of the state, there is practically no chance for an increase in the crop estimate, despite a week of clear weather which has followed heavy rains, the report said.

County Tax Rate Set At 75c Per $100

Commissioners Court Approve Budget In Session Tuesday Afternoon

Howard county tax rate for 1933 will be seventy-five cents per hundred dollars valuation. The rate is the same as for the past year.

County commissioners Tuesday afternoon heard and approved the budget compiled by Judge H. R. Debenport, county judge, for the year of 1933. A certified copy of the budget and tax rate has been filed with the county clerk.

In reality the tax rate will be lower. Once it is determined the amount Howard county is eligible to be relieved of under the highway bond assumption bill, commissioners and Judge Debenport will authorize the tax collector to collect only a certain per cent of the levy.

A county home demonstration agent was not provided for by commissioners in approving the budget. Cognizance was taken of a possible responsibility in buying right of way in return for surfaced roads for the state.

A general fund ... Special road and bridge fund ... Good road bonds fund ... Court house and jail warrants ... Viaduct warrant fund ... TOTAL LEVY ... Common school district tax levy in each district of the county were announced.

WASHINGTON (UP)—The census bureau reported that 402,601 bales of cotton were consumed in United States during August, compared with 425,000 bales in August last year.

Total bales on hand Aug. 31 in consumers' establishments were reported at 1,090,421 bales, as against 840,783 bales on Aug. 31, 1931. A total of 6,247,563 bales was on hand in public storage and at compressors on the same date, as compared with 4,426,399 in 1931.

Cotton spinners active during August numbered 2,022,490, as against 25,630,136 in 1931. United States exports in August totaled 452,154 running bales, including linters, as against 231,630 bales in August 1931. Linters exported were 16,606 bales during August, as compared with 5241 bales on August 1931.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Cotton picking and ginning made rapid progress last week, aided by favorable weather for outdoor operations in many sections of the cotton belt, the U. S. Weather bureau reported.

The week was entirely rainless, except in limited areas of the southeast and parts of Texas.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Glowing reports of an "unprecedented movement" in the cotton textile industry were carried to President Hoover by George A. Sloan, president of the cotton textile institute.

Sloan said the industry had the best sales in its history during the month of August, and that as a result the cotton stocks in textile mills had reached the lowest ebb in the last four or five years.

Coach Hennig To Send His Team Against Abilene Eagles October 2

By CURTIS BISHOP (This is the first of a series of articles dealing with the 1932 District Three team.) Sweetwater's marauding Mustangs, District 3 champions last season and a worthy foe for the state championship Abilene Eagles in the district eliminations, stand ready to make a valiant defense of their laurels this year.

Coach E. A. Hennig, the tall, Danish mentor, will send his charges against the Abilene Eagles on Oct. 2 in the spotlight non-conference battle, will meet the strong class B Snyder Tigers a week later, and will then open his conference schedule on Oct. 15 against the Midland Bulldogs in Sweetwater. Last year the Ponies defeated the Bulldogs 7 to 0 on Thanksgiving Day.

All, however, will not be a bed of roses for Sweetwater this year. The Mustangs, deprived of the services of Ben Hume, Oak Brockie, Frankiel, Blodgett, and others from the team last year, will have to rely on Leroy Trimsey as the only returning veteran. Virgil Jones, one of last year's swimmers, has been shifted to the backfield, leaving a gaping hole in the line for Hennig to fill. Sapp Jones at center, N. B. Hall, Jr., and Frank Newberry head the list of candidates for line positions.

No backfield worries are due to come forward unless injuries do the Mustangs' footsteps. For quarterback one of the best all-around backs in West Texas, and will be the District last year, and a veteran defensive man as well, Milt Hicks "the Rogooe Rambler," will not be on hand to bear the brunt of the ball carrying duties, but this department should be handled exceedingly well by Spiegel Woodard and Ney Sheridan. Sheridan last year was one of the best all-around backs in West Texas, and will be the punting and a portion of the passing in addition to mail-carrying duties.

A change from the Hennig system of last year is expected to feature the Mustangs' play this year, with Sheran and Blodgett featuring a wide-open, offensive game. Following their opening conference game with the Midland Bulldogs on Oct. 21 the Ponies will meet the Big Spring Leers on Oct. 21 in Big Spring in a traditional game that will have an important bearing upon the district championship. Last year the Hennig team lost in a hard-fought battle 7 to 0 in Sweetwater.

On November 5 the Mustangs meet the strong McCamey Badgers on the McCamey field, will entertain the Colorado Wolves in Sweetwater on Armistice Day, and will close the conference season against San Angelo on Thanksgiving Day in Sweetwater.

Despite rumors to the contrary Coach Hennig and Superintendent Ben Hume are confident that the entire squad will be eligible for competition this season. The "trick" ruling that was passed by the district eligibility committee in the winter is not expected to stand up under severe attacks, and the players supposedly affected by the legislation are unworried over the outcome.

Hennig sees no reason why his red-jerseyed warriors should not repeat their championship march of 1931. His club should be very bit as strong as in last season, with a backfield that will compare favorably with any club in the state and a line that will be heavier, if less experienced, than the former wall of a year ago. Sapp Jones and San Angelo, however, will come in for their share of attention, and the Mustangs are not taking the McCamey Badgers too lightly.

FOXX ENDS SEASON TWO SHORT OF RUTH'S HOME RUN RECORD

YANKEES COMPLETE SEASON WITHOUT SHUT-OUT; CLEVELAND SPLITS, TIGERS WIN

WASHINGTON—Jimmy Foxx blasted his fifty-eighth home run of the season, two short of Babe Ruth's record, in a perfect day at bat, but the Senators licked the Athletics, 2 to 1, Sunday in closing their 1932 rivalry.

The Philadelphia first sacker apparently fell just short of taking the American League batting honors away from Dale Alexander, despite his .364 mark, as the unofficial average gave him .364 against .367. Foxx made a homer and two singles in three times at bat.

General Alvin Crowder of the Senators took the league lead in games won, chalking up his twenty-sixth of the year and fifteenth straight. Except for Foxx, only two Athletics got as far as second and none to third of his delivery.

The victory gave the third-place Washington team a lead of two games over the Mackmen for the season, the Senators winning 12 and losing 10 to their second-place opponents.

CLEVELAND—Cleveland won the second game of the season, 4 to 3, in the final game of the season Sunday.

BOSTON—Dusty Rhoades and Paul Andrews, former Yankees, let the American League pennant winners down with six hits Sunday as Boston defeated New York, 3 to 1, in the final game of the season.

The Yankees used a pitched-up lineup through part of the game but were able to complete the season without a shutout and to run their consecutive game record in this respect to 211. They played 156 games this year and 55 last, since the last game in which they failed to score.

BOVINES WON 1931 CONTEST BY 13-0 SCORE

Lamesa Teams Holds Edge In Games Won Over Period Of Seven Years

OBIE BRISTOW'S Big Spring high Steers, the "point-per-minute" team of the 1931 state high school grid was expected to meet a merry battle Friday afternoon when the Lamesa high school team from the Lamesa high school met them in a contest for the first game of the season.

Last year the Bovines started out on their mad scoring spree by winning from Lamesa 13 to 0 in a close-fought battle on the local field.

A group of competition with the Tornados was a 3 to 2 margin in games won and lost and will in addition have the advantage of playing on their home field.

Missing from that "wonder team" of 1931, moreover, are two backfield men, Flowers and Dennis, who together contributed 203 points to the record total of 338. Missing also are Oscar Heibison, hard-hitting fullback and Carleton Coburn, another backfield star.

Starting in their place will probably be Fred Townsend, 129 pound flyer, Fred Kobers, 152 pound lineman in his first year of varsity experience and co-captain Henry Richburg, earning his first starting berth. Howard Schwanbach will again occupy the quarterback position.

The wings are as strongly fortified as of last season, with Charles Vines and Co-captain Dub Coole due to get the call. Vines is playing his first year on the varsity with Oile Cordell, Frank McCleskey, a squadmate last year and little mentioned as a first string threat, is certain to be given a trial in the contest.

Missing are both of the starting tackles last season, but Red Sanders, a letterman, will be on hand to fill one of the positions. As his running mate will probably be Army Armstrong, a heavyweight now was on the squad last year.

At guards Fred Martin, one of the linemen of the 1931 line, will be on hand to carry a major share of the defensive load, with a veteran, Clifton Smith, as his running mate. Orville Hildner, a linemen, is still untried and another veteran may be possibly added to the Boy ina roster. Reserve strength in service with Ralph Duval as the only likely newcomer, but either Flowers or Dyer may see service as a guard. Martin will probably be pulled back to a roving center's post as some point during the contest.

Neither Elmer Dyer or Bob Flowers, with Dyer probably as the starting center, are liable to experience any difficulty handling the pivot position.

Complete probable starting lineup: Richburg, fb; Townsend and Kobers, halfbacks; Schwarzenbach, quarterback; Vines and Coole, ends; Armstrong and Sanders, tackles; Smith and Martin, guards; Dyer or Flowers, center.

LIGHT BEGINNING TO BREAK FOR OWNERS OF YATES POOL PROPERTY LONG TIED UP IN TITLE LITIGATION

AUSTIN—Light is beginning to break for the owners, including the State of Texas, of approximately $50,000,000 impounded in major oil companies' treasuries as the result of a series of lawsuits concerning title to the gigantic Yates oil pool of Pecos county.

The money is being held by a trust set up by the legal-claimants pending outcome of three major suits now on appeal. Early determination of its ownership apparently has been threatened with delay from but one remaining source.

Attorney General James V. Allred officially estimated the amount involved to be $50,000,000. One company alone announced in open court he recited, that it has on hand $25,000,000 that it can not pay out until the court cases are determined.

One of the famous cases, that of Turner vs. Smith, already is in the supreme court. On motion of Attorney General James V. Allred, the Whiteside case, involving hundreds of parties and the huge sum of impounded funds, was advanced by the supreme court. This will permit consolidating all the cases. The issues in the Whiteside case will more fully cover disposition of legal arguments over local oil interests. See Pecos county case.

Policy of the supreme court, when it resumes after a summer vacation period to work on its old cases rather than new cases, except those of emergency nature, indicates early adjudication of these Pecos county cases, involving the largest amounts ever at issue and the payment of huge sums impounded to await decision as their legal owners.

Third civil appeals court indicated in June its purpose to certify questions of the Whiteside case. Recently many of the scores of lawyers representing numerous interests in the massive cases, have been holding discussions as to the law questions to be certified up to supreme court.

Third civil appeals court begins its new term Monday; and unless there are exceptional delay caused by the discussion of the cases, decision of lawyers at divergent interest, over the subject matter of the questions certified, the entire body of the Pecos county litigation should be before supreme court shortly.

Justice of the peace court stated their purpose to work on the old cases.

The Smith Turner-Smith case was filed more than three years ago; and it was submitted finally in arguments of counsel before the supreme court on Oct. 21, 1931.

The Whiteside case, more recently tried here, was appealed to third civil appeals court this year. On appeal, the name of this case is Douglas Oil company vs. state. On motion of Attorney General James V. Allred in May, the appeals court advanced and hear arguments before the summer recess.

This suit involves fixing title to Block 194 in Pecos county, affecting several thousand acres of the Yates pool. Trial court here held title in state on all issues in controversy.

The effect of final court determination of the cases will be to say whether state vacancies lie in the heart of the oil pool, or on the opposite side of the block, thus affecting location of all titles in the area, including the state's claim of public lands, and its leases.

The state's claim will probably be applied to the counties of the State. The State Treasurer has to keep an account with each county. Each year, by the first day of August, this board must notify the Commissioners' Court how much money they will have during the ensuing year to pay off the county's bonds, and the county must set over at a time it is to be declared what they lack of the amount which will become due during that year. The Legislature must, each two years, make appropriation of these funds to pay these bonds, as the Legislature is prohibited, by constitutional provisions, to appropriate money for more than a constitutional provision that the State cannot pay a county debt, or lend its credit to the county, and that is the reason the Legislature decreed these bonds to be the obligations of the State, instead of the county.

I see that some counties are only levying a tax sufficient to pay off the principal and interest of their bonds which in the State files, think and if the tax should be declared unconstitutional, then we will have already levied our tax and it will be on the books for collection. If the courts do not declare the law unconstitutional before the tax collecting period, and after the State has notified us what they will pay off during next year, then the Commissioners' Court will authorize the Tax Collector to collect only sufficient amount which we ascertain will be required to pay our part on the bonds still outstanding. It is our purpose to levy the same safely, and if the tax should be declared unconstitutional, then we will have already levied our tax and it will be on the books for collection.
