Sunday, A Special For Mothers

Throughout the Land this Sunday, extra special gifts will be presented to Mothers, special programs will be dedicated in church services throughout the Nation, and Mothers will be treated for this day as they should be treated every day of the year.

Mother's Day is a special day in the United States, strangely enough initiated by one who never was a mother herself, Anna M. Jarvis. The first Mother's Day observance, a church service held at Anna Jarvis' request in Grafton, West Virginia, May 10, 1908 which really paid homage to her mother, Mrs. Anna Reese Jarvis.

The carnations which have become such a familiar part of Mother's Day were introduced and supplied at that first service by Miss Jarvis and were chosen because of her mother's fondness for this particular flower. In time red carnations have become the symbol of a living mother while white ones are worn as a sign that one's mother has died.

This public recognition of one's mother took hold and soon became not only national but international as well. The first Mother's Day proclamation was issued by the governor of Virginia in 1910 with Oklahoma celebrating it that same year. By 1911 there was not a state in the Union that did not have its own observance. It was on May 9, 1914 that President Woodrow Wilson issued his Mother's Day Proclamation designating the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day--making it an official National observance with flags to be flown as a "public expression of our love and reverence for the mothers of our country".

Unfortunately, Miss Jarvis whose thoughts were the inspiration for the day became disillusioned because of the secular qualities of the day which developed and finally became ill and died a lonely death in 1948.

Jerry and Cheryl Cloyd are shown here with their two month old daughter Jeri Kay at M&M Grocery. Cheryl worked at the store up till the time Jeri Kay was born on March 13, 1975 and the past week or so has been bringing her to the store for awhile where she seems to be at home in a shopping cart. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Owen Montgomery of Spearman and Mr. and Mrs. L.W. Cloyd of Longmont, Colo.

Altho her original meaning has been retained of honoring one's mother, flowers and gifts have become the order of the day and greetings are not only sent to one's mother, but to aunts, grandmothers, mothers-in-law and actually to anyone who deserves the accolades of motherhood, actual or imagined and dreamed of. Mother's Day 1975 will be no exception to the customs which have already been established and many a mother's heart will beat a bit faster and her spirits be a bit lighter because you remembered her on Mother's Day in some special way.

MOTHER'S DAY, 1975. A SPECIAL WISH from all of us to the wonderful mothers in Hansford County and elsewhere for a very happy day filled with love and happiness.

Wilson Family Safe After Kidnap-Robbery

A former resident of Spearman and her two sons were the victims of an overnight kidnaping and robbery Wednesday in Lubbock.

Mrs. A. L. Wilson, Jr., the former Bobbie Jean Lackey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Major Lackey of Spearman, and her two sons were held captive through the night at their home by Ruben Escobedo, 23 of Hobbs, N.M., and then forced to drive the man to the Lubbock National Bank where the bandit ordered a bank officer to give him $3500 and the group then fled in Mrs. Wilson's car.

Some 30 law enforcement units participated in the capture of the bandit on U.S. 87 and the release of the Wilson family.

The drama began around 6 p.m. Wednesday when Todd Wilson, 12, was feeding his horse near the Wilson's home. He was marched into the home at gunpoint where he and his mother, Bobbie, and his older brother, Mark, 18, were held captive through the night.

Early Thursday, Mrs. Wilson, fixed breakfast for Escobedo who told the family he planned to demand $35,000 from the Lubbock National Bank. He marched the family into the bank where a bank officer gave him $3,500, and the group fled in Mrs. Wilson's car.

After the Wilson car left the bank a long line of cars driven by police, Texas Rangers, sheriff's deputies and highway patrolmen followed, led by a motorcycle policeman, with a state police helicopter hovering overhead. Police said the motorcyclist pulled a longside the speeding car but was waved off by Mark Wilson who warned that the gunman was holding a pistol on his younger brother. A 45 mile chase up to speeds of 100 miles an hour followed.

Escobedo was arrested when the car approached a police roadblock two miles south of Plainview.

Mark Wilson jerked the gun from the hijacker who meekly surrendered to waiting officers.

The Wilson family was rescued unharmed.

A. L. Wilson, a Lubbock investor, was in Europe on business.

Escobedo was charged with aggravated robbery and aggravated kidnaping and jailed in Lubbock in lieu of $200,000 bond.

Shealy played high school football at Batesville, S.C. where he was all-state guard and captain of the football, basketball and baseball teams and the senior class president. He was a four-year starter at guard and linebacker at Canon-Newman, making Tri-State all-star honors twice and honorable mention All-American. He graduated in 1960 and went into the Marine Corps as a lieutenant, playing on the national champion service team at Quantico and in the Missile Bowl and Leatherneck Bowl. After discharge from the service he became head football and track coach at Lauren, S.C. High School where he won three conference track titles and in 1962 posted the first winning football season in eight years in the school.

In 1965 he went to Mars Hill College as assistant football coach and head track coach, and then returned to Canon-Newman the next year as offensive line coach and head track coach. In 1968 Shealy returned to Mars Hill as head coach, and in 1970 was called back to Canon-Newman as head coach. In 1972 his team compiled a 10-2 record and was No. 3 ranked in the nation. He was named "Citizen of the Year" by Jefferson Chy Chamber of Commerce. His overall record at Canon-Newman was 31-13.

In 1971 and 1972 he was honored as the NISA "Football Coach of the Year" and NAIA "Track Coach of the Year" in 1965. He has had 10 football players sign professional contracts and turned out four all-American performers.

BY NITA STEWART
A very Happy Mother's Day to all you lovely mothers. May Your Day be blessed with lots of love and happiness.

Chris Lamb of Gruver is back in Hansford Hospital once again. Chris is from the Lazy 96 Ranch in Gruver and married to a swell gal Theima (Cathy ha ha) Lamb.
Hope you are out of the hospital Chris, by the time the paper comes out. But anyway, Get Well Soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Hester's daughter, Paulette Pland had surgery May 6, in Stillwater, Oklahoma. Mrs. Hester is in Oklahoma helping with the children while Paulette is in the hospital. Hurry and Get Well, Paulette.

I hear my ole Buddy, Bill Burger has really had a time of it since coming home from the hospital. First off his Bulldog, which Billy thinks so much of, bit him and wouldn't let go. Took a hunk out of his arm so back to the doctor for tetanus shots same day he got home. Then he sat down in his recliner chair and I hear it really gave him a toss--Bill ole Buddy I hate to laugh but gosh! I'd of loved to have had my movie camera going and gotten pictures of it all. But putting all kidding aside, Hurry and get well we miss seeing you at ideas. Beulah that son of yours in really a case.

Once again our fine Volunteer Ambulance drivers Raymond Gilley and Clarence Mitchell answered a call which was an accident between a motorcycle and a car. Raymond and Clarence with their fast thinking split the victims pant leg and thought the victim could possibly have a broken leg so they put it in inflatable splints and rushed to Hansford Hospital where x-rays were taken and then the victim was rushed to North West Texas hospital where our volunteers were praised for their fast action by the Amarillo doctors. The victim was Roy A Lan Uprergrrove whose leg was broken but didn't require surgery after all. I praise these fine men for their fast action. I don't think the Volunteers get half the praise they all deserve.

Visiting in the home of the J. L. Pierce's is Jaunita's mother and step father, Mr. and Mrs. Homer McManus of Kingsland, Texas. We are always so glad to see Jaunita's parents, they are such nice folks, only they don't get up often enough. Homer has been ill for over a year and spent eight months in the VA Hospital. Glad your doing so well, Homer. Sorry Ruby and Rosa aren't here too.

What a nice surprise we had Thursday evening when lo and behold Joe Bynum, my son-in-law, brother and family from Phoenix, Arizona, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bynum and three daughters, Linda, Charolene, Janet and a lo Joe's Mother, Hattie Bynum of Pampa, Texas visited. We always enjoy so much their visits wish we all lived closer.

Edna Hays dropped by and is looking once again for babysitting jobs. She'll watch your children if you have to go shopping or to the beauty parlor or Amarillo or if you work she'll watch your child. Edna's a nice lady and loves children. You can reach her by calling 3678 or call me at 2186 or go by 507 E. 2nd St.

Jimmie Hester and son David and Le Hester left Saturday to go to Stillwater, Oklahoma to visit Paulette who is in the Hospital and also to bring back Mrs. Hester who has been in Stillwater this past week taking care of the grandchildren. On the 17th of May, The Jimmy Hesters are going to Snyder, Texas to pick up Jimmy's mother and then along with The David Hesters of Amarillo on going on to Lubbock to take in the Graduation of Tony Hester, who will be receiving his masters degree.

Jimmy Hester works for the Post Office. We are so glad that Paulette is much improved from her surgery.

If anyone needs a two bedroom house for rent contact Beulah Burger, she has one empty and would like to get permanent tenants.

She'll make a good deal for anyone wanting a place to live and stay put.
Mike Tucker enjoyed a visit Friday, Saturday, and Sunday in Lubbock. Mike is the son of Al Tucker who works at the Post Office. I hear Al and Mike are coaching a little league team this year. Hope your team does good. But of course, I'm still rooting for the Brave's because of my grandchildren.

Remember Spearman Scrambles, May 25th we bought a trophy to be awarded for the winner of the Wheelie Contest which we are sponsoring. The last cycle races were not held because it was too windy, but with the help of someone higher up maybe the wind won't blow. May 25. By the way, Joe alor of kids have been asking if there will be a Bike Race again.

God Bless You All-Remember Mother.

News For Veterans

The August 1, 1975, deadline for 2, 7 million Vietnam-era veterans who served on or after April 3, 1970, and before August 1, 1974, to apply for low-cost group life insurance from the Veterans Administration is rapidly approaching. Veterans Group Life Insurance (VGLI) is available in increments of $5,000 to a maximum of $20,000. For those aged 34 and under, the monthly premiums are 85 cents for $5,000; $1.70 for $10,000; $2.55 for $15,000 and $3.40 for $20,000 insurance coverage. For those aged 35 and over, the premium rates for the same amounts of coverage are $1.70; $3.40; $5.10; and $6.80 respectively.

Applications are available from any VA office, veterans service organization or county veterans service officer.

"These eligible veterans should seriously review their insurance needs for the protection of their families, and make application now for this low-cost policy," Johnny P. Vernon, county Veterans Service Officer, advises.

Those who take out VGLI may convert to an individual policy with one of the many participating commercial insurance companies at standard rates, regardless of health, at the expiration of the VGLI coverage, Vernon stresses.

Completed applications, first month's premium payment and proof of service must be submitted by Aug. 1, 1975, to Office of Servicemen's Group Life Insurance, 212 Washington Street, Newark, N.J. 07102.

The Honorable Howard "Bo" Calloway, Secretary of the Army, will deliver the main address on May 17th for the formal unveiling of a bronze statue of Audie L. Murphy and dedication of the new Audie L. Murphy Memorial Room at the $36 million Veterans Administration Hospital in San Antonio, Texas.

The public ceremony posthumously honoring the most decorated soldier of World War II and one of the greatest combat heroes of all time will highlight Armed Services Day observances in San Antonio.

Among those participating in the unveiling ceremony with Calloway will be Congressman Olin E. Teague, President of the Audie L. Murphy Foundation which is sponsoring the permanent exhibition. Congressman Ray Roberts (Democrat, 4th District, Texas), newly elected Chairman of the House Veterans Affairs Committee and numerous other members of the Texas delegation will also attend.

Congressman Teague who is now the ranking member of the Veterans Affairs Committee and former Chairman organized the Foundation for the Murphy project and was the author of the legislation to name the VA hospital in honor of Murphy.

The Memorial Room portrays Murphy's entire life from his boyhood in Hunt County, Texas, to his death in a private plane crash near Washington, D.C. in May of 1971.

The one-ton bronze sculpture created by one of the world's most renowned sculptresses, Jimlila Mason of Alexandria, Virginia, will stand at the entrance of the hospital.

Murphy won the Congressional Medal of Honor for having single-handedly battled six German tanks, while wounded, on the battlefields of eastern France. He won 29 other medals for his war deeds.

At home, he wrote an autobiographical account of the siege entitled, "To Hell and Back," and portrayed himself in the movie version of the work. In addition, he starred in 42 other motion pictures and wrote a number of hit songs.

The May 17 ceremony will be attended by a host of state and national dignitaries, national veterans and state organization officials and Murphy's close friends and family members. The general public is invited to attend the Saturday ceremony. No tickets are required.

Congressman Teague, himself the most decorated World War II veteran in the Congress, said that "this will be a tribute not only to a great citizen soldier, but to a fine American as well. We hope that by building this memorial, Audie Murphy's spirit and gallantry will help rekindle a greater degree of patriotism in us all."

Tractor School Dates Set

A tractor school will be held in Spearman, Saturday, May 17 and May 24 in the County Agricultural Building on the Rodeo Grounds. This school is for the purpose of training 14 and 15 year olds in the safe operation of a tractor.

Under current U.S. Department of Labor provisions farmers must not hire youth under 16 years of age for hazardous occupations around farms which includes among many jobs driving a tractor, except under certain conditions. Some of these conditions that allow farmers to work youth under 16 years of age is as follows: the youth be at least 14 years of age, be familiar with the normal working hazards in agriculture, complete 10 hours training on the 4-H tractor program, pass a written examination on tractor safety and demonstrate the ability to operate a tractor with a two-wheeled trailed implement to include backing. Any youth age 14 or 15 who plans to or wants a job driving a tractor must complete this course and receive a certificate of successful completion. The only exception is where a youth under 16 is employed by his parent on a farm owned or operated by such parent or person.

If any farmers or youth have any questions call the County Extension office, 659-2136 or 733-2901. Youth wanting to take this course must be present at 10:00 a.m. Saturday, May 17 at the Spearman County Agricultural Building. The hours of the course will be from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., May 17; and from 9:00 a.m. until approximately 2:00 p.m., May 24. There will be a lunch break for 1 hour each day. Youth must attend all sessions to be certified as having completed the course. The course will be under the supervision of the Hansford County Extension Agent, Joe VanZandt. Local implement dealers will assist in some phases of the program.

Public Meeting Concerning Alibates Nat'l Monument

The National Park Service today announced it will hold a public meeting concerning Alibates National Monument. The public is invited to attend the meeting to make suggestions and recommendations to the Park Service regarding the development of the monument.

The meeting will be held in the auditorium of Frank Phillips College in Borger, on May 29, 1975, starting at 1:00 p.m. Speakers are invited to comment on the preservation, interpretation, development, and management of Alibates Flint Quarries and Texas Panhandle Pueblo Culture National Monument. Public input on these topics is required by federal law prior to formulation of development plans for any National Park Service area.

Persons desiring more information or wishing to have their names placed on the speakers' list are asked to notify the National Park Service by May 28, 1975. Speakers may call or write the Superintendent, Lake Meredith Recreation Area, P.O. Box 1438, Fritch, TX 79036. The telephone number is (806) 657-3151.

Written comments may be mailed to Lake Meredith up to thirty (30) days after the meeting. Comments cannot be accepted by telephone. Written comments will be documented, and all proceedings at the public meeting will be tape recorded to assure documentation of all comments.

Comments and suggestions presented to the National Park Service will be used to draw up alternative proposals for preservation and use of the monument. At a later date, these alternatives, along with statements of their impact on the environment will be presented to the public for comment. After comments on the alternatives have been received, a master plan/development concept plan for Alibates will be written. These documents will form the basis for actual development of the monument.

Naylor Co. Publishes Book On Texas' Constitution

"Games Politicians Play" may well be another name for a fascinating documentary published by The Naylor Company of San Antonio. From the pen of Sen. Nelson Wolff comes the CHALLENGE OF CHANGE. In tarty candid style, our legislator tells just what happened during those days of decision to the people who were "lost in Austin."

The senator shows how the people of Texas are clearly hampered by that very document that is supposed to guarantee our state's role in national government, as well as state level legislation. Between 1836 and 1876, Texas had six constitutions. We still live by the last one. The author shows just how each had been written for the political climate of the time, and just how our present Constitution has been outmoded since the dawning of the space age. The document is poorly written, highly restrictive, and contains much statutory law. At best, it is anything but impressive.

A major part of this Texas tangle lies in the heart of our political system... our representatives. Senator Wolff feels that "many times we have public officials who vote for only popular causes, happen to be in a restroom when a controversial vote comes up, refuse to speak out on controversial issues, answer their mail in an ambiguous manner, send out meaningless newsletters, and make all the social functions grinning and glad-handing." All sorts of "games" may be played through parliamentary procedure and speculation. Voting for bills that the officeholder knows will fail, so that he may tell people in his jurisdiction that "he tried" is but one common "effort." Senator Wolff feels that, "Daniel Boone could have learned a lot about covering tracks if he were still around to watch the Legislature."

With a professional accuracy that few people have mastered, Wolff delves into historical background and those so-very-important "minor" details that show the desperate need for positive political change. The dangerous overcentralization of authority (in other words, Washington, D.C.) is emphasized in simple, but pointed language; the answers lie in the governments of the states. Apparently, few people are conscious of this, as only 25 percent of our population have ever worked on a political campaign. The present-day lack of involvement is staggering. And our leaders must instill confidence in the people if any progress is to be made. Herein lies the answer to many of our current crises.

A government that can be close to a people is the best approach to solving today's problems. And that means the state! So many disenchanting federal programs, so many that were outright failures... these certainly indicate need for change. And if the people can't do it through the state government, just how can they succeed in having a voice on the federal level? The senator shows that the best possible chance for survival is in the state government, because it can better cope with change, succeed in effective communication, and above all, it is closer to the people.

In addition to excellent, day-by-day documentation of the Constitutional Convention of 1872 and its varied "events," Wolff shows how heated debate, charges of misconduct, and personal animosities took their toll in irreparable damage to the convention. He relates the Constitution to the reader, reviewing Right to Work laws, environmental laws and educational provisions to mention only a few. With clear, practical explanation, he quotes liberally from his "conventional" colleagues, and includes commentary from Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Justice Louis D. Brandeis, and the media.

A new constitution for the State of Texas is of great importance. The news has failed to meet their responsibility in the federal system of government. They must assume their proper role, and the first major step is the adoption of a new constitution.

Recent developments have given way to the people of Texas. As of April 14, 1974, the state legislators have approved the products of this three-million dollar venture, and it will be put to vote on the November 4 ballot.

Nelson Wolff has served as a Bexar County representative in the Texas House and Senate. As a member of the House (71-72) he authored and passed that legislation which called for the revision of the Texas Constitution, in addition to serving on numerous other committees. Among his bills passed was that creating and funding the Constitutional Revision Commission during his term in the Texas Senate (72-73).

He was co-chairman of the Constitutional Revision Planning Committee and, as a delegate to the 1974 Constitutional Convention, served as chairman of the Submission and Transition Committee.

Nelson Wolff holds two degrees from St. Mary's University, one in business and another in law, and takes an active interest in his family's business at A Lamo Enterprises Building and Supplies. He and his wife have two children and make their home in San Antonio, Texas.

Kick Out the Quacks

Beware of a "sure cure" or "remedy" for any cancer, the American Cancer Society cautions. This is the language of the quack whose unfounded claims and unproven methods may prevent or delay prompt and proper treatment for cancer. In case of doubt, seek the advice of your local ACS.

Did you know there are 400,000 preschool aged children whose parents are working, and there are only enough licensed child care centers to accommodate 100,000?

That 32,000 Texas children under six are left to care for themselves while their mothers work, and an additional 33,000 may not be receiving care while their mothers work? Did you know that 75,000 Texas preschoolers eat no breakfast? That one half an adult intelligence is developed by the time a child is 4 or 5, according to Dr. William Abraham, Chairman of the Department of Special Education at Arizona State?

Did you know that Spearman will have a child care center that is trying to solve many of the above injustices that we have imposed on our little people? The center is called Kiddie World Inc. and is located at 511 SW 11th Street. Beverly Jenkins is the Director.

What will the Kiddie World offer to its preschool aged children?

1. Children are taught and observed by trained early childhood development staff.
2. The child gets unstructured intellectual training in an environment created for learning.
3. Positive centers stimulate cognitive, social, cultural and emotional development of children.
4. Children experience varied indoor activities including art, music, literature and science; various outdoor activities encourage large muscle development. Fine motor skills using specialized manipulative material encourage optimum motor development.

5. Children receive balanced diets to furnish and maintain adequate nutritional levels.

6. Available health care includes such services as immunizations, dental, eye and ear screenings and basic health teachings.

7. Centers are licensed to meet the state's minimum regulation for child care.

8. Parent involvement and education programs are available through these centers. Center makes available such resources as discussion groups and lectures, a library with suggested reading lists, opportunities for observing how skilled teachers deal with children, and personal conferences designed to help in preventing, or at least in working through family problems.

9. Firm but kind adult guidance teaches discipline without resorting to physical punishment.

Did you know in order to perform the above services for our children that in most cases it costs $6.50 per child per day? Most working mothers can not afford this prohibitive cost and therefore community support is a necessity. Supporting the Spearman Day Care Center not only is a tremendous human service but can benefit the businessman in the following ways:

1. A quality child care center allows the working mother to perform better and have less absenteeism because she can trust the center to take care of her child's educational, nutritional, and social needs while she is working.
2. Studies have shown that women who have quality child care are more productive and is one of the reasons for decreased turnover of employees.

3. Your contributions are deductible.

4. It is a highly visible public relations project.

5. You create good employee relations.

6. The educational and health benefits for young children effects them directly and their families indirectly in many positive ways.

7. It is an opportunity for businessmen to reverse the task of reeducating adults, and start participating in a more sound course of quality education in the beginning.

Do you need any more reasons on why your involvement is necessary? If so, here's one more: "You will be helping little children at a time in their lives when they need it most".

A lot of work is being put forth on the part of members of the Lions Club and the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce for the pageant, and it is hoped that many county girls will be interested and will take an active part in this annual event to make it a success.

Flint Quarry Tours To Start Memorial Day

SANFORD — Weekend tours of the Alibates National Monument will be available from Memorial Day through Labor Day, the National Park Service has announced.

Tours will be conducted at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. on Saturdays and Sundays until Memorial Day.

Alice Allen, information officer for Alibates, said spring tours of the flint quarries are an annual offering.

"But this year they are more important," she said. Development of Alibates National Monument is one of the goals of the Panhandle-wide Bicentennial effort.

Miss Allen explained that no actual development of visitor facilities can be accomplished this year. "But we can start thinking about what we should have in the area and how we can tell the story of the flint. The National Park Service intends to involve the people of the Panhandle in planning the future of Alibates."

"We know there are a lot of people who want to see the monument before the weather gets hot," said Miss Allen, "so we have scheduled weekend tours throughout the month of May. Everyone is welcome to come for the tours. Families do not need reservations, and there is no charge."

Tours can be arranged for organized groups or for weekdays by calling the National Park Service or writing to Lake Meredith Headquarters, P.O. Box 1438, Fritch, Tex., 79036.

Jaycee Corner

The Spearman Jaycees met Thursday, May 8th in the Community Building for a work session-business meeting.

The group worked on their meeting room prior to their business meeting. President, Dwayne Smith presided over the meeting.

Discussion was held on the Hansford County Celebration and barbecue.

The group voted to allow the slow pitch team to erect a temporary fence in the Babe Ruth Park, with the possibility of the Jaycees sponsoring a slow-pitch tournament later in the season.

The Jaycees voted to allow other organizations to conduct games and organize a parade for the youngsters for their July 4th watermelon feed.

Election of officers was postponed until May 15th. The Jaycees will meet at 7:30 for a work session at the Community Building, followed by the business meeting at 8:00.

Members present were Steven Slater, Fred Groves, Rusty Tindell, Del Baskin, Eddie Limbocker, James Martin and Dwayne Smith.

UT 4th In Enrollment

With 41,841 students, The University of Texas at Austin has the fourth largest enrollment in the U. S., according to an analysis recently released in Washington.

Ohio State, Michigan State and the University of Minnesota, in that order, outrank UT Austin in size.

The study also shows that UT Austin has the third largest undergraduate enrollment (33,494), the sixth largest first-time freshman enrollment (5,124) and the fifth largest number of women students (17,428). All figures are for the 1974 fall semester.

Ministerial Alliance Met

The Spearman Ministerial Fellowship Meeting was held Tuesday, May 6th at Martin's Steak Garden with wives as guests.

President, Archie Burress presided over the meeting.

The group donated money for a scholarship for a local boy to attend the Fellowship of Christian Athletes Camp in Colorado June 2nd through 7th.

This was the last meeting till next fall. Officers for 1975-76 will be elected in September.

Those present were Rev. and Mesdames: Russell Pogue, Jacob Regeir, C. E. Andersen, Archie Burress, Henry White, H. O. Abbott, Don Wirsdorfer, Lonnie Burress and Bob Sifrit.

A&M Professor To Present Atomic Program

Atomic energy and its uses will be demonstrated May 12 at Spearman High School.

A program titled "This Atomic World" will acquaint Spearman students with principles and sources of nuclear energy. Its role in agriculture, industry, medicine and research will be shown.

Orlan L. Ihms will conduct the 40-minute program sponsored by Texas A & M University's College of Engineering.

Using student terms, Ihms will explain structure of atoms, nuclear reactor operation and concepts

Old And Young Pedestrian Victims

Last year almost 10,000 pedestrians were killed and some 150,000 injured. Of this tragic toll, more than half of the people killed were 4 years of age and under or 65 and over. In fact, the figure is precisely 62% of those injured were among the youngest and oldest members of our population.

The reasons for this are not too difficult to analyze but solutions are hard to come by. Here are a few guidelines which may help avoid potential death for our old and young pedestrians.

Avoid standing or walking on roads at night. If you must walk the road at night, walk on the left side facing the oncoming traffic and wear white - or better yet, reflective material, to make yourself highly visible to drivers.

If you're using an umbrella, hold it high enough so it doesn't block your vision. Cross only at intersections (40% of pedestrian deaths are jaywalkers).

High Score was won by Mrs. Bill K. Jackson.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Cudd to members, Mesdames: Chalmers Porter, Ted Godfrey, Don Floyd, Garland Head, Irvin Davis, Bill K. Jackson and Don McLain.

The next meeting will be May 20th in the home of Mrs. Don Floyd.

Mrs. Preston Scott was hostess for the Hi-Lo Bridge Club Thursday evening in her home.

Mrs. Leonard Jameson had high score and Mrs. Bill Gandy had low.

Attending were Mesdames: Jameson, Gandy, R. E. Lee, John Berry, Vi Whitson, Gertrude Archer, Faye Lynch, and the hostess.

TEXAS TALK

By Vance Snider

After the Rough Riding was over, Teddy Roosevelt spent a lot of time making what he hoped would be remembered as profound statements. One of those is proving itself more every year. "We cannot afford to lose that preeminent typical American, the farmer who owns his own land." Many theories abound. Robert Aubrey lists it as a manifestation of what he calls the "Territorial Imperative." Others observe simply that a man will work harder for himself than for someone else. Undoubtedly true, but another, immeasurable factor is involved. . . . pride. American farmers are proud to be able to each produce enough for themselves and 50 others. And they're smart. Smart enough to use the right portions of ecology, mechanization, chemical know-how and management to make the same land produce more every year. In 65 years production per acre has increased more than 620 percent. The Rough Rider was right, we can't afford to lose the family farmer.

All Weather House Built In Lubbock

A fair-weather house is about as valuable as a fair-weather friend—just dandy until a day of trouble.

One civil engineer, Ernst W. Kiesling, has built an all weather house with features which can add an estimated $3,000 to the initial cost but which will save much more than that in dollars, energy and anxiety.

The House will be open for public inspection, Sunday, May 11, the anniversary of Lubbock's disastrous tornado of 1970. (Open house hours are 2-6 p.m. The house is located at 7012 Nashville Drive, between Indiana and Memphis avenues just north of Loop 289 in southwest Lubbock.)

Dr. Kiesling is chairman of Texas Tech University's Department of Civil Engineering. He also works with wind engineers in the university's Institute for Disaster Research. Results developed in that institute and design assistance from university students in architecture, landscape architecture, and civil and mechanical engineering contributed to Kiesling's home concept.

The house has two interior storm shelters; a fireplace which provides circulating heat as well as atmosphere; an economical practical use of solar energy for heating water; a well-anchored roof that should withstand even tornado winds, and a concrete "stem" that forms the bottom two feet of the walls. This stem performs three functions. It helps shield the interior of the house from flying missiles. It reduces the wall area exposed to wind forces. It reduces the heat transfer through outside walls.

"Horizontal wind forces," Kiesling said, "are proportional to the height of the outside wall plus the roof."

The house is landscaped for wind and temperature protection. Its insulation is superior. Thermostatically controlled attic fans assist in summer cooling, pulling fresh air in through eave vents when attic temperatures become high. Special venting relieves the pressure caused by sudden atmospheric changes which are possible in tornadoes.

The design is effective, Kiesling said, for areas that are hurricane prone as well as those where tornadoes are likely to occur.

"I decided to build this house," Kiesling said, "to introduce some of our concepts for wind protection and to get exact answers on costs involved in some of these concepts."

"I believe I have spent about $3,000 more for the special energy-saving and safety features," he said. "An owner should save that much on energy in five years at current rates."

Research on improving structures for wind resistance began shortly after the city of Lubbock was hit by a devastating tornado in 1970. Texas Tech engineers surveying the damage, of this and subsequent tornadoes, discovered that often an interior hallway or small room was left standing while the rest of the house has been destroyed.

This led to the concept of a reinforced interior storm shelter. In the Kiesling model there are two of these—a ready built and the second designed for new construction.

"The principal advantage of the above-ground shelter over a basement is the cost saving," Kiesling said. The one designed for existing buildings serves as a bathroom in Kiesling's house. The plates forming the bottom of the wall framing were anchored to the concrete slab floor. An inner wall was built of three-fourths-inch plywood covering two layers of welded wire fabric and the wall studs. The plywood sheets replaced the traditional sheetrock.

The space between the plywood sheets was filled with concrete. To protect occupants from missiles, the ceiling was covered with concrete. The door was strengthened with a steel plate.

The shelter designed for new construction serves as a 7 x 12 foot study. Like the bathroom shelter, it has no windows. Walls are 8-inch thick concrete blocks reinforced with steel bars filled with concrete. It has a concrete ceiling.

Both designs have been tested, using a 14-foot, 2 x 4-inch board, weighing approximately 17 pounds, as a missile striking on its end at a speed of 100 miles per hour. This is considered comparable to the impact of missiles hurled through the air during a tornado.

"Models of both designs easily withstood severe pounding by this missile," Kiesling said.

The house is topped with a mansard-style roof—flat with a shingle overhang. The combination of the short wall and the low profile roof reduces the cross sectional area subjected to winds to about half what it would be in a conventional house.

Walls of the house have diagonal steel braces to add stiffness and strength to the entire structure. Wall-to-floor and roof-to-wall connections are made with anchor bolts, metal ties, or by integrated framing of wall and roof.

A "stem" at the base of the house is of concrete and projects 18 inches from the level of the earth. A retaining wall of equal height was constructed near the perimeter of the lot, and the space between filled with soil. The house appears to be built atop an 18-inch terrace.

Uplift on the roof of a structure can be caused by straight winds and by sudden changes in the atmospheric pressure outside the structure. The combination is sometimes sufficient to life roofs off houses. In the Kiesling model, the lift caused by pressure changes is relieved by two "blow-out panels" in the ceiling. The panels will be pulled into the attic when a sudden pressure drop occurs.

Skylights take advantage of the sun's heat to a limited extent, but a solar collector on the roof of the double garage will heat household water on warm days to 130 degrees. A water heater in the house can further boost the temperature—probably to 150 degrees, Kiesling said.

"Initial costs for solar space heating make it too expensive for single family houses, at this time," he said, "but it is well within reason for water heating."

Outside the house landscaping provides a wind-break of evergreens on the perimeter of the lot; plantings close to the house create "dead air" insulation between the plants and the exterior walls; some deciduous trees shade the house in summer and, shedding their leaves, let sunlight help heat it in winter. Trees are of ascending height, the lowest to the outside of the lot. The air flow pattern caused by this will carry the wind over the house.

Kiesling estimated that each in-residence storm shelter would cost about $500. The solar heating installation cost approximately $400. Other additional costs include double-pane windows, the skylights, forced-air fans in the attic, and high-efficiency air conditioning units.

Faculty and graduate students working within Texas Tech University's Institute for Disaster Research have studied the wreckage left by tornadoes and hurricanes in most regions of the United States and have contributed to the study of the cyclone that struck Darwin, Australia, last Christmas. Their documentation of wind effects includes more than 10,000 photographs, tape recorded reports of storm victims, and a catalogue of evidence and analyses.

"These studies and the special problems which confront anyone trying to come to terms with the energy shortage persuaded me to find some practical answers," Kiesling said.

The house will be available for inspection by any with a professional interest in problems addressed by its construction.

Briscoe Plans Job Creation Campaign

Governor Dolph Briscoe today revealed plans for an in-depth job creation campaign to offset the recession and curb a climbing unemployment rate across Texas.

The Governor announced plans for his new "TEXAS FIRST" program, and set forth a goal to create 4,000 new jobs during the next 12 months.

"I'm sure you all remember when I took office I made a pledge to make Texas first in agriculture," Governor Briscoe said. "We are gaining ground on that goal."

"Now, I am asking my fellow Texans to join me in the second phase of my pledge. I want to make TEXAS FIRST in business and industrial development, and more importantly during these troubled times, in job creation."

The program will cause the expansion of approximately 160 companies in the next 12 months," he said. "That would mean a total economic impact of $277 million annually."

He said the program will ask businesses to pledge to hire more workers. "Once a company makes this pledge, the State will train Texans to meet the skills required for the new jobs."

The Governor named Reagan Brown of his staff to chair the Governor's Job Creation Task Force, which will oversee the effort. He also named the Texas Industrial Commission as the primary agency contract, and appointed TIC Executive Director Jim Harwell to the Task Force. Other members are Jim Rose, Director of the Governor's Division of Planning Coordination; Ben F. McDonald, Jr., Director of the Texas Department of Community Affairs; Dr. M. L. Brockette, Commissioner of Education; and Joe Gunn, Texas Employment Commissioner.

He said the training of the workers would be carried out through the already successful Texas Start-up Training Program, working through the Industrial Commission, the Texas Education Agency and local training institutions. He noted the program is already generating four dollars for every one invested.

Additional training will be accomplished by use of Comprehensive Employment Training Act (C.E.T.A.) funds through local manpower development sponsors. The Texas Department of Community Affairs through its rural community development services, will work to bring jobs to rural areas. "As companies hire the workers, we will recognize their contribution to helping Texas grow, and helping Texas combat a recession that is crippling other parts of the nation," he said. "The program will help our rural areas. It will help every Texas who works to make it the success I know it can be."

The Governor said the symbol of the new job creation program is on our stretched hand in the colors of the Texas State Flag with the words "TEXAS FIRST" preceding the emblem.

He said a total marketing program is planned to reach all Texans.

"We want to make TEXAS FIRST the program that took the slack out of the economic rope," he said. "We want to find jobs for Texans. We want to train Texans for better jobs. We want to make TEXAS FIRST."

Artist Capturing Panhandle Mood

A University of Texas artist is busy wielding brush and watercolor to capture the mood of the Texas Panhandle.

Prof. Michael Frary of the UT Art Department is preparing the Panhandle paintings for publication in early 1977 in a new series on Texas art to be issued by the Texas A & M University Press.

Mr. Frary's paintings will show the Panhandle in all seasons. Subjects range from crops and cattle to the Palo Duro Canyon and a small ranch house with windmill.

CowBelles Schedule Meet

All members of the CowBelles are urged to attend the meeting Wednesday, May 14 at 11:30 at Martin's Steak Garden. J. D. Wilbanks will be the guest speaker.

News For Veterans

Certify early to get the best service on GI Bill checks is the advice offered to the veterans not now enrolled in college but who intend to attend summer school or the fall term by Jack Coker, Veterans Administration Regional Office Director.

Coker said the Veterans Administration can have the veteran's first GI Bill check waiting for him at his school at the start of the school term if he completes his certification early.

Veterans can contact the campus VA "Vet Rep" or the VA Regional Office in Waco.

Most of the veterans who attended college during the 1975 fall term are already certified to receive their benefits as they continue into the summer or fall terms.

VA's main concern is the veteran starting college under the GI Bill for the first time of those who attended previously and are starting again this summer or fall. They must be certified for school benefits if they want an advance GI Bill check when school starts next semester.

- 62% Of Census Forms Filed

Sixty-two percent of the report forms mailed to Texas residents in the 1974 Census of Agriculture have been returned so far, the Bureau of the Census says. Bureau officials, trying to complete the gathering of census data, are mailing follow-up appeals to persons who received the forms but have not returned them. In January, 323,706 forms were sent to persons in Texas associated with farming.

Some forms may have been mailed to persons who no longer are farming or who are not actively farming such as landlords and others. These people are urged along with farmers to return the forms so that the Census Bureau can correct its mailing list. The addressee can indicate on the form that he does not have any agricultural production operations.

John W. Scott, Master of the National Grange, his this to say about the census: "The National Grange is concerned about the needs of our rural people. The 1974 Census of Agriculture is designed to provide much of the information we need. And we are impressed and pleased with the steps taken in the Census Bureau to insure complete confidentiality for each respondent's report. It is reassuring to know that the individual operator's report will, by law, be used only to provide totals for each county and State."

Carl T. Curtis, Ranking Minority Member of the Senate Committee on Agriculture, says: "When our committee works on legislation, we look to the agriculture census for basic truths. It is vitally important for every farmer to report so the census figures can show the correct picture of American agriculture."

And Kenneth D. Naden, President of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, states: "Farmer cooperatives have a major stake in the census of agriculture. Each of the Nation's nearly 7,800 farmer-owned and farmer-controlled cooperatives is a user of data collected through census channels. From planning for farm supply inputs to evaluating county and State cropping trends, cooperatives depend on the 5-year censuses of agriculture."

Food Stamp Allotments To Increase

Food stamp allotments and maximum income eligibility standards will be increased on July 1 by approximately five percent, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). For example, the allotment for a four-person household will be increased from $154 to $162 a month, and the maximum income eligibility level from $513 to $540 per month.

The Food Stamp Act, as amended by the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 (Public Law 93-86), directs that coupon allotments be adjusted semiannually to reflect changes in food prices as published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Maximum income eligibility standards are based on allotments and are therefore adjusted at the same time.

Allotment adjustments are based on the cost of USDA's Economy Food Plan as it is computed from Bureau of Labor Statistics food prices. Adjustments are made each July based on the cost of the Economy Food Plan in the preceding February, and in January based on the cost of that plan in the preceding August.

The cost of the Economy Food Plan for Feb. 1975 was $162 for a family of four with school children. Accordingly, USDA will raise the value of the coupon allotment for a four-person household from $154 to $162 and make appropriate adjustments for other household sizes. In line with the Congressional intent expressed in House Report 94-2, purchase requirements will not be changed, except for households in the top monthly net income brackets.

Maximum income eligibility standards starting July 1 are:

One-person household... $215 - Two-person household... $300 - Three-person household... $427 - Four-person household... $540 - Five-person household... $640 - Six-person household... $740 - Seven-person household... $833 - Eight-person household... $926

For each additional household member over eight, add $73 to the eight-person eligibility level.

The Sid W. Richardson Foundation of Fort Worth has awarded an initial grant of $25,000 to the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation to be used for travel scholarships for volunteer leaders who attend training workshops at the new Texas 4-H Center at Brownwood. The overall grant totals $100,000 and is renewable for a three-year period. During that time some 80 training conferences and workshops are being planned for 4-H volunteer leaders throughout the state, points out a 4-H and youth specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A PANHANDLE DUST STORM - APRIL 14, 1935 WHITE AND WRIGHT, SPEARMAN, TEXAS

I tried awful hard to quit thinking about the biggest and worst dust storm in history.

Positively everything that one hears on the street this week is concerning experiences that were had during the Sunday dust storm. My own experience was mild and rather thrilling. Started home from Panhandle and was within 14 miles of home - met the duster and turned back, beat it all the way to Panhandle, where I remained until Monday morning.

The most pitiful case I have heard of comes first. Mrs. H. G. Frisbee was at her home with her six month old baby. She attempted to get to the home of R. C. Chase during the dust storm, where her husband was visiting. Mr. Chase and Mrs. Frisbee found her after she has been in the storm for more than an hour. She suffered a nervous breakdown and Mr. Frisbee carried her to her relatives in Missouri Tuesday morning.

Have not been able to verify the statement but understood that one of the lady's school teachers of Morse stranded in her car during the storm, abandoned the car and followed the wire fence to the nearest home. She was terribly upset from her experience and her hands were badly cut from tracing her course via the barb wire fence.

Mr. Meek tells of a lady at Stinnett who was rather heavy set and past middle age, who started out two weeks her boy located at a pumping station near Stinnett. She followed the road for four miles finally reaching the pumping station. She was able to keep her course by feeling the hard surface of the road bed - often getting off the pavement but returning.

Frank Allen and his family were stranded near the Jess Edwards home and air became so thick that Frank got out and wet handkerchiefs out of the radiator of the car so that the members of the family might breathe.

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Converse and Ray Vallett attempted to beat the storm home and were caught after they had turned east on the road home. They were in their truck, having come to Spearman for a truck load of water. The three set in the seat of the truck for nearly two hours before they could get over the road to their home.

We are informed that 150 people living in the Stinnet neighborhood spent the night in the Courthouse.

Many other cases reported, but space in the nature of the stories prevented recording them at this time.

Among the humorous incidents it is said that Friday had taken a nap, awakened and looked out the window to see a beautiful sun shiny day - he decided it was entirely too pretty to stay in the house and proceeded to dress. He stretched, yawned and closed his eyes for half a minute. When he opened his eyes he was in utter darkness.

He was temporarily looney - so his friends say.

Jimmy Jackson claims the storm blew six weeks old pig into the house and that he found the porker and a bull dog playing when he got up Monday morning.

Dwight Holland claims the storm blew in a $1.00 dollar bill. He praises himself for finding the money and is keeping it. He states his wife made him clean up after the storm, and that finders keepers.

Deputy Sheriff Fred Linn made a bet of a sack of potatoes with Bob Morton last Tues. morning that Spearman would not have more than two more sand storms. Bob stated Monday that after considerable argument Mr. Linn finally agreed that the little flurry of dust Sunday was one of these two.

The Spearman Reporter has a limited supply of paper tape priced at 50¢ per roll. I have tried it on the windows and door facings at my home and find it practically eliminates dirt and dust. It is the easiest form of dust prevention to place in the home. Come in today and get your supply.

One of the advantages of working on a weekly paper is the fact that many of the big news events can be copied from daily papers. Rather than re-word the dust storm story the editor of this paper has copied it exactly as it appeared in the Pampa Daily News.

A whiskey-intoxicated man in north Pampa saw it and thought the world was coming to an end; he began hunting for a church and incidentally sobered up. . . Some persons became hysterical. . . A man who was dressing after a bath had put on one shoe. When he reached for the other, he couldn't see it, nor could he see his hand in front of him.

These were a few of the many stories that were being told today after the passage of one of the most magnificent and gigantic spectacles in the repertoire of the merriest Mother Nature. Wondetruck citizens of this community were awed for 15 minutes yesterday before it bore gently but viciously down on the, choking them with dust and silt, and turning the shank of a balmy afternoon into midnight blackness.

It came out of the northeast about 6:45 o'clock.

almost an hour before sunset. When it was a half mile away, watchers could see that it was almost two miles high. They also could see that if all the oil in the Panhandle had gone up in stupendous ebony-blue clouds of boiling, billowing smoke, it would not have made a sight half as fearful. After it struck with a swishing, gritty nose, the darkness was complete. The atmosphere was inky for at least 20 minutes. The duster raged furiously until 10 o'clock when it began to subside but the air was still full of dust until early today.

Residents of the southwestern dust bowl marked up another black duster today and wondered how long it would be before another came along. A roady cheered by two days of clear skies and a respite from the choking silt and sand, they were enjoying what started out to be a balmy Sunday when the duster swept out of the north over western Kansas and eastern Colorado, and rushed on over the Oklahoma Panhandle and into Texas.

Hundreds of Sunday motorists were caught when the dense black cloud bore down upon them at a rate of 60 miles an hour. Some Oklahomans rushed for their storm cellars as day was turned into night.

Many motorists who attempted to drive through the cloud of stinging gravel and sand, found that static electricity, generated by the dust particles, had disrupted the ignition systems on their engines.

Residents of Perryton, Texas, where there have been 50 dust storms in 104 days, described the storm "as the worst in history". Old-timers in Oklahoma and Kansas agreed.

After the main cloud had passed, the air still was full of dust. The haze spread out far to the east and west.

Berger was again breathing heavily as dust settled about the town and a light northwest wind blew.

The heavy dust storm that struck Lubbock Sunday night on the crest of a 50-mile-an-hour, died away and the wind subsided to a velocity of 24 miles an hour Monday.

A biting northerly wind brought out heavy garments at Paris but there was very little dust. The swirling silt had not penetrated East Texas. Dalhart, Stinnett and Pampa reported Sunday night that the clouds hovered over their vicinities for more than an hour and then gradually passed away. --Pampa Daily News.
