The USS Missouri, the battleship upon which the surrender of Japan was signed, sailed from Norfolk, Va., Monday for the West Coast to its final destination at Bremerton, Wash., to be placed in mothballs. The Missouri has had the longest length of service of any battleship in the fleet. She has never been mothballed before. (AP Wirephoto).

Rio Grande Rise Causes Closing Presidio Bridge

By The Associated Press
El Paso struggled out of a cloudburst-caused flood Tuesday while the Weather Bureau was predicting possible new cloudbursts in the Franklin Mountains area which brewed El Paso's current high water troubles.

The downpours measured up to 13 inches during the weekend in drought-hit Eastern New Mexico. The runoff from the rains near El Paso poured down the Franklin Mountains and was trapped on the wrong side of levees along the Rio Grande. About 25 families were evacuated.

National Guardsmen stood by to stop any possible looting and to help with sandbagging where needed.

Heavy rains in Mexico caused a rise in the Rio Grande that forced closing of the international bridge between Presidio, Tex., and Ojinaga, Mexico.

In other parts of Texas, scattered showers and rain Monday brought local relief from dry weather.

The forecast called for scattered thundershowers through Tuesday. At Austin, Mrs. Carol Francis, 21, mother of two children, was killed Monday night when struck by a bolt of lightning. Her husband, Sgt. Donald L. Armstrong, said she had just stepped out of a bath when the bolt struck.

The heaviest rain recorded by the Weather Bureau for the 24-hour period ending at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday was Beaumont's 1.1 inches. El Paso had 1.0, Amarillo .30, Lubbock .30, Galveston 1.16, Wink and Dalhart .31, and Austin .02.

The overnight minimums ranged from 59 degrees recorded at the Odessa-Midland weather station to Corpus Christi's 80.

At rain-soaked El Paso, the temperature never got above 71 degrees Monday. The highest maximum was 99 degrees at Laredo.

American Is Held On Black Market Currency Charges
TOKYO (AP)—Police arrested seven foreigners, including one American, on charges of operating a multimillion-dollar syndicate in black market dollars which were sent to Red China, Kyodo news service said today.

The men were seized in Kobe, Yokohama and Tokyo over the weekend and charged with illicit foreign currency transactions, Kyodo said.

The American was identified as Joseph DeBella, 26, of Tokyo. Five Indians and one Englishman were arrested with him.

Vargas, Ousted As Brazilian Chief, Takes His Own Life

58 Generals Force 'Iron Man' To Quit

By STANFORD BRADSHAW
RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Brazil's old iron man, Getulio Vargas, sent a bullet through his heart and died in his palace today after 58 generals forced him to quit as president. He thus fulfilled a promise he had made Sunday night—that he would leave office only under arrest or dead. That was after 26 general officers of the air force asked him to resign to calm a tense political and military situation. Today 32 general officers of the army joined in the demand for Vargas' ouster.

The army officers' petition was presented to Vargas this morning at Catete Palace. It was announced the president, who came to power in 1930 and ruled all but five years since then, had agreed to ask congress for a leave of absence. Four hours later he was dead.

Joao Cafe Filho, vice president since 1951, was in line to succeed Vargas.

The crisis that brought Vargas' ouster and death began Aug. 5 with the slaying of an air force major, Ruben Vaz, during an attempt to assassinate Carlos LaCorda, an anti-Vargas editor. The slaying aroused widespread indignation in both the military and the press. This grew when it was discovered that members of Vargas' personal body guard were involved. Vargas, dissolved the guard.

The crisis broke into rioting Aug. 11 following a mass for Maj. Vaz. Two persons were injured and campaign posters for Vargas' Brazilian Labor Party (PTB) were torn down.

"Vargas out!" shouted the mob. The military acted quickly to prevent further disturbances. The army, navy and air force issued a joint declaration pledging their support of the constitution.

Meantime the air force and police arrested Climerio Eurides Almeida, member of the guard, and Jose Antonio Soares, a palace employe as involved in the La-Corda plot. They also seized Joao Alcino de Nascimento, as the alleged trigger man.

This situation arose at a time Brazil was undergoing severe economic stress. Last week the price of coffee was forced down, in terms of American dollars, and there have been predictions of further blows against Brazilian currency.

The air force, with Vargas' permission, obtained the personal papers of Gregorio Fortunato, husky former head of the disbanded presidential guard, and these papers may have provided material for the final push against Vargas.

The papers, widely published, purported to show influence peddling by Fortunato. This increased the troubles for the government already under attack for alleged corruption.

New demands for Vargas' resignation were made at an Aeronautical Club meeting Saturday. Air force general officers conferred 10 hours Sunday and prepared a note saying Vargas' resignation was the only solution for the crisis.

The army officers' memorial will probably have to be torn down.

McCarthy Panel Divides Charges

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special Senate committee today announced five categories of charges on which it will start public hearings next Tuesday on the question of whether the Senate should censure Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Sen. Watkins (R-Utah), chairman of the bipartisan six member committee, said the charges seemed to be "the most important" of 46 filed by three senators who have urged that McCarthy's conduct be officially condemned.

He emphasized, however, that these did not preclude the committee from considering all the charges during the course of the public hearings, which will start Aug. 31, one day later than previously scheduled.

The five categories include: 1. Alleged "incident of contempt of the Senate or a senatorial committee" by McCarthy, centering largely around his failure to testify before a Senate elections subcommittee investigating his finances in 1950.

2. "Incidents of encouragement of United States employees to violate the law and their oaths of office or executive orders" in McCarthy's appeal to federal employes to give him classified information about alleged Communists or subversives.

3. "Incidents involving receipt or use of confidential or classified documents or other confidential information, from executive files," in connection with his receipt of a purported summary of an FBI espionage report in the McCarthy-Army hearings.

4. "Incidents involving alleged 'abuses' of other senators. Under this heading, the committee referred to attacks McCarthy leveled at Sen. Hendrickson (R-NJ) and other members of the Senate subcommittee that investigated his financial affairs.

5. The charge that McCarthy abused Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker, commanding officer at Camp Klamer, N. J.

McCarthy's questioning of Zwicker last February brought a vigorous protest from Army Secretary Stevens and was one of the incidents that touched off the televised McCarthy-Army hearings.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), who presided during the 36 days of hearings on misconduct charges McCarthy and top Army officials had flung at one another, announced yesterday its four Republican members had reached agreement on language of a majority report of findings.

The New York Times said today the majority report of the four Republican senators was "to be mildly critical of both sides in the Army-McCarthy controversy."

A Washington dispatch to the Times quoted well-informed sources as saying "the successful maneuver" to force the post-hearing resignation of Roy M. Cohn as chief counsel to McCarthy's investigating subcommittee played a part in bringing the Republicans together on their final decision.

Contents of this document, filed with J. Mark Trice, secretary of the Senate, remained a carefully guarded secret as the subcommittee's three Democratic members put in more work at writing their own version of the findings.

Watkins announced his committee's findings.

Nevada Suffers Second Quake

RENO (AP)—Nevada suffered its second strong earthquake in two months late last night. No casualties were reported.

Damage appeared to center around Lovelock, 90 miles east of Reno, where a two-story office building showered bricks on the street.

Fallon, center of a July 6 quake, reported minor damage in its downtown area.

The road to Stillwater, 16 miles east of Fallon, was reported so badly buckled that it was impassable. Stillwater residents reported they were badly shaken.

The University of California assistant seismologist, W. C. Marlon, said the shock had a Richter magnitude of "about 6"—almost as strong as the July 6 Fallon quake—and was centered "about 250 miles northeast of Berkeley, Calif." That would put it about 30 miles north of Reno on the Nevada side of the lofty Sierra Nevada Range.

The time was 10:52:14 p.m., PDT.

The quake was felt eastward to Salt Lake City, westward to the San Francisco Bay area and north to Boise, Idaho.

San Diego also reported a rolling, which lasted there almost half an hour.

Lovelock Police Officer Gordon Richardson said buildings in the downtown section were cracked and the Lovelock Mercantile Building suffered such severe damage it will probably have to be torn down.

FAVORS U.S. AID

Dulles Would Help Defend Chiang Isles

By JOHN A. SCALI
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today American forces would be justified in defending some Nationalist-held islands between Formosa and the Chinese mainland from any Communist attack.

Dulles told a news conference it would be up to American military leaders to decide which islands in addition to Formosa they want to defend as part of their overall strategy for aiding the Chinese Nationalist stronghold.

Dulles spoke in the face of talk by Peiping of "liberating" the island of Formosa, now held by Chiang Kai-shek and the Chinese Nationalists. U. S. leaders have been inclined to discount the Peiping talk.

President Eisenhower already is on record as saying the U. S. 7th Fleet would protect Formosa from a Red attack. Dulles appeared to be extending this line of reasoning by including some of the smaller Chiang-held islands near Formosa.

In talking about Europe, Dulles told newsmen he deeply regrets France's unwillingness to agree with five other Western European countries on the European army plan. But he said he has not given up hope France will ratify the European army agreement when "it confronts the ultimate decision."

In answering questions, Dulles also made these other points: 1. He tentatively plans to leave next Tuesday for Manila to represent the United States at the Southeast Asia Alliance Conference to confer with Filipino leaders about defense problems in the area.

2. He refused to say whether Britain and the United States definitely plan to go ahead with a program to restore West German sovereignty should France fail to approve the European defense project.

3. He deeply regrets the death of Brazilian President Getulio Vargas.

4. Plans for dealing with possible subversion and arrangements to better economic conditions in the region will be considered at the Southeast Asia Defense Conference opening in Manila Sept. 6.

He declined to spell out any precise ideas on this point but said two treaties—one dealing with military problems and the other with economic arrangements—might be possible to bring in nations which would not join a military alliance.

In discussing the reports from Peiping about a possible invasion of Formosa, Pentagon sources said no serious evidence has shown up in intelligence reports that would indicate an imminent attack on the Chinese Nationalist stronghold.

Phillips agreed to accept the responsibilities of the additional office.

Frazier indicated he will request a legal opinion as to whether Phillips can serve as commissioner for two precincts. He also said he will ask for legal advice concerning the preparation of a ballot for the election of a successor to Welch at the November general election.

The county judge said he will appoint the persons elected in the November voting to the office for the remainder of 1954.

The Martin County courthouse, which closed Monday afternoon out of respect for the deceased commissioner, was to close again this afternoon.

The grand jury, which was to have resumed its investigation of county affairs this morning, recessed until 9 a.m. Wednesday after assembling briefly today. Several out-of-town witnesses, who had been subpoenaed for today, were on hand. They are to report back Wednesday.

Absentee Voting Record Is Near

Howard County voters today appeared to be setting a new record for absentee voting today.

Shortly before noon a total of 579 absentee ballots had been marked. This exceeded the 523 cast in the first primary. By tonight, absentee voting deadline, the total was expected to be near 650. The county clerk's office is to close at 5 p.m. as usual.

McLennan County (Waco) broke the record Monday. A few minutes before the county clerk's office closed, 899 ballots had been cast, topping the 879 in the 1952 general election. About 200 more votes were expected today.

At Houston, Harris County Clerk W. D. Miller received 1,463 ballots Monday to bring the total to 9,552. This is only 85 short of the all-time mark of 10,407 for the 1952 general election. Miller predicted the old record will fall.

In Austin, Travis County Clerk Emilie Limberg reported Monday that only 478 votes were needed to break the previous record of 3,325 set in 1952. She, too, predicted a new record.

Two New Polio Cases Reported

Howard County's polio total for the year rose to 13 today with the report of two new cases.

Glena Lou Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen D. Brown of 904 W. 3rd, was hospitalized late Saturday as a polio victim. Her condition is described as "very well."

The condition of John Reed Swarzenbach, hospitalized Monday, was considered better this morning. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Swarzenbach of 1513 Main. Both children have non-paralytic polio.

PHILLIPS NAMED TO PRECINCT 3 POST IN MARTIN

STANTON (SC)—H. O. (Hub) Phillips, commissioner for Precinct No. 1 in Martin County, today was named by County Judge Bruce Frazier Sr. to also take over the responsibilities of commissioner for Precinct No. 3.

Irvin E. Welch, Precinct No. 3 commissioner, died of gunshot wounds suffered accidentally Sunday afternoon.

Judge Frazier issued an order this morning declaring that "H. O. Phillips is charged with the responsibilities of the duties of the county commissioner for Commissioner Precinct No. 3 until properly relieved."

Phillips agreed to accept the responsibilities of the additional office.

Frazier indicated he will request a legal opinion as to whether Phillips can serve as commissioner for two precincts. He also said he will ask for legal advice concerning the preparation of a ballot for the election of a successor to Welch at the November general election.

WELCH DEATH IS RULED ACCIDENTAL

STANTON (SC)—A verdict of death by self-inflicted but accidental gunshot has been entered by Justice of the Peace Martin Gibson in the death of Irvin E. Welch, Martin County commissioner.

Mr. Welch was found dead behind his pickup Sunday evening near his home. A shotgun, without trigger guard or safety device, apparently had discharged as he lifted it from the pickup.

Funeral services were to be held at the Tarzan Baptist Church at 2:30 p.m. today with interment to be in a Midland cemetery. Arrington Funeral Home was to be in charge.

Little Lebanon Set For Massive Water Project

Little Lebanon Set For Massive Water Project
BEIRUT, Lebanon (U)—Little Lebanon is going to work on a 100-million-dollar river development project — biggest in its history— with no economic aid grants from foreign governments.

U.S. Point Four technicians conducted a three-year survey of the Litani River hydroelectric project, which is expected to double per capita consumption of electricity in Lebanon and irrigate more than 50,000 acres by the time it is finished in 25 years.

But when American officials handed the survey report to the Lebanese government they felt the logical "cut-off point" had been reached. For actually building the system, Lebanon must bear the burden itself.

Lebanon's Parliament has set up a semi-autonomous company to begin financing. The company will seek funds from Lebanese government sources, Lebanese private investors, foreign private investors and such lending agencies as the World Bank.

Some foreign experts here believe the whole project could pay for itself if built in stages, one phase paying for the next.

Attlee, Others To Have 2-Hour Talk With Mao

Attlee, Others To Have 2-Hour Talk With Mao
Editors Note — The following is from the correspondence of the London Daily Herald, organ of the British Labor movement, accompanying the Labor Party group on its visit to China.

By DERYCK WINTERTON PEIPING (U) — Clement Attlee and his British Labor party delegation have a two-hour talk today with Mao Tse-tung, head of the Chinese government.

It is the first time that Western statesmen have made close personal contact with China's No. 1 leader. The meeting has the same historic quality as the Laborites' Moscow meeting with Premier Georgi Malenkov.

Attlee has already told Malenkov and Chou En-lai, China's No. 2 man, that everyone in Britain would be very glad to welcome them there.

It was expected he would assure Mao of the same thing. The invitation to Chou and Malenkov was in no sense a formal one. The Labor party is not the British government, and obviously such an invitation could come only from the government.

Labor Party Secretary Morgan Phillips, a member of the delegation, commented to me yesterday on American press criticisms of the group's visit to China.

"The fact that the delegates have come to China does not mean they have been converted to communism any more than the fact that I have visited nearly every Communist country makes me a 'fellow traveler,'" he said.

"But it is absurd to ignore the existence of a nation of 600 million people which must play a great part in the world, whether for good or bad."

"We shall make up our minds on the basis of what we see and learn."

DESPITE COMPROMISES

Congressmen Go Along On Ike's Economic Plans

Congressmen Go Along On Ike's Economic Plans
WASHINGTON (U)—With four solid chunks of legislation, Congress has put a foundation under the economic program that President Eisenhower stands for: one in which private industry, not big government, is intended to create the jobs and payrolls.

The four were the tax, farm, housing and atomic bills. All were geared to the philosophy of whittling down Washington's role as the central fountainhead of economic supports and controls.

A fifth measure, the broadening of social security, was evidence that the administration hopes to preserve and strengthen that program achieved under 20 years of Democratic rule.

There was a sixth item, which might be fully as significant as the others. It is something Congress didn't do.

It didn't rush to turn on the money pumps when the country's record-breaking prosperity began to ebb.

But, in the view of many economists, Congress left the government's operations still mildly inflationary.

Some officials believe the federal deficit next June 30 will be closer to five billion dollars than the $2,900,000,000 officially forecast.

The economic philosophy developed by Congress and the administration held that government should remove needless controls, encourage business to expand and leave enough profit after taxes so that industry will build new plants, develop new processes and products and create new payrolls.

The Eisenhower program steered close enough to the middle of the road to win some Democratic support in many cases. But there were Democrats who criticized much of the program as being slanted in favor of big business.

In more detail, the major economic measures produced by the session were these: TAX REVISION

The greatest achievement of the 83rd Congress, in administration eyes, is the massive tax revision bill.

In actual savings to businessmen and wage earners—a $1,365,000,000 reduction in the first year and more later—the law does not compare in impact with the five-billion dollar slash in income and corporate taxes Jan. 1.

But Eisenhower calls it the "keystone" of his program because of its potential stimulus to production and employment — by encouragement of investment, new plant construction and incentive to large industrial payrolls.

The law had many critics. There were contentions that it was loaded in favor of business and gave relatively little help to the average wage earner.

Denying that the act unduly favors business, administration officials insist the small taxpayer will reap many benefits. The law gives relief to families hit by heavy medical costs, working mothers, who must pay for child care, retired persons living on pensions, parents whose children are helping to earn their college educations, and many smaller groups.

Stockholders are excused from all tax on the first $50 of dividends paid them. Four per cent of any additional dividend income may be deducted from the tax payment.

Officials expect this provision to induce greater investment in common stocks and provide more capital for industry.

THE HOUSING LAW In the Housing Act of 1954, Eisenhower got a bill which, some housing experts believe, may jog home builders into building 1,400,000 new homes in 1955. That would be the biggest year in history.

Demo Senators Say Vote Issue In Fall Might Be Foreign Policy

Demo Senators Say Vote Issue In Fall Might Be Foreign Policy
By JACK BELL. WASHINGTON (U)—Three Democratic senators said today foreign affairs troubles may overshadow the Eisenhower-praised record of the Republican 83rd Congress as a top issue in the November election campaign.

President Eisenhower centered on the at-home record in his broadcast to the nation last night, heaping praise on Congress and hitting again at opposition "prophets of gloom and doom."

While dwelling only briefly on foreign relations, he did predict they "will be the thing on which we must have to emphasize our efforts during the coming months."

And since the Republicans took office, he said, Korea, Iran, Suez and Guatemala are places "where great threats to our peace and security have already been removed."

While Republicans joined in praising the administration's legislative accomplishments, Democratic Senators Russell of Georgia, Mansfield of Montana and Jackson of Washington said that the apparent collapse of the European Defense Community and what they called an unfavorable settlement in Indochina may claim the chief attention of American voters.

The senators spoke in separate interviews without directly referring to Eisenhower's speech.

Mansfield, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the status of international relations this fall "may well be the deciding factor in the election."

Jackson said he thinks the Indochina settlement and indications that the EDC may never materialize "are creating skepticism in the minds of many voters about the administration's ability to hold the line against communism."

"The administration hasn't seized the initiative as it has claimed," he said. "It is the Soviet Union which has seized the initiative."

Russell, senior Democrat on the Senate Armed Services Committee, said the Republicans seemed to have changed their tune about Indochina.

He said Republicans were saying a few months ago that it might be necessary for the United States to send troops to Indochina. Now, he said, they are claiming that Eisenhower kept this country out of a shooting war there. Such a claim was made by Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, in a statement inserted in the Congressional Record.

Eisenhower said of Indochina last night that the war "has ceased under circumstances that are certainly not satisfactory to all of us, and in some respects they are disappointing."

"But at least we have an opportunity," he said, "to again tackle that problem of getting a concert of nations that will make this whole region safer and more secure for freedom."

What Was This Call Worth?
"Mommy, can I stay at grandmother's tonight?" That was little Carol's very first telephone call — a real thrill that can hardly be measured in dollars and cents. Yet, Mrs. Caroline Niemeyer, Carol's grandmother, can tell you what that call cost. She is one of a group of customers who kept day-by-day records of calls made for a week — a total of 30 calls covering 183 miles. Then she broke her telephone bill down into the actual cost per call. Guar beans are indicated to be an acceptable protein supplement for winter steer calves on grass, according to a report made by E. H. Mellvain of the U. S. Southern Great Plains Field Station at Woodward, Okla., and supplied W. S. Goodlett of Big Spring, area conservationist for the SCS.

Mellvain's report says that a daily ration of 3.5 pounds of rolled guar beans per weaner steer produced slightly greater gains per head and more "bloom" than a standard daily steer ration of two pounds of 41 per cent cottonseed pellets. This preliminary information was obtained during the 158-day winter grazing period, Nov. 13, 1953, to April 20, 1954 at the Woodward station.

Results given in this progress report are the first data from a planned three-year study, and although definite conclusions and recommendations cannot yet be made, results are encouraging that guar can be used satisfactorily as a protein supplement for beef cattle.

Guar, as has been explained in this column before, is a summer-growing, drought-resistant, annual legume. It was introduced into this country from India, in 1903, but it did not arouse any great interest until after 1940. It is now being grown as a cash and soil improvement crop on a limited commercial scale in Texas and Oklahoma, and is generally adapted to sandy soils in the cotton and sorghum areas west of the 35-inch rainfall line and south of the 38th parallel. It should be grown as a row crop, with inoculation of the seed, phosphate fertilization and clean cultivation. It matures in about 125 days, practically the same as many sorghums.

It has two uses at present and promises to have a third. It can be grown in rotation with crops as a soil-building legume; or the beans can easily be harvested as a cash crop and a limited quantity of the seed can be used by industry for the production of a vegetable gum. It is not an oil crop.

Its third use promises to be that of a home-grown protein supplement for cattle. The guar-feeding study at the Woodward station was made at the request of Dr. C. J. Whitfield, a research man with the Soil Conservation Service, and the primary purpose of the study was to determine if guar, a different type of protein feed than the commonly used supplement, might be a more efficient additive to winter forage in that region. If so, then guar, a new summer legume, might find widespread usage in the joint role of (1) a soil improving crop, (2) a cash crop, and (3) a home-grown protein feed.

At the Woodward station 10 head of weaner steer calves were wintered on open range and dry grass

They were fed a daily ration of rolled guar beans in direct comparison with other lots fed cottonseed and soy bean pellets. The steer calves were purchased from Jack and Bob Mansfield of the Alamosa Ranch at Vega, Texas.

J. O. Wells of Canadian, Texas, furnished the steers to the station for the test. The steers were trucked to Woodward in mid-October, weaned on standing sorghum, branded, vaccinated, treated for ear ticks and lice, and then allowed to recover from the weaning and working operation for three weeks. They were then weighed individually for two successive days, and were graded as to feeder quality. The steers were next allotted to experimental treatments so that each lot contained a uniform number and kind of cattle. They were weighed again on two successive days at the end of winter.

The guar beans, which one bunch of the steers were fed, were rolled by a custom feed mill in Woodward to about the same degree of coarseness as rolled milo. A few whole beans could be found in the final product and there was very little meal. The steers appeared a little reluctant to eat the beans at first and so about one-third or 41 per cent cottonseed meal per steer was mixed with the guar for about two weeks and then discontinued. After that the steers ate the guar beans avidly.

The guar-fed steers showed more bloom throughout the winter than the lot fed cottonseed pellets or the lot fed soybean pellets, and they also out-gained the other two lots. There was no unusual tendency observed for the animals to scour, although one of them scoured a little throughout the winter. The same effect was noticed with several of the steers in the other lots, however.

On April 20 all of the steers involved in this study were placed together in one pasture for summer grazing without supplement, except salt, to determine the effect of winter treatment on summer gains. The year-long data will be reported for cattle.

At the Woodward station 10 head of weaner steer calves were wintered on open range and dry grass ed in another progress report to be issued next October. It is planned to continue this study for at least another two years to obtain more conclusive information. It is planned to add another guar lot which will be fed only two pounds per head daily. This will be on a comparable cost basis with cottonseed since the price of guar beans is quite similar to that of 41 per cent cottonseed pellets.

The 18th annual Range Improvement Field day of the Woodward station will be held Wednesday, Oct. 13, starting at 8 a.m., in the City Hall at Woodward. The general public is invited to attend. A free barbecue dinner will be served at noon, and on this occasion the guar-fed steers will be shown in comparison with other lots fed the different rations.

Goodlett says he hopes a number of farmers and cattlemen from this area, where guar is becoming a more popular crop, can arrange to attend this field day program.

Mississippi Demos To Pick Senator In Primary Today

By SAM JOHNSON
JACKSON, Miss. (U.S.)—Mississippi's senior senator and lieutenant governor waited out the long day as voters began marking ballots at 7 a.m. in today's Democratic primary for U.S. senator.

Victory in the primary means election in staunchly Democratic Mississippi. Republican James A. White is entered in the November general election but is expected to get only a token vote.

Sen. James Eastland last night predicted a 100,000-vote victory. Earlier in the campaign he described "segregation and communism" as being among the major issues. His opponent, Lt. Gov. Carroll Gartin, basically agrees with him.

Both agree segregation is here to stay and both oppose communism. Gartin, also predicting victory but by a smaller margin, went again on television and radio in his final bid for votes.

The 41-year-old lieutenant governor said his election would be "a great victory for the people over the professional politicians . . .".

The campaign's basic issue boils down to "seniority vs. devotion to duty."

The 49-year-old Eastland emphasized his 12 years Senate experience and his membership on the Senate Agriculture and Judiciary committees.

Gartin replied that his "devotion to duty" would be more valuable than Eastland's seniority, which Gartin claims is used mostly on the senator's 6,000-acre plantation.

A light turnout is expected because of a lack of local races to stir up interest. Most estimates are around 200,000, less than half the estimated registration.

Voters in the 6th Congressional District in southeast Mississippi decide whether U. S. Rep. William M. Colmer will represent the district for his 12th term.

Colmer, dean of Mississippi's delegation in Congress, is opposed by State Sen. Clem Britton and Walter Lowry of Hattiesburg, a farmer and carpenter. Five other congressmen won Democratic nomination — which means election — without opposition.

Scorecard On Congress Shows That It Was A Busy Session

The adjournment of Congress Friday night found the House quitting 3 hours 13 minutes ahead of the Senate, and quitting cold; that is, adjourning until next January unless called back by some emergency. The Senate, however, merely recessed, but authorized its majority and minority leaders (Knowland of California and Johnson of Texas, respectively) to call it back sometime in the fall to hear a report from the committee considering charges against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Major legislation of 1954 on which the GOP will stand or fall in November's election made up an impressive total. The list of major items reads: Tax revision and net reduction, reduction of expenditures, new farm price support system, old-age security liberalization, wider jobless payment coverage, atomic energy act revision, temporary debt limit rise, St. Lawrence Seaway project, compromise housing program, one-year trade act extension.

The Stepped-Up War On Polio Needs More Help From Public

The nationwide campaign by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis which started Sunday has a goal of $20 million. Some people may be puzzled as to the necessity for this special fund-raising campaign, but they need not be if they understand what the situation is.

too-frequent polio drives would detract from campaigns for other worthy causes. However, the drive is on, and the Foundation is able to point out that the very success of its anti-polio work activities has made them more costly, for a simple but persuasive reason—fewer victims die, and more live and need to be cared for for varying periods.

Herbert Hoover Jr. Did Splendid Job In Obtaining Iranian Oil Pact

When Herbert Hoover was President of the United States, he kept his family out of public life as much as possible. His two sons had become accustomed to their father's public activities since the days in London when he assumed the responsibility for the Belgian relief.

companies was established which will operate the Iranian company; a market for Iranian oil will be established by the other companies producing sufficiently less oil to make room for Iran; the Iranian government will receive nearly 10 times as much revenue as it got when the British operated the business. Iranian sovereignty is unimpaired; British prestige is not damaged anew.

This was carried to such a point that when young Herbert sought his first job, he assumed another name, hoping that he would be hired for his own sake and not because he was a son of the President of the United States.

Not new to Washington or without knowledge of the nature of intrigue and empire-building in the State Department, he is likely to prove a fairly tough taskmaster and to be antagonistic to left wing groups, particularly Communists in the department. I have known him for many years and can attest to a toughness of mind that goes to the center of a problem and having reached a decision, fights for what he believes to be right without fear or favor. It will be interesting to see how that works out in the State Department.

Papa Of Large Family Keeps It Closely Knit

VALLEJO, Calif. (AP) — How do you raise a child in the 20th century, which many people are beginning to regard as the century of juvenile delinquency?

tomato vines and other vegetables could have been raised around the lawn. That may sound crazy, but—well, it looks nice.

I asked that question of my friend, Wyman Riley, managing editor of the Gibson publications here. He and his wife, Marjorie, have the problem of raising six children. How do they go about it?

Since Germany was bound to re-arm someday, she could be kept in a single room, from becoming an international menace again if her troops were in a single army with her neighbors instead of in an all-German army.

The Riley family live in a big, old-fashioned house, the kind that used to be built for large families, and our kids have been lucky in having the right kind of mother.

EDC couldn't come into existence without approval by the French Parliament. It hasn't approved yet.

They are a close-knit family. Wyman and Marge both believe their main duties as parents are to teach their children good manners, give them a religious upbringing, and keep them busy in a wholesome way. They say family prayers together each night, go on picnics or clam digging parties together on Sundays.

GRIN AND BEAR IT

One Big Spring Visitor Unlikely To Return To City For Awhile

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

On the inside page of this newspaper one day last week there was a short Associated Press story from Houston, telling about a dentist and his wife, and a couple of other men, who had all four been jailed there when the dentist's residence was raided and he was found to be in possession of a quantity of heroin.

That was all the Associated Press sent us, but it wasn't all of the story by a long shot, as I have made it a point to find out.

This dentist, for whom bail of $25,000 was set, was caught because he was suspected of selling dope to teen-age boys and girls. Houston police have described him as the biggest known peddler of dope to these kids in Houston, and a man who has done a $5,000-weekly dope business with the youngsters.

More about this fellow personally isn't essential to this story but it's interesting. He's dapper and black-haired, and he raises fighting chickens for a hobby. He and his wife live in a white five-room house in a nice neighborhood. Behind the house police found, in separate cages, at least 50 full grown cocks ready for the fighting place as well as a great many younger chickens. His neighbor said he was a heavy drinker. The presumption is that he was too smart to use the dope he had been selling the kids.

Now at this juncture the fact that this accused man had heroin in his possession is worth further consideration. This is a drug that is from four to six times as powerful in action as morphine. Moreover, it is the drug that will fasten the dope habit on a person quicker and tighter than any other. Just a few shots and a boy or girl is hooked.

By 1924 the reputable physicians and druggists of this country were in agreement that heroin was so vicious that it should be outlawed. They explained there wasn't any legitimate reason at all for the existence or use of this drug, since there were so many others that could be used in its place with such greater safety.

The normal dose of heroin for an adult is, I believe, one-twelfth of a grain. This Houston dentist had in his possession — in his hands in fact, when caught — one and one-half ounces of the stuff that had just been delivered to him by a peddler from San Antonio. There are 480 grains to the ounce. This man had in his possession 720 grains or 8,640 normal doses of the stuff.

Officers had been watching this dentist's house for some time, and here is what Captain J. C. McMahon of the Houston Police Department's vice squad had to say: "During the three weeks the house has been watched there has been a steady stream of young boys and girls coming and going during the afternoons and up to 11 p.m.

Of course the police could have closed in sooner, but they wanted to be sure and make a case that would stick. Over the three weeks period police undercover men had made buys from this dentist totaling $1,500.

All heroin coming into this country is manufactured elsewhere and smuggled in, most of it coming across the Mexican border. Some of it is manufactured in Mexico and some of it is made elsewhere and then taken into Mexico. However, there likely isn't a port in this country at which some of it isn't brought in. The handlers prefer it to other drugs because being so much more powerful, and habit-forming, it can be cut more ways, or adulterated more, than any other drug. Its habit-forming quality nails the customer to the peddler.

Now this story may not have such a great news value, but it does have a deep sociological value. It is a graphic illustration of the problem — the narcotic addiction of young people who usually graduate to heroin through a primary course in marihuana.

The bulk of heroin is about the same as that of powdered ginger or some other spice. Put down this paper. Go out into your kitchen and pick up a can of spice. Read the label to see how much the little can holds. Now, can't you see how easy it is for a peddler to smuggle the stuff and then deliver it to any destination in Texas? If they can deliver it to Houston what makes you think they can't deliver it to a peddler in Big Spring? What makes you think that maybe it isn't being done right now?

Just how did the officers happen to catch the Houston dentist with the package in his hand? They had a tip, from an undercover man, that it was to be delivered to him by a fellow from San Antonio. The officers watched and waited until this car from San Antonio pulled up in front of the house and the delivery was made. Then the five policemen and four Federal agents smashed down the door.

And that delivery boy from San Antonio? Here's the firecracker, and it's distressing news for some fellows over in The Flats right here in Big Spring.

He was Jimmy Yancey, age 21. Jimmy is pretty well known to some people here in Big Spring. He has friends, also former San Antonians, living here. The connections are pretty close. Jimmy is familiar with our city. He has visited here. Maybe he has even done business here. But the chances are that it will be some time before Jimmy gets his agents. The U. S. Commissioner set his bail at $15,000 and at last reports he hadn't made it. —FRANKLIN REYNOLDS

Matter Of Fact — Joseph And Stewart Alsop

Democrats Steal All The Glory In Bill To Outlaw Communists

WASHINGTON—The White House, the Republican Congressional leaders and, above all, the professional subversive hunters, are as mad as wet hens about the bill to outlaw the Communist party and who can blame them?

This theft of anti-Communist thunder was the most cleverly conceived, ruthlessly executed and politically adroit of all the sudden Democratic raids that have been such a feature of this session of Congress. If only for this reason, its full story deserves to be told.

The opening scene occurred on the Senate floor on Wednesday of last week. There the Senate was the Butler bill, strengthening the existing law against Communist-dominated labor unions. The Republicans were making it very clear that they regarded the Butler bill and Attorney General Herbert Brownell's other anti-subversive measures as most useful ammunition for the fall campaign.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey is up for reelection, and he does not relish the cry of "twenty years of treason." As he subsequently remarked, he suddenly decided he would "give the back-row Red-hunters on the other side some real legislation to chew on." He remembered a bill to outlaw the Communist party, which had been introduced long before by Sen. Mike Mansfield. He at once suggested to Sens. Mansfield, John Kennedy, and Wayne Morse that they attach the Mansfield bill to the Butler bill as an amendment.

All were agreeable, and so Humphrey took the scheme to Senate Minority Leader Lyndon Johnson. Johnson was delighted, but recommended conference with Sen. Price Daniel, in order to bring the conservative Democrats into the picture. Daniel joined the raiding party, and by evening all was prepared except the amendments themselves. These were still being written when Humphrey rose at a late hour in the evening, to ask Senate permission to have "several amendments" printed for later consideration.

The next morning was spent by Humphrey in recruiting other allies. In the end, he had twenty-one Senators, representing both the Right and Left wing extremes of the Senate democracy, when he rose with an air of happy innocence to call up his amendment. Until that moment, the Republican leadership had no notion of what was afoot.

"I am tired of having people play the Communist issue," said Sen. Humphrey, putting the matter in a nutshell. "I want to come to grips with the Communist issue. I want Senators to stand up and to answer whether they are for the Communist party or against it."

There was no politically orable answer to that. Sen. Welker grumbled very loudly. Sen. Jenner grumbled very long. Sen. Humphrey amiably hinted that Welker and Jenner must be "soft on Communism." As had been arranged, Sen. Daniel proposed modifications and clarifications of the Humphrey amendment. Sen. Cooper changed a clause to safeguard free speech. And after that the Senate voted unanimously for the amendment and the bill.

This was, of course, a great deal more than the Administration wanted. Under

White House pressure, the House softened the bill, merely depriving the Communists of the privileges of a political party. Then on Tuesday, in the Senate, Humphrey renewed his raid, asking that the Senate insist on its own original language.

This time, the vote was close, for Majority Leader William Knowland mustered all the faithful on his side. But Knowland was deserted by Sen. William Langer; by Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, the original proposer of outlawry for Communists; and most significantly, by Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, who is up for reelection this year. On the Democratic side, Lyndon Johnson swiftly juggled pairs to cancel the effect of a couple of Democratic desertions. Humphrey won again, by 41 to 39. Kuchel refused to change his vote despite the angry pleas of Knowland and Vice President Nixon; and so the Senate story ended.

Meanwhile Lyndon Johnson had hurried to the House side. There he got House Democratic Leader Rayburn and a R. P. Dies to ask the House to approve the Senate's action. After a disorganized moment, over-riding an angry plea by Charles A. Halleck, the House went along with the Senate by the heavy vote of 268 to 100.

The best comment on this method of legislating was made by the respected conservative Democrat, Sen. Walter George. "They brought in a political bill," said George, "so we just put a little more politics into it."

As to the politics of the matter, there can be little doubt. But it is hard to forget the remarkable debate on this very issue between Harold Stassen and Thomas E. Dewey in the Oregon primary of 1948. The more recent debates in the Senate and House do not disclose any effective answers to the arguments Gov. Dewey then offered, against this measure that the Congress has now so eagerly passed.

Advice From Italian Star

Italian Star Gina Lollobrigida, currently being seen in "Beat The Devil," stresses the importance of sincerity as an important part of making a good impression. She also puts emphasis on a pleasing speaking voice.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Naturalness, Sincerity Stressed By New Star

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Before I left for Europe I had the good fortune to have cocktails with Gina Lollobrigida (accent on the bridge), sometimes called Italy's Marilyn Monroe. Because of this I was prepared to ask her secret for being attractive to the opposite sex. But after meeting her I realized almost instantly that Miss Lollobrigida had a much more complex personality than the sexy wenches she plays on the screen. (You saw her with Humphrey Bogart in "Beat the Devil.")

"I had no intention to be an actress," beautiful Gina confided in her hotel suite as her doctor-husband mixed us a drink. "I was studying painting, but one day on the street a man stopped me. 'Would you like to do a role in my next picture?' he asked."

"This is not unusual in Rome because in an attempt for realism, directors often walk down the street looking for types. I know Pier Angeli got her start that way, and so did Rossana Podesta, star of "Heaven of Troy."

"I was attracted by the money I would make," Gina continued. "Paints and canvas are expensive. But the director liked my work and I did three pictures for him. By this time I decided to become an actress and give up painting. I am a perfectionist and do not feel it possible to do more than one thing seriously."

"Has being so beautiful made it easier for you?" I wanted to know. "Yes and no," was her reply. "In the beginning beauty is an advantage, but people expect you to ride on your good looks. In the end you have to work harder to prove you can act."

"As soon as I decided to make acting my career I saw every movie I could. I would go back again and again, and I learned from the mistakes of poor actors as well as from the perfection of my favorites—Betty Davis, Katharine Hepburn and Lili Palmer."

"Gina is a perfectionist!" her husband reiterated. "She won't let anyone do her make-up or her hair, even when she's working."

"It's in my contract," Gina explained. "I have a clause permitting me to care for myself. I am a painter and I use my face as a canvas. But what forced me into this was an eye infection I got from an unsanitary pencil or brush. I nearly lost my sight."

"Sometimes I was given unbecoming hair styles. I took lessons in hair cutting and hair dressing. I worked on wigs until I could handle them as well as a professional. My hair is very oily, so I wash it every three days. This is a great saving for me to be able to do it at home."

"Make-up," Gina continued, "must be simple. No matter how much you do for your face it should never look artificial. Anyone can put on make-up so that it shows, but it takes technique to make it look natural."

We chatted about Italians versus Americans, but Gina feels that character is more important than nationality. "One very important thing to me is sincerity," she said. "I don't think a person can be attractive without it. When I hear a false tone of voice from people I don't care how handsome they are, I don't care for them. I dislike conceit, too. The bigger the person is the more modest he is. In choosing friends, I like to have around me people who are sincere and enthusiastic—who have many interests in life."

"I love music almost as much as painting. At school I considered singing as a career. 'I advise singing lessons to everyone, even if they don't have a good voice.' They make a big contribution to beauty. And the exercises teach one how to breathe properly. Once you know how to fill your lungs with oxygen you have more vitality and can ward off sickness easily. And it helps your posture too, because you have to stand correctly to let your breath out properly."

When I asked Gina if she liked American cosmetics she had high praise for our lipstick, mascara and pancake make-up. "I have oily skin and use soap and water for my complexion care. But oily skin has its advantages. My complexion does not wrinkle easily, but under the hot lights make-up does not keep as well. I find cake type make-up best for my skin."

VOICE TRAINING
Gina is so right when she places great importance on voice. To help you get a better speaking voice, order a copy of leaflet M-11, "Exercises to Improve Your Speaking Voice." You'll also get tips on breathing and how to lower your voice. Get your copy by sending five cents AND a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Big Spring Herald. Remember to ask for M-11.

Pansy Nichols, Austin, Speaks For TB Group

"Christmas in August" was the theme of the quarterly dinner of the Howard County Tuberculosis Association held Monday evening in the Garden Room of the Twins' Cafe.

The speakers' table was decorated with tiny Christmas trees and figurines copying one design of the double seals to be sold this year. Programs were booklets shaped like Christmas trees. Pansy Nichols, executive secretary of the TB Association, spoke to the group on "The Present Tuberculosis Problem."

Miss Nichols, head of the Texas Tuberculosis Association for 22 years, called attention to the need for additional funds for the treatment of tuberculosis patients. Victims of the disease must wait from three weeks to five months for admission to one of the state sanatoriums after the disease is diagnosed, she said.

Treatment for the 2,313 tuberculosis patients in hospitals must be provided on a budget of about $4.50 per patient per day. At least $7 will be required to do the job adequately, Miss Nichols claimed. While the tuberculosis death rate has declined from 200 per 100,000 population to about 12 per 100,000 in the last 50 years, the number of tuberculosis cases has not dropped correspondingly, she said. It is estimated that there are now 18,000 active tuberculosis infections in Texas.

Miss Nichols predicted that from six to 12 cases of tuberculosis will be diagnosed as the result of the mass X-ray survey which closed here last week. Over the state, one or two active cases are found for every 1,000 persons X-rayed. More than 6,000 received the examination here.

Two factors hindering the treatment of patients in sanatoriums are monotony of hospital life and the patient's worry about his family, often left without a breadwinner, said Mrs. Nichols. She lauded the local association for contributing to the occupational therapy program at McKnight Sanatorium, near San Angelo.

During the business session, Wendell Parks introduced guests and presided for the reports given by various chairmen. Bryce Wiginton, chairman of the Chest X-ray committee, told of the success of the drive. He credited the cooperation of women of the town, the newspapers, theaters and other agencies for the number who took advantage of the offer.

Mrs. Wayland Yates reported on the work of the Searchlight committee, which finds out the need of the local organization through investigation and works to fill them. It was decided that the date for the next meeting of the group will be set by the executive committee.

Yarborough Hits 'Do-Nothingness' Of His Opponent

By WILBUR MARTIN FORT WORTH — Ralph Yarborough headed toward the industrial Gulf coast today in his bid to become Texas governor.

The former Austin district judge hammered at record of Gov. Allan Shivers and "Nazi and Communist type propaganda" he said was aimed at him, in three speeches here and at Dallas last night.

He said his opponent in Saturday's Democratic run-off election had used faked photographs and a "smear sheet lifted right out of Goebbels' notebook" to "scare farmers and ranchers out of voting for a Democratic candidate and a Democratic program."

Yarborough said the faked photographs were of pickets in a program called "A Day at the Campaign Office With Ralph Yarborough." He had a statewide radio speech and a rally attended by an estimated thousand persons here.

In his three speeches, Yarborough said: 1. He considered his election battle with Shivers "a straight-out Republican - Democrat fight." He said he was the Democrat.

He repeatedly hit at what he said was Shivers' stand of trade with Red China. He said Shivers advocated this "with two brother Republican governors" after a visit to Korea.

Yarborough today scheduled speeches at Houston, Galveston, Texas City and Houston again. Yarborough said the "border bosses" had swung a solid vote for Shivers along the Rio Grande.

He said he "would give the government of Texas back to the people." Yarborough, pushing his campaign at a speech-an-hour clip, said Shivers had a "do-nothing" record and "he wanted the people of Texas to give him a third term" on the basis of it.

VARGAS

(Continued From Page 1) calling for Vargas to quit was presented to him shortly after midnight by Gen. Mascarenhas de Moraes, chief of the armed forces general staff, and War Minister Zenobio da Costa. Then came frantic hours of conferences between Vargas and these army officers and members of his Cabinet, as well as members of his family.

It was the second time Vargas had been forced out of the presidency of this country of 54 million persons. An army-led coup in 1945 deposed him after he had served 15 years. But he came back in 1951.

Ever since he resumed office there had been opposition sniping and frequent suggestions that he resign. The opposition was voted down in an attempt to bring impeachment proceedings against him last June.

Today troops were distributed heavily in the area of the presidential palace. An unusual number of police also was noted on the streets.

Some stores in the center of the city closed.

Vice President Cafe issued a statement asking all Brazil to lay aside political and personal feelings and pay Vargas the homage due him.

Campbell Gives New Look To Old Buildings

Charles Campbell, local contractor, has helped make a number of homes here look like brand new structures with his "building magic."

A house takes on a completely different appearance when he gets through with a remodeling job. Reason is that he actually gives that house a new face—a stone face.

Campbell is the local contractor handling brick and mural stone. This stone can be applied directly over the frame or stucco sides to give the appearance of a brick or an Austin stone building. Installation takes a minimum of time.

A number of people here are remodeling their homes with the new stone facings, which are permanent. Free estimates are given to all interested. Campbell's office is located at 400 Abrams, and his phone number is 4-3407.

People with stucco homes should investigate the possibilities of a stone facing. The new front can be added to stucco buildings easily, Campbell points out.

In fact, it is more economical to install the stone facings to stucco homes because an installation "step" is left out. "All we do is apply the stone to stucco homes," the contractor said. "At other places we must first stucco and then apply the stone."

A number of business concerns are obtaining "face liftings" too. Campbell points out that business establishments usually get new stone fronts of the brick stone rather than mural stone. A close inspection does not even reveal that the brick stone is not regular brick.

Most home owners who remodel ask for the mural stone, he explained. "The dirtier it gets the more beautiful it is."

Campbell, a contractor for 17 years, also does regular stucco work and concrete work. Most of his concrete jobs are "finish" projects—such as pouring slab floors.

Workers Take Armor Off Air Carrier FDR

BREMERTON, Wash. (AP)—Workers were stripping seven million pounds of armor from the 45,000-ton aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt today, preparing to give the FDR a new suit of armor.

The Navy said, without giving details, that a new type anti-torpedo blister to be installed around the FDR's hull possibly will make less armor necessary.

Paint-On Wallpaper Designs

Window display at Nabors Paint Store, 1701 Gregg, is shown above. The display has some of the designs which can be painted on walls with a new design roller sold by the firm. A. A. Cooper, manager, who is standing on the left, says that patrons can either buy or rent the rollers. Some 16 design patterns are in stock. The walls are painted the desired color with a regular roller and then the design is put on top with another color. Such designs can be painted on any wall board or paper. The other man in the picture is Arnold L. Tonn, salesman who has just become associated with Nabors.

Turboprop Plane Due To Be Tested

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—The Lockheed YC130, first turbo-prop power cargo plane built for the Air Force, is at Edwards Air Force Base for extensive flight tests.

The four-engine ship was test flown there yesterday, a distance of 80 air miles. The craft has a wingspread of 132 feet, double wheels on the nose gear and double landing gear wheels in tandem which retract into the fuselage. It can be loaded from the rear of the fuselage. Designed for logistics support, assault missions and air evacuation duties, it has T56 Allison engines capable of lifting it quickly. The plane was airborne yesterday after traveling one-third of the way, engineers said.

Nabors Shows Rollers For Applying Designs In Paint

Motif design rollers are the new specialty at Nabors' Paint Store, 1701 Gregg Street.

These rollers can be used to paint the complicated designs heretofore found only on wallpaper. A. Cooper, store manager, announced that 16 designs are now being sold, and that other designs are available.

Anyone can paint with the roller, and the result will be a professional looking product with uniform design. Any color design can be applied.

The first step is to paint the wall the color desired. Then the design, another color, can be rolled on. The paint can be rolled on plaster, Textone, any type wall board or wall paper.

The roller machine can be purchased at the store for $9.98, and design rollers sell from $2.49 to $3.99. Rental fee for the machines is $1.50 per day.

Demonstrations of the new roller will be made on request by Cooper or the new store salesman, Arnold Tonn.

Tonn, who has been in the painting business here for the past seven years, has just started his association with Nabors. He and his family, a wife and child, live at 1800 Mittel Avenue.

Nabors Paint Store is known here as the "color center," and it is estimated that over 1,000 color selections are available there in paint. If the color desired is not in stock, then a blend can be made.

Paints can be purchased at Nabors either wholesale or retail. On stock at the store are industrial paints, floor coverings, venetian blinds, wall paper, and numerous accessory items. Glidden "Spred Satin" industrial house paint, and jet black enamel are outstanding values.

NEW LIQUID KILLS ROACHES AND ANTS

Scientists recommend that you control roaches and ants the modern way—with Johnson's NO-ROACH. Brushed just where you want it, (not a messy spray) the colorless, odorless coating kills these pests. IT'S MY BELIEF, GENTLEMEN, THAT IF AN ENEMY EVER TRIES A SNEAK ATTACK ON US, IT WILL COME DURING THE HURRICANE SEASON. THE QUESTION IS: HOW CAN WE PREVENT A SUB FROM SINKING FIRST OUR PATROLS DURING A HURRICANE?

WHAT ABOUT THE HURRICANE HUNTERS?

NO, BUT THEY MAKE WEATHER RECONNAISSANCE FLIGHTS INTO THE VERY EYE OF A HURRICANE. WE CAN DIRECT THEM TO KEEP A LOOKOUT AND GIVE WARNING OF ANYTHING SUSPICIOUS.

EXCELLENT SUGGESTION. NO IDENTIFIED SUB IS TO ENTER THE GULFSTREAM.

Steeds, Odessa Here Wednesday

Stymied by wet grounds last night, the Big Spring Broncs will try to play a doubleheader with Rowell in Rowell this evening. There was some doubt this morning that the teams would be able to take the field. The Rocket diamond was a quagmire Monday and it will take a lot of sun to dry out the field.

After the next home stand, the Cayuses will be at home for only four games and they play those in three days. Chances are Tito Arenothia and Jeff Davis will shoulder the mound duties for the Broncs tonight. The Steeds picked up half a game on fourth-place Midland last night, the Indians having lost to Odessa, 2-0.

Dukes Finally Win A Game

The Albuquerque Dukes finally won a ball game in the West Texas-New Mexico League. The Dukes clipped Lubbock, 4-1, Monday night despite a 4-hit pitching performance by Charles Lemley of the Hubbers. One of those blows was a 3-run homer in the first inning by Duke Manager Tom Jordan.

We Play 'Em One At Time', Says Al

NEW YORK (AP)—Hitting spurts by Stan Musial of the Cardinals and Minnie Minoso of the White Sox have tightened up the major league batting races today. Musial, setting his sights on his seventh National League batting title, boosted his average to .348 and now trails Brooklyn's Duke Snider by one point. Snider, who had a 7-point bulge July 5, is hitting .349.

Texans Win Top Trapshoot Title

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

SPORTS transcript: GEORGE DUNN, Big Spring's new wrestling promoter: "A long time ago, wrestling was hurt by the rough-neck element, the fly-by-nights who'd come into a town, sell a bunch of tickets with a big buildup and make a bunch of promises they never meant to live up to. The game had a hard time living down its past. We keep an orderly house now and we discourage rowdiness. We want the best people coming to our shows here and we intend to see to it that their rights are protected when they do come."

JACK KEARNS, former manager of Jack Dempsey: "I offered $50,000 to Suey Welch for Charlie Powell's contract. The only trouble with Suey is that he's got too much money. He turned me down."

BOB SCHULZE, former head football coach at Lamar High School, now situated at Conroe, explaining why his team was tied by Harlingen last fall: "My boys stayed in air conditioned rooms for eight hours and then went out to try and play football. The heat got 'em."

JACK Y. SMITH, co-chairman of the Big Spring Quarterback Club: "We've appropriated $100 for each high school sport. One of the things we've already agreed to buy is a tennis backboard, something the players have always needed here."

CHARLEY GRIMM, manager of the Milwaukee Braves: "The truth is I have never had one day's worry about pitching all season. Buhl and Nichols started slow because they were just out of the Army, but they came around wonderfully and at no time has there been a pinch on me to figure out a pitching schedule. Our pitchers lost as often as they did in the spring because we couldn't score runs. I couldn't have faulted our staff at any time, but now that we are making an extra run, you see our pitchers—no better than they were—winning instead of losing."

BUCK SHAW, coach of the San Francisco pro footballers, explaining why the New York Giants gave his club so much trouble recently: "We were prepared for five men rushing the kicker. When the Giants put seven men up on the line, our backs forgot to adjust and remain in blocking position. Instead, they went downfield to cover as they would with a five-man rushing situation. We'll have to correct that. Also, I think our linemen were releasing too quickly on punts. They'll have to stick with their men a second or two longer."

PEPPER MARTIN, manager of the Big Spring Broncs, on Jeff Davis, the new Bronc hurler: "When he went in against Sweetwater, I liked what I saw. He's quick. There's some doubt about his status, incidentally. He says he may be a class man next year. He may be good enough to be carried as such, though."

It's Up To Me, Says Yankees' Casey Stengel

NEW YORK (AP)—His team 5 1/2 lengths off the phenomenal 1721 pace of the Cleveland Indians, Casey Stengel today put himself on the spot with an "it's up to me" declaration as his New York Yankees opened a vital nine-game home stand.

"This is where the manager comes in," said Casey. "It's up to me to get them out of this streak." The "streak" Casey referred to was the loss of three games in Boston last weekend, a body blow, most observers believe, to the club's chances of winning their sixth straight American League flag.

But Stengel sees the Yankees' plight as far from hopeless. "Don't forget we still have five more games left with Cleveland," he observed. "The Yankees will get on their feet again and make a comeback."

The two top contenders are scheduled to get back into the Yankee Stadium in a three-game set, Aug. 31-Sept. 2, and then wind up their season's series with a doubleheader in Cleveland on Sept. 12.

Although disappointed over his team's showing against the red-hot Red Sox, Stengel said it wasn't the lack of hustle that caused the Yankees' demerit. "I never saw a team try so hard as this one did in Boston. These guys have been putting out all season. When you lose two men like Slaughter and Woodling because they ran into walls chasing flies, you know the effort is there."

Stengel's morale received a much needed boost late yesterday when he learned that Woodling probably would return to action in two weeks. When he hurt his wrist at Fenway Park on Saturday, it was feared Gens would be lost for the rest of the campaign.

Three more of Casey's invalids will be available for tonight's game against Baltimore. Jim McDonald has recovered from a groin injury, Hank Bauer from a pelvis ailment and Allie Reynolds' right knee is swelling again. "No, we're not helpless yet," Casey emphasized as he huddled with himself over tonight's batting order.

Forsan Troop Is 4th At Midland

FORSAN (SC)—Explorer Troop 11 of Forsan tied for fourth place in the Buffalo Trail County swimming meet held in Midland last weekend.

William King of Forsan finished second in the breaststroke race, Frank Tate Jr., won third place in both the back-stroke and cross-country carry and Tony Starr was fourth in the free-style race. In all, five boys represented Forsan in the meet. They were part of 141 boys entered.

Following the meet, the participants were treated to a barbecue.

anywhere along the path could be the end. Last week should be edged in black on Milwaukee calendars. Only seven days ago the Braves were a mere 3 1/2 games out of the lead and owned a nine-game winning streak. Then came four losses in six games and now they're 7 1/2 behind.

Milwaukee Awaits Critical Tests

By BEN PHLEGAR Associated Press Sports Writer The Milwaukee Braves have eight days left to get back into the National League pennant fight. After that it will be too late. The big tests start tonight when Philadelphia moves into County Stadium in Milwaukee for the first of three games. Then comes New York for two games and Brooklyn for four.

The School Tax Office is now in a position to accept and file new orders for 1954 season tickets for home football games of the 1954 Big Spring Steers.

'Scramblers' Still Dominate Play in National Amateur

DETROIT (AP)—Amateur golf still is a game for scramblers—in spite of the efforts of the pros to teach "scientific" play and of the U. S. Golf Assn. in finding a championship course that will penalize every mistake. It was 1930 amateur champion Sammy Uretzky who voiced that opinion, just after being eliminated in the first round of the 1954 Amateur Championship at the Country Club of Detroit. And the results of yesterday's other first-round encounters supported his opinion.

LEGION, YANKEES MEET AT 8 O'CLOCK TONIGHT

The stage has been set for the Little League's "Battle of the Century" tonight, 8 o'clock. At 8 o'clock, the American Legion—its appetites whetted by a 13-1 victory scored at the expense of the Caden Owls last night—tangle with the Yankees.

The Legion reigned as American League titlist in the season just completed. The Yankees prevailed as the National League kings. The city has known no other champions than the Yankees, since the Little League program was started three years ago. The Legionnaires intend to do something about that starting tonight, however.

Panier Beaten By Paratrooper 'Blue Monday'

NEW YORK (AP)—"Fighting is fun," says Wildcat Billy McNeese, a 22-year-old former paratrooper who may make a lot of money doing what comes naturally. The big, reddish-blond middleweight from Central Islip, N. Y., added to his prestige with a decisive 10-round triumph over seasoned Garth Panier of Salt Lake City in a lively scrap at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena last night. McNeese, a 1-2 favorite, outweighted Panier, 153 1/2 to 161.

One good win deserves another so today matchmaker Teddy Cohen and Manager Irving Cohen began negotiating with France's Pierre Langlois for an Oct. 11 date with Wildcat Billy at the Parkway Oct. 11. If they can't get Pierre, the two hope to corral either Joey Giardello or Rocky Castellani. McNeese, whose record now is 11-2, won't be able to go before Oct. 11 because of cuts over both eyes requiring 10 stitches. The cuts were inflicted early in the bout with Panier but it didn't bother the bullish youngster a bit.

In the other television bout of the night, at St. Nicholas Arena, Chico Varona, sixth-ranked welterweight contender from Cuba, won a split 10-round decision over 35-year-old Frankie Fernandez of Honolulu.

Lubbock Rider Is First In Rodeo

Ronald Ellis of Lubbock emerged as winner in the "Big motor" division of the White Hawk Motorcycle Club's Rodeo staged here Sunday afternoon.

Winner in the "medium motor" class was Bobby Cook of San Angelo while Josh Messenger of Big Spring prevailed as the best in the "light motor" class.

In all, 21 riders from Lubbock, Midland, San Angelo, Odessa, Rowell, N. M., and Big Spring competed. A crowd estimated at 200 watched the nine events.

FALL INTO ONE OF THESE LATE SUMMER BARGAINS BEFORE ANOTHER MONTH GOES BY

First thing we know winter will be here. By buying now, you can have a dependable car for winter and still enjoy it while the weather is nice.

HOW ABOUT YOUR OLD DOG AND ALL THE NEW TRICKS?

Can't teach your old car to use its power for braking. Can't teach it to shift automatically? Then you better trade it on one of these with all the latest features.

'53 BUICK Super 4-door sedan. All this and air conditioning too. How can you pass one like this. Priced to sell.

CARS AND PEOPLE

are judged by the company they have kept. Each of these cars has been a cherished member of a respected local family. All have had but one previous owner.

'53 CADILLAC '62' 4-door sedan. Air conditioned. Looks and drives like new. Now YOU can join the NO SWEAT SET.

'51 BUICK 2-door sedan. Really a sharp one. DON'T miss seeing this one. It's a real buy.

Mendes-France Has EDC Crisis Ahead

By CARL HARTMAN
PARIS (U)—French Premier Pierre Mendes-France wrestled anew with the European army crisis today as a cross fire of demands mounted in his own country for acceptance or rejection of the controversial six-nation defense treaty.

Mendes-France flew back to meet his Cabinet today after a hurried conference in Britain yesterday with British Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

The Premier reported last night to French President Rene Coty at the Normandy resort of Esgnoles de Orne, filling the President in on his secret talk with Churchill and his failure at the six-nation Brussels conference to get approval of the sweeping revisions he demanded in the European Defense Community pact.

If Churchill and Mendes-France decided upon any alternative to EDC during their talk yesterday, it was a top diplomatic secret.

After the four-hour meeting, they agreed to "early and practical steps to maintain Western unity. Official sources disclosed they reviewed all possible alternatives for re-arming West Germany and restoring full sovereignty to the Bonn government if EDC fails.

Facing Mendes-France was the grave decision on whether to try for another new set of modifications in the EDC treaty or let the French National Assembly begin a ratification debate, scheduled for Saturday, on the pact as it stands.

The Premier himself had insisted that the modifications he demanded at Brussels were necessary to win French ratification. Some members of his Cabinet favor the pact as it stands, but others oppose it unless it is drastically altered. Whichever way the Premier swings he is bound to lose support.

There was some doubt among politicians today whether his Cabinet could survive the treaty debate.

Airman In Drugs Case Held Guilty

Alexander Williams of Webb AFB was convicted by a military court Monday on charges of possession of marijuana. The six-man board cleared him of charges alleging the use of marijuana. He was sentenced to receive a bad conduct discharge from the Air Force, one year of confinement, forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and reduction in grade from airman third class to airman basic.

Prosecution in the case was by Capt. Walter D. Williams, staff judge advocate at Webb. Civilian attorneys for the defendant were Guilford Jones and George T. Thomas of Big Spring. Military counsel to the defense was Lt. Arnold M. Gold.

Summations began Monday afternoon after the admittance of rebuttal witnesses by the prosecution earlier in the day.

During the court martial, references were made to the availability of marijuana in this area. Capt. Williams referred to the area (including Big Spring and Midland) as an "open local market."

IT HAPPENED

Limit To Patience
INDIANAPOLIS (U)—The bus was plainly marked "North Meridian Express," but passengers kept buzzing to get off at near North Side stops.

Each time the driver sighed and stopped, explaining patiently, "This is an express bus."

At 20th Street, he stopped, turned to the passengers and announced, "I guess this is as good a time as any to quit." He picked up his coin changer and walked off the bus, leaving the astounded passengers to change to later buses.

Indianapolis Transit System said the driver quit because he was "fed up." His name wasn't announced.

Sermon Material?
ANDOVER, England (U)—The Rev. Ivor Machin, vicar of Andover, has just booked 15 seats for the Folies Bergere in Paris.

He is taking a party of his parishioners there for a holiday.

"The Folies," he said, "are part of the life of Paris so naturally we shall want to see them."

Black Reputation
BAGLIT, Wales (U)—Jock the sheepdog was a failure—he had a pure white coat and the sheep just didn't give a hoot for him.

So George Pugh, his owner, dyed the dog black.

The result: Jock won the driving contest at the Welsh National Sheep Dog Trials here.

Carries Fad Too Far
LOS ANGELES (U)—Connie James, television actress and model, thinks her husband carried the do-it-yourself fad too far.

When she asked $12.50 for a hair-do, he said he'd do the job himself—after he learned how, the 20-year-old actress charged yesterday in a complaint for separate maintenance.

She asked her husband, Steve

Limited Protection
VISALIA, Calif. (U)—To protect them from thieves, this city's theater cashiers are locked—from the outside—in their booths. But the precaution backfired for Robble Whitfield, 17.

While she sat helplessly in her cage a man climbed into her car parked across the street and drove away, ignoring her shouts. Police still are looking for the thief.

Ellingson, 43, who writes a do-it-yourself column for 400 newspapers, to pay her $900 monthly from earnings which she estimated at $5,000 a month. His property holdings, the complaint said, are worth $100,000.

Ellingson accused her of "intolerable extravagance" when she brought home a 97-cent house plant, and paid only half the check after inviting her parents to dinner, she charged.

They separated last Friday—right after the dinner party.
