THE HANSFORD PLAINSMAN

VOLUME 10, NO. 2

THE HANSFORD PLAINSMAN, SPEARMAN, TEXAS 79081

SUNDAY, NOVEMBER 19, 1978

For the 6th year in a row, the Spearman Lynx have not lost a conference football game. This could be a AA record, or maybe it is just something that Spearman has to brag about!

In any event the Lynx defeated the Dalhart Wolves Friday night at Lynx stadium 26-6 in a well-played game, before a large crowd.

The Lynx will meet Childress at Pampa on Friday night, 7:30 p. m. for the bi-district championship in AA. The game last night was a thriller. On their first offensive play of the game Newton passed to Martin for a 60 yard plus touchdown, and, from then on it was all Lynx! In fact, Coach Smith used his "wrecking crew" the entire last half, and sure enough the Wolves managed a score late in the game.

After the opening touchdown, Newton added two more TD's, on runs of 8 yards and 11 yards, and Lozano ran 1 yard for the other Lynx score.

One of the highlights of the evening was a 65 yard punt return by Beedy, setting up the last Lynx TD. Snider intercepted two Dalhart passes that almost resulted in touchdowns for the Lynx. But, the real story of the game was the Lynx defense that held the Wolves to only 66 yards rushing.

The bi-district game at Pampa Friday nite, will be the usual "play-off game" for the Lynx. Fans had already suspected that the site would be at Harvester field, and after the first play of the game Friday night which resulted in a TD for the Lynx fans began to ask where we would play Childress!

Community Christmas Tree Lighting Set

A large Christmas Tree loaded with colorful lights will be placed in the middle of the intersection of Davis and Main. A community Christmas Tree Lighting will be held Thursday, November 30, 1978. The lights will be turned on at 6:30 p.m. to officially start the Christmas Season. Kent Guthrie will be Master of Ceremonies. Rev. Knuckles will give the invocation. The first thru third grades from Spearman, fourth and fifth from Gruver, and the Spearman Music Club will sing Christmas Carols and all the children in attendance will be given candy canes by Santa's Elves. Rho Rho Sorority will have their drawing for a trip to Las Vegas.

The stores will be open late on this night for your convenience. The Treasure Hunt will also begin immediately following the program. A $25.00 gift certificate or gift will be placed in a treasure chest at each participating business. You may select one key from a container of 25 or more keys to see if you can unlock the Treasure Chest. There may be one try per visit at each participating business, which will give one gift away weekly for three weeks. You must be 16 or older to participate.

Make your plans now to attend the big Christmas tree lighting and see if you might unlock a Treasure Chest!

Merchants participating are: Spearman Electronics, Lady Fair, Country Store, Thriftway, Anthony Electric, Western Stamp Store, T.G. & Y. Public Hearing Held For Spearman

Several weeks ago Spearman city officials were notified that approval had been granted to the city's pre application for $75,000.00 in airport funds. The formal public hearing was held recently to provide for the actual receipt of these funds hopefully by Feb. 1, 1979.

Lenis Simpson, Spearman City Manager said that the Texas Aeronautical Commission required proof of a Public Hearing, evidence that a survey of the airport land had taken place, a set of plans and specifications within a ninety day period following the notice of the pre application approval. Simpson said that the engineering firm of McMurrises and Burns of Dumas, Texas, were in the process of completing the necessary survey and the finalization of the specifications. Coresamples were scheduled to be taken this Monday meanwhile work continues on some of the preliminary work at what will be a great addition and forward step for Spearman. The realization of new airport possibly within the next eighteen months.

Barton Is New County Agent

Layton Barton, 26, formerly Extension agent for Gray County is the new Hansford County Extension Agent. The new Hansford County official has spent four years in Gray County with offices in Pampa. He had been Assistant County Agent during his first two years and then was named County agent.

A graduate of Panhandle State University with a B. S. degree in Animal Science, graduating in 1974. He graduated from Arnett High School in Arnett, Oklahoma, a town of 800 residents. His wife Claudia is from Santana, Kansas. They have an eight month old son, Trey. The Bartons are Methodists and already are getting involved in their work in Hansford County. The new agent said "I'm so happy to be in a small town situation...I really enjoy meeting the folks in Gruver and Spearman. Barton said he brought a varied background into his extension work...noting that he had been a feedlot worker along with having been a ranch hand at one time. He said he played basketball and baseball at Arnett High School...and was a member of the R.O.T.C., in College, a member of the Livestock Judging Team, the Block and Bridle Club, the Rodeo Club and the Pershing Rifles.

The new County agent added that he was busy during these first few weeks in his new position "trying to identify the various 4 H projects in Hansford County, and was actively planning on getting involved in planning with the Livestock and Crop producers of the county."

Claudia Barton said she had a full time hobby keeping up with eight month old Trey.

Recent General, State and Local election results have been canvassed officially by the Hansford County Commissioners. In their meeting Monday November 13, the Commissioners also approved Hansford County's share of salary increases for the District Attorney's staff.

The bids were opened for a new pick up truck for precinct 2, and a bid of $7650.00 was accepted from Gruver Ford.

The commissioners also approved the employment of Helen Crocker in the District and County Clerks office.

Collard Awarded CLU

John R. Collard, Jr. has been awarded the CLU (Chartered Life Underwriter) diploma and professional designation by the American College of Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, a fully accredited educational institution for the advancement of learning and professionalism in life insurance and related financial sciences. The award was made at the College's 51st Annual National Conferment Exercises held October 17th in San Diego, California. The American College awards the CLU designation to persons who successfully complete the ten-course CLU curriculum and fulfill stringent experience and ethical requirements. This year more than 2,400 men and women received the designation, bringing to over 41,000 the number of persons who have been awarded the CLU since the College was founded in 1927.

John R. has been in the Insurance, Real Estate and Farm Management business in Spearman thirty years. He received his business degree, majoring in accounting, from the University of Southern California in 1937. He is a member of the local Chamber of Commerce and is Vice-President of the Spearman Rotary Club, where he is a Paul Harris fellow of Rotary International. He is a long-time leader and supporter of the Boys Scouts, having been awarded the Scouters Key and Silver Beaver. He also is a member of the Wood Badge and Order of the Arrow.

He belongs to Hansford Lodge #1040 and was Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Texas in 1964. He is Past-President of the Texas Shrine Association and Past Potentate of Khiva Temple. He is also active in the York Rite, having received the Silver Trowel and the Order of High Priesthood. He has been DeMoley Dad of the Borger DeMoley and was awarded the Cross of Honor. He also is a member of Grand Cross of Colors in the Rainbow for Girls. John R. is a member of the Board of the First United Methodist Church and has taught a Sunday School Class.

He is past president of the Top O'Texas Life Underwriters Association.

The CLU program was designed by Dr. Solomon S. Huebner, who guided the founding of the American College, to meet the career education needs of men and women in life and health insurance and related financial sciences. Courses cover such areas as fundamentals of life and health insurance, pension planning, insurance law, income taxation, investments and family financial management, estate planning and business insurance.

Locally, CLU classes are conducted at West Texas State University and Insurance Achievement. Persons who attain the CLU designation are privileged to use the initials, CLU, following their names and to wear the distinctive CLU key.

New Zoning Ordinance In Effect December 11

A new city zoning ordinance for the city of Spearman goes into effect December 11th., following several public hearings at City Hall. City Council members gave their approval to the 51 page document at their last meeting. The new ordinance replaces one that has been in effect since July of 1960, according to City Manager Lenis Simpson.

The city official said that the new ordinance established zoning regulations and created zoning or use districts in keeping with the comprehensive plan of the city of Spearman. The new ordinance provides for the creation of a mobile home district and also provides for the placement of mobile homes in other areas outside of that district providing there are no restrictive covenants in the deeds and providing a permit can be issued in keeping with specific regulations.

The City Manager said that the new ordinance also had enforcement and penalty provisions for violations. Corporate limits of the city of Spearman mark the boundaries of the ordinance but territory annexed to the corporate limits will fall under the provisions of the ordinance.

The new rulings provide for the following zoning districts: A-G General Agricultural District.

R-S Single Family Residential District

R-G General Residential District

C-C Convenience Commercial District

C-A/R Automotive Commercial and Commercial Recreation District

C-G General Commercial District

I-L Light Industrial District

I-H Heavy Industrial District

P-1 Public Use District.

Copies of the new ordinance are available for study at the City Managers office.

IMPORTANCE OF PERMISSION

Auto insurance is usually thought of as protection when we drive our own car. But there's another consideration—what about when cars are driven by others? What happens if a person drives your car (you have insurance on it, of course) and injures a pedestrian? Suppose you drive someone else's car and there's an accident with a rider in the other vehicle sustaining injuries? It's important to know the answers to these questions, since people do drive other's cars. This often happens on long trips when drivers take turns driving.

The key word here is permission, and it concerns the owner of the car. Bodily Injury Liability Insurance (injury or death to pedestrians, riders in other cars, or guests in your car) is in effect when someone else drives your car with your permission. You and your family are also covered while you are driving another's car, as long as you have the owner's permission.

The same principle applies in the case of Property Damage Liability Insurance when a car damages the property of others. There is coverage as long as the owner of the car has given permission for someone else to drive it.

This information has been brought to you as a public service by John R. Collard, Jr., your one stop answer to complete business and personal insurance protection. Life, home, auto, group insurance, and profit-sharing plans. See John R. Collard, Jr., 405 Davis St., Telephone 659-2501.

Today, not just the spices but the foods of the Orient are Western favorites. Now, modern methods of freezing plus a starch ingredient developed from corn by scientists at National Starch and Chemical Corporation make it possible for food companies to preserve the clarity, gloss, smoothness and eye appeal of their frozen chow mein and chop suey. The modified food starch, called Col-Flo* 67, upgrades the quality of the food, too.

Deck the boughs with edible decorations made from a basic confection mixture. Pack wafers into gift boxes. This treasured recipe uses Certo fruit pectin and gives the option of flavoring or tinting the mixture. It's time to get out your cookie cutters!

QUICK CREAMY WAFERS

- 2 pouches liquid fruit pectin*
- 2 pounds confectioners sugar
- 1 pound (about) confectioners sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon peppermint, rum, almond or orange extract (optional)
- 6 drops food coloring (optional)

* Or use 1 bottle (6 fl. oz.) liquid fruit pectin

Pour fruit pectin into a bowl. Gradually add 2 pounds confectioners sugar, mixing well after each addition. (Mixture will be very stiff.) Divide into four parts; wrap in wax paper or cover with a wet cloth. Use remaining 1 pound (about) confectioners sugar to dust board and rolling pin.

Place one fourth of the mixture at a time on a pastry board, well dusted with sugar. Add flavoring and food coloring, if desired. Knead until smooth, adding sugar to board as needed and lifting with a spatula to prevent sticking. (Any unrolled portion may be wrapped in wax paper or plastic wrap and stored at room temperature overnight.)

Roll out with sugar-dusted rolling pin, about 1/4 inch thick, turning often and dusting with sugar to prevent sticking. Cut with cookie cutters dipped in confectioners sugar. If desired, make a small hole at top of each wafer with a wooden pick. Place, top side down, on wax paper on baking sheets or trays. Press leftover mixture together; knead again until smooth, roll and cut, or shape into small balls. Allow to dry, uncovered, for 24 hours, turning once. Pack wafers in layers between wax paper in a loosely covered box. Makes about 2-3/4 pounds.

1979 Feed Grain Program Provisions Announced

Acting Secretary of Agriculture, Carol Tucker Foreman today announced the 1979 Feed Grain Program that is essentially the same as in 1978. Feed grain producers will be encouraged to remove from production an acreage equal to 20 percent of the acres they plant for harvest in 1979, a percentage identical to 1978, according to Foreman.

Corn and sorghum producers will again be offered a 10 percent set-aside and a 10 percent diversion program. There will be a 20 percent set-aside program for barley in 1979, instead of a combination set-aside/diversion program.

The incentive to participate in the 1979 program totals $2.30 a bushel for corn and $2.40 a bushel for sorghum and barley. But, the corn target prices will be $2.20, instead of $2.10 a bushel, and the diversion payment will be 10 cents a bushel, instead of 20 cents. The sorghum target price will be $2.30 a bushel, and the barley target price will be $2.40 a bushel, Foreman said.

"Without a set-aside program, feed grain producers would have faced sharply lower prices. At the same time taxpayers would have been forced to assume excessive federal payments to farmers," Foreman said.

"The 1979 Feed Grain Program will protect producer returns. It is expected to result in a modest increase in feed grain prices, but also to ensure that livestock producers and foreign buyers have adequate feed grain supplies at reasonable prices. It will result in higher export earnings from feed grains, and at the same time, federal spending in fiscal year 1980 should be lower than in 1979."

"Because our program balances producer, consumer and taxpayer interests fairly by ensuring adequate, but not excessive grain supplies, it will not be inflationary," Foreman said.

Spearman School Board To Meet

The regular breakfast meeting of Spearman Independent School Board of Trustees will be November 28th at 6:30 A.M. The Board members will take action on the 1977-78 audit. The group will meet in the Junior High School cafeteria.

C.C. Ryder First Artist

C. C. RYDER

C. C. Ryder, a Troubadour, will be the first artist presented by the Tri-City Community Concert for the 1978-1979 concert season. The concert will be held in the Berger Senior High School Auditorium at 8 P.M.
Mr. Ryder is a most versatile young gentleman of song, who has traveled the world for the past 15 years, bringing to all who have heard him the beauty, the sadness, the joy and the boundless spirit of folk music. He has an extensive background in musical comedy, repertory theatre and television. Most notably he wrote and performed an NBC animated children's educational show, "ALL ABOUT ME." He offers a rare combination of excellent taste, a fine voice and top showmanship.

Scientific Project To Assist "Bread Basket"

LUBBOCK--The Agricultural Appropriations Bill recently passed by Congress contains an $800,000 scientific project designed to assist America's "bread basket," the Great Plains, in continuing to produce high yields in the face of droughts and a declining water table.
The funds, aimed particularly at the southern Great Plains, will be used for research and initiate program planning for a Soil Moisture Conservation and Plant Stress Laboratory at Texas Tech University.

The appropriation was initiated through the House Appropriations Committee chaired by U.S. Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock. The agricultural research effort has received strong support in the Senate from Texas Senator Lloyd Bentsen. Both legislators have been working closely with the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) to insure continuing efforts to sustain and bolster the strong agricultural economy of the Southern Great Plains.

USDA scientists will man the laboratory, but research funded by the federal government will be done by both USDA agronomists and scientists from other universities throughout the area.

Scientists affiliated with the laboratory are expected to concentrate their studies on efficient water use by non-irrigated crops and grasslands as well as on energy efficiency in crop production.

In the future the USDA could construct a facility consisting of offices and support areas for greenhouse, storage, processing and growth chambers.

In 1959 USDA officials first proposed such a laboratory to the U.S. Senate. Last year the Senate allocated $100,000 for a study of possible locations. The Lubbock site was found "ideal" by a committee of scientists.

Texas Tech College Agricultural Sciences and International Center for Arid and Semi-Arid Land Studies (ICASALS) have cooperated over the past three years to focus USDA attention on resources and potential of this region, with Texas Tech suggested as the Lab's site. Texas Tech has offered the USDA suitable land on the Lubbock campus for construction of the laboratory, to be operated cooperatively with the College of Agricultural Sciences.

Hightower Highlights

(Washington, D.C.)--Congressman Jack Hightower said today that passage of the National Energy Act left him with a feeling of frustration and disappointment.
"I believe the bill can only result in more regulations and less production of our energy resources," the Congressman contended. "Texas and other producing states will find themselves holding the short end of the energy stick. I have opposed it from the day it was presented almost 18 months ago."

Hightower said congressional approval of the bill was assured Friday when efforts to force a separate vote on the natural gas section of the energy package failed by only one vote.

"I am afraid that Texans will have bad memories of Friday, the 13th of October, 1978 for years to come," Hightower said.

The Congressman said the Natural Gas Conference Report, which became the centerpiece of the Administration's energy proposals after a crude oil equalization tax failed early in Congressional deliberations, would produce the most severe negative impact.

"Some other portions of the energy package, such as individual tax credits for conservation measures, had great appeal to a majority of the Congressmen," Hightower said. "That made it obvious our only chance of defeating the natural gas section was to separate it from the more acceptable portions of the package."

Hightower said that when the Administration became aware of efforts to force the separate vote it unleashed a wave of personal visits, telephone calls, memorandums and letters to House members. "I also was urged to support the measure by businessmen who had yield-

First Thanksgiving Was 3-Day Feast

With Thanksgiving drawing near, millions of Americans will soon be stalking supermarkets in search of the perfect turkey. They will find their turkeys in plastic bags and some of the trimmings in cans. It wasn't always that way, of course.

For the first Thanksgiving, in 1621, four pilgrims were sent "fowling" for wild birds. In one day of hunting they bagged enough to feed the Plymouth Colony for a week. Then, after three days of feasting with the colonists to celebrate their harvest, a band of Indians under Chief Massasoit, "went out and killed five deer, which they brought to the plantation and bestowed upon our governor, and upon the captain and others."

The story of the first Thanksgiving, ordered by Governor William Bradford so that the settlers could "rejoice together after we had gathered the fruit of our labors," is told in a new book, Wildlife's Holiday Album, a 160-page anthology published by the National Wildlife Federation. The details of the celebration are recounted in a letter written by one of the Mayflower pilgrims, Edward Winslow, to a friend back in England on December 11, 1621.

Winslow, later to become governor of the colony himself, told how the pilgrims had harvested 20 acres of "Indian corn," plus six acres of barley and peas, before Bradford declared the holiday, then added: "Our bay is full of lobsters all the summer and affordeth variety of other fish. All the spring-ture the earth sendeth forth naturally very good sallet (sallet) herbs. Here are grapes, white and red, red strawberries, gooseberries, plums of three sorts...."

That first Thanksgiving later evolved by Presidential proclamation into a nationally celebrated holiday. It is one of many commemorated in Wildlife's Holiday Album. The book's four sections—Spring, Summer, Autumn, and Winter—tell in stories, paintings, photographs, poems, and recipes how man and wildlife enjoy the changing seasons.

They explain the mysteries of wildlife migration and hibernation and depict in color photographs many species of wildlife in their seasonal activities: fireflies lighting up a summer night; a newborn flamingo cautiously greeting spring; migrating Canada geese winging over the Adirondacks in autumn; a snowy owl poised atop a snow-drift, waiting to attack an unwary bird or mouse.

Artists included in the holiday anthology include Thomas Hart Benton, N.C. Wyeth, Grandma Moses, and the famed lithographers Currier and Ives. Authors include Mark Twain. Authors include Mark Twain, Rachel Carson, Robert Frost and J.R.R. Tolkien, who wrote letters from "Father Christmas" for his children.

There is also an essay by the nation's 31st President on "Why Presidents Fish." Wrote Herbert Hoover: "It's one of the few opportunities given a President for the refreshment of his soul and the clarification of his thoughts by solitude."

Seasonal and holiday "how-to" articles are another feature of the book—how to make butterfly kites for March winds, how to decorate Christmas trees with edible ornaments for birds, how to make apple cider. Which apples make the best cider? Experts prefer a combination—Rome Beauties for sweetness, McIntoshes for aroma, and Winesaps for tang.

Wildlife's Holiday Album is available for $9.95 per copy, plus 85 cents in handling charges, from the National Wildlife Federation, 1412 16th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036. After January 1, 1979, the price will increase to $11.95.

the strength of an ox, the size of an elephant, the cunning of a fox, the ability of an adagio dancer, the quickness of a cat, and the ability of Red Grange, Glen Davis, Bronco Nagurski, and Jim Thorpe combined.

"To his own coach he has for press purposes, the stability of a mule; the fleetness of a snail; the mentality of a mule; is held together by adhesive tape, bailing wire, sponge rubber, and has about as much chance of playing on Friday or Saturday as would his own grandfather.

To an alumnus, a football player is someone who will never kick as well, run as far, block as viciously, tackle as hard, fight as fiercely, give as little ground, score as many points, or generate nearly the same amount of spirit as did those particular players of his own yesteryear.

"A football player likes games films, trips away from home, practice session without pads, hot showers, long runs, whirl-pool baths, recovered fumbles, points after touchdowns, and quick satisfaction which comes from being part of a perfectly executed play.

"He is not much for wind sprints, sitting on the bench, rainy days, after game compliments, ankle wraps, scouting reports, or calisthenics.

"No one else looks forward so much to September or so little to November. Nobody gets so much pleasure out of knocking down, hauling out, or just plain bringing down the enemy. Nobody else can cram into the mind assignments for an end run, an off-tackle slant, a back lateral, goal line stands, or a spinner cycle designed to result in a touchdown every time it is tried.

A football player is a wonderful creature—you can criticize him. You can defeat his team, but you can't make him quit.

You can get him out of a game, but you can't get him out of football. Might as well admit it—be you alumnus, coach, mother, father, or fan, he is your personal representative on the field, your symbol of fair and hard play. He may not be an all-American, but he is an example of the American way. He is judged, not for his race, not for his religion, not for his social standing, or not for his finances, but by the democratic yard-stick of how well he blocks, tackles, and sacrifices individual glory for the overall success of his team.

"He is a hard-working, untrusting, determined kid doing the very best he can for his school or college. And when you come out of the stadium, groaning and feeling upset that your team lost, he can make you mightily ashamed with just two sincerely spoken words—'WE TRIED.'"

Several officers of FHA left at 3:30 to Perrinton on the 31st of October to an officer's workshop which ended at 7:30. These officers included Joyce Cummings, Criselda Vela, Orfelinda Vela, Kathy Hagerman, Tuwana Byrd, Shelley Mitchell, Karen Kenney, Dena Baker, Mary Ann Martin, Melissa Davis, and Sandra Lozano. Sponsor for the group was Mrs. Jan King.

This workshop for the FHA officers started off with sandwiches, potato chips, and apple bars to get everyone going. The workshop was to work on the area project for the year. The officers worked on child care, and what they thought should be done in schools for recognition of accomplishments. Much was said and discussed which in turn proved to be a successful workshop.

The two Spearman Chapters of America met Monday night at 7:30, November 13, at the High School cafeteria for their regular monthly meeting.

The guest speaker for the meeting was Trooper Tony Guess of the Department of Public Safety in Amarillo. He gave a very informative talk with slides on "Self Defense for Women."

Thirty-five members were in attendance with several parents attending also.

The next FHA meeting will be Wednesday, December 6, 5-7:00 p.m. at the High School to decorate doors for Christmas.

Football player, a very special breed

In an editorial reprinted in the Tribune Matador, Motley County, for October 5th, football players are depicted as a very special breed.

We couldn't help but recall a description of football written by Charles Loftus of Yale University. We enjoyed it the first time we read it and present it here for you:
"Between the innocence of boyhood and the dignity of man, we find a sturdy creature called a football player. Football players come in assorted weights, heights, jersey colors, and numbers, but all football players have the same creed: To play every minute of every period of every game to the best of their ability.

"Football players are found everywhere—underneath, on top of, running around, jumping over, passing by, twisting from, or driving through the enemy.

"Teammates rub them, officials penalize them, students cheer them, coaches criticize them, college and high school girls adore them, alumni tolerate them, and mothers worry about them.

"A football player is Courage in cleats; Hope in a helmet; Pride in pads; and the best of Young Manhood in moleskins.

"When your team is behind, a football player is incompetent, careless, in-decisive, lazy, uncoordinated, and stupid. Just when your team threatens to turn the tide of battle, he misses a block, fumbles the ball, drops a pass, jumps off sides, falls down, runs the wrong way, or completely forgets his assignment.

"A football player is a composite—he eats like a Notre Dame, but more often than not plays like Grand Canyon High. To an opponent's publicity man, he has the speed of a gazelle,

New Officers Graduate From Police Academy

Spearman's newest police officers have graduated from the Amarillo College Police Academy. The two new members of the force have spent the last six weeks undergoing extensive training in various police techniques and responsibilities. The two new officers Sarah Norton and Eddie Garcia went to work on the force right after graduation. According to City Manager Lenis Simpson, the addition of these two new officers brings the force up to its full complement of officers. Sarah Norton was a former dispatcher with the Department while Eddie Garcia comes to Spearman from Amarillo.

Hansford County Jail Gets High Ratings

An official of the Texas Commission on Jail Standards told Hansford County Judge R. L. McClellan, that the local jail rates among the highest in the entire State as far as State standards go. The official visited with the Sheriff's office and the county Judge Thursday and conducted a rigid inspection. Several minor problems were noted which will cost about Fifty Dollars to correct. Hansford County Sheriff R. L. McFarlin said he was pleased with the report as were other County officials.

Deadline Set For ASCS Voting December 4th.

Ballots are to be mailed on November 24th to all eligible producers for the Hansford County ASCS County Committee Election. One committee member will be named and two alternates also selected by local voters. The deadline for returning the ballots to the ASCS office in Spearman is December 4th. Martin Chandler, local ASCS

County Executive said that all ballots will be counted on December 5th at 2 P.M.

New World Church President Elected By Adventists

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Neal C. Wilson, currently vice president of the General Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, has been elected president of the world church. He succeeds President Robert H. Pierson, who announced his retirement for health reasons Oct. 16.

The 58-year-old Wilson was named to the church's highest post Oct. 17 by the Annual Council, a gathering of top administrators in Washington. After his nomination by a select 66-member committee, he was chosen unanimously by the council. Wilson has served as vice president of the church for North America since 1968, a post that brought him wide administrative experience. He is chairman of the board of Loma Linda University, a major medical-educational complex near San Bernardino, Calif.

Wilson has extensive overseas experience, having served as president of the Adventist Church in Egypt and other Arab lands from 1960 to 1968. While there he negotiated the opening of the church's work in Libya, the Sudan and Aden. He was also advisor to the governor of Cairo for religious liberty affairs. In his acceptance speech to the delegates, Wilson said God had allowed him to have a "varied world experience" in preparation for his duties as head of the 3-million-member church. He said he had spent half his life outside the United States, as the son of missionaries and as one himself.

"I am very conscious of deficiencies, very conscious of limitations," he told his listeners, and then asked for their prayers for his leadership.

The retirement date announced by President Pierson is Jan. 3, 1979. Wilson is set to take office at that time. The special nominating committee set up to fill the vacant presidential office was chaired by Cree Sandefur, president of the Pacific Union Conference, one of 10 such districts in North America. Sandefur reported that nine names were considered. Wilson was then nominated, "nearly unanimously," according to Sandefur, on the first ballot of the committee.

Wilson was born in Lodi, Calif. on July 5, 1920. He and his wife, Elinor, have two children. Norman C. "Ted" is director of the Adventist Church's Metro Ministry in New York City, and a daughter, Shirley J. Anderson, is a nurse in Birmingham, Ala.

The Spearman Seventh-Day Adventist Church is located at 1105 S. Roland. The pastor, Franklin Horne, invites the public to the services this Sabbath (Saturday) at 9:30 A.M. for Bible School and 11 A.M. for the Worship Hour.

AG Official Urges Accuracy In Crop And Livestock Reporting

Hansford County ASCS Director Martin Chandler says that Crop and Livestock reports are needed from farmers and ranchers. Chandler noted that the Hansford County "yields" were set in accordance with the reports turned in. He said that because of this it was hoped that the reports would accurately reflect the real picture agriculturally in Hansford County.

According to the local official, many Texas farmers and ranchers will receive crop or livestock questionnaires from now through early January. Some farmers and ranchers will also be interviewed personally by the Texas Crop and Livestock field staff. Accurate estimates have always been of great importance to producers and are even more important in the light of the "supply demand" situation facing agriculture today. Data collected in the survey will provide an accurate picture of agriculture for each county and the state of Texas. Each farmer or rancher receiving a questionnaire is urged to fill it in carefully and to return it promptly to the Agricultural Statistician in Austin. Individual reports are confidential and used only for state and county estimates.

Spearman Lions Install New Members

Spearman Lions and their wives enjoyed an evening of fellowship and fun Thursday at an installation banquet held in the fellowship room of the First United Methodist Church. The covered dish supper was presided over by Lion Boss Dick Elbert ably assisted by Lion Warren Proctor who served as official installer for the occasion. Special guests for the evening were the "Celebrates" a music combo group from the Spearman High School under the direction of Travis Angel. The fine group of young singers and instrumentalists provided some excellent entertainment during the evening.

Two Lion "cubs" were duly installed into membership and were the "victims" of solemn initiation rights. Lion Cub Martin Chandler and Lion Cub John Davey were blindfolded as a preliminary to the actual reciting of the membership pledge and were led to believe that wet gold and blue paint symbolic of the Lions colors had been coated over their outstretched hands, much to the "astonishment" of the Lions, their Lionesses and the Spearman High School students. Lions Club members will begin selling "raffle" tickets, for $1.50, for chances on a microwave oven or a color TV set. Fifty cents of each ticket sold will go to the Bruce Stinson fund as a donation from the Lions club. Lions club members will also be selling home made ice cream on Saturday at the Gigantic Bruce Stinson Day Flea Market.

CONGRESSMAN JACK HIGHTOWER

"The vote of confidence from the people of the 13th Congressional District is extremely gratifying to me and my family. We deeply appreciate the many people throughout the district who have worked so hard to elect me to Congress three successive times, and all who expressed their support at the polls. I will do my best to justify your confidence by giving you full-time, energetic representation in Washington. I pledge again to do my homework, to represent your views to the best of my ability, and to carry out my duties in a manner befitting the independence and integrity of the people of the Panhandle and Northwest Texas. Thank each of you for your support."

ASCS Office Staff Preparing Payments

Final voluntary diversion payments for corn and grain sorghum should be in the hands of Hansford County farmers by the end of November. Martin Chandler, Hansford County ASCS Executive Director said that his staff is preparing those payments which will go out to approximately 400 area farmers. The local County official also said that checks were being processed for those farmers in the hay and grazing programs. Just under one hundred Hansford County farmers would be receiving these payments by the end of November.

Faye's Daze

How about a new slogan for Spearman "The Town With A heart?" What brings this to mind are the many organizations and people who are united in a community project to help a young man who was severely injured several months ago in an electrical accident and is still hospitalized. I am talking about the Gigantic Flea Market and related activities scheduled for Saturday. By the time you read this it will be history, but I predict that the people of this area will support the project in every way they possibly can as they have others in the past, and that Bruce Stinson will benefit substantially.

For several years, we have topped all donations in the area for a community our size in the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon, and a few months ago, the Golden Spread Center had a fund raising drive to buy a building for their activities, and citizens responded with an overwhelming $17,000 for this project. These are only a few instances that the people of our town and area have opened their hearts and pocketbooks for a worthy cause, or to aid someone less fortunate themselves.

As Thanksgiving approaches, we should stop a moment and reflect on our blessings in this community. Admittedly we are a small community with somewhat limited recreation activities, but if you really get involved there is something going on all the time that you could do.

A community Thanksgiving service will be held Sunday evening Nov. 19 at 7 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church of Spearman. The speaker will be Bob Boxwell, a layman in the First Christian Church. Bob is a fine young Christian man and I know you will enjoy sharing his testimony Sunday evening.

Let us all enjoy this special season of the year and give thanks to God for our many blessings and the bounty we receive from above.

A happy Thanksgiving to you all.

NOTICE

There will be no Story Hour at the Library Tuesday.

The following films just arrived at Hansford County Library and will be available for check out through Dec. 21st. All organizations, teachers, and individuals take note!

VELVETEEN RABBIT. 19 min.-color-distributed by LSB-primary ages. A live action film based upon Margery Williams' Award-Winning book. The friendship of a little boy and a velveteen rabbit blossoms and events develop as great love, reality, beauty, and kindness are depicted.

BIG HORN. 10 min.-color-distributed by McGraw-Hill/Contemporary Jr. Hi.-adult. Rocky Mountain Bighorn Sheep captured by extraordinary close-up and telephoto photography.

BACON GRABBERS. 20 minutes. B/W-distributed by Eastin-Phelan. For all ages. Starring Laurel & Hardy.

HOUND THAT THOUGHT HE WAS A COON. 48 min.-color-distributed by S. W. Media-all ages. Rutherford Montgomery's hilarious account of the friendship-developed under unusual circumstances-between a hound and a racoon that grew up like brothers.

NORMAN ROCKWELL'S WORLD. 25 min.-color-distributed by Films Inc.-Sr. Hi.-adult.

The name, Norman Rockwell, conjures up memories of Saturday Evening Post cover, of famous events and everyday occurrences brilliantly depicted by the artist. But most of all, we think of faces-common faces of common people. In these faces is the philosophy of the artist and of an entire age, now perhaps sadly gone-an age of belief, hope and pride.

SMALL BUSINESS IS BIG BUSINESS
Small business provides 55 percent of the jobs for U.S. workers and a livelihood for more than 100 million people, according to A. Vernon Weaver, administrator of the Small Business Administration. Millions of small businesses comprise 96 percent of all business. The SBA chief says: "Virtually all Americans are served by small business in some form or another."

THE U.S. HAS A WATER SUPPLY PROBLEM, but the cause is not an inadequate quantity of water. Instead, the problem is one of non-uniform seasonal availability and poor regional distribution. Surface runoff in the nation is estimated by the U.S. Geological Survey as 3.678 million acre feet per day on the average. However, withdrawals from all sources, including groundwater, average only 1.287 million acre feet per day. Further, only about 25 percent or 0.294 million acre feet per day, is consumed. This means that only 8 percent of the average daily runoff is actually consumed by American homes, industries and agriculture. The nation's average supply, however, is misleading because the seasonal and regional distribution of runoff does not correpond well with demand. Unless storage is provided or distribution improved, shortages will continue to occur.

Friemel To See Action At WT Nov. 22

Former Spearman High School star Twane Friemel will be in action Wednesday, Nov. 22, when West Texas State hosts New Mexico State in the Missouri Valley Conference championship game. Kickoff for the "Thanksgiving Special" affair will be 6 p.m. at Kimbrough Stadium in Canyon.

The game also will be "Panhandle Student Night" at WTSU with special discount tickets of 50 cents apiece available for high school age and under. The special duacts will be on sale only at the stadium on game day, beginning at 4:30 p.m.

Only a freshman, Friemel has been playing with the Buffalo varsity throughout his rookie season. He started the year as a defensive lineman, but has been shifted back to his old high school spot of tight end during the last two weeks.

"Twane has a lot of basic ability as is proven by the fact that he's played both offense and defense as a freshman," assesses head coach Bill Yung. "I'm just glad we'll have him around for three more seasons."

1978 Maize harvest

The 1978 area maize harvest which varies from fifty percent to 90 percent completion, has a new twist for many in the area this year for many have combined efforts in order to help a fellow farmer who is ill to harvest his crops—making it a very rich crop for everyone, indeed.

Jewel Ward, a well-known area farmer, is recovering from surgery at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo, but in the meantime his 1978 maize crop is safely in the elevators—thanks to other area farmers who, learning of his plight, converged on his maize crops, sometimes with four or five combines, sometimes with as many as seven and in jig time plus hard work and late hours, managed to successfully finish 's' milo harvest.

Among those adding to their well-being whilst being good neighbors were Dayton Barkley, Speck Cator, Rex Williams, Pete and Wes Maupin, Hootie Cline, J.W. Ward, Loyall and Ned Turner along with Bill Womack, W.H. Brownlee, Charles Kruse, Dean McClenagan, Floyd Dixon, Jim Davis, Buddy Lowe, Sr., and Buddy Lowe, Jr., Don Burken, Gene Kelly, Ramond Ortega, Anson Ward, Ward Spivey.

A survey of Hansford County grain elevator operators indicated that the over-all picture of the maize harvest was anywhere from 50 percent completed in the Morse area to about 90 percent complete around Bernstein.

Kermit McKee, manager of the Continental Grain in Gruver, felt that approximately 68 to 70 percent of the milo had been harvested with the moisture pegged at 15.2. The maize was yielding anywhere from 5,000 to 6,000 lbs per acre and the test weight was 56 pounds to the bushel.

The price as of Monday afternoon was $3.82. Interesting was the comparison of this year's price with years past—facts gleaned from genial Mary King, office manager at Continental, ranging from a whopping $5.80 on November 15th in 1974 to a low of $3.20 quoted for November 15th, 1976. Other years' quotes included those of last year's November 14th price of $3.25 and $4.00 for the 13th of November 1974.

Kermit's comment concerning the 1978 milo harvest was "I surely hope that we get it over by Thanksgiving!—and so does everyone else!"

Mike Burnam, manager of the Hitchland and Bernstein Elevators, noted that he felt that probably 90% of the 1978 milo crop in that area was safely in the elevators with probably another four or five days seeing completion. The yield was from 4,000 to 6,000 pounds per acre with the price of Monday afternoon pegged at $3.82. Mike's comment was "I wish that it was all over with now!"

Clyde Soapes at the Gruver Equity felt that the half-way mark had been reached and probably more, although they had not been ahead far enough to really check this out. The test weight at the Equity was as high as 61 pounds per bushel and they felt that the over-all picture a bit better than last.

The price quoted as of Tuesday was $3.82. Norman Gilmore, manager of the Morse Equity, felt that probably half of the milo crop in that area had been harvested and was running pretty good, testing between 57 to 58 pounds per bushel and yielding probably on the average of 5,000 lbs. per acre. The weather has been holding back the completion of the harvest with only a day or so at a time being weather right for harvesting. The price he quoted as of Tuesday was $3.82.

And thus is painted once more the golden glow of autumn milo harvest—better than average in some respects including the off-again-on-again Indian Summer or Squaw Fall weather, along with the glow of knowing that this year's harvest was a harvest of blessings along with receipts—aren't you glad you live in Hansford County, Texas, U.S.A. where people are as important as crops any old day!—we are!

HOW CURRENT EVENTS MAY AFFECT YOU

New Technology Fights Inflation, Protects Environment

It's a word with 24 letters, it's almost unpronounceable even after you've read it two or three times, but the word—trichlorotrifluoroethane—has two important meanings.

To companies that supply consumers with electricity, trichlorotrifluoroethane is the name of a fluid that does for transformers what automotive coolant does for a car radiator: move heat away from where it's not needed.

A transformer is a device that turns high-voltage electricity, which is shipped out of electric generating plants, into lower-voltage electricity we can use for our lighting and appliances. Transformers develop a lot of heat.

To consumers of electricity, trichlorotrifluoroethane means both a blow against inflation and a protection for our environment. When the fluid is used in new vaporization cooled transformers, the process helps utilities and customers to save money, an inflation-fighting effect. And because the fluid is used in a closed system, it gets used again and again, like the fluid in an air conditioner. This makes it unnecessary to use large quantities of water for the cooling job.

This fluid is used in the new VaporTran transformer manufactured by General Electric.

Development of the new GE transformer is one of those rare but encouraging developments in which the public gains not only more environmental protection, but also a shin-kicker that helps to fight old man inflation.

Rural Hospitals Get Baby Delivery Gold Star

CHICAGO—Small rural hospitals can do a first rate job of delivering babies safely, and at less cost than the big city hospitals, research reports in the Journal of the American Medical Association claim.

Federal health planners recently declared that hospitals delivering less than 500 infants a year were lacking in quality and efficiency and probably should not be allowed to handle deliveries.

Herman A. Hein, M.D., of the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics, Iowa City, studied the results of care in all hospitals in his state, both rural and urban.

Because high risk expectant mothers are screened out in advance and sent to specialized urban centers, the small rural hospitals actually have a much lower neonatal death rate than their big city counterparts, Dr. Hein found. And the average base charges for obstetric services are lower in the small town hospitals than in the cities.

"The future of small community hospitals should be determined on the basis of available data rather than on speculation," Dr. Hein declares.

"We believe that medical services should be provided as close to the patient's home as possible if the quality of care is not compromised and the services can be offered at reasonable cost. If Federal health planners would support the development of regional systems of perinatal care and education, the cost of obstetric services is likely to be better contained than by requiring large-scale consolidation. Time and distance factors imposed by consolidation of services would substantially alter the accessibility of maternity services for pregnant women."

In Iowa, Dr. Hein reports, care is provided for some 42,000 maternity patients per year in 135 hospitals, 82 percent of which deliver fewer than 500 babies per year. Some 42.5 percent of all births in Iowa occurred in the small hospitals. The most recent neonatal mortality in these hospitals is considerably less than the statewide rate of nine deaths per 1,000 births in the smallest hospitals for the past two years, he writes.

Most deliveries in small hospitals are attended by family practitioners, rather than specialists in obstetrics. Virtually all of the specialists practice in communities of 25,000 people or more. But most of the deliveries in the small hospitals are in communities of less than

Regional Program Formed

Beginning some years ago, Iowa hospitals and doctors formed a regional perinatal program which has emphasized screening and early referral of high-risk patients. The majority of the high-risk patients are delivered in the larger maternity services, where perinatal care centers have been established. Thus the larger services have a higher death rate, because they are handling most of the difficult deliveries.

Average delivery room charges for the Iowa hospitals increased steadily with increase in size of the hospital, from $57.19 for those under 100 beds to $158.57 for those of 1,000 or more beds. Average charge per day for the hospital room and the nursery followed a similar scale, from $94.74 up to $144.

In an accompanying editorial, Howard G. McQuarrie, M.D., Salt Lake City, chairman of the AMA's Committee on Maternal and Child Care, said:

"A voluntary, resilient and adaptive system, using the best of centralized technology for those mothers and infants in need, but retaining the advantages of economy, humanism and warmth of a positively motivated small hospital, is a refreshing and realistic regional planning approach to perinatal care."

"This may also reflect a pendulum swing from centralization, and technological adoration toward diversification, generalism and concern for the individual human values, regardless of where the patient receives medical care, so long as elements of safety are stressed objectively," Dr. McQuarrie concluded.

Community Thanksgiving Service

The Community Thanksgiving Service of Worship will be held in the First United Methodist Church of Spearman on Sunday evening November 19 at 7:00 p.m. This service is sponsored by the Spearman Ministerial Alliance.

The speaker for the evening will be Mr. Bob Boxwell, a layman in the First Christian Church, Spearman. We know you will enjoy sharing Christ with him.

He was born August 31, 1947 in Perryton, grew up there and graduated from Perryton High School in 1965. He attended T.C.U. graduating in 1969 with a Bachelor of Business Administration. Bob served in the U.S. Army during 1969-71, nineteen months, fourteen of which were spent in Viet Nam. After returning to the states, he attended Dallas Institute of Mortuary Science, graduating in 1972. He married Candy Combs in 1973 in Ft. Worth, and moved to Spearman to make their home. They have a daughter, Regan, born in 1977.

Bob and his brother Dick own and operate Boxwell Brothers Funeral Homes and Flower Shops in Spearman and Perryton.

Bob says: "I grew up in the First Christian Church in Perryton. I was baptized at the age of ten, but never really knew Christ, a practicing atheist until 1973 when I experienced a gradual spiritual awakening. Since that time I have been 'struggling' to become a genuine, practicing Christian, as I mature spiritually."

Bob has served the church as a Deacon and an Elder at First Christian, Chairman of the Board, Chairman of the Evangelism Ministry, Chairman of the Stewardship Ministry, Jr. Hi. Youth Sponsorship; a member of the Hi-Plains Area Chris-in Church Adult Work Council member of the Directors of Golden Spread Center and the City Planning and Zoning Commission.

This special season of the year is so very important to each person and to each family in our community. It is a time when we recognize the bounty of the gifts we receive from God. We urge each of you to join with us in praise and thanksgiving to our God.

As the Psalmist of old spoke, "Enter the Temple gates with thanksgiving; go into it's courts with praise. Give thanks to Him and praise His Name." (T.E.V.) So come, give thanks to Him and praise His Name as we share this time of worship and praise.

History Book Meeting

A meeting will be held Monday, Nov. 27 at 7:30 p.m. at Martin's Steak Garden to form a Hansford Book Committee. Judy Cotton, Representative of Craftsman Printers of Lubbock, will be the speaker and the organizer.

The committee will consist of Chairperson, Publicity Chairperson, Bookkeeper and several Field Representatives. The Field Representatives job will be to talk about the book to citizens and organizations.

You are urged to attend this meeting if you are interested in helping form a history book for Hansford County.

Beasley exhibit at Perryton art show

Tom Beasley, a young Gruver artist now of Amarillo who is known throughout the area for his exceptional brush detail and excellent canvases, will have several of his works on display at the Arts and Crafts Show slated for this weekend at Perryton.

The Arts and Crafts Show, sponsored by Oma Kiser and Bertha McLain of Perryton, will include artists and craftsmen from the entire Panhandle area along with those from four other states.

To be held at the VFW Building to the west of the Rodeo grounds in Perryton, the show will be open from 9:00 A.M. to 9:00 P.M. Saturday, November 18th and 9:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M. Sunday, November 19th.

November Sales Tax Check Received

The City of Spearman received $5,836.70 for their November share of the local option one percent sales tax, according to State Comptroller Bob Bullock.

This compared to $7,456.35 for the same period last year.

1978 payments to date are $94,144.79 compared to 1977 payments of $81,859.22 for the same period, up 15%.

The City of Gruver received a check for $1,088.66 for November, compared to $2,012.17 for the same period a year ago.

Gruver payments to date are $17,405.22 compared to $19,231.92 for 1977, down 9%.

Money that Texas cities will receive this month total slightly less than last month's rebate, but the yearly total is about $42 million ahead payments made over the same period last year.

The November checks raise the cities' total to $349.8 million.

Highlights of TSTA district convention

Educators from throughout the area converged on Amarillo November 2nd and 3rd for the annual District Convention of the Texas State Teachers Association. Delegates from the Hansford County TSTA included Mr. Ron C. Blassingame, Gruver; Mrs. Minnie Weaver and Mr. Edwin Percy from Spearman.

The three Hansford TSTA delegates attended the House of Delegates dinner meeting which convened at 6:00 P.M. November 2nd at the Amarillo High School Cafeteria with Treasurer Brasher, president of District XVI, TSTA, presiding.

At the business meeting which followed the Thursday banquet many educational issues were voted upon by the delegates along with voting on various resolutions. The approved resolutions will be recommended to the Texas State Teacher Association meet for introduction of supportive legislation in Austin.

Among the resolutions which are of paramount importance was the one that TSTA draft legislation that the birthdate deadline determining eligibility for entrance to Kindergarten and First Grade be changed from 1 September to 1 June.

Another resolution acted upon included that the TSTA Legislative Committee support legislation for the funding of librarians and/or certified media personnel for each building on a school campus or for every 550 students.

A third resolution which elicited most interest was that the TSTA support the adoption of guidelines which strongly emphasize the basic academic curriculum areas.

Three members of the Gruver Elementary faculty attended the Panhandle Council International Reading Teachers' breakfast held at 7:30 A.M. Friday with Lee Jolly, Reading Specialist from Norman, Oklahoma, speaking knowledgeably on "Bibliotherapy in the Open Classroom."

Other highlights of the Friday general sessions meeting held at the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum was the address of Max Sherman, president of West Texas State University and musical entertainment by members of the Caprock High School Show Choir, who also presented during the morning program "We Teach the Children" which has been adopted as the official NEA song by the NEA Convention.

Following the morning business meeting and the address by Mr. Sherman, the meeting was adjourned at 11:00 A.M. for sectional meetings held at various places in Amarillo which included areas of interest to the many educators attending the Convention.
