VOLUME VII., NUMBER 77

SPEARMAN, HANSFORD COUNTY, TEXAS 79081

SUNDAY, JULY 17, 1966

It could only happen in Texas! Out near McCamey the Chamber of Commerce is erecting a road sign that says: "Danger Dinosaur Crossing."

Peggy Garner, manager of the Chamber there is working on getting a road-side part at the site of the ancient dinosaur tracks recently discovered about 25 miles west of McCamey.

That should slow down a few drivers and give the tourist something to hunt for.

Plans are now in the making to close Main Street of Spearman and make it into a shopping mall. The street will be closed to traffic and side walk cafes, flower gardens, playgrounds and kid-dy rides will be set up.

This is all planned to make the area a more attractive area for shopping.

The planning stage has hit one small snag. There is one group that wants to put a plastic top on the street and air condition it. A second group wants to leave it open.

Those who want it covered, argue that the air conditioned mall will be worth the added costs for year around comfort. Not only will it be cool in the summer, but it will also be warmer in the winter and do away with the snow and ice problems.

The open air enthusiasts favor leaving the mall open, because of the cost and also it has been proven in Houston that plants do not grow well under the domes.

The open air supporters contend that even though the large crowds are now big enough to be used for shade trees for the side walk cafes, they will die if placed under a plastic dome and be unsafe for the children to climb around in.

Complete plans for this project will probably be announced in the very near future.

Gibson, Hutchison and Ownbey Prepare for All-Star Game

For the first time in recent history three girls from one team have been selected to participate in the annual Girl's All-Star basketball game at the State Girls Coaching School.

Three seniors from the Spearman Lynxettes, champions of class AA, will be playing in the all-star game Saturday, July 23 in Duncanville.

The girls are all-state guard Susan Hutchison, all-district guard Robbie Ownbey, and all-district forward Karen Gibson.

Miss Hutchison was selected by the state selection committee, the other two girls were selected by the offensive and defensive coaches of the north team, Dean Weese of Spearman and Bud Roberts of Tulia.

Weese and Roberts were selected by a vote of the coaches of the north half of the state to coach the north team. Weese guided the Lynxettes to the AA championship and Roberts led the Tulia Hornettes to the AAA title.

Each coach is allowed to select one girl to play in the game besides those selected by the state committee. Weese, being the offensive coach was allowed to pick a forward and selected his outside shooter, Miss Gibson.

Roberts, the defensive coach, named Miss Ownbey. He was allowed to select one guard. He picked her on the basis of her outstanding work against his teams for two years and her regional and state tournament play.

Miss Hutchison and Miss Ownbey earned four letters with the Lynxettes. Miss Gibson is a two year letter-winner.

The three were the only surviving senior starters playing when the team won the state title. Five seniors started at the beginning of the season, but guards Kathi Pattison and Bethany Donnell were injured and sidelined.

Hutchison started the season as a forward, after playing guard as a junior and forward as a sophomore and freshman.

She alternated some during district play after Pattison was hurt. Then when Donnell was injured in the last game of district play, Hutchison went exclusively to the defensive end of the court.

Miss Ownbey, at only 5'4", is the speed merchant defender who specializes in pressuring outside shooters, thefts of the ball and in the regional and state tournaments doubled up on two outside forwards when Miss Hutchison needed to help defense a tall post girl.

Miss Gibson, always an ac-

Coach Announces Workout Schedule

With actual contact drills for the fall football season less than a month away, George Wright this week announced the schedule for pre-season events.

A new rule change by the Interscholastic League now allows the coaches to issue football shoes and socks on Wednesday, Aug. 10.

Wright stressed that no organized workouts can be held, but the boys can begin breaking in their shoes and getting their feet used to wearing the cleats.

"This will eliminate those blisters and sore feet that have always plagued the first two or three days of work," he commented.

Thursday, Aug. 11, there will be a parents' meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. At this meeting the coaching staff and their wives will be introduced to the parents. Also, the school insurance program will be discussed.

Wright said the parents would be given the work-out schedules, so they would know when to expect their sons home.

Parents will also be given the opportunity to organize a parent's booster club if they wish to have such an organization.

Team physicals will be given by the team physician, Dr. Damon Gregg at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 13.

Two workouts per day will begin on Monday, Aug. 15. The workout schedule will be from 7 a.m. until 9 a.m.

Instructor Will Make Agriculture Tour

High School agriculture instructor Jerry Hawkins will make a three-day agriculture educational tour of the South Plains this week.

This tour leaves Lubbock Wednesday morning. It will include 33 agriculture teachers and seven other interested and from 4 p.m. until 6 p.m. in the afternoon.

Wright said the afternoon workouts might have to be moved around, depending on the heat.

The varsity and B-team will dress at the high school and use the new practice field behind the high school. The freshmen will dress in the old varsity dressing room at the big gym and use the practice field at the south end of the football field.

Wright said the schedule would continue through the football season.

The coach said the new turf of the football field and the practice field at the stadium was ready for use, now. He said the new practice field will be ready when practice sessions begin.

The fields were put in and taken care of by the school custodian staff.

Hutchinson Contest Set For FB Queen

CHANGES -- Two years ago The Plainsman ran a picture of the weed-covered, trash-littered school grounds and adjacent park areas. Today we are proud to show the noticeable improvement in the appearance of the high school grounds. The weeds have been replaced by a smooth, green turf and the trash and litter are gone. This is, indeed, progress.

Miss Mattie Lou Archer Weds Capt. Peterson

At a afternoon wedding on Saturday, July 9 at Central Methodist Church, Miss Mattie Lucille Archer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olen Chambers, became the bride of Capt. Lawrence Eugene Peterson, United States Air Force and son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger M. Peterson of Waverly, Nebraska.

The Rev. Carlton Thomson, pastor, officiated for the 2:00 ceremony in Dalhart, Texas.

Forming the background and softly illuminating the white satin covered altar area was a myriad of white cathedral tapers burning in tall candelabra with emerald and lemon leaves. On either side of the white kneeling bench were large baskets of white gladioli, stock and mums and similar arrangements of the flowers with palms flanking the steps leading to the altar. While satin bows attached to the pew ends along the white bridal aisle completed the decoration of the sanctuary.

A program of nuptial music was presented by Miss Mary Ellen Barkley of Spearman and Rod Barkley, Gruver, uncle of the bride, was soloist. Among the organ numbers in addition to the traditional wedding marches were "I Do," "Traumeree," "Liebestraum," "Hawaiian Wedding Song" and "Ava Maria." Mr. Barkley sang "More," "May Each Day," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Glenda Chambers was her sister's maid of honor and the bridesmaids were the Misses Debbie Hartgrove, Denver, Colorado; Margaret Peterson, Omaha, Neb.; sister of the bridegroom; Mona Anderson Wink and Marthadell Nimts, Midland.

The attendants frocks were of yellow georgette over yellow taffeta having empire waistlines and slim line floor length skirts with pleated georgette trains cascading down the back from the waistline held by a flat bow. The bodices had portrait necklines and the transparent sleeves ended at the wrists.

Their hats were of yellow tiered French illusion with front flower clusters and their slippers were matching.

Each carried a cascade bouquet of white miniature mums with apple green satin bow and streamers.

Callie Barkley, Gruver, cousin of the bride, in a white embroidered organdy over yellow frock, was flower girl. She had a wristlet of flowers and scattered the yellow rose petals in the pathway of the bride from a white lace basket.

Barry Barkley, Gruver, also a cousin of the bride, was ringbearer. He carried a white satin pillow with yellow rosebuds at the corners.

The candlelighters were Marcia Gibbs and Olene Chambers, sister of the bride. Each wore a wristlet of tiny white mums and yellow rosebuds. Their frocks were identical to the attendants.

Mr. Chambers gave Mattie Lucille in marriage. Her lovely formal gown was of candlelight peau de soie and re-embroidered lace. The sculptured bodice was designed with a portrait neckline and bell-shaped elbow length sleeves of the exquisite Chantilly lace. A detachable lace train from the shoulders added back interest.

Her veil of French silk illusion was attached to a pillow-box headdress encrusted with seed pearls.

The bridal bouquet, topping a white Bible, and showed in white satin ribbon was fashioned of white Bell roses and sprays of lily of the valley with double orchid corsage in the center.

The bride carried out the tradition of something old and borrowed, her great-grandmother Barkley's wedding ring. Something new were her diamond ear rings, a gift from the groom. Something blue was a blue garter and she also wore a six pence in her shoe.

Mrs. Lawrence Eugene Peterson.

Lt. Frank Cerrato of Yonkers, N.Y., was best man. Lt. Bill A. Evers, Bozeman, Mont., Lt. John Drake, Greensburg, Pa., Lt. Ed Ferguson, Bedford Hill, N.Y., and Lt. Stark Whitman, New Orleans, La., were groomsmen. Lt. Evers and Lt. Drake also ushered.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Chambers chose a two piece dress of avocado green mantilla lace complemented by a matching hat and bone accessories. Her corsage was of cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Peterson, the bridegroom's mother, was gowned in rose crepe with lace jacket. Her accessories were also in bone and her corsage of cymbidium orchids.

A reception followed in the Fellowship hall at the church. Mrs. Tommy Lovett, Spearman, cousin of the bride, registered the guests.

Presiding at the serving table were Miss Patti Harrell, Lubbock, and Miss Arlene Barkley, Gruver, cousin of the bride.

The table was covered in white satin and tulle and appointments were in silver and crystal. Flanking the three tiered wedding cake, with a miniature bride and groom, were diminutive flower-filled baskets. A silver candelabra with yellow roses and white tapers formed the centerpiece.

Among the many out-of-town guests were the bride's grandmother's, Mrs. R.B. Archer, Sr., of Spearman, and Mrs. M.F. Barkley of Gruver. Each wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Later in the afternoon, the newlyweds left on a wedding trip which will take them into Old Mexico.

The couple will be at home in Lubbock at 3333 Toledo, Apt. 111.

The bride is a senior at Texas Tech at Lubbock. The

SAFE STAIRWAY

Contrasting shade of tile along stair edges is a safety factor. The non-skid factor provided by grout lines of slightly rougher adhesives between tiles also contributes to the usefulness of tile in hallways and other heavy-traffic areas.

Research Foundation Plans Tenth Annual Field Day

A new feature to be shown visitors soon and at the Tenth Annual Field Day on Thursday, September 8 at the High Plains Research Foundation is what a recent visitor called the "United Nations Garden." This plot area has been planted from the "world wide seed bank" accumulated and recently received from foreign scientists. Seeds from all over the world have been planted in the "garden" to determine if any of the strain and varieties are suitable for economic production in the High and South Plains of Texas, or perhaps even in a wider area of the United States. While some of the seed resembles our own, many others have previously never been seen by scientists at the Foundation.

Included in the planting are strains and varieties of soybeans, clovers, cane, sesame, sunflowers, corn, grain and forage sorghums, grasses of all kinds, legumes, beans, and peas of many varieties.

A scientist to scientist or person to person exchange of interesting and sometimes valuable seed has been a part of the program of the High Plains Research Foundation for several years. Scientists in the different countries send the Foundation small quantities of seed they have developed for trial here. The Foundation staff reciprocates by sending seed to them. "Who knows but that this 'garden' might be a source of a further contribution to the world's food shortage," Dr. Collister, Executive Vice-President of the Foundation said.

Seeds received this year were from Australia, West Pakistan, Senegal, Bolivia, France, India, Greece, Belgium, Yugoslavia, South Africa, Turkey, Suriname, Argentina, Israel, Brazil, Montpellier, England, and Italy. Seed were also received from the New Crops Research Branch of the United States Department of Agriculture.

The world seed bank at the Foundation already had in storage seed from the following countries, some of which were planted in the "United Nations Garden": Iran, Anglo Egyptian Sudan, Ethiopia, Korea, Japan, Venezuela, Peru, Brazil, Mexico, Canada, Egypt, Russia, Morocco, Iraq, Spain, Portugal, Tunisia, Jordan, Israel, England, Netherlands, West Germany, France, Finland, Austria, Rhodesia, Tanginika, Tibet, and Cuba. Thousands of small packages of seed are stored in protected cases at the Foundation for future experimentation in developing food and fiber crops for our own and the world's food and clothing needs.

Laycock Is Named To NT Post

Kenneth Laycock of West Texas State University at Canyon has been named the Northwest Texas area coordinator for the Southwest Educational Development Laboratory.

Laycock's appointment was announced today by Dr. Edwin Hindsman of Austin, executive director of the Laboratory, which will introduce educational innovations throughout the two-state region of Texas and Louisiana.

Laycock will organize the Laboratory's task forces in the 51-county Northwest Texas area. He will meet with school superintendents, college and university representatives and directors of other organizations ---businesses, industries, and cultural organizations---interested in school improvement at the elementary and secondary levels.

An entirely new kind of educational institution, the Laboratory is financed by a development contract with the US Office of Education. By early autumn, Laycock and other coordinators expect to have projects ready in many sections of the two states for operational funding by the Laboratory, utilizing funds provided through the US Office of Education. Action research projects and demonstration programs are planned for the Texas and Louisiana region, all with the single objective of improving educational opportunity for all the region's students.

In the Northwest Texas area Laycock will work with a 24-member Area Advisory Council, composed of eight representatives from elementary education, eight from secondary education, and eight from higher education. The Advisory Council will think and plan boldly concerning the future needs of the area and will assess current educational practices and problems.

Working with the Laboratory Staff, the Northwest Texas Area Council will establish priorities for educational research and demonstration in the Panhandle and North Plains area.

Laycock said the first aim of the Laboratory staff is to have at least one research project ready to start immediately in the Northwest section of Texas when the Laboratory becomes operational. Counties included in the Northwest Texas area---one of seven geographic areas in the Laboratory region---are Armstrong, Bailey, Baylor, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Cochran, Collingsworth, Crosby, Dallas, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Donley, Floyd, Foard, Garza, Gray, Hale, Hall, Hansford, Hardeman,

Also, Hartley, Haskell, Hemphill, Hockley, Hutchinson, Dent, King, Knox, Lamb, Lipscomb, Lubbock, Lynn, Moore, Motely, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Stonewall, Swisher, Terry, Throckmorton, Wheeler, Wilbarger, and Yoakum.

3 Crosses Up Weights

McGregor, July 15--Researchers at Texas A&M University's Livestock and Forage Center, here, are making something of an improvement on cross-bred cattle.

Instead of breeding a cross-bred cow back to one of the parent breeds, the cow is mated to a bull of a third breed. For example, a cow that is one-half Hereford and one-half Brahman, is bred to a Charolais, Charbray, Brown Swiss, Red Poll or Santa Gertrudis bull.

The results have been outstanding. According to Walter Kruse, animal husbandman at the A&M station, average weaning weight of straight bred calves at the McGregor station for the last 11 years is 392 pounds.

Average 180 day weaning weight of three-breed cross calves is 460 pounds, says Kruse. Calves from the standard, first-cross, (F₁) mothers averaged 420 pounds at weaning time.

Reason for the increase in weaning weights, says Kruse, is the boost in hybrid vigor brought in by the bull of the third breed. Breeding first-cross mothers back to a bull of one of the parent breeds means the calves are approaching a pure breed again, thus losing much of the hybrid vigor.

GA Groups Meet Jointly

The Mary Bridges and Winnie White G.A. groups met jointly at the First Baptist Church on Wednesday evening, July 13. Mrs. R.E. Bradford and Mrs. Don Denham are the leaders for the group.

Brenda Thomas of the Winnie White group presided at the business at which time Mrs. Don Denham presented plans for the G.A. Camp to be held at the Amarillo Baptist Encampment grounds from July 18 through the 21.

The program, titled "Getting to Know Hawaii", was presented by all girls giving parts.

Closing prayer was given by Mrs. Royce McIver.

Attending were Lela Golightly, Susan Gates, Valorie Uptergrove, Sabrina McIver, Debra McCoy, Debra Prince, Barbara Golightly, Jan Gates, Katrina Kelp, Brenda Thomas, Gena Bulls, Mrs. Bradford and Mrs. Denham.

Donna Walls and Mrs. Royce McIver from the Jr. II Department joined the group for the meeting.

Here's another interview with 'The Man On The Street' with today's question:

Has Something Good Happened To You Lately?

Ever since I've been reading The Plainsman things have been happening! I've had a date every single Saturday night. I'm not sure it's reading The Plainsman that has made me so popular, but I'm not about to stop reading it and find out!

You know, since the day I became a Plainsman subscriber, a phenomal thing has happened. My grass is a beautiful healthy green, but it doesn't grow a bit taller. I could quit reading The Plainsman and take a chance on having to mow my lawn every week like before, but I'd be crazy if I did!

You may not believe this but I've just got to tell you anyway. A while back, we subscribed to The Plainsman and lo and behold, ever since the first issue arrived at our door I haven't had to do a single dish. As luck would have it, I just stack them in the sink and when I come back, they're as clean as a whistle. I feel silly insinuating it's The Plainsman that caused such an unusual thing to happen, but even if it didn't, I'm not going to take a chance on it. I'm a Plainsman subscriber for life!

Sakes alive! you'll never believe this, but I subscribed to The Hansford Plainsman about a month ago and since that time there's not a dog in the neighborhood that my cat can't whip. Of course reading The Plainsman may not have a thing to do with it, but my Tom Cat thinks it does.

We don't make any promises, but it's a fact, good things are happening to Plainsman Subscribers.

Why not become one—and see!

Fennel Will Do

Try something different: Add fennel seed to a tomato-beef sauce for spaghetti. Inspired by Italian cuisine, this combination is delightful if you don't overdo the fennel.

Fence for Storage

Want to make use of that five-foot strip of land between garage wall and the property line? Build a storage fence—a fence that includes a roofed, two-foot-deep section for garden tools. Most building codes allow one set on the boundary line and as tall as six feet. Use western red cedar lumber for fence boards, framing and siding on the storage section.

Cadillacs seem to be mainly for movie stars, gamblers and college students.
