Band Leaves Wednesday for Cotton Bowl

A caravan of Spearman Lynx bandmen, parents and fans will leave Spearman at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday for Dallas and the Cotton Bowl parade and game on New Year's Day.

Band Director Sam Watson is taking 140 bandmen and they are being accompanied by 186 parents and fans.

The band will rehearse at Highland Park High School and at the Cotton Bowl prior to Jan. 1.

On New Year's Day the band will march in the Cotton Bowl parade in the morning, eat lunch at the fair grounds and then participate in the pregame show and then have a small part in the halftime.

Other high school bands invited to participate are the Nacogdoches, Sherman L.D. Bell, and Mount Pleasant bands.

Music from the Twenties, a tribute to King Football and attendant royalty and special recognition of the Kilgore College Rangerettes and Miss Gusie Nell Davis, their director, will highlight the show.

The halftime show will feature the Arkansas and LSU bands and the Kilgore Rangerettes.

The high school show will feature music and formations that will stimulate nostalgia of thousands.

OLD PRESCRIPTION -- Jim Evans, pharmacist at Gordon's Drug, points to some old prescriptions the late E. C. Hays received for eye medicine from a Fort Worth doctor in 1908. Evans said some of the medicines are still used in eye preparations. There has been a big change in the way the medicine is compounded.

Old Prescription Contains Many of Today's Medicines

A prescription for eye medicine found recently contained much of the same medicines used today, according to Jim Evans, pharmacist at Gordon's Drug.

The prescription was written for E. C. Hays, Floyd's father, when he went to Fort Worth to see a doctor about his eyes. Hays lived at Old Hansford at the time.

Evans said the prescription had two doctor's names on the prescription. The pharmacist said the medicine was compounded in the drug store, then.

We have eye medicine now that contains basically the same medicine, but today the medicine is compounded at the factory and bottled under sterilized conditions, then sealed.

This does away with the chance for eye infection that was present when the medicines were compounded in the drug stores, Evans said.

Hays had his prescription filled at the Covey and Martin Drug Store in Fort Worth. It was located at 810 Main, just across from the Worth Hotel. The prescription pad gave a phone number of 9.

Drug store, medicines and the Fort Worth phone system has changed drastically since E. C. Hays made a trip there to see a doctor.

Floyd Hays found the prescription when he was going through an old trunk of his mother's recently. The prescriptions are framed and on display in the prescription department of Gordon's Drug.

PIN TECHASIRIWAN

Christmas Trees Fascinate Thailander Visiting Here

A chemical engineer from Bangkok, Thailand, visited this week in Spearman as guests of Mr. and Mrs. V.N. King and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Fisher.

Pin Techasiriwan came to Spearman with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Day. He returned to Stillwater, Thursday.

Techasiriwan is a student at Oklahoma State University where Day is in school. He is studying chemical engineering and will be in school at OSU for a year.

He is employed by the Colgate Palmolive Co., in Bangkok, and saved for four years to finance his one year of study in this country.

The American Christmas celebration is fascinating to the visitor. He is of the Catholic faith and there is a Christmas observance in his country, but nothing like in America.

Our Christmas trees are the most fascinating feature of our Christmas to the visitor.

Snow and Rain Produce .52

At 7 a. m. Friday Spearman had three inches of snow on the level and drifts of a foot or more, according to the local weather observer, Mrs. Pat Cates.

Moisture from rain and snow totalled .52 of an inch. Rain Thursday accounted for .20 of this amount.

The low temperature Friday morning was 22 degrees.

1965 Starts Poorly, But Finishes As Outstanding Year

1965 started as a very poor year for Hansford County with drought, blowing dirt, blown out wheat crops and dire predictions of another dust bowl.

However, late rains, irrigation, and a late winter turned it into one of the better income years of the county.

A Gruber man was murdered and his killer convicted during the year.

The youth of the county were outstanding, winning many awards in various activities.

What incidents stand out in your mind when you look back into the year 1965? Let's look back and see what stories made Plainsman headlines during the year.

JANUARY
The Rolling Plains Mule Train attended the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth. While there they rode a talley-ho and mules in the parade and were a featured attraction in the grand entry for the rodeo held in Will Rogers Coliseum. Art work exhibited in Perry Memorial Library in Perryton was that of Mrs. Guy Fuller.

The month long March of Dimes drive, headed by Elsie Mathews, was climaxed with a radio auction-hootenanny, and Mothers March by Beta Sigma Phi members.

FEBRUARY
Lynxettes, Robbie Ownbey, Johnie Vernon, Bethany Donnell, Phyllis Patterson, Kathi Patterson, Vicki Wilde, Barbara Wilde, Linda Smith, Susan Hutchison, Karen Gibson, Nelda Archer and Linda Lesly, coached by Dean Weese won their fifth consecutive district title.

Dr. Floyd Golden, former President of Eastern New Mexico University, delivered the main address at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet. At the banquet the Rolling Plains Mule Train, Inc. received an award for their outstanding service to Spearman.

Carter's Sweet Shop at 301

W. Kenneth owned by R.R. Carter from Memphis opened for business.

Darce Foshee from Boise City, Okla., assumed the City Managerial duties.

Beth Fox and Barbara McClellan were crowned as Valentine Queens at the annual Beta Sigma Phi Valentine Ball and Lynne Garnett and Harrel Adkison were crowned King and Queen at the annual Sweetheart Banquet for youth held at the First Baptist Church.

John R. Collard held open house in his new offices at 407 Davis.

A record number of voters approved a bond issue to renovate the junior high school plant and for improvements to the high school, but turned down the request for a new athletic plant.

Approximately 40,000 acres of wheat were ruined or damaged during a 48 hour dust and "smust" storm the 22nd and 23rd.

John and Ernest Grissiam were arrested just 24 hours after P.H. (Mickey) Westerfield was killed in his store in Gruver. John Grissiam was charged with murder, his brother, Ernest, with burglary.

MARCH
The teen-age club, "The Kon-Tiki" owned and operated by D.D. Stalder opened at 222 Hancock.

Texas coaches unanimously selected Phyllis Patterson as a member of the North All-Star team for the game played during the summer.

Rebecca Hutchison was named Hansford County Bake Queen. She won with her angel food cake and biscuit entries.

Spearman School Superintendent James Bramlett submitted his resignation effective in July to assume a position as superintendent of Seminole schools.

The Girl Scouts celebrated National Girl Scout Week and were honored by the Twentieth Century Club with a tea. Jimmy Kirkland, Phyllis Patterson, Vicki Wilde, Susan Hutchison, and Robbie Ownbey were all named to District 1-AA All-District teams.

At the annual athletic banquet Wesley Brinkley received the football award and Jimmy Kirkland received the boys basketball award. The girls basketball award was received by Susan Hutchison. The track award went to Jim Ownbey and the Jaycee "Fighting Heart" award was received by Johnny Crawford.

Spearman's entries in the Interscholastic League Literary contest completely dominated the district competition exceeding their closest rival by 81 points. The contestants compiled a total of 165 points.

APRIL
The Twentieth Century Club held an art auction as the first large fund raising campaign for the Spearman Library Fund.

James K. Hicks, Bob Skinner and E.J. Callaway, Jr. were re-elected to two-year terms as city councilmen and Lloyd Buzzard, Jack Lovett, and Marvin Jones were elected to terms as school board members.

Billie Sol Estes came to town, along with Coleman McSpadden, to testify in the Robert Earl Clements trial held here. Clements pleaded nolo contendere and received a two year suspended sentence before either took the stand, however. Later this verdict was set aside and a new trial and change of venue was ordered by 84th District Court Judge Max Boyer.

The Spearman High School Band won their 11th consecutive AA sweepstakes award.

"Cloud Trails" by Jenna V. Ownbey, local author, was released in Spearman and surrounding area.

Patricia Schnell and Darrel Tope won the County Spelling Bee. Miss Schnell won the junior division and Ernest Willemeth was runner-up. Darrel Tope won the senior division.

FFA Conducts Food Drive

Members of the Spearman FFA Greenhand organization conducted a food drive for needy people before school was dismissed for the holidays.

The members asked every student in school to bring a can of food or some non-perishable food to go in Christmas baskets.

Officers of the Greenhands are President Joe Vanderburg, Vice President Bobby Smith, Secretary Mike Davis, Treasurer Dallen Scroggs, Reporter Stephen Crooks, and Sentinel Roy Russell.

Miss Johnie Jo Vernon, a student at West Texas State University, is home for the Christmas holidays.

Surprise Party Is Honor For Davidson

A Christmas party turned into a surprise birthday party for Carolyn Davidson Monday night.

Miss Davidson and Mrs. Freddie Largent has planned a Christmas party, but when the guests arrived, the honoree was told the party she helped plan was a surprise birthday party for her.

Refreshments were a buffet dinner and birthday cake and coffee.

Those attending were Mmes. E.C. Abston, Frankie Duryee, Donald Pace, Andy Rhodes, Ruth Caro, Ray Span, Juanita Boxford, James Cummings, Richard King-sley and Robert Cochran.

Bob Phillips, student at Amarillo College, is home for the Christmas holidays.

Fancy Light Bulbs to Shine Brightly at Christmas Time

Christmas tree lights, which in the past have stayed in the background as a decorating item, are now moving into first place as designers create lights that are themselves glittery ornaments.

Light bulbs now are fastened behind white plastic snowflakes, to give the tree a snow-drenched look. Others are centered within clear glass star-shaped reflectors. One set of tree lights consists of midget lamps mounted in clear icicles in plastic shades.

An entire line of tree lights, midget-sized, is planned so each cluster twinkles separately for an eye-catching effect.

Added ornaments are unnecessary if the home decorator chooses strings of light bulbs that are mounted in multi-colored crystal ball reflectors, or some of the lamps that are hidden in glittery sugar bells.

Newest addition in Christmas tree decoration is a fiber glass cover, in fruit designs. The decorator can choose from realistic pears, apples, oranges, limes, plums and lemons if he wants to make his tree a fruit-bearing one. The same material is used in pastel-colored snowballs and gay snowmen.

JEST A MINUTE

Wife (cleaning fish at sink): "Why can't you be like other husbands? They never catch anything."

Jerry Day Works With Foreign Students

Techasiriwan is Chinese, but his parents have lived in Thailand for forty years. His father owns and teaches in a private school. They are Buddhist.

The young engineer is the sixth of 12 children. He and one sister were converted to the Catholic religion while attending a Catholic school.

Jerry Day met Techasiriwan in his work at Oklahoma State. Jerry is a counselor for foreign students. Day is working toward his doctorate at OSU.

Mike Skinner, a student at Oklahoma University, and Bill Skinner of Wentworth Military Academy, are home for Christmas.

Helen Collard, a student at West Texas University, is home for Christmas.

Housewife Is Tested As Home Manager

COLLEGE STATION — It's Christmas time—with decorations to get out and put up, gifts to select and wrap and holiday feasts to prepare. During the holiday season, managerial skills are really put to the test, emphasizes Mrs. Gwen Clyatt, Extension consumer marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

Actually, the art of managing the food budget is probably practiced with more diligence before Christmas than at any other time of the year, she says. It's during the pre-holiday season that homemakers save for that surprise gift for Hubby or for special stocking stuffers for the children.

"All of this just goes to prove that careful selection and watching for good buys can ease the food budget any time of the year—and especially at the holiday season," Mrs. Clyatt adds.

Beef prices have made no significant change from a week ago. To economize, look to slow-cooking chuck roast and various rolled roasts, stew meat and Swiss steaks. Ground meat for meatloaf and similar uses is an easy-on-the-budget buy. Country pork ribs and pork steaks are among the most economical choices in that meat.

For additional economy, look to canned luncheon meats and prepared chili. Fish sticks and portions, canned tuna and red salmon offer variety at reasonable prices.

Frying chicken is a good choice at most markets. Turkeys should be relatively good values. Egg prices are about the same as last week.

Hardy root vegetables—such as carrots, dry onions, potatoes, sweet potatoes, turnips and rutabagas — hold a dependable place in local stores. Other good choices are cabbage, squash, celery, Brussels sprouts, broccoli and cauliflower.

Citrus tops the list of fruits. Apples, grapes and pecans are other good buys.

Santa Comes In All Sizes And Shapes

Santa Clauses come in all shapes and sizes—tall and skinny and thin and fat. But no matter what his size, chances are that Santa can find a suit to fit in the Sunset Beach, Calif. store of Fred and Sonia Gerlatti.

The Gerlattis have been manufacturing Santa suits for 16 years as a part of their drygoods and fabric store. They started in the business when Sonia was trying to find a Santa suit for a Christmas party for some orphans.

Mrs. Gerlatti says the store she tried featured "an obnoxious clerk" and only four suits — none of them appropriate.

Every suit the Gerlattis make is adjustable to fit anyone. Thanks to towels, pillows and safety pins, the suits are adjustable to fit a waist of up to 52 inches. Once, Gerlatti, explains, they even made a special suit for someone with a 62-inch waist.

Three of the Gerlattis' suits have been sent to Russia. Others went to Europe, Mexico and even the Fiji Islands.

Gerlatti says grandfathers are usually the best customers. But he says they're often buying suits "for the benefit of children who are only five or six weeks old."

The best Santa Clauses, says Gerlatti, are doctors and lawyers. He adds, "maybe because

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Conroy of Weatherford visited here Thursday. They were enroute to Nebraska to spend the Christmas holidays.

Having plenty of ash trays around the house, particularly if you have holiday guests who smoke, is the best way to prevent burns on table tops and rugs, and at the same time perhaps avoid a serious fire, says the American Insurance Association.

SPRAYING TIP

Aerosol products are becoming more and more popular, and starch is one of the most convenient spray-on products. The Faultless Starch Company offers these tips for best spraying results: Shake the can well before and during use. Be sure the arrow on the spray button points to the red dot on the can. Hold the can 6 to 10 inches from the item being sprayed and tilt it only slightly, never more than 45°. Press the button firmly to obtain a fine, even spray.

Bedroom Study

Bedrooms are getting bigger because Americans use them for reading, TV viewing and as a place to relax away from the family, recent surveys indicate. The growing popularity of king-size bedding has contributed to the need for larger bedrooms. The National Association of Bedding Manufacturers reports that Americans are replacing under-size mattresses at a record rate.

Merchants: Prevent Fires

Merchants from coast to coast were urged by the American Insurance Association today to join the nation in helping prevent fire during the Christmas holiday season.

By following a few simple rules, managers of retail stores can help keep their establishments fire safe, the Association added.

It offered these fire safety precautions:

1. Keep all store aisles and exits free from obstructions at all times.

When new merchandise is brought in to the buying floor

Spirit Penetrates Prison Bars

Christmas behind prison bars need not be a dreary occasion. Prison officials and charitable organizations work to make sure that some of the holiday spirit reaches the men and women who are behind bars and separated from their families at Christmas.

One sidelight on Christmas at the Ohio Penitentiary, as at others, is the search through the prisoners' packages — just to make sure there is no contraband.

Warden E. L. Maxwell says only a fraction of the 3,000 to 4,000 packages contain forbidden items. The search is carried out in front of the prisoner to whom the package is addressed. Very little of the contraband is actually dangerous.

Peanut butter, for example, is banned because it could conceal narcotics. Prunes, raisins and dried fruit are forbidden because it's too easy to improvise brandy from them. Transistor radios are outlawed because enterprising prisoners might adapt them for cell-to-cell communications.

Picking Toys In Prison
Another type of problem faces officials and inmates of the state reformatory for women at Dwight, Ill. Many of the women have children, and the ordinarily-joyful job of choosing presents could turn into tragedy.

This tragedy is averted, however, thanks to the efforts of the Salvation Army.

Each year, about the middle of November, the women file into a gaily decorated room with a toy-laden table in the middle.

The toys are paid for by donations to the Salvation Army. About $1,200 is spent for the toys at Dwight.

Selecting the toys is not an easy task.

"I haven't seen my children in five years," said one mother to a volunteer worker. "Will you help me pick?"

Most mothers try to be non-choosy as they pick out the gifts, but tears often stream down their cheeks as they leave.

After the selections are made, each woman signs a card with a personal message for her child. There are no signs of prison identification on the gift or the card. Some notes are especially poignant. "Be a good boy until Mommy gets home," or "Save all the toys so I can see them."

Cards Show Spiritual Trend

Christmas cards this year will emphasize the spiritual and religious nature of the holiday, in keeping with the drive to avoid over-commercialization of the Yule season.

One series of cards features excerpts from the writings of noted churchmen. The cards, illustrated with reproductions of famous religious paintings of the Renaissance, include messages by the late Pope John, Dr. Norman Vincent Peale, Bishop Fulton J. Sheen, Francis Cardinal Spellman and the late Reverend Peter Marshall, chaplain of the United States Senate.

Jerry Black, a member of the Army Special Forces, is home on Christmas leave.

Mike Shedeck, a student at West Texas State, is home for Christmas.

Cpl. Roddy Woodson of Fort Dix, N.J., is home for Christmas leave.

Glenn Keim of Texas A&M University is home for Christmas.

'Noah's Ark' Disappears from Holiday Scene

By ANNA MANG

Where there are children, this holiday season, there's usually a Christmas tree—brightly lighted, gaily decorated, its fragrant branches bending low over a veritable "Toyland" of gifts from Santa's lavish pack.

These days, the variety of toys to enchant, entertain and instruct the youngsters is practically limitless. The toy pack holds, it seems, everything and anything that a lucky child might see in his dreams.

A century or so ago, the picture was very different. Even the Christmas tree itself was not as likely to be a part of the holiday scene. Around the middle of the nineteenth century, the Sunday school movement had begun to popularize the idea of family Christmas trees, but a tree at home was still not something a child would take for granted.

As for the toys, under the tree or not, the usual gift might be only one toy, and that one not a toy that modern children would recognize.

This is not to say, however, that nineteenth century children were to be pitied.

In a single toy, the "Noah's

Ark" then highly prized as a special occasion gift, nineteenth century children found entertainment in great variety.

Today the Noah's Ark has disappeared from the wonder world of toys, but in the days of its popularity, nearly every home with children also housed a Noah's Ark in some form, however modest.

Like modern toys, the Ark was available in many versions, from the simple to the complex. Basically, this toy consisted of the ark itself, in miniature of course, accompanied by gaily painted wooden figures representing Noah, his family, and animals in pairs. The more elaborate the toy, the greater was the number of animals included. One nineteenth century Noah's Ark set, now part of the New York Historical Society's collection, includes more than 300 animals. Everything from little birds and domestic cats to elephants, camels, lions and tigers is represented.

Joel Lackeys Are Hosts For Bridge Club Party

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Lackey were hosts for a bridge party Tuesday evening in their home.

The home was gaily decorated in the Christmas decor with a beautiful white flocked tree in the blue and green combination and a traditional green tree in the family room.

Snacks of dips, and chips, sandwiches, fruit cakes, cookies and candy were served from a table centered with a candelabra arrangement in blue and green.

Attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Willis Sheets, Troy Sloan, Roy Bulls, Ray Robertson, Garland Head, Sid Evans, Sonny Windom, Gene Cudd of Perryton, Don McLain from Gruver and the host couple.

Highscore was held by Mrs. Don McLain and Willis Sheets.

Party Given To Honor J. Lackey

Mrs. Joel Lackey honored her daughter Janyth with a party recently for her eighth birthday.

The garage at the Lackey home was gaily decorated with balloons and the birthday cake with blue and green decorations, punch and candies were served from a table in the garage. Birthday gifts were opened around the Christmas tree in the den. Indoor games were enjoyed by the group.

Attending were Justice Frost, Rajan Martin, Lynda Reed, Jan Wysong, Jennifer Read, Betty Crawford, Marla Baxter, Gayle Montgomery, Christy Sparks, Lori Healer, Laura Barnes, Donna Boatwright, Ronda Nelson and the honoree.

Heads Host Christmas Bridge Party

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Head were hosts for the Friday Night Couples Bridge Club when they met Saturday night at the HD Clubroom. This was the annual get together and Christmas dinner.

Highscore for women was held by Mrs. Chalmers Porter and Garland Head had high for the men.

Attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Chalmers Porter, Ray Robertson, Billy Miller, Irvin Davis, J.K. Hicks, Mrs. Don Knox and the hosts.

Surprise Party Is Given For Ruth Skinner

The home of Ola Sparks was the scene Tuesday evening for a surprise party honoring Ruth Skinner on her birthday.

The entertaining rooms were attractively decorated in the Christmas motif and the evening was spent visiting and watching Mrs. Skinner open her gifts.

The hostess served snacks, chips and dips, punch, cake and candy to guests Gertrude Jones, Elvonna Davis, Ellen Babbs, Pat Donnell, Helen Etter, Mary Kathryn Parris, Dorothy Davis, Jane Meek, Joyce Harper and the honoree.

Education is something you get when your father sends you to college, but it isn't complete until you send your son there.

Party Honors Mrs. McClellan

Mrs. Lee McClellan was honored with a birthday party recently in her home. Enjoying cake and coffee were her family, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson McClellan and boys, Mr. and Mrs. R.L. McClellan and children, Mr. and Mrs. J.K. Hicks, Mr. McClellan and Mrs. Alice Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. E.D. Clement were in Pampa Monday where they visited a sister-in-law Mrs. Charlie Gatlin, a patient in Highland General Hospital. While there they also visited Mrs. Hettie Seiber and friends residing in a convalescent home.

Gary Haner of Texas A&I College in Kingsville is home for Christmas.

Archers Host Bridge Party

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Archer were hosts for their bridge club Tuesday evening in their home.

Barbara McClellan had high for the women and Richard Holton had high for the men.

Attending were Messrs. and Mmes. Richard Holton, J.K. Hicks, Roy L. McClellan, Ralph Blodgett, Rue Sanders and the host couple.

Mike Larson of Wentworth Military Academy is home for the holidays.

McMurry Offers Many Opportunities

McMurry College was voted into being at the annual session of the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church in October, 1920 at Clarendon, Texas. It was established at Abilene. The construction of the first building, now the Old Main Building, was begun in the spring of 1922. The college was opened by Dr. J.W. Hunt, the first president of the college, in September, 1923. Then in 1947, the Dallas Institute of Vocal and Dramatic Art was merged with McMurry College.

McMurry College is a co-educational liberal arts institution owned and supported by the Methodist Church. The various curricula of the college also give the student an opportunity to acquire a more intimate knowledge of a chosen field of study as proper preparation for graduate work or for the beginning of a successful career. The purpose of college is guidance of growing persons in achieving a personality after the pattern of Jesus Christ.

McMurry College is a non-profit institution without support from taxes or other public funds. The total amount of tuition, room and board is due and payable in advance at the time of registration.

In accordance with basic philosophy of higher education, McMurry College seeks to help each student towards the attainment of the following goals; Christian faith and character; appreciation of our cultural heritage, responsible citizenship supported by a knowledge of our nations history, government, and institutional life, intellectual attitudes and habits appropriate to an educated Christian citizen.
