New York Would Use TV To Show Story Of City

NEW YORK (AP)—A situation has arisen which involves the government of New York City and a commercial television station. Mayor Robert Wagner has directed the heads of city departments and agencies to make their files, equipment and manpower available to New York TV Productions, Inc. Theodore H. Wagner's motive appears understandable: every mayor likes to publicize his city—and here was a chance in one big package.

DO IT YOURSELF With Pattern, This Console Job Is Easy

By BILL BAKER
You've probably been looking at this column for some time now. Perhaps you've ordered one of my patterns and have built a major item of furniture in your home workshop. If you have, you know without my telling how much fun wood-working can be.

TV Cabinet

Provincial television console cabinet, an easy-to-build Bill Baker design, will add grace and security to your home. Cabinet, shown here with tiny motion picture and TV star Vera Miles, holds table-model set and has space for record player.

discover that you need two sheets of good plywood — one 4 feet by 8 feet and another 2 feet by 8 feet. The layout chart, then, shows you where you'll place each pattern piece. No waste of material is possible with this method.

Next you'll turn to the easy-to-read instructions and the carefully detailed section drawings. Here you'll discover that the assembly job is no harder than the tacking and tracing phase of the project.

Your finished television console cabinet will be 48 inches high, 32 inches wide and 23 inches deep. Any table-model television set up to a 24-inch unit will fit easily into the cabinet. You'll have absolutely no electrical work to do.

The smart cabinet, with fine double doors to mask your TV set when it is not in use, has another good feature — a 9 x 30 x 32 inch drawer that is perfect for holding your record player.

Don't say, "I can't do it." Order a pattern package and give wood-working a try. I can guarantee that you'll have fun.

It will be easy — and fun too — to build your own television console cabinet. Get your pattern package No. 144 by sending only one dollar ($1) in either check, cash or money order. Include your name and address (very clearly printed) and mail your request to Bill Baker, P. O. Box 1111, Big Spring Herald, Los Angeles 53, Calif.

If you would like to have a free copy of a catalogue showing other Bill Baker designs, include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. One will be mailed to you.

A-Submarine Gets Tests For Undersea Towing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—That dramatic and deadly fighting ship, the atomic submarine, may find itself with still another important but mundane mission in wartime—undersea towing.

It may be used to tow a string of submersible hulls, each carrying several hundred troops or tons of cargo, for invasion operations or to ship high priority supplies through enemy-manned seas.

This possibility is pointed up by two developments: 1. Disclosure a few days ago by Rear Adm. H. G. Rickover, nuclear propulsion expert, that the current building program includes a huge submarine to be powered by two atomic reactors.

2. Navy experiments, with conventionally powered submarines, in undersea towing operations. The experiments, started some years ago, have progressed to the point where they now are part of standard training work.

Rickover was terse in his reference to the big boat in an address at San Francisco. He said only that it would be the largest and "the first one powered by two reactors."

Plans for the boat are understood to call for a vessel of 5,000 tons displacement, compared with 3,000 tons for the two nuclear submarines now afloat — the Nautilus and Seawolf.

Despite Prosperity, Nation Has Many 'Poorer' Segments

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—Many Americans are still chronically poor despite general prosperity, a congressional staff report said today. It said this poverty endangers the future economic strength of the nation.

In general, the study pointed to the South, farms, and the nonwhite population as areas having a disproportionate share of poor. But there are depressed areas outside the South, and in cities as well as on the farm.

The report was signed by Governor W. Enley, staff director for the Joint Committee. Enley said it was written for the most part by staff economist Eleanor M. Snyder. It drew upon statistical studies by a wide range of government agencies and private organizations.

The report called it a "paradox of modern economic society" that there should be in "continuing existence, during periods of generally full employment, geographic pockets in which chronic unemployment and underemployment are excessively high."

It said that in 1950 the Department of Agriculture estimated there was a farm population of 5,100,000 in areas characterized by "serious low-income problems."

Of the 145 major labor market areas in the country, the report said, 23 were classified by the Bureau of Employment Security as having a "substantial labor surplus" in September, 1955. In addition, there were 94 smaller areas with a substantial labor surplus, defined as six per cent or more of unemployment.

These economically submerged areas, the report added, will probably continue as time passes to contain relatively more of the low-income group, unless "positive action" is taken to improve their status.

For the most part, the report dealt with developments from 1948 through 1954, spanning the prosperous era between the recessions of 1948-49 and 1953-54, but beginning and ending with years that were partly in recession times.

The study gave the following major characteristics of the chronically poor families:

"Low-income families tend to be smaller than those with moderate income" because this group contains many of the lonely aged. But where the low-income family is young, families tend to be big, meaning that "low-income families carry a disproportionate share of responsibility for rearing the nation's children."

"Broken families (mostly widows with children) are more common in the low-income group."

"Seven-tenths of the heads of urban low-income families and three-quarters of those in rural areas had not had any formal education."

"More than half the low-income urban families were headed by persons of very limited or no productive effort," such as the retired, students, or housewives.

"Almost half the urban low-income families, and three-fifths of the rural families with low income live in the South."

"About one-sixth of the lowest income group (up to $1,000 income a year) are farm operators."

However, the report noted that homegrown food and fuel, available in significant proportions to farmers, is not counted as income by the Census Bureau, the source for the study of low-income family characteristics.

In 1948, the report said, 13 per cent of city families had less than $2,000 income, while 35 per cent of city families had less than $2,000 income, while 35 per cent of farm families were in this plight (not counting their homeproduced food and fuel). By 1954, 9 per cent of city families were in the under $2,000 class, while 27 per cent of farm families still had less than $2,000 cash income.

Thompson said 15 to 20 planes probably will be entered in the contest. The race will be run off in elimination heats of three planes each. Anyone interested in watching the races is invited to the contest.

BOOKS • MUSIC • ART • DRAMA CRITIQUE

Glenn Ford makes his fourth bid for an Academy Award this year with his performance in "Trial," beginning today at a local theatre. The book, you may remember, was Harper's "Prize Novel" and it won the National Book Award.

I didn't think the book should have won the honors at the time and don't think so now. Chances are, however, the film will be better than the book. Much of the incredibility of the book was removed near the end, even though author Don Mankiewicz wrote the screenplay.

If you read the book, then you know that about the last 50 pages is a thinly disguised attack on a Wisconsin Senator. Whether the author is correct in his indictment or not has little to do with the subject of the book. It begins with an account of the manipulations which the Communist Party goes through to create a martyr for the cause.

The martyr, of course, is used to raise funds. In this case, he is a Latin American boy, accused of a murder which he did not commit. A young lawyer is placed in the position of defending the youth, first against the inexorable wheels of justice, and second, against the subversion of the Communist Party.

This much of the book makes for good reading and a good movie. However, the book and movie differ on the youth's fate. Then, the author moves in a shouting, screaming demagogue, who represents an Investigating Subcommittee, and did everything that happens is anti-climactic, and occasionally a little foolish.

But Hollywood often improves on the book and it may have happened this time. The film should be worth seeing.

R. J. Walker, principal of Lakeview High School, says more books are needed in the school's library. Donations for books total $85.70, he said, and he appreciates the assistance. Still more is needed, however.

Books or contributions will be picked up if interested persons will call 4-6721 during the day or 4-8431, 3-2248 after 5 p.m. Mailed contributions should be addressed P. O. Box 894, Big Spring.

Here is a chance to put those books that you don't intend to read again to good use. You probably remember once when the school library was your only source of reading material.

Shakespeare may be "old hat" to some, but he is laying them in the aisles in London. I hear that in the Stratford on Avon Memorial Theatre, twelve persons were carried out unconscious during one performance of "Titus Andronicus." Still others left while they could still walk.

Although the play is the season's biggest boxoffice hit, the management is receiving complaints about the grisly torture scenes. Laurence Olivier and wife, Vivien Leigh, play the leads, Olivier, as Titus in one scene, appears to cut off his hand. Sound effects add a realistic crunching of bones.

In another scene, Tamora eats a pie in which the bodies of her sons have been cooked. Lavinia, played by Vivien Leigh, has her tongue sliced out and her hands chopped off. Then, at the end of the play, three leading characters are killed in quick succession.

Hollywood, television comic books, or radio apparently have nothing on Shakespeare or the London stage.

Military Properties Worth $123 Billions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—The Pentagon today put a $123,866,000,000 valuation on its worldwide holdings of property, equipment and supplies. It said, however, it did not know and had not tried to find out the current value of nearly 89 million acres of land the military owns or uses at home and abroad.

The figures in this first overall defense inventory were as of Jan. 1, 1955.

They showed that the Navy, with property, equipment and supplies valued at $6 1/2 billion, carried the highest figure of the three services. Nearly three-fifths of the Navy's total was in ships and the 14,311 aircraft in its inventory.

The Army was valued at $4 billion, with about two-thirds of its book cost assigned to equipment and supplies.

A sum of $3 1/2 billion was placed on the Air Force, the total including 11 1/2 billion for 25,890 aircraft in its inventory.

The Defense Department's first published effort to give an overall cost of United States military investments was contained in a report submitted to the President and Congress in belated compliance with a law passed in 1949.

The Pentagon placed a nominal purchase cost of 2 1/2 billion on all of its land and buildings, but conceded that this "by no means indicates present market value." In the first place, the Pentagon pointed out that about half of its total acreage cost nothing because it was withdrawn from the public domain — largely Western lands that were originally taken from the Indians.

Some idea of the extent of military land holdings today can be gained from the fact that military property in the continental United States is somewhat greater than the area of Indiana. Property owned or controlled in the territories and foreign countries is about the area of Massachusetts. Despite the size of these holdings, however, they represent only 1.3 per cent of the land surface of the continental United States.

The military services own, control or use land and buildings in every state and the District of Columbia. The purchase cost of military land in three states was listed as California, nearly two billion; Texas 1 1/2 billion; Virginia a billion.

In area, Nevada leads all the states in military use with nearly four million acres, Arizona comes second with 3 1/2 million acres and New Mexico follows with three million.

Among other things the report noted that the three services combined have buildings with a troop housing capacity of 2,577,904 in the United States. No figures were given for military housing in the overseas areas where large segments of the military population are now stationed.

COLORADO CITY'S BUFORD SCHOOL. Idle building an issue in bond election

'BE Day' Meet Set For Tuesday

Another meeting of merchants to discuss BE Day in Big Spring has been called by Jimmie Greene, manager of the Chamber of Commerce. The meeting is set for Tuesday at 10:30 a.m. in the Chamber conference room.

The number of merchants who have agreed to participate in the program has been boosted to over 20, Greene said. Cosden Petroleum Corporation, Zale's Jewelers, Swartz's, and the Herald are the latest companies who have joined the program.

All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting Tuesday, Greene said. The program is designed to give more information to more people about business in Big Spring.

BE Day will be Nov. 18, Greene said. Although the special day is usually held during Business, Industry, and Education Week, Nov. 6-12, it was changed here so that all local businesses could participate.

Businessmen will invite the 254 teachers in Big Spring schools to visit with them for a day and watch the way that the business is conducted. The program is conducted nationally in order to acquaint teachers with the basic operation of the capitalistic system.

C-City Voters To Decide On School Bonds Tuesday

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 29—Colorado City's half-million dollar school bond issue—the third big bond issue schoolmen have presented Colorado City voters since 1950—was in the home stretch Saturday with voters preparing to go to the polls on Tuesday.

Both of the previous bond issues, for $500,000 in 1950 and $300,000 in 1952, were approved by large majorities and observers predicted passage of the present offering.

The bond issue will provide about $225,000 for a new gymnasium, keyed to an expanding sports program, about $225,000 for "face lifting" the Colorado High School, and about $50,000 for new classroom space at the Hutchinson School.

School officials contend that the high school gym is out of date and that the proposed new structure will allow for more emphasis on athletics in the school program and provide more seating for basketball fans.

They recommend the remodeling of the high school, including the enlarging of the home economics room, and the conversion of the old gym into a band room. The addition of the classrooms at Hutchinson School will relieve mild overcrowding in that building.

The school board and school officials have been supported by local businessmen, led by G. D. Foster, insurance salesman; and the expenditure is endorsed by the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce. The Colorado City Record has given support.

Opponents of the measure are not organized and opposition expressed is largely from parents who feel that the additional tax burden would not bring a worthwhile increase in educational facilities. Many parents feel that education in Colorado City schools suffers from competition with other interests, and that an improvement in educational emphasis must come from a change in policy rather than in buildings.

One young farmer commented, "For new science and electronics labs, 'yes,' for a new gym, 'no'!"

Joe Earnest, local attorney, suggested that the school system should use present buildings if more space is needed. He pointed out that the Buford school north of Colorado City is not being used.

School officials closed the Buford School in September, 1953, when school enrollments dropped and it was felt that the consolidation of pupils into fewer schools would save a teacher. It is a modern brick building with six classrooms, kitchen and cafeteria, having been remodeled before being closed. Jim Watson, secretary of the school board, said that the board has not discussed its use, adding, "The building is being kept on a standby basis and will be used when needed."

LETTER TO EDITOR

Urges Observance Of Law In Passing School Buses

To The Editor: - MURDER! or in a more legal description, manslaughter. Which would it actually be if a motorist ran over and killed a school child leaving or catching a school bus? Seldom does this question have to be answered in our courts, but it can happen to anyone who insists on passing a stopped school bus.

Only a few days ago a near tragedy occurred in Gay Hill School District when a speeding vehicle refused to stop for a small school child trying to cross the road to his home. By the grace of God and the timely swerving of the speeding vehicle, a small, innocent first-grade boy still comes to school instead of being forced, against his will, to meet his Creator at such an early stage in his life. The chauffeur was apprehended and charged with a road violation, which has as its penalty a fine not to exceed $200; BUT, it could have been a charge of manslaughter or assault with a deadly weapon if it had not been for a split-second timing in the child's favor.

Alert school-bus drivers exercise every precaution to preserve the lives of their precious cargo; however, they cannot be responsible for the actions of a maniac at the wheel of a speeding auto bearing down on an innocent child who asks nothing more than a chance to live and exercise his rights as an American citizen to an education. An alert, conscientious school-bus driver has the passengers cross in front of the bus so the student will never be out of his sight; not let a student off the bus if a vehicle is approaching from either direction until the vehicle has come to a complete stop; not put the bus in motion until every child is seated; and obey faithfully all the road laws.

The Texas Road Law states in essence that a school bus must pull completely off the pavement and have blinking stop lights on the front and rear of the bus working, and that motorists approaching from either direction must come to a complete stop and then proceed at a speed not greater than 10 miles per hour. Actually, the state should not be forced to make such a law. Due respect for a fellow man or a fellow man's children should suffice.

If everyone in this area would appoint himself a committee of one to take the license number and get a description of the auto and its chauffeur that passes a stopped school bus, safety conditions would certainly improve. The Texas Highway Patrol, local Police, and the Sheriff's Department are very cooperative in apprehending the violators. It would be a tragedy that every person in this area would not soon forget if a schoolchild were to be killed while leaving a school bus.

Kefauver Swings At The Right-Wing

MUSKOGON, Mich., Oct. 29 (AP)—Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said tonight a "segment of right-wing" Republicans is "scheming to get President Eisenhower out of office before his term expires."

He accused columnist David Lawrence of putting out a "seditious" feeler carrying the suggestion that Eisenhower might resign in January 1955 instead of serving out his current term, ending January 1957. He recalled that Lawrence recently wrote that "Logic seems to point either to resignation or a decision to accept renomination."

In Washington, Lawrence replied that he had merely "referred to the possibility" of resignation. He said that in fact he expects Eisenhower to recover, does not expect him to resign, and is confident he will run again and be re-elected.

Kefauver denounced the resignation idea as "mischief" and "seditious" and said that "the great majority of Americans, of whatever creed, party or race, thank God that President Eisenhower is making a good recovery and that his illness does not require that he transfer his powers as President."

In a speech prepared for a 9th Congressional District dinner meeting, Kefauver said that he was "proud that no such suggestion has come from Democrats" as a result of the heart attack suffered by Eisenhower last month.

"We Democrats will do our best to win the next election," he said, "but it will be fought out in the open. We will fight it on the issues."

Kefauver, regarded as a contender for the Democratic presidential nomination next year, described Lawrence as "a spokesman for part of the reactionary Republican segment" who has put up feelers that "time and time again the right-wing has followed."

In the column, Lawrence posed the question whether Eisenhower will or will not announce his resignation on Jan. 20 next.

Lawrence held that if the President is well enough to discharge his duties during the remainder of his present term, many people will ask why he could not serve a second term.

Lawrence also said that if it is improper for a man with heart trouble to continue in the presidency after Jan. 20, 1957, the question will be asked why it isn't improper for him to remain in the White House a whole year prior to that date. He said that Eisenhower, being a conscientious man, would be inclined to resign if the doctors told him he could not function actively.

Lawrence made this statement today.

"My article merely referred to the possibility."

"Sen. Kefauver evidently has not read the Constitution lately. There is no mandate or requirement in it that a president must serve out his four-year term. The Constitution specifically uses the word 'resignation.'"

Middle East Tension Near Break Point

By ROBERT B. HEWETT
BEIRUT, Lebanon, Oct. 29 (AP)—One more spark could ignite the Middle East powder keg.

That is the considered opinion held by most Arab leaders and Western diplomats since Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser made his cotton-for-guns deal with Communist Czechoslovakia.

Nerves have been stretched to the snapping point by this week's repeated shooting affrays and raids along the Israeli-Egyptian and Israeli-Syrian frontiers.

In Cairo, an Egyptian spokesman, referring to the fighting in the El Auja-Nizana demilitarized zone, declared today:

"It is up to the United Nations to ease the tension in the zone. The situation along the front there is very tense, but our troops are prepared for any eventuality."

Israeli Premier Moshe Sharett told reporters in Geneva this week in response to a question whether Israel would launch a preventive war:

"I hope to God that Israel will not be driven to this — to what might appear to be a shortcut to the solution of our grave problem."

Then he added: "It's not the case of a preventive war. It's the case of meeting aggression."

In Jerusalem, an Israeli Foreign Ministry spokesman asserted yesterday: "If they (the Egyptians) leave us alone, we will leave them alone."

As the Egyptians and Israelis accused each other today of new troop violations of the El Auja-Nizana zone, an American diplomat described the situation:

"It's like boys tossing firecrackers around in an oil refinery—one bang at the right place can blow the whole thing up, and there doesn't seem to be much we can do about it."

The Soviet Union's bold entry into Middle East politics has aroused Arab passions and fanned Israeli fears. The Czechoslovak arms deal won friends among the normally anti-Communist Arabs, talk of Soviet economic aid is played up. And torch singers from Soviet Uzbek have wooed Beirut and Cairo audiences with Arabic songs.

American influence among the Arabs — already at low point because the Arabs charged United States and American Zionists were responsible for sacrificing Arabs in creating Israel — has been put on the skids by the Soviet drive.

And the seizure this week by British-officered troops of the Buraimi oasis on the disputed Saudi Arabian boundary — where there may be oil — stepped up Arab attacks on Britain.

Most American diplomats in this area do not believe the Arabs will provoke an incident which might touch off war at the present time — if only for the reason Nasser's promised Czech arms, planes and tanks are not yet in the front lines.

Arab League intelligence sources in Jordan last week insisted they had information the Israeli high command was planning an attack on remote Egyptian positions which bar traffic through the Gulf of Aqaba to the Israeli port of Eilat. And one usually well-informed Western source also pointed to the Gulf as the point which might touch off fighting.

This view is that if the Israelis attacked Egyptian positions along the Gulf — on Israel's claim it had the right to protect international shipping — Nasser would be obliged to keep his young army officers in line by ordering an attack elsewhere on the Israeli border. This, in turn, could lead to retaliation by the Israelis.

In the last fortnight Egypt has signed military alliances with Syria and Saudi Arabia aimed at repelling possible Israeli aggression. These pacts as yet are no more than paper so far as joint planning is concerned, but Egyptian involvement would lead Syria and Saudi Arabia into any conflict.

No one is quite certain as to the course of Jordan, whose crack Arab Legion is British-soldiered, but it is obvious the Israelis hope Jordan would stand aloof in the event of any big fighting.

Arab nationalists here are so strong, however, that Jordan eventually may join up with her Arab neighbors despite pressure from Britain. Britain, in fact, is bound by treaty with Jordan which would oblige Britain to aid Jordan if she is attacked.

It is a depressing situation for the United States, whose policy has been to be the friend of both sides and hope for an eventual peace settlement. The United States has failed to get other Arab states to join Iraq, Turkey, Iran, Pakistan and Britain in the "northern tier" defense pact.

Pro-Western Arabs, and there are still many in responsible positions, although they rarely speak up publicly, call for a change in U. S. policy. They say this now favors Israel over the Arab states. Their main demands have been for repatriation or compensation for more than one million Arab refugees who lost their homes in what is now Israel and for a readjustment of present boundaries on the lines of the U. N. Palestine partition plan — which would mean Israel would have to give up territory.

Monasteries In Egypt Attract More Tourists

By WILTON WYNN
CAIRO (AP)—Tourists are disturbing the solitude of monasteries where the Christian monastic movement began in the fourth century.

The government Bureau of Tourism has published a "map of Christian Egypt" showing all monasteries and Christian sites in the country. This is a new thing here. In the past, emphasis was on ancient Egyptian sites (pyramids, solar boat, Sphinx), Moslem sites (mosques, Al Azhar University), or relics of the reign of King Farouk.

Now the tourist department reports with pride that the Christian monastic movement began in Egypt. It invites tourists to monasteries dating back 1,700 years.

Most monks welcome tourist visits but hermit monks object.

"What's the use of trying to be a hermit, if all these tourists come out here?" growls Abdul Messih, who lives alone in a limestone cave.

Abdul Messih walked 3,000 miles down the Nile Valley from his native Ethiopia to begin life here in contact with other hermits.

Once a week he walks six miles to Deir el Baraomni, the nearest monastery, rings a bell and places a few straw mats in a basket lowered from the wall. These mats, which he has made during the week, pay for food given him by the monastery.

Abdul Messih and a few others are the last of the Christian hermit tradition. Most Egyptian monks long ago adopted the practice of living with other monks in monasteries. Four of the oldest monasteries are spread over the desert of Wadi Natrun between Cairo and Alexandria. In the fourth century they were far off the beaten path. Today, good roads bring the mud-walled monasteries within a couple of hours of tourists.

Monks of the Coptic monasteries generally rise at 3 a.m. to pray together till 10. The rest of the day is filled with work and study, including copying of ancient manuscripts by hand. The monks still use the Coptic language inherited from ancient Egyptians; most modern Egyptians speak Arabic.

New Cotton Strain Resists Leaf Spot

STANTON, Oct. 29 (SC)—An angular leaf spot, which took a heavy toll of cotton on irrigated land last year, may soon be banished with the advent of a new blight-resistant strain now being grown on several farms in Martin County.

Thus far the new cotton had been tried only on small plots but the results are amazing. Not only is there no blight on it, but the yield is from a quarter to a half bale more per acre.

At Stanton the yield on irrigated fields this year has been reduced by at least 25 per cent by the leaf spot, according to R. M. Deavenport, manager of a gin. He said a good comparison between the old cotton and the new strain could be seen on the Elma Nichols farm just north of Stanton. A seven-acre plot of the new cotton is making around a half bale more per acre than the regular 1517C now grown in the county. It not only made a higher yield, but matured earlier and grew a better staple.

However, most farmers said they would need returns of some kind from land idled under a crop reduction program. Otherwise, income would continue to be unsatisfactory.

A suggestion which all members of the committee regarded as perhaps the most significant was one by President Howard Hill of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation at Des Moines.

Hill suggested that the government make a rental payment on land diverted from production. He

Idle-Land Rental Program Gains Favor With Farmers

MINOT, N.D., Oct. 29 (AP)—The idea of a multimillion-dollar rental program to take part of the nation's surplus-producing land out of production has gained a strong hold on the Midwest farmers.

This was the conclusion members of the Senate Agriculture Committee came up with after hearing nearly 300 farmers give their views at hearings this week at St. Paul and Worthington, Minn., Des Moines, Iowa, Brookings, S.D., and here.

The committee is touring major farm areas seeking recommendations for ways in improving a faltering agricultural economy. It will hold hearings in the Pacific Northwest and in the Southwest next week.

The senators found a sharp division on price supports—whether they should be of the flexible type of the Eisenhower administration farm program or of the high rigid variety of the preceding Truman administration.

Sen. Scheppe (R-Kan) said there is no conclusive demand for a change in the flexible system. He said that he had heard nothing that would lead him to vote for a change.

On the other hand, Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) weighed the testimony as favoring higher supports which he said he will fight for in the coming session of Congress.

Both Scheppe and Humphrey as well as Sen. Thye (R-Minn) and Young (R-ND) agreed there was an "almost unanimous" sentiment among farmers that price supports alone—be they flexible or high—are not enough to restore income and prices.

All agreed that most farmers blamed price problems on surplus and over-production. They said they were convinced that farmers in this region are willing to accept control in order to get supplies in balance with requirements.

However, most farmers said they would need returns of some kind from land idled under a crop reduction program. Otherwise, income would continue to be unsatisfactory.

A suggestion which all members of the committee regarded as perhaps the most significant was one by President Howard Hill of the Iowa Farm Bureau Federation at Des Moines.

Hill suggested that the government make a rental payment on land diverted from production. He

Clary Not Burned, Physician Testifies

DALLAS, Oct. 29 (AP)—T. Clifton Clary, West Texas rancher being tried for the fifth time in the seven-year-old death of his wife, had no visible burns or other injuries after the 1948 fire, a physician testified today.

Dr. O. H. Chandler testified he examined Clary after the fire which destroyed the Clary home near Ballinger that year. The state claims Clary killed his wife, Odella, and set fire to the house to destroy evidence.

Dr. Chandler's testimony was brought out after Clary himself told of being in the house when, according to him, it exploded as a result of a natural gas leak, blowing him out of the house.

Defense attorney Earl Smith tried unsuccessfully today to break down Dr. Chandler's testimony yesterday that he did not believe Mrs. Clary burned to death, that instead she died of "asphyxiation caused by the presence of clotted blood in the bronchi."

Smith asked if the clot could not have resulted from heating up of the body as a result of the fire. Dr. Chandler replied that he did not believe it could happen that way.

Under a cross-examination Dr. Chandler said the clot of blood was the only visible evidence on which he based his determination that Mrs. Clary was dead before the fire. He testified there was not enough left of her body to say whether she had any injuries.

Dr. Chandler testified Clary had some scratches in his arm pits and

Dallas Rejects Grand Prairie Annex Appeal

DALLAS, Oct. 29 (AP)—The Dallas City Council today again said "no" to Grand Prairie's plea to annex the Chance Vought and Temco Aircraft plants that provide $229,000 yearly tax revenue to Dallas.

A lengthy 8-page statement adopted unanimously by the 9-member council said:

"We very frankly say that if there were no legal prohibitions to granting Grand Prairie's request to dis-annex the aircraft plants, that we would unanimously decline to do so for public policy and welfare reasons."

The council, at great length, pointed out how Dallas businessmen and Dallas police were mainly responsible for locating Hensley Field and the two plants in this area and declared that the installations "have contributed materially to the growth and prosperity of Grand Prairie."

"Grand Prairie, itself, did nothing to cause the establishment of these installations at that site," the councilmen said.

Would Delay Action On Demo Selection

AUSTIN, Oct. 29 (AP)—A member of the Democratic Advisory Council's executive committee said today he will call on the council to oppose seating of a national Democratic committee from Texas until after the Democratic state convention next May.

Creekmore Path of Austin, president of the Travis County Democratic Club, said he will make that proposal at the Nov. 4 meeting of the advisory council in Waco.

The council, comprised of loyalist Democrats, has acted as the liaison group between loyalist Democrats, and the national Democratic party leaders since the Democratic national committee refused to recognize Wright Morrow as committeeman from Texas.

Morrow recently was ousted by the State Democratic Executive Committee, which subsequently named Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey as his replacement. Both moves were with the approval of Gov. Shivers.

Ramsey's selection is scheduled for submission to national committee at a Chicago meeting in late November.

Path said he will offer a resolution to the advisory council at Waco Friday that it recommend to the national committee that the position of national committeeman from Texas be left open until next May.

A fight is now under way between loyalist Democratic forces and conservative Democrats led by Shivers to determine who controls the state convention in May. Control there will determine the political leanings of the Texas delegation to the national convention to nominate the party's presidential candidate.

"Speaker (Sam) Rayburn has stated publicly that there is no necessity for filling the job before next May, and there certainly isn't any necessity from the Democratic standpoint," Path said in a press statement.

"The only necessity is to get Shivers' Democratic national committee before the next national convention, and it isn't up to the Democratic Advisory Council to help Shivers try to clean up his record of party disloyalty."

Police Report Six Minor Car Wrecks

There were six minor wrecks reported in the city Friday and Saturday. No major damage or injury was reported to police.

Alfredo C. Lopez, 213 NE 8th, and Vernon Eldon Cannon, 1507 Security, were drivers in a mishap in the 800 block of Lamesa Drive. It occurred about 5:30 p.m. Friday. Later at 7:30 p.m. Vernon Lee Cox, 607 Gollad, told police a truck backed into his car and left. The incident occurred in the 200 block of Nolan.

Saturday, at 12:30 a.m., an accident at the Jet Tavern involved drivers Russell Lee Nelson, Webb AFB, and Mrs. Marshall Minshew, 111 W. 2nd. Gus Oppgaard, 1003 Wood, and Ira Stogner, 306 1/2 E. 21st, were in collision at Fourth and Scurrey about 8:40 a.m.

At Ayford and Northwest Fifth, Leland A. Yates, 107 Frazier, and William Arthur Nix, 510 Lancaster, were involved in a collision about 7:30 p.m. Mary Lou Garcia, 410 NW 7th, and Duane Everett Ferguson, Douglas Hotel, were in collision about 6 p.m. in the 300 block of San Antonio.

Felony Charges Filed On Three

Felony charges were filed against Jesus Martinez, Bob L. Lindsay, and Walter David Deats Jr. of a $15 check which was given to Phillips Courts. Leonard Sellers was charged with taking mortgaged property, an automobile, out of the county.

Theft Suspect Held

Police arrested a Latin American man at Gregg and Northwest Fifth about 3 a.m. Saturday. The man is being held for investigation of theft.

YMCA Group Names Compton

Bennie Compton, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Compton, was nominated by the Speaker of the House post by over 300 delegates at the H-Y Pre-Legislative conference at Lubbock Saturday.

Compton will be the West Texas nominee for the Speaker's post when the Youth in Government program moves to Austin to take over the reins of the state government in December. The youths will run the business of the state for a day.

It is described as a course in "democracy in action." The youths prepared bills to be presented at the meet in Austin. These legislative bills will be introduced and acted upon in the same manner as regular business is conducted in the capital.

Compton is president of the local senior Hi-Y Club and vice-president of the West Texas District. Harold Hammett, Lubbock, was elected as the nominee for the governor of the state. He is the president of the West Texas district.

maintenance of good relations between the big powers.

The British minister reportedly went on to warn Molotov that Soviet bloc arms peddling in the unstable region where peace hangs on a slender thread in no way comports with the so-called "spirit of Geneva."

The British action came after Western officials spread word that the United States, Britain and France were considering early public reaffirmation of their five-year-old pledge to act against any Middle Eastern aggressor which sets out forcibly to upset the region's existing frontiers.

BENSON

has seen about such a thing has been in the newspapers.

With Eisenhower's approval Benson outlined this program to help solve the admittedly poor plight of the farmers in relation to current prices:

1. A stepped-up program of surplus disposal and expansion of exports.

2. A vigorous purchasing program to remove market gluts where ever they occur and assist farmers adjusting to market demands.

3. An enlarged program of soil conservation and incentive payments to divert crop lands into grass, trees and forage.

4. Expand our rural development program for our low income farm families.

5. A stepped-up program of research emphasizing lower costs of production, new uses for farm products, new crops and expansion of markets.

6. Actively pushing forward the Great Plains program in cooperation with the ten states involved as part of a better use of the land and a better balancing of programs.

The President's younger brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Penn State University, and a former agricultural consultant of previous Democratic administrations, sat in on the hospital conference, with Sherman Adams, the President's chief deputy, and Hester. The President's statement called it "a most satisfactory and thorough exchange of views."

need of help, particularly by those who have out cards. If these workers will push promptly to make earnest appeals to their prospects, and report them, we can finish up on schedule this week. If not, we could fall short.

Incidentally, there were some rumors going around that the United Fund was spending all its money on meals, parties, etc. The party idea is utterly silly, for raising enough money for 11 agencies is no party. As for the meals, the UF does spend, we estimate about 3 of one per cent of this total for meals (at report sessions) for those who give of their time to solicit contributions, but even these volunteers more frequently than not drop contributions into boxes to defray a good part of the cost of meals.

Walter David Deats Sr., 75, who first came to Big Spring as a boy in 1884, died Friday evening in a hospital at Fort Worth.

Mr. Deats had been living with his son, Walter David Deats Jr., in Azle since the death of his wife on Jan. 13, 1953.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. today in the Nalley Chapel, with Dr. Jordan Grooms, First Methodist pastor, officiating. Interment will be in the Trinity Memorial Park beside the grave of Mrs. Deats. Masonic graveside rites will be conducted and Masons will serve as pallbearers.

Mr. Deats was born in Danville, Pa., on March 19, 1877. His father, the late L. T. Deats, a railroad worker, moved to Big Spring in 1882, shortly after the T&P Railway reached this point. The family, including young Walter David, then seven, came here when accommodations became available in 1884.

Walter David Deats started working for the T&P in 1892 and stayed with the company until 1922 when he joined the Gulf Oil

IN BIG SPRING

Smacked To Earth

Jerry Graves, a very busy boy for Big Spring Friday night, puts the clamps on Monterey's Bryan Baxter in the above action as Randal Hamby (64) comes up to help. The Lubbock team shaded the Steers, 26-7.

Plainsmen Rip Longhorns, 26-7, In 1-A-A-A Upset

The Big Spring Steers tried matching a howitzer attack with a BB gun counter-offensive and failed miserably as Monterey of Lubbock roared to a 26-7 victory in a District 1-A-A-A football game played here Friday night.

The inspired Plainsmen, who went onto the field two-touchdown underdogs, threw one sledge hammer blow after another at the Steers and won going away.

Monterey, with Don Cathey doing yeoman service in its secondary, took a seven-point lead ten seconds before the half ended and were in complete command throughout the final two periods.

The Plainsmen gained a total of 381 yards against the Steers, 525 of it with a deadly ground game. Freshman Arlan Flake baffled the Longhorn forwards with his tricky handoffs and did perhaps the

Navy's Perfect Record Is Spoiled By Irish, 21 To 7

By JERRY LISKA
SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 29 (AP)—Navy's perfect football record was shattered 21-7 this dismal, drizzling afternoon by a gambling, crunching Notre Dame team as Paul Hornung humbled Middle George Welsh in a battle of heralded quarterbacks.

The Irish, playing before their largest home crowd in history, 59,475, rocked the nation's best defensive team for a 21-0 lead in three quarters of play and then staved off Navy's frantic effort to avoid its first defeat in six games.

Hornung smashed 1 yard to the first touchdown in the second quarter, passed 15 yards to end Gene Kapish for another TD and twice intercepted Welsh passes aimed at all-America end Ron Beagle.

High-Scoring Seagraves Machine Sinks Coahoma

SEAGRAVES, Oct. 29 (SC)—Seagraves' high-scoring football machine was too much for Coahoma in a District 4-A contest here Friday night. The Eagles won, 44-16.

Seagraves scored early when Bobby McDaniel kicked 56 yards to pay dirt.

Cornell's Big Red Bombs Columbia

IYHACA, N.Y., Oct. 29 (AP)—Sophomore Irvin (Bo) Robertson, a greased streak of lightning from Philadelphia, scored three touchdowns for Cornell University to build up a lead that Columbia's valiant little passer Claude Benham just couldn't overtake as Cornell won the Ivy League football game, 34-19.

Robertson was the Cornell stand-out although his lack of experience showed occasionally through fumbles and defensive lapses but Art Boland—a junior who can play almost anywhere did more than his share to hand the Lions from New York their fifth straight defeat.

Youth Dies After Grid Game Injury

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 29 (AP)—Harvey Cray, 17, a senior end on the South San Antonio High School football team, died early today in Eagle Pass, where he was injured in a game last night.

Cray was tackled and lay stunned on the ground for a short time. He groined his feet, walked to the bench and collapsed. He was taken to a hospital and never regained consciousness.

BS 11's Have 8,500 Years

Big Spring High School football teams have enjoyed only eight seasons in the last 25 in which they have won more games than they have lost, a check of the records have revealed.

Since 1930, when the so-called "modern era" of football was ushered in here, teams of 1931, 1932, 1934, 1935, 1936, 1940, 1953 and 1954 have managed to play better than 500 balls.

The most successful season enjoyed by a local team occurred in 1953, when the Steers stormed all the way to the state finals before losing to Port Neches.

That year's team set an all-time scoring record for the school by rolling up 345 points in 13 games.

The Steers went from 1940 to 1953 without winning or sharing a district championship. Then they shared two in a row.

Most unusual record compiled by any local team occurred in 1931, when the Steers scored 400 points to seven for ten opponents, yet failed to win the district title. Sweetwater beat them, 7-0, and proceeded to cop the crown.

Biggest score run up against the Steers during that period was in 1949, when Abilene raced to a 72-7 victory.

In 1931, the Longhorns belted Colorado City, 79-0, an all-time high score for the school.

Bulldogs Slam Hapless 'Bama Crimson Tide

By VERNON BUTLER
Athens, Ga., Oct. 29 (AP)—Quarterback Jimmy Harper came off the bench, found a bulldozing ball carrier in sophomore Henry Jukes and guided Georgia to a 35-14 football triumph over winless Alabama today.

Harper, a sad disappointment to Georgia partisans until today, took over at a sputtering offense and turned it into an ambitious attack with a big assist from the slashing Dukes.

Harper's magic helped Georgia stretch Alabama's victory drought to 12 games and gave Georgia its second Southeastern Conference victory and its fourth success in seven games.

A Homecoming crowd of about 28,000 saw 'Bama score twice for the first time this season.

Harper, a senior from Thomasville, Ga., took over from starter Dick Young and directed all five Georgia touchdowns drives. The first came on a 25-yard pass to end Laneair Roberts, the last on a 1-yard plunge by halfback John Bell in the final 5 seconds.

Harper and Dukes co-starred in a 26-yard drive which fullback Bobby Garrard capped for the second score with a 1-yard plunge.

Dukes followed dashes of 28 and 18 yards with a 2-yard push for the third Georgia score. Halfback Conrad Maniera tallied the fourth on a 4-yard end sweep.

Bar Starr's passing from a spread formation paved the way for both Alabama touchdowns. Fullback Don Kinderknecht scored the first from the 6 and Starr bucked for 1 for the second.

Wolverines Pour On Coals To Win

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 29 (AP)—Mighty Michigan poured across 20 points in the final 9 minutes to prove its perfect record and national ranking is no illusion with a magnificent 33-21 uphill victory today over Iowa's former Hawkeyes.

While a crowd of 72,096 went into near hysterics, quarterback Jim Maddox fired touchdown passes of 65 and 60 yards and Tony Brantoff swept 30 yards in the dying minutes to climax one of the greatest rallies in Big Ten football history.

The dramatic triumph, achieved before a national television audience, gave third ranked Michigan its sixth straight victory, making the Wolverines stronger than ever choices for the Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl game Jan. 2.

The Hawkeyes, who haven't beaten Michigan since 1924, played sound football for the first 50 minutes, but then collapsed in the final 9 minutes.

Gamecocks Laid Low By Terps

By CHARLES PUFFENBARGER
COLLEGE PARK, Md., Oct. 29 (AP)—First-ranked Maryland, with steady Ed Vereb's three touchdowns setting the pace, jumped to an early lead today and rolled to a 27-0 football victory over South Carolina. Vereb, 185-pound halfback from Pittsburgh, put the Terrapins ahead early by carrying for all but 10 yards of a 59-yard drive and scoring from 3 yards out. That tied the Atlantic Coast Conference scoring record of 54 points—his two later touchdowns broke the record—giving him 66 points on 11 TDs.

While Vereb and his teammates were running wild, the Maryland defense held the Gamecocks in almost complete check before a Homecoming Day crowd of 23,000.

The victory was another big step toward the Orange Bowl for the unbeaten Terps.

It was the 12th straight for the Terps, who haven't lost since Miami beat them midway in the 1934 season. South Carolina has won but two of six games this season.

For the day's work, Vereb had this to his credit in addition to the scoring:

A total 111 yards rushing on 13 carries for a 8.3 yard average; one pass for 13 yards; one interception, and two punt returns for a total of 12 yards.

The first touchdown came after 4 1/2 minutes. Then Howie Dare took a 10-yard pass from halfback Dave Nusz seconds before the first period ended to cap a 53-yard scoring drive.

Vereb scored in the third period by squirling through center for 20 yards. He raced 19 yards for his final score after 2 minutes of the final period.

Tar Heels Take Severe Lacing

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Oct. 29 (AP)—A hoard of hard-running Tennessee backs cut North Carolina's defenses to shreds today as the rapidly improving Volunteers handed the Tar Heels a 48-7 trimming, their worst football defeat in 10 years.

The Volunteers completely outclassed North Carolina to win their fourth straight after early season losses to Mississippi State and Duke. It was North Carolina's fifth loss against one victory.

The defeat was the worst Tennessee has handed the Tar Heels in their 24-game series which began in 1903.

John Major, Bobby Gordon and Al Carter led a host of backs that piled up tremendous yardage in the lopsided decision. Majors scored twice in the first period.

He scored from the 5 and then cracked over from the 15. Tennessee added two touchdowns in the second period, one in the third and two in the fourth.

Mizzou Is Winner Over CU

BOULDER, Colo., Oct. 29 (AP)—Six magnificent catches by senior end Harold Burnie keyed three first-half touchdown drives that fired Missouri to its first football victory of the season, a 20-12 triumph over Colorado today.

The disappointed Homecoming crowd of 30,000, shocked by Colorado's ineptness, applauded the 6-2 end's sticky-fingered display that broke the Tigers' 7-game losing streak.

In the first quarter Burnie grabbed an 18-yard pass from quarterback Jimmy Hunter and a 10-yarder from Halfback Sonny Stringer to highlight a 61-yard drive in 13 plays for the opening score.

Burnie's catch of another 12-yard toss from Hunter featured a 39-yard touchdown drive that was touched off when Stringer intercepted a Colorado pass. Missouri ran the count to 20-0 midway in the second quarter on a 32-yard drive following Larry Plumb's recovery of a fumble.

Colorado, taking to the air in a desperate fourth quarter, struck for two touchdowns.

Favored Troy Upset Victim

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 29 (AP)—Weather-hardened Minnesota revealed in a swirling snowstorm today to beat heavily favored Southern California 25-19 behind the sledgehammer blows of sophomore fullback Dick Borstad before a Homecoming crowd of 60,000.

Borstad slammed for two touchdowns and blocked a kick which set up one for the Gophers which had won only one game in five tries.

The Gophers grabbed a 5-0 first-quarter lead when Bob Schultz ran 15 yards around end after a blocked kick and lengthened the margin to 13-0 early in the third quarter when Borstad blasted over from the 3.

Two more touchdowns were scored in the next two minutes. Gordon Duval raced the ensuing kickoff 73 yards back for Southern Cal's first score but Gopher quarterback Don Swanson responded two plays later by running 65 yards from scrimmage for a 19-6 Minnesota advantage.

Later in the quarter Ernie Merk carried a Gopher punt 93 yards for USC's second touchdown but this was nullified by Borstad's clincher from the 4 early in the fourth period.

Gobblers Ganged By Colonials

BLACKSBURG, Va., Oct. 29 (AP)—A furious George Washington team that couldn't muster a scoring punch in the first half stormed back with a touchdown in each of the final two periods here today to spoil Virginia Tech's Homecoming with a 13-7 Southern Conference football triumph over the Gobblers.

Tech held a 7-0 halftime advantage after halfback Dickie Beard climaxed a 69-yard drive with a 25-yard touchdown dash in the final minutes of the second period.

But the Gobblers were dazzled by George Washington's attack in the second half, beginning with the kickoff.

Colonial halfback Mike Sommer took the kickoff on the GW 9 and scampered to the 30. From there the Colonials began the drive that resulted in their first score as Sommer dashed over from the 23.

The second GW touchdown came early in the fourth period, climaxing a drive that began on the Tech 49. Halfback Len Ciemiennie capped the march by going over from 3 yards out for the touchdown.

Hoosiers Ramble Past Cats, 21-14

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 29 (AP)—Milt Campbell, Indiana University's former national decathlon champion, took turns giving a football to Ohio University and then taking it away today as his Big 10 team defeated the Mid-American Conference eleven, 21-14.

The 209-pound halfback intercepted three of the Ohio Bobcats' passes, lost the ball twice on fumbles, and scored two touchdowns. His 86-yard run with one of the interceptions set up the other I.U. touchdown by fullback John Bartkiewicz.

Aggies Show First Clink In Armor At Fayetteville

The Southwest Conference football race narrowed Saturday as Texas A&M showed the first clink in its armor with a 7-7 tie against twice beaten Arkansas.

Texas toppled Southern Methodist 19-15 to cut down the last undefeated, untied team left in the conference race.

Texas Christian whipped Baylor 28-6 and went into a tie with Texas for second place, just a half-game back of the Aggies. Southern Methodist stayed in the race with a 1-1 record.

UCLA Lashes Cal Bears To Help Bowl Bid, 47-0

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29 (AP)—The UCLA Bruins moved another stride toward the Rose Bowl today, using their reserves in the main to smash California, 47-0 in a Pacific Coast Conference game.

The whitewash was the worst defeat suffered by California since Coach Lynn O. Waldorf took charge at Berkeley in 1947, and was even more embarrassing to the Bears since the afternoon in 1940 when Tommy Harmon led Michigan to a 41-0 licking.

Registering their fourth conference triumph against no defeats, UCLA unloaded three touchdowns in a big second quarter to clinch the game.

Halfback Ronnie Knox, whose transfer from California after his freshman year stirred up an uproar, took the field for the first time against his "alma mater" and turned in a fine performance. He scored two touchdowns and was the passing star of the game.

Both teams threatened several times but it was less than three minutes before the game ended that East Texas scored their final score.

Brodie Campbell, Lion guard, recovered a fumble on the Sam Houston 32 to start the scoring drive. Eight plays later fullback Jerry Lytle bulled his way over from the one.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 29 (AP)—Halfback Willie Greenlaw, grinding out yardage wit his relentless regularity, paced Nebraska's Cornhuskers to a 19-14 Big 7 football victory before 31,000 fans at Memorial Stadium today.

Playing it close to the ground, Nebraska smothered the Kansasans with a power attack to rack up its third straight loop victory.

Leading, 12-7, at the half, Nebraska boosted its margin to 19-7 in the third quarter. But Kansas rallied midway in the final period and trimmed the lead to 19-14 when fullback Joe Held capped a Jayhawk drive with an 11-yard scoring run.

Clenden Thomas, a 185-pound sophomore, scored two of the six Sooner touchdowns as Coach Bud Wilkinson's second unit scored three touchdowns to divide offensive honors with the starting crew.

McNeese State Is Winner, 17 to 2

LAKE CHARLES, La., Oct. 29 (AP)—Halfbacks Jesse Casteto and Ray Simmons and a hard-charging line powered McNeese State to a 17-2 football victory over Lamar Tech of Beaumont, Tex., today.

Casteto dashed 14 yards for the first McNeese touchdown in the opening quarter. Simmons scampered 60 yards for the second tally in the third period.

James Moss provided the three points in the final period when he booted a field goal from the 15-yard line.

Lamesa Reserves Win Over Dogies, 13-0

LAMESA, Oct. 29, (SC) — Lamesa's reserves belted the Big Spring High School B team here Saturday night, 13-0.

The Shortorns got fired up late in the game but time ran out on them. Big Spring charged within Lamesa's ten yard line on two occasions but fumbled the ball once and lost it on downs the other time.

Early in the first quarter, Sam Jones, an A team ineligible, ran 12 yards for Lamesa's first score and then added the point on a run.

Late in the fourth, Don Whiting made Lamesa's second TD on a four yard jaunt up the middle. Jimmy Campbell ran 34 yards deep in Lamesa territory on one occasion but that drive was thrown back.

Bears Belted By TCU, 28-6

WACO, Oct. 29 (AP)—Flashy All America candidate James Swink led Texas Christian to an impressive 28-6 victory over Baylor's discipline-riddled Bears today, virtually rolling the Bruins out of the Southwest Conference race.

Apparently Baylor's loss of three key linemen last week for training rule infractions had little to do with the beating they took from the bruising Frogs before 34,000 at Baylor Stadium. Texas Christian itself started the game with two first line guards out of the lineup.

It was just too much Swink and his football pals for Baylor. Swink set an all-time scoring record for one season for TCU when his fourth period 9-yard gallop for a touchdown brought his total for the season to 81 points—better than Cy Leland's 79 in 1929.

Del Shofner ran 58 yards for Baylor's lone touchdown early in the first period. Center Hugh Pitts blocked the extra point try. The Horned Frogs rolled 93 yards for their first score in the second period, with quarterback Charles Curtis going through on a fake handoff from the five.

Harold Pollard made good on the first of four point conversions. Ray Tylor ran 52 for TCU's second touchdown in the third. Curtis plunged for the Frog's third score and Swink's long run brought the fourth touchdown for TCU.

Doyle Traylor returned to regular service for the Bears and threw many long, good passes, but not when they counted most. Traylor, out except for a brief fling against A&M last week, came into the game in the second quarter and was in and out until the end.

Still limping slightly from a broken leg, the Baylor quarterback tried 13 and completed 6 passes for 103 yards, with two intercepted. Swink, second until today's game nationally in total offense, gained a net of 158 yards against Baylor, A&M was carrying 14 times for an average of 11.3. But his performance was challenged by Shofner of Baylor, who carried six times for a total 84—a big 14 yards average per try. Tylor of TCU was another running star with 74 yards on 8 tries for an average of 9.3.

Texas Christian's towering 212 pound center Hugh Pitts did some ball-carrying himself. He intercepted a Traylor pass in the fourth period on the Baylor 45. He lumbered downfield 34 yards to the Baylor 21 and Curtis' sneak four plays later brought TCU's third touchdown.

Aggies Preserve Win

MISSOULA, Mont., Oct. 29 (AP)—A last-minute fumble by Montana halfback Dale Shue 5 yards from the Colorado A&M goal helped the Aggies preserve a 12-7 Skyline Football victory today. A&M was favored by four touchdowns.

The third-place Washington Redskins, whose three victories in five games have resulted largely from Eddie LeBaron's quarterbacking wizardry, play the Giants in New York. The other game, strictly for also-rans, is a Detroit-San Francisco rematch in the California city.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 29 (AP)—Miami, striking with the force of a hurricane, struck for two quick touchdowns in the first quarter and scored again in the closing seconds to whip Pitt 21-7 today in the rain and mud at Pitt Stadium.

The victory ended a two-game losing streak for the Hurricanes and snapped a two-game winning streak for Pitt, who only last week upset previously unbeaten Duke.

A homecoming crowd of 40,117 saw Miami score twice in less than six minutes of the first period and again with 33 seconds remaining.

John Yarnon scooted 31 yards for the first touchdown and quarterback Sam Searnechia connected on a 41-yard pass play to Jack Loech for the other.

Searnechia scampered 3 yards for the final score to climax a 65-yard drive in the last quarter. He also passed to Loech for one conversion.

Pitt scored with only 26 seconds remaining in the second quarter on a 1-yard plunge by fullback Tom Jenkins.

Only Eight 4A, 3A Clubs Still Unbeaten, Untied

By The Associated Press
The schoolboy football campaign rolls into November for the stretch run with eight undefeated, untied teams in the upper brackets and with more than half the districts showing undisputed leaders.

None of the teams with perfect records fell out last week as Abilene, Tyler and Baytown came through in Class AAAA. The other two undefeated, untied outfits, are Corpus Christi Miller and Wichita Falls, had open dates.

Abilene lashed Amarillo 35-13 to continue as the unbeaten leader of District 1. Tyler whipped Waco 35-7 in a District 4 game. Baytown whammed Pasadena 28-14 to stay out in front in District 8.

The only team to fall out of the unbeaten class in this division last week was El Paso Austin, whipped 14-7 by Yuleta.

Class AAA has only three undefeated, untied teams — Garland, Grand Prairie and Alice. Unbeaten was no change in this division last week except that Bryan fell out of the unbeaten list when slammed 33-0 by Temple.

District leaders are Abilene in 1, El Paso Bowie in 2, Dallas Sunset in 4, Houston Austin in 7 and Baytown in 8 in Class AAAA; and Snyder in District 1, Palestine District 3, and San Antonio Edison in District 7 of class AAA.

In District 3 of AAAA Fort Worth Arlington and Carter-Riverside clash this week to break a tie for the top. In AAA San Benito will be at Alice in a game that should virtually decide the District 8 title.

Snyder Tigers Take Firm Hold On Lead In 1-AAA

SNYDER, Oct. 29 (SC) — Snyder took a strangle hold on first place in District 1-AAA football standings by betting a run-happy Sweetwater team here Friday night, 26-13.

As 6,500 people looked on, Snyder fell behind in the first half when the visiting Mustangs scored a touchdown and added an extra point in the first quarter.

Snyder assumed the lead with a six-pointer in the third, however, and added two TD's in the fourth. A 23-yard run by Bobby Hartgraves gave Sweetwater its early lead. Harold Hobbs booted the PAT.

A one-yard plunge by Jack Spikes a short time later returned Snyder to contention. A pass to Milton Hamm set up the tally.

The Tigers drove to Sweetwater's one in the second but couldn't go over.

Joe Baxter boomed-over from the three in the third to give Snyder a lead it never lost. Baxter had returned a Mustang punt from his own 48 to Sweetwater's 13 shortly before he sneaked across.

Early in the fourth, Spikes barreled into the end zones on a sensational 83-yard run to add to Snyder's cushion. Joe Reeves kicked the point.

Bisons Shock Denver City By Winning 14-0 Verdict

STANTON, Oct. 29 (SC) — Kenneth Dismuke's Stanton Buffaloes upset the Denver City Mustangs, 14-0, in a District 4-A game played here Friday night.

The outcome was especially disturbing to the Ponies, in that the game had been billed at Homecoming for Denver City Exes and 1,400 were present to watch the proceedings.

Corky Blocker intercepted a Denver City pass to set up Stanton's first score in the second, returning the ball to Denver City's 30. Shortly thereafter, Blocker flipped a pass to Jimmy Butcher and Butcher went 20 yards to score. Corky proceeded to boot the point and Stanton led, 7-0.

In the third, Blocker rammed over from the three for the clinching TD and again booted the point.

VERNON, Oct. 29 (SC) — Vernon registered its second District 1-AAA football win by humbling down-trodden Palo Duro of Amarillo here Friday night, 18-6.

Palo Duro has now won one time, compared to six losses. With had too much to overcome.

G. S. Ingram, Don Shortes and Alvin Cates looked to advantage on defense for Ackerly.

The Eagles' record now shows five wins and three losses for the season. In conference play, Cliff Prather's boys have won once while losing three times.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

District 2-AAAA, which comes into being next year, may have two new football coaches by then. One is Midland, where Tugboat Jones had intimated to friends he won't return. Jones may stay on as athletic director but not coach, if his present plans are not changed. Carl Coleman, the local mentor, was offered practice games by Kermit, Andrews and Monahans next fall but wants to book AAAA opponents where possible, or at least schools which were AAA this year.

He reasons local fans will still regard those schools as AA, even though all will be promoted next year. Andrews' recent luck on the gridiron indicates Coach Glenn Frazier again pointed to Big Spring as the Mustangs' "big opponent" and consequently built up his club too early.

His job may be in jeopardy, as a result. This would be vigorously denied by the man and his employers but one coach in District 1-AAAA draws an estimated $12,000 per annum, which is more than most college coaches make. If Jerry Graves, the Steer center, isn't all-state calibre, then there ain't no such animal. Some one recently remarked to Coach Coleman that Jerry was rugged but a trifle slow, to which Coleman replied: "Yeah! I wish I had 11 slow ones like him. I'd never worry then."

Gary Lawhorn, the Levelland end, recently was promoted to the first team by the Baylor University freshman football coach. Deacon Dan Towler, the Los Angeles Rams' back, will probably retire after this year to devote full time to preaching. Tommy McAdams and Brick Johnson, both former Steers, will be on opposing sides of the line when the Texas Tech freshmen play San Angelo College next month. McAdams is a defensive halfback for Angelo. Johnson is alternating at fullback and halfback for Tech.

Harv Knox once played under Schmidt

Harvey Knox, the controversial California character whose stepson, Ronnie, is a UCLA back, once played football in Arkansas under Francis Schmidt, the former TCU mentor. Knox was booted off Schmidt's squad at Ouchita College for questioning Schmidt's strategy. Though Joe Baunfan hit 26 fewer home runs in the Longhorn League the past season than in 1954, only one player in the minor leagues clubbed more round trippers than he did last year. Keith Little led the nation with 47.

Bauman, who was with Edna well, wound up with 46. That stellar Odessa Junior College golf team is being coached by a Big Spring product, Glenn Smith. Months away, the Milwaukee Braves already have an advanced ticket sale of 350,000. Dickie Milam, Big Spring's great guard of the 1954 club who rated the second All-State team, has been moved to center on the Texas A&M freshman team. "We want a boy there who doesn't mind getting his nose bloody, and it doesn't bother Milam at all." is the way one Aggie coach put it. Levelland, which still is in the running

Loop Outlasts Eagles, 29-26

LOOP, Oct. 29 (SC) — Favored Loop prevailed over Ackerly in an ball game here Friday night, 29-26.

The game was close all the way but the Longhorns saluted away the verdict with two touchdowns in the fourth period.

The Eagles drove to Loop's 15-yard line late in the fourth but lost the ball on downs.

Ackerly scored first when Dub Grigg raced 40 yards to the pay window. Jerry Hall booted the ball for two points following the TD.

Midway in the first, Walters scored for Loop and kicked the points to tie the tally at 8-8.

Grigg broke loose for 50 yards and another Ackerly score shortly before the period ended.

In the second, Walters scored again for Loop and when Hallbrook passed to Falkenberg for the point, Loop went ahead, 15-14.

Vernon Sinks Dons, 18-6

VERNON, Oct. 29 (SC) — Vernon registered its second District 1-AAA football win by humbling down-trodden Palo Duro of Amarillo here Friday night, 18-6.

Palo Duro has now won one time, compared to six losses. With had too much to overcome.

G. S. Ingram, Don Shortes and Alvin Cates looked to advantage on defense for Ackerly.

The Eagles' record now shows five wins and three losses for the season. In conference play, Cliff Prather's boys have won once while losing three times.

Jerry Cannon mowed across the double stripes for Palo Duro in the fourth, scoring from the two.

FEW LUBBOCK DUCATS SOLD

Practically an all-Big Spring crowd saw the football game here Friday night between the resident Steers and Monterey of Lubbock.

Of the 3,614 present, only 198 tickets were sold in Lubbock. Of that group, 33 were adult reserve seats and 133 student seats.

The paid gate was $3,184.55. The crowd was the smallest to see the Steers at home this season.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 29 (AP)—Dick Martin, a solid, hard-working fullback of the type that makes Princeton's single-wing attack effective, held the faltering Tigers together long enough to gain a 14-7 decision over Brown today.

It was Princeton's fourth straight Ivy League victory, and although the Tigers dominated the game almost from start to finish it didn't add much to their lustre.

Levelland gained 138 yards rushing to 156 for Lamesa.

Arkansas Hogs Score Late To Tie Texas A&M, 7-7

Porkers Stay Goal Threats

By ADREN COOPER
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 29 (AP)—The Arkansas Razorbacks, out-gunned for three quarters, came back with a 79-yard drive in the last five minutes to tie the favored Texas A&M Aggies 7-7 before a homecoming crowd of 27,000 here today.

Texas A&M, which had won five straight before this game, scored on a 5-yard march just after the half. They penetrated inside the Arkansas 20 on four other occasions. But the Aggies couldn't get the extra touchdown they needed to keep their Southwest Conference record clean. A&M had won two conference games against no defeats.

Arkansas' big play was a pass from quarterback George Walker to Preston Carpenter which covered 28 yards and set up the tying touchdown on the Aggie four. The pass traveled about 10 yards in the air and Carpenter made 18 more with a fine bit of broken-field running. It took the Porkers four plays to cross the goal with Walker sneaking the last few inches.

The Aggies, with a superior line, carried the second half kickoff back 59 yards for their touchdown. Halfbacks Loyd Taylor and John Crow slashed the Arkansas middle consistently for short yardage.

Quarterback Jimmy Wright shot a quick pass to Taylor for the touchdown. Taylor was all alone on the right side of the end zone as he took the toss. Only four minutes were left after Arkansas tied up the game, but the Porkers almost produced another touchdown. They quickly stopped the Aggies and then drove from their 21 to the A&M 28. Sub Glen Wood tried a field goal from that point, but the game ended before the kick, which was far short.

The statistics were almost as even as the score. Arkansas had a total of 295 yards—including 217 by rushing—compared to 272 for the Aggies. Each team completed five of 11 passes. Arkansas muffed two other scoring opportunities. The Porkers failed to score by inches in the second quarter and lost the ball on a fumble in the third quarter on the A&M 17.

It was the first time the Aggies had been halted since they lost their opener to mighty UCLA. Arkansas had been beaten by Texas Christian and Baylor—the two conference teams that lost to the Aggies—and carried a 3-3 season record into the game. The Aggies used a system that had worked for their five previous triumphs—alert, quick line play. The forwards had an easy time opening holes for Taylor, Crow, Jack Pardee and Bill Dieftee.

Although the statistics showed the Razorbacks with a slight edge, their attack was spotty until the last quarter and most of their yardage was gained at the Arkansas end of the field.

Vanderbilt Repels Cavaliers, 34-7
NASHVILLE, Oct. 29 (AP)—Vanderbilt knifed through Virginia's defenses for four long scoring thrusts topped by Halfback Jack Hudson's 94-yard gallop, as the Commodores carved out a 34-7 football victory today.

Halfback Charlie Horton supplied a pair of the long spectaculars, taking a pass from quarterback Don Orr and scampering 43 yards for a TD in the first quarter, and then pulling off a 74-yard jaunt in the second period. The fifth Vandy TD came on a 1-yard plunge—but only after three rapid-fire first down sweeps carried the ball from midfield.

Hudson, from Broken Bow, Okla., took his ride in the second period as Vandy built up a 27-7 halftime lead. Phil King, a sophomore, got in the act with a 40-yard touchdown run. The victory was the first in six 1955 starts for the Wildcats and the third loss against two wins and a tie for the Spiders from Richmond.

The pinpoint passing of quarterback Johnny Ferruolo Jr. from Providence, R. I., and the seat running of Dave Parr, 175-pound sophomore from Baltimore, were the margin of victory.

Bob Hardy Paces Kentucky To Victory Over Rice
LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 29 (AP)—Quarterback Bob Hardy twisted through the Rice line for a dramatic 12-yard touchdown run to bring Kentucky off the floor and to a 20-16 football victory today. Hardy's daring kept alive a 64-yard scoring drive when on fourth down and 10 to go on the Rice 42 he fired an 18-yard strike to end Bradley Mills. Hardy put over the clincher with three minutes and 40 seconds left and Kentucky then staved off a desperate last minute passing attack by Rice. Fortunes changed swiftly in the

Tabbies Win The Big One, Beating Cougars, 25-16

GARDEN CITY, Oct. 29 (SC)—The home town Bearcats took a big step toward copping the district 7-B (six-man) grid title here Friday night, when they handed Christoval its first defeat of the year, 25-16.

Garden City scored in every period in notching its second district win, while the visiting Cougars could only muster scoring drives in the first and third quarters. Christoval opened the scoring in the first period on a 40-yard scamper up the middle by Bill Wilkinson after the Bearcats had been forced to punt. Sam Solomon kicked the points after touchdown, and the Cougars had a brief 8-0 lead.

But the Garden City six came back on the next series of downs to march 55 yards to the goal. Ed Engel swept his own left end for the score. The PAT attempt was no good, and Christoval's lead, though cut to 8-6, was still intact. The Bearcats' second counter drive began after Christoval was forced to kick. Jim Smith carried the ball across the goal from the two to cap the march which began on the Garden City 30. Big play of the drive was an Engel to Smith lateral maneuver, carrying from the GC 30 to the Christoval eight.

The point after was no good, and the Bearcats led 12-8 at the half. The visiting Cougars took the second half kickoff and never relinquished control of the ball until they crossed the goal. The march started on the Cougar 15, and riding the passes of Hutton Calhoun

Cadets Repel Colgate, 27-7
WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 29 (AP)—Don Hollender made critics of his passing eat their words today by throwing three touchdown forwards and scoring once in Army's 27-7 ramble over Colgate.

The rangy 6-2 Army quarterback from Webster, N. Y., who was moved from end to backfield by Coach Red Blaik for the '55 season, finally emerged from his half-season of passing futility. The fast-charging Army line gave him plenty of time to get set for his left-handed pegs. Just to emphasize his graduation, Hollender pitched one touchdown pass 30 yards to Ralph Chesnauskas, a former tackle who was converted into an end during the week. Hollender threw to Art Johnson for 42 and Mike Ziegler for 8 yards in his other scoring efforts. He had raced 12 yards around his left end on a "keep" play for the first Army touchdown.

In five previous games, the much-criticized Hollender had connected with only 6 of 31 passes for 90 yards and had 4 losses intercepted.

Dartmouth Loses To Yale, 20 To 0
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 29 (AP)—Rebounding Yale, paced by its touchdown twins, Dennis 'The Big Menace' McGill and Al Ward, tallied three times in the second half to blank Dartmouth 20-0 today for its fourth straight Ivy League triumph. The Ellis managed to handcuff Bill Begie, the nation's leading passer, at critical moments in turning in a convincing victory. 34th over the Indians in a 39-game series that goes back to 1884. Dartmouth has won 11 and four have ended in ties.

to Ted Kirby and the running of Wilkerson and Bill Cochran, the Christoval six drove to the five from where Wilkerson went over. Solomon kicked the PAT, to bring the count to 16-12. Late in the third period, Engel on a 40-yard run, placed the ball on the eight, and Royce Pruitt added the necessary eight to put Garden City in the lead for good. McDowell passed to Mow to bring the count to 19-16. The Bearcats added their final counter on a two-yard run by Smith in the last period. Coach Targe Lindsey singled out Engel, Pruitt, Smith, and Jim Davey for their outstanding work, and put the finger on Christoval's Wilkerson and Cochran as the grid-ders giving them the most trouble.

Bovines Need Two 1956 Grid Dates

Two dates are needed to fill the 1956 football schedule of the Big Spring Steers, who are being promoted into AAAA ball.

The Longhorns, faced with the problem of booking six non-conference games, have openings on Sept. 21 and Oct. 12. It appears Thanksgiving Day will be left permanently open on Big Spring's schedule, since most other teams will be imbrolved in conference games on that day. Coach Carl Coleman has already booked five home games for the club, which means the Steers could book the other two engagements on the road. Though Snyder, Lamesa and Sweetwater will no longer be in Big Spring's district (2-AAAA), the Steers will meet those teams in non-conference tilts. All play here. New opponents on the Longhorns' schedule are Abilene, San Angelo, Midland and Odessa and all are conference opponents.

Marquette Is Routed, 39-0
MILWAUKEE, Oct. 29 (AP)—Freddy Wyant, West Virginia's little quarterback, sparked the Mountaineers to their sixth straight victory of the 1955 football season today with a 39-0 rout of Marquette University.

The stumbling Warriors were powerless against the onslaught by the Mountaineers, ranked seventh nationally in the weekly AP poll. In the opening minutes, Wyant scored the first touchdown on a 1-yard sneak. He racked up his second of the game early in the third period on a 51-yard dash around right tackle.

Other West Virginia touchdowns were registered by: Bob Moss on a brilliant 84-yard scamper; Jack Rabbits, running for 33, Joe Papetli for 54, and Roger Chaney for 24. Sam Huff placekicked the three conversions for Wyant's and Moss' touchdowns. The only serious threat offered by the Warriors came in the second period. Marquette brought the ball from its own 47 down to the West Virginia 14 but quarterback Jere Carmody fumbled and Gene Lathy recovered for the Mountaineers.

Prince John Is Winner Of Rich Stakes Event

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 29 (AP)—Prince John, a 24-1 outsider owned by a New York clothing merchant, staved off the closing rush of Career Boy today to capture the $262,270 Garden State stakes—world's richest horse race—by a nose.

A record Garden State park crowd of 44,737 roared at the photo finish, and there were many sad customers as Needles, the 8-5 favorite, finished in third place after it appeared he might win during a furious charge down the home stretch. Needles, second choice at 9-2, was a length behind Career Boy while Happy New Year came home fourth.

Prince John is a chestnut son of Princequillo-Not Afraid, and is owned by the Elmendorf Farm of Max Gluck, who entered racing only five years ago. The triumph was worth $17,915.50 to Gluck. This third Garden State stake in which the 2-year-old championship is supposed to be fairly well established, was the first stakes victory for Prince John.

Mrs. Anson Bigelow's Nail, who won the $125,125 Belmont Futurity Oct. 8, carved a scorching pace before quitting at the head of the stretch in the mile and one sixteenth classic contested by a dozen juvenile stars.

Jockey Angel Valenzuela, a native of McNary, Tex., but raised in Mexico, rated Prince John no worse than fourth in the early going, then set dead aim on the lead an eighth of a mile from home. Career Boy, owned by C. V. Whitney, and Needles, from the Deah Stable, came from far back, went wide to get running room in the stretch, but couldn't quite catch Prince John.

The winner stepped the route in 1:42 3-5, on a fast track. The time was only three-fifths of a second off the track record set in 1950 by Friendly Frank, a 4-year-old under only 109 pounds. All the starters today carried 122. Prince John paid $50.00, $18.80 and $8.20. Career Boy, ridden by Eric Guerin, returned $5.60 and $3.40. Needles, piloted by John Choquette, was $2.80 to show.

W&M Wins First Football Verdict

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Oct. 29 (AP)—William and Mary's hungry Indians, beaten in five previous starts, kicked up their heels today and downed Virginia Military Institute's even hungrier Keydets for a 20-13 Homecoming victory.

In a Southern Conference football game witnessed by 10,000, W&M scored all its touchdowns on long drives, the winning 81-yard march coming in the early moments of the final period when halfback Charlie Sidwell rammed into the end zone from the 1.

It wasn't until late in the third period that the Indians perked up, after trailing 13-6 at the half. A 98-yard move brought the tying TD with quarterback Tom Secules sneaking across from the 1. It was a 66-yard pass-run involving Secules and halfback Junior Duff that gave the scoring march its kick.

Youngblood's Boot Gives Texas Win Over Ponies

DALLAS, Oct. 29 (AP)— Texas rode with its Walt Fondren and Joe Clements and a roughhouse line to a 19-18 victory over Southern Methodist today to knock the Methodist out of a first place tie in the Southwest Conference football race.

In one of the wildest offensive games this storied series has known, the Longhorns barely edged through on the toe of Joe Youngblood and an iron-bound defense that stymied every wild charge of an SMU team that camped in Texas territory the entire last period, twice getting close enough to try field goals.

But nothing would work for the Methodists when they drove inside the Texas 10 as the Longhorns fought like a bunch of wildcats.

Fondren, the versatile sophomore, passed for one touchdown, caught a pass for another, hammered the SMU line, kicked beautifully and all in all was the big man in Texas' supreme effort that kept it in the conference race.

Volkert Leads Way Sluggish Devils Lose To Wreck

ATLANTA, Oct. 29 (AP)—The flying legs of George Volkert led Georgia Tech to two quick touchdowns against sluggish Duke today and the bowl-hopeful Engineers took it from there to whip the Blue Devils 27-0.

Volkert, a 184-pound halfback from Nashville, Tenn., set up Tech's first score with an 18-yard end sweep. He scored the second himself on a wide 22-yard run. Tech's first TD came after Ormond Anderson recovered a fumble by Duke's Dale Boyd at the Duke 31. Dick Mattison finally scored from the 2. Volkert's touchdown sprint and Wade Mitchell's two conversions made it 14-0 with only 6 minutes gone in the first quarter. Johnny Menger scored Tech's third touchdown in the fourth period, racing 49 yards after intercepting a pass thrown by Bob Murray.

Little Jimmy Thompson got the final Tech touchdown on a 1-yard sweep that climaxed a 54-yard march. Without injured quarterback Sonny Jurgensen, Duke could muster no serious threat and never came closer than Tech's 28. Murray and Boyd, a converted halfback, filled in for the Blue Devils, but they didn't have the experience or know-how to get Duke's split-T machine rolling.

Duke's line consistently was out-charged and showed nothing defensively until late in the first quarter when it managed to repel a Tech thrust at the 25. It was Duke's second straight defeat after four victories. Tech, hoping for a bid to the Sugar or Cotton Bowl, now has six victories against one loss.

Nittany Lions Win Over Pennsylvania
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29 (AP)—If there is any solace in defeat, winless Pennsylvania earned it on Franklin Field today as the week-end week-out outmanned Quakers gave up two quick first-period touchdowns to Penn State and then fought the high-favored Nittany Lions to a standstill for three quarters, losing 20-0.

Coach Steve Sebo's Penn club dropped its 15th straight game—the longest major college losing streak in the nation—but its tremendous defense against the running of Lenny Moore, slippery Bill King and powerful Bill Straub, was something Franklin Field visitors haven't seen since happier days of Penn football some five or six years ago.

State struck swiftly early in the first period for a pair of touchdowns and made the 28,206 fans sit back with that "The Slaughter is On" look in their faces.

Hurricane Rapped By State, 33-7
GREENVILLE, S. C. Oct. 29 (AP)—North Carolina State used its strong running attack to score three rapid fire touchdowns in the first half and then went on to defeat Furman's winless Hurricanes 33-7 today.

For the Wolfpack, it was the second straight victory against three losses and a tie. For Furman—dominated by freshmen and sophomores—it was the sixth straight defeat.

There were many great moments in this game but the last big one was when Ed Hawkins, Texas back, batted down a pass in the end zone that was labeled touchdown. That was Southern Methodist's last gasp. Only a minute remained and Texas got the ball on the next play and held it until time ran out.

Roach had a great day, passing for 163 yards, kicking for an average of 38 and doing some excellent running although his gains along this line were wiped out by losses on pass attempts.

'Lucky Folder' Winner

Mrs. William Knipe accepts a check from Jerry Worthy, Westex Oil Company, to cover the expenses for the family at the Western Hills Hotel in Ft. Worth. Mrs. Knipe was the winner of the "lucky folder" drawing which was sponsored here by the Westex Oil Company during Oil Progress Week. M-Sgt. Knipe and his daughters, Charlotte and Barbara, look on as they load the bags in the car. Gene Turner is the service station operator who gave the "lucky folder" to Mrs. Knipe. In presenting the check, Worthy represented the local oil distributors and retailers participating in the drawing. The expenses-paid weekend included a trip to the Cotton Bowl to watch the Texas-SMU football game.

Spraberry Trend area in the south-east part of the county.

Hill and Meeker will stake the No. 1 W. R. Reed on the north edge of the Iatan-North Howard field about 16 miles east of Big Spring. Operator will try for production at 3,200 feet.

Calls Upon North To Demonstrate Desegregation

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP)—North-erners should eliminate their own race prejudice before castigating the South for segregation, a Roman Catholic priest said yesterday.

The Rev. John LaFarge, associate editor of the Roman Catholic weekly America, told the Interracial Council of Fordham University that the practices of a Catholic fraternal organization, the Knights of Columbus, were an example of Northern prejudice.

"There are hardly any councils of the Knights of Columbus which admit Negroes," he said. Of those that do, he added, one of the first was in San Antonio, Tex.

Third Of Texas Oil From Basin

District No. 8 of the Texas Railroad Commission—the territory which embraces most of the Permian Basin—accounts for one-third of the Texas oil production.

Latest daily allowable figures released by the commission show that the district has a total average calendar allowable of 1,023,425 barrels. The state's allowable is 3,161,682. The district thus has more production per day than the next three largest districts combined.

Of the 150,762 oil wells as of Oct. 15, 1955, the Permian Basin had 38,260 of them.

More Rigs Active Throughout Nation

DALLAS—A total of 2,998 rigs were active in oilfields of the United States and Canada for the week of Oct. 24, 1955. This report came from the Hughes Tool Company and was made to the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors.

This figure compares with 2,979 reported a week ago, 2,938 a month ago, and 2,556 in the comparable week of 1954. The West Texas and New Mexico area reported 572 rigs Oct. 17 and decreased to 563 Oct. 24.

Crane, Stonewall And Pecos Listed For New Ventures

Says Labor Heads Trying To Seize Political Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Goldwater (R-Ariz.) of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee says some labor union leaders are trying to deprive millions of workers of "the right to make their own political decisions."

Goldwater said last night in a statement that "the seizure by such labor leaders of the total power to make political decisions is one of the most grave problems facing the nation."

The Arizona senator, whose committee recently circulated a report critical of union political activity, said it's apparent many powerful union leaders have pre-eminently supported Democrats.

"We Republicans would be blind if we didn't see that," he said.

2-Day Income Tax School Is Planned

A total of 2,699 companies have been invited to send representatives to two-day income tax schools to be held throughout the state between Nov. 14 and 17, Ben Hawkins, director of the local Internal Revenue office, reported this week.

Midland was the site of the school in this area last year, with 32 companies sending representatives.

All companies with more than 50 employees have been sent invitations to attend, but Hawkins said that if any firms in this area falling in the listed category would like to participate, they should contact him.

The date, time, and place of the school will be arranged to furnish the best accommodations to the largest number of companies, he added. The purpose of the schools will be to train key personnel who can then help the other employees with their tax problems.

Crude Production Gains During Week

TULSA (AP)—Helped by a big Oklahoma gain, daily average domestic production crude oil rose 38,850 barrels to 6,776,575 barrels during the week ended Oct. 22, the Oil and Gas Journal's survey showed today.

Oklahoma's increase was 25,500 barrels to 559,300 barrels.

The week's output boosted the Journal's estimate of 1955 production to 1,987,036,825 barrels compared to 1,872,470,093 a year ago.

Texas production was unchanged to 2,811,600 barrels. Louisiana gained 600 to 755,400. Colorado lost 1,900 to 150,200. Arkansas slipped 900 to 73,000. New Mexico was off 200 to 228,200.

Found Out About Bond

HOUSTON (AP)—Henry Clay Bates inquired about a $1,000 bond he posted in Federal Court last May and ended up in jail yesterday.

The seaman asked U.S. Comm. Billy Costa about the matter and was jailed in lieu of a $3,000 cash bond. Bates, 48, learned that the original bond was forfeited for failure to appear on a charge of beating a customs officer.

Proven Crude Reserves In U. S. Keep Climbing

TULSA, Oct. 29 (AP)—Everytime it's suggested that American oil reserves are being depleted, industry scientists offer developments that boost production and crude oil resources.

New drilling methods, exploration procedures and equipment increase United States and world crude reserves yearly.

The American Petroleum Institute says the United States' proven reserves jumped from nearly three billion barrels in 1900 to 29,560,746,900 barrels in 1954. The 11th consecutive year a high was established.

A survey by the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America places the number of new oil and gas fields last year at 1,447. The report said the discoveries increased each previous year.

Almost daily new methods and machinery appear to take more oil from existing fields.

Carter Oil Co. is the latest to disclose a new tool. It is a revolutionary drill the Tulsa laboratory says may be the most important development since the rotary drill.

The drill has twin nozzles that slams small steel balls into the formation. The pellets, which are used repeatedly and which can be replaced without withdrawing the drill pipe from the hole, are shot

Well Finaled In Mitchell's Westbrook Pool

Mitchell County gained a new location in the Sharon Ridge and a completion in the Westbrook pool at the end of the week.

H. C. Schiensi of Corpus Christi staked No. 1-B-B Mills about eight miles northwest of Colorado City. The site is in the Sharon Ridge 1700 field and scheduled for 1,700 feet with rotary tools.

Drillsite is 330 from the south and west lines, north half of Lot 8, J. P. Smith survey of the C. A. O'Keefe subdivision.

Boles and Grimes No. 4 Anna D. Roe Keith is a Westbrook field completion about six miles north of Westbrook. The project has a daily pumping potential of 64.89 barrels of oil. The flow has 32 per cent water and the gravity of the oil is 27 degrees.

The gas oil ratio is nil. The elevation is 2,138 feet and the total depth is 2,058 feet. The 5 1/2-inch casing goes to 2,999 feet and the top of the pay zone is pegged at 3,000 feet.

This project is 990 from north and east lines, southeast quarter, section 1-26-H&TC survey. It is on a 125.7 acre lease.

Southworth No. 1 F. J. Winter will try the Canyon Sand, at an unreported depth, about 12 miles southwest of Knox City in Stonewall County. Drillsite is 3,840 from north and 2,640 from west lines, Manuelia Cordova survey. Abstract 63.

Texas Pacific Coal and Oil No. 1 R. B. Adams is drilling in lime and shale at 9,262 feet. This wildcat had a core from 9,217-50 feet which recovered 33 feet of lime and shale with no shows of oil.

Drillsite is 660 from south and 1,980 from east lines, 1-34-In, T&P survey. It is two miles northeast of Ackery.

Ted Weiner No. 1-123 G. W. Pool, wildcat about seven miles southwest of Welch, is drilling at 12,248 feet in lime and chert. This project is 1,980 from north and 660 from west lines, 123-M-EL&RR survey.

MEET THE 'seniors' OF THE COSDEN FAMILY...

Although J. N. Lane has a continuous employment record with Cosden since 1939, to qualify him for the "senior club," he had worked for the company even before that.

He spent the years 1934-38 in Cosden employe, then left to go to Levelland and work for the Motor Fuels Corp. But he returned here in 1939, to become an electrician in the pipeline department.

A native of Mississippi, Lane came to Texas in 1906, settling with his family in Roscoe. He finished high school there in 1918. He spent eight years as a clerk for the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific at Roscoe, then joined Texas Electric Service Company, and moved to Big Spring while in the employe of that concern. He was with TESCO from 1926 to 1932.

Lane was married April 2, 1921, at Roscoe, to Miss Mattie Lou Mayes. They have a daughter, Mrs. Joy Mladenska, of Houston, who has gained wide prominence in the radio and television production fields.

Lane lists high school football and basketball as among his favorite sports, and cites woodworking as one of his hobbies. But he also states that gardening is one of his recreational pursuits, and this will be readily accepted by anyone who passes the Lanes' home at 1604 S. Nolan. He and Mrs. Lane have developed one of the show places of the city, and have a profusion of flowers blooming at all seasons.

Probe Charges Sheriff Brutal To Prisoners

CROCKETT, Oct. 29 (AP)—Mayor Jack Beasley Jr. today called a special City Council meeting for Monday to investigate Sheriff Loyd Lovell's complaints of brutality to prisoners.

The sheriff made the charge Thursday as his explanation for refusing to lock up city prisoners in the county jail.

Lovell said in a Crockett Democrat advertisement he would not tolerate mistreatment of prisoners in his jail.

The sheriff said there was one instance of a man being beaten until he confessed robbing a suburban grocery here, only to have three men arrested later in Camden, Ark., confess they had done it.

The city and county have shared the jail.

Headon Collision Fatal To Texan

YOAKUM, Oct. 29 (AP)—Horace Forsythe, 26, of Cleburne was killed four miles east of Yoakum last night in a headon collision which set his car and a semi-trailer truck afire. The truck driver, Valentin Rangle of San Benito, fractured a knee and cut his scalp.

CEDAR RIDGE ADDITION

Located In Southeast Part Of Town

DIVIDED INTO

18 Beautiful Building SITES

ONE AND TWO ACRES

ALL LOTS RESTRICTED

PRICED FROM $1200 TO $2200

Children Will Go To School At Washington Place

OPEN LETTER TO BIG SPRING CITIZENS

CEDAR RIDGE will be a rather unusual residential community . . . combining the best advantages of country life with the best of city living and its many conveniences. That is the reason for the size of the lots and restriction forbidding re-subdivision of them. Lots were not chosen for sites of minimum size but rather as sites for construction of a pleasant place to live, and many of them with one or more excellent views of natural landscapes, a cliff, a creek, a bit of ridge, and a mountain — take your choice.

Restrictions on landscaping fit into the original plan of making and preserving the most of the natural picture of this spot. CEDAR RIDGE is blessed with a wide variety of natural shrubs, grasses, contours and wildlife.

There are many native plants such as walnut, hackberry, juniper, sumac, Linhimers, Engleman's prickly pear, catclaw, agarita, mesquite, Spanish dagger, century plants, sotol and many others. Native buffalo grass can be cultivated into a rather attractive lawn which requires less water and mowing than other lawn grasses. The area abounds in the showy galardia or Indian blanket bloom. There are migratory song birds in most seasons, and there is a more or less permanent population of quail, both blue and bob-whites, along with cardinals, mocking birds, doves, woodpeckers, finches. You can see cotton tail and jack rabbits and occasionally a fox, or swift or raccoon. Along Big Spring creek there are many natural bee hives and the area is a wonderful place for honey production.

Water has been found in the area and it may be developed from underground sources on some of the lots, but probably not all. It could be used for swimming pools or supplemental irrigation.

CEDAR RIDGE is not an ordinary development solely for a business venture. It is an experiment in a better way of life. The original tract was purchased as a home site for a place to raise five children . . . a place to get close to nature, and yet be close to occupation and the city . . . Now we want to dedicate parts of this area to children and a fuller, more interesting childhood.

We hope every home in CEDAR RIDGE will have a name as well as a street number.

While there are some livestock restrictions, provision is made for 4-H and FFA animals.

CEDAR RIDGE is a dream we wanted to share with others. The fulfillment will, of course, depend on those who come to share with us . . . and to make it a pleasant place.

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Frazier
And Family

Bobby Murphy Wins Amateur Show Award

A crowd of approximately 500 gave its biggest applause to Bobby Murphy, Big Spring, at the Howard County Amateur show Friday night for his singing and guitar act, and their applause won him first prize in the competition. He won out over 13 competitors.

Murphy was given a tennis racket. Second prize went to Bill Bodner of Webb AFB for a pantomime act. Bodner was given a wrist watch. Third prize in the competition went to Melba Glover — who presented a dance and hop number. Her award also was a watch.

Consolation prizes were given to the other performers.

Federal Crop Insurance Fails, Drought Blamed

BALLINGER, Oct. 29 (AP)—After losing two million dollars in four years the federal government is ending its experimental multiple-crop insurance program in Runnels County.

Drought was blamed for failure of the program set up in 1951 to cover farmers' losses on what, oats, cotton and grain sorghums.

The idea was to decrease risk by spreading coverage in hopes that a loss in one crop might be offset by success with another. But overall losses in this West Texas farm area outweighed successes each year.

The worst year for the plan was 1952 when all but two of about 800 farmers participating claimed losses and the Federal Crop Insurance Corp. paid off $1,900,000. Premiums paid in that year totaled about $250,000.

The program started in 1951 with 400 farmers insured. The net loss that year was $500,000. In 1953, peak year for participation, 900 policyholders paid premiums of about $250,000 and entered claims of about $450,000. Claims this year totaled about $75,000, premiums paid in about $47,000.

As premiums were boosted because of the losses, participation dropped to 450 last year and was down to 250, its lowest, this year.

Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler, addressing a party fund-raising dinner in Nashville, Tenn., hinted a Tennessee might win either an "upper or lower" berth on the party's national ticket next year. Lamesa Will Raise $21,415 For Chest

LAMESA, Oct. 29—The annual Community Chest campaign starts here Wednesday with a big kick-off rally in the Lamesa Junior High gymnasium.

George Mahon, congressman from this district, will be the principal speaker. A pageant, "Living, Giving, the United Way," will be presented by the LHS Key Club and the student council. High school students will fill the leading roles in portraying the operations of the 10 Community Chest agencies.

Goal of the campaign is $21,415. The drive will be keyed to the slogan, "Lamesa's No. 1 Job." Monday and Tuesday will be devoted to briefings and distribution of supplies to 400 volunteer workers who are to take part in the drive. Following the kick-off luncheon Tuesday, the volunteers will spread out over the city in an effort to complete the campaign in record time.

Rev. Milo B. Arbuclie, pastor of the First Baptist Church, also will speak at the Wednesday luncheon. Music will be provided by the LHS band and a cappella choir. Rev. Charles Cooke, pastor of the Clark Methodist Church will sing "One World," by O'Hara. The invocation will be by W. T. Hamilton, Church of Christ minister. Henry Norris, Red Cross director, will be master of ceremonies.

There will be three divisions of the fund drive — Advance Gifts, headed by Clyde Branon; Special Gifts, directed by Jeff Shipp; and Employe Gifts, under the direction of Bob Bradbury.

The agencies participating and the funds they expect to receive from the campaign are Red Cross $5,800, Boy Scouts $2,800, Girl Scouts $2,140, Volunteers of America $700, Salvation Army $2,250, Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation $1,070, Cancer Society $3,035.14, Lamesa Goodfellows $2,140, USO $1,070 and Heart Association $320.

Campaign chairman is Doyle Hankins. Mrs. Matt McCall is manager, H. B. Snell is Chest president, and W. B. Osborn is secretary and treasurer.

BOYS WILL DO NO DAMAGE

SCHULENBURG, Oct. 29 (AP)—The high school football team plans to treat themselves to a barbecue party Monday night to prove to the townfolk they can stay out of trouble on Halloween.

"If we're all together out in the woods having a barbecue, no one can accuse us of tearing up the town," said Billy Bueck, team captain and chairman of the barbecue.

The football players were blamed for some property damage in town last year.

Knowland Sees Veto On Rigid Price Supports

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said today he "assumes" President Eisenhower would veto any bill to restore rigid farm price supports and is confident Congress would sustain such a veto.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said in an interview that despite the political uproar over falling farm prices "I do not believe that at the present time the country supports going back to the old fixed parity program."

Parity is a standard set by law and calculated to give farmers a fair return for their products in terms of things they buy.

Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, and Democratic Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, recently endorsed restoration government supports at 90 per cent of parity for major field crops. At the urging of President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson, Congress previously abandoned this program in favor of flexible price supports.

Knowland, who said he and other GOP leaders have been consulting with White House officials about the forthcoming State of the Union message on which Eisenhower has been working, indicated his belief the President will stand firm behind the flexible parity program.

Tabbing the farm issue as one likely to spur one of the first political fights in an election-year Congress, Knowland said the Democrats are attempting now to make a "scapegoat" out of Benson. He predicted Eisenhower, seeing Benson today, would stand firmly behind his agriculture secretary.

Democratic leaders have indicated they will press for early Senate action on a House bill to restore 90 per cent parity.

Knowland said some issues may cut across party lines. Among these he mentioned methods of financing a proposed new interstate highway construction program, tax legislation and even some portions of the farm program.

Suit Asks $266,918

A judgment for $266,918 is asked by Geneva Parrott in a damages suit filed in 118th District Court against E. B. Cumble and B&C Tankers of Midland.

Mrs. Parrott, Big Spring, alleges negligence on the part of a truck driver employed by the defendants was responsible for the death of her husband, Harold S. Parrott, in a collision about 12 miles west of Big Spring on the night of May 24, 1955.

She asks $185,718 for loss of her husband's earning capacity, $75,000 for his pain and suffering, $3,500 medical and funeral expenses, and $2,700 for damage to an automobile.

Parrott died May 27 of injuries received when his car was in collision with the rear of a truck on Highway 80. Mrs. Parrott says in her petition the truck was operated by "Ray or Roy" Holster. The Parrott automobile had just passed another truck, driven by Floy J. Fox, when it was in collision with the truck owned by Cumble and B&C Tankers, according to the petition.

Niece Of Taft Takes Own Life

CINCINNATI, Oct. 29 (AP)—Miss Lucia Chase Taft, 31, daughter of Charles P. Taft and a niece of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, was found dead in her home here today.

Attaches in the office of Coroner Herbert P. Lyle said they were told Miss Taft had died of a self-inflicted knife wound. They said she had been depressed and under the care of a physician in New York recently.

Miss Taft attended the University of Cincinnati and was graduated from Vassar.

Her father formerly was president of the National Council of Churches and was an unsuccessful Republican candidate for governor of Ohio in 1952. He currently is a candidate for the Cincinnati City Council, a position he formerly held for many years.

Miss Taft was a granddaughter of former President William Howard Taft.

CHECK AND DOUBLE CHECK—must be done in making plans for such an undertaking as the "Pilgrimage of Beautiful Table Settings" being presented this afternoon by members of Xi Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Harold Hall, at left, is general chairman of the pilgrimage and Mrs. Melvin Coleman will serve as hostess in the home of Mrs. Leroy Tidwell, 906 Mountain Park Drive, where the theme will be "Dinner at Eight." This table and the one to be shown at the home of Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser, 103 Cedar Road, were not available for pictures.

PLANS ARE MADE EASILY—over cups of coffee as Mrs. Kent Morgan, seated, and Mrs. Jimmy Beale learned, when they discussed arrangements for the table to be displayed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beale today. With the informal air suggested by the title, "Come On'A My House," the table setting will follow that trend in a theme of yellow, green and silver.

Settings for Hospitality

(Photos by Keith McMillin)

Big Spring Herald

Sec. II Big Spring, Texas, Sun., Oct. 30, 1955 Society

Enticing names have been given to the entries in the sixth Annual Pilgrimage of Beautiful Table Settings, which is being sponsored this afternoon by the Xi Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority.

Calling hours will begin during the half hour from 3 to 3:30 p.m. and visitors will follow programs in viewing arrangements in various homes. These schedules, priced at one dollar, will serve as tickets and may be purchased from sorority members or at the door of the first home listed, which is that of Mr. and Mrs. Odell Womack, 1601 Tucson.

Here, informal hospitality will be the keynote, with an arrangement of breakfast for four. Pulled close to the fireplace, the circular table will be covered with a fringed brown linen cloth, complementing the autumn colors of the fruit used in a milkglass bowl as a centerpiece. Aptly named, it is called "Fireside Glow," with Mrs. R. E. Dobbins, Mrs. Tommy Gage and Mrs. L. D. Chrane as hostesses.

"Autumn Tea," a formal setting, will be on display in the home of Mrs. W. D. McDonald, 506 Washington Blvd., with Mrs. James

See SETTINGS, Pg. 4, Col. 5

DRESS REHEARSAL—of the table setting for "Autumn Tea" is being held by Mrs. Paul Darrow, standing, and Mrs. W. D. McDonald in whose home guests will view the arrangement this afternoon. This is one in a series of the "Pilgrimage of Beautiful Table Settings" being sponsored by members of Xi Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority for the purpose of raising money for their project, Girls' Town.

FIRESIDE GLOW—will be reflected in the milkglass being arranged by Mrs. R. E. Dobbins in the home of Mrs. Odell Womack, who prepares a centerpiece in anticipation of presenting the table this afternoon in the "Pilgrimage of Beautiful Table Settings." The brown linen cloth blends nicely with the rich colors of the room, which seems especially made to follow the idea of the motto over the fireplace. It's an invitation to guests to enjoy the hospitality of this home. Be sure to read it when you take the pilgrimage today.

WHICH SHALL WE USE?—ask Mrs. R. L. Heith, center, and Mrs. Charles Tompkins, right, of Mrs. Gene Nabors, as they select the accessories to be used on the tea table in the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, 108 Cedar Road. This being the last stop in the "Pilgrimage of Beautiful Table Settings" tea will be served here and will feature the "Elegance of Tradition." Mrs. Tompkins is president of Xi Mu Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, while Mrs. Heith and Mrs. Nabors are on the tea committee.

Newcomer For Week Hires Base Civilians

Although they do not have all their furniture and household articles here yet, the Mrs. and Mrs. O. W. Williams who live at 427 Hillside are the newcomers for the week. Mrs. Williams has been here since Aug. 23, but his wife just came this week. She has been remaining in Texarkana to sell their home there. Quite a title goes with Mr. Williams' position in Big Spring. He is with the Civilian Personnel Office at Webb Air Force Base as Employee Utilization Officer. All this means that he hires civilian employees for the base, helps train and place them. Also with this job comes the task of counseling and if necessary, firing or replacing an employee. Mr. Williams was engaged in this type of work for ten years at the Red River Arsenal before accepting the local job.

The Williamses have one daughter, Mrs. J. C. Collins Jr., who teaches in Seminole, where her husband is a coach. Both are graduates of Hardin-Simmons University. Instead of joining various civic organizations, the Williamses devote their extra time to church work. They are especially interested in working with young people. Both are members of the First Baptist Church and he is associate teacher of a Sunday School Class. Landscaping is of special interest to Mrs. Williams, and she certainly has plenty of material to work with at their home here. Their lot is 130 feet wide by 177 feet deep, and has only a few trees at the present time. "If we were in Texarkana, I would have to spend all my time mowing, but out here I want to plant vegetation that is native to this country," she said. Mrs. Williams also likes to read poetry and religious literature. Fishing and hunting can be claimed as a favorite hobby by Mr. Williams. He is strictly interested in fresh water fishing, and enjoyed taking advantage of the many lakes around Texarkana. He plans to try his luck at Lake Thomas very soon.

Use Your Chafing Dish

Take down that chafing dish—the one you got for a wedding present—from the closet where it's hidden. Use it for keeping food warm when you are giving a party. This way you'll find it wonderfully useful, elegant looking! If it is the kind of chafing dish that uses canned heat it may give better service in keeping food warm than in actually cooking it.

Extra Use For Vacuum

Use the crevice attachment of your vacuum cleaner to clean the linings of pocketbooks. This treatment is fine, too, for the insides of coat pockets.

'ROUND TOWN With Lucille Pickle

One of the nicest affairs in our city this past week was the 1950 Hyperion Club's silver anniversary tea and the tea table was as pretty as any we have ever seen. It was planned by MRS. OMAR PITMAN. Big Spring must have more pretty women than most towns and most of them showed up at the Thursday afternoon party. If there is anything in my limited wardrobe that I could swap for a new one, I should like to swap one with any of the eight or ten women who wore bright red dresses or suits, in particular, the one MRS. T. L. SOUTH wore. Also I liked the little fur hat MRS. ZOLLIE BOYKIN wore and the attractive fur muff carried by MRS. RICHARD JOHNSON. It was nice to see MRS. PHIL BEHREY of Stanton, who, I believe, is a former member of the host club. MRS. CHARLES SWEENEY wore a powder blue wool with a matching hat, and a similar shade of blue with a metallic thread was very striking on MRS. ROY WORLEY.

are sort of disgruntled because the homecoming game is going to be played out-of-town. They feel like the place for a homecoming is at home. MARTHA SUE MEDLEY of Lubbock spent the weekend at the home of ANNETTE BOYKIN. MRS. LYNN CURRIN and son, BRUCE, of 133 E. 15th, left this morning with her parents, MR. AND MRS. O. W. BAILEY, of San Antonio for a visit with relatives in Indiana and Illinois. The Baileys arrived here Saturday night to get their daughter and grandson, who is eight months old. They plan to visit with Mr. Bailey's mother, Mrs. Ed U. Bailey, in Lawrenceville, Ill., and then with Mrs. Bailey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Like in Vincennes, Ind. They plan to be gone about two weeks. DR. C. W. DEATS is in Trinidad, Colo., where he is deer hunting with friends from Dalhart.

from their home in Midland so often we feel like they never left home. At a luncheon Thursday I met MRS. RUBY BAGGETT who is visiting here from Electra. She is the guest of her son, Rex Baggett, and Mrs. Baggett. MR. AND MRS. E. L. COLLETTE, of Fort Smith, Ark. have made their yearly visit to our town to visit with old friends. She is the former Mrs. Ollie Eubanks. Recent guests in the GEORGE HOLDEN home were her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McCrary, of O'Donnell, her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leighy and Mary Lou of Wilson, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McCrary, of Fort Worth. The relatives helped Mrs. Holden's daughter, Mrs. Bill Irwin of Sand Springs, celebrate her birthday with a dinner at her home. SID HOLDEN who lives in Kermit has visited here with his father, J. E. HOLDEN. In case you pass through Ackerly you might be interested in stopping by the see SUNBEAM MORRISON in his fine new drug store. Back from Dallas where they have been marketing recently are MRS. CLAUDE MILLER of The Little Shop, ADOLPH SWARTZ and MR. AND MRS. JIM ZACK. Women's clothes surely keep them jumping. GLORIA HANSEN, who sang with the Saturday Night Jamboree here, is now singing with the Big D Jamboree in Dallas. Charles McQuain, son of MR. AND MRS. DOC McQUAIN, who lives in Galveston is now in Fort Belvoir, Va., for the reserve officers yearly training camp. All five of us are in Waco today. We just added a little to all the other Big Spring delegations to the Baylor Homecoming activities. In the bunch were MR. AND MRS. GENE TURNER, MR. AND MRS. JOHN ASKEW COFFEY, FRANCES REAGAN, MR. AND MRS. G. G. MOREHEAD, MR. AND MRS. LONNIE COKER and their daughters, LONDA and GLORIA, DR. AND MRS. J. E. HOGAN, MR. AND MRS. JOHN COFFEY and BARBARA, the ROY BEEDERS, the MERRILL CREIGHTONS, the CLYDE ANGELS and HARVEY HOOSER. Oh yes, NELL BROWN was there also. She was graduated from Baylor some years back, but not so many years back that she could qualify for the class of 1955, which is where she sat at the Ex-Student's dinner Friday night. NELL took her mother, MRS. G. A. BROWN, and an aunt, MRS. L. S. PATTERSON, as far as Dallas, where they visited with Mrs. Patterson's son, Murray, while Nell attended the homecoming in Waco. for a day completely filled with events. Two other outstanding FHA members, Linda Rutledge and Rita Kay Rogers, presided as district officers for the last time Saturday. Helen Winchester is now in the Medical Arts Clinic recuperating operation was performed Saturday morning. Present plans for Helen are to go home from the hospital Monday, but doctor's orders state that she should not return to school for three weeks. After attending Pre-Legislative in Lubbock, Margaret Fryar remained at Texas Tech until Sunday as the guest of her sister, Nina, who is a student there. Martha Sue Medley, who was once a school mate of ours and a Big Spring resident, is a houseguest of Annette Boykin for the weekend. Frances Reagan and Londa Coker are at Baylor for the weekend, attending the Homecoming events there which include the Baylor-TCU football game, a bonfire and parade. Londa will stay with Lila Turner and Frances plans to stay with Glenna Coffey, both girls being BSHS graduates last year. The District Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Officers Training Conference was held at the Big Spring YMCA building last Sunday afternoon from 2-5. Harold Hammett, district president, presided at the conference, and Bobo Hardy, program secretary of the Big Spring YMCA, chose "Christian Leadership" as his topic of address. Buzz sessions for Christian leadership were held for the various officers, advisors, and members present at the conference.

HI-TALK

By Mary Sue Hale

Vice president of the senior class, Bennie Compton, occupies the position of senior-of-the-week. Bennie is a senior Student Council representative and also an outstanding Debate Club member. Perhaps his major achievements lie heavily in Hi-Y work, since he is president of the senior Hi-Y Club this year, and was vice president of the same club his junior year. Also, Bennie is district vice president of Hi-Y and is a candidate for Speaker of the House of Representatives for Youth-in-Government which will be held at Austin this December. A three year Key Club member, he served as program chairman of that organization last year; he has lettered in track two years previous to this year. Pre-Legislative was attended by 40 Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y members yesterday at Lubbock. The four clubs, each taking at least one bill, left Big Spring early Saturday morning and returned late Saturday afternoon after a day filled with elections for the various offices that are open to West Texas this year, the election of West Texas's candidate for governor and a training conference in preparation for Youth-in-Government. Bennie Compton, Big Spring's chosen candidate for office, ran for Speaker of the House of Representatives. Tom Guin served on the nominations and elections committee, and J. T. Baird carried out Big Spring's vote in the election. The chief purpose for this all-day conference was mainly preparation for Youth-in-Government, when the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y youth of the state will "run" the state for one day. The top 10 senior students of BSHS, as determined by four separate examinations and their entire high school grade records, are J. T. Baird, Donovin Smith, Patsy Grant, Tom Guin, Marlene Mann, Ruth Ann Abat, Tommy Roberts, D. D. Downing, Tommy Jo Williamson, and Stormy Edwards. These ten students took a special test Wednesday, which, if a high enough score is reached, will open the way to the National Merit Scholarship Program. This will furnish a four-year college education to the top American high school graduates of 1956. "Joke Night" partly composed the program for the Senior Hi-Y Club Monday night. J. D. Adams was in charge of this hilarious affair, which furnished ample consequences for the absent-minded Hi-Y members who forgot to bring a joke. Don Morton and Gary Brown saw the familiar and welcome sights of Big Spring after being absent for several months in which they have been in Uncle Sam's Navy. Both boys arrived Sunday morning after graduating from the

BENNIE COMPTON

Navy's recruit training program at San Diego. Reba Riddle is proudly showing off an engagement ring, which was given her by Don during this visit home. The boys will leave Big Spring to return to active duty Friday at San Diego where Don will attend the Navy's Sonar School and Gary the Navy's Electrical School. Jennie Crenshaw, who is from Pecos, joined the BSHS student body Wednesday. She is a senior, and her interests include food and sports. Her activities in Pecos prior to moving here included membership in the Library Club, Science Club, FHA and La Gama. Charlene Lansing is visiting a friend, Pat Kelly, who is a junior at McMurry College at Abilene. She left early Saturday and will see the McMurry-Eastern Oklahoma football game while there. Various vocal groups have sprung up in BSHS this year. The Triple Trio from junior high school has reorganized and plans to sing together throughout high school. The girls composing this all-sophomore group are Nina Jones, Mildred Heard, and Nancy Woods, first soprano; Patsy Potter, Eleanor Price, Melva Turner, second soprano; Rebecca Powell, Pat Smelster, and Sandra Taylor, alto. A second group, the Short Cuts, is composed of all junior girls. Sue Boykin, Fudgie Gray, Annette Boykin and Kathy McRee. The Kilt Kats is composed of Sandra Flowers, Margaret Fryar, China Carroll, Mary Sue Hale, Marilyn Morris, and Marlene Mann. Sue Barnes, Danne Green and Charlene Lansing have something different in mind, as they accompany themselves with ukuleles when they sing. Opal Hancock was elected District FHA president Saturday when towns of this area met at Snyder

Town's Earlier Days Recalled By Visitor

By ANNE LEFEVER

"The thing that pleases me most about Big Spring today is that Lake Thomas water is available to the city," said Mae Cherry of Los Angeles, who is visiting here for the first time in 33 years.

Miss Cherry was born in El Paso, but she spent her childhood and the early part of her adult years in Big Spring. She recalled the days, when the family first came to live here, that water was bought for 50 cents a barrel.

That was at a time when the family home was at Second and Runnels, and later they moved to a home at 510 Scurry. That was a wonderful change, since there was a cistern.

She laughingly recalled a minister who always stopped by on his way home from town to ask of her mother, "Sister Cherry, may I borrow a glass of water from your cistern?" Her mother always replied, "Yes, if you'll ask the Lord to pay it back."

When her parents moved here in 1902, they lived in a "half-tent," that is, boarded up halfway, with fabric stretched over it. Firewood and water were scarce, and once when Mr. Cherry was delayed on a trip, his wife was quite worried about how they were to be had.

Each morning, however, she found that the water barrel was full and firewood had been supplied. After ten days, when her husband returned, he solved the riddle of the good friends who had helped her and suggested that they have a dinner for them.

"They didn't have enough chairs to seat them, but Mother said she got boxes and pretended that that was the very best furniture to sit on."

Quite a resourceful little girl, Mae, one Christmas, wrote her letter to Santa Claus and addressed it to her father. She remembers taking it to the post office, which was then on Second, Street, just east of Main.

The postmaster was a Mr. Snoddy, who was followed by C. W. Willis. The dignity of the office was symbolized by the Prince Albert coat which was always worn by Mr. Willis.

During dry seasons, which were frequent, Gregg Street was the scene of much confusion as cattle and sheep were driven in herds through Big Spring on the way to northern or eastern pastures or markets. The vicinity around Fifth and Gregg was a favorite spot of coyotes, and their cries could be heard quite often.

One of the highlights of a summer day was a walk to Indian Bend Mountain, or to present day Big Springers, Scenic Mountain. There, the children found varied types of Indian beads, and Miss Cherry remembered that she quite often found enough to make a little bracelet or a necklace.

As a youngster, she was quite excited at the arrival of Helen Gould, daughter of Jay Gould, who came for the dedication of the YMCA building which was located near where the Texas and Pacific Freight Office is now.

Another memory carried over from her early days is having to get up early to attend weddings of various friends. At that time, there was only one train through Big Spring and that was about 5 a.m. Weddings were held at 4 a.m. so that the bride couple could leave on the train. One wedding Miss Cherry mentioned was that of the late Vyrnd and Jessie Van Gieson.

Entertainment for the most part was arranged by young people themselves, and one of the most popular forms of summer fun were watermelon feasts after a hayride. Real hay was used in those days—before hay fever was ever heard of, probably—with a heavy covering over it.

On one occasion, after a hayride, the group was away from the wagon while eating the melons—one to a couple, no slices in those days! When they returned to their conveyance, they learned that some mules had eaten every scrap of hay. The road back to town was a rough one, too!

Miss Cherry remembered that the chaperon—something accompanying the dodo bird into extinction—fell from the wagon. One wonders if it could have been an accident or a shove!

Dances were held in the court house and in the opera house, which was across the street from the court house square. It was also the place where one night stand shows were produced as well as the home talent plays.

During World War I, to save an utilities, church services were held on the court house lawn just at twilight with the ministers of the various churches alternating with the preaching. This reminded Miss Cherry of the days when services were held one Sunday at the Methodist Church, one time at the Baptist and so on until all the churches had been used. In 1903, the groups each chose a pastor and services were held each Sunday at the respective buildings.

Sewing clubs were very popular with all the "proper young ladies" and they would meet every week for an afternoon of fancy work such as embroidery, tatting, and crocheting as well as chatting. One group, "The Priscilla Club" was nicknamed by the dandies of the town, and was called "The Silly Club," Miss Cherry recalled that "the boys were always pleased, though, when we decided to give a party and put their names on our guest list."

Shivarees were another form of amusement—if not for the recipients—At least for the crowd giving the celebration. This was the usual reception given a newly married couple at their home after the return from their wedding trip. Friends would congregate at one place and then serenade the pair by beating tin pans, blowing horns, and in some cases, playing practical jokes.

One such party mentioned by Miss Cherry was given to Mr. and Mrs. Shine Phillips upon their arrival from Baird, where they had been married. The new home, which Shine had bought and had furnished so beautifully, was stripped of all furniture. In its place, the crowd substituted "worn-out furnishings and even an old tin sink," according to Miss Cherry.

That's Where We Lived

Mae Cherry of Los Angeles, formerly of Big Spring, points out the location of her family home at 510 Scurry. The school was located on the site of the present post office building, and she recalled that she had never walked more than two blocks to school. She was a member of the graduating class of 1904, in which there were six students.

IS MODERN

WHICH FUEL IS MORE MODERN?

"Being modern" is, of course, also a relative matter. Modernness or modernity, implies completely up-to-date characteristics. And in cooking, modernity can be interpreted two ways—the comparable newness of the various ranges themselves—or the comparable newness of the fuels, as such. No ranges are more modern than the new automatic gas ranges—regardless of fuel used. As pointed out in the "Automatic" discussion above, gas ranges have every latest feature found on any range. As for modernity of styling, one look at the new automatic gas ranges should answer all questions about that point. Beautiful, easy-to-clean, white (or decorator colors), shining chrome cooking tops and burner bowls, effective, practical use of metals, illuminated range tops and ovens, attractive trim and oven handles—all these modern design elements are found in new automatic gas ranges. And the new modern gas built-in ovens and burners are as new as tomorrow. Perfect for any kitchen interior, regardless of decor, available in modern colors, metals and styles for the very latest kitchen design. As for the modernity of fuels, natural gas is the Southwest's own natural fuel. Nature has been generous to us in this part of the country by supplying an abundance of dependable, low-cost natural gas. And millions of dollars have been invested by Empire Southern Gas Company to bring this amazing, wonder fuel to our customers' burner tips so they might enjoy it. At the same time, the so-called "electronic age" is not so modern, after all. Many of us still remember the attempts to perfect an electric automobile and the old-fashioned electric streetcar, both now almost obsolete. Electricity as an energy source is ideal for certain tasks, such as lighting, but for uses requiring the application of heat—such as cooking processes—natural gas has no equal. For home cooking, no fuel can possibly be more modern.

FLAME IS THE NATURAL METHOD OF COOKING, AND PERFECTLY CONTROLLED FLAME IS SUPERIOR FOR MODERN COOKING... ABSOLUTELY UNMATCHED BY ANY ARTIFICIAL COOKING METHOD.

Height Can Be Asset

The blonde gentlemen prefer, Carol Channing, is a tall girl. And until she learned to accept the fact that she could make her height an asset, she wasn't popular with the boys. She tells Lydia Lane how this all came about in today's column.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Carol Has Hints To Help The Taller Girls

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — Carol Channing zoomed into prominence when she starred in the Broadway musical "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," which kidded gold-diggers. She is currently in the hit play, "Delilah," written especially for her which satirizes the silent screen vamps.
 When Carol was in Hollywood recently for a television spectacular on NBC we had lunch together and she told me about her early, somewhat grim days in show business.
 "That was the most difficult period of my life," she recalled. "I had such a sense of insecurity. In fact, it still comes back to me once in a while."
 "I had a weight problem and looking back on it now I realize it was mental. I was living in New York, away from my family, struggling to make ends meet. It wasn't a very happy experience. I'd come home at night to an empty room with no work in sight and I'd turn to food as an emotional compensation. When overweight stems from something like that it's futile to count calories. Your real effort should be directed to solving the mental problem behind it all."
 "The biggest barrier I've ever had to overcome, though," she confided, "was my height. This was something I'd been fighting as far back as my school days. It made me very self-conscious to be the biggest girl in my class. I worried about it and studied all the fashion magazines trying to learn to camouflage my height with clothes. "I know now, of course, that you can wear anything you feel good in and get away with it. Anita Loos is tiny — she's just five feet tall but she wears big chunks of jewelry that are very becoming to her."

 "When she chose me for the lead in 'Gentlemen Prefer Blondes,'" Carol went on, "everybody was surprised because in the book Lorelei is referred to as petite. "This bothered me," Carol admitted, "but Anita dismissed it saying, 'You have the humor the part needs and that's the important and no one will think about it. Play the part as if you were my size.'"
MEN PREFER BLONDES
 If you believe this philosophy, and you want to bleach your hair, we have just the directions for you. Betty Grable has put her bleaching formula into print to share with Lydia Lane readers. The letlist is M-54, and in addition you will learn Betty's basic housework exercises and her favorite reducing diet. To get your copy just send 5 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane in care of The Big Spring Herald. Remember, it's M-54.

RITA CONNALLY

District B&PW Clubs Spend Busy Weekend

A presidents' breakfast at the Wagon Wheel this morning initiated activities for the District Conference of Business and Professional Women's Clubs being held here.

Following the breakfast, members were to gather in the auditorium at Howard County Junior College, where a musical program will be presented by the college choir under the direction of Orland Johnson.

Workshops will be under the direction of Mrs. Claudia Hazelwood of Midland, who is first vice president of the state federation. The club from McCamey will lead the discussion in the division on education and vocations; Fort Stockton will be in charge of the workshop on finance, and the Pecos club will work with three: health and safety, international relations and special projects.

Rita Connally of Kerrville will head the workshop on legislation, while the Crane club will head the work done on memberships. National security will be discussed under the direction of the club from El Paso, and Lamesa will cover the information on radio and TV. The Denver City club will preside at the workshop on public affairs, and the local club will be in charge of the discussion on program coordination.

Lorine Williams, district director, will preside for the general session this morning following the workshop period. At this meeting, delegates will elect a district director and a member of the nominating committee, with an alternate. Invitations will be read, and reports will be given.

A luncheon is scheduled for 12:30 in the Settles Hotel ballroom, with Miss Williams presiding. Bessie Love is chairman of luncheon arrangements. Reports will be heard from committees on registration and finance, resolutions and on elections. Special music will be provided by Wanda Petty, who will sing.

Featured speaker for the luncheon will be Miss Connally, state legislation chairman and president of the Hill County Business and Professional Women's Club of that city.

Miss Connally has served for two years on the board of trustees of the First Presbyterian Church in Kerrville and has been a member of the County Planning Committee on building dams for Kerr County.

She is now president of the adult board of directors of the Three Hills Youth Club, which sponsors planned activities for the community young people. She is a member of the program committee for the Kerr County Centennial, planned for 1956.

The speaker has been chairman of the education and vocation committee of her B&PW Club and served as moderator of a series of radio programs on Jury Service for Women. She directed and produced a "Talent Show" for the club, which was a means of raising money for their Scroll of Achievement. She appeared with the winners on radio and TV stations in San Antonio.

The conference began Saturday afternoon with registration and a tea at the college. Music was under the direction of Jack Hendrix, music instructor of that institution. Mrs. J. R. Smith was in charge of registration, with Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle heading the reception committee.

A buffet supper was served for the women Saturday evening at the Cosden Country Club, with Mrs. Lina Flewellen, president of the local club, in charge of the program. Chairman of arrangements was Mrs. H. N. Robinson.

Decorations on the speaker's table were arrangements of yellow chrysanthemums and fall berries with hurricane lamps. Guests were seated at quartette tables, which used a similar theme in the decoration.

The invocation was given by Bertha Morton, with welcome addresses by Mrs. Flewellen, and Mayor G. W. Dabney. The B&PW Club from Crane gave a response. Joyce Howard sang for the assembly.

Miss Williams, introduced the club presidents, the state officers and guests. Speaker for the evening was Marie McCutcheon of Dallas, president of the state federation.

Wednesday evening, the Ethyl Corporation played host to a group of Cosden personnel from the manufacturing, marketing, and purchasing departments at the Cosden Country Club. A Pan-Screen (Cinerama) presentation was made of the Ethyl Corporation's services to the oil industry. Bob Douglas, regional manager for Ethyl at Tulsa, was the principal host. Also representing Ethyl were Wayne Warren, manager of the refinery technology division of the Ethyl Research Laboratory in Detroit, and Harry Cottrell and Wallace Emery from Ethyl's Dallas office. On Wednesday afternoon, Wayne Warren presented a technical paper at the refinery in the laboratory conference room. Mr. Walker and Mr. Shultz of Frontier Chemical Company were visitors Thursday. Frontier is presently supplying us with caustic soda from their Denver City plant. Dubbs No. 2 was shutdown last Sunday night for scheduled clean-up and repair. The turnaround will be extended an extra week in order to install new air-fin condensing equipment which will replace the old box-type condensers that have been in service for seventeen years. The following refinery men are on vacation and will return to work Monday: Dwight B. McCann, Joe M. Mangum, Marshall V. Day, Willis F. Kennedy, E. L. Carlile, Elwood Carlile, B. D. Rice, Raymond A. Moore, Joe B. King. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hester visited friends over the weekend in Hobbs. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Coffey attended the Baylor-TCU Game at Waco over the weekend. Van E. Carham of Midland was a visitor in the land & lease department Monday. George Larson of the geophysical department spent Wednesday in Lubbock visiting the Stanolind Oil & Gas Company. Rob J. Knott of the Atlantic Refinery Company, Midland, visited the geophysical department Thursday. Bill Priebe will return from his vacation Wednesday. R. L. Tollett and R. M. Johnson spent Wednesday afternoon and Thursday in Dallas, attending the annual meeting of Texas Motor Fuel Tax Committee, of which Tollett is chairman. At the meeting, he was re-elected to the office, which he has held from year to year since 1948. On Friday Tollett and Johnson attended annual meeting of the Texas Research League in Austin at which Hines H. Baker, president of Humble Oil & Refining Company and chairman of the Texas Research League, was the principal speaker. Mr. and Mrs. George Harvell and Mr. and Mrs. George Grimes attended the Texas-SMU Football game at Dallas over the weekend. R. Schwarzenbach, Rip Merrill and Duley Nall are fishing on the Rio Grande over the weekend. Dewey Mark and J. T. Morgan attended a Railroad Commission hearing in Austin Tuesday. Richard Grimes starts his vacation Monday. Glynn Jordan is spending part of her week's vacation visiting friends in Fort Worth and San Angelo. Gus Wojtas with U.O.P. engine department, has arrived on loan to us to assist in the cat cracker and poly plant revamps. The following visitors were reported in the engineering department during the week: Swede Nelson of Hy-Bon Engineering Corporation, Midland; E. H. Ryder of Sivals Tanks, Odessa; Bryson P. Rowland of Lunkenheimer, Midland; Frank Hayhurst of Ingersoll-Rand Co., Midland; Ben Huffman of Pacific Pumps, Inc., Houston. We welcome Dorothy Smith as a new Cosden employee; Dorothy is employed as a clerk-typist in the engineering department.

Help For The Businessman

Edith Gay and Jimmie Greene explain to J. B. Wiginton the many booklets which the Chamber of Commerce office has to offer the merchant in Big Spring. Wiginton is chairman of the Chamber's "Merchant's Committee" and manager of White's Auto Store here.

Chamber Of Commerce Has Aids, Guides For Businessmen

"No one has enough experience in his business but what he will find the many aids in the Chamber of Commerce extremely useful," Chamber Manager Jimmie Greene made the statement when referring to the large variety of U.S. Department of Commerce pamphlets and booklets that are on hand in the Chamber office. "Most of them are free," Greene said, "and others are available at small cost."

The Chamber of Commerce of-rice tries to keep plenty of material on hand to assist persons in conducting their business affairs in Big Spring and Howard County. "The primary aid in the Chamber office for the businessman is the 'Establishing and Operating A Business' series," Greene said. "There is a book in this series for almost every type of business. The books are aimed at assisting persons about to open his own business, or about to buy a business, or just as an additional reference book for men already self-employed."

These books are a composite of the experiences of hundreds of successful businessmen, Greene said. Questionnaires were sent out to persons all over the United States. Only persons who had made a success of their business were asked to complete and return the questionnaire.

The results were compiled in the books, which took several years, and are distributed through the Department of Commerce. The average cost of the books is about 35 cents. They range from five cents to a dollar.

Such diversified businesses as an auto repair shop, a laundry, a motor court, and a shoe repair shop are covered in the series. Other titles are a Beauty Shop, Dry Cleaning Plant, Flower Shop, Art and Gift Shop, Grocery Store, Real Estate and Insurance company, Restaurant, Trucking Business, and many more.

Other books do not deal with a particular business, but explain a phase of business that would apply to just about any establishment. Selling, Record Keeping, Governmental Regulations, Sources of Loans, Selecting A Location, and Merchandise Display are just a few of these titles.

The books are divided into chapters. One of the books has six chapters in it, arranged like this. The first chapter is titled Nature of the Business. The authors discuss the amount of time which the business will require and the number of workers that the businessman would have to hire. The amount of personal care that would have to be expended and the amount of the yearly profits are also explained.

The second chapter is titled Organization and Finance. How much capital is needed and where to get it is explained in this chapter. Also, the nature of the organization and the advisability of having partners or incorporating is pointed out. Location and Layout is the subject of the third chapter. Where should the business be and what type of store is needed to house the merchandise or service quarters is discussed. Management is the title of the fourth chapter and the finer points of merchandising and selling is the main topic.

Chapter five is called Records and it explains the importance of good record keeping with pointers on how to keep the information that is necessary to comply with government laws. The last chapter gives the interested person more information about sources of other aids and assistance in establishing a small business.

This series is not all the aids the Chamber has to offer the Big Spring - turned - businessman, Greene said. There are over 600 different aids available, free of charge, through the office.

There are about 100 pamphlets under the title of Technical Aids that are yours for the asking. A few of the titles are Care of Hydraulic Systems, How To Sell To The Government, Borrowing Money At The Bank, Employee Selection and Placement, Lengthening Tool Life, and Machining.

Over 500 Small Business Aids, also free, include How To Sell To Teen-agers, Making The Most of Complaints, Sporting Goods Rental Service, Operating A Stamp Collector's Business, and What Kind Of A Lease To Sign.

Persons interested in getting some of the books or pamphlets need only stop in at the Chamber office, Greene said. If the office is temporarily out of the desired book they will be ordered immediately, he said.

Rain Causes Bandit To Lose Part Of Loot

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Rain and darkness reduced the confusion late yesterday as a fleeing bank bandit littered a city block with $8,000 in currency.

He fled the bank with $15,512, but the bulging loot broke through when rain hit the paper bag he used to collect it.

The lone bandit entered the Broadway branch of the First National Bank near the closing hour and stalled until all customers were gone.

Bandleader Fined On Driving Charge

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A misdemeanor drunk driving charge has cost bandleader Freddy Martin $263.

Frazier Opens Sub-Division S'East Of City

A new subdivision, outside the corporate limits on the southeast, is being announced today by James B. Frazier.

The area is to be known as Cedar Ridge and will consist of 32 acres divided into 18 building sites ranging from one to two acres each in size. Frazier said that the lots were laid out for convenience and natural beauty rather than with an eye to crowd in as many as possible into the overall space.

To preserve the natural beauty of the place, deed restrictions have been imposed against re-subdividing a lot. In addition, purchasers covenant to landscape in such a way as to preserve and utilize native vegetation whenever possible. Dwelling units must contain at least 12,500 square feet and will be of brick, stone or masonry veneer except for trim.

Plans call for an extension of Birdwell Lane southward into the addition, Virginia Street, now entering the premises as a private road, would be improved. A new lateral between the two would be named Phillips (after Shine Phillips) and a north-south road Robb (after J. Y. Robb, who has adjacent acreage which is due to be developed. Big Spring Creek, which stems from Cosden Lake on U. S. 87, meanders in a northeasterly course through the division.

Frazier, commenting on the project, said that "Cedar Ridge" will be a rather unusual residential community dedicated to a way of life that combines best advantages of country life with the best in city living. Lots were chosen not for size but as pleasant places to live.

The oldest drug firm in Big Spring — possibly the oldest in West Texas — marks its 36th anniversary Tuesday.

The firm is Cunningham & Phillips, which operates two drug stores in Big Spring, Store No. 1 at 905 Johnson and the Petroleum Drug in the Petroleum building.

The concern was established on Nov. 1, 1919, by Shine Phillips and the late C. W. Cunningham. Mr. Cunningham died in 1942.

Joe B. Hedleston, now Phillips' partner in the business, manages both stores. Phillips retired during the past summer, following a heart attack.

Cunningham and Phillips established their business in 1919 at 217 Main, now the site of Big Spring Drug. A store was operated in that location until 1952 when the No. 1 Drug was moved to 905 Johnson.

The Main Street store was occupied by the old Reagan Drug until C&P purchased that firm to establish their own business 36 years ago.

Reds Touch Off Dozen A-Blasts

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—A consultant to industry on atomic energy says there has been more than a dozen atomic explosions in Russia since September, 1954.

Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, director of the Nuclear Science Service at Washington and a division director of the Manhattan Project during World War II, made the assertion yesterday in addressing a convention of more than 1,000 Connecticut school teachers here.

Noting that the Atomic Energy Commission has promised to "inform the people about Soviet atomic explosions when they are of any importance," Lapp added: "I believe that the detonation of more than a dozen bombs by the Soviet Union since September of last year is of great significance. Why are the American people not being given these facts by our government?"

The scientist said the answer seemed to him to be multiple.

Freed Woman May Not Come To U.S.

BERLIN (AP)—Mrs. Erika Glaser Wallach, 33, who was imprisoned by the Russians five years as a U. S. spy, said today she will be reunited with her husband in Europe, and not in the United States.

Mrs. Wallach said the decision was made last night during a telephone conversation with her husband, Robert Wallach, a Washington, D. C., bank employe who lives in Warrenton, Va. The couple has two children.

The German-born Mrs. Wallach said during an interview yesterday she has been a member of the German Communist party prior to her 1950 arrest in East Berlin by the Russians.

Under U. S. law, aliens who have been members of subversive organizations are barred from entry into the United States.

Mrs. Wallach said she has not decided whether to apply for a U. S. visa.

Other personnel are Mrs. Katherine deGraffenreid, assistant to Mrs. Wallach; Mrs. Agnes Evans, who with Hedleston serves as in the pharmacy department at the No. 1 store; Mrs. Walker Bailey and Mrs. Lena Greer, in charge of cosmetics and gifts departments at 905 Johnson; Mrs. Ruby Smith and Jean Clifton, in charge of the fountain at that store; and John Westbrook, schoolboy who works in the afternoons and on Saturdays. The Petroleum Drug staff includes Hurt, Gene Morris, pharmacist and manager; Mrs. Laxell Vaughn, cosmetics department head; Mrs. Pearl Dalton and Joyce Nelson, fountain department; and Pat Flynn, after-school helper.

Best Way To Know Our Servicemen

The suggestion has been made that Big Spring people would promote international friendship and at the same time create many lasting friendships if they were to take advantage of the presence of foreign officers at Webb AFB.

The presence of these men, although in relatively small numbers, does present an opportunity to the community to have them in our homes from time to time.

Unless these men are able to get to metropolitan points (and usually visits there are not feasible because of time, distance or regulations), their opportunity of communicating with our people is limited...much more limited than for our natives.

Many of them doubtless would be doubly appreciative of an invitation to visit in our homes, to be shown about our area, to learn first hand more of our customs, our democratic philosophies, our innate friendliness.

It goes without saying that the converse would be true. Our experiences have been that the Turks, the French, the Dutch, Danes and others brought here for training are pretty interesting and charming people.

We need not let our hospitality start or end with foreign trainees. Indeed, we have a special obligation of neighborliness toward our own airmen and officers. This cannot be stressed too much or too often. It is our privilege if not our duty to keep these men in touch with life outside the military.

While there will be some who prefer to move only in their military orbit, most men will welcome the chance to become a part of us and of the community. We have only to open our hearts and our doors.

Those who respond to this gesture of human warmth will be the kind who all of us will be richer for knowing. They will be the nice boy, just like the one in your family or next door, who is fulfilling his obligation of military service to his nation. They will be the gentlemen, just like our church and community leaders, who are following a career with dedication, devotion and even enthusiasm.

Ours may not be the wettest, the greenest, the coolest warmest or biggest home for a military installation, but we ought to do everything we can personally to see that it is the friendliest.

Let's get to know our servicemen better in the only real way that it can be done—by being genuinely interested in them. There's no better way to express the sincerity of such an interest than by having them share our hearthstone with us.

Around The Rim The Ideal Job-Is It Available?

Nothing gets old quite so fast as work. Almost everybody seems to be against it, and it looks like there would be more of a concerted campaign to either abolish it or, at least cut it down to the minimum. Of course, there are various and assorted groups that militate for the shorter work week, and all that sort of thing, but usually they're just looking out for their own members. What I mean is, why can't we reduce work for everybody?

I read that a fellow named William J. Reilly wrote a book that has a most attractive title. It was tabbed "How To Avoid Work." Well, on the face of it, this is appealing, and you wonder why four hundred million copies haven't been sold. But some newspaperman got around to reading the Reilly treatise and found out that the title was misleading. Said the reviewer:

"Definitely misleading. To avoid work, Dr. Reilly advised all his readers to get a job. The job, he hinted, should be something we really enjoy doing. Thus, in working, we would find true pleasure. We thought about all the jobs we would enjoy doing and so gave the book away. The jobs we thought of offered no cash in return."

It seems to me, too, that Dr. Reilly has sort of evaded the issue. What he really was meaning was that work you enjoy and it won't be work, see? This involves a philosophy deeper than my capabilities of comprehension.

So now what? Dr. Reilly has written another book, called "How To Make a Living In Four Hours A Day — Without Feeling Guilty About It."

This, at first blush, is intriguing, too. But there's a catch, I'll bet. As for me, if I could manage to make a living in four hours a day, I sure wouldn't be feeling guilty, I'd be feeling pretty smart. Alack, in fact, most people I know who do make a living with four hours or less seem to be pretty complacent. And no wonder.

There happen to be such people as employers who have weird ideas on the length of a working day. I have frequently dreamed of an employer who could offer me a job which would:

Permit me to come to work at 10:30 and get off at 3:30, and have two hours off for lunch. Have a weekend off that started Thursday afternoon and ran through the following Tuesday. Provide two months vacation each year, at double pay. Special triple-day holidays on all the established holidays, including Valentine's and St. Swithin's, at triple pay. Provide transportation to and from business in a Continental, and throw in the use of the car during my off-hours. Provide an expense account which would cover such items as rent, food, drugs, clothing, entertainment expenses and the income tax.

So I wouldn't be happy? Well, I could try. As it is now, a lot of us are living something less than the life of this Reilly who wrote the books on how to beat the old game of living.

New Look At 'Retaliation' And His

WASHINGTON — Two former secretaries of state in previous Democratic administrations have just come out with magazine articles that are bound to add fuel to the flames of controversy—one with respect to the part Alger Hiss played in the Yalta conference, and the other as to what really was meant by the policy of "instant retaliation" against a potential enemy as announced in January 1954 by Secretary of State Dulles.

Dean Acheson, Truman's secretary of state, writing in "Harper's Magazine," criticizes Mr. Dulles for daring to say, in effect, that the United States would retaliate instantly if Soviet Russia attacked our side. Mr. Acheson quotes the Dulles speech accurately but then proceeds to give it his own meaning.

Mr. Dulles in a public speech had said that "so long as our basic concepts were unclear, our military leaders could not be selective in building our military power" and that, "if an enemy could pick his time and place and method of warfare," then we could be committed to fight all over the world in local wars with old and new weapons. Instead, Mr. Dulles revealed that the President and the National Security Council had made some "basic policy decisions." He added:

"The basic decision was to depend primarily on a great capacity to retaliate, instantly, by means and at places of our choosing. Now the Department of Defense and the Joint Chiefs of Staff can shape our military establishment to fit what is our policy, instead of having to try to be ready to meet the enemy's many choices."

The key words are "capacity" to retaliate and "our" policy. Mr. Acheson mistakenly assumes that the word "our" meant action by America alone and that the military men of the United States wouldn't consult allied military commands on retaliation. He says our allies were "stunned" by this. Yet Mr. Truman, when President, made it clear that the United States could not pledge itself to force instant retaliation, if America were directly attacked and the consultations would be engaged in if they were practical. The allies have understood that America's purpose, in the event of an atomic bomb being dropped on the United States or any of its allies, would be to effectuate a policy of "instant retaliation" with the minimum of delay. Obviously if there were time, the Allies would be consulted.

Just what purpose Mr. Acheson expects to serve by implying that the Democratic party, for which he endeavors to speak, would, if entrusted with power next time, repudiate the policy of "instant retaliation," is not clear. The voters will be much interested during the 1956 campaign to learn from the lips of the Democratic presidential nominee, whoever he is, whether "instant retaliation" is to be discarded when an atom bomb is dropped on American territory or on the territory of its allies and a long parliamentary debate or discussion is to ensue while more bombs are dropped and our cities are destroyed. It doesn't sound practical.

As for former Secretary of State Byrnes, his article in "Collier's" states that, while he doesn't know the extent of the influence by Alger Hiss on Secretary of State Stettinius or on Harry Hopkins, aide to President Roosevelt, "It is only fair to say that the mistakes of Yalta... were made on issues and on considerations in which Mr. Hiss could hardly have been a decisive or dominant figure."

But that is a mere guess. Mr. Stettinius himself, in a book published in November 1949 — when Hiss already had become a controversial figure but before his conviction on a perjury charge at a second trial — has this to say:

"Hiss performed brilliantly throughout the Dumbarton Oaks conversations, the Yalta conference, the San Francisco conference and the first meeting of the United Nations Assembly in London. I always had reason to believe that Hiss acted honorably and patriotically in the performance of his duties at these conferences. The following pages of this book reveal his contribution at the Yalta conference."

A glance at the index shows sixteen separate references to Hiss. An examination of the work done by Hiss as referred to in the Stettinius book gives an impression of influence. Hiss often sat directly behind President Roosevelt at the conference table and attended some private consultations with the President and Secretary of State Stettinius in which Mr. Byrnes didn't participate.

Also, the main sins of Yalta, which Mr. Hiss didn't mention in his own article in "Pocket Book Magazine" this week, are the secret agreements which were not made public when the praise of Yalta to which he refers swept the press. Nor did Mr. Byrnes know of the concessions made in the Far East. Indeed Mr. Stettinius concedes that this secret was even kept from him.

Mr. Byrnes' thesis in his magazine article was not so much to argue the merits of the Hiss case — for, he says, the verdict of the jury was in his judgment right — but to point out that the whole Department of State was often blamed by critics for the misconduct of Hiss. He makes a good point there, but it is also true that the Department of State repeatedly covered up other misconduct by its employees and to this day there are officers in the foreign service who, writing in the "Foreign Service Journal," keep on giving the impression that nobody has been guilty of misconduct. Had some of these able men, including the former secretaries of state, been quicker to denounce the influence of subversive persons in government, there would today be far less criticism of the Department of State or the foreign service.

Notes From Europe

Trieste Awaits Turn Of The Wheel Of Politics

By HJOSTON HARTE

TRISTE (By Mail)—The traveler who yearns to attempt to solve the economic problems of cities or to find out what makes a business community click should visit Trieste. Every popular movement in Trieste has resulted in thwarting its economic growth and every attempt to cure its political and social problems has curtailed its trade territory and circumscribed its commerce.

In America our cities grow or fail because of the use we make of our resources. A city is almost entirely what the men who live in it or once lived in it have made of it. In Europe these same forces follow their weight, but the imponderable element is the continual political struggle which keeps the country either in war, trying to recover from war, or preparing for another.

Situated at the head of the almost land-locked Adriatic with a beautiful deepwater port, Trieste has had a history that dates back to the 13th Century before Christ. Every conqueror has coveted the natural advantages of its superb location. The high Alps become low mountains and hills north of Trieste. Railroads and highways from the center of Europe came here to seek to nearest tidewater.

Military men through the ages have considered it an essential supply base to guard the historic Lubiana Gap, the traditional gateway for the armies of the East to drive into the Po Valley. Here the Turks came into Europe time and time again from 539 to 751. Our own general staff is concerned today with keeping Trieste in friendly hands.

The Roman Emperor Augustus, 33 B.C., and Trajan, 96-117 A.D., and other Romans recognized its importance and fortified and beautified the city. The Goths, the Turks, Charlemagne, and Napoleon held it as a part of their realms. Under Empress Maria Theresa of Austria it became the principal port of entry and export of the Austrian Empire, and through it, all of central Europe.

In 1719 Trieste became a free port under the sponsorship of Austrian. During the 40-year fruitful reign of Maria Theresa, Trieste enjoyed an expanded trading area and unusual prosperity. Napoleon recognized the city's importance and though he occupied it three times he did much to enlarge and strengthen the city's commercial activities. But with his fall the port lost its freedom through the Treaty of Vienna and along with what is now Yugoslavia became an integral part of the Austro-Hungarian Empire. Trieste became Austria's principal naval base.

With the creation of a united Italy in 1870, Trieste, or some part of it at least, set up a cry to join Italy. Eight days before the signing of the Armistice on Nov. 11, 1918, the Italian army "liberated" Trieste. In the realignment of territory and trading areas through the Treaty of Versailles, Trieste tried to hang on to its position as a distributing center. It has been a losing battle ever since.

In 1947 Trieste became a sort of free port again. But Yugoslavia and Italy could not agree on its management. The Big Four could not agree on a governor for the port, so the British and American armies stayed in the city. It was a case where we were in and the Russians were not willing to start a war to drive us out.

In October, 1954, a memorandum agreement was signed between Italy, Yugoslavia, Britain, and the United States which divided the city into two zones, giving one to Italy and the other to Yugoslavia. With this our occupation army moved out and with it went the dollar support of 8,000 American soldiers and their food and maintenance. It was the hardest economic blow the city had suffered since the Versailles Treaty, but like the Versailles Treaty, its signing was hailed in Trieste by several days of celebrations.

The agreement signed in London is supposed to settle Trieste, but neither Italy nor Yugoslavia recognizes it as a settlement. They call it a "memorandum agreement," which in diplomacy means that should anything turn up, either side can reopen the agreement and try to take advantage of any opening the new situation provides. It is this sort of thing that has kept Europe in turmoil since the dawn of civilization. Actually Trieste is merely a sleeping city awaiting the next turn in the wheel of power politics. Its great disadvantages is its historic strategic position at a crucial location on the earth's surface.

Now part of Trieste has been liberated and in so doing a great deal of its trade territory has been lost. It is adding its unemployment to that of Italy. Trieste is supported by an extensive system of public works paid for by the Italian government. Italy can afford this expenditure just so long. Any curtailment in Marshall Plan funds is certain to be felt in Trieste.

To a Texan Trieste has a special interest. It was from Trieste that Maximilian and Carlotta sailed away on their abortive expedition to Mexico. Their beautiful castle, Miramare, is about five miles from downtown Trieste. It is a dream of a palace, situated on a solid rock cliff overlooking the warm, clear, blue Adriatic. The castle is now a museum. It is furnished as it was when these ill-advised adventurers sailed away for Mexico.

Divided Study
BOGOTA (U)—The University of the Andes arranges to have some of its 600 students divide their studies between the university here and the universities of Texas, Illinois and Pittsburgh in the United States.

It's part of a program to provide better technical training. President of the University of the Andes is Alberto Lleras Camargo who was president of Colombia from 1945 to 1946.

"It's almost impossible to study technical courses here," Lleras said, "particularly engineering. By sending our students to the United States we give them the advantage of advanced technical facilities and a splendid academic atmosphere."

Too Healthy
MONTPELIER, Vt. (U)—Vermont state employees are so healthy they're mulling up the state retirement system.

George R. Buck, New York actuarial expert, hired by Vermont to check on retirement programs, didn't exactly criticize state employees for bringing on a situation which may eventually require a whole new set of rates and graphs. But he did say:

"The actual number of deaths and the actual salaries cancelled by death were less than expected. This condition is not favorable to the retirement system from a financial viewpoint and tends to offset favorable withdrawal experience."

Don't Boone Wanted
RADFORD, Va. (U)—There is a warrant out for Daniel Boone's arrest in Montgomery County, Virginia, dated August 4, 1775.

Boone and a fellow named William Cowan, owed Alexander Baine, a Financie merchant, 45 pounds, 18 shillings and 10 pence plus 50 shillings damages. The legend is that this debt was for supplies used by Boone in his westward trek.

The warrant was never served and it explains why on the back. "Gone to Kentucky," it says. Judge C. W. Crush has a photograph of the warrant.

Standing Debt
HOUSTON (U)—A woman who had to stand up, wouldn't pay her city bus fare. I said, When I stand, I don't," she said. She didn't either.

Bible Words for Today

2 CORINTHIANS 9:7—"Each one must do as he has made up his mind, not reluctantly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver." (RSV)

This Scripture refers to the church at Corinth which, after a year, had not paid a promised pledge to help the needy. And they are not ashamed.

Many people have no sense of shame in not supporting the Church adequately. A careful analysis of all giving in the United States indicates that almost 95 per cent is merely token and not real giving.

The Bible says that giving is a matter of principle. It must not be done grudgingly or out of necessity. It must be planned for in prayer for God "loves a cheerful giver." The word cheerful means hilarious. And that means "having the time of your life." When we give in this spirit both the giver and those who receive, says the Bible, will say thanks be unto God. Instead of raising money, let us give gifts.

Helping Hands

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (U)—The First Federal Savings and Loan Assn. was ready for the inevitable crowd that gathered when construction was started on its new building here.

The company distributed small cards certifying that the bearer "has been duly elected to an exclusive charter membership in the Council Bluffs chapter of the Society of Sidewalk Engineers and Superintendents of America."

Came Clean

HOUSTON (U)—Robert L. Manley pleaded guilty to indictments of four burglaries at a laundry.

Dist. Judge Edmund Duggan asked him why he picked on that particular place.

"I had a grudge against the laundry," Manley said. "I went there one day just past closing time and the man wouldn't give me my clothes."

Ancient Bulb Found

KANAKEE, Ill. (U)—An old carbon filament light bulb has been found inside the county courthouse dome. Still in operating condition, it probably was placed there when the building was built in 1911.

Television forced its retirement because carbon filament bulbs create interference which appears as a band across the TV screen.

Norman Vincent Peale The Silver Lining Is Always There

A few years ago I learned an important lesson on a trip to Florida. I had been even more busy than usual, but had managed to find ten days during which I could get away. I wanted to go to Florida for some winter sunshine and to have an uninterrupted period in which to work on a book I was writing.

Upon arrival I found the usual sultry climate with golden sunshine and balmy air. I anticipated ten days of pleasant recreation and constructive work.

But fate decreed otherwise. For twenty-four hours after my arrival I began to feel alternately hot and cold. The hotel doctor, a friend of long standing, came to see me. "You don't look so good," he observed. I waved him away.

"There's nothing wrong with me," I insisted. "I practice positive thinking. I'm O.K."

"Well," he answered, "let's put a thermometer into your mouth and we'll see what it thinks." He did just that, and looking at the temperature it registered, ordered me to bed. I was there for seven of the ten days I had allowed for my Florida visit.

The doctor came to see me regularly and, being an old friend, told me all about his troubles. He was forty-seven, with a bad back and other physical ailments. And he had three children and a busy medical practice. Yet the United States Army was recalling him to active duty as a major because doctors were needed to care for the large number of men in service during the Korean trouble.

I could see he was very low in spirit; so I said to him, "Joe, you are looking at it in the wrong way. Maybe you're in a rut here. Maybe God is taking you out of this pleasant routine to make a better doctor out of you. You are a fine physician, but any man in any line can always improve. This may not really be a hardship or a total loss after all. The Army may even teach you many things about your profession you couldn't learn here. You should

Marquis Childs Plenty Of Worries For The West

GENEVA — Beneath the surface optimism resolutely maintained there is growing concern over the worsening position of the West in this new era of the big smile.

It is not the second round of the Geneva negotiations that is worrying Western delegates. Round No. 2 is conceded to be a propaganda contest and it is believed that in such a contest the stubborn refusal of Soviet Russia to consider the basic issues that stand in the way of peace will be amply demonstrated to the world.

The concern is over what is happening outside the framework of the conference. Soviet intervention in the Middle East with the sale of Communist arms to Egypt has caused widespread alarm among the British. This is a dagger pointed at Africa, which is the last source of raw materials for a Britain storn of empire. The Arab countries are the source of Europe's oil supply, and while in an emergency Latin America could fill the gap this would be much more costly in money and in time.

What to do about the sale of Czechoslovak arms that have begun to arrive in the Egyptian port of Alexandria is something else. The Western foreign ministers are reported to feel that this has not made any real difference in the balance of power in the area since Israel still has a great preponderance of military force. The inclination, therefore, is to avoid any hasty action that might increase the acute tension along the Israeli-Arab borders.

The consequences of the arms deal are not confined to the Egypt-Israeli dispute. It has encouraged Arabs everywhere to believe that the Communists are on their side in what inflamed Arab nationalists see as a struggle between the colonial-minded West and the anticolonial East.

The failure of France to resolve the crisis in Morocco has sharpened the division, which was made evident in the United Nations vote that went against the French on the question of Algeria.

The numerous troubles besetting the French raise in an evermore acute form the question of the solidarity of Western Europe. The blow of the Saar vote, which went overwhelmingly against France and for the same objectives. The basic objective grace on the official level in Paris.

The wooing of France is part of the massive diplomatic offensive that began with the visit of Khrushchev and Bulganin to Yugoslavia last spring. The Russians have been playing under new rules presenting the face of goodwill and friendship at every opportunity while driving for the same objectives. The basic objective is, of course, the dissolution of the Western alliance and the withdrawal of American forces from Europe.

There is all-too-little evidence that the West has understood the need for a new tactic. Dulles is taking advantage of a break in the conference to spend part of a day with Marshal Tito on the Yugoslav leader's island retreat of Brioni. While this gesture is better late than never, it is a fact that although Dulles has been in office for nearly three years and has visited almost every other country this side of the Iron Curtain he has never gone to Yugoslavia.

The West, it should be added, has had some bad luck. At the very moment when President Eisenhower's prestige was most needed to strengthen the West in the effort to negotiate a lasting truce in the cold war the President was stricken with a heart attack. His removal from the political scene for his illness in the eyes of Europe amounts to what has been a grievous loss.

There is another ailing leader on whom the eyes of both West and East are fixed. Chancellor Adenauer's illness is more serious, according to reports out of Germany, than the official bulletins describing his convalescence from bronchial pneumonia would have it. With so much staked on Adenauer's leadership of a Germany aligned with the West his recovery is essential at this moment.

Phenix City, Ala. Is Subject Of Feature At Ritz

Alabama's notorious "City of Sin" is the subject of "The Phenix City Story" at the Ritz Thursday-Saturday.

The story opens with John Patterson just getting out of the Army and returning to his home in Phenix City.

The vice and gambling in the town is run by Rhet Tanner. Tanner visits Patterson's father and asks if the well-known lawyer plans to join the Russell Betterment Association.

The older Patterson tells the vice-lord that he does not plan to join the group. But the younger Patterson decides that the only way for Phenix City to become respectable is for everyone to join the RBA.

The RBA nominates the elder Patterson for Attorney General of the state and he wins the Democratic nomination. This is the same as winning the election.

Communist Methods Are Told In 'Trial,' Ritz Feature Today

Angel Chavez had his first date with a girl and he didn't know that she had a weak heart. During the evening, she died from too much excitement on a lonely beach. Angel is arrested and accused of murder.

This one incident sets into motion a vast and complex plot that won for "Trial" the 1955 National Book Award. Brought to the screen, the film stars Glenn Ford, Arthur Kennedy, John Hodiak, Dorothy McGuire, Katy Jurado and Rafael Campos.

When Angel (Rafael Campos) is accused, lawyer Barney Castle (Arthur Kennedy) volunteers the services of his office to clear the boy. David Blake (Glenn Ford) is assigned to the case to defend the youth in court. Blake is a college professor who is attempting to enter private practice and prove that he is a good lawyer.

Castle assigns Blake to the case because he thinks that Blake is incompetent enough to lose it. Castle is a Communist and hopes to use the Angel case as a martyr for the party.

Blake finds out that he is being used as a Communist "front" only after the trial has begun. Finally, after the case is settled, Blake has still another front to defend. He is attacked by an Investigating Committee for being a Communist.

"Trial" contains all the original material covered in the book. The many character problems are brought to the screen exactly as described in the book.

John Hodiak plays the ambitious district attorney. Dorothy McGuire plays Castle's secretary who comes to the aid of Blake as he tries honestly to defend the boy. Juana Hernandez plays the Negro judge who hears the case. He has a two-fold purpose, to serve justice and to see that he doesn't let his personal prejudice enter into his decisions.

Katy Jurado plays Angel's mother. She becomes willing to see her son hanged if it will help the Communist cause. The screenplay was written by the author of the book, Don Mankiewicz.

This film stars John Hodiak in one of his last parts. Hodiak died last week while working on another picture. Some of the star's outstanding portrayals have been "The Caine Mutiny" and "Battleground."

Rafael Campos, the subject of this film, also starred in "Blackboard Jungle." The latter picture was the youth's first film role. Glenn Ford too, had starring honors in the picture. "Trial" is the fourth new film to star Ford this year. The others were "Americano," "Blackboard Jungle," and "Interrupted Melody."

"Trial" begins today at the Ritz and will play through Wednesday.

Polish Women Say Men Run The Country

By TOM REEDY

WARSAW, Poland (U)—Communist Poland is a young man's country today, and not all the women are happy about the way things are run.

Men 30 to 45 hold almost all jobs the party controls. Prime Minister Josef Cyrankiewicz, 45, has held top office seven years. Chief editors are in their 30s. Thaddeus Krachowsky, 36, supervises Orbita Corp., the state's version of the American Express Co. He operates night clubs, hotels, ticket agencies—and travels to the West frequently to pick up new ideas.

To hold an important job two things are important: youthful vigor and a record of having resisted the Nazis. Party membership helps but is not necessary; there are only 1,600,000 members in the 27 million population.

The young party member differs from the Communist one seen in East Germany. He spends his first earnings buying a good necktie. The East German Red feels that he has to show his social leanings by throwing away his necktie.

The Pole, be he Communist or anything else, is finicky about his appearance. He understands the blue suit technique and at New Year's time much of Warsaw trots around in dinner jackets.

The Polish women have their doubts. One well-educated 26-year-old commented:

"The Polish man today thinks he is an almighty. He thinks it is enough to kiss our hand publicly when we start to dance and when the dance ends. That's as far as his etiquette goes."

"All this talk of the emancipation of women is nonsense. Surely, we can work in jobs but unless we are married, we cannot get a decent place to live and certainly no place where we can entertain a caller."

"Do the men do anything about that? They are busy strutting around and getting drunk. Every time we see an American, or an Englishman or a Frenchman, we discover that the Polish man of today has lost his manners."

Bachelor girls have to double up in single-room dwellings while the men get the pick of apartments regardless of marital status.

A young party official countered: "The women expect us to get everything done at once. We've been busy and we haven't any time for fancy things. The women blame us because there are not so many good dresses and coats and shoes in the shops. They forget that not long ago there weren't even any shops."

However, the battle of the sexes is going politically and socially, the cities and villages are teeming with kids. Somebody is getting along with somebody else.

'Trial'

CINEMA COMMENT

By GLENN COOTES

Hollywood has finally hit upon the way to beat television. Furnish good films and load them up with big names. Proof of this has been the better pictures to be released this year. Last year, you may remember, the film capital tried to beat television with wide screens, color, and stereophonic sound. But, although these things helped, they failed to be enough. The public still wanted good material with good actors.

This year it has been done. Looking down a list of the releases this year, all the contenders for the Academy Awards have several things in common. They are all taken from a best selling book, only a few make use of color or stereophonic sound, and almost all of them have more than two "big name" performers. In fact, most of them have as many as four or five and even more.

Here are the ones I pick as being about the best so far this year: "Battle Cry," "Bad Day at Black Rock," "A Man Called Peter," "Blackboard Jungle," "Not As A Stranger," "Cobweb," "Interrupted Melody," "To Hell and Back," "Mister Roberts," "The Left Hand of God," "Love Is A Many-Splendored Thing," and "Lacey Gallant." Chances are "Trial" will also fit

Marlon Brando returns to the Terrace screen this week in "Viva Zapata," a film that has been described as his best acting performance. Co-starred with him is Jean Peters.

Grocers Have Pumpkin Stock

According to the Encyclopedia Americana, the pumpkin is a "Cucurbita pepo, of the order Cucurbitaceae," but to the youngster next door, it is "That Jack O'Lantern sittin' in the window over yonder."

And for those who haven't bought a pumpkin for making their Halloween "Jack," most grocers in Big Spring have them. Prices quoted range from 10 to 15 cents per pound, with each pumpkin weighing three-five pounds.

Most grocers will stock pumpkins through the Thanksgiving season for making pies, but the pumpkin's value to scare "trick or treaters" will expire following the activities Monday night.

Phone Employees Receive Benefits

SAN ANGELO (U)—Agreement on distribution of $175,000 added annual employee benefits has been reached by the General Telephone Co. of the Southwest and the CIO Communications Workers.

The figure was reached during July negotiations. The increase will affect 2,400 employees in five states and will become effective tomorrow.

Employees whose pay is less than $4 an hour will receive 2 or 3 cents more per hour. Other increases are 4 cents for employees receiving $1 per hour but not now receiving the maximum scale and 5 cents per hour for employees now receiving the maximum salary.

Russ Accusation Rejected By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has rejected a Russian contention that it violated postwar agreements by permitting West Germany to join the Atlantic pact and other Western Defense alliances.

In a formal note, the State Department also restated yesterday its view that these same postwar agreements make Russia, not East Germany, responsible for "normal functioning of communications" between West Germany and Berlin.

The note was the second formal U. S. comment on a Soviet-East German agreement of Sept. 20 which appeared to give East Germany the right to control Allied traffic into West Berlin.

Pleads Guilty To Post Office Theft

FORT WORTH (AP) — Richard Kent, 30, a former convict, pleaded guilty yesterday to charges of post-office theft and transporting a stolen vehicle across state lines. He admitted burglarizing the Eagle Nest, N. M., postoffice May 15 of $210 cash and stamps valued at $177.50. He admitted driving a 1956 automobile from Duncan, Okla., to here.

Uncle Ray: Modern Schools Offer Enjoyment For Pupils

By RAMON COFFMAN

A short letter has come to me from Eileen Finn, a little girl only seven years of age. She writes: "I like to go to school because the teachers are nice to me. I like to study and draw in school." That letter has puzzled me. I have wondered why a seven-year-old child went to the trouble of sending me those words without any other message in her letter. Whatever the reason, the letter deals with a subject of importance—the school. There have been schools of one kind or another since ancient times. The Greeks had them, and so did the Romans. Universal education, however, is something of modern times. Laws to promote the education of every boy and girl have become common only during the past hundred years. They have been put into force in several countries of Europe, also in Australia and in parts of the Americas. It is one thing for public laws to require all children to attend school. It is another thing for children to enjoy their education.

The schools of the past century offered little enjoyment to most children. To some extent (but not entirely) those schools suggested those in the old song which speaks of: "Reading and 'riting and 'rithmetic. Taught to the tune of a hickory stick."

Big changes have come to education during the present century. Teachers, principals and school superintendents have done a great deal to make school life pleasant for the pupils.

Present-day school life can hardly be described as entirely "heavy-duty." There are tasks to perform, and pupils need to work hard if their minds are to grow as well as possible. If pupils do their part, most teachers will be as "nice" as those mentioned in the note from Eileen Finn.

Agreed Decree Entered In Suit

An agreed settlement was approved Friday in district court in a "friendly" suit for damages filed by Virgil Paul Holden against Mrs. Dollie M. Anderson.

The judgment was for $1,850 for Holden and his son, Virgil Paul Jr. The suit resulted from an accident April 9 at 13th and Gregg. A motorcycle driven by young Holden was in collision with an automobile driven by Mrs. Anderson, according to the petition. Holden, who filed the suit on behalf of his son, asked judgment for $5,000 for injuries and $290 for damage to the motorcycle.

The judgment was for $1,350 for Holden and $500 for his son. The suit was filed the same day the judgment was entered.

In another suit filed Friday, Coe-den Petroleum Corporation asks judgment for $14,718.33 against E. H. Durkee of Levelland. The plaintiff alleges $11,718.33 is due on an account and asks judgment for that sum plus $3,000 in attorney fees. A compromise judgment for $2,000 has been entered in the compensation suit of L. J. Millsap, next friend for Roy Millapp, versus the Texas Employers Insurance Association. An Industrial Accident Board award was set aside.

Magic vs. Medicine

This conflict is ageless. Man has always been intrigued by the mysterious. The successes of the sorcerer were proclaimed and his failures minimized. With the knowledge that he is to die, man has attempted to conceal this fatalistic viewpoint by encouraging the sorcerer of the past and the charlatan of today.

Our Story: THE WOUNDED VAL IS RECOUNTING HIS BOYHOOD ADVENTURES TO HIS CHILDREN, AND CONTINUES: "WE WERE ON OUR QUEST WITH THE MAID ILENE TO RESCUE HER PARENTS FROM THE OGRE WHEN SUDDENLY AN EVIL RED-CLAD KNIGHT CHALLENGED SIR GAWAIN AND CUT HIM DOWN. THEN AS HE SEIZED THE MAID I DREW MY SWORD AND CHARGED."

"THE RED KNIGHT WOULD TROUBLE NO ONE MORE. BUT FOR SIR GAWAIN, THIS QUEST WAS ENDED... STILL HE SMILED THOUGH HIS LIFE WAS EBBING."

"LEAVING SIR GAWAIN AND ILENE AT A HERMITAGE NEARBY, I RODE ON. LATE THAT DAY I REACHED THE CASTLE AND BLEW A BLAST ON THE GREAT HORN."

"THE GATE ROSE AND A HOARSE VOICE CRIED: 'WHAT FOOL SEEKS THE OGRE OF SINISTER WOOD?' A TROOP OF HORSEMEN CAME SURGING OUT. I RACED AWAY."

"THAT NIGHT IN THE MOAT I CAPTURED A GOOSE, AND THEN BY MEANS OF POLES WEDGED IN THE CASTLE WALL I MOUNTED TO THE ROOF."

"FROM THE YELLOW SKIN OF THE GOOSE, I FASHIONED A HIDEOUS MASK. THE OGRE RULED BY FEAR. I COULD PLAY THAT GAME TOO!"

"I SWUNG BY A ROPE INTO THE OGRE'S ROOM, SHRIEKING WILDLY. WHITE WITH FRIGHT, HE GASPED AND SANK TO THE FLOOR. HE WHO HAD LIVED BY TERROR DIED BY TERROR."

How a Farm Family Promotes International Goodwill

ALL OF US desire world peace, but what can we as individuals do to achieve it? As a farm family living just 30 miles from the University of Iowa, we decided to invite foreign students to visit us. In the past two years, graduate students from Germany, Egypt, Brazil, and India have spent several days each with us.

And others from Germany, Argentina, France, and the Philippines have visited us more briefly. We have tried to show them how an American farm family lives and works and plays, that they might understand our country more completely than would be possible by just visiting our cities, studying at our universities, and traveling through our agricultural areas.

We undertook our project with the goal of aiding international understanding in our small way. From the wonderful comments of the foreign students who have visited us, perhaps we have. Also, we discovered that we have become students, benefiting from personal contact with other nationalities. My husband and I have had our horizons expanded, and our boy and girl will find their geography lessons, world history, and current news alive instead of remote. —Mrs. J. W. Birney, Washington, Iowa.

A Lesson in Thankfulness

Ever since I was a little girl, I had yearned for beautiful hands but never had them. I gazed longingly—even enviously—at another woman's hands, marveling at the beauty of her long, tapering fingers and soft, smooth skin.

I had always thought my hands were coarse and ugly until one day, on a busy street, I saw her. My heart skipped a beat. She walked with an air of confidence, her face mirroring the radiance of a woman who had conquered her fears. She smiled genuinely at the people she met. Apparently, I thought, she is blessed with everything a woman could wish. Then I noticed that her left hand was missing.—Mrs. E. P. Haynie, Sadler, Tex.

"God Made This"

Isn't it funny? A painter signs his name at the bottom of his canvas, a writer at the end of his verse, an architect on his building; a musician and his concerto become identified; all the modern conveniences we use today had an inventor. Everything is "labeled" and "signed."

Yet it is strange, isn't it, that the wind, sea, clouds, the seasons, our senses are often taken for granted or not even appreciated? It seems the greatest Inventor of all neglected to attach a sign reading: "God made this!"—Miss L. T. Grandchamp, Lowell, Mass.

Taking the Pain Out of House-Painting

When my husband painted our house again this year, I decided to do something to relieve the monotony. I marked several slips of paper as "Surprise No.

1," "Surprise No. 2," etc., and then stuck them on the shingles some distance apart. I made up little parcels of goodies—a package of my husband's favorite cashews, an empty ice-cream cone which he could bring in to be filled—wrapped them in heavy paper, and enclosed a note in each.

My husband's work simply sped along after that, as he anticipated what his next surprise would be. He also had many more brief rest periods in which to give his painting arm a "breather." This year, he actually enjoyed painting the house.—Mrs. Charles McGee, Utica, N. Y.

We Pay $10 for Your Letters

We welcome your views on any subject of general interest. If we print your letter, you will receive $10. Letters must be signed, but names will be withheld on request. We reserve the right to edit contributions. Address Letters Editor, Family Weekly, 179 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago 1, Ill.

I was just thinking...

... THE FIRST thing I did when I got home was turn the red knob on the clown's fat stomach. The house was so still and I had been away so long. The clown's ridiculous face shone in the starlight and his mechanical stomach played "Rock-A-Bye Baby."

Always when I have been away the town seems different. The streets are hushed and the changes leap silently out. The new project at Black Hawk Creek, the mailbox bent a little, the ashes of the fire on Fourth Street.

I am a stranger. The house lies smaller in moonlight. The door complains and there is a vacant smell inside. And emptiness I cannot fill.

Dust lies thick on the tables and the refrigerator is sterile and empty. I sense the old magazines and the withered flowers in the vases before I see them.

The mouse has scampered here and the birds have flown at the sightless windows. The spider has spun in quiet delight and the house has muttered to itself all these weeks.

Now that I am here, I cannot make it mine again. Not tonight nor tomorrow but only when the strangeness of homecoming has left me and when I have learned the daily comings and goings of my miniature world.

But there will always be the things I am not to learn. The quick drip of an unused faucet, the shudder of the furnace, the impact of rain on the walls, the ooze of the walk in the warming sun.

I have turned on the lights and wrapped my house in brilliance. I have turned down the clean sheets and eased my body into the familiar places of the old bed. I am home again and I have dreamed of this moment.

But it is not so wonderful as I had dreamed. I am too tired, perhaps, and not yet a part of it.

The clown stares at me with his laughing eyes. He sings more slowly and I pray for him to finish before he stops. I lie in the silent house and hold my breath.

"... in the treetop," he grins. "When the wind blows ... the cradle will rock ... when the ... bough ... breaks ..."

Grandparents

by Edith G. Neisser author of the Public Affairs pamphlet, "How to Be a Good Mother-in-Law and Grandmother"

Grandfather has more time than Daddy to take the children on small trips and excursions.

IT'S A FORTUNATE youngster who has grandparents, for they can make a unique contribution to the lives of their children's children, as well as to their married sons and daughters. Each generation is likely to have different ideas of what that contribution should be, and when and how it should be made. But where there is agreement on how grandparents can help, you'll find that the three generations get along better together and get more out of life.

Happy association with grandparents can supply the extra measure of affection that adds to a child's self-confidence; and Grandma's house can be a home away from home which introduces a youngster to customs that are new, yet not distressingly unfamiliar.

Grandfather may have more time than Daddy for trips and excursions, for answering questions and being a sympathetic listener. And grandparents are a link with the past, strengthening a child's sense of having roots.

If you are of the middle generation, you undoubtedly regard Grandma as the welcome extra pair of hands to tide you over the days Junior has the measles or when you think you'll explode unless you get an hour to yourself.

No matter how adult you are, subconsciously you probably still are more comfortable when you feel you have your parents' approval. Your strong dislike of their interference in your affairs with advice or criticism is evidence of your deep desire for their good opinion. While this desire is not always apparent, it is one more reason for creating a pleasant relationship with your parents and parents-in-law, and for making good use of them.

"To make good use of" is a far cry from "to use," when the phrases are applied to people. Grandparents usually are eager to be of service, but they're quick to resent any feeling of being exploited.

There's a right and wrong way

Grandmother Fleming spoke for many of her contemporaries when she described how her daughter calls on her for help:

"Dorothy thinks nothing of phoning at 8 o'clock in the evening to say it would be so nice if I'd run over and stay with the children because she and her husband just have to see the movies at the neighborhood theater. She'll even call on a Sunday morning, announce that the boys are mine for the day, and bring them right over.

"Because I live alone, Dorothy thinks she's doing me a favor by letting me watch her children. In a way she is, and I love every minute I'm with them, but Dorothy never seems to realize that even a widow may have plans of her own or want to be quietly by herself. I'd be more willing to drop everything and take care of the children if, once in a while, Dorothy invited me to her home when I wasn't needed as a sitter."

The Palmer families, junior and senior, have worked things out more satisfactorily. Every Wednesday Jack Palmer leaves his two small girls at his parents' apartment on his way to work and picks them up again at night.

Jack's wife Nancy knows she can count on Wednesday for herself and the elder Mrs. Palmer can plan her time, too, around the one day of the week she takes charge of her granddaughters. Grandma Palmer likes to take the girls to the park where the swings and slides are a thrill for them. Sometimes she drives them to a nearby farm where they can see the cows being milked. These outings are a great treat for the youngsters because their mother is too busy to include such things in her daily routine.

Occasionally the little girls are invited to spend a night with their grandparents, but Mr. Palmer has made it clear that he and his wife have a life of their own and cannot be counted on as sitters whenever Jack and Nancy want an evening out. Nobody feels imposed upon, and the three generations enjoy one another's company when they are together.

Don't take them for granted

Even if one or both of your parents share your home, it makes for better feeling all around if the older person is asked, "Have you anything planned for today? May we leave the children with you?"

As one grandmother put it:

"I'm a pushover for baby sitting when my plans are taken into consideration, but when I'm taken for granted, I feel I'm being pushed around."

Then, too, there's nothing easy about tending a grandchild. After one session, an exhausted grandfather wrote his daughter:

"When your three girls left, your mother and I came to a decision. Grandchildren are a blessing, but at our age blessings are more appreciated if they come singly! Three children, even three as lovable as yours, are too much of a good thing. How about letting us have them one at a time hereafter?"

There are real advantages in following this granddad's advice. On a solo visit, the youngster has a chance to be "special" and have his grandparents all to himself. At the same time, the brothers and sisters left at home can enjoy a greater share of their parents' attention. Such separations also have been known to reduce the quarreling that is inevitable between brothers and sisters.

Does it confuse the children?

Some mothers today have this complaint: "How can I let my children go to their grandmother's when she makes rules they don't have to follow at home? The poor things get all confused."

It's true that an infant is better off if anyone substituting for his mother handles him as nearly as possible as she does; but once a child is out of the baby stage, slight differences in household customs can be an excellent educational experience for him.

One of the dividends in visiting Grandma can be the discovery that each family has its own way of cooking, getting ready for bed, or using the furniture. Even small children can accept different ways if they feel their elders respect these differences.

"My mamma doesn't care if I slam the door," says five-year-old Peter.

"Slamming doors isn't bad, Peter, and at your house it doesn't bother anyone," Grandfather replies. "But here we have to close the doors softly because people in other apartments along the hall don't like so much noise."

This was a state of affairs Peter could understand. Had his grandfather taken the position that it was time this young one learned not to talk back, or that his parents hadn't taught him properly, the door-slamming issue might have confused the boy and become an issue between his parents and grandparents.

As for the spoiling of which the older generation always is accused, some relaxation of the rules can be a tonic to a child who is always on his best behavior.

Incongruous as it may sound, when you make good use of the grandparents in your family, you are really doing them a favor because contacts with fresh, young lives can keep older people supple. Knowing you are needed is one of the best antidotes for aging, and there is considerable truth to the proverb that grandchildren are one of the best reasons for having children.

Stranger than fiction is this
 that befell a prosperous Tennessee planter more than a century ago.

by William T. Brannon

The Mystery of the

IN THE EARLY years of the 19th Century, two social opposites were the most prosperous planters in the Red River community of Robertson County, Tennessee. John Bell, the social leader, had a big plantation and many slaves. With his wife, seven sons, and two daughters, Bell lived in a spacious home set back a mile from the road. A lane, with a footpath beside it, led from the highway through a wooded park to the imposing front lawn.

Pride of the Bell family was teen-aged Betsy, a beautiful blue-eyed blonde, for whom her father built a school and engaged teachers, among them, Prof. Richard Powell, who subsequently became her suitor. But Betsy preferred young Joshua Gardner.

Even more wealthy than Bell was Kate Batts, a planter whose business also included weaving and manufacturing clothing. In that day, no decent woman went into business, so the leading hostesses never invited her to their homes.

Kate longed to be accepted socially, and used her business as a pretext to get into the drawing rooms of the big planters. Though Mrs. John Bell was friendly, Kate was never invited to the home; and she blamed Bell for this.

BELL WITCH

"Poor old Jack Bell, his muscles are sore," said the female voice in mock sympathy.

One day she told him: "You have your broad acres and your comfortable home and the future may look bright. But wait and see what sad changes are coming to you and a certain member of your family."

Bell disregarded the threat until one day when it seemed that pins in the saddle were sticking him. Puzzled, he examined the saddle.

"What's the matter, old Jack Bell? Can't you find the pins?" It was a shrill feminine voice, but Bell could see nobody and decided he was imagining things. But the pin-sticking was repeated and his body became sore.

Once, his arms were twisted behind his back and he was dragged from his horse by an invisible force. "Poor old Jack Bell, his muscles are sore," said the female voice in mock sympathy. Then she began to sing, slightly off key. It reminded Bell of the way Kate Batts sang in the church choir. "If you're going to haunt me," he told the invisible force, "you need a name. I'll call you Kate."

A few days later, Bell was about 12 miles from home when his horse stopped and refused to move. "So your horse won't go?" sang the familiar voice. "Well, you walk home and the horse will be there. But it won't move till you get off." Bell tried whipping and coaxing, but in the end had to walk. The horse had been home an hour when he arrived. Worried, the family had sent slaves out to look for him. He then told them of his strange experiences, and it was agreed that in the future, a son, Williams, would accompany his father. Kate the Witch soon made her presence known to Williams, too.

At a family conference, it was decided that Williams would record their experiences with the witch. His chronicle was titled "Our Family Trouble."

The servants heard of the witch and news traveled to other residents of the community. This brought sympathetic neighbors, who gathered nightly to discuss the witch's doings. She seemed to delight in the meetings and began taunting various skeptics: "Old man Wainright with a wart on his nose," the Rev. James Dunn, and young Joshua Gardner, Betsy's suitor.

One night, Mrs. Bell was churning, but no butter came. She went to the fireplace, returned with a poker, and plunged it into the milk. Next day, Kate Batts had her hand in bandages—from a burn.

Josh Gardner, anxious to subdue the witch, spent a night in the Bell home. The covers were yanked from his bed and finally, unable to cope with the unseen force, he dressed and spent the night in a chair by the fireplace.

News of the Bell family's trouble spread and brought many people from other parts of the country, including Gen. Andrew Jackson, who brought a caravan from Nashville, with tents and provisions for a week.

"We're on a fool's errand," said one of Jackson's companions. "I don't believe in witches." Suddenly the wagon stopped. The four bay mares tugged, but the wagon wouldn't move. Jackson and several others tried to turn the wheels. They were locked tight.

"All right, General," said a phantom voice. "Let the wagon move. I'll see you tonight." The trip was continued, the wagon was parked on the Bell estate, and Jackson spent the night in the Bell home.

There was no rest for General Jackson's party that night. They couldn't keep their bedclothes on and finally had to dress to keep warm. As they sat in front of the fire, the unseen voice alternately sang and swore, deriding the General's mission. Next morning he returned to Nashville, where he told reporters: "By the Eternal, I saw nothing, but I heard enough to convince me I'd rather fight the British than deal with this torment they call the Bell Witch."

One day in October, 1820, as John Bell started across the barnyard with his son, his shoes were yanked off. The son unlaced and replaced them on his father's feet and they were snatched off again. An unseen blow to Bell's face sent him reeling, and an invisible force twisted his arms and legs so that he looked like a contortionist.

As Williams Bell bent over his father, the voice cried: "Don't you know you can't help him? His days are numbered."

Hopson hadn't prescribed for him near his bed.

Dr. Hopson was unable to identify the medicine, but a few drops given to a cat caused instant death.

John Bell's death seemed to satisfy the witch. Then, on Easter Sunday, 1821; at a picnic, Betsy's engagement to Gardner was to be announced. Betsy and Josh slipped away from the crowd and sat on the river bank, holding hands. Suddenly there was a loud splashing and a big fish jumped high out of the water.

"Please, Betsy Bell," cried the fish in the unmistakable voice of the witch, "don't marry Joshua Gardner." The entreaty was repeated several times as the fish swam in a circle and jumped.

Betsy and Josh talked it over and agreed it was best to break the engagement rather than risk bringing the witch into their family. Josh moved to what is now known as Gardner's Station, Tenn.

As soon as he had gone, the witch cried: "Good-bye, Betsy Bell. Your torment is over."

It was Betsy married Professor Powell, who died 17 years later. She never remarried, but in 1875 went to live with one of her children in Mississippi. She died in 1890 at 85.

Nobody has ever satisfactorily explained the Bell Witch mystery. Many have attributed it to mass hysteria, but nobody has ever been able to account for the testimony of Andrew Jackson, who was considered a thoroughly reliable witness.

SOCIAL, economic, mental, or spiritual conditions sometimes make parenthood too tough a job, so some parents choose the easy way out—abandoning the baby. Because the hospital is not equipped for long-term care, the waifs are offered for adoption through legitimate channels and eventually receive the care and affection their real parents denied them.

Party Making

CAN BE FUN

Party making's fun in modern America!

Festive foods are so quick and easy to prepare today, and America's manufacturers provide an ever-increasing number of aids for planning a successful party. Colorful accessories can lend a gay party look to all of your entertaining. Here are some ways with foods and ideas for party-making fun.

Pork-Stuffed Baked Apples with Parsleyed Spaghetti

Set out a large casserole having a tight-fitting cover.

For Pork-Stuffed Apples—Select 6 medium-size (about 2 lbs.) firm baking apples

Wash; cut and reserve a thick slice from the stem end of each apple. Remove core, almost to bottom, from lower section of each apple. Cut away enough pulp to leave apple shell about ¼ in. thick. Carefully slice apple shell crosswise into two equal parts. Replace the two sections to form the apple shell; set aside. Chop and set aside enough apple pulp to yield ½ cup.

Dice and set aside enough celery to yield ½ cup diced celery

Blend together and set aside ¼ teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon water

Heat in a large skillet 1 tablespoon fat

Add and cook over medium heat until browned, breaking into small pieces with fork or spoon

Meanwhile, combine in a large bowl the apple pulp, diced celery, and

¼ cup fine, dry bread crumbs
2 teaspoons finely chopped onion
1 egg yolk, beaten

and a mixture of

½ teaspoon Accent
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
¼ teaspoon pepper

When pork is browned, use a slotted spoon to remove from skillet to bowl. Add diluted mustard and mix the ingredients lightly but thoroughly.

Fill the apple shells generously with the pork mixture; top with apple slices (as in photo). If necessary, secure apple slices with wooden picks.

Put into the bottom of the casserole ¼ cup (about 2 oz.) red cinnamon candies

Place stuffed apples in the casserole. Pour into casserole

Cover and bake at 375°F 20 to 25 min., or until apples are tender when gently pierced with a fork.

For Parsleyed Spaghetti—Heat to boiling in a large saucepan

3 qts. water
1 tablespoon salt

Add gradually so boiling will not stop

2 cups (8-oz. pkg.) spaghetti

Boil rapidly, uncovered, 10 to 15 min., or until spaghetti is tender. Test tenderness by pressing piece against side of pan with a fork or spoon. Drain spaghetti by turning it into a colander or large sieve; rinse with hot water to remove loose starch. Return drained spaghetti to saucepan. Using a fork, mix in

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup finely chopped parsley

Remove the stuffed baked apples from the casserole. Arrange the apples and spaghetti on a warm serving platter (as in photo); remove wooden picks and serve immediately.

Spiced Nuts

Put onto a baking sheet so that nuts do not touch

1 lb. pecans or blanched almonds

Set in 275°F oven about 30 min., or until dry and crisp.

* Mix together thoroughly

2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
½ cup cornstarch
2 tablespoons ground cinnamon
1½ teaspoons ground ginger
1 teaspoon ground cloves
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
1½ teaspoons salt

Line bottom of a shallow baking pan evenly with three fourths of the sugar-spice mixture. Set aside. Reserve remaining one fourth of the mixture.

Beat slightly

3 egg whites
2 tablespoons water

Add pecans or almonds, a few at a time, and stir to coat each completely.

Put the coated nuts into a sieve to drain thoroughly; shake off excess egg white.

Remove coated nuts to baking pan lined with sugar-spice mixture and carefully roll in mixture until each nut is well coated.

Spread the spice-coated nuts and sugar-spice mixture evenly in pan so that nuts do not touch. Sprinkle remaining spice-sugar mixture on top of nuts.

Set in 250°F oven 2 to 2½ hrs.

1 lb. Spiced Nuts

Jack-O'-Lantern Cookies

Lightly grease cookie sheets.

For Cookies—Sift together and set aside

- 4 3/4 cups sifted flour
- 2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons ground ginger
- 2 teaspoons ground cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg

Cream until softened

1 cup butter

Add gradually, creaming until fluffy after each addition

1 cup firmly packed brown sugar

Add in thirds, beating thoroughly after each addition

Blend in

1 cup molasses

Measure

3/4 cup milk

Mixing until well blended after each addition, alternately add dry ingredients in fourths, milk in thirds to creamed mixture. Drop by teaspoonfuls about 2 in. apart onto the cookie sheets.

Rice Royale Dessert

Rice puts on party-going airs.

BASE RECIPE

Lightly butter a 2-qt. serving dish.

Set aside to drain

6 to 8 large, cooked apricot halves

Cut into halves and set aside on absorbent paper to drain thoroughly

16 maraschino cherries

Sliver and set aside

1/2 cup (about 2 1/2 oz.) blanched almonds

For Cooked Rice—Bring to boiling in a deep saucepan

2 qts. water

1 tablespoon salt

So boiling will not stop, add gradually to water

(The Rice Industry no longer considers it necessary to wash rice before cooking.)

Boil rapidly, uncovered, 15 to 20 min., or until a kernel is entirely soft when pressed between fingers.

Drain rice in a colander or sieve and rinse with hot water to remove loose starch. Cover colander and rice with a clean towel and set aside.

For Custard—Scald (just until a thin film appears) in top of double boiler over simmering water

Meanwhile, beat slightly

3 eggs

Blend in

1/4 cup sugar

1/8 teaspoon salt

While stirring constantly, add the hot milk gradually to the eggs.

Wash double-boiler top to remove scum.

Strain mixture into double-boiler top. Cook over simmering water, stirring constantly and rapidly, until mixture coats a silver spoon. Remove from simmering water at once. Blend in

1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract

1/2 teaspoon almond extract

Set custard aside to cool to lukewarm.

To Complete Dessert—Toss the cooked rice lightly with the almonds and

1/4 cup sugar

Blend custard into the rice.

Put drained maraschino-cherry halves, reserving 8 for garnish, on bottom of the serving dish.

Turn rice-custard mixture into the dish and set in refrigerator to chill.

When ready to serve, spoon into chilled sherbet glasses. Garnish each serving with an apricot half; top apricot with a cherry half. Serve at once.

6 to 8 servings

Note: Cooked rice prepared from packaged precooked rice may be substituted if directions on package are followed carefully for amounts and timing.

Maraschino-Cherry Rice Royale
Follow Base Recipe. For garnish, omit apricots; drain sirup from 8 maraschino cherries with stems and set aside on absorbent paper with the 16 maraschino cherries cut in halves. Garnish each serving with a drained maraschino cherry with stem.

THE BEST PARTIES ARE FOR

fun

A Gay Party for the Very Young

Delicious ice cream is always the biggest treat for the youngest partygoer. So you load an éclair-shell "boat" with a cargo of luscious chocolate ice cream. This treasure ship flies a jaunty pennant with—oh, real magic!—his very own name. Suddenly, ice cream becomes an even bigger wonder at the age when sailing a boat in the bathtub is enticing sport and your own name is the most beautiful thing in a sea of unknown letters.

Wouldn't you like one of these dream boats? Of course you would! Everyone loves chocolate ice cream.

Irresistible chocolate ice cream goes partying in nautical style—charms all ages!

Teen-agers' Specialties

No one feels more pleasure in party novelties than teen-agers, and they like the edible ones. Give them a table of gay fixings so they can concoct their own.

Arrange an array of interesting-looking breads, sandwich fillings, dips, and cold cuts.

The salad will be more glamorous to them if each one can select an individual salad of asparagus, cucumber, beets, string beans, lima beans, cauliflower, tomato, or carrot, each marinated in a tangy French dressing and separately nested in a lettuce leaf. For variety, use the smallest size melon-baller to convert the beets and carrots into balls about the size of grapes. Slivers of green peppers may be inserted into balls for "stems." Some hearties will take two or three of these individual, midget salads.

For All Who Drop In

Jack-O'-Lantern Cookies and Halloween Punch, with Spiced Nuts, will satisfy lusty appetites of the teen-age crowd, but better make enough of these appetizing refreshments to serve other friends who may drop in.

If you need to enlarge a menu at the last minute, serve a fine soup. Use an electric blender to make the purée base, and your problem is solved in no time.

You can have plenty of ice for cold drinks without the chore of ice-crushing at servingtime, if you equip your refrigerator with ice-slicers, those trays that give you ice slices instead of cubes. They are veritable lifesavers on action-packed week ends.

Whatever you serve, hot or cold, explore the decorative and practical possibilities of the new "paper china." These plastic-coated plates will add just the right flourish to your casual buffet table color scheme. And, best of all, they are disposable, nonabsorbent, odorless, and as colorful as your china.

White plastic spoons and forks furnish a refreshing contrast to your gayest color arrangements.

Today, the manufacturers of modern America have given you a ready-made world of convenient aids and delicious foods that make entertaining fun for you as well as for your guests.

If you have an enthusiasm for exciting food, you can give parties that have that casual air of pleasure and relaxation. Your invitations will be coveted and your guests will remember that your parties, particularly, are "for fun."

"I suffered for weeks from muscle soreness..."

And then I tried Ben-Gay", writes Mrs. Henry Super of San Francisco, Cal.: "With one application and the aid of my heating pad, the pain and soreness were relieved. After the second application, I awoke the next morning with not a sign of pain or soreness. I feel I can't praise Ben-Gay enough. I'll keep it handy always."

Countless people, like Mrs. Super, rely on Ben-Gay for fast relief from muscle aches and pains — and for good reason! Ben-Gay is different from any other pain-relieving product. It contains up to two and one half times more of two famous pain-relieving agents than any of five other widely offered rub-ins! When you rub in Ben-Gay, two things happen. First, extra blood is brought coursing up through the affected area. Second, a pain-deadening action starts instantly to bring warm, soothing relief.

When sore, aching muscles trouble you, use Ben-Gay for sure, trustworthy relief. Rub in Ben-Gay... rub pain away!

The Personal Touch in FURS

NEW FURS are cleverly designed to look very personally yours. There's even a personal touch in the way you wear them—clutched close about you. Big talk among the "little" furs are boas, convex capes, hug-me-tights, and lean flat skins. They're made to stand out in a crowd and stand up under wear. And just to make the picture perfect, prices are considerably less than those of yesteryear's luxury furs.

A Detroit man who plunged into a river decided not to commit suicide because "the water was too cold for comfort."

The Jackson, Mich., Theater Guild had a speaking part for a parrot, but there wasn't time to teach him the lines, so they got a mute bird and had an offstage voice speak the part.

In Brighton, England, David Brown put a six-foot boa constrictor in his kitchen to keep the mice away.

In Sydney, Australia, legislators studied a new bill to protect divorced wives from rising living costs. An "escalator" clause would keep alimony payments in line with costs.

In Tokyo, jujitsu experts were hired to act as guards at the Japanese Diet, one for every five legislators.

When a cracked steel part stopped the church clock in Knowle, England, experts advised return to a gadget which had kept the pendulum suspended for 17 years—a corset.

Because certain Minneapolis residents had trouble with their spelling, the telephone company changed the name of its Hla-watha exchange to Gibson. Too many persons were dialing "HY."

A Bismarck, N. D., man devised what he calls the "first realistic two-car garage." On one door he painted, "Hers," and on the other, "His." "Her" door is two feet wider.

A Brooklyn schoolboy explained how he solved the problem of studying and watching television. He studies during commercials.

The expectant fathers' room in an El Paso, Texas, hospital is equipped with two oxygen outlets.

After an unsuccessful suicide attempt, a Baltimore man explained: "I'm making too much money and don't know what to do with it."

The Woman's Press Club in Washington now has a dish titled "Chicken a la Queen" on its luncheon menu.

A Hong Kong doctor, anxious to have an X ray developed, gave it to his photographer brother. The result showed an array of mysterious ailments. The photographer, hoping to please his brother, had retouched what he thought was a bad negative.

A restaurant man in Bedford, Ind., took the prices off his menus and asked patrons to pay what they thought the meal was worth.

A Swedish engineer proved his theory that a housed cow generates more heat than it needs by piping surplus heat from an 18-cow barn to a farmhouse. The result was five warm rooms.

IN THE LOS ANGELES home of Theodore M. Blakeslee, an electrical engineer, automation has really taken over. The home is equipped with every conceivable type of automatic and semi-automatic electrical control, using 175 push buttons and 100 relays operating over 10,000 feet of wiring. The controls select radio and TV programs, adjust awnings, open and close garage doors, start the car, control the heating system, water the lawn, turn lights on and off, and tell Blakeslee whether the house is locked up for the night. Now Blakeslee is trying to figure out a push-button system to operate his push-button system!

From the master control panel near his front door, Theodore Blakeslee of Los Angeles can regulate all the lights both inside and outside his push-button home. He has another such master panel right beside his bed.

Mrs. Blakeslee operates her remote-control kitchen while sitting down. She just pushes buttons on a master control panel to switch on and off her various electrical appliances. Blakeslee believes the time is not far off when every American home will be similarly equipped. He also foresees fuelless heat and video telephones.

Blakeslee's special low-growing grass doesn't require mowing, but it has one annoying tendency: it creeps over the sidewalk. He solved this by stringing an electric wire along the edge of the walk. Then when the lawn needs trimming, he merely flips a switch, and the glowing wire burns the overhanging grass.

New Weapon Against Cancer

A new weapon in the fight against cancer is this 45-million volt linear accelerator now being used experimentally at Michael Reese hospital in Chicago. This apparatus is the first of its kind to be used in the treatment of cancer. Demonstrating the accelerator is Dr. Erich Uhlmann, who was responsible for its development. Dr. Uhlmann is the director of the Michael Reese tumor clinic, which carries on extensive cancer research.

Junior Journalists

Dear Miss Barrows: Here is my story:

"Hiyah!" said Bertram H. Ghost. "Well if it isn't cousin Bertram," said Albert T. Ghost. "I'm glad you came to the old light tower. I have been having some trouble with a ghost chaser."

"Yes, but I should think," Bertram said, "you could go through the keyhole and be done with it."

"I would, except he has filled all the keyholes with mud and I would get my sheet really dirty, and I haven't a change of sheets to my name," exclaimed Albert.

"Go through the crack in the door," said Bertram.

"I've tried that, and believe me it's a tight squeeze," replied the other.

"Let's scare him away by making the tower disappear," said Bertram.

"All right. Let's go!"

Then the ghosts said five magic words, and the tower—well, it just wasn't there. But neither were the ghosts. They had made themselves disappear, too. And that's the end of the tale of Bertram H. and Albert T. Ghost!

Sincerely,

Gary Lefler

The Lonely Little Witch

Cildy was a lonely little witch who lived in the attic of an old rambling house. The reason she lived in the attic was that a noisy ghost family lived downstairs and kept her awake nights with their moans and groans.

Now it was nearing Halloween and Cildy had been invited to the "Witches Frolic." Again and again she read the invitation: "Come and bring your cat."

But Cildy had no cat. She had visited the pet shop many times hoping to find a black cat, but all of them were spotted or white or yellow or grey.

One evening, returning from the pet shop, she heard a frightened little "Who-oo-o-ooo . . ."—and there on the branch of a big tree sat a baby owl. The baby owl hopped down on Cildy's shoulder and snuggled up under her warm cape.

"I do believe he's lost," said Cildy. She asked him, "Do you belong to anybody?" But he only shook his head. "Well," thought Cildy, "why couldn't I take an owl instead of a cat?" So she did. All the other witches were delighted to see her pretty little pet. And after that, the owl stayed with Cildy. They lived together in the nicest part of the attic and Cildy wasn't lonely anymore.

HALLOWEEN GUMDROP RACE

Walter Eckart

Here is a fine game to play at your Halloween party. You will need a lot of orange and black gumdrops for this game. Place the gumdrops in a large bowl at one end of the room, and at the other end of the room place enough smaller bowls in a row for all of the players. Each player stands by his or her bowl and is given a table knife. At a signal they all race to the larger bowl and try to carry the gumdrops on the knife back to their smaller bowls. The players may not use their hands except to hold the knife. For every black gumdrop a player gets into his bowl he receives two points, and for every orange gumdrop one point. The one with the most points wins, of course.

HERE'S A PARTY INVITATION

From orange construction paper cut a pumpkin about 3" wide (Fig. 1). Draw a face on it, and cut a slit where the dotted line is. Next cut a piece as in Fig. 2, paint the stem black, and write your party message on the square part. Stick the square piece through the slit on the pumpkin and the invitation is finished as in Fig. 3.

Curious Koko likes to supervise when her owner, Mrs. William Ross, makes her a new suit of clothes. And if Koko gets any smarter, she might start making the clothes herself.

Clothes Make the Monkey

CLOTHES MAKE the man and sometimes even make the monkey. Koko, a Javanese simian, is probably the only monkey in the world with a wardrobe that includes a white organdy dress, light-blue slacks, overalls, and even a custom-made fur coat of genuine ocelot. Koko's genuine fur coat will make all her monkey friends turn bright green with envy.

Fashion trends for monkeys include a checked lounging robe and tan flannel slacks.

How Romantic Is Your Marriage?

CYNICS SAY married life, with all its responsibilities and chores, can never be romantic. But no job is glamorous all the time, not even a movie star's. Yours can be a lifetime romance if you remember that the little things you say and do make marriage a success. Take this quiz to measure the romance in your marriage. Then check your score (points given in brackets) to see if you are doing all you can to keep romance alive.

1. When did you last tell your husband you loved him? Today (5). Quite recently (3). Can't remember (0).
2. Do you look your best when your husband comes home at night? Always (5). More often than not (1). Never have time (0).
3. Do you ever prepare a special dinner just for the two of you? Sometimes for no reason (5). On birthdays and other occasions (3). Never (0).
4. Where do you keep your deodorant, razor, and eyebrow tweezers? Out of sight (5). On the bathroom shelf (0). Never use them (minus 5).
5. If you're tired, do you snap at your husband? Never (5). Rarely (0). Often (minus 5).
6. Do you impulsively kiss your husband? Yes (5). Never (0).
7. Do you ever compliment him? Whenever you can (5). When you want something (0). No (minus 5).
8. When you see something you know your husband would like, what do you do? Buy it (5). Tell him about it so he can buy it himself (1). Don't buy it (0).
9. What do you think of a wife who insists her husband go out alone once a week because she doesn't trust baby-sitters? Plain stupid (5). A bad mother (3). A good wife (1).
10. What is your formula for a happy marriage? Each should be prepared to meet the other more than halfway (10). Both partners must work hard at making it a success (5).

If your score is 55, married life will be as wonderful on your Golden Wedding day as it is now. If it's 35 or over, you've got the right idea but there's room for improvement. If you scored 15 to 35, married life seemed dull soon after your honeymoon, didn't it? If your score is under 15—how often does he go home to his mother?

REMOVE WASTE- NOT GOOD FOOD

Here's a secret millions have discovered about FEEN-A-MINT, the wonderfully different-chewing-gum laxative. FEEN-A-MINT is different because you chew it. It's different, too, because it removes mostly waste—not good food! You see, FEEN-A-MINT does not work in the stomach, where your food is being digested. That's why it does not take away a lot of the good food you need for energy.

Doctors know that FEEN-A-MINT works chiefly in the lower bowel...removes mostly waste, not good food!

Patti Page

WORDS ABOUT

BY JOEY SASSO

Popular: "AND I THOUGHT ABOUT YOU." Patti Page. Mercury Album. Long one of the country's most popular song stylists, Patti Page continues in fine vocal form on this album, singing her way through an octet of preferred standards including the title tune, "The Touch of Your Lips," "Stay As Sweet As You Are," and "When Your Lover Has Gone." Miss Page packs tenderness and sincerity into every song.

"YOU GO TO MY HEAD." Joe Mooney Quartet. Decca Album. Joe Mooney's uninhibited vocal quality and the performance of his excellent group add up to good listening anytime. This album in particular should widen the group's circle of fans as they glide through eight excellent numbers—some originals, other standards. Mooney performs the tunes in a pleasing and informal musical atmosphere, and the quartet has a refreshing and interesting technique.

Classical: "HEIFETZ PLAYS." Jascha Heifetz. Decca Album. Here is a collection of short pieces that makes for a thoroughly enjoyable concert. Heifetz gives his usual exciting performance, fashioning the melodies with brilliance of sound. His remarkable virtuosity on such pieces as "Hymn to the Sun," "Humoresque," "Hungarian Dance No. 7," "Giant Hills," and "Clair De Lune" make this an album to be played again and again.

Jazz: "THE INTERPRETATIONS OF TAL FARLOW." Tal Farlow and group. Norgren Album. Tal Farlow, one of the nation's leading guitarists, gives the stringed instrument further eminence as a vital vehicle in a modern jazz group. His improvisations and technique make it a fine solo instrument, as evidenced in the impressive picture he paints of "Autumn Leaves."

Country: "HANK SNOW'S COUNTRY GUITAR." Hank Snow. RCA Victor Album. In addition to being one of country music's top singers, Hank Snow is recognized as an outstanding guitarist. His latest album explains why. Supported by his Rainbow Ranch Boys, Hank Snow performs on a group of country favorites including "Wabash Blues," "Hilo March," "Sweet Marie," and "Twelfth Street Rag."

What Does God's Law Say— "BETWEEN The Lines?"

Few Christians will deny that the Ten Commandments are God's design for human conduct. Some Christians think that they are outmoded.

But how many know what they really mean?

"Thou shalt not steal," for example, obviously forbids robbery, burglary and embezzlement. What many evidently do not realize is that this Commandment also forbids evasion of just debts, bribery to gain political and business advantages, lending money at usurious rates, and other sharp practices which are often dishonestly excused as "smart business."

The Commandments speak only in broad, general terms. Their full meaning can be understood only in the light of the teaching of the New Testament. "I am the Lord, thy God; thou shalt not have strange gods before me," is taken by some to mean only that they must believe in a Supreme Being. Actually, it obliges us to prayer, gratitude, hope and worship, even though these words are not mentioned.

Most Christians agree that The Lord's Day must be kept holy. Yet there is a wide difference of opinion as to how this should be done... indeed, there is even some disagreement as to when The Lord's Day should be observed.

When God said "Thou shalt not kill," He was not warning mankind merely against murder due to greed, lust or vengeance. He was telling us plainly that He, Who alone had the power to create human life, was reserving for Himself the right to take it away. And He made no exceptions for deliberate abortion and the so-called "mercy killings" which some Christians seek to justify today.

A wide variance of opinion also prevails as to the meaning of the Commandment: "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor." Some apparently think this is a prohibition only against perjury in a courtroom. Actually, it is a warning against lies of all descriptions and all acts of commission and omission which injure the good name and reputation of another.

You hear people say, with smug assurance: "I keep the Commandments—that's enough." And it would indeed be enough if they truly understood what the Commandments require. But we must read "between the lines" if we are rightly to understand God's instructions and to live according to His design. If you want to be sure... if you want to refresh your mind on the true and full meaning of God's rules of life... write today for our free Pamphlet No. FM-12. It will be sent to you in a plain wrapper, and nobody will call on you.

A Modern Miracle:

Wasteland to Outdoor Paradise

by Robert B. Wright

The company operating this giant dragline has agreed to beautify this area when they have finished mining coal.

Danville residents, Charles Hancock and family, stroll away from the picnic area to visit spring-fed High Pond.

TIME HEALS all wounds. In the case of Kickapoo State Park, six miles west of Danville, Ill., the passage of years has been the medicine to transform a strip-mine wasteland into an outdoorsman's paradise that attracts half a million visitors annually.

Kickapoo is an outstanding example in the U. S. of what reclamation can accomplish. It is unique in that its 1,578 acres of sparkling spring-fed lagoons, forests, and well-tended camping and picnic areas are a happy restoration of the Kickapoo Indians' hunting grounds as they were before the white man came. For, ironically, it was man's exploitation of the area's mineral resources that turned it into a badlands—unwittingly paving the way for development of one of the Midwest's most attractive recreation spots.

In the beginning, what is now the general park area was noted for its saline springs. The first settlers found the salt work profitable as early as 1819, when 100 gallons of water yielded a bushel of salt. Seventy years later, with the Indians long since gone, another mineral, coal, attracted businessmen.

From 1889 to 1925, the landscape was turned upside down to expose the veins of coal. When the shovels finally moved out, a chaotic expanse of gaunt ridges and irregular depressions remained. But Nature moved in and began carpeting the bare banks with grass and seedlings, and springs filled the holes in the ground with crystal-clear water.

Then man stepped into the picture. In 1939, a community campaign spearheaded by the late Clint C. Tilton, a retired Danville newspaper publisher, raised $12,889.50 to acquire the land from the United Electric Coal Co. and deed it to the state. World War II intervened, but the development program was resumed in 1946. An attractive rustic shelter house was completed in 1947.

Other improvements included building roads, a bridge path, and a spring water system; stocking the 400 acres of water in 11 lagoons with game fish; and planting 38,000 evergreens on waste banks left by the stripping operations.

There is no boat concession, but anyone who wishes may use the lagoons. Swimming is banned because the water reaches a depth of 74 feet and there are no marked beaches or lifeguards, but this attraction may be in the works soon—along with family guest cabins and possibly a lodge.

Lack of these facilities doesn't seem to deter visitors to the park, however. R. M. Ellis, superintendent, estimates that some 500 overnight camping permits are issued each season to tourists from virtually every state.

Ellis is one of many who believe the park's potentialities for recreation scarcely have been scratched.

"It took 36 years to tear up this area," he observed. "The state has been working to restore it for 16, off and on. Just give us a few more years and this park will be second to none."

DON'T SMOKE IN BED

Smoking in bed can start a fire in your home. Be careful of this and other causes of fire. Don't overload your wiring system. Don't use flammable cleaning fluids. Don't let junk collect in attic and cellar. Don't let children play with matches; be careful with oil stoves!

It's Smart to Display FAMILY PORTRAITS!

by Ruth W. Lee, Home-Furnishings Consultant

THOSE CHARMING family portraits you display discreetly in the master bedroom or tuck away in a photo album have better uses. Handsomely framed and artistically arranged, they can create new interest throughout the house. It's both attractive and heart-warming to see pictures of the family over a hall console table, atop a living-room piano, or in delightful wall arrangements. For this last-named use, borrow a decorator's trick. Before hanging, arrange the pictures on the floor and study the grouping to be sure it's what you want. To get pictures to hang exactly as arranged on the floor, measure the wall carefully. Keep portrait groups at eye level or lower, close to chests, sofas, or tables so that the patterns are in good scale to the furniture.
