Senators In Houston For Dope Hearing

HOUSTON (AP)—The largest shipment of illegal cocaine ever seized in the U.S.—with a retail value of $2,500,000—was transported through the Houston airport in false-bottom suitcases four months ago.

Cooper and six other members of their gang were convicted in Federal Court here of shipping wholesale lots of marijuana to New York and bringing heroin from New York to Houston.

Margaret Returns From Rendezvous

LONDON (AP)—Princess Margaret returned to London today from a weekend in the country with Peter Townsend amid reports of increasing opposition to their marriage in royal circles and some sections of the Church of England.

as saying such a marriage would be unlikable. There were unconfirmed rumors that the Archbishop of Canterbury, the top prelate of the established Church of England, would voice his disapproval publicly if the supposed engagement was made official.

There still was no official word on whether the Queen's sister and the handsome air force hero will marry—although millions of Britons are convinced they will.

Margaret and Townsend, after a weekend together at the Berkshire country home of her cousin Mrs. John Wills, were expected to return separately to London during the day.

Clergyman Warns Princess She May 'Affront' Church

MARGATE, England (AP)—A retired Anglican clergyman said today Princess Margaret would deliberately affront the Church of England if she marries Capt. Peter Townsend, a divorced man.

Pat surprised her parents, who were in Dallas over the weekend, for she came home unannounced because she was not certain what her schedule would be.

Four Youths, Truck Driver Killed In Highway Collision

LIVINGSTON — The collision of a car and a trailer truck near here Saturday night killed four teen-agers and a truck driver and seriously injured three other teen-agers.

The dead were Patricia Mitchell, 15; Neldan Jones, 16; Jerry Alexander, 16; and Danny Wells, 16, all of Livingston, and Frank Clark, 28, of Houston, driver of the truck.

Injured and in critical condition were Roy Avid, 15; Clyde Taylor, 16; and Ray Corder, 15, all of Livingston.

None of the injured have been able to say what happened, and there were no witnesses. Police said that apparently the car in which the teen-agers were riding was making a U-turn at an intersection of Highway 59 and a country road.

Since the intersection is near a curve in the highway, police said the truck probably came around the curve as the car was making the turn and apparently the driver saw the car and applied his brakes, for the truck skidded about 18 feet.

The cab hit the car, and the trailer broke loose and jacked over the car.

The four teen-agers killed were thrown out of the highway, and the tank of the truck, loaded with manufactured heating gas, rolled over those who had been thrown from the car. The truck driver died in the wreckage of the truck cab.

The injured were trapped in the car.

All seven of the teen-agers were described as popular students at Livingston High School and active in local youth and church work. Alexander and Corder were football players. Patricia Mitchell was a school yell leader.

Stratoliner Sets Record

SEATTLE — Boeing's 707 stratoliner flew round-trip across the country yesterday in less time than it takes conventional airliners to cross the nation one way.

The 707 took 3 hours and 58 minutes to fly from Seattle to Washington, D.C., at an average speed of 592 miles per hour.

After a brief stopover in the national capital, the first American commercial jet air transport flew back to Seattle in 4 hours and 8 minutes at an average speed of 570 miles an hour.

This means that it took 8 hours and 6 minutes of elapsed flying time at an average of 581 miles per hour for the transcontinental roundtrip.

The Boeing test pilot, A. M. (Tex) Johnston, 42, of Emporia, Kan., called it an "uneventful" flight in the four-jet job. He predicted it will be common in three years.

Glasscock 4-H Boys Meet, Elect Officers

GARDEN CITY (SC) — The Glasscock County 4-H Club boys recently met at the school house and elected officers for the new year. Ben Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Cox, was elected president and leader of the club for the 1955-56 year. Other officers elected were Frank Murphy, vice president; James N. Cook, secretary-treasurer, and Harold Jones, reporter.

Plans were made to have regular meetings on the second Wednesday of each month at 2 p.m. The subject for the November meeting will be "Pitting and Blocking of a Lamb for Show."

The boys also made plans for a turkey shoot to be held Sunday, Nov. 13, for the purpose of raising money to pay stock show expenses the coming season.

The club members are getting a good start on their feeding projects. They have on feed at the present time three Hereford steers, 86 head of mutton lambs, two registered Rambour steers, one registered Rambouillet ewe lamb and 10 capons.

Ben Cox has an acre of cotton as a demonstration, and Bill and Dennis Schrader have an acre of cotton together. These are the only field crop demonstrations.

Governor Denies He's A Candidate

NEW YORK — Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California says "I'm not a candidate for president" even if President Eisenhower does not run for re-election.

He made the statement to newsmen last night as he arrived by plane for a number of speeches at Republican meetings.

Knight, who has been mentioned as a potential candidate for president, said Vice President Nixon "is all right with me if he's nominated. It depends on what the President's wishes are."

Hail Storm Reported

OZARK, Ala. — Property damage estimated at thousands of dollars was caused by a windstorm which struck near Ozark yesterday. Residents said they saw hail stones as large as golf balls. Buildings were damaged but no one was reported seriously hurt.

DATE DATA

By Beverly Brandow

Difference In Age

Dear Miss Brandow: Please give some dating advice for the girl who is mature beyond her years. I am fifteen but look at least eighteen. Strangers assume I am in college instead of junior high school.

Naturally I appeal to older boys who frequently ask me out. One, who is twenty-two, I like and want very much to date. He is an active church member, very polite, and neither smokes nor drinks. My parents object because of the age difference. What do you think? Joyce

Many factors should be carefully considered. The only qualified judge of what is best should be someone who knows you both.

Speaking generally to all girls with the problem of looking older than they actually are, my advice is that you should keep your social life within the bounds of your own age group, at least until graduation, and take solace in the fact that your friends who aren't developing at such a rapid speed will eventually catch up.

Here are my reasons. Appearing older is deceptive and can cause trouble because it does not mean being older. It is possible to look like a woman and yet act, feel, and think like an unsure young person groping for the emotional maturity that belongs in such a grown-up looking body.

A boy seven years your senior may be attractive to you because he is older and seems wiser, but please remember he has been dating quite a while longer and is more experienced.

Some boys enjoy dating younger girls merely because they are ignorant of "smooth" techniques and easy to take advantage of. Even an older who, who is sincere has his days of "dating a variety" behind him and is now ready to think more seriously about one.

Oliver, 113 Alton St., Lufkin, Texas.—and Mrs. C. A. Collier, 1227 Heights Blvd., Houston, Texas stating that she lost 10 pounds taking Barcentrate. Get Barcentrate at any Texas drugstore.

You are not yet emotionally or educationally ready for such a deep emotional entanglement. Dating older boys could cause you to "skip a grade" in growing up and cause you, too, to be yearning for things for which you are not ready and which could cause only disappointment.

Even in a Platonic relationship, you would necessarily be pulled out of your own group of friends into an older group, and forced to mix much of your school fun and social life. You would regret this later.

Seven years makes the difference between two worlds when you are in your teens. Later on those years seem to melt and are no dating barrier at all.

Uncle Roy: Inca Indians Were Highly Advanced

By RAMON COFFMAN The Inca Indians rank among the smartest natives in the New World. Their early homeland was Peru, but they spread their power into Ecuador and Bolivia, and the northern half of Chile.

Q. Did any other tribe in South America compare in civilization with the Incas?

A. The Incas led all natives of South America, but Central America and Mexico also had advanced Indians. The Aztecs lived in Mexico, and the Mayas had their homeland in Central America, some of them moving into Yucatan, a section of southern Mexico.

Q. What were some of the remarkable things about the Inca Indians?

A. They were the leading road-builders of the New World. Some of their narrow roads led through passes in tall mountains. Fine cotton cloth was woven by these Indians, also a kind of wool made from the hair of alpacas and vicuñas.

Q. Was the llama a domestic animal among the Incas?

A. Yes, it was tamed and used as a beast of burden. A full-grown llama would carry a load up to 80 or 100 pounds.

Q. Did the Incas have a capital city?

A. Yes, the city of Cuzco (Cusco) was the center of Inca power. Built in the Andes Mountains, about 250 miles from the Peruvian coast, this city had a mighty stone wall.

Much of the wall is still standing. It contains blocks which are larger and heavier than any of those used in Egyptian pyramids.

Q. What was the title of the ruler of the Inca Indians?

A. He was known as the Inca. His empire stretched along the Pacific coast of South America for a distance of 2,000 miles.

Electrical Workers Call New Westinghouse Strike

PITTSBURGH — CIO electrical workers struck the Westinghouse Electric Corp. today for the second time in little more than a month.

Leaders of the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers issued the nationwide strike order at midnight last night after the deadline rolled around with no contract settlement.

Negotiations continued until 1:45 a.m. There was no indication whether they would resume.

The strike call went out to some 44,000 members in 29 plants. Some 30,000 other Westinghouse operations were not affected.

Disputed issues include wages, rules for time studies of nonunion workers and length of contract.

Both sides turned down 11th-hour proposals which would have averted the strike for a while at least.

Westinghouse proposed a two-week extension of the strike deadline with any wage increase worked out to be retroactive to Oct. 15. It also offered, for the first time in its history, to include a clause in the contract providing for arbitration of disputes.

The union plan called for a one-week postponement of the strike if the company would guarantee at least a 12-cent hourly pay increase plus inclusion in the contract of what it considered satisfactory conditions under which the company could make time studies.

Also, the union suggested a three-year contract instead of the five-year pact advanced by the company previously.

The CIO-IUE was free to strike under a wage reopening clause in the current two-year contract, expiring next year.

The issue of time studies became a subject of negotiations as the basis for settlement of the union's strike Sept. 12-14 in support of East Pittsburgh plant employees.

Westinghouse contended the matter of job studies was a management right and said they were instituted as a means of helping to improve its competitive position in the electrical industry.

A Bible Thought For Today

No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day. (St. John 6:14)

Editorial

Screwball-But Interesting

At least two generations of Americans were aware of Bernarr Macfadden, his fads, his posturings, his likes and dislikes, his controversies and his successes and failure. He was a publicist from way back, with himself as the subject, and while millions were merely amused by his antics and pretensions, other millions took him seriously and became his devoted followers in physical culture, food fads and the strenuous life.

He made it pay, even if he often made himself look ridiculous. He practiced what he preached, and by the large it paid off in money, fame and remarkable physical development. Not every man could celebrate an 83rd birthday by parachuting out of an airplane over New York.

And not every man could take a bare idea and develop it into a great publishing enterprise that once included many magazines and several major newspapers that made him a millionaire thirty times over.

But alas, Bernarr Macfadden died at 87 this week with a fortune reduced to $5,000, according to an estimate by his public relations man. His final years were clouded and harassed over suits for alimony by his third and final wife. And even his lifelong living habits, the foundation of his career and fortune, betrayed him at the last. He had long made a habit of fasting one day a week, and sometimes for two weeks at a time. But his physician said the jaundice that sent him to the hospital had been aggravated by a three-day fast. Final medical verdict: cerebral thrombosis.

He had his practical side along with his quirks and his spectacular, attention-getting activities in many fields. He was a hard-headed business man what time he wasn't clowning, and he spawned a whole new era in physical culture, food fadism and publishing in support and in exemplification of those subjects.

America has always had a tender spot in its heart for spectacular characters like Bernarr Macfadden. They may not bequeath much of permanent value to the country, but they give it color and spice.

Fragrance Of Tammany Lingers

Three main factors broke the Solid South to a Republican, Herbert Hoover, instead of the Democratic candidate, Alfred E. Smith. One was religious prejudice. One was prohibition. And the third and perhaps major factor was Tammany Hall, of which Smith was a product.

Tammany Hall then, and for a long time before, as well as a long time after, personified big city political machines. It still does, in the South.

In spite of the current Tammany chieftain's efforts to streamline and sanctify Tammany, the faint odor of the old days still lingers around the name. Carmine DeSapio is the current chief, and he is making the rounds of the country in behalf of Governor Harriman of New York as the 1956 Democratic standard bearer. This week he was in California, glad-handing all factions of the party, and speaking ill of none. For all we know he may show up in Texas, one of the states that turned thumbs down on Smith in '28, at any moment. He may show up in other states of the once-solid South, and doubtless he will receive a courteous reception wherever he goes.

He differs from the traditional Tammany chieftain by operating openly, but in our opinion he is just donating his time trying to make any hay in the South in behalf of (1) Harriman or (2) the general proposition that the Tiger has changed its stripes.

He would find the bright October air of Texas entrancing, but Democratic shoulders in general rather cold.

The Communist Line Against Nixon

WASHINGTON — The Communist party in America has started a drive to prevent the nomination of Vice President Nixon for the presidency in 1956.

The opening gun was fired within a fortnight after President Eisenhower became ill. On the page opposite the editorial page on the "Daily Worker," the Communist organ in New York City, there appears a big headline, "Stop Nixon!" "Below it is an editorial written by William Z. Foster, formerly the head of the Communist party in the United States and still one of its most ardent spokesmen. He is under indictment for violating the Communist-conspiracy law, known as the Smith Act. He has not been brought to trial due to claims of ill health, but he is well enough to carry on his writings.

Mr. Foster wrote in part as follows: "The occupancy of the office of vice president by the reactionary Richard Nixon, a standing menace under any conditions has suddenly become a real threat to American democracy through the severe illness of President Eisenhower . . .

"One of the most dangerous aspects of the situation lies in the fact that President Eisenhower himself has taken Nixon under his wing, has been systematically cultivating his prestige, and was apparently carefully grooming him to take over as his successor.

"For the sinister Nixon to become President of the United States could be a real disaster to the American people, and the united democratic forces of this country should leave no stone unturned to prevent it."

Foster then proceeds to denounce Nixon as belonging to a general camp of "anti-laborites, Negro-haters, Red-baiters, anti-Semites, warmongers and Fascists."

The article then continues: "Nixon has specially distinguished himself in the ranks of the cultivators of anti-Red hysteria, one of his big achievements being the Alger Hiss frame-up. He is an outstanding figure in the attack upon the Bill of Rights, two of the most noteworthy results of which were the barbaric execution of the Rosenbergs and the wholesale kangarooing of Communist leaders to jail." Many people may be surprised to learn that the Communists still think that Alger Hiss was "framed" and that the Rosenbergs were executed unjustly. But this is the favorite Communist line, and it hasn't changed. In fact, it has had allies in different fields in America.

Foster insists in his article that the supporters of Nixon have been maneuvering to get him into the White House "by hook or crook." He contends that Nixon's supporters are urging the President's resignation — something that is not true and has never appeared in print before even as a rumor. The article goes on:

"The workers and their allies should let it be known in the most categorical manner that they will not stand for Nixon and his program of ultra-reaction. They should take the most active steps against all attempts to make Nixon president, either through the resignation of President Eisenhower or the delegation of his presidential powers. And they should let it be known to the powers-that-be in the Republican party that if they dare to place this sinister figure at the head of their national ticket for November, 1956 they will be inviting a first class political disaster. . .

"Prior to the President's heart attack, the workers and other Democratic forces were developing a strong line of opposition to the Eisenhower administration, mostly upon domestic issues. The coming to the fore of Nixon imperatively requires that this opposition be sharply stepped up. In the fields of both domestic and foreign policy.

"In Nixon the workers and other Democratic forces in this country face a representative of their most malignant political enemies and they should act accordingly by defeating him and everything he stands for."

The actual number of Communist voters in the country is small. But the influence of the fellow travelers and those who innocently do the bidding of the Communists is large. Thus, the Communist "Daily Worker" readers include many who spend all or part of their time in furthering the causes in which the Soviet government is interested. The technique is to write letters to newspapers all over the country or to use intermediaries to approach the newspapers in order to get certain lines of attack printed.

The active opposition by the Communists will not hurt Nixon. It may actually aid him. The Communists, however, are not depending upon their own expressions of antagonism to Nixon to do the trick, but upon the allies behind the scenes who they think may be stirred up to do their work for them.

GRAVE EDITING NEEDED OVID, Mich. (AP)—It says on his gravestone he died in 1945, but Charlie Starr was still going strong on his 102nd birthday in 1955.

When his wife died several years ago, Starr thought he would save some trouble by having a gravestone made for himself. He had "1945" chiseled on it, figuring a couple of years' difference wouldn't matter.

Now the stone is 10 years off, and Charlie only last year gave up his regular exercise of coming himself on an apple tree in the backyard.

Complications In Power Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration is bumping into embarrassing complications these days in its efforts to shift the emphasis of government interest from public to private power development.

The complications are two-fold: the law and the Democrats.

For 20 years of Democratic New Deal-Fair Deal administration, the emphasis was on development and expansion of public power resources. The giant Tennessee Valley Authority came into being. Public power projects were encouraged. And electric cooperatives spread their own network of publicly owned transmission lines across the country.

In capsule form, Republicans argued this pro-public power policy pursued under Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman was socialistic and dangerous for the American free enterprise system. Democrats contended the government merely was acting to give the people cheap power because the private power industry had failed to do the job. And the public-versus-private power debate has raged for years.

Now the Eisenhower administration is trying to encourage private enterprise in the power field. And, where the federal government is involved, it has turned to private interests and to cooperative arrangements with local public agencies in trying to find solutions to power problems.

But to shift the direction of power policy is no simple matter. There is the vigorous opposition from the Democrats and from public power interests — opposition which has built the power fight into a first-class presidential campaign issue. And then there are certain complications which have arisen from the law.

The first clash came when the administration, through the Atomic Energy Commission, contracted with the Dixon-Yates group to feed power into the TVA grid to meet an anticipated shortage. This contract was abandoned when the city of Memphis refused to accept Dixon-Yates power and said it would build its own plant. Democratic leaders insisted the contract was not valid, and therefore the government should not pay a cancellation fee which might amount to several million dollars.

The AEC insisted for months the contract became legally effective last winter.

But AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss now concedes, after an exchange of correspondence with the comptroller general, that "there may be a question as to the validity" of the Dixon-Yates contract. One issue is whether there was a "conflict of interest" when Adolphe H. Weizell acted as a Budget Bureau consultant on TVA and matters relating to the Dixon-Yates deal while still on the payroll of the First Boston Corp., an investment banking firm. First Boston became the financial agent (without fee) for the Dixon-Yates group.

Today another political clash is taking place over an administration proposal — later abandoned — to sell federal power to the Georgia Power Co. for resale to some 17 cooperatives, which have no transmission lines connecting with the generating station.

Atty. Gen. Brownell said in an opinion that the law provides the government must give preference to cooperatives and other public agencies competing for power with private utility groups, even though the co-ops have no "presently available" means of taking the power. He said the proposed sale to the private firm would "flout the congressional purpose" of public power laws.

Thus the private-versus-public power battle continues, and it's generating a jolting charge of political energy.

Skimming The Surface

NEW YORK (AP)—Curbstone comments by a pavement Plato:

This has been called the Century of the Common Man, but it is more truly the "Century of the Fringe People."

Are you one? The fringe folk are the product of a civilization that tends to put everything in containers. It looks for health in a vitamin capsule and entertainment in canned laughter.

A fringe man is one who dwells on the edges of real knowledge. He knows a little bit about everything, and not very much about anything.

He skims the surface of life. He wears the kind of suit he has been told makes him look "sincere." He belongs to the political party which is most popular among his neighbors.

If he visits New York, he only wants to see the hit Broadway shows. If he reads a book it has to be on the best seller list, and it has to be in digest form. He watches only television shows that have a high rating, and he attends only those movies he has been told are good. He won't attend a concert by a young unknown. The artist must be famous. The fringe man's biggest goal in life is to be popular, but he wants to be popular with everybody. So he tries to placate and please everybody; to do this he naturally has to reduce his own personality to the status of an ever-smiling zero.

This is why so many Americans drink so much at cocktail parties.

The yearning of the fringe people to be liked reduces their conversation to such banal platitudes they find it impossible even to listen to each other's verbal soothing syrup except under the influence of something stronger.

"What do you know?" This is the popular greeting. It should be, "what do you really know?"

The number of people who have heard something, or read something, increases all the time, and they chatter on endlessly. The legion of half-taught cultural non-entities engulfs our social world. But the number of people who have a solid knowledge of any subject, and who can talk about it well, seems to dwindle.

A Key System

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—The tax assessor communicates with the tax collector in Pinellas County's very modern courthouse by tapping out Morse code with old style telegraph keys.

Assessor H. H. Sterling and Collector Lester Lambert both were railroad telegraphers in their younger days.

In odd moments they worked out a two key system, complete with oldtime wet plate batteries.

Now there is no worry about telephone dialing, busy lines, or walking the length of the courthouse for a conference or an invitation to a cup of coffee. Just a few raps on the key and all is set.

Helping Hobby

SPANISH FORK, Utah (AP)—Roger Beck, 85-year-old widower, has a hobby which he describes this way: "I help old people."

Beck, whose invalid wife died earlier this year, does such things as chopping kindling and preparing meals for widows, widowers and elderly people whose health isn't as good as his own.

Beck doesn't quote scriptures or philosophy in talking about his hobby. He says he just does it "because they need a little helping out."

Humans Could Make Use Of Tails

Sometimes, I wish men were a little closer related to monkeys and came equipped with tails.

Think how handy they've come in during the season just past, when the mosquitoes and the house flies seemed to plan their attacks like well-trained armies and descended upon you in relays.

Repellents and light screens help discourage the miserable insects but repellents and spray, like perfume, yield their strength to the inroads of time and the winged pests with the deep drill have an amazing knack for discovering openings in and around screens.

On the other hand, the "shoo-fly" mechanism of a tall always works against insects, at least the way cows and horses put them to use.

Of course, I expect that medical science, in time, will come forward with an anti-insect compound which one takes orally and which will make him permanently offensive to the bite of the skeeter.

Until that time comes, the brahms steer — so new to this country he is still regarded as a visitor on a temporary visa — has it all over the mere human in the war against the insects in that he comes equipped with a body fluid that makes the buzz-buzz mob keep its distance.

This started out as a treatise on tails, however.

If people came equipped with them, chances are individuals in the northern climes would have bushy appendages—to keep them warm in the winter time.

One could use them for weapons, too. If your hands are brittle and you hesitate to hit with them, think how effective a tail would be with a brick tied on either side.

Think how a tail could be used, too, in waving "hello" to a neighbor or a friend on the street. If you had your hands full of packages and you didn't want to put them down.

We could profit from the lesson given by the kangaroo, and sit on them when there are no chairs available.

The prehensile tail would certainly come in handy, too, for persons who can't meet the admission prices of some entertainment being shown in an enclosed area. Think how easy it would be to simply climb a tree and watch it while hanging by the tail—not to mention how unique the view would be.

Yes, the human probably got cheated by not coming equipped with so useless an appendage.

The Mortification Of Molotov

WASHINGTON — The public humiliation of Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov undoubtedly means his downgrading, and probably foreshadows his eventual disgrace and dismissal.

But after a close study of the facts, the experts have concluded that Molotov's mortification also has a deeper meaning. It means the final triumph of the new Soviet policy of smiling, flexible opportunism over the old Stalinist policy of rigidity and dogma.

As the experts interpret it, a tug of war has been going on in the Kremlin ever since the humiliation and demotion of Georgi Malenkov last February. The contest has been between Molotov, who has fought for the old Stalinist policy — of which he was, after all part author — and the protagonists of smiling opportunism, mainly party boss Nikita Khrushchev.

The evidence which suggests this conclusion is fairly ample. In his letter which was published a few days ago in the magazine "Kommunist," Molotov confessed to a "theoretically mistaken and politically harmful" error of doctrine. The supposed error was so completely trifling that it was clearly only a transparent excuse for disciplining the Foreign Minister.

But what is significant is that Molotov's heinous doctrinal sin was committed in the speech he made last February 8th on the occasion of Malenkov's downfall. The February 8th speech was right down the Stalinist line. It repudiated the Malenkov statement that a nuclear war would mean the destruction of communism as well as of capitalism, and it bristled with threats and defiance. Experts in all the Western chancelleries concluded that a return to the rigid Soviet foreign policy of the end of the Stalin era was inevitable.

But there were immediate indications that the Molotov line was not necessarily the line of all the occupants of the Kremlin. Khrushchev and Prime Minister Bulganin went out of their way to make reassuring noises, in interviews with William Randolph Hearst Jr. Even more significant, when Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito bitterly attacked Molotov's speech, his attack was widely published in the Soviet press, without a word of defense for Molotov. Western intelligence experts have no doubt at all that Molotov fought hard against the Khrushchev-Bulganin policy of reconciliation with Tito. His defeat on this issue was followed by all sorts of evidence that he was on the downgrade.

He was left out of the delegation that made peace with Tito at Belgrade, his place being taken by "Pravda" editor Dmitri Shepilov. Both at Belgrade and at the Warsaw conference broad hints were dropped, and duly picked up by the Western intelligence services, that Molotov was on the way out. He played a minor role at Geneva, and again at the Moscow meeting with German Chancellor Adenauer. And in all recent informal contacts with Westerners Molotov has left the talking about foreign policy to the talkative Khrushchev.

Against this background, consider these key words in the little noticed editorial which accompanied Molotov's letter of confession: "In the field of foreign policy . . . the separation of theory from practice and attempts to cling to dogma cannot be permitted . . . the flexibility of our foreign policy has caused the enormous successes for the policy of the Soviet Union . . . and the relaxation of tensions which has lately been achieved."

These words are a slap in the face for Molotov for clinging to dogma — which really means clinging to the policies of Josef Stalin. Whatever Molotov's personal fate — and he has remarkable staying powers — the slap in the face means the shucking off of the last traces of Stalinist rigidity, and the final adoption of Khrushchev's policy of smiling opportunism.

It was not Molotov, after all, but Khrushchev's protege Shepilov, who made the carefully planned approach to Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser which has led to the Soviet-Egyptian arms deal. The deal is no isolated incident, but the beginning of a bold new Soviet policy of using obsolescent arms to stir up trouble and otherwise serve Soviet ends all over the world.

Stalinist dogma ruled out the delivery of arms to such "running dogs of the imperialists" as the Egyptians, Syrians and Saudi Arabians. Stalinist dogma also proved such a boon to Soviet policy — Indian Premier Nehru, after all, was another "running dog of the imperialists" in Stalin's day. And smiling opportunism has indeed already achieved "enormous successes," including the loosening of the cement in the whole Western alliance. So perhaps the mortification of Molotov is not such good news after all.

Price Setting Is Big Question

NEW YORK (AP)—The delicate question facing business today is where to set prices. And price news—whether to "fair trade," consumer reaction to price hikes, the prospects of another dose of inflation—is all over the lot.

The question is delicate because the urge to raise prices is strong just now with many a manufacturer — and because the power of the consumer to pick and choose in many a competitive market is unquestioned.

The conflict has had a spectacular outburst in the battle between the old-line merchants and the discount houses. "Fair trade" conflicts pop up sharply this week. "Fair trade" is the practice, backed by laws in many states, of a manufacturer setting a fixed retail price for his products. Retailers are told they mustn't sell for less.

Two big electrical appliance manufacturers have been having trouble with this practice. Westinghouse has abandoned list prices on some of its electric housewares as unworkable. General Electric is stopping efforts to enforce its "fair trade" contracts in Indiana, awaiting a court ruling on the validity of the state's law. An adverse ruling in Michigan caused GE to drop the pricing practice there.

But Rosson Corp. of Newark, N. J., says it will step up efforts to enforce "fair trade" pricing of its products: lighters and electric shavers.

The price question is to the fore in other ways this week, too. The new auto models are coming out almost daily now. And most of them carry higher "suggested" price tags than last year. It's up to the dealer to decide how much of this to try to pass along to the motoring public.

In steel centers there's talk of higher prices on some steel products. The price went up at the time higher wages were granted last summer. But steel mills say that didn't cover all their increased costs.

What consumer resistance can do is being pointed out this week at the meeting in San Francisco of the National Coffee Assn. A survey, said to represent 11 million households, showed 23 per cent cut their coffee buying when the price soared.

It's doubt over which way the public will jump that makes the pricing question so delicate for businessmen just now.

Animals Get Blame

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—State Forester Frank S. Hill, who investigates brush fires, bears all kinds of excuses.

A man accused of setting one told him: "I was burning trash in my backyard. A rabbit ran through the fire, caught fire and ran into the woods, setting them on fire."

A housewife explained another: "I threw a package of old meat in the trash I was burning. Our dog ran into the fire, grabbed the burning package, and ran off into the field, setting the brush on fire."

Right Place

SHERMAN (AP)—The sheriff's office arrested a fisherman for driving while drunk and finally figured out what to do with all the fish he had. They were sent to the county jail kitchen.

Clock Watcher

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A former Navy man, Orin Benson, found that watching the clock was just what his new boss wanted.

He hired out to work with a motion picture cast, filming scenes of a movie called "Battle Stations" aboard the U. S. aircraft carrier Princeton. His job was to make sure that sequence and times matched in scenes showing clocks.

Her Beauty Secret

"Constructive thinking is my top beauty secret," Dale Evans tells Lydia Lane. The popular television star also passes on information about a special diet, complexion tip she learned from her grandmother.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Dale Evans Clings To The 'Good Old Ways'

By LYDIA LANE HOLLYWOOD - Dale Evans is quite frank about the place prayer plays in her life. "If you release all your problems instead of worrying about them, you can change an unhappy life to a happy one," Dale told me as we lunched together at the Brown Derby in Hollywood. "Constructive thinking is my top beauty secret," she said with emphasis. "It applies to everything in life. When I first came to Hollywood I was used to Southern cooking which is as fattening as it is delicious. My favorite foods were hot breads dripping with butter, fried chicken and candied sweet potatoes. It's no wonder that I had a weight problem. "The studio took me in hand and put me on a ten day diet. I lost seven pounds quite easily but once on my own again, I ate them back on. When I realized that my whole eating pattern was at fault, I made a concentrated effort to learn to like the non-fattening things and since I've done this I've had no trouble with my weight."

plexion in good shape. I like to scrub my face with a rough wash cloth and mild soap until it tingles. I rinse it with warm water first, then lots of cold water, and finish with a few drops of a lubricant to keep my skin from feeling taut and dry. "Once in a while," Dale continued, "I use an old-fashioned beauty treatment which has been handed down through the years in my family. My mother learned it from my grandmother who had a really lovely skin. "I feel there are lots of benefits to be had from hand-me-down beauty secrets. This helpful little trick for the complexion," she explained, "is simply lying down with your feet higher than your head. This brings a fresh blood supply to your face and is wonderful for releasing tension. I use an upside-down board to make sure I'm lying at the right angle and it's become so much a part of my beauty routine I even take it with me when I travel," Dale said in parting.

DALE'S DIET Would you like to have a copy of Dale's own diet? And would you also like to have a copy of her grandmother's recipe for a complexion secret facial? Mrs. Carnrike Honored At Tea Sunday

Mrs. W. E. Carnrike was honored with a tea Sunday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Middleton, 1206 Rummels.

The honoree was feted for her recent appointment to the grand representative of the grand chapter of Missouri to the Grand Chapter of Texas. The affair was sponsored by the Big Spring Chapter 67, Order of the Eastern Star.

Chauncey Penix, worthy grand patron of the Grand Chapter of Texas and life-long friend of Mrs. Carnrike, made the appointment. The refreshment table was laid with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of white carnations, flanked with white tapers. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Greeting the 150 guests in the receiving line were Mrs. Middleton, Mrs. Albert Davis, worthy matron, Mrs. Carnrike, Mrs. Norman Reed, past grand matron, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Middleton, Ilene Barnett, associate matron, and A. A. McKinney, associate patron.

The houseparty included Mrs. Paul Carroll, Mrs. Pyrie Bradshaw, Dorothy Driver, Mrs. C. A. Murdock, plus the officers of the local chapter.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Bill Bonner.

Be Foiled Again! Use Aluminum In Cooking

By JOYCE CONNAWAY The modern housewife certainly can foil grandmother with the many tricks she can do with aluminum foil from the kitchen to out of doors.

This answer, to the shortcut cook's dream makes its best appearance in the kitchen. He a very duty foil can literally be used from the frying pan to the fire.

To avoid heavy scouring of the frying pan, mold a piece of foil over the pan as smoothly as possible. They fry your food as usual, and afterwards, rinsing is practically all that is necessary to have a shining pan. Also, when you broil meats, line the broiler with foil, and see how much easier the container is to clean.

Already baked foods may be wrapped in foil to be heated, either in the oven, or directly on top of the stove, eliminating a pan altogether.

In pressure cooking, make a cup of the foil and place your vegetable inside, then use the cooker as the manufacturer directs. With care, two different vegetables can be cooked in the pot at the same time by this method.

Foil keeps things fresh, so store things in the refrigerator and freezer in the wrapping. Junior's sandwiches will stay fresher until noon when wrapped in foil.

Outdoor on the grill, foil is a champion. The paper transfers the heat quickly, yet prevents over-charring. Food inclosed in foil can be placed either on the grate over the fire or, right in the coals that are not red hot.

Be sure to take along the tongs for handling the foil wrapped food, for the metal paper certainly can cause some burns if not handled with care.

When you are traveling, wrap aluminum foil around bottles or "Don't you worry about your clothes, let us worry about them." That is the motto of Carlton's Edwards Heights Cleaners at 1905 Gregg. There is no worry with cleaning or making minor repairs on clothes when they are taken to Travis Carlton's cleaning plant.

Carlton assumes all the worry and has the experience to see that your garments are handled properly with missing buttons replaced and small rips and tears mended. This additional service costs you nothing. It is just part of the excellent service you get at Travis Carlton's cleaning plant.

There is free pickup and delivery service, if you desire. The telephone number is 4-6771. Just call the office and your soiled clothes are picked up and brought back to you sparkling clean and professionally pressed to enhance the material and make your clothes look like they did when you bought them.

Carlton's is open long hours for your convenience. The doors open at 7 a.m. and stay open until 6:30 p.m. Almost 12 hours a day, Carlton's Edwards Heights Cleaners is open and ready to serve you. If you forget to have that special suit or dress pressed for a particular event, the friendly Carlton's will handle your problem for you in a hurry.

In emergencies, cleaning can be finished in one day. And besides experienced employees, Carlton has the most modern equipment to make sure that you are getting the best work possible.

Alterations are another specialty of Carlton's Edwards Heights Cleaning plant. All kinds of alterations and adjustments can be made to your clothes. Just drop in and give Carlton the clothes and the measurements. An experienced tailor will make the necessary alterations and see that your clothes are back to size.

There is no parking problem at Carlton's. Just drive right up to the front door and step inside. The plant is located right next door to the Edwards Heights Pharmacy.

Also, Carlton's plant offers one-stop service. Bring your laundry and hats for Carlton to send out for you. He sends out hats to be cleaned and blocked and offers a laundry service, too. Thus, you don't have to make two or three stops to get your cleaning and laundry problems taken care of. Carlton will handle it all for you. Remember, don't you worry about your clothes, let Travis and Emma Mae Carlton worry about them. Try the Carlton's Edwards Heights Cleaners the next time you have clothes headed for cleaning.

Lynn's Jewelry Assembles Big Stock Of Quality Merchandise

It isn't too early to start that Christmas shopping. In fact, Lynn's Jewelers several weeks ago started assembling one of the most complete stocks of jewelry and other merchandise to be available in Big Spring this Yule season.

The various items in the Lynn's stock make ideal Christmas presents, but they're also things the family uses throughout the year. All are nationally-advertised articles, too, fitting perfectly into quality merchandise.

J. T. Grantham, manager, this week announced addition of the "Keepsake" line of quality diamonds to Lynn's display. National advertising as the "finest of diamonds," the Keepsake stones are to be on display at Lynn's by Nov. 1.

The other nationally-advertised products Lynn's provides are Franciscan pottery; Syracuse china; International, Gorham, Heirloom, and Lunt sterling; 1847 Rogers, Community and Wm. R. Rogers silverware; Fostoria crystal; Bulova, Green, Longines, Elgin, Benrus and Mido watches; and the Ballou line of baby and tiny toy jewelry.

Grantham announced that the newest patterns in several lines of products are available at Lynn's. These include the latest pattern of Syracuse china, to be released Nov. 10; the "Silver Melody" pattern of International sterling; the new "Wedding Ring" pattern of Fostoria crystal.

The Franciscan pottery is available from "open stock." Lynn's also has the 14-piece starter sets and the 50-piece service for eight. The Syracuse china displays include all the old patterns, as well as the very latest.

All modern patterns of the Fostoria crystal are stocked, along with the new ones to be here in November.

The watches — Bulovas, Elgins, Midos, Benrus, Longines and Greens — come in all price ranges, models and styles.

Grantham said Lynn's now has what is probably the most complete and largest stock of costume jewelry to be found in Big Spring. The tiny toy jewelry by Ballou was added by Lynn's only last week. The gold and silver (not plated) pieces are offered at prices comparable to that often asked for inferior brands, said Grantham.

Other gift items available at Lynn's include the popular Argus C-3 camera, for making the 35 millimeter projector slides, Sampson luggage, and other "brand name" products.

Watch repair work is handled by Grantham and Vernon Hicks, who established quite a reputation in his field here several years ago. Hicks returned to Big Spring last July to become associated with Grantham at Lynn's.

Lynn's provides free engraving with jewelry items, as well as free gift wrapping and free leather stamping on leather goods.

Bashful Beauties Embarrass Elks

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — There's plenty of local pride in the many hearts of the Nogales Elks Club, but it appears that the maidens of surrounding Santa Cruz County are a bit bashful.

Last week the Elks announced a contest to name Miss Santa Cruz County, who'll compete in the Miss Arizona contest at the state fair.

No one showed up. Contact Chairman Carlos Jury announced another contest yesterday for Oct. 25. Just to make sure the county is represented at the fair, Jury said, Margaret Davidson, 18, agreed to compete. So far, she is the only entrant.

New Royal Tires Have '1956 Look'

If you want to give your 1954 automobile that "1956 look," a big help would be to have it outfitted with the new US Royal Master tire, available at the Phillips Tire Company at Fourth and Johnson Streets.

The Royal Master offers the added choice of coloristic styling, enduring as well as beautiful.

The Royal Master comes in Damascus Bronze, Crown Blue and Valley Green, as well as Classic Black and White, so designed to match the colors of any vehicle.

Tests show that this fresh, vital beauty remains unblemished even under extremes of heat and cold — through rain, snow and sleet. The new nylon tubeless US Royal Master is not only striking to the eye but durable and offers maximum safety, as well.

Thanks to the US Royal Master's exclusive Curb Guard, white sidewalls are protected for life from scuff and scar. They can be driven against the curb without fear of blemish.

Phillips Tire Company will also be the headquarters for the US Royal XP-140, the tire of the future. The XP-140 offers a bold, new adventure in tire appearance and is designed to offer glamour for sports cars, as well as durability. Phillips Tire Company, long-time Big Spring concern, also specializes in tire recapping, a process which insures thousands of miles of extra life to automobile casings. The firm takes pride in its seat cover service.

Three Teams In Tie For Lead In SWC

League Agog Over Aggies

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

The tangle at the top of the Southwest Conference football race will be partially cleared this week as the comeback kids of Texas A&M meet Baylor's swirling Bears in the big one at College Station.

Three teams—Texas A&M, Baylor and Southern Methodist—are tied for the lead with the campaign thundering to the half-way mark. Southern Methodist will stay there because it has an intersectional game Saturday, taking on futile Kansas at Lawrence.

The conference still was agog Monday over the upsurge of the once downtrodden Aggies. They whipped the conference's last undefeated, untied team Saturday as they toppled Texas Christian 19-16 and it made them favorites for the title.

It was the first conference victory for Aggie land in two full seasons but it came at the end of a 4-game surge that put the Aggies in a tie with Texas Christian and Baylor in the season standings. Each has won four and lost one.

Almost as shocking as the Aggies' triumph over swaggering Texas Christian was Southern Methodist's decisive 20-0 victory over Rice, the team voted most likely to succeed before the season opened.

Southern Methodist did everything except turn Rice loose in that virtual rout of the hitherto unbeaten Owls. It was the turn that SMU had been expected to make sooner. The Methodists had fire and drive and they treated the Owls rather roughly.

Baylor enhanced the league's prestige with a 13-7 victory over undefeated, untied Washington. Bear Bryant of A&M said he listened to the Baylor triumph and was impressed while the Arkansas Bears kept the ball virtually all the time. "They beat a fine football team in that Washington," Bryant said.

Arkansas, already on the ropes with two conference defeats, snapped out of it for an hour of triumph at Little Rock and it was hapless Texas, making its start in the title race, that was the victim. Arkansas whipped Texas 27-20 for the Longhorns' fourth loss in five games.

Two conference games are scheduled Saturday—A&M-Baylor and Rice vs. Texas at Austin—while three members of the league try for intersectional glory. SMU will be a solid favorite over Kansas but TCU plays Miami at Miami in a night game while Arkansas meets Mississippi at Oxford. The latter two look like tossups.

Jim Swink Is Still Leader

DALLAS (AP)—The Texas Aggies slowed Jim Swink but not enough for the TCU wheehorse to lose his leadership in Southwest Conference ball-carrying and total offense.

Swink had his worst day as the Aggies whipped TCU 19-16 last week. He ran for 85 yards to bring his ball-toting to 569 yards in five games. That was 152 yards better than Henry Moore of Arkansas who got 115 yards against Texas.

Swink's leadership was trimmed a little in total offense as John Roach of SMU made 60 yards passing and 30 running against Rice. Swink is 19 yards to the good over Roach.

Another slumper was Joe Clements, the Texas passer, who was held to 47 yards by Arkansas. Clements remains the leader with his 43 completions in 78 throws for 499 yards. Roach is second with 257 yards on 26 connections in 64 tries.

Roach became the leading punter as he ran his average to 41.1 yards per kick on 14 boots.

Menan Schreiner of Texas is the leading passer with 14 catches for 178 yards.

A&M crowded TCU in team offense, running its average to 311.8 yards per game. TCU lead with 343.2. Defensively, TCU tops with 196.2 yards surrendered per contest. A&M is second with 209.

The Plainsmen are members of the West Zone of the Texas Junior College Conference, which has Odessa, HCJC of Big Spring, Amarillo and Cleburne as other schools.

The veterans out include Alvin Paul Sell, Ben Bidly, Ray Smith, Stan White, Jerry Martindale and Bob Dunn.

New boys who have reported include Ernie Bowie, first Negro player ever on the team; Gary Herbert of Texline; Buford Clark, Borger; Pat Blankenship, Morse; Darrell Marr, Borger; Don Wil-

Mighty Phillips Is Title-Bound

By The Associated Press

Mighty Phillips, averaging 60 points per game and unable to find even mild competition, appears headed for its second straight title championship of Class AA schoolboy football.

The Blackhaws, featuring Jackie Webb, have been traveling at a point and one-fifth per minute clip and they take out for a rest this week while some others try to catch up.

Strong teams stick out in this class with Killeen considered as ranking next best to Phillips and the most likely finalist from the South.

The Kangaroos have averaged 36 points per game against stronger opposition than Phillips.

There are 29 undefeated teams left in the class, 20 of them unbeaten and untied. Stamford, Pecos, Terrell, Gladewater and Westlaco appear to be best in their areas.

The undefeated, untied teams are Phillips, Stamford, Spur, Abernathy, Ballinger, Kernitt, Pecos, Graham, Terrell, Seagoville, Commerce, Mt. Vernon, Gladewater, New London, Livingston, Killeen, Gonzales, Refugio, Fort Acres and Westlaco. Perryton, Taylor, Lock-

Tourney Field Is Completed

Coach Harold Davis of Howard County Junior College has announced that Odessa JC will again compete in the Howard College Basketball Tournament, which will be staged Dec. 29-30-31.

Other competing teams will be HCJC, the defending champion; Lon Morris, last year's runner-up; Wharton, Schreiner, Decatur, San Angelo and Amarillo.

Schreiner is the only new team in the tournament, having replaced Sayre, Okla.

Phillips Plainsmen Drill For West Zone Cage Play

BORGER, (SC) — Six lettermen are expected to form the nucleus for the 1955-56 Frank Phillips Junior College basketball team, which is already in the midst of serious preparations for the coming season.

The Plainsmen are members of the West Zone of the Texas Junior College Conference, which has Odessa, HCJC of Big Spring, Amarillo and Cleburne as other schools.

hart, Lampasa, Port Lavaca, Nederland, Boling, Mercedes and Dumars are unbeaten but have been tied.

Lumberjacks And SW Texas Vie

Unbeaten teams clash this week as the highlight of the Lone Star Conference race.

Stephen F. Austin's Lumberjacks, last undefeated, untied eleven in Texas college football, meet Southwest Texas State, once-tied, in a battle of two of four leaders in the conference race. They tangle at Nacogdoches Saturday.

The other teams tied for the top are Sam Houston and East Texas State. Sam Houston plays Lamar Tech at Huntsville in a conference test. East Texas meets Independent Austin College at Commerce.

Texas A&M and Sul Ross, out of title contention, play at Kingsville.

Stephen F. Austin stayed undefeated this fall in four years. They capped their comeback drive with a glittering 19-16 upset of undefeated, untied and nationally seventh-ranked Texas Christian Saturday.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

There may be a few people in Texas who are pulling against the Texas Aggies this fall but I doubt it.

The College Station Cadets have had their critics in the past but, when the Southwest Conference handed out that stern edict prior to last season and voted a pax on the Aggies, the people seemed to rally to their cause.

Recruiting is something that goes on at all schools. It just so happened Paul Bryant, the headmaster of the Aggies, was a little more open about it. Maybe honest is the word.

Now, the proud conference is up against it. If the Aggies go ahead and win the championship, as they might well do, then the governing body is going to have to send the second-best team into the Cotton Bowl, which isn't good business.

Last year, the confident Bryant said the other schools had best clear the tracks for his Aggies. "We'll win the championship," he said in so many words.

My hat is off to a guy who, in the face of adversity, shouts defiance to the winds and plows ahead.

To my thinking, he's one of the great coaches in the land.

Levelland may have won a football verdict here Friday night but the town can't get support to match Big Spring for fan support.

The school was forwarded 516 adult and 600 student tickets early last week. It had asked for 1,000 reserve seats and indicated it could use more.

Of the 516 adult seats, 150 were returned here — they couldn't be sold in Levelland. In addition, an even one-third of the 600 student ducats were returned—there was no market for them.

District 4-A teams had best show the proper respect to Coahoma in future years.

Dub Behrens has quite a program going down there. Of the lads who are playing on a club that cannot be taken lightly this year, only four will not be back in 1956. And most of the stout 16 or 18 who have seen most of the action in Bulldog games this year are only sophomores.

Behrens was so pleased with his new quarterback find, Mac Robinson, last Friday night he may go with the little fellow in the remainder of Coahoma's games. Mac showed remarkable poise in the Sunday game for a sophomore.

Mac, incidentally, is a brother to a former Coahoma great, Darrell Robinson. He should take his place alongside Skeet Williams as one of the finest Coahoma quarterbacks in recent years, in time.

Gorgeous George didn't do so good (financially) in his second appearance at Odessa last week. The paid turnout was 2,000. His first show there attracted 6,000 or more.

George, the wrestling game's Orchid Man, as usual, started a riot and had the fans pulling for his opponent, Dirty Davis.

One of the better young griders to come up from the grades here in years is J. B. Davis, an Eighth grader who is playing with the Ninth graders at the present time.

Davis, a hard-hitting back, seems to be a natural and does everything in a football way well.

He could be another Frosty Robson, before he departs school. The boy plays basketball, too.

Win Over TCU Was Fourth In Row For Texas Aggies

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—The youthful Texas Aggies, of whom their coach Paul (Bear) Bryant once said, "Nobody wants them but I'll take them," are the darlings of the crowd today.

The team that dropped nine games out of 10 last year has just finished winning four in a row—the first time an Aggie outfit has accomplished this feat in four years. They capped their comeback drive with a glittering 19-16 upset of undefeated, untied and nationally seventh-ranked Texas Christian Saturday.

With only 11 lettermen and with two-thirds of the 55-man roster composed of sophomores, A&M wasn't expected to beat anybody much this season as Bryant began his second season here. So, as the Aggies are elevated to the rank of favorites for the Southwest Conference championship, the big

Michigan, Maryland And Oklahoma Stand Alone

By ED CORRIQAN
The Associated Press

Out of the rubble of fallen giants of college football today there emerged three shining lights — three teams that well could fight it out for the mythical national title.

Michigan, Maryland and Oklahoma, all undefeated and all powerful, could go all the way. Yet, even these three are not invulnerable.

The Wolverines still have a solid five-game Big Ten schedule to face starting with Minnesota this week. After that, they have Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio State, any one of which could rise up and whip them.

Maryland heads northward this week for a game with fired-up Syracuse, which trounced Army 13-0 Saturday. If the Terps get by Syracuse, they'll have a clear path.

Oklahoma, with a streak of 23, goes against another undefeated outfit this week—Colorado. The possibility of another Big Seven team beating Oklahoma seems remote.

But then look what happened to Notre Dame, Georgia Tech, Texas Christian, Washington, Rice and Princeton. All were favored at from one to three touchdowns and all had been undefeated. But when the blackest Saturday of the football season was over, all had tumbled.

RAMS FALL, 30-28

Fred Cone Leads Green Bay Surge

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

It's been eight years since the Green Bay Packers have had a winning season in the National Football League, but now they're in a three-way deadlock for the Western Conference lead thanks to Fred Cone, who seldom has been spotlighted since coming from the Clemson campus five years ago.

Cone, a 29-year-old Alabamian listed as a fullback on the Packers' roster but specialized as a placement booter, kicked a 26-yard field goal in the final 24 seconds yesterday, snatching victory from the previously unbeaten Los Angeles Rams 30-28.

The victory sent the Packers into a tie with the Rams and the Baltimore Colts, themselves upset by the Chicago Bears 35-10. The last time the Packers were eating that high off the hog was in 1947 when they finished with a 6-5-1 mark.

In the other Western Conference game, San Francisco's 49ers piled up 21 points in the last quarter to defeat winless Detroit, erstwhile conference champion, 27-24.

Cleveland's Browns gained a share of the Eastern Conference lead with Pittsburgh by whipping the Washington Redskins 24-14 while the New York Giants finally turned the trick with a 10-0 victory over the Chicago Cardinals. It was the Giants' first 1955 success.

Pittsburgh snared Philadelphia 13-7 Saturday night to match Cleveland's 3-1 first-place record.

Cone was practically the whole show at Milwaukee as the Packers gained their 3-1 record. After booting only nine field goals all last season, he sent three through the uprights against the Rams—for 34, 45 and 26 yards.

The payoff placement lifted Green Bay from seeming defeat. Three minutes before, Jim Cason hauled in his third interception of the day for the Rams and ran it back 25 yards for a TD that put them ahead 28-27.

Bud Smith's Title Reign May End Wednesday Night

By The Associated Press

The record books say Al Singer's 120-day reign in 1930 was the shortest in the history of lightweight champions. Wallace (Bud) Smith can break the record Wednesday night at Cincinnati.

If Jimmy Carter wins back the title for the third time (also a new record), Smith will have held the championship just 112 days since June 29. Carter is an 8-5 favorite.

Just for comparison, here's how long the other men who dethroned Carter lasted as champions.

Lauro Salas (May 14, 1932 to Oct. 15, 1932) 154 days.

Paddy DeMarco (March 5, 1934 to Nov. 17, 1934) 287 days.

Smith won the crown June 29. Carter first won the title by knocking out Ike Williams May 25, 1931.

If Artie Towne can make believe he is fighting in England or Germany, he should upset the odds favoring Mike Satch in tonight's middleweight match at St. Nicholas Arena in New York.

The 28-year-old Towne has been a whiz across the seas, although his "knockout" of Peter Mueller in Berlin first was called a disqualification and later changed to "no decision." Back in his home town of New York, Towne is just another unranked fighter who hopes to click on TV.

Du Mont will telecast.

Rockets Drill For Odessa

By The Associated Press

The Lakeview Rockets, hard-pressed to gain a tie with Lamesa here Saturday night, turn their attentions to Blackbear of Odessa this week.

The two teams tangle in a non-conference game in Odessa this week. The Rockets will be seeking revenge, having yielded a 12-7 decision to Blackbear here several weeks ago.

Coach Theodore Brown will try to do something about improving his offense this week. The Rockets could make only 76 yards rushing and ten yards passing against Lamesa and never got closer to the Yellow Jacket goal than the 37-yard line.

Lamesa threatened the Big Spring goal line late in the fourth period before stout defensive play by the Big Spring line, headed by Lemuel Green, threw back the invaders on the five-yard line.

All told, Green made nine tackles and two assists during the contest. Robert Byrd also was in on 11 tackles, as was Earl Green.

The game was the seventh of the season for Lamesa. In previous starts, the Jackets had beaten Slaton, 19-0; lost to Big Spring, 7-13; won over Littlefield, 14-0; shaded Plainview, 23-6; blanked Slaton, 25-0; and shut out Littlefield, 35-0. The Jackets play Lamesa next week.

Clarence Williams was Big Spring's leading ground gainer Saturday night, with 29 yards. Alvin King had 19 and Ernest Byrd 13.

For Lamesa, James Conway set the pace with 70 yards. Willie Pendleton had 49 and Bob Osborne 21.

Big Spring made two first downs, both in the second half, to six for Lamesa. The Jackets picked up an additional 25 yards on two pass completions, having passed 15 times. Big Spring tried five passes and completed only one.

Big Spring punted six times for an average of 22.5 yards. Lamesa punted six times for an average of only 13.2 paces.

Big Spring was penalized three times for 25 yards, Lamesa the same.

The Rockets fumbled twice and failed to recover either time. Lamesa had three fumbles and recovered one.

Midwestern Tries North Texas Club

By The Associated Press

The other half of the Gulf Coast Conference opens championship play this week with Midwestern and North Texas State playing at Denton.

Abilene Christian and Trinity played the first conference game a month ago with ACC winning 14-13.

Miners Sight On Grid Title

PHOENIX (AP)—The Texas Western Miners, usually slow starters in the Border Conference football race, have cut a wide swath through conference opposition.

The Miners looked hopefully ahead today to a possible championship—their first in history—after holding defending champion Texas Tech to a 27-27 tie and smashing Arizona 23-0 on successive weekends.

In their four remaining conference games, the Miners meet New Mexico A&M; Hardin-Simmons, a threat if Sammy Baugh can develop something besides his passing attack; Arizona State at Tempe, still untied in the conference; and West Texas, probably the toughest of the four.

The Miner victory over Arizona Saturday about eliminated the Wildcats from the conference race.

In the other conference game, West Texas tuned up for this week's meeting with Hardin-Simmons by trampling New Mexico A&M 32-6. It was the fifth straight loss for the Aggies.

Insurance Stock Suit Explained By Head Of Firm

A suit filed by the attorney general asking cancellation of 15,650 shares of United Industries Underwriting Corporation stock is a friendly suit so far as incorporators in this area are concerned, Homer McKinley, board chairman, said Monday.

The board of directors had ordered the cancellation of all founders or bonus stock previously, he explained. With the exception of R. E. Bowling, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Kay of Fort Worth and American Republic Investors, Inc., all stockholders had agreed to turn in bonus shares which were based on the amount of founding capital paid in.

The suit was instituted at the instance of UIUC, McKinley explained, after the Fort Worth people declined to turn in the stock. Tom Helton, former president of UIUC, and all other Big Spring people, had volunteered to turn back the founders stock at the time the board ordered it cancelled.

Fines Heavy In Court At Lamesa

LAMESA — Justice of peace court was humming here during the weekend, reflecting the general increase in tempo as the cotton harvest hits full stride.

Two Wheels Taken From Parked Truck

Police were notified this morning that two wheels were missing from a truck belonging to Radford's Grocery. The truck was parked in the alley behind the store when the theft occurred. It had been jacked up and the tires and wheels removed.

Two Completions Reported In Howard County Fields Today

Howard County had two reported field completions this morning, one each in the Howard-Glasscock and Varel (San Andres) fields. A location was spotted in the Iatan-East Howard field.

The Howard-Glasscock field completion is Continental Oil Company's No. 18 Overton with a daily potential of 151 barrels of oil. The Varel pool completion is Herbert Prior's No. 1 Guitler Trust with a pumping potential of 152.38 barrels of oil per day.

In Dawson County, two wildcats had tests. Texas No. 1 Adams had bleeding oil on a core from the 8,327-78 foot interval. Shell Oil Company's No. 1 Clay had strong air blows but no shows from a test at the 12,353-574 foot level.

Pilots Urged To Develop Initiative

Forty-one student officers heard a "father and son" talk Monday as they were graduated at Webb AFB as jet pilots.

Dr. William E. Morgan, president of Colorado's A&M College, told his listeners he had discarded the idea of talking on problems of "a trigger-ready co-existence in a trigger-happy world," of pessimism of the atomic age or collapse of moral structure in the United States.

Instead, he said his own son had just entered air training at the college ROTC unit, and he wanted to talk to the class as father to son because "that boy, I hope, will be here in your shoes a few years hence."

Dr. Morgan, who is a native Texan and graduate of Texas A&M, before taking his masters at California and his doctorate at Harvard, was flown here by Lt. Champion. In the China-Burma-India theatre, was a former pilot and holds a reserve rank of colonel.

Although there is a tendency to uniformity in military life, Dr. Morgan said that the Air Force still demanded development of individuality.

"There is no conflict between freedom and conformity, because the more complex your surroundings become the more disciplined you must be," he said. He also urged the young men to gain maximum satisfaction out of their careers in order to do the best work.

Invocation was by Chaplain William H. Barker, and the Turkish National Anthem was played, together with the Star-Spangled Banner, in recognition of a Turkish member of the class.

Several Hurt In Dawson Accidents During Weekend
LAMESA—Accidents left several injured here during the weekend, and in one instance the makings of a real disaster were averted.

That was when a red came loose on the front of a truck bearing 30 Latin-American cotton pickers six miles north on the Brownfield highway Saturday evening.

Officer Held In Party Shooting

FT. BELVOIR, Va. — Army authorities held a 32-year-old lieutenant in the wake of a party shooting in which an 18-year-old girl was seriously wounded.

Confined on this Army Engineers' post without formal charge was Lt. George E. Balcom of Nashua, N.H.

Military authorities said Balcom sped off in his white Jaguar sports car after the shooting late Saturday night. He was forced off the road by a police roadblock near Richmond, almost 90 miles away.

Miss Sylvia Miller, 18, of Leesburg, was reported in serious condition at Ft. Belvoir Hospital with wounds in the abdomen, chest and left arm.

Capt. William N. Ball was hit in the knee by a stray bullet. Post officials said Balcom, who has been living at nearby Alexandria, pulled out a .22 caliber pistol and started pumping bullets at Miss Miller after she refused to leave an officers' party with him.

The Pines Club is an officers' mess. Miss Miller and the lieutenant were said to have known each other.

Gore Calls For Road Bill Okay

WASHINGTON — Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.) says the House should pass a Senate-approved highway bill early next year, leaving the question of finances for later legislation.

He said during the weekend he has suggested that action to Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) by letter, and personally to Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.), majority leader, and "received no particular discouragement from either."

Rayburn contended during the last session that any new highway bill should provide for financing the cost so it wouldn't be labeled "fiscally irresponsible."

The Senate bill, which bears Gore's name, omitted financing provisions because new tax legislation must originate in the House. Gore has said he personally would favor an increase in the gasoline tax to help raise money. He said Saturday a tax bill is bound to come up during the 1956 session, and a road financing plan could be worked out then.

In Washington For Water Suit

Army-Air Force Maneuvers Set

WASHINGTON — Headquarters forces for Exercise Sagebrush, largest joint Army-Air Force maneuver since World War II, began moving on Camp Polk, La., today.

It will serve as a gigantic field laboratory which ultimately will determine the future shape, size and tactical employment of the Army and Air Force.

The test will employ guided missiles and the Army's 280 mm atomic cannon. Chemical and biological warfare will be simulated, using harmless agents.

James J. Hodnett Dies At Plainview

LAMESA — James Joshua Hodnett, 83, retired O'Donnell farmer, died Saturday in a Plainview hospital after a long illness. Rites were set for 3 p.m. Monday at the O'Donnell Baptist Church with the Rev. Ernest D. Stewart Jr., officiating. Burial was to be in the O'Donnell Cemetery with Higginbotham Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Hodnett was born March 25, 1872 in Rusk County and had lived at O'Donnell for the past 25 years. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lady Hodnett; a daughter Mrs. Owen Egger, Plainview; and a son, Truitt Hodnett, O'Donnell. Four grandchildren also survive.

Supreme Court Orders Hearing For Chessman

WASHINGTON — The Supreme Court today ordered a new lower court hearing for Karyl Chessman, Los Angeles kidnaper and death cell author. Chessman was sentenced more than seven years ago to die in San Quentin's gas chamber.

His life was spared many times by last minute stays of execution — most recently last July 15 when Justice Clark granted him a stay pending high court action on a new appeal.

Seven times before, however, the Supreme Court rejected various legal moves by Chessman. The new hearing ordered today will be held in the U. S. District Court in San Francisco, on a habeas corpus proceeding.

The Supreme Court's action was announced in a brief unsigned opinion. It noted that Justices Reed, Burton and Clark dissented and that Chief Justice Warren took no part. The vote was thus 5-3 with Harlan voting for Chessman.

During his long wait in the California prison's death row, Chessman has written two books. One called "Cell 2455, Death Row," was made into a movie. The other, "Trial by Ordeal," was published in July.

Chessman, 34, was convicted May 14, 1948, of eight counts of robbery, four of kidnaping, two of sex perversion on victims, one count of attempted robbery, one of attempted criminal assault, and one of auto theft.

Parking Quarrel Ends In Shooting

HOUSTON — An argument over a parking spot erupted into gunfire yesterday in which one man was killed and another critically wounded.

David Reeves, 25, a merchant seaman from Galveston, was killed. Glenn Henry, 23, of Galveston, was in critical condition. A merchant seaman from Pasadena told homicide Lt. L. L. Waits he shot the two men. The seaman, 50, said the two men walked over to his car and tried to drag him out. He opened fire, he said.

The men were both shot in the chest with a pistol.

Amateurs Beat Pro Golfers

DALLAS (AP)—The amateurs held another victory, and the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation for Crippled Children will get $6,000 from the Texas Cup Matches yesterday.

The simon-pures split the 16 singles matches and with a 1-point bulge obtained in the doubles the previous day beat the pros for the second time in three years.

Looking over the array of young golf stars who gave the pros a licking, Byron Nelson, captain of the pros, commented that "We're just too old."

It looked bad for the amateurs when four pro-amateur matches had been played with Joe Conrad, Rex Baxter, David Goldman and Don Cherry, the top four of the simon-pures, taking lopsided lickings. Then the tide turned and the pros won only two more matches of the remaining 12. Chuck Klein, Jack Burke, Jack Harden and Jackson Bradley hung up the first four triumphs for the pros but only Sammy Speer and Bobby Morris were able to win the rest of the way.

Ed Hopkins gained a halve; Floyd Addington, John Garrett, Marion Hiskey and Bobby Goetz won their matches; Howie Goetz won broken even with Elroy Marti, and Frank Wharton and John Farquhar won their matches, and that gave the amateurs victory.

Hoad And Rosewall Not To Turn Pro

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad, Australia's 20-year-old Davis Cup twins, turned their backs on lucrative pro contracts today and said they would remain tennis amateurs.

American promoter Jack Kramer had offered the two $50,000 each to join his troupe. Only last week, Kramer signed America's No. 1 Davis Cupper, Tony Trabert, for $75,000.

Rosewall and Hoad decided to stay with the sporting goods companies for which they work. Rosewall has also been freed to do part time work for a milk company, which will bring his salary to an estimated $6,000.

Kramer said he is considering asking pro Pancho Gonzales and Frank Sedgman, a former Aussie Davis Cup star, to join the troupe.

Both have played for Kramer before.

OU Ace At Best When In Open

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Tommy McDonald, Oklahoma's fleet left halfback, adds the spark that detonates the explosive ground attack of the third-ranked Sooners.

The junior from Albuquerque, N.M., started the 1953 football season with little fanfare. But in four winning games, McDonald has scored 42 points on 7 touchdowns and rushed 234 net yards in 41 carries for an average of 8.1 yards.

Lightning-like speed isn't all the blond bullet has to offer to keep alive Oklahoma's 23-game winning streak. He's completed six out of nine passes with a peculiar side-arm peg as he sweeps right after taking the pitchout. McDonald hasn't had a pass intercepted and the option pass play has earned him 106 yards.

McDonald is at his elusive best when he's in the open. He says going out for track at Oklahoma last year sharpened his speed this fall. At Highland High School in Albuquerque, he once ran 100 yards in 9.7 seconds. In the New Mexico State High School meet his senior year, he won three first places, the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and the 180 foot hurdles in which he set a state record of 19.5 seconds.

The 5-foot, 9-inch industrial education major uses his speed to good advantage on defense. During the Texas game, in which Oklahoma triumphed 20-0, the 160-pounder intercepted a Longhorn pass and ran it back 21 yards to the Texas 7 to set up a touchdown.

Nichols Obtained By Clevelanders

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians brought their roster to its top limit of 44 today by acquiring a pitcher from San Diego, another from Reading, three players from their Tulsa farm club and four from Indianapolis.

Because the Tribe has four ex-service men, it is allowed to carry four above the 40-player limit.

Waivers were asked on outfielder Ralph Kiner, who has announced he is retiring, Veteran utility infielder Sam Dente has been assigned to Indianapolis.

The new minor leaguers include: From Tulsa: pitchers Doan Nichols (17-15) and Stan Pitula (14-7), 22-year-old righthander, and catcher Allen Jones, 24.

From Indianapolis: outfielder Joe Caffie, with Syracuse last season; catcher Lavern Grace; pitcher Ed Gasque and Wilbur Striker. Striker was with Reading in the past season.

Tut Bartzan Wins Defending Champ

ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Bernard Bartzan of San Angelo holds today the men's singles crown of the Southwestern Tennis Tournament.

Bartzan, mixing powerful back court play with pin-point line shots, beat defending champion George Drouler of Los Angeles 6-1, 6-0, 6-2.

Gale Lashes Connecticut

Waves pound the shoreline near waterfront homes on Long Island South at West Haven, Conn., as the worst storm in years, except for hurricanes, hits the eastern seaboard. Damage was moderate as gale-force winds hit the coast from Mattamusset to Mianus.

3 Days Of Drenching Rain Bring New Floods To Eastern Coast

By The Associated Press
Three days of drenching rain has wreaked another flood disaster on states still groggy from Hurricane Diane's punch two months ago.

In six states, 34 persons were known or presumed dead, and property losses were in the millions. Much railroad service was halted. Highways were closed and bridges knocked out. Thousands were evacuated.

Relief operations were in high gear today—especially in hard-hit sections of New England—but new fears of floods and washouts spread through New England. The U. S. Weather Bureau in Boston forecast that rain will continue today and tomorrow. The bureau also said in an early morning warning: "Rivers will continue to rise and all those in low areas should keep abreast of the latest reports and forecasts."

Flood Victims Tell Of Ordeal In Connecticut

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Here is the story of the Connecticut flood, told in the words of the people who know it best.

Thomas Godbout, a 41-year-old mechanic from Monroe, who went out to drive his wife back from the inn where she worked as a waitress—and never made it: "I crossed over the center road bridge in Easton and a state cop told me I'd have to take Route 53 in Georgetown.

"When I got there I was stopped. Water was rushing everywhere. A car was over the bank. I went back over the same road. When I got back in Easton, the bridge I had gotten over half an hour before was washed away, but I couldn't see that.

"I drove onto the bridge but it wasn't there.

"The car went down. One third of it was out of the water. I broke the glass on one of the doors on the passenger's side. The water came rushing through it.

"The lights of the car were still on and I could see what I needed to do. That saved me." He went out through the window, waded to shore, and spent the night at a stranger's house.

National Guard Col. Walter Jakubowski, who led 130 National Guardsmen into isolated Georgetown, where 500 families were stranded without food or water: "What we did was to prove somebody could get into Georgetown. It was tough getting in. At one point we had to put a jeep in high gear and jump it over a 12-foot drop in the road.

"We gave them help, but they had the situation under control." Mrs. Susan Kelly, 71, who swam for her life when the Norwalk River carried away her house. Her husband Tom, 74, and two women roomers were swept away and presumed dead. Mrs. Kelly, from her hospital bed in Norwalk, said "I told my man, Tom, let's get out of here. Let me alone, you make me nervous," he said—

"I don't know what happened then. Someone got me out somehow. My man must have been hit in the head. They haven't found him, have they?"

Florida Highway Mishap Kills 4

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Four persons were fatally injured in a traffic accident involving nine vehicles on heavily traveled U. S. Highway 90 about four miles west of Pensacola late Saturday night.

Patrolman Fred Parish said a fast-moving automobile slammed into a line of cars halted for a truck making a left turn off the highway.

James W. Brockway and Billy McKinney Cooper, both 23, of New Hope, Ala., died at the scene. Malcolm S. Best, 27, and James E. McCloskey, 26, both of Pensacola, died later of severe burns.

Hurricane Katie Roars Across Haiti

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Katie, 11th tropical storm of the season, roared across Haiti and the Dominican Republic today with winds of 115 miles an hour. She was not expected to hit the U. S. mainland.

No important cities in the two countries—which make up the Caribbean island of Hispaniola—were in the immediate path of the storm. Forecasters said it may be 48 hours before the extent of damage is known.

Katie was moving on a northeasterly course taking her away from the U. S. mainland and weathermen said she probably never will pose a threat to this country.

In her 160-mile journey through the mountains of Hispaniola, Katie probably will lose so much of her power and may not regain hurricane intensity after entering the Atlantic.

Thousands of persons were evacuated safely and supplies flowed steadily into stricken areas. The Red Cross estimated that more than 4,000 families were affected in Connecticut alone.

As the weary mayor of Ansonia, Conn., William T. Sheasby, put it: "There's a limit to the punishment people can take."

Emergency proclamations sprang up in the storm area. Gov. Abraham Ribicoff, with 48 towns in his state affected, again sought federal aid for Connecticut. From his sickbed in Denver, President Eisenhower issued assurances of help.

Transport was one of the big problems. Scores of roads were blocked, and railroads stalled or barely limped along. The busy New Haven Railroad suspended most of its traffic yesterday, but expected commuter service between Stamford and New York to resume today.

Prospects For GOP Nomination Figure Highly In Political Talk

By The Associated Press
Prospects for the Republican presidential nomination figured prominently in political talk yesterday.

And "advice" to both parties came from Chairman Joseph L. Rauh Jr. of Americans for Democratic Action, a political action group espousing New Deal and "Fair Deal" principles. Rauh told a New Jersey state ADA convention:

Republicans should "drop" Vice President Nixon as a 1956 presidential possibility because, Rauh said, the independent voter will "never swallow him."

Democrats should remember they are the "party of liberalism and that compromise and timidity have never won elections for them in the past, any more than they will in 1956."

Nixon's name cropped up in New York with the arrival of California's Gov. Goodwin J. Knight for a series of speeches at GOP meetings. Knight had been criticized by Nixon supporters in California for his announced plan to lead the state's big delegation to the Republican National Convention next year as a nominal candidate for president, even if that pitted him against a Nixon-pledged slate.

Knight said "I'm not a candidate for president" even if President Eisenhower doesn't seek re-election, and "Nixon is all right with me if he's nominated. It depends on what the President's wishes are."

New York's Republican Atty. Gen. Jacob K. Javits said on a TV program it would be "logical" to assume his state's GOP delegation to that convention would offer former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as a "favorite son" candidate for president.

Harold E. Stassen, the President's special assistant on disarmament, said on a separate TV program that "I do not consider myself a candidate" even if Eisenhower doesn't run.

Sen. Butler (R-Md) said it will be harder for the GOP to win if Eisenhower doesn't seek re-election. "But I think it can be done," Gov. Lawrence Wetherby of Kentucky, at Point Clear, Ala., for a conference of Southern governors that opens tomorrow, said today the odds favor the South voting solidly Democratic in 1956.

Suicide Listed In Russian Death

NEW YORK (AP)—The gun death of Alexei Minaev, a Russian clerk, has been officially listed as a suicide.

Dr. Milton Helpert, the city's chief medical examiner, issued the finding yesterday after an autopsy. The clerk's body, a bullet through the brain, was found Saturday afternoon in the plush Park Avenue headquarters of the Soviet United Nations delegation.

Gleeful Derailment
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—There was a train derailment in Oklahoma City yesterday. The locomotive of Lincoln Park's miniature railroad train ran off the track after striking a rock on one of the rails. Fifty youngsters riding in the open-air coaches behind were uninjured. In fact, they howled with glee.
