School Board Works On Teachers' Raise

A workable and equal pay schedule kept the Spearman School District Board figuring until 1 a. m. Wednesday.

The board tackled the problem of approving the pay schedule worked out by Supt. Bill Reeves and Business Manager Orville Latham. The two men had been unable to resolve some of the inequalities caused by the raise and the old pay schedule.

The problem was brought on by the pay increase approved by the state for base salaries. Spearman was already paying $600 above the state base. The state increase was about $400.

After apparently getting the schedule worked out, the board agreed to postpone the final approval until Wednesday night. All the figures were to be studied Wednesday.

The tax rate for the coming year was also set at the Wednesday night meeting.

The board accepted the resignation of five teachers who had submitted them. The teachers are: Miss Connie Hyles, Darrel Davis, Swaim McCauley, Jerry Taylor and Mrs. Kent Guthrie.

Work on raising the middle of the football field and planting grass was approved. Supt. Reeves reported to the board that the center of the field needed to be raised about six inches for drainage and grass seeded.

Water grass is the only grass in the middle of the playing area and after the first frost there would be nothing but bare dirt, he reported.

Supt. Reeves reported that of the 78 students who completed Summer School this year, only 23 were repeating work and 55 were taking extra subjects.

"This shows that many students want more subjects than they can get in the normal four years," Reeves commented.

Court Meets

In a routine business meeting Monday the Hansford Commissioners Court bought a truck and paid bills.

Approval was given for the purchase of a two-ton truck from Gruver Motors in Gruver. Charity bills totaling $311.26 were paid by the court.

COSTS GO UP

City Raises Taxes and Water Rates

City property taxes and water rates were raised Monday night by the Spearman City Council to meet increased city obligations which cannot be paid from current income.

Valuation of property for tax purposes will be raised from the current 35 percent of true value to 40 percent. The tax rate per $100 valuation is $1.50.

Water rates were increased from a minimum charge of $2 to $2.50 for any amount under 3,000 gallons. The next 7,000 gallons will go up to 40 cents per thousand from the current 30 cents and all over 10,000 gallons will be 35 cents per thousand instead of the current 25 cents.

Part of the increased cost of operating the city government and services were placed on utilities so people who do not pay taxes on real estate and other property, will bear a part of the increased operating costs.

Inflation, projects exceeding bond money and a big street repair bill forced the increase in taxes.

Capital outlay for streets, water, sewer and gas services over the past years have exceeded the bond money provided. Also it takes years for utility billings to pay for extending services to new areas. Developers pay for lines within their developments, but the city must extend the services to their property within the city limits.

An unforeseen expense arose last summer when the city had to spend $30,000 to repair damage to streets caused by the 18 inches of snow in February of that year.

In his first two months in office City Manager Darc Foshee found approximately $30,000 in past due bills that had not been paid by the city.

The accounts were bills that had been approved for payment by the council, then not paid or were bills which had not been presented. The audit showed no shortages in the city funds. The bills presented each month for payment just did not reflect all that was being spent.

Foshee has cut expenses by not replacing some employees who have quit and cut other expenses, but increased costs still forced the increase in taxes and utility rates.

City Police reported handling 20 minor cases during June and issuing 29 traffic tickets. There was only one traffic mishap in the city and no one was injured.

There were no burglaries or thefts reported in Spearman.

Twenty stray or unclaimed dogs were destroyed at the city dog pound by the animal control officer. He reported that 14 dogs were in the pound. If they are not claimed they will also be destroyed. The officer also issued 16 citations to dog owners who let their animals run loose.

The fire department had only one alarm in June, a trash fire in an alley.

Elaine Kelly Says 4-H Training Is Valuable

Elaine Kelly of Morse recently returned from her second Texas 4-H Council meeting and workshop, held this year at the University of Houston, June 22-26.

Miss Kelly served as Secretary Treasurer of the Council this year. The council is composed of 29 boys and girls from 4-H clubs over the state. There are 24 delegates, a boy and girl from each of the 12 districts, and five Executive Committee members elected from the year before.

Miss Kelly was a delegate in 1964 and was elected to the executive committee for this year.

This year's theme was "Understanding and Utilizing the Texas 4-H Council."

"The overall purpose for each council member was to better understand himself and others, and learn to work and live more effectively with his own other age groups," Miss Kelly said.

To accomplish this aim, she pointed out, each council member became involved in activities where he took real responsibility for believing in and carrying out the program of the annual meeting.

Council members and executive committee members worked each day in four committees. They were responsible for completely carrying out all activities during council. They were assisted by adult leaders.

On the entertainment level, council members saw a major league baseball game in the Astrodome, toured the San Jacinto monument and Battleship Texas, the waterfront and shipping channel, the space center and ate in the San Jacinto Inn.

For the girls there was a fashion show at Sakowitz and a talk on fashions.

United Gas Corporation gave a banquet for the council at the Warwick Hotel. United paid the expenses of the council meeting. The corporation also pays expenses of 4-H members attending other state and national functions.

The banquet gave the council members a chance to meet many officials of United Gas.

Miss Kelly said the council was a wonderful opportunity for each member. "The learning situations which we participated in helped each of us in the development of leadership through involving others and helping to develop their ideas and personalities."

As a member of the executive committee, Miss Kelly has been invited to attend the Attorney General's Youth Conference on Crime in Austin, Aug. 20-22.

During the past year Miss Kelly has attended the State Fair Honor Awards Banquet in Dallas, the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show 4-H, FFA and FFA banquet, plus the council meetings.

"These have been wonderful opportunities provided for me by 4-H," she commented. "I have been in 4-H for 10 years and hope that everyone between the ages of 9 and 19 will take part in the many programs offered."

Miss Kelly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Desmond Kelly of Morse and graduated this year at Gruver High School.

Home Demonstration Agent

As you may have read already in last week's paper, Janice Trindle has been named one of the winners of the 4-H Talent Club Tour Award. Janice is one of our most outstanding 4-H members in Hansford county.

Winne in the Talent Club Tour are chosen for their exceptional ability in production as well as leadership and citizenship activities in their 4-H Club work. Janice is very deserving of this award.

Many people have to wear glasses these days, and I am no exception, although it isn't necessary for me to wear mine all the time. However, my glasses do get dirty, and I've discovered the best method for getting them clean again.

Like any other fashion accessory, eyeglasses must be kept clean-the frames for attractive appearance and the lenses for better vision. Straining to see through smudgy lenses causes many facial squint lines. Rubbing with a dry cloth smears soil and grease so glasses should be washed at least once a day to remove finger marks, cosmetics and dust. This daily bath is indispensable in summer to wash away perspiration sun lotion, salt water and sand.

A good routine is to immerse glasses, frames and all, in warm soap or detergent suds; then go over them with a well-lathered soft cloth. Optical experts advise wiping lenses from side to side instead of in circles. A soft brush will coax soil from hinges, filigree metalwork and cutwork.

After rinsing, wipe the lenses and frames dry with a clean lintless cloth. Lenses made of unbreakable resin should be washed the same way. Authorities warn against rubbing them with silicone treated paper, which tends to scratch and damage resins.

I have much cleaner glasses after giving them a well-deserved "bath", so I hope this is an idea you can use, too.

Have you tried freezing frosted cakes and found that it sometimes doesn't work well?

Few frostings do freeze well. Those containing egg whites are not suitable for freezing because they dry out and become crystalline. Whipped cream filling are also unsuitable.

For best results when freezing a cake, cover the cake with an uncooked frosting made of confectioners' sugar. The fat will keep it moist and creamy for four to six months.

The last note: Even if we could see ourselves as others see us, we wouldn't believe it.

Day by Day

Note to summer brides; brides in Paris (France, of course) have what they think is a charming little custom; you may want to add this to your wedding reception plans.

The reception takes place in a courtyard with gay music and the lovely bride, at the close of the festivities, tears her tulle veil in pieces about 4 by 8 inches and goes around tucking a piece of veil into the coat pocket of each young man. (I have no idea why, but if you really want your wedding to be different...)

I can just picture the father of the bride though, tearing out his hair as his daughter casually tears that costly headpiece to shreds. They really aren't of much use after the wedding is over, but that's something the thoughtful bride doesn't remind her father about.

Did you see the little eight-year-old girl on the Tonight Show Friday night? She recently won a national golf championship with a 44 on nine holes. She started playing when she was four though, and I was a little older than that before I even took up tiddly winks.

I'm probably as good as the runner-up in the contest though. The little girl beat her nearest opponent in the contest by 65 strokes.

While you're reading this, I plan to be gone this week, vacationing. Well, not far, really, but I'll spend a few days in Memphis playing golf with my Dad, and go up to Palo Duro Canyon to see "Thundering Dragons of the West" before going with my husband to spend a few days with his parents in Commerce.

There's something so wonderful about vacationing. I love the detached feeling and the holiday atmosphere of long, unplanned days. However, I'm always ready to get back home when the time comes. So, next week, I'll be all rested up and ready to go for another year.

Here's hoping I collect a whole handful of delightful, easy-to-fix, delicious recipes while I'm gone so I'll have enough to end this column for simply ages.

As it is, I get to the end and -

Trees May Be Moved In Summer Time

If you've just purchased or built a new home, chances are you are ready to try some summer transplanting of trees and shrubs.

Everett E. Janne, Texas A&M University Extension landscape horticulturist, says it isn't necessary to wait until fall or winter to set out shrubs and start a landscape program.

Although most reference authorities do advise you to wait until the dormant season many reputable nurserymen will be happy to provide you with balled and burlapped plants or container-grown plants which can be transplanted most any time, Janne says.

It's best to avoid planting just before leaving on vacation--unless you have a reliable yard man to look after the plants while you're away.

When transplanting balled and burlapped or container-grown plants, be sure to select those which are healthy and have a good color. Avoid misshapen and off-color plants, for they're usually slow to become established.

When transplanting, the hole should be the same depth as the ball or container, and considerably larger in diameter. A good rule of thumb is to make the hole 50 percent greater in diameter than that of the soil ball. If the soil is poor, remove it and all good topsoil or compost. A poor soil can be improved by adding peat moss--30 to 50 percent by volume--to the existing soil and using it as backfill. This encourages new root development, provides better moisture holding capacity, and improves aeration of the soil.

Place the plant in the hole at the same depth it originally grew. Fill up around the soil ball with the prepared soil, firming it in place. When the hole is about three-fourths full of soil, fill the rest of the way with water. Allow to soak away. Then finish filling the hole with soil, but do not tamp it in place.

If you are planting a burlap wrapped ball, it's best to remove the upper portion of the burlap to prevent girdling the trunk in case the fabric is slow in rotting near the surface. The lower portion will readily decompose.

Delay fertilizing until after the plant has started to put on new growth, suggests Janne.

Another desirable practice is to prune the plant to remove at least one-third of the top growth. The above-ground portion should be reduced in relation to the root system. Remove some of each branch rather than taking all from the lower limbs or top.

Additional pruning details can be obtained from your County Extension Office by

Lawn Disease Problems Follow Heavy Rain

Lawn disease problems have increased in several areas of the state due to heavy rains and cooler weather.

Wendell Horne, Extension plant pathologist, Texas A&M University, reports that brown patch specimens and leaf spotting organisms have been causing much of the damage.

Brown patch and leaf spotting are both caused by fungi. Lawn control can be most successful when preventive measures are taken against these microbes, according to Horne.

Building up a thatch of fallen grass clippings should be avoided. This material becomes colonized by micro-organisms that may affect the grass under certain environmental conditions.

The grass should be kept in healthy condition by adequate watering and fertilization. Watering should be done early enough in the day to allow the grass to dry by nightfall. A damp condition favors the fungi.

A protective fungicide such as zineb can be applied if leafspot becomes a problem. It should be used at regular intervals according to the manufacturer's recommendations.

If brown patch has been a problem in the past, a fungicide can be applied one to two weeks prior to the usual time it occurs. Horne recommends Terraclor, Actidione RZ, Ortho's Lawn Disease Control or other similar materials for this application.

Horne also reports that some petunia specimens have been affected by a damping off fungus this year. Damping off is similar to root rot and occurs in young plants.

The micro-organism causing the disease builds up in the soil and can be removed by a soil sterilant type chemical such as Vapam or VPM. If no living plants are growing in the beds the soil sterilant can be used to control weed seed, fungi, bacteria and nematodes. Seeds or transplants can be replaced in two to three weeks after treatment.

Some material can be applied in the form of a drench around living plants if control measures are preferred after plants are established.

Horne says the local county agricultural agent can be contacted for more information concerning the control of lawn and flower diseases.

SENATOR TOWER SAYS

Medical Care Bill Tied to SS System

The Senate last week approved a severely limited medical care bill and tied its high cost to the Social Security taxation system. I regarded the medical care provisions as most inadequate, and I fear that the added expense will endanger the financial stability of the entire Social Security system upon which so many older Texans depend.

Therefore, I voted against the medical care bill, because I could not vote to destroy Social Security as we know it.

The medical care bill covered—at excessively high cost and with excessive tax increases on working Texans—only very limited hospital costs. It did not deal at all with the crucial problem of long-term illness. In addition it provided the limited care for everyone, be he poverty-stricken or millionaire.

This medical care problem is a very simple one: It is the need to provide comprehensive care for those who cannot provide it for themselves. There the problem ends. I fully agree that we should provide care for citizens over 65 who have neither the income nor the resources to provide for themselves and that care should cover ALL their medical needs, including hospital, doctor, drugs, and nurses. As you know, our state has such a comprehensive program in increasingly broad operation.

Back in January, I introduced the "Eldercare" bill. It would have increased state-federal cooperation in providing total medical care for all needy elderly Americans. And it would not have been tied to or have endangered Social Security.

One week later, I introduced a bill to increase Social Security benefits by a seven percent cost-of-living factor. The bill just passed by the Senate included that increase. I am not happy that unwise governmental fiscal policies have forced the cost of living up, but I do not think we can any longer penalize our older citizens because of the government's past fiscal mistakes. I will continue to support an adequate, financially sound Social Security system.

I would like to caution older Texans not to drop their present medical care insurance policies just because the Congress has voted on "Medicare". Even the limited care under this bill will not go into effect until 1966 and 1967. In the meantime, I know Texans will continue to support and to assist the needy and that those Texans who are financially able to provide for themselves will continue to do so.

COMMUNICATIONS — Your Tool for Progress

In case of fire, this telephone rings the alarm

In many of our towns, fire protection comes from a volunteer fire department. An effective communications system summons these volunteers by ringing all members' telephones at the same time. What's more, it is a distinctive ring which means "FIRE!" and brings firemen on the run. Here is another example of how Communications becomes a Tool for Progress—a communications service of great value to every town with a volunteer fire department. For full information about our many communications services, please call our Business Office.

Salvation results when God can lead us to Jesus Christ and cleanse us with His righteousness. Faith in Him is a saving faith. Now what results in our life after we have accepted Christ?

Some look at church members and say "If that is what happens to a Christian, I want no part of it." How misinformed and in error are those who say such things.

No one in any congregation is perfect in his or her actions or the way they live. In Christ yes. But in action we all fall short of what God desires in our life. Christians don't claim to be, or at least should not claim to be, perfect in thought, word and deed.

After we have accepted Christ we are now to grow in holy living. It is a life long process or putting off the old nature and putting on the new. We call it sanctification. While justification or salvation is instantaneous, sanctification is a continuous thing.

Christians know they will come to the end of life still not walking as close to God as they should. But here the wonderful love and promise of Jesus is that we are perfect because He has died for us. We are not perfect in the way we act.

Good works, as fruits of faith, are possible only in the life of the believer. They result from the Holy Spirit guiding our lives, showing us constantly what Jesus has done for us in love and we respond to His love by putting off our old manner of living.

Prayer is an essential part of Christian growth in holy living. So is public worship on Sundays. Here Christians go to be inspired at God's Love. Daily reading of the Bible is essential. Also needed are the using of our time, talents and money for the Lord.

Christians thus are to grow to be more Christ like in daily living. We need the Lord's help. We constantly need to ask Christ for help for our failures. Will you too allow The Spirit to help you grow more Christ-like so you can help praise your Savior Jesus.

SAFETY EMBLEM

If you move your farm implements on main highways, there's a new reflectorized-fluorescent emblem you can buy to warn high-speed motorists to slow down for you. It's good day, dusk, or night and in most kinds of weather.

Many accidents are caused simply because the ordinary motorist often does not realize that the object on the ahead is moving as slowly as it is until it's too late to avoid hitting it. That object could be you. The National Safety Council says that accidents could be reduced substantially if the SMV emblem were used by slow-moving vehicle operators and recognized by motorists nationwide.

The new triangle-shaped emblem, designed by Ohio State University agricultural specialists, can be easily mounted on most farm equipment. Highway maintenance and construction machines can use it too. It's to be used only on vehicles designed to travel 25 mph or less.

The center of the SMV emblem is fluorescent yellow-orange and the outside border is reflective red material. It's inexpensive, durable, available, and movable and does not interfere with your operation of the equipment.

IRON CHLOROSIS
If your ornamental plants are yellow, chances are they are suffering from Iron Chlorosis. Iron is necessary for the formation of chlorophyll. When iron is unavailable for plant use, chlorophyll fails to develop properly and plants exhibit chlorosis.

To control iron chlorosis, it is necessary to treat the soil so that iron becomes available, or else provide supplemental iron as a spray or soil application. To control chlorosis by addition of iron, use iron sulfate (copperas) or iron chelates. Iron sulfate is relatively cheap and a good source of iron to use. Its use should be restricted generally to spray application. If iron sulfate is applied to an alkaline calcareous soil, the iron may become unavailable for plant growth.

For lawns, use 3 oz. of iron sulfate in 5 gallons of water per 1,000 square feet as a spray or 10 lbs. per 1,000 square feet as a soil application.

For ornamentals, use 2 1/2 teaspoons in a gallon of water for a spray.

GUILDING CHILDREN

Much has been written and an outcry has been raised against the youth of this county for their lack of respect for rights of others, for their riots against authority, and their apparent disloyalty to their homeland.

No one should be surprised about the way these youths are acting. In Proverbs 22:6, the Old Testament writer summarizes the many volumes written on raising children with these words: "Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it." With the kind of training many children receive in their homes, the surprising thing is that teen-agers are as good as they are.

Many excuse the trouble caused by young people as just growing pains and young people "sowing their wild oats." The writer of Proverbs in the same chapter and verse 15 comments: "Foolishness is bound in the heart of a child; but the rod of correction shall drive it far from him."

Therefore, when we allow our children to grow up in the foolish ways of youth without correction; we are letting them establish a pattern they will follow all of their lives. Rare is the person who can overcome a poorly directed youth and turn it into a righteous and productive adulthood.

Parents who deny their children the correction and guidance each child deserves are depriving the children of the most basic requirement for a successful life.

Farmers Want Law Against Herbicides

A delegation of about 30 farmers met with the Hansford County Commissioners Court Monday requesting a herbicide law be passed in the county. Under the law people operating spray planes or rigs would have to be bonded and the persons having the spraying done will be held responsible for damage to crops from drifting sprays.

The introduction of more cotton, soy beans and other broadleaf plants and their damage by weed sprays have brought on the request for controls on spraying.

A TAME PASTURE

Proper Use Important On Tame Pastureland

The importance of using a tame pasture properly cannot be over emphasized. Proper Pasture Use is an important factor in determining the profits received from a tame pasture.

A farmer who goes to the expense of establishing a tame pasture should strive to carry out management practices necessary to make his investment a profitable one.

A systematic grazing plan is necessary for optimum utilization of forage, to prevent excess forage loss from trampling and to allow irrigation and fertilization schedules to be carried out. These requirements can be met by the use of a rotation grazing system, four plots should be the minimum divisions used for one pasture.

Grazing should not begin until the grass reaches a height of about 10 inches in the case of Bermuda grass or a height of 14-18 inches if tall grasses such as Switchgrass are used. Bermuda grass should be grazed to a height of 4-6 inches; Switchgrass or tall grasses should not be grazed below a height of 10-12 inches. Grazing to these heights will help maintain the stand and vigor of the pasture plants. This grazing procedure will also enable the farmer or rancher to maintain an adequate ground cover for protection against soil and water losses.

The farmer or rancher who practices proper use of his tame pasture will certainly realize profits from his pasture that far exceed those of his neighbor who does not carry out this important management practice.

Use your pasture properly and increase your profits.

Hormone May Produce Crops On Half the Irrigation Water

Farmers have searched many years for ways to produce crops on less water. This may be just around the corner for Texas farmers due to research at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway.

Laboratory, greenhouse, and field experiments currently underway at the Foundation may disclose the possibility of securing the same yield from cotton on 1/4 to 1/2 of the irrigation water now used. A hormone applied in research by Dr. Arthur F. Gohlke, Assistant Director and Senior Soil Scientist for the Foundation, has been found to produce cotton plants with shorter stems, thicker stems, and and thicker darker green leaves than untreated plants. This change of the plant inhibits the evaporation of water through the leaves of the plant.

Treated plants undergo a great change, but this change does not reduce the yield or quality of harvested cotton. The application of the hormone in sufficient amounts shortens the internode distance between leaves and stem. This, in turn, produces a short dry weather cotton plant capable of possibly producing from one to two bales of cotton per acre on less irrigation water.

The Plains of Texas grows 16 percent of the nation's cotton on 1.6 million irrigated acres. Water alone has made this possible. It is hoped that by the full utilization of this chemical hormone, the productivity of the land can be maintained.

It is thought that yields on dryland cotton may be obtained, through the use of this hormone, similar to those now being harvested off irrigated acres. On irrigated land, the reduction of up to 50 percent of irrigation needs might not be too far in the future. Due to the dwarfing effect on the plant caused by the hormone, it is also thought that yields may be increased in some instances by closer planting of the crop.

At this time, Dr. Gohlke reports that his research will be complete on this project

Future Readers of The Plainsman

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jacob Wolfe of Perryton are the parents of a daughter Angela Lynn born July 11 at 7:02 a.m. and weighed 6 lb. 7 3/4 oz.

in about 3 years. The results of the 1964 hormone research showed an increase in lint of from 16 to 50 percent per acre. Quality was unaffected with some indication of a stronger fiber.

This is one more area of research underway at the High Plains Research Foundation to conserve the underground irrigation water supply and increase crop yields.

Half Dollar Supply Is Getting Smaller

The short supply of half dollars is apparently getting even shorter, according to local bank officials.

Cashier Freeman Barkley at the First State Bank says the local bank just cannot get the fifty cent pieces from the Federal Reserve Bank.

They just do not have them, Barkley said. The shortage first started about six or eight months ago and has been getting worse.

"We use to get them about every other time we ordered, but for the last month they have not filled our orders."

All the fifty cent pieces the bank has been getting have been new coins. Apparently, Barkley said, none of the old coins are being turned in.

Barkley says the new Kenedy coin started many people collecting the old Benjamin Franklin halves. Now, the talk about taking the silver out of the coins has probably caused more collecting.

It is reported that 200 million Kennedy halves have been minted, but apparently the mint cannot keep up with the demand.

There is no shortage of quarters, dimes or nickles he reports.
