Martin Wins Big Majority In County

Hansford county followed the state-wide trend in the Democratic party run-off election Saturday by giving Crawford Martin a big majority of a very light vote.

Only 195 people bothered to go to the polls and mark their preference of the two candidates for Texas Attorney General, one of the most important offices in the state.

Martin and Franklin Spears were the contenders for the Democratic party nomination. Martin carried the county by a one-sided 173-22.

There were three polling places open in the county. Voting precincts one, two, nine and 10 all voted at the courthouse in Spearman. Precincts three and four voted at the school agriculture building in Gruver and precincts seven and eight voted at the Oslo Church.

The Spearman voting place gave Martin a 116 to 15 majority. In Gruver Martin got all the 42 votes cast. At Oslo the vote was 15 for Martin and seven for Spears.

Oslo and the Phillips plants had the highest percentage of eligible voters going to the polls.

Martin was carrying the conservative banner and had the backing of Governor John Connally. Spears was given the liberal title by the state press.

An election official at the courthouse said during the celebration parade and barbecue he counted between 30 and 40 persons eligible to vote in the courthouse polling place who did not come in and vote.

Hansford County has over 2,000 eligible voters. In the May 7 primaries less than 1,000 persons voted in either the Democratic or Republican primaries.

Hail Storm Destroys Wheat Crop Hopes

The prospects for a better than average wheat crop was destroyed for several farmers in a wind, rain, and hail storm Sunday night. The damage is believed to have started in the south part of the county around the Bob Hays farm. From there it moved south-east hitting Peyton Gibner, Guy Fuller, Warren Jefferys, Bob Cambell, Irvin Hester, F.A. Hull, Kiff

White, Major Lackey, Maud Rosson, Otis Patterson and Wesley Jenkins only to name a few. The hail was reported to be about the size of a half dollar and fell straight down.

Several homes were reported damaged severely with windows being broken and roofs being damaged in the area.

The damage to crops will range from about 20 % to total destruction.

Several of the farmers were to start cutting Monday only to replace their combines with plows.

The area of the damage is about 2 miles wide and 25 to 30 miles long.

Celebration Is Huge Success

The Hansford County Celebration concluded Sunday afternoon with the last performance of the rodeo, what the Spearman Jaycees termed a huge success.

The bar-be-que is reported to have served around 1,400 persons with bar-be-que beef, beans and the trimmings.

The parade, although somewhat small this year, gave the kids a big thrill as it rolled down main street. The first place trophy went to Xi Zeta Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi and the second to Rho Rho Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi with Ann Darnells' Beauty Salon taking the third place trophy.

The Jaycees termed this a huge success which could not have been done without the support of the many persons, clubs and organizations that contributed to the planning and working of each event.

City Buys Patrol Car

The City Council held its regular meeting Monday night with only routine business being discussed.

The Council heard reports from police and fire department activities with 21 traffic tickets being given out and three fire calls being extinguished. The fires were two automobiles and a small fire in the rear of Hay's Barber Shop.

The Council took bids on a new car to replace the patrol car damaged in a wreck several weeks ago. The low bid went to Joe Trayler Motor Co. for $2,536.73 if a delivery date can be reached in the near future.

Other business being discussed was the routine affairs of maintenance of city equipment and property.

Jan Roper Selected From 28 As Miss Hansford County 1966

After almost two hours of parading, modeling, smiling and waiting by 28 young Hansford County girls, Miss Jan Roper was selected Miss Hansford County of 1966.

She was crowned by her predecessor, Miss Jane Hoy. She was presented a bouquet of red roses and a large loving cup by the pageant chairman, Robert Adamson.

Miss Mary Erling the first runner-up, and Miss Melinda Pearson, second runner-up each received a bouquet and loving cup from Adamson.

This is the third year that a Gruver girl has won the title. Miss Judy Bayless was the first, then Miss Hoy and now Miss Roper.

The new Miss Hansford County is a tall, brunett, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Roper. She is a 1966 graduate of Gruver High School and was a member of the basketball team and active in many school activities.

Just before the top five girls in the contest were presented, Miss Roper was named Miss Congenuity by a vote of the 28 girls in the contest.

After the girls had been presented in both swimsuits and formals, the judges picked the top 10 girls from the entries. These girls were Miss Roper, Miss Erling, Miss Pearson, Kathy Reynolds, Penny Gaither, Kay Huse, Donna Seymour, Genie Warren, and D'dee Collard.

From this ten, the three winners and Miss Reynolds and Miss Gaither were named to the top five.

A near capacity crowd filled the Spearman High School auditorium to see the show and enjoy the entertainment provided by Miss Debra Brock and the New Folk Three. Miss Brock was accompanied by Miss Susan Uptergrove, who also played while the contestants were on stage.

All of the contestants and the judges were entertained at a tea Friday afternoon. It was hosted by the members of the Rho Rho Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Burl McClellan was the backstage co-ordinator of the entrants during the show. She and Miss Bayless also assisted the entries in two practice sessions before the contest.

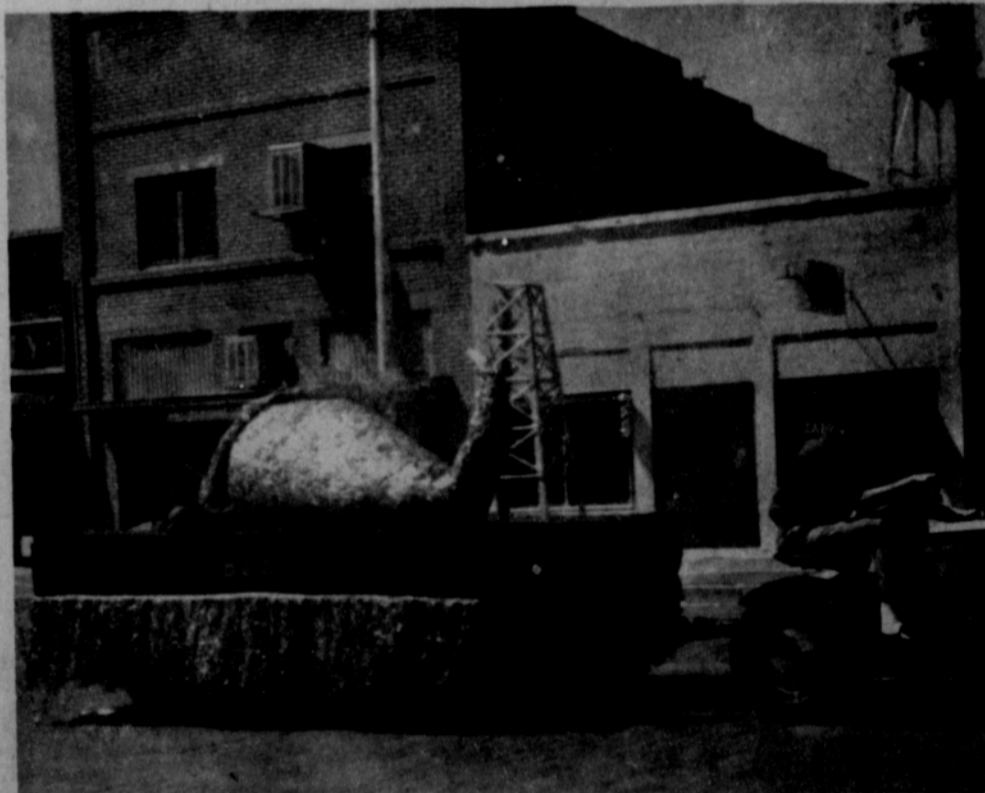

Many of the contestants were riding on floats in the parade Saturday morning.

Miss Roper will represent the County in the Wheatheart of the Nation Contest and other events over the Panhandle this coming year.

The contest was sponsored by the Spearman Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Briley Blacksmith Shop Needs Prospective Buyers

How do you sell a business when you are one of the last men in the business?

Bert Briley is ready to retire as soon as he can sell his business, but that is the problem. Briley is one of the last old time blacksmith in the Panhandle. Therefore, he does not have a list of prospective buyers.

Bert and Mrs. Briley do not agree altogether on the retirement idea. Mrs. Briley says that after a lifetime in the shop it is time for him to retire.

Bert agrees, then puts in a post script. "You know several people and even one of my boys tell me that as long as a man likes to work and is in good health he should stay on the job."

Mrs. Briley again says it is time for Bert to quit, then he agrees that after all these years without a vacation, he should quit.

It is not that he is quitting just as he reaches the required age for social security and medicare. Briley will be 81 years old July 6.

"He never would take a vacation and if we went anywhere he was always worried about that blacksmith shop," his wife comments. "He thinks he has to open that shop every day."

"Yeah, one time when I used to play around here, my brother called one day to tell me we were going to play the next night. I told him I could not close the shop and go. The next day he drove up and wanted to know if I was going to carry my violin and that blacksmith shop on my back that night," Briley recalled.

Briley played in a stringband which played for dances and other social events over the Panhandle after he came to Spearman in 1921.

He moved here from Shattuck, Okla., and bought the shop from Jess Close.

Those were busy years for Briley. In 1926 he and employee made pick-ups to go on the new combines which were being introduced.

"We sharpened so many discs in those years that we used to hope that a customer would not have any discs when we would see him drive up."

We did not have acetylene gas or electric welding and everything had to be patched or forged welded.

"I used to do real good welding in the forge. You know the first heat is the best. I called that heat sloppy and the second heat was slick. If you welded with the slick heat it would stick together on the outside, but would not hold."

"I used to be able to look right in the forge and tell when metal was ready to weld, then later I had to depend on my poker to tell me when something was ready."

"I haven't done any forge welding in so long, I bet I couldn't do it now."

Bert has been a blacksmith all of his life. He started as a kid pulling the long pole handle on the bellows that pumped air in to the forge.

"That was real slow. When we got the crank forges we thought we really had something."

Mr. and Mrs. Briley came here just as old Hansford was moving to Spearman. Briley built their home on Roland street.

There were just two houses between his house and the shop, Bert recalls. He says there were not over 25 people here when he arrived.

Briley says he is going to have a hard time finding a buyer because there is just not any blacksmiths around. Then Mrs. Briley adds that the business has welding equipment and could be a welding shop.

It is very likely she knows that Bert is not going to sit on the front porch and walk under the shade trees until someone buys the blacksmith shop he has operated for 45 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Henderson, Cindy and Tommie are vacationing at Lake Powell in Arizona.

Add Orange Ring, Onions to Salad

Slices of orange and rings of sweet onion arranged on crisp greens make a popular salad to serve with roast meat or steak. If you want to use this combination for a luncheon or Sunday night supper salad, add slices of cooked chicken or turkey.

French dressing or a mayonnaise-type dressing may be used with the orange-onion salad whether it is served with the meat or poultry.

the Word

"Thy word is a lamp unto my feet; and a light unto my path."
— Psalm 119:105

If you are a Christian, you are blessed with a great heritage. It is a heritage of truth and has nothing to do with imagination or myths. It is a truth that remains unchanged, no matter how many times someone attempts to rewrite or offers a "studied" translation. This truth is the word of God. It is found in the Holy Bible. It is found in Ten Commandments, which form a guidepost for Christian living. Accept this truth; it is useless to argue against it. Conscience and common sense will not permit you to be unaware. You fool no one, not even yourself, if you pretend to ignore or disbelieve.

Science, business and politics are moving at a faster pace than ever before. Students must prepare themselves to adjust to the everchanging world says Mrs. Elsie Short, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University.

What you learn in school today will help you meet the changes of tomorrow. Are you going to be ready for one of those top jobs? Whether you make your way to the top depends upon what you are doing now to prepare yourself for the future.

Today's student has three factors to face which earlier groups of students did not; the increased amount of knowledge in the world; the advanced stage of education given every pupil; and the pressure of ever-improving techniques.

Thousands of companies are going to succeed or fail 20 years from now depending upon whether you or some other youth has learned to understand the technical and social effects of change and respond to them effectively.

Mrs. Short suggests that the most efficient tool, whether it is a computer or a research microscope, is only an extension of man's capabilities. In order to use existing tools or to invent and use new tools, you must develop capabilities.

This means not only spending more time in school, but spending that time in a well-organized effort to learn. You need to adopt some principles of your ancestors, adapt a little to meet changed circumstances, accept a little from other people's experiences, and add a few tricks of your own.

Read, study about and visit as many different businesses and talk with as many professional people as possible. Keep up with the happenings in your community, state, and nation as well as what goes on in the foreign countries.

Knowledge about many different occupations will help you decide what preparation you need for the future. Remember, also, you may need to make adjustments anywhere along the line. You must be ready and willing to meet the challenge.

The Way I See It

Robert Cordes, Pastor
Oslo & Faith Lutheran

"The times of ignorance God overlooked, but now He commands all men everywhere to repent, because He has fixed a day which He will judge the world in righteousness by a man whom He has appointed, and of this He has given assurance to all men by raising Him from the dead." (Acts 17:30, 31)

It is not enough to say I believe Jesus with your lips but not with your life. So many are drifting in unrepentance and fooling themselves by thinking they are of Christ.

God may have overlooked times of your ignorance but His command now is sure. We are to repent of our rebellion and indifference to God. A day of judgment is coming and Jesus Christ will judge us.

So many men, women and children sit at home on Sunday mornings. You may be one of those. Why aren't they (you) at church worshipping God? You say you are a Christian? And you forsake the assembling together with other Christians? Why do you give the excuses you do? Really, they are devil inspired? Right?

And this type of people when they die want their families to come to the church and call for a "church funeral". Will this direct or change the future course? For those who do not believe in Jesus with an active faith, death will not change the future course of eternal separation from God.

Jesus came, suffered, and died, yes, rose again from the dead for such persons. Was His atoning death in vain?

Repent--turn from your ways of self, world, the devil to the love of Jesus. Show your sorrow, and call upon the Holy Spirit to turn you around, to make a new creature out of yourself and give you a life of praising this Jesus. And praising Him must be done every day of your life in all you do. And especially will you want to gather at church to worship God who has died and lives for you. Or can you praise God by sleeping, going to Present were Darlene Cherry, Mrs. Davis, Dorothy Haner, Jo Larson, Pat Reeves, Sylvia Robertson, Gwen Smith, Patty Sheppard, Lil Turner, and Sylvia Cranford.

Since I'm on vacation this week, there's no time for my usual comments.

Here though, is a little dissertation entitled "Men: Hold on to Your Wife; She'll Improve with Age". You might circle it and put it in some real noticeable spot so you-know-who can get full benefit from it.

"The best way to improve a wife is to stay married to her. Some things don't improve much with age. Wives are an exception. The longer they are married the better persons they become. Of course this may not hold true in all cases--but it is the general rule.

A 10-year-old automobile is about ready for the junk pile. Its gloss is gone, it creaks and squeaks, its performance is faulty, and it costs too much to have it overhauled.

Some men think wives are like that. Since it is illegal to throw a wife on a junk pile, they dispose of her in some more orderly manner, and get a new model.

But they are wrong. A wife is no like an automobile at all. Ten years after saying "I do" at the altar, she is just beginning to show her mettle.

Every year after that she gets better and more useful to her husband. After 15 or 20 years she may need an occasional re-paint job, but she is certainly well worth it. After 26 years a wife becomes an indispensable woman. A wise husband then begins to treat her as a member of the family, and quit insisting that she salute him whenever he comes into the room.

What are the advantages of the mature wife over a flighty young bride? Well, to name just a few--

She may not look as glossy, but she has more under the hood.

The buttons she sews on stay on longer.

She may still believe that money grows on trees, but she realizes that kind of tree doesn't grow in your back yard.

Her feet get tired about as soon as yours do, so she doesn't demand to be taken out every night of the week--and twice on Saturdays.

If she continues to think candlelight dinners at home are romantic, she goes ahead and lights the candles herself instead of bothering you about them.

When she occasionally has to carry the garbage out all by herself, she doesn't try to make a federal case out of it.

She never embarrasses you by letting a dunning bill collector into the house. She looks cautiously through the front door peep hole first, recognizes him, and pretends no one is at home.

If she finds a blonde hair on your coat, she doesn't make a big scene. She knows some dame just brushed against you on the bus. On the dough you make how could you even afford to buy the first twig to build a love nest?

She no longer yells about going home to mother if you overdo anything. Her biggest threat is "I'll tell your doctor on you."

The meals she fixes don't taste like a misprint in an Armenian cookbook. The old girl knows which dishes make you happy, which give you heartburn.

She never asks to be taken anywhere on weekends between September and mid-January. She accepts the fact that every red-blooded male's place at these times is before a television set drinking beer and watching football games.

If her vacuum cleaner breaks down, she doesn't ask you to fix it. That way lies madness. She fixes it herself.

She no longer incessantly whines, "you never listen to me." Instead, now and then, she'll even listen to you.

Yes, it takes a lot of time, trouble and understanding for a husband to take a flibbertigibbety young bride and turn her into man's greatest masterpiece--a perfect wife nobly planned.

But in what more rewarding manner can a fellow spend his years?

If you have a blender, I think you'll like to make this quick and easy strawberry mousse.

Blend 1 package frozen strawberries, 1 cup sugar, 1 tsp. vanilla and 1 pint sour cream in blender and freeze. Serve soon after removing from freezer. It's creamy and delicious.

HOMEMAKING NOTES

By Linda Webb
Home Demonstration Agent

It's roundup time in Texas, 4-H Roundup that is. On June 7 and 8 some 1,400 4-H boys and girls from every section of the Lone Star State were on the campus of Texas A&M University to participate in the state's oldest regularly scheduled 4-H event.

The traditional barbecue officially opened the program on the evening of June 7 and was followed by the first general assembly in Kyle Field Stadium. A highlight of the assembly program was the presentation of awards to individuals and business concern which are strong supporters of 4-H on the district and state levels.

Winners were determined on June 8 in 30 different team demonstration and judging events, ranging from Beef Cattle Business Junior Symposium to Vegetable Production and Marketing. Each of the participants, however, was a winner since they had already been awarded county and district honors. The two high scoring teams in district competition are eligible to participate in the state contests.

Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, Ben Barnes, was the featured speaker at the banquet which will honor contest winners and donor on the evening of June 8.

Share-the-fun acts from among the winners in that contest provided entertainment for the evening program in Guion Hall.

In addition to the 1,400 4-H boys and girls, local 4-H adult leaders, county Extension agents and Friends of 4-H pushed the total attendance for the event to be well over the 2,000 mark.

At this writing, names of winners from Hansford County aren't known, if there are some, but we will be out with the news as soon as the group returns home late this evening.

More Americans will vacations by car this year than ever before. Many older citizens will be among these travelers.

Research done in connection with the recent national driving test indicates that many drivers need to brush up on their driving skills. Additionally, older citizens, especially, will want to check up on these safe-driving points:

1. With the aid of a road map, plan the route you will take by dividing the distance into even periods of driving. Outline rest stops, scenic points, and overnight lodging to provide variety in each day's travel.

2. Allow plenty of driving time. Schedule arrival in major cities to avoid rush hour traffic.

3. More people travel on weekends than during the week. Plan your long trips during the week, and schedule weekends for visiting.

4. Summer means that more vacationers will be traveling. When possible, plan trips before the close of school in spring and after the start of school in the fall.

5. To reduce eyestrain, wear sunglasses for daytime driving and keep night driving to a minimum.

6. All stopping, passing and turning distances are more difficult to judge after dark. Plan most of the driving during the daylight hours.

Research indicates that many medicines can affect the way a driver handles the wheel. Certain drugs such as antihistamines, cold tablets, sedatives may dull your reflexes or impair your coordination.

Tranquilizing drugs can cloud your judgment and interfere with your driving skills. Stimulants may cause undue nervousness. Consult your doctor about side effects of any drug he prescribes. Don't drive until you know that the drugs you take won't affect your driving skill.

Drive carefully and have a swell vacation this summer.

The Last Note: What an exciting month June is! The kids are through in school, vacation plans are all but set, and the highway department is ripping the roads to everywhere.

When she occasionally has to carry the garbage out all by herself, she doesn't try to make a federal case out of it.

She never embarrasses you by letting a dunning bill collector into the house. She looks cautiously through the front door peep hole first, recognizes him, and pretends no one is at home.

If she finds a blonde hair on your coat, she doesn't make a big scene. She knows some dame just brushed against you on the bus. On the dough you make how could you even afford to buy the first twig to build a love nest?

She no longer yells about going home to mother if you overdo anything. Her biggest threat is "I'll tell your doctor on you."

The meals she fixes don't taste like a misprint in an Armenian cookbook. The old girl knows which dishes make you nappy, which give you heartburn.

She never asks to be taken anywhere on weekends between September and mid-January. She accepts the fact that every red-blooded male's place at these times is before a television set drinking beer and watching football games.

If her vacuum cleaner breaks down, she doesn't ask you to fix it. That way lies madness. She fixes it herself.

She no longer incessantly whines, "you never listen to me."

Instead, now and then, she'll even listen to you.

Yes, it takes a lot of time, trouble and understanding for a husband to take a flibbertigibbety young bride and turn her into man's greatest masterpiece--a perfect wife nobly planned.

But in what more rewarding manner can a fellow spend his years?

If you have a blender, I think you'll like to make this quick and easy strawberry mousse.

Blend 1 package frozen strawberries, 1 cup sugar, 1 tbsp. vanilla and 1 pint sour cream in blender and freeze. Serve soon after removing from freezer. It's creamy and delicious.

Dietrich-Briggs Vows Exchange In Tulia

Miss Marlene Dorcas Dietrich and Allen Garrett Briggs exchanged wedding vows at 5 p.m. Saturday, June 4, in the Tulia First Presbyterian Church with Rev. Lewis Koerselman, Sr., pastor, reading the double ring service.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dietrich of Tulia. The bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. F. Allen Briggs of Alpine.

Mrs. Allen Glenn sang "Because" and "Wedding Prayer", accompanied at the organ by Miss Dorothy Higdon of Canyon, who also played traditional wedding selections.

Forming a decorative background for the ceremony were candelabra holding orchid candles, trimmed with emerald greenery and candles graced the choir railing, and satin bows marked the reserved pews. The couple knelt on a white cushioned prie dieu.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a white peau de soie gown designed with a fitted bodice, scoop neck, three-quarter-length sleeves, and a full, floor-length skirt, all enhanced with lace appliques. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion edged in lace fell from a queen's crown of braid, seed pearls and iridescent crystals. She carried a bouquet of sterling silver roses showered with Stephanotis.

Mrs. Roy C. Love of Wichita, Kans. was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss Jan Briggs of Canyon, sister of the bridegroom. They wore full skirted dresses of orchid with white lace, styled with round necklines and short sleeves. Matching circlet headpieces and white shoes and gloves completed their attire. Each carried a single long-stemmed sterling rose.

James Briggs of Alpine served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Garrett Welch of Canyon. Seating guests were Kenneth Dietrich, Lubbock, brother of the bride; Roy Love, Wichita, Kans., brother-in-law of the bride; and Dwight Huber, Lubbock.

Following the ceremony, guests were greeted at a reception in Fellowship Hall of the church.

The refreshment table, laid in white lace over orchid, featured a black wrought-iron candelabra holding orchid candles and an arrangement of orchid and white carnations. The three-tiered white cake decorated with orchid roses and topped with a bride and groom and the white punch were served by Mrs. Allen Glenn, Miss Linda Caraway, Miss Karen Sprawls, Mrs. Robb Donaldson, Oxford, Ohio, and Miss Karen Stockdale, Albuquerque, N.M.

Mrs. Kenneth Kietrich of Lubbock, sister-in-law of the bride, registered guests. Assisting with hospitalities were Mmes. Lewis Koerselman, Sr., John Barnes, Grady Whigham, and Volney Sprawls.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Corpus Christi with the bride wearing an orchid linen suit with straight skirt and collared jacket with three-quarter length sleeves. The lace shell was sleeveless and had a round neckline. She added white accessories and a corsage of sterling silver roses from her bridal bouquet.

The bride taught physical education in the Spearman Elementary and Junior High School the past two years. A graduate of Tulia High in 1960, she was a graduate of West Texas State University in 1964. She was a member of Delta Psi Kappa and Alpha Chi.

Her husband is a May graduate of West Texas State University where he majored in English and math. He was affiliated with the Texas Commission of Teachers of English and Alpha Phi Omega. He was a graduate of Alpine High School in 1962.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shaver, Stephanie, Lee and Kelly of Spearman, and Miss Jane Allen, Willis Friesen and Arthur Hays, all of Guymon enjoyed picnicking, swimming, boating, and skiing at Lake Fryer, near Perryton, on Sunday afternoon.

Friday overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Love were Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Miller, twin daughters and baby of Rosston, Oklahoma. They were here to attend the wedding of Miss Donna Love.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Love left immediately following the wedding of his sister, Donna on Friday for their new home at Fayetteville, N. Carolina, near Ft. Bragg, where Ronnie will be stationed. Mrs. Love graduated from Phillips High School on May 26.

HOMEMAKING NOTES

By Linda Webb
Home Demonstration Agent

It's roundup time in Texas, 4-H Roundup that is. On June 7 and 8 some 1,400 4-H boys and girls from every section of the Lone Star State were on the campus of Texas A&M University to participate in the state's oldest regularly scheduled 4-H event.

The traditional barbecue officially opened the program on the evening of June 7 and was followed by the first general assembly in Kyle Field Stadium. A highlight of the assembly program was the presentation of awards to individuals and business concern which are strong supporters of 4-H on the district and state levels.

Winners were determined on June 8 in 30 different team demonstration and judging events, ranging from Beef Cattle Business Junior Symposium to Vegetable Production and marketing. Each of the participants, however, was a winner since they had already been awarded county and district honors. The two high scoring teams in district competition are eligible to participate in the state contests.

Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, Ben Barnes, was the featured speaker at the banquet which will honor contest winners and donor on the evening of June 8.

Share-the-fun acts from among the winners in that contest provided entertainment for the evening program in Guion Hall.

In addition to the 1,400 4-H boys and girls, local 4-H adult leaders, county Extension agents and Friends of 4-H pushed the total attendance for the event to be well over the 2,000 mark.

At this writing, names of winners from Hansford County aren't known, if there are some, but we will be out with the news as soon as the group returns home late this evening.

More Americans will vacation by car this year than ever before. Many older citizens will be among these travelers.

Research done in connection with the recent national driving test indicates that many drivers need to brush up on their driving skills. Additionally, older citizens, especially, will want to check up on these safe-driving points:

1. With the aid of a road map, plan the route you will take by dividing the distance into even periods of driving. Outline rest stops, scenic points, and overnight lodging to provide variety in each day's travel.
2. Allow plenty of driving time. Schedule arrival in major cities to avoid rush hour traffic.
3. More people travel on weekends than during the week. Plan your long trips during the week, and schedule weekends for visiting.
4. Summer means that more vacationers will be traveling. When possible, plan trips before the close of school in spring and after the start of school in the fall.
5. To reduce eyestrain, wear sunglasses for daytime driving and keep night driving to a minimum.

6. All stopping, passing and turning distances are more difficult to judge after dark. Plan most of the driving during the daylight hours.

Research indicates that many medicines can affect the way a driver handles the wheel. Certain drugs such as antihistamines, cold tablets, sedatives may dull your reflexes or impair your coordination.

Tranquilizing drugs can cloud your judgment and interfere with your driving skills. Stimulants may cause undue nervousness. Consult your doctor about side effects of any drug he prescribes. Don't drive until you know that the drugs you take won't affect your driving skill.

Drive carefully and have a swell vacation this summer.

The Last Note: What an exciting month June is! The kids are through in school, vacation plans are all but set, and the highway department is ripping the roads to everywhere.

Beef Steak Broiling Ideas

Need ideas on how to select quality beef steaks for broiling?

Now that vacation is at hand, there'll probably be more opportunities for backyard cook-outs and get-togethers with family and friends. To assure tenderness, quality and flavor in beef steaks, be willing to pay for a little fat and choose from the top three grades--prime, choice or good, suggests Mrs. Gwen Ciyatt, Texas A&M University Extension consumer marketing specialist.

The sirloin is the largest and most economical broiling steak. If it is cut one and one-half inches thick, it will serve four or more people. The porterhouse is the largest short-loin steak, and when cut one and one-half inches thick, it will serve four people.

The T-bone steak is smaller and contains less tenderloin than the porterhouse. When cut one inch thick, it weighs about one and one-half pounds and serves two persons. The smallest steak in the short loin is the club steak, which contains no tenderloin. When cut one inch thick, it weighs about a pound and serves one.

Rib steaks are cut from the loin end of the ribs, and contain the rib-eye muscle but no tenderloin. They are the least expensive of all broiling steaks.

IMPROVE YOUR SPORT

Tips from the Experts

WHAT'S THE MOST IMPORTANT PART OF A GOLFERS DRIVE? Arnold Palmer says it's the 12 inches from the ball at the start of the swing. To improve your drive take the club back slowly, parallel to the ground for the first 12 inches; let your hands do all the work. Then, in unison, turn your shoulders, hips and knees — with the left shoulder and arm bringing the club back to the top of the backswing.

WHICH OF THESE TENNIS MISTAKES DO YOU MAKE? Does your elbow have a tendency to lead? Are you bending from the waist rather than from the knees? Is your racket head dropping below waist level? To correct all these, use both hands when hitting a backhand shot.

WHEN BOWLING, DO YOU HAVE a difficult time bringing the ball forward with accuracy? To improve your aim, don't let the ball loop behind you. Your arm should travel like a pendulum in the backswing.

Beef Market Is Changing

Noteworthy shifts are taking place in the beef market, according to a recent talk here by Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

Uvacek was speaking to the National Advisory Commission on Food and Fiber.

For years cattlemen have aimed at producing Prime grade carcasses to get greatest profit. But today, with increased emphasis on cutability, the lower grades of Choice and Good may be worth more, said Uvacek.

He said in the Southwest there is a noticeable shift toward a heavier weight slaughter calf. At the same time, in the North and East, the shift is toward a lighter weight heavy beef carcass. But, he said, both of these trends are for Good and Choice grade carcasses. The beef carcass of the future may be somewhere in between—about a low Choice quality.

There is a strong demand for low Choice carcasses already, he said. The word "Choice" itself has some merchandising ability, and of course, the grade designation has a value, too.

In the past, he said, feed grains have been in surplus, so the trend was to feed as much of the grain through an animal as possible. The picture now, however, has almost reversed itself, and we can possibly even see some feed grain shortages developing.

This means the emphasis will shift from marketing grain through the animal to feeding the most efficient animal possible.

The type of animal that is efficient in the feedlot, and produces a desirable type of carcass at the least cost, will be the animal of the future.

This will be a meat type steer, the A&M specialist said. The industry trend toward the goal of this light weight low Choice carcass also conforms with the standards required to get the federal grade, he concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Collins of Amarillo visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Cy Ainsworth. They then left with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Roy Collins and Becky Monday for a vacation at Eagle Nest, N. Mex.

Mrs. Robert Brandt and sons and her brother Burton Williamson went to Lubbock Thursday of last week and were overnight guests of their parents Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Williamson.

Volunteer Eliminated

Volunteer castor beans were completely eliminated in grain sorghum in 1965 by the use of PROPAZINE. This excellent control was probably partially due to extremely heavy rainfall immediately after application, which may have moved the herbicide sufficiently deep into the soil to control the germination of the volunteer castors. Dr. Arthur F. Gohlke.

Astros	8	Dodgers	7
Yankees	13	Astros	7
Indians	12	Jets	10

Winner of the first half plays the winner of the second-half in a three game series for championship.

Senior Soil Scientist at the High Plains Research Foundation conducted the test.

The grain sorghum was seeded June 1, 1965, on Pullman clay loam, bench leveled pre-plant irrigated plots where castors were produced in 1964. Prior to seeding the plots with grain sorghum, the volunteer castors were eradicated by rod weeding. Following seeding, 1 1/2 pounds of 80 W PROPAZINE per acre was sprayed broadcast.

Two days following the PROPAZINE application, a 4.7 inch rain was received. Since the benchleveled land area was all level, all the rain penetrated the soil without any runoff. An additional 1.83 inch rain was received within two weeks following the previous rain.

The only cultivation was the establishment of water furrows prior to the first of two summer irrigations. Ten days following the application no new volunteer castorbeans emerged. At harvest time, no castor plants were found in the area treated with PROPAZINE, even though the check plot, which was not treated, demonstrated the large number of potential volunteer plants.

Control of volunteer castor beans with PROPAZINE is again being studied in 1966 by tandem disk incorporating it into a sufficient depth for control. This incorporation technique might eliminate the need for rainfall necessary for the deep activation of PROPAZINE required to control the castor beans.

Dr. Gohlke issues the following warning, "Should PROPAZINE or other herbicides be applied to control volunteer castors in grain sorghum, All volunteer castorbean plants, not controlled, MUST be removed prior to grain harvest."

Bleach Bottles Can Be Football Helmets

Here is another use for those plastic bleach bottles . . . football helmets for the small fry of the neighborhood. Use the bottom of the bottle for the top of the helmet, turning the bottle upside down. Cut a straight edge for the front and backside of the helmet, but cut in the shape of flaps at each side to go over the ears.

Make a hole in the rounded end of each flap for a strap or tie to hold the football helmet on the child's head. If you are really handy, you might even paint the helmet like the big boys'. Toddlers will get a great deal of pleasure out of their bleach-bottle football helmets.

How to Keep a Key

Slip an elastic hat cord through the hole in your door key. Then push the metal tips of the cord through the lining near the top of your handbag. This will end searching around in your handbag for your key. It will also prevent losing it, as the door may be unlocked without removing the key from the bag.

Perfumed Gloves New Italian Coed Fad

Perfumed gloves, which were invented during the Renaissance, are the new fad with college girls and debutantes here. They come in scents of orange, rose, lavender and maguet, each scent representing a different stage of romance.

"Perfumed gloves went out of fashion only because the Borgias permeated them with poisons and sent them to their enemies," explained designer Eleonora Rossignano.
