

Ownbey Now Seeking Football Job After Giving Up Game as Sophomore

JIM OWNBEY HUNTS JOB

"Coach, I want to check in my uniform."

How many times has that statement been made over the state during this first week of high school football practice.

This is a problem with which every coach has to contend. What makes a boy quit? He does not like contact. He does not like the self-discipline necessary to play. Or, maybe like Jim Steve Ownbey, everyone else was quitting, so it was easy.

Not many football fans who watched Ownbey jar ballcarriers from one side of the field to the other during the past two seasons would believe that he ever quit.

It is very rare that a sophomore who quits the game of his own free will, ever comes back to play as a regular and becomes an outstanding player.

In discussing the football dropouts with the dedicated young man, the question was brought up as to why he quit after about 30 minutes of practice his sophomore year.

"I really don't know," he said, "I had been in the hospital until just a day or two before practice started and when I started practicing I just decided I did not want to play."

"Everyone else was quitting, so it was easier," he recalled.

Ownbey's sophomore year was the first year of Coach Don Seymour's rebuilding program and there were very few of the some 35 or 40 boys recruited that decided they wanted to play football after their first introduction.

Ownbey was a different case, he had been a starter on the freshman or B-team the year before. He knew he liked football, but the new coaches and new methods just did not suit him.

Before the season was over he realized he did not want to watch the games from the stands during another year. In the spring he joined the conditioning and weight program and was ready when the season arrived.

He was ready, but it was the third game before he actually got a chance. When his chance arrived, he did not miss it.

In this game Sunray fullback Johnny Johnson was ripping Spearman's defense. Coach Seymour started doing some changing. He moved Johnny Crawford to defensive rover and put Ownbey in at middle linebacker.

On offense Ownbey was listed as an end or halfback, but to the fans that night he became the linebacker.

"I don't remember Coach telling me anything special, I knew Johnson was their big gun and we had to punish him."

Punish him was what the boy wanted a second chance did. He went after Johnson with abandon. And, before the night was over they were almost inseparable.

From that night until he finished his high school career, Jim Ownbey and hard hitting were synonymous. He played defense like there was no tomorrow and the style earned him all-district honors his senior year.

What changed the boy from one following the crowd, to a leader. He does not know, other than he decided he wanted to play.

Assistant Coach Fred Dawson, who was here during those long rebuilding days, says Jim just made up his mind he wanted to play and he made us a hand.

That desire to play still burns within Ownbey. No college coach came hunting for a 165 pound linebacker from a AA school.

Ownbey went looking for a college uniform. He still does not have a scholarship, but Texas Tech says he can try for a job. If he makes it, he will get the first scholarship that is given up.

What are his chances in Southwest Conference competition?

He is now 6'1" tall and has filled out to 175 pounds, an increase of 10 pounds since last season, and has plenty of room for 35 more. He wants to play so much he gave up his parents' offer of paying all his expenses to attend Oklahoma University. He likes the contact.

When asked about his chances, Coach Dawson said, "If he does not make it, Tech is going to have some great football players in front of him."

Sam Cornelius was the first Spearman player to play in the Southwest Conference and he did it as a defender at Tech.

Ownbey says his teammate Johnny Crawford, who now has a scholarship to Tech, will be the second one. "I know John will make it, he is the hardest runner I ever tackled. He hits so hard you just almost relax and turn him loose. And, I don't think he was running full speed in practice."

Crawford is probably going to have to jar Ownbey many more times, because Jim Steve Ownbey just cannot understand why he ever thought he did not want to play football.

General Rainfall Promises

Bumper Maize Crop for Area

If we can get some rain in August, we will make a big dryland maize crop. This was the farmers forecast in June when they were planting the crop on the 20 inches of rain in May and June.

That needed August rain has covered the area and farmers and elevator operators are expecting a bumper crop, both dryland and irrigated.

Unless some force of nature in the form of storms, insects or an unusually early frost hits the crop, farmers are going to cut a large maize crop.

The crop is in many stages of development from fully headed on some early maize to just being in the boot in some of the late crops.

In Spearman the on schedule rain measured 3 inches in two days of moisture. Wednesday afternoon and night Mrs. Pat Cates measured 2.38 inches and Thursday night the official total was .51.

Rains in varying amounts fell all over the area, some places got rains one day and missed the next, but according to reports the entire area has received more than an inch in some combination of showers and floods during this week.

Thirty-five and 40 bushel dryland crops are well within reach now, several farmers believe. The crop could exceed that figure.

The moisture has allowed farmers to stop irrigation wells for a few days. This will cut operation costs and increase profits.

Band Practice

Band practice for all high school band members will be held Monday at 8 p.m. according to band director Sam Watson. Watson urged all band members to be present for the practice. The band will perform Thursday morning at the faculty meeting.

One farmer said every day his well can be shut off without the maize hurting is just more money in his pocket.

This cooler weather and high humidity have also helped reduce the loss of the moisture that has fallen and been pumped on the crops.

Businessmen expect a bumper milo crop to put more money in circulation now than a bumper wheat crop this year would have.

"It takes a lot of wheat at $1.25 a bushel to add up to much," a farmer said this week. "The price of maize makes it a better money crop now." Some wheat has already been seeded by farmers wanting winter pasture and more drills are expected to begin work as soon as the fields are dry.

Women Bowlers Meeting Friday

The Hansford County Women's Bowling Association will hold their annual meeting Friday, August 27 at 7:30 p.m. at Grunewald's Restaurant. Anyone interested in bowling, please attend this meeting.

People Give Boy, Friend Plenty of Room on Street

People look, stop, take a second look and then give Billy Pettitt and his pet plenty of room as they go down the street.

Billy and Billy the pet skunk do get the attention as they go down the street, Billy pulling a large toy truck and the skunk riding in the back, looking around, probably amused at the way people give them plenty of room.

Billy Pettitt named his new pet for one of his best friends, Billy Giles, and the two boys and the skunk are together most of the time so things get pretty confusing, name-wise.

Billy got the skunk about two months ago from C. W. Smith. He got seven of the little unarmored skunks. Billy gave two of them away and then sold the others.

Billy (the skunk) has a free run of things. He rides in the truck and follows Billy Pettitt around. At night, he is put in a box.

Being traditionally a night rover, the little stinker decided to roam this week. He chewed his way out of the box and was "lost" for a short while Saturday morning.

"Susie found him," Billy said.

Susie is Billy's small dog. She gives the skunk just as wide a berth as most humans do the first time they see it.

"Susie doesn't try to hurt him, but she doesn't like him," Billy said.

Dogs are about the only thing the skunk is afraid of, but he is not too friendly toward some people. However, the feeling is mutual since not too many people want to be friendly with Billy the skunk.

There is not much a skunk will not eat. Billy said his pet eats bugs, hamburger meat or just anything.

Even though the skunk has been deodorized, Billy says he still stinks a little.

He is a good pet, according to the boy, but is not as good as a dog.

Wilde-Adkison Nuptials Read in Church Service

Before an archway covered with emeralds and springerl highlighted with white satin bows, Miss Vicki Lynn Wilde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Wilde became the bride of Charles Ray Adkison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Adkison. Vows were exchanged Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Luther Berry, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Marvin Jones, organist, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Paul Barrett of Pampa, uncle of the bride, as he sang "Because" and at the close of the service, "The Wedding Prayer". Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin and lace designed with a fitted bodice of re-embroidered lace with a scalloped neckline which came to a point in back. Long tapered sleeves ended at petal points over the wrists and the four-tiered bouffant skirt was highlighted with a band of lace matching the bodice. Her elbow-length veil of silk illusion fell from a princess crown of pearls and sequins and she carried a bouquet of pastel carnations atop a white satin-covered Bible. The bride presented a flower from her bouquet to her mother and the mother of the bridegroom as she left the church.

Carrying out the traditional "something old, new, borrowed and blue", the bride wore the gold wedding band her grandmother, Mrs. Allie Barrett of Pampa, wore 57 years ago at her wedding.

Miss Barbara Wilde attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a sleeveless street-length dress of blue taffeta fashioned with a rounded neckline and bell-shaped skirt. Bridesmaids were Misses Darla Adkison, sister of the bridegroom, Helen Greever, Martha and Cheryl Barrett of Pampa, cousins of the bride. Candelighters were Glenda Adkison, sister of the bridegroom and Ellen Barrett, cousin of the bride. The attendants wore identical dresses in pastel shades and small matching hats with cirlet veils. Each attendant wore a single strand of pearls, white wrist-length gloves and carried a long stemmed carnation matching her dress.

Eva Rena Lee, Odessa, niece of the bridegroom was flower girl and Timmy Fancher was ring bearer.

Keat Nickles served the bridegroom as best man and groomsmen and ushers were Harrel and Darrel Adkison, brothers of the bridegroom and Gary and Ronald Gray.

Mrs. Wilde chose for her daughter's wedding, a tailored blue two-piece suit trimmed in white with which she wore matching accessories. Mrs. Adkison, the bridegroom's mother, wore a navy and white polka dot dress with navy sleeveless coat and matching accessories.

Wedding guests were registered by Misses Mae Bell Wither and Bethany Donnell.

Reception guests were received in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony. The bride's table was laid with a pale green cloth and was appointed in silver and crystal. Misses Margot Kilgore and Karen Gibson presided at the punch service and Mrs. Ted Scroggs and Miss Robbie Ownbey served the three-tiered wedding cake which was topped by a miniature wedding

Christmas Logs Can Be Made for Colored Flames

You can add something special, colored flames in your fireplace, for more Christmas cheer provided you start within a few weeks. The "sparkling joy logs" which can add the color are easy to make, says County Agent Douglas Smith.

To make the "logs," roll newspapers or absorbent paper into "logs" about 16 inches long. Don't use too many newspapers in a "log" because they swell when soaked in the chemical solution, Smith adds. He suggests that the "logs" be tied loosely with heavy twine.

To make the chemical solution which gives the color, dissolve four pounds of bluestone, blue vitriol or sulphate of copper and three pounds of rock salt in one gallon of water.

Then soak the "logs" for three or four weeks in the solution, turning them end for end frequently. Let them dry thoroughly before trying to burn them, advises Smith.

He suggests burning only one "log" at a time in an open fireplace. It will burn for several hours and give off rainbow colors.

And a final suggestion, these "logs" make unusual Christmas gifts for family or friends.

couple standing under an archway of white roses.

When the couple left on their wedding trip to Colorado, the bride wore a three-piece charcoal and white striped suit with white accessories and the corsage from her bouquet.

Following their wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 205 James in Spearman.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Spearman High School and the bridegroom is a graduate of Shidler, Okla. High School. He is employed by North Plains Implement Co.

Out of town wedding guests included Messrs. and Mmes. Raymond Barrett and family, Jack Alexander, Park Brown, Paul Barrett and family, Floyd Barrett, M.H. Keyser and Mmes. Y.E. Turnbo, Betty Marak, Glenn Andrews and A. L. Poore, all of Pampa; Messrs. and Mmes. R.E. Lee and family of Odessa; G.D. Palmer, San Angelo; C.R. Texas Car Thieves Target Of New State Key Law

A brief, two paragraph bill enacted into law by the 1965 Texas legislature is predicted to have far-reaching effects on automobile theft, the state's costliest crime against property.

The law forbids the sale in Texas of automobile master ignition keys, now being advertised nationally as "guaranteed to fit" all cars. Under the new law, a person who sells or offers for sale "any key which fits the ignition switch on more than one motor vehicle" is subject to fines of $200.

Law enforcement officials across the country have recently become disturbed by the ready availability and low cost of master ignition keys, according to C.C. Benson, manager, Texas Division, National Automobile Theft Bureau.

"Texas appears to be the first and only state to specifically outlaw the sale of such master keys," Mr. Benson said.

He pointed out that there are no accurate statistics to show how many of the 20,000 cars stolen annually in Texas were taken with so-called master keys. "We know the number has been sizeable," he said. "The professional car thief and the joy riding juvenile isn't going to risk using hot wires and jumper cables when he can buy a $3 key that operates nearly all cars of a particular make."

Mr. Benson pointed out that the International Association of Auto Theft Investigators in a meeting last week passed a resolution against the indiscriminate sale of such master keys.

"Auto theft problems do not belong to our state alone," he said. "There is a theft every 60 seconds somewhere in the country. This year more than a half million car thefts will occur. This represents a value of over $450 million."

Outlawing auto master ignition keys is one more important step toward holding the line on a growing theft rate, Mr. Benson said. "But a tremendously more important impact would be felt on the auto theft crime rate if each and every motorist religiously removed their keys and kept his auto locked," he said.

The Texas law forbidding sale of master ignition keys, House Bill 1060, was introduced by Representative Howard Green, Fort Worth.

Legislature Approves Maximum Length Law

The Legislature has seen fit to allow the operation of longer vehicles on Texas highways. These vehicles can be a maximum of 65 feet. The present length for a combination of vehicles is 50 feet.
The law has been changed as a result of the trucking industry seeking to improve the efficiency and quality of service to the public.

These combinations commonly known as "double-bottoms," although used extensively, are virtually unknown
in many areas of the country.
Texas has been one of those areas. However, beginning Sept. 1, 1965 we will begin seeing the 'big-rigs' on our roads.

Our purpose in this article is to acquaint the motoring public with the fact that the bigger and longer vehicles will be on our roads. And, though we occasionally see a long truck, mobile home, or some oil field equipment on the highway and we need to drive accordingly—these are not too numerous. The "double-bottoms" will be there day and night, especially on our thru highways.

In the past a vehicle combination of this type would have required a permit and would not have been allowed on the roadway at night. Since the picture is changing, Texas motorists will need to change some driving habits. Look for these longer and larger vehicles at night.

Naturally your question is,
can they "fit" into present day traffic? Let's look at the turning movements of these 65 feet length "double-bottoms."
According to Traffic Safety,
a National Safety Council publication, the Department of Commerce says that, after tests they ran, the 65 feet combinations have left off-tracking than the 50 feet, five axle tractor semitrailers.

"For a 90 degree turn, such as a city street intersection, the 65 feet 'double' has a track width 2.7 feet narrower than the 50 feet tractor semi-trailer."

Turning on the cloverleaf intersections of the Interstate System, the Department of Commerce tests show the "doubles" are 1.2 feet narrower than those of the smaller combinations.

Another question, and equally important, is it safe to pass a "double-bottom"?
We again refer to the Department of Commerce report showing a 10 m.p.h. speed differential (car at 60 and truck at 50 m.p.h., for example) it takes 15.17 seconds for the car to pass a 55 feet long combination on a two-lane road. If the truck being passed is 65 feet long, the passing time is 15.75 seconds, only two-thirds of a second more.

Mainly, we will need to allow just a little more time and distance in passing these vehicles and look forward to seeing them on our roads day and night.

COMMUNICATIONS — Your Tool for Progress

What! An extension telephone in the barn?

Time was when a telephone in the barn was the last thing you'd ever expect. Not so today. Many of our rural customers have extension telephones in barns, stables and poultry houses, to save time and trouble just as city people do. Here is another example of how Communications can be your Tool for Progress. For full information about our many communications services, please call our Business Office.

See us for a demonstration and the world is yours. No obligation to buy, but offer limited to qualified tractor users.
