centered in Gruver this weekend as the Spearman and Gruver varsities will be involved the Gruver Invitational Tournament.

Schools with boys and girls teams are: Sunray, Dalhart, Boise City, Follett, Gruver, Darrouzette, Stratford, Miami and Spearman.

The Lynxettes will be in the favorites position in the tour-nament since they hold victories over Sunray, Gruver, Darrouzette, Stratford. However, Gruver, and Stratford pushed the Lynxettes hard, and Sunray beat them in a second meeting.

Gruver, Stratford, Dalhart and Spearman could be fighting it out for the boys' trophies Spearman has lost to Gru-ver but have been improving rapidly. Stratford has had ona week to get ready, but a good team returning. from last year. Dalhart is expected to be strong.

Board, Administration To Answer Questions

A public meeting to discuss the proposed $250,000 school bond issue will be held in the high school auditorium Monday. Dec. 14.

Dec. 14.

The meeting will be held after the regular Parent-Teacher Association meeting and should begin about 8:30 p.m.

Members of the school board and school administration will be on hand to answer questions about the proposed issues.

A two page information leaflet was prepared this week and released by the board. It gives an explanation of the work to be done and the costs of the proposed work.

At the junior high school the repairs and renovation of the junior high building, the heating system and the parking lots and bus turn-around in front of the gym is expected to cost $55,780.

Improvements at the high school are expected to cost approximately $75,940. This includes moving the New Hope school building, and putting a new foundation and floor in the building. This building must be moved within two years or it will revert to the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co.

Other improvements include the landscaping of the front high school lawn, and a watering system for the lawn. Paving additional parking spaces at each end of the school will cut down on lawn maintenance and make a place for five high school tennis tional parking spaces at each end of the school will cut down on lawn maintenance and make a place for five high school tennis courts on the parking lots. Also, included in the high school improvements is a piece of carpet for the small living room of the home economics laboratory.

The improvements for the athletic department are estimated to cost $118,280. This will include moving the present stadium and enlarging it to seat 3900 persons, curbing a dirt track, building a dressing room, public rest rooms and concession stands.

Day by Day

We almost missed out on decorating a tree this year since we aren't going to be at home for Christmas but we had great fun helping Jim and Linda put up the tree in their new home. The fire was burning in the fireplace, we sipped hot chocolate and made many trips out in the snow to see how our creation looked to the rest of the world.

I should have said three of us enjoyed all those things. After Burl climbed all over the rafters and went through every box in the office, looking for last year's decorations, he wasn't in the mood to hand a single icicle.

I know how he felt though. The next night I bought packages of chocolate and nuts, jars of marshmallow cream and the like made big batches of Christmas candy. I even bought a thermometer to be sure it all came out smooth and I almost lost my Christmas spirit when one batch containing half the family savings, in ingredients, was ruined.

Oh the hazards of keeping the jolly Christmas spirit for a whole month.

Here, though, are Henry Van Dyke's suggestions for making the Christmas season what it is supposed to be. He called it "Keeping Christmas"

Are you willing to forget what you have done for other people, and to remember what other people have done for you, to ignore what the world owes you, and to think what you owe the world; to put your rights in the background, and your duties in the middle distance, and your chances to do a little more than your duty in the foreground; ...to close your book of complaints against the management of the universe, and look around you for a place where you can saw a few seeds of haparound you for a place where you can sow a few seeds of happiness—are you willing to do these things even for a day Then you can keep Christmas.

Are you willing to stoop down and consider the needs and desires of little children; to remember the weakness and loneliness of people who are growing old; ... to bear in mind the things that other people have to bear in their hearts; to try to understand what those who live in the same house with you really want, without waiting for them to tell you; to trim your lamp so that it will give more light and less smoke, and to lamp so that it will give more light and less smoke, and to carry it in front so that your shadow will fall behind you; to make a grave for your ugly thoughts and a garden for your kindly feelings, with the gate open—are you willing to do these things even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas.

Are you willing to believe that love is the stronger thing in the world—stronger than hate, stronger than evil, stronger than death—and that the blessed life which began in Bethlehem nineteen hundred years ago is the image and brightness of the Frenal Love? Then you can keep Christmas.

Eremal Love? Then you can keep Christmas.

And if you keep it for a day, why not always?

But you can never keep it alone....

Farmers and Ranchers Benefit From SCD Planning, Assistance

How well do you understand the organization and function of your local Soil Conservation District?

A Soil Conservation District is organized by the citizens of a watershed, county, or com-munity under the provisions of the Texas State Soil Conservation Act. It is a sub-division ation Act, it is a sub-division of the State government. But the Soil Conservation District is not directed by the Governor, the State Legislature, or any agency of the State Government. And it is not directed by the Federal Government in any way. in any way.
A Soil Conservation District

is directed only by the citizens of the District-the land owners and operators who organized it in the first place, Through an elected governing body, usually called a Board of District Supervisors. The Board of Supervisors is composed of five farmers or ranchers of the Dis-trict. The Soil Conservation District is the workshop through which those who love the land pool their efforts and information in making our land more stable and productive, and our country more prosperous, more attractive, and a better land in which to live. The fact that landowners themselves have the responsibility of petitioning for and voting in a District, form-ulating its program and work plan, administering its business and entering into cooper-ative agreements with their fellow landowners and operat-ors, makes Soil Conservation ors, makes Soil Conservation Districts a democracy in action.

Once organized, Soil Con-servation Districts soon discover that the successful management of land is closely related to water management. The District also discovers that both soil and water conservation present problems that only skilled technicians can solve. receive this technical assistance, the Districts normally apply to the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture for the facilities of the Soil Conservation Service. The Soil Conservation Service furnishes technical help to the District on the basis of an agreement with the District

Board of Supervisors.

In addition to Soil Conservation Service technical assistance, Districts get educational and other kinds of help from other local, statek, federal, and private sources. Each has its place in helping to carry out the work of the Soil Conservation District servation District.

The District furnishes assistance only to farmers or ranchers who apply for it. The application for assistance is acted upon by the Board of Supervisors.

There are two main reasons for the tremendous demand for the facilities of Soil Conservation Districts-pride and profit. Farmers and ranchers are fast becoming ashamed to own a gul-ly or a blowing sand dune. The modern soil conservation farming programs put money in the farmers and ranchers bank accounts. Crop and grazing yields of SCD Cooperators have increased about 35 percent, on the average, while production costs have generally declined.

CHANGES IN TAX LAW There have been some changes in the income tax law this all persons who pay tax, es-pecially farmers and ranchers. These changes are These changes are explained in the Farmer's Tax Guide that is available in my office. Some of the changes are:

 Investment Credit does not reduce basis of property.

If you used investment credit to reduce the basis of property by the amount of credit made available on it in 1962-63, you are to increase the basis of the property in 1964 by the same amount by which the basis was reduced when you acquired it if this property was still on hand on Jan. 1, 1964, assum-ing Jan. 1 to Dec. 31 is your tax year.

You have a new Minimum Standard Deduction, If your adjusted gross income is $5,000 or more, the amount of the standard deduction is the larger of 10 percent of your adjusted income or the minimum standard deduction. The minimum standard deduction for married persons filing joint returns is $200 plus $100 for each personal exemption to which they are entitled. Example, Family of mother, fa-ther and 4 children with adjusted gross income of $7,000. a. 10% deduction would be $7,000 x 10%-$700 deduction.

b. Minimum standard deduction-$200 to $600 ($100 for exemptions)-$800,

You can see in this case you would want to use the Minimum Standard Deduction because you would gain $100.

3. You may average your income and lower your tax, in a year when your income is unusually high.

4. Some gain on depreciable property is ordinary income.

Increasing the efficiency of beef cattle ranches by breed-ing heifers to calve at 2 rather 3 has been a successful practice on many ranches durpractice on many ranches during the past few years. If this management system is to be successful, the following rules must be rigidly adhered to:

1. Breed only thrifty high-grading heifers that weigh 600 lb. or more at breeding time.

2. Feed for continuous

3. Give special care at calv-as an advanced amateur photographer who has everything he needs or wants for better picture-making. That is why choosing a most satisfying Christmas gift for him — or her — should be easy.

Take for example the photographer who makes color slides and who is fully equip-ped with a projector. Choose some slide trays for him to fit his projector, and you'll have made a happy and inexpensive selection.

Or ask your photo dealer about kits of binding tape and optical glass cut to proper size, for him to use in re-mounting his favorite slides for better protection and more safety.

Or, consider the man or woman who spurns the cameras that set exposures auto-

There is just no such thing matically. They usually depend on a light meter. Choose an advanced battery operated model and you'll have made someone happy indeed.

There are such handy little devices as clamps with which to fasten a camera almost anywhere when a tripod is not available, to insure steadiness during a long exposure. And these are inexpensive also.

No doubt your advanced amateur has outgrown the gadget bag he now carries. Choose a new one, with adjustable compartments, to take care of all the equipment he likes to carry on trips.

Best of all, consult the expert in the camera stores who will have a long list of handy accessories from which to make a suggestion to please your photographer gift candidate.

When you are serving a vegetable plate for lunch, choose the vegetables with an eye to color! For example, stuffed potatoes with a golden cheese topping will taste good and look well with broccoli (with lemon butter), wax beans and car

CheeryWraps Give Presents Joyous Look

Colorful gifts under the tree make Christmas merrier. The many gala wrappings available this year can help give every present, large or small, a joyous holiday look.

"New" trend in wrapping papers, ribbons and bows sees a return of the old-fashioned, cheery red-and-green Christ-mas spirit, along with many pretty pastels. Traditionally-loved subjects such as bells, Santa, pine cones and Christ-mas trees, abound on printed

Whatever type of paper is used, it's well to remember the basic rules of wrapping.

- 1. Always use non-transparent paper (so no one knows what the box says).
- 2. Keep wrappings secure with glue or rubber cement, seals or transparent tape.
- 3. Leave at least two inches of paper for a neat squared

Lynxettes Win 72-41 Over Darrouzette

Little Robbie Ownbey turned in her greatest defensive game of the year and led the high scoring Lynxettes to a 72-41 victory over Darrouzette Tuesday night.

While Ownbey was leading the Lynxette defensive crew, the forwards were wrecking the scoreboard as four of the five forwards hit in the double fi-gures and forward-guard Karen Gibson missed the double col-

Coach Dean Weese praised Ownbey and his defensive crew after the game. He said Own-bey played her greatest game of the year. The other guards did a good job, but Robbie did the kind of job I knew she could do for us, Weese commented.

The game was never in doubt

The game was never in doubt as the Darrouzette forwards were unable to crack the Lynxette defense and Spearman rolled up the points. The quarter scores were 18-5, 34-19, 54-32.

Phyllis Patterson kept up her torrid scoring pace with 27 points. She only played the first three quarters.

The Wilde sisters got rolling again as Vicki stuffed in 15 points and Barbara came back after a week lay-off and hit 12. Little Johnie Vernon racked up 10 and Gibson scored eight.

It's Etiquette to Follow the Rules

Checking the Christmas card list? Check greeting card etiquette, too.

That's the advice of Jerlyn Madison, consumer consultant for the Shaeffer Pen Company, who points out that there are certain rules that must be followed when ordering and sign-ing Christmas cards, if they are to be in good taste.

Engraved signatures are based on formal tradition, but generally more liberties are taken with Yule greetings than with invitations and announcements, especially if the greetings signature is hand-

The use of first names, "Mary and William Jones," is more appropriate for Yule cards, even printed or engraved ones, than "Mr. and Mrs. William Jones." People don't identify themselves as "Mr. and Mrs." to their friends. "The William Joneses" is also when first names are used, cards can be signed "William and Mary Jones" or "Mary and William Jones." The order the matter of preference, but the wife's name usually comes Etiquette experts say it is not good form to sign a greet-ing, "Mr. and Mrs. William Jones and family." Use a sig-nature like "William, Mary, Susan and Robert Jones."

To give children Christmas presents with a future, consider musical instruments along with music lessons, too.

For younger children there are instruments designed especially for small hands. At age eight or 10, standard-size musical instruments can be handled with comfort.

She Welcomes Things of Beauty

Long a favorite on Christ-mas lists, beauty gifts are one of Santa's standbys when it comes to choosing something feminine for her, yet each year they're new and different.

From new developments in beauty products to fresh ap-proaches in the way they're packaged, this gifts category always offers opportunities to please and surprise women of every age, along with the as-surance that the presents will be welcome and useful.

Types and prices of beauty gifts are varied, too. A beauty gift could well be her "big" present this Christmas ortable electric hair dryer, for instance.

On the other hand, there's wealth of little beauty gifts, leal for gifting her with the any small packages that add lot of extra pleasure. Purse-ize spray cologne, fragrant coap, bath powder or bath mitt are just some of the pos-

And if Santa wants to make her beauty gift really differ-ent, how about false eyelashes — or a wig? Since Santa's a man, he may think such suggestions sound far out — but many a busy woman will tell him they're really practical!

MOST FEMININE gift a woman could receive is a fragrant one, such as spray cologne. Shown here, Chantilly by Houbigant.

HEAVEN-SCENT for Christmas gifting, bath preparations are gift-boxed, always welcome. Here, "Red Roses" by Yardley.

HOLIDAY HAIRDOS, everyday hair-care are easier with a gift of a home hair dryer. This one by Lady Norelco.

CIFT OF GOOD grooming is always appreciated. Here, a cord-less ladies' shaver. By Lady Rem-

Bethany Day Has Surgery

First grader Bethany Day of Spearman is making satisfact-ory recovery after undergoing open heart surgery in Dallas

open heart surgery in Dallas Tuesday.

Mrs. Virgil Mathews, head of the local National Foundation chapter, one of the sponsoring groups, said the operation took five hours, but the child is making rapid recovery.
Barring any complications,

Mrs. Mathews said she will be released from the hospital in about 10 days.

Bethany is a first grader in Spearman schools and has had a defective heart since birth.

She will now be able to lead a normal life.

Over 20 local residents donated blood at the Amarillo blood bank to be used in the

Three Mishaps On Slick Streets

Three minor accidents were investigated over the weekend City Police officers.

All were minor and there were no injuries. All involved the snow covered streets.

Saturday at 2:58 p.m. a car driven by Homer Martinez Flores of Spearman hit a car owned by J.D. Lycan on S. Roland.

Phyllis Jean Davis was the driver of a car that hit the rear end of a car driven by Bobby Odel Kiser. The accident happened at S. Bernice and Seventh.

At Endicott and E. First two vehicles were involved in a minor accident. The cars were driven by Wanda Grant West and T.H. Howe. WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

Every once in a while charges are set up that the business community is "anti-intellectual." In view of the fact that the taxes paid by independent business support the state operated colleges and universities, and that in the majority of cases, it is businessmen's organizations who tions who carry the drives on to improve the educational facilities, this charge becomes quite ridiculous.

To be sure, business men business men are so meare so metimes critical of the conduct of the schools at times. Recently at the University of California in Berkeley, it required a force of 500 police officers to hold in check several hundred students and neo-students who were bent on demonstrating in defiance of law and order.

Now most everybody understands that youth is a time of inner rebellion. On the American campus the display of nonconformity has usually been confined to such didoes as swallowing live goldfish, pantie raids, other manifestations. While the Mrs. Grundy's frown their censure, the majority of people usually chuckle over people usually chuckle over these peccadilloes.

However, in foreign countries, university students have been in the forefront of political movements. In some cases they have marched to the tunes of the "Internationale," in others to the Horst Wessel song. Actually the "cause" has been somewhat immaterial, as the National Federation of Independent Business

But while enjoying this first freedom from parental re-straint, a minor percentage of them become avowed social-ists, fascists, or whatever seems to strike their fancy.

At California, the issue was over the expulsion of a few students who broke the rule not permitting solicitation of funds on the campus for political parties. In state owned colleges where the support is given by all citizens regardless of political affiliation, this appears to be a sound rule.

But immediately, some 500 impetuous youths, out of a student body of more than 27,-000, started a riot.

Taxpayers dislike financing such displays of anarchism.

Thus, resentment is lodged against educators, all students. This is unfair to the teaching profession as well as the thousands of serious students Rather the blame should be directed toward those politicians who not only condone, but encourage anarchistic demonstrations to achieve political or social ends. The emotionally unstable adolescents should not be too harshly judged for heeding the demagogue, for it appears that demagogues to hold power will sacrifice anybody or anything.

Offer Taken Literally, Husband Loses Wife

HAMBURG, Germany Max Kettlmeier says he will bring suit against Paul Dittrich for running off with his wife.

"He always told me I would never be happy until I had a wife like his."

As for Frau Kettlmeier, she reports that her husband told that to all the men but treated her cruelly. "I thought he was trying to get rid of me," she said.

THEY'RE MONSTHOUS

Most bizarre trend in '64 toy-lands is a crop of monsters, mostly inspired by reruns of horror movies of a generation ago. Frankenstein and Dracu-la, for example, may be pro-duced from plastic kits.
