Hansford Sheriff joins Lions in 'War on Drug Abuse'

As a part of its newly declared "War on Drug Abuse," the Spearman Lions Club had Hansford County Sheriff R.L. McFarlin and Deputy Sheriff-Jailer Bob Massingill as guest speakers at the Tuesday noon luncheon of the club at Cattleman's Restaurant. The general text is below:

Because the parent is the most effective person to intervene in a child's drug problem, parents must be aware of the symptoms of drug abuse. First of all, drug use usually produces noticable physical changes in a user-sleeplessness, diarrhea, dilated pupils, vomiting, involuntary muscular movements (twitching), runny eyes or nose, loss of appetite. lethargy or torpor not unlike intoxication, yellow stains on fingers (caused by the high tar element in marijuana joints), sudden weight loss, craving for sweets, excessive thirst, sweating, shakiness, itching, and, of course, the telltale needle "tracks" not only on the arms but on the legs, abdomen, and other parts of the body. The user may be inconsistent in actions - for example, sitting for long periods in a trancelike state and then suddenly becoming hyperactive.

Drug use may also manifest itself in emotional or personality changes. A volatility of temperament, ranging from extreme happines to blackest depression, may well signal drug use; so, too, may uncharacteristic anger, radical changes in activity patterns or choice of associates, a sudden deterioration in physical appearance, sloppiness in dress or inattention to personal hygine. School grades may drop, and the drug user may lose interest in things that once held importance, such as school, athletics, and believe it or not, dating. The durg user may seem to always be tired, coming home only to fall asleep. A drugtroubled child may spend considerable time in the house, especially in a locked bathroom. A previously friendly and outgoing child may suddenly become secretive. A formerly easygoing child may become irritable and overly sensitive. The young user may be argumentative and have angry outbursts for no apparent reason.

There may be other evidence of drug use - the presence of the burned ends of marijuna joints (often referred to as roaches), or more serious drug paraphernalia, such as a "work kit" with syringes, cottton, needles, a "cooker" (a metal bottle cap used for converting heroin into a liquid so it can be injected), or small glassline envelopes tucked into a dresser drawer. PREVENTING DRUG ABUSE

Here are some helpful preventive

CURB YOUR OWN SUBSTANCE USE. Children are great imitators. If they see you using drugs, they are likely to follow your example. If you smoke marijuana or drink excessively, you are only asking for trouble. Children may not have the ability to know their limits or to use drugs such as liquor in moderation.

KNOW YOUR CHILDREN'S FRIENDS. Perhaps you can view them more objectively than you can your own child. Be sure you meet your child's dates.

DO NOT KEEP OUTDATED MEDICATIONS AROUND THE HOUSE. This is particularly applicable to diet drugs or pain-killers. In addition to the obvious opportunity for abuse, there exists the possibility of accidental overdose and even

HELP YOUR TEENAGER FIND BENIGN ACTIVITIES. The active child-one involved with school clubs special projects, hobbies, and sports -- will not perhaps feel a need to use drugs out of frustration and bore-

READ UP ON DRUG ABUSE. Share current literature about drug use with your child.

KNOW YOUR CHILD. This is the most important measure you can take. Make time available for you and your child to talk about problems, worries, dreams, and goals. Teach your child through example that facing and coping with problems are much better than escaping from them. Escape through the use of drugs is only temporary and creates in turn still more problems. If your child knows that you care, there will be no question for which he or she may have to look to drugs as an answer.

DRUG ABUSE: A CHECKLIST 1. Beware of the physical signs of drug use in a teenager, which may include watery eyes, dilated pupils, loss of appetite, insomnia, heavy perspiration, and even needle tracks on any part of the body.

2. Watch for sudden changes in a teenager's personality. A normally happy child may abruptly become hypersensitive and suffer tearful episodes for no apparent reason.

3. If you discover a drug abuser, urge that person to seek professional help.

4. Set a good example for your children. Remember, if they see you using drugs, they are likely to copy your behavior.

5. Make sure that your child is not part of a teenager group that uses drugs for "kicks".

6. Do not keep old drugs in the medicine cabinet, where they can be found and swallowed by young children.

7. Help your child develop an interest in pastimes such as recreational clubs, team sports, etc. Do not let your child use drugs for "entertainment."

8. Be familiar with the recent literature on drug abuse. Share this with your child.

9. Encourage your child to come to you with problems when life is going smoothly. If you keep communication lines open, your child may seek your advise on important matters which otherwise could precipitate the use of drugs.

Jaycees to spearhead Muscular Dystrophy drive

The Spearman Jaycees today pledged their support to the Muscular Dystrophy Association's (MDA) 1983 fundraising efforts. The action was taken in conjunction with the recent endorsement of MDA by the United State Jaycees, according to Mike Cudd, President, of the Spearman Jaycees.

During the past 5 years, Jaycees across America comprising 7,500 local chapters and over 270,000 individual members have contributed $10,000,000 to help find a cure

Lynx-Panther JV'ers battle to 0-0 deadlock

The Jedi and the Panhandle Panther J V both invaded Spearman Thursday evening.

Those who elected to see the "Return of the Jedi" at the Lyric saw another classic film thriller, full of color and action and excitement in the "Star Wars" tradition.

Fans who instead attended the Lynx-Panther Junior Varsity game saw--well, after all, just how thrilling and exciting can a 0-0 stalemate

Plenty--in this case. In how many 0-0 games would you expect to see three successful goal line stands, two of them by the visiting team in the last minute of play?

How about the broken pass play that turned instead into a 63-yard quarterback keeper by Spearman's Bob Cook--a play that on the Lynx 30 with 1:04 seconds left in the game on the Spearman 40 and ended up on the Panhandle 7, on the opposite

Jaycees' Mike Cudd meets Bussa and Chase at gathering in Perryton

Mike Cudd, president of our local Jaycee's, met with Tom Bussa, national president of the United States Jaycees, and Sam Chase, president of Texas Jaycees, Satuurday at a special dinner and dance held at the Elks Club in Perryton.

The Perryton Jaycees rolled out the red carpet in honor of Bussa's visit. First they served a delicious ribeye steak dinner and then several awards were presented to local Perryton Jaycee members. Next, recognitions of special guests were made.

Sam Chase, president of the Texas Jaycees, gave a talk.

The highlight of the evening was Americanism, Patriotism and citizen involvement in their communities. "Americans must be a part of improving our country and need to take an active part." At the 1981 national convention President Reagan told Jaycees, "If not now, when? If not you, who?" Bussa said that the Jaycees have accepted the President's challenge and are looking for others to join in.

side of the field with 51 seconds left? And what about the tremendous effort by freshman end Mark Garnett who dived headlong in the end zone at a Cook pass from the Panther 10 with 8 seconds left? The pass, if caught would have won the game for the Lynx JV'ers. It just touched Garnett's outstretched hands and dropped incomplete, but it was that close, and a great personal effort by Garnett.

Or the leaping one hand interception of Panther pass by Cook earlier in the game at the Lynx 16, that coupled with a roughness penalty on the tackle moved the ball to the Spearman 31, most fortunate for the Lynx as they fumbled the ball away on the next play?

Or the Allan Mires punt from the end zone--for 63 yards as the first have expired?

Yes, there was all that excitement, and lot's more crammed into the game, making it seem incredible that the game ended 0-0 after so many spectacular plays.

After the game opened with the Spearman JV stopping Panhandle's first possession short of a first down, the Lynx started at their own 40, and thrilled the fans with a march to the Panther 15 when a running try on fourth and four was stopped inches short of a first down

The drive was sparked by runs of five and 12 yards by Danny Cazarez and a nine yard ramble by Jessie

Most of the rest of the first half was dominated by the Panther IV'ers, as they mounted a march from their own 15. Thanks to a mix up resulting from a 15 yard penalty assessed against Panhandle on their last play of the first quarter, the Panthers gained about 12 yards on their drive when the officials spotted the ball down that much nearer the Spearman goal than it should have been as the teams changed ends of the field to start the second quarter.

With that added boost, the Panthers moved to a first down on the Lynx 10, and on first down Kip Mayo gained to the Spearman 5. But the Lynx defenders stiffened in a goalline stand that stopped the thrust at the Spearman 4.

A Mires punt from the end zone--short in the air but long on the drive, abetted by the roughness roll--put the ball back on the Spearman 44. This time the Lynx stopped the Panthers cold, but the Panhandle punt put the Lynx back in the hole, setting the stage for Mires' 63 yard punt.

It was a fluke in a way. Anticipating a big Panther rush and a possible blocked punt, Spearman IV coaches were screaming from the sideline for the ball to not be snapped, to let the time in the first half run out. Mires heard this and hesitated a second before booting the ball when the snap came to him. Then under pressure of the big rush, he toed a short, high kick. But the kick bounced off a Panther player, and rolled the rest of the 63 yards with players of both teams diving to try and cover it. It was covered by a Panther but time had run out.

Midway through the third quarter, the Panthers drove from their own 40 to the Spearman 30, but at this point, Cook made his leaping one hand interception to stall the penalty. On the very next play, a second consecutive turnover gave Panhandle the ball at the Spearman 30 on a fumble recovery, but the Panthers could gain only 3 yards in four tries against the stubborn Lynx

The game rocked back and forth as a defensive duel until with 1:03 left to play, and faced with a third and 20 at the Spearman 30, Cook rolled left to pass. Seeing no receivers open, the speedy quarterback tucked the ball in, sprinted around left end, picked up a key block, cut back sharply and raced across the field. He was finally hauled down on the right sideline at the Panther 7.

Lozano took it to the four and another run got it to the Panther 1. as the Spearman fans, sensing a last second victory, screamed their ap-

But on third down-apparently there was a mix up because the time clock was fast--the ball was passed out of bounds behind the end zone to stop the clock and give the coaches time to set up a play. Lozano was stopped inches short with 28 sec-service projects our chapter conducts each year.

The Jaycees' fundraising efforts will culminate with the annual Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon. Representatives of the U.S. Jaycees will appear in Las Vegas with Jerry Lewis to report on the organization's nationwide fundraising totals, while Jaycees from Spearman and other city chapters will appear on local segments of the telethon and help

Panhandle drove to their own seven in three plays then fumbled away the ball. On first and goal at the 10, Spearman's touchdown attempt barely misfired as the pass to the diving Garnett was an inch too long. A five yard penalty moved the ball back to the 15, and the Panthers sacked the Spearman quarterback to end the game.

On Sunday, August 28, 1983, while a Spearman Police Officer was patroling South Snider, he stopped to check a gas meter which was located next to the street on South Snider. Upon checking the meter, the officer found the top part busted open and a large abount of gas was leaking. The officer also found tracks of a vehicle where it had spun its tires on the grass, hiting the meter. The meter appeared to have been hit with a bumper as there was not any paint on the meter. No further at this time.

On Sunday, August 28, 1983, a Spearman resident called the Spearman Police Department and requested that two dogs were at her husbands pens located on Brandt. The officers arrived and observed the two dogs attempting to catch the chickens in the pen. Officers captured the dogs and transported them to the dog pound. No further at this time.

On Tuesday, August 30, 1983, a Spearman businesswoman advised the Spearman Police Department that a subject had gotten some gas at her place of business and left without paying for it. Officers attempted to locate the subject. At approximately 8:45 p.m. the subject telephoned the place of business and advised that he forgot to pay for the gas and that he would be in the following day to pay for the gas. No further at this time.

Miss Tammie Jean Jackson, daughter of Pat and Charolette Jackson of Spearman, and Tommy Dean Gamblin, son of Elaine Janzen of Amarillo and Sam Gamblin of Amarillo, were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony, Saturday evening, August 27 1983 at seven thirty o'clock in the First United Methodist Church of Spearman.

The Rev. Lane Boyd, pastor of First United Methodist Church officiated the double ring ceremony assisted by Bruce Ammons of Hale Center. Mr. Ammons is a childhood friend of the bride and is currently training for the ministry at Wayland.

The guests were registered by Penny Gamblin of Amarillo on the Foyer Lectern stand. The stand held two white doves with tiny pink flowers about their necks joined together by a tiny burgundy ribbon. The Lectern stand was entwined with live greenery and English ivy

Guests were then presented wedding programs by Brenda Boyd, of Canyon, cousin of the

A beautiful setting for the wedding was provided by church decorations carrying out a garden theme. The couple pledged their vows beneath a real tree decorated with pink and burgundy blossoms holding a nest of one white dove accented by another suspended in flight to its mate, the tree was adorned with real hanging ferns. There were two candletrees and one spiral candelabra decorated with greenery and holding pink tapers. The alter was accented with a small table which held the unity candle and was lit by the bride and groom at the close of the ceremony. Two white ornate lawn chairs were at the alter to seat candlelighters throughout the ceremony The prayer rail at the alter and the columns in back of the sanctuary were wrapped in Eglish ivv. the pews were adorned with pink and burgundy bows and the setting was completed with pink and burgundy gloxinia spaced about the alter.

The prelude was taped and featured sound effects from a garden setting of fountains and birds and instrumentals from "The Golden Voyage" by Bearns and Dixter.

Next was the seating of the families followed by a solo entitled "Wherever You Go" by Kent Guthrie.

Chance Jackson, brother of the bride, and Shawn Cook, both of Spearman, dressed in classic black tuxedos with white dorado shirts trimmed with burgundy accented with boutineers of pink carnations and baby's breath served as candlelighters while soloist Betty Womble, of Morse, sang "Candle on the Water." Next was the processional to music by planist Sheryi Meek and organist Eddy Martin, both of Spearman, who provided music throughout the cer-

The Rev. Boyd spoke the opening words of the ceremony, followed by the traditional presenting of the bride

Tammie carried out the tradition of something old--her Grandfather's Bible (that he carried in combat missions during World War II) and a diamond drop that was from her Grandmother's wedding ring; something new-her bridal gown; something borrowe-her mother's pearls; something blue--her garter; and a penny in her shoe from the year of her birth was from some old coins of her fathers.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Perry Arnold of Spearman serving as Matron of Honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jody Gamblin and Miss Misty Spealbaugh, both of Amarillo, and Mrs. Randy Hendershott of Spearman.

The attendants were gowned alike wearing dresses of floor length burgundy satin. The circular sleeves draped softly at the elbow and had softly bloused bodices. The dresses were adorned at the waist with pink apliqued satin and chiffon ribbon sash with long streamers. The junior attendant, Miss Brandi Arnold of Gainsville, wore matching

Their hair ornaments were of white lace ribbon tied in small cluster bows with streamers of tiny pink and burgundy flowers. Each girl carried baskets of pink and burgundy pixie carnations white daisies, babys breath spring rye and English ivy cascading over pink and burgundy ribbon.

Michelle Gamblin of Amarillo, niece of the groom, who scattered rose petals of pink and burgunday roses wore a tea length dress of pink dotted Swiss gathered at the waist and ruffled at the bottom in white lace. The bodice featured a high neck line and short sleeves with white lace about the neck and over the shoulders in pinafore fashion. Michelle wore a wristlet of pink and white pixie carnations and babys breath with tiny sprigs of greenery and carried a basket rimmed in pink and burgandy bows.

Justin Arnold of Spearman, cousin of the bride, serving as ring bearer was dressed in an all white classic tuxedo and accessories, carried the rings on a handmade counted crossstitch pillow made by Carrie Tidwell and Claudine Clark, cousin and aunt of the bride.

The groom was attired in a black full dress tuxedo with black vest and a white durado shirt trimmed in black. His tuxedo was adorned with a single red rosebud boutineer with babys breath.

Serving his brother as best man was Jay Gamblin of Amarillo. Groomsmen included James Scroggs of Spearman and Jody and Coby Gamblin of Amarillo, brothers of the bridegroom. Roman Arnold of Spearman, cousin of the bride, was junior grooms-

Chosen as ushers were Mr. Perry Arnold of Spearman. Mr. Sam Arnold of Gainsville, uncles of the bride, and Mr. Scott Boyd of Canyon, cousin of the groom. Attendants and ushers were attired in classic black tuxedos complimented by black satin cummerbunds and bow ties with white durado shirts trimmed in burgundy. The tuxedos were complimented with boutineers of pink carnations and baby's breath. For her daughter's wedding the mother of the bride chose a dress of pink mauve floor length pinch-pleated chiffon with elbow length matching leeves. The bodice was matching colored overlay of hand-embroidered lace with matching trim on the sleeves. She wore a wristlet of white roses and baby's breath.

The bridegroom's mother elected to wear a pink floor length dress with long sleeves and a V-shaped neckline with pink lace insert and pink lace cuffs on the sleeves. She wore a wristlet of pink and white carnations and baby's breath. A reception in the church's fellowship hall followed the ceremony. The reception area carried out the garden theme with another tree decorated similar to the one in the sanctuary for the ceremony. A small terracotta water fountain with flowing water graced the hall. Assorted greenery with hanging fern and potted plants of various kinds added to the theme and decorated the reception area. Punch was served on a garden cart from an antique cranberry glass punch bowl with matching cups. Coffee was served from a pewter coffee service on a separate table. Serving the guests were Miss Brenda Boyd of Canyon, Miss Kim Lewis of Amarillo, Miss Regina Kenney of Amarillo and Miss Penny Gamblin

The bride's table featured a tiered wedding cake topped with bride and groom in a gazebo with tiny white doves on the railing. The bride's cake was attached with a flat cake on each side. One was the groom's cake made of chocolate and decorated with chocolate roses. Each flat cake joined the bride's cake by two small arched bridgeways. Crossing the bridge from the groom's cake was the groom. In similar fashion, the bride crossed the bridge from the other side to the bride's cake symbolizing their union.

of Amarillo

The table was adorned with gathered pink net over a white tablecloth and decorated with smilex of greenery attached with pink and burgundy bows.

A surprise feature in the reception from the bride and groom was a showing of slides cturing Tammie and Tom in "Moments of Our Love". A musical selection of "Every Breath You Take" by the Police, was played to accompany the presentation. This was choreographed and pre-sented by Fred Hughes of Rice bells covered with burgundy tulle and tied with pink ribbon were given to the guests by Bradley Arnold of Gainsville, cousin of the bride. Thank you scrolls were passed among the guests by Michelle Gamblin and Brandi Arnold. Mr. and Mrs. Gamblin left the church in their wedding attire, for a trip to Kansas City and Colorado. They will make their home in Amarillo where he works as a plumber and she is employed at Texas Ameri-

IF THIS AREA HAD $2500 OIL AND GAS WELLS, THERE WOULD BE A NEED FOR $25 PER HOUR WELL SERVICE

Oil and gas wells don't cost a few thousand to bring to production. They cost hundreds of thousands! The investment of the industry in this region is staggering. The dependence of all our citizens on the profitability of the industry simply cannot be calculated.

The industry is not as healthy now as it has been, nor as healthy as it will be. That fact makes this a time for renewed dedication to the sound business principles that have made the industry great. Here is some straight talk about what Sam's Well Service, Inc. believes about those principles:

- We believe in technological excellence. This includes education in the latest techniques, the kind of know-how that comes only with experience and the determined hard work that puts knowledge into practice so that it means higher profits for our customers.
- We believe the best measure of value in well service is not the hourly price tag, but the kind of work that is done.

 True savings and higher profits are the offspring of quality service. They cannot be achieved with senseless cost cutting that offers savings of a few dollars at the risk of losing thousands next week or next month.
- We believe that quality service begins with qualified people better trained people who know what they are doing, who have a proven interest in saving our customers from expensive problems and who are building a future for themselves.
- We believe that quality service demands quality equipment. Few, if any, service companies in the nation invest a higher percentage of their income in the purchase and maintenance of the proper equipment to do the job demanded.
- We believe in fair business ethics and the reputation that comes from being true to our word not just promising lower costs which turn out more costly in the long run. For example, if you have a problem that is determined to be our fault, we fix it no argument, no hedging, no jawing, no bull!
- We believe that the scarce jobs in this industry belong to those who are qualified by citizenship or permission to work in the United States. Our nation depends on this industry not just for the product, but for the jobs it produces.
- We believe our customers have a right to expect us not to jeopardize their investments by saving a few pennies per hour through hiring the incompetent, uncaring or unrewarded. That's not service. It's profiteering!
- We believe in this region and its people. And, we are willing to back up our faith with a renewed dedication to quality, service, hard work and integrity.
