

Special Court Begins Probe Of Land Office

AUSTIN (AP)—A court of inquiry to investigate affairs of the General Land Office opened today before Peace Justice Travis Blakeslee.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd, who formally requested the inquiry, said Gov. Allan Shivers and Land Commissioner J. Earl Rudder had joined informally in asking him to seek the court-type investigation. Travis County Atty. Thomas Blackwell held the role of leading counsel as the hearing got under way.

Shepperd, Shivers and Rudder are members of the School Land Board and the Veterans Land Board and affairs of both boards are administered within the General Land Office.

At least one purpose of the court of inquiry could be to develop veterans land scandal investigation information. The proceeding may last six to eight weeks, depending on number of witnesses called.

Special Asst. Atty. Gen. Cecil E. Burney of Corpus Christi, heading a group of assistants who will interrogate witnesses, said Shepperd office has been investigating operations of the General Land Office as well as its veterans land division.

"We feel that it is now time to preserve the testimony in the records of a judicial hearing," said Burney.

The veterans land scandal developed during the administration of former Land Commissioner Hascom Giles, who has been indicted on charges of conspiracy to commit theft and accepting a bribe.

The state meanwhile won its first civil suit brought in connection with veterans' land program deals.

Dist. Judge J. Harris Gardner held that Sam R. Ward, Crystal City rancher, had made false representations to the Veterans' Land Board in a Zavala County block land deal.

Expressing "sympathy" for the 64-year-old defendant, Judge Gardner yesterday handed down the decision after hearing testimony for three days. No criminal allegations have been made.

Ward's attorney, D. W. Suttell of Uvalde, said there would be no appeal. Gardner's decision held that Ward had misrepresented to the land board that five veterans of Latin-American descent had made bona fide application to purchase a big tract of his land.

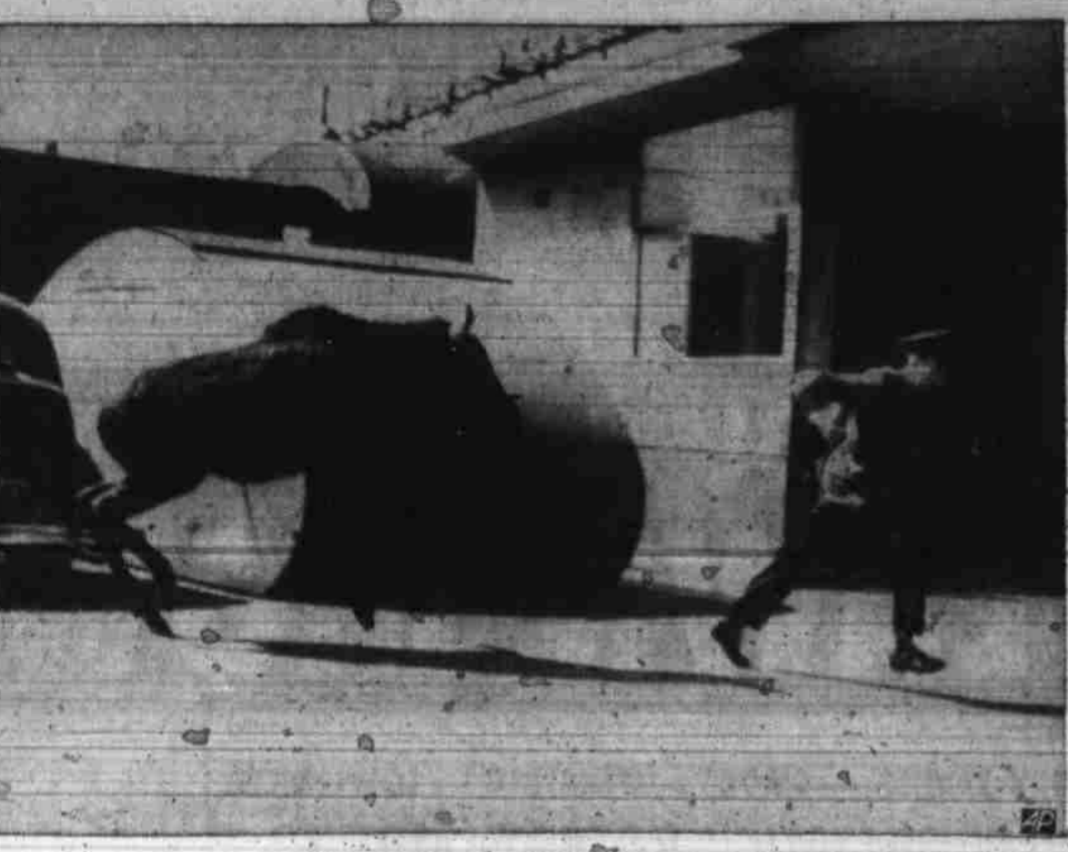

The decision will nullify the entire transaction and accept $33,000 in restitution tendered by Ward.

Nine additional condemnation suits were filed with the county judge this morning in the condemnation court drive to complete U. S. 80 freeway right-of-way by June 1.

Commissioners said it may be necessary to file one or two more suits, but they hoped negotiations today and Friday would result in settlement of other pending transactions.

Judge R. H. Weaver, named Jack Cook, John Allred and George O'Brien to a board of special commissioners to appraise and conduct hearings on the property described in the suits filed today. Hearings in the nine cases were set for May 31.

Five of the condemnations were against land and the other four were for access rights. The land is owned by Handy Liquor Store, James L. Cooper, M. M. Roberts, J. E. Walker and Jim and Alice Robinson. Access rights are to be acquired from R. V. Jenkins, J. C. Collins, E. H. Fuqua and E. A. Lackey.

Moose On The Loose

A Swedish soldier goes into full retreat before a rampaging moose which wandered into the heart of downtown Stockholm, Sweden. The visitor from the country had scores of police, firemen, soldiers and citizens a merry chase before jumping into a nearby lake. Naval operations were more successful and the moose was captured.

Commissioners Study Opening One-Way Street Connections

Construction of one or more cross streets between Third and Fourth in West Big Spring is now being considered.

City commissioners last night instructed City Manager H. W. Whitney and City Engineer Clifton Bellamy to survey the lengthy distance between Brown and Presidio streets to determine where additional cross streets should be.

This action followed the presentation of a petition asking that the commission open one street. The petition contained 87 signatures and was presented by seven individuals.

It was asked that the cross street be constructed across Dee Weatherly's land at 1215 West 3rd. This would place the cross street about midway between Brown and Presidio.

Weatherly, who was at the commissioner meeting, stated he would sell the land to the city for a reasonable price, though a price was not mentioned.

The commissioners told Weatherly a survey would be made of the land he has offered. It was also decided to check the possibility of other cross street locations, possibly making three or four blocks instead of the two which would be formed with one crossing.

Howard J. Michael, who headed the delegation asking for cross streets, pointed out that residents have to go west on Third a considerable distance before they can cross to Fourth Street, turn east and head toward town.

"The one-way system has placed us a mile further from town than we were 25 years ago," Michael said.

This statement was backed by Oscar Martin, who said his daughter has to drive four blocks west each morning before turning back on Fourth to take her child to the West Ward school.

A. J. Ball of Fireball Welding Co., a commissioner, said the one-way traffic in the area caused a $500 drop in his business the first week. Business is now less than what it was before, he said.

The others present agreed the one-way traffic had split business. "It might make some of us lose more business if we don't get a way for people to visit us once in a while," Michael stated. "It looks like we could connect up Third and Fourth and get the benefit of our property."

The section between Brown and Presidio is about five or six normal blocks and covers approximately 1,600 feet. Third Street is neither connected to Second nor Fourth in that distance.

Those presenting the petition included Monroe Gafford, D. E. Hoffington, L. B. Kirby, W. E. Holman, Michael, Martin and Ball.

County Equalization Board Sets Meeting

County commissioners will sit at an equalization board for the county June 13, it was reported today.

The board was formed by the commissioners court Monday. The date for the meeting was set after a conference with Viola Horton Robinson, county tax assessor-collector. She said her office would be prepared for the hearings on equalization problems June 13.

Beer Zoning Discussion Set

Re-zoning the city for the sale of beer will be discussed at the next regular meeting of the City Commission on Tuesday evening, May 24.

The re-zoning proposal was presented to commissioners last week and was postponed for hearing until the latter date so that interested individuals can be present.

The opening of Fourth Street and Lamesa Drive for the sale of beer will be considered, commissioners said.

Last night a petition with 41 signatures was presented to commissioners asking that Lamesa Drive be opened for beer sales between Northwest Fourth and Northwest 12th, a dry sector. The petition was presented by J. M. Barrera, who operates an establishment in the 800 block, has asked for an expansion of the beer zone several times in the past.

"Beer zoning on Fourth Street was asked last evening by Dr. G. E. Peacock, who told commissioners he wished an off-premises license for Toby's No. 2 which he is opening here Fourth Street's intersection with Birdwell Lane.

Dr. Peacock was informed that extension of the beer zone is not necessary for off-premises sales in an "R" zone, in which his store is located. His request, however, served to bring up the problem.

Third Street, a portion of Highway 80, as now a beer zone, but Fourth Street from the downtown area east and west is not.

City Manager H. W. Whitney stated that he will have a map outlining the present beer zone of the city when the next regular meeting is held. Liquor Control Board officials and Police Chief E. W. York will be asked to attend the meeting also.

Maverick Hits Shivers Plea On Labor Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Shivers' demand that two labor control bills be passed by the Legislature today brought sharp comment from Rep. Maury Maverick of San Antonio that his statement was "pure demagoguery."

Maverick's written comment came as a possible showdown loomed on the labor measures which Shivers said are needed to "prevent future strikes of the type that have occurred in Port Arthur."

The labor bills are designed to stop picketing as a weapon to force union recognition, and to broaden the venue where labor damage or injunction suits may be tried.

"Gov. Shivers' statement that the people gave him a mandate to pass the two anti-labor bills to prevent outside organizers from coming into Texas is pure demagoguery as the proposed bills do not control that situation," said Maverick, often a labor spokesman in the House.

"Organized labor agreed to accept a bill based entirely on the Taft-Hartley law which would really be the answer to the problem and not just punitive class hatred legislation as recommended by the governor," Maverick's statement said.

The Senate was ready for debate of a House-passed proposal for tightening controls over the state's defamed veterans land program. The bill, by Rep. Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde, was brought to the top of the Senate's calendar by unanimous consent yesterday. It would invoke new administrative safeguards over the program and tighten requirements on land sales.

Whether the House would get to the controversial labor bills today was uncertain. Parliamentary maneuvering for and against their consideration had been under way for some time.

By Sen. George Parkhouse, the proposal already have won passage in the Senate. One would prohibit picketing for the purpose of forcing an employer to recognize or bargain with a labor union which does not represent a majority of the employees and when a majority of the employees do not desire to be represented by the union.

The other would allow suits for damages and for injunctions against strikes or picketing to be filed in the county where the strike occurred, in an adjoining county, in the county of the defendant's residence or in Travis County.

The bill to further restrict purposes of lawful picketing is aimed directly at situations like Port Arthur, where more than 20 business establishments were involved in strikes over approximately a 15-month period.

The so-called "Port Arthur strike" became a bitter issue in last year's battle between Gov. Allan Shivers and Ralph Yarborough for the governorship of Texas.

Shivers blamed left-wing influences and said Yarborough had the backing of groups sympathetic to the calling of such strikes. Yarborough accused Shivers of failing to do anything to get the strike settled and said if, instead of Shivers, were governor, he would get the strike quickly settled.

Skies Clear As Rains Move To Gulf Of Mexico

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Shivers' demand that two labor control bills be passed by the Legislature today brought sharp comment from Rep. Maury Maverick of San Antonio that his statement was "pure demagoguery."

Skies cleared over much of West and North Central Texas Thursday as a squall line that brought needed rain pushed into the Gulf of Mexico.

Much of East Texas remained cloudy and there were continuing forecasts by the Weather Bureau of scattered thundershowers and thunderstorms.

"But it looks like the big rains are mostly over for awhile," a weather observer said.

The upper Texas Gulf Coast was getting what rain there was, the Weather Bureau said. Beaumont, Houston and Galveston were getting varying amounts of precipitation as the sun came up. A dry thunderstorm rumbled over Laredo.

The calming weather followed four days of heavy rains in many drought-ravaged areas of the state. The rainy weather was caused by squall-line turbulence which produced literally dozens of tornado warnings.

Several funnels were sighted and a few seemed almost certain to strike populated areas as they were tracked by the Weather Bureau and the State Highway Patrol. But little damage actually occurred, and no injuries were reported.

A small twister finally struck Cisco Wednesday night. It overturned two buildings, ripped roofs from small sheds and terrified residents as it roared through at 65 miles per hour. Others clawed at Robstown and Tow, Tex., unroofing houses. No one was reported injured.

Junction, 150 miles south of Cisco, reported three tornado funnels and a funnel-shaped cloud was sighted north of Fort Worth. Apparently none of the four touched the ground.

Heavy rain raked parts of Dallas and Fort Worth and the latter city reported a hailstorm. Waco, Tyler, San Antonio, Del Rio, Mineral Wells and Salt Flat reported nighttime thunderstorms.

Drenching rains and hail were reported at Llano and Eastland. Damage was slight in both areas, but some parts of Llano County received as much as 4 inches of rain.

Wednesday's rains fell in varying amounts from Amarillo to Laredo and from Salt Flat to Dallas.

Press Agency Makes Report On Settlement

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Big Four reached agreement today on an Austrian independence treaty. This was reported by informed Western sources in advance of a communiqué.

The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union will fly to Vienna this weekend to put their signatures on a treaty the Austrians have been wanting for 10 years.

Confirmation will mean that Austria will be free and sovereign for the first time in 17 years. Some 70,000 troops of Russia and the West will leave.

Agreement was reached after nine days of difficult negotiations which it was feared earlier today might break down. For the past three days the ambassadors of the four powers had been deadlocked on a Western demand that the Russians put into the treaty economic concessions granted the Austrians during talks in Moscow last month.

Western informants said the Russians finally gave way to the Western demand, thus paving the way for the actual signing.

Informed sources said the ambassadors decided to make the Soviet concessions an annex to the treaty. The concessions include return of the Zistersee oil fields and the Danube Shipping Co. to Austria.

British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan scheduled a Paris departure for tomorrow for Vienna. U. S. Secretary of State Dulles was expected to do likewise.

French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay had already planned to leave tomorrow for the Austrian capital.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov will arrive from a Communist conference in Warsaw. U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr. declared as he left the Allied Control Mission building, where the secret treaty meetings have been held:

"We are over the hump. The deal is done. I am very satisfied with the results achieved."

Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figl said as he left: "The treaty will be signed during the next few days."

Earlier Figl had told the Austrian Parliament the treaty signing was close at hand. The Austrians had been worried considerably over the delay in reaching final agreement.

Figl addressed Parliament after an American spokesman in Paris said U. S. Secretary of State Dulles would delay his trip to Vienna until "further and better news" came from the Big Four ambassadors negotiating here on the treaty.

Adenauer Gets Needed Majority

HANNOVER, Germany (AP)—A new four-party coalition government in Lower Saxony state today assured Chancellor Konrad Adenauer the two-thirds majority needed in the Federal Parliament's upper house to carry through West German rearmament.

Operation Big Switch at Panmunjom, Korea, in 1953. Both were assigned to duty at Ft. Jay.

An Army spokesman said they had been under investigation for some time because of allegations by fellow prisoners.

After he returned home, Dunn said he voluntarily attended lectures in a prison camp but added that he was not a Communist and "I never will be."

"I wanted to get the other side of the picture," he said. "Now I know it isn't so good. Since my return I've found out they did quite a bit of lying."

About six months before his release, he said, abuse from his fellow prisoners stopped and he had "quite a few buddies" among men who consistently refused to listen to the Communist line.

At her Brooklyn home last night, Mrs. Patricia Slee, Gallagher's sister, said her soldier-brother "had never told on anybody in his life." She said the family "can't believe" the charges.

Collaboration 2 Yanks Face Courts-Martial

NEW YORK (AP)—Two American soldiers must face courts-martial for alleged pro-Communist activities while Korean War captives.

One is involved in an unpermitted murder charge. The two are Sgt. James C. Gallagher, 23, of Brooklyn, and Cpl. Harold M. Dunn, 26, of Baldwinville, N.Y.

The 1st Army announced yesterday that both men, prisoners in North Korea for almost three years, must answer to charges of collaboration with the enemy and mistreatment and informing of fellow prisoners.

Gallagher is accused of "murder without premeditation of fellow prisoners at war." The number of alleged victims was not listed in the formal charge.

An Army spokesman said Gallagher and Dunn have been confined in the stockade at Ft. Jay, Governor's Island. He gave no details of the alleged crimes. No trial date has been set.

U. S. Anti-Trust Suit Hits Publishers, Ad Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Justice Department today filed an anti-trust suit against six major publishing and advertising agency associations. It charges violations in the placing of national advertising in newspapers and magazines.

The suit charges that national advertisers have also been prevented through this system from placing advertising copy direct with printed media, and have been compelled to employ the services of the "recognized" advertising agencies.

The New York court is asked "to abolish the recognition system," and enjoin the defendants from following any set policy in the matter of agency commissions.

The justice department said that under the decree requested, "each publisher would be free to determine for himself the rate of agency commission it desires to pay and the agencies with whom it desires to do business."

The complaint charges a conspiracy in restraint of interstate commerce, alleging that the various associations had agreed upon uniform practices in connection with the placing of national advertising in printed media.

The suit specifically challenges an alleged agreement that the advertising agency commission for placing ads in such media would be a uniform 15 per cent.

KUNSAN, Korea (AP)—A U.S. Air Force squadron commander said today there were at least 32 Red Chinese MIGs in the Yellow Sea area where his flight of eight Sabre jets was attacked Tuesday.

Lt. Col. Robert E. Dawson of Dayton, Ohio, told a news conference that half of the Russian-built jets flew protective cover for the attacking Communist planes.

Dawson related details of the eight-minute air scrap in which U.S. fliers shot down two MIGs and probably bagged two others.

The Air Force said all U.S. Sabres returned without a scratch.

Summer Recreation Group Gets Northwest Pool Job

Plans for constructing a swimming pool in Northwest Big Spring should be coordinated through the Summer Recreation Committee, city commissioners decided last night.

The move to hand various problems connected with the pool over to the recreation group followed a discussion of pool cost, site, location and use.

City Manager H. W. Whitney estimated that a 30 by 60-foot pool, complete with fence and bath house, would cost approximately $20,550.

This would include about $14,400 for the pool itself, $1,440 for engineering fees, $750 for a chain link fence, and around $4,000 for a bath house, he said.

Based on the attendance records at the City Park swimming pool, Whitney estimated the maximum daily attendance at a pool for the Negro people would be only 38.

The average daily attendance at the municipal pool last year was 323, he said, which is about 16 per thousand people. The Negro population here is approximately 1,200, and the 38 average daily attendance figure was determined after doubling the City Park ratio.

Pennies For Texas Aren't From Heaven

AUSTIN—A penny looms very large in the Texas Legislature these days as the lawmakers struggle with the state's billion and a half dollar financial problem.

The penny about which there's so much talk is the extra one many want to put on the gasoline tax Texas motorists pay to finance more highway improvements.

The House has voted another cent to be added to the four cents Texas motorists now pay. Gov. Shivers wants the increase to be two cents. So does Highway Commissioner E. H. Thornton. So, of late do the county judges and commissioners of the state.

The Senate, many are guessing, might write the 2-cent hike into its version of the tax bill.

Tuesday afternoon the governor called in top lobbyists who represent gas companies, trucking companies and the like and suggestion is more support was asked for the 2-cent hike.

The extra penny has been sugared by Highway Commissioner Thornton with his suggestion that a fourth of it be used to help counties and cities buy rights-of-way. That suggestion was grabbed by the State Association of County Judges and Commissioners. They endorsed an amendment to the tax bill offered by Sen. J. P. Fuller of Port Arthur which would hike the gasoline tax by two cents with one-fourth of a cent earmarked for rights-of-way. He predicted the Senate would pass the 2-cent increase.

The House had repeated chances at the 2-cent hike with a portion going for rights-of-way, but turned it down every time. Since then, however, several things have happened. The governor has repeated his call for the higher tax. Supposedly he has bid for support of big business through their lobbyists.

And, the Legislature has gone off pay. The longer they go without approving a tax plan, the longer they go without pay.

Whether the House will hold firm, if the Senate votes the big gas tax increase is the big question. Rep. Jerry Sadler, leader in the fight against the 2-cent hike, says the House "will stay here until Christmas" before it would approve the larger increase. Rep. Truett Latimer of Abilene said this week he doesn't believe the House would ever vote for 2 cents—that he wouldn't personally. He pointed out, in support of his prediction, that the House barely approved a 1-cent hike in the gas levy.

This Legislature still has to approve the major spending bill and the major tax bill. Conferees from both houses who have been working out the spending measure said this week they had agreed on a figure of $1,524,000,000 for the budget for the next two years. This would call for about $210,000,000 from the general revenue fund. The tax bill, which is now under consideration in the Senate, would finance that general revenue fund. It would call for about $30 million per year in new taxes. That $30 million is more than would be produced by the tax bill the House has passed and the Senate is considering. The House bill would yield about $50 million a year, but $26 million of that is allocated to highway construction. It is about that $24 million that the argument over the gasoline tax is centered. Thornton says that much, product of a 1-cent hike, is not enough to do the work which needs to be done on Texas highways. He says twice that, a 2-cent hike, would be a minimum figure.

CIO Maps Strategy For Wage Increase

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers mapped strategy today for a fight to secure a "substantial wage increase" in unprecedented simultaneous negotiations with six major steel producers.

The union's 170-member Wage Policy Committee approved the "substantial" boost demand of ESW President David J. McDonald yesterday. McDonald declined to reveal the exact amount. Steelworkers now average $2.33 an hour.

The union has some 600,000 members in basic steel plants, and as many more in steel fabricating firms.

For the first time, talks will be held with six major steel firms concurrently. Bargaining with U.S. Steel Corp. is scheduled to begin June 7. McDonald said five other companies will start negotiations in Pittsburgh immediately afterward.

Until now, talks with the other big companies were kept on a standby basis while the USW negotiated with U.S. Steel. The settlement with Big Steel usually set the pace for the other producers.

This year, talks will be held with Bethlehem Steel Corp., Republic Steel Corp., Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., Inland Steel Co. and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., in addition to U.S. Steel.

There was no comment from the companies.

McDonald said the simultaneous bargaining sessions were arranged at his request.

A two-year contract with the steel companies, signed last year, permits reopening of discussions on hourly wages only this year. If no agreement is reached by June 30, the union will be free to strike.

McDonald said he hopes to conclude talks with the six major producers "well in advance" of the deadline.

Observers feel the union will settle for about a 12 1/2-cent-an-hour hike and that there will be no strike.

Talks with steel fabricators will be those with the makers of basic steel.

City Sets Air Raid Practice

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—Tomorrow is Operation Able for this east Arkansas town and about 20,000 persons from surrounding areas, escapees from an imaginary bombing raid, will rush in for refuge.

There will be three times as many "evacuees" as homefolks in this cotton country town of about 7,500.

The busloads of refugees will be volunteers recruited to help civil defense authorities learn more about problems encountered when a small city is called on to take care of a mob of civilians from a devastated area.

For a short time armed National Guard troops and police will patrol the streets of Forrest City, alert to any evidence of looters on a rampage. Fighter planes and bombers will roar overhead, offering air protection for fleeing civilians. Refugees will be fed and sheltered. Medical aid stations will be set up.

This will be the first dress rehearsal of its kind in the United States. Other American cities have practiced getting their own inhabitants out of town. This time they are going to practice taking care of persons bombed out of their homes.

The imaginary target is Memphis and the time of the attack is 1:08 p.m.

The Robert A. Fetzer trophy is awarded annually to the winner of the indoor games in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Galveston Mayor Tells Of New 'Honor System' For Gamblers

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—This island resort city's mayor-elect says gambling and prostitution are here to stay and that "the boys will be reasonable."

The mayor-to-be is George Roy Clough, 64. He talked freely with reporters yesterday about his plans after next Tuesday, the day he takes office.

Clough, radio station KLUF owner and operator, said he would call a meeting within 30 days of all Galveston's gambling bosses, including the Maceo family, "because I think they are the cleanest operators in town."

Purpose of the meeting, he said, will be to set up a system of self-government for the gamblers. "I believe it's possible to put these fellows on their honor," Clough said. "I've found most of them trustworthy—and they pay their bills a hell of a lot better than some of their critics."

Clough called his plans a "sort of reform program." He added that he wants "the prostitutes out of the downtown hotels and back in the district." Reopening of Post Office Street, Galveston's almost legendary bawdyhouse district, is on the agenda, he said.

"There have been prostitutes since the days of Christ," he said. He added that Christ tried to stop prostitution but couldn't, "so why should I try?"

Clough told reporters he believes slot machines are undesirable but that he has no objection to dice, cards and roulette because, "generally speaking, they are operated by reliable persons."

Operators of policy games, tip boards and bingo, he opined, would be reasonable.

Clough Tuesday was elected mayor on a vote of 8,686 to 5,849 for Mayor Herbert Y. Cartwright Jr., who was seeking a fifth two-year term. During the campaign Clough charged that "the gambling payoff exists and is widespread."

"This town has too much payoff," Clough said. "If you take money from gamblers and prostitutes you don't regulate them—they regulate you."

Asked what he thought would happen when he took office and put his policies into effect, Clough answered:

"When you cut off his milk, a calf will learn to eat grass."

In Austin, Col. Homer Garrison, director of the state police, said he would have no comment now and probably none later. He noted that Clough would not take office until May 17.

Galveston Island is a mile off the Texas Gulf Coast and about 50 miles south of Houston. A four-lane causeway connects it with the mainland.

In answer to Clough's charges of "payoff," Cartwright and other city officials repeatedly have said they had no knowledge of any such thing. Clough never was specific in his charges.

Members of the Maceo family and associates of theirs have operated numerous bars, taverns and night clubs in Galveston for years. At various times members of the family have faced gaming charges.

Both gambling and prostitution are prohibited by statute in Texas and there is no way for a city legally to condone either.

Visiting Vets Still Rightist

MOSCOW (AP)—The leader of nine American veterans of the 1945 U.S.-Soviet Elbe River linkup says reunion with the Russians hasn't altered the group's "right of center" political leanings.

The spokesman for the group—Joseph Polowsky of Chicago—told reporters here last night he and his colleagues "fully support the U.S. government's foreign policy," including West German rearmament. The nine arrived here Monday for a five-day visit as guests of the Soviet Union.

Polowsky made the comment after a rally with Soviet veterans in the Central House of the Soviet Army. At the rally Russian Col. A. S. Zhadov assailed the "remilitarization of West-Germany."

Reporters noted that Polowsky and his colleagues, who were on the stage during the meeting, frequently applauded the Russians' speeches. Asked later if he and his companions understood what they were depending on an interpreter.

"I did not applaud criticism of West German rearmament, which I fully support," Polowsky said. "I did not applaud any criticism of the United States government, which I fully support."

"We haven't discussed politics here at all and wouldn't bring up the matter if the Russians didn't do it first," he added. "I and my colleagues here are all right of center in our political leanings."

During last night's ceremonies, Polowsky invited the Russian veterans to visit Washington. He assured them "the same warm hospitality we received here."

The Americans, who will continue sightseeing until Friday, include William Welsh, Cincinnati; Murray Schimman, Queens Village, N.Y.; Elijah R. Sams Jr., Pine-Neale, N.C.; Charles C. Forrester, Greer, S.C.; Robert Hag, Indianapolis; Fred W. Johnston, Bradford, Pa.; Claude W. Moore, Newbern, Tenn.; and Byron L. Shiver, Lakeland, Fla.

More Rain Hits Areas Of Nation

By The Associated Press

Sections of the south central part of the country, hit by heavy rain and windstorms for several days, got more rain today.

The main wet area centered in Missouri and fringes of adjoining states with scattered but locally heavy showers and thundershowers extending southwestward into parts of Texas. Rainfall in Corpus Christi, Tex., was a little more than 2 inches in 24 hours.

There were a few other wet spots. Light rain fell near the Virginia-Carolina border, northern New York, central Wisconsin and there were widely scattered light showers in the South Dakota-Montana area and along the far West Coast.

Minor tornadoes were reported in sections of Oklahoma, Texas and Kansas yesterday. No injuries were reported.

Course Concluded

Conclusion of an in-service training course for faculty of the Howard County Junior College was marked here Tuesday evening with a dinner honoring Dr. W. Reynolds, University of Texas junior college consultant. Dr. Reynolds is flanked by Dr. P. W. Malone, board president, left, and Dr. W. A. Hunt, HCCJC president, who presented him with gifts, including a copy of Shine Phillips' book, "Big Spring." Dr. Reynolds has been instructor for the past two years on courses on "curriculum of the Junior Colleges," which gave faculty members six semester hours of credit in junior college work. This satisfies requirements of the Texas Association of Colleges and the Southern Association. Faculty members honored him with a dinner at the Twins and board members and their wives also were present.

Ike May Find Hard Bargainer In Bulganin At Big Four Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower may find himself involved in harder bargaining than he seems to expect if and when he sits down with Russian Premier Nikolai Bulganin at Big Four talks.

Bulganin may well press a whole set of basic demands outlined in a new program for disarmament and ending the cold war which Moscow made public Tuesday night.

A word of caution against approaching any heads-of-state talks with "a defeatist attitude" came today from Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. George, who had urged such talks at a time when Eisenhower was cool to the idea, said the administration should take the "strong initiative" in its approach.

His comments were obviously prompted by Eisenhower's statement yesterday that his willingness to meet with the heads of state of Britain, France and Russia was based in part of "a vague feeling some good might come out of such a conference."

"One thing that is disturbing to me," George said, "is whether we are moving with any real conviction to take the initiative, rather than just acquiescing."

"There seems to me to be a lack of enthusiasm and a lack of positive attitude on our part toward a top level conference which, if we take the strong initiative, might do some good."

"We must recognize all the possibilities of failure in any such conference, but we should have a positive, not a defeatist attitude toward it. If we are going to accomplish anything in the world, we have to have such a positive attitude, and I'm afraid we don't have it now."

Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday that if the Big Four foreign ministers agree a top level conference would be "useful" he is willing to go. He made it clear he would expect no decisions but only a definition of lines along which the foreign ministers subsequently might seek detailed agreements.

Bulganin will not necessarily take the same attitude. The record of wartime conferences indicates the Russians go to such meetings to get something concrete.

While the President tries to maneuver the session toward some future peace settlements, Bulganin may be after something quite different and more immediate with the wily Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov at his elbow.

Experts here believe that just as Eisenhower may urge Bulganin to use his influence to get a ceasefire in the Formosa area, Bulganin may press Eisenhower to reconsider plans for the arming of West Germany.

In their new disarmament program, the Russians suggested various steps they said could be taken through the United Nations. They may quite as readily try to promote them in four power talks.

While there may be some genuine concessions in the disarmament plan, American officials are taking a hard look at these Soviet aims:

1. To get the bulk of Big Four forces withdrawn from Germany. Soviet troops would be pulled back a few hundred miles at the most. Those of the United States would be pulled back to their "national frontiers"—on this side of the Atlantic.
2. The situation inside Germany thereafter would be handled by "strictly limited contingents of local police forces." This suggests that the Russians are trying to substitute "local police forces" for the 500,000-man military force substitute "local police forces" for which West Germany is supposed to contribute to the allied defense of Western Europe.
3. Far East questions would be settled "in conformity with the principles of sovereignty and territorial integrity." As the Communists would read that, it undoubtedly means Formosa should be given to Red China.
4. All trade discriminations should be eliminated—a point aimed at knocking down the embargoes which sharply limit trade to Red China.
5. The United States would give up the military bases, it has developed over a decade in the Far East and Europe to create a barrier against expanding Soviet and Red Chinese power.

The United States has some care of its own to play if necessary, apart from Eisenhower's general concern with trying to nail down procedures for peace. Among these is a demand for greater freedom for the Soviet satellite peoples in Eastern Europe.

major oil companies will map out routes to any place in the United States. These routes are printed in booklet form, and mailed to the individuals requesting them.

Dealers here state that the tour-aid is free of charge when forms are received from the service stations. However, some companies charge a small fee if the individual writes to them without enclosing one of the service station forms.

One oil company distributor here stated that his firm also puts out a fish guide, which like the tour-aid maps is mailed to individuals requesting copies.

Some of the maps given away here are known as "sectional guides." Instead of one state, the maps contain several. Some are of the Southwest, others of the Southeast, and so on.

A large percentage of maps also contain the entire United States on one side and the particular state on another.

Big Spring has upwards of 70 service stations, which means that an average of 50 road maps were distributed last month through each. Of course, some gave out more and others less.

Operators here estimate that the road map "traffic" nearly doubled during the past month. This means that the average during non-vacation periods is about 25 maps per month.

Some dealers say they at times have gone a month without giving away a road map, but most claim there is a fairly steady map demand. They point out that Big Spring has a good amount of tourist traffic throughout the year, as Highways 80 and 87 cross here.

'MILD RUSH' ON

Vacation Season Ups Map Demands

The demand for road maps has increased considerably with the coming of the vacation season, local service station operators report.

People have been requesting the maps all year round, but operators point out that there has been a mild rush during the past few weeks from individuals planning summer trips.

It is estimated that around 5000 road maps were distributed in Big Spring during the past month.

Most popular, map by far is Texas. Most service station dealers here say that more than 50 per cent of the maps they give away are of the Lone Star State.

A number of people here are apparently planning to take jaunts into western states, as a number of maps being requested are of New Mexico and Arizona. In fact, dealers say these two states are next in popularity to Texas.

Quite a few people have also requested maps of states far removed from Texas. Usually these individuals are referred to the tour-aid department of the company.

Reason for this is that most maps handled in local stations are of Texas and surrounding states such as Arkansas, Louisiana, and Oklahoma and New Mexico.

The tour-aid departments of the

The order was issued in Circuit Court here after the State Supreme Court refused to rehear his appeal.

Lomax HD Club Hears Talk On Styles, Ages

"Patterns are not restricted to age groups," Elizabeth Pace told members of the Lomax Home Demonstration Club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Doris Bissard. Miss Pace, county agent, spoke to the women on "Styles for Different Types and Ages."

Members were told that colors, fabrics, fullness and gatherings should be considered by varying ages, but patterns can be adapted. Small hats are more practical, but large brims are usually more flattering.

Bags and gloves are similar in their use according to the proportions of the wearer. A larger woman may carry a large "tote" and wear longer gloves, while the short plump woman should use smaller purses and shorter gloves. Shoes should be chosen for their support; the speaker told the group, but it is also in shoes that a person's individuality may be expressed.

It was announced that Mrs. Waymon Etchison will represent the Lomax Club at the Woman of the Year Tea to be held Sunday at the Student's Union Building at Howard County Junior College. Calling hours are from 3 to 5 p.m., and at this time the Woman of the Year will be announced. All women of the community are invited to attend the tea.

Another invitation was issued to the women of the community in the announcement of the tea and book review to be held at 2 p.m. May 23 in the home of Mrs. Paul Blusterman. Mrs. Jack Clements will review "A Man Called Peter" by Catharine Marshall.

During Tuesday's meeting, members answered roll call with "A Hat I Remember." The hostess gave the devotion, and in connection, Miss Pace read a poem. Mrs. Etchison led the recreation period with a quiz on "The Oddest." Refreshments were served to 11.

Styles are for a casual and comfortable living, according to the speaker, and she pointed out that casualness is also the main point in selecting clothes and accessories. She brought out the importance of the new silhouettes and the new season's colors.

Announcement was made of the May 25 meeting which will be held at the Elbow school with Mrs. Ross Hill as hostess. A book review will be given but, as yet, this reviewer has not been announced.

News From Webb Air Force Base
By BILL SEILER

POOL OPENING CHANGED

Opening of the base swimming pool, originally scheduled for May 1, will be Sunday, pending completion of a bathhouse and the repainting of the interior of the pool, according to Lt. John C. Kenahan, Personnel Services officer.

ARMED FORCES DAY PLANS

Planning is now nearing the final stages, and officers and airmen at Webb are preparing to give a solid welcome to thousands of visitors to the base from this West Texas area on Armed Forces Day, Saturday May 21.

Keynoting the program will be the Honorable Al Muldrow, Secretary of the State of Texas, who will fly from Austin on the morning of the program to deliver a brief address at the wing review that will open the day's activities on the flight line at 10 a.m.

Open house will be declared base-wide by the Wing Commander, Col. C. M. Young, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Armed Forces Day. Following the wing review there will be continuous guided tours, conducting civilian visitors through all sections and activities of the Base that have special interest.

An extensive show on the flight line, beginning at noon, will include a fire-fighting demonstration, a JATO (jet assist take-off), a T-33 engine change, a skit of a subsonic flight between Lubbock, Lamesa and Big Spring, a helicopter flight, a cargo drop, and a demonstration of equipment by other services, such as tank and artillery maneuvers. Formation arrivals and departures of jet aircraft will be continuous throughout the show.

Static displays of all types of aircraft available will be set up on the ramp for public inspection. According to Maj. Robert G. Woods, project officer, these will include many Navy and Marine models, as well as aircraft from other commands of the Air Force.

CHANGE SERGEANT MAJORS

Webb's top airman job, that of wing sergeant major, changed hands this week, with M-Sgt. Vincent G. Best taking over from M-Sgt. C. M. Russell.

WIVES' TOUR

Wing Operations has announced that a tour of the base for all airmen's wives has been scheduled for May 26, starting at 9 a.m. and winding up about 2:30 p.m.

Following coffee at the NCO Club, the wives will board buses at 9:30 a.m. They will be escorted on their tour of the base by guides, who will explain the various work sections and how they are operated; also, show each fits into the overall base mission.

BAND ATTENDS ACADEMY

The first airmen to attend the Base's NCO Academy not holding noncommissioned officer rank were members of the 509th AF Band, who attended the one-week course as a group. Class SS-18 was graduated last Saturday morning.

ACTIVITIES RESCHEDULED

Most Base recreational facilities will either be closed early or rescheduled between May 15-19 so as not to compete with the Protestant Preaching Mission being held by the Rev. George Claude Baker in the Big Chapel on those dates.

The new schedules for the activities during those four days is as follows: Service Club, hobby shops, gymnasium, swimming pool, and library will close at 6 p.m. Softball will be played at 5:30 instead of the regular hours of 5:30 and 7:30. The bowling alley will not be open.

The base theater will only be affected during one showing. The regular 5:30 performance will go on as usual, but the second showing will begin at 9 p.m. instead of 7:30.

CREDIT UNION GROWING

Webb Federal Credit Union is growing by leaps and bounds, reports J. Edouette Miller, president of the board of directors. The credit committee has already approved 18 loan applications and is expected to approve several more in the near future.

At the same time, deposits in the credit union have been increasing steadily. This can largely be attributed to the appointment of collectors in the Hospital, Field Maintenance and Installations on civilian paydays.

Mrs. Virginia L. Gromer will be the collector at the hospital every civilian and military payday. Mrs. Betty K. Gibson will be at Installations and Mrs. Eoster Shirley at Field Maintenance.

Starting with pay call next Monday morning, other credit union members will be at the various squadrons to accept membership applications and deposits, and to explain the workings and advantages of credit union membership.

4 Small Boys

Burn To Death

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Four small boys were burned to death last night by a fire that swept through their second-story garage apartment, police reported.

Investigators said they believed the blaze was started by a candle. The small apartment had been without electricity for two months because of the family's shortage of funds.

The boys' 10-year-old half-sister Margie Davenport, who had been caring for the children while the parents attended a movie, was seriously burned on the hands. She was rescued from the apartment by a neighbor, Wilbur Hamilton, 22, who climbed a tree and kicked out a window. Efforts to rescue the boys failed.

The four, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Franklin, were identified as Leroy Jr., 4, Billy Ray, 3, Lewis Lee, 2, and Michael, 4 months. The half-sister sobbed to the grief-stricken parents that she had lit a candle to find a diaper for the baby. She said the flame brushed some rags but she poured glasses of water on the burn and thought it was out. She said she was awakened a short time later by the baby's screams and found the apartment filled with smoke and flames.

The father, a 32-year-old car washer, told a reporter: "We haven't had much money. That's why they cut off our lights. We never go anywhere and tonight for the first time in months I decided to take my wife to the movie."

Film Career To Play 2nd Fiddle

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Joan Crawford says she will retire from the films if it interferes with her marriage.

She and soft-drink tycoon Alfred Steele, who were wed Tuesday in a Las Vegas elopement, allied up a double-tiered cake yesterday at her first Hollywood press conference since the surprise event.

"Nothing will interfere with my marriage," she told reporters. She nodded toward Steele. "He's the boss."

But Steele quickly added: "If she wants to continue her career, she certainly can." He said Miss Crawford's career will not end "if she's happy with it."

Miss Crawford, 47, a film actress for 30 years, met the press on a set of her latest picture. She said she and Steele will sail from New York May 26 for a European honeymoon, but that she must be back here to start a new film July 1.

Our Crops Have Sporting Chance

Crop and range prospects are considerably brighter in this vicinity than they were a week ago, thanks to showers this week. Although the rain picture is still somewhat spotted, most of the territory has received sufficient moisture to risk a planting. This provides a "sporting" chance at a crop, and this country this is more important than one might think at first glance.

Most of Dawson County has enough moisture to get a crop up to a good stand. Practically all of the north half of Howard County and most of Mitchell County can be assured of reasonably good stands, barring any high winds or dashing rains while cotton plants are still tender. Scurry County generally is in good condition for getting a crop started.

Soviets Face Potent Combination

It has become pretty obvious that a top-level meeting of the Big Four — U. S., Great Britain, France and the Soviet Union — is in the cards for some time this summer. Long rumored, the matter took concrete form in Paris this week when the Western Big Three foreign ministers, with the backing of the entire NATO set-up, were reported to have invited Russia to such a meeting on European problems.

best in these top-level confabs almost without exception, there are substantial reasons why a conference with the Russians on European problems this summer might yield better results. With West Germany now sovereign and a full member of NATO, the West's bargaining position has been greatly improved. The West European Union, of which West Germany and Italy are now members, has become a reality for the first time. Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey have a union of their own, and through cross-alliances with members of NATO, are bound to the West.

How's It Shaping Up?

Russian Proposals Are Disarming

WASHINGTON (AP) — You can drive a truck through the hole of two big ones in the latest Russian disarmament proposal.

1. This country has established a ring of military bases around Russia with the permission of friendly countries. From those bases American planes could make instant retaliation on the Russians if they began an attack.

As part of its disarmament plan, Russia wants the United States to give up those bases. This is something Congress would never let the President agree to unless this country could be sure Russia was not able to begin a world war.

2. This country has insisted that for real disarmament—and real disarmament means destroying all atomic weapons all over the world—there would have to be inspections in each country to be sure no atomic weapons were being concealed or made.

But in their disarmament proposals the Russians, while suggesting that atomic weapons be outlawed, saw value to the point of incoherence when explaining how these international inspection teams could check thoroughly enough to be sure there was not, and could not be, any cheating.

For those two reasons the Russian proposal will probably get no place although this country will give them attention. This country has to give them attention.

The Russians made good proposals for themselves. Their disarmament offer no doubt looks pretty good to American allies who live closer to Russia, and a possible atomic war.

But the very proposals raise a question: Why did the Russians make them at this particular time? American officials here don't pretend to know. All they can do is whine anyone else can do guess.

The big Western powers—the United States, Britain, France—got some world good will this week by proposing Russia sit down with them in peace talks. The Russians haven't yet accepted, but seem likely to.

In the meantime, they came out with their disarmament offer, perhaps in an effort to offset the good reaction the Allies got from their peace-talk offer.

It is always possible the Russians have good intentions. But they'll have to do some proving on that point. The inclination in this country is to look for a gimmick.

Hal Boyle

Faulkner Scorns Success

NEW YORK (AP)—He sat there—the man across the luncheon table, small, dark-eyed, polite talker, with a whip in his hand.

The whip is the one with which he lashes himself and himself for failing to dream as big as people do, and for not attaining the dreams they do have.

Asked when he was most happy in his life, William Faulkner, student of failure and recent Pulitzer prize winner, started off:

"Success comes too easy in this country. There are many ways to make money and they all spell success."

Faulkner may appear to some as the intellectual's Mickey Spillane. But his reverence is for a man like Thomas Wolfe, whom he calls the most magnificent failure of his generation, because "he tried to do more than flesh and blood could do. He tried to reduce the human heart into a paragraph."

We measure greatness by the distance between the dream and the failure. We all fall. None of us match the dream."

Faulkner, who is a small man with obviously fastidious tastes, grew up with physical and literary heroisms, such as Wolfe and Hemingway.

In our generation we were all failures. Myself, Dos Passos, Hemingway, Wolfe. Wolfe was the first failure."

Faulkner, when asked how many books he has written, gives a vague answer. "Somewhere between 18 and 22, probably 20."

When asked how many books he has sold, he says he doesn't know but is going to ask his publisher about those things.

Faulkner is an extremely deliberate craftsman. Among other things, he has delivered, the plot lines for 12 movies. The latest is "Land of the Pharaohs," a Warner Brothers picture.

After winning the Nobel prize for literature, he was given the Pulitzer award this year for his novel, "A Fable." This rather surprised him, since it was published a year before.

Faulkner, one of the most successful writers in America, has an outspoken antipathy for the bare bones of success.

"I was born to be a tramp. I was happiest when I had nothing. I had a trench coat—then with big pockets. It would carry a pair of socks, a condensed Shakespeare and a bottle of whiskey. Then I was happy and I wanted nothing and I had no responsibility."

I asked him what makes people grow old. He said, "Helpless, boredom. It kills them. They die because they don't have enough to do."

Wedding Caps Long Romance

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tom Kilshaw and Polly Shuttlesworth Chappin, whose romance began 53 years ago, are honeymooning today.

They were married in the Hollywood Lutheran Church yesterday and plan to make their home in Los Angeles. They were childhood sweethearts in England but lost track of one another in 1907 when Kilshaw went to Canada.

Last Christmas a friend in the couple's home town of Kendal, Westmoreland, England, sent Kilshaw a card with the address of his onetime sweetheart, who by then was a widow living in Palo Alto, Calif.

The plane carrying the card crashed, and Kilshaw almost didn't get it. But finally it came—water-damaged and battered. Kilshaw went to Palo Alto and soon the romance was on again.

The bridegroom is a livestock auctioneer, and the new Mrs. Kilshaw is a 68.

Around The Rim

All This And Perpetual Motion

Look for an announcement, any day now, out of Moscow that the Russians have "invented" a polio vaccine.

Of course, they'll probably wait until America's Salk vaccine has been proved unquestionably safe and effective. But the Khrushchevs are sure to claim to be the originators of the first polio vaccine. Just like they've claimed credit for nearly every other scientific and technological advance of the last 50 years.

Only last Saturday, the Russians were celebrating the invention of radio. The "inventor," according to them, was a fellow by the name of Alexander Popov. Another fellow, called Marconi, was still messing around with smoke signals when Popov popped up with the radio.

And just so you won't think the Russians are kidding about this origin of radio, which they had 60 years ago, here is a list of other things their people have "invented" in the last few score years: The airplane, it was developed by Mazhalsky in 1875—a quarter of a century before the Wright brothers finally got aloft at Kitty Hawk. Mazhalsky had a steam-driven plane in the air by 1885.

Penicillin. This substance, known in the Western World only a few years, was discovered by V. A. Manassein and A. G. Polotyebnov in the 1870's.

The steam engine. Devised by Ivan Polotyebnov in 1830.

Electric motor. Boris Jacobi activated one in 1830.

Here is some more history, in case you studied imperialistic Yankee books when you went to school: The first oil well was drilled in Sidorov in 1833. Movies were invented in Russia in 1895, with sound and technicolor not far behind.

The origin of fire and the wheel is still a mystery on this side of the Iron Curtain. Perhaps Galvani and his buddies will let us in on where these came from — after the discovery of polio vaccine is announced.

Walter Lippmann

Polio Vaccine And Public Policy

There are those who have had great misgivings ever since April 12 about the dramatic build-up, the theatrical suspense and the spectacular publicity with which the effectiveness of the Salk vaccine was proclaimed. It was more like announcing the results of an election than the results of a scientific inquiry. The whole performance was contrary to the spirit and morale of good science, which is to be very scrupulous about not claiming, or appearing to claim, more than has been proved.

This rule was violated on April 12 not by what Dr. Thomas Francis Jr. actually said in his report but by the way the big show was staged. For while his actual report contained reservations in the fine print, the blazing publicity was bound to convey, as it did convey, the misleading impression that a full solution has been found of the problem of making effective vaccine for the mass immunization of the children of this country. For the public the proof that polio had been conquered was not in what was actually said in the report. It was in the elaboration of the show, the eminence of the actors, the high-powered publicity itself. The public concluded fairly enough that such publicity could mean only that the scientific experimentation had in fact been completed and concluded.

We know now that the responsible authorities, both private and public, had not made sure that they could fulfill the promise which the people believed had been made. The authorities could not know how large would be the available supply of the vaccine at the critical dates. For obviously they had not yet settled definitively, the President made known in his press conference, the question of whether a shorter or a larger test of the manufactured vaccine was necessary. Not having settled that they had not settled the critical problem of passing from the laboratory to mass production in factories. The trouble they have now run into, compelling them to re-check the factory production, proves that they allowed hopes to be raised before they had concluded the period of experimentation.

Yet it is commonplace in the field of applied science that new technical problems are posed when a process is carried from the laboratory into the factory. In his statement on Sunday the Surgeon General said that "a great deal of new information has been developed during the past ten days as the result of continuing consultation between the Public Health Service and its consultants, and between these groups and the senior technicians of industry." Is there any good and plausible reason why these consultations did not take place before the American people were invited to believe that the problems of the vaccine had been solved?

The fact of the matter is that on April 12 the responsible authorities went off half-cooked. The problem of mass production had not been reliably solved, and there was, therefore, no justification for the publicity which created a mass expectation of mass immunization for this polio season.

Hollywood Review

No More Ghost Singing For Carol

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Carol Richards is giving up the ghost from now on. She's going to sing only for herself.

The red-haired lovely from Rockford, Ill., has earned a nice living by acting as the voice dupe for film stars.

Does it come as a shock to learn that when Cyd Charisse opens her mouth to warble on the screen, it ain't really Cyd that comes out? It's Carol.

And when Vera-Ellen belts into song in a movie, you're not hearing Vera-Ellen. That's Carol again.

Hollywood, you see, leaves nothing to chance. If a screen beauty does not have a singing voice that will fill the movie goer's, she is provided with one. Sometimes this use of ersatz talent can be carried to extremes.

unov so long ago that even the Russians have forgotten the date.

The electric light, Ladygin, another great and late Russian, invented this in 1832.

Lightning rod. Lomonosov patented the original in Russia in 1752.

Diesel engine. Named after a German Rudolf Diesel, it was invented by a Russian, Tovarish Grinetsky.

Caterpillar tractor. The first crawler was the brainchild of the great thinker, Ilinov. Also a Russian.

Telegraph. Schilling, who sounds like a German but who really was another great Russian, invented it way back in 1832.

Telephone. The inventor isn't known but the instrument was in use in Moscow when Alexander Graham Bell was just a boy.

Electric motor. Boris Jacobi activated one in 1830.

Here is some more history, in case you studied imperialistic Yankee books when you went to school: The first oil well was drilled in Sidorov in 1833. Movies were invented in Russia in 1895, with sound and technicolor not far behind.

The origin of fire and the wheel is still a mystery on this side of the Iron Curtain. Perhaps Galvani and his buddies will let us in on where these came from — after the discovery of polio vaccine is announced.

The real situation called for at least one more season devoted to an enlarged and fully controlled experiment. It was a case where the way to make genuine progress — and to avoid lacerating the feelings of the parents of small children throughout the land — was to adhere to the strictest standards of scientific caution. The tests made last year did indeed show very promising results. But the only practical conclusion to be drawn from tests on a bigger scale were warranted for this year. This would have meant passing to laboratory standards before passing to the looser standards of mass production.

Quite apart from the question of whether the Federal government should have asked specific legislation in regard to polio vaccine — and in view of the short supply it should have — the Federal government had a general public duty to protect the people against being misled on a burning question of public health. The consultations it has been holding in the past ten days should have been going on for months — ever since the decision was taken to manufacture the vaccine on a large scale.

I do not know why the Federal government did not assume the direction of this great public health operation as soon as enough was known about last year's tests to start the vaccine. But it would seem as if the inaction of the Federal government was due in some considerable degree to theoretical misconceptions — to unexamined and false notions of the general principles of free enterprise, voluntary cooperation and decentralization — and to the strange prejudice that the only way the Federal government can assume direction and control of anything is to build up a vast bureaucracy.

The principles of free enterprise and voluntary cooperation are beneficent and widely applicable. They are the rule in our society and a departure from them should be regarded as an exception from the rule. But not all public principles in this workaday world can be applicable at all times and under all circumstances. They are beneficent and are workable only if we apply them with good sense — only if we apply them when conditions make them applicable, and do not apply them when conditions do not make them applicable. As politics is a crude art, and not a mathematical science, there are many border-line cases where it is a close question whether to rely upon free competition and voluntary cooperation or to assume central government direction and control.

But the case of the Salk vaccine was not a borderline question. The vaccine was bound to be in short supply at least for this season; its proper use touched the vital interests of the families of the nation. There should, therefore, have been no more doubt here than there has been in Canada that the public authorities were in control.

Reds Offer 6 Bodies As Proof Of Truce Violation

PANMUNJOM, Korea (U.S.)—The Communists today offered the bodies of six Asian soldiers and said they were evidence of an armistice violation by an Allied patrol. The United Nations refused to accept the bodies. U.N. officials accused the Communists of "manufacturing the evidence." They said the Korean Reds were trying to prove an armistice violation that never occurred. The Communists said the six men were killed last week when a patrol tried to cross into North Korea. A U.N. official said the bodies were so mutilated it was impossible to determine whether they were Korean or Chinese. The U.N. also refused to accept a Korean, produced by the Communists, who said he was the only surviving member of the patrol and had been captured by the Reds. The U.N. denied a Communist charge that the patrol had been sent into Red territory on a spy mission. It refused to "accept either the bodies or the 'captured' Korean because there is no proof whatsoever that they were United Nations personnel."

The Communists offered to turn over the bodies and the "captive" at an investigation conducted in the demilitarized zone by U.N. and Red members of a joint observer team of the Military Armistice Commission. The Communists accused the U.N. of violating the armistice by sending a patrol of South Koreans into Red territory. The Reds said the six men were killed and one captured May 7 when the "intruders" were ambushed by a Communist patrol, which hurled grenades into its center. The Communists also displayed U.S. carbines, pistols and grenades which they said had been found on the slain patrol. Sermons 'Feeble' NEWBURGH, N.Y. More Ferry Victims Found TAKAMATSU, Japan (U.S.)—Divers brought up dozens of bodies—most of them of schoolchildren—from the cold waters of the inland sea today to raise to 133 the number of corpses recovered from Tuesday's fog-shrouded ferry collision. Still missing are 24 persons. A total of 775 were rescued, including 51 injured. Long lines of weeping parents and relatives milled through the incense-choked halls of a temporary morgue here, attempting to identify the young victims who carried no identity papers. They died when the Shin Maru sank Tuesday five minutes after it was hit by a second ferry. At Tokyo, Sonosuke Nagasaki resigned as president of the National Railway Corp. which operated the ferry. Following Japanese tradition, he took responsibility for the disaster.

Big Dope Haul

CAIRO (U.S.)—The Egyptian Frontier Corps today reported the seizure of an estimated three million dollars worth—2½ tons—of hashish and opium from a desert caravan east of Suez. An official of the corps said it was the Egyptian government's biggest dope haul of the century.

Bomb Explodes

HAVANA, Cuba (U.S.)—A bomb exploded in downtown Havana early today, damaging a house. No one was reported injured.

Diem Requests French Take Frontier Post

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (U.S.)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem is asking France to withdraw its army in South Viet Nam to the 17th Parallel or pull completely out of the turbulent country, a government spokesman said today. The spokesman said Diem had instructed his brother, roving ambassador Ngo Dinh Luyen, to present the request to the French in Paris. The 17th Parallel separates South Viet Nam and Communist-ruled North Viet Nam. The French Expeditionary Corps, numbering between 70,000 and 80,000, now is based chiefly in the Saigon area, at Tourane in central Viet Nam, and at Cap St. Jacques, on the coast southeast of the capital. Prospects of any immediate French compliance with such a request appeared slim. The bulk of Viet Nam's French population and of France's holdings are concentrated in the areas where the French troops are based. Earlier today in Paris U.S. Secretary of State Dulles and French Premier Edgar Faure were reported to have agreed to give Diem united backing after weeks of French opposition to the nationalist Premier. Faure reportedly agreed to speed up the evacuation of the expatriate population of the expeditionary corps, while the United States in turn would pressure the Vietnamese Premier to stop what the French consider a propaganda campaign against them. The spokesman for Diem asserted that as long as the French troops remain in Saigon and other South Viet Nam centers, it will be a source of friction and an object of nationalist resentment. He added that since the French role in South Viet Nam officially is to insure the South against encroachment from the Communist Vietminh in North Viet Nam, the best means of accomplishing this would be to station the French corps at the 17th Parallel.

French Leave Last Outpost

DOSON PENINSULA, North Viet Nam (U.S.)—The French were shifting the remainder of their North Indochina garrison to this evacuation peninsula today. Nearby Haiphong port was placed under a rigid curfew as the Communist Viet Minh prepared to take over the last French foothold in North Viet Nam. French military authorities instructed Haiphong's 236,000 inhabitants to stay indoors for 24 hours beginning at 8 p.m. to prevent any trouble as the big port changed hands to Ho Chi Minh's forces. Gen. Rene Cosny's headquarters threatened swift punishment to anyone fomenting disorder in the crucial period before Monday, May 16—the date the French must leave North Indochina under the Geneva armistice agreement of last July. A spokesman for Cosny said all French troops would be southward bound by Monday. Then the Vietminh will occupy the Do Son Peninsula. Cosny placed farewell wreaths in French Union cemeteries in the Haiphong area yesterday, then left for his Do Son headquarters. A Vietminh advance guard took over administration of the big port.

Judge Scores Brainwashing By N.Y. Police

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal court has ordered a new trial for a state prison lifer, saying New York City police committed "psychological brutality" in extracting a confession from him in a murder case.

Santo Camanito, 41, behind bars since 1942, was convicted with two other men in Brooklyn on the hold-up-murder of a Coney Island merchant. All three received life terms.

Camanito testified at his trial that the police coerced a confession from him.

The U. S. Court of Appeals granted him a writ of habeas corpus yesterday on the ground that he had been "unconstitutionally victimized by officials."

The court's opinion, written by Judge Jerome N. Frank, said: "The police interrogated Camanito almost continuously for 27 hours with but a brief interval for rest in a cell so badly equipped as to make sleep virtually impossible for a man harried by the questioning."

"During this long period the police kept him incommunicado, refusing to allow his lawyer, his family and his friends to consult with him."

The appeals court said detectives posed as eyewitnesses to accuse Camanito as a murderer.

"The confessions obtained by these loathsome means were no more evidence than if they had been forged," Frank's opinion continued.

Frank also wrote: "It has no significance that in this case we must assume there was no physical brutality, for psychological torture may be far more cruel, far more symptomatic of sadism. Many a man who can endure beatings would yield to fatigue."

2 Senators Join In Asking Arbitration Of Phone Strike

ATLANTA (AP)—Two U.S. senators have joined union leaders in calling on the Southern Bell Telephone Co. to agree to arbitration in its dispute with striking workers.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) told the Senate yesterday that he sent identical messages to the company and to the CIO Communications Workers of America, urging arbitration.

He said President J. A. Beirne of the CWA replied that the union would agree to submit unsettled issues to impartial arbitrators recommended by the federal mediation service.

Kefauver added that he had not heard from the telephone company but hoped to have word soon.

Sen. Long (D-La.) supported Kefauver's stand.

"This strike has gone on too long," Long told the Senate. "It should be and could be settled." If the company "would negotiate in good faith, the strike would have been settled," he said.

Last night petitions were circulated by the CWA at Chattanooga to ask Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee to urge Southern Bell to submit to arbitration.

President Eisenhower also suggested at his press conference yesterday that the telephone strike issues be submitted to arbitration.

Union leaders have made repeated calls for "arbitration" but Southern Bell turned them down with the statement that it was a "calculated attempt to gain from an arbiter what the union had not been able to justify through collective bargaining."

Strike violence broke out twice yesterday at Pensacola. Elmer Cecil Bragg, a striking telephone worker, was shot and wounded during a disturbance in front of the telephone exchange.

A few hours later, Angus Arant, a nonstriking telephone employe, was beaten by three men in front of a residence to which he had been sent to remove a phone.

Neither was seriously injured.

The company contends the main issue in the strike is the union's refusal to agree to a no-strike clause in a new contract. The union claims that is a minor issue and that the main points in dispute are wages, working conditions and an agreement for full arbitration.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Violins as pictured two centuries ago.

whatnot. My own favorites are the piano and the violin.

If I had to choose between those two, I would be puzzled. Some of the most piping music I have heard has come from the piano. The violin, however, gives sweet music which seems beyond comparison. When played by a master like Fritz Kreisler, this instrument seems to "speak."

Work has been done to learn the history of the violin, but the early story is lost in large part. In regard to the origin, we hardly can do more than guess.

A violin is a sound box with strings stretched lengthwise over the upper part; it is played with a bow.

That is a sketchy way of describing the instrument. To be more exact, let me say that the violin is the treble member of the violi group. Above the box, at the center, is an upright piece called the bridge, and the strings are stretched tightly over this. At either side of the bridge is a sound hole, an opening to let sound waves pass in and out.

The first stringed instrument may have been a large, open shell with strings across the open side. In such a case, the shell may have acted as a sound box.

It also is possible that a gourd was cut open, and strings were stretched over the opening. Such a gourd can increase the volume of sound when a string is plucked or played with a bow.

The original bow probably was of the kind used to shoot arrows. Pictures of the past suggest that this was the case. At present a violin bow is made with many long hairs stretched from end to end. It is common for the hairs in a bow to number from 100 to 150.

Tomorrow: Violins and Cellos.

AEC Postpones New Test Shot

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—The Atomic Energy Commission today again postponed its final nuclear blast of the 1955 series in Nevada shortly before the shot was to go at 5 a.m.

After a final weather briefing the AEC announced that "unfavorable wind conditions" caused the second postponement. The atomic shot originally had been scheduled for yesterday morning but a shift in the wind prevented it.

Graduation Day Coming

Honor Students at Colorado City High School are looking forward with other students to graduation day. Carolyn Billberry, salutatorian, points to the magic date on the calendar as she and valedictorian Marcia Schmidt make plans for the end of their senior year.

Honor Students Announced For C-City High School

COLORADO CITY — A scant half grade point separated four Colorado High school seniors as school officials averaged grades to determine honor students. Marcia Schmidt, 17, took valedictory honors with an average of 96.7; Carolyn Billberry's average of 96.5 was second and both were followed closely by Don Forrester with 96.4 and Sue Moore with 96.2.

Other honor students were Gayle Ainsworth, Bobby Waiding, Faye Edwards, Danna Elliott, J. B. Padgett and Ila Ruth Rogers. Miss Schmidt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell K. Schmidt of Colorado City and is president of Quill and Scroll and Jet Maskers. She was chosen for Bluebonnet Girl's State in 1954, was voted "Most Likely to Succeed" and is co-editor of the Lone Wolf Annual. She plans to attend NTSC in Denton and will major in Medical Technology. Miss Billberry, salutatorian, is also 17, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Billberry of Colorado City. She is president of the Wolverines, reporter for the Commercial Club, and co-editor of the Howl. She was voted "Cleverest Girl" this year, and won a regional 1st in Journalism and a first in feature writing in state competition. She will attend Oklahoma University and plans to study journalism and business.

You'd better get out your lucky talisman for tomorrow.

A glance at the calendar will tell you that tomorrow is Friday the 13th, the unluckiest day of the year. Whatever your luck-piece happens to be — whether a four leaf clover, a rabbit's foot, or a lucky penny — hang on to it tight tomorrow.

Friday the 13th owes its unlucky reputation to a combination of historic events. The crucifixion of Jesus occurred on Friday and the day has ever since been recognized as a "bad-luck" day. Later in history, Friday became the day that criminals were usually put to death. As a result, Friday became known as "hangman's day."

The Mohammedans believe that many biblical events occurred on Friday. For instance, they believe that Adam was created, entered Paradise, was expelled, repented, and died, all on Fridays. For the Moslems, Friday is the "Sabbath" day.

The number 13 received its "bad reputation" from the fact that Jesus sat with his 12 disciples immediately before his arrest and crucifixion. For this reason, many persons will not sit down at table where 12 are already seated.

At any rate, the number 13 and the day Friday are considered by many to be terrible enough in themselves, but combine the two together and . . . watch out!

There are many, many ways of incurring bad luck and the watchful should take special care on Friday the 13th.

For instance, when you wake up Friday morning, take your first step with your right foot. It is considered very bad luck to take that first step with your left.

Once up, be careful not to sing before breakfast. "Sing before breakfast; weep before supper," the saying goes.

Above all, do not whistle indoors and get all your sweeping done before sundown. Both of these acts will bring a halo of bad luck. Be careful to enter and leave all dwellings by the same door, and having once left, do not, under any circumstances, look back.

Or if you are leaving on a trip, don't go back for something you forgot. This will practically guarantee that the trip will be a failure. Turning a picture face to the wall is almost sure to bring bad luck and if the picture falls, the person is doomed to die. By all means, nail all pictures tightly to the wall before tomorrow.

And there is a host of other ways you can incur bad luck during the day. For instance, stepping over a broom, rocking an empty chair, counting funeral cars, spilling salt, breaking a mirror, bringing a hoe into the house, walking under a ladder, or letting a black cat cross your path, are all dangerous events for any day; Friday the 13th doubles the danger.

But there are safety measures you may take to help out against these calamities. Carry an amulet or good-luck charm. A rabbit's foot is an excellent charm to ward off the bad luck that can happen to the unwary. A penny with a "leap year date" on it is also considered a wonderful good-luck charm.

Probably one of the oldest methods of warding off bad luck is the four leaf clover. The clover with one leaf brings fame, two leaves adds riches, three leaves and happiness, and four leaves includes freedom from illness. Combine them all in one four leaf clover and you have all the wants of mankind, safe in hand.

The origin of present day jewelry began with amulets to ward off the evils of bad luck. Rings, necklaces, and bracelets first were used as charms and only later assumed the place of decoration. However, one more superstition was originated from this early beginning.

It is considered bad-luck to remove a ring from someone's finger even today. This began when rings were used to hold an amulet or charm against bad-luck. Thus to remove a ring was to take from a person his charm against bad-luck. Apparently, some persons still think this is true.

Even persons who are not superstitious will say, "no use taking chances." Who knows? Just to be on the safe side, watch your step tomorrow. After all, discretion is supposed to be the better part of valor.

Just 3 glasses of milk a day-help you live better five ways!

- 1 PROTECTS YOU WITH "ARMORED CALORIES." There is a difference in calories. "Naked" calories—found in sweet, starchy foods—supply only body fuel. With "armored" calories you get proteins, vitamins and calcium in addition to body-fuel or energy. Milk contains more highly "armored" calories than any other food—makes you feel better, more energetic.
- 2 PREVENTS LOSS OF PEP WHEN DIETING. Milk is your best source of digestible, low-cost protein, vitamins and calcium which you need for vitality and a sense of well-being. Milk builds strength, not fat. High protein reducing diets built around milk are comfortable and safe . . . help you feel better, live better.
- 3 KEEPS YOU FEELING YOUNG. Calcium starvation makes you feel old before your time. Most Americans suffer from this dietary lack. Without calcium, you tend to become nervous and irritable, to have poor teeth and bones. Milk is the only practical source of calcium. Drink at least three glasses every day to get the calcium you need to keep feeling young, vital and strong.
- 4 EASES NERVOUS TENSION. Tests on nervous children and adults prove that drinking three glasses of milk every day helps reduce fatigue and strain. Milk is good for you, and refreshing. It contains no stimulants that may increase your nervousness. Instead, it regulates the heart and nervous system to tone the muscles.
- 5 MAKES YOU SLEEP BETTER. Scientific tests definitely show that a glass of milk before bedtime relaxes you, makes sleep come more quickly, helps you sleep soundly all night through. Milk relaxes the blood vessels, aids circulation, eases the hunger pangs that sometimes cause wakefulness. If you like milk warm, that's even more relaxing.

Bountiful Supply Of Livestock Feed

By OVID A. MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Early crop prospects point to possible bountiful production of feed for livestock and poultry but to a below average harvest of food grains for humans. An Agriculture Department crop report yesterday indicated production of wheat may fall short of demands. Contributing factors are federal planting controls and drought.

But a surplus from past crops will fill the gap and still leave a lot in hands of the government. The report said excellent growing conditions exist in the main livestock feed grain producing areas. A large hay crop was in the making.

The peach crop in southern states, where 10 million bushels were harvested last year, was almost completely wiped out by spring freezes.

The 1954-55 season orange crop is expected to total 5 per cent more than in the previous season, with supplies to be harvested after May 1 being about one-fourth larger than last year.

The winter wheat crop was forecast at 653 million bushels compared with 791 million last year and with a 867-million-bushel average for the last 10 years.

Prince Will Get Public Schooling

LONDON (AP)—British newspapers today cheered Queen Elizabeth's announcement that 6-year-old Prince Charles will mingle with other children at school instead of being royally tutored at home. The monarch asked newspapers to spare her son from too much publicity as a schoolboy.

"We applaud this decision," said the London Daily Mirror. "We applaud this sensible outlook on the role of a prince—and a king-to-be—in this day and age."

Disclosing the new plans for Charles, Elizabeth's press secretary wrote British newspapers yesterday that Her Majesty and the Duke of Edinburgh have decided that their son has reached the stage when he should take part in more grown-up pursuits with other children.

"In consequence, a certain amount of the Duke of Cornwall's instructions will take place outside his home. For example, he will attend classes and will visit museums and other places of interest. The Queen trusts, therefore, that His Royal Highness will be able to enjoy this in the same way as other children can, without the embarrassment of constant publicity."

The announcement gave no hint of where he might go to school.

She Changes Mind

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Liberace's mother Mrs. Frances Casadonte, 62, has withdrawn a court petition to change her surname to that of her piano-playing son. She divorced the pianist's father Samuel Liberace in 1941 and married Alexander Casadonte two years later. He died in 1945. Two months ago Samuel Liberace, of Madison, Wis., informed the court he intended to oppose his ex-wife's petition.

Washington Book Brings $25,000

NEW YORK (AP)—A journal of George Washington, one of America's rarest books, brought $25,000 at auction last night. It will go on display at colonial Williamsburg, Va. Mrs. John D. Rockefeller Jr. provided the money, published at Williamsburg in 1754. The colonial capital was restored largely with Rockefeller family funds as a public museum of Americana.

The book, written by Washington at the age of 21 while he was a major in the British Army, brought spirited bidding at the Parke-Bernet Galleries. Only seven other copies of the first edition of the book are known to exist.

In it, Washington reported on his expedition to the Ohio wilderness to investigate French encroachments there. It alerted the infant colony to the danger to its interests.

Son Shot Down MIG

Ex-Slave In Good Shape, Examination At 104 Discloses

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—When Benjamin A. Trimble was 44 he had a physical checkup and the results were so good he waited 60 years for his next one. He didn't exactly think it was necessary. He just wanted to be sure he was in condition—at 104—to fly over Seattle's Boeing airplane Co. plant to "pray down on those men" in the interest of world peace. The Virginia-born ex-slave got approval from Dr. J. Robert Brooke, too. That stout old heart and blood pressure would be the envy of a man half Dad Trimble's age.

The aged Negro took the physical on his 104th birthday yesterday. But before he reported to the doctor, he chopped his day's supply of wood, just as he has done for years. Afterwards, he took a brisk walk and then engaged the neighborhood children in games and footraces.

"That's how I keep young," he said. "That and sassafras tea and putting my faith and trust in the Lord."

Reagan Water Bill By Bristow OK'd By House

AUSTIN (AP)—The Reagan County Water District bill by Rep. Obie Bristow of Big Spring passed the Texas House Tuesday.

It was Bristow's first legislative action after returning from Nevada where he was official representative of the House at recent atom bomb tests.

Bristow accepted one amendment to the bill which makes the water board elective, not appointive as originally planned.

He batted down some other amendments, including one by Rep. Joe Pyle of Fort Worth which would have allowed the water district to issue "only revenue, not tax, bonds."

The bill calls for creation of a countywide water district with taxing powers. It would provide a water supply for Big Lake.

Capt. Rogers Is President Of Class At Police School

Capt. C. L. Rogers of the Big Spring Police Department has been elected president of the eleventh class of the Texas Municipal Police School now being conducted at Texas A&M College.

The class consists of 16 students representing 10 city police departments of Texas. All were selected for ability and are being instructed in advanced law procedures by the Engineering Extension Service.

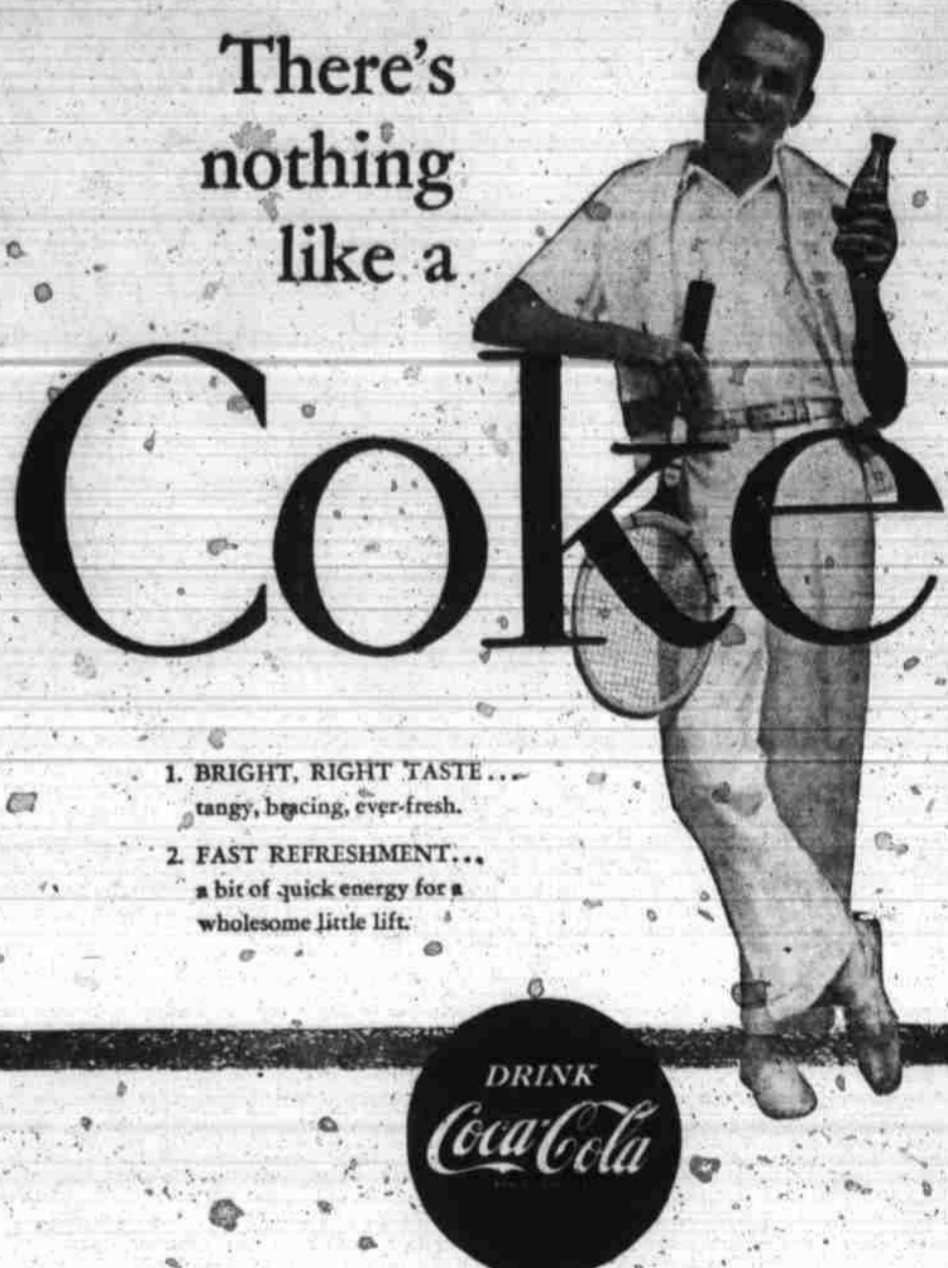

In addition to Capt. Rogers, Big Spring is represented in the class by Patrolman A. N. Standard Jr.

The two men started training in the class at the beginning of the month, and they will be back on duty here on May 28. The city is paying expenses. Others from here who have attended the school are Capt. M. L. Kirby and Detective Jack Shaffer.

Money Comes Home

PERTH AMBOY, N.J. (AP)—When cafe proprietor Melvin Cutler lost a bag containing $745 in business receipts, he didn't even bother to notify police, thinking there wasn't a chance in a million of getting it back. Wesley Moody, a crane operator, found the bag and turned it over yesterday to police, who traced it to Cutler. Cutler said he'd give Moody "a suitable reward."

MRS. C. R. MCLENNY
... She keeps cool while cooking.

A real cool but left-handed cook is Mrs. C. R. McLenny who does all the cooking, sewing, house-keeping and all the other "housewife" chores for the McLenny house.

Being left-handed doesn't mean she goes about her cooking backwards and being real cool isn't "cat talk." She really does it that way. She keeps her oscillating electric fan in the kitchen all summer and she's already set up for hot weather.

Mrs. McLenny sews as a hobby and as a profession. She makes most of her grandsons' shirts out of their "Granddaddy's" worn out shirts. The two little boys are the children of her daughter, Mrs. Gordon Cordsen, and Mr. Cordsen, who live in Fort Collins, Colorado.

The Easter Star, the First Methodist Church and the Planter's Garden Club take up her good cook's time outside of the home. As a hobby she collects demitasse cups.

She has given us two recipes, both especially good for spring and summer meals. They are transparent custard pie (this recipe makes two pies) and jelled-salad-TRANSPARENT CUSTARD PIE

Oven Beef Stew Is Economical And Easy

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Oven beef stew is a prepare-and-forget-about-it dish. Brown the meat in a big iron skillet; and then turn it into a casserole with onions, carrots, peas, liquid and seasonings. Let it bake covered for an hour and a half or two. When you are ready to serve, the stew will be steaming and savory—ready to delight your family.

Put a pan of peeled potatoes into the oven, too, to bake along with the stew. They will be a perfect accompaniment to the meat gravy and look so pretty with their paprika topping.

If you want this to be a complete oven dinner, you can bake a dessert (one that calls for a moderate temperature) along with the stew and potatoes. Then add a salad and a tray of bread or rolls and you'll have a most successful easy-to-do meal.

This stew has wonderful dark brown natural gravy; don't thicken this sauce or you'll spoil it. It is supposed to run all over the dinner plates when you serve it. Some members of our family like to mash the potatoes into the gravy right on their plates; others enjoy dunking chunks of crisp hot French bread into the good juices. Not the most refined way of eating, but mighty good!

You'll notice that the stew recipe calls for a couple of tablespoons of tomato sauce; we mean the kind that comes in 8-ounce cans. But if you don't want to open a whole can in order to get this small amount, or haven't any leftover tomato sauce in your refrigerator, substitute catsup or chili sauce.

Be sure to cut away all fat from the stew meat so you avoid greasy gravy. And be conscientious when you are browning the meat; care here is what helps to give the stew wonderful color and flavor.

1 clove garlic (crushed)

Method:

Cut any fat away from outside of cubes of beef. Melt 3 tablespoons fat in 10-inch skillet; add beef and brown thoroughly on all sides. Put beef, onions, carrots and peas in mixed layers in 2-quart casserole. Stir flour into drippings in skillet over low heat; add water, tomato sauce, vinegar, salt, pepper, thyme, bay leaf, parsley and crushed garlic and bring to a boil; pour over beef and vegetables. Cover and bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven about 1 1/2 hours or until meat is very tender. Serve from casserole. Makes 4 generous servings.

OVEN PEELLED POTATOES

Ingredients:

4 medium-sized potatoes (about 1 1/2 pounds)
2 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine (soft)

Paprika

Method:

Peel potatoes and cut in half crosswise; place close together (but not overlapping) in baking pan. Add water to pan. Cover tightly—aluminum foil may be used—and bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until just about tender and water has evaporated—30 minutes. Uncover, spread potatoes with butter and sprinkle with paprika. Continue baking 15 minutes or until done.

Egg Custard Good Dessert For Spring

AP Newsfeature

In the spring a good cook's fancy is likely to turn to custard desserts. The eggs you need for custards fit into family budgets nicely these days.

If you've eaten Caramel Custard in restaurants and would like to duplicate it at home, here's a pleasant recipe. Along with eggs, sugar, vanilla and salt, you'll need nonfat dry milk for it. But that's good news because this milk is both convenient and thrifty.

CARAMEL CUSTARD

Ingredients:

1/2 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon hot water, 2 cups water, 1/2 cup (one envelope) nonfat dry milk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 eggs (slightly beaten), 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Method:

Brown 1/2 cup sugar in heavy skillet or saucepan over low heat, stirring constantly. Stir in 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 cup nonfat dry milk powder and salt over surface of water. Beat with rotary beater until just blended. Scald over boiling water. Meanwhile, add 2 tablespoons sugar to beaten eggs. Slowly stir egg mixture into scalded milk. Add vanilla. Pour into 6 custard cups. Bake

Chiffon-Type Lemon Pie Is Fresh As Springtime

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A lemon pie that's as fresh as springtime! Want to try it? The pie is delicate, fluffy, of the chiffon type, but the recipe has a new twist. Buttermilk goes into the filling.

Make your pie look pretty! Circle it with green leaves and twists of lemon centered with maraschino cherry. Or try this trick from a friend of ours: garnish the pie filling with some of those jellied candy fruit slices that are widely available. Choose lemon flavor, of course, for this pie. Or roll a few extra graham crackers when you are preparing the crust for the pie, and sprinkle the crumbs over the filling.

And here's a tip to bear in mind when you are preparing the crust. Put your graham-cracker crumb mixture into your pie plate; you'll need a 9-inch pie plate for this dessert. Then set an 8-inch pie plate on top of the crumbs and press them firmly into an even layer on the bottom and sides of the pan.

BUTTERMILK LEMON CHIFFON PIE

Ingredients:

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 eggs (separated)
1 cup buttermilk
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1-3 cup sugar
One 9-inch baked graham-cracker crumb crust

Method:

Mix together the gelatin, 1/2 cup sugar and salt in top of the double boiler. Beat egg yolks and buttermilk until combined; add to gelatin mixture. Cook over boiling water, stirring until gelatin is dissolved and mixture thickens—about 1 minute. Remove from heat; cool. Stir in lemon juice and rind. Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add 1-3 cup sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold into gelatin mixture. Turn into pie shell; chill until firm.

Do You Call It Rarebit Or Rabbit?

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

When you serve smooth and savory cheese sauce over toast or crackers, do you call the dish "Welsh rarebit" or "Welsh rabbit?"

A crusade has been going on for some time to reinstate the use of

Try These Shortcuts

Little things mean a lot when the chief cook and bottle washer is trying to change the pace of menus for the family. Try these little shortcuts, and additions to help pep up the general fare.

Muffin Change: add two-thirds cup of finely cut pistachio nuts to a standard two-cup muffin recipe.

Egg noodles taste extra good when they are sprinkled with bread crumbs that have been fried in butter to a golden-brown. Serve with veal chops or veal cutlets and tomato sauce!

Ever try French-frying green pepper rings to serve with steak or chicken? Just dip the rings in seasoned flour, then in milk and drain slightly; now dip in flour again and cook in hot deep fat until golden brown.

Blend unsweetened grapefruit juice with apricot nectar and chill overnight. Nice as a breakfast starter.

Springtime rhubarb pie benefits from the addition of grated orange rind. Use four cups of the diced rhubarb and a half-teaspoon of the orange rind for a nine-inch pie with a lattice crust.

Father's planning to have his cronies over? Serve hot potato salad surrounded with steaming hot frankfurters and lots of pickles and mustard.

Jigtime supper: Brown two-inch pieces of frankfurters in a little fat; add a can of spaghetti in tomato sauce and heat well. Serve with a tossed green salad and crusty hot French bread.

When you are soaking large dry lima beans before cooking, use 2 1/2 cups soaking water for each cup of the beans.

Like to do fireplace cooking? Dip scallops (fresh or thawed frozen ones) into melted butter or margarine and roll in fine dry bread crumbs that have been mixed with a little paprika. Broil the prepared scallops in a hinged wire broiler over glowing coals. Serve with a tossed green salad and hot biscuits for a delicious supper.

the word "rabbit" for this unctuous offering. Helfmut Ripberger began it when he noted in his utterly delightful little book "Cheese Cookery" (George W. Stewart) that the term "Welsh rabbit" was given in the Oxford Dictionary at the beginning of the 18th century; it was not until some 73 years later that the Oxford dictionary-makers acknowledged the term "Welsh rarebit." That seems to settle that!

There are a couple of schools of thought about the ingredients that should go into Welsh rabbit. One school likes cheddar cheese, beer or ale, salt, cayenne and dry mustard. Another school prefers to thin the cheese with milk or cream and adds paprika and Worcestershire sauce to the salt, cayenne and mustard. Both schools sometimes add an egg.

The recipe we are giving you is far from being a traditional Welsh rabbit, but it tastes good. This rabbit is really a white sauce with cheese added. It is enlivened not only with salt, cayenne and mustard, but also with onion, green pepper and tomato. Because the rabbit has obviously been influenced by the Southwest, you might like to serve it with hot corn sticks instead of the traditional toast.

"Cheese Cookery" quotes an old proverb: "Cheese is gold in the morning, silver at noon and lead at night." But despite this admonition, we think this Southwestern Cheese Rabbit makes a fine light supper dish. After all, we like an assortment of fresh fruit so each person can help himself to his favorites—apples, pears or grapes. It's also pleasant to have a plate of cookies around for munching with second cups of tea or coffee.

No rabbit will be better than the sharp cheese that goes into it. We prefer the natural American cheddar to the processed variety—but that's up to the cook!

SOUTHWESTERN CHEESE RABBIT

Ingredients:

3 tablespoons butter, 1/4 cup chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons finely diced onion, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 2 cups well-drained canned tomatoes, 2 eggs, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard, cayenne, 1/2 pound coarsely grated sharp American cheddar cheese (2 cups).

Method:

Melt butter in top of double boiler; add green pepper and onion and cook over low heat until wilted. Stir in flour well. Add milk, cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until thickened and bubbly. Heat tomatoes; gradually stir into thickened sauce. Beat eggs with mustard and cayenne to taste, until yolks and whites are combined. Gradually stir a little of the hot sauce into the eggs; return this mixture to rest of sauce. Place over simmering (not boiling) water. Add cheese; stir constantly until cheese melts. Make 4 servings.

Preaching Mission Slated At WAFB

Dr. George Claude Baker Jr. will hold a preaching mission at Webb AFB May 15-19. He is the chaplain at Southern Methodist University and professor of homiletics in the school's theology department.

Dr. Baker holds numerous degrees in theology and is author of two books and a collection of sermons. He has been minister of churches at San Antonio, Laredo, San Angelo, and Harlingen. He made a trip around the world in 1947.

Most of the recreational activities at the base have been suspended or rescheduled while Baker is here. Big Spring residents are invited to attend the mission.

On his first day here, Sunday, Dr. Baker will address the servicemen in the base chapel at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. His morning address will be "The Most Wonderful Thing" and the evening preaching will be "Discovery and Witness." Hosts and hostesses for the day will be Col. and Mrs. Charles M. Young and Col. and Mrs. Robert D. Whittington.

Baker will make a radio broadcast each of the following days at 4:45 p.m. on station KTKC. There will also be a personal consultation hour each day from 3-4 p.m. On Monday morning, he will address Sunday school teachers of Webb. The preaching service at 8 p.m. will be entitled, "Followers of the Faith."

Tuesday, the 8 p.m. sermon will be "How to Hold Your Convictions in a crowd." Wednesday will be "Life's Greatest Threat," and Thursday, "Face to Face with Christ."

Dr. G. C. BAKER

Music during the preaching mission will be furnished by the First Presbyterian Church, First Christian Church, Webb Choir, First Baptist Church, and the First Methodist Church.

A wing staff meeting, a commander's meeting, and a meeting with the officers' wives in the Officers' Club also have been planned.

Radio Networks To Battle TV

NEW YORK (AP)—The radio networks, much harder hit than individual radio stations by television's inroads, plan strong measures to try to halt the decline in their fortunes and audiences.

NBC radio, starting June 12, will toss out its entire weekend schedule to inaugurate what it calls a new concept in radio programming. Entitled Monitor, it will be a continuous integrated schedule of news, music, discussion and entertainment from 8 a.m. Saturday to midnight Sunday.

CBS radio is breaking with tradition to keep most of its major shows on the air right through the summer, traditionally the time for lightweight replacements. Bing Crosby, Amos 'n' Andy, Rudy Vallee, Art Linkletter and others will continue this summer.

ABC radio is putting heavy emphasis on frequent newscasts over weekends and revising its sales pitch to sponsors.

Mutual, only one of the nationwide radio chains that never got into TV network operations, has notified affiliated stations of an announcement May 22 of an entirely new approach to radio network service.

Total broadcast time sales for radio in 1934, including both stations and networks, were estimated by Broadcasting-Teletasting Magazine at 453 million dollars, down only 5 per cent from the record high of 477 million dollars in 1933. But national radio networks accounted for only 76 million dollars of the total compared with nearly 33 million in 1933 and nearly 134 million in 1948.

The answer is that individual radio stations are relying less on network programs and sponsors and more on local programs and sponsors. The networks hope to reverse the trend.

City's Health, Sanitation Outlay Is $14,681 For Year

General sanitation and operation of the Health Unit will cost the city only $14,681 this year, according to the 1935-36 budget. This is almost 60 cents per city resident.

Of course this figure does not include garbage collection, which will cost another $87,660, and cleaning streets, which is pegged at $30,213 expense.

It does include the DDT spraying of the city, maintenance of equipment for sanitation, and half the operation cost of the health unit (the other half being borne by the county).

The city's share in the cost of operating the city-county health unit is pegged at $3,895 for the year. This is $1.045 higher than during the past fiscal year, when the budget called for $7,850.

A breakdown of the expenditures for the Health Unit is not given in the city budget, but the money goes toward paying the salaries and expenses of director, sanitarian, assistant sanitarian, health nurse and clerk.

The general sanitation breakdown for the year shows $2,961 in salaries and wages for spraying labor and part time the street superintendent, $1,975 for supplies such as chemicals for spraying and tools; $900 for equipment repairs and rental; and $50 for insurance and advertising.

Advertising helped make the difference

FOLKS USED TO BUY refrigeration in fifty pound pieces. Frozen foods were unheard of... ice cubes an impossibility... and that drip pan under the ice box always seemed to be overflowing. Today, a silent, white-enameled ice man stands in millions of kitchens.

But to mass produce millions of refrigerators, manufacturers must be able to sell them by the millions. Only by advertising can a manufacturer talk to millions of people at one time.

ADVERTISING TELLS the story of new refrigerators... and helps sell them. The more it sells, the more must be made — keeping the production lines and the jobs going. The result: newer, better appliances at prices more people can afford to pay. Advertising helped make the difference — in refrigerators, and in our American way of life.

Rattler Killed
 BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — A rattlesnake with six rattles went out swinging in Bakersfield's downtown traffic. It hasn't been determined how the snake got into the traffic lanes, but he was coiled and striking from time to time at passing cars. Finally, Lewis Kuehnert, a forest ranger, drove his car over the snake's head and killed it.

Improved City Park Due To Be Popular Center This Summer

By CLIFTON LAWHORNE
 Indications are that Big Spring's newly remodeled city park will be a mighty popular spot this summer. Already a number of people are flocking to the park on week-ends, and quite a few have been visiting the area on week days, said Johnny Johansen, park superintendent. Traffic at the park has increased considerably just during the past three weeks, he said, and it is expected to increase even more with the warmer summer months. Peak crowds, of course, will be in July and August. However a big jump will come in the number of people using the park facilities at the end of this month and during early June.

Reason for this, the superintendent pointed out, is the opening of the swimming pool which is scheduled around May 28. The pool will open right after school is out this year. The city has been preparing for the expected crowds, and those using the park this summer will find that the facilities have been greatly improved. Picnic areas have been expanded, tennis courts have been re-topped, equipment has been repaired and painted, and new barbecue pits and pavilions have been constructed. Johansen said that the park is in better shape now than it has ever been during post-war years. Expansion of the picnic areas came this year because too many people had to be turned away last year. Since the tables are secured on a first-come-first-serve basis, they have been at a premium. A number of additional tables have been placed on the north fringe of the park across from the baseball field, and a new pavilion has been constructed there, too. Each table is complemented with a small barbecue pit. The new area will probably relieve the overcrowded picnic situation some, but officials are holding their breath to see if the expansion will be adequate to fill the entire need. The number of large barbecue parties, held during the past few years, has caused the construction of another big barbecue pit, too. It is just north of the west tennis court, where a new pavilion has also been constructed. Two men have already secured permission from the City Commission to operate concession stands in the park, and there will also be a miniature train for the kiddies. Johansen said that vandalism in the park has been at a minimum thus far this summer, though police report that there has been some difficulty with teenagers in the park at night. Twice during as many weeks there have been reports of youths stopping cars and threatening to "whip" drivers. Johansen said that beer parties have been increasing in the park of late, and that it takes about an hour each morning to clean the cans up and place them in proper containers. Apparently people just drop the cans or bottles wherever they happen to be, he said.

Money Is Found, Owner Can Sleep

DETROIT (AP) — The Pawlaks dreamed of a new home in the suburbs. They had saved a down payment of $710. But Mrs. Charles Pawlak lost the money Monday on her way to a bank in downtown Detroit. Mrs. Evelyn Montie found the money in a small cloth purse on a sidewalk. She read in the newspapers about the Pawlaks' loss and yesterday she phoned Mrs. Pawlak. "You can sleep tonight. I have your money." Mrs. Pawlak was so happy she cried," Mrs. Montie said.

Bridge Opens New Route To Canada

AUSTIN (AP) — State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer has announced completion of a new bridge across the Canadian River on State Highway 70 between Pampa and Perryton. This closes the last gap in another direct route to Canada. From Perryton, U.S. 83 extends north to the Canadian border. The bridge also makes possible a direct route between Pampa and Perryton, a distance of 44 miles. Formerly travelers had to go by routes of either 82 or 99 miles, he said.

Magazine Requests Information On City

The Chamber of Commerce is preparing some information on Big Spring for the magazine "West Texas Today." The article, which will appear in the vacation and travel issue, will deal with the reasons tourists are "lured" to this city. The big spring, the city park, the August rodeo, and friendliness will all be listed, it was reported.

Council Created To Hold TB Patients

Forty-eight per cent of the patients at McKnight Tuberculosis Hospital are leaving before recovery. These people, bearing a dangerously contagious disease, are returning to their homes in their community to endanger every man, woman and child with whom they come in contact. To raise the morale, provide recreation and training facilities, and offer personalized comfort and attention to insure that patients remain hospitalized until cure is affected, the McKnight Area Volunteer Council is being organized. Tuberculosis patients of 166 counties of Central and West Texas, are being served by McKnight Sanatorium near San Angelo, Cap.

Rod Eddy, USMC, newly appointed chairman of the council, said that "since the health of every person may be jeopardized by patients who return to their homes against medical advice, activities of the new council concern each individual and organization of the entire McKnight area." The volunteer group, formed this week at the hospital, includes district known as the McKnight Area Volunteer Councils of Amarillo, Lubbock, Midland-Odessa, El Paso, Wichita Falls, Dallas-Fort Worth, Waco, Austin, Del Rio-Eagle Pass, and San Angelo. Other districts may be set up. The first goal of the council is encouraging the infected patients from returning to society prematurely. This may be accomplished through the acquiring of fiction, non-fiction and technical books, equipment to be used by bed-patients in weaving, ceramics, painting, jewelry-making, leather-work and other activities. The second goal of the council, to provide vocational rehabilitation, is planned to train patients, unable to return to former occupations, for new means of future support. Statistics show 85 per cent of patients retrained during treatment for work they are physically able to perform remain self-supporting. On the other hand, 85 per cent of those not retrained become, perhaps with their families, dependent on public care. The volunteer workers plan to accomplish both goals by acquiring facilities not customarily provided through limited hospital funds, according to Capt. Eddy.

Warning Given To Worker Recruiters

DENVER (AP) — Colorado Employment Service agents in Texas, who recruit migrant laborers for beet fields of this state and Wyoming, were warned by state officials yesterday to stick to regulations. An investigation showed there were about 15 extra persons packed into a 1 1/2-ton truck which overturned Sunday near Agate, Colo., killing 11-month-old Daniel Lucio. About 50 persons were riding in the truck, en route to Wyoming beet fields from Hidalgo County, Tex. Nearly half were hurt.

Hit-And-Run Deer Damages Automobile

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Colorado University student, Don Ehrenkrook, of Sugar Loaf, Colo., tells this story of a hit-and-run deer. Ehrenkrook said he was driving up Boulder Canyon at night when a deer, apparently startled while drinking from the creek, attempted to flee by jumping over the car. He said the deer "smashed" into the windshield, shattering it, jumped off the hood and disappeared into the hills.

No Dancing This Year

WINCHESTER, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Sally King recalled yesterday that she danced on her 101st birthday. "But I've had a little sick spell recently," she said, "and won't be able to dance today" — her 102nd birthday.

Finally Hit Books

GREENWOOD, S.C. (AP) — Students and teachers at Lander College here really piled into the books yesterday. The group carried books from the old library building to the new, with punch served at the halfway mark.
