J. R. Arnett, Frontiersman, Dies At Stanton

STANTON (SC) — Uncle Dick Arnett, 89, almost legendary frontiers figure, died here at 5:40 a.m. Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Fanny Rogers.

Funeral has been set for 2 p.m. Tuesday at the First Methodist Church with the Rev. Hugh Hunt, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Evergreen Cemetery with Masonic services.

Uncle Dick Arnett had been in steadily failing health since 1943. Born Joseph Richard Arnett in Burnet County on April 3, 1866, Mr. Arnett moved to Mitchell County before the turn of the century and reached north of Colorado City. He frequently rode the open range from the Colorado to the Pecos and was personally acquainted with most of the early day ranchers who operated in West Texas and eastern New Mexico.

In 1903 he moved to Stanton and ranched until 1908 when he was elected sheriff, a position he held until 1916. For a number of years he operated the Clabber Hill ranch and then was named cattle inspector for the both U. S. and the Mexican governments. He served in this capacity until ill health forced his retirement.

His vivid recollections of the frontier days have been recorded in numerous articles. J. Frank Dobie, noted Southwestern author, made extensive mention of Uncle Dick in his writings.

He was a lifetime member of Stanton Masonic lodge No. 951. So long as health permitted, he always was a central figure in the Martin County Old Settlers gatherings.

Surviving Mr. Arnett are his daughter, Mrs. Fanny Rogers; a son, Carter Arnett, Merced, Calif.; three brothers, Tom Arnett and Albert Arnett, Lubbock; and Bass Arnett, Hugo, Okla.; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funerals will be O. B. Bryan, Ray Simpson, George Davis, Martin Gibson, George Lewis, Morfar Hall. All members of the Stanton Masonic lodge will be considered honorary pallbearers.

13 Businesses Destroyed In Fire

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—Fire cracked through a one-story building last night, destroying 13 businesses. Nobody was hurt.

Fire Chief Eugene White estimated damage at $250,000. He said the fire apparently started in the attic of one of the stores and spread across the roof.

NEUTRALITY

Austrians Look To Swiss In New Role

VIENNA (AP)—The Swiss believe neutrality is the best policy. Today Austrians are looking to their Swiss neighbors for some lessons.

Waco. A forecaster said the weather was cooking up "more good rains." Electra reported .88 of an inch early Monday.

Three persons died in two separate auto accidents Sunday night on slick highways near Borger. Mrs. Earl B. Sumpers, 46, and Mrs. Joey B. McKain, about 53, both of Borger, were killed when an auto overturned 10 miles north of that city. Patricia Williams, 5-month-old, was fatally injured in another accident east of Borger.

Damage was unestimated after a small tornado with heavy hail and a cloudburst struck eastern Bexar County Sunday night.

More than 50 autos were stalled, fields and homes flooded and power knocked out in several communities.

The St. Hedwig area was hardest hit. A small twister there knocked out 20-pole length of electric wires. Five inches of rain was recorded at one gauge.

San Antonio got only .02 inches officially at the International Airport but heavier rains fell at other parts of the city.

Officers rescued many stranded persons from stalled cars. A bridge on Highway 90 was reported under water.

Packing lightning, vicious winds and hail, the storms hit the Dallas Houston and Tyler areas Sunday. Lightning sent a Houston man to the hospital and struck several Dallas homes.

A weak cool front inched into the El Paso area and the Weather Bureau said it would probably stall before reaching Abilene. That, said one forecaster, would tend to increase the thunderstorms as moist Gulf air ran into the cold wedge. And the longer the front stayed still, the longer the rains would continue.

The air remained humid Monday and clouds dotted the sky over College Station, Waco and Dalt. The Weather Bureau reported winds clocked at 85 m.p.h. rocked little Hawkins, some 20 miles north of Tyler, Hill, in inches in diameter rained down.

A storm also hit Tyler. It looked so bad they evacuated the airport control tower at 9:30 p.m. Juan Gonzalez, 20, was flattened by lightning Sunday as a thunder storm poured up to three inches of rain on the Houston area. He was in serious condition.

Winds, snapped some 200 telephone lines and smashed a plate glass window. Power lines, tree branches and dead trees, were toppled in East Houston, Pasadena and Galena Park.

High winds, rain and hail hit Dallas County and part of Dallas. Rain there measured up to .40 inch. Lightning struck three Dallas homes, causing damage but no injuries.

Hail an inch deep piled in some sections of Grand Prairie. Power was interrupted in Dallas' Oak Cliff section when wind tore loose a 13,000-volt Dallas Power & Light Co. feeder line on a pole.

Rainfall included Austin .10 inch. Del Rio, 70, Castell (Llano County) .45, Fort Worth .79; Laredo .26, Lubbock .06, Oxford 1.40 (Llano County), San Angelo .15, San Antonio .02, Junction .11; Childress .03, Amarillo .08, Dallas .31, Wichita Falls .55, Dalhart .05, McKinney 1.02, and Gunter 1.45.

Presidio was the warmest place in Texas Sunday with a high of 99. The low minimum of 84 was at El Paso and Galveston.

Funds Asked For Missouri Channel

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress was asked today to appropriate five million dollars for a study of the feasibility of diverting excess water from the Missouri River basin to Southwestern areas frequently plagued by drought.

Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) made the request to a House appropriations subcommittee. While he gave no specific details, Mahon said his idea is to tap the Missouri somewhere above Kansas City, likely between there and Omaha, Neb.

"I realize that my proposal could be classed in the 'pipe dream category,'" I agree that some of the problems incident to a large scale project such as I have proposed seem almost insurmountable.

"Despite the fact this project may seem unrealistic, I think the time is coming when this project, or similar projects, will become a reality. I just hope we don't wait too long."

One of the engineering problems, Mahon said, would be that the water would have to be lifted about 1,500 feet. The elevation in the area where the bulk of it would be delivered is around 2,500 feet.

MAYBE HE WENT HOME

BALTIMORE (AP)—Sgt. Vincent Serio of the Baltimore vice squad got a call from a woman who told him her husband was spending all his money in poker games and she was starving as a result.

"Where was he?" asked the sergeant. She gave him an address, and he dispatched two patrolmen to the spot. They broke up a card game, hauled six men to jail.

"You didn't get him," said the same voice. She explained she had learned her husband had floated from the game before the police got there. She gave Serio a new address.

Off went the vice squad again. They broke up two games, took in nine players.

But the phone rang again. Same woman, same complaint, new address.

The next call brought in 13 more sporting gentlemen. It made a grand total of 25 players arrested in five card games.

The woman never did give the police her name, but Serio figures they got her husband in the last haul. She didn't call back.

Judge Tosses Out Indictment In Herndon Case

BULLETIN SWEETWATER (Sp) — Judge A. S. Mauzey this afternoon upheld a defense motion to quash the indictment under which James Herndon, Stanton contractor, was to have gone to trial for alleged misapplication of Martin County funds.

The motion was at first overruled and subsequently sustained. The court held the indictment was not amply specific. Two other indictments were regarded as being in the same category.

SWEETWATER, (SC) — Trial of James Herndon, Stanton contractor, on charges of theft of Martin County funds under false pretext, started in 32nd District Court here today after Judge A. S. Mauzey overruled a defense motion to quash the indictment.

Herndon's attorneys, Bryan Bradbury and Bill Tippen of Abilene, argued that the indictment against Herndon was too vague. It alleged only that Herndon acquired more than $50 in Martin funds. The state said the indictment is based on an allegation that the money was secured for road work which, the state claims, never was performed.

A jury was being selected from a panel of 36 men this morning. It was expected to be completed in time for some testimony this afternoon.

The indictment is one of several returned last summer after an investigation of Martin County financial affairs. The investigation was started after it was learned the county didn't have enough funds to meet its payroll.

James McMorrise, former county judge, now in serving a penitentiary sentence assessed after he pleaded guilty to two theft indictments. He was found guilty by a Sweetwater jury on another charge.

Attorneys for the state are Ralph Cason, Martin County attorney; Guilford Jones, 11th District attorney; and Eldon Mahon, 32nd District attorney.

Paper Hits Billy Graham For 'Bigotry'

LONDON (AP)—The Daily Express accused Billy Graham today of crudeness and bigotry in his new London campaign.

"He mauls Christians and non-Christians alike," John Redfern reported in an Express review of the American evangelist's return to London.

Other London newspapers declared Graham, who stirred this ancient city with his Bible-waving fervor last year, is just not packing in the people the way he did in 1954.

Graham opened his one-week London crusade Saturday night with a rally at vast Wembley Stadium. Only 50,000 persons, about half the stadium's capacity, turned up. But this was as many as appeared in his Harringay Arena crusade last year.

Despite the fact the stadium was only half filled, the response was one of the most spectacular ever seen at a Graham meeting, with between 4,000 and 5,000 persons expected.

Yesterday he preached to a rally of automobile workers out side the giant Ford motor plant at suburban Dagenham. Less than 5,000 were on hand, where 10,000 were expected.

On both occasions, however, it rained and this may have kept the crowds down.

"Billy's done better," wrote Pat Tyler of the Daily Herald in a report on the Dagenham rally.

"It must have been the smallest organized meeting that Dr. Graham has addressed since he arrived.

"It seemed a strangely apathetic crowd, too.

"The crowd livened up only once — when Graham mentioned Ford's."

The meeting was sponsored by the Ford Workers' Christian Fellowship and local ministers.

Graham came to London fresh from a triumphant six-week campaign in Scotland.

Davy Crockett Meets His Fans

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Davy Crockett, one of America's oldest heroes, came face to face with the small fry for the first time over the weekend.

It was quite an experience for both. Fess Parker, 4-foot-5 Texan who plays the hero of the Alamo on television, was a surprise guest at a birthday party given by Mr. and Mrs. Red Skelton for their two children, Valentina, 8, and Richard, 7.

Mrs. Skelton had invited Parker. "It was the only way I could get Red to stay—tell him Davy Crockett was coming," she said.

Parker hadn't been in the house five minutes until Skelton had him autograph a mug upon which was inscribed: "Davy Crockett's mountain dew."

The lanky actor came dressed in his Crockett buckskins and brought along his musket and guitar and his sidekick George Russell (Buddy Ebsen). Davy allowed as how it was his first appearance before a group of youngsters.

More than 50 kids, many of them children of celebrities, clamored to shake the hand of Parker.

"But," said Skelton, "it was like the electric trip at Christmas—the kids couldn't get to Crockett because of the parents."

"When the kids finally got to him, the most asked question was: 'How come you're not dead?'"

Parker had a hard time convincing some of the younger children that he wasn't the real Davy Crockett.

First question asked Ebsen came from Skelton's son. "Hey, Russel, how come you kissed Davy Crockett's wife?"

Ebsen answered that with: "Didn't you guys get a good look at her?" The role was played by pretty Helene Stanley.

Parker and Ebsen, of course, sang "The Ballad of Davy Crockett" but only the first ten verses. The kids all knew the other ten.

Wife Sought After Chef's Body Found

JAY, Okla. (AP)—A murder charge was filed today against an Auburn-haired one-time beauty contest winner after her 310-pound husband's body was found in a grave on her brother's farm near here.

County Attorney Don Hampton said the charge was filed in Peace Justice Court against Mrs. Leola L. Werner, 44. An extensive search is under way for her.

He said the body was that of Joseph Werner, 41, former chef at the Triple A restaurant in Fort Worth, who had been missing almost a month.

Mrs. Werner was seen at the farm about April 17, Hampton said, placing concrete blocks about the spot where the body was discovered Saturday.

Mrs. Werner, he added, disappeared from there after three days and the last word from her was letters from St. Louis to her mother at Kansas, Okla., and her brother at Oklahoma City.

"The people who saw her on the farm all knew her," Hampton said. "They thought it was funny the way she was working with concrete blocks, but now it looks as if she were building a tomb over the grave."

Oklahoma Bureau of Investigation agents broadcast a pickup order for the woman, who sold the family home at Fort Worth for $4,500 three days after her husband failed to show up for work. She showed the two had been divorced and she had been given the dwelling.

Fort Worth Detective A. C. Howerton, who inspected the residence, said he found two .22-caliber bullet holes in a back bedroom.

Werner's body was found on a vacant farm near here owned by Ralph DeGarmo, Oklahoma City, brother of Mrs. Werner. Unlabeled time was used to speed decay of the body.

DeGarmo said he had received a letter from his sister, written from St. Louis, in which she indicated she intended to destroy herself and end with the statement, "If I am found it will make sensational news."

Another letter to Mrs. Werner's mother, Mrs. Norma Thompson of

Aid Aimed At Families With Low Incomes

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration today proposed a $28 million dollar federal fund to help the states provide polio vaccine for children in low income families.

This was one of 11 recommendations submitted by Secretary of Welfare Hobby in President Eisenhower's report to Congress.

The White House said Eisenhower approved the report and endorsed the recommendations.

The aid-to-states program would become effective after the completion of the free immunization program now being conducted by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

The foundation's program applies to children in the first and second grades.

The administration's proposed federal fund contemplates an immunization program for all Americans through the age of 19.

The administration also proposed an additional two million dollars for extra inspectors and technicians in the Public Health Service.

"The maximum precautions in continued testing of the vaccine for safety and potency."

Resisting demands in Congress for government allocation of the now scarce vaccine, Mrs. Hobby and her advisers said they are convinced "the most effective and equitable distribution of the vaccine will be accomplished through the voluntary cooperation of all concerned, within the framework of existing law."

No other kind of distribution, Mrs. Hobby said, "can be mobilized quickly enough to be effective during a brief period of shortage."

She stressed her view that the present voluntary system, which leaves distribution of vaccine in the states, "will get the vaccine to the children who need it most with the greatest speed, fairness and effectiveness."

The nationwide vaccination program itself, temporarily halted a week ago pending new safety checks, was slowly getting under way again with vaccine from two laboratories already freed for use.

The U. S. Public Health Service yesterday approved all supplies shipped by Eli Lilly & Co. in Indianapolis. This raised to about 1,400,000 shots of the vaccine released since the safety check was started. On Friday, it approved principal shipments by Parke, Davis & Co., Detroit.

Mrs. Hobby presented her report in an hour-long meeting with the President. She made no reply to congressional criticism, mainly from Democrats, who have charged the administration with "bungling" the program—both in failing to provide government distribution and to set up adequate safety standards.

TITO SAYS

Yugoslavia Not Changing Sides

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—President Tito has assured the West that his coming conference with top leaders of the Soviet Union does not mean Yugoslavia is "changing sides."

He still intends to keep his country out of all blocs—Western, Soviet or neutral "third force," he declared.

Speaking at the North Adriatic port of Pula, Tito said yesterday he wants good relations with both the West and the Soviets. He promised there will be no secret deals "behind the curtains" at his meeting in Belgrade late this month with Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin, Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev and Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

"The whole West will know what we have discussed and what we have agreed upon," the President declared. "Yugoslavia is grateful to the West and particularly to the United States, which has given and is still giving aid."

Tito restated his previous policy that he will not accept aid with political conditions attached. "Aid is not a bribe," he added.

"They in the West should not think that we are changing sides," he continued. "We want best relations with the West. We are not going to turn aside from this road, but we wish to have free hands to strengthen peace . . ."

It was Tito's first comment on the announcement Saturday of the Russians' visit.

Implying that Moscow had asked for the meeting, Tito said he told the Russians Yugoslavia wants to keep its friends and will tolerate no foreign interference in its internal affairs. He said the Kremlin had consented to this condition.

The Yugoslav Communist leader told his listeners the visitors would be "new people." Not those responsible for "the tremendous pressure and insults" which his regime had suffered from the Soviets in the past.

In breaking with Russia in 1948, Tito claimed that the Kremlin was trying to dictate to him and that Soviet agents were meddling in Yugoslavia's internal affairs.

State Water Bill Delayed In Senate

AUSTIN (AP)—Consideration of the key measure in the administration's legislative program to promote water conservation was delayed in the Senate today.

Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo called for action on a House-Senate committee report on his proposed constitutional amendment to allow state backing for water projects, but Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro objected.

On Martin's motion, the Senate postponed consideration until tomorrow. There was no objection raised against the delay.

Hardeman said the conference committee's attempt to reconcile differences between House and Senate versions had resulted in a proposal identical to the one originally passed by the Senate.

This would call for a six-man appointive board to administer issuance of up to 100 million dollars in bonds for partial underwriting of local water projects. The measure also would authorize a state-wide property tax of 3 cents per $100 valuation to guarantee the bonds.

The House had voted against both those ideas, substituting provisions for an elective board and a water users tax instead of the property tax.

In House action today, a House-Senate compromise on regulation of insurance securities was approved and sent to the governor's desk. The measure would place supervision of the securities under the insurance commission, which would have authority to determine if proposed stock issues were "fair, just and equitable."

Deadlocks over budget-balancing and water legislation loomed as the Legislature started another assault on major issues this week.

The conference committee working on state spending has come to agreement on major questions of allocating $1,525,000,000 over the next two years. Clerks spent most of last week putting the bill together and it should be ready for floor consideration soon.

The spending it authorizes, however, cannot be nailed down until a tax measure is signed, sealed and delivered.

Under the Texas Constitution, state government has to operate on a cash basis and the comptroller must certify that funds are on hand or in sight before an appropriation becomes law.

The Legislature can do a two-thirds vote to authorize deficit financing. Nothing like that has been suggested for the current wide gap between income and spending.

The House-approved tax bill will still be in Senate subcommittee when the Legislature begins its 19th week. There was some possibility it could be reported today to the full State Affairs Committee, and come up for floor debate early in the week.

It still faced a long, rough road, with Gov. Allan Shivers' insistence on a two-cent instead of the one-cent a gallon gasoline tax boost authorized by the House. Final adjournment date of the session depends mainly on how fast both the taxing and spending measures can be shoved through both houses.

As of today, the last week of May seemed a likely wind-up date, but it could be much later.

Scheduled to go back to the House early this week was the heavily-amended veterans land program reauthorization bill.

The Senate passed Rep. Dolph Briscoe's bill last week, making on 20 amendments which now must win House approval before the measure can go to the governor.

If the House won't take the Senate changes, it is likely that both houses would call for a conference committee.

A-2C Donald L. Sesholt was critically injured and was transferred by air to the Lackland hospital at San Antonio Sunday. Also critically injured and in the Goodfellow AFB hospital at San

Woman's Talk Saves A Life

DALLAS (AP)—A woman police dispatcher joked, teased, chatted and pleaded an hour on the phone last night with a man who threatened to shoot himself or anyone who tried to capture him.

The 35-year-old man ended the conversation by throwing down his .22 rifle when relatives walked unsuspectingly into the brick home at nearby Kyles. He fled but was captured and jailed for investigation of lunacy.

"I talked right through my supper hour, but it was worth it," said Miss Lavinia Mae Horak.

The soft-voiced dispatcher alternately jibed and pleaded while officers traced the call and sent deputies to the scene.

Afraid the disturbed and angry man would shoot them, the teased him into firing seven times at a light bulb "to prove you can shoot straight." He emptied the gun but reloaded immediately, grew suspicious and threatened to kill anyone "you've sent out here to take me."

Deputies en route to the house were warned away by radio and ordered to stand by at a safe distance for reinforcements. Miss Horak talked on.

Then, unexpectedly, relatives of the armed man lived with drove home from church and walked into the house before they could be warned of the danger.

Miss Horak heard the phone hang up. The man, officers learned later, had thrown down his gun. He dashed out the back door but was captured by two deputies.

TV Tower Hits Power Line, But No One Is Hurt

Another TV antenna toppled into a high voltage electric line Sunday evening, but this time no one was injured.

Power service to the southeast part of Big Spring was interrupted for about an hour so Texas Electric Service linemen could remove the antenna and repair the 7,000-volt line.

A-2C Virgil Falkenberg, another man and a woman, were erecting the pole at the rear of 1105 Wood when the metal standard got away. One of the three yelled "drop it" when it became apparent the tower was heading for the line. The other two did and thus escaped injury. Nearby residents said there was a pop and an "erackle" like thunder when the line was engaged.

"Little more than a week ago Cecil Hewitt of Sulphur, La., was electrocuted here when a TV tower fell into a high voltage line in the south part of town."

Authorities said Simpson was not speeding.

The hospitalized were listed as A. J. C. George Rogger, Mount Olive, Miss., and Basic Airmen Robert K. Cerver, Maden, Ala.; David C. Simley, Houston; Jerry Leaver, Waco; David Thornton, Lamesa; Roy D. Wood, Montgomery, Ala.; Joe L. Huffman, Letohatchee, Ala.; Fred M. Bullock, Charleston, S. C.; and Ralph Collins, Macon, Ga.

Hold Order On Slaying Suspect

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—A convict Andrew H. Nelson, charged in the car-bomb slaying of a wealthy ranch woman, today posted $10,000 bond. But he didn't leave his jail cell.

Sheriff Cecil Turner said he had two "hold" counts on Nelson from Houston and said he expected officers from that city to come pick Nelson up.

Nelson is charged with murder and as an accomplice to murder in the slaying here last January of Mrs. Helen Weaver.

Sheriff Turner said the hold orders against Nelson were for theft and as a habitual criminal.

O'Neal Deady, attorney for the two times ex-convict, said, however, that there was just one hold order out for his client. This, he said, was for theft of an automobile. He said bond of $5,000 had been made at one time on this charge and that he was sure it would be made again.

Hearing Stated In 'Accident' Slaying

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—A young textbook salesman, whose parents are members of the Harvard University faculty, was scheduled to be given a hearing today on a murder charge.

Richard Kluckhohn, 21, of Evanston, Ill., was charged in the bizarre Friday-the-13th shooting of Miss Bernice Seawell, 43, an Arlington, Va., government worker.

Howard Manning, of Raleigh, attorney for Kluckhohn, said he planned to offer a motion in City Court that the murder charge be dismissed. He contended the shooting was accidental.

Police said the shot, fired from a German Luger, came from a hotel room overlooking a parking lot where Miss Seawell was standing. Miss Seawell, who had accompanied her sister from Sanford on a shopping trip, collapsed and died almost instantly.

Young Kluckhohn, described as a brilliant student who had graduated from the University of Chicago when he was 18, was arrested about 3 1/2 hours later in Chapel Hill, 29 miles from Raleigh.

Kluckhohn's attorney said the

First Bank In Lamesa To Observe 50th Anniversary

LAMESA — Fifty years of service in Dawson County will be observed this week by the First National Bank of Lamesa. Open house ceremonies Friday and Saturday will climax the special occasion.

History of the bank closely parallels that of the county, for the organization meeting for the bank was called May 22, 1905, two days less than two months after Lamesa had won the county seat election over Chicago.

At a meeting in Holloway Hall, J. F. Barton was elected chairman and $5,350 was laid on the line as starting capital. Mr. Barton was named first cashier and other officers were E. L. Tidwell, W. M. Spain, (vice president), C. D. Crowley (president), W. J. Price, W. J. Quinn, and J. E. Garrison. They had been joined by J. F. McDowell and E. O. Price of Big Spring in subscribing of initial capital.

Until Jan. 19, 1917 the institution operated as the Dawson County Bank, changing on that day to the Dawson County State Bank. Charter for the First National Bank of Lamesa was signed on March 6, 1918 and the bank has operated under that name continuously since.

W. K. Crawley, present executive head of the bank, was elected vice president and cashier in 1920 and was made executive vice president in 1939. W. M. Yates has served as president for many years. Since Nov. 17, 1951, the bank has occupied new quarters, among the most modern banking facilities in the South Plains area. Capitalization is $225,000, made up of that much surplus and $145,000 undivided profits. Deposits now approximate $6,000,000. Peak was reached in the booming cotton harvest at the end of 1950 when deposits touched $10 million.

Open-house hours: Friday are 1:30 to 3 p. m., Saturday 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

Writers Hear Of Opening Of Prize-Winning Play

Members of the Writers Workshop gathered in the home of Capt. Walter D. Williams Sunday afternoon to hear him tell of the prize-winning play, "Cat On A Hot Tin Roof," recently produced on Broadway. The author is Tennessee Williams, brother of Capt. Williams, who attended opening-night festivities in New York.

The host explained that the name is taken from the discomfort and nervousness of the feminine lead. A greedy, deceitful woman, she had married for money, and in her efforts to come into an inheritance, clung to her wedding husband as a cat clings to the doubtful security of a tin roof.

The theme of the play, mandacity, or falsehood, is ever-recurring throughout the play. Capt. Williams told the group, who saw Williams plays, actors, actresses and friends concerned with the successes or failures of the author.

During the business session, Mrs. T. C. Thomas, historian, requested pictures and clippings of members for inclusion in the club scrapbook. A report was given by Bruce Fryzier on the creative writing contest sponsored by the workshop and open to high school seniors or members of the freshman class in college. Fryze is a scholarship to Howard County Junior College.

L. Walter Stewart reported that a book, written by Capt. Williams and him, had been sent to the Exposition Press for publication. Title of the book is "Religion and Other Nonsense." He also told the members that his article on the activities of Bruce Frazier had been accepted by an agent for sale to a national magazine, L. Stewart won second and third place in a short story contest held recently at Webb Air Force Base. Eleven attended the meeting.

A Bible Thought For Today

Easier Not To Touch Hot Potato

Galveston has always been a law unto herself, and successive governors who have tried to "close her up" have met with indifferent success, to make an understatement.

Galveston this week elected a new mayor, George Roy Clough, 64, owner, operator of radio station KLUF, who defeated Mayor Herbert V. Cartwright, who was seeking a fifth two-year term by less than a thousand votes.

Reporters who went around to meet the new mayor found him an accommodating fellow — and about as candid as they come. Mayor-elect Clough noted that gambling and prostitution are here to stay, and added that "the boys will be reasonable." Accordingly, he announced he would call a conference of "the boys" soon to set up a system of self-government for the gamblers, including the Maceo syndicate chiefs, "because I think they are the cleanest operators in town."

He was quoted as saying: "I believe it's possible to put these fellows on their honor. I've found most of them trustworthy — and they pay their bills a lot better than some of their critics."

As for prostitution, the mayor-elect observed that it had been around "since the days of Christ," adding that Christ had tried to stop it but couldn't, "so why should I try?"

Well, as the fellow says, there you are. It is still a moot point whether Galveston is a part of Texas, and as such subject to all the laws and regulation the state imposes on its people. Or just an independent enclave that occupies a unique position above and beyond all state laws. An interesting question, surely, for in the past state officials have been far more inclined to beat their breasts over the Duchy of Duval than to handle Galveston for the hot potato it might become.

Confidence In Salk Vaccine

Pressed at his news conference to comment on the withdrawal of the Salk vaccine until further checks are made, President Eisenhower said that scientists, bowing to public pressure, probably "short-cut a little bit" and released the vaccine for general distribution too soon.

Making it clear he was just speculating, the President said the scientists "probably thought they had used all the regular safety tests on the stuff, but 'probably didn't use some of the more exhaustive ones' they are now using. He reiterated his confidence in the vaccine's effectiveness, and believes firmly that it will banish the disease within a "measurable time."

In different words, but to the same general effect, this newspaper had expressed the belief that too much haste accompanied the release of the Salk vaccine for general distribution. There was an unmistakable "Hollywood premiere" odor about the big build-up. Everybody seemed to be trying to get into the act. All this led to too much haste, where a calmer and more considered approach would have been in order.

Persons at the top set the pace, and naturally the whole country fell in line. Here was one of the sensational medical developments of all time, with enough natural drama in it to set the whole world by the ears, and it is altogether possible that had anyone in authority tried to put on the brakes and slow things down, a great howl would have resulted.

Nevertheless, the time for collating all the Salk data and assessing their value had been known well in advance, and there was every opportunity to surround the ceremony of distribution with every precaution to guard against just such an unfortunate hitch as did develop.

In spite of the hullabaloo, there is no valid reason to doubt the President's confidence in the Salk vaccine as the real answer to polio. Undoubtedly experience will produce changes, if any are needed, but it has already answered the big $64 question affirmatively: it works. There is need for improved techniques in its production to guard against mishaps, and it is fortunate that this need became apparent almost at once.

Hollywood Review

Jean Simmons Finally Gets Light Role

HOLLYWOOD — Jean Simmons, who has enacted such classic roles as Ophelia and Queen Elizabeth I, is now singing and dancing in "Guys and Dolls." And she couldn't be happier.

"I'm just hoping the picture never ends," she enthuses.

Samuel Goldwyn doesn't feel that way. He's footing the bill, which he describes in the neighborhood of $7 million dollars. That's some neighborhood!

Goldwyn missed some eyebrows when he cast the British-born Miss Simmons as Sarah Brown, the Salvation Army lass, in the film version of the Broadway smash. After all, the Daphne Hynton stories are strictly in the American idiom. And Miss Simmons is a dramatic actress who has never dabbled in the song and dance.

But these talented Brits have a way of taking an American role and going to town with it. That was proved by Vivien Leigh in "Gone With the Wind" and to a lesser extent by Gertrude Lawrence in "The Glass Menagerie."

When viewed on the set of "Guys and Dolls," Miss Simmons was throwing her heart into the role. Plus her hips, shoulders, arms, etc. She was doing a wild Cuban dance with Marion Brando and it was something to see.

The whole thing ends in a free-for-all with Brando and Miss Simmons trading blows with the other patrons.

"I couldn't be happier," Miss Simmons said about the film role. "I hope this will help me get out of the 18-da parts." "La-da," she explained, was her own definition for some of the bloodless heroines she had had to play.

"When an actress comes here from England, the studios naturally feel she must play the lady type," she said.

And isn't she the lady type? "Definitely not," she replied. "My experience was duplicated by Deborah Kerr, who complained that every time she passed through the MGM gate someone tried to place a tiara on her head."

Dulles Performs Expertly In Conferences

PARIS — There is something very impressive and of incalculable value about the new-fashioned diplomacy which brings the secretary of state of the United States to Paris for informal talks with the foreign ministers of France and Great Britain as well as with the top men of other countries which comprise the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Critics may say the head of the State Department should not travel around, but it is difficult to imagine how any progress could be made any other way in solving present-day problems among the Allies.

Unfortunately, lots of mischievous rumors and some distorted reports reach home to the parliaments and to the American Congress. It is not always easy to overcome the handicaps that interfere, even by American legislators, sometimes brings. But if the members of Congress who are so reckless with their comments on world affairs, especially the carping critics among the Democrats, could attend a press conference held here by the Secretary of State, they would come to realize how delicate and complicated are most of the questions tackled by the foreign ministers.

This last week has seen many important conferences, but they are not unlike several meetings held here before. They are all significant. The modern way is for the top representatives of the Allies to sit down together and thrash out their differences behind closed doors. They talk frankly and at times heatedly, but they come out of it as a rule with a clear understanding of the viewpoint of their respective countries.

Perhaps the most ticklish of all the questions this week was the problem of Indochina. Neither the French nor the American government could afford to place itself in the position of trying to settle the internal affairs of South Vietnam, as this would only intensify Communist propaganda there. But certain parallel or common policies were agreed upon which may help to bring stability to the situation in the southern part of Indochina. For, although the desire is to see some form of democratic government chosen, it is not easy to establish at once an electoral machinery such as exists in a European parliamentary system. But out of the turbulence of these last few weeks may come a representative system for South Vietnam, and that is the objective now.

Despite the newspaper reports about a grave crisis in the relations between France and the United States over the Indochina question, it is a fact that both governments recognized all along how important it is to reach an understanding and not to allow the Indochina dispute to impair their working arrangements on many other questions of far greater importance to both.

The American people can rest assured that Secretary Dulles handled himself very creditably here. Notwithstanding some garbled impressions that came to certain senators, there was no mistake made here by Mr. Dulles in talking firmly where firmness was necessary. Those who heard his reply, for example, in the North Atlantic Council meeting to Foreign Secretary Spaak of Belgium on the Formosa question said it was an excellent rebuttal to a statement that completely misconstrued the American position.

Nor is Mr. Dulles stampeded or pushed around by the Soviet tactics. He was clear-cut in his announcement here that he wouldn't go to Vienna until the Austrian treaty provisions had been finally set down on paper ready for signing. He is equally determined not to become involved in a protracted discussion in Vienna about the details of the forthcoming four-power conference.

There is a restraint and a forbearance about Mr. Dulles' manner in these top-level negotiations, and at the same time such an earnest reflection by him of the truly American viewpoint in international affairs, that the American people can well be proud of their itinerant secretary of state.

What Are Russ Intentions At Big 4 Parley?

WASHINGTON — From now until the summer conference of President Eisenhower with the chiefs of state of Britain, France and Russia there will be speculation on what Russia hopes to get out of it.

The Allies proposed it in the belief, perhaps a thin one, the result might be beneficial.

The Russians have been talking peace and making some gestures in that direction.

They agreed to a treaty for Austria. They made some concessions on disarmament although world disarmament is a distant dream. There can be only guesses about the sudden appearance of Russian responsibility.

One thing can be taken for granted: The Russians have not abandoned their goal of world communism. Their problem, at all times, is how and when to achieve it. They may sincerely not want world war. It would be nice to believe they had reached that decision through a development of maturity. But if they do not want it, it is probably because they are afraid of losing it. At least, not because they know enough about nuclear weapons to believe that.

What, No Smoke?

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Burt Ashman, assistant to the president at the Pennsylvania College for Women, took one look at a new greeting card in the campus bookstore and banned it.

The "get well" card, titled "High Noon, Pittsburgh, Pa.," showed a half-dozen pair of eyes peering out of a solid black background. A message read "From (Kof) Pittsburgh."

"It isn't the least bit amusing," said Ashman. "Furthermore, it's downright seditious. Not only do they malign us, they add insult to injury by spelling Pittsburgh wrong. It's high time we stoppped thinking of Pittsburgh as the Smoky City."

'You Can't Garden If You Don't Have Tools

Time was when all you needed to become a member of the Order of the Green Thumb was to own a spade (or live close to a neighbor who had one) and a bottle of liniment.

Things have taken a turn for the worse, though. An expert on horticulture insists the tool-chest of the modern gardener isn't complete unless it contains 39 different items.

And, where the legislative body that dictates to golfers says the linker isn't allowed to carry more than 14 clubs, there's no statute anywhere which limits the number of gardening implements a wife can buy for her husband.

More than one of the tools are designed to take the stoop and squat out of lawn work. The trouble is, though, you'd need a jeep to tote the stuff around, if your yard is any bigger than a marble ring.

The gardening enthusiast lists the tools thusly:

1. Nurseman's hoe and weeder. An ordinary hoe obviously won't do, though it would be much more effective in killing garter snakes.
2. Trombone-type sprayer for bushes, shrubs and trees. This item resembles a cat-o-nine-tails or an opium pipe.
3. Lawn and grass rake. Not too popular in West Texas where the spring zephyrs have been known to take care of the loose grass.
4. Spading fork. Good for digging into pulled cotton and sand piles. If you employ one to spade up grassy areas, though, be careful with the prongs. They have no muscles.
5. Box rake. This one doesn't differ from the ordinary rake but, if you ask for it by name, the privilege of buying it might cost you a bit more.
6. Hand cultivator. Looks like a beetle with an antenna pulled off.
7. Flower cutting and holding shears. Too suggestive of a dentist's pliers to be popular.
8. Scuffle hoe. Not for dueling the neighbor, even though its name might suggest otherwise.
9. Sub-surface waterer and feeder. The worms create enough underground channels in any yard.
10. Dandelion digger. Around my home, the dandelions don't need any help.
11. Pruning saw. Something like a pair of scissors with one prong gone.
12. Hand grass feeder and fertilizer spreader. A discarded coffee can makes it less complicated.
13. Insecticide duster. Aircraft dusting will do just as well.
14. Bird bath. The birds don't bathe in the open around my casa.
15. Ornamental fencing for plants and shrubs. The quickest way to scare a plant to death is to intentionally give them something to climb on.
16. Bird house. Something our feathered friends can rest on, while he's carrying materials for his nest in the tree.

17. Pressure sprayer. A FIV gun, with a new coat of paint.

18. Pruning shears. Something like toenail clippers.

19. Dandelion and weed sprayers (lawn size). Adds to the sinews of the yard pests, who feel they got there before the plants did.

20. Grass shears. If you have grass hoppers, you can forget about these.

21. Mole trap. You'll need a warning sign, or two to keep from getting ensnared.

22. Automatic plant duster. Looks as hard to work as a safe combination.

23. Kneeling pads. If you have callouses on your knees already, overlook this.

24. Peony support. The exact purpose of this item escapes me, although it could have been designed by someone below the border.

25. Direct sprayer for weeds in lawn. It plays no favorite and, you know, sometimes, the weeds look better than the stuff that's supposed to grow.

26. Device for watering plants at base. Apparently this is a handy little item in case you decide to water from the roof of your house.

27. Ties for fastening plants to support. Any old string off a piece of meat just won't do.

28. Weeder and cultivator. A combination, hoe, rake and back scratcher.

29. Small planter, as distinguished from a big planter and an economy-sized planter.

30. Small leaf rake, for work around hedges and plants. Unneeded, if your plant up and died in the spring without sprouting foliage.

31. Combination weeder and cultivator. Looks like a needle for a vaccination, complete with a pole for a person who might be squeamish about inoculating anyone up close.

32. Cultivator. Similar to the preceding item, only it comes without ear muffs.

33. Lawn edger, unneeded if your lawn gets ambulatory, and insists on giving the bordering street a beard.

34. Large weeder. This thing lodges the soil where the weeds can really grow.

35. Seed planter. Suggestive of what an inventor bent on giving the populace a "gasless vehicle with a saw" might think of.

36. Hand weeder and cultivator. Perhaps better suited to spear a "message" at the other end of the table.

37. Sidewalk edger. Excellent for chipping off the concrete.

38. Long handled sickle. Wear shin guards if your wife comes out armed with this thing.

39. Planting drill. Looks like a stapler and probably about as effective as the latter would be, if used for this purpose.

Even Houseflies Getting Healthier

NEW YORK — Everyone knows American people are getting healthier. But did you know American houseflies are getting tougher and more durable, too?

They are so rugged now that Herbert F. Tomasek of Pittsburgh is employing a variant of a German wartime nerve gas as the killing agent in a new fly trap he developed.

Tomasek, who spent a year perfecting his trap, known as the "fly charmer," learned a great deal about houseflies during experiments in which he reared, then trapped and killed more than 150,000 insects at the rate of 5,000 a week.

"We found, for example," he remarked, "that it is easier to trap male flies than female flies, and that flies are somewhat color-conscious. They are attracted to a black landing surface but repelled by a yellow colored one."

Ten years ago the world was hopeful that DDT promised to spell the doom of the household fly. Unfortunately, DDT resistant strains of flies now have developed.

"It is doubtful if any one chemical agent will ever prove the final answer," Tomasek said. "Twenty years from now we'll still be looking for new ones. There'll never be a surer way to kill a fly than to hit him with a swatter, but that does take a lot of time and manpower."

Over the years inventors have probably come up with as many different kinds of fly traps as they have can openers.

Tomasek, general manager of the Pittsburgh Coke & Chemical Co., agricultural chemical division, set out in September, 1944, design still, another fly trap using as the lethal ingredient a new insecticide called L13-59 or Dipterex. It is an organic phosphonate developed by Dr. Gerhard Schrader, a German scientist. Operating on the same principle as nerve gas, it destroys the fly by attacking its central nervous system.

"But, being only mildly toxic to human beings," Tomasek said, "a 200-pound man would have to drink 60 bottles of the insecticide to get a fatal dose."

Early in the 20th century glass fly traps baited with beer and sugar were common. Tomasek experimented with the same principle, but sought to employ psychology to create a trap that would be even mentally attractive to flies.

He feels his fly trap is the first that has landing fields especially geared to the fly's own preferences. In essence it is a bottle with a pylon in the center around which are four flat black landing surfaces in tiers. The tiers are baited with insecticide mixed with a perfumed sugar base to attract the insects.

"We discovered the flies preferred horizontal landing surfaces rather than vertical or sloping surfaces," he said.

"Flies land, ingest the bait and die within 40 seconds. Flies ordinarily live about 20 days. We found it harder to kill a 4-day-old fly than an 8-day-old one. But oddly, a 15-day-old fly was harder to trap than either."

Loud Archeology

YORKTOWN, Va. — Edward B. Jelks proved a case of silent British stiff he unearthed still packed a wallop.

Archeologist Jelks sprinkled some of it on the ground touched a match to it and was rewarded by a satisfactory "whoosh." It was gunpowder and the bronze bound cask marked British ordnance indicated it was at least 174 years old. It was probably left after the Revolutionary War surrender of Lord Cornwallis.

Stockholder Bill Recalls A. P. Giannini

WASHINGTON — Surely, A. P. Giannini, who died in 1949 at 79, is smiling. The man who battled Wall Street and orthodoxy to build the Bank of America, of California, into the largest bank in the world is still a force in U. S. banking.

The Senate Banking and Currency Committee has just voted favorably on what can be termed the "anti-Giannini bill."

If the Committee has its way in S. 256, boards of directors of banks will be a collection of self-selected, self-perpetuating business friends and associates. No further minority stockholder will be able to muscle himself into a bank directorship without an invitation from the management.

The bill has its origin in the depression thirties. Giannini's giant investment company, Transamerica Corp., consented to merge the Giannini-controlled Bank of America in New York with the National City Bank of New York (now the First National City). The exchange of stock gave Transamerica a 10 per cent interest in the merged bank and rights to two seats on the board of directors. But Transamerica had agreed not to ask for places on the board.

This bothered Giannini. In the spring of 1933, according to "Biography of a Bank," the Story of Bank of America," he lunched with James H. Perkins, then chairman of National City. Though they struck up "long, close friendship," Giannini didn't get "invited." He felt that J. P. Morgan had ruled no.

Giannini had a "fine Italian hand" in Washington. When the Banking Act of 1933 amended from the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, it contained a sleeper provision. Shareholders of national banks would have the mandatory right to cumulate their votes, for one, two, or three directors — as they saw fit. If ten directors were to be elected, the holder of 10 per cent of the stock would be able to elect one director. Transamerica Corp., by cumulating its votes, could force the election of two directors of National City. Shortly after the bill became law, Giannini was invited to be a National City director. He'd triumphed.

Sen. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va.) is sponsor of the bill to see that that can't happen again. S. 256 would leave cumulative voting to the discretion of directors of national banks. Which means, in effect, that cumulative voting would gradually disappear. It hampers management.

Under Secretary of the Treasury W. Randolph Burgess, who for many years was a top official of the National City Bank, supports S. 256. He informed the Committee that cumulative voting facilitates the "election of undesirable individuals to the directorates of banks against the wishes and best judgment of the majority owners of stock."

Other supporters are the American Bankers Association, the Virginia Bankers Association, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., the Independent Bankers Association, and numerous individual bankers.

Federal Reserve Board Chairman William McChesney Martin Jr., opposed the bill. To him, "the principle underlying cumulative voting — namely, permitting substantial minority groups of shareholder-ers to be represented on the board — is a sound one."

Sen. Robertson argues that sometimes cumulative voting is used by banks or bank holding companies to spy on competitors or urge mergers.

A strange abuse was cited. A large stockholder in the Nassau County National Bank of Rockville Center, L. I., wanted his 29-year-old son-in-law made a director to "built the boy up" in the community. Under cumulative voting the boy was elected, to the annoyance of the officers and other directors. Later, "to get out of the boy, the bank's assets were sold to the Franklin National Bank."

This bill is drastic medicine. It intrudes already entrenched power. It deprives minority stockholders of national banks of a right they've had for 22 years — a right, incidentally, which they rarely use. The majority on a bank board isn't helpless. The majority can vote down poorly conceived suggestions of minority directors. And a minority representative just might have good ideas. Moreover, the Federal Reserve Board has power to remove directors who misapply their authority.

Cumulative voting is a beneficial force — a constant reminder to officers and directors of banks that they cannot be stuffy, arrogant, and unresponsive to minority opinion. Senators Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.), Herbert H. Lehman (D-N.Y.), and Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) displayed fundamental understanding of stockholder problems in voting against the bill in committee.

The new building will include the sanctuary, with seating for 400, and an educational wing. It will be erected on approximately a quarter of a block of land. 10-Day Term Set On Theft Charge

A 10-day jail sentence was assessed against William Wallace Mausert after he pleaded guilty in County Court this morning to theft charges. Mausert was charged with theft of an $8 paint brush from Montgomery Ward & Company last Tuesday. He was fined $25 in City Court last week when he pleaded guilty to theft of a checker paint brush from F. W. Woolworth Company. He had the fine out in city jail and was transferred to county authorities Saturday. Mausert said in court this morning he was in need of money to go to California, where he had a job. He said he has been in jail in Toronto, Canada, and at five places in the United States on theft charges.

Foreign Ministers Heading For Home

VIENNA, Austria, (U)—The Big Four foreign ministers started home today to begin preparations for the meeting this summer of their government chiefs. Jittery Western Europe, hoped the two major accomplishments of the ministers' weekend reunion in Vienna — agreement on the "summit" conference and signing of the Austrian independence treaty — had brought the West and the Communist world two steps closer to a lasting peace. Ranking Western officials hinted that Stockholm might be chosen as a compromise location for the meeting of President Eisenhower, Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and the British and French Premiers. July or August appeared to be the likeliest times. Russia had proposed Vienna as the site while the West advanced Lausanne, Switzerland.

Don Cockell Has Few Backers In Title Go

Rocky After 48th Win

By BOB MYERS
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Undeatable Rocky Marciano puts his treasured world heavyweight title on the line for the fifth time tonight and practically no one thinks that challenger Don Cockell of England will take it away from the block-buster from Brockton, Mass.

The 39-year-old champion has never been beaten in his 47 fights, dating back to his ring debut in July 1948, and the betting people are laying 9-1 that Rocky will run the incredible string to 48.

Few, indeed, give the pudgy, 26-year-old hog farmer from Horam much of a chance to last the full 15 rounds.

Marciano's blasting fists, they believe, will make the British Empire titleholder, No. 42 on the Rock's kayo record.

The scrap will take place in San Francisco's largest football arena, Kezar Stadium.

NBC will broadcast at 10 p.m. EST.

There will be no home television. It will be televised on a closed circuit for screening in 83 theaters in 59 cities.

Promoters Jimmy Murry and Lou Thomas, in conjunction with the International Boxing Club, remained hopeful that 40,000 fans will pay $400,000 for seats scaled from $40 to $5.

Less optimistic observers looked for a turnout of 20,000 and gate receipts approaching $300,000.

Marciano weighed 189 pounds when he wound up training—with a total of 210 rounds—two days ago at his camp 75 miles north of here at Calistoga.

Cockell, at suburban San Rafael, after 268 rounds of boxing and many long hours of similar labors, was down to 207.

Marciano, who won the championship with a 13-round knockout over Jersey Joe Walcott Sept. 23, 1952, in Philadelphia, has looked great in his workouts.

The key question about the durable Rocky, however, is his nose. Sliced badly on the tip itself in the second Erard Charles fight, last Sept. 17 in New York, the nose was given a plastic surgery repair job.

The champion and his manager, Al Well, believe the nose will stand up under Cockell's punches. But no one really knows for certain because actually the nose has not been given a real belt. A special protective mask was devised to protect it against his sparring mates' blows.

Statistics On The Sluggers

Here's how British challenger Don Cockell and heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano shape up for their scheduled 15-round title bout in San Francisco's Kezar Stadium tonight. Except for age and height, Cockell appears to have the edge in the numbers game all the way down the line. (AP Wirephoto).

Hobbs Outlasts Big Springers

HOBBS, N. M., (SC)—The Big Spring Cops arrived too late with too little and lost a 9-8 Loughorn League decision to the Hobbs Sports here Sunday night.

The Texans were blanked for the first three innings by Evelio Hernandez and didn't uncoil until the seventh, after which they scored seven of their runs.

Ollie Ortiz relieved Hernandez after the Cops had scored twice in the ninth and put out the fire. Julio Delatorre, former Big Spring player, clubbed a two-run home run that helped the Hobbs cause.

Jim Barr started on the mound with Tony Martinez, Frank Billings, Jim Zapp, Pepper Martin and Barr getting two safeties each.

The two teams wifed up their series here tonight. The Cops return to Big Spring Tuesday night to launch a five-game home stand. They will have played their last ten games on the road.

Braves Defeat Stars, 18-15

The Big-Spring Braves outlasted the Sweetwater Stars, 18-15, in a baseball exhibition here Sunday.

The Braves collected 20 hits but were kept in hot water because of nine errors. The Stars drove out 14 hits but had 11 errors.

Harry Dooley, who relieved Allen L. Gillett, in the sixth, received credit for the win.

Alvin Klug and Lieutenant Seigis each had three hits for Big Spring. Jesse Evans, Cornelius Price, Dooley, Claude Tucker, Junior Moten and Gilbert banged out two hits each.

The Braves counted eight runs in the first only to have the Stars get eight in the second.

The teams were tied at 14-14 in the top half of the eighth but Big Spring led the decision with a four-run eighth.

Jesse Reath and Bill Cooper hit home runs for Sweetwater.

Bill Robinson was the losing hurler.

Pat Stapler Wins At Albuquerque

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Mrs. Pat Stapler, Midland, Tex., defeated Jo Boswell, Roswell, N.M., 11 and 10 to win the Women's Southwestern Golf Tournament yesterday.

Mrs. Boswell said she was "completely outplayed by a very fine golfer." She said she wasn't playing as well as she might have, "but even if I had, Pat still would have beaten me."

Country Slaughter Nears End Of Baseball Career

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—There always is a touch of sadness in seeing a big leaguer you have admired approach the end of his career, but there is a special poignancy in the case of Enos Slaughter because old Country has loved the game so greatly and played it so hard every minute he was in there.

One must doubt that there ever will be a plaque for him in the Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, for a 14-year batting average of .304 is only adequate, not gaudy, and the burning zeal to win which was Slaughter's does not show in the official figures. Maybe there should be an annex for players of this type.

The ax fell on the 39-year-old veteran from Roxboro, N. C., the other day when the Yankees, forced to get down to the 25-player limit and finding themselves burdened with two bonus youths who could not be sent out, shipped Enos,

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

There's this thing about it. The Big Spring Cops will be starting what seems to be an entirely new baseball season when they return here to meet Midland tomorrow night.

They will have played but three home games in the last 20 days. The schedule called for them to be on the road most of the first half of May. When the elements discouraged any play in that recent Carlsbad series, that made it that much rougher on the team's bag balance.

Pay rolls still have to be met, even though the team went into the red for the 15-day period from May 1 to May 15.

They deserve a big turnout upon their return here.

Carlsbad's baseball foreman, Thurman Tucker, says Artestia is the best team he's seen in the Loughorn League this season.

There's a good reason for his opinion. The NuMexers whammed the daylight out of his club.

Snyder High School's backfield will be bigger than its line next football season.

Its secondary will average about 180 pounds a man while its forward will average only 170.

That may be the ideal arrangement, however, for modern football calls for a quick-striking primary. Bud Wilkinson's teams have proved that at Oklahoma. Overweight players may hit with authority when they get there but the play might already have come and gone.

There's no doubt about it—Snyder will be a heavy favorite in District 1-AAA play this fall. After all, who can compare with the Tigers' Jack Spikes for all-around ability?

Rueben Smartt, John Goodell and Carroll Holmstrom—all of whom are graduates of the Loughorn League—are now with Big States League teams.

Smartt, Goodell, former Artestia players, are with Tyler while the Roswell ex, Holmstrom, is with Austin.

Ed Furgol, the reigning National Open golf champion, doesn't give Our Town's Billy Maxwell much chance in this year's Open.

Furgol says only Gene Littler of the newcomers is consistent enough to be considered a threat.

I venture to say Billy will finish higher than Ed in this year's play, which will take place in San Francisco starting June 17.

The University of Texas is coming up with its share of promising schoolboy footballers.

Included in the group which will include the Graylan Turner, a halfback from Bastrop; C. L. Branch, Gaston halfback; John Massey, halfback from Ingleside; Freddie Hahn; and from Ingleside, and Charley Burk, a transfer from Victoria Junior College, who plays the line.

San Angelo's Colts obtained their new shortstop, Gene Haradou, from Eugene of the Class B Northwest League. He was with Pampa of the WTM League last season, where he hit .248.

Haradou played winter ball in Panama with Elias Ocorio, the Colts' first sacker.

Little Leaguers Launch Workouts

Little League tryouts will be staged on three different days, starting today.

Those in the Texas League territory will work at the Little League Park in the northeast section of town. National Leaguers will gather at a cleared plot at 1700 Lan-bugler while American Leaguers will drill on the HCJC diamond east of the Jayhawk Gymnasium.

Managers of the city's 12 teams will be on hand to scout material. The workouts get under way at 5 p.m. and continue throughout the week.

Angelo Contest Is Called Off

Idle Sunday, the Big Spring Tigers will divide forces next Sunday to play in two different cities.

One of the teams will go to Merton for a contest while the other will stay here to meet the Midland Stars.

The Bengals were to have played San Angelo yesterday but the Greyhounds disbanded.

San Antonio Back On Top In Texas Loop Standings

By The Associated Press
San Antonio is back on top of the Texas League because of the club that gave it all the trouble in the first place—Fort Worth.

The Cats, toughest outfit in the circuit the past week, took three games from San Antonio and created a tie for the lead. Then they trimmed Houston twice, putting the Missions again in undisturbed first place.

San Antonio lost four games out of five during the meantime, but that one victory was the payoff.

The Missions whipped Dallas 4-1 Sunday while Fort Worth beat Houston 6-2. That dropped Houston and Dallas into a tie for second and left San Antonio high and dry.

Fort Worth has been awesome in its 5-game winning streak, pounding 37 hits and sending 50 runs across the plate. The Cats are in fourth place.

Sunday it was the steady pitching of Mike Lemish that broke Houston. Bob Boyd got to him for a 2-run homer in the first inning, but from then on the Buffs couldn't

Spring Workouts Under Way Today

Spring basketball workouts get under way at the local high school this afternoon after classes.

Coach Johnny Johnson said he plans to continue the workouts for about two weeks.

Johnson has a complete rebuilding job to do, since the Steers lose all their starters from the 1954-55 season.

An estimated 40 boys have indicated they will try out for the team.

Dates For Pro-Am Are Moved Back

—ODESSA, (SC)—Dates for the $7,500 Odessa Pro-Am Golf Tournament have been moved back from June 2-5 to Aug. 25-28, it has been announced.

The change was made to avoid conflict with the qualifying rounds for the National Open Tournament.

Al Kaline Earning Keep As Detroit Shortstop

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

Every day in every way Detroit's Harvey Kuenn is proving he not only is the American League's outstanding shortstop but also one of the best young hitters in baseball.

With the possible exception of outfielder Al Kaline, who suddenly burst into prominence among the power hitters of the circuit, Kuenn has been the big force in the Tigers' surprise showing in the first five weeks of the campaign.

The $55,000 bonus beauty was the Tigers' big hitter yesterday as the fourth-placers divided a double-header with Boston and stayed within 4 1/2 games of the league-leading Cleveland Indians. Kuenn got three hits in the first game, won by Boston 10-4, and four in the second, won by Detroit 9-4. He scored three times, drove in two and boosted his batting mark to a runner-up .379.

A&M Reportedly Getting Boys' Back Lost In Decree

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Coach Paul Bryant went after the athletes made "free agents" by the Southwest Conference action in putting Texas A&M on probation today and reported he was getting them back.

In fact, declared the Aggie head coach, more than a dozen of the high school boys whose letters of intent were cancelled "say now, more than ever, they'll be with us."

Meanwhile, Texas A&M officials laid the onus for the athletic recruiting troubles on the alumni.

The conference Saturday handed A&M the first probation in conference history. It also wiped out all A&M letters of intent—the contracts that are used to insure a boy attending a certain college and forbade A&M from participating in post-season athletic contests after Sept. 15. The probation is for two years.

The specific charges were not revealed but it was known that A&M backers were accused of offering prospective athletes more than they were allowed under conference rules to sign letters of intent.

Bryant said "When you're down, that's the time to begin to fight," and said he would contact all of the boys in an effort to get them to come to A&M. The boys still can be given athletic scholarships to A&M although they cannot be protected from other schools by the letter of intent.

College officials said the coaches would do all recruiting without help of the alumni. "As long as we're doing it, it can assure there won't be any violations," said Bryant.

W. T. Doherty, president of the board of directors, called the penalty too severe and said they were still behind Bryant. Indicating that the alumni was being blamed, Doherty said "It is extremely difficult to control actions of an enthusiastic alumni, which was the case in this instance."

The number and names of boys involved, estimated at more than 20, were not revealed either by the college or the conference.

The probation means A&M cannot play in the Cotton Bowl if it should win the conference football championship nor can it play in any other bowl. A&M hasn't won a conference title since 1941 and last year won only one game.

Ashers Defeat Midland In Wild One

The Associated Press

The Loughorn League, long known as a hitters' league, was a pitchers' nightmare Sunday night. There were 80 runs, 112 hits and 22 errors. Twenty-two pitchers saw service.

But the only change in the standings was San Angelo taking over sole possession of fourth place—by two percentage points. San Angelo had entered the night's play tied with Big Spring for the slot.

The wildest was at Carlsbad, where the Potashers hung a 20-13 defeat on Midland. Artestia brushed past San Angelo 11-10 in 13 innings. Odessa blasted Roswell 8-1 and Hobbs shipped Big Spring 5-1.

At Carlsbad, the Potashers scored five runs each in the first, sixth, seventh and eighth innings. The game was featured by back-to-back homers by Glen Burns and Al Jimenez of Midland in the ninth.

It was almost as wild, but closer, at Artestia. Bob Herron poked a double in the bottom of the 13th to end a 5-hour, 43-minute contest. The box score on this one says 34 hits, eight errors, eight pitchers, six home runs and two players thrown out of the game.

Jerry Tucker, of Odessa, came up with the best pitching performance of the evening in stopping Roswell on five hits. He got the backing of 14 hits—and was in complete control.

Pollett Pitches Win Over Sox

The Associated Press
Tom Pollett fashioned a three-hitter Sunday night to hurl Pampa into sole possession of first place in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Pollett's performance, supported by a four-run spurt in the second, brought the Oilers a 7-1 victory over Abilene. That, combined with Albuquerque and Lubbock defeats, handed Pampa the top spot. The three had entered the night's play in a tie for first.

Albuquerque was jolted 10-3 by Amarillo, while Lubbock was shut out on four hits by Jack Cordey and Plainview, 7-0. Clifton leaped from fifth to a tie for third with a 15-3 mauling of El Paso.

Pollett had no trouble after his mates provided him with the comfortable margin in the second. He fanned six and walked only three. The only run Abilene scored, in the fourth, was unearned.

Weeps With Joy

An unidentified mother weeps with joy as she locates her son in one of the hospitals where the ferry survivors were taken, after the disastrous collision of two ferry boats in Japan's Inland Sea May 11. Make-shift hospitals and funeral parlors were set up at the port of Takamatsu to take care of the survivors and victims. A total of 775 passengers, mostly children, were rescued from the disaster.

'Vaccine' Needed For Labor Strife

Editor's Note — Norman Walker, Associated Press labor reporter, writes in January that labor unions were shooting for big economic gains and that 1955 would be "a turbulent year in labor-management relations." With the year one third over, Walker takes a new look at the situation.

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON — They'd better start working on a vaccine against labor strife. The disease is rampant this spring and could spread into a summer epidemic. Strikes are increasing. Those so far this year have been rough, tough and prolonged.

Some even more threatening situations are just around the corner in the auto, steel, electrical, meat-packing, maritime and copper industries, to name a few. Even John L. Lewis may try to hit the strike headlines again. Mounting labor troubles normally come with the spring season. But this spring's rash of strikes seems to herald a new intensity and determination in bargaining, a considerable contrast from 1954's record labor peace.

What's behind the apparent fight-to-the-finish attitude in labor negotiations? Unions seem to feel they were too backward last year. They point to employers' profits statements and say 1955 is "a big money year." Besides their usual wage demands, they're pushing for such other costly benefits as guaranteed employment, pensions and profit-sharing plans.

Employers have been taken a bit unawares. They became accustomed last year to negotiating rather modest contract settlements with relatively few strikes. They are slow to realize the new union belligerency and seem surprised when walkouts occur. Their reaction is to toughen up.

These clashing views are causing labor-management fireworks all over the nation. They pose for President Eisenhower his first real taste of labor troubles.

Eisenhower is standing pat on his policy of keeping the White House out of worker-employer disputes as much as possible, contrasting with former President Truman's frequent interventions.

Eisenhower and Secretary of Labor Mitchell were under considerable pressure from state governors and others to intervene in the recent 59-day Louisville & Nashville Railroad strike because of its terrific impact on Dixie's economy. But they stood fast.

Figures compiled by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service show that service field staffers were working on less than 50 strikes involving some 8,000 workers in January, but by May they were trying to put out the fire in more than 120 walkouts which had idled 100,000.

An important factor in the cloudy labor relations picture is the "pattern" factor. This relates to the follow-the-leader tendency of employees and unions to settle their disputes on the bargaining pattern set by others. Some negotiators are marking time, waiting for a pattern to develop in the crucial auto and steel contract talks in the next month or so. Steel and autos are the traditional pace-setters.

A growing number of employers want to try to "beat the pattern" and negotiate cheaper contract deals tailored to their own economic needs.

This could cause trouble. Because just as employers strive against overcommitting their revenues on labor costs, unions strive to do as well or better than other unions.

For instance, President David J. McDonald of the CIO United Steelworkers will be out to match or exceed in the steel industry what Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, manages to extract from the auto industry. However, steel contracts don't permit negotiation of guaranteed wage plans such as Reuther seeks in autos.

Next month is likely to tell much of the 1955 labor story. The auto union's contract with Ford expires June 1 and with General Motors June 7. Steel wage talks mature June 30. Several maritime union contracts expire at the end of June.

Telephone worker negotiations get under way in June. The strike by the CIO Communications Workers of America against Southern Bell is a hangover from the union's 1954 bargaining. The union has off its 1955 discussions, with Michigan Bell, in June.

Another hot spot will be the electrical manufacturing industry, particularly at sizable contract gains are negotiated in steel and autos.

Even the ailing coal industry has begun showing signs of life in the general economic pickup. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, has waited more than two years for coal operators to earn enough money to warrant his making a bid for part of it.

A year ago at this time some of the biggest strikes, although they were relatively few, were in the construction industry. This spring contracts are being settled with a minimum of fuss. The reasons seem to be that many building trades contracts were written last year for long terms and, with the construction business booming, contractors don't feel much like arguing over wage increases.

Longest Nuclear Test Series Over

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (P)—The longest, most diversified atomic test series yet held—14 blasts in three months—is over, but U. S. nuclear weaponeers today looked forward to an imminent underwater detonation off the coast of California. The Pacific test will be held several hundred miles out in the ocean with the Navy in charge and, for the first time, apparently no top Atomic Energy Commission scientist on hand.

The Defense Department, announcing the test May 9, said it would take place "within a few days." The test area was described as several hundred miles from the closest land and completely clear of fishing grounds and shipping lanes.

The test is to obtain information vital to defense against submarine attack.

Yesterday's Nevada blast — perhaps the last here for two years — was one of the largest in the series. The force was estimated at 35 kilotons, or 35,000 tons of TNT, more than 1 1/2 times the nominal A-bomb's strength.

It gave Indian Springs, 35 miles away, a substantial shake, battle and roll. The control point, 14 miles back of the 500-foot blast tower, received a very sharp crack. Ploche, Nev., 100 miles northeast, got a good roll, but the blast was barely heard in Las Vegas, 75 miles southeast.

Two supersonic F100 Super Sabre jets simulated bomb runs just before the big blast. Ninety aircraft took part, bringing to 2,600 the number of sorties flown during the series by Air Force, Navy and Marine planes.

Car, Bus Collide; Leaving One Dead

OXNARD, Calif. (P)—A passenger car and a Greyhound bus collided last night 4 1/2 miles east of here, killing one person and injuring 12.

The car driver, Jess V. Meraz, 43, Santa Paula, Calif., was dead on arrival at a hospital.

The injured included Meraz's wife Petra and two daughters, Mary and Helen; three other children who were in his car; the bus driver, Chester Green, South Gate, Calif.; and five women bus passengers.

Patrolmen said the Meraz car failed to make an intersection stop and was struck by the bus, which carried 34 persons.

Murder Charge

MEXIA, Tex. (P)—Joe David Pounds, 38, was charged with murder after his father I. B. Pounds, about 60, was shot to death on his front porch last night.

Underwater Atom Blast Won't Contaminate Air

WASHINGTON (P)—The underwater atomic explosion off the West Coast to evolve antisubmarine tactics may produce little or no atomic cloud and air contamination.

This will be partly the result of the extreme caution the Atomic Energy Commission and Defense Department are using to avoid complaints about drifting radioactivity like those which followed the 1954 hydrogen test in the Marshall Islands.

It also may result from the conditions under which the test presumably may be conducted, an explosion of a small nuclear gadget in relatively deep water.

Protests against the forthcoming test have been lodged by commercial fishermen in California, who are concerned about destruction or contamination of fish. An AEC - Defense Department announcement of the project a week ago emphasized that "no hazard is involved to mainland or island inhabitants, or to the fishing industry or consumers of fish."

A test of an atomic depth charge for combatting enemy submarines undoubtedly will be conducted at depths at which submarines operate when in escape and evasion tactics. This ranges from 200 to 500 or more feet.

A "small yield" nuclear device, such as the announcement mentioned, could be as little as one kiloton or slightly larger. A kiloton is the energy released by 1,000 tons of standard TNT.

Protests against the forthcoming test have been lodged by commercial fishermen in California, who are concerned about destruction or contamination of fish. An AEC - Defense Department announcement of the project a week ago emphasized that "no hazard

Former Mental Patient Kills Sheriff At Groesbeck

GROESBECK, Tex., (AP)—A sharp-shooting former mental patient killed the Limestone County sheriff with one shot through the head at 40 yards yesterday. Then, with a .22 rifle, he held off an army of 100 officers and an armored half-track several hours before being flushed by a mass charge of lawmen.

The sheriff, J. Harry Dunlap, 47, had gone to question M. J. Tynes about the shooting of a neighbor. Tynes, 44, was due to be recommitted to a mental hospital.

After he was shot, Dunlap lay in the crossfire two hours until officers created a disturbance at the front of the story-and-a-half farm home to draw Tynes' attention. Other officers then pulled back the sheriff but found he apparently had died instantly.

The half-track, obtained from the National Guard, lobbed 10 to 15 rounds of tear gas into the house. When this failed to flush Tynes, officers charged the rear of the residence.

Tynes rushed out of the house to meet them, screaming and firing wildly. Officers had to use force to subdue him.

His condition was considered critical but improved today.

He was shot in the right shoulder, left leg, left hip and left forearm, and was also burned and cut.

Dr. Stanley Cox said he signed documents Saturday to return Tynes to the Terrell State Mental Hospital and was waiting for the signature of another doctor before having officers commit him.

A neighbor of Tynes, Johnny Ray Bentley, 17, was shot and seriously wounded Saturday night while attempting to investigate but was driven off by three shots.

With the addition of Kansas City to the American League schedule, the Washington Senators will travel an additional 2,818 miles this year.

Jubilant Austria Celebrates Treaty

VIENNA, Austria, (AP)—Jubilant Austria celebrated into the dawn today the Big Four signing of the historic treaty pledging her freedom after 14 years of hot and cold war.

Church bells pealed across the land as millions rejoiced. The pact makes Austria a sovereign state for the first time since Hitler annexed her to Nazi Germany in March 1938.

Within 90 days after the treaty is ratified by the Big Four and Austria, some 70,000 troops of the United States, Russia, Britain and France will pull out and Austria's freedom will become a final reality.

Avoid all the revel, there was an undercurrent of uneasiness over the little country's economic future. It was feared particularly that heavy payments to Russia might upset the economic stability attained with U.S. help during the 10 years of Big Four occupation.

There was also the realization that a series of economic crises might drive the central European country, pledged to neutrality, into Russian hands.

Such disturbing thoughts and a drizzling rain did little to dampen the long-awaited celebration.

The bells and waltzes were set off yesterday when Russia's V. M. Molotov, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan, Secretary of State Dulles, France's Antoine Pinay and Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figl signed the thick, leather-bound treaty promised Austria as far back as 1943.

A few minutes after the signing, cheers of 18,000 Austrians welled up from the streets outside Vienna's historic Belvedere Palace, where the ceremony took place. The great bell of 700-year-old St. Stephen's Cathedral pealed the joyous news. Churches throughout the Alpine country took up the call.

Later thousands went to the square in front of St. Stephen's for a mass conducted by Theodor Cardinal Innitzer. Others waltzed in Vienna's rain-drenched Ringstrasse to the music of street-corner bands.

Similar celebrations were held in Linz, Salzburg, Innsbruck and other Austrian cities and villages. Chancellor Julius Raab went to the palace of 80-year-old President Theodor Koerner to relay the news. Koerner also received this message from President Eisenhower:

"The American people are proud and happy at the prospect of Austria being able to play its full part in world affairs with dignity, self-respect and freedom."

The treaty, finally signed after long years of East-West haggling, restores Austria's frontiers as they were before Hitler's armies marched in 17 years ago.

She is allowed an army as large as she likes and will be able to join the United Nations. But she is barred from foreign alliances and can allow no foreign military bases on her soil. She also must make no new merger with Germany and is committed to prevent the growth of any Nazi-like organizations.

The pact makes no call on Austria for reparations. However, she must pay Russia 150 million dollars for return of properties the Germans originally seized and the Russians confiscated, and must deliver 10 million tons of oil in 10 years for oil rights and concessions the treaty originally gave the Soviets.

School Voters Put Approval On Segregation

MILFORD, Del. (AP)—Voters of the Milford school district, turning out in more than three times their usual numbers, have named a new four-man school board which has promised continued racial segregation.

A total of 3,260 votes were cast in the election Saturday, which had reflected undercurrents of the integration squabble here last fall. The School Board election usually draws only about 1,000 votes.

The vote counting was completed early yesterday.

Bryant Bowles, president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People, supported the winning ticket. He said his support wasn't solicited and the pro-segregation slate said it wasn't connected with the NAACP.

The winners, who promised to use "every legal avenue available to protect the rights of residents of the Milford district in the matter of segregation," included:

George A. Robbins, 1,933 votes; Crerar Bennett, 1,924; Max R. Corder, 1,912; and Ernest C. Macklin, 1,878. Robbins is a member of the present board, which has been serving temporarily since last fall's flareup.

Three members of the present board were defeated. George F. Adams collected 1,279 votes; Edmond F. Steiner, 1,251; and David B. Greene, 1,241. Another member of the slate, Ray C. Scarborough, also got 1,241 votes.

Three of the four losers had said they were for segregation, but added that they would follow any subsequent directive handed down by the Supreme Court.

Trouble began here last September, soon after the School Board admitted 11 Negro students to the Lakewood Avenue High School.

Bowles set up a branch of his organization and urged parents to keep their children out of school until the Negroes were ousted.

When the State Board of Education refused to back the local board's action in admitting the Negroes, the four members quit.

The interim board ordered the Negroes out of the school, and the Delaware Supreme Court upheld the ousting, ruling the local board had failed to comply with a requirement of the state board to submit a plan of integration before admitting the Negroes.

News While It's News

People in the Big Spring area are receiving better news service than ever before—news on the day it's news—no "pre-date" editions—through 6 special motor routes maintained by The Herald. In the small communities, in the oil camps, on the farms, they're finding in The Herald a newspaper that publishes news of interest to them. West Texas oil, West Texas farming and ranching, West Texas sports, West Texas women's activities, West Texas happenings. That's the reason more and more people on these routes and in this area are saying "Leave us The Herald."

THE PAYOFF TO ADVERTISERS

This daily delivery, right to area homes, is "money in the bank" for the merchant who uses Herald advertising. No other medium, of any-kind, anywhere, can reach the same people who are looking for better values, who want a good place to shop, and who turn to The Herald for their shopping guide. This is real benefit to Big Spring merchants who have a sales story to tell to the people in this area. The rural daily delivery is, of course, in addition to the 50 city route carriers who put the Herald every day, right at the door of nearly 6,000 Big Spring homes.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

An orchestra of the Middle Ages, as drawn by an artist about 600 years ago.

The word "music" came from the Muses. According to Greek story tellers of long ago, the Muses were nine goddesses, the daughters of Zeus, king of the gods.

The Muses were said to guard over song, poetry and other fine arts. For a time the fine arts in general were classed under music, but later the name was limited to musical sounds.

A great deal of music comes from instruments. In addition we have music in the form of songs from the throats of people and birds.

The large harps of ancient Egypt were important, but Egypt had other instruments. Ancient pictures in the Nile valley show the people using lyres, pipes and rattles to make music. Sometimes large crowds of Egyptians, as many as 500 or 600 persons, gathered to sing, and to play on musical instruments.

The ancient Romans did little to help music. Like the soldiers of Egypt they blew trumpets, and added to the so-called "martial" music.

Some hymns were written for early Christian gatherings. The Gregorian chant was developed as music for the church.

The musical staff was invented about 950 years ago, and it helped the progress of the art. Minstrels sang love songs and ballads. Usually musical instruments were played while the singing was going on.

During the Middle Ages, people in Europe gained some knowledge of music in the Near East. Crusaders brought back tunes which they had learned from Saracens and others.

For two centuries the Dutch led Europe in the art of music. Their masters made counterpoint popular. Several persons took part in singing a song which had two or more melodies woven together.

Later, after the time of Columbus, Germany, Austria and Italy were the chief countries to help the progress of music. The German masters included Bach, Beethoven, Handel and Mozart.

New Corruption Probe In Making

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new Senate investigation reminiscent of the "5 per center" probes conducted during the Truman administration is in the making.

Starting Wednesday, the Senate Investigations subcommittee will hold public hearings in an inquiry described by Chairman McClellan (D-Ark) over the weekend as involving "corruption" in clothing contracts for the armed forces.

He said the gift of at least one home freezer had been disclosed in testimony already taken behind closed doors, but he added, "It goes beyond that to actual cash payments."

Gifts of home freezers figured in a 1949 investigation the subcommittee made of influence peddlers and persons dealing with the government for private interests for a fee, often 5 per cent.

Contracts totaling several million dollars for white sailor hats, raincoats, garrison caps and other clothing items are involved in the present investigation, McClellan said.

Children Saved From Fire Bomb

HOUSTON (AP)—As three children slept in a parked car yesterday, a homemade fire bomb rolled under it and burst into flames. A passer-by saved the children from possible tragedy.

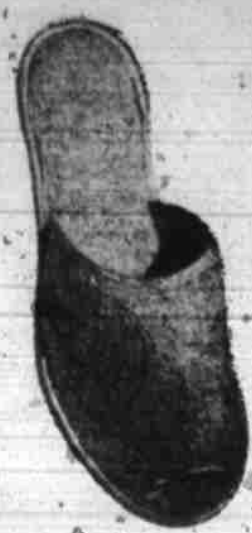

Two 15-year-old boys admitted throwing the bomb. Said one: "It was just for kicks." Otto Hardt said he and his wife left the children in the car while they were in a friend's house for coffee.

Minutes later, investigators said, the boys tossed a beer bottle filled with kerosene or gasoline—with a long wick—out their car window. The bottle rolled under Hardt's car and flared up.

Frank Horrigan, passing by, tried to start the car but couldn't. He blew the horn. Hardt rushed from the house and drove the car away.

The youths were arrested after they drove up and pretended to be curious. They were lectured and turned over to their parents.

DATE DATA
By Beverly Brandow

How Much Money?
Dear Miss Brandow:
How much money does a boy have to spend on a girl to rate?
George

It's not the amount of money you spend that counts as much as your timing in spending it.
Money should be spent on special occasions like birthdays and Christmases as well as for corsages for special dances.

On routine dates you can economize. Your first few dates are anything but routine. They compose a critical time in dating in which the girl is trying to make up her mind whether she wants to spend much time with you.

Plan these dates carefully and see that they have variety and interest. They may entail stretching the budget a bit.

After a while the girl will be interested in being with you more than in going some place expensive. Promotion to sell any product, including yourself, costs some money.

A fortune needn't be spent on each date, particularly if you date her frequently. You can keep her interested in long walks and television in the living room as long as you keep her from feeling "taken for granted."

How? Sharpening your memory is one way. Notice what she wears, her favorite colors or flowers. Occasionally bring her some trinket from the dime store because it is her favorite color, or pick wild flowers or flowers from your own yard for her.

It would look "cheap" as an economy measure for a special occasion, but not as an impulsive gesture. Girls like impromptu gifts given for no reason except that you like them and were thinking about them while you were out shopping or weeding Mom's garden.

The romantic "little" things count more in winning her affection than all the stuffed wallets in the world.

U.S. Weather Is Hodge-Podge

By The Associated Press

Today's weather was a hodge-podge—clear and mild from the Great Lakes eastward into New England; snow, rain, sleet, thunderstorms and freezing temperatures to the west; thunderstorms in the South; and blowing dust in Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska.

Just east of the Continental Divide in Montana, snow was falling. It was a continuation of yesterday's fall that disrupted air travel and blocked highways. Most of it melted as it fell except in the mountain passes.

All along the Canadian border states from Minnesota to eastern Washington and Oregon there was rain, snow and sleet, or a mixture of them. Precipitation amounts generally ranged downward from Miles City, Mont.'s 1.95 inches. Winds which had gusted Sunday up to 60 miles an hour continued to hurl dust far aloft in the drought areas of eastern Colorado, southeastern Wyoming, western Kansas and New Mexico.

It was continued mild and warmer—as much as 15 degrees—along the northern tier of states from Minnesota eastward, but heavy thunder showers fell in parts of the South. Hopkinsville, Ky., reported a six-hour fall of more than 2 inches early today. Houston had a 3-inch rain yesterday and damage from golf-ball size hail-stones.
