A high wind from the west blowing much dirt was in progress all day Thursday. We need a good rain now. We've had enough wind for this spring.—Claude News.

Well, Waggoner, what are you going to do about it?

Many folks are talking up a road bond election but according to reports that come to us nobody wants a small bond issue. A bond issue which, with state aid, will be sufficient to hard-surface the main highways and to put in good condition the lateral roads of the county seems to be generally favored. It will take a lot of money to do this work, but the people seem to be in favor of doing the work well. Many are asking why a campaign for the bonds is not begun. The columns of the News are open to any citizen of the county for an expression of his views.

We are living in a fast age,—too fast for many of us even stop and think. If we think at all, we must think quickly. As for meditation, most folks don't know what the word means. This is an age of entertainment—light and frivolous entertainment. The deep thinkers in our legislative halls, in the editorial chair, in the pulpit even, are rare. We need in this country a return to sober thought, to periods of self-examination. And despite the seeming frivolous character of the age, we believe there is still room at the top for the man who really thinks and who has the power to forcefully express his thought in the press, in the political arena, or in the pulpit. Too much of our thinking, as expressed in pulpit, press and legislative halls, and elsewhere, only skims the surface, and then leaves the cream.

We have noted many editorial comments on the action of the jury which sat in the Collier case at Wichita Falls and assessed his punishment at three years in the penitentiary, and thus far we have not seen a single favorable comment. Some of the expressions are severe, and some of them take occasion to criticize the courts in general without discriminating between officers and juries. The inadequacy of the punishment assessed in that case, as in every such case, is chargeable up to the jury. Juries are made up of the citizenship of the country. They are the average men of the country, and therefore the tendencies on the part of juries to turn criminals loose or to inflict only light penalties for murder and other crimes only reflects the attitude of the general public in such matters. What we need in this country is a higher regard for human life and a stronger public sentiment against the taking of life. When the public comes to regard the shedding of blood as a serious matter, whatever the circumstances, and whenever it comes to the point where it properly praises the heinousness of the crime of murder, then juries will quit turning murderers loose or inflicting only light penalties. Not till then.

Rev. W. K. Johnston, the Presbyterian pastor, delivered a message Sunday morning that ought to be delivered all over the country. His text was: "Who is on the Lord's side?" His message was a call back to the Bible standards of righteousness. Men need to have a conscience about the things that are right and wrong. Men need to take an uncompromising stand for right, in all of life's activities,—to stand for law and order, for civic righteousness, for social purity, for obedience to God, for everything that is right and against everything that is wrong. But political nostrums will not cure the world. A mere gospel of social service will not avail. A right attitude toward God is essential. Men need to have some sense of sin. They need to have respect and reverence for God and his laws. "Create within me a clean heart and renew a right spirit within me, O God", is the prayer that we need to pray. What America needs and what the world needs is a return to the Bible and to God. That and that alone will save America and the world.

The entertainment given by Thos. Elmore Lucy at the High School auditorium Friday night is reputed by those who were present to have been one of the best that has ever been staged in Tahoka; but the crowd present was distressingly small. One reason assigned for the smallness of the crowd is that most people thought it was to be only a lecture. But why should that militate against it? Do people find no pleasure or food for thought in lectures any more? We will remember the day when the lecturer drew great crowds—and the people often went away praising the lecturer. We remember the day, too, when great actors appeared in person on the stage and presented all kinds of plays, from Hamlet and Macbeth and Julius Caesar on down. Even many of the smaller towns were occasionally favored by the presentation of one of Shakespeare's dramas by a group of the masters of the stage. Now, who ever hears of an actor, except in the roll of movie stars? It seems that the day of the tragedian, who used to stand on the platform and by his wit, his wisdom and his eloquence, entertain and sway the multitudes, has gone forever. It seems that the day of the tragedian, who used to appear on the stage in real flesh and blood and speak and act out the part of the hero in the world's greatest dramas, has likewise been consigned to the junk heap. All this has been replaced by the movies. There is no need to bewail the passing of the lecturer and the actor. They served their day and generation. Some of them were uplifting and inspiring; others were corrupting and hurtful. But masters of the platform and the stage in that day presented cleaner and better entertainment on the whole than do the Charley Chaplins and the Fatty Arbuckles of the present day.

Through the kindness of E. I. Hill and we listened Monday at noon to a sermon delivered by Dr. Geo. W. Truett in the Palace Theatre at Dallas. It is worth any man's time to take a half hour off at every opportunity to hear such a "course". Truett is really one of the great men of America. He stands in the very forefront in the ministry. He uses no clap trap. He is no acrobat or clown in the pulpit. He pulls no sensational stunts. He employs none of the means that some evangelists must employ to attract attention. He just talks straight from his heart to the heart of men. He has a fine voice. His enunciation is perfect. His modulation and accent are superb. There is a persuasive note, a tender appeal, in his voice that strikes deep into the soul of the listener, and his message always goes home. One preacher like George Truett is worth a thousand like some of the professional, sensation-loving, acrobatic clownish "evangelists" that are going about over the country deceiving the people and stirring up strife by their hypocritical harangues and circus-ring methods. The world needs more preachers of the type of George Truett.

Wilson News

Well, we are still dry—and very dry out this way.

The Sunday Schools here are progressing nicely. We also have prayer meeting at the Baptist and Methodist Churches every Wednesday night. Every one is cordially invited to attend.

Lavod Hyde returned Saturday from Rockdale. Quite a few of our people were in Tahoka Friday and Saturday.

Some of the farmers around here have their land prepared, and some have not plowed very much. Some of our good ladies have planted some gardens but most of them are afraid winter is not over.

The young people's class in the Methodist Sunday School will have a pie, cake, and chicken sale next Saturday at W. E. Galloway's store. It is for the benefit of the class. Don't be stingy, men, buy your wife a nice cake for Sunday dinner and save her the work of cooking one.

Misses Jimmie Cherry and Hattie Server spent Sunday with the Dulin girls.

News is scarce this week but we will try and do better hereafter.

Edith News

Dean Nowlin of O'Donnell visited with home folks Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Huff of Wilson visited Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Campbell Sunday.

Clayton Hardwick returned from Abilene Wednesday with his bride. We wish for them a happy and prosperous life.

Our school had a picnic April 1. They went down in the "breaks" about three miles south of Grassland. There was quite a crowd, and all report a good time.

Our Sunday School is doing nicely. We have good crowds each Sunday. There are more people in our community that should come.

EDITOR TAKES A SPIN

In spite of the wind and sand, the editor made a run through Grassland, Draw, Redwine, and Edith communities Sunday afternoon. We note that there has been considerable improvement at both Grassland and Draw recently. At Grassland, a new Methodist Church is just being completed. Several residences have been recently constructed. A store building was erected not long ago. Everything bears the mark of prosperity. At Draw two or three stores and several residences have recently been built. Much new land has been placed in cultivation in that vicinity during the past year and many farm houses erected. Both Redwine and Edith have excellent school buildings and there are other evidences of the progressiveness of the people of these communities. Most of the land in all the fine territory through which we passed has been prepared and is ready for planting. When the rains come, the farmers are going to be exceedingly busy. One can not visit the communities above named without forming a high opinion both of the country and the people who inhabit it. We want to repeat that Lynn county is one of the best on the plains and its people are among the finest in the world. Good people, come to Lynn county.

McCORMICK-DEBRING CO ASKS: "HOW DO YOU HANDLE YOUR ADVERTISING?"

Unfortunately some dealers are inclined to base their opinion of advertising on their experiences with advertising donations made in the name of charity, education, community uplift, religion, athletic tournaments, etc. Every dealer is solicited for these causes from time to time, and must dig down into his pockets for so-called advertising contributions. The fact is that these expenditures should not be classed as advertising and should not be charged to advertising. They are items of general operating expense and should be charged as such.

There is only one real, business-like way for the farm implement dealer to arrange his advertising. He should figure out his past year's volume of sales carefully, then set aside an amount of, say, 2 per cent of his gross sales for advertising purposes. For example, if his gross sales amounted to $25,000 he should appropriate a blanket sum of $500 for his year's advertising.

With this sum as a basis to work from he should decide how the amount should be spent to bring greatest returns.

The Newspaper editor should be consulted and a definite campaign, consisting of advertisements regularly throughout the year, arranged for and followed faithfully.—McCormick Deering Advertising Dealer.

Spring Suit Buying time is here

Buying a suit for price alone satisfies the desire to out-smart the other fellow, to get the better of the buying game, to get that something for nothing. At first it also satisfies the necessity for good appearance. And then it rains and the suit goes to the cleaners, or just natural wear takes place and there's a consciousness that someone else has gotten the better of the argument. The suit is actually shabby—the style goes with the first pressing and the price buyer is ready for a lesson in value.

If the suit Gives Good Service, you've made a bargain and if it doesn't you have made a poor investment no matter how little you paid for it—the LAST TEN DOLLARS count more than any other in buying value in a suit of clothes.

Well Known Boxer of Wichita Falls. Has met Kid Rich Duke, Trammell and most leading Boxers of Texas. Always willing to mix it. Will be seen in action against Jack Denton April 15.

BOXERS WHO WILL FIGHT DENTON BOYS UNDER AUSPICES OF LEGION HERE SOON

The American Legion Boys of Tahoka are preparing to stage two big athletic events in Tahoka at early dates, in which the two Denton boys of Tahoka will be star performers.

The first of these will be a boxing bout on Wednesday night, April 15, between "Battling" Jennings of Wichita Falls and Jack Denton of Tahoka. This will consist of ten rounds.

Jennings is reputed to be a hard hitter but local fans are predicting that Jack will win the contest. Denton has met many of the best men of the entire southwest and has gained a reputation that is more than state wide. This will be a big event for every boxing fan in this section of the state.

The second of the events to be staged by the Legion boys will be a boxing match between Cal Lance of Gainsville and Joe Denton of Tahoka. This event will take place on Saturday night, May 2. Again the boxing fans of Tahoka are predicting a victory for the Tahoka man. They realize, however, that Denton's antagonist is a dangerous fighter, and they expect to see this fight one of the best that has ever been pulled off in the Panhandle-Plains. Joe has even a more widely known reputation throughout the southwest than Jack.

Each of these boxing contests will be preceded by wrestling matches that promise to be a great drawing card within themselves.

If you are a boxing fan you will not want to miss either of these big events.

CAL LANCE

Will be seen in action against "Clever" Joe Denton. Lance is one of the most popular boxers in the Southwest. He is a ring artist of the Clean type. Knocked out Rufe Bentley and many of the best known boxers of the Southwest. His home is at Gainsville. He meets Joe May 2.

DO YOU READ THEM?

Once in a while a man is found who admits that he doesn't read advertisements in his local paper. It is very seldom that this happens for it is nothing to brag about. The man who says that he does not read advertisements is a near relative of the man who says that he does not read legal papers before he signs them. Most persons, however, read advertisements without realizing that they read them.

The man who says that he does not read advertisements admits that he does not care enough about getting the most for his money to spend a few minutes of his time reading the paper. Every advertisement may not offer something that will give him excellent value for his money, for he may have no need for some of the things advertised but there will be some things advertised in the paper for which he does have a real need. It will pay each individual well for his time if he takes the trouble of finding the very best values offered.

This is really idle talk. What is the use of telling and re-telling people as intelligent as the readers of the Leader that it pays to advertise and to read advertisements, when every day they wash their teeth with advertised tooth paste, wear advertised clothes, drink advertised coffee, eat advertised groceries, chew advertised tobacco, ride in advertised cars, and go to see advertised pictures. Well, it all goes back to one of the fundamental principles of advertising: People do not need to be informed so much as they need to be reminded. Wellington Leader.

When making your order for Groceries, call for Tahoka bread. There is none better. Why send your money out of town for that which is made here in your own town?

The Redwine girls and boys went over to Joe Bailey and matched them in a game last Wednesday. The senior girls' game was 4 to 2 in favor of Redwine. The senior boys' was 4 to 5 in favor of Joe Bailey. The junior boys' game was 12 to 6 in favor of Redwine. Hurry up, senior boys, don't let the others beat you.

CAM MURRAY IS DISTRICT ROAD SUPERVISOR
 Cam Murray, who has been connected with the public service of the State in one capacity or another for a number of years and who has a number of friends in Tahoka, was recently appointed by Joe Burkett as supervisor of the state highways for this district, which embraces nine counties including Lubbock and Lynn. His headquarters will be at Lubbock. He was here Saturday in conference with Sam Sanford, the supervisor of a portion of Lynn and Garza counties. Mr. Murray is a very capable man and a most affable gentleman and Judge Burkett is to be commended for the appropriateness and wisdom of this appointment. We are sure that the roads of this district will have proper attention so far as the work of the general supervisor is concerned.

 Invitations are being mailed out by Sheriff Jack Yarbrough to practically all of the sheriffs of West Texas to attend the meeting of the West Texas Sheriff's Convention to be held in Sweetwater in an all day session on April 10.
 The meeting will be a get-together meeting at which the officers will discuss the problems that they meet up with. In all probability sheriffs, constables, and other peace officers from thirty or forty counties of West Texas will be in Sweetwater on that day. At the last meeting, held at Eastland a few weeks ago, the sheriffs voted to hold the next convention here. —Nolan County News.

LUMAN FREED UNDER HEAVY BOND AT LUBBOCK
 LUBBOCK, April 4.—District Attorney Parke N. Dalton and Deputy Sheriff Vernice Ford returned to Lubbock late Friday after spending most of the day in Post in the interest of the cases of the State of Texas vs. Will Luman and Ed Walker charged with murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Roy C. Dalton. Luman and Walker are also under indictments on charges of violations of the prohibition laws.
 By agreement with Merchison & Davidson, of Haskell, J. T. Price, of Post City and Vickers and Campbell, of Lubbock, attorneys for the defendant, the state set Luman's bond on the murder charge at $25,000 and his bond on the liquor charge at $3,000. The bonds were made by Luman and he was released from the Garza County Jail where he had been confined since his indictment.

SHEPHERD FILLS PULPIT AT LUBBOCK SUNDAY
 Rev. B. N. Shepherd filled the pulpit of the first Baptist Church at Lubbock last Saturday morning in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Bowen, who is conducting a revival meeting in Atlanta Ga. He and Mrs. Shepherd and daughter Gertrude went up Saturday afternoon and spent the night.
 Judge C. H. Cain returned Friday from Austin, where he had spent a day or two on business. The Judge says that when he left it was still dry throughout that section of the state. Corn was up in a few spots but was twisting up and apparently doing no good. This drought which we are beginning to complain is not merely a west Texas affair. In fact it is becoming far more serious to the people of central Texas than to us on the south plains.
