SCHOOL BOND ELECTION THURSDAY

Big Spring's Future In Aviation At Stake

CENSUS ROUND-UP STARTED HERE

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

If you have not been listed in the federal census please call the Chamber of Commerce and give your name and address.

It develops several hundred persons residing within the city either have not been found or called upon by the enumerators or else they have been given blanks to fill out and they have not yet been called upon again.

This is VERY important. It is a job that can be done but once every ten years. Our population insofar as the rest of the nation is concerned will be just what Uncle Sam finds it to be this year. No matter how much we quote scholastic population, increases in numbers of utilities customers, etc., to substantiate claims of increased population they'll still point to the old reliable decennial federal census as the best authority.

Get yourself counted by calling the Chamber of Commerce.

Every qualified voter ought to cast a ballot in the school bond election Thursday.

Give the school kids a chance.

This airport problem is a knotty one, a tough one. But it has got to be solved. The airport is worth a lot right now but it is now just an infant and in years to come will bring thousands and thousands of air travelers to the city.

If it is made a AIA airport, with 280 acres of land sufficient to allow for 2800-foot runways in eight directions (the requirement at this altitude)—and if obstruction lights are placed on the brow of the mountain nearby and various changes are made in the present arrangement of lighting equipment the chances for gaining air mail designation are good.

Fifty acres of land must be bought. It will cost about $100 per acre. The airport company, due mostly to inability or unwillingness of some who subscribed for stock to pay for it, is in debt about $30,000.

Thirty thousand dollars in first mortgage bonds will be offered. We believe there are local people who can see the soundness of the investment and who have the money to take up this issue.

Big Spring Lists 67 W.T.C.C. Members

Big Spring has subscribed $675 or 67 1-2 memberships to the West Texas Chamber of Commerce for the year ending next April. It was learned Tuesday evening at a meeting of the board of directors of the local chamber, at which R. L. Price, treasurer of division six of the W. T. C. C. made a report of the result of a quiet campaign conducted during the past week among 1928 members, practically all of whom renewed, as well as those who had not been affiliated with the regional chamber.

Civic Committee Extended Thanks

On motion of Carl Blomshied seconded by B. Reagan the directors of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening extended a vote of thanks to E. F. Robbins, chairman of the civic committee for the results being obtained by his committee in the clean up paint up campaign. Cooperation of the board was pledged.

CHAMBER ASSISTS IN COUNTING

Call 512 If You Have Not Yet Been Populated

Big Spring Wednesday faced the misfortune of having approximately 1,000 residents left out of the federal census for 1930.

Therefore, to assist the overworked enumerators in making it a 100 per cent job the Chamber of Commerce set up a temporary bureau which was receiving telephone calls from those who had not been counted.

April 1

All persons who were in the city April 1 are urged to call the Chamber of Commerce, number 512, and give their names and addresses.

A census blank will be furnished all those sending such calls. Those with whom or for whom blanks have been left by enumerators who still have those blanks and have not given them or mailed them to an enumerator are urged to bring those blanks, filled in, to the Chamber of Commerce and they will be given the proper persons.

Bankers Will Be Invited To City

The South Plains Bankers Association, which will hold its convention in Plainview April 21 will be invited to come to Big Spring for its next gathering. E. Reagan, spokesman for the local bankers, was authorized Tuesday evening to add the Chamber of Commerce's official invitation to that of the local bankers.

The Weather

West Texas: Fair, colder in east and north portions tonight; Thursday fair.

East Texas: Cloudy, showers in east portion, cooler except in southeast portion tonight; Thursday partly cloudy. Light to fresh southerly winds on the coast.

"He's A Bootlegger" Candid Spouse Of Amusing Stories Told By Federal Workers Busy Man Informs Census Enumerator

Introducing herself as a census enumerator, a woman changed to census taker when she found difficulty in making a negro woman understand her mission, in St. Louis the other day.

The negro woman failed to understand the latter term also. "Don't you understand," the enumerator persisted, "the government is taking the Fifteenth Decennial Census?" "No, ma'am, I ain't got no fifteen cents," was the reply of the negro mammy as she banged her door shut.

Many amusing incidents have come up in the taking of this last census, according to the enumerators.

One of the hardest jobs is getting the people to remember when and where they were born. They just don't know. And as for remembering when and where their parents were born, it's a physical impossibility.

Here are several amusing stories. One woman in California was faced with the census taker, who asked her,

"What is your husband's occupation?" "He's a bootlegger, mam, and business sure is fine I'll tell you."

DIRECTORS OF ROTARY CLUB ARE ELECTED

W. C. Blankenship and Shine Phillips were elected directors of the Rotary club at the weekly luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Episcopal Parish house.

Vice President E. Reagan was in charge in the absence of W. T. Strange Jr., president.

Rotarian guests included Ily Pratt, J. A. Finlayson, O. C. Hitt and P. J. Mims of Midland and Hervert Taylor of San Angelo.

Other guests were M. M. McLarry of Dallas, Mr. Lawson of San Angelo, Joe Edwards of Big Spring, Ford Goets of Big Spring and J. Fred Phillips of Dalhart.

A telegram from the Plainview club, seeking Big Spring's support in an effort to obtain the 1931 41st district Rotary convention, was read. The convention will meet next week in Temple.

Bruce Frazier led a discussion regarding the opportunity of securing the 41st district convention for Big Spring in 1932. Attendance at such

School Situation Is Reviewed At Luncheon

Shine Phillips, Big Spring druggist, was made president of the business men's luncheon club Wednesday noon succeeding J. B. Pickle, who resigned last week that more time may be directed to duties of mayor, an office to which he was appointed by other city commissioners.

So enthusiastic was response to nomination of Mr. Phillips placed before the club by Rev. W. G. Bailey, pastor of the First Methodist church, that no formal vote was taken on the matter.

A varied program dealing with census enumeration, school bonds and the clean up and paint up campaign was directed by John Reeves of the Texas Electric Service Company, chairman of the committee. Dr. Wafford Hardy and John Wolcott served with Mr. Reeves on the program.

Edwin A. Kelley told members of the club that unless citizens of Big Spring use their own initiative and make it part of their business to be counted in the census that this city will show up with 8,000 to 9,000 people. A poll among members of the luncheon club revealed that 25 men and their families had not been counted by enumerators while only 8 had been listed with census takers.

J. B. Pickle made a motion that was passed asking the Chamber of Commerce to cooperate with census enumerators. Those not counted in the census are urged to call the Chamber of Commerce and their names and addresses will be turned over to enumerators.

W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of schools, spoke on the school bond election that is to be held in Big Spring Thursday. Mr. Blankenship illustrated his points with a map plotted with red pins showing density of school population and quoted figures from a table comparing school conditions in Big Spring with those in eight other cities comparable in size.

The school superintendent said no opposition to the school bonds has been broadcast, but that some negative votes will be cast and that if those favoring the issue do not take the trouble to vote, there is a chance of defeating the program.

"Among the nine cities included in the survey made, Big Spring ranks first in school enrollment, third in population, seventh in census enrollment, eighth in number of grade school rooms, seventh in number of teachers, eighth in valuation, sixth in evaluations of true value, eighth in bonded indebtedness and eighth in bond tax," said Mr. Blankenship. The eight cities in addition to Big Spring included in the tabulations are Breckenridge, Eastland, Electra, Goose Creek, Lufkin, Midland, Plainview, South Park and Sweetwater.

After the plotted map had been reviewed and explained at the luncheon club, Mr. Blankenship transferred the study to the Chamber of Commerce office where interested voters may see the true conditions in concrete form.

Reagan Urges Support
E. Reagan, a visitor at the club, urged support of the school bonds, in a talk dealing with the physical attraction. Mr. Reagan said that all are familiar with the morale value of a good educational system and that most are aware of physical advantage given by an adequate school system. Citizens of other cities are attracted by adequate school systems and if Big Spring hopes to continue its prosperity voters must make adequate improvements and extensions to our

Although they did not win the 1932 convention they finished the biennial meeting of the railroad brotherhoods of Texas with the comforting knowledge their home city had been advertised effectively within the ranks of the brotherhoods, local delegates to the Greenville session of last week told the board of directors of the chamber of commerce Tuesday evening at a meeting held in the chamber's offices.

E. L. Deason of the firemen, C. J. Redwine of the engineers, and E. N. Ralph of the conductors, who with L. Griffith of the O.R.C. and Mrs. J. T. Allen of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen represented local lodges of the brotherhoods, made reports to the directors, as did C. T. Watson, manager of the chamber of commerce.

"It was like going hunting, and having to come home without any game," said Mr. Watson.

Advised Big Spring
But the railroad men declared Mr. Watson worked with them faithfully through three days and put Big Spring before the delegates so effectively that she ranked second in the vote of two brotherhoods, the others, however, outvoting them. Had the vote been taken on the floor of a joint meeting of all brotherhoods this city would have won easily, the railroad men declared.

"I want to say that Mr. Watson did some great work for Big Spring and that we appreciate the efforts of the chamber of commerce and the interest taken by the business men to the fullest extent," said Mr. Deason. "Mr. Watson made many friends and Big Spring was advertised completely."

Mr. Redwine said that "we thank you for the interest taken in our organization. I don't know what it cost you to send Mr. Watson to Greenville but no matter what the cost was it was worth it. He met more people there than did any delegate."

"Mr. Watson did his best," said Mr. Ralph. "He worked for the convention while we were busy in the assembly. Big Spring was second in the vote of the two brotherhoods and first in the vote of the ladies auxiliary."

Try For 1934
J. B. Pickle told the directors that they ought to remember to help the brotherhoods land the 1934 convention.

Mr. Deason said a tri-state convention of firemen from Texas, New Mexico and Arizona would be held in Houston August 1 to 23 and that he was going to try to bring that convention here next year.

Mr. Watson said the Greenville convention was the most orderly meeting he had ever attended, with the exception of ministers' conventions. "It was a crowd of high type men gathered for the purpose of transacting business. There was not the usual 'hullabaloo,'" he declared.

Naming Of Yards In Honor Of Webb Is Suggested Here

How about making it the Ollie Webb Yard?

At suggestion of Joyce Fisher a resolution was adopted Tuesday evening by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce to take up with President Lancaster of the Texas & Pacific Railway company the matter of having the new divisional terminal being built here named in honor of Ollie W. Webb, assistant to the president of the T. & P. Mr. Webb, who for some years has been the chief relations man for the road and has especially been friendly to Big Spring, has appeared before public gatherings here several times within the past year.

Representatives of the railroad brotherhoods who were in the directors' meeting said they would do anything they could in the matter.

MORTGAGE BONDS MAY BE OFFERED

History Of Airport Is Outlined; Problem Serious

Big Spring's future as a center for the rapidly growing volume of air travel hangs in the balance and something must be done and at once or the $62,000 already invested in the local airport will yield only a comparatively small portion of the benefits possible to be derived.

That was the message brought to the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening.

After considerable serious discussion of the problem the board voted to go into an energetic campaign for the purpose of selling $30,000 in first mortgage bonds against the property of the airport company.

Proceeds from these bonds, which would certainly be a good investment it was declared, would be used to purchase fifty acres of additional land and to rearrange and add to the lighting system.

This would allow the local part to be classified AIA and very greatly increase the prospect of having it designated "tie in point" for a government air mail line to be established sometime this summer.

History
History of the airport was reviewed. It was the opinion of several men that had a bond issue to provide a municipal airport been submitted in February 1929 when the airport company was formed to provide the facilities existing here it very likely would have been approved. However, at that time the city faced the prospect of having to spend considerable money to go after additional water supply and, in accordance with request of city officials no petition asking that an airport bond election be submitted was filed.

Private citizens then subscribed for $60,000 in stock. Only $40,000 of this was paid. The Southern

APPEAL IS MADE FOR GOOD VOTE

Injurious Crowding In Buildings Would Be Remedied

Voters in the Big Spring independent school district will decide Thursday whether or not $125,000 in bonds will be issued to stand expense of constructing new buildings and making necessary improvements and additions to buildings now in use.

In Judge's Office
Polls in the county judge's office in the Howard county courthouse will open at 8 o'clock Thursday morning and will remain open until 7 o'clock Thursday evening. John Bates has been appointed judge of the election and he in turn will select assistants to conduct the bond election.

W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of schools, has expressed the opinion that the only danger of defeating the bonds lies in lethargy of those favoring improvements. "It's the common attitude among those favoring the issue that 'John' will do the voting, said the superintendent and then added that just such an attitude is the only danger of defeat.

It was also pointed out that a large vote and a top heavy victory for the bonds will induce more acceptable bids when bonds are offered for sale. Big Spring now has a bonded indebtedness of $250,000 and has a tax rate for bonds of 20 cents.

Homicide Case Set For Trial

Elder, charged in county court with negligent homicide, was set down for trial Friday morning, April 18, when the county court docket was called at the open session Wednesday morning. H. R. Elder, defendant in the homicide case, is charged in connection with the death of Wilma Silma Patterson near the Knott community Nov. 24, 1929.

Ferguson To Test His Eligibility
AUSTIN, April 16. (AP)—Former Governor James E. Ferguson will test his eligibility as a candidate for governor in the 1930 Democratic primary, he announced in his forum, weekly paper.

He said he would institute proceedings in the supreme court to determine his status in order to head off any last minute move by his opponents to keep his name from the ballots on grounds he had withdrawn from the party after his impeachment by the legislature and organized the American party.

In 1924 Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, the former chief executive's wife, became a candidate when it became evident his name would not be permitted to go on the ballots.

Farmer Says "Orgatone (Argotane) Is Fine Medicine"

SAN ANGELO FARMER'S WIFE SUFFERED 5 YEARS; RELIEVED WITH ORGATONE (ARGOTANE); PROVED TO BE WHAT SHE NEEDED

L. E. Horner, San Angelo farmer, who has been a citizen of this community for eight years, living on the Wall route, seven miles southwest of town, while in the Schwab Drug Company recently said: "Orgatone (Argotane) has proved to be just what my wife needed, for she has certainly improved. She suffered from stomach and digestive troubles, but we never found anything to give her relief until one day we got some advertising on Orgatone (Argotane) and after reading it decided it was the medicine for her and so she began to take it. Everything she ate soured on her stomach and formed gas. She had severe sick headaches and was awfully nervous, and always felt tired and worn out. She was badly constipated and was gradually losing weight.

"She has taken just one bottle and Orgatone (Argotane) has certainly been a good medicine in her case. She is not bothered at all with gas or indigestion. Her bowels are regulated and she doesn't have those terrible sick headaches any more. She eats anything she wants and feels much better and is gaining a little in weight. I am glad to say a good word for Orgatone (Argotane), for it has helped my wife's case. I've persuaded my mother to take it and it is helping her, also."

Genuine Argotane may be bought in Big Spring at the Cunningham & Phillips Drug Stores.—Adv.

Christian Church Meeting Prospers

At the revival services being conducted at the First Christian church, the evangelist last night discussed the topic "Who Crucified Jesus?"

He said, "I am not here to condemn either the Jewish Mob or the Roman soldiers as being the ones who killed Jesus. Rather let us study the different types which composed the group which crucified him. We find that first of all they were religious fanatics. They thought they were God's only elect, and that in this great crime they were doing God a service. Sometimes a religious fanatic becomes so intent on excluding the rest of the religious world that he shuts out Christ himself. Again, we find that this crowd was composed of business men. Some business men become so intent on acquiring that they lose their sense of values and destroy the most precious thing in the world. There were also politicians there. Men who stood with the crowd that crucified Jesus because they were policy men, going with the crowd, with no courage of their own convictions. But the greatest tragedy of the cross was in the fact that the group which stood there was the group which Jesus came to save. They were the ones who crucified him."

The subject of the message announced for tonight was "If Jesus Christ Were to Come to Big Spring Would He Be Crucified?" Services begin at 7:45 p. m.

The population of Big Spring is about 12,000. If each man, woman and child would take just one day and clean and paint up there would be 12,000 days spent in making Big Spring a cleaner and more beautiful place. Twelve thousand days are equivalent to more than thirty-two years. If that many days could be spent in beautifying Big Spring it is impossible to imagine the changes which would take place. Everyone would have a part in doing something to help the improvement campaign.

"Disease germs are multiplying now every day in filth and unclean places. Small cans containing water can produce thousands of mosquitoes. Flies are hatching in allies and in old cans located around many homes. These flies coming from such filth and dirty material come to our homes, enter our houses and find food which becomes impure. These flies may bring germs of typhoid fever or tuberculosis.

"Clean up week has of recent years become a week of nation wide observance. It ranks next in importance to "Health Week" and "Fire Prevention Week."

"We should clean up and beautify our premises, first, for the personal satisfaction we get. Personal pride in our homes, whether owned or rented, is one of the characteristics of the American people. A city of well kept homes is better advertised than any other way she may seek publicity. A pretty and clean town always speaks for progressiveness and civic pride, and induces capital as well as desirable citizens to come in.

"Sanitation is another prime motive in cleaning up a town. Germs cannot live where sunlight reaches everywhere and where there is nothing to hold stagnant water.

Herald Patterns

A PRETTY MODEL FOR BLENDER FIGURES

6802. Just ideal for warm days, and exceedingly becoming. Waist and skirt yoke show scalloped outline. The skirt is arranged in wide box pleated effect below the yoke. The waist blouses effectively above a narrow belt. Groups of flocks trim the front at the shoulders, which are cut long over the top of the arm to simulate short sleeve extensions. A rolled collar outlines the V neck. As pictured printed silk in blue and white was employed to make this model. Linen, shantung and cotton prints are also suggested.

The pattern is cut in 3 sizes: 16, 18, and 20 years. To make the dress in an 18 years size will require 2 1/2 yards of 39 inch material. The collar, belt and tie as illustrated will require 5/8 yard of 39 inch contrasting material cut crosswise. To finish the curved scalloped edges on waist, yoke, collar and sleeve edges will require 5 1/2 yards of bias binding 1 1/2 inch wide. The width of the dress at the lower edge with fullness extended is 2 1/4 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 15c in silver or stamps by The Herald.

What's Ahead?

WHAT'S AHEAD for business is the topic to be discussed at the eighteenth annual convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Washington, April 28 to May 1.

Leaders in almost every important class of American business will speak. What's ahead for business in banking, trends, construction, exporting, industrial development, inland waterway development, natural resources, industries, insurance, railroad transportation, retailing, taxation and other lines will be reviewed.

West Texans, especially members of the local Chamber of Commerce, ought to be interested in what the convention speakers say. Their statements will afford a pretty good measure of the business trend throughout the country.

Agricultural Competition

SAYS THE monthly review of economic conditions issued by the National City Bank, New York, "It is apparent that farming is becoming more of a skilled occupation than in the past, and it cannot be otherwise than that farmers who fail to keep pace with the development will feel the pressure of competition."

"The consumption of products," it is declared, "which are the raw materials of industry, as cotton and wool, may increase with a reduction of prices, but this is not likely to be so of food stuffs as a class, and it is probable that on the whole, with the general adoption of the new methods, fewer workers will be required on the farms. This being so the farm problem is not one of mass treatment, but for the individual farmer to deal with according to his circumstances. The marketing problem is a very small factor, so far as cotton and wheat are concerned."

"A policy which contemplates nothing but a withdrawal of acreage from production, in order to maintain prices high enough to cover the costs of production by old time methods, or in order that the same farm population may continue to live on the farms with less work to do, will not satisfy the farmers themselves. A system of crop curtailment, like an arrangement to spare time labor in industry, may be justified as a means of meeting temporary conditions, but where the problem is one of increasing productive capacity and lowering costs of production, viz: readjustment in conformity to the new conditions. The rise of the standard of living in the past 100 years has been accomplished through just such readjustments throughout the industries, agriculture included."

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

Editor and Publisher: BILLBOARDS in New Jersey will be taxed an average of $18 and their locations restricted under the terms of an act passed by the legislature and approved by Gov. Morgan F. Larson. The measure goes into effect January 1, next.

Billboards and outdoor advertising firms will also be required to pay a $100 yearly license fee. The tax is to be based on a charge of three cents per square foot. That figure resulted from a compromise after billboard interests maintained that the proposal to levy a five-cent tax would defeat the purpose of the bill, because of the number of companies that would go out of existence.

The combined strength of women's clubs in the state was a major factor in causing passage of the bill, introduced by Miss Agnes C. Jones, republican assemblywoman of Essex. An attempt to have a similar bill failed last year. Sharp criticism of the methods alleged to have been used to muster votes for the bills was voiced during the debate in the legislature preceding passage. One charge was that a threat had been made that the votes of 49,000 women would be turned from former Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, candidate for the United States senate, if the administration did not support the billboard bill.

Representatives of billboard interests also campaigned against the measure. Enforcement of all rests with the state commissioner of motor vehicles. Billboards are restricted from being placed within 500 feet of any point where two highways intersect, or where a highway crosses a railroad or street railway, if they would obstruct or interfere with a clear view. The bill does not interfere with the placing of advertising signs upon premises where the business advertised is actually carried on. Firms not located in the state must give $1,000 bond to guarantee compliance with the act, while the penalty for violation is a fine of $100, with each day considered a separate offense. Contracts in effect prior to January 1, 1930, will not be affected. The act authorizes the motor vehicle commissioner to refuse to issue permits for billboards when he believes it injurious to property or affects the public interest injuriously.

After the cost of administering the act is paid, any surplus is to be divided among the municipalities according to the percentage of boards located therein.

Hollywood Sights & Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—The little black mike has really conquered Hollywood now.

Its victory in making the screen safe for noise has been conceded for months, but it's something else again when this impudent intruder on Hollywood's peaceful life begins poking its nose into Hollywood's offices, which have just become accustomed to accommodating pianos.

That is what will happen soon. One of the studios is erecting a new music building, to house all its musical activities, where the exiles from Tin Pan Alley can make all the clamor they wish without disturbing studio routines.

RECORD AS YOU WRITE The idea is to have each team of music-makers in an office, and in each office, over the piano, a microphone and a "play-back horn," the idea being that whenever the composer senses an incipient attack of inspiration, he may turn a switch, and as he picks out the new tune on the keyboard the mike will pick it up and transmit it to the central recording room, where it will be preserved on wax.

Then, if inspiration lags, the writer can have the embryo tune "played back" as often as necessary to its completion, and later the whole thing can be "played back" to help the arranger in the next room (each team will have an arranger) with his job.

FOOLING THE DEMON But while the mike thus strides into off-screen prominence, technically it is being whipped into submission by those who use it directly for the screen.

The sound men have lost much of their awe before this tricky instrument which at first had them all more or less in a figurative cold sweat all the time.

The latest instance of his new power came the other day in a circus crowd scene with Helen Twelvetrees and Fred Scott. Bebe Daniels' singing "discovery."

Earlier, for crowd scenes, they had to have mikes suspended all over the set. This time, however, they got better results by using only one.

JACQUELINE ON HER OWN by RICHARD STARR

SYNOPSIS: Possession of the necklace stolen by Mrs. Porter Mason disturbs Jacqueline and in her ignorance she contemplates trouble with the police. On her guard she finds Mr. Arthur Carew searching her hotel suite for the necklace. He takes her out to dinner and proposes on the way home but Jacqueline, with thoughts only for Teddy Montrose, rejects him.

Teddy visits her and she tells him of her fears. They find the necklace has disappeared from his hiding place. Detective McAllister finally calls and tells Jacqueline of her movements and personal history but does not mention the necklace. The police didn't want her after all. That is a relief but Jacqueline is worried by Teddy's silence.

Chapter 24 TEDDY DECLARES HIMSELF Three days passed, three of the most miserable days Jacqueline could remember.

She tried to forget Teddy and to plunge into the whirl of life. But she found that to spend money recklessly and in solitary grandeur was not in the least amusing and not very exciting.

She went to the Savoy for dinner. She went to the opera, which happened to be on. She did not like operas, and wondered vaguely what that distinguished people always went to the opera, so she went. Also she went to three theaters—and was frightfully bored.

She could not understand it. Try as she would, she could not recapture the rare thrill of that one evening in the distant past, when she had dined at the Savoy and gone to the opera afterwards at the cost of ten pounds.

She spent a great deal more now, and could not get the least thrill out of it. She had always been under the impression that people who moved in these walks of life could never become bored. Now she was beginning to wonder.

She went to a fancy dress ball at Covent Garden, and felt like a lost soul in the wilderness. Several young men tried to be agreeable to her at the hotel, but Jacqueline snubbed them effectively.

What was the matter with her? She did not know. The only way she could get a little hectic pleasure was by buying frocks and hats and beautiful lingerie. And she had to make a little of this go a long way, because it was a shockingly expensive business.

She spent 70 pounds this way, and on top of this had a shock when the hotel people presented her with a bill for 40.

What did it matter? If this was the life of the wealthy—of those magical people who sat about there was nothing in it, and the sooner it came to an end the better. Why was Teddy Montrose staying away from her?

After all, perhaps, it was for the best. Her money was nearly at an end. At the rate she had been going it would not last another two weeks. Then she would have to disappear quietly and completely.

will think kindly of me. And of course if at any time you want anybody's head punched, or anything of that sort, which is in my line, you've only got to hold up your little finger and wiggle it about once in my direction, and I'll be there with goods, so to speak.

"You see I'm not very good on brains, so the Old Top tells me, and I believe he's right. And if I have to work for my living, as I have to, it is not going to be the sort of living which I could ask you to share.

"So goodbye, Jacqueline, and I'm glad that I've known you and loved you. It's taught me quite a bit that I might not have learned for years and years if it hadn't been for you. If only you were as poor as I or I were as rich as you, things might have been different. But there you are. The world is full of a number of things.

"TEDDY." It was a feeble letter, expressed in the reasonable "Teddy" style. But Jacqueline took it up to her bedroom and sat over it for a long time. She did not go out that night, because she found she had a headache, and it was a bad one.

Teddy had written from his club and the letter, of course, demanded an answer. But it was three days before she could write the answer. In the end she wrote a letter which she considered would be final.

She realized now that she loved the gallant and irresponsible Teddy as she had never dreamed of loving a man before.

The men she had met had meant no more to her than her girl friends, and she had come to the conclusion that she had not the necessary emotional equipment to fall in love with a man, as her favorite heroes on the screen fell in love with their heroines.

And then Teddy had come, with his simple worship, his boyish eagerness to fight battles for her, and his gallant inconsequential air. In the end this rather fine withdrawal, because in his modesty, finding himself penniless, he thought he had nothing to offer her that would be worth her while.

This is what Jacqueline wrote finally, after taking thought for three days:

"My Dear Teddy: I've got to run away, and I have not got the pluck to come and tell you so face to face as it were. If I did I'm afraid I should say a lot of things I didn't intend to say.

"I'm going to say one of them now, anyway. I love you, Jacqueline. That's why I've got to run away. But I want you to know before I clear. Not that it does any good of course, but when a fellow loves a girl as I love you, he sort of wants her to know, even if there is nothing that can be done about it—nothing useful, I mean. I hope you don't mind.

"I feel that I am writing this like a congenial idiot, but it's the best I can do. I loved you the first time I saw you, Jacqueline, and it has come to stay. When you came into that room on the night of the raid, and called upon me to clear the road for you, so to speak, well I felt as if you had been sent into the world just for me, and that I had been sent just to clear the road for you. And that's what I'd like to do if things were different—to walk by your side through life and wipe the troubles out of your way, or as many of them as I could.

"If things had been different I believe I could have done it, or at any rate I believe I could have made you happy. But things mostly don't break as you want them to. You are a rich girl, and I am just about on the everlasting rocks.

"Naturally, you wouldn't have anything to do with me—I mean not in the permanent sense. And you would be right. If I hadn't blown everything sky high by making an immortal ass of myself with the Old Top—well, I think I could have pumped up enough courage to come and ask you to marry me. But being almost down to bed-rock I am not going to do anything of the sort. I only just tell you that I love you because I sort of want you to know. I've got an idea it might help me in the time to come. I don't suppose it will help you any, but you are kind, and I know you

OVERALL WILL IN LITIGATION
Plaintiff May Lose All If Orders In Will Observed

COLEMAN, Texas, April 16 (AP)—Suit involving the estate of Mrs. Martha Tyler Overall, valued at several millions of dollars, was docketed for district court here today.

Mrs. Overall, who died in 1927, was owner of the famous Overall ranch and other property in Coleman county. She bequeathed approximately $175,000 to relatives and friends, $10,000 each to Southern Methodist University, Dallas, Georgetown, and Central College, Fayette, Mo., and $5,000 each to Texas Woman's College, Fort Worth, Methodist Orphans Home, Waco, and the Virginia K. Johnson Rescue Home, Dallas.

After making these bequests, beneficiaries of which are among defendants in the suit, the will left the residue of the estate to be divided between three daughters of Mrs. Maria L. Miller, sister of Mrs. Overall. This portion of the will enters principally in the suit, brought by John Overall Carter of Minnesota. He is the son of Lida O. Carter, deceased, who was a sister of the late Richard H. Overall, husband of the testatrix.

The plaintiff, who was bequeathed $15,000, sets forth in his petition that Mrs. Lucy R. Van Cleave, one of the daughters of Mrs. Miller, is dead; that the residuary part of the estate is worth several millions of dollars because of the discovery of oil on the ranch, and that the portion due Mrs. Van Cleave should go to all the heirs of testatrix and her deceased husband, instead of to heirs of Mrs. Van Cleave.

Mrs. Overall stipulated in her will that if any beneficiary herofault with the distribution of her wealth such fault-finder should be cut off without anything.

Thirty-six individuals and seven institutions are named as defendants in the suit.

MAN KILLS GIRL, SELF
Discouragement Given As Tragedy Cause In Last Note

HOUSTON, April 16 (AP)—Charles H. Whitlock, 32, was found dead in bed today with a pistol clutched in his hand, his five-year-old daughter, Carolyn Louise, suffering from gunshot wounds which subsequently proved fatal and his wife seriously injured by hammer blows on her head.

According to hospital attendants, the 34-year-old wife said her husband called her out on the porch to talk about financial matters. She said he grabbed a hammer, hit her over the head and tried to choke her.

The woman said the baby ran out on the porch screaming, and the husband grabbed the child and put her on the bed in the room. Mrs. Whitlock ran downstairs calling for help. It was while she was gone, Mrs. Whitlock said, that Whitlock shot the baby and then himself.

A note found in the man's pocket read:

To the Houston City Coroner:
Dear Sir:
No mystery here. Just a fact of thorough discouragement. I am at my capacity in every way. I am taking my wife and baby with me to avoid suffering on their part; without my providing protection I am no longer able to furnish.

Please order our bodies to the city hospital there to be held until Rev. James S. Allen, rector of Christ Episcopal church, gets in touch with you. I have asked him and his congregation to furnish a cheap funeral for us.

Please be advised: I am the last of my tribe, my wife has no close relatives, so please do not allow any undertaking establishment to have our bodies, as there is no source from which they can expect a dollar for their service and without the dollar they will not be interested. I wish you all good—Yours truly,
Charles H. Whitlock.

'The Bunk' Says M. D. Of Crude Oil Jake 'Cure'

WICHITA, Kas., April 16 (AP)—With scores of men and even women and girls dragging inert feet to petroleum slush ponds of southern Kansas for a week, hoping to find relief from "Jake Paralysis," a malady believed caused by drinking Jamaica ginger, health authorities here today said the pilgrimages were futile.

Dr. R. E. Hobbs, city physician, who was conducting a survey to learn if there were enough needy victims here to warrant opening an emergency ward in the civic auditorium, declared the slush ponds had not been aided.

"It's the bunk. It would be impossible for the sulphur compound in the fluid to get through the skin," Dr. Hobbs declared. "If it were a skin disease the wading might help. But 'Jake Paralysis' is clearly a nervous ailment, and the victims must rest and wait for the nerves to become built up."

Some of the waders had reported, after their footbaths, that they felt a little better, but so far as could be learned nobody has been visibly helped.

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—Phillip M. Weld, vice-president of the New York Cotton Exchange, after a conference with President Hoover today predicted a five per cent decrease in cotton acreage for this year.

Mr. Weld, who called upon President Hoover to pay his respects, told newspapermen after his audience with the president that in his opinion general business and stock market conditions were improving.

He said that in Texas and the southwest, where the cotton yield is 100 lint pounds per acre, the farmers must be terribly bust.

Motion To Dismiss Mandamus Heard Before Court

AUSTIN, April 16 (AP)—Arguments on the motion to dismiss the application of Senator Thomas E. Love of Dallas for mandamus to compel the state democratic executive committee to place his name on the 1930 primary ballots were taken up first before the supreme court today when the case was submitted.

Judge F. A. Williams of Galveston, former member of the court, opened the arguments for D. W. Wilcox of Georgetown, chairman, and members of the state committee, whom Love would mandamus. He contended the court was without jurisdiction to entertain the application, attacking constitutionality of the law giving the supreme court and courts of civil appeals jurisdiction in such cases. He was answered by J. W. Hassell of Dallas and Senator Love. The law was passed by the fifth special session of the 51st legislature and was written by Senator Love. Heretofore, it was necessary to institute such litigation in a district court. It was agreed each side would be allowed two and one-half hours argument, half of it to be presented today and half tomorrow.

The supreme court room, usually empty when the court meets, did not have enough chairs to accommodate the crowd that came to listen in on the arguments.

After the motion to dismiss is disposed of, the application proper will be argued.

The state committee had gone on record denying all persons who failed to support the democratic presidential electors in 1929 the right to participate as candidates in the 1930 primary. In filing his application for a place on the ballots, Love declared he had not supported former Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York for the presidency.

The court also took submission of the case from Wichita county attacking the power of a county executive committee to oust a member for bolting the party nominees. The case originated when the places of J. W. Nicholson and 12 other committeemen were declared vacant after they publicly announced they had refused to vote for the democratic presidential electors.

Central Texas Receives Rains

By The Associated Press
Vagrant April storms, making a belated and violent entry, today had drenched widely scattered portions of Texas with rainfall, expected to benefit crops and pastures in spite of local damage occasioned at Hillsboro, Fort Worth and other localities by high winds and hail.

Hillsboro was plunged into darkness last night as an electrical storm, accompanied by high wind, struck there, smashing store windows and blowing down garages and small buildings. Crews set to work repairing power lines. Rainfall measured more than an inch.

Three-quarters of an inch of rain fell over Waco, while other Central Texas towns reported light rains. Fall was reported at Mr. Cain, Clifton, West and Hubbard. Telephone lines were severed between Waco and Hillsboro. Temple also reported showers.

Dallas, already visited by rain which left 81 inch precipitation, received other showers which brought the total to almost an inch. Fort Worth reported .76 of an inch during the day.

Brownwood was drenched by a near-cloudburst between 4:30 and 6 p. m., which left 1.1 inch precipitation.

Paris reported Lamar county had a total rainfall of an inch since Sunday.

SPORTS ON PARADE

By STANLEY NORMAN

SCHEDULE

A schedule for the city league will be drafted next Monday night at a meeting of all team managers in The Herald office. Teams will probably draw for the privilege of opening the season Sunday, April 27 and after those two clubs are selected, the remainder of the 108 game schedule will be drafted.

Directors of the city league are asked to notify all team managers that each will be represented. Those not present for the meeting Monday night will probably not be considered for the opening game.

SATISFIED

Sportsmen of San Angelo and Abilene who promoted the special 440 yard race between Howard Green and Smoky Brothers should be well satisfied with their efforts this morning. Both flashy sprinters were hobbling around from effects of wounds received when spiked feet tangled on the first curve. The story appearing in the Abilene morning newspaper relates that Green beat Brothers to the curve and that Brothers started to drop behind to avoid running an outside lane around the sharp curve. Brothers misjudged his distance and stepped on Green's foot. The San Angelo half miler took two or three nasty rolls along the track and Green all but stopped. Brothers scrambled to his feet and the race was on once more. Green finally defeated the Concho speedster by about 10 yards in the comparatively slow time of 53.9.

JUMPED UP

These jumped up affairs usually end in just such unsatisfactory manner. No one will accuse Brothers of willfully stepping on Green for the act probably ruined his chances for winning, but just the same the whole deal is far from satisfactory. Some of the hard shells in San Angelo were opposed to staging the race before it was ever started and now the unsatisfactory results will simply add fuel to the flame.

LET'S SEE IT

We are anxious to see the alibi Imright Cross will establish for his pride and joy. Of course it was just an unfortunate occurrence but Imright will still claim Brothers the greatest quarter and half miler in West Texas high school circles. That point will probably not be settled until the state high school meet in Austin two weeks ahead. Even then, Coach Bill Wright and Coach Bill Bissett are likely to save Brothers for the 880 yard event, which is his specialty.

LID LIFTED BEFORE BIG BALL CROWD

Cold And Rain At Many Places Cut Down Attendance

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer

Opening day ceremonies out of the way for another year, major league baseball players were ready today to settle down to the business of trying to keep runners parading across the plate during the next 133 games of the season. Only one opening was left for today. Chicago and Cleveland were stopped by rain at Chicago yesterday.

Cold and rainy weather held down the size of some opening day crowds, but the 200,000 fans who witnessed yesterday's games found no reason for disappointment.

Champs Win

The two champions of 1929, the Philadelphia Athletics and the Chicago Cubs, resumed their places at the top of the standings with victories over the New York Yankees and the St. Louis Cardinals respectively.

The Athletics, behind the brilliant pitching of Lefty Grove, gained a 6 to 2 victory over the Yankees with comparative ease.

The Cubs engaged in a clouting duel at St. Louis and barely outlasted a Cardinal rally which netted seven runs in the last three innings to pull out a 2 to 8 triumph.

Detroit's Tigers joined the Athletics at the top of the American League standing with a 6 to 3 victory over the St. Louis Browns in a game that produced four homers.

Senators Even

Washington, playing its second game, beat the Boston Red Sox, 6 to 1 to place both teams at the 500 mark.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia, rated as the heavy slugging teams of the National League, engaged in the day's tightest duel, the Phillies winning 1 to 0. Lester Sweetland, Brooklyn jinx, outpitched his rival southpaw, Bill Clarke. A record opening day crowd for Ebbets Field, 27,000, was present.

Pittsburgh's Pirates broke another jinx to beat out Cincinnati, 7 to 6. Red Lucas, who had lost but one game to Pittsburgh since 1927, gave up 13 hits, before he was removed in the sixth.

Before the biggest crowd of them all, some 40,000 fans, the New York Giants barely nosed out the Boston Braves, 3 to 2, in a game of errors. The victory brought Walker's winning streak, carried over from 1929, to ten games in a row.

ST. LOUIS, April 16 (AP)—When Hack Wilson cracked a double off Flint Rhem in the first inning of the Cub-Cardinal game yesterday, he broke his own jinx record.

It was the first hit the burly outfielder ever made in an opening game in his baseball career.

"Ought to celebrate on that," Hack boomed, "but I guess I'll wait until after we win the world series."

Coast Boxing Board Probes Carnera Fight

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16 (AP)—Further questioning of the seconds and others involved in the boxing match in Oakland Monday night between Primo Carnera, Italian giant, and Leon Chevalier, San Francisco negro, was ordered by the state boxing commission today.

The commission is inquiring into a towel throwing incident that gave Carnera a technical knockout in the sixth round.

Leading witnesses at the hearing yesterday were Bob Perry, who tossed the towel into the ring, Chevalier and his wife, Bas Lega, a second. Referee Toby Irwin and Tim McGrath, the negro heavyweight's manager.

Commissioners Charles Traug and James Woods said they were satisfied Carnera and Chevalier were trying to make a fight of it.

Perry said he threw a towel into the ring, despite the fact he had no authority to do so, because he thought Chevalier was in no condition to continue after taking a pine count.

Beaumont Surprises Texas League Followers By Continued Winning

By The Associated Press

Prophecy wagged their heads today at the paradox that persists in the second week of the new season, with Beaumont, more often in the cellar, still riding a winning wave at the top while the Fort Worth Kittens, prided pennant snatchers, remained in the big.

Beaumont has captured six out of seven engagements, but the Cats have taken only one out of six.

The Shippers continued their lucky streak yesterday with a 7 to 2 score over the San Antonio Redskins, whom they tackle again today on the home sod.

Though rained out in their scheduled engagement at Dallas, the Cats and Steers were booked for another clouting exhibition today in Fort Worth, where the Atoms started the season last week by walloping the Kittens.

The Wichita Falls Oilers, second in standing, were matched again today against Shreveport on the latter home lot, where the Spudsters yesterday won an 8 to 6 victory.

The Houston Buffs and Waco Cubs, rather evenly matched yesterday in a battle between Thormahlen and Raje, resulting in a 3 to 1 decision for the Buffs, drew another tilt today in Waco.

JACK DE MAVE WILL PROBABLY BE SUSPENDED

Kansas Relays Bid For Universal Fame

LAWRENCE, Kas., April 16 (AP)—A galaxy of sprint stars entered in the Kansas relays here Saturday gives promise of performances outstanding other features of what has become a leading middle west track and field event.

Continuation of a sprinting duel between Cy Leland, Texas Christian University, and Claude Bracey, Rice Institute, has been assured with receipt of Bracey's entry. Eddie Tolan, Michigan negro dash star, who finished third in the 100-yard event last year, also is entered.

Bracey last year was timed in 9.5 seconds and 9.4 seconds, during Texas meets. At the Texas relays this year Leland defeated Bracey, being timed in 9.7 seconds. The next day, at the Southern Methodist relays, Leland repeated his victory with a mark of 9.5 seconds.

Dixie Big Four

ATLANTA, (AP)—The Big Four of the Southern association—Atlanta, Birmingham, Memphis and Nashville—have won 23 of the 79 pennants of the loop. New Orleans, the biggest city in the association, hasn't fared so well as some of its smaller rivals.

SENATE MAY CHANGE RULES

AUSTIN, Tex., April 15 (AP)—Radical changes in the rules and by-laws of the state senate, especially as they effect the length of the terms that developed during the forty-first legislature when practically every rule governing parliamentary procedure was brought into play at one time or another.

During the fifth special session of the forty-first, three major revisions in the rules were proposed. One would have resulted in the appointment of a senate committee to investigate lobbyists at the state capitol. This was voted down on the floor of the senate.

Two other proposed revisions were killed when the senate rules committee voted them out unfavorably. It was proposed to revise the rules so that it would be incumbent on the president of the senate to grant the majority the greater representation on any free conference committee while the other resolution would have authorized the appointment of a committee of the house and senate to sit during the interim between the forty-first and forty-second legislatures to revise the rules and by-laws.

Several of the senators argued against any revision of the rules, contending that ignorance of the present regulations was the basic cause of so many parliamentary tangles. They suggested that members apply themselves to learning the rules now in force in lieu of the proposed revisions, holding that they were entirely adequate to cover any situation which might arise on the floor of the senate if properly interpreted.

The rule to investigate lobbyists was offered as the result of charges made on the floor of the senate that the sulphur interest were bringing great influence to bear on certain members in the consideration of the proposed tax on sulphur, which then was the center of one of the hottest controversies that ever has been seen in the upper branch of the legislature.

Senator Thomas B. Loya of Dallas offered his resolution to force majority representation of the opinion of the senate on committees after Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller had appointed four members of the minority on the free conference committee on the penitentiary bills.

Another change which may be made would limit the time a senator is permitted to hold the floor in debate. Under the present rules the senate has no provision where, by he can be removed until he yields the floor voluntarily, as long as he confines himself to the subject and does not appear to be using "dilatory tactics."

It has been proposed to limit each senator to 30 minutes of discussion. An extension of 15 minutes could then be granted by the president of the senate after which the senator would have to yield the floor unless granted unanimous consent by the senate to continue.

Senator W. A. Williamson, president pro tempore for the fifth called session, is expected to be one of the leaders in the move to limit the time of the senators.

During the past sessions, several senators have held the floor for several hours, one man speaking an entire legislative day on the prison question.

Settles School District Split

One common school district in southern Howard county in which two schools were located has been divided by the county school board allotting nearly equal amounts of territory to each school.

The action came Monday afternoon in a regular meeting of the county board at which Tom Ashley, president, was in charge with C. B. Lawrence, Sam Little, and J. H. Wheat and Pauline Cantrell, secretary, all present.

Settles district No. 9 was the former name of the entire district which included Forzan and Chalk schools. Settles common school district No. 9 now contains only Forzan school and a new district, named Chalk No. 18 has been organized by action of the county board.

In addition to ironing out the tangle that has threatened between Chalk and Forzan schools, the county board re-defined boundaries of the Lomax district to enable that community to proceed with plans for a gymnasium bond election.

A large crowd of interested spectators jammed the county courtroom as the county board went into business of dividing the district. Sections for and against the division were well represented.

conventions total 700 to 800 delegates. Dr. E. O. Ellington was in charge of the program. Group singing was led by Damon Deane. Hayes Stripling gave a classification talk on the wholesale grocery business. He pointed out the all-over-the-world source of products handled by wholesale grocers, but declared 90 per cent of products in the average retail grocery are of domestic origin. New York vegetables are best, but freight rates in this region are almost prohibitive, he declared. Colorado vegetables furnish much of the southwestern market, he added. Shine Philips gave a classification talk on the drug business. He said the drug store now handles almost everything but lightning rods and "they are out of date." He told of the origin of the drug store. The modern drug store, he declared, does not prescribe but sends the inquirer to a physician. Supt. W. C. Blankenship reviewed conditions in the local schools, pointing out necessity of additional housing facilities.

Mortgage---

Air Transport officials, who had agreed to lease the port for three years and had bought $3,300 in stock asked that various additional items of equipment be added until the total cost of buildings, land and lighting system reached approximately $62,000. Election Last fall when the city commission submitted three bond issues in a special election various stockholders and others, it was declared, holding a debt of $20,000 and recalling that many had bought stock in the belief the port would be made a municipal one as soon as possible, filed a petition and the city commission, which had not been very favorable to having that particular issue included with the other three, submitted it in compliance with the petition. The majority pulled against the airport issue indicated strong local sentiment against making it a municipal property. It was the opinion of several of the directors that misinformation about the history of the entire project had led many people into ill feeling toward it, many assuming the belief those who had bought stock wished only to "unload" it on the city, it was said. Recently officials of the department of commerce, visiting here, were asked for advice in connection with the city's efforts to make this the only officially classified AIA airport in this part of the state. Imperative After conferring with them officials the airport officials announced it was imperative that fifty additional acres of land and certain improvements and additions to the equipment be made. The additional land would bring total acreage to 280. This is worth easily $100 per acre. Therefore, it was pointed out, the $30,000 mortgage represented by the proposed bonds would be sound investment. Dr. E. O. Ellington, president, will appoint a general committee to work out a plan of organization and direct the campaign to sell these bonds. ### Brooks Field Flier Killed

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 16 (AP)—Lieutenant Stanley H. Ayre, student flier at Brooks field, was killed when a De Havilland airplane he was flying crashed near Southton, six miles southeast of here this morning. His home was at Monticello, Illinois. The accident, the second fatality at Brooks Field from airplane accidents within the year, happened near the same point, almost exactly a week to the hour from the crash that resulted in the death of his classmate, at both West Point and Brooks Field, Lieut. Bert C. Muse. Both accidents were similar also in that a De Havilland plane, the last of which will soon pass from the service, were being flown by both pilots. Officers who investigated the wreckage expressed belief that the accident was not due to structural failure. The ship did not burn, as in the crash that killed Lieut. Muse.

HAYS, Kas., April 16 (AP)—An airplane pilot named Lacey, whose first name was not learned, was killed, and his wife and two other passengers in the plane were dangerously injured today when the monoplane in which they were riding crashed in a wheat field nine miles southwest of here.

Goldthwaite Bank Robbed

BROWNWOOD, Tex., April 16 (AP)—The First National Bank of Goldthwaite was robbed of between $3,000 and $4,000 by two men shortly after noon today, according to reports here. Goldthwaite is 40 miles south of here. Daniel H. Harrison, cashier, and a customer were said to have been the only persons in the bank when the robbers entered with drawn guns. They quickly gathered up all available money and fled in an automobile after warning the cashier not to give an alarm until they were out of sight. The robbers' car was said to have left Goldthwaite in the direction of Brownwood, but a traveler who arrived in the town shortly after the robbery said a car of the same description of that used by the robbers was seen speeding towards Waco. After a hurried check, Harrison said the robbers escaped with $4,200 in cash.

Jury Excused In Libel Trial

DALLAS, Tex., April 16 (AP)—District Judge Towne Young today excused the jury temporarily to seek further enlightenment on the law governing the $150,000 libel suit of Dr. Hiram W. Evans, imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, against the Austin American. Dr. Evans' counsel contended that the publication of the speech of M. M. Crane of Dallas at the state democratic convention in 1924, was "libel per se" in that it alleged theft and embezzlement, felonies. Plaintiff's attorneys asserted that the defendant newspaper had made no effort to prove the truth of Crane's statement. Lawyers for the American insisted with equal lengthiness of argument that the statement did not impute a felony and therefore was not "libel per se" and that it was qualifiedly privileged as a result of being a fair and impartial report of a public meeting. Dr. Evans, whose testimony on cross-examination was postponed to permit the battle of lawyers, yesterday emphatically denied that he had any personal interest in the Klan's settlement seven years ago with William Joseph Simmons, ousted head of the order. Jess McMahon plans to stage popular priced boxing shows at the Brooklyn National league ball park this summer.

Local Oil Men To Attend Meet

Numerous local oil men expect to leave Big Spring Friday night for Fort Worth where a mass meeting of oil producers in this and other sections is to be held under direction of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas. R. F. Scheig, chairman of the chamber of commerce oil and gas committee, and owner of royalty under producing and potentially productive leases, will head the Big Spring delegation to Fort Worth. Invitation to all independent oil operators of this section was received late last week from Tom E. Crenfill, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of Texas. Every oil producing state in the union has announced delegations will be present. Names of men to accompany Mr. Scheig to Fort Worth have not been announced, but it is known that several are now forming plans to attend the meeting at which Wirt Franklin of Ardmore, Okla., president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, will tell of the organization's work at Washington in favor of a protective tariff. "No oil producing state has as many problems as does Texas," Mr. Crenfill said in his invitation. "The eyes of the oil world are upon Texas primarily because of the work already done by the Independent Petroleum Association. The passage of the pipe line bill was the result of whole hearted cooperation on part of the independent producers. We believe it will give some relief. We have many other problems to solve and we can only solve them through continued cooperation. We want the meeting Saturday to be a uniting of the forces of the oil industry not only in Texas, but in all the states and in the nation at large. While this is a national meeting, we are expecting oil operators from all parts of Texas. The national body is expecting us in great numbers. It behooves us to meet in Fort Worth Saturday, April 19, and assist in laying plans for carrying the fight of the independent for his rights to every section of the nation," concluded Mr. Crenfill.

Abilene Eastern Plea Entered

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—Representatives of the Abilene and Eastern Railway urging approval of the road's plan to construct a line between Abilene and Cross Plains, Tex., today asserted opening of the proposed new line would further the interstate commerce commission's program for railroad consolidation. Connecting with the Burlington system at Abilene and the Missouri-Kansas-Texas Railway at Cross Plains, the railroad's representatives contended, would afford an additional route from the grain growing areas of Northwest Texas, the Panhandle of Texas, Oklahoma and Southwestern Kansas, and would be of value in promoting transportation of products from that territory to the gulf ports. Referring to the protest of the Texas and Pacific Railroad, the Abilene and Eastern contended the loss of traffic to the Texas and Pacific would be more than offset by the traffic resulting from construction of the proposed line and the development of a new territory. RESERVOIR BILL PROPOSED WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—Expenditure of $475,000,000 by the federal government over a period of ten years to aid states in the construction of reservoirs to store waters of navigable streams was proposed a bill today by Representative Garber, republican, Oklahoma.

Suspect Held In Poly Bank Job

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 16 (AP)—A white man, suspect in last Thursday's Polytechnic bank robbery and arrested in Tyler yesterday, was being questioned in the district attorney's office here today. One of the two negroes who last week told investigators a "contractor" had offered them "quick work and easy money in Polytechnic" failed to identify the suspect. The negroes are William Trower and Joe Harper. Officers brought Trower to the courthouse and he went into the room with the suspect. A few minutes later he came out, shaking his head. According to Trower, he and Harper were told by Isaac (Will) Tate, one of two negroes killed in the robbery attempt, that the "contractor" had work for them. He said they met the man on Tuesday morning in a negro domino parlor on Front street.

Lindberghs To Make Long Flight

LOS ANGELES, April 16 (AP)—Colonel Charles A. HOUSTON, Tex., April 16 (AP)—T. J. Murray, 22 "bridge party" bandit, today faced a ten-year penitentiary sentence assessed by a jury. Murray was indicted jointly with J. M. Salmon, after a card party was held up and robbed at the home of J. Stuart Boyles, county surveyor. Salmon is one of several prisoners still at liberty who escaped from the Harris county jail nine days ago by sliding down a fire hose. Murray claimed he was not mentally responsible because of prolonged drinking and use of Marihuana cigarettes, but Dr. J. B. York, state witness, testified Murray was sane.
