

WELCOME LYNN COUNTY FAIR VISITORS

BOOSTER TRIP WAS MADE WEDNESDAY

Wednesday immediately after the hour, a goodly number of Tahokans, accompanied by the Harley band, left Tahoka in automobiles to make a tour of the towns and communities to boost the Lynn County fair which will be held in Tahoka on Friday and Saturday of this week. The first stop was made at O'Donnell, a little town on the south line of Lynn County. A large crowd gathered there to greet the boosters. The Harley band rendered several high-class selections, after which Attorney Maddox made a short address, in which he explained the object of the county fair and extended a cordial invitation to the people of O'Donnell and surrounding communities to attend the fair Friday and Saturday. The next stop was made at Draw, a little town on the south line of Lynn County. A large crowd gathered there to greet the boosters. MUCH INTEREST IS MANIFESTED IN FOOTBALL TODAY

What promises to be one of the most exciting football contests of the season will be played today (Friday), at the City Park, when the Tahoka Bull Dogs battle the Lamesa gridders. The contest will be one in which speed and skill will be the determining factors.

The Bull Dogs are in excellent condition for the game, and with two weeks of rigid training and strenuous scrimmaging since the initial contest, they are expecting to emerge victors over their ancient rivals.

According to Coach Peeples, Wilson, Lamesa, O'Donnell and many other surrounding towns will be well represented at this game. A record attendance is expected. Most of the tickets have already been sold. Back your High School eleven by being at the City Park at four o'clock this afternoon.

DR. JAMES YATES MOVES TO ALPINE

Dr. James Yates, M. D. who has been practicing in Tahoka the past several months, moved this week with his family to Alpine, Texas.

HARLEY SADDLER SHOW IN TAHOKA THIS WEEK

Tahoka people are receiving a treat this week in the way of a high-class dramatic and chautauqua troupe. The famous Harley Sadler show is in town and will be here until the close of the Saturday evening performance. The Harley Sadler troupe is given up to be the very best dramatic organization on the road today. Mr. Sadler, the owner of the show, is a western man and his cast is composed of all western men and women. Every actor in the troupe is a star. They are all refined men and women and people whom the citizens of our town are glad to have with us. This fact is being demonstrated by the large crowds attending each performance. Besides the many high-class plays and comedy acts, Mr. Sadler has with him a chautauqua act with each performance that is well worth the price of admission.

Mr. Sadler's organization is a member of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which fact is sufficient proof that they have the welfare of the west at heart and are interested in the development of this section of west Texas.

The Harley Sadler show carries with it one of the best band and orchestra organizations ever heard in this section of the state. The selections rendered are high-class in every respect.

We can gladly recommend the Sadler shows as being a first-class, clean opera troupe and we hope they will return to Tahoka for another engagement.

Frank Dysert, of Lubbock spent Wednesday in the city.

G. C. Johnson, manager of the Jones Dry Goods in Tahoka, made a business trip to Lubbock Monday.

MRS. A. E. CLOYD DIED AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Mrs. A. E. Cloyd, wife of the local Santa Fe agent, passed away at the family home in this city at 11 o'clock Tuesday night, Sept. 18th, her 32nd birthday, after a brief illness.

Mrs. Cloyd became ill late Sunday, and although medical aid was summoned almost immediately, proved of no avail, death coming as a shock to most local people, few of whom knew she was dangerously ill.

Twelve years ago she was united in marriage with A. E. Cloyd, and to this union were born two sons A. E. Jr. and Richard, both of whom survive. Besides the husband and children deceased is survived by two sisters, Mrs. May of Post City, and Miss Mary Lee, who is teaching in the local schools, her father and mother of Wilson, Texas, and one brother.

A $265,000 LAND DEAL IS MADE IN LYNN COUNTY

What is said to be one of the largest land transactions in recent years was made known recently by the filing of deeds from E. B. McKillip, of Oklahoma City, conveying to W. McCarty Moore of Dallas, 12,000 acres of land lying some twelve miles south-west of Tahoka.

Mr. Moore has also recently bought of H. B. Herd of Fort Worth, 5,440 acres lying between the McKillip land and the town of O'Donnell. The two tracts aggregate 17,440 acres, and are said to have involved a consideration of $265,000.00.

F. E. REDWINE IS SUCCESSFUL IN CATCHING THIEVES

Word was received here the first of the week that F. E. Redwine had been successful in running down and causing the arrest of the automobile thieves who last week entered his garage at his home in north Tahoka and made away with a new Ford Sedan belong to Mrs. Redwine. The arrests was made beyond Roswell, N. Mex. The thieves had chopped the body of the car from the running gear of the car and burned it in order to cover up the evidence against them it is supposed. The men are now in jail at Roswell, N. M. It is not known at this time whether they will be returned here for trial or will be tried in the courts of New Mexico.

Mr. Redwine was for many years sheriff and tax collector of Lynn county and this business of catching criminals is nothing new to him. He was never known to spare neither expense or time in running down law-breakers. It became a well known fact that when Mr. Redwine started out after his man he always got him.

The thieves who stole the car and caused its destruction should receive punishment to the fullest extent of the law.

Miss Thelma Hickerson left Monday for Waco where she will attend Baylor University.

Miss Leo Mae Welch and brother Alver attended the Tri-State Fair at Amarillo a few days the first of the week.

Otho Shook who spent the past week here attending to business returned to his home in Waco Monday.

The sale of the McKillip and Herd lands to Mr. Moore will mark the passing of one of the most widely known ranches on the South Plains, as it is understood that Mr. Moore has planned for the immediate opening of these lands, which are among the best undeveloped agricultural lands on the South Plains, to settlement—subdividing into sections and quarter sections and improving. It is said that Mr. Moore will himself prepare for the planting of some 3000 acres in cotton for 1924, on his own account.

The location of the State Technological College at Lubbock, some 40 miles north, was to an extent responsible for the sale it is stated, but the high price of cotton and the wonderful yield Lynn county has made for the past several years, and now promises, more especially is responsible. Lynn county has jumped from a population of seventeen people in 1900 to a present population of over 10,000, which are mostly farmers and stock farmers—and very prosperous. It is estimated there are 91,246 acres in Lynn county planted to cotton this year; 53,476 acres planted to feed. The cotton crop is conservatively estimated at 30,000 bales this year. Lynn county will be at the Dallas Fair in force and with an ocular proof of her agricultural claims.

THE REPORTER FAMILY AT LAMESA HAVE TROUBLES

The boys had some time lately. To begin with we had to get sick and then our printer got on the lift and finally quit because he was sick and knocked out. Then the gas engine we run our cylinder press with broke down and we had that welded and it broke again and they had it welded again. Then school opened and one of the boys had to start back to school. Then the gas burner on the linotype stopped up and they had that fixed. We are going again. It don't make much difference after all whether you have trouble or not there is just so much to do in life and if you are having trouble the time's coming when you won't, and if you are not having trouble the time's coming when you will. It all is a part of the great scheme of life some way. There are a lot of people who have a great deal more trouble than we do. We have a pretty good time all the time. Our mother nearly 81 years old lives with us. We have nine living healthy children. There never was one of them in any kind of trouble except the four oldest, they got married and of course you who are married know how that is. We make a living and have plenty to do to keep us out of mischief. We have lots of friends and they are of the best class of people in the world. Christian folks. Our family is never sick. We ourselves had this little spell and once in awhile we get sick but have the best of Drs., and they soon put us on our feet. Our office building is ours and our home is ours and they can't make us move or raise the rent on us. We have a Lizzie and will get it paid for in a short time now and then we can begin to buy repairs for it and go out on the road and blow out and blow up. We are fifty-seven years old and have some hair and two or three teeth of our own still left and a whole mouth full of anti-acne ones we bought. Everything is bully, how do you do?—Editor Smith in Lamesa Reporter.

SIMMONS COLLEGE ENROLLMENT PAST 600

Abilene, Texas, Sept. 25—For the first week of registration at Simmons College, enrollment has gone past the six hundred mark, with others, especially in the Fine Arts, still to come in. President J. D. Sandefer stated that the enrollment for the fall term would easily go beyond seven hundred and he was confident that for the whole session, 1923-24 Simmons would have a student registration well over a thousand.

Several additional faculty members have been placed on the staff of instructors this year; and a faculty of full strength is on hand for the thirty second session of the institution. Registration in the Fine Arts department is unusually heavy, due probably to the interest and impetus given this department by the opening of the Caldwell Fine Arts Building.

Last week in the run of work, we failed to mention a visit from editor R. B. Haynes of the Lynn County News. He came down a week ago Friday and paid us a fraternal call. We are always glad to see Bro. Haynes as he is editor of one of the best weeklies on the South Plains and a very fine fellow. Come again Bro. Haynes.—Lamesa Reporter.

WITH OUR EXCHANGES

W. Donald, editor of the Slatonite, at Slaton, has sold his job printing department and will in the future conduct only the newspaper end of the business. Mr. Ball, formerly with the Tullia Herald, is the purchaser of the job office of the Slatonite.

Editor James L. Dow, of the Lubbock Daily Avalanche, has announced that he expects to go back to a morning newspaper on or about the fifteenth of October. Mr. Dow has been issuing an afternoon paper the past several weeks. The change to a morning paper will be quite an advantage to Lynn County people, as the afternoon edition reaches this city too late to be of any news value.

The Lamesa Reporter was gotten out under difficulties last week. Editor Smith was on the sick list and as a result everything seemed to get all balled up. Editor Smith told about all his troubles, which the News is reproducing elsewhere in this issue, in order that folks may see this side of the life of a country newspaper man.

J. D. Quick, prominent Lubbock business man, spent Monday in Tahoka. Mr. Quick has been associated with the Lubbock Grain & Coal Co. for a number of years.

John Hickerson returned Saturday from a two weeks vacation at Junction City, Texas. Mr. Hickerson reported a very pleasant visit.

HARLEY SADLER SHOW IN TAHOKA THIS WEEK

The Harley Sadler Tent Show has been drawing large crowds this week in Tahoka. This is their first time to make our city, and judging from the patronage they are receiving will no doubt fill a return engagement here. They are showing under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion and the Lynn County Fair Association.

THE NEW CLUB YEAR

By Phebe K. Warner

Here it is, time for the women's clubs to get together again. Some of our clubs never disband during the entire year but most of them do. It means a lot of application for a busy woman to give up one afternoon of her time every week or every two weeks to meet with her neighbors and study something for her own good or plan to do something for the good of her community. But it PAYS in the end. Don't it? There is not a woman in the State who belongs to a real sure enough club whose purpose is the promotion of all that is good in their life and the life of the community in which they live but that knows a good woman's club is worth all its costs in time and energy.

There are organizations of women that do not amount to so very much to themselves or anybody else but that is the fault of the ideals of their membership and not because they could not be worth while if they wanted to do something worth while. Such folks as that do not need criticism though. All they need is to have their energies turned into some useful channel instead of allowed to go to waste while they get nowhere with their club.

But there is good argument for club vacations the same as any other vacation. First, to disband the club meetings for the summer months makes you miss them and want them all the more when the new club year comes around. Then it relieves the strain of having some outside duties all the time to think of. And beside it gives thousands of women time to go with their families on the summer outing and vacation without missing their club lessons. And best of all it gives every woman a chance to get out and find something new for her club to do or to study the next year. It must be a glorious meeting, that first meeting of the new club year when everybody has come home from somewhere and everybody has something new to tell and to do. In most of our clubs the first meeting is so full of new plans and reports of the summer that the day takes the form of an open, informal meeting just to give everybody a chance to unload the news of the vacation experiences before they go into a whole year's work.

But the big question now is what are we all going to do this year? What are your club plans? Have you a sure enough program laid out for your club for the entire year or are you going to just drift along and if something comes along that you can not get out of do it and if you can possibly push it off on some other group of folks then do that? If this is all the plan you have YOUR club will not amount to so very much and you may expect to hear a lot of folks saying little ugly things about YOUR club.

But first of all what is a woman's club. There is a lot of difference between groups of women. Every bunch of women who get together do not spell a woman's club. A genuine woman's club is a group of women banded together for two reasons: First, to improve themselves, and second, to improve their surroundings. The real woman's club is an educational institution. And it has today become one of the greatest and most powerful educational institutions in our nation. There is not a university of any kind anywhere in our nation at this time that is offering a broader education to a greater number of women than the woman's club. There are at this time somewhere near 5,000,000 women enrolled in this great university for women and they are studying that which touches the life of every woman, every little child, the home, the family, the community, the schools, the laws, the food problems, the clothing problems, the domestic and financial problems, of this whole nation. When there is so much to be learned and there is such urgent need for knowledge in every phase of life, it is nothing less than a crime for women to meet and waste their time in social luxuries when there is so much they do not know that they ought to know.

As a nation of mothers we rank as a nation of sixth grade women. There is a reason for this. Millions of mothers of today never had a chance to go to school when they were little girls. But that is no sign they do not have a chance NOW to learn the things they need to know. Most of us have a keener conception now of what we need to know than we did when we were little girls. The place for you to go on with your education no matter how many years it has been delayed is in the woman's club. If you met only once a month and learned only one thing at each meeting that would help you with your home work or your home problems, would it not be worth while? And who of us do not realize the need of knowing more to be good mothers and good homemakers and good wives and good neighbors and good citizens? How many of us have ever been trained as all for the work we are trying to do. Not many.

Get down to the very bottom cause of most of our unhappiness and our poor health, and our discontent, and our troubles in general and we will all find that the great bulk of all our troubles is the result of "I did not know." "I did not understand." "I wanted to do right but I did not know how." If we could get back to the scenes and the memories in most of our hearts we would read this one universal wish: "If I could only live my life over. How differently I would do."

It is all because we have learned along the way. But we had to pass that way to learn those hard lessons. Can we help the younger women and the younger mothers to avoid OUR mistakes? They are passing through our experiences NOW. Let's get together and help them before it is too late. Let's not let the new generation of women make the same old mistakes.

The only school where we can learn to correct such mistakes is the woman's club. Why not organize yourselves into a group to help one another this year? If you have only ONE meeting it will be better than none. And you who have enjoyed the work of the woman's clubs for years and KNOW the value of them in your life, why not let the light that has come into your life shine out into that of another and help some other group of anxious women to better things for their lives?

NEWS STORY FROM FORD MOTOR COMPANY, DETROIT

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 24.—August closed the summer season for the Ford Motor Company with sales of 161,567 cars and trucks, 39,608 more than were delivered at retail during the same month last year, it is just announced.

The remarkable increases which have characterized Ford sales so far this year, bring them to a total of 1,212,553 for the 8 months up to September 1st, promise to maintain the same proportions during the fall season.

At least, this is indicated by the number of orders on hand at the first of the present month. The new type Ford cars, now in the hands of practically all dealers in the country, are attracting wide-spread attention.

The tendency toward enclosed car buying is growing more noticeable and in this connection the four-door Ford Sedan is gaining in popularity as a family car. This Sedan has enjoyed a lively demand ever since its introduction and now, with improvements which have come as a result of the higher radiator, it is more attractive in appearance than ever before. The Ford Coupe, which is new in design and with many refinements, is enjoying unusual popularity.

Business and agricultural interests continue to make increasing demands for Ford trucks and sales for August reached a total of 17,441, a gain of 5,147 over August, 1922.

Why do Purina-fed hens lay more eggs right through the moult? It's because they get more protein and it takes lots of it for feathers and eggs. Feathers run as high as 90% protein. Whites of eggs are nearly all protein. Feed a balanced ration—

She is a young widow in the early thirties, who recently married one of Indianapolis' popular bachelors. And to his annoyance she often talks of her past husbands. The other evening they were at a dinner when she turned to the guest of honor. "Are you married?"

The guest of honor made a negative reply. "And haven't you ever been married?" came the second question. Again the guest of honor shook her head. "Oh," the guest boasted airily, "I've had three. He is my third." "Yes, and you last, my dear," the husband snapped. "You might just as well know now as at any time that my name is going to be on your tombstone."—Indianapolis News.

FINAL NEWS ARTICLE ON EUROPEAN TRIP

Frank E. Burkhalter

Somewhere in Virginia, Aug. 24. I am now on the last lap of my long journey, and while I did not get to see nearly as many points in Europe as I wanted to and had to see many of those I visited much more hurriedly than I liked, I am glad to be back in America again and am ready to buckle down to work once more. The trip met my fullest expectations in practically every way, the one exception being that I did not get quite as much sleep and physical rest as I had hoped to do. It required more time for the travel and sight seeing than I had an-icipated, but travel was always interesting and a decided relaxation from the work I do at home. Coming home on the boat I was on the vessel 7½ days. I slept anywhere from 10 to 12 hours a day, so I am feeling wonderfully refreshed.

There was no one on the boat whom I had known before, so there was none aboard to interrupt my program, so I slept, read, lounged around on deck or did whatever my fancy suggested. I read four or five helpful books on the two ocean voyages and could have read another had I had it along. I played some deck games, also, at times.

The return trip on the Atlantic was not quite so smooth as the one going over. The boat rolled considerably in the deep ground swells that enveloped us for more than half the journey, but fortunately I was in good physical condition and did not get sick or miss a meal. The meals, while abundant, were not cooked quite to my liking, and I'm glad to get back to good American cooking. I do not think I have gained any weight on the trip but the rest and change have enabled my face to fill out considerably, and as I have a good deal more color than when I went away, I presume I may say I am looking much better.

I landed at New York Thursday morning, August 23, and this letter is written on the train on Friday as I'm enroute to Nashville, where I will arrive Saturday morning. It will be late in getting out, however, as both Miss Wenz and I will be busy on more rushing matters for several days.

After writing last from Lucerne, I went to Interlaken, Switzerland, in the heart of what is probably the most beautiful scenery in the world, where I spent three days. The first of these I spent on an all-day auto trip of 80 miles or more out to Grimsel Pass and the Rhone Glacier, one of the most beautiful trips to be found anywhere on the globe. Practically all day we were climbing or descending mountain sides, with cascades formed by water from the melting snows rushing down the mountain sides, snow covered peaks towering above us, and beautiful green valleys smiling below us some several thousand feet. The roads were marvels of engineering skill, for they were always on the very verge of the mountains and careless driving by the chauffeur would have tumbled us over the precipice to the rocky gorges below. The mountain sides were covered with pretty trees, grass and flowers and I gathered about 30 varieties of mountain flowers at the stops we made. The Rhone Glacier, a solid body of ice that has been standing in a mountain crevice for 100 years or more, was a thing of beauty. A passage way has been dug back into it for some distance and I walked back into it and got cooled off.

The next day I went to the top of the Jungfrau, the third tallest among the Alp Mountains and which is always deeply covered with snow. That is, I went as far toward the top as it is safe to go, though it was still about 3,400 feet to the top, I think. This trip was made by series of cog wheel electric railways and the station at the end of the line is the highest in Europe. At times the train seemed to be going straight up hill, the line was so steep, but we made it up and down again. We passed through one tunnel about five miles long on the way up, it taking about 40 minutes to pass through it, so steep was the grade. The view from the top of the mountain was superb, as we could see much of Switzerland and over into Italy and France as well. We were above the clouds and I saw snow on one mountain evaporating into clouds.

The Alps are much more beautiful than our American Rockies. They have much more earth and vegetation upon them and are not just barren rock, and then they have such beautiful valleys between them. Both the valleys and mountain sides are cultivated wherever possible, as the Swiss farmers are very industrious and enterprising. The farmers and their families took their milking vessels out on the mountain sides to where the cows and goats were to milk them, instead of driving the animals in, the animals wearing bells so they could be easily located.

The third day at Interlaken I went up on another famous mountain site known as Schyminge Platte, from where the view of the surrounding territory is very wonderful, and later in the day started on my trip to Paris along the shores of the beautiful Thun lake and passed through the beautiful towns of Thun, Berne and Basle, where I took a sleeper at midnight for Paris.

While I enjoyed the whole of my trip I believe that part of it I spent in Switzerland was the most delightful. Certainly the scenery there was the most magnificent of all and I found the people very interesting. A number of travelers lost their lives there this summer, some of them getting away from their mountain guides and an automobile falling over a mountain side with some others. I had the discretion to play safe and had no mishap of any kind. I was not sick anywhere along the line, save a little touch of seasickness on the Baltic Sea as I was going from Sweden to Germany, and did not feel bad a single hour after leaving New York.

I had heard so much of Switzerland I was expecting great things of it, but it met my expectations fully. I can not say so much of Paris. It is a great city, very beautifully laid out and all, but has been quite dry and hot there this summer, as a result of which its trees and flowers were not nearly so fresh and beautiful as I saw elsewhere. It has a number of places of historic interest and many beautiful hits of architecture and one of the great art galleries of the world, the Louvre, all of which I enjoyed. Among the sights I visited around the city were the Palace of Versailles built by Louis XIV, and in one of the halls of which the Peace Conference that followed the World War was held. I saw the table on which the treaty was signed and also the dining car of Marshall Foch in which the Armistice was signed Nov. 11, 1918, thus terminating the fighting in the World War. I also went through the home of Napoleon and saw his tomb in Paris.

Probably the most interesting thing around Paris that I could describe for you was my one-day visit to the Batlefelds. I made the trip out to Rheims 98 miles out from Paris, where the beautiful and famous Rheims Cathedral was shelled by the Germans in the early stages of the war. The city of Rheims had about 125,000 inhabitants before the war and so thoroughly did the Germans shell the town that only 16 buildings were left unharmed. An earthquake could hardly have done more damage. I saw a hole about 250 feet long and from 50 to 100 feet deep made by an explosion in which the Germans blew up and killed 2000 French troops at one time. I saw a considerable part of the famous Hindenberg line and a famous hill for which the French sacrificed 200,000 troops in wresting it from the Germans. I also saw a lot of barbed wire entanglements, dugouts, trenches and the like. The French are rapidly putting the land back into cultivation and are rebuilding their devastated towns better than before.

The Eiffel Tower, nearly 1,000 feet high, is one of the sights of Paris, and my trip to the top of that was more nearly calculated to make me nervous than was the trip to any of the Alpine Mountains.

The shops in Paris were not as attractive as those on Fifth Avenue, New York, I think, though they were inviting. At different places I picked up souvenirs for members of the family and a few personal friends, which I will send out from Nashville as soon as I have opportunity.

REVIEW: GREAT MEN AND WOMEN OF THE NEW TESTAMENT

DEVOTIONAL READING — Heb. 11:13-16, 19, 40.

GOLDEN TEXT—"Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us."—Heb. 12:1.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Favorite Story of the Quarter.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Favorite Heroes and Heroines of the Quarter.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Some Great Characters of the New Testament.

With the senior and adult classes three methods of review may be profitably employed:

I. The descriptive word method as presented in Peleubet's Select Notes.

1. Brave John the Baptist.
2. The Faith-Filled Virgin Mary.
3. Impulsive Peter.
4. Loving John the Apostle.
5. Thoughtful Matthew.
6. Ardent Mary Magdalene.
7. Busy Martha and Open-Hearted Mary.

II. Leader Lessons.

1. Peter: Compacted Zeal. Lesson 3.

5. Mark: Return of the Quitter. Lesson 11.
6. Luke: Double Healer. Lesson 12.
7. Timothy: The Glorious Ministry. Lesson 13.

IV. The Summarizing of Contents.

The following is suggestive:

Lesson I. John the Baptist was a humble and courageous man. He did not take honor to himself nor trim his message to suit the crowd.

Lesson II. Mary should not be worshiped, but she is worthy of great honor. Her faith made her to acquiesce in the Lord's will in spite of the fact that she knew that her character would be suspected.

Lesson III. Peter, while being feeble and cowardly, is a fine example of the transforming power of God's grace.

Lesson IV. John the apostle was a reticent man. He did not say much about himself, but was passionately in love with his Lord.

Lesson V. Matthew, though humble, was a man of force of character and decision. He left all and followed Jesus.

Lesson VI. Mary Magdalene, because she was saved, was steadfast in her devotion to the Lord. Because of this, she was able to tell the good news of the resurrection to the discouraged disciples.

Lesson VII. Mary and Martha both loved the Lord. Martha was mistaken as to the best way to please Him. Mary chose the good part in fellowship with her Lord which has made her name immortal.

Lesson VIII. Mary and Martha both loved the Lord. Martha was mistaken as to the best way to please Him. Mary chose the good part in fellowship with her Lord which has made her name immortal.

TEXAS IS ONE OF THE BILLION-DOLLAR FARM TRIO

Three states stand out boldly from the rest in the value of crops, says Caroline B. Sherman, market technologist for the department of agriculture in The Nation's Business.

Official estimates show that Texas, Illinois and Iowa raised farm crops in 1922 aggregating in value 1 1/2 billion dollars. With an estimated total value of American farm crops in 1922 of approximately 8 1/2 billions we find Texas contributing more than 716 millions, Iowa more than 450 millions, and Illinois more than 419 millions. On a ten year average Texas contributes a still larger amount—more than 850 millions—while Illinois leads Iowa during this longer period by an average of nearly 20 millions.

Rice, of which Texas grew nearly 6 million bushels last year, is not grown at all in Illinois and Iowa. Sweet potatoes might also be placed in this class since the year's totals credit only 440,000 bushels to Iowa and 855,000 to Illinois against 8,715,000 raised in Texas.

Iowa raised a comparatively few bushels of grain sorghums; Illinois is not credited with any in the final totals; but Texas raises considerably more than twice as many as any other state in the Union. Nearly 40 million bushels of grain sorghums were raised in Texas last year.

Texas scores heavily in truck crops as onions, cabbage, spinach, tomatoes, watermelons, and many other vegetables and fruits come from southern Texas to northern markets in large quantities. But these truck crops are not included in the totals here studied.

Cotton is the great outstanding crop. It is cotton production that sends Texas so far ahead of all other states, not only in the South but in the whole country, in its aggregate value of farm crops. The Texas crop of 1922 was well in excess of 3 million bales; it was 2 million bales larger than the cotton crop of any other state and it constituted approximately one-third of the entire amount of cotton produced by the whole country.

The huge agricultural output of Texas is in line with its vast area of farm land, and Iowa has 33 million, but Texas has more than three times their area, for Texas cultivates farm lands amounting to 114 million acres.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO TELL IT—THEY KNOW IT

By Lottie Pratt Brown.

You don't have to tell how you live each day,
You don't have to say if you work or you play;
A tried, true barometer serves in the place—
However you live, it will show in your face.

The false, the deceit, that you bear in your heart
Will not stay inside where it first got the start;
For sinew and blood are a thin veil of lace—
What you wear in your heart you wear in your face.

If you've gambled and won in the great game of life,
If you feel you have conquered the sorrow and strife,
If you've played the game fair and you stand on first base—
You don't have to say so, it shows on your face.

If you dissipate nights till the day is most nigh
There is only one tattler, and one that won't lie;
Since your facial barometer is right in its place—
You don't have to tell folks, it shows in your face.

If your life is unselfish, if for others you live,
For not what you get, but how much you can give;
If you live close to God in his infinite grace—
You don't have to tell it, it shows in your face.

A FEW DON'T'S

DON'T pick your cotton while it is wet.
DON'T have your cotton ginned while it is wet.
DON'T fail to insure your cotton if stored.
DON'T allow the ginner to let water into the cotton while ginning.
DON'T let the ginner put up a ragged bale.
DON'T have large bales packed—better have three bales weighing fourteen hundred pounds than two weighing that much.
DON'T have two kinds of cotton in your wagon when you go to the gin. Keep low grades and better grades separate, otherwise all will bring the price of the low grade.
DON'T ask the buyer, "What will you give?" Tell him what you will take.
DON'T rush to market or rush the market. The market will usually keep.
DON'T give up—Remember Jonah and the whale.

WAS IN A BAD FIX FROM NERVOUS INDIGESTION

Miss.—"I had, for a year or more, a nervous, tight feeling was going, as was the pain in my side. I found I did not have to take it every night. Soon, after a few weeks, I could leave it off for a week or so, and I did not suffer with constipation. I gained flesh. I have a good color, and believe it was a stubborn liver, and that Black-Draught did the work."
"I went to my mother's (Mrs. Deeters) one day, and she wasn't well at all. I told her we'd try Black-Draught. We did, and now she keeps it to take after eating. It certainly helped her, and we neither will be without it in our homes. It is so simple, and the dose can be regulated as the case may be. We use small doses after meals for indigestion, and larger doses for headache or bad liver."
Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine is for sale everywhere.
