Judging Team Wins Honors

Lynn County Boys Win One Third and Two Fourth Places at A. & M.

The Lynn County Judging Teams under the direction of County Agent A. L. Robertson, placed in three events at the state contests at A. & M. College, College Station, last week. The boys won third place in live stock judging, fourth place in grain judging and fourth place in poultry judging.

In the Live Stock Judging contest Lubbock won first place, with Dawson County a close second and Lynn County a close third. For individual honors boys from Lynn and Dawson counties tied for first place, while Ford Huffman of Wilson, Lynn County, won second place. Other boys from Lynn County on the Live Stock Judging team were Yates Key of Wilson and Emmitt McCord of Grassland. All three of these boys from Lynn County were in the first ten places in the contest. 240 boys entered the contest.

In the grain Judging Contest Alton Fleming and Curtis Morgan of the Magnolia community, Lynn County, won fourth place. 160 boys entered this contest. Dawson County took off first honors.

In the Poultry Judging contest, Carl Jones of the Grassland community and John Paul Ray of the Magnolia community, Lynn County, won fourth place. 140 contestants entered the contest.

The Lynn County teams went to College Station in cars and spent about ten days in making the trip. On the way down there and back to Tahoka the boys distributed literature in the towns along the road advertising Tahoka and Lynn county. From every standpoint they report that the trip was a success.

The next trip that the judging team will make will be to the Tri-State Exposition at Amarillo where they will take part in similar contests, the winning team of which will get a free trip to the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago.

TEACHERS COLLEGE EXPECTS INCREASED ENROLLMENT

CANYON, Aug. 6.—Indications at the West Texas State Teachers College are that the fall enrollment will be much heavier than that of any preceding year. All of the rooms in both of the dormitories which accommodate more than two hundred girls have already been reserved for the fall session and the office of the Registrar, Mr. D. A. Shirley, is being flooded daily with inquiries concerning the work to be offered during the next session.

The West Texas State Teachers College offers four full years of College work in Agriculture, Mathematics, English, History, Sociology, Latin, French, Spanish, Art, and Music, along with its special courses in Education. The enrollment for the College during the past year has been somewhat over two thousand three hundred students, and the college authorities believe that when the doors are opened on the 24th of September there will be one thousand students in Canyon ready to begin work.

The Collegiate faculty of about sixty members will spend the last week of August and the first week of September on vacations and will be ready to begin work the latter part of September.

COUNTY SINGING CONVENTION MEETS FOURTH SUNDAY

All singing classes and lovers of good music will please take notice that the Lynn County Singing Convention will meet in Tahoka at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, August 24, being the fourth Sunday. There will be a business meeting at 8:30 on Saturday night.

Everybody please bring well-filled baskets Sunday morning, and let us have a great convention and a good time.

M. C. Richey, President
H. A. Patterson, Vice-Pres.

Rev. J. T. Howell and family visited Mrs. Howell's cousin, Mrs. Elmer Cameron, at Lamesa Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Eli. Merrell, father of Mrs. Cameron, returned with them for a few days visit in Tahoka.

Good Rains Fall Over Portions of County

According to reports reaching the News office yesterday, portions of Lynn County got rains Tuesday afternoon and night. However, only .20 of an inch fell in Tahoka. The heaviest rain was reported by Dyers place, three miles east of town on to Post City. About two and one-half inches fell over most of the east part of the county, and in some places over three inches have been reported. The rain extended from the northeast to the south of town. A hard wind accompanied the rain east of town, and several out houses were blown down at farm homes.

Another fairly good rain was reported to have fallen about fourteen miles north and northwest of Tahoka. The rain to the east grew lighter near town.

HAYNES DID NOT BUY PANHANDLE HERALD

R. B. Haynes of this city, formerly editor of the Lynn County News did not buy the Panhandle Herald as was reported in the Amarillo paper, Sunday, August 3rd, however the deal is pending, according to a statement made by Haynes here Wednesday, and will likely be closed in a few days when a few technicalities have been cleared up.

2,268 KILLED AT CROSSINGS IN YEAR

Renewed efforts on the part of the railroads are being made this campaign summer to lessen the number of deaths and injuries at railroad-highway crossings. One of the leaders in this campaign is Isaiah Hale, safety superintendent of the Santa Fe railroad.

Statistics gathered by Mr. Hale show that 80 per cent of all crossing accidents involve motor vehicles, and for that reason the automobile at railroad-highway crossings is a serious problem and should command the attention of every thoughtful citizen.

While our population increased 68 per cent in 30 years, fatal railroad crossing accidents increased 345 per cent, injuries in such accidents 652 per cent, and the number of motor vehicles from 0 to 15,092,177. In 1923 there were produced in this country 4,014,000 automobiles, an increase of 23 per cent over 1922.

Last year there were 2,268 persons killed and 6,314 injured at railroad-highway crossings. It is estimated, based upon previous reports, that during the present year 2,800 persons will be killed and approximately 8,000 injured. Every day in the year 7.6 persons will be killed and 21.8 injured.

While it is agreed that the ideal solution is the elimination of such crossings by putting them above or under the railroad tracks, the cost is prohibitive. Therefore, it is logical to assume that education of the traveling public to the exercise of a reasonable degree of care when approaching and passing over railroad crossings is the only practical way of reducing accidents.

"Crossing Crossings Cautiously" will save many, possibly hundreds of lives.

LARKIN RAISES FINE PLUMS

H. M. Larkin was exhibiting in town last Thursday some very fine plums which came from two of his trees. He had broken a twig from each tree, one containing eleven and the other 21 plums, just about as thick on the twig as they could grow and some of them about as large as any plums we ever saw. His trees are literally loaded down with this fine fruit; and in fact all other plum trees in the country are producing abundant fruit this year. Pardon us for repeating it, but this is a great fruit country, folks.

WILL OPEN A NEW BARBER SHOP SOON

W. A. Stricklin will open a new barber shop in the Tahoka Filling Station building, he announced the first of this week. It is not known definitely what day Mr. Stricklin will open his shop, since he is awaiting the arrival of fixtures. The proprietor is an experienced barber and has been employed in the Hart Barber Shop for some time.

NEW METHODIST CHURCH BUILDING

NEW BUILDING FILLS NEEDS OF METHODIST CONGREGATION

The above is a cut of the splendid new Methodist Church recently constructed in Tahoka. The building is 60 by 80 feet in size, and was constructed at a cost of $27,000, exclusive of the cost of the lot and the furniture. It is beautifully situated one block north of the business section of the city and faces east. The seating capacity of the main auditorium and balcony is 750, and of the basement 450. There are also a number of rooms in the basement for Sunday School classes and other departments of the church activities. Work was begun on the building on December 14, 1923, and was completed about the last of June this year. It was occupied for church services for the first time on Sunday, June 29. Rev. R. A. Clements was the architect and builder. Rev. J. T. Howell is the capable and beloved pastor, and to him is due much of the credit for the fine co-operative and progressive spirit of the membership which prompted this splendid building enterprise.

For a number of years the church had been in need of a more commodious and substantial place of worship, and for two or three years such a building enterprise had been in contemplation, but for one reason or another the plans never materialized. In 1920, under the pastorate of Rev. W. C. Hinds now of Seymour, building plans were made and subscriptions to the amount of $18,000 were taken, and then came a tightening up of the financial conditions of the country and the building enterprise was postponed.

On December 1, 1922, at a meeting of the official board of the Church decision was made to procure the present site for the future church building, and in January 1923 the deed to same was made by A. D. Shook of Waco to the trustees of the church, conveying the six lots on which the new building stands, the plot being 140 by 177 feet in size. The building enterprise was renewed and the following building committee was appointed: J. A. Brashear, A. L. Lockwood, R. C. Wood, E. S. Davis, F. E. Redwine, J. N. Thomas, M. Lee, Dr. E. E. Callaway, J. H. Wyatt, C. A. Thomas, Dr. C. B. Townes, H. A. Patterson, C. W. Slover, Sid Sanders, Mrs. C. H. Cain, and Mrs. S. E. Reid. Later an executive committee consisting of J. A. Brashear, A. L. Lockwood, and Dr. E. E. Callaway was appointed and served.

On November 12, 1923, Rev. R. A. Clements was engaged to superintend the construction of a basement which at this time it was planned to build, with the intention of erecting the super-structure later. Upon his arrival to begin work, a meeting of the building committee was held December 13, 1923, and at this meeting it was determined to proceed with the building of a completed structure just as fast as the money could be raised with which to carry on the work. Several thousand dollars were pledged that night, and Brother Clements began work the next morning. Funds were raised as needed, and when the building was completed about the first of July it was practically paid for.

It is the intention to build a parsonage on the plot, just north of the church building, as soon as the church shall feel financially able to raise the funds.

MOTHER OF 11 JUMPS FROM 4TH FLOOR

LUBBOCK, Aug. 6.—Hurling herself from the fourth floor of a Lubbock hospital, Mrs. J. K. Brown, 45, and the mother of eleven children, was fatally injured Sunday evening about 7 o'clock, and died about 10 hours later. She is survived by her husband and children, the youngest of whom is five months old. The Brown family lived on a farm between Littlefield and Amherst.

Immediately following the tragedy, the woman was given medical aid and it was thought that she merely suffered a dislocated right arm. She has been in the hospital here for several days, under treatment for a nervous breakdown, and it is said that when she leaped from the window she was laboring under a delusion that she was being pursued.

According to a statement made by her husband this was the third attempt made to end her life.

BILL THOMPSON HAS SUNDAY VISITORS

Bill Thompson had a big dinner out at his house Sunday. Big dinners are not unusual at his house but this was an unusually big dinner. There were just sixty of his relatives and friends present to enjoy the hospitality of the Thompson home. Among the number were three cousins and their families, Arsh Thompson of Limestone county, Oliver Thompson of Lubbock, and also W. H. Henderson and family of Amarillo, Mrs. Brown and family of Navarro county, and Joe Thompson and family of Lynn county. Bill says that eight of the number present had been school-mates with him down in Hill county a few years ago, just a few years. It was a happy company, and Bill says they had a sure-enough good time.

LYNN COUNTY REPUBLICANS MET SATURDAY

The Republicans of Lynn County, at a meeting in the county Court room last Saturday, August 2, perfected an organization and elected Jack Alley as permanent chairman of Lynn County. Ben Moore of O'Donnell was elected secretary. J. L. Vaughn of Lubbock was selected as delegate and D. A. Parkhurst as alternate to the conventions to be held in Amarillo and Fort Worth. The local Republicans also endorsed the Coolidge administration and Eugene Nolte as the Republican nominee for Governor. No other business of any importance was transacted at the meeting.

TO HOLD REVIVAL MEETING AT DIXIE CHURCH HOUSE

Rev. J. T. Howell, pastor of the Tahoka Methodist Church, will begin a meeting at the Dixie Church next Sunday afternoon. Ernest Patterson, also of Tahoka, will have charge of the music. A big meeting is expected in that community. All are invited to attend the services, and the co-operation of all Christians is urged. A number of people from Tahoka will likely be in attendance at some of the services.

EDITOR ON VACATION

The editor of the Lynn County News and his family left last Tuesday morning on a ten days Ford trip through Central Texas. The family will run by and say hello to relatives in Miles, Temple, Belton, Waco, Hamilton, and Sweetwater before returning to Tahoka. In the meantime, the Son and the Operator are endeavoring to hold down the News shop.

Methodist Meeting Closed Last Sunday

The revival services conducted at the Methodist Church the past two weeks by Evangelist F. M. Neal and singer Fred Poulter, came to a close Sunday night, with ten additions to the church.

While the accessions to the church were not large in number, it is believed that the meeting has done much good in raising the standard of Christian living and in deepening the spiritual life of many church members. All through the campaign, the evangelist, emphasized the importance of really living the consecrated Christian life. He constantly maintained that there is a vast difference between a Christian and a mere church member. He was unsparing in his denunciation of worldliness on the part of professed Christians. Dancing, card playing the social evil, and other forms of sin were mercilessly assailed at almost every service. If the people of Tahoka should genuinely heed all his warnings, and live the kind of life that he unceasingly enjoyed, this would indeed be a much better town spiritually and morally.

FROM FLAG STATION TO PROSPEROUS TOWN IN 4 YEARS

MEADOW, Texas, August 2.—From a flag station to a growing, prosperous agricultural town within four years is the record set not only by this little town on the Brownfield Branch of the Santa Fe out of Lubbock, but by a number of other South Plains towns, all of which has been brought about by the rapid agricultural development of the section.

Four years ago Meadow had one store, 4 residences and a flag stop for the mixed train that made a round trip daily from Brownfield to Lubbock and return. Today Meadow has a full time station agent, a railroad station, 35 business houses, 153 residences, two lumber yards, a bank, two gins whose run last season was 3350 bales of cotton with an estimate of more than 6,000 bales for 1924, three church buildings, and a brick high school completed a year ago and already overcrowded.

Election for Incorporation

An election is to be called by the recently organized Chamber of Commerce upon the question of incorporating the town with a view to going into the water and electric light problem and other necessary improvements for the continued growth of the town. The trade territory surrounding the town is developing such at rapid rate that the town must make provision without delay to care for the demands that are going to be made upon it as a business center this fall. The cotton acreage has been more than doubled over that planted last season when 3,350 bales were ginned in this city. One hundred and sixty-seven new farm homes were built within trading distance of the town during the past twelve months and more than 50,000 acres of new land will be offered to the homeseeker during the fall and winter months upon very favorable terms and small payments down.

An election will be called within a few weeks for the enlargement of the new High School building that was completed only a year ago. The abandoned frame school building will have to be overhauled and used again this year until the new addition can be voted constructed.

From a flag stop to a thriving rural town was not the result of a boom growth but of the steady agricultural development of a productive section whose possibilities have scarcely been scratched.

Biggest Vote

DALLAS, Texas, Aug. 5.—The largest vote in the history of Texas was recorded in the recent democratic primary it was announced here last night by the Texas Election Bureau in its final report of incomplete returns that will be made. The tabulation went to 700,020, the first time in Texas history 700,000 has been passed.

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, the Temple candidate, was still the leading candidate for second place with plurality over Lynch Davidson of 5,196.

Live Oak county is the only remaining county that has sent any report to the bureau while seven other have made partial returns.

T-Bar Scene of All Day Program

Short Addresses, Recitations, Songs and One-Act Plays Feature Sunday's Program

T-Bar School House was the scene all day last Sunday of a Sunday School celebration that included in its program short addresses, recitations, songs, pantomimes, and short one-act plays that kept a crowded house interested and demonstrated that the people of that community are looking after the spiritual training of their young folks in a commendable way.

B. M. Estes is the superintendent of the Sunday School. He has a corps of workers comprised of M. A. Dorman, Dad Nichols, Mrs. Townsend, Mrs. Moore, and others who assured the success of the program Sunday and have greatly aided in building up widespread interest in Sunday school work in the community.

At the noon hour a dinner that was both plentiful and of delectable variety was spread on the ground and greatly enjoyed by the host of consumers. T-Bar people have a reputation for hospitality and the housewives for being good cooks—they lived up to that reputation on Sunday.

There were many visitors present, among them Rev. Ethridge of O'Donnell, Dr. McMickin, pastor of the Methodist church of Lubbock, and Geo. E. Halliday of Tahoka, the latter two delivering addresses on Sunday school work.

In addition to the addresses mentioned the morning program included the following numbers as furnished by the program committee:

Address of welcome, M. A. Dorman; song and talk by Grandpa Townsend; song by old folks; talk by Mr. McMickin; recitations by Hazel Moore, Novic Denton Terry; song by the boys and girls; recitation, Ruth Terry; Twen's third Psalm, small boys and girls; recitation, Mary Helen Henderson.

In the afternoon recitations were given by Ruth Terry, Willard Moore, Zema Dorman, Lorene Denton, Heward Moore, Bertice Moore and Ruby Moore, interspersed with songs and three short one act plays that pointed a moral.

The entire program was pleasingly rendered, which, with the general fellowship and brotherly spirit of the people, caused everyone to have a good time.

YOUNG COUPLE MARRY

It was Sunday night. Uncle Ike had already gone to bed and was dreaming fantastic dreams about performing marriage ceremonies. "Hello! Hello!" came from the gate. He arose and answered the call. "Two young people want to get married," he was told, for "Behold, the bridegroom cometh", and with him the bride. So, at near the midnight hour, Uncle Ike graciously performed the ceremony that united Mr. Houston Brewer and Miss Beulah McKee for life. They reside in the Joe Bailey community and will continue to make their home there. May the Fates be kind to them through all the coming years.

AGRICULTURE TEACHER ARRIVES IN TAHOKA

W. R. Lace, who will teach Agriculture in the Tahoka High School during the ensuing term, arrived Thursday night to get acquainted with the folks and to familiarize himself with conditions here before school work begins. He expressed himself to the News man as being desirous of rendering as much service as possible outside of his school room work, and he will probably furnish something for publication in these columns occasionally. He is a graduate of the Texas A. & M. College, taking his degree last spring.

Mrs. C. P. Osborne, mother of Mrs. J. F. Curry, came in Wednesday to spend a few days visiting with the family of her daughter. Mrs. Osborne lives at Vernon.

Tom Levi and Bird Boydston of Killen spent a few days here visiting John Boydston, who lives west of town, and taking a look at the country.

COLLINS OPPOSES KLAN CANDIDATES

Makes Distinction Between Klans
in Race And One Backed
By Organization

Former State Senator V. A. Collins of Dallas, defeated July 26 in the primary for the Democratic nomination for Governor of Texas gave out a statement addressed "To the people of Texas".

In it he said in part: "The smoke of battle has partly cleared away, and it is definitely known that I 'also ran.' Many heard and applauded me, but few voted for me.

"There was no room for me in the field; the ground was occupied. There was but one issue, and my attitude on that didn't suit either side.

"I didn't condemn the klan, and that didn't suit the anti-klan, and my just rebuke of the leaders of the klan increased the klan members. They preferred not to hear it, and either failed to hear it or went away condemning me for telling the truth. The members have no more to do with running the affairs of the organization than the peasants of Russia have to do with the Government of the Czar. There is where the danger lies—blind worship of the heroes 'at the top'.

View of "Other Side."
"That on the other hand the anti-klan part, on account of the same instance of the klan, didn't suit itself, to a man who had been in the klan.

"I suppose almost everybody now might concede that my motives are only those of good citizenship, since I am no longer a candidate with an 'ax to grind'; therefore I feel impelled to say something to my fellow citizens.

"I was born and raised in Texas, and expect to die here. My posterity will live here after my demise. I am interested in my country as I concede other citizens to be, and speak only from the feeling of interest I have.

"I am a Protestant Gentle of the white race, and I suppose I shall not be charged with the bias of the Catholic or Jew.

"Any organization founded upon and sustained by religious prejudice, I believe can not survive.

"Any secret organization with no other object than business or political boycott has no place in this country.

Against Dictators

"If the klan wants to live as a social charitable, fraternal or patriotic organization, its right to do so would never be questioned, but when it sets itself up as a religious, economic or political dictator and behind closed doors uses the boycott to effectuate its purposes, it invades the sacred precincts of individual political and religious liberty, and must be met by its own methods, if need be to stop its unwarranted domination of the politics of the country.

"If we concede as true everything the klan says about the Catholic, yet the Catholic church would be no more dangerous than the klan as now operating.

"According to the statements of klan organs, the Pope of Rome nor the priesthood of the church never more completely dominated the members thereof, than the membership of the klan is dominated by the imperial wizard and the grand dragon.

"To injure me with good klansmen, some one would behind closed doors in this campaign that there was something wrong with my life, that the klan could not endorse.

"Also members of the women's klan in Dallas have told since this campaign began that I was a Catholic and that one would as well vote for the Pope of Rome as to vote for me.

"Two women phoned me on election day and requested that I refute the charge that I was a Catholic which was being circulated, I did so, but it had passed from lip to lip before it was reported to me, and of course, had helped to accomplish its purpose.

Member of Christian Church
"Though I have been a member of the Christian Church thirty-five years that failed to prevent reports in the klan that I was a Catholic.

"Many times in this campaign have I myself corrected the statement of some poor, misguided zealot that Lynch Davidson was a Catholic.

"I have no malice in my heart, but feel that at this time I should call public attention to the things herein mentioned.

"In the face of those conditions, what must we do to be saved?"

"I care not what course others may pursue; as for me my duty is clear.

"I will not vote against a man because he is a klanman, but if he runs as a klan endorsed candidate, taking advantage of some secret cable to beat his opponent who just runs as a citizen in the open on his party ticket, I shall register my vote for the one who runs in the open.

"Put them out of politics and you have put them out of business.

"I think our duty is clear to defeat every klan-endorsed candidate in the August primary.

"Let's be tolerant and not vote against a man merely because he is a klanman; in that we would become intolerant as they.

"But if he is the candidate of the klan, treat him as the member of another party trying to get office with Democratic votes.

Time for Brave Men
"It is a time calling for brave men and women. We must not fear the loss of a little business or even of reputation itself, for I know from experience it may cost both, but the duty of citizenship comes first with me, and I shall do that duty and pay the price.

"I beg to thank my friends for the assistance rendered me in this campaign and to say to them that I will not lose interest in public affairs and promise to continue my efforts in the interest of a better Texas."

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Yates of Wrenn were in Tahoka Wednesday prospecting.

UNCLE BEN DIVIDES UP

Uncle Ben Rogers came from the tall timbers of East Texas. He lived in Anderson county so long that all the pine trees wept in sorrow when he moved west to grow up with the country. He left a host of friends down in the "sticks", and they raise Elberta peaches there without half trying. Recently they remembered that their good friend was out here in this "desert" country, and they sent him we don't know how many peaches. Anyway he divided up with his friends and the editor came in for a share. We can testify that Palestine Elbertas are about the proper stuff.

Clarley Brown returned Saturday from Mineral Wells, where he has been taking medical treatment for several weeks. His many friends were glad to see him back in Tahoka and to note that his condition is apparently much improved.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Stratton were here Monday visiting the family of Mrs. Stratton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davidson, and Mr. Stratton was incidentally looking after the interests of the Allen Music Company of Sweetwater.

Messrs. E. Pietzsch and J. T. Seago, two splendid citizens of Roscoe, were here Saturday. They report a lack of rain down in Nolan county and say that crops are beginning to suffer.

The celebration was ended late Friday night with a dance. Speeches chief among which was that of Porter Whaley of Stamford, manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, were the attraction Friday afternoon.

Cowboys from Cochran, Hockley, Lamb and Lubbock Counties roved with each other in rodeo stunts which thrilled the large crowd. Other amusements including a carnival, rounded out the events of the day.

A year ago Amherst was pasture land and today with a population of about 500 and a trade territory including several thousand others, the city boasts of one of the finest futures of any in this section of west Texas.

YES, WE ARE FOR MRS. MIRIAM FERGUSON

The News editor is going to vote for Mrs. Ferguson for Governor.

Since this is a free country, we owe no explanation to any one for pursuing this course, but we feel impelled to state the reasons for the faith that is in us.

This editor has never voted for Jim Ferguson when he had a Democratic opponent. We voted for him for a second term for governor, but we believe he had no opponent at that time.

The editor of this paper has been a life-long prohibitionist, one who fought for prohibition when nearly all the politicians in Texas, including Felix D. Robertson, were on the other side. He has known Jim Ferguson since boyhood. As a young man, he fought for prohibition in several campaigns in Bell county when Jim Ferguson was lined up on the other side. When Ferguson aspired to the governorship, we opposed him, for we felt that he would serve the liquor interests and would give a black eye to the cause of prohibition. When he was impeached, we felt that some of the charges sustained and that he was justly expelled, from office. When he aspired to the Senate with a number of others two years ago, we enthusiastically supported Cullen F. Thomas, whom we yet believe to have been the best qualified man for the place. But in the run-off, we had to choose between Mayfield and Ferguson and we reluctantly voted for Mayfield. We have never thought Jim Ferguson to be the hyena, however, that some people have branded him. In our opinion, he is personally a much better man than some of those who would have been his opponents in the recent primary had his name been permitted to go on the ballot as a candidate. The Court held that he was not eligible, and we are of the opinion that the Court's ruling was correct. Ferguson himself accepted the verdict of the court; but the fact that he is disqualified does not in any way disqualify his wife from serving in this exalted position. Her name was placed on the ballot as a candidate. We did not vote for her in the first primary. But now we must choose between her and Felix D. Robertson.

We have already decided in favor of Mrs. Ferguson.

We have thus decided for two reasons. First, we believe that with the aid of her husband, she is capable of making Texas a better governor than Felix D. Robertson. We are not sure but that she is capable of doing so without the aid of her husband. The editor has known Mrs. Ferguson for many years; at least, he was acquainted with her many years ago. She is an accomplished and cultured Christian woman. She has strong intellectual ability. She stands for prohibition, for the education of the children of the country, for the support of our higher institutions of learning, and for economy in the expenditure of public funds. While we did not approve many things that Jim Ferguson did as governor, we believe that he will use his best efforts to make the administration of his wife a signal success. What husband would not do so? And as for native ability, Jim skinned a hundred city blocks.

There is another reason why we must support Mrs. Ferguson over Felix D. Robertson. Felix D. Robertson is that candidate of a secret political organization. We have no first hand knowledge as to how he was selected by that organization. But we have reason to believe that he was picked by the bosses of that organization. We have reason to believe that Zeke Marvin, Grand Dragon of the Ku Klux Klan of Texas, and about sixty of his cohorts selected Robertson as the Klan candidate. Whoever selected him and however it was done it was done in secret, and Zeke Marvin had a hand in pulling the wires. Who is Zeke Marvin? He is a druggist in Dallas. His Drug store sells whiskey on prescription, and it is said to have sold more whiskey the past year than any other drug store in Texas. Who is Felix Robertson? He claims now to be a prohibitionist. Formerly he was a bitter anti-prohibitionist. He claims to have been converted to the pro side sixteen or eighteen years ago. But there have been two or three local option contests in McLennan county, where Robertson lived, during the past sixteen or eighteen years. Did anybody ever hear Felix Robertson make a prohibition speech in any of those contests? There have been two statewide prohibition contests in Texas during the last fifteen years. Did anybody ever hear Felix D. Robertson make a prohibition speech in either of those contests? Did anybody ever know that Felix Robertson was a prohibitionist, in fact, until after Texas had gone dry? If he were elected governor, would he not feel that he had been selected and elected by the power and influence of Grand Dragon, whiskey-selling Zeke? Would not Zeke Marvin be the power behind the throne? Are we yet ready to turn the destinies of Texas over to Zeke Marvin, Bill Hanger, George K. Butcher, and a bunch of other political autocrats, to be governed and exploited by them? Are we ready for the policies of our government to be dictated by men who meet and plan and plot and execute in secret conclaves? As for us, we are not ready. The issue is clear-cut. Shall Texas be dominated by the Ku Klux Klan, a secret political organization, or shall it be governed by those who believe in "open covenants openly arrived at."

We do not wish to be misunderstood. We believe that a majority of those who belong to the Ku Klux Klan are well-meaning citizens. Their patriotism is beyond question and their purposes are pure. But when they enter into a secret political organization, they are consciously or unconsciously helping to build a political machine that will be used by the autocrats at its head for their own aggrandizement. Any such organization, it makes no difference how pure the purposes of the rank and file, is un-American, undemocratic, unfair, and is sure to become dangerous to the cause of good government.

We are against the clique of self-serving politicians who, through the Klan, are seeking to dominate the politics of Texas. We are therefore against Felix D. Robertson, and we are for Mrs. Ferguson, and hope that she will be the first woman governor in America.

We do not believe that the Klan issue should affect any man's vote as to county candidates. We are personally acquainted with all the local candidates and have every opportunity to form a fairly accurate judgment as to which of them will make the best officials. No klansman should vote for any man simply because he may have been officially endorsed. On the other hand no anti-klansman should vote against a man simply because the local klansmen may have endorsed him. Qualifications and fitness for the office should be the prime considerations. Let's not let the Klan issue to affect us locally, folks.

Editor Ben Smith of the Scurry County Times-Signal will return to the plains as editor of the Slaton Radiogram is the rumor among newspaper men as a result of Smith's announcement last week that he had disposed of the Times-Signal and would go to another field. J. L. Martin of Royce City, Hunt County, will be the new pilot of the Times-Signal. We know nothing of Mr. Martin and his ability to handle the Snyder paper, but we know Mr. Smith to be a good newspaper man and a hustler for business. He has the ability and will give Slaton an excellent paper. Mr. Smith was formerly editor and owned the Lockney Beacon, one of the best weeklies on the Plains. Spring before last he went to Snyder, at which place he enjoyed an excellent patronage, but became "the victim of circumstances over which we have no control" and is forced to take care of newspaper investments elsewhere. The Plains editors are glad to welcome Ben back to their midst, and The News will be glad to call him Neighbor.

The reign of Queen Elizabeth was one of the most noted in English history, and in the last half of the nineteenth century Queen Victoria presided with remarkable success over the British Empire. No woman has yet been selected to sit at the head of our own government at Washington so as the governor of any state in this Union. If Mrs. Ferguson should be elected governor of Texas, it will be something new in American politics. The strong probabilities are that Texas is to furnish the first woman governor among our American commonwealths.

LEE EXTENDS THANKS

I wish to express my thanks to the voters of the precinct for the splendid vote which they gave me in the recent primaries. Since the returns showed that I was only two votes behind the first man and one vote behind the second man, I will not be in the run-off, but I appreciate the support of my friends just as deeply as if I had won. Again assuring you of my gratitude, I am Very Respectfully,
W. M. Lee

TWO MEN
Two men there live in every town
With lives as like as nuts of brown;
But one wears a smile, the other a frown,
For the one looks up and the other one down.
The one that looks up is a merry chap
With a hearty hello and a friendly slap,
While his neighbor, Grouch, across the way,
Has seldom a friendly word to say.
The things they see are just the same,
But the one will praise, the other one blame,
A rose bush for one had flowers grand,
For the other but thorns that prick his hand.
If it happens to rain why Grouch will say,
"Tis a beastly, nasty, stormy day!"
While Smiles will laugh while the drops come down,
"Twill lay the dust on the way to town."
They work side by side, and when night comes along,
Smiles starts for his home with a snatch of a song;
Happy in knowing his day's work is through;
Grouch only thinks of the chores yet to do.
And thus through life they go along,
Grouch with a grunt, Smiles with a song;
One always happy, the other blue;
And now, dear friend, which one are you?

Mrs. Miriam Ferguson Writes "To The People of Texas"

It appears from the face of the election returns that I will be in the run-off primary to be held by the sovereign democrats of Texas on Saturday, August 23. If such honor has fallen to me I want to first thank God, to whom I have carried my troubles through all these years of tribulation and adversity. Realizing my inexperience in state affairs there was nothing else for me to do but to appeal to Him who can heal all sorrow and right all wrong.

If in return for this welcome expression of confidence by our friends, my husband and I may have the opportunity and the privilege to render some further service to the people of our native state, it will be easy to forget all the trials of the past, and the memory of all un-friendliness will be wiped away and the remaining years allotted to us shall be dedicated to the service of the people. We shall "live for those who love us and the good that we can do."

I want to thank everybody for their loyalty, but for which we could have done nothing. I am deeply grateful for the many kind letters that the mothers of Texas have sent me and I hope to be worthy of their confidence.

I shall endeavor, through the aid and advice of my husband, and it is my hope that prominent and patriotic citizens, regardless of past controversies and affiliations to bring about a constructive administration of state affairs. Texas has had enough of strife and partisanship and the condition of our state demands that everybody get themselves into a frame of mind to make whatever concession is necessary to improve and develop our state affairs and institutions.

Our constitutional tax limit for general purposes has been exceeded by our state appropriations and without in any way desiring to hamper any department I shall ask the full co-operation of everybody to keep our expenditures within constitutional limits.

Honest people should not incur debts that they are not able to pay. The state should set the same example.

Of course my first desire is to do something for the country and common schools of the state. The education of the children of the great masses who cannot educate themselves is the first duty of the state. This is imperative not only as a matter of justice, but as a matter of preservation of the republic.

I also want to co-operate to the fullest extent in the maintenance of our higher institutions of learning. The constitution provides for these institutions and when conducted in the proper way they are needed.

Let me emphasize that no higher institution of education from the university down need have any fear from my administration as long as it is maintained along the line of efficiency, economy and within the limits of the public revenues fixed by the constitution. I believe that we need a reconsecration to the provisions of the old time democracy set forth in the constitution of our daddies which provides for the freedom of religious and political thought and respect for the law of the land.

Let us spend a little more time living up to our own religion rather than complaining about our neighbors' religion and maybe we will get along better.

Believing in the necessity of the prohibition laws to prevent the evils of intoxicating liquors I shall use every power vested in me as governor to have such laws enforced in letter and spirit, tempered only with justice and humanity. While I recognize the necessity at times for the use of intoxicating liquors as a medicine, yet I want to raise my voice against the alarming increase of liquor sales by drug stores under the plea that it is sold for medicinal purposes when in truth it is sold for beverage purposes at outrageous prices and is ruining all too many of our boys and girls. The saloon was had enough, but the modern bootlegging drug store is a disgrace to our country. They must go. As governor of Texas I shall demand it.

I want to thank the people who from every part of the state have tendered me their support in this contest. I yet believe that God will answer my prayer for the vindication of my family name, which my good husband and I are seeking, not for revenge, but for the good of our children and their children who shall live after us.

I am not in this race through any great desire to hold office and I shall not become again a candidate if our prayers for vindication are answered. But for two years I want to give the people a devoted service. Mother, won't you help me?

Miriam A. Ferguson

UNIVERSITY SALARIES

Recent difficulties over the selection of a president of the University of Texas brought again to prominence Texas' low place among State universities in the matter salaries paid to the more important members of the faculty. It has happened many times in the past that professors at Texas University who have won recognition because of their ability and attainments have been lost to the State at the time when their service was most needed and when they had attained greater usefulness. Some other college, more concerned with the advancement of the interests of its students than with keeping salaries at a low level, was able to make the educator such favorable offer that his own interest demanded putting aside his desire to serve his own State. At least one of the several selections for the university presidency, a man among the most notable of American educators, could not accept because such would have meant a great sacrifice in income.

A recent publication of fiduciary statistics of American colleges by the Bureau of Education of the Department of the Interior furnishes an illuminating revelation of the University of Texas' position in this respect. Thirty four state universities and colleges pay their presidents more than does the University of Texas. Among these states are such as Arizona, Nevada, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Washington and Wyoming, all States with far smaller resources, much smaller enrollment and smaller educational systems with demand far less ability on the part of the university president than in Texas. The State of Washington pays its university president $18,000 a year, and the president of its State college $10,000, as against Texas' $7,000 for the president of the State University. Even the University of Hawaii pays its president more than the salary received by the president of the University of Texas.

Texas low mark is continued throughout the entire list of faculty members. For deans our university pays an average of $4,500 a year, as compared with an average of $5,688 for the upper one-fourth of state universities. For professors the figures are $3,750 and $4,000 respectively. In addition, most state universities have a flexible provision that enables compensation adequate to his worth to be paid to an especially qualified professor. No such provision is made in the salary arrangements at Texas. The absolute maximum for professors is $4,500.

Texas are justly proud of their State University. It ranks high in educational attainments, in number and quality of students, and in instruction, result has been achieved in spite of a long-continued policy of stinting on the part of the Legislature which makes appropriations for its upkeep.

Texas University has the greatest permanent fund endowment of any the universities. It has the greatest opportunity to serve the greatest need to fill, of any. It has had the advantage of loyalty on the part of underpaid instructors which has led them to continue devoting their lives in poverty to the cause of Texas education while others of their profession, with no greater ability and no States are receiving salaries which enable them to live well. Common gratitude as well as good business judgment calls Texas to remedy the situation. We cannot expect to keep the university at its high state of efficiency on salaries that were inadequate 20 years ago.

A horizontal increase for all members of the faculties of the State colleges should be provided by the next Legislature. Thirty-fifth place among the States is not the standing to which Texas' importance entitles it. No Texan will admit that 35 other States are better than Texas in any thing. The figures next year should read differently.

MIDLAND INVITES FARMERS TO THAT SECTION

Midland is expecting a great influx of farmers to take advantage of the cheap lands in that section of West Texas, and an advertisement inviting farmers of this vicinity to inquire about the Midland lands appears in another column of this paper today.

Cotton lands about Midland are selling from $15 to $25 an acre, with only $3 an acre down and ten years to pay the balance. Cotton in the Midland section this year promises from a quarter to half a bale an acre, and some farms will produce even more than that.

In addition to the advantage of cheap price for good land, the Midland country is absolutely free from the boll weevil, and has no crab nor burrah grass. One man in the Midland country can handle 160 acres with as little work as one man handles 40 acres in East or Central Texas.

Many of the farmers who are coming to the Midland country have been renters all their lives, but they now see a big opportunity to own their own homes. Many men are also buying land for investment purposes.

All sorghum grains and maize do well in the Midland section, but wheat, oats, and corn do not thrive as well as in other sections. All kinds of fruits, apples, peaches, pears, apricots and cherries do well, and watermelons and cantaloupes grow in abundance.

The Midland schools are among the best in Texas, having 27 1-2 points of affiliation. The churches would do credit to a crowd of 10,000 people. The nights are always cool during summer. The winters are mild. The people are a happy blend of Westerners and Southerners. Midland is right in the heart of the big, generous, golden west, and is a fine place to live, to make a living and rear one's children into real men and women.

People of this community are invited to visit Midland.

T-BAR FARMER RE-MEMBERS THE EDITOR

Our good friend J. W. Nichols of the T-Bar community has a big sympathetic heart in his bosom. He raised just bushels of peaches this year, big fine luscious fellows. As he enjoyed them, he remembered that the editor perhaps had not had a good square meal in several days, so, he brought in a fine assortment of his peaches and delivered them into our shop without money and without price. They were thankfully received and voraciously eaten.

Male Sea Horse Rear Young.

While most fishes pay little attention to their offspring, merely depositing their spawn in suitable beds and leaving the young fry to care for itself when the eggs hatch, the seahorse is a devoted and painstaking parent. This fish is provided, in fact, with a pouch similar to that of the kangaroo, and in this pouch the eggs are deposited and remain until hatched, and for some time afterward. However, it is the father fish who possesses this convenient receptacle, and not the mother. Once her eggs have been laid the duties of Madam Hippocampus are at an end. It is her spouse who carries the eggs about with him during their period of incubation and until the babies are strong enough to escape from his capacious pocket, which is situated on the abdomen, at the root of his long curving tail.

The Poor Lion.

It was a small circus and carried but one lion, one tiger, one elephant and so on down the list.

After the trainer had put the lion through its paces, an elderly woman appeared at the cage door and remarked:

"Aren't you afraid that this ferocious beast will attempt to make a meal of you some day?"

"To tell the truth, ma'am," confided the trainer, "if business doesn't improve, I'm afraid I shall have to make a meal of this ferocious beast."

A Clam.

The evening party was over and the hostess said to the young man as he was leaving: "I'm afraid you've had rather a dull evening. Miss X. is not a brilliant conversationalist."

"Brilliant conversationalist?" he said. "Why, the only thing she could say to me was 'No,' and I had to propose to get even that out of her!"

A New Kind of Loan.

A debtor, on being sued, acknowledged that he had borrowed the money, but declared that the plaintiff knew at the time that it was a Kathleen Mavoureen loan."

"A Kathleen Mavoureen loan?" questioned the magistrate, with a puzzled look.

"That's it, your honor—one of the 'It may be for years, and it may be for ever' loans."

What is a Gentleman?

"Gentlemen Make the Man" is an old saying. There is a school building, it does not where, along the front of inscribed in letters of gold is: "Religion and Good." A very good motto, some say, and they let it go at others may remark: "Are you and good manners one same thing does not one eme other? This latter thought ry natural one, but the two always go together; for outwardly a man may have s which according to worldly ds are above reproach, but in he may be anything but re-

he other hand, a man may be is in the very best sense of m and yet have manners that shock a South Sea Islander. Dr. Samuel Johnson who was "What is a gentleman?" sir," replied the great lexico-r, "a gentleman is a man who

e is a power of meaning in mple reply. To be gentle is to consideration for others, to consideration for others is to selfish, to be unselfish is to s the spirit of self-sacrifice, sses one of the noblest attri- of which mankind is capable rtesy, it is often said, costs g; but this is not always true. ay sometimes costs much; it imes requires the exercise of a measure of self-control, and self control is not always coming . The man who exercis self control under e circumstances is a hero; he re, he is a gentleman.

e sometimes wonders whether a s in courtesy would not be a thing for some of our public als; whether the inculcation of precept, "Suaviter in modo, for- in re" (gently in manner, g in deed), would not be good y. Even politicians and their vers might benefit by such a e. Consider, for example, what nmense influence it would ex- on political and all other con- ons. There is no doubt that reater the shouting the less the is only when the stream is un- led that the waters flow clear- and in like manner it is only self-control is exercised in the s of everyday life, that good and good fellowship are pre- d.—Dearborn Independent.

MRS. KING EXHIBITS GOOD FRUIT

Mrs. J. O. King on last Saturday presented the editor with a little sack of peaches which she picked from some of her trees. These peaches were produced without any rain and with very little irrigation for the past several weeks and yet they were of excellent size and flavor. Many, many thanks.

SEVERE CRAMPING SPELLS, PAINS IN BACK AND SIDES

"My trouble has been periodic cramping spells," says Mrs. C. C. Draper, of Atlanta, Texas. "For several years these have come on me so bad that I had to quit my work and go to bed. Every month I would stay in bed from one to two days. The pains in my back and sides were awful.

"This went on for several months after I was married until, one time when I was having a bad spell, my husband suggested that I try Cardui. I said I would try it, so he got me a bottle at the store and I began to take it.

"It seemed like I improved from the very first dose. When I had taken one bottle I was very much better. I did not cramp so hard the next month and I ate and slept better. I was not nearly so nervous, either. I thought Cardui was fine, so I continued the treatment until I had taken five bottles, at which time I felt completely well. I had no more cramping spells at all, and my health was as good as anybody's. I am feeling fine now and I give all the credit to Cardui, for I had been suffering for years before I took it."

Cardui is a vegetable extract, containing no harmful ingredients. It is made from mild-acting medicinal herbs with a gentle, tonic, strengthening effect upon certain female organs and upon the system in general. Its users have testified to its special value at the time of entering womanhood at maturity and at the time of the change of life.

For over 40 years, Cardui has been tested in use by thousands of women who have written to tell of the great benefit they have received from it. For over 600 years, medical authorities have recommended one of the principal ingredients of Cardui in the treatment of certain female complaints.

Cardui, the woman's tonic, tested by time, is today the product of many years of experience and investigation. It is manufactured in up-to-date laboratories by the most modern and sanitary methods of pharmaceutical science and is for sale by all druggists.

OLD WESTERN TRAIL IS SCENIC HIGHWAY

Stretches From Salt Lake City to Aiden Gulch.

One of the attractive northwestern routes which is being improved for the increasing summer travel to the Yellowstone and Glacier National parks, traverses the old stage route of pioneer days known as the Corinne trail, leading from Salt Lake City to Aiden gulch, near Dillon, Mont. The road from Salt Lake City, starting from the Brigham Young monument, has been paved with concrete from that point through Ogden, the second largest city of Utah, and continuing 22 miles further to Brigham. A few miles beyond there is another concrete surface through Logan to Smithfield.

Crossing into Idaho, the country becomes rolling and is chiefly adapted to dry farming and stock raising. Beyond Pocatello, the great Fort Hill Indian reservation is reached, where the ruins of the first settlement in Idaho may yet be seen, the site being an old Hudson's Bay trading post. At Idaho Falls, in the Snake River valley, the road leads toward Yellowstone park by way of Rexburg. This is the region which was explored by Lewis and Clark in 1806, and is the original home of the Blackfoot tribe of Shoshone Indians.

The road then enters the mountains according to a description in the Concrete Highway Magazine, winding through the Targhee National forest and excellent trout streams to West Yellowstone. Toward the west is a magnificent wilderness where the headwaters of the Missouri river have their origin. Following the Centennial valley to Mounds and Dillon, the town of Armisted is passed, where there is a fine memorial erected by the women of Montana in memory of the squaw, Sacajewez, who piloted Lewis and Clark through the territory.

Just beyond Dillon, the site of the State Normal college, is Banamuck, the first capital of Montana. At this spot gold was discovered and at Hangman's gulch the Vigilants rid the state of bandits.

Through the Big Hole valley, then across the Continental divide into the beautiful Bitter Root valley, the highway continues to Missoula, the center of western Montana and the home of the state university. Northward, the road crosses the Flathead Indian reserve, where buffalo still range, and penetrates the land of the Selkirk, peace-loving Indians who still live in native picturesqueness. A splendid road follows the western shore of Flathead lake, the largest body of fresh water in the United States, excepting the Great Lakes. Beyond the lake are the stupendous, snow-capped peaks of the Lingulem and then Kallispiell is reached, the gateway to the Glacier National park.

A few miles beyond the boundary line is crossed in Canada and the road continues north along the recently completed Banff-Windemere road through virgin mountain and forest country to Lake Louise and Banff, the Switzerland of America.

Movies were very real to tender hearted Mrs. Toodles. She always wept freely through the sad scenes and considered that her favorite actress was nothing short of an angel with a twy glare. So when she came home looking grave Mr. Toodles knew that something serious had happened. "What's wrong, my dear?" asked he. "I don't like this. My favorite heroine is playing a vamp," she replied. "You mustn't let that worry you. It is only pretense. You know that." "Maybe so. But where did she learn to smoke cigarettes?"

The Baptist ladies will serve dinner Saturday the 16th. Watch for the place and be prepared to come.

GOOD MEETING CLOSES AT NEW HOME

Judge and Mrs. G. E. Lockhart, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Nevels, Mr. and Mrs. D. Rogers, Uncle Ben Rogers, Mrs. Sam Sanford and family, and Mrs. Weathers, and perhaps some others, attended services at New Home Sunday. Rev. L. L. F. Parker, formerly pastor of the Taboka Baptist Church, closed a revival meeting there Sunday of one week's duration, which resulted in a number of conversions and additions to the church. There was a baptismal service in the afternoon, at which eleven were baptized.

COWBOYS TO HOLD REUNION AT CANYON

CANYON, Aug.—Men who were cowboys on the T—Anchor Ranch during the years 1881-1890 will meet for their annual Reunion at Canyon, August 29th. All of the old cowpunchers of the Panhandle Plains region have been invited to the Reunion. Last year, with the invitations limited to the T—Anchor group and their families there were more than one hundred present. This year the attendance will be much larger.

Gus Lee, negro cook of the T—Anchor headquarters in 1881 will be here and have charge of the feast. The old cowpunchers will come further to see Gus than to see any of the white men who were associated with them in their cowboy days. The executive committee of the T—Anchor or Association will meet in Canyon, August 14th to make final arrangement for the big event.

REV. J. M. DOSHER CALLED TO PASTORATE AT SEAGRAVES

Rev. J. M. Doshier closed a most successful revival at Seagraves last Sunday morning. There were about fifty professions of faith and more than forty additions to the Baptist church at that place, eighteen of them being by baptism. At the close of the meeting the church called Brother Doshier to the pastorate for full time, at a good salary. As yet, he has given the church no definite answer. He left Wednesday to begin a meeting at Southland.
