Scenic Drive Becomes West Texas Show Place

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

Take a good look at the picture to the right. Where would you say they were taken, if you had not read the cut lines?

Not in Colorado, or Davis mountains or some other world-renowned spot. But just outside the city limits of Big Spring.

Scenic Drive

After all these years of wondering why that driveway could not be repaired, smoothed and advertised as an unusual park, a beautiful driveway, the folks here, under stimulation furnished by the Chamber of Commerce civic committee, put up the money and labor necessary to do a lot of work on it and to make it possible for motorists to drive over it without damaging their cars.

It is extremely important that Big Spring people reserve an entire Pullman car for the trip of Friday and Saturday to Lovington, N. M., for the celebration of the completion into that city of the Texas and New Mexico Railway.

Big Spring will, more or less indirectly, receive much benefit from this road. Big Spring should do everything possible to promote cordial relations with the potentially rich and rapidly developing southeastern section of New Mexico.

McKee Fails In New Trial Plea

Motion for a new trial, filed in 16th district court, Lamesa, Thursday morning, by Ira McKee, convicted and sentenced to death Monday for the murder of W. R. Billingsley last May, was overruled by Judge Gordon B. McGuire. Nine days was allowed defense counsel, Harvey B. Sheard, to prepare bills of exception and statement of facts to be used in resorting to the court of criminal appeals.

Two witnesses were examined this morning. F. Lowrie and John Earl were questioned. Dee Hull, a juror in the trial, also was put on the stand and questioned as to his qualifications as a juror.

Sheriff Jess Slaughter went to Lamesa Thursday morning to aid Dawson county officers in handling the crowds expected to be present this morning when Ira McKee was brought into the courtroom. McKee was given the death sentence this week for the murder of a Sparenberg merchant.

Scout, In Camp, Writes His Dad

Every scout dad, and mother as well, will get a kick out of the following letter, which was received here Thursday from a Big Spring scout in camp on the Concho river, with 30 others, by his father: Dear Dad and Mum: I am having a fine time going into another swimming class soon am going to get a belt honor this afternoon.

I send me about 70c at once that stuff Dad told me to pay for left me 20c.

We have to write a letter to get some supper.

I didn't need the mosquitoes stuff they don't bite bad. Finishing my second class test in about thirty minutes.

I had to buy a pencil, stamps, mosquito stuff, etc.

Your Son,
P. S.: Send that money at once.

West Texas: Fair tonight, Friday and probably Saturday

CHURCH OF GOD

The Church of God, meeting in a revival at Third and Austin streets, had a well attended service Wednesday evening, despite the sandstorm which arrived shortly before meeting time. The following subjects were announced for sermons of the meeting, "Sin and Its Effects," "Justification," "Sanctification."

CAMPAIGN RESULTS IN NEW VALUE

Legend-Laden Mount Circled by Smooth Roading

Scenic Drive, long known locally by its initials only incidentally known a permanent Big Spring institution meeting prior to completion as a state asset through a great when "Scenic Drive Day" feature, program on the summit, was held.

Under direction of the civic committee of the Chamber of Commerce, headed by E. F. Robbins, a large number of men, women, boys and girls, gathered on the mountain early in the day, the men armed with picks, crowbars, shovels and rakes and the women with good things to eat.

Much Work

For four weeks the committee had been working tirelessly and had kept ten men on the payroll for three weeks. Thursday an appeal was made to citizens, asking that they donate personal labor. The response was gratifying.

Mayor J. E. Pickle, Shine Phillips, J. S. Winslow and Mr. Robbins spoke at noon during the "chuck-wagon feast."

"Know Big Spring" should be every citizen's motto, the mayor declared.

Mr. Winslow, a pioneer resident, told the folks how the town appeared from that summit but a few years ago and of the almost unbelievable changes.

Mr. Phillips suggested the drive be named "Robbins Drive," honoring the chairman of the committee which has led the improvement program, obtaining donations from business firms and individuals.

Women Help

Women of various churches donated their services in preparing and serving the noon-day meal.

Mr. Robbins expressed gratification at the response given the movement. He also asked that thanks of the committee be extended the following for the donations listed: Ross Nursery Company and Piggy Wiggy, barbecuing; W. O. Wooten Grocery Company, coffee and tar-paulin; Hely-Seify, pickles; White House Grocery, onions, cakes; Home Bakery and Dixie Bakery, bread; West Texas Candy Company, I. H. Hamlett, manager, two boxes of candy; Ross Nursery Company, leed water, melons; beans donated by Mesdames A. M. Ripps, W. F. Purer, Shine Phillips, Alice Phillips, Horace Taylor, Fox Stripling, ice donated by Southern Ice & Utilities Company.

Probably the least known of all State Parks in Texas, the Scenic Drive mountain to the south west of town is the most unique in this Western country, usually thought of as a flat monotonous plain.

Surrounded by legends it towers about 500 feet above the city which is slowly but surely extending its slopes.

The Scenic Drive mountain is so named because of the incomparable view to be had from its flat stone top.

For years it has been the goal and destination of walking parties who struggled over its foothills and up its steep sides.

It has always lured climbers from the city—first in buggies, and on foot, and then in cars, which lurched and bounced over its formidable rocks.

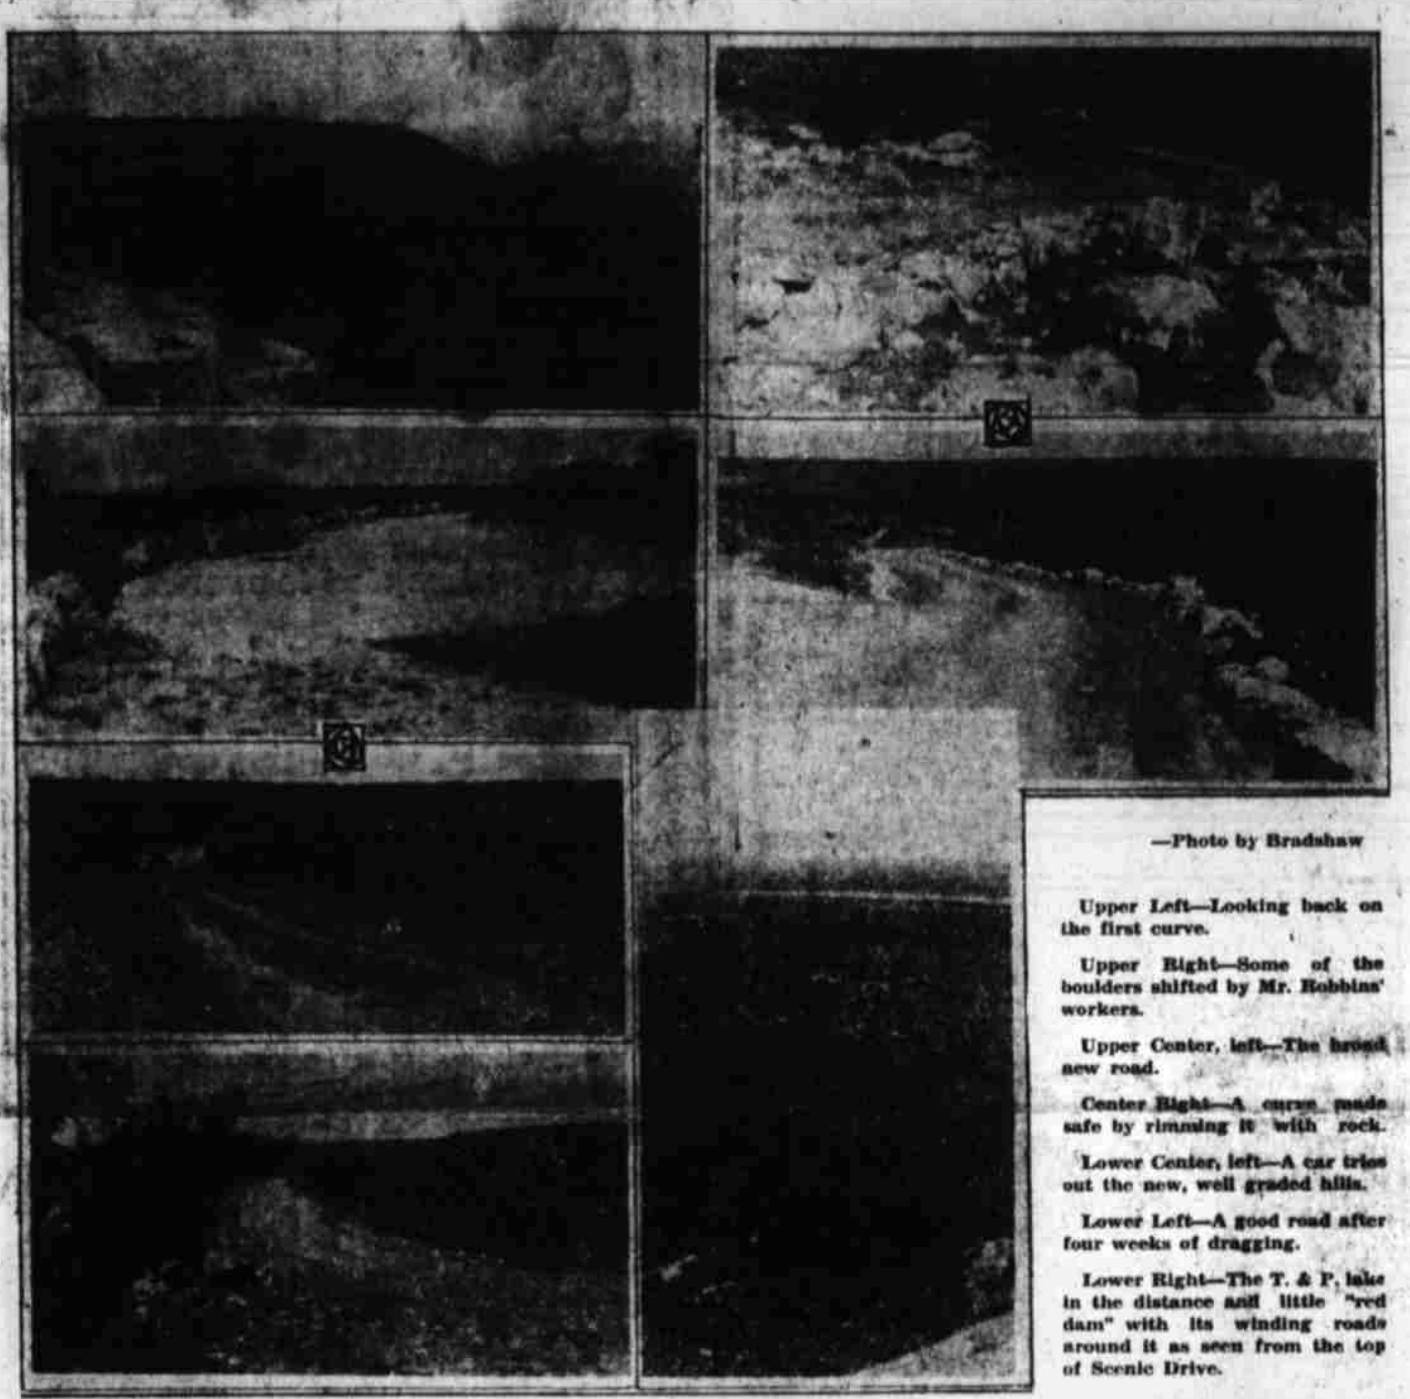

During the administration of P. Neff as Governor of Texas, the mountain was bought from its owners and donated to the State as a park.

Governor Neff made a special trip and a picnic was held in his honor at Cottonwood Park east of town. He was carrying on a campaign of state wide improvement, which included conservation of the natural beauties of the state. Graciously the state accepted the gift from Big Spring and as graciously she forgot all about it.

Bills introduced for its improvement and recognition have repeatedly been voted down in the house. It is a state park only to those who helped make it so in 1922.

For many years pilgrims climbed its sides with chains and hammers

HEAVY RAIN NEAR HERE

Dust Laden Wind Puts Rural 'Phones Out For Day

Swept by a north wind, the worst sand storm of the year visited Big Spring and Howard county Wednesday afternoon.

Although the storm was of short duration, the wind was of high velocity and sand swept through business houses and residences.

Wires were blown down between Big Spring, Ackerley and Lamesa, the three points today.

Plate glass windows in the Big Spring Printing Co. building were blown out during the storm.

The sand brought an abrupt end to the City League ball game, fans leaving the grandstand when the structure rocked in the wind, and sand swept the field.

Rain was reported to have followed the sand storm in the northern part of the county. A slight relief in hot temperature, which prevailed Wednesday, was noticed after the storm.

Gas Showing Found In Smith Test

Drilling at 2,685 feet, a showing of gas has been found in the Meriwether Oil Company's Eva Smith No. 1, Howard county, according to the operators.

Setting of 5 3/16 inch pipe was finished at 2,590 feet and water shut off.

The test is located in section 45, block 33, TSP, 2 south.

BROWNWOOD BANK CLOSES

(AP)—The Brownwood State Bank, of which O. C. Walker is president, failed to open for business today. Officials stated that unusually heavy withdrawals the past week, and especially yesterday, prompted the directors to close the bank. The bank was nine years old and had capital and surplus of $42,000.

STORY OF FIRST ASCENT OF SCENIC DRIVEWAY BY MOTOR RELATED BY BUSINESS MAN

Some twenty years ago a large red Buick, with nicker-plated gas lamps and bracing rods and a conspicuous absence of doors, struggled up a small hill in the Edwards pasture.

It made the top, to the cooling admiration of veiled and ulstered ladies perched high on its red leather seats.

The driver pushed up his goggles and squeezed the bulb of the large nicker-plated horn at his left side.

It was the first car to attempt Scenic Drive.

The next hill, being a little higher, stumped the car.

It began to roll backward and the ladies squealed in pretty fright. But the driver put on his brakes, jumped out and placed rocks under the wheels and raised the hood.

He took a large rubber syringe and from a container in the car filled it with gasoline. Then he injected this syringe—full into the carburetor, closed the hood, removed the rocks and they were off.

They made the next hill without difficulty, but the performance had to be repeated some ten or more times before the very summit was reached. But the view was worth it—they had reached the top of Scenic and from their panting vehicle they could see miles and miles away.

This story was told by a business man in Big Spring, who was the first to place his car on top of the mountain and who built the first road up its rocky stubborn sides.

Piloted by Jimmy Walker, Cronwell Airline's passenger plane landed this morning with one passenger from San Angelo to Big Spring.

H. H. Waters, Dallas, was a passenger from Big Spring to Midland Wednesday afternoon on the Southern Air Transport passenger plane.

Miss Margaret Reeves and Mrs. Tom Cronwell, Big Spring, were passengers on the southbound Cronwell Airlines' passenger plane from Big Spring to San Angelo Wednesday afternoon.

HOOPER'S VETO OKED

House Sustains President on Veterans' Relief Bill

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—The House sustained President Hoover today in vetoing the world war veterans relief bill.

The vote for upholding the president was 188 to 182.

A two thirds vote would have been necessary to override Mr. Hoover.

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—President Hoover today vetoed the world war veterans relief bill.

In an emphatic message to the House, he repeated his protests that the act was unjust. He said it added but little to aid wounded or disabled war veterans.

"I want a square deal between veterans," he wrote, "not unjust discriminations between special groups, and I do not want wasteful or unnecessary expenditures."

The House heard the detailed objections with a readiness among the Republicans to sustain the veto. Steps to substitute legislation meeting White House approval had been taken.

Consideration of substitute legislation designed to overcome Mr. Hoover's objections to the original measure began immediately.

Lions to Picnic At Park Tonight

Members of the Lions Club and their wives will be entertained with a chicken barbecue at the City Park, Friday night.

The club will meet at the park instead of holding the regular Friday luncheon at the Crawford Hotel.

A program was in the process of arrangement today. New members will be inducted into the club. Other numbers will feature the program.

World Premiere Of Byrd Picture At Ritz Friday

"What do you mean, world premiere?" a dubious reporter asked when Manager J. Y. Robb of the Ritz theatre said that playhouse would be the first in all the world to exhibit "With Byrd at the South Pole," the motion picture account of the noted explorer-aviator's expedition into the Antarctic, which ended only last week.

But, Mr. Robb furnished sufficient proof of his statement. He explained the nation-wide release date of the picture is Saturday but that he had been able to get Paramount's permission to open it here Friday, when his regular program calls for a change of pictures.

It is a well-known fact in motion picture circles of the southwest that relationships between Paramount and the R & R Theatres, of which the Ritz is one, are unusually cordial. This has been created through many years of daily business dealing between the two concerns.

The picture was filmed in the Antarctic, through the 18 months of operations there by Byrd's men, by Joe Rucker and Willard Vanderveer, members of the party. It has been termed by those who have witnessed pre-views as a daring and fearless photographic achievement on the part of the cameramen and as the most significant historical contribution to date by the motion picture industry of America to the people of the world.

PLANE NEAR NEW YORK

Southern Cross Flies From Harbor Grace, N. F.

GLoucester, Mass., June 26 (AP)—The coast guard radio station here reported that the Southern Cross was 100 miles east of Portland, Maine, at 1:30 p. m., E. S. T.

NEW YORK, June 26 (AP)—Droning through skies which cleared as it approached the coastline of the United States, the Southern Cross was almost half way to New York today in about seven hours of flying.

Squadron Leader Kingsford-Smith and his comrades were over Halifax at 11 a. m. (EST), having covered in seven hours and fifty-five minutes a distance of a little more than 500 miles as the crow flies.

This indicated that they would traverse the approximate 1,200-mile distance from Harbor Grace, N. F., where they took off at 3:05 this morning, to Roosevelt Field, N. Y., in about 15 hours, landing at their New York goal soon after 6 o'clock tonight.

The plane was sighted clearly as it hurtled over Halifax an hour before noon, and the markings on its fuselage could be discerned plainly. It had been seen at several points along the way.

Kingsford-Smith planned to stop only for a few days, perhaps two or three, in New York before resuming his journey to San Francisco and consummating a virtual round-the-world flight for the plane which is conqueror of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

HALIFAX, N. S., June 26 (AP)—(By The Canadian Press).—At 8:17 a. m. E. S. T. the Southern Cross reported she was thirteen miles off Sechart Island, the easternmost tip of Nova Scotia. A dense fog was reported off Canto, and indications were that Captain Kingsford-Smith would follow a course well to the west of the coast of Nova Scotia.

PORTLAND, Me., June 26 (AP)—The radio operator of the Southern Cross took time off to "get a snack" at 7:45 a. m., E. S. T., today after sending more than thirty private messages to a commercial wireless station, the naval radio station at Cape Elizabeth, he reported.

The operator left his transmitter running and his key closed, so that signals from the plane continued.

No position was given by the Southern Cross.

BIG SPRING LODGE NOT AFFECTED

Account of Officer In Another Bank Was Carried

CINCINNATI, June 26 (AP)—The Brotherhood of Railway Clerks National Bank failed to open for business today.

First information that the institution would not open came from a notice posted on the institution's door saying the bank was closed. The notice was signed by a national bank examiner.

Audit Completed

William Taylor, Cleveland, federal bank examiner, recently completed an audit of the Brotherhood Bank and on last Monday

The local lodge of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks will not be affected by closing of the Brotherhood bank in Cincinnati, R. V. Tucker, its secretary, told the Herald Thursday after having the Cincinnati dispatch read to him. The local is one of the largest in the southwest, its members being attached to division superintendent's headquarters of the Texas & Pacific Railway company.

Two changes were made in the officary personnel of the bank shortly after directors said the institution was in sound condition. Michael G. Heintz was named vice president succeeding Lyman Norris, resigned, and William L. Luebbe, was appointed assistant cashier in place of Harry Rosenblum who also resigned.

Closing of the Brotherhood Bank came sixteen days after another Cincinnati bank, the Cosmopolitan Bank & Trust Company was forced to close on account of the $1,000,000 speculations of A. W. Shaffer, former district manager of the H. L. Doherty Company.

The Brotherhood Bank recently announced it had increased its rate of interest paid on deposits from four to five per cent.

Deposits at the bank were said to total $4,800,000 and after the change in officials was made Monday the board of directors said depositors withdrew over $1,000,000.

The unusually heavy withdrawal was the reason given by the directors for closing the bank. They said they voted to shut down the bank and place the assets in the hands of the comptroller of currency for liquidation.

J. J. Castilini is president of the bank.

Owned By Clerks

The majority of the bank's stock is owned by the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, freight handlers, express and station employees, of which there are 120,000 members in the United States. The bank was established at a convention of the Brotherhood held at Dallas in 1922. The local building was constructed immediately and opened its doors in 1925.

Many labor unions were said to have deposits in the bank.

A statement issued March 27 gave the bank's capital stock at $400,000, surplus $100,000 and undivided profits $65,958. Deposits on that date were $4,740,381. A sum of $400,000 had been made against contingent liability. The loans and discounts amounted to $3,143,565.

Among the assets were bonds and securities estimated worth $1,937,745. Total resources were given as $5,529,363.

The book value of the stock was listed at $141.48 a share.

National bank examiners told Shaffer had an account with the Brotherhood Bank but did not disclose whether it was a large or small sum.

The district attorney said he believed the bank should pay out satisfactorily.

RECEIVER NAMED

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—J. W. Pole, comptroller of the currency, appointed Ira Fulton, a national bank examiner, today as receiver for the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks Bank which closed its doors in Cincinnati.

EVERYDAY QUESTIONS

Answered By
Dr. S. Parkes Cadman

Questions from readers are answered daily by the Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Radio Minister of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America. Dr. Cadman seeks to answer inquiries that appear to be representative of the trends of thought in the many letters which he receives.

Albuquerque, N. M.
I had to give up my fiance when I was afflicted with tuberculosis in an acute form. After long treatment I was pronounced a complete cure. Meanwhile my fiance married a girl who knew that he was still in love with me. Their marriage was not happy and she returned home. Now he is approaching me again, and as I never ceased caring for him I feel impelled to listen to him. What ought I to do? I've never believed in divorce. I may add that my home and family connections are the worst possible.

Candidly, I don't think your former lover is worth his salt. You fought a brave fight which taxed your patience and courage to the limit, only to find that he had taken advantage of your emergency to bestow his affections elsewhere. Had he been as true a man as you are a woman he would have waited for the outcome of your struggle. Instead of doing this he married a woman he did not love and so betrayed her happiness. I advise you to consult your pastor or priest and be guided by his judgment of the case. Personally I believe you should bid this fickle swain a long goodbye. And while you are about it, cut the domestic painter. Go forward on your own and do not allow your family to drag you down.

Brooklyn.
I am a college student and shall take my degree in the course of the next six months. Thereafter my course of post graduate study will occupy at least four years more before I am able to stand on my own feet. The fly in the ointment is this: I have suddenly come to the realization that a girl I have known for several years means everything in the world to me. In spite of all resolutions to do so I cannot keep her out of my mind, and if I should ask her to wait for me it would result in opposition among the many members of my family.

I do not know which way to turn. My ordinary supply of discrimination fails me entirely. I feel sure you are able to indicate a path of future action.

When in doubt follow the heart's best promptings, is a pretty safe rule in cases such as yours. So long as the girl you love "means everything in the world" to you, and she returns your affection and esteem, stick to her. Why should you banish her from your mind?

She is your guiding star, and provided the light she casts on your path is pure and inspiring, pay little heed to your family's remonstrances. They do not have to live with her and you do. They cannot determine what your life shall be and she may.

The love of a good woman is God's choicest gift after His own love, and this is bestowed on you and your adored one. Tell her all you feel. Get her outlook on the future. Probably she will answer you as Rachel answered Jacob in one of the Bible's classic stories. Four years ought to pass like an enraptured dream once you have settled the main question. Her companionship will illuminate every moment of the waiting period, and this should be filled with preparation intensified by the anticipated crowning of your lives in marriage.

I have known couples who tested out their love as you must do. If survived every change, overcame every obstacle and laughed at impossibilities. Those who possessed it went to the altar and completed their union knowing what they were about. Emulate their example of constancy.

Bristol, Conn.
I am a man thirty years old, who never had an opportunity of obtaining a college education. I would appreciate your suggesting some books which tell of the best English literature for me to study so that I can in some degree make up for my lack of higher education.

To select a list of books for another man, even great books, is not always a successful venture. For some Wordsworth's poems are dull and for others Plato's "Dialogues" are tiring. The best thing you can do is to get a bird's-eye view of the whole field from such volumes as Frederick Harrison's "The Choice of Books" and Saintsbury's "Short Sketch of English Literature." They give you a fairly clear idea of what the subject requires. In addition and by way of variation read Faigrevue's "Golden Treasury" and Craik's "English Prose." Follow your personal inclination in choosing significant books. If you think you would prefer Burton's "Anatomy of Melancholy" to Pope's "Essay on Man," try out your preference. If "Hamlet" and "King Lear" are entertaining and "Measure for Measure" is unattractive, let it be so. Every man ought to be himself, even in his choice of literature. Why should he standardize reading? How any man can fall to love Dickens I do not know, but I do know men of brains and education who have tried to read "David Copperfield" and could not finish it.

So browse around under the leadership of the guides I have suggested. Keep to the well trodden paths in this large and diversified realm. Strive to like what they commend and if you cannot experience its fascinations, be honest enough to say so. You are to be congratulated on your love of books. They have a big hold on life's best things.

NEWS BRIEFS

By The Associated Press
CHARLOTTE, N. C.—Male dress reform in hot weather has ascended. Johnny Kytte and Dick Merrill, pilots, flew into town wearing bathing suits and parachutes.

NEW YORK—A chemically treated wood that acts as its own fire extinguisher has been tested at the laboratories of Columbia University. The touch of flame produces a protective molasses like glue. In a test a door two inches thick held off fire six times as long as a metal door.

An Opinion From Massachusetts
IN THE OPINION of Judge David E. Dillon of the Massachusetts superior court, the disarming of citizens has been one of the factors responsible for the increase in crime.

"In 99 out of 100 cases," says Judge Dillon, "the thug knows that his victim isn't armed. If he knew that the citizen had an automatic in his pocket and would shoot through his coat he would keep from him. The so-called abolishing of firearms has had an effect exactly different from what was intended. It has disarmed peaceful citizens, but the crook gets his gun just the same."

Asked if everyone should carry a gun, Judge Dillon replied: "I don't advocate it but I think there would be fewer professional gunmen if that was the practice. You don't find many hold-up men in Texas where a number of the citizens are crack shots. They operate in Massachusetts and New York where the people are disarmed."

Judge Dillon's is a voice in the wilderness. No anti-gun law will keep guns away from the underworld. Such laws simply penalize the law-abiding—not the criminals. If laws prevented crime there would be no criminals.

Sailors and Marines
THE TRAGEDY that followed the collision of the liner Fairfax with the oil tanker Pinthis is an old story by now; but there is one little angle of the thing that is little remembered, even so.

As to all the charges of panic, inefficiency and cowardice that gave the story such an ugly tinge, one thing stood out in bright colors—the cool, unruffled way in which a handful of United States navy and marine corps enlisted men, on the Fairfax as passengers, worked to save their fellow passengers and bring order out of chaos. Sailors and marines, they worked side by side to save lives, and survivors unite in paying high tribute to the job they did.

All of which, of course, is just another testimonial—though none is needed—to the high calibre of the enlisted men in these two branches of Uncle Sam's military service.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS
The Road Bond Issue
ABLETT REPORTER:
IF YOU GET twelve miles to the gallon out of your car, the state gasoline tax of four cents per gallon would cost you $1.33 on a round trip jaunt to Dallas, 200 miles away.

That is the least of your items of expense on such a trip. You never miss it.

Now suppose that was all the highway tax you had to pay—that the road district or county tax for the retirement of road bond issues were taken off your home or your business or your farm, and all you had to pay was this four-cent gasoline tax which never bothers you—it would be pleasant, wouldn't it?

That is what advocates of the state-wide road bond issue are talking about. They believe that it is wrong in principle to build good roads for the general public good and charge the expense against homes and farms and businesses. They believe the gasoline tax should pay for it all. That is to say that the man who uses the roads should pay for them, not the man whose home or farm or business happens to fall within the area of some special tax district. Ross Sterling knows about road building and raising money for road building. Down in Walker county, where he made his property owners were being taxed $1.50 on the $100 valuation to retire bonds which were used to build state highways—one of them a Dallas-Houston highway used more by residents of Dallas and Houston than by citizens of Walker county. He thinks a way should be found to relieve the taxpayers of that burden and place it on the folks who use the roads, in the form of a gasoline tax which nobody feels.

If Mr. Sterling's opponents expected him to dodge the state road bond issue they were disappointed. He did not dodge it. He said that his position on it wasn't arbitrary at all; if the legislature can find a more equitable way of financing road building, he will be for it. As governor he wouldn't have the power to issue state road bonds; only the legislature could do that, and even the legislature can't do it until the people have voted to amend the constitution to make it possible. That is what he wants now; he wants the legislature to submit the question to the people, so they can decide for themselves. The legislature almost did that last year, but it lacked a majority in the house.

That is all there is to the state road bond issue business. It is as simple as that—just a matter of asking the tax off homes and farms and businesses, and placing it on the people who use the roads, in the form of a gasoline tax, which we pay already anyhow.

The politicians are trying manfully to stir up a hornet's nest about it, but it is hard to convince a farmer or homeowner or business man that he should bear the principal burden of building highways to be burned up by the general public. Ross Sterling's position on this, as on other questions, is clear-cut. He is not afraid—he is not minding words; he isn't trying to dodge the question at all. He knows what he is talking about.

HOW'S YOUR HEALTH
Practically all nationalities have what might be called "kitchen peculiarities."

It is no trick at all to guess the group famous for its chile con carne, for example.

It would be a little more difficult, however, to pick the peculiar dish of the Americans. Perhaps ham and eggs might serve, or pork and beans.

But to the foreigner probably no dietary practice common to us is more puzzling than our ice water, and we may well understand his wonder. When we stop to think it is no less puzzling to ourselves.

By ice water we mean tap water which is chilled by having ice immersed in it. In summertime we consume great quantities of this chilled fluid, and not a few of us suffer therefrom. Extremes of heat and of cold are both injurious to the body, and should not be used except under special circumstances.

In inflammatory conditions of the throat both hot and cold fluids such as hot lemonade and ice cream may be used to advantage. In certain types of gastritis (inflammatory conditions of the stomach) we may with benefit, use chilled fluids. Ordinarily, however, there is no advantage, and often some harm in drinking beverages or eating foods which are too hot or too cold.

It is not necessary to drink water at an insipid temperature; water may be chilled by being cooled in the ice box or by having ice packed about its container, but extreme cold should be avoided.

Ice does not destroy all germs. Cold merely inhibits the growth of bacteria. Ice may be contaminated, and serious gastro-intestinal diseases may be contracted from impure ice.

Water is an important beverage and in summer time particularly the body needs a sufficiency of it. The average person requires from six to eight glasses of fluid a day, but he should take this fluid cool rather than cold.

ANALYSIS TERMED BEST REJUVENATOR
VIENNA (INE)—Psychoanalysis is in many cases the best rejuvenation treatment. Psychoanalysis is able to influence internal secretion, circulation, metabolism and sex, and is generally superior to rejuvenation operations.

These statements were made by Professor E. Hirschmann, head of the Vienna Psychoanalytic Ambulatorium, and closest collaborator of the famous Vienna scientist, Professor S. Freud.

Rejuvenation operations have often been disappointing. Professor Hirschmann said. Their results, similarly to those achieved by psychic therapy, are due partly to suggestion. But operative measures are irrevocable and may cause considerable damage, while their results are rarely permanent.

GETTING ALL PRIMED

Hollywood Sights and Sounds A NICE GIRL COMES TO TOWN

BY ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Exotic old Main street in Los Angeles is the city's last stronghold of the silent movie, but the talkie is gradually encroaching even there.

Shooting from their celluloid retreats the celluloid ghosts of yesterday's stars.

Main street in spirit is as far removed from Spring, a block distant, as Tijuana is from Boston. Spring is the city's Wall street, Main is its East Side and Laish quarter.

Main is a permanent carnival, an old-world pageant, the Broadway of the humble. There Mexicans, Filipinos, Japanese, the jobless and job-seeking, sailors, laborers, panhandlers, all picturesque characters, predominate in the pedestrian parade.

FREE SHOW
There you can buy (in Spanish or English) a floppin' bed for a quarter, a pair of shoes for two-ninety-five, Mexican records and books and newspapers in Spanish, get tattooed at innumerable shops, spend pennies in one peep-show arcade after another, take in a gaudy burlesque or a Mexican vaudeville, heckle a "health lecture" or a befeathered Indian selling herbs, or enjoy the leather-junged wheedling of a cheaply witty auctioneer.

REAL NICKELDEONS
And in keeping with the cheapness of the setting, the movie houses offer "double feature" programs for a nickel, a dime, and even the talkie houses ask only fifteen cents.

These Main street nickelodeons, with their jangling pianos and screeching phonographs, their gaudy lithographed posters, used to prolong the screen lives of many Hollywood stars long after their real fame had passed. They still do, to some extent. Tom Tyler, the former western star, rides on a flickering screen in two musty houses, and Thelma Todd and "Skeets" Gallagher, both of whom have succeeded in talkies, may be seen in pictures made for the silent screen.

Further up the street, where it becomes more staid and commonplace, many houses have gone talkie. In one, for a dime, you could see and hear "The Broadway Melody," and other last-year sensations.

Between 40 and 50, sometimes between 50 and 60, many men and women are tormented by this complex, having hallucinations of old age symptoms. Heart and vascular troubles of such patients are often falsely imputed to vascular calcification, though their "senile infirmities" could be easily eliminated by adequate psychic therapy.

Rejuvenation through psychoanalysis has restored mental and physical vitality to thousands of patients. Psychoanalysts do not claim to be able to change the patient's constitution or to arrest the advance of age, but they assert that their therapy is the most thorough and intensive method to relieve a false senescence or to delay a premature one.

Then Jay came in, and the three of them joked as they enjoyed the meal that the day maid had prepared. Afterward, there was the excitement of Mary Lou's dressing for the dance. Jay insisted that she wear the golden picture gown.

At last Mary Lou was ready, listening intently for Tony's footsteps on the stairs. A few moments later the bell rang, and Jerry lounged to the door.

"Come in, young fellow, and Tony was ushered into the studio.

"Well, well," he grinned at Mary Lou. "Where's the fairy godmother who's been waving the magic wand, Cinderella?"

Mary Lou smiled shyly. "My cousin."

Tony bowed to Jay. "You're to be congratulated, Mrs. Jerome. You have wrought a miracle."

A few minutes later Mary Lou and Tony stood beside a low blue racing car parked by the curb.

"Our magic carpet, 1930 design," he laughed. "This little bus is going to take us down the pathway that leads to adventure... excitement..."

"And romance," Mary Lou's heart whispered. "Oh, I hope to romance!"

She didn't dare say it aloud, yet Tony must have surmised something of what she thought.

"Better be careful, Tony old man," he thought as he pressed the starter. "Never do for her to get any romantic illusions into her head. She's a dear kid, but I've no intention of marrying her—or any other girl."

(Copyright, 1930, Maymie Greig)
How will Mary Lou react when she learns of Tony's attitude toward marriage?—tomorrow.

Barbers, Texas & Pacific Railway Clash Again Today

The City League got in a sand-trap Wednesday. Dusty D. looked like Doc Aiken was playing golf inside the fence. Just as the Barbers had pounded out eleven runs, it came and we grabbed the money sack, and left after hearing Umpire Blaine announce no-game. Which it wasn't. It wasn't even a good game before the sandstorm came. The Texas & Pacific lads were out for the afternoon, and didn't care about returning. So this afternoon the Barbers and the Railroaders will go into action again in an effort to get the first half championship worked off.

Cosden is still on top. Richeo and the Barbers are deadlocked. Richeo probably gains a fray on account of the Laundry retreating. The Barbers probably will win from T. & P. this afternoon. So that leaves things just like they were yesterday. It looks like Richeo, Cosden and the Barbs will fight it out.

Schwartz-Schwarzenbach probably won't get another home run this season. He spanked one of Mr. Vick's offerings on the beaver Wednesday and before the ball got back Schwartz had circled the bases and was sitting in the dugout waiting for the sand. Too bad. The sand didn't count. Neither did Hick's triple. And we forgot to mention, being Blaine called it no game he doesn't receive any umpire's fee. Can't pay umpires when they can't even keep the sand out of the pretty pasture to the eastward.

We almost forgot to mention the fact a certain Mr. Hall was the pitcher in Tuesday's game. Mr. Hall, for the benefit of the unknowing ones, distributes magazines in the morning and attends the Dusty D. rodeo every afternoon, including Sundays and holidays. He was the pinch hitter for Blaine that day, and when the battle was over Monday, he said he couldn't think of anything worse than umpiring a game between the Laundry and Cosden.

"Oh, yes, Mr. Hall," we pointed out. "There could be lots things worse than that. Think of having to umpire a double-header between Laundry and Cosden."

Anyway the Steers won't be compelled to play football down in the sunken garden. The school board has purchased the high school athletic field, and before long a stadium that will rival any high school one in this section will rise up toward the cloudless skies. That's a great relief. Spending the summer at Dusty D. isn't so bad, but we imagine the winters there are far from pleasing—especially so to one with an overcoat like ours.

Prexy Anderson's aid given us in the Abilene Reporter as to the football prowess of one Mickey Pool, Cosden infielder, was wasted away. We too were quite aware of the Abilene youth's gridiron record. The thing is, however, that if a baseball bat was used in football, Mickey wouldn't get very far. His hitting is far below what it should be. He socks them, but in the wrong direction and hasn't managed to straighten his slice out and send it down the fairway.

Word from The Field keeps trickling in. The boys expect to whom the City Leaguers more ways than a farmer can go broke raising cotton. They have assembled an array of sluggers out there, and it is going to take a nice hurting staff to beat 'em yale when they visit the West Texas metropolis July 3, 4 and 5. Crouch, Dickinson, Simms, Spoth, Vick, Baber, Haley—some of these huskies will have to be right.

We can match them in sluggers. Having an infield position in some of these games is just like roaming around on a battery range during target practice. Several salvos of baseballs have socked their way through the infield since we've been a resident of this city beautiful. Several of the lads have caught fast ones in places where their gloves were not. Take Aiken for instance. He clipped one in the mouth and we thought for a min-

SANDSTORM DELAYS FRAY

Desert Party Ends In Third Inning Wednesday

A West Texas sandstorm—one of the latest with all modern conveniences—swept across Dusty Diamond Wednesday afternoon and halted the Barber-Texas & Pacific fray in the third inning when the Barbs were leading eleven to two.

The dessert of the desert drove fans—all ten of them—to their carriages and prairie schooners and baseball players galloped from the field.

While Lois Madison argued between puffs of sand with Umpire Blaine that he should set a time, the Texas & Pacific aggregation was well on its way to town, the ball shaggers had done a hundred yard dash down the highway, and the bases had been temporarily buried by the avalanche of sand from the northern part.

As a result of the abruptly halted fray the two teams will meet this afternoon in an effort to get the first half title straightened out. With this game off the calendar, Richeo, Cosden and the Barbers, providing the Barbs cop, will start the playoff for the title of the initial half.

MAGNOLIA DOWNS SUN

Behind the southpaw offerings of Lefty White, who hurled his fifth shutout victory of the year, the Magnolia Oilers went into a tie with Merrick & Bristow for first place in the Oil Belt League by downing the cellar occupants, Sun, on a brief one-sided battle by the score of 9 to 0. White let the Sunmen down with three scattered hits, two of which were made by Davis.

The victors added three more in the third. Fletcher led off with his second hit of the day, a double to right. McGath, and both runners tallied on Ferguson's long single to center. Chester drove one far down the left field foul line that was a two base hit by ground rules in effect, Ferguson scoring.

In the fourth a long triple by McGath and a four-ply swat by Rainey drove Winston from the mound and scored four men. Horton hurled the remainder of the game which was halted in the fifth inning because of a sand storm.

Rainey led the sluggers of the day with a single and a home run but McGath and Fletcher were close behind with two hits each. White struck out eight Sunmen. The victory placed the Magnolia left hander in a tie with his teammate Cramer for pitching honors in the Oil Belt, each having won 11 games and lost one.

CLINCKOCK WINS
ST. LOUIS, June 26 (AP)—Jim Clinckock, giant Indian wrestler of Tulsa, Okla., today had another victory to his string. Last night he won from Fred Grobmeier, 200 pounds, of Harlan, Iowa, in 12 minutes and 37 seconds, using a body scissors.

George Hazen, former Marine corps champion, and Rudy Dusek of Omaha grappled an hour to a draw.

Dick Daviscourt, Los Angeles, won from Frank Johnson, Boston, in 1:35. He used a headlock to gain the victory.

DAD BEATS SON
ROCHESTER, Minn., June 25 (AP)—Dr. W. D. (Pop) Sheldon, 60 year old Rochester golfer, defeated his son, Hunter Sheldon, 2 and 1, at the Rochester Country club to annex the Southern Minnesota golf championship yesterday.

The physician turned in a card of 78, the best of the tournament to win from his son, who scored a 78.

NEW YORK—Brooklyn's bachelor pastor, who has several times described his difficulties in remaining unmarried, is to wed. The Rev. Dr. Henry C. Offerman, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, is engaged to Miss Grace Altenau, a beauty, who helped carry the daisy chain at Adelphi college. "All sorts of tricks are thought of to win the special interest of the unmarried minister," he once said. "I believe I could write down the names of 100 very sweet girls who have been suggested to me as wonderful possibilities for the paragon."

MAXEY ROSENBLOOM IS WINNER OVER SLATTERY

13,500 See Slapsie Maxey Capture Title

BY EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer
BUFFALO, N. Y., June 26 (AP)—Slapsie Maxey Rosenbloom of New York stood fourth today as the new champion of the light heavyweights, conqueror of the only man who ever consistently gave him trouble during his amazing fighting career in three divisions.

Maxie has whipped the best of the middleweights, some heavyweights, and now he has accounted for the last of the 175-pound top lighters who had held out against his ring attack.

Last night Rosenbloom whipped Jimmy Slattery before a crowd of 13,500 in the International League ball park here and with the victory came the only championship he has ever fought for in ten years of battling outstanding ring men.

Five times before, the team of Slattery and Rosenbloom furnished the feature attraction along various bypaths of ringland and in four of the engagements Jimmy, the pride of Buffalo's first ward, gained victories. Maxie won only one. Of all the men he has beaten, including Leo Lomski, Ace Hudkins, Jimmy Braddock, Dave Shade, Larry Johnson and Pete Latzo, only Slattery was able to come back and defeat him consistently.

But last night, before 355,000 worth of customers, Rosenbloom gained his revenge by winning the title Slattery has held since last February when he defeated Lou Scozza here and gained general recognition as the successor to Tommy Loughran, retired from the 175 pound ranks to just with little success against the heavyweights. The decision was close, gained by the award of two judges over Referee Fatsy Haley's ballot for Slattery. A majority of the critics gave Rosenbloom eight rounds, Slattery five, with two even.

There were no knockdowns although Slattery was staggered momentarily in the second and Rosen-

Record Crowd Attends Races

BY TED VOSEBURGH, Associated Press Sports Writer

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 26 (AP)—The biggest regatta in the annals of American college rowing drew a record throng to the banks of the Hudson here today.

Kaute Rockne turned up from South Bend, apparently in greatly improved health, and accompanied by Jack Chevingny, one of his right hand men "od former stars.

"Rock" unhesitatingly picked Washington to win the varsity tussle while at the same time admitting that his sport is football and that he does not pass as an expert when it comes to shoveling water.

But there were plenty, including assorted experts, who were willing to string along with the age and philosopher of Notre Dame and pick the towering crew from the far northwest to crash through for the first time since 1926. The odds on Washington shortened to something like 2 to 3 against the field.

The position of second favorite was held by the Navy while Columbia and California also were regarded highly.

Neither of the Pacific Coast crew was rated quite up to the Navy and Columbia eights, coached by the Glendons, father and son, when it comes to smoothness of rowing form, but many felt that Washington's greater power would be enough to win.

A victory for any crew other than the "Big Four" who have monopolized the varsity championships here ever since the war figured to rank as a sensational upset, but all five of the other contenders—Cornell, Syracuse, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts Tech and Wisconsin—were determined to win if possible and not to finish last at any rate.

While main interest centered on the classic four mile grid for varsity eights, the three-mile junior varsity race and the two-mile dash for freshman crews also came in for a heavy share of conjecture.

Lutheran Church Born 400 Years Ago

AUSTIN, June 28.—Wednesday is the 400th anniversary of one of the greatest days in the religious history of the world.

Four hundred years ago Wednesday the Lutheran church had its birth in the public proclamation of the Confession at Augsburg, before the Roman emperor. Eighty-two million, one hundred and eighty thousand Lutherans throughout the world will celebrate the day.

The anniversary will be observed in the United States by the official merging of three Lutheran synods. These bring churches of Austin and Texas into closer relations with other Lutheran units over the nation.

The merger of the synods of Iowa, in which most Central Texas churches are embodied, the Buffalo synod and the joint synod of Ohio will be celebrated in Austin, along with the anniversary of the founding of Lutheranism, with special services Sunday, July 8 in St. Martin's Evangelical Lutheran church here by the Rev. F. G. Roese, pastor.

The same church in 1917 observed the 400th anniversary of Martin Luther's act that forced the reformation. That was observed as the "declaration of independence," while Wednesday's observance is the "San Jacinto" of Lutheranism, the anniversary of the final and complete victory.

Representatives of all churches in the three consolidated synods will meet in Toledo, Ohio, in August to finally ratify the merger that already has been voted by the Texas churches and the churches of other states.

Included among "many Central Texas Lutheran congregations that thus will go from the Iowa synod to the synod of the United States, will be the St. Martin's church, Austin, and churches at Pflugerville, Dessau, Onion creek or Colton, Taylor, Thrall, Bartlett, Temple, Walburg (Georgetown), Maxwell, San Marcos, Elgin, McDade, Paige, Giddings, Carmine, Burton and Brenham.

CAMPAIGN—(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) and cut out their names in the smooth rock of its sides and top. Names of visitors from all over the United States are scattered under the automobile wheels, dulled by rain and filled with sand and rocks.

It is a standing joke that to carve your name on the mountain and return looking for it on the next day is but wasted effort. Until recently few cars have braved the rocky roads to its summit. It was not worth it. The ledges cut the tires and mesquite trees scratched shining sides of large sodas. The grades were hard and the washouts dangerous. But within the past three weeks the road has taken on a different aspect. The whole drive may be made in first. The steep grades have been cut down and the rock ledges chipped off and covered with dirt. Around the dangerous edges piles of heavy boulders have been placed.

And today hundreds of cars are expected to climb to the top for the observation of "Scenic Drive Day."

The CAT is in the BAG!

Tom Love Heard By San Angeloans

SAN ANGELO, Texas, June 26 (AP)—Senator Thomas B. Love of Dallas, candidate for governor, today was publicly on record for the re-election of United States Senator Morris Sheppard, after a speech here last night, when he advised "anti-Tammianites" to forget the political differences of 1928 and return the senior senator to a fourth term at Washington.

Senator Sheppard had campaigned for the election of Alfred E. Smith to the presidency two years ago, while Love was one of the leaders in the party revolt that placed Texas in the republican column.

Yesterday he started from his home in Houston on his first political campaign tour. Before the close of the day, he had made nine speeches, carrying his campaign to Buns, Kirbyville, Jasper, San Augustine, Center, Tenaha, Carthage, Beckville and Marshall. Several of the stops were impromptu.

Two Large Bands Due For Jubilee

Two widely known West Texas bands will furnish music here during the Oil Men's Jubilee, July 3, 4 and 5, according to announcement of Thursday by Joseph Edwards, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce oil and gas committee, which is sponsoring the program.

The Brownwood Old Gray Mare's Colts, successor to the Old Gray Mare band, and the Colorado Gold Medal band, have been retained for the three days.

The Colorado musicians will arrive July 3. The Brownwood aggregation will arrive July 2 and remain through the night of July 5.

The following patients were reported today at the Big Spring Hospital: Maunela James, Big Spring, major operation. Mary Robertson, Colorado, tonsillectomy. Fannie Hodges, 309 Johnson street, minor operation. W. H. Nelson, city, fractured right clavicle. Willie Mae Wray, Tarzan, Texas. Mrs. Joe B. Neel, city. Elvies McCrary, city.

Thanks Expressed For C. C. Program

Letters of appreciation were mailed today by the Chamber of Commerce to those assisting in the second quarterly open membership meeting held Monday night.

Letters were mailed to Rix Furniture and Hardware Company, Winn Produce Co., Collins Bros., Big Spring Food Products Co., Snowwhite Creameries, Inc., and Anderson Music Co.

The commercial organization also expressed appreciation to women who assisted in furnishing refreshments.

Earthquake Shocks Are Felt in Peru

LIMA, Peru, June 26 (AP)—The National Telegraph lines today said that strong earthquake shocks were felt Wednesday at 2:30 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. at Ica. They were of long duration and damaged many walls. The inhabitants were panic stricken, and left their dwellings to take refuge in the streets and parks.

The second tremor was the strongest, and was felt also at Fort Pisco and lightly at Lima, where it was almost unnoticed. Another strong tremor was felt at Huancavelica.

The condition of Clyde Fox was reported as extremely critical early Thursday afternoon. He is a patient at the Big Spring Hospital.

Miller Again Heads Borger City Solons

BORGER, Texas, June 26 (AP)—For the third time in the four years of Borger's history, John R. Miller, who, with A. P. Borger, founded the town in 1926, took the oath of office as mayor today.

Miller was elected mayor by the newly-chosen city commissioners, after the old administration appointed under direction of General Jacob F. Wolters and District Attorney Clem Calhoun, during martial law, had relinquished office to the new officials elected Tuesday.

W. Hanson Davis of Borger was named temporary city manager. Miller was elected Borger's mayor when the town was first incorporated in 1926 and was re-elected in 1927. He resigned early in 1927 when rangers were sent here by Governor Moody and threats of martial law at that time were made. He was succeeded by Glenn A. Pace, who resigned when martial law was declared last October.

Mayor W. A. Henderson and commissioners Moe Steinberg and Dyke Cullum, who were appointed during martial law, turned the city's books and affairs over to the new administration. Proposed changes in the police department personnel had not been made.
