STEAL COTTON; LAND IN JAIL

Sheriff's Force Arrests Four Men Charged With Cotton Theft At Wilson

Four men are looking out through the bars of the Lynn county jail this week under charges of cotton theft, the offense alleged to have been committed at Wilson last Friday night. They were caught in the very act by Sheriff Simpson and his deputies, who arrested the men and took charge of the five bales of cotton which they had stolen.

It seems that the men had been under surveillance by the sheriff for some time. By a little smooth detective work he learned that the four men would probably make a visit to the cotton yard at Wilson Friday night and take away a truck load of cotton. He and deputy sheriffs Van Bates of Tahoka and Frank Crews of Wilson concealed themselves in the cotton yard and watched. In the dead hours of the night a truck and a car drove into the yard. Four men alighted and proceeded to load on five bales of cotton. Some of them were armed with shot guns, and therefore the sheriff and his deputies decided not to disturb the intruders until they had gotten their cotton and could be caught unawares. Leaving the yard, four men drove out of town east with the truck and the car. Having reason to believe that their final destination was Lubbock, the officers figured that the cars would cross the railroad about four miles north of Wilson. Simpson, Bates, and Crews therefore hurried to that point, hid their car in a pasture and then concealed themselves in a ditch near the point where the road crosses the railway track. Pretty soon their men appeared, and just as they slowed up to cross over the tracks, the officers sprang in front of them, covered them with their guns and captured the whole bunch two of the men were on the truck with the cotton and two were in a car just behind the truck. The two men in the car apparently made an attempt to turn and make their get-away, but before they could do so two of the officers were on the running board of the car with pistols pointed in their faces. The two men in the car had two guns and a large number of shells, but if they had any intention of using their weapons they had little opportunity to do so and made no demonstration to that effect. They were evidently taken by surprise.

A small quantity of whiskey was found on the person of one of the men. Simpson has a keen sense of smell and he said that it smelled like new whiskey. The officers surmised that whiskey was probably being made at the home of one of the men. They therefore procured a search warrant early the next morning and Sheriff Simpson in company with county attorney Heath proceeded to the home of one of the men, J. W. Hubbard, living three miles northwest of Wilson and searched his home for whiskey. Their efforts were amply rewarded. In a pit near the house they discovered a barrel of mash, covered over with rubbish and tumbled weeds. They also found some barrels, one of them having a coil attached, such as is used for making whiskey. Near it were ashes showing that a fire had been there. In a trunk in the house they found a gallon jar, two half gallon jars, and three quart jars, all containing whiskey, covered over with clothing. Complaint was therefore filed against one or two of the men charged with violation of the Dean law.

Up until Wednesday the four men had not made bond and were sitting on their board up in the third story of the court house the place where Sheriff Simpson keeps all his involuntary guests. The four men imprisoned are J. W. Hubbard, J. E. O. Stokes, Louis W. Bolding and John G. Whittington.

Scarlet Fever at Dixie

Two little girls of G. M. Murrain out at Dixie are suffering this week from scarlet fever. They are being given good medical attention, however, and are said to be recovering nicely. They have been quarantined and every proper precaution has been taken to prevent the spread of the malady. It is not expected that any other cases will develop.

Reader Is Next Lyceum Entertainer

Seven Years with one Bureau, and from two to four years each with others with appearances in nearly every State in the Union and Province of Canada, and a tour of China and Japan, bear testimony to the popularity of Miss Waterman. She has long been recognized as one of the platform's few really great readers.

Miss Waterman's ability is many-sided, but she maintains the highest artistic standards always, whether in character delineation, serious dramatic and literary portrayals, or in humorous and comely dialect numbers. Much of her program is screamingly funny and keeps an audience in a gale of laughter. Her voice, facial expression and platform presence proclaim her the artist in every detail.

Miss Waterman will appear at the High School Auditorium on Friday night, December 4, under the auspices of the American Legion.

H. E.'s SERVE KIWANIS LUNCH

Smith Nominated President of Kiwanis Club; Appoint Scout Committee

The members of the Kiwanis Club enjoyed a rare treat Wednesday when their luncheon was served by the girls of the Home Economics department of the Tahoka High School under the direction of Miss Fenet Griffis, the teacher of this department. The luncheon was not only served but had been prepared by the Home Economics girls, and that they proved themselves to be excellent cooks can be attested by every person present.

The luncheon was served in one of the rooms in the high school building. The faculty members of the public school and the members of the Queen City Concert Company, entertaining first three nights this week at the Star Theatre, were guests of the Kiwanians.

Following the luncheon, all the diners and the pupils of the school repaired to the high school auditorium and there enjoyed for fifteen minutes a most excellent musical concert rendered by the Queen City Concert Company.

At the luncheon table matters of business received attention at the hands of the Kiwanians.

A committee was appointed by Judge Cain to select officers for the boy scout organization at this place. He announced the personnel of the committee as follows: W. E. (Happy) Smith, Chester Connolly, and W. R. Lacey. Upon motion these appointments were ratified by a vote of those present.

The nominating committee of the Kiwanis club consisting of L. S. Doak, G. M. Stewart, Dr. J. R. Singleton, W. B. Slaton and J. A. Brashear, made the announcement that officers of the club for the ensuing year had been nominated by the committee as follows: President, W. E. Smith; Vice Pres., Rev. B. N. Shepherd; Secretary, Dr. C. B. Townes; Treasurer, B. H. O'Neal; District Trustee, E. I. Hill; Directors, E. R. Allen, R. P. Weathers, W. G. Briley, W. B. Edwards, W. R. Lacey, L. C. Haney, and R. W. Flanton Jr. Mr. Smith in making the announcement made it plain that these were only nominees, and that others might be nominated and elected if the Kiwanians saw fit to take such action. Officers will be elected at the first regular meeting in December.

Box Supper at T-Bar.

There will be a pie and box supper at T-Bar school house Saturday night, November 21, given for the benefit of the public school. Everybody invited. The Ward band of O'Donnell is to furnish music for the occasion.

Oil Well Machinery Arrives

The machinery for the drilling of the oil well on the T-Bar ranch five miles west of town arrived Thursday. One of the drillers also arrived. The machinery will be placed at once and in a few days the Company will be ready to spud in.

Mrs. H. M. Larkin returned Saturday from Winter Park, Fla., and will remain here until the Christmas holidays.

JUSTICE COURT BUSY SCENE

Interesting Cases Up Before the Justice of the Peace During the Past Week

Uncle Ike has been dealing out Justice in a grim fashion this week. Wednesday a farmer living a few miles southeast of town got hold of something that seemed to have quite a deal of kick to it. Whether he procured the stuff here in town or elsewhere, we art not advised, but officers say that he undertook to put on quite a show here in town. In a hamburger joint on the west side of the square he is said to have raised a row with a young fellow, finally making an assault upon the unoffending youth. An older man intervened and the drunken fellow made fight upon him. About that time an officer appeared on the scene and took charge of the rioter. After appearing before his Honor, Uncle Ike, he was taken in charge by a friend who proposed to take the fellow home and be responsible for his re-appearance in court at the proper time. Later in the day his charge was found running at large on the street and he made an attack on another unoffending citizen. Said unoffending citizen is said to have given the intoxicated man just about what was coming to him, and then he himself went before the Justice of the Peace, pleaded guilty to fighting and paid his fine. The drunk man was this time locked up and allowed to remain in jail the remainder of the afternoon. He was allowed to be taken home by members of the family Wednesday night, and he appeared before Uncle Ike Thursday morning and paid three fines, one for drunkenness and two for fighting.

A young fellow also got something under his belt out at Lynn Tuesday and raised a rough house out in that community. A deputy sheriff came in and filed complaint and procured a warrant for the obstreperous gentleman's arrest. He also paid off, enriching the county treasury and court officials about $13.50.

Several other complaints, charging various misdemeanors, have been filed in the Justice Court, and other pleas of guilty are expected before this paper reaches the reader.

A week ago Uncle Ike was negotiating with O'Donnell citizens for the sale of our court house and jail to them, since he thought we had little need for them here and the O'Donnell gentlemen seemed to think that they could use both to good advantage. Uncle Ike says the deal is all off now, however. He thinks we are going to have to enlarge our present county hotel if many more of our citizens decide to go on a rampage.

BULLDOGS LOSE TO LUBBOCK 48 to 0

The "Bulldogs" returned from Lubbock with a feeling akin to regret, due to the fact that they were not able to crush the passing machine of the Lubbock eleven. It is said that Lubbock was able to make nothing thru our line but was completely "lucky" when it came to completing forward passes. Tahoka was also unable to make down over the Lubbock line and therefore took to the air. This being the first game in which these tactics were necessary our boys were not so proficient as their opponents. Regardless of defeat they fought until the last and never gave up. Marvin Munn is said to have really outplayed himself and is deserving of very favorable mention due to his hard tackling and consistent playing all the way through.

The "Bulldogs" will take on the Lamesa eleven at Lamesa next Friday. This is considered one of the hard games of the season but due to the fact that Tahoka defeated the O'Donnell eleven by score as high as that of Lamesa it is a fact that the boys have a good fighting chance to win. "Beat Lamesa" is the slogan again this year and it will be done if we all put ourselves into the game as well as the team has always done.

More than 15,000 students have attended the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon, according to The Randall County News. It is now the third teachers college in the state in point of attendance.

24,700 BALES GINNED HERE

Crop Will Fall Short of Last Year; Most of Cotton Gathered

At noon Thursday, about 24,700 bales of cotton had been ginned in Lynn county this season. This may be a slight over-estimate. It is impossible for us to give the exact figures for the reason that we have only the yard receipts up to Wednesday night at O'Donnell. We failed to get any reports from Newmoore and Gordon but from data in our possession can be a close estimate. Our report from Wilson is also the yard receipts.

Many farmers are now almost through gathering their crops. Some have already begun to pull the bolls. The bolly crop is going to be much smaller than was thought for some time after the freeze. In fact the bolly crop is going to be exceedingly small. It is now conservatively estimated that the entire crop this year will not exceed 35,000 bales. It may not reach that figure.

The reports from the gins and cotton yards of the county are as follows:

O'Donnell yard	8,249
Tahoka (gin)	6,864
Wilson (yard)	1,885
Grassland (gin)	3,198
Draw (gin)	1,574
Lynn (gin)	1,046
New Home	1,017
Newmoore (estimated)	625
Gordon (estimated)	425
Total	24,883

The ginnings at O'Donnell at the time of our report last week ran 318 bales behind the yard receipts. Estimating that the same proportion holds good this week and figuring the ginnings up to noon Thursday, when the other reports were gathered, it becomes apparent that about 24,700 bales had been ginned in the county up to that hour.

In Tahoka, 7,725 bales had been received at the cotton yard, which was just 524 bales less than the O'Donnell figures. It begins to look as if there is going to be a close race between the Tahoka and O'Donnell yards for first place this year.

County Jail Is Full of Prisoners

Sheriff Wesley Simpson has a house full of guests this week. They are all snugly ensconced in their sleeping quarters up on the third floor of the court house and are looking out through strong iron bars.

There are four men charged with cotton theft, which offense is alleged to have been committed at Wilson Friday night.

One man is in for having given a "cold" check.

One negro has just been released after having paid a fine for stealing a cotton sack.

Another negro is in bad for having swindled a white man out of $55.00. This Negro, Arthur Gibson, represented to Bonnie Milliken of Wilson that he wanted some money to send to other negroes back east to enable them to come out to Wilson to pick cotton for Milliken. Milliken let Gibson have the money but required that he should be permitted to see the letter registered to the proper parties at the post office. The negro agreed, but is said to have cunningly exchanged envelopes and registered one to the parties named which contained no money. He slipped the money into his pocket and slipped out of the country that night. But he was later located and landed in jail.

One man is in jail for vagrancy.

An O'Donnell man has been in part of the week for drunkenness.

Two Terry county "moonshiners" are in jail here just to keep the Lynn county prisoners company.

There may be others, as the sheriff was not certain that he could remember all of them.

Any guy who has a hankering to commit crime had better get out of Lynn county before he tries it.

Eldridges Return to Tahoka For Year

Many friends of Rev. and Mrs. Jno. E. Eldridge, both within and without the Methodist Church, were gratified to learn last Monday that the Northwest Texas Conference had returned the good minister and his wife to the Tahoka church for another year. It was expected, however, that this action would be taken. Brother and Mrs. Eldridge have done a good work here, and their efforts and influence for good have been highly appreciated by the citizenship of the town. We welcome them back.

NEW BUILDING READY SOON

Boullion and Thomas and Club Cafe to Occupy the New Thomas Building

E. H. Boullion announces that the firm of Boullion & Thomas will occupy the first floor of the new Thomas building now under construction at the northwest corner of the square after January 1. The building will be equipped throughout with handsome, new fixtures, and Mr. Boullion assures us that it will be one of the most attractive and elegant grocery stores on the whole south plains. Modern market fixtures of the latest design and new and complete grocery fixtures and shelving will be installed. Mr. B. D. Taylor, a fixture expert, representing Ottensheimer Bros. of Baltimore, was here a few weeks ago and figured out just the location and arrangement of each piece of furniture needed. The furniture has been purchased and will be installed immediately upon completion of the building.

It is also announced that the Club Cafe, owned and operated by Jake Leedy, will occupy the one-story Thomas building just south of the corner building. It too will be equipped with new and elegant furniture and will be one of the "swell" cafes of this section. Announcement of formal opening of this cafe will be made by Mr. Leedy a little later.

We understand that the Anthony building to be vacated by Boullion & Thomas will be occupied by an up-to-date business, but no announcement concerning same can be made at this time.

We are not advised as to who will occupy the building to be vacated by the Club Cafe, but since there have been many inquiries here this fall for business houses, it is certain that it will not be without a tenant.

Announcement as to the occupancy of the offices on the second floor of the corner building will probably be made at an early date.

Wilson People Reward Officer For Capture Of Cotton Thieves

In order to show our appreciation in a more substantial way than throwing an odorless bouquet, we the undersigned citizens of Wilson hereby subscribe a purse to the officer or person who was the means of detecting the highjackers with 5 bales of cotton and we hereby wish it known publicly that the citizens of Wilson will back their officers to the limit of their physical and financial ability.

FREEZE CUT CROP SHORTER

Government Report Shows Lynn Leading; Dawson, Second; Lubbock, Third

Lynn county was leading all other counties of the plains in the production of cotton by several city blocks up to November 1, according to the announcement of ginnings made this season in Texas counties by the U. S. Department of Commerce. She had materially increased her lead over other plains counties since the preceding government report was made, and obviously her lead over other counties has been further increased since November 1. All these counties show a rather small number of bales ginned on account of the lateness of the cotton picking season in this section of the state. The crop has been greatly reduced in yield throughout all the plains country, also, by the ravages of leaf and boll worms and by unusually early freeze which visited this section this fall. The drought through the summer months of June, July and August greatly retarded the growth of the plant. Then when the rains set in the late summer, the plant on all sections of the plains put on new growth and in many instances the stalks reached immense proportions. The plant fruited well and the yield promised to be enormous. Then the leaf worms and the boll worms made their appearance. Their ravages in all counties of the plains where cotton is raised were serious and they did great damage to the crop. But in spite of their work, the plains still promised the greatest yield of cotton in its history, provided the cold weather would hold off as late as it did last year. But the weather is capricious in Texas. One night a norther swooped down across the plains and left the luxuriant fields of cotton black and blighted. This norther was accompanied and followed by damp, misty weather, which rendered its damage to immature bolls more severe. The extent of the damage was not fully realized for several days, however. But as the days came and went, the damage grew, or at least became more patent. Now, it is said that 60 to 75 per cent of the crop was caught in some of the counties along the northern border of the cotton belt. The damage from the freeze amounted to possibly 25 to 30 per cent in Lynn county. The damage from freeze and worms combined amounted to at least 50 per cent. Notwithstanding all these misfortunes, Lynn county is going to prove to the world again this year that she is of the real cotton counties of Texas, and that she is the leading cotton county of the plains. Last year she stood fourth among the counties of the plains, her production being exceeded slightly by that of Dawson, Lubbock, and Crosby. This year she will produce almost as much cotton as any two of them. The government report for these plains counties up to November 1, as compared with last year, is as follows:

	1925	1924
Lynn	13,330	16,507
Dawson	8,493	23,750
Lubbock	6,651	17,395
Crosby	3,860	16,466
Garry	3,255	8,196
Terry	3,771	5,757
Hale	1,542	5,724
Floyd	1,710	5,640

There are a tier of counties lying below the caprock about the eastern and southern border of the plains in which the cotton usually matures two or three weeks earlier than it does on the plains. These counties felt the touch of the plow much earlier than the plains counties, and they form another group of west

T. H. S. Holds City Election

The typical city election, fostered by the T. H. S. Civics class and under the direction of the Superintendent G. H. Nelson, will be held at the high school building, Wednesday, November the eighteenth.

This election is being held for the benefit of the students who wish to learn how to vote. A small fee of ten cents is charged for the poll tax. The receipt is issued by the tax collector, Eleanor Barker.

Two distinct political parties have been organized, the Andy Gump and Uncle Walt parties. Each has its own candidates and platforms.

The offices to be held are mayor, City Marshal, and two aldermen for the council. The candidates for the Andy Gump party are J. E. Keltner, Jr. for Mayor, Paul King for City Marshal, Burton Hackney and Dau Singleton for Aldermen. The candidates for the Uncle Walt party are Claude Lemond for Mayor, Clay Bennett for City Marshal, Temple Brashear and R. E. Doak for aldermen.

The campaign has been very interesting, because of the platforms.

The Andy Gump party stands for:

- 1. Clean town
- 2. Improvement of streets.
- 3. For Carnivals
- 4. Curfew for those under ten years of age.

- 5. For Blue Laws
- 6. 100 per cent for the people
- 7. Sewer system
- 8. Good organizations

The Uncle Walt Party stands for:

- 1. Woman Suffrage
- 2. Clean streets
- 3. Better schools
- 4. Paving of streets
- 5. Good light and water system.
- 6. Against Carnivals.
- 7. Against Blue Laws
- 8. Against Curfew.
- 9. For annual.

These issues seem to arouse the interest of the voters. At present, about one hundred ten receipts have been issued and it is hoped that many other will be issued before the election. It has not been definitely decided what the money will be used for.

Judge Hill Speaks to Press Club Monday Nov. 2, at 4 P. M., the Press Club met in the High school auditorium. After the reading of the minutes, an interesting program was given.

The song "Rock-a-Bye-My-Baby Blues" was sung by Charline Maddox and Lucille Rush.

Mr. Hill gave a most interesting as well as instructive talk on Newspaper work. He told us how to write articles for the News-paper, bringing out the points of clearness, forcefulness, completeness, brevity, and crispness of the sentences. He stressed the placing of the important facts first and then telling the details. In general his caution was to pay much attention to writing both dramatically, and rhetorically.

He, next, explained the nature of News-Paper work beginning at the time an article reaches the News office, he traced the proceedings, which take place before it is printed in the News Paper. The six steps were: (1) Correction by editor. (2) over looking by make up man to estimate the size of his paper (3) Type set for it by linotype man (4) Arrangement in lines and columns (5) Over looking by proof-reader (6) Printed in the News Paper.

He gave information as to the space allowed in the paper for the school news. He explained why all articles which are sent to the News office cannot be printed His speech was ended by setting a definite day for the News to reach the office.

The assignments for the next week's articles were read. The club dues were decided upon and all other business matters attended to.

"A Senior Member"

Eleanor Barker, daughter of Mrs. M. E. Barker, of Tahoka, started in High School here in 1922. She entered declamation and won Junior county championship. Although she started this term two months late, she passed all of her courses.

In her Sophomore year she held the position of vice-president of the class. She was chosen from, the Freshmen, Sophomore, and Junior classes as candidate for the most beautiful girl in High School. Although the Senior beat her, it was as by a small majority.

When a junior, she won Senior county championship in Declamation. She was a member of the Spanish club, and also an actor in the Spanish play given at the teachers institute. She was a good student, especially in History.

This year she is a member of the Senior class of 1925. She belongs to the Spanish and Press clubs. She expects to enter the contest for Declamation this year. She hopes to finish this year, in Tahoka High School.

Press Club Meeting

The Press Club met Monday afternoon, at 4 P. M., in the high school auditorium. A study of the life of Irvin S. Cobb was taken up. Mary Greathouse gave a summary of his life. The song "Call Me Back, Pal O'Mine" was sung by Eleanor Barker. Elizabeth Wyatt gave a piano solo. The last number on program was a talk on one of Cobb's latest works, by Cubana Keltner.

Burton Hackney was elected parliamentarian. Other business matters were attended to.

Sophomores

The Sophomores extend their sympathy to E. S. Evans and Willie Lois Nevels, who are unable to be at school on account of illness.

The members of the Sophomore class hope that they will soon be able to resume their school work.

Chapel Program

The Chapel program, Monday morning, November the sixteenth, opened with the song, "The Spanish Calvalier." Following the song Supt Nelson gave a scripture reading from Judges Chapter III.

Preceding the usual announcements Dr. C. B. Townes gave a short talk regarding the two school medals to be given this year. Supt. Nelson explained further that one gold medal and two and one half dollars in silver will be given to the pupil in high school, who attains the highest grade and who has the best conduct. The same will be awarded to a pupil in grammar school.

Science Club Extends Invitation
Members of the Science Club cordially invite Patrons of the school to be present at its meeting, which are held every second and fourth Thursday night.

BADLY RUN-DOWN

Lady Was Very Depressed on Account of Poor Health.

Mrs. H. S. Miller, of Spindale, N. C., says: "Five years ago I was very much run-down in health. I would give out with the least exertion. At times I would have to go to bed.

"I read of Cardui. . . My husband got me a bottle and encouraged me to take it. I was almost a skeleton, I was so thin. I was run-down and my general health was very poor. This was very depressing and I was in low spirits. My husband had to help me around. He did all he could for me and had me keep up Cardui.

"I continued taking the medicine for several months and it was wonderful the improvement I made. I gained over twenty pounds in weight, and I felt so much better besides. This gain was permanent, too. I have never lost it and my general health has been much better since I took Cardui."

An irrigation project involving the building of a dam across the Colorado River near Robert Lee with a view to placing about 112,000 acres of land under irrigation is now being considered. A federal government engineer met with Coke county farmers and stockmen and members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at Robert Lee last Friday to discuss the matter.

An extension of the sewer system at Canyon has just been completed. And a disposal tank built. Canyon now has more than 11 miles of sewer. It has more than four miles of paving, and a project is now on foot to pave the state highway from Canyon to Amarillo.

The Famous T-Bar Ranch Lands

This ranch consisted originally of 126 sections, or more than 80,000 acres. Twenty sections of this land lying north of the Tahoka-Brownfield highway and west of the Tahoka-Lubbock highway and adjoining the townsite of Tahoka has been placed on the market. A part of this land has been sold and converted into farms and as fine cotton as can be found on the south plains may be found today on these lands. We are selling these lands out in quarter and half sections. This is your chance to get a home. Lynn county produced more than 38,000 bales of cotton last year. It is conservatively estimated that it will produce 50,000 bales this year. Fine land, fine water, fine people; complete crop failures almost unknown.

Price $35.00 and up

We also have other fine lands in Lynn County and neighboring counties. Let us show you.

Subscribers Take Warning.

Last week we mailed out on Route
No. 2 a nice letter to ten of our most valued subscribers warning them to pay up. We quietly hinted that an early remittance would be appreciated and here is the results. Five of them promptly paid up, the sixth replied that he would pay "next week"
but he died the following Saturday.

The seventh said he would pay us
the "next time he saw us." He went blind. The eight telephoned he would "run down and pay some time." He has rheumatism now and can't even walk. The ninth said he would "see us in a first." He got religion that night and will not be able to keep the appointment. We have not heard from the tenth one yet and the tenth one happened to be you.
We have not taken your name off
the list as yet, because it seems "sor-ter" natural to see it there. We have been pretty good sports o leave it there all this time. Won't you be an equally good sport and see that it stays "put," we are sure you will.
Let us hear from you. Route A had better look out next week we'll get
you. —Colorado Record.

The News subscribers are going to come in and pay up without any notices being sent through the mail, we are sure. If not, we'll try the Record's plan. This plan seems to have been a little hard on the subscribers, for it is an awful thing for a man to have to meet his maker with his subscription to his home paper delinquent.

Last week the News told about the two little girls who broke the world's record as cotton pickers out on a Lynn county farm. Saturday the little girls came in to see us, Pearl and Louise Nichols, eight and six years old respectively. We took off our hat to them. Fine little girls they are. We hope that their father may be able to give them the opportunity in the days to come to procure a college education. But whether his good fortune comes their way or not, they possess the industry and the energy which have made so many American women great, and doubtless these girls will develop into women of real worth and service, whatever their advantages or difficulties may be. There is no better guaranty of the security of our nation and the perpetuity of our civilization than the industrious, virtuous, God-fearing country girls of America.

Those O'Donnell folks are good to their editor. The other day a good lady brought into town a dozen juicy watermelons and she presented one of them to Tom Kellis, editor of the Index. Some heathen swiped Kellis' melon but Kellis confesses that he swiped one that had been given to one of his friends, so he broke even on the deal and enjoyed a big watermelon feast away long here in November. Then a day or two later a business man of O'Donnell piloted
the whole Index force around to a cafe and gave them a big turkey dinner. There are no finer fellows in the world than our Tahoka business men, but say, fellows, we haven't even smelt baked turkey for a year.

FARMER, MULE AND BULL DOG FIGURE IN SCRAMBLE

Tuesday of this week James Bodine, farmer of the Buford community visited the farm of E. M. Baldwin in the same community. While the two men were together about the Baldwin barnlot, the latter pointed out a fine specimen of midwest, which animal, according to Mr. Baldwin, owner, was very gentle and highly intelligent.

"Come here, Pete" Baldwin called to the mule, and as he approached the quadruped, gave him an affectionate caress and placed a halter about his neck. As the proud possessor of the mule was having the animal pass through a small gate, "Pete" without warning let go one of his kicking limbs, the animal's hoof striking Mr.

Baldwin in the stomach.

Baldwin crashed to the ground and Bodine rushed to his assistance. "I found Baldwin completely knocked out and really believed he was dangerously hurt," Bodine stated. "I hurriedly began to work with him to bring him too and just then Baldwin's big bull dog came into the melee and attacked me. With one foot
I fought off the snarling dog as I frantically worked with the stricken man.

After a few minutes of this serious comedy, Baldwin was revived and as he sat up exclaimed "Well, he never did that before."

Bodine stated while here Wednesday that it was an exciting experience
for a few minutes.
—Colorado Record.

A TOWERING MONUMENT AND AN HUMBLE SLAB

A country editor's field of service is limited generally to the country in which his paper is published, but being as a rule a reader and a thinker, and with the daily press laying before him the current events of a sad, sinful and sordid world, he is sometimes inspired to write a real editorial
that is worthy of wide circulation,
and that is why we country editors use our shears giving you some of the best we gather from our exchanges. The following is from the treacherous pen of the editor of the Lynn County News, Mr. E. L. Hill.

"A little more than two weeks ago
a multimillionaire died. His name was Duke, and he made his millions by manufacturing and selling Duke's Mixture and Bull Durham. He professed great piety but his business was one that only cursed the world.
Because of his great wealth he had his countless flunkies, those simple-minded people found in every community, who like to be thought well-to-do when they are not, or who disdain to associate with good ordinary folks but seek their associates among the wealthy. When Duke died he was given a pompous burial. The multitudes attended the funeral. An eloquent funeral oration was spoken over his casket. The people said that a good and mighty man had fallen.
But Duke was twice married.
Twenty years ago he divorced his first wife to marry the second. Before his death he had written a will.
By this will he bequeathed the bulk of his millions to his second wife.
He gave not one cent to his first wife.
He had not given her one cent since he divorced her twenty years before.
On the day that the contents of Duke's will was made public, his first wife was stricken with cerebral hemorrhage, superinduced the papers say by malnutrition, or in plain English, by starvation. Last Saturday night she died a pauper. Until a few years ago she had had wealth, when a New York banker swindled her out of all she had. Since then she has been teaching music for a livelihood. She struggled against Fate and Poverty until they won the victory, and she went to her grave unhonored and unkung. But was she less worthy than her honored husband? Was she less worthy of praise than he? If he had been an ordinary gentleman he would have had compassion on her in her distress, and at least saved her from starvation. She was doubtless a thousand times better than he. A plain slab will mark the resting place of the broke and broken-hearted little wife that he divorced for another woman. A great marble monument will tower above his tomb. For one we refuse to honor the scoundrel. We even refuse to chew his tobacco. We are against his sort.

We are for the little woman. Away with snobbery. Away with this slobbering over the wealthy. Only character merits our praise.

Now we call that a good editorial,
and it makes us feel sorry for the little woman that starved to death
in the big of which some one said,
"the city that has no heart." And we are glad to see Brother Hill taking pity for the under dog, which our country editors usually do, but we are also sorry for "pore" old Brother Duke. It just may be that the old man has gone where there is plenty of smoke without any tobacco and we feel like he did a few good things while he was a sojourner here. In the first place we never lived in his neighborhood and don't know why he and his first wife were divorced.
Maybe it was partly her fault and maybe the money the New York banker swindled her out of was her share of the estate at the time of the separation, and certainly the old man was not to blame for her getting swindled, and it may be that she was too proud to let him know of her needy condition that she might receive help. I say there may be a good many things connected with the case that if we knew, it would make us more charitable in our judgment of the bid "feller".
We do know that Brother Duke did make mighty good smoking tobacco, and thousands of cowboys will tell you that they don't know how they could have stayed on the range without it. Of course if Brother Hill never used any of it he is not a competent witness. To contend that tobacco is a curse is going pretty strong, for some of the best and most useful men we have ever seen got much apprt satisfaction out of their association with the weed.
Lots of men use tobacco that don't divorce their wives or whip them either, and lots of the go to church.
We have seen them there and seen their signs after they had gone.
And then too we have seen men who were too good to use the weed,
who were as crooked as an Arkansas rail fence. Duke we understand left about twelve million to endow a university, and certainly that was a good thing and too made possible only by the people who are victims of "Lady Nicotine. After all, the Lord said, "Judge not, for with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged." The two have gone to appear before the just judge of all the Earth. Let the mantle of charity cover their faults and if there was any good at all in their lives, let that be the thing remembered to their credit. —Jayton Chronicle.

The West Texas Baptist has a very pertinent article under the caption of, "Do We Pray Enough?" Prayer is communing with God, asking the forgiveness of our trespasses in the same manner that we "forgive those who trespass against us." Just as we "forgive those who trespass against us," in the same manner God forgives us. If we ask this favor, and then hold a grudge against someone who has offended us, we are praying a wicked prayer. If we pray for a blessing, then we must help with all our might to bring it about, or it will be vain prayer.
It is owing to what kind of prayers
the brother refers to. If he means wicked and vain prayers we can say,
"yes," to his question; but we answer, "no," if he means the prayers that bring results. —Sterling

Quality features

that make Chevrolet the world's finest low priced car

Chevrolet offers you the same type of quality features found on cars very much higher in price. More than two million people in a few years' time have purchased Chevrolets
because of this quality construction.

Chrome Vanadium Springs
extending over 80% of the wheelbase give Chevrolet riding comfort that is unexcelled.

Alexis Equipment Throughout makes Chevrolet simple and easy to lubricate.

Dry Disc Clutch—single-plate, requiring no lubrication—gives Chevrolet a velvet smooth acceleration.

Steering Gear, semi-reversible
such as other fine cars use—makes Chevrolet steering unusually easy and safe.

Remy Starting, Lighting and Ignition gives Chevrolet the dependable electrical service characteristic of high priced cars.

Chevrolet Valve-In-Head
Motor, famous for its power and economy, is remarkably economical in operation.

Big 11-Inch Brakes make Chevrolet safe to drive and easy to stop.

Still other features—a modern three-speed transmission, instrument panel complete with speedometer, polished non-rusting Harrison radiator, and a motor-driven horn—are further proofs of Chevrolet quality.

Come in and let us show you some of these quality features and explain how simple it is to become the owner of a fine new Chevrolet.

Oil and Water Pumps keep the Chevrolet engine efficiently
cooled and thoroughly lubri-cated.

Rear Axle is unusually strong,
semi-floating, with heavy driving gears and a one-piece pressed steel housing—construction typical of the world's best built cars.

Stewart Vacuum Feed allows the Chevrolet fuel tank to be placed at the rear where it is safe and convenient.

Chevrolet Closed Models are Fisher-built, of wood and steel
—the construction you will find on all America's finest cars. Flexible and strong, they stand hard going over rough roads.

Fisher V. V. Windshield—used
on all Chevrolet closed models.
It gives the driver clear vision and full cowl ventilation under all conditions.

JUNIOR RED CROSS AIDS PEACE BY BIG GROWTH

Gains 142,000 Members in Year in Schools Throughout United States.

A new high level in peace time membership of the American Junior Red Cross is recorded for 1925—its ranks numbering 5,738,648 school girls and boys—a gain of 142,000.

This unique and powerful children's organization started as a war measure, but today is one of the greatest influences for peace ever known. An increasing participation in local programs of service has featured their year's growth. It is indicated that to a greater degree than ever pupils in the schools are performing individual and collective acts of service in a true Red Cross spirit.

The success of the Junior swimming program, launched last year through co-operation of the Life-Saving Service of the Red Cross, has led to a determination to make it a regular feature of both these branches.

An outstanding feature of the Juniors' work this year was the participation for the first time of a Junior Red Cross worker in the disaster relief operations following the tornado in Missouri, Illinois and Indiana. Schools in many more fortunate localities displayed a keen interest in sending toys and books for the use of the children in the disaster area. The Junior Red Cross program has flourished not alone in settled communities, but has been extended to Indian schools and to native Alaskan schools where many Eskimo children undertook Junior work. In addition, the international correspondence between schools is proving more and more popular. American schools are now corresponding with those in thirty-four countries.

WHY DO LOCAL PEOPLE TRADE IN OTHER TOWNS?

(By a Citizen)

For every effect there is a cause. We have all heard that old statement made over and over again. It is just as true as it is old. There is a cause for every movement of the body, a cause for every mental process that one has, a cause for every action of one's body and a cause for every disease from which we suffer. Therefore there must be a cause for every cent that is spent by Tahoka people out of Tahoka. There must be a reason why the people prefer to spend their money at some other place. What is that cause? That is the question that now challenges our minds and is concerning our interest from the standpoint of the welfare of civic enterprises, and private firms.

If you ask the people they say "it is cheaper" and they must make the dollars and cents go as far as it will. That is the duty of every man. He must provide for his household first of all. If he can spend his money where it will mean something to his town he is willing to do it, provided he gets as much for it as he can else where. Then it is square up to the town to show this individual where he can do as well in Tahoka as any where else in the state. Now whether this reason is a valid one or not is another question. If it is not true then it is distinctly the duty of the people to listen while the town tells the people where the falacy is. Is there a just cause why firms in other towns should be able to sell cheaper? Are taxes any higher here than elsewhere? Is rent any higher here than elsewhere? Do our merchants make any more profit than others? Is the water and light bill more here? Are the railroad facilities any better elsewhere?

with the situation to answer these question in the negative. Then why should there be any difference in the price of materials? Could it be possible that our people are not giving the home men a chance? Or is it possible that when our merchants are given a chance they fail to measure up? It seems that the only fair means is to give each other a fair chance, for as has been said "You can fool some of the people all the time and all the people some of the time but you can't fool all the people all the time."

Three serious accidents occurred within as many days near Floydada last week, according to the Floyd County Hesperian. Dr. Z. J. Cypert was struck by an automobile and both legs were broken below the knees and one of them near the thigh. His nose was also broken and a bad gash received on the forehead. James Adams was accidentally shot in the thigh by a .32 rifle, resulting in a most painful though not serious injury. The third man, J. O. Gilbreath, suffered painful injuries when his hand was caught in the burr extractor at a gin and severely lacerated.

Mrs. M. M. Boyd and two children of Plainview visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Knight for a few days this week.

INDIGESTION

Black-Draught Brings Relief for Tight, Bloating Feeling.

"I had indigestion," says Mr. W. B. Bouknight, of Ballentine, S. C. "Working out, I got in the habit of eating fast, for which I soon paid by having a tight, bloated feeling after meals. This made me very uncomfortable.

"I would feel stupid and drowsy, didn't feel like working. I was told it was indigestion. Some one recommended Black-Draught and I took it after meals. I soon could eat anything any time.

"I use it for colds and biliousness and it will knock out a cold and carry away the bile better and quicker than any liver medicine I have ever found."

Eating too fast, too much, or faulty chewing of your food, often causes discomfort after meals. A pinch of Black-Draught, washed down with a swallow of water, will help to bring prompt relief.

Black-Draught gently helps the over-taxed organs to perform their regular functions, in such cases, ridding the system of poisons that might accumulate.

Parent-Teachers Club Have Interest

A most interesting program was rendered at the meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association of Tahoka in the High School auditorium last Tuesday afternoon.

Mesdames Slaton and Weathers gave a very striking exhibition of new "Sheet Music."

Miss Dete Howard rendered a vocal solo: "Rose in the Bud."

Mrs. Marcus Edwards and Wells Edwards rendered several enjoyable piano and saxophone numbers, and little Miss Evelyn Wells gave a reading which was much enjoyed.

Rev. B. N. Shepherd made a short but impressive talk, his subject being "The Influence Wielded at Home and School Upon the Many Lives We Come in Contact With."

At the business meeting preceding the program, Mrs. J. D. Liles was elected president of the association to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Paul Miller.

The Playground Equipment Committee reported the purchase of two slides for the school at a cost of $40.00 each.

In the picture contest, Mrs. Story's

Woman won the picture, her room having the largest number of mothers present.

Christmas Is Coming

The season of gift giving will soon be here. Again we will all be puzzled with the question: "What will I give them?" To a few you will wish to present gifts, but to all your friends you can not hope to give presents; yet, you would like to remember yourself to them, to send them a line of cheer for the Christmas season, to put joy into their hearts because of the fact that they knew you were thinking of them. You can do that very thing by sending them

Christmas Cards

We have just received a beautiful supply of Stanley Metal Decorated greeting cards, the best, most beautiful and most unique that we have been able to secure. These are the same cards we handled last year and the same cards of which there was such a demand. We also handle two other lines of Christmas cards and are able to supply you with any priced card in any quantity desired (25 or above), with your name printed thereon.

To make sure that you get the cards you desire, you should put in your order NOW. See the samples at our office.

Short-Cuts in Cake-Baking

THERE are many ways in which the busy housewife can simplify and minimize the burdens of her day. All household tasks are important, and most of them necessary, but numerous valuable aids are at the housewife's beck and call, if she will but avail herself of them. In cooking, for instance, so much time is necessarily consumed in the preparation of the substantial parts of a meal, that there is little time or strength left for the supplementary parts, such as salads and desserts. Yet these need not be a burden.

Cake-baking, for example, used to be a rather burdensome undertaking and often to the weary housewife seemed to be the "one straw" too much after a busy day of cleaning, or ironing, or cooking the substantial dishes of the three meals. But, now that so many of the things which go into the making of a cake may be had in prepared form, ready to use at a moment's notice, no one minds beating up a cake in mid-afternoon, to be served as dessert for dinner, or for five o'clock tea when unexpected guests drop in.

If the larder happens to be short of milk, there is no need to send out for it, if the housewife is one of those wise ones who keeps an adequate and varied stock of prepared foods, including powdered or evaporated milk, on her pantry shelf. Powdered milk is carefully inspected and pasteurized milk which has the "been dehydrated" (water removed), it requires merely the replacing of the water, to produce milk in its regular and familiar form. When used in cake, it will make the latter much more healthful for children or invalids to eat, because the pasteurization removed all disease-carrying bacteria, and, once the water was removed, bacterial development stopped. The rule for restoring powdered milk to liquid whole milk is as follows: 1 cup of water to 4 table-spoonfuls or ¼ measuring-cup of the powder.

A good, standard cake may be made by creaming together ¼ cup butter and 1 cup sugar; adding beaten yolks of 3 eggs; sifting 1 cup flour with 3 teaspoons baking-powder, and stirring these in alternately with ½ cup of reliquidified powdered milk. Add 1 teaspoon vanilla, and fold in the egg whites beaten very stiff. Bake in moderate oven, in layer or loaf-cake tin. Or, evaporated milk may be used. This, also, is pure whole milk from which a large part of the water has been removed and which has been processed in such a way as to retain its purity. It needs only to be diluted with an equal part of water to have a milk equal in richness to fluid milk of standard quality.

The powdered milk may be used to make a good chocolate fudge frosting, thus: 1½ cups brown sugar, 2 table-spoons syrup, 1 table-spoon butter, ½ cup reliquidified powdered milk, 1 square chocolate. Cook slowly for fifteen minutes, or until it forms a soft ball when dropped in cold water. Cool for ten minutes and beat until creamy.

Whipped cream may be made from evaporated milk and poured over a plain cake. This is done by cooking the milk in a double-boiler for five minutes, stirring constantly; then cool (also stirring), and set on ice until ready for whipping. Canned pineapple may be used in either the filling, or the cake, or itself. Coconut, moist or dry, comes ready to mix with boiled icing, or to use in the cake batter itself. A ready-made marshmallow filling also comes in cans.

CANYON, Texas, Nov. 14—The Northwest Texas Methodist conference in session here today adopted a report of the committee on temperance and social service in which it declared itself as of the opinion that the present state administration is contrary to the spirit and best interests of prohibition.

"It is time for all of us who love our church and country to declare a new and undying fight against every effort to break down our laws and to elect to office the Aes of temperance," the report said.

"It is with shame that we must record the fact that many of our public officials are winking at the violations of our prohibition laws and this holds from constables up to the seat of government in the governor's chair," the report asserted.

The body adopted a resolution at the morning session declaring that the action of the conference in voting down unification of the two branches of Methodism would not be construed as signifying that the body was against unification if a plan acceptable to both branches could be reached. Subsequently a resolution by Rev. L. N. Stuckey of Abilene to memorialize the general conference to do away with the present commission on unification and not to take up the question again for at least four years was defeated overwhelmingly.

Name Commission.
The commission on the $500,000 endowment fund for McMurry and Clarendon colleges was chosen this afternoon. Authority was given by the conference to purchase a 340 acre tract in Palo Duro canyon for an annual encampment place for Epworth League and other adjuncts.

The committee on temperance and social service presented a resolution dedicated to the improvement of social service. Objection was voiced to the inclusion of the words, "every fraternal order and secret organization." The conference voted to strike out the words secret organization. It was a kick back from Ku Klux Klan opponents, it was said.

Numerous reports was heard during the day. A love feast tomorrow morning and the assignment of the pastors another year tomorrow night will conclude the sessions.

New Idea in Spectacles

No longer need a clothing store salesman take a sult to the window to show the prospective customer the effect in daylight, or even turn on a special light, says a note from Science Service. Instead, he will soon be able to hand the customer a pair of daylight spectacles, which have been invented by Dr. Hermann Weiss of Vienna. Already they have come into wide use in laboratories in the textile paper and dye industries, where it is often necessary to judge the color of solutions. They are of blue glass, which absorbs some of the yellow rays in which the ordinary incandescent lamp is rich, but which are not present in such abundance in sunlight.

Tragic Ending

Augustus Thomas, the famous playwright, said at a dinner at the Hotel Astor in New York:

"Producers claim that only the plays with happy endings can succeed. But no play has a happy ending."

His hearers looked at Mr. Thomas in amazement.

"No play has a happy ending," he repeated. "On the contrary, it runs on and on, and at last it ends tragically in some one-horse town, with the entire road company stranded and nary the price of a box stew amongst the lot of them."

Similar Gait

Out on the edge of the desert a rancher owned a popular-priced car, which he had painted white. He entered a nearby village one day, slightly madder than a wet hen.

"Look at my car!" he said. "Shut plumb full of holes!"

"Meet some bandits!" chorused the corner loafers.

"No!" he roared. "As I was driving in to town some blame' tenderfoot hunters mistook it for a jackrabbit." —American Legion Weekly.

SANTA APPROVES A CHRISAS

Santa Claus has been down a great many chimneys since he started business, and he is intimately acquainted with a large number of people. He knows that the best kinds of gifts are those which please the whole family, and which bring the excitement and enjoyment of Christmas every week. That is why he looks so jolly when he receives hundreds of subscriptions to The Youth's Companion with which to fill his pack. And, being wise from long experience he knows that people are likely to overdo things around Christmas, so he chuckles when he sticks a Companion into the top of a stocking. "Be as greedy as you like," he thinks, "the more, the better for you."

The 52 issues of The Youth's Companion for 1926 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts, and fun. Just send your order to the address below and Santa will take care of delivering the paper to your home or to the home of a friend. Subscribers will receive:

- 1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1926, and
- 2. The remaining issue of 1925. All for only $2.
- 3. Or include McCall's Magazine the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications, only $2.50.

WATCH YOUR DRIVING.

Wreckless and careless driving is expensive as was shown Saturday when the Ford of Roy Todd headed to another Ford driven by a gentleman by the name of F. Smith. A wheel of the latter's crushed and a fender demolished possibly the radius rods bent.

Crowds had gathered and were discussing the causes and results properly when the city marshal arrived the scene. His presence seemed to mellow the vicious looks that being exchanged by the drivers as a supplicating attitude for consideration.

Careful driving and a proper respect for the city laws will help eliminate such accidents.

The State Highway Commission has assured Nolan county officials that the $600,000 allotted to Nolan county two years ago for the construction of a paved highway through the county will be forthcoming next year, when the work of paving the highways will begin. The beds have already been built in several places.

A few weeks ago the League of Nations proved its efficacy by stopping the war between the Greeks and the Bulgarians. If this war had not been stopped nobody knows what the ultimate consequences would have been. It is true that the Greeks and Bulgarians might have been permitted to fight it out undisturbed. On the other hand, it is probable that other nations would have been drawn into the conflict. It is not at all improbable that most of the stronger nations of Europe would have been engulfed again in the maelstrom of war. At any rate, a great triumph for the League and for the cause of peace was accomplished when the League succeeded in bringing this war to an abrupt close. To Woodrow Wilson is due the supreme credit for the creation of the league. It was the child of his brain. It was the product of his tireless labor. Had he not conceived it in the first place, it is not likely that any of the other influential statesmen of that day would have even proposed it. Had he not worked incessantly and heroically for its incorporation in the Versailles treaty it would never have become an accomplished fact. Fifty four nations are now members of the league. They represent five-sixths of the sovereign powers of the world and three-fourth of the human race. Germany has indicated that she is to join soon. Only the United States, Mexico, Turkey, Russia, and a few of the smaller nations remain on the outside. It is a pitiable thing that the nation which gave birth to the great Woodrow Wilson, the father of the League, should itself remain on the outside. That it has done so is due to little, mean, narrow-minded politicians in high places at the time the treaty of Versailles was submitted. The wisdom and greatness of Woodrow Wilson will grow more lustrous with each passing year.

At this time of year owls are very destructive to poultry, especially to half-grown turkeys. It is our job to look after a flock of young turkeys and to pen them in an enclosure of net wire each night. Owls killed two of them and kept the flock disturbed at night. It is an owl's nature before attacking a roost to light on a high post if he can find one, so that he may make a survey of the situation. In order to accommodate these marauders we set up three high poles at intervals around the pen. On top of these poles we nailed a little platform, so they would have a comfortable place to light. On the top of these little platforms where fastened steel traps. When an owl lights on these he stays there until we come down in the morning to club him. In this way we have killed six of the killers within the last month.—Sterling City News-Record.

THE SUWANEE RIVER

Some bright young men of the United States geological survey have gone into southern Georgia and Northern Florida to make certain investigations. They have found that a stream known locally as the Suwanee (or Sewanee or Swanee) River is only ordinary creek, affording some sort of lazy outlet to the waters of the Okefinokee Swamp, and is as unimportant and unlovely as swamp creeks usually are.

That was all right and part of their business. But when these young men—or some body of them—went so far as to report that the immortal river of Stephen C. Foster's song is little better than a mere ditch they committed a colossal error. It is a blunder to which very practical men and very literal minds are particularly susceptible. They have confused the realm of geography with that of imagination, and have fallen into the fallacy of trying to measure with gauges and surveyors' chains something which is beyond logarithms and laughs at all laws of trigonometry.

The real Suwanee River does not rise in any part of Georgia. It rises in the highest mountains of the human soul and is fed by the deepest springs of the human heart. It does not flow through the swampy region of Florida, but through the pleasant, sunny lands of memory. It does not empty into a material sea, but into the glorious ocean of unfulfilled dreams.

It leaves the shores of childhood. Its current ripples with low, sweet melody of recollections, softened and made misty by distance. There is such mystic power in its waters that whoever finds himself wearied and worn by the struggle of living has only to quaff and gain reprieve.

It is far, far away, but the heart is still thrumming there in the star-where the old folks stay. On its banks may be only a hut among the bushes, but the bees are still humming around it by day and the banjo is still rumming there in the starlight. And so they will continue to do while memories of home and simple hopes and affections are the most prized possessions of mankind.

It was a quaint jargon, such as probably was never spoken by anybody, that Foster first sang about it. Nevertheless, his plaintive ditty has become one of the great songs of all times. The surveyors who would find the true Suwanee River must hunt not among the Florida swamps, but among the majestic streams of infinite tenderness and love.—W. R. Trotter, in Southwest Machinery.

Add 1 teaspoon vanilla, and fold in the egg whites beaten very stiff. Bake in moderate oven, in layer or loaf-cake tin. Or, evaporated milk may be used. This, also, is pure whole milk from which a large part of the water has been removed and which has been processed in such a way as to retain its purity. It needs only to be diluted with an equal part of water to have a milk equal in richness to fluid milk of standard quality.

The powdered milk may be used to make a good chocolate fudge frosting, thus: 1/2 cups brown sugar, 2 tablespoons syrup, 1 tablespoon butter, 1/2 cup reliquified powdered milk, 1 square chocolate. Cook slowly for fifteen minutes, or until it forms a soft ball when dropped in cold water. Cool for ten minutes and beat until creamy. Whipped cream may be made from evaporated milk and poured over a plain cake. This is done by cooking the milk in a double-boiler for five minutes, stirring constantly; then cool (also stirring), and set on ice until ready for whipping. Canned pineapple may be used in either the filling, or in the cake, itself. Cocoaunt, moist or dry, comes ready to mix with boiled icing, or to use in the cake batter itself. A ready-made marshmallow filling also comes in cans.

Goes On Market

This ranch, consisting of 13 sections, situated about 11 miles south of Brownfield, now owned by W. H. May, has been placed on the market.

It will be sold out in quarter section tracts, cash payment of $5.00 per acre, balance on terms of 2 to 10 years, at 6 and 7 per cent interest.

This is one of the choice pieces of land in Terry County. Every quarter section will make a splendid home for some good family. An abundance of good water can be had anywhere on the ranch.

If you haven't a home, or if you desire a profitable investment, this is your chance.

We also have the Milwee Ranch in north-west part of Lynn county, in small tracts at attractive prices and terms.

SANTA APPROVES A CHRISAS

Santa Claus has been down a great many chimneys since he started business, and he is intimately acquainted with a large number of people. He knows that the best kinds of gifts are those which please the whole family, and which bring the excitement and enjoyment of Christmas every week. That is why he looks so jolly when he receives hundreds of subscriptions to The Youth's Companion with which to fill his pack. And, being wise from long experience he knows that people are likely to overlook things around Christmas, so he chuckles when he sticks a Companion into the top of a stocking, "Be as greedy as you like," he thinks, "the more, the better for you."

The 52 issues of The Youth's Companion for 1926 will be crowded with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts, and fun. Just send your order to the address below and Santa will take care of delivering the paper to your home or to the home of a friend. Subscribers will receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1926, and
2. The remaining issue of 1925. All for only $2.
3. Or include McCall's Magazine the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications, only $2.50.

T—Bar News.

The health of our community is still good, as usual. The T-Bar public school began Monday with two teachers in charge, Prof. Alexander is principal and a young lady who lives in O'Donnell is the primary teacher.

The next singing convention of the southern district of Lynn county will be held at the T-Bar school house the first Sunday afternoon in December. All singers and everybody else invited.

Rev. Montandon of O'Donnell will preach at T-Bar next Sunday at 11 A. M.

Mr. Ward of this community had six of his turkeys stolen a few nights ago.

Another week of pretty weather and the bulk of the cotton in this community will be out. Then will come a siege of pulling bolls.

Leslie Crews will live on Judge Elliott's farm near the T-Bar school house next year. Louis Briley will live next year where Mr. Jordan now lives. Jack Sparkman and brothers will live east of Tahoka on Dr. C Callaway's farm next year. Uncle Jim.

NOTICE OF DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP

The State of Texas
County of Lynn
Notice is hereby given that the partnership lately subsisting between E. H. Boullioun and W. O. Thomas of Tahoka, County of Lynn, and the State of Texas, under the firm name of "Boullioun and Thomas" was dissolved by mutual consent, on the 15th day of October, A. D. 1925. All debts owing to the said partnership are to be received by said E. H. Boullioun, and all demands on said partnership are to be presented to him for payment. The business will be continued by said E. H. Boullioun and one A. B. Thomas, under the firm name of "Boullioun and Thomas, Jr."

CANYON BUILDING CHURCHES

Canyon has made a great improvement in her church buildings during the past two years. The Episcopal church was the first to erect a brick building in Canyon.

The Methodist next started the new $60,000 building which is nearing completion.

The Church of Christ erected a new building during this year.

A new Catholic church was erected this year through a generous donation of an eastern capitalist.

The Presbyterian congregation is erecting a new $35,000 house.

A financial campaign is now on for the compiling of the new $75,000 Baptist church, the foundation of which was put in during the summer.

WATCH YOUR DRIVING.

Wreckless and careless driving is expensive as was shown Saturday, when the Ford of Roy Todd headed in to another Ford driven by a colored gentleman by the name of Frank Smith. A wheel of the latter's car crushed and a fender demolished and possibly the radius rods bent. The crowd had gathered and were discussing the causes and results profusely when the city marshal arrived on the scene. His presence seemed to mellow the vicious looks that were being exchanged by the drivers into a supplicating attitude for consideration.

Careful driving and a proper respect for the city laws will help to eliminate such accidents.

The State Highway Commission has assured Nolan county officials that the $600,000 allotted to Nolan county two years ago for the construction of a paved highway through the county will be forthcoming early next year, when the work of paving the highways will begin. The roadbeds have already been built over of the route.

COUNTY IS LEADING PLAINS IN COTTON

Texas counties in which the production of cotton has greatly increased within the past few years. For these counties the government report is as follows:

	1925	1924
Collingsworth	12,243	14,766
Hall	15,369	13,399
Childress	10,105	14,311
Hardeman	10,696	16,576
Cottle	7,794	14,354
Motley	4,258	6,280
Dickens	5,356	13,374
Kent	2,943	5,273
Stonewall	5,342	5,285
Scurry	10,098	14,477
Fisher	16,372	16,660
Nolan	12,597	12,015
Mitchell	19,467	13,915
Howard	8,201	10,538

Another group of counties lying further east and at a still lower altitude, regarded as the cream of the west below the caprock, show the following ginnings:

	1925	1924
Wilbarger	22,412	31,887
Knox	18,355	27,517
Haskell	26,634	27,862
Jones	40,143	33,538
Taylor	33,840	28,157
Rummells	47,418	39,593
Coleman	25,169	33,999

The entire Texas crop ginned prior to November 1 was nearly a million bales under that ginned prior to November the first 1924, the figures being 2,833,520 for 1925 against 3,791,628 for 1924.

Lubbock County Asks State Road Aid

County Judge Chas. Nordyke and the other members of the Lubbock County Commissioners Court yesterday signed applications for state aid in the amount of two hundred million of celebs surfaced highway in Lubbock County.

One application in the amount of one hundred thousand dollars was made for the surfacing of Highway No. 7 from Slaton to the northwest edge of the county to the Lubbock-Littlefield road. The other application was for one hundred thousand dollars and was made for the surfacing of Highway No. 53 from Idaho to the southwest border of Lubbock County on the Lubbock-Brownfield road.

In the meantime the state highway commission has already set aside the amount of money necessary for the construction of this amount of highway. The two hundred thousand dollars that will be provided by the state will be matched dollar for dollar by the county road and bridge fund, making a total of four hundred thousand dollars available for use for highway work in this county.

Plans for the construction of 15 miles of the highway from Slaton to Lubbock have been completed by county engineer B. A. Garrett and have been filed with the highway department at Austin for approval.

Bids will be advertised for by the highway department and the contract awarded in due time after the plans have been approved or altered, whatever might be the case.

Watch This Space!

The writer in walking down the street Thursday afternoon was attracted by a large gathering of the fair sex in front of a local dry goods store, to be explicit, Hogan's. Our curiosity was aroused and we drew nearer, to find one of the most artistic silk goods windows we have seen in Tahoka, or as that goes, in any of the larger cities. Crepe de chimes, Flat crepes, Satin back crepes and Duchess silks, were arranged a most attractive and novel manner. The coloring effect was very fine, and shows as magnificent assortment of silks as can be found in practically any of the larger department stores of the cities. Four numbers of Ladies silken jersey underwear were tactfully displayed with the piece goods, and all had a very pleasing effect on the eye. The window was trimmed by Mr. Arnold, of the Hogan Dry Goods Co.

Rev. M. Phelan, who has been pastor of the Methodist Church at Big Spring the past two years, has moved to Sacramento, California, where he will serve as pastor of the First Methodist Church of that city. He has long been recognized as one of the strong men of the denomination in Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Swan left Monday afternoon for Sweetwater to get their new Chrysler.

J. B. Nance spent Saturday in Plainview on business.

Mrs. S. N. McDaniel was seriously ill the former part of this week, but is now reported better.
