New Buildings to be Constructed West Side Square

Contract Let for One and Work to be started immediately--will Improve Appearance of West Side Square Materially

J. N. Jones has let the Contract for the construction of a brick business house, to be 25 by 80 feet in size, upon his lot on the west side of the square. John Erickson of this city is the contractor. It is understood that work will begin on it as soon as necessary material arrives. Mr. Jones is reported as saying that he already had a number of applications to rent the proposed building.

H. M. Markin owns the lot lying immediately north of the Jones lot, and he announces that he expects to build on this lot within a short time. There are rumors also of other possible buildings on this block.

MORE SNOW FALLS

Three inches of snow on the ground on March 19 is rather an unusual episode even on the south plains, but old Mother Earth was garbed in a robe of white at least three inches thick Wednesday morning when people arose from their beds. Through out the afternoon Tuesday there were light flurries of snow at frequent intervals, melting as fast as it fell. Soon after midnight it began to sleet, and for a few hours the little red balls of ice peppered down briskly. About eleven o'clock the snow began falling and soon got down to business in dead earnest.

The weather was not severely cold and there was little wind. The snow was therefore distributed more evenly than usual over the ground, and the melting snow is sinking into the earth and adding materially to the "season" already in the ground. Farmers and business men are jubilant, for this snow puts the soil in fine condition for spring planting.

WINTER SEEMS LOATH TO GO.

After we had gone to press last week Old Winter played one of his accustomed tricks on young Miss Spring and literally covered her up with snow. Miss Spring's swell new millinery and her bright verdant costume were not entirely ruined but they were fearfully soiled, and Miss Spring herself shivered until we thought she would die. Winter held full sway all the week, in fact, but old Sol came to the rescue Monday but he was no match for his adversary.

In plain English, about two inches of snow fell Wednesday night in addition to the precipitation in the form of mist which preceded throughout the day Wednesday. This served to wet the ground several inches deep and will be of considerable benefit to farmers, but the cold weather, which continued throughout the week, did considerable damage to fruit. It will require several days however to determine just how serious the damage to the fruit crop has been.

TWO VAN ZANDT CITIZENS LOCATE HERE

Messrs. J. W. Kirkpatrick and A. F. Pitts, both of Grand Saline in Van Zandt county, this week purchased a half section of land out of the T-Bar ranch, lying near Dixie school house. This deal was consummated through the Zappe Land Company.

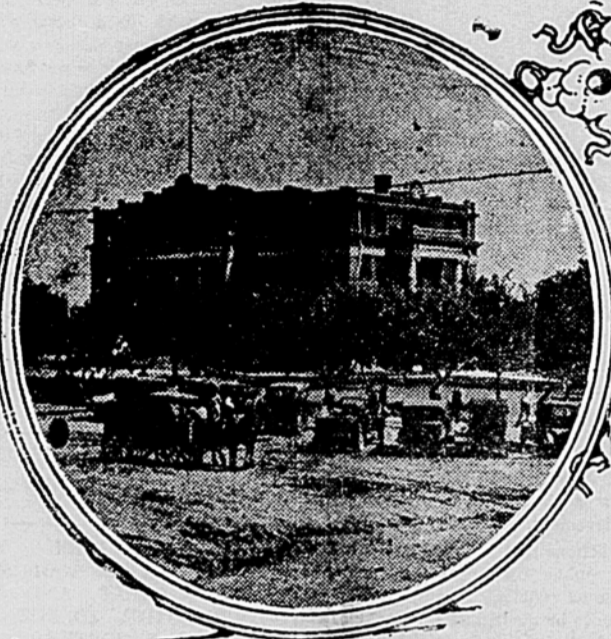

The gentlemen will move their families out and begin improving this half section of land immediately. They expect to place about 200 acres of it in cultivation this year. They will also build residences on this tract of land for themselves and families in the near future.

Mr. Pitts came out to Tahoka about a month ago, and since that time he has been all over the plains, going as far south as Midland. He says that he found nothing that suited him quite as well as this section of the country around Tahoka. Glad to welcome these good people to this good county.

W. B. Estes, representing the Oxo Heating and Lighting Company of Amarillo, had business in Tahoka Wednesday. He was very complimentary of the south plains.

COURT ADJOURNED FRIDAY EVENING STILL CAPTURED MONDAY NEAR CEDAR LAKE

A busy term of the district court came to an end last Friday afternoon. The Grand Jury was in session the entire week during the first week of the term. They returned into court five felony indictments and one misdemeanor. In several of the cases, however, arrests have not yet been made.

As related in the News last week, the trial of Leonard Bell murder case consumed the first three days of the second week, resulting in a mistrial. The report is that all the jurors agreed that the defendant was guilty of manslaughter but several were in favor of suspending the sentence, while the remainder opposed suspending the sentence.

E. E. Reson pleaded guilty to the crime of forgery. He was given three years and the sentence suspended. Reson is a young man about 20 years old. His home is at Balls, in Crosby county.

In the civil suit of T. B. Lively vs J. E. Ketter and T. F. Fields, the jury rendered a verdict in favor of the defendants and awarded a judgement in the sum of $1500.00 in favor of Fields in his cross action against Lively.

A few judgements by default were taken and a few cases were continued to the next term of court.

Mrs. J. K. Callaway returned Monday on an extended visit with friends and relatives at Fort Worth and Coolee, Texas.

E. E. Crane who recently purchased a farm in the east part of Gaines county, near the southwest end of Cedar Lake was arrested Monday after his premises had been searched and a ten gallon copper still and coil had been dug up in his front yard.

A barrel of mash was found in his stack lot, which had been poured out on the ground and covered with feed stalks.

Sheriff Britton has the still on display at the drug store. He also has a sample of the mash and some of the finished product, the latter having been taken after a search of a neighbor's home near by. The neighbor was also arrested and placed in jail in Seminole with Crane. We understand that Crane's neighbor made a full statement regarding the purchase of his booze from Crane and was released on a $50 bond to appear as a witness before the Gaines county Grand Jury, which convenes April 21.

Crane waived a preliminary hearing before the Justice of the Peace and his bond placed at $1250, he is now in jail and to date has been unable to make same.

The still was found by Sheriff Britton of this county and Deputy Merrick, of Dawson county.

H. G. Cobb of Lamesa has accepted a position with the Sanitary Barber Shop of this city.

YOUNG MAN DIES OF PNEUMONIA SATURDAY

Virgil H. Harrison, a young man who had just moved to this county with his father's family from Oklahoma, died Saturday morning March 15, the immediate cause of death being pneumonia. His remains were interred in the Tahoka cemetery.

The young man's death was rather unexpected until a short time before it occurred. Several days ago, as the family were nearing their destination in this county, they had car trouble. Young Harrison assisted in lifting one end of the car and in doing so received severe injuries. Within a short time pneumonia set up with the above fatal results.

Young Harrison was only 18 years of age. He was born in Williamson county, Texas, but had more recently resided in Oklahoma. He was a member of the Christian Church, having united with that church last summer. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. T. Howell, pastor of the Methodist Church at this place. The News extends condolence to all the bereaved ones.

NOTICE, SCHOOL PATRONS

I hereby request that all parents and guardians of children within scholastic age residing in the Tahoka Independent School District notify me of any such children who have not been enumerated. If I have missed you, call at the office of the city secretary over Thomas Bros. Drug Store and have your children enumerated. We are anxious to enumerate every child within school age in the district. Will appreciate your help.

DIRECTORS OF SOUTH PLAINS FAIR ELECTED

Lubbock, Texas, March 15th, 1924—R. W. Blair Gib Jackson, and Walter Myrick, Jr., are the three new directors of the Panhandle and South Plains Fair, elected by the stockholders of the organization, as shown by a count of the ballots this afternoon at 3:00 o'clock.

The ballot box mailed out the past week, to each and all of the stockholders of the Fair Association, and they were given prompt attention, resulting in a large polling of voters for the names on the tickets, and after a careful count and recheck of the ballots returned, the three gentlemen above named, led the ticket.

L. C. Ellis, E. L. Robertson and Geo. W. Foster are the retiring directors, six of the old directors being hold-overs. The board this year will consist of Chris Harwell, Frank White T. B. Duggan, Geo. E. Benson, Louie F. Moore, W. O. Stevens, R. W. Blair, Gib Jackson and Walter Myrick, Jr., who will guide the destinies of the organization for the ensuing year.

The President will call a meeting the coming week for the purpose of electing the officials for the year.

Plans are already under way for a greater and better Fair. There is no institution in the South Plains that has meant more for the growth and development of this section than this organization. Conditions are just now getting in to shape, where the organization can hope to not only break even each year, but come out far enough ahead to make necessary improvements to take care of the Growth of the Fair, from year to year. Some big things are being planned for this year, and every citizen of the South Plains is urged to keep in touch with the development and to give that same unstinted cooperation that has been evidenced in the past.

To the retiring directors, who have given of their time, neglected their own business, and thrown their very hearts into the work, the South Plains is indebted to you. To those who are yet in the service, and those who are just assuming the duties the pay you receive cannot be counted in dollars and cents, but still there are those who see, know and appreciate your efforts, and in the years to come it will be appreciated by the progressive citizenship of the South Plains, who see and know whereof we speak.

A nice five-room stucco residence is being built by Miss Lewis on south Sweet street.

The following communication addressed to the officers of the local Chamber of Commerce has been received by us

We desire to call attention to the bill which has been introduced in the United States Senate by Senator Sheppard providing for an appropriation by the National Congress for the purpose of having the United States Geological survey make an investigation of the potash deposits in West Texas and in other parts of the United States.

The deposits of common salt with which the potash is associated are believed to be the result of the drying up of an arm of the sea in the Permian age. Such deposits of salt are known to underlie the region extending from central Kansas thru Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas, to the Pecos River Valley, forming a belt of country at least 650 miles from north to south and from 150 to 250 miles east to west. This deposit is known to vary in depth from 300 to 700 feet and thus constitutes the largest known bed of salt in the world. Where such a tremendous volume of sea water has evaporated deposits of potash must also exist. Borings made over a wide territory verify this prognostication. Recent tests show, however, that while the geological conditions necessary for the natural concentration of potash exists through out this whole territory, the conditions for the deposit of potash in large beds were most favorable in the southern portion of this region, comprising some twenty counties of Texas. The same conditions may extend to the southeastern corner of New Mexico. It is in this general region that the ancient sea was deepest, and therefore the salt beds are the thickest, varying from 500 feet to depth not yet penetrated. The potash salts were deposited here between beds of anhydrite, limestone and rocksalt at depths below the surface varying from 800 to 2300 feet. As many as from 6 to 10 beds of potash, some only a few inches, others 25 feet or more in thickness, have been found in a single boring to a depth of 2,000 feet.

The time is at hand when West Texas must be considering the use of fertilizer. Crops planted in West Texas this past year where fertilizer was used made astonishing showings. We are therefore tremendously interested in the development of potash in our own territory. We will appreciate it if you will write your congressmen and to any senators you may have any influence with urging support of this bill by Senator Sheppard. The list of the Senate Committee on Agriculture that will pass in committee upon the potash bill is as follows:

George W. Norris	Nebraska
Charles L. McNary	Oregon
Arthur Capper	Kansas
Henry W. Keyes	New Hampshire
Frank R. Gooding	Idaho
Edwin F. Ladd	North Dakota
Peter Norbeck	South Dakota
John W. Harrelld	Oklahoma
Wm. B. McKinley	Illinois
Ellison D. Smith	South Carolina
Joseph E. Ransdell	Louisiana
John B. Kendrick	Wyoming
Pat Harrison	Mississippi
J. Thomas Heflin	Alabama
T. H. Caraway	Arkansas
Samuel H. Ralston	Indiana
Magnus Johnson	Minnesota

We would appreciate if you would write each of them, sending us copy of your letter. The number of the bill is Senate Bill 1925.

Yours very truly,
Porter A. Whaley
Manager.

SEEIN' THINGS

BY EUGENE FIELD

I ain't afeard uv snakes, or toads, or bugs, or worms, or mice,
An' things 'at girls are skeered uv I think are awful nice!
I'm pretty brave, I guess; and yet I hate to go to bed,
For, when I'm tucked up warm an' snug an' when my prayers are said,
Mother tells me "Happy dreams!" an' takes away the light,
An' leaves me lyin' all alone an' seein' things at night!

Sometimes they're in the corner, sometimes they're by the door,
Sometimes they're all a standin' down in the middle uv the floor;
Sometimes they are a-sittin' down, sometimes they're walkin' round
So softly an' so creepylke they never make a sound!
Sometimes they are as black as ink, an' other times they're white
But the color ain't no difference when you see things at night!

Once, when I had licked a feller 'at had just moved on our street,
An' father sent me up to bed without a bit to eat,
I woke up in the dark an' saw things standin' in a row,
A-lookin' at me cross-eyed an' p'intin' at me - so!
Oh, my! I was so skeered that time I never slep' a mite -
It's almost allus when I'm bad I see things at night!

Lucky thing I ain't a girl, or I'd be skeered to death!
Bein' I'm a boy, I duck my head an' hold my breath;
An' I am, oh! so sorry I'm a naughty boy, an' then
I promise to be better an' I say my prayers again!
Gran'ma tells me that's the only way to make it right
When a feller has been wicked an' sees things at night!

An' so, when other naughty boys would coax me into sin,
I try to skwush the Tempter's voice 'at urges me within;
An' when they's pie for supper, or cakes 'at's big an' nice,
I want to - but I do not pass my plate fr' them things twice!
Nol, rather let Starvation wipe me slowly out o' sight
Than I should keep a-livin' on an' seein' things at night!

The Development of the Railway Net in Texas

By WALTER SPLAWN
Railroad Commissioner of Texas

The most important assistance to railways during the period 1870 to 1890 was State aid. This took two forms; one the granting of State bonds, the other of State land. In 1870, an act by the Legislature provided that State bonds should be furnished the Texas & Pacific Railroad Company. However, neither of these bond issues was made available for railway purposes. There was such opposition that some of the state officials refused to sign the bonds and the next legislature repealed the law.

From 1859 to 1873 there was no land grants for the benefit of railroad construction. In 1873 to 1875, 42 companies were chartered, 12 of which carried on construction and 10 in sufficient amount to obtain land. Under this law 16 sections were granted per mile constructed. However, the International Great Northern and Texas & Pacific each received 20 sections per mile. This was because of a compromise after the failure of the proposal to furnish aid to these roads by means of state bonds. The International Great Northern also received tax exemption for a period of 25 years. In 1876 a general railroad incorporation and land grant act provided that a road should receive 16 sections of State land for each mile constructed.

OBITUARY

Effie Bartley was born in Fannin county on October 31, 1895. She was converted and joined the Methodist Church at the age of 14 years. She was married to Walter H. Davidson in May, 1914. To this union three children were born. All of them are living. She departed this life March 1, 1924 in the Lubbock Sanitarium in Lubbock, Texas. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, three children, her father and mother, five sisters, and seven brothers and a host of other relatives and friends.

She was conscious to the last. After bidding her husband good-bye for the last time (for in Heaven there will be no good-byes), she turned to the one that had so long been her strength her hope, her comfort and friend, and placed her little children in His care, and then went home to be with Jesus.

She was an affectionate, obedient child; she was a devoted wife, a kind and loving mother, and a friend to all who knew her. She was faithful in all her duties to her home, her loved ones, and to her church.

Sister Davidson, you will be missed not only by husband, children, father mother, brothers sisters, loved ones and friends, but you will be missed by your Church and Sunday School Class that loved you so much and that you loved and tried so hard to lead to the higher life. But we do not have to mourn as them that have no hope, for we know where to find you. You have gone where the redeemed walk in the light of God, and by the grace of God, we shall see you again some day where there will be no more death nor sad parting.

Her pastor,
J. S. Johnson

W. J. Crouch informs the News that just last week he completed the construction of a residence on the Cooper section of land seven miles south of the city. About 200 acres of sod has been turned on this section recently, and Mr. Rush, who occupies the new house, will raise a lot of cotton and other crops on this land this year.

OFFICE OVER FIRST NATL BANK

ANNOUNCEMENT

After mature deliberation and in consideration of the earnest solicitation of a goodly number of substantial citizens of the county, I have decided to submit my candidacy for the office of County Judge to the Democratic voters of Lynn County in the coming primary election. I do not feel that introductory statements are very necessary, as most people who have resided in this county for a very considerable length of time know that I am a native Texan, and that I have resided in Lynn County since 1911 and served the county as its County Judge from 1916 to 1920, and that I voluntarily retired from that office at the close of my second term in office, on December 1st, 1920.

Those of the voters who were here during the time from 1916 to 1920 will recall the trying times experienced by this new county as a result of the war and a severe drouth coming upon us at the same time, and that in addition to carrying on with our full quotas in the war activities, we successfully administered a $50,000.00 drouth loan fund, and came out of it all with a good working balance in all of the county funds on an average county tax rate of less than 56 cents for each of the four years, and that on a valuation of much less than we now have from which to draw revenues, and as a member of the commissioners court during that time, I claim a share in the credit for that achievement.

I believe that the public free school and public road systems should be made as efficient as it is possible for them to be made, and I am not in favor of withholding from either of them any financial support that may be necessary to this end, but I do believe that when we expend money for these purposes, or for any other purpose, we should exercise a faithful diligence to see that we always get a dollar's worth for every dollar expended. I believe that the educational affairs of the county should be administered so that every child, as nearly as possible, may have his full share and benefit from the public free schools, and not in the interest of any favored locality; and I believe that each citizen or community is as much entitled to the benefits of the public road system as any other citizen or community similarly situated. In other words, I believe in the old doctrine of equal rights to all and special privileges to none, and I believe this principle should be faithfully adhered to in the courts, and your attention is called to the fact that, with our wonderful growth and development the business of our county court has been and will be greatly enlarged, requiring the judge thereof to have some knowledge of the law as well as a proper executive ability. I believe in a full enforcement of all the laws of the land and that they should be administered fairly and alike to all people.

It is no difficult matter for a candidate for office to declare a platform of good principles. If he does not know how to write it himself, he can get someone to write it for him, but the serious question with you is whether he will endeavor to perform in accordance with his declared platform. As to this I trust that you will pardon me in referring to my former administration as the best assurance I can give for my loyalty to my convictions and the faithful performance of my duties. I invite your full and thorough investigation, and then, if the favor shall fall to me, I assure you of my appreciation.

WHY Blotting Paper Is Capable of Absorbing Water

Everybody knows that if a piece of blotting paper is dipped edge-wise in a saucer of water the water will climb the paper to a height of several inches above the surface, but few can explain the reason it does so. Capillary attraction is the name of the power which causes water to rise in an absorbent substance, and the rising part of it is its apparent height. This is just one of those natural powers that our greatest scientists cannot solve—yet. Its real nature is not understood than is the real nature of electricity. But although we do not know what capillary attraction is a powerful force. It holds the ink in a pen and in a fountain pen. By the melted wax in the little candle and a candle-flame rises in the wick to keep the candle burning. So, the liquid flows up the wick of an oil lamp. Here it is not for this force, clothing becomes "bone dry" directly the lifted out of the water. A many of the automatic lubricators for oiling machinery depend on capillary attraction for their action; and a sponge retains the water in its pores by the same means. Capillary attraction has been suggested as a means of attaining perpetual motion, and some very ingenious experiments have been put forward. All of them, however, have been proven futile by the laws of mechanics. Usually it is owing to capillarity that a substance is able to retain a large part of its moisture it receives as rain, thus preventing the country from becoming a desert.

Why Stars Twinkle. Stars twinkle because they are so far away that not even the most powerful telescope can show them to have a disk, like the planets. Their light is a mere point and susceptible to atmospheric densities.

W. B. Phillips had a narrow escape from serious injury Sunday morning while attempting to shut off his windmill. The break having failed to work, Mr. Phillips climbed a ladder to the level of the wheel and a sudden gust of wind whirled it around striking him on the head with such force that it cut a gash to the skull. Luckily, he retained consciousness and descended the ladder to the ground. A physician was called and dressed the wound, and aside from wearing his head swathed in bandages and a headache, Mr. Phillips is allright.

DOG TRAVELS 3000 MILES

Fiction is outside by fact in the devotion of a collie dog that was lost somewhere in Iowa, followed his master's auto to Wolcott, Indiana, and not finding the owner, returned from Indiana to his home at Silverton, Oregon. The faithful collie literally traversed three states searching for his owner, and arriving at Silverton, Oregon, February 15 having traveled nearly three thousand miles, flanks worn thin, toe-nails worn to the quick and feet bruised from his long race to reach home.

The owner G. F. Brazier, a restaurant man, motored to Iowa to visit relatives, carrying the collie puppy along in his motor car.

The dog was lost in Iowa and the owner advertised extensively but could not recover him. When he entered the restaurant in his home town he gave a joyous yelp and made a leap for his astonished owner.

How he negotiated nearly three thousand miles over highways and bridges across rivers, streets and viaducts in cities is a mystery. The collie will be presented with a silver medal by the Oregon Humane Society.

Whiskey used to cause a rabbit to fight a bulldog. New gasoline sometimes makes a jitney assault a locomotive. —Plainview News.

That's nothing. Just think what a little crude oil will make a cabinet officer do.

We do not like to pass judgement on a man under fire until all the evidence is in, but when the stench of putrid flesh keeps filling our nostrils we conclude that there is something dead up the creek. The more the alleged corruption of the attorney general department at Washington is stirred, the stronger the stench becomes. Daughtry never was anything more than a politician of the Murphy-Sullivan-Taggart type and the greatest mistake that President Harding ever made perhaps was the mistake he made when he appointed Daughtry to a place in his cabinet. The big crook who through political pull manages to get himself appointed to high office and then uses his position as a means of robbing the government he is supposed to serve, is in the class with the common ordinary thief who slips into your room at night and takes your money. "Turn the rascals out".

According to recent statements made by Senator V. A. Collins, we were in error last week when we stated that he sought the endorsement of the Ku Klux Klan. While he was a member of the Klan, yet he declares that he was opposed to the Klan's endorsement of candidates for office. He asserts that because he refused to get out of the race for governor at the behest of a bunch of Klan politicians, they excluded him from the Klan. We make this correction just to keep the record straight.

The wheat farmers of the north are going into bankruptcy. Many banks in the wheat states have closed their doors. Business stagnation prevails throughout the wheat belt. All this in the face of a high "protective" tariff, which our republican friends claimed would protect the products of the farm. The wheat farmers swallowed the bait, and now they are realizing that they were mere "suckers." The protective tariff is a delusion and a snare. It is intended to enable the big "interests" to rob the common people, and it serves the purpose admirably. "Legalized robbery" is too mild a term to apply to the protective tariff. Away with the fake.

Lynn county is just now in the midst of a period of marvellous development. It is fortunate, as we view the matter, that a county form agent has been employed by the commissioners' court to assist in the agricultural development of the county. There was a time when most farmers felt that the fellow who undertook to teach the farmers how to farm, was a mere "but-in-sky" or a job hunter. They have since learned, however, that farming is a scientific business, and the best farmers nowadays are seeking all the scientific knowledge possible with respect to their business. The county agents have proven popular with the farmers in most counties where they have been used, and we believe that a real live agent will have a wonderful opportunity here in Lynn county. The same applies with equal force to the home demonstration agent. We hope that the people of Lynn county, both business men and farmers, will lend their full co-operation to these agents when they come.

If you will listen to the wail of some of our malcontents, you will arrive at the conclusion that our courts are farical failures. Especially are the decisions of the higher courts ridiculed and derided by persons who are about as competent to pass judgment as an African rhinoceros. Our courts are not failures. Our entire system of courts, from the lowest to the system in so far as the judges and officials are concerned, are functioning in a reasonably efficient manner. The News believes in being plain. Whatever failure may be imputed to the courts, nine times out of ten can be laid at the feet of the jurors who serve in the courts and of the great body of the people from whom the jurors are selected. Men in this country will criticize the courts, abuse the courts, ridicule the courts, for their alleged inefficiency, and then they will go upon juries and turn criminals loose on the flimsiest pretext. If murder is rampant in this country it is because juries refuse to convict murderers. Any kind of a self-defense plea is sufficient. Men will swallow it down, however absurd it may be, and almost applaud the red-handed villain for taking the life of his fellow man. And when a criminal is arraigned in court these days, about three times out of four public sentiment seems to be in favor of the culprit. What we need in this country is a stronger public sentiment against crime, and especially against the crime of murder. What we need all over Texas is not more efficient judges, not more efficient prosecutors, not more efficient peace officers, but more efficient jurors. God give us men!

There is a law in this state against unlawfully carrying a pistol. There are so many exceptions to the law however, that a person caught with a pistol can often plead one of the exceptions and escape punishment. For instance a traveller has a right to carry a pistol. A person has a right to carry a pistol from his home to his place of business, provided he does not make a habit of doing so. He has a right to carry it when his life is in danger and he has no opportunity to notify the officers of the law of the impending danger. This is the law as it is written. It should be amended. No man should be allowed by law to carry a concealed pistol at any time, anywhere, for any purpose. If his old hog-leg gets out of order and needs to be tinkered with by some gun-doctor, let the owner take it to the repair shop unconcealed, just as he would a shot gun or a grubbing hoe. If it is necessary for him to take it to or from his home or his place of business, let it be taken unconcealed, like any other harmless tool. If he is travelling and must have a weapon of defense against possible bandit bands, let him carry it up in the seat of his jitney or other unconcealed place. If his life is in danger from some enemy and he can't notify the officers and must have a piece of artillery with which to protect himself, let him carry the weapon in his hand or unconcealed in his pocket so that all men passing his way may be put upon notice that somebody is about to take the pistol toter's life, and in nine cases out of ten they could prevent a tragedy. This business of ramming a big automatic down in the bootleg or in the shirt bosom to protect one's life against some supposed desperado armed with a pen-knife to be stopped. Cut out this gun-toting and half the murders would not occur. If a man must carry a gun for any purpose let him carry it like he would any other implement, unconcealed. If he carries it concealed, then send him to the penitentiary for that every time he is detected so offending. There is some work for our legislators. Quit cussing the judges of our higher courts for reversing cases and get busy making demands upon our legislators. Let's squelch the pistol-toter.

BEST TEXAS POTASH FIELDS HOLD FORTUNES FOR MANY IF DEVELOPMENT IS BEGUN

BY MAX BENTLY
Correspondent Ft. Worth Star Telegram

Departing briefly from this day-day theme of immigration to Texas, this writer would like say something about the neglected potash in Texas. The other day he got out of his little automobile, and looked down on millions of acres worth of potash.

The place was the southern line Lamb county, on the staked plains of Texas. The time was that ring and mystic period which itself in between the ending of day and the beginning of the night to cast its beautiful spell into hearts of foolishly romantic souls you and me—the period called the twilight.

The alkaline ridge was the highest of land thereabouts, although the westward rose Casa Amarilla to throw its purple and pink upon the gently undulating that lay between. Under the Al-ridge nestled a dead-still body known as Illusion Lake.

Buildings at the foot of Casa Amarilla Bluff comprise the Yellow Ranch. They were a twinkle lights and all but hidden in the but the madly-whirling wind-ting its 120 foot height above set of the bluff was quite start-mirrored against the pink low. There was not a tree to grow, not a human being, not a bird in the air, and no birds hopping the glittering white efflorescence of salt and alkaline crystals rimming the shore line of the lake. Only a twinkle of lights said no to the thought that here was a bit of world as yet unvisited by bird and unseen by man.

The path is that Illusion Lake and Yellow House lake, lie on an even trail between Yellow House headquarters and the town of Mid, and only 12 miles from a wealth for somebody who waits here. Illusion and Yellow House lakes belong to a chain of depressions occurring on the staked plains, and are said to contain more potash than any other discovery in the world. This is not exactly the famous Strassfurt beds in Germany, or the French supply in Louisiana.

On Sept. 8, 1922, speaks of an unlimited supply of potash beds of Llano Estacado being the most eagerly sought chemical element essential to industry. The writer is not selling anything. He has hired him to "write up" the potash-bearing lakes of the staked plains, or even suggested that he should be developed. They are being analyzed by a Philadelphia engineer, and these that a million dollar plant for producing 1,000 tons of potash will produce enough potash to pay out investment completely in and moreover put an end to German dominance in the potash industry.

What Potash Is
Potash as you know is needed in the manufacture of explosives, dynamite, gunpowder, and fertilizers, drugs and chemical by-products and related carbonates, chlorates, sulfates, chlorides, and cyanides, important ingredients in glass, soaps, electroplating, dyes, disinfectants, and for rheumatism and other ailments. Like sulphur, potash has been used for centuries ago, and it has come down the ages as a burning man's need of the hour.

Its uses in explosives are sharply the ignominy of the German suppression of the war annually leaped to figure amount of supply could not be met, yet the best we could do was to dig up our own potash beds of Nebraska, and Utah was the best source, at the peak of the war.

(which occurs in the Texas and Louisiana) potash is not to be found there and everywhere else it is being produced only in the United States.

from Searles Lake, Cal.; Antioch Lake, Neb., and Salduro Marsh, Utah. The Philadelphia engineers mentioned express the confident opinion that the only other large available supply is in Texas. "We believe this source is the most promising in the United States", they say.

Texas' Advantage

All else being equal, Texas potash would have a 700-mile advantage over the nearest competing mine. It is only 450 miles from the potash-bearing lakes of the Staked Plains to shipside at Galveston, whereas the Nebraska supply is 1,150 miles. Each of the now-producing districts operates against serious difficulties. Searles Lake, Cal., while the most favored spot in the United States for solar evaporation, contains large quantities of borax, hard to isolate and rendering the potash supply valueless for fertilizers. The Nebraska supply is limited and the district too wet for solar evaporation. Salduro Marsh, while "the next best potash proposition in the United States," next to Texas, lacks valuable by-products and is far from market. Potash is found to occur in the Texas lakes in one to three strata, and extensive experiments by the Philadelphians with test wells have produced "the characteristic hissing sound" proving that the brine is highly soluble.

The Texas lakes are in two groups. The Tahoka, or southern group, comprises Tahoka Lake and Double Lake Nos. 1 and 2, lying in Lynn and Terry Counties on either side of the town of Tahoka. The Littlefield, or northern group, comprises Silver, Yellow, Illusion and Coyote Lakes, in Hockley, Lamb, Bailey, and Cochran Counties. Brines from the Tahoka group were found to be "exactly suited, without any treatment other than merely bringing to saturation by evaporation."

Not Real Lakes

They are not lakes in a true sense, not permanent bodies of water, but simply depressions in the plain filled with silt containing brine and salt crystals. The deposits are ground fed, from springs. The scientific conclusion on their origin is that some million of years ago, parts of the Permian strata containing masses of salt rock dissolved causing the overlying plain to settle down into the depression thus formed. In "the hot youth of the world" the Permian strata underlay the entire Staked Plain, which now from end to end is dotted with hundreds of sunken lakes without outlet. Only seven however are known to contain salt-bearing silt.

The Tahoka group cover some 2,500 acres and the Littlefield group nearly as much. Yellow and Illusion Lakes, visited by the correspondent, are on the Yellow House ranch, 12 miles southwest of Littlefield, Lamb County. Silver Lake is a few miles west, while Coyote Lake is in Bailey County, 33 miles northwest of Littlefield. The Philadelphians proposed working each group handling Silver and Coyote lakes as one operation, pumping the brine to evaporation ponds on Illusion Lake. The process is quite simply one of lifting the brine through wells, turning it into reservoirs for sun evaporation, and refining with machinery.

Evaporation on Plains

"In a proposition of solar evaporation," the engineers said, "one naturally turns to the possibility of doing the work by natural means, without the expenditure of large sums for artificial heat. In this respect the Staked Plains is probably more favorable than any other section of the United States except the real desert section." For example, a test made showed an average evaporation from an open body of water on the Plains of 53.26 inches in a six-months period, while the average total rainfall for the same period was 14.41 inches. That is, nearly four times the average rainfall would be evaporated from an open body of water, furnished to the evaporation agencies. "It is this large amount of evaporation which gives to the Llano Estacado (Staked Plains) really a desert climate without being a desert. The famous wheat lands of the Dakotas and Minnesota have no greater rainfall than the Llano Estacado, but have only half the evaporation."

A million-dollar plant, so the Philadelphians estimated, would produce daily 1,000 tons, of concentrated brine from which would be taken 20 tons of potash worth $60 per ton and up; 100 tons of magnesium oxide worth $24 per ton (magnesia is used largely in the rubber industry and has an enormous sale for insulating steam pipes and boilers against the loss of heat); and 170 tons of salt at $14 per ton. The cattle industry of West Texas needs rough salt and the nearest source of supply is Grand Saline, Texas.

What gives immediate point to an agitation for potash development in Texas is the introduction by Congressman Hudspeth and Sheppard of bills asking Congress for an appropriation of $5,000,000 for locating and establishing Texas potash fields. That money should be made available at once. It would be worth the price merely to give the Germans another lesson in American efficiency.

So this correspondent thought as he strolled around the glittering white shore line of Illusion Lake at the close of day and wondered why there were no birds winging hither to sound their vespers. Wondered until it occurred to him that birds seek water holes to drink, and salty water is a mighty poor thirst quencher.

AMERICANS ENCOURAGE CRIME, CHAPMAN SAYS

In a speech to Master Masons of Austin, James W. Chapman recently said:

"Crime is increasing because of a weakened condition of the moral fiber of the citizens; because of the impossibility of building up a positive regime of law enforcement in the short term of office of the average office holder; because of an attitude on the part of the average citizen of sporting sympathy with the criminal; because of a spirit that if a law conflicts with personal liberty we are at liberty to disobey it because citizens seem unwilling to surrender any facts they may have that will enable the law enforcement officers to secure a conviction of a criminal; and, finally, because good citizens will not sit on the jury and render a verdict in accordance with the facts in the case." Mr. Chapman then gave statistics on the crime condition in America, which he quoted from the report of the special committee to the American Bar Association in August, 1922. These figures, he declared, show that in no year in the last decade have there been less than 8500 unlawful homicides in America; that in 1921 there were nine murders in London as compared with 260 in New York, and 137 in Chicago; that last year's embezzlement bill amounted to the stupendous sum of $100,000,000; bankruptcy frauds exceeded $400,000,000; and the losses from burglary, theft, robbery and swindling exceeded $2,000,000,000.

PLANT A TREE! TEACHING KINDNESS TO CHILDREN IN OREGON

The enactment of a state law in Oregon requiring that kindness to animals be taught in all public schools from 15 minutes to half an hour each week is attracting nation-wide attention.

F. Rivers Barnwell, Field Worker of the American Education Society, enclosed a statement from S. M. N. Marrs; State Superintendent of Education, Austin, Texas, to the school children of Texas as follows:

"I take pleasure in directing your attention to the fact that education in its broadest sense includes the training of the individuals in order that good character may be the main result. We cannot have good character unless we observe the Golden Rule and the observance of the 'Golden Rule' should be made enough in its application to include animals as well as people.

"To this end I wish to endorse

I. C. PRESTON DIES WEDNESDAY

I. C. Preston, residing in the Dixie community, died about 11 o'clock Wednesday morning, March 19, of injuries received about three weeks ago when he was attacked and severely gored by a cow, an account of which incident appeared in the News at the time. Two or three ribs were broken and his body terribly bruised, and he was unable to rally from the shock and the injuries received. His condition showed no improvement, and finally pneumonia developed last Monday night, and death soon followed.

Fearing the consequences of the injuries received, his daughters were summoned from distant points and all his children were in attendance upon him during the last days of his life and at the time of his death. Miss Mary was teaching and Miss Elizabeth attending school in Arkansas and Miss Margaret was in school at Montezuma, New Mexico, when the injuries were sustained, all of whom were called home by his condition. Two other daughters, Misses Annie and Esther, and one son, Lloyd, together with a sister, Mrs. McMurry, who resided with the family, were at home at the time.

Funeral services are to be held this (Thursday) afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Baptist Church in Tahoka, of which Mr. Preston was formerly a member. He recently removed from his place near Tahoka out into the Dixie community, whereupon he placed his membership with the Baptist church at that place. The funeral services are to be conducted by the Rev. J. M. Doshier, pastor of the Tahoka Baptist Church, after which his remains will be laid to rest in the Tahoka cemetery.

Mr. Preston was seventy-three years old at the time of his death and had been a resident of Lynn county seven of eight years. He was a highly useful and respected citizen, and he had many friends here, who deeply deplore the sad tragedy which resulted in his death. A host of friends extend condolence to all the bereaved ones.

BOX SUPPER AT WELLS BIG SUCCESS FRIDAY NIGHT

The box and pie supper at Wells last Friday night was a very interesting affair, according to reports made by Tahoka people who were in attendance.

The boxes were auctioned off by "Bill" Thompson, one of the candidates for sheriff. Bill likes pie himself and is now seeking a seat at the county pie center, but his business was to sell pies Friday night. He sold 'em too. Ben King, another gentleman to whom pie tastes good, was also right there enjoying the fun. These two candidates, as well as everybody else present, had the pleasure of witnessing a spirited election and run-off all on the same night. There were six entrants in the first primary. Three of them were eliminated and three of them were allowed to enter the run-off. Miss Addie May Early was the winner, and the prize was a box of candy.

The proceeds of the evening amounted to $122.00 and were divided equally between the Wells school and the American Legion. The Wells people proposed to divide the proceeds if the American Legion boys would assist them in their enterprise. The boys readily consented, and six of them, headed by Happy Smith were there to render their aid. Miss Travis Armstrong and Miss Lucy Nunnally, teachers of the Wells school had charge of the affair, and the Tahoka people say that these young ladies certainly knew how to handle the situation. The American Legion boys are very appreciative of the offer that was made them and of the fine work of these young ladies and the people of the Wells community generally.

BAPTIST SANITARIUM AT ABILENE COMPLETED

ABILENE, Texas, March—The five-story, fireproof, modern sanitarium building to be known as the West Texas Baptist Sanitarium has recently been completed in this city at a cost of $150,000 for the structure itself. Plans are now under way by the Board of Trustees of the institution for the furnishing and putting into operation of the modern hospital plant at an early date. A big rally of Baptists of this section in the interest of the sanitarium is scheduled for April 4, with Dr. George W. Troett of Dallas as the speaker of the occasion.

Sometime before the first of April the sanitarium board is planning a general opening of the building to the people of Abilene. Later a special opening is to be arranged for the students of Simmons College, whom the institution is particularly designed to serve, the building being only one block from the college campus. Under the inspiration of the completion of the new hospital plant a pre-med club of some fourteen members was organized during the past week at the college.

MARRIED

Mr. Herman Turner hied himself away from Tahoka the day last week and came back Tuesday afternoon accompanied by his bride. He and Miss Amelia Moore of Fort Chadborne were married in Sweetwater on Wednesday if last week. After the marriage the young couple went to Fort Worth on their honeymoon trip, arriving back in Tahoka Tuesday of this week.

Mr. Turner recently built him a nice residence in Tahoka in preparation for the coming of the bride, and the young couple will soon be "at home" to their friends in their new residence.

Mr. Turner is a prosperous young business man here and his bride was a popular young lady of old Fort Chadborne, and their many friends are wishing them continued and ever-increasing prosperity and happiness.

LEAP YEAR WEDDING.

It happened on Friday, February 29, but the news never leaked out until the end of last week. Miss Lucy Belle Swan and Mr. E. H. Bouillion were the principals in the affair. The wedding occurred in Abilene, where the happy couple had gone, accompanied by Miss Dolpha Carmack, but even Miss Carmack was not wise to the intentions of the participants, and the wedding was consummated even without her knowledge. After the wedding ceremony, Mr. Bouillion went on to Fort Worth to look after some business matters, and then returned to Abilene, where the two young ladies joined him and they returned to Tahoka Sunday March 2.

Miss Lucy Belle Swan then resumed her duties in the county clerk's office and Mr. Bouillion went on about his affairs. On last Saturday at noon, Miss Lucy Belle resigned her position in the county clerk's office and accompanied her husband to Lockney, where they visited friends. Returning they went to Lamesa where they will reside. Preparatory to the happy event, Mr. Bouillion purchased a nice residence in Lamesa.

Mr. Bouillion is travelling salesman for McCord Bros. wholesale grocers, and is reputed to be a most estimable gentleman.

Miss Swan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Swan of this city. For some time she has been assistant in the office of county clerk Happy Smith. She is a young lady of charming personality and is very popular. She has a host of friends here, with whom the News joins in best wishes.

DIXIE DOTS

If we did fail to get our dots in last week we are here again.

We are sorry to report that there are so many who have the measles in our neighborhood, and some of them are having a hard fight of it.

We are also sorry to report that Mr. Preston is very low at this writing. Hope that he will recover, but

It seems that every one has given up hopes of its recovery.

We were visited with another sandstorm Sunday, but we had Sunday School. There will not be any Sunday School next Sunday, the 23rd, on account of the quarterly conference at Tahoka, every one being invited to come.

The lumber for the new Methodist Church has been put on the ground, and they are getting things ready to begin work on it just as soon as they get the sand and put in the foundation. They are planning to build it by donation work, and there will be only one main carpenter. Everyone who wishes to put in a day or more will be welcome. The building will be located just west of the school house. It will be 40 by 50 feet, facing the south.

Our school is going yet, and there will be two more months. The school was cut short on account of not having enough money.

Everybody was surprised to hear that Mr. Wallace White and Miss Zora Hallmark were married Sunday afternoon at 1:30, but we all wish them much happiness and joy.

It seems that we are having our winter in March. The snow last week was the largest we have had this year.

WILSON SCHOOL BOARD PLANS TO SEAT SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

The Wilson School board met with 100 per cent attendance. In this meeting the board made definite plans to seat the auditorium. It is hoped that within the next thirty days the auditorium will be seated.

ENTIRE FACULTY RE-ELECTED

The entire faculty was re-elected in one ballot. The faculty especially appreciates this fact, as it realizes that very seldom does it happen that all teachers are elected on one ballot. This act on the part of the board will evidently be an incentive for even better work for the rest of the year.

JUDGE GAIN BECOMES COUNTY CLERK

DIDACTS FOR COUNTY JUDGE

We call attention this week to the announcement of Judge C. H. Gain, appearing in this paper, in which he announces his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the office of county judge and makes a declaration of his policies as such official in the event of his election.

To everybody who has been here any considerable length of time, Judge Gain is well known. To those who have recently removed to the county, Judge Gain's announcement will afford considerable information. The News will carry out Judge Gain's policy in the future. Many years ago he was admitted to the bar and has enjoyed a successful practice. Being well versed in the law, and having had four years experience as county judge of this county, his qualifications for the office are prominent. His reputation for honesty and integrity is well known. He is a man of sound judgment and strong convictions, and has many admirers throughout the county.

We regard his candidacy as a thoughtful consideration of the voters of the county.
