WANT LOCAL PASSENGER TRAIN FOR S. F.

A movement is on foot, instigated by the Chambers of Commerce of Slaton, Post, Sweetwater and Snyder, to secure a local passenger train between Sweetwater and Amarillo. The now schedule is very inconvenient to patrons of the Santa Fe at points below Lubbock.

Mr. Bray, of Sweetwater, was in Plainview Thursday conferring with Plainview citizens regarding the matter of a petition for the new service. Plainview News.

A local connecting these points with which the Tahoka train would make connections would be a boon to these patrons of this road who wished to go north from any of the points between Slaton and Lamesa.

Petitions from Lamesa, O'Donnell, Tahoka and Wilson might not be amiss later. We believe it would be worth the trouble if the local was put on.

SMALL POX ALL AROUND

It has been reported that there are some eight cases of small pox in and around Lamesa.

At Post City the last count was sixty-one cases.

From Spur and in towards Lubbock cases are reported.

From Lubbock to Brownfield seems to be clean territory.

At Pride cases are reported and on to Lamesa.

Verily Tahoka is surrounded by this most loathsome of epidemics. No cases have been reported in this county yet but the people are careful to secure medical attention for the most simple ailments, lest the disease become rampant here also.

The Panhandle Fair Ass'n. of Amarillo, have out the following for the benefit of those who wish to compete in livestock exhibits. The Fair will place a like amount for hereford exhibits, making a total of $2000 in cash prizes for the Hereford cattle department. Another new feature will be a large cattle class, large premiums will be offered in this class also.

All afternoon meeting of farmers next Friday. Don't forget it. Come and bring the wife and children, they will not only enjoy it, but it will be beneficial as well. Tahoka, Friday, March 5th, O'Donnell, Thursday, March 4th.

Miss McFaddin, owner of the Duke of Hearts ranch, was in town Wednesday attending to business matters. Miss McFaddin is putting a settler on every 160 acres of the old ranch.

Last Friday night the greater portion of Lynn county was visited by an inch rain. Towards the west it was heavier, but east of Tahoka the fall was not so heavy. Saturday night the county was again visited by a nice rain, nearly an inch falling.

Crops are nearly gathered and the rain will make everything ready for spring plowing. Already some have begun. Especially will the rains of the past week be appreciated by those who are breaking out new places.

JACK NALLEY ARRESTED ON BOOTLEGGING CHARGE

A man giving his name as Jack Nalley was arrested in Tahoka last Saturday on a charge of bootlegging. The sheriff's department had another man under surveillance, but abandoned him when Nalley was taken. Other than the man's name and his arrest, the sheriff's department would not give out anything.

Nalley was arrested upon the affidavits of two of our citizens, and the report is that the reason for one of the affidavits was that he would be purchased conveyed to "ten spot" to said Nalley, for which he was to receive a stipulated amount of wet goods. He got neither the goods nor the ten spot, so squealed. The date of the hearing of the examining trial has not been set.

The report that a man was arrested at O'Donnell on the same charge and taken to Lamesa, is discredited by the sheriff's department here.

Sheriff Ed. Redwine took Nalley to Lubbock Tuesday to lodge him in the jail there, to await examining trial.

700 CARS OF GRAIN

After interviewing those in a position to know we have compiled the following estimate on the amount of feed to be shipped out of Lynn county this season. Corn 150 cars, Kaffir and Maize heads 350 cars, Thrashed grain 50 cars. Other feed stuff 50 cars.

All ready there has been over five hundred cars of grain and feed stuffs shipped from Lynn county points. During the month of January 43 cars were shipped from the Tahoka station alone, and the total for this month will reach the fifty mark.

Last Friday night two car loads of maize and one car of ear corn stood on the wagons in the yards of Tahoka, and by noon another car of grain had been hauled. Four cars of grain is not a bad sale for any town.

Besides the grain crop there will be seven thousand bales of cotton shipped from Lynn county for the season now closing. Six thousand bales have already been ginned, and there are at least another thousand in the field. The gins of the county, of which we have three, are running day and night to keep up with the bickers.

These figures may not appear large when compared with those of one crop counties. But add to this total, a few thousand head of cattle, several hundred head of horses and hogs, not mention a few scattering bunches of sheep, and it appears to us that we did not do so bad in the way of production. At least there is little land here to be swapped for the black wax kind.

The basket ball game between the Tahoka High's and Lorenzo delegation, to have been played here last Saturday, has been indefinitely postponed on account of the weather.

Mr. Parker, Manager of the McAdams Lumber Yard here, left last Thursday morning for Aubrey, Texas, in answer to a telegram telling of the death of mother at that place. He returned on the Wednesday evening train.

Chant's Dramatic Acting in Tahoka this week. Movie Theatre. The building has 1000 seats. The plays have been very good.

Entered as second-class matter, July
10, 1905, at the post office at Tahoka,
Texas, under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

A West Texas legislator has introduced a resolution to cut Texas in two, making a new state out of the western part to be named Jefferson. The proposed new state contains nearly half the territory and about one fourth of the population of Texas as it is. There is considerable sentiment in favor of division in the west on the ground that they don't get a square deal, and it cannot be denied that they have just cause of complaint. Texas should either right their wrongs or let them go in peace. —Carthage Register.

From all over Texas the press is commenting favorably on the proposition of one day dividing the grand old State of Texas into two or more parts.

The fathers of the Republic of Texas shed their blood for the liberty denied the early Texans and wrested their freedom from the dictator Santa Anna, by the Grace of God, and an indomitable will.

When the Republic became a state in these United States, the same fathers saw far enough into the future to realize that some day the social and political interests of the state would differ offe section from another nearly as far as did those of Texas and the so called Republic of Mexico. With this vision to warn them, the fathers of our State provided at the time of our admission for the division of the State into five parts at such a time as the people saw fit.

The time has come when this division is not only practical to the entire State, but to the western portion, it is almost imperative. And come what may, Western Texas will be given her freedom to carve out her own future during the present generation. If she is not given it she will take it as surely did the fathers of the Republic take theirs, but not in the same way.

So it is in everything. The persistent, untiring effort is the one that wins. Apply this to your advertising, and the results will astonish you. Spasmodic advertising brings spasmodic results, but for a lasting business building campaign, it is the steady well planted campaign that brings home the bacon.

There is nothing truer than that you never get something for nothing; put nothing into your advertising, and the results will be nominal.

Surgery is again being urged as a cure for criminal tendencies in mankind. The News has always been believer in the efficacy of this method, and we repeat our opinion that any criminal may be "cured" by surgical operation, if said operation is extensive enough. —Clarendon News.

That the amputation of that protuberance that rises between the shoulders, sometimes called the poll, is a sure cure by the surgical method has been demonstrated by the Chinese for centuries.

The Confederate Clubs of San Francisco have sent letters to all the newspapers and city officials of the nation asking their co-operation in giving warning to the girls of the Nation.

The Club Women are putting up a stiff fight against the letting of a portion of the Fair grounds for the purpose of establishing houses of prostitution. However, if successful or not in their fight, the damnable traffic will be there, and they send an appeal from a mothers heart to the girls of the nation to be wary of pitfalls. The slave must have girls and will stop at nothing to secure them. Especially do the women warn girls against accepting advertised positions of employment. They assert that the fair is already overstocked with employees, and instead of a girl entering a place of honorable employment, should she answer such an advertisement, she would enter a main entrance to Hell eternal. You have the warning, God help you to save your daughter from this pack of Hell-born demons.

NEW PUMPKINS BECAME VERY POPULAR

The new variety of pumpkin that have been shipped out of Kentucky recently became very popular for awhile and commanded a fancy price on certain markets, the price being from one dollar to one dollar and fifty cents each. It was finally discovered that the Pumpkins had been opened prior to shipment and a quart of Kentucky whiskey concealed therein hence the name and the demand for this special variety. —Lubbock Avalanche.

Cheap Gate Made in an Hour.
The cheap gate shown in the illustration is a very good kind for a farm gate. It is made as illustrated, of 2 by 2 inch oak stuff fastened together with spikes. One end is secured to an ordinary fence post, well braced, of course, as it is an end post, with wire top and bottom. The other end is secured to another post by one wire near the middle. The wire has to be unwrapped and the gate carried back when a wagon has to go through, but this is not a great hardship, as this does not occur often. Such a gate can be made in an hour.

High Chancellor of England.
Richard Burdon, Viscount Haldane, lord high chancellor of Great Britain, who has recently been attacked by the British press, is considered one of the foremost lawyers and statesmen of his time. He was appointed to his present post in 1912 and previously had been secretary of state for war for seven years. Charges have been made against him in the British press that he was pro-German and accusing him of responsibility for some of the misfortunes of the army.

VISCOUNT HALDANE.

gen. In 1885 he was elected a member of the house of commons, where he sat until he was raised to the peerage in 1911. His appointment to the cabinet as minister of war in 1905 occasioned much surprise, as he had been distinguished only for his knowledge of philosophy and the law. His administration of the war office, though able and of seven years' duration, was not popular. What finally caused his removal from the war office and his appointment as lord high chancellor was his trip to Berlin in 1912, when he was said by Sir Edward Grey to have posed as an emissary of the British government without authority of the foreign office. In the summer of 1913 Viscount Haldane visited this country and Canada by invitation of the American Bar association.

BE MORE, DO MORE, AND HAVE MORE

Continue what you are and where you are and you are what and where you will always be. The world of wage earners is a world of hoppers, wishers and hesitators, held down by foolish doubts and empty fears. Endless thousands of bright, fine fellows whose wish-bone is where their back bone ought to be, are excusably afraid, halting, timid, clinging with the drowning man, grasp to their slender salaries, because they think business is a mystery and they can never learn to transact it.

You must be more, have more and do more in this life or you will always be seeing other men that are better dressed getting more out of life, more of this world's enjoyments and comforts than you. We can point you to hundreds of young men and women no smarter than you that are now successfully and happily engaged in a business of their own, because they attended our institution, took a course of bookkeeping and shorthand or business administration and finance and prepared themselves to go into the business office and work along with trained men and become masters in the art of doing business.

Business is not a happy-go-lucky, haphazard sort of a thing. If you understand it thoroughly, you are sure to succeed. If you have never been trained, it is all left to luck and guess work.

Write for our catalog today and read the unsolicited testimonials from many of our former students who are today demonstrating their successes and the value of our training. Opportunity never comes to him who waits. It comes to him who goes after it with all there is in him, with a deep, burning, intense iron resolve of his inmost being. Read our catalogue carefully. Why not you be one of the 2300 that will go out of our institution this year into a flood business office. Procrastination is a thief of time. Fill in the following blank and send in by return mail. It may be the turning point in your life.

DYNAMITE AND TREES.

Explosive Is Recommended to Give Vigor to the Orchard.

Until recently a stick of dynamite was about the last thing a fruit grower would have thought of taking along when he went to plant young trees. Now, however, according to an English agricultural journal, science is urging that the explosive be used in the planting as an effective means of hurrying the tree's growth and making it yield more fruit.

When an explosive is employed instead of a spade the soil is shaken up and fissured for a comparatively wide area beyond the hole actually required for the tree.

Experience has shown that trees planted in ground prepared by explosives make a much more vigorous and rapid growth than when planted in the ordinary way. Some trees have begun bearing after four years, while others similarly situated, but spade planted, did not yield fruit until six years.

In the case of existing orchards little can be done in the ordinary way to aerate or render the soil more pervious to the roots and moisture, but a small cartridge inserted at some depth below the tree or a larger one exploded at a depth of three feet or so below the surface and midway between trees planted about fifteen feet apart has a beneficial effect in loosening the soil without injuring the trees.

The roots have less resistance to overcome, the soil is aerated, the moisture retaining properties improved, and a new lease of life is thus given to an old orchard.

FARMING RETURNS.

Taking the average farm wage as a basis, the "hired hand" on the farm receives within a few cents of $250 a year. A recent bulletin from the bureau of farm statistics shows that the current average rate of farm wages in the United States, where board is included, is $20.81. Since 1902 the wages of farm hands have been increased by 34 per cent.

The farmer gets less of a monetary return for his work and on his investment than do many farm hands. This means the average farmer, of course. The rewards of the farmer come to him more in pork, beef, chickens and eggs, garden vegetables, in brief his "living" and that of his family, than in money. The experts have figured out that the average farm uses food, fuel, oil and shelter yearly to the amount of $595.98 and the farm furnishes $421.17 worth of this. The average cash expenditures for farm necessities other than labor amount to $173.94 annually.

The farm hand gets his board. His expenditures are very small compared with those of other laborers. Of his $250, the wages for the year, he is likely to have more money at the end of the twelve months than the average farmer who owns and operates his own place.—Farm Progress

Gentlemen—Texaco Ursa Oil was used for turbine lubrication on the recent trials of the destroyer "Beale" and battleship "Wyoming," proving very satisfactory. Both vessels successfully completed their official contract trials at sea without having had any preliminary trials of machinery beyond dock trials at low power. Consequently, the journals had very little previous wearing in to take off the high spots, and the fact that we had no bearing trouble of any importance during the sea trials, reflects great credit upon the lubricant used. ### RESTORING ABUSED LAND.

So Called Worn Out Soil May Be Rejuvenated by Legumes.

People are always talking about "worn out land," says Edwin C. Johnson in the Farm Progress. This is wrong. Land does not "wear out." It may become exhausted, in so far as some of the plant food elements in it are concerned, but even the old clay hills abused by bad methods are not "worn out." When we refer to land in such terms we simply mean that it has been overcropped, usually in some one crop.

This one crop is usually corn, though it may be wheat in some states, where wheat is the main reliance. When one crop is planted over and over for years at a stretch the soil stuff that goes into the growing of that crop is pretty well used up. What that land needs is a rotation that will haustible. In Germany and in Japan the scientists are using heating and electrical methods to get this chemical out of the air, but the legumes will serve our purposes even better.

The little nodules on the roots and the little whitish tubercles that stud the rootlets will soon supply enough of the missing soil stuff to bring the dirt pretty well back to its old fertility. Every man, no matter where he is farming or what he is growing, ought to establish a crop rotation scheme that would put some legume on his fields once in every three years and if possible once in every two years. By using the cowpeas in rotation he can put them into corn after it is laid by or sow them on the wheat ground after the crop is cut.

They may then be turned under as a green manure crop, or if in the corn they can be used as a lamb or hog pasture. Whether they are turned under or not, they will help break up and pulverize the soil as the roots will strike down into the subsoil, and after they rot they will add humus or organic matter to the dirt. This will prevent the earth from drying out so rapidly in times of little rain.

Alfalfa Versus Timothy.

In one ton of alfalfa hay there are 1,044 pounds of digestible nutrients of which 220 pounds are digestible protein. In one ton of timothy hay there are 926 pounds of digestible nutrients, of which fifty-six pounds are digestible protein. The nutrients in the timothy hay are furnished a little cheaper than in the alfalfa, but the protein in the alfalfa is far cheaper than in the timothy. As a dairy feed alfalfa hay would be cheaper at $26 per ton than timothy at $20.

WINTER FORETHOUGHT.

A good soldier looks to his rifle's care before going into battle. There is a time of preparation before he goes into the actual battle. There ought to be a time of preparation before we get into the campaign of another crop year. The time to make the preparations is before the actual beginning of the season's work.

How about the tools, the weapons of the farmer? Were they put away in such a good condition that they will be ready when the first day's plowing is to be done? Out sowing is not so very far away, and this will be the first occasion to use the breaking plows, the disks, the harrows and the drills. Are all these implements in good shape? Are all the parts in place?

If we were all the sort of farmers who do everything according to rule and plan we would put things away in the dry every fall and winter in such good condition that there would be no necessity of thinking about sharpening shares, tightening bolts and replacing broken and missing parts. But in actual farming we are pretty likely to neglect such things and put them off to be done during the winter. Naturally, we forget all about them when they are out of the way. "Out of sight out of mind" is the rule.—Farm Progress

Excess Ball Players Costly.

A most excellent reason for the new rule limiting all ball clubs to twenty-one players is given by Secretary Foster of the New York Giants in the statement that the "deadwood" last season cost the two leagues more than $200,000.

"Personally I think a limit of twenty-five would have been better," said Mr. Foster, "because it would give the managers a chance to make arrangements for the future, but there are very good reasons for the new limit."

"Very few clubs ever use more than twenty players for actual playing purposes. The rest, therefore, are carried either as prospective youngsters looking for experience or veterans too old to be of actual service, but who have been kept largely through regret at having to let them go. You can estimate that no fewer than fifty of these veterans were carried last year when they were of absolutely no use to the clubs. It was merely burning up $200,000 for the sake of sentiment, and some of the weaker clubs felt that they could not stand it. A saving of that amount of money to organized baseball means a whole lot when we realize how many other purposes it can serve in these rather precarious times."

It is further alleged that on the day and year last aforesaid defendants unlawfully entered upon the above described premises and ejected plaintiff therefrom, and unlawfully withheld from him the possession thereof, to his damage $2000.00.

It is further alleged that this plaintiff is claiming the above described land by virtue of regular chain of transfers from the State of Texas, down to and including this plaintiff, properly recorded in the Deed records of Lynn County, Texas.

Plaintiff further alleges that the defendants to this suit are claiming title to the land herein above described and that said claim is a cloud on plaintiff's title to said land.

Wherefore, premises considered, plaintiff prays that all the defendants be cited to appear and answer herein, in the terms of the law, and that on final hearing be given judgment against all the defendants for the title and possession of the land herein sued for, and for a writ of restitution, and for all costs of suit, and removing clouds from plaintiff's title to said land, and decreeing the title of said premises to be in plaintiff; further praying for all other relief, special and general, in law and in equity, to which he may show himself entitled.

The Petition being endorsed as follows: "This action brought as well to try title as for damages."

POTATO CLUB BOY CHAMPION.

How a Fourteen-year-old Member Raised His Crop on Irrigated Land. (Prepared by United States department of agriculture.)

A fourteen-year-old member of the department of agriculture's potato club in Utah has raised a crop of potatoes valued at $187.07 on one-half acre. His net profits were $141.07. This is the best record of all the Utah potato club boys last season, and as a result Howard Dalton of Willard City, Utah, the champion, is to be given an educational trip to California at the time of the Panama-Pacific fair.

As others who grow potatoes may be interested in this boy's achievement below is the story in his own words of just how he did it, which may be of value to potato growers not only in Utah, but in the irrigated sections of Colorado, Idaho, Washington, Califor

"In the early spring of 1914 I bought my seed potatoes at Burley, Ida. I purchased the Idaho Rural potatoes. They were not especially selected seed; therefore I was very careful in preparing the seed for planting. I was anxious that every seed piece had one or two perfect eyes on it and treated the seed with a formaldehyde solution (one pint to thirty gallons of water). This treatment consisted in soaking the seed (before cutting) for two hours in the prescribed solution. The purpose of the treatment was to kill any scab germs appearing on the surface of the potatoes. Other than this there was no treatment given."

"From March 20 to March 30 I prepared my land. I covered the ground with barnyard manure, using eight tons of wet manure to the half acre. I plowed the land twelve inches deep, using four horses for the work. I immediately followed the plow with a spring tooth harrow. I harrowed it three different times. I did the plowing in the forenoon and followed with the harrow in the afternoon. I did this to conserve the moisture and mel-

I figure that the secret of my success was good cultivation.

"Five days later, on April 5, I again went over the land with a spring tooth harrow. The following week I again went over it with a spiked tooth harrow, which kept the soil moist and mellow. Just before planting I went over it again with the square timber in order to make it perfectly level. On April 18 I planted the seed in plowed furrows four inches deep and the rows thirty inches apart, the seed being dropped about twelve inches apart in the rows. The seed was then covered about four inches deep with a small hand plow. As soon as the little plants appeared above the ground I began my work on the field. I at once freed the field of weeds by giving it a thorough harrowing with a spiked tooth harrow. This I did May 5 and repeated the same treatment on May 12. On May 26 I used the hand cultivator, drawn by one horse, giving them a thorough cultivation with this implement, after which I cultivated them once with the hand hoe, cleaning out all of the weeds.

"Up to June 15 the plants had grown rapidly and gave a strong, vigorous appearance. Soon after this date they began to blossom, and on June 25 I gave them the first application of irrigation water. I irrigated them on July 5 and again on July 20. The crop was matured with but these three applications of water. After the second irrigation the vines were so large that I could not work in them without destroying them. The operations practically ceased from this time on until the tubers were ready for digging."

SOY BEANS ARE AN EXCELLENT LEGUME

give the soil a chance to conserve these elements that are used so heavily by that one crop.

The corn belt lands are not "worn out" or exhausted as yet, but they will be if in the course of time the owners do not diversify more.

There is a simple way of keeping land from wearing out. It combines crop rotation, the use of stable manure and the utilization of legumes. If enough legumes were grown there would never be any talk of "worn out land." Land is kept well up to its original fertility by the same use of legumes. Soy beans, cowpeas, clover, alfalfa and sweet clover are the best known of these valuable plants.

Valuable as they are legumes will not provide all the elements that have been taken from the weakened soil by continuous growing of a single crop. Phosphoric acid, nitrogen and potash are the most used elements in the soil. When a soil gets "tired" or "worn out" or exhausted it means that some one of these elements—maybe all of them—is lacking in that field. Where the potash is missing that will have to be bought in the form of commercial fertilizer. The same is true of phosphoric acid. But as a rule, it is the nitrogen that is causing the trouble.

That is where the legumes come in. They are nature's own nitrogen gatherers, all of them. Where the land seems exhausted try some one of the legumes. Alfalfa, cowpeas of soy beans, clovers or any of the others will do. All of them have the power of pulling nitrogen out of the air, and the supply in the atmosphere is inex-

HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have bladder trouble—Take glass of Salta.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.
