Terrell Impeachment Charges Delayed To Tuesday

LINT FUMIGATION RULES ARE ORDERED LIFTED

HOME TOWN TALK

By Beddy

"Not long ago, as my wife and brother-in-law and myself drove through Big Spring enroute to the western states I told them that on the return trip I certainly aimed to stop here. It looks good to me," said T. H. Buckley, of Dallas, southwestern representative of the McGraw-Hill Company, publisher of several score trade journals.

Mr. Buckley stopped here a while Saturday afternoon. He was given a copy of the industrial survey recently completed by the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Buckley declared that the industrial east, men and companies that have huge sums of money to invest in sound projects, are casting their eyes more and more to the southwest. He declared the next big move by large industries is due to be into this section of the nation.

Mr. Buckley's business is, in part, selling advertising to cities, individuals and companies or corporations, in the McGraw-Hill trade journals. These journals go to specific fields, one to the textile industry executive, another to those interested in mines and metallurgy, another to those interested in brick and kindred products, and so on.

He did not try to sell any advertising here. But he promised to furnish those interested with information which would be valuable in building a sound program of paid advertising of Big Spring in trade journals.

Such advertising would not be on most every subject and none in particular. A tremendous volume of work would have to be done before it could be inaugurated. All the facts concerning the natural resources hereabouts, just what we have to offer to specific industries would have to be obtained. These facts would have to be so compiled that they could be furnished and as brief form as possible to any interested person.

For instance if investigations disclosed there are resources and facilities here that would be calculated to make a brick factory profitable a paid advertisement could be used in a trade journal published for that industry, and so on through all the various commercial and industrial fields.

That is the sort of advertising of a city that is calculated to bring most profitable results. If $10,000 worth of advertising brought one strong industry of any magnitude at all it would be a paying investment. And, if a few additional industries could be induced to come here they would naturally have to erect some buildings, install some machinery and equipment; and that would help everybody, the day laborer, the skilled craftsman, the grocer, the dry goods man, the filling station man and the rest.

It would produce employment, which promotes genuine prosperity.

This column, you may have noticed, reproduces a letter in the Sunday issue. The letter alleged prices on certain grocery items here are higher than in Fort Worth and Abilene. As stated Sunday we printed the letter, which came to the editor in Friday night's mail with the writer's signature "C. B. Barton," so much for the information of local grocers as for their customers. The items mentioned may have been exactly accurate, partly accurate or wholly inaccurate; we don't know. But we do know most every item and weight is included in printing, which

Limited Quarantine In Three Counties Not Dissolved

Terrell, commissioner of agriculture announced. The requirements for fumigation of cotton seed and regulations of the modified quarantine remain in effect. The lint fumigation continues in the other seven counties of the zone under the order made by the pink bollworm commission.

Veteran Tax Assessor To Be Candidate

Anderson C. Bailey, veteran tax assessor of Howard county, has authorized The Herald to announce his candidacy for reelection during the coming election.

Mr. Bailey has been in continuous public service for years. He is probably one of the best known county office holders in West Texas and has been returned to office from time to time because of efficient service to his constituents.

"I seek reelection to the post of tax assessor of Howard county because of the belief that my familiarity with property values in this section and with property owners in Howard county renders me capable of continuing in my present capacity and because it is my desire to continue rendering service to the public to the best of my ability," said Mr. Bailey.

Dawson's Election On Road Bonds Scheduled April 8

LAMESA, Feb. 17.—Dawson county's next road bond election will be held April 8. It was decided during a recent meeting of the county commissioners' court here.

The court acted on petitions signed by 275 taxpayers calling for a $600,000 program to pave the two state highways in the county. An educational program has been started by the Dawson County Good Roads association to inform voters of this county of a need for a paved road system in Dawson. Very little opposition has been evident towards this county's second effort to pave her roads.

Right Rev. E. Cecil Seaman, D. D. bishop of North Texas, will conduct the morning services at Saint Mary's Episcopal church Sunday, February 23.

The Sunday school will meet at 9:45. The 11 o'clock service will be that of the Holy Communion.

All Episcopalians are urged to attend the services.

Robbed of Necklace

A six-week secret search has failed to bring to light thieves who stole in mid-December a $50,000 diamond necklace from Mrs. Michael Ulan, above, wealthy Parisian, who with her husband temporarily lives in New York. Mrs. Ulan discovered the theft when she took her jewel box from the hotel safe for a dinner party in honor of Prince Frederick Leopold of Prussia, who is their guest in America.

POLLARD IN 'PRIVILEGE' ADDRESS

Another Called Session Expected On Heels Of This

AUSTIN, Feb. 17 (AP)—Hearings of charges proposing impeachment of Comptroller S. H. Terrell was postponed by the house today until tomorrow afternoon.

The special session ending by constitutional limitation tomorrow indications, were that the investigation would be deferred until the next special session, which Governor Moody was expected to call on the heels of this one.

Some of the legislators pointed out that even should Governor Moody decide against a special session at this time, the house could convene itself for the purpose of conducting the hearing.

The senate committee on state affairs reduced to 50 cents the proposed $1 tax on sulphur which would have been levied by the house bill of Rep. Phil Sanders of Nacogdoches and reported the measure favorably.

A backfire in the senate from the charges of Senator Walter C. Woodward of Coleman that Saturday's lack of a quorum was caused by interests opposed to the sulphur tax came when Senator Tom Pollard of Tyler took the floor on personal privilege.

He said Senator Woodward had charged that the absentees were away on a junketing trip as guests from a San Antonio paper in the of the sulphur interests and read which the sheriff of Bexar county was quoted as having visited a hotel there where it was believed some of the absentees might have been registered under assumed names.

Senator Pollard said he had gone to Tyler on business after having advised the president pro tem of the senate and several of his colleagues.

Senator Woodward was absent today. When Senator Pollard commented on the Coleman senator's absence, Senator W. A. Williamson of San Antonio interrupted to state that Senator Woodward was ill and had hurried to Dallas to consult a specialist.

The senate was working with a bare quorum, and the house quorum was uncertain, having fled out soon after one was mustered long enough to postpone the Terrell hearing.

Rev. Dow Heard Is Called To Belton Pulpit

Announcement of a call to the pastorate of the First Baptist church in Belton was made during the Sunday evening service of the First Baptist church here by Reverend Dew H. Heard, pastor.

Although the pastor did not indicate his decision, he promised to announce his answer not later than next Sunday.

The hearty and unanimous call came as a surprise and was wholly unanticipated by Reverend Heard, the pastor told his congregation in announcing the news of the call. The Belton church sent its pulpit committee to Big Spring last week to gather information regarding the work and ability of the man they were seeking for their pulpit. It was on the recommendation of the committee that the call was extended the local pastor.

The Belton field is an inviting situation, Reverend Heard told his congregation Sunday evening, as Baylor College for Women with an enrollment of 2,000 students annually, is located there. The Baptists of that city are ready to construct a new magnificent house of worship. Reverend Heard has been offered a substantial increase in salary over that he receives here.

News of the call reached the local church members at noon Sunday resulting in a tumult of protestation. Then at the evening service, the congregation took charge of the service with several members expressing their views and were reluctant to release the pastor. Speakers were W. C. Blankenship, superintendent of the Sunday School, department; Mrs. J. C. Douglas, president of the W. M. U. of the church; John Smart, president of the Senior E. Y. P. U.; George Gentry, G. H. Hayward, W. B. Buchanan, J. C. Douglas, Fred Hopkins, Mrs. W. W. Grant, Mrs. Horace Jenkins, Mrs. F. Dahn, Mrs. Fred Hopkins, B. F. Robbins, Mrs. B. F. Robbins, Miss Vera Atkins, G. E. McNew and C. S. Holmes.

C. S. Holmes, chairman of the official board of deacons, offered the following resolution: "Whereas our pastor, Dew H. Heard, has been called by the First Baptist church of Belton, Texas, to be their pastor;

"Therefore, be it resolved by us, the First Baptist church of Big Spring, Texas, that we take this means of expressing our love for him, and our most sincere desire that he stay with us, if the dictates of his own conscience and the will of God so directs him."

Expressions of confidence and congratulations were read in messages from church leaders and pastors in various parts of Texas. Among these were messages from Dr. George W. Truett, Dallas; Dr. E. P. Thomas of West, Dallas; and

DEMURRER FILED BY CITY IN SUIT FOR $10,000 DAMAGES

JURY COMMISSION INSTRUCTED; CRIMINAL DOCKET REDUCED; MAN ACQUITTED IN DEATH OF NEGRO

Trial of a $10,000 damage suit against the city of Big Spring filed in district court by Cody M. Bell as principal, will be tried this week unless a general demurrer and special exceptions filed to plaintiffs petition Monday morning are granted.

After listening to arguments of opposing counsel, Judge Fritz R. Smith recessed court until 1:30 o'clock when expected to have a ruling on the general demurrer prepared.

The plaintiff alleges that he and members of his family were damaged to the extent of $10,000 by pollution of domestic water caused by sewerage which backed up and became mixed with domestic water supply.

James T. Brooks, city attorney, assisted in the damage suit by Morrison and Morrison, argued in favor of the demurrer, declaring that the line to the Cody residence is beyond the city limits and that consequently the city is not liable for damages. Judge Smith asked that he be given time to review similar cases, but that he knew positively that the city of Big Spring has no legal right to spend city funds for construction of any municipally owned water line or any other property outside the city limits.

It was alleged by one attorney that property owners in the community in which the plaintiff, Mr. Cody, lives paid for the water line, but another attorney in the case alleges that the city paid for the line. Mr. Brooks, city attorney, argued that the city is not liable for damages outside the city limits regardless of who paid for the line.

Instructions to a jury commission composed of W. R. Purser, I. M. Milstead, A. P. McDonald, Ira Driver and Steve Ford, completed the business transacted in the Monday morning session of district court which ends this week. The grand jury reported back for duty Monday morning and at noon was still closeted with George Mahon, district attorney and James Little, county attorney.

Judge Smith ordered the jury commission to select 16 men representing all sections of the county from which the grand jury for the May term of district court will be selected. In addition to the grand jurors, Judge Smith ordered three petit jury panels composed of 36 men each. He urged the jury commission to select good, fair, able and industrious citizens to serve on both the grand jury panel and the petit jury panels. The judge asked

Northern Limits Of Judkins Pool Will Be Tested

Location for a test in Ector county that will prove or condemn territory one and one-quarter miles north of the present Judkins pool limits has been staked by Independent Oil and Gas Company and Tidal Oil Company. The well will be known as No. 1 Scharbauer and Edson and will be located 330 feet east of the west line of section 6, block 44, township 1 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey and 330 feet north of the center of the T. & P. right-of-way.

The new location increased the number staked last week to an even dozen. Couden, Landreth and Gulf earlier having made two locations, followed by five by Humble, Penn and Atlantic, discoverers of the pool. There are now five producers in the field, one gasser and 17 locations and drilling tests.

Landreth Production Corporation is deepening its No. 8-1 University, third producer in the pool, which extended the field a quarter mile southwest to university land, but after drilling from 3,662 feet to a new total depth of 3,850 feet, there had been no increase. During 24 hours ending at 7 o'clock Saturday morning, the well flowed 714 barrels.

Llano Oil Company's No. 1 Hogan, more than one mile south and slightly east of Humble, Penn and Atlantic's No. 1 Kloh, the discovery well, had drilled to 2,930 feet in anhydrite. The well is 330 feet from the north and west lines of section 15, block 44, township 3 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey.

Rig building crews from Big Spring left the city early Monday morning for Ector county where they are employed to construct several derricks in the most important area of West Texas at the present time.

Mrs. Willebrandt And Daughter

Washington, Feb. 17 (AP)—Chairman Legge, of the Federal Farm Board, was criticized today by Representative Box, of Texas, ranking democrat on the house immigration committee, for opposing restriction of Mexican immigration in view of the efforts of the farm board to reduce cotton acreage and the warning of the agriculture department against over-production in truck crops.

Replying to a letter from Francis Jones, director of the United States Employment Service, which said the service would be able to care for the labor needs of the southwest provided satisfactory wages and "decent treatment" were provided, Box said Legge's position was in conflict with that of the board he heads.

Legge, in testifying before the immigration committee, which is studying proposals to place a quota limit on all immigration from the Western Hemisphere, opposed any sudden curtailment of the supply of Mexican labor on the ground that it would force farmers of the southwest from the production of truck crops to the growing of cereals of which there already was a surplus.

During this year, declared President E. Q. Ellington and C. T. Watson, manager of the chamber, there will be an unusual number of important matters for the organization to work on.

Strenuous efforts will be made to obtain a highway from Big Spring to Carlsbad, N. M., which, it is planned to have the state highway department designate as a part of its system, eligible for state aid for improvements on it.

The chamber also will work toward obtaining paving on the two state highways within the county, No. 1 and No. 9.

Efforts are being made and will be continued toward obtaining federal and state appropriations to finance a scientific project in cattle and sheep feeding tests at the government farm experiment station here.

Fair

The chamber again will conduct a county fair and a poultry show and it is planned to enlarge their usefulness.

Cooperation will be extended the county home and farm demonstration agents in obtaining suitable premiums for extension service workers.

Possibilities of conducting cream routes to Howard county farmers will be gone into. Pure bred planting seed will be distributed to club boys, a dairy development program, it has been suggested, will be conducted for the purpose of obtaining a better local market and bringing in better dairy sires as well as registered females.

It is planned to have analyses made to determine the feasibility of making lime on a commercial scale as well as to attempt, in interest capital, on a suitable basis, in establishing a brick plant and an oil mill in the city.

Clean-Up

A clean-up, paint-up campaign will be conducted under direction of the civic committee. An attempt to remove unsightly things from along the highways, to improve Scenic Drive and assist in beautifying the court house lawn and other places will be made.

The publicity committee this year will endeavor, in addition to disseminating news of general interest to newspaper readers as well as of benefit to the general population of Big Spring, also to arrive at a basis for effectively advertising the industrial, agricultural and commercial advantages of Big Spring and Howard county. Its purpose will be to bring employers as well as employees; manufacturers as well as consumers; wholesalers as well as retailers, into the city.

The local chamber will continue to cooperate with the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in building and advertising all West Texas.

E. L. Smith et al's No. 1 Moore, Scurry county wildcat test, which has been more or less prominent in the eyes of the oil industry for the past three weeks, was drilling ahead at 3,845 feet Sunday, according to information received in Big Spring.

No. 1 Moore is located 1,320 feet from the south and west lines of section 37B, block 97, H & T. C. Ry. Co. survey. The well first attracted attention when 500,000 cubic feet of gas was encountered at 1,510 feet and then again jumped back into the spotlight of attention with a showing of oil at 2,215 feet. However, showings encountered so far have proven of no commercial value and have been passed without tests.

RUTH SHOOTS GREAT GOLF

Drives Satisfactory When Babe Discards Pushing Wood Shot

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 17 (AP).—The great man of baseball plays a great game of golf, when he rids himself of a bad habit of pushing his wood shots.

Babe Ruth's performance on the links justify no criticism from the "duffer," or even the better-than-average player, for the big slugger can "bust 'em" with considerable consistency. As a matter of fact, he won't be content until he "busts 'em" on the well-trapped, tricky Jungle Club course out on the border of Tampa Bay.

His chief trouble, however, is a desire to whack the golf ball with all the gusto and enthusiasm with which he cracks a baseball. In fact, distance, with very little, if any, direction was the babe's chief difficulty a few years ago when his golf was in its infancy. Since then he has altered, developed and improved his game.

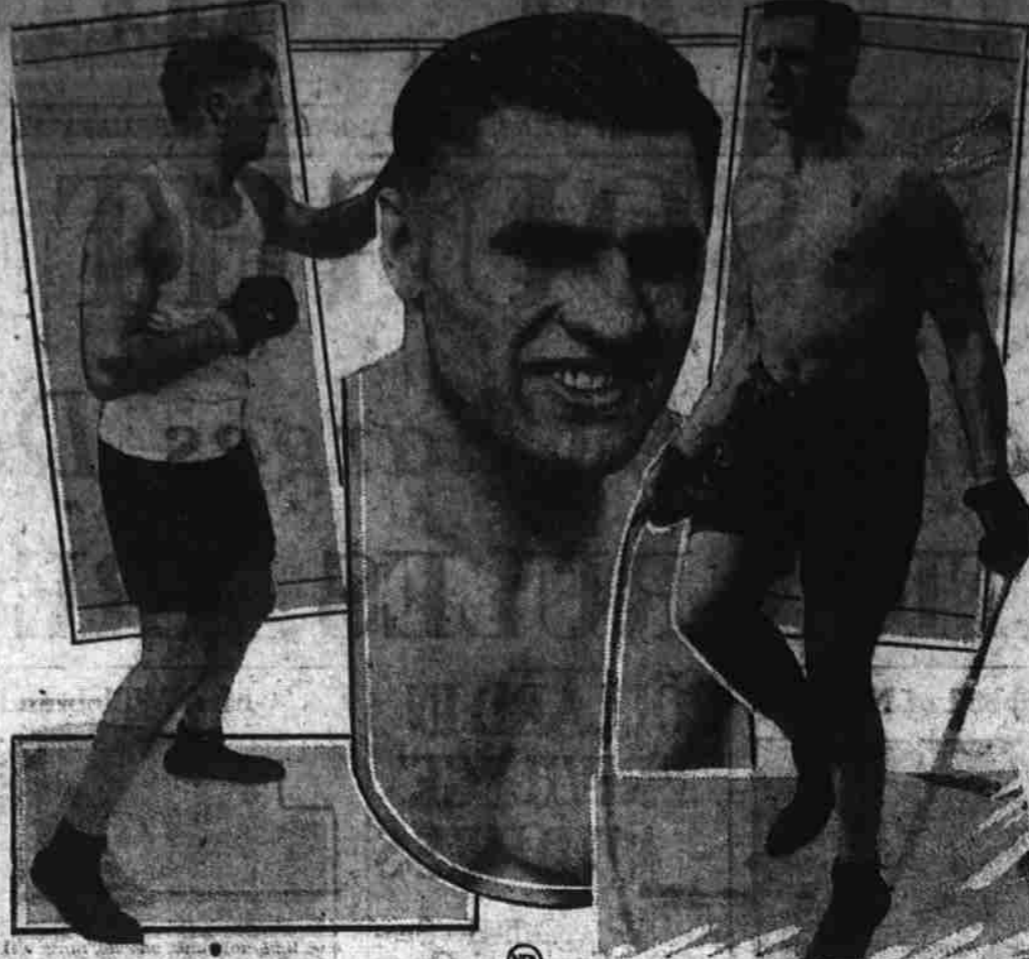

"I don't bang him for distance any more," he remarked, after a round over the Jungle club course that was somewhat erratic, but good enough to produce a score of 85, nine over par. He has shot this particular course in 73 this winter. "I still like to wallop 'em and see 'em ride, but I have found out that an extra 50 or 60 yards 'isn't the main thing. It's sticking the second shot up around the pin that counts. They don't pay off on those long drives, especially at 150 or 200 yards up in the rough or the woods."

Stories have circulated about the babe's prodigious driving, probably for the reason that the ordinary golfer gets more satisfaction out of a long drive down the middle than any other shot, unless it's a long putt. The debate on this point isn't settled.

Ruth has carried over 360 yards from the tee. This is based on fact and actual measurement. He has several times driven into a ditch only 25 yards in front of the 399-yard fourth hole at the Jungle club. Beyond that the Babe cannot say definitely as to his record for long hitting.

Any time he hits one "on the nose," it is good for close to 300 yards, but his average drives now are not much over 280 yards. He carries that far with a wooden cleek that he has just acquired, but has some difficulty in controlling.

Horizontal Champ Gets Ready To Battle Sharkey

AGGIES BOOK TWENTYBOUNTS

Higginbotham To Get Severe Test During Coaching Debut

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 17.—A schedule of twenty games, sixteen with teams of the Southwest conference, two inter-sectional clashes with a member of the Big Ten and two with a fast semi-pro club, will afford a severe test for Coach Roswell Higginbotham in his first year as mentor of the Aggie varsity tusslers this season.

The schedule, announced by James Sullivan, business manager of athletics at A. & M., includes twelve games on the Kyle field diamond and eight away from home. The Aggie business manager is negotiating for two additional games on foreign fields, he said.

The Aggies will meet four Southwest Conference teams, Rice Institute, the University of Texas, Southern Methodist and Texas Christian, playing each of them a pair of two-game series on a home and home basis.

The University of Iowa, recently reinstated in the Big Ten conference, will come to Aggie land for a two-game series while the semi-pro team the Aggies will meet in the Southern Pacific nine from Ennis. Coach Higginbotham's charges will open their season March 20 with the latter team.

SPORTS ON PARADE

By Stanley Norman

THANKS INDEED
But for the almost daily contributions of our plump boy friend, Jimmy Snyder, editor of the Seury County Times-Signal at Snyder, the food for thought and material for comment would be at a decidedly low ebb. Jimmy's latest is a copy of a telegram wired to three papers Saturday.

HIGGINBOTHAM TO GET SEVERE TEST DURING COACHING DEBUT
Here's Jimmy's press wire to newspapers in Abilene, Dallas and Fort Worth:

"Snyder, Texas, Feb. 16.—Following lodging of protest by Big Spring high school officials in the district basketball tournament that closed Saturday at Big Spring, Snyder high school officials have protested the entire Big Spring tournament and have filed protest by D. W. Arnett, Abilene athletic director of District Eight Inter-scholastic League. Snyder has their protest that tournament was not played under conditions of fair competition and interference of tournament officials when Snyder Tigers were warned up for their game with Colorado, disintegrating team morale just previous to game by calling a Tiger player off the floor for interrogation when they had no evidence for such action. Snyder officials furthermore charge that unreasonable changes made in playing hours after drawing had taken place and delaying of entries in meet for investigation when they had no verbal or written evidence for such unjustifiable tactics. According to Principal W. N. Corry since protest has been made and published in daily press, Big Spring school officials have obligated themselves to submit evidence and get decision or admit that the charge against the Snyder boy was unjust. Principal Corry stated that at most the question involves only a fine point in interpretation of league rules as to guardianship which has existed in fact for the past six years. Superintendent McLain of Sweetwater represented the Inter-scholastic League at the Big Spring tournament. Protests must be fully aired before Saturday when district teams are scheduled to meet in deciding championship."

SEE THE RECORDS

It's the Buck Burdine. Snyder guard, was interrogated before the Colorado game, but Jimmy's news story assertion that no verbal or written evidence against the boy's eligibility existed is emphatically untrue and decidedly partisan. Records are on file in the high school principal's office at this very minute reflecting the fact that Delbert Burdine registered in Big Spring high school during the fall term of 1928-29 and the records reveal still further that he attended school here until just before Christmas holidays in 1928.

THE CIRCUMSTANCES

That was a bit of circumstantial evidence that didn't smell exactly fresh before the tournament started. Snyder is the only club entered which failed to submit a list of eligible men to those in charge of the tournament. B. H. McClain, superintendent of Sweetwater schools, received a list of Snyder men one day prior to the tournament.

"HOLIER THAN THOU"

Be it remembered back in 1928 that Snyder assumed a "holier than thou" attitude and succeeded in booting Big Spring out of the class B football race. Isn't it strange that a school which formally stood for all that is right and just in sportsmanship, has suddenly gone haywire and is now charged with playing an ineligible athlete.

SNYDER'S HOPES

Snyder has taken up the gauntlet and is apparently attempting to cram something more down the throats of Big Spring school officials by alleging irregularity in the entire meet. The protest, which team moral was destroyed by questioning Burdine just before the Colorado game, is woefully weak. Colorado trounced Snyder 49 to 31, a difference of 18 points, which even the Tiger officials must admit seems rather decisive for the defeat to someone, we'd suggest, the Seury county boys file "minor" sort of protest against Captain Feaster of Colorado, who set his high scoring record of the tournament with 28 points during that

Leland traveled more than 2,000 miles to New York to play Elder's game on the indoor tracks recently, and now the "Texas Express" may get a chance to match his speed against the Mick star over the 100-yard distance on an outdoor track.

THE BIG SHOT

by FRANK L. PACKARD

SYNOPSIS: A mysterious figure known only as the Big Shot directs New York's criminal element. Phil Martin, a reporter, begins a hunt for him, aided by Shive Fyath, a gangster. Fearing Fyath, Shive gives Enid Howard, a joyless novelist and Martin's assistant, a picture of the Big Shot, for the reporter. Enid discovers the photograph is of her missing brother. She finds the Big Shot hi-jacking jewels at a local gangster's headquarters. Seeing his capture by police is imminent, she warns him and is taken by the Big Shot to his home. Enid is shot and faints. Confronted by the Big Shot, she claims him as her own brother, Roy, and views his denial of relationship with incredulity. It dawns on Enid that Roy-shocked in the war, he may have been claimed by the Kanes as their son, to further their criminal ambition. She also learns that Martin, whom she realizes she loves, is suspected by the Big Shot and is in danger.

Chapter 13
THE BIG SHOT TALKS

It was not an attractive picture that this man, who had created his own dynasty in defiance of society painted for the contemplation of the girl who claimed him as her brother.

But the hours that had followed since Enid had embarked upon her daring adventure had reconciled her to the fate that had carried her brother into the ranks of the lawless where today he ruled as the Big Shot.

As she looked to the man who denied kinship relate the circumstances under which he had emerged upon the scene, a criminal career Enid found new hope. It was born in a desire to justify, somehow, her faith in her brother; that his degradation was the work of others, who had found him a pliant tool to further their own purposes.

She must draw him out, learn all there was to know about his criminal activities. Then perhaps she could save him; perhaps it was not too late for him to turn back!

"How do you know that you came from Chicago?" she asked. "How do you know now who you are?"

"Aw, say—listen!" he ejaculated, looking at her as she lay in bed, propped up on pillows. "I get you, but there's nothing to it. I'll say I'm dumb all right on this memory."

"About everything that happened before I got done in, but that doesn't help you out any. You are way off. I've told you before. You've got the wrong dope."

There was a sudden quiet in her voice. "Tell me about it—all everything!" she said.

He dragged ruminatively on his cigarette for a moment, then again he shrugged his shoulders.

"Oh, well, sure, if you're so stuck on it," he granted. "It won't take long. The Estates told me I'd been blown up in an ammunition dump with some other Americans when the allies were running like mad in that spring retreat of '18."

It was the only one they found me, and they made me a prisoner and shoved me in a hospital. After the war they banded me back to the Americans, and I was brought over to New York. I couldn't remember my name or anything, and there was a lot of hot air about making me a hospital case.

"I did the duck good and plenty of that little idea. I handed myself a name—Hal Varney—and then started out looking for a job."

He paused, flicked the ash with sudden savagery from his cigarette and gave a bitter laugh. "I did not get one!" We weren't such fine heroes after the war as when we were going over! I didn't get anything except a few hours' work here and there. I went flat.

"There was a joint down off the Bowery where they sold bad liquor to bums when the bums had any money, and sometimes if you were a regular customer they'd hand you a hot for nothing—and there was always some come-on soup twice a day. It was an awful hole—and I was one of the bums." He paused again. "Do you like it so far?"

There were tears in her eyes; she could only see him mistily. "Go on!" she whispered.

"Aw, don't let it get your goat, girl!" he chuckled. "It turned out all right for me. The joint was owned by a fellow named Izzy Myers, who owned a lot of other queer places, too.

"It wasn't often he showed himself around there. One night, the very time I'd ever seen him, he came in. He spotted me, and came over and called me by my right name. 'Hello, Norry!' he said. 'The last time I was out in Chicago your ma and dad told me you'd been killed in France. Say, this'll be some news for them.'

"Izzy took me to his house and came down with pneumonia. He sent for my father and mother. He'd been an old Chicago crook himself, and he'd known my people all his life since I was a kid in the States.

"Well, that's about all. I got the eye on everything. I had a nice record myself in Chicago with my name. Anyway, when I got back I joined Izzy's crowd, and so my father and mother. That was 11 years ago! Now I'm the

"I SHOULD HAVE USED KONJOLA LONG BEFORE"

St. Louis Man Suffered Eight Years—Relates Experience With New Medicine

MR. ALBERT SMYTHE

"I should have used Konjola years before," said Mr. Albert Smythe, 2618 Rutger street, St. Louis. "For eight years I suffered with my stomach and kidneys and it became almost a physical wreck. The simplest foods bloated me until I could scarcely breathe. My back ached and I pained me from my shoulders to my waist and sleep was impossible for any length of time. I grew steadily weaker and was on the verge of giving up my work.

"A friend who had been benefited by this great medicine, urged me to try Konjola. I was transformed from a semi-invalid into a well and happy man in just six weeks. Today I eat what I wish without discomfort of any kind. I never bloat following meals and

Acts Like It Was Just Made For Her

LUBBOCK HOUSEWIFE SAYS SHE FEELS ONE HUNDRED PER CENT BETTER SINCE TAKING ARGOTONE (ARGOTANE)

"This Argotone (Argotane) acts just like it was made especially to fit my case," said Mrs. C. A. Walters of 1410 Texas Ave., Lubbock, Texas.

"The fact is, I haven't seen a well day for the past two years," she continued, "and almost as soon as I started taking Argotone (Argotane) it seemed to go right to the seat of my trouble and anyone could see that I was getting better. My stomach gave me lots of trouble and everything I would eat would sour and cause bloating spells. I didn't have any appetite and I was weak, nervous and run-down.

"I saw Argotone so highly advertised that I decided to try it and it has certainly been the right medicine for me. I eat anything I want and it does not bother me at all. I'm not bothered with constipation any more, and, in fact, I feel one hundred per cent better than I did before taking Argotone (Argotane). Argotone (Argotane) is excellent. The pains have left my back entirely and the frequent bladder actions which disturbed my sleep are a thing of the past. I urge every sufferer to take Konjola.

Konjola is sold in Big Spring at Collins Bros. Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

MORE CYLINDERS

As last year was the big year for new eight-cylinder automobiles, this year may become the outstanding year for even higher-powered and multi-cylindrical cars.

According to one of these authorities, one who is noted for his conservatism, the New York automobile show, initiating the new year in motordom for 1931, will include at least half a dozen multi-cylindrical automobiles.

Of course it is hardly to be expected that these large cars will be available at prices the average motorist can pay.

Despite all the tendencies toward the larger motors, however, the popularity of the sixes—and the fours, because of a single manufacturer—remains supreme.

THE NEED FOR NEW MARKETS

One reason why American business men must devote ever-increasing attention to the export market is set forth graphically by Theodore M. Knappen in the current issue of The Magazine of Wall Street.

In the past, says Mr. Knappen, American business always had a rapidly-growing home market, due to the constant increase in population.

population will increase at the rate of less than a million a year, and by 1960 we shall quite possibly have a population stabilized at about 160,000,000.

Yet productivity is constantly increasing. Mr. Knappen points out that since the home market is not increasing in proportion any more, American business must make its own markets abroad.

THE SIDEWALK LOUDSPEAKERS

New York City is on the verge of adopting an ordinance which would prevent the use of radio loudspeakers on the streets outside of shops except on special occasions as world series, political conventions and the like.

There is an ordinance that a good many cities might well copy. The sidewalk loudspeaker is usually nothing on earth but a public nuisance.

Turn the thing off, except on special occasions! A copy of that New York ordinance wouldn't be a bad thing for any town.

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

DON'T INSURE PEACE

Lubbock Journal:

A great many people these days are living in the firm hope that there need be no more great wars.

One of the things on which this hope is based is the great collection of war novels that have been printed during the past couple of years.

These novels have not been the old-fashioned "war romances." They have been brutal and bitter. They have dwelt long on the filth and suffering and ugliness of war, on its savage idiocy and monotonous, soul-killing routine.

Those of us who want to see peace made everlasting have been encouraged by all of this. We have told ourselves "Surely the old illusions about war have been destroyed by now. Surely this literature which shows war for the frightful business that it really is will prevent people ever again from welcoming a new war."

That sounds quite logical. Such books as "All Quiet on the Western Front," "Squad," "All Our Yesterdays," "It's a Great War" and "All Else is Folly"—to name a few at random—can hardly leave any non-combatant with the idea that war is anything but a ghastly business.

THE ROAMING SPOON

I had tea with a stout lit'ly lady the other day and the spoon she handed me to operate with bore the insignia of the New Yorker hotel. I didn't say anything, but before leaving, I admittedly not to say gracefully, transferred the spoon from my saucer to my pocket.

I recalled, at the recent opening of the hotel, the howl to heaven let loose by Ralph Hitz, general manager, over the raid invited guests had made on the silver, coffee pots, lamps and even telephone sets.

I took the spoon for the purpose of returning it to Ted Saucier, genial, talented and urbane publicity director of the inn. I gave the spoon to The Duchess to mail it to Ted. She used it at a coffee klatch last Thursday, and—presto, the spoon disappeared.

Sem may be a trifle, optimistic and careless with his zeros, but it's a good story nevertheless.

Of course you know who Dorothy Parker is. She's the little brunette lady who looks like she'd blown off a Paris fashion page, and who made that assy remark to Harold Ross, editor of the New Yorker.

"Don't you love the moments, just before dinner, when the cocktails are served?" said Hoffenstein. "I used to make a practice of getting married just to have these cocktail times every evening. I hope you don't mind my talking about myself like this?"

WASHINGTON—Women workers have been laid off in about equal proportion with men during the recent spell of unemployment, according to Miss Mary Anderson, chief of the Women's Bureau in the Department of Labor.

The fact means much more than it would have meant 20 years ago. Today a much larger percentage of American women are the only breadwinners for their family and between 20 and 25 per cent of wage earners in this country are women.

"The Women's Bureau is now engaged in a survey of the recent depression in the radio industry, especially with regard to its effect on working women," says Miss Anderson.

Many Women Discharged—Thus far we have checked on 10 plants manufacturing sets and tubes in the New York-New Jersey-Pennsylvania district. These factories at the peak of employment last fall employed 21,000 men and 22,000 women. Now, with employment at a minimum, these same plants are employing 6,500 men and 5,000 women.

"But although we want to find out whether women in industry are hit harder than men in times of increased unemployment and these figures indicate that in these plants in the radio industry more women have been laid off than men, I do not believe that on the whole there is much difference in the effect upon the sexes.

"Of course, women have suffered most in the so-called "luxury industries" in which especially large number of women are employed. Radio is one. There are also large proportions of women workers in the textile, shoe, cigar and cigaret, clothing and candy factories. Women employed as clerks in stores and as enamellers have also been affected."

Miss Anderson pointed out that the wages of women had become increasingly important in the support of families. The 1920 census showed 6,549,511 women wage earners, or 20.5 per cent of the total wage earning population, and the 1930 census is expected to show something of an increase.

Miss Agnes L. Peterson, assistant director of the bureau, says women's earnings are the last line of defense against the wolf at the door of a large proportion of city families today. Marriage in many cases fails to gain for women the economic security once considered to be one of its chief advantages.

The Women's Bureau made one study covering 80,000 working women and found that more than half of them turned over all their earnings to the family. In an investigation covering 20,000 families in four widely separated cities, 27 per cent of the women workers reported that there were no men wage earners in their families and more than 20 per cent claimed to be the sole breadwinners.

Among about 17,000 unmarried working women it developed that one in every five was taking care of a family without any help from male relatives.

The bureau has also devoted attention to what it considers the inadequacy of men's wages in many cases. Many women, in every state, it says, are forced to work because their men cannot earn enough to cover the family's bare cost of living.

the organization will give whatever assistance it can in obtaining industrial sites.

Considerable time will be devoted by the school committee to problems of the local educational system and everything possible will be done to help solve problems created by congestion in the school buildings.

These, it is declared, are a few of the projects on the 1930 program of work. It was emphasized that unless the membership solicitors are given a good reception in terms of dollars and cents much of this work necessarily will have to be curtailed.

that doctors, lawyers, ministers and volunteer firemen be excluded from the jury selections. The judge said it is his understanding that Big Spring is attempting to maintain an efficient volunteer fire department and that he is more than willing to assist with plans by exempting firemen from jury duties, if the act will be of any help.

The district court criminal docket was substantially reduced during the past week. The last case tried, that of the state against J. D. Nelson who was indicted for slaying Earl Hays, a negro, resulted in acquittal for the defendant. Wilburn Barcus and E. F. Duncan, young attorneys carrying on general practices in Big Spring, represented the defendant through appointment of the court. Following arguments and after the case had been submitted to the jury, Judge Smith thanked both men in open court for their services. Judge Smith said both attorneys, who did not receive a penny for their work, had performed their duties well.

The grand jury will probably make its final report either late Monday afternoon or Tuesday. Most of the present week will be devoted to disposal of civil suits now pending before the court.

made that signed letter worth reading.

If there is any local grocer who wishes to deny or reply to statements made in that letter you'd be surprised how glad this column would be to print what you have to say. Write us letters, sign your names and we'll print them so long as they do not libel any other person. Of course, the editor doesn't count; libeling an editor is one of those things you can get by with, kinda like these insanity and eternal triangle pleas.

Terracing School Held At Stanton

STANTON, Feb. 17.—Martin county held a terracing school today. It was the second for the county within the last few months. A. K. (Dad) Short of the Federal Land Bank and M. R. Bentley of Texas A&M College conducted it.

The morning session was to be given to operation of levels and running of lines. At noon there was a meeting of the merchants and farmers at the courthouse.

The afternoon was devoted to construction of terraces. Three machinery houses were represented at the meeting.

Much land is being terraced in this county despite the fact that an agent is not employed. This school is sponsored by the National Farm Loan Association and the Martin County Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. G. A. Hardy and son Wilbur returned Sunday from Bronco, where they have been guests of Mrs. Hardy's mother for the past week.
