NELSON URGES C-C LOYALTY

Organization Needs Support Of All Citizens Of Tahoka, Secretary Says

(G. H. Nelson)

The Chamber of Commerce is doing its best. Are you concerned whether it does better? The Chamber of Commerce is for the best interests of the town, community, and county. If you are interested in the progressive movements of your town and community, then you should lend your support to that organization which works solely to that end. We mean financial support. There are those who are willing to have a good town if someone else will pay the cost of improvement. There are those who are willing for Tahoka to have the big end of the trade of Lynn County provided that someone else will pay the expense of inducing the people to come here rather than go elsewhere. It takes money to do anything in the world except talk, and if you are not careful it will cost you to do even that.

Is it worth anything to you as a resident of the town to have new industries to come here? Is it worth anything to you as a business man of Tahoka to have two national highways cross here? Is it worth anything to have new roads built from the different communities into Tahoka as well as into Wilson and O'Donnell? Or what Tahoka have more than two mail routes covering her trade territory when Wilson already has three? Is it of value to our county to have the people of other sections of the state who are desirous of finding a new location know that Tahoka and Lynn county is the heart of the plains and that the plains is the best section of the state? The county seat is the logical place to have a county fair. We believe that Tahoka will be benefited by having a county fair. People these are just some of the things that the Chamber of Commerce can and will do if you do your part to finance the movements. We get just exactly what we go after, and if we listen to some we will be sitting here fifty years from now never having gone after anything. If you want to get in the rut just keep your money in your pockets and grouch and growl about what the Chamber of Commerce has never done. Just remember that it never would do anything if everybody gave the same amount that you are giving.

It is worth a dollar each month to any clerk in town to be a member of the Chamber of Commerce. It is worth that much to have the consolation of letting the people know that you are for the progressive activities of the town. Line up with the progressive bunch if you want to get ahead and get your salary raised.

Someone has said that the Chamber of Commerce is a "Mans" organization. The reason why such a statement was made was to dodge the issue of becoming a member. Everyone knows that the women of the town are the ones to go to in order to get some clean and uplifting movement come to town. The women are the ones to go to if you actually intend to get something done. They will endure more and stick longer to the task than any man in the world. We are going to put on a negro minstrel this next year to pay off the deficit on the Lyceum course, because the women of the town have charge of the movement. We already have some women members of the Chamber of Commerce, and we are going to have more before the first of the month. So young women and old women if you intend to continue the move that is already launched to take charge of the business world as well as the home you might as well line up with the progressive bunch. Come on in and tell us to put your name on the membership roll for one dollar a month.

J. B. Nance returned Monday from the north Panhandle, where he spent several days visiting the oil fields. He says the development there has been wonderful. He had nothing new to give out, however, with reference to the Lynn county well started by the Hart Oil Corporation on the T-Bar five miles west of Tahoka.

Farmers Marketing Much Cream Here

The people of Lynn county are giving more and more attention to the production of butter and cream, judging from the amount of cream that they are bringing to the Tahoka market each week.

On last Saturday alone J. C. Welch bought 26 cans of cream, each weighing about eighty pounds, his purchases that day aggregating more than 2,000 pounds.

Many farmers' wives prefer to convert their own cream into butter and quite a good deal of butter is being marketed here by them.

This country is well suited for the production of dairy products and as the population of the southwest and particularly of west Texas increases the importance of this industry will greatly increase. No farmer who owns his home should depend on cotton alone, when there are so many other products that can be raised here not only to supply the home market but for shipment.

We are predicting that some day dairying will be a great industry on the south plains.

OLD PIONEER PASSES AWAY

C. C. McLaurin Is No More; Died Of Heart Failure Sunday Night

C. C. McLaurin of Wells died at his home Sunday night of heart failure. Mr. McLaurin was at the supper table with members of his family when stricken and he died almost instantly.

Funeral services were conducted at the Methodist Church in this city Monday afternoon and interment followed in the City Cemetery. The remains were laid to rest by the side of his wife, who died in 1921. A great concourse of friends and relatives attended the funeral. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Hicks, pastor of the Methodist Church at O'Donnell.

Mr. McLaurin was one of the pioneers of Lynn county. He came to this county in 1903 and he is said to have been the first man who understood to raise cotton in this county. He and others soon demonstrated that cotton and feedstuffs could be successfully raised here and his early experiments did much to convert this section of the state from a strictly cow country to an agricultural region. He acquired considerable property in the county, owning about two sections of land in the Wells community at the time of his death. He had many friends not only among the pioneers but also among those who came later.

Mr. McLaurin was 70 years of age at the time of his death and left seven surviving children, all of whom had reached their majority. He was universally recognized as one of Lynn county's best citizens and there are many who mourn his demise. A good man has passed from the walks of men.

Crowds Break Record Here On Trades Day

The streets of Tahoka last Saturday were again "rife with people, pacing restless up and down." Many of them were attracted evidently by the Trades Day drawing, for one of the largest crowds of the season attended this performance. Yet there must have been quite a good many ticket holders who were not present, for many numbers had to be drawn before all the prizes were awarded.

Mrs. L. M. Eason of South Ward drew the Twenty Dollar piece. Miss Thelma Taylor of Tahoka drew ten dollars, and B. H. McWilliams residing twelve miles west of Tahoka and R. J. Smith residing in town drew the $5 prizes. Each successful contestant was also awarded a free ticket to a show at the Star Theatre.

E. I. Hill Jr, who constituted a part of the News force for many months but who has been employed in the mechanical department of The Ranger Daily Times for several months, visiting his parents here this week.

FIREMEN ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Company Is Reorganized; Citizens Urged To Show Appreciations of Department

Last Thursday afternoon the Tahoka Volunteer Fire Department met and reorganized with the following officers:

Garrett Richards, Chief; Pete Coleman, Asst Chief and Nozzle man; J. Emory Nance, Pres, and Pumpman; Jim Wakefield, Sec'y and Traffic Man; Ovid Luallin, Driver Truck No 2; O. L. McHorse, Asst Driver No 2 and Plug Man; Brown Bradley, Pump Man No. 2; Homer Harrison, Nozzle Man No. 2; Borden Davis, Hook and Ladder No. 2. Bolton Thomas, Plug Man No. 2; B. F. Sherrad, Nozzleman No 2; And C. V. Welch Driver No. 1; E. H. Hatchett Nozzleman No 1.

The Fire Department is one organization that the citizens should appreciate for they get no pay whatever for their service in protecting our homes and businesses from fire both day and night. They are constantly on the job for our safety and everyone should strive to show their appreciation of the boys by giving them their co-operation. Do not drive in front of the truck on practice evenings or at any time. Show the boys the courtesy due by pulling to the curb when you hear the siren.—Contributed.

URGES SUPPORT OF LOCAL BAND

Organization Is Being Made Asset To City. Writer For The News Says

The Tahoka Band is an organization that the people of Tahoka and Lynn County are going to be proud of. They have, in the first three months, already convinced most of the citizenship that they have the quality of becoming a real live bunch.

They have twenty-six signed members and have some half dozen or more prospects for new members. They have as their officers the following: Jim (Moco) Wakefield, Pres.; O. L. McHorse, V-Pres.; Eli Lam, Sec'y; and W. O. Henderson, Business Manager.

They have obtained the services of Mr. Monte Bowron, their present director, for a period of one year and the subscription of the citizens is a great need and help to the band. If the committee hasn't already called on you, when they do call, give them a little help.

The members of the band pay monthly dues and are putting in two nights a week for practice and if they can do this surely the town will give them all the financial help possible.

Let's put Tahoka and Lynn county on the map as far as a band is concerned.—Contributed.

Uncle Ike Has The Moody Blues

Uncle Ike came in the office Monday morning with his face as long as a government mule and his lip hanging down until one could almost step thereon. The tears were running down his cheeks as large as biscuits. I asked him what in the world could be wrong. He said he had just heard some bad news, that he was going to lose his Pa and Ma on the 24th. Pa Jim has a bad case of the foot and mouth disease, and his feet are so sore that he cannot run for governor, and his hands are so sore from slinging mud that they cannot be used. On top of all this he has had a bad case of the breaking out of the mouth and a bad case of the Danbeatis. Everyone knows that diabetes is fatal, but danbeatis is far more fatal. Doctor votes says that there is no chance for him. Ma too has had a bad case on danbeatis which means that she too must go along with Pa. This means that Uncle Ike will be forced to go to the Dan Moody Asylum for Orphans. I told him that as long as there was life there was hope, but he said Doctor votes says there is no hopes as danbeatis would sure get them. So mote it be.

Will Let School Contract August 2

On account of the fact that a number of contractors desiring to bid on the construction of the Tahoka High School building have requested further time to study the plans and specification, the Board of Trustees have postponed the date for letting contracts from today (Thursday) to Monday, August 2. A number of contractors have indicated their intention to bid on the job.

J. N. Adams of Hico was here on business this week and while here was the guest of Jack Applewhite. Mr. Adams several years ago resided here and was associated with Mr. Applewhite in the hardware business. He has many friends here who were glad to see him again.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Swope were called to Hamlin Saturday by the serious illness of an uncle, Mr. Jack Mouldin. They returned Monday, leaving the patient somewhat improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Gobble of Glendale, Ariz., returned to their home last week after a visit with M. C. Sherrad and family.

Mrs. Frank Howe returned to her home at Big Spring last week after a visit here with her cousin Miss Jewell Sherrad.

New Water Wells Not Yet Connected

Three of the City's new wells have been completed but only one of them is being pumped as yet, according to I. S. Doak, for the reason that the pumps ordered by the City several weeks ago have not yet arrived. This explains why the water supply has not been greatly increased. The new pumps are expected any day and as soon as they are placed and the wells put in operation it is hoped that the supply of water will be materially augmented. It is the intention to have all five of the new wells under the pump before the close of the summer season.

STATE MASONIC OFFICIALS HERE

Many Local And Visiting Masons Heard Addresses Of Officials Saturday Night

Wilbur Keith, Ex. Sec. of the Educational Commission of the Masonic Grand Lodge, and John W. Howarth, Grand Lodge speaker, both of Dallas, visited the Tahoka Masonic Lodge Saturday night, the occasion being the installation of new officers.

Mr. Howarth delivered a lecture to the Masons while Mr. Keith addressed both the Masons and the members of the Eastern Star.

Visiting Masons were here from Post, Brownfield, and O'Donnell, and a most pleasant occasion is reported. Punch was served by the ladies.

SWINDLER GETS $350 FROM LYNCH DAVIDSON FORCES

SAN ANTONIO, July 19—"Contribution to bogus ranger, $350 may be one of the items of Lynch Davidson's campaign expenditures.

Posing as a Texas ranger, a man visited Lynch Davidson-for-Governor headquarters last week and after paying the candidate many compliments and offering his services in the interest of his campaign, asked A. A. Allison, in charge of the Houston man's southwest organization, to endorse the check.

This check was drawn on a Houston bank and was for $350. It came back on Allison Monday and the Texas ranger has been identified thru aid of photographs in the possession of a local bank, as a swindler. He has done time in the penitentiary and is an impostor who several times represented himself as Captain Hamer of the ranger force to get check endorsements.

Jones Dry Goods Officials Are Here

G. E. Jones of Abilene, proprietor of the string of stores operated by the Jones Dry Goods Company, was here on business Tuesday. He was accompanied by his son, W. B. Jones, and W. A. Dawson, both of Abilene, who are connected with the business. Mr. Jones and Mr. Dawson were each loud in their praise of Tahoka "It is one of the cleanest and best little cities on the plains." Mr. Dawson asserted and Mr. Jones added, "That certainly is the truth." There are about thirteen of the Jones stores scattered over West Texas and all are doing prosperous business.

WHITAKER WILL SPEAK THURSDAY NIGHT

Emmett L. Whitaker announces that he will speak at the Court House Thursday night in the interest of his candidacy for Representative in the Legislature from this the 19th district. He desires this opportunity to place his candidacy before the voters of Tahoka. Ladies especially invited.

MANY SPEAKERS HEARD FRIDAY

Two Candidates For Governor Represented; County and District Candidates Talk

Everybody pronounced the big political rally held here last Friday afternoon a great success.

The business houses in Tahoka, all closed, and hundreds of people came in from the country and from neighboring towns to hear the speeches and enjoy the occasion. It was the first political occasion of the year in Tahoka and everybody was worked up to about the proper pitch to really appreciate it.

J. B. Walker was the master of ceremonies and as such he was in his proper element. Since the meeting had been called as a Lynch Davidson rally, Mr. Walker felt it perfectly proper that he fire a few shots for his favorite candidate, which he proceeded to do. In fact Walker spoke with more fire and eloquence and with almost as much force as the chief speaker of the day, Hon. Claude Miller of Waco, whom Walker introduced.

Space forbids and conditions render unnecessary a detailed report of Mr. Miller's speech, which required about one hour for its delivery. He directed a few hot shots at Jim Ferguson but devoted the greater part of his time to an arraignment of Oscar "Budweiser" Colquitt, who he charged was directing the campaign of Dan Moody. He made the usual charges that Moody's candidacy was being backed by the oil and liquor interests. He made no attack whatever upon Moody himself further than to suggest his youthfulness and inexperience and to discount his ability to handle the great problems of state.

In other words, he pictured Moody as a peewee, being used as a tool by the big interests, and painted Lynch Davidson as a second Jim Hogg. His address was punctuated by occasional handclapping but little enthusiasm was manifested on the part of the audience. It is fair to say, however, that his address was very good from the standpoint of the Davidson supporter.

Miller was followed by Judge Pierce of Lubbock, who spoke in the interest of Ma Ferguson. Pierce's address was full of spice but it was unexpectedly short. In striking contrast to the response which Miller's speech evoked, the Ferguson people were present in considerable numbers to encourage and applaud their speaker at every thrust and sally he made. "Pour it on" "Me for Ma" and other expressions of approval came at frequent intervals as Pierce spoke. Pierce's speech was of the pour-it-on type. He did not attempt to reason. He attempted only to ridicule and lambast. Most of his fire, however, was directed at Lynch Davidson, due to the fact presumably that Miller had lambasted Jim.

Everything went lovely with Pierce until he began to declare eloquently that since Mrs. Ferguson had been governor no teacher in this state had been compelled to "hawk" her school vouchers or to wait for her month's salary. After he had gone the limit in making this threadbare boast of Jim Ferguson's, men in the audience began to call his hand. Several trustees spoke up and told him that their teachers had been compelled to wait for their money. Pierce explained that such was due possibly to local conditions but that such was not true over the state generally. The interruptions, however, seemed to take all the wind out of him and after a few more shots he brought his address abruptly to a close.

An effort had been made to procure a Moody speaker for the occasion but there was so great a demand for them it was impossible to procure one. It was announced during the afternoon, however, that Hon. Ed Yeiser of Austin will speak here in Moody's interest on next Thursday

To The Voters Of Precinct No. One

In this last week of the campaign I am making my last appeal to you in behalf of my candidacy for Public Weigher.

I want to say in the outset that I have no ill-feeling toward my opponent and no fight to make on his character or work. I believe he is a good man and has discharged the duties of this office in a very capable and efficient manner. But as you know he has held this office for the past ten years. And you also know under average crop conditions this is the best paying office in the county, considering the time devoted to it. This being the case my opponent has not only been able to live comfortably through these ten years but has had ample time to accumulate a neat sum for a "rainy" day.

Now I repeat he has made a capable officer but it does not necessarily follow that he should hold the office for life.

The fundamental principle of Democracy is Justice to all and special favors to none. There are numbers of men in this precinct who are just as deserving, just as loyal citizens and just as well qualified to fill this office as my opponent. Then in view of this fact is it not a violation of this principle for the voters to favor him with this office for an unlimited time.

Now, friends I know I am fully qualified to discharge the duties of this office and I believe there are a few things that I can do that will enable me to give most efficient service. I would have lights just in in the yard and have a man to stay there at night as long as the gins run to help with the unloading of the cotton.

Now I realize my case rests in the hands of the voters and I will appreciate it if you will take these statements into consideration before casting your vote. If you should decide to favor me I will reward you by giving you faithful, efficient and untiring service as Public Weigher.

Sincerely yours,
E. Lam.

THE JUDGE GOT THE WATCH

The county judge had been solemnly warned against picking up strangers in his flivver, but he had a gun on this trip to Los Angeles and for once he was reckless. He picked up a timid-looking little man and they rode amiably for miles. But when the judge looked for the time, his watch was gone!
Pulling up alongside the highway, he shoved the gun into the little man's stomach and growled in just as tough a voice as he could muster under the circumstances: "Hand over that watch!"
The passenger turned a sickly yellow, but he protested feebly. "One word more and I'll plug yuh," shouted the judge valiantly. With trembling fingers the offending party hauled out a watch, and passed it over. Then clambered out of the car and settled into the chap aral.
Back safe in San Bernardino county, the judge told his wife the adventure with pardonable pride. She regarded him coldly and remarked: "You left your watch on the dresser this morning."

FIFTY-YEAR-OLD "IRON HORSE" PUFFS TO SESQUI CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION

Puffing its way laboriously from Baltimore, the largest passenger locomotive in use fifty years ago has taken its place beside one of the mammoth 'iron horses' recently turned out by the Baldwin Locomotive Works, at an exhibit of that corporation at the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, in Philadelphia.

The wonder-provoking engine of a half-century ago, which was one of the chief attractions at the Centennial Exposition in 1876, is a pitiful pigmy beside the massive locomotive designed for use in 1925. The Baltimore engine took a prize at the Centennial Exposition and its noisy and slow operation was a constant marvel while it was on view.

The serious defect in the rural school system is not so much the lack of money as the lack of interest. The curse of the age is the craving for money without the sense of obligation in return.

Texas holds thirty-seventh place in the sisterhood of nations, not because of a stingy people or of an indifferent legislature. Taxpayers are beginning to ask and demand a business like administration of the millions. The failure to make appropriations when needed may be due to an apparent and indifferent attitude on the part of the administration.

I have shown in a published article given to the press that over $700,000 is annually wasted in the administration of the free Texas books. This fact is gathered from the department of education and must be correct. I shall see to it that this abuse and waste shall not obtain if I am elected.

I shall favor a change in the RURAL AID LAW—so that the County Superintendent may do the inspection which will save the rural aid fund of approximately $40,000 annually. As it is—we have too much politics and too little interest in the child in the sparsely settled districts of Texas.

J. A. HUMPHRIES

NORTH CAROLINA AND WEST TEXAS

Other southern states are beginning to "sit up and take notice" of what North Carolina and West Texas are doing at the Sesqui Centennial at Philadelphia.

In a recent article, I explained in detail the charming things which North Carolina had planned for her Sesqui-Centennial exhibit. Only a few days have elapsed, and what of it now? The writer has just returned from a delightful review of the exposition, and he would easily vote "The Old North State's" temple of exhibit one of the most beautiful within the Sesqui grounds. The patriots from that grand old state and their friends from other southern states, will point with pardonable pride to the North Carolina exhibit displayed in a boathouse of perfect elegance, located in the Agricultural Building.

But what of West Texas and its Chamber of Commerce? West Texas knows things. West Texas grows things. West Texas does things. That is the West Texas way at the Sesqui-Centennial.

Southerners from any state, you who love enterprise, and ginger and pep wherever you find it, be quick to locate what Texas would show you in the Building of Agriculture and Foreign Exhibits. The whole display will be like a letter from home to every southerner who loves Texas, and all of us do.

Shall I describe it in detail—my letter would grow too long if I should; but "The Lone Star" effect is perfectly taken care of and the entire scheme is in harmony with it.

Moreover, a brave, handsome young Texan is in charge, and he is a veritable Chesterfield on the job. That is the West Texas way at the Sesqui-Centennial.

YEISER SPEAKS THIS AFTERNOON

Hon. Ed H. Yeiser of Austin will speak on the Court House lawn at 2 o'clock this afternoon in behalf of Dan Moody's candidacy for governor. YOUNG TOURISTS LAND IN JAIL

An automobile tour of the Panhandle and North Texas ended abruptly at Plainview yesterday, when officers arrested two Lubbock boys and wired Sheriff Bud Johnston to "come and get 'em." A third member of the touring party, also of Lubbock, escaped.

Johnson says the three stole a Chrysler car in Lubbock several weeks ago and went away in it. They were traced to Amarillo, and later arrested in Fort Worth. Constable Scott Rheudisil went after them and brought them as far as Post, when they escaped yesterday morning. Theft of another Chrysler at Post about the time the boys got away was charged up to them. The last mentioned car was abandoned in Lubbock some time during the night, and a Buick stolen from in front of the Lubbock Inn. The Buick was also abandoned, due to some sort of engine trouble, seven miles north of Lubbock, and morning two of the escaping three were apprehended in Plainview. Officers suppose that they walked and caught rides into the Hale county city.

Sheriff Johnston said last night that one or more of the boys might be seventeen years of age or over, and would face trial in the district court on charge of theft of more than $50. Any of them who are younger than seventeen will be tried in the probation court here before County Judge Nordyke, with a possibility of reformatory sentence.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Short, who reside four and one-half miles east of town on Route B, brought into The News office Tuesday morning a cabbage weighing 9 1/2 pounds. The cabbage was beautiful in shape and size and was a perfect specimen of taha type of vegetable. Mrs. Short says she has already sold 47 pounds of cabbage, has about 50 more pounds to sell, and has canned 24 half-gallon cans of kraut from this year's crop, and she only has a small patch of cabbage.

These folks have demonstrated the fact that cabbage can be very successfully grown in this country, and with the proper care and irrigation many more people may raise cabbage just as easily as these people have.

FERGUSONISM MUST BE DESTROYED

Next Saturday approximately 700,000 voters will register their choice for governor. Something more than 2,000 of these reside in Lynn county.

The News has vigorously expressed its preference, at the same time according every other voter the right to his own opinion. That is every voter's right. That is one of the things that makes this country free and great.

It is not probable that anything we may say at this time would materially affect the situation here or elsewhere.

Nevertheless, we feel that the issues in this campaign are so momentous that we should not refrain from doing what little we can in behalf of good government from this time until the votes are counted Saturday night.

Jim Ferguson has in this state 1466,000 vest pocket votes. It makes no difference what he may say or do, these 146,000 will stay with him to the last ditch. If Jim Ferguson should admit today that he stole a sheep yesterday, it would make no difference. All he would have to do would be to charge that Dan Moody had stolen two sheep and his vest pocket voters would yell "Me for Ma."

There are some supporters of the Fergusons, however, who are open to reason. If these will calmly and dispassionately consider just a few of the facts of the Ferguson administration, we believe they will yet turn from following after Baal and vote for the best interests of their country.

In the second primary two years ago, 200,000 voters cast their ballots for Mrs. Ferguson, fully believing that Jim Ferguson had been shamefully "crooked" during his administrations but feeling that surely after he had been impeached and expelled from office and had suffered the disgrace for seven years he would do all in his power to assist Mrs. Ferguson in giving Texas an administration that would be above reproach.

What happened? Before Mrs. Ferguson was inaugurated, Jim Ferguson was scheming to use the governor's office as a means of making big money.

In the daily press of January 4, 1925, two weeks prior to the inauguration of his wife as governor, it was announced that Jim Ferguson had been retained as the attorney for four Texas railroads.

Those of us who had supported the Fergusons in the preceding election, felt a bit uneasy over the announcement but hoped there was nothing wrong, and contented ourselves in the supposition that Jim Ferguson had decided to re-enter the practice of the law and to try to make an honest living while assisting his wife to make good as governor.

But it later dawned upon us that these railroads had an axe to grind. W. T. Eldridge is said to have owned a controlling interest in these roads. He also owned great sugar interests at Sugarland, Texas. By reason of these facts, he had and expected to have important business relations with the State. There was a move on foot, originating during the Neff administration, to sell all the penitentiary properties and to centralize the penitentiary system somewhere nearer Austin. A bill to that effect was passed. Eldridges was strongly opposed to it. Ma Ferguson vetoed it.

This possible explains why Eldridge would employ as his attorney, at a handsome salary, a man who had not practiced law for twenty years, had no law office and no law library. He sat at the same table with the governor and showed her where to sign on the dotted line.

Try to imagine Sul Ross doing a thing like that.

Try to imagine Richard Coke doing a thing like that.

Try to imagine Jim Hogg doing a thing like that.

Jim Hogg fought the railroads making a heroic fight for an anti-pass law that would prohibit state officials and legislators from riding on railroad passes while serving the State. Jim Ferguson not only rides on a railroad pass but pulls down a salary of $10,000 to $20,000 a year as an attorney for the railroads while his wife draws her salary as governor. Does Jim earn his salary? We guess so, but when did he ever appear in court to represent these railroads? Never. He practices influence, not law.

Jim Ferguson appointed a highway commission. He named the men and Ma signed on the dotted line. He sat with this highway commission. Under his dictation or with his consent, they let contracts that should bring the blush of shame to every Texan. These contracts were let without competitive bids. No bonds were required of the contractors. The price fixed was held by a district judge who had been friendly to Ferguson to have been grossly excessive and unconscionable. But it does not require a district judge to see that. Anybody with the brains of a goat knows that any price is excessive which enables the contractor to make two dollars clear profit every time he spends one dollar on the roads. That is what the American Road Company did and what the Hoffman Construction Company did. For every dollar spent for road-surfacing they pulled down three dollars from the State. Jim Ferguson has tried to distort the figures and to show that the contracts were good ones for the State but any ten-year old school boy can figure it out and prove the contrary. Which again proves that figures do not lie but figures sometimes do.

Immediately after the election which placed Mrs. Ferguson in the Governor's chair, the Ferguson Forum became a great advertising medium. Prior to that time it carried only a few measly little ads. But Presto! What a change! Quarter-page, half-page, full page advertisements. And it has been charged repeatedly but never denied by Ferguson that he received fabulous sums for these advertisements. Who were the advertisers? They were road contractors, banks, corporations, interests that expected favors from the State government or might be crushed by it. Last Week's Ferguson Forum lies before us. The big ads no longer appear. Only a few measly little ads. Why? The answer is Dan Moody. He exposed all this Ferguson graft. His exposures compelled two of the highway commissioners to resign. The grafting contracts were canceled. When the graft stopped the advertising stopped.

Try to imagine Houston, Ross, Ireland, Coke, Sayers, Hogg, Culberson, or Campbell running this kind of a graft.

Jim Ferguson pulled every string at his command, whether it brought in little sums or great. Think of this. He sent appeals, which amounted to demands, to all the state employees, including the lady teachers in our colleges, to subscribe for the Ferguson Forum, suggesting that they not only subscribe for themselves but that they send in as much as ten dollars and the Forum management would see that it would be placed where it would do the most good. Extermination! Petty graft of the most contemptible brand!

These are a few of the things that constitute Fergusonism.

Are the people of Texas going to approve it and perpetuate it?

Are the people of Lynn county going to lend their aid and approbation to such shameful conduct?

Carthago delenda est! Fergusonism must be destroyed.

We can destroy it most effectually by going to the polls and voting for that clean, capable, courageous young attorney-general, Dan Moody.

PEOPLE WHO LIVE IN GLASS HOUSES

People who live in glass houses should not throw stones.

Lynch Davidson has been charging that somebody has been spending a barrel of money in behalf of Dan Moody.

Dan Moody is a poor man and his friends know it. They know that it would be too great a burden upon him to bear all the expenses of a strenuous and necessarily expensive campaign to rid Texas of the blight of Fergusonism. Some of his friends have been contributing to his campaign fund. Some of them are wealthy and it may be that they have contributed liberally. We see nothing wrong in that.

But what about Lynch Davidson?

He boasts that he is rich and is paying all his own campaign expenses. If so he must be spending money lavishly. Lynch Davidson advertisements have been appearing in the last few weeks in hundreds of weekly newspapers and many daily newspapers throughout Texas. He has been paying for radio service and having addresses broadcast over the State. His headquarters sends out thousands of letters, circulars, and other printed matter in almost every mail, the printing and mailing of which must cost an enormous sum. He has picked up a little suburban newspaper published in Houston, is filling it with Lynch Davidson propaganda, and is sending it throughout Texas. Over the masthead of July 9 it carries in bold type the following statement: "70,000 copies circulated this week." The paper referred to is the Magnolia Park News. Its editor is Mary Ligon Howe, whom many of our business men know. About two years ago this good lady came to Wilson with her husband. While there she established a paper and made arrangements for the same to be printed in the News office. It was printed for several weeks, when it suddenly "blowed up" and Mrs. Howe left for Houston. There, in one of the suburbs, she started the Magnolia Park News, which publication is printed in the shop of one of the big daily papers in Houston. It struggled along with indifferent success apparently until a few months ago, when Lynch Davidson took it under his wing, since which time its "circulation" has leaped to 70,000. Lynch has not told us how much money it is costing him to publish and circulate this paper throughout Texas. He is paying the expenses of many speakers on the stump in his interest.

We do not charge that Lynch Davidson is spending any money illegally. But he is putting out more paid propaganda than any of the other candidates. If those who are putting up money in behalf of the Dan Moody candidacy are doing so because they have an axe to grind, as Davidson charges, then what kind of an axe has Lynch to grind that he is spending his own money so lavishly? Is it lumber? Is it cut-over timber lands? We do not know. But it does occur to us that people who live in glass houses should not throw stones.

DAVIDSON'S ABSURD CLAIMS

The frantic efforts of Lynch Davidson to attract people to his little side show are laughable. In every speech that he makes he tells his audiences that voters in other sections are flocking to his standard in great droves. His supporters are distributing the same kind of propaganda. Last week a letter was sent out from his headquarters in Houston, one of which came to the News, filled with bunk of this kind and containing the following paragraph:

"Davidson's progress through North, West and Central Texas recently was a march of triumph, caravans of automobiles meeting him and escorting him from town to town, and throngs fighting to get within hearing of him. Most of his meetings had to be in the open air, indoor halls proving too small."

Good-sized crowds did turn out to hear Lynch Davidson at all his appointments in west Texas and they gave him a respectful hearing, but if pandemonium reigned in any of these towns where he spoke as a result of his visit, we failed to see an account of it in any of the local or daily papers and failed to hear of it otherwise. In fact all his meetings were rather tame affairs.

One of the absurd and ridiculous charges that Lynch continues to make is that Jim Ferguson and Dan Moody are in league to keep him out of the second primary. Dan Moody has directed his gun almost solely against Jim Ferguson because he maintains that Fergusonism is a blight to the State that ought to be blotted out and he is devoting his energies to that end. Jim Ferguson has trained his guns almost solely upon Dan Moody because he has had sense enough to recognize the fact that Dan is his most formidable opponent, and he has paid little attention to Lynch Davidson except to speak kindly of him now and then. In a statement issued a few days ago Jim Ferguson stated: "If Davidson could have shown any strength at any stage of the campaign that would have been sufficient for him to have beaten Moody I would not in the least have stood in his way and would have done my best to have helped him beat Moody, when I think it is the most man that has ever offered for office in Texas, but as Lynch has not shown this strength it will be folly for his friends to waste their votes on him in this campaign." In the same statement he estimates Davidson's vote at 70,000. We think that Ferguson has underestimated Davidson's strength somewhat and has greatly exaggerated his own strength, but this statement and other statements made by him as well as his whole attitude in this campaign clearly shows that Lynch Davidson is his second choice but that he does not fear Lynch as an opponent and does not believe that Lynch could defeat Moody in a contest between the two. Jim has therefore paid little attention to Lynch except to make a bid now and then for his support in the second primary.

Instead of gaining strength, it becomes more and more apparent every day that Lynch hasn't a ghost of a show, and he is losing strength. We are sorry that he has not been able to see the situation from the start, for the only possible effect of his candidacy will be to make a second primary possible. All opponents of Fergusonism should line up under the banner of Dan Moody in the first primary.

LYNN ITEMS

Well, the farmers are about to get old man Green routed out of the fields now if some one don't break the fence down and let him back in. We would welcome a good rain now. Mrs. W. R. Bartley has been sick this past week.

Several went to hear the Lynch Davidson speaker at Tahoka last Friday evening. Everybody has been too busy to discuss politics much the past two weeks. Crops sure do look promising in this neck of the woods and we need a good crop and a good price as badly as we need a governor of Texas, and you know how bad we need him or her, as the case may be.

Granville Rogers will start a meeting at the Methodist Church Monday night.

Brother Markham was in our neighborhood Monday looking after the lost sheep of Israel, which are the Baptists. He thought he might hold a meeting out here to gather in the wandering flock. They all like sheep have gone astray.

The Methodist revival will begin the second Sunday in August. We hope to have a great revival in our neighborhood. We ask the prayers of all Christian people. We need to be more spiritual and less politic.

Well, Mr. Editor, what has become of Aunt Martha? Is she dead or gone visiting? Uncle Jim has not been on hand for some time.

Our gin man was up a few days ago looking after his interests in the gin business, making ready for a good run this fall. He has one man there getting everything ready for business.

Well, Mr. Editor, we will soon have watermelons and cantaloupes. Come over some day when they get ready to eat and we will sure treat you to all you can eat. We have corn for table use. We might be able to set you a square meal, if you like such things, and I am sure you do, as you were raised on the farm. You know what farm life is. If we can make it for a few more days till the corn and tomatoes come in we will be safe. I have noticed all my life if I got through till the corn, tomatoes, beans, and onions came in, I lived through the balance of the year and got fat. Well, we heard the speakers for Van Bates and Guy Sherrod. I don't think the boys will do as well now as before, because each speaker made his candidate an outlaw. As for catching Tom Ross, take Uncle Tom's advice and stay at Tahoka. You've got all you can do looking after those little boys. Good day. Uncle Tom

To The Voters Of Lynn County

In bringing to a close my campaign for District Attorney, I wish by this method to say to the good people of Lynn County that I have tried as hard as any one could to run this race strictly on my own merits and to get before you that if elected I shall devote the very best part of my life toward the enforcement of all the laws of all the people fairly and impartially and without fear or favor to any one.

I believe and have always lived and held steadfastly to the fundamental and Democratic Idea that all Political Power lies within the great voting masses, and believing in this, I shall never whimper when the voice of the people is registered on the 24th.

From the report I get from all over this District, I have no fear but that I will be elected by a large majority, for the people of this District know that I have honestly and squarely placed my claims before them for their vote.

I must take this method, however of calling attention of the Voters to the fact that my opponent is claiming a SECOND TERM. I do not understand at all such to be the case. My opponent was appointed to this office on last August, 1925, and this is the first time that the voters of this District in whom all political power is vested has ever had a chance to say who should be their District Attorney.

Again I thank the citizenship of Lynn County for your consideration of me on next Saturday and confidently believing in my election, I gladly rest my case with you.

District Attorney A. W. Gibson spoke to a crowd of men on a street corner in Tahoka Saturday afternoon. He had previously announced this speaking and kept his appointment rather than change his plans and be here at the rally on Friday. He is said by those who heard him to have given a good account of himself.

NORRIS SHOTS FT. WORTH MAN IN SELF-DEFENCE

Lumberman Dies On Way To Hospital; Office of Publication Is Scene of The Trouble

FORT WORTH, TEXAS, July 17.—The Rev. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Fort Worth and nationally known fundamentalist revivalist, surrendered to Chief of Police Henry Lee in the office of his church publication, The Searchlight, Saturday afternoon following the fatal shooting at 4:40 p. m. of D. E. Chipps, local lumber dealer.

Chipps was shot three times with a pistol, two shots taking effect in his right lung and one entering his body just below his right lung and one entering his body just below his heart on the left side. He died in the ambulance on the way to the hospital without regaining consciousness.

Claims Self-Defense. Mr. Norris, in a statement, made a plea of self-defense, alleging that Chipps had threatened to kill him whereupon Norris reached in a desk drawer, took out the night watchman's pistol and fired four times at Chipps.

Mr. Norris immediately after making his statement furnished bond of $10,000 signed by thirty persons, many of whom were members of his congregation.

L. H. Nutt, auditor of the Farmers and Mechanics' National Bank and a deacon in Mr. Norris' church, was the only eyewitness to the shooting. However other employees of the Searchlight were in other parts of the building.

City Detective Bush searched Norris' office after the killing. His Congregations Large. The Rev. Mr. Norris first attracted State-wide attention when the church of which he was pastor burned in March, 1911, under mysterious circumstances which led to his trial on a charge of arson. He was acquitted.

Mr. Norris' congregation, which has followed him through the ups and downs of his career has been increasing each year. Only a few days ago he announced opening of a radio membership for all unable to attend his services in person.

Is Also Publisher. Mr. Norris is also editor and publisher of the Searchlight, financed partly by sale of stock and claiming a large circulation.

In recent years Mr. Norris has turned his bludgeons against the alleged teaching of evolution in Baptist Schools.

Chipps was born in Bedford County, Virginia, in 1876 coming to Texas in 1905 to establish a hardwood lumber mill at Dibold. He came to Fort Worth three years later and has lived here ever since. His wife was Miss Mary Murphy of Texarkana, whom he married in 1908. They had one son, D. E. Chipps Jr. He was a member of the leading clubs and lodges of the city.

JES' A DREAMIN'

By Henry Lamar
Jes' been sittin' here a-wishin'
I could up an' go a-fishin'—
Wish I could!
If I had things to my likin'
I'd be up and off a-hikin'
To the wood.

Now's the time to be a-whilin'
On a sunny bank, or smilin'
In the shade,
Where sweet winds are gently stirrin'
By the stream that goes a-purrin'
Through the glade;

Where the water goes a-tumblin'
Over rocks and stones, a-rumblin'
To the sea,
Here a-creepin', there a-fallin'—
I can hear it now a-callin',
Callin' me;

Where the breezes are a-blowin'
To the music of the flowin'
Of the stream,
Oh, it sets me all a-dreamin'
With the magic of its seemin'—
Let me dream!

Dream I've up an' gone a-fishin',
An' the water's softly swishin'
At my feet,
Dream I've gone right in a-swimmin'
In the pool so cool an' brimmin'—
Joy complete.

MADE THEIR HOMES IN NEW AMSTERDAM

Eastern Metropolis Founded by Mixed Company.

In 1923, January 15, a bill was introduced in the house of representatives authorizing the "coinage of 50-cent pieces in honor of the three-hundredth anniversary of the settling of New Netherland, the middle states, in 1624, by Walloons (French and Belgian Huguenots), under the Dutch East India company," writes Anna Curtis Chandler in St. Nicholas. This bill was passed, and 300,000 50-cent pieces were coined, just as coins were provided for the Pilgrim celebration. On one side of the Huguenot half-dollar appear the faces of two of their strong supporters; on the other side, the ship in which they sailed, Nieu Nederland.

The settlement of the New Netherland was claimed by the Dutch republic because of Henry Hudson's explorations in the Half Moon, in 1609. Although an Englishman, he was in the service of the Dutch East India company. In the ship which arrived in 1624 were 32 families, mostly Walloons who had found a refuge in Holland from religious persecution in their home countries. Led by Jesse de Forest, from Avesnes, France, an ancestor of Robert D. de Forest, president of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, they, in 1623, like the Pilgrims before them, had started out to find new homes in the New world. The leader perished on the voyage, but in May, 1624, their ship, the Nieu Nederland, reached the Hudson river.

Some of the settlers went to Fort Orange, now called Albany, others went to Delaware and to Connecticut, while some stayed on Manhattan island and helped found the settlement which in 1626 was called New Amsterdam, in honor of the Dutch city of Amsterdam, and today is New York, named after James, duke of York, the "Baby Stuart" of Van Dyck's famous painting.

Henry Hudson wanted to find for the East India company a shorter way from Holland to the East Indies than that around Africa by way of the Cape of Good Hope. When he sailed up the Hudson river he thought he had found the passage which led to India, and perhaps even to the great khan whom Marco Polo met in his travels and Christopher Columbus expected to find! He was greatly disappointed; but because of the furs which could be obtained on the newly found island of Manhattan, some merchants of Holland formed the United New Netherland company, and a house was built for fur traders, near what is now Bowling Green park, and was called Fort Hope. So rich was the new country in furs that another company was founded in Holland, called the West India company, to trade with the West Indies, as the East India company traded with the East Indies, and this was the company which decided to make a city out of the little trading post on Manhattan island.

It was the Dutch government which carried out the colonizing of New Netherland, the name given the new settlements along the shores of what are now New Jersey, Connecticut and New York state. But among these colonists who helped settle New Netherland, were English, French, Huguenots and Walloons—which meant "strangers."

It seems queer to think that our mighty city of New York—the metropolis of the New world, and the largest city in the world—began in such a small way. But it did. If Peter Minuit, the first Dutch governor of New Amsterdam, or Peter Stuyvesant, its last Dutch governor, could return today, after almost 300 years, he would be so astonished that he would think he was in an enchanted land of giants whose buildings seem to touch the sky.

"Santos" Coffee From Sao Paulo. It is against the law now to label as "Java" coffee that does not come from Java or Sumatra. Real Mocha is grown in Arabia, and after the coffee became well known and very popular some unscrupulous dealers applied this name to coffee from other countries. Coffees frequently take their names from the ports from which they are shipped. The most widely used variety in this country is called "Santos," after a port of Sao Paulo, the great coffee-producing state of Brazil.

CONTINUED

We are afflicting our readers with a lot of political dope this week but after next Saturday the agony will possibly be all over and we can give our readers a rest.

A certain Tahoka citizen reports that he saw some boys and girls out in cars during the church hour Sunday night when their mothers evidently thought they had gone to church, judging by the conversation carried on by members of the group. The language which they used was not altogether very choice, according to said Tahoka citizen, and he thinks that some fathers and mothers are sorely needed in this town. It is doubtless a good suggestion.

"Moody Fighting in Area Jim Calls Own," "Campaign Now at Lie Stage, Says Lynch," and Brown Throng Roars as Jim Lashes Dan," says headlines in the papers Thursday, captioning articles dealing with political speeches delivered by the three major gubernatorial candidates the day previous. Only one more week and it will all be over, except perhaps, the run-off. The Record would not be at all surprised if Dan Moody receives a clear majority in the first primary election Saturday of next week, thus eliminating the second election, in so far as the governor's contest is concerned.—Colorado Record

All Texas was shocked last Sunday morning to learn that Dr. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Fort Worth, had shot and killed a man. It would be improper for us to pass on the case or to express an opinion as to Norris' guilt or innocence until the evidence is adduced upon a trial. Thousands of people throughout Texas, however, who have been watching Norris' career and who have kept familiar with his methods, were not greatly surprised that such a tragedy should have happened. For years Norris has been a firebrand. He is a brilliant man with an apparently abnormal desire for notoriety. He is never happy unless engaged in a bitter fight of some kind. When he can find no other enemies to combat he makes war upon other leaders of his own denomination. When he enters a fight, he goes the whole limit. Upon the slightest pretext he makes the most serious and damaging charges, and often it has seemed that he had no regard whatever for justice or truth. On the other hand there are countless thousands who have followed him with almost servile devotion. He has seemingly had great success as a soul winner and has built up in Fort Worth the largest Sunday School in the South. Thus, to many he has become an enigma. His slaying of Chipps last Saturday afternoon and the trial that will follow will doubtless widen the chasm between those who believe in him and those who condemn. It is to be hoped that no further trouble will result. It is to be hoped that this terrible experience will sober Norris and that if he escapes the penitentiary he may become a more useful if less spectacular minister of the gospel.

United States has Cheapest Gasoline

While no exact comparison can be made, domestic gasoline prices are relatively and actually much lower than prevail generally in other parts of the world, it is shown by a Department of Commerce tabulation of retail gasoline and kerosene prices in various countries throughout the world on or about April, 1926. Factors making for inequalities in prices include distance from sources of supply, quantities consumed, transportation costs, import duties, excise taxes, distributing and marketing costs, quality of gasoline sold, and many others.

Foreign prices a gallon range from 15 cents in Bucharest, Roumania, to 98 cents in British South Africa. Average of tank wagon prices in 30 representative American cities on April 10, was 17 cents a gallon, with taxes in various states ranging from one to five cents, and service station prices two to four cents a gallon above the tank wagon price, plus taxes where levied.

I am the Joyman. I am a Sunshiner. I am the Conductor on the Sunshine Special. We run up the Sunny side of the valley of life. We will stop any where for anyone. If you are tired and broken and discouraged, don't give up the ship. Just look up the track for the Sunshine Special, and when you see us coming, raise your hand and we will stop. I will help you on and find you a seat where you may sit down, lay back your head and rest. After you are refreshed a bit, look out again at a brighter and a better looking world; pick out a fine tempting station by the way-side, and try it again. If still you fail and all behind in this mad race of life, don't be down-hearted and quit. Just watch for us on the next round trip. Our schedule is regular and our equipment is dependable. Faith is the track. Hope is the headlight. And Love is the engineer. You may ride with us on the Sunshine Special and pay your fare with a Smile. Or, if you want to change across town to the old road of greed and grab, you can buy a transfer with a frown or an ugly word an unkind deed. But if you do, you will have to take with you, all your petty jealousy, hate suspicion and selfishness, because we need all the room in our baggage car for a full cargo of Sunshine, Hope and Helpfulness for the hungry hearts of men. We always slow down at despair junction; run slower still through the valley of sorrow; and stop whistle, and wait at suicide cliff. All aboard, Brother and Sister with a broken heart, ride with us. You can buy a round-trip ticket with a Smile and we will start when you are ready. I am the Joyman, I am the Sunshiner. I am the Conductor on the Sunshine Special. I love my job and I am the richest man in the world. I know that any man's rarest possession is that tiny streak of real Soul Sunshine which lights up his world within himself, and teaches him the Divine Truth that the Kingdom of Heaven is within the sacred sanctuary of his own consciousness. For me there is no fear. To me there is naught but Truth, and it shall ever be so with me until my still searching soul comes to the gate at the end of the road and slips, unafraid, over the crest of God's great tomorrow."

Woman Governor Is Highly Extolled

(By A. C. Martin)

"Forscore and ten years ago our forefathers brought forth upon this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all mankind are created equal."

Thus a few decades ago spake one of America's greatest men, and upon these principles the American people built a great commonwealth that like the enduring Rock of Gibraltar stands overlooking the deep, dark waters of old Ocean, proudly defying the ravages of time and storm.

For these principles the illustrious sons at Valley Forge tearfully bade goodbye to their loved ones forever and with a last lingering look at their cabin homes stepped out upon the bloody field of battle and willingly laid down their lives.

Bunker Hill Monument rears her crimson spire into the clouds in memory of those heroic Americans who unhesitatingly gave their all that future generations might be endowed with those God-given principles of free thought, free speech, and free press. Gettysburg ran red with human blood that they might not perish from the earth.

The crumbling walls of the Alamo stand today as evidence of our supreme sacrifice made by our own Crockett, Bowie, Bonham, Travis, and others that this great state of ours might go down in history as a liberty-loving, God-fearing people.

In the late world conflagration for these same principles, thousands of young Americans went down. But alas! ere the smoke of battle cleared away, while yet in the far-off could be heard the deep rumbling notes of the cannon echoing down the lonely valleys of the distance, the hearts of our slain countrymen had not grown cold, when lo! above our horizon arose the dark clouds of unrest soon overshadowing our wide domain. People became indifferent, crime lurked at our doorsteps, the red-eyed dragon of Radicalism swooped down, its hissing, hot breath permeating the air, spreading the bitter seed of hatred and discontent, causing strife and discord in the Lodge, the church, and even the sacred sanctum of our homes. The black vultures of political and religious tyranny were gathering and circling around the home at the State House, it seemed inevitable that the Biblical injunction, "Nation shall rise against nation, father against son and son against father," must indubitably come to pass.

Then from amidst this labyrinth of darkness steps forth a mother, bearing aloft within her right hand the flaming torch of reason, her left folded above her troubled heart, her eyes raised toward Heaven, and she was proclaiming of humanity's God. This little woman, guided by her motherly instincts, goaded on by her Christian belief in Jesus, and feeling within the depths of her heart that he must have been right when he said, "Love ye one another" like Joan of Arc sadly pointed out the dangers stalking our country, and pleaded for an opportunity of restoring back to our statehood the sacred ideals of our fathers. As if by inspiration she caused the people to give ear, and as this great responsibility was shifted to her womanly shoulders a smile of satisfaction played about her tired face. With the meekness of a child and confident that right is greater than might, with the fixed determination of Alexander the Great, she firmly grasped the helm of the old but tottering Ship of State lifting her eyes far above the spraying mist of scornful derision, steered straight for the shore, giving no heed to the rains and storms of protest until safely anchored in port.

So that now the weary, toil-worn cotter, after having finished his strenuous day of toil, and as the long, dark shadows of evening are silently creeping about his frequented pathway, can safely repair to his home, and with his loved wife by his side and prattling children at his knee, truthfully say with the poet:

"I would not sit in the scorners' seat, Or hurl the cynic's ban— Let me live in my house by the side of the road And be a friend to man."

Dan Moody Gives Answers To W. C. T. V. Questionnaire

Are You A Bone Dry Prohibitionist? Yes, and have been always, and always will be.

Are You A Total Abstainer From The Use Of Alcoholic Beverages? Yes, and have been always. Have never used it in any form.

Do You Believe In Keeping The Volstead Act In Its Integrity? The Volstead law is the Act of Congress now in effect pursuant to the National Prohibition Amendment. I do not know whether it is the best law Congress could enact. But if I were a member of Congress, I should support that measure most efficiently designed, in my judgment, to carry out the purpose of the Prohibition Amendment. I am opposed to any modification of that law.

Will You Pledge Your Best Personal And Official Efforts Toward The Support And Enforcement Of Our State Prohibition Laws And The 18th Amendment To The Constitution Of The United States, And Will You Oppose Every Endeavor To Weaken The Same? One of the Constitutional duties of the Governor is that he cause the laws to be faithfully executed. This duty extends to the State Prohibition laws, and I pledge my best personal and official efforts toward their support and enforcement. It is the duty of every citizen to uphold the Constitution of the United States, of which the 18th Amendment is a part, and I pledge my best personal and official efforts toward the support and enforcement of that Amendment. I would be personally and Officially opposed to every endeavor to weaken the State Prohibition laws, and I would be personally opposed to any effort to weaken the 18th Amendment to the United States Constitution. Any such effort would be made in Congress, so that the Governor could not act officially in the matter, but my personal attitude is as stated above. As County Attorney and as District Attorney I enforce the liquor laws. I favor their vigorous enforcement and I am opposed to any attempt to weaken these laws.

Will You Pledge Your Best Personal Efforts Toward The Support Of Measures That May Be Presented For Increasing The Efficiency Of Our State Code, And If Necessary, For The Enactment Of Laws For The Prohibition Of Alcoholic Beverages For Any Purpose Whatsoever? I pledge my best personal efforts toward the support of our State Code, for the enforcement of existing laws, and the enactment of whatever new laws that may be necessary for the destruction of the traffic in alcoholic beverages. I may be understood as one who has always stood for, voted for, and spoken for prohibition and as one who wants the law kept strong and enforced with vigor.

(Signed) Dan Moody.

Tech Will Have 86 Instructors

Lubbock, Texas, July 18.—Eighty six instructors, all with high degrees and with many years of experience are included in the list of professors for the second year of the Texas Technological College which will begin, September 23, according to Dr. Paul W. Horn, President.

The school opened its initial year last fall with a staff of forty six professors but when the 1,043 students began crowding the class rooms of the new college, the faculty had to be increased in order to give the students proper attention.

The faculty and board of regents of the Tech are expecting from 1,500 to 1,750 students this year and in selecting the staff of professors to give them instruction, the best teachers available were secured.

Among the faculty, we find 12 with Ph. D. degrees; 46 with master of arts degrees and only 9 with bachelor of arts degrees.

Every student who enrolls in the Tech will have as good a staff of professors as can be found in any college in the Southwest to give him instruction. The July illustrated summer bulletin will be off the press in the next few days, according to Dean J. M. Gordon and will be sent to all of last year's students and to high school graduates over the entire state.

BILIOUSNESS

Retired Minister Tells How He Keeps in Good Form.

The Rev. Lewis Evans, a well-known retired minister, past 80, living at West Graham, Va., says: "For years I had been suffering with my liver. Sometimes the pain would be very intense and my back would hurt all the time. Black-Draught was the first thing I found that would give me any relief.

"My liver has always been sluggish. Sometimes it gives me a lot trouble. I have suffered a lot with it—pains in my side and back, and bad headache, caused from extreme biliousness.

"After I found Black-Draught, I would begin to take it as soon as I felt a spell coming on and it relieved the cause at once. I can recommend it to anybody suffering from liver trouble. A dose of two now and then keeps me in good form."

Made from selected medicinal roots and herbs, and containing no dangerous mineral drugs, Black-Draught is nature's own remedy for a tired, lazy liver.

Sold everywhere.

BIG POLITICAL RALLY DREW LARGE CROWD

afternoon.

Chairman Walker then called for Judge A. W. Gibson, district attorney, but this gentleman not being present, his opponent, T. L. Price of Post, was called for and he responded with a most happy address that entertained the crowd for twenty or thirty minutes. Price seemed to be in fine fettle and excellent humor and his address drew many compliments.

County candidates were then called, most of whom responded. County Judge C. H. Cain, county attorney L. C. Heath, county and district clerk Happy Smith and his opponent T. Cowan, Prof. H. P. Caveness, candidate for county superintendent, Justice of the Peace I. P. Metcalf, Tax Assessor J. S. Weatherford, R. B. McCord, candidate for commissioner of Precinct No. 2, and public weigher R. C. Wood, all made their announcements, some in only a few words, others in longer addresses interspersed with jokes and witticisms.

Then came the big event of the day, a joint debate on the respective merits of the two candidates for constable, between H. W. Calaway and Jake Leedy, Calaway espousing the cause of Guy Sherrod and Jake upholding the banner of Van Bates. This was intended merely as a piece of fun and as such it was a huge success. Both speakers, Calaway in particular, took occasion to make some witty thrusts at a number of things to the great delight of the audience. Both professed to be greatly offended because the Lynn County News had announced their verbal encounter as a "mock debate" and each proceeded to flay the News. Our only regret is that Franklin D. Brown did not take this matchless forensic contest down in short hand, so that the same might be preserved for the edification and delight of future generations.

The Tahoka band furnished music for the occasion, playing several airs both preceding and following the speaking program, which were great occasions in the life of Tahoka.

Thus came to a close a most happy occasion in the life of Tahoka. z

METHODISTS WILL BUILD ASSEMBLY HALL NEAR CANYON

The Missionary Societies of the Methodist Church and the Northwest District Conference have been pro-rated $10.00 each for the purpose of helping to build an Assembly Hall at the Girl's Encampment Ground in the Palo Duro Canyon near Canyon, Texas. Our President instructed each member of the Tahoka society to earn fifty cents and bring it to the meeting with a suitable rhyme telling how it was earned. The following poem was voted the best. It is by the oldest member of the society, Mrs. Adair.

For The Encampment Assembly Hall
You call on us to make some rhymes
And tell you how we earned five dimes,
That we may build in our fair land
A hall commodious, airy, grand,
Where our girls may gather year by year,
The sacred truths from God's Word to hear.

From consecrated lips each day,
Where together study, work and play
Combine to show how they may best
Serve God while mind and body rest,
Delight derive from Nature's lore,
The canyons wild and deep explore,
Refresh themselves in the limpid pool
While they attend the Bible school.
These teachers tell God's wondrous love,
Of Jesus our Savior who came from above.

To reveal to us God's gracious plan
Of redemption full for sinful man,
That these dear women who work and play
May lead them up God's shining way
May see fruits of their teaching of truth
Grown up in the hearts of joyous youth,
Hear high resolves for God to live,
For this my little bit I give,
Did you ask how this I earned?
From God's holy Word this law I learned:

One-tenth of what he puts in our hands
We return to Him to work his plans.
This is what and why and how,
I give to you this half-dollar now.
So let the work move blithely along
With study and play and worshipful song.

And that near the place no evil waits,
"Dad" o' keeps watch at the outer gates.

Eat Less and Live Longer, Says Lawyer

By W. W. O'BRIEN

Noted Criminal Lawyer of Chicago.

Business and professional men working under high nervous pressure do not live as long as men whose pursuits keep them out of doors and active. Examine the records of longevity and you will find that on the average the longest-lived men are soldiers, sailors and farmers, all avocations which tend to keep a man at his physical best.

Man, in general, rolls down the hill of life fastest when his figure is rotund. "Leanness and longevity" is a good axiom for business men to remember. If office workers would eat a little less, they would add years to their lives.

Overfeeding is as dangerous to adults as underfeeding is to children. Foods difficult to digest, or which overstimulate, should be avoided by persons whose work does not require any particular amount of physical exercise. Yet thousands of business men eat as much as or more than men who do manual labor. And, inevitably, nature rebels and sickness results.

Many of the country's foremost executives eat but two meals a day, breakfast and dinner in the evening. They seek to keep the organs of the body from becoming clogged. Thousands of other business men confine themselves at noontime to custards, puddings, soups and other sustaining dishes made with milk, or evaporated milk, which is milk in its most sterile form, from which 90 per cent of the water has been removed by evaporation. Such a diet is light and readily assimilated.

There is no more necessary lesson to be learned by the brain worker than how to keep well and healthy by proper attention to food habits.

Eating Greater Cause of Death Than Drinking

Drink is the second greatest cause of disease and death. Food comes first, then drink. Excluding alcoholic beverages, there are dozens of drinks on the market today whose effect is detrimental, particularly to children.

Milk is the best drink for children. Not only is it drink, but food as well—the most nearly perfect food known to man.

Milk is an all-the-year-round drink and for this reason the children often rebel against drinking it. This condition, however, may be overcome by the introduction of the mixed drink. Milk or diluted evaporated milk may be mixed with eggs or used in fruit juices or in some other way which will disguise the fact that the drink contains milk. In the hot summer months when the child naturally drinks more than in cooler weather, it is wise to vary the ways of serving milk, so as not to create a distaste for this important food.

In connection with mixed drinks, the following formulas for milk beverages may add mothers in serving something new:

Iced Cocoa
2 tbsp. cocoa 1 1/4 cups evap.
2 tbsp. sugar 1 cup milk
1/4 cup hot water 1 cup diluted
Few grains salt 1 1/4 cups water
1/4 tsp. vanilla

Scald the diluted milk in a double boiler. Mix cocoa, sugar, salt and add the hot water. Cook over a low flame from 10 to 15 minutes, stirring occasionally to prevent burning. Add to the cocoa the scalded milk; return to the double boiler and continue cooking for 10 minutes. Add vanilla, chill before serving. Pour into tall glasses which contain a few small cubes of ice. Serve plain or top with whipped cream sprinkled with cinnamon. Serves four.

Egg-Nog
1 egg 1 cup diluted with
Few grains salt 1/2 cup ice water
1 tsp. sugar 1/2 tsp. berry or
Few grains nutmeg cherry juice or 2 tsp. non-alcoholic
2-3 cup cold holly sherry
evaporated milk

Separate white from yolk of egg. Add salt to white and beat until stiff. Beat yolk until thick and lemon colored and add the fruit juices, nutmeg and sugar. Combine diluted milk with yolk mixture. Pour into a tall glass and put the egg white on top. Sprinkle top with chopped nuts and serve at once. Serves one.

Orange-Nog
1/2 cup orange juice 1-3 cup evaporated
Few grains salt milk diluted
2-3 tsp. sugar with
1-3 cup cold water
Add sugar and salt to orange juice and pour slowly into the diluted milk, stirring to mix thoroughly. Chill before serving. One-half tsp. lemon improves this drink for many. Serves one.

Uncle Jim Comes Back

Well, Uncle Jim will come back again, after being absent so long. Your Uncle has had an excuse for being absent. The rains came and also the hot weather. Not only that but the name of the head of a certain animal made his appearance, and O, how they have grown! They are more numerous than the candidates. I would be glad to thin them out as the candidates will be in a few days. That is one reason I have been absent so long. There is a cause for them being so numerous. I rather blame Judge Elliott and Tom Curry. If they had dehorned more of them I would not have had such a fight.

The discussion of politics is about all I can hear when I visit the towns. The people have gone wild over politics, some for one candidate and some for another, and what's it all about? There are some candidates that it will not apply to but as a rule the dollar is what they are after, not for the good of the people. Say, Rube, you elect some of them and they would not know you if they were to meet you in the road. Not only that but they would rather pay a hotel bill rather than have you sit down and eat at their table. The worst part of it is that they do not take God with them in their business. Until they do this, this nation will continue in discontent.
Say, Mr. Editor, what has become of Aunt or Uncle Tom? Has he ever emerged from the jungles?

Uncle Jim
Supt. M. L. H. Baze, now doing some educational work in Abilene, was here Sunday, the guest of Prof. G. H. Nelson. He was accompanied by his brother, Dr. P. A. Baze of Mason. Mr. Baze rented a house while here and he and family expect to move to Tahoka about August 1.
