That section of the north plains is badly in need of rain at this time, but a fairly good yield of wheat was made and an abundance of feed will be gathered in that section. This was the first visit we had paid our old home town in thirteen years, and it was indeed a pleasure to greet oldtime acquaintances once again. We found Lynn county in better shape than any other county we traversed during the trip. The cotton crop in Lynn has been pronounced in the best shape of any in the Panhandle.

More Than 1000 Attend Band Concert

The Tahoka-Post band concert, numbering over sixty-five pieces, was held at the tabernacle Tuesday night and a crowd estimated between one thousand and fifteen hundred people were in attendance, coming from adjoining counties as well as all parts of Lynn county.

The splendid program rendered by the two bands was enjoyed immensely by those present.

When it is taken into consideration that the Tahoka band is only a few weeks old and the Post band but little older, the selections rendered on this occasion was something extraordinary, and was a surprise to even the most optimistic.

Mr. Roberts, director of the Post band and Karl King, leader of the Tahoka band, are to be congratulated upon the success of the evening's program and the wonderful progress of the bands under their supervision.

A large number of Garza county people were present on this occasion accompanying their band here, and were well paid for their trip, according to the many nice compliments heard tendered the two organizations.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Thomas of the famous Thomas Quartette, Fort Worth, entertained the audience with both vocal and instrumental selections.

Miss Grace Sharman, of this place acted as pianist during the evening. Lemonade and ice cream was sold by the local band at stands constructed in the rear of the tabernacle, and a snug sum was realized for the organization.

People of Tahoka should get in behind the local band and give them all the encouragement possible. There can be no better advertisement for the town and community than a good concert band. Let every citizen stand behind the organization and make a go from the very start.

AUTO ACCIDENT

Wednesday night as Messrs. Preston Lee and W. B. They stated that the large car was on the wrong side of the road when the collision occurred. The jitney was considerably damaged, it changing ends and tearing the front end off. The car was brought to town for repairs yesterday.

EFFECTIVE PLEA FOR ZONING

Practically Impossible to Construct Proper Sewerage System Without Up-to-Date Arrangement.

The value of completely zoning a city or village is demonstrated in many ways. One of these is in the opportunity it gives the engineers to design and build sewer systems on precise information as to the character, number and use of buildings that will occupy the district which the sewer system is to serve.

The information derived from the zoning ordinance and the official maps will tell him in advance that the area to be drained is zoned, say, for a single-family district. This means to the engineer a smaller density of population, a smaller volume of sewage, smaller and smaller sewers.

Without zoning, the engineer is obliged to estimate the type and intensity of the development of any given district and design his sewers on the basis of his estimate.

If in his estimate he did not provide for large numbers of apartment buildings or hotels, requiring provision for a much greater volume of sewage and deeper basements to be drained, his sewers will be found to be inadequate to take care of the district as it finally develops.

The inadequate sewer is distressing and costly, as it means the backing up of the sewage into basements, involving the loss of property by flooding, the expense of cleaning out the silt and dirt which are deposited after the water has seeped away and the menacing health of occupants of the buildings.—From a Report of the Zoning Committee of the Western Society of Engineers.

NOT YET NATION OF RENTERS

Home Owning Is by No Means a Lost Ambition Among People of the United States.

Is home owning a lost ambition? Are we becoming a nation of cliff dwellers and renters? Not if we put faith in the figures compiled by the lately established bureau of housing of the Department of Commerce, observes the Nation's Business.

Of 68 cities of more than 100,000 population but 20 show a loss in percentage of homes owned between 1910 and 1920 (the figures are from the census bureau), and the losses are more than offset by the gains of the other 48. Of the 20 where losses were recorded, four, Detroit, Cleveland, St. Louis and Los Angeles, are in the first ten cities in point of population.

Although in New York more homes are owned than in any other city, the percentage is the lowest, but 12.7, yet even here the percentage has grown from 11.7 in 1910 and 12.1 in 1920. Manhattan presents the most striking situation. With more than half a million homes, less than 11,000 were owned, little more than 2 per cent.

If home owning be a form of civic virtue, then Des Moines may gather her chaste skirts about her as painted Manhattan passes, for the Iowa paragon among cities shows a percentage of home ownership of 51.2, a growth from 45.6 per cent in 1910 and 38.5 in 1920. In only one other community of more than 100,000 inhabitants are half the homes owned and that is Grand Rapids, Mich.

Old Houses Being Made Over.

An era of remodeling old houses runs across the entire country, according to Northwest lumbermen.

Following the building shortage of late years has come an appreciation that any house, old or new, has untold possibilities of alteration. Architects have been called upon to produce instances of "before and after" of ramshackle, barnlike structures made over into charming homes. Old barns have been rebuilt into studios, sheds and warehouses into residences of taste.

There is an enormous demand on the Northwest planing mills for moldings, trimmings, shingles, sidings, inside finishings, lumber and fancy grained fir, hemlock or cedar for cabinet work.

Lumbermen declare this demand has come from the alteration wave over the nation, repairing and adding built-in features.

How Zoning Saves Money.

It is estimated by the city engineer of the city of St. Louis that zoning would have saved the property owners about 15 per cent of the cost of sewer construction.

If this saving is true in the case of sewers, is it not equally true of the other services which combined make a mighty sum?

The chairman of the executive committee for the John Parroy Mitchel memorial, Robert Adamson, has given out through the architect, Donn Barber, this preliminary study of the tentative design for the monument to the late mayor of New York city. ## Advice by an Expert.

My most embarrassing moment happened in my college days. We had a new Scottish professor who stuttered a great deal.

It delighted my chums to have me imitate him, so at dinner I repeated some announcements, almost word for word, which he had given in class that afternoon.

Imagine my embarrassment when the professor walked up behind our table, looking directly at me, saying: "You can stutter like Mary, but I would suggest a few lessons in Scottish dialect for a perfect imitation."—Exchange.

"Tain't a lake," he contradicted.

may be filled with wonder at the number of disappointments that come into your life, frequently, at a time when you are least able to bear the shock. You are afflicted with the common frailties of mankind, you fall to pieces that others are as repeatedly by discomfitures as you. It is true, run around and wrecked, swallowed up by the sea of adversity and swept away. You are more courageous by reason of your faith in a higher power, possessing a better judgment than their summation up new strength and bravely on, refusing to lose heart because they temporarily lost sight of their goal.

This is what we all ought to do, irrespective of our many misadventures, else in rebellion we lose the right color for what he shall be his masterpiece of composition, is unspeakably disappointed when at the final stroke he is confronted with the miscarriage of his plan. So is the singer with a pleasing who, after years of hard work, finds a defect which cannot be repaired. To turn squarely about when defeated on the very threshold of success, though exceedingly difficult and humiliating, is the noblest thing to do. In this one sublime act we unconsciously uncover the true base of character, and exhibit our unsuspected virtues. The storms of ages may beat against such character, but they can neither move nor destroy it, built as it was by disappointments for an eternity of sweet content such as mortal tongues cannot describe or imaginations picture. ### SONGS O' CHEER

WHAT'S the use o' weepin'? Better days are comin' soon. Don't be cryin', but be tryin' For t' lilt a merry tune.

What's th' use o' moanin'? If th' day is dark an' drear? Clouds don't matter—they will scatter. If you sing a song o' cheer.

What's th' use o' grumblin'? If your plans go all awry? Keep on smilin' all th' while on! You will git there by an' by.

What's th' use o' kickin'? At your tough, untimely fate? On tomorrow shove your sorrow An' keep hustlin' while you wah!

What's th' use o' cryin'? 'Cause all days ain't days o' June? Prick the bubble you call trouble An' strike up a merry tune. (Copyright by Will M. Maupin.)

Special Care of Baby. That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases. Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food. A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived. Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups. MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA. GENUINE CASTORIA ALWAYS Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES—dyes or tints as you wish. A Presbyterian Next Time. Little Mary Lou, aged six, had always been an ardent Methodist, but was one day persuaded by a small playmate to visit a Presbyterian Sunday school. She was enthralled by the new surroundings and was especially infatuated with the charming young teacher who so cordially invited her to come again. "I'd like to," said Mary Lou wistfully, "if I didn't have to go to my own Sunday school. But do you know, I just believe I'd be a Presbyterian."—Kansas City Star. Client "SPILLED THE BEANS" Altogether Too Truthful in Answering Question Put to Him by His Own Attorney. "Were I giving advice to a young lawyer," said an attorney the other day, "I would advise him to be careful about placing his client on the stand. It is at least as well to know what he is likely to answer to his attorney's leading questions. Some time ago," continued the lawyer, "a case was tried in which the plaintiff's attorney certainly 'spilled the beans,' though actually it was a cargo of bread, rolls and cake that was upset. A baker's wagon had been hit by a train in spite of the 'Stop, Look, Listen' sign, and the driver sued. On the stand he was asked how he conducted himself when he came to the crossing, and he replied: 'I just trotted gently across, looking the other way and thinking about robbing in particular.' The attorney threw up the case on the spot, but it was really a lack of foresight on his part," continued the narrator. Breezy. "Hello, old man, I see you have an electric fan." "Yes; I thought I'd blow myself." Don't Kill Bullsnakes. Kansas farmers find that a bullsnake in an alfalfa field is worth at least $2.50 a month, says the Scientific American, for an acre harbors, on an average, six gophers, which damage the crop to that extent. One adult bullsnake keeps an acre free of the pests. The bullsnake is harmless, feeds also on rats and mice around barn or granary, and deserves the protection of the farmer.

HERITAGE OF HONESTY

ONE KNEW from a child that it was wrong to steal," said a very successful man who has made a fortune about being a crook. That is what saves the world," re- sponded an editor to whom he was talking. "Thank Heaven, all boys are honest. They never become crooks when they are men." That statement is in a large measure true. While children, if trained soundly, will steal, they know instinctively that stealing is wrong. They would much rather be straight. The theft of apples or watermelons peaches committed by youngsters is a mischief. Show them that it is really stealing, that they are depriving someone else

R. J. MURRAY DISCUSSES LUBBOCK AND LYNN ROADS

For some reason, we know not why, the News failed to receive its copy of the Slaton Slatonite on our exchange table last week, but one of our neighbors was kind enough to loan us their copy. A rather interesting article appears on the back page of this particular issue under the heading,—"R. J. Murray 'Pours it on' the Lubbock Paper."

A few weeks ago the Lynn County News reminded Lubbock that they were losing trade because of their inferior roads leading into the city from every direction, and particularly the horrid condition of the highway from the north Lynn county line into Lubbock. The Lubbock Avalanche endorsed the statement made by the News and appealed to the honorable commissioners of Lubbock county to make some effort to improve the situation.

Now comes R. J. Murray, mayor of the town of Slaton, who wrote Jas. L. Dow, editor of the Lubbock Avalanche a letter, in which many untrue and misleading statements were made and the Slaton Slatonite took the authority to publish the letter. When an issue like this arises in Lynn county, the citizens go to their newspaper to discuss the matter and let it discuss and tell the truth of the matter. They do not have to seek out any misinformed person to express their sentiments. That is the duty of any editor.

The News invites the mayor of the town of Slaton, and also the editor of the Slatonite, to make a tour of the two mentioned counties before he tries to discuss the matter and not expose his ignorance of the situation which was given correctly by this paper. Mayor Murray states that Lynn county has one road running across the county from north to south, when as a matter of fact the county has sixty miles of graded highways in first-class condition, regardless of the dry weather. Perhaps the graded road mentioned is the only one he has traveled. Lynn county also has over one hundred miles of other graded roads leading to the various communities, enabling the good citizens to come to TAHOKA.—The "Axle" of the South Plains, to their trading, where they can buy dependable merchandise priced right. Certainly we have no occasion to build and maintain graded highways to the town of Slaton for our citizens to attend the fire and water sales pulled off and no exchanges or refunds are made and "wormy" bacon is sold over the counter. We have made diligent inquiries of the citizens about the roads in the north portion of the county and have been unable to get any of them to acknowledge that the road is in bad condition, or that they have been guilty of trading in the town of Slaton.

The highly esteemed mayor and business man of the town of Slaton states that Slaton is located within two miles of the Lynn county line and most of their trade territory is in Lynn county. That being the case, we indeed feel sorry for the remaining part of their trade. We suppose the News has been misinformed as we were told that the employees of the Santa Fe railroad furnished the greater portion of Slaton's trade.

The mayor says: "As a matter of fact the road one mile east of the road complained of is a good hard dirt road into Lubbock, but for some reason the highway is pushed a mile further west, presumably to get that much further away from Slaton to satisfy the Lynn County News." The News editor went over this east road last Monday afternoon after being informed by one of the leading citizens of Lubbock not to try the west road as it was impassible, but to our sorrow we found the east road to be worse and more of it. Practically all of the complaints that come to this office in regard to the Lubbock roads are made by the citizens and business men of the city of Lubbock. The mayor says this particular stretch of road complained of is nothing but a sand bed. It is rather an extended sand bed then, for the first ten miles south of Lubbock either on the west or east road is the particular stretch of road we referred to and it improves very little until you come to the Lynn county line, and we wish to inform the mayor that we do not have to put up any sign to let the travelers know when they enter LYNN, in fact they could tell that much if they were blindfolded.

Another paragraph reads: "Everybody knows we can't have pikes in Lubbock county during the dry years." Wonder how Lynn county has accomplished what she has, brother mayor of the town of Slaton? The answer is plain:—Lynn County has a progressive punch of citizens and together with a set of wide-awake county commissioners, who lead in all good moves, and are not afraid to spend a little money in order to enjoy the best. Yes, we issued several thousand dollars bonds for better roads, and have not heard any one complain of the extra tax required, but instead, heard one citizen remark that he made fifteen miles west in twenty-five minutes on an emergency call and got the worth of his money spent for extra taxes on this one trip.

Mr. Murray says the bad roads are due to the dry weather. Well, when it rains there is a lake on the main highway in Lubbock county near the north line of Lynn that is impassible and the people are compelled to go several miles in a round about way to get around this lake. This handicap was not mentioned, however, in the mayor's article.

The south road out of Lubbock to the Lynn county line is not the only bad road in Lubbock county, Brother Mayor. We invite him to take a trip from Lubbock north to Abernathy and judge for himself the condition of this road. When we reached Lubbock on a tour north last week, a citizen of that place advised us to take another route unless our lives were heavily insured.

The trouble with the mayor of Slaton is he has not investigated the real condition of the roads referred to and is not capable of judging the matters he has so freely "exploded" on. The heading of his article would indicate that he was attempting to "pour it on" the Lubbock paper, when in fact he was knocking on Lynn county by grossly misrepresenting the facts in the case. The News would advise the so-called mayor to stay in his shell until he knows whereof he speaks.

For the benefit of the town mayor of Slaton, and others interested in the facts of the case, we print the actual number of miles by precincts in Lynn county, as furnished the News by the Honorable Commissioners of Lynn county:

Road mileage, Precinct No. 1:
Highway ..... 17 miles.
Other graded roads ..... 34 miles.
Precinct No. 2:
Highway ..... 13 miles.
Other graded roads ..... 29 miles.
13 concrete culverts; 2 iron tiling culverts.
Precinct No. 3:
Highway ..... 15 miles.
Other graded roads ..... 5 miles.
Precinct No. 4:
Highway ..... 17 miles.
Other graded roads ..... 26 miles.
Total value of machinery, which is all paid for out of bond money, $17,496.00.

A CHALLENGE
We challenge any county in the State of Texas to show up as much road work of the same class as Lynn County for the amount of money expended.

COMMISSIONERS COURT, of Lynn County, Texas

A weekly newspaper is the property of the community in which it is published, and not an organ in which one or two men air their views. Everyone has, or should have, a kind of proprietary interest in it—a personal interest, for often it tells of things that vitally affect you. The big daily paper tells stories of affairs of national interest; but the main purpose of a weekly paper is to set forth the happenings in its immediate vicinity. The community is as active and as good as the paper in most cases; and the paper is generally as alive and as good as the community which it serves.—Virginia Star.

Our attention has been called to the growth of Cuckie burrs along the roadside in Lynn county, and the importance of slaying the burr while in its infancy. It is pointed out that if they are permitted to grow that they will soon be scattered broadcast over the fields and roadside in the county.

The world is wantin to cut out the middle man. Just to show you how they look at it, I met a man coming down the street the other day, and he stopped and asked me if I knew where he could find an undertaker. I ask him wwho was dead; he said no one, but my wife is sick and I believe I am cutting out the middle man.

Twelve Ku Klux Klan members marched down the aisle of the South-side Baptist Church in Apilene the past week and presented the pastor with a letter containing $25.00, according to the Abilene Times.

Tahoka is bearing the honor of being the best advertised little city to its size on the South Plains. She is beginning to do things on a big scale. Building operations have been going on now for several months, and will continue throughout the winter. The street paving which is to start within the next few weeks, together with the new school auditorium now under construction, is placing our little city in a favorable light in the eyes of the world.

Jim Ferguson's swearing and ranting in his speeches cannot but impress witnesses and the public in general that Jim is in the same attitude of the drowning man grasping at a straw. He is surprised at himself to find the prize even as close as it is and is devoid of that poise of character that would enable him to go after the office in a dignified manner. Then, too, he is a rough-neck and is desirous that all rough-necks know that he is of that stripe. His actions are a blot on the state's fair name.—Clarendon News.

Don't advise the preacher how to preach—help him and he will preach better. Don't tell the lawyer how to plead, pay him and he will plead better. Don't tell the physician how he should do—pay fees and you will get better treatment. Don't tell the editor how to get out a better paper—patronize and pay for the paper and make it better each week.—Lynn Co. News.

Some people like to suggest how the paper should be run, but quite forget that "it takes money to make the mare go." It takes money to run a newspaper and those who neglect to put money in the newspaper man's till when it is owing are not helping to make a good paper. Money does not grow on trees. But money is not the only thing. A word of encouragement; a friendly hand on the editor's shoulder; a spirit of co-operation and good will will go a long way toward making the little old sheet a better one. No business institution can prosper if it is not supported and no newspaper can be all it should be if it has not the hearty support of its town and people.—Higgins News.

A LOVELY VACATION

Just listen to the experience of a Tahoka man who went on a vacation with his wife the other day. When he returned a friend asked him what kind of a time he had and he replied:

"Pretty good. But a wife's an awful handicap. We started out in our Ford and we hadn't gone two miles until my wife remembered that she hadn't put in her bathing suit, so we went back for it. When we got about five miles out she recalled that she had forgotten to ask the neighbor woman to feed the chickens. We went back again. When we finally did get to camp I had decided upon, she didn't like the location, so we went somewhere else—a place where there wasn't a fish to be caught and where the mosquitoes were as big as humming birds. Then she fussed about the flies and about the water, and it rained and she knew she would catch her death of cold, and she got to worrying for fear we had left the gas burner under the hot water heater and finally in desperation I packed up and brought her back home. Now she's telling the neighbors they had the most magnificent vacation anybody ever had and she can't hardly wait until it is time to go again, but the husband says he can. Wives are fine things, says this head of a family, but when it comes to taking them on vacations—not for me!"

What we started to say was that the Sultan of Zanzibar has fifty wives and he recently went on a vacation and took them all along.—Ex.

HE-FLAPPER DRAWS $25.00 FINE AT CANYON

The first case of arrest under the anti-flirting ordinance occurred Saturday night when a young he-flapper was hailed into the Mayor's court and enriched the city's treasury by the sum of $25. Mayor Gamble states that he is very sorry that the law does not allow a larger fine to be imposed.

The young women of this city have been continually molested during the summer by a gang of jelly beans who make regular trips to Canyon from surrounding towns for the purpose of trying to get a date. If the girls will only give the officers a little co-operation and report all cases, this class of undesirable citizens will soon make themselves scarce around Canyon.

The law is exceedingly strict on this subject. The merest effort on the part of the man to attract the attention of a woman with whom he is not intimately acquainted is grounds for arrest and fine.—Randall County News.

A new paper has been established at Groom, Carson county, Texas, known as the Groom booster.

A large number of Dawson County boys and girls passed thru Tahoka Wednesday afternoon enroute to Post where they go to attend the boys and girls club encampment to be held at Two-Draw Lake the 16th, 17th, and 18th. The encampment is composed of Crosby, Dickens, Dawson, Lubbock and Motley counties.

When a merchant sends out his monthly bills on a statement that has been bought at a drug store or from Sears Roebuck, and prints his name on the heading with a rubber stamp, enclosed in a No. 5 envelope without his return card printed on corner, you don't have to look in the newspaper for his advertisement to know the size of his business. If his stock was judged by the size of his advertisement, he'd be peddling shoestrings.—Publishers Auxiliary.

WE PAY THE PRICE FOR CARELESSNESS

More than a million dollars worth of property is destroyed by fire every day in the United States, and every year 15,000 persons lose their lives and 17,000 are seriously injured in fires.

And 87 percent of this loss is carelessness on the part of the citizens.

Not Pretty Music.
Dorothy, three years old, lives at New Albany. Her father took her to the barber shop to have her hair trimmed, and the electric clippers almost drove the little girl into spasms of fear despite the kind assurances that they would not hurt her. She had a big audience before the task was completed.
Next day Dorothy went to visit a neighbor who lived near the barber shop. Shortly after her arrival she heard music and inquired its location. On being informed that it was at the barber's she replied:
"Well, I don't think his music is pretty."—Indianapolis News.

American Money in Canada.
It is estimated that American investments in Canada for 1920 amounted to $325,000,000—more than half of the prewar Canadian investment. Some of the items of investment during the period under review are: Bonds purchased, $237,000,000; industrial investment, $50,000,000; western lands purchased, $7,000,000. It is also estimated that $80,000,000 of the $50,000,000 invested in industries went into the pulp and paper business.

"RAWTHER DEEP, YOU KNOW"

Introducing London's Latest Particular Wheeze as a Test of American Sophistication.

Says Sinclair Lewis, back from Europe with the manuscript of a sequel to "Main Street": "If I had the power I'd make Henry Mencken the pope of America. He spreads just the message of sophistication that we need so badly."

How badly we need this sophistication every American home can determine for itself by a safe and simple experiment. Mr. Lewis brought back with him London's latest wheeze. After the dishes are cleared away the head of the family can try it on his fork. It runs like this:

One chap says to another:
"Oh, I say, isn't that girl at that table the same one we saw last night?"
"I can't say. The tablecloth is too long."

If the dock gets the point it is adequately sophisticated. If the point escapes them and leaves them puzzled and puzzled it is a sign that this family, at least, would be benefited by a Menckian pontificate, for Henry spreads not only a "message of sophistication," but other things as well.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

MAY BE "LAST OF EMPIRES"

Distinction, in All Likelihood, Has Been Reserved for the Realm of the Mikado.

The imperial circle, as it might be called, is narrowing. Russia, Germany, Austria, Turkey have all passed into the twilight.

Ordinarily you do not associate the emperor business with King George, because he is the essence of the democratic spirit, and England is to all intents and purposes a crowned republic. Besides, it is not among the impossibilities that self determination will some day pluck the jewel that Beaconsfield placed upon the diadem of Queen Victoria when he made her empress of India. Japan may be the last of the empires.

So far as it is humanly possible to predict anything in these cataclysmic times, Japan will remain an empire. The zeal for the royal family—it is almost fanaticism—leaves no doubt as to this eventually. Thus, unlike some of his European colleagues, Prince Hirohito is sure of his succession if he lives. He need never worry about radical intrigue.—Isaac F. Marcusson in the Saturday Evening Post.

In His Father's Steps.

Several years ago a great man, now gone, walked in Rock Creek park. He delighted to plow through brush, wade in the creek and take unsuspecting friends on long hikes.

On his return, walking at a rapid pace down Sixteenth street, he always had a smile and a wave of the hand for the children who greeted him along the way.

He put the cares of his great office away when he went out to play.

The other day three men, one in the lead, came walking up rapidly from Rock creek and cut around the base of the lion house hill in the zoo.

The leader was bare-headed and had on an old red sweater.

"Come on, Nicky," he called to a man behind him.

So the party disappeared around the hill, led by Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.—Washington Star.

Muscle Increases Egg Supply.

Two young lady graduates of Toronto university are the owners of a poultry farm a few miles east of Toronto. They have been very successful. To lovers of music one of the ladies recently said something that is very interesting.

"Do you know that hens love music? Some time ago a ferret got into our henhouse and terrified our hens so much that the eggs fell off from 150 to 75 a day and we couldn't get them back to normal. One day a girl who was staying with us was working for several hours in the henhouse and she sang lustily the while. There was a marked improvement in the number of eggs, and we continued the experiment with success. We afterward heard of a farmer who installed a gramophone for his hens and got 5 per cent more eggs as a result."—Exchange.

OPPOSED CREAM IN COFFEE

Frenchman, a Century Ago, Ascribed All Sorts of Human Ills to the Custom.

Arsene Thiebaud de Berneaud, librarian a century ago to the Bibliotheque Mazarin, Paris, opposed with ferocity the then comparatively new custom of adding milk or cream to black coffee. The latter, in the author's language, was "consoling, joyful and, I had nearly said, spiritual" in its effects. But let ever so small a quantity of milk or cream be added and the result upon the human economy was most disastrous.

Since the dawn of this vicious custom pneumonia and consumption in the cities had increased one-half and rural communities formerly immune were now beginning to show cases of these ailments.

According to Le Progres Medical, which obtained the above information from a new popular review, La Connaissance, de Berneaud claimed that many eminent physicians shared his opinions. He seems to have had an obsession that all mixtures of fluids were injurious, and extended his prescription of milk addition to tea, chocolate and spirits. Sustained by this pre-conceived notion, he was able to publish a long diatribe in 1828, in which he accuses cafe au lait of causing almost every derangement known to medicine. But, rabid as he sounds, he was fatuous enough to admit that perhaps 10 per cent of the people might be tough enough to drink cafe au lait without disastrous results.—New York World.

BUILDING UP BUFFALO HERDS

Department of Agriculture Has Made Gratifying Success With This Part of Its Work.

Forty-six new buffalo calves are reported on three of the four game preserves maintained by the biological survey of the United States Department of Agriculture for the special protection of buffalo. On the national bison range, in Montana, there are 417 buffalo, including 28 calves born this spring. Fifteen calves are reported at the Wind Cave preserve, in South Dakota, and 8 at Niobrara, Neb.

The department has been very fortunate in maintaining the herds established at these three points and at Sullys Hill, North Dakota. There are relatively few large buffalo herds now scattered over the country, and the biological survey has made special efforts to provide suitable ranges and protection for what threatened a few years ago to become an extinct species of native American animal.

Wasn't, but He Did.

One day as I was sitting in the window I saw a man coming up the street dressed like a farmer. Now I had but a few minutes before seen a goose trying to fly over the bushes in the yard.

As the man seemed to be looking for something, I called out to him: "Are you looking for a goose?"
He stopped short and gazed suspiciously, as much as to say, "Well, it looks as if I'd found one."—Exchange.

"After the birth of my baby I had a back-set," writes Mrs. Mattie Crosswhite, of Glade Spring, Va. "I was very ill; thought I was going to die. Many people may be going past your store every day to buy something you could sell them at a lower price than they are paying---and why? The other fellow invited them to buy---that's all. You did not.

TELL OF PREHISTORIC TIMES

University of Chicago Professor Reads History in Specimens Thousands of Centuries Old.

Enormous ferns, gigantic rushes and club mosses and strange-looking trees, many of them more than 100 feet in height and with needles of two or three yards length, and a host of insects, among which huge dragon flies and cockroaches apparently predominated, once inhabited a swamp at Braidwood, Ill., according to Adolf C. Noe, professor of paleobotany at the University of Chicago.

Professor Noe reconstructed this picture of the vegetation and animal life of prehistoric times from fossilized remains found in Skinner mine No. 2, in the Braidwood district, fifty-seven miles southeast of Chicago.

"The Braidwood mine," Professor Noe stated, "is now the best place to find fossils in northern Illinois and has somewhat replaced the famous Mazon creek deposits in popularity with collectors."

"The coal is found at a depth of forty-nine feet and directly above it is a grayish shale which the miners call soapstone, and which contains round calcareous stones. If you crack these stones with a hammer they split into half like a sandwich, and on the inside of each half you see the impression of fern leaves and other plants of the coal era. Also insects, fishes, crawfish and other small inhabitants of land, water and air are found, but the plants are most predominant."

"A considerable number of plant species can be listed from Braidwood and we are able to reconstruct in our imaginations a lively picture of the vegetation of these long, bygone days."

"There was once in Braidwood a swamp which stretched far east, west and south, and which was inhabited by enormous ferns, gigantic rushes and club mosses, and strange-looking trees which had needles of two or three yards length. Many of the trees of that time must have been more than 100 feet in height, as we can judge from the size of the trunk and leaves."

"The animal population of these swamps contained small reptiles, amphibians, fishes and a host of insects, among which enormous dragon-flies and gigantic cockroaches seem to have been predominant. There were no butterflies, no war-blooded animals, no birdlike reptiles, no flowers. Probably the only colors which living nature provided were green, brown, yellow and black. The sounds were the croaking of froglike amphibians and the noise produced by cockroaches and dragon-flies; no singing of birds, no chirping of crickets."

"A strange world! Of the enormous vegetable masses which fell into those swamps the coal beds were formed, and 100,000,000 years passed away before man came and ultimately utilized again the sunlight and heat which had been stored up in these millions of tons of coal."

"Ade" on Postage Stamps.
Advertisements, reports the Westminster Gazette, are to appear on the back of British postage stamps and on the walls of the post office, according to a statement by Mr. Kellaway, the postmaster general, at the 1920 club. Mr. Kellaway hopes to derive a substantial revenue from the innovation, stating that he was "not going to plaster the post office with advertisements, or have advertisements on the back of stamps, unless there was a decent return to be got out of it."

He stated that the post office had invited tenders from contractors for these advertisements. The Westminster Gazette understands that the advertisements will be affixed to the stamps before the gum is applied.

Although the work of obtaining advertisements and fixing the terms is to be delegated to contractors, the notices will have to be approved by the postmaster general. It is understood that all classes of advertisements except those dealing with alcoholic liquors will be accepted for approval.

Whisky Not Necessity of Life.
Whisky is not a necessity of life, even for a Scotchman in the tropics, according to a decision reached in the courts of Nairobi, Kenya Colony, East Africa, after lengthy legal arguments, reports the London Express correspondent.

The question arose over a case in which a grocery store sued a minor for goods supplied. The law says that the only debts which can be recovered from minors are those incurred in supplying the necessities of life. The debt in question included an item of three bottles of whisky. It was argued for the prosecution that as the minor was a Scotchman living in the tropics whisky was a necessity, but his arguments were overridden, and an order made for the debt, minus the value of the three bottles.

Shyness of Sandy.
In a rural district of Forfarshire a young plowman went courting one evening. In vain he racked his brain for some interesting topic; he could call up no subject at all suitable for the occasion; not one sentence could he utter, and for two long hours he sat on in silent despair.

The girl herself was silent; she no doubt remembered the teaching of the old Scotch song: "Men maun be the first to speak," and she sat patiently regarding him with demure surprise.

At last he exclaimed suddenly: "Penny, there's a feather on your apron!"

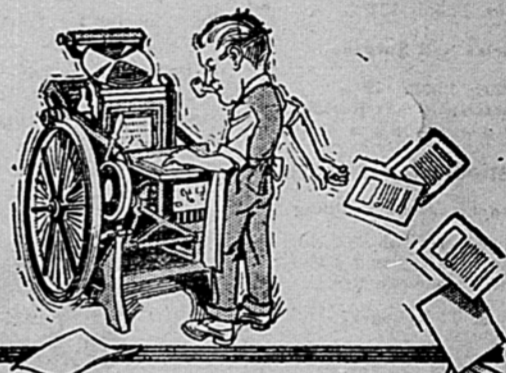

"I widna ha'e wondered if there had been two," said Jenny, "for I've been sitting aside a goose a' night."---The Scotaman.

THANKS TO THE VOTERS

Seagraves, Texas, August 15, 1922
To My Friends and Supporters:
To every man and woman of the 119th Legislative District, who cast their ballot for me for Representative in the recent primary election, I wish to extend my sincerest thanks and appreciation. Although I did not receive the nomination I did make new friends enough to more than repay me for all the time and effort put forth. I shall never forget you nor the encouragement you so heartily gave me.

And some day if the time and circumstances seem favorable I may again place my political destiny in your hands, and perhaps next time the gods of politics will smile more kindly upon my efforts. To those who voted against me I bear no malice or ill will. I probably deserved to lose. Eller Wilcox summed up my philosophy of life when he said: "WHATEVER IS, IS BEST." I have no swan song to sing. I made a fair clean race and lost.

I shall go to the university as intended, and while there try to prepare myself for a larger and broader field of service to the people of West Texas. I shall be glad indeed to be counted as an humble private in the ranks of those who are seeking to build a greater civilization on these broad and fertile plains. It shall be my aim and purpose to help uphold the hands of our Representative in his fight for a fair and just consideration of the needs of West Texas.

I remain, Gratefully yours,

CHAS. W. ROBERTS.

Vote for the right man in the primary election Saturday.
