ANOTHER GOOD RAIN ON SUNDAY

Prospect Is Now Bright For Good Yield Cotton and Feed

Another splendid rain visited this last Sunday night, beginning in the evening and continuing to the night. The Government gauge showed a precipitation of .4 inches in this city.

The rain, on the heels of the big rain of a week before, brightens up County crop prospects still more. Farmers who a few weeks ago were worrying about whether they were going to have any cotton to pick are now wondering if they can get enough to get it all out.

Farmers who have made the rounds of the county the past few days all say things looking mighty good prospects fine.

SUN WILL BE IN ECLIPSE, SEPTEMBER 10TH.

On the afternoon of September 10 the sun will be in eclipse. Lynn county citizens should get their smoked glasses ready for that occasion and see an almost total eclipse. Shortly after 2 o'clock the moon will pass between the sun and the earth and cause darkness—so much so that the chickens will go to roost, the birds will hide away in the trees and the use of lights will be necessary to carry on business. The total eclipse will be in Southern California, while here it will be about 80 per cent total.

CAR STOLEN

H. W. Callaway residing in the Draw community, had the misfortune last Tuesday Aug. 28th, to have his car stolen at the Lubbock Tech celebration. He reported his loss to the officers before he retired and left his room number and name of the hotel with them and they called him about four o'clock in the morning telling him they had located the car. But H. W. thought he would wait until daylight, but when he went to the place directed the car was gone again and the next time he heard of it several days afterwards it was north of Lubbock stripped of casings, spark plugs and everything that was removable.

LOCAL GINNERS ATTEND MEETING AT LUBBOCK

The News omitted mention in last issue of the meeting of South Plains giners at Lubbock last Saturday. Local giners were in attendance. This is your community; many of the unsaved are your best friends. Think on your way! Know what you think of Christ and why. Come praying for your friends and loved ones; come trusting in your mother's God; come seeking "the way, the truth, and the life." "Back to the God of our fathers and our mothers" is the battle cry! Now for a revival of real religion that is a power in men's lives and a joy in their hearts. There's something to it! CONTRIBUTED.

CAR WRECK

Sunday afternoon, John Davidson, and Red Garrison of Paduach who are visiting the family of R. S. Davidson, with Claude Davidson were riding in a practically new Ford coupe some seven miles north of town and in trying to pass a car turned over in a ditch completely demolishing the coupe.

None of the occupants were seriously hurt, only a few slight scratches and cuts from the broken glass. Red Garrison was injured more than the others but he is able to be about. The boys regret very much the loss of the car but are indeed thankful their lives were spared.

When they started to pass the boys in the car ahead of them, they were on the right side of the road but before they passed they turned to the left and it was either a case of running into the car or the ditch and they chose the ditch.

AMARILLO ROTARIANS SAY BAR SILK HOSE IN SCHOOLS

Amarillo, Aug. 31.—Proposal that high school girls be prohibited from wearing silk hose was made at the Rotary Club luncheon Thursday noon at the Amarillo Hotel by W. A. Askew, member of the club. His proposal came on the heels of an educational program proposed in which school officials were the principal speakers.

He asked Superintendent W. A. McIntosh if such a rule couldn't be enforced here, saying he had noticed in the press of such action being taken by school officials in other cities. Superintendent McIntosh replied in the matter of economy. Other members offered comment on the proposal chiefly in a joking manner, but it did not get before the club for a vote.

Askew said it didn't affect him in any way, but he thought it would be a good thing.

Nervous Break-Down

MRS. ANNIE LANGE, of R. F. D. 1, Burlington, Tex., writes as follows regarding her experience with Cardui: "Some time ago I had a nervous breakdown of some kind. I was very weak and so nervous. I had fainting spells and suffered a great deal, but more from the weak, tremble, no-account feeling than anything else. I knew I needed a tonic, and needed it badly. I began the use of Cardui to see if I couldn't get some strength, as I knew of other cases that had been helped by its use. I soon saw a great improvement, so I kept it up. I used seven bottles of Cardui, and can say the money was well spent, for I grew well and strong. Am now able to do all my housework and a great deal of work besides."

If you are weak, run-down, nervous and suffer from the ailments peculiar to women, it is very likely that Cardui will help you, in the way it helped Mrs. Lange and has helped thousands of others, during the past 40 years. Ask for, and insist on, Cardui.

The cotton picking season in Lynn County will soon be in full swing. There is various opinions as to the yield for the 1923 crop. SOUND ADVICE

The Tahoka News says that 5 cents per line will be charged for obituaries of the people who send away for their job printing; 25 cents per line for all business men who do not advertise; while 15 cents per line will be charged to delinquent subscribers who are passing out to the New Jerusalem. Bad policy, Haynes, and not founded on the love of the Lord. Why not give these poor unfortunate at least a complimentary write-up before they are ushered out into an unknown Eternity. Speak well of all men when they come to the parting of ways. Their future is doubtful and we ought to be as kind to them as possible.—Scurry County Times.

INEXPERIENCED.

Down in Texas the short cotton crop forced a large number of colored negroes to the cities. They applied for a job at one of the large employment agencies.

"There's a job at the Eagle Laundry," said the man behind the desk. "Want it?" The applicant shifted uneasily from one foot to the other. "Tell you how it is, boss," he said finally, "I sure does want a job mighty bad, but the fact is I aint never washed no eagle."

1923-1924 SCHOOL PROGRAM

By Phebe K. Warner

Here it is, institute week again. Teachers are hurrying from their hiding places in the mountains and the canyons and the cities and colleges and everywhere. The summer is no longer a dull waste of time and money for the teacher. The summer school is paving the way to thousands and tens of thousands of degrees, diplomas and permanent certificates that never would have been achieved if it were not for this new order in educational institutions. No one needs to waste a month of their time any more. They can combine summer vacation, recreation, sight seeing, travel and college degrees all in one grand summer and be the wiser, healthier and happier for the combination.

But there comes a time when everybody, even teachers, must get back to normal and that time is usually about the first week in September. It's a great week. It is, we believe, the greatest week in the whole year. Because it is such a universal week. Everybody is thinking about the same thing that week. School, college, university. From the little tots who are to go to school for their first day up to the stately seniors who are entering their last year of school work, all minds and hearts are bent in the same direction.

But what is the biggest educational institution of all? There is not a doubt about it. It is the public school. It is the school that lays the foundation for all other education. It is the school where children either learn to love knowledge or they learn to hate knowledge. Most of us love to learn. Most of us love to know things. It is not the knowledge we learn to hate. It is the method of gaining knowledge we learn to hate. And sometimes the method is so repulsive that we would rather go without the knowledge gained at school than to go through the torture of gaining it. And especially is this true of boys and girls from seven to fourteen years of age. Just the age of the primary and intermediate grades.

Now just how much does the average school boy or girl of this age know about education, its needs, its value, and the necessity of it in his future life? Not much. And that is the chief reason they do not care whether they stay in school or not. And as a result of this condition and all its subsequent effects the public schools of the United States loses 90 per cent of all its pupils by the time the children reach high school age. And all the State and county taxes spent on our children for free education after they reach the high school grades is spent on an ever dwindling one-tenth of the children instead of a strong, enthusiastic ten-tenths.

For these and many more reasons, do you not believe it would be a profitable hour spent in any of our institutes if the teachers from all over the country who have been away to the mountains and to college and to the seashore this summer to get together and help one another plan a 1923-1924 program of school activities for the whole school and better still for the whole community where ever YOU are to teach? Why? Because a change of work and thought and action is as essential to holding the interest of children in school as it is to a business man. And beside everybody likes to do things. And in a few years from now the children who are in school now will be doing all the things that will be done. Why, school days just last a little while. Why not fill them to the brim with doing things? Doing things that they will remember long after most of their history and algebra lessons are forgotten. And when you get a boy or girl interested in doing things for the good of the whole school it ties them onto the school and makes them have an interest in going back the next and the next year.

"Well, what will we do?" some tired teacher says who has almost worked herself to death trying to do everything herself to make her school interesting. She has tried athletics, but there were not enough big boys or girls either in her school to have a whole game of any kind. That's it. There is just where you need to plan with some other teacher and see if you can not get your schools together and do something like other schools. But let's think in terms of the county for a minute.

There is the county school fair that will give every child in the county a chance to prove what he can do in any kind of work in the school or out of it. It gives the children of the least little school by the side of the road a chance to demonstrate what they know about everything in their whole country. Yes, it will take time to have a county school fair. You may have to let a few algebra or latin or ancient history lessons go to get time to do all the things those children will want to do to beat the other school. But do not forget that that work is developing these children more than an extra lesson in their books might do.

And another thing that would interest every child in the whole county would be to know right at the start that this year he is going to have his picture in the county annual. You could not do anything that would hold all the children and interest all the people in your county in the school work like the county school fair and the county annual. Lots of work and some expense. But it is results you are working for. These will bring results.

And the rural lyceum will never be worked out until the rural teachers work it out. And the county organization of Parent-Teachers is another big opportunity to do county work. Here is a whole field as big as the nation that has hardly been touched. Oh, if we can all succeed in ever substituting some of the ceaseless and monotonous grind of school work for a few school activities that cover the whole county then there will be some thing interesting going on for every teacher and pupil in the whole county.

And another interesting work for every school in the county is the school news, a monthly publication published in the interest of and by the efforts of the children of all the schools. A few counties published their school paper last year and nothing stimulated every school more than a desire to have something worth while in the school news about their school. See your home publisher the first week of school and find out what kind of a trade you can make with him. And the work you do for the school news will go a long ways toward helping work up the county school fair and the county school annual.

But the best part of such plans is that it brings the town schools and the country schools together in one big work for all. And you may not know it but it is all drawing the patrons of the whole county closer together in their educational interests and slowly but happily paving the way for equal educational opportunities for every child in the county. It's coming. But it will come slowly. We will have to learn to think and work together for a few little things before we will be trained to work together for the greatest change in education in the 20th century. A rural high school within reach of every child in the whole county and equipped to fit every boy and girl in the county to make an honest living rather than a few high schools in the cities built and equipped to fit one boy and girl in 300 to enter college. It's coming some day. Let's all work together to help it come to be ready for it when it does come.

Sunday School Lesson

LESSON FOR SEPTEMBER 9

JOHN MARK

LESSON TEXT—Mark 14:51-52; Acts 14:19; 26:13-15; Acts 15:36-40; II Tim. 4:11.

GOLDEN TEXT—'Whoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might.'—Eccles. 9:10.

PRIMARY TOPIC—John Mark, One of Paul's Helpers.

TUNING TO—'The Man Who Followed'—D. Agate.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Warning and Encouragement From the Life of Mark.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Mark's Contribution to Christianity.

I. Mark's Home Life (Acts 12:12).

He had the wholesome influence of a Christian home, for his mother was a godly woman. There is no heritage to be compared to that of a godly home. Nothing has such a far-reaching influence upon the life of a young man as the memory of a praying mother. Even when it was so perilous to be known as a follower of Jesus, she was not afraid to have a prayer meeting in her home.

II. Mark With Jesus in Gethsemane (Mark 14:51, 52).

At the sight of the Roman guard, the disciples all forsook Him and fled. This timid had still followed the Lord till laid hold on by the young men. He then fled, leaving behind him his linen garment. This Gethsemane experience doubtless had a decided effect upon his life.

III. Mark a Servant of Paul and Barnabas (Acts 12:25-13:5).

Mark was with the company when Peter told of his wonderful release from prison. This, doubtless, made a great impression upon him and was the beginning of his desire to accompany the missionaries of the cross. He was not a missionary on the same footing as Paul and Barnabas, but an attendant upon them to look after their needs.

IV. Mark Deserting Paul and Barnabas (Acts 13:13).

We are not told the cause of this desertion. Three conjectures, one or all of which had a bearing upon his action, are offered.

1. Homesickness. His home was of easy circumstances if not wealthy. As they were carrying the gospel into the rough, mountainous country, occupied by rough, half-civilized people, the meekness of this young servant was tried. We ought not to condemn him too readily, for we know how trying it is to leave home when struggling against the rough world. While sympathizing with him, we must remember that duty is stronger than the tender ties of life. The time comes when the soldier must spurn the ties which bind him to father, mother, wife and children, in response to the call of duty. The missionary must turn his back upon home, native land, and friends in his devotion to his Lord.

2. Diabelf in Foreign Missions. There was a common prejudice among the Jews against taking the gospel to the Gentiles. When he saw that these missionaries were going to the "regions beyond," his prejudice may have caused him to turn back.

3. Cowardice. The dangers before them were not imaginary but real. The missionary today faces awful dangers: climate, wild beasts, deadly serpents and insects, and savage and cannibalistic men. However, fear is no excuse for cowardice because we are linked to the Almighty by faith; there is nothing in heaven or on earth that can harm us. Courage is required of those who would do the Lord's work.

V. Mark With Peter in Babylon (I Pet. 5:13).

Some years after Mark's desertion, when Paul and Barnabas were arranging for a second evangelistic tour, they had a sharp dispute over the question of taking Mark with them. Paul would not consent to Mark's accompanying them, so "they departed asunder one from the other." Mark went with his uncle. By this time he must have been cured of his cowardice for we see him associated with Peter in Babylon.

VI. Mark Honored by Paul (II Tim. 4:11).

Paul is now an old man in prison. Mark is a middle-aged man associated with Timothy at Ephesus. Mark had proved himself, for Paul gives the pleasing testimony that "he is profitable unto me for the ministry." Mark is an example of one who made good in spite of his early backsliding.

Heroism. The world's battlefields have been in the heart chiefly; more heroism has been displayed in the household and the closet than on the most memorable battlefields of history.—H. W. Beecher.

You Must Be Calm. The language of excitement is at best but picture-que merey. You must be calm before you can utter oracles.—Thoreau.

Little People. I love these little people and it is not a slight thing, when they, who are so fresh from God, love us.—Dickens.

Greatness and Truth. If any man seeks for greatness, let him forget greatness and ask for truth, and he will find both.—Horace Mann.

NEW RADIATOR IS ANNOUNCED BY FORD FIRM

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 31—Introduction of a higher radiator, bringing new and improved body lines to all types of Ford cars, is announced today by the Ford Motor Company.

The changes have just gone into effect and the various types are now in production.

While the larger radiator has been made standard on all types and while it has made possible, other betterments in body design, there is no radical departure in construction, but rather a general improvement which has resulted in more graceful lines.

The new radiator sets an inch and a half higher than the former and has an apron at the bottom which joins a similar apron effect of the fender on either side, giving a highly finished appearance to the front of the car. The larger radiator also increases cooling efficiency.

Most conspicuous among the new types is the Ford Coupe which is of entirely new body design and construction, resulting in a more trim exterior appearance, more comfortable seating arrangement and a greater luggage carrying capacity.

From the dash there is a graceful sweep in the cowl to the radiator bringing a pleasing effect to the front. The doors are wide and open forward making access and exit easy. They are heavily framed for rigidity and strength. The compartment at the rear has been enlarged to afford increased carrying capacity. The gasoline tank is under the seat, with divided cushions to afford easy filling of the tank from the right side making it unnecessary for the driver to leave his seat. Ventilator in the cowl and a visor over the windshield add much to the attractiveness of the car. A new rear fender of more sturdy character also is a feature.

Interior fittings are of choice material and the arrangement of the deeply cushioned seat has been effected so that at the rear there is a small recess shelf for carrying parcels. The rear vision window is much larger and oblong in shape. Door windows have been equipped with revolving type window regulators and door locks are provided. Side windows are equipped with the lower type window lifters.

Marked, too, is the improvement in the Four Door Sedan. Highly popular since its introduction a year ago, because of its low graceful lines, the car now presents even much better lines and a sturdier appearance.

This has been brought about by the installation of an entirely new cowl with a graceful sweep from the dash blending into the larger hood and radiator. The change also affords an increase in leg room for occupants of the front seat.

In the open types, the Touring Car and Runabout, the cowl has been enlarged and flows in a graceful curve to the higher hood.

The result brings a most pleasing effect to the exterior appearance of both types. The improvement in the Touring Car which came when the one man top and slanting windshield were introduced, is greatly enhanced by the larger radiator, the car appearing lower and more attractive than ever. The effect on the Roadster is likewise most appealing, giving it a more rugged and sturdy appearance.

The new radiator also is extended to the Ford Truck chassis, affording improved appearance and better cooling to delivery services.

These new Ford types and the generally recognized performance ability of the Ford under all motoring conditions, promise to bring a greater demand than ever before as the public becomes more fully acquainted with the higher standards and greater values which have been incorporated. No changes are contemplated in prices.

SIMMONS LOAN FUNDS

Abilene, Texas, Sept. 5—Some fifty young men and women, students of Simmons College, are enabled each year to complete their school work through the use of the Loan funds available to worthy young people at this institution. The first donation to the Loan funds was made about fifteen years ago by J. B. Ashburn of Jones County, who gave $500; this was the beginning of several gifts made in memory of loved ones.

Friends of "Charlie" Taylor began a fund a year or so ago in his name, which has already reached about $1500. The boy evangelist takes an offering in each one of his meetings, donated to the fund.

The greatest interest in the Simmons Loan funds came following the sudden death of Miss Rosabel Breedlove, a famous and much loved campus figure. She was preceptress of Smith Hall for a time, and later head librarian for many years. Her father, a pioneer West Texas lawyer had much to do with the founding of the college. Miss Breedlove was a great friend of poor worthy young people struggling through school. It was found at her sudden death in 1922 that she had made application for a $25,000 insurance policy dedicated to this purpose, and had already been accepted as a good subject. The first premium had not been paid through delay on the part of friends who had promised to help her carry the policy. The senior class of that year started a fund with $1000 in her memory. Women of the First Baptist Church of this city took up the work, and with assistance of churches through the West have kept 12 or 15 girls in school each year. The plan is to make the fund ultimately $25,000.

SOUTH PLAINS FAIR

Lubbock, Sept. 5.— Things are shaping up right for the greatest Panhandle South Plains Fair ever held in this section. The New Livestock Judging Pavilion has been completed and will give the livestock a real sawdust Show Ring, with seats for spectators, a wash rack for livestock and other conveniences found in a regular high class livestock department. Stall capacity has been increased approximately 50 per cent.

Work is starting this week upon the enlargement of the Agricultural Building. This building, 60x120 was completed last year and was believed to be large enough for five years at least. Already it is more than full with 12 County Exhibits and a 40 foot addition is being put onto it giving the fair a 160x60 Agricultural Building.

The greatest interest is following the County Exhibits since the first winner at the South Plains Fair last year won second place at the State Fair at Dallas, only being beaten by Lubbock County whose products were selected from the individual Lubbock County Exhibits at the same fair. This year at least three of the first five winners at the State Fair are expected to come from the counties showing at the South Plains Fair and the counties are already preparing their exhibits with care.

Increased and Enlarged Womens' Department

A decidedly new and modern Womens' Building is under construction. It will be ceiled inside and out and will be the best building yet erected on the Fair grounds. It will be more than double the size of the old womens' building—which, by the way, becomes the Poultry Building for the coming fair. Special built in shelves, cases and other features will add to it's service as a womens' building. It will be a better and more complete building than is now used at the State Fair to house the Womens' department. Special invitation is extended the women of the Plains to study that department in their catalogues and plan for exhibits.

The catalogues are out and are being distributed. The greatest demand ever known for catalogues is already being felt by the Secretary's office. An interesting feature of this year's catalogue is the write up of each of the South Plains counties entering an exhibit at the Fair, with pictures, facts and general information that will make the book worth reading in addition to the premium lists contained in the back of the book. Write the Secretary for a copy.

Entertainment Program Most Complete

The greatest entertainment program ever attempted has already been worked out for the coming fair. Seven bands have entered the band contest and will provide music each day of the Fair and in the Evenings. The Fire Works appropriation was more than doubled and some real features are promised each night in that department. More than $3,000 have been spent for Free Entertainment of various kinds including two big free acts, each day by troupe of trained animals, aerial acrobatics, clown stunts and other features. This entertainment alone has cost the Fair more than $1,250.00.

An attendance of more than 50,000 is being prepared for during the four days. When 40,000 people came to Lubbock for the Tech celebration a new highwater mark was set on single day attendance for any kind of celebration in Texas. The total of the four days at the fair must break this record and every indication points to the fact that it will.

$5,000 worth of Fair Stock is available and is being sold upon the same terms and provisions that the other $15,000 worth has been sold—namely that it will NEVER pay the holder one cent in dividend, a free ticket, or any other return other than the pleasure of having a part in building a great Fair for the Plains country and West Texas.

ENTERTAINMENT OUTLINE GIVEN FOR EXPOSITION

An outline of the entertainment for the Amarillo Tri-State Exposition September 25 to 29, has just been announced by R. D. Rogers, chairman of the committee. His committee has been at work for several months in lining up a program that it is believed will please the thousands of visitors that are expected to go to Amarillo for the exposition.

A fire works display by a nationally known firm will be one of the features. Details of this display will be announced later, but it is declared that the Panhandle has never seen a fire works display that equals it. A mammoth American flag, so realistic that it is surprising, is the grand finale each night for the fire works display.

Petite Marguerite, heralded as the dainty miss with a nerve of iron, will be one of the real attractions in entertainment. She will be here the afternoon of September 25 and give an exhibition, suspended by her hair and glides on a wire from the top of one building to another. This stunt probably will be performed from the Amarillo Hotel to the Mission Theater. While she is suspended in the middle of the block, Marguerite will sing a song. To the person who mails in the name of the song that she chooses to sing by September 22, her manager will give a cash prize of $25. This selection of a song should be mailed to the entertainment committee of the fair, care John B. Gilvin, secretary-treasurer. A real one-ring circus. There will be mules, dogs and monkeys in an entertainment that will please adults and children. "Spot", the greatest of all bucking mules, will be in Amarillo in all his glory.

Other entertainment features will be announced with full details in a few days. Practically all the amusement features have been contracted for, according to Mr. Rogers.
