Lionel Barrymore, Franchot Tone Also Featured In Story Dealing With Early Days In Washington

Joan Crawford appears for the first time in a costume role, essays a dramatic characterization and has the support of several of Hollywood's outstanding players in "The Gorgeous Hussy," a fictionalized version of historical events occurring in the nation's capital in the days of the Andrew Jackson administration. The film is at the Ritz Sunday and Monday.

Robert Taylor is given co-starring position, appearing as one of the men who become the husband of the "hussy." Lionel Barrymore also is featured, playing as President Jackson. Franchot Tone, Melvyn Douglas and James Stewart are others prominently cast.

The film is based on Samuel Hopkins Adams dramatic story of a girl who started out as the daughter of a Washington inkeeper in the picturesque time of Jackson and who ultimately became a glamorous and important figure in the capital scene and also the topic of every wagging tongue in the city.

The girl, Peggy O'Neal, falls in love with John Randolph of Virginia but is received coolly by him. She later is swept off her feet by the ardent attentions of Bow Timberlake, a young naval officer and becomes his bride. He is killed at sea, and she becomes, later, a Washington widow of importance in the social and political scene. She has also become the ward and trusted friend of Andrew Jackson, and is his intimate associate after the death of his wife.

Her love for Randolph is renewed and he later comes to love her. Her plans for marriage with him are interrupted, however, at the request of her "Uncle Andy" Jackson, whose political beliefs differ with those of Randolph and who cannot lose the girl at a trying time. Peggy ultimately sacrifices her real love to patriotism and marries John Eaton, minister to Spain, leaving the country with him to ease tension in the U. S. capital.

The story is based on historical incidents, but is fictionalized for dramatic purposes. As a background for the romance and the political maneuvering in a day when the issue of states' rights was at its height, are the scenes of early-day Washington.

Robert Taylor has the part of Timberlake, Miss Crawford's first husband. Melvyn Douglas appears as John Randolph, Franchot Tone as the minister to Spain and James Stewart as a newspaper correspondent who befriends the "hussy." Others in the cast include Allison Skipworth, Louis Calhern, Beulah Bondi, Melville Cooper, Sidney Tiler, Gene Lockhart, Frank Conroy, Nydia Westman and Charles Trowbridge.

Shirley Star Of Feature At The Lyric

Plays With Guy Kibbee, Slim Summerville In 'Captain January'

The fascinating adventures of a little waltz and her two grizzled old sea-salt friends furnish the story basis for "Captain January," a colorful Shirley Temple picture which opens a three-day run at the Lyric theater today.

Somewhere on the rockbound coast of Maine the action of this delightful picture is set. She is a nimble-toed little lady of a light-house, adored and jealously guarded by old Guy Kibbee, the light-house keeper who had fished her from the sea years ago.

Her other old salt friend, Slim Summerville, constantly bickers with Kibbee, but when authorities threaten to take the little girl away, the two old sailors present a united front.

Despite their strategy and an attempted flight to sea in the night, the inevitable happens, and Sara Haden, the truant officer, takes possession of Shirley. But no for good, however, because unexpected friends turn up to bring Shirley and Kibbee together again, and the picture to a happy close.

Shirley executes her toe-tickling new dances in company with Buddy Ebsen, who was a sensational Ziegfeld Follies dancer, while her old songwriter Lew Pollack, composed the music for her three new hit tunes.

June Lang, Jane Darwell, as the lady who has her heart set on Kibbee, and Jerry Tucker are prominent in the supporting cast of "Captain January."

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Parker left Saturday night for Chicago where they will visit with friends and relatives until the middle of October.

Queen Offers Bing Crosby Musicomedy

Joan Bennett, Mary Boland, Others In Cast Of 'Two For Tonight'

One of Crooner Bing Crosby's popular comic hits, "Two For Tonight," is the program headliner at the Queen theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

The picture not only offers some of the tuneful melodies which Bing makes popular, but it also emphasizes the comedy element more than other Crosby pictures.

Supporting the singer are Joan Bennett, who plays opposite him in a romantic role; and Mary Boland, who appears as Bing's enthusiastic if slightly befuddled mother.

The story has to do with the efforts of a young composer and playwright to have his work produced on the stage. He has the backing of his mother and two brothers; but their efforts in his behalf sometimes complicate matters. The composer finally manages to win an interview with a noted producer, thanks to help from the producer's secretary (Miss Bennett) but the award of an option helps but little when Bing and his entire family move in on the producer. The composer has his misunderstandings with the young secretary, but in the end she helps him win success and happiness.

Payments Due On Road Bonds

State To Remit Million And A Half On County Obligations

By RAYMOND BROOKS
AUSTIN, Sept. 25.—The state board for county and district road indebtedness is getting ready to pay out more than $1,500,000 state money next week to relieve counties of this amount of interest and principal on road bond issues applied to state highway construction.

Most of the money—all but approximately $180,000, is for interest, as most of the principal amortizations are paid in the spring. The payments are made out of the gasoline tax applied to retiring county and district bonds, and in theory gave counties tax reductions of this amount. The board actually is paying twice as much as provided from state sources, since many counties send in their own part of maturities for the state board to pay along with its share.

Typical of the payments from state funds Oct. 1, all for interest are: Wichita county, $23,943; Cameron county, $19,314; Harrison county, $16,690; Jefferson county, $8,199; Lamar county, $14,153; Nolan county, $12,487; Nueces county, $31,961; In McLennan county, $5,339 will be paid on principal and $16,093 in interest. Harris county will benefit by payments of $19,984 on principal and $45,344 in interest.

Tom Green and Howard counties had no maturities of either principal or interest due at this time.

Modern Home Is Furnished For Comfort

Period Furniture Is Made For Moderns; Indirect Lighting Is Popular

By MARY DAVIS GILLIES Prepared by McCall's Magazine for The Herald

Even if you don't like modern furniture, you should be grateful for it. Because of modern furniture, you can now get better period furniture in any period you like—more beautiful, more comfortable, better made and much truer to the spirit of originals.

In the first years of the modern style, the effort of the designers was to be different—and they were—as different as possible from the familiar honey-colored finish, a new-old finish has been developed—a beige gray rubbed down old pine. It's lovely against some of the new reproduced wallpapers with mustard yellow grounds, soft sage green and blue, in quaint chintz designs.

Another notable group is in 18th century mahogany, including tables and desks for almost every use. They are beautiful enough to be the treasured heirlooms of tomorrow.

Indirect lighting fixtures are no longer the homely articles they were when engineers first sprang them on the public.

Of course, direct light, and enough of it, should be used to supplement indirect lighting which is fast growing in popularity. The experts say that at least five lamps are needed for any room, and that four should be at least 120 watts. The indirect light, they say, should be at least 250 watts.

Some of the new indirect lighting fixtures are really charming. And they need not be all modern. Old Victorian lustres, in modern version, are delightful in a modern dressing room in gray and crystal—the inverted bowl, is white frosted glass shaped like a flower chalice and hung with long triangular crystals.

Original, indeed, are a pair of Sheffield champagne coolers, fitted with indirect lights and used on a buffet in a dining room with eighteenth century furniture. The light is soft and ideal added to the candles on the table.

Greek urns filled with indirect fixtures come in many interesting forms. These are popular on pedestals in halls and are just right in

Miss Peggy Boykin, daughter of Mrs. James A. Boykin, who will be married in the morning at 10 o'clock to Mr. Ray Kitchens of Fort Worth. The ceremony will be performed by Rev. R. E. Day at the First Baptist church in the presence of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Koberg Also Is Speaker At School Of Instruction

Mrs. Charles Koberg and Mrs. Thomas Head, district chairman of Parent Education of San Angelo, were the principal speakers at the Parent-Teachers association school of instruction which was held from the First Methodist church Friday afternoon.

Inclement weather caused a decided slack in attendance at the school which was sponsored by the Parent-Teacher council. Approximately 25 representatives and speakers were present. With the exception of East Ward every school was represented.

Mrs. Hayes Stripling was in charge of the program and called the meeting to order. Mrs. G. C. Schurman then led the group in a number of songs following which Rev. C. A. Bickley led in prayer.

Mrs. Charles Koberg was then introduced and spoke on the standards or goals which were set by the Parent-Teachers association at the 1934 convention. Among the most important ones she listed these: An opportunity to assume responsibility through membership; be active, pay dues; use budget program; plan work a year in advance; Parent-Teacher associations must be kept free of religious and political discussions.

Following Mrs. Koberg's interesting report the assembly gathered in groups for conferences. Mrs. Thomas Head conducted a class for presidents. Mrs. Hayes Stripling for first vice presidents. Mrs. H. W. Smith for third vice presidents, and Mrs. Joy Stripling, for chairmen of publicity.

Following the conferences Mrs. Thomas Head spoke on Parent Education. She stressed particularly the necessity of mothers and fathers being educated to the needs and course of study which is being followed by their children. She explained that not only those parents who have children in school but those parents of pre-school children should be educated to enable themselves to cope with the problems that will present themselves when their children enter school.

She also discussed and emphasized the tremendous importance of the secretary of each association keeping a complete record of each meeting and a list of those members who pay their dues for the benefit of those officers who will follow and need the books as references for their years work.

The Sports Circuit

THE RANGER football team this year is light, young and inexperienced, Bill Mayes of the Ranger Daily Times tells us. Fourteen of last year's squadmen failed to pass their grades and are not eligible to play this season.

BIG SPRING junior footballers have two games scheduled with the Midland 2nd team. The locals play at Midland on Oct. 10, and the Bullpups return the game on Nov. 7.

HORACE MATTHEWS of Lamar and Ross Moore of Odessa, both junior college transfers, are out for the College of Mines (Ed Paso) football team.

A BET on pitchers for the first game of the world series: Gomez for the Yankees and Hubbell for the Giants, both southpaws.

EASTLAND had a fine defensive club but the Mavericks failed to show any offense. Steers should have won that game by at least three touchdowns. Steer quarterbacking was good only in spots, but kids turned in a fair job considering their limited experience.

LOUIE MADISON came out of the game with a broken hand.

EDD "OX" KEYES of the San Angelo high school coaching staff crowded into the press box Friday night to scout the Steers and Mavericks for the Bobcats. The Cats play Eastland this week.

COACH KITCHEN of Eastland ran true to form and switched player jerseys, making identification difficult.

RAIN CAUSED one of the big lights on the west side of the field to burn out, and that took $16 out of the athletic fund. Big Spring probably made a little money on the game, but very little.

OVER CONFIDENCE is said to have been a contributing factor in the defeat of the Brownwood Lions. Sweetwater took them 6 to 0. San Angelo lost to North Side of Fort Worth, one of the weakest teams in the Cowtown sector. Ranger looked more like a last place club in losing to Strawn, but Breckenridge looked powerful in walloping Cleco, and Abilene played a jump-up game by holding the strong Lubbock West. A 6-6 tie. Breck and Abilene are the strong contenders.

FOLLOWING IS the schedule for world series games: 1st game, Wednesday, Sept. 26, Polo grounds. 2nd game, Thursday, Oct. 1, Polo grounds. 3rd game, Friday, Oct. 2, Yankee stadium. 4th game, Saturday, Oct. 3, Yankee stadium. 5th game, if necessary, Sunday, Oct. 4, Yankee stadium. 6th and 7th games, if necessary, Monday, Oct. 5 and Tuesday, Oct. 6, Polo grounds. All games start 1:30 p. m. EST. In case of postponement, game scheduled for that park will be played the following day with no interruption in schedule.

BAYLOR BEARS BEAT COWBOYS

WACO, Sept. 26.—The Baylor Bears came through with a 13 to 0 victory over the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys of Abilene Saturday, scoring both touchdowns in the first quarter.

The Cowboys fumbled on the three-yard line and Baylor covered. Masters scored around end. Gernand passed to Russell for the second score, which followed a fumbled punt.

RED RAIDERS DEFEAT HORNED FROGS

TECH TEAM IS VICTOR BY 7 TO 0

By HANK HART LUBBOCK, Sept. 26.—Out-playing and outclassing the highly touted T.C.U. Horned Frogs throughout the four quarters, the Red Raiders of Texas Tech pulled a major upset here tonight by defeating Dutch Meyers' eleven, 7-0.

Jim Neill took a pass in the third quarter from the hands of Demp Cannon and raced some 15 yards for the only score of the game. Only once did the Froggies threaten.

Late in the last quarter, Sling Sam Baugh opened up with a desperate passing attack with Pat Clifford and Walter Roach as receivers and succeeded in penetrating the Texas Tech 20 yard line. A long pass from Baugh to Clifford put the ball on the Matadors' 11-yard line.

Two aerial attempts failed, two line plays netted only two yards, and the Matadors took possession of the ball.

Thereafter, Tech remained in possession of the ball most of the time. Never once did a T.C.U. back really get open. The Lubbock boys held a wide advantage in scrimmage play and Neill, if anything, out-passed the Sweetwater back.

The Raiders piled up eight first downs to the Froggies' four. Red Ramsey was the outstanding star off the defense. A bitter north wind, dropping the temperature in the low 40's kept the crowd down to around 11,000.

Major (Lawrence) Biff Jones Fixed For Punters

NORMAN, Okla., Sept. 26.—The fans won't be the only ones who get a kick out of University of Oklahoma football this fall. Major Lawrence (Biff) Jones, Sooners coach, has no fewer than five punters who saw service under fire last year.

The five are Elmo Hewes, Woody Huddell, Bill Breeden, Raphael Boudreau and Webber Merrell. Breeden and Boudreau won games last year with field goal kicks.

The Oklahoma team last year averaged 41 yards on its punts, compared with 31 yards for its opponents. The Sooners also blocked seven punts and a placekick, while only two of their own punts were blocked.

Fighter KO's Manager Refusing To Change Name

DETROIT, Sept. 26.—Fanis Zsanzopoulos, Greek fighter, won't change his name. He refused his manager, William McCarmey, saying: "My name Zsanzopoulos, Zsanzopoulos my father's name, Zsanzopoulos my grandfather's name, Zsanzopoulos great name, Zsanzopoulos never, no never, change from Zsanzopoulos, Zsanzopoulos good enough..." But here the manager passed out.

School Head Writes Trick Numbers Book

NEW YORK, (UP)—A book of more than 100 number tricks which puzzle and amuse, yet require no mathematical skill, has appeared. The publishers say that "Easy Number Tricks for Young and Old" will provide a diversion as entertaining and stimulating as crossword puzzles. The book was written by Joseph C. Brown, superintendent of schools of Pelham, N. Y., and published by Strathmore Company, Aurora, Ill. It contains puzzles depending on phonology, others solvable by reasoning, and mathematical phenomena.

Hard-Charging Louisiana Boys Get Away To A Flying Start

BATON ROUGE, Sept. 26 (UP)—Displaying an alert, hard-charging team, Louisiana State got off to a flying start tonight by whipping the Rice Owls 20 to 7 before a crowd of 25,000. The victory eased the memory of a 10 to 7 setback the Owls handed Louisiana last season.

Rice, facing a heavier, more powerful team, made a spirited showing but barely threatened. LSU scored in the opening period, LSU on a 65-yard run by Reed. Coffey counted for the Owls.

Cross plowed through the line in the second quarter for another LSU touchdown, and Tinsley recovered a fumble over the goal line for the other.

Minnesota Has Finest Grid Training Room

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 26. (UP)—Appropriately enough, the mighty Gophers of the University of Minnesota have one of the finest training rooms in the nation.

It is fitted in the cavernous depths of Memorial stadium. The walls are radiantly white. Shiny, efficient-looking devices hang suspended over numerous long white tables, around which a corps of trainers, clad in white, move swiftly.

One of the glittering machines is a "muscle relaxer." This sends rapidly vibrating currents through an injured arm or leg of an athlete and generates heat which removes stiffness and pain.

A huge ultra-violet ray machine is in constant use during the football season. Its duties range from chasing slight colds to killing possible infection on skin torn by removal of tape or by scrimmage contact.

There also is an infra-red ray machine. This penetrates deeply into muscles, removing stiffness and soreness.

Another device is an "automatic exerciser," which sends currents through stiff muscles, causing them to contract and relax, over and over again.

In one corner is a small-sized bathtub. Through this alternate streams of hot and cold water can be run. This reduces swelling from sprained ankles.

However, most of the work in the training room can be classified as "preventive measures," which consist mainly of meticulous, careful taping.

All the backfield men have their ankles taped to prevent strains and sprains in sudden turns and pivots. The linemen have their wrists and hands taped to strengthen them against the sudden impact of a helmeted opponent.

Lloyd Stein is head trainer, while Dr. George Hauser, line coach of the Gophers, is the chief supervisor of the training department.

Triumph Starts Minnesota On Way To Another Perfect Season

SEATTLE, Sept. 26 (UP)—The University of Minnesota opened the 1936 football season today by slapping the University of Washington Huskies for a 14 to 7 victory.

The triumph started the Gophers on the way to another national championship and safely protected their undefeated record of three successive seasons.

The battle was a tussle until the final period when the Minnesota warriors made their breaks and took advantage of them to put over the winning touchdown on a perfectly executed pass.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26. (UP)—The Chicago Cubs, fighting for a tie for second place in the National League, pounded five St. Louis Cardinals pitchers for a 12 to 2 victory today.

The defeat cut the Cardinals' margin to one game and on tomorrow's final contest of the season rested whether they will occupy second place alone or in company with the Cubs. A tie will mean the two teams split second and third place money.

Home runs by Phil Cavarretta, Augie Galan and Johnny Gill paced the Cubs' 19-hit attack on Jim Winford, Bill McGee, Ed Heusser, Cotton Phippen and George Earnshaw.

BOVINES PLAY TIE GAME WITH BIG EASTLAND MAVERICKS

MEET LIONS THURSDAY IN B'WOOD

Although held to a 0-0 tie in their first conference game of the season, the Big Spring high school Steers are not considered entirely out of the race. The District 3 consolation game will go to work in earnest Monday, patching the weak spots and polishing the attack for the Brownwood Lions Thursday night in Brownwood. The 0-0 draw with Eastland will go down in the district record book as a tie game, as district bouts in the Oil Belt are not decided by penetrations or first downs.

The Steers held the advantage all during the game, especially in the final stanza, but lacked a scoring punch. Several times in the fourth quarter the Bovines fought to within a few yards of pay dirt, but each time the big Eastland forward wall tightened and repulsed the attack. Weldon Biggins, who did not start the game because of an injury suffered in practice, broke into the lineup and turned in a creditable performance in the waning minutes of the game.

Practically all of the game was played in a downpour of rain and the field was slippery. Coaches Brown and Brandon substituted freely and almost every man on the squad got into the game.

Lack of experienced balloters was quite evident, but considering the handicap of having to play in the rain on a water soaked field, coaches were pleased with the showing made by the young scrappers.

Statistics showed that the locals held a big advantage. They came through with nine first downs to only one for the visitors. Eastland's lone first down came mid-way of the second period when Samuels, 126-pound quarterback, skipped wide to the left from his own 25 to the 50 where he was dumped viciously by Madison.

The Steers had only one squeeze in the first stanza. Penalties set the Bovines almost on their goal line but Harris booted the water-logged ball out 35 yards and Jones failed to gain on several line plays. Big Spring made only one first down in the first period. Trainer was getting away for short gains on reverses but the march was stopped when the local "11" fumbled and lost the ball about mid-field.

Eastland managed to pick up only three yards from scrimmage during the initial period and Samuels, who did the passing and punting for the Mavericks as well as a great deal of the ball hugging, hurled fire aerials with four incomplete and one intercepted. Officials saw to it that the Steers were well penalized, taking them for 45 yards in the first quarter. The total was run to 70 for the game.

Longhorns got better organized in the second period and Woods and Haininger got away for a few nice gains. Woods threatened to break loose several times, and then decided to do a little passing, hurling a nice one to Henninger who juggled it for a few seconds but let it get away just at the moment when it looked like a touchdown play.

Steers played most of the third

WINGBACKS A PRIMER OF THE WARNER SYSTEM

By TINY THORNHILL

(Sixth in a series of 12 daily articles prepared by the coach of Stanford's Rose Bowl champions in collaboration with Russ Newland, Associated Press sports writer.)

The double wingback, which is an integral part of the type of football attack used by Stanford, was a natural and logical development of the single wingback formation.

At the Carlisle Indian School in the early part of this century Glenn Scobey Warner evolved the "Carlisle tandem." In this radical departure from the standard T formation, wherein three of the backs stood bunched behind the quarterback, the backfield quartet swung inward tandem fashion from a point behind the right end.

The unbalanced line was contemporary. The backfield formation was the forerunner of the single wingback.

In 1912, while still at Carlisle, Warner produced the "double wingback" operating behind a balanced line. He moved the ends out a yard and stationed the halfbacks behind them—wings of the back line. The fullback and quarterback remained in the middle, one slightly to the left and the other to the right of center, and on a line with the halfback.

The present double wingback formation is widely used on the nation's gridirons is the outgrowth of that football experiment of more than 20 years ago.

First Of Three Game Series Scheduled In Dallas Sunday

DALLAS, Sept. 26. (UP)—Rain and wet grounds caused postponement today of the Texas League baseball pennant play-off game scheduled to be played here tonight between Tulsa and Dallas. The first game of the three-game series here will be played tomorrow, weather permitting. Tulsa has won two games.

The Steers will use Vic Frasier, ancient right-hander, in an effort to stop the Oilers tomorrow while Manager Marty McMapus will fire Newell Kimball, ace of the Oilers staff, at the Eovines.

Unless the Oilers finish it with quarter in Eastland territory but were never in scoring position.

The fourth quarter was all Big Spring's but the breaks were against the black and gold and the game was over just as the herd organized for another drive. Early in the fourth stanza Biggins was the ball to the nine-yard stripe on off tackle plays. Woods went wide to the right for a five-yard gain but Settles and Biggins failed to penetrate the big Eastland line and Samuels booted out.

The Steers had the ball on the four-yard line when the game ended.

R. Taylor, the Mav line backer, turned in a fine performance, as did Jones, big speedy half, and Samuels, 126-pound quarterback.

Steer-Eastland game dope:

PASSES
Big Spring tried five, completed one for 11 yards, three incomplete, one intercepted.

Eastland tried five, four incomplete, one intercepted.

YARDS FROM SCRIMMAGE
Big Spring 169 yards, Eastland 54 yards.

YARDS LOST SCRIMMAGING
Big Spring 11 yards, Eastland 31 yards.

FIRST DOWNS
Big Spring 3, Eastland 1.

PUNTS
Big Spring—Harris punted 13 times for an average of 31 yards; Smith punted twice for an average of 36 yards.

Eastland—Samuels punted 17 times for an average of 31 yards.

PENALTIES
Big Spring, 10 times for 70 yards; Eastland, six times for 30 yards.

FUMBLES
Big Spring fumbled twice and recovered both times; Eastland fumbled nine times, recovered seven, lost two.

PUNTS RETURNED, distance—Big Spring—Madison returned nine for an average of eight yards; Settles returned one for three yards.

Eastland—Samuels returned four for an average of five yards; Jones returned one for three yards.

Repairs Along 'Median Line' Helped Giants

Terry Had N'York Giants Flooded With Center-field Insurance

(Second in a series of four daily stories about the world series outlook.)

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK, Sept. 26. (UP)—One of the soundest axioms of baseball is that a club can not win unless its median line is infallible—and it is this more than any single factor that explains the pennant-ward surge of the New York Giants.

Draw an imaginary line from home plate through the mound and second base out to centerfield and you have the nerve center of a club. There lies its finesse, its brains and its nerve. When this line weakens, the club goes to pot.

It was the collapse of this vital center-line that permitted two pennants to elude the Giants—and, to make it more galling, they were pennants that appeared to be won. Caustic, café coaches branded the team as quitters after it bogged down in 1934. They also said the pitchers were tired—which they were—but the real answer was that the flag was lost in center field.

Terry, with the shambles of his dethroned champions about him, pointed to center. "Davis," he said, "could have won for us; it was my error that I let him go."

Memphis Bill referred to George Davis, a fancy ball-hawk who had been turned loose because of light hitting. Davis is back with the Giants now and when defensive measures are needed to retain a lead, he gets the call over any of the current Giant fielders.

Line Cracks Up Again
The Giants took out a lot of centerfield insurance for 1935. They brought big Hank Leiber up from Nashville and saw him turn into a .330 hitter. They also purchased Jimmy Ripple from the Montreal club of the International league with a tag for 1935 delivery.

So, fortified in center field, the Giants made one of their quick get-aways and appeared to be spreading the 1935 National league lead. Then came trouble. The big drive on the Manhattan side of the Harlem slipped out of gear, and when it was over, the Cubs were in and the Giants were nudged out of second money by the Cards.

Here again the line was at fault. Master Scrapper Dick Bartell had been fetched over from the Phillies for $75,000, but the aging Hughie Critz, with his anemic .187 batting average, and the two subsequent replacements were neither able to lead the necessary stability, and the Giant keystone combination, which should have been one of the fanciest in the majors, was less than mediocre.

Top Double-Play Team
After this second tallspin, Terry sent big Leroy Parmelee—a disappointment as a pitcher—and a bundle of cash to the St. Louis Cardinals. He got Burgess Whitehead for second base, and a better trade the skipper never made. Whitehead, 270-pound punch, which was a net gain of 33 points over his predecessor, and his ability to cavort around the keystone bag gave the Giants the lift they needed. He and Bartell, after a slow start, suddenly developed into the smoothest double-play combination in the league. Today the Giants are tops in double plays, just as they are in fielding generally.

With Carl Hubbell on the mound, the Giants' median line has an edge over any team in baseball. Another tremendous factor has been the reliability of Gus Mancuso, who catches Hubbell and whose hitting has climbed to the .300 mark. Next to Mel Ott, Gus has driven in more runs than any other Giant.

Curiously enough, it has been Jimmy Ripple, the rookie from Montreal, who has finally claimed the center field spot as his own. Leiber's slow start gave the red-headed one the chance he was looking for, and now, except against southpaw pitching, he gets the starting nod.

So there you have that line of nerve and strength without which no club can hope to get far. It is, perhaps, the tops in the league, and it is one reason why Bill Terry's Giants are where they are today.

'INDIAN JOE,' GENE LABELLE MEET TUESDAY

Herb Parks And Bob Cummings To Furnish Rasslin'

Yaqui Joe, broad shouldered Indian who takes his wrestling seriously and goes about the boning-grinding in a business-like manner, will meet the one and only Gene La Belle in the main event grappling match at the athletic club arena Tuesday night.

La Belle, well known around wrestling strongholds as a case for the riot squad, will find Yaqui Joe a nice clean boy who stays within the bounds of the arena and of the rule book. But Joe is never talked out of a match. His powerful scissors holds have made the best give up.

Gentle but fearsome Herb Parks will go for thirty minutes with Bob Cummings in a match that promises to be fast and furious. The semi-finalists will furnish the real wrestling. Parks is given the edge because of his speed and experience.

Texas Technological college of Lubbock will be represented in the opener by Dave Lutteral, a 165-pound speedster. He will battle Joe Bauer, rugged and rough German.

Granville Is Race Winner

William Woodward's Horse Takes Money; Giant Killer Second

NEW YORK, Sept. 26. (UP)—William Woodward's Granville scored his fifth straight victory today, capturing the Lawrence Realization Stake at Belmont at 5-8th miles. W. M. Jefford's giant killer was second and Mrs. Payne Whitney's Memory Book, third.

The great son of Gallant Fox was a prohibitive favorite at 1 to 5. Giant Killer paid 7 to 5 for place and Memory Book 2 to 5 for show.

Fordham Has Good Team But May Lose All Games

NEW YORK, Sept. 26. (UP)—Fordham has the biggest, fastest, and most promising football squad in years, but if they don't win a major game Coach Jimmy Crowley won't be surprised.

"I feel at home with this squad because they're big and I can't pronounce their names," says Crowley, "but we're playing so many tough teams that we can have a good year and still lose almost every ball game."

By tough teams, Crowley means Southern Methodist, St. Mary's (California), Pittsburgh, Purdue, Georgia and New York U., all of which meet the Rams in New York.

Duck Season Is Open Early For Pampa Man

PAMPA, Sept. 26. (UP)—Duck season is not yet open to anybody in Texas but J. D. Pawlik, farmer near here.

Today he received authorization from William J. Tucker, state game, fish and oyster commissioner, to slaughter wild ducks and geese which he complained were ruining his crops of trawls, kaffir corn and hogan. The application for the permit was approved by the county judge.

Pawlik and his neighbors anticipated duck dinners, with plenty of ducks, tomorrow.

Few Reserves Chief Concern For Princeton

Seven Regulars All Crisler Can Muster Among 13 Lettermen

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 26. (UP)—A team of "fighters" to replace last year's model of "all stars" is the pre-season characterization given the 1936 Princeton university football eleven which swings into an eight-game schedule when it meets Williams in Palmer stadium on Oct. 3.

And the Tiger grid men will need plenty of fight. They not only face such formidable opponents as Penn. Navy, Harvard, Cornell, Yale and Dartmouth on successive weeks, but the squad of 75 called to report for practice Sept. 15 will be minus the services of 15 lettermen—players who compiled a record of only one defeat in three years competition.

There are 13 lettermen returning, and seven of them regulars from last season, but stars like Gil Lea, Johnny Weller, Gary Le Van, Paul Faulk and Pepper Constable are hard to replace. Fritz Crisler may well be able to mould one powerful eleven out of this material, but it will not longer be backed by another team of invincible substitutes.

Back and End Needed
Crisler himself sums the situation up as the need for "a first string end and a first string fullback" and the development of replacements among the sophomores. "The question of physical condition will also be of vital importance, for the injury bugaboo can play havoc with the Orange and Black if permanently allowed to enroll in the Nassau grid camp.

Capt. Bill Montgomery, termed by line coach Ted Weiman the "most perfect" guard he has ever coached, heads the list of returning veterans. By his side will be Steve Cullman, the fullback, who will be expected to surpass heights as center last fall after beginning the season on the third team.

George Stoess, tackle for two years, and Fred Ritter, his running mate last season, will be back to spend their final season in these key slots. And not to be forgotten is Charlie Toll, the 6-foot 5-inch giant who runs like a 70-second man.

Toll will reserve tackle last season and since it is quite certain he cannot dislodge either Stoess or Ritter, he will probably be shifted to a varsity berth at end.

Sandbach At Quarter
Six veterans are on hand for the backfield positions, led by Ken Sandbach, who called signals for the undefeated Crisler machine last fall. Jack Irwin, Chick Kaufman and White being regulars, while Dean Hill is the only experienced fullback on the squad.

The line situation is most acute at the flanks for the lettermen who graduated included four ends, three guards and two centers. Charlie Toll and Bill Rawls, another letterman, look like the best wing bets, while Bob Stanley and Rip Van Winkle, both with two years of varsity experience, are available as Montgomery's running mates, and under the Crisler system the guard really "runs."

Bill Lynch, former all-Connecticut fullback, who played for the freshmen last fall, the most likely successor to the shoes of Pepper Constable. Lynch was troubled with a head injury all last season, however, and the fullback post may fall to Hill, who weighs but 170 pounds.

Good Sophomore Material

LUKE APPLING HOLDING LEAD IN AMERICAN

Paul Waner, Phelps, In Hot Natl. Circuit Race

NEW YORK, Sept. 26. (UP)—Luke Appling of the White Sox took an apparently unbeatable lead in the American league batting race during the past week, while Paul Waner of the Pirates and Brooklyn's Babe Phelps continued their hot National league fight right down to the finish.

Appling gained six points to climb to .388, holding a ten-point edge on Earl Averill of the Indians, in second place, as the season went into its last two days.

Waner fell six points during the week to go into a virtual tie with Phelps for the National league lead. The Pirate pounder had a batting average of .372, while Phelps, who neither gained nor lost for the seven-day span, had .372.

Crisler says, "as the reserves go, so probably will go the Princeton team." One might safely add that as go Penn. Navy, Harvard, Yale and Dartmouth so, inversely, will go the fortunes of the Orange and Black.

Two New Points —now play a part in banking policy.

1. Public psychology has lost those elements of fear which produced such uncertainty during critical periods in recent years. Public confidence has returned, particularly in respect to the banks throughout the country. As a result bankers know that their deposits will be stable, subject only to the normal currents of inflow and outflow. These changed conditions have enabled banks to return to a broader loaning policy toward their customers.

2. This return to normal sound banking conditions has been fortified in several respects by provisions in newly enacted banking laws. Without going into the technicalities, we might say that they create facilities which give the banks more "elbow room" in respect to utilizing their resources in granting sound loans to their customers.

THE TENANT AND FARM OWNERSHIP

The fact that the president asked Senator Bankhead and Congressman Jones to prepare a bill to aid tenant farmers to become farm owners holds out the promise that effective steps will be taken ere long in connection with the tenant problems. The solution of that problem, it is generally agreed, is ownership. Surveys have revealed that the chances are overwhelmingly against the tenant's becoming an owner under existing conditions. It is difficult for him to get far enough ahead to make the down payment on a farm; the interest rates which he must pay take too large a share of his earnings. It is apparent that ownership must be fostered by some agency other than those conducted for private profit, so that easier terms and lower interest rates may be offered.

There are many difficulties in the way of that method, and the president was aware of them when he remarked that the problem is not going to be solved overnight. He had in mind the realities of the problem. He knows that there are many tenants who do not want to become owners, who want to feel free to move on to some other section. It is true of Texas and of the other cotton states that some of the ablest and most successful farmers are tenants. They rent from choice, not from necessity, knowing that ownership is not exactly an unmixed blessing.

It is going to be difficult, furthermore, to work out an ownership plan that does not involve a measure of regimentation. The experience with the subsistence farms and the resettlement work offers examples of the troubles that bureaucratic oversight develops. There will be tenants who, acquiring farms of their own, will presently wonder if a hard-hearted landlord is any worse than an officious federal agent.

The tenant system is a deeply rooted growth and the cure is not going to be accomplished in a year, or a decade, or a generation; but the sooner the nation comes to grips with it, the better for all concerned.

★ Man About Manhattan ★

By George Tucker

Vignettes in kaleidoscope, as glimpsed on a safari through the show belt after dark:

Sophie Tucker and four taxis of luggage streaking for the waterfront and the Normandie. Tallulah Bankhead's apartment, with cigarettes curling from every ashtray, all bearing traces of the Bankhead lipstick. Barbara O'Neill, the actress, curtsying to a sign advertising a play in which she will appear. The 17-year-old dancer in a supper club whose father grows coconuts in the south seas.

Max Reinhardt and Crosby Gaige in earnest conversation in the twilight of 45th street. Helen Gleason, "Met" opera singer, all happily flustered at a surprise party on the Marine Roof. Dario and Diane drifting through their waltz at the Rainbow Room, in an aura of moonlight and champagne.

Henry Hull, who created the character of the depraved Jester Lester in "Tobacco Road," passing the theater where the play still runs. His next characterization will be Edgar Allan Poe. Monty Proser, the theatrical man, talking prize fight with Carl Brisson, the Dane, in the French Casino bar. Brisson, star of the coming Romberg operetta, "Forbidden Melody," thrice held the amateur heavyweight championship of England—which should be a warning to critics who don't like his acting.

Jane Pickens, "Follies" star, having a golden buck in Dave's Blue Room. Max Gordon attending the premiere of a play that he had once planned to produce himself, and applauding it. The out-of-town newspapermen waiting back stage to congratulate Helen Hayes. Ricardo Cortez trudging up the gangplank of a trans-Atlantic liner with an armful of novels.

The hack driver at 3rd and 42nd street who once had a try-out with the Boston Braves. Joyce Arling, the girl of "Boy Meets Girl," meeting a young man at the theater door. The former Corinne Griffith (remember?), who is now Mrs. George Marshall, greeting friends in the Waldorf lobby.

Julie Jenner, "Follies" beauty whose domestic difficulties are in the headlines, dancing at the Paradise. Casey Stengel, ringmaster of the Ebbets field circus, talking world series in a downtown oyster bar. "I'd buy you boys a drink," observes Casey, "but I've only got $2 and I've got to buy some ball players.

Street peddlers hawking political emblems—the elephant and the donkey. Edward G. Robinson smoking furiously between acts one and two of a new play (he always smokes furiously when he is displeased). Robert Montgomery standing at 48th street gazing at a sign that is a miracle of lights—a sign that screams, "Starring Robert Montgomery."

Katharine Grainger, whose charcoal sketches usually portray Amazon creatures and prehistoric monsters weighing thousands of pounds, is the town's smallest artist. Four feet, seven, she weighs only 85 pounds and is 27 years old.

The Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DEWEY FEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Soundings which the securities exchange commission has taken of the stock market indicate that it is in healthier shape than at any time in years.

Little speculative buying exists, the SEC experts say, and the buoyant condition of the market is due almost entirely to healthy buying on the part of the public.

Buying by the public can be disastrous when conducted on too large a scale and when based on marginal operations. But SEC findings are to the effect that this is not now the case.

Private prediction of SEC insiders is that the market will continue firm and tending slowly upward for some time. They pooh-pooh the rumor about a market break conducted by Wall Street just before elections in order to shake public confidence, and say that it would be difficult if not impossible for the Street to force such a break with the market in its present condition.

True Fairy Story
Fairy stories sometimes do come true after all. At least that's what democratic leaders in Connecticut decided the other day.

For many years J. Henry Roraback has been virtual dictator of Connecticut republicanism. The giant utility magnate has made governors, senators and presidents. At present he is both state chairman and national committeeman. In appearance and actually Roraback is the personification of the GOP old guard.

Yet, marvel of marvels, he took the floor of the republican state convention the other day, and delivered a fulsome eulogy of Gov. Wilbur L. Cross—a democrat. The astounding declaration threw the meeting into an uproar. Frank E. Healy, former attorney general, leaped to his feet and bitterly assailed Roraback. Roraback smiled and didn't trouble to reply.

Later he drove from the republican convention to the hotel where the democrats were holding their convention. And to their awed astonishment he walked in.

Attired in a blue serge coat and white flannels, Roraback greeted the speechless democratic chiefs with breezy nonchalance. Finally State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Michael A. Connor asked him: "You aren't lost, are you, Mr. Roraback?"

"Oh, no, just dropped in to pay a neighborly call and say hello."

By this time Governor Cross, who had been told of Roraback's presence, came up.

"Hello, Mr. Roraback," he said. "What are you doing here? You're not figuring on joining us?"

"No, not that," laughed Roraback. "Just dropped in to see how you do business."

"We have no trade secrets. You're welcome to watch us work." "Thank you, governor." And after a few more pleasantries he sauntered off.

Indirect Taxes
Ever since Governor Landon raised the indirect tax issue in his Buffalo speech, new dealers have been working secretly to make this question a boomerang against him.

They are planning to dramatize the fact that Herbert Hoover was responsible for many of these indirect taxes. This they plan to expose by announcing Roosevelt's intention to repeal 12 excises, or indirect, taxes first enacted in 1932, the closing year of Hoover's regime.

Twelve of these Hoover taxes are scheduled for the axe when congress convenes. Under-cover surveys regarding them already are under way in preparation for sending repeal recommendations to the White House.

Articles covered by the 12 taxes are: Tires and inner tubes, toilet preparations, furs, jewelry, automobiles, motorcycles and auto parts, radio sets and phonograph records, mechanical refrigerators, sporting goods, firearms, shells, and cartridges, cameras, candy, and chewing gum.

Revenue from these sources aggregated $112,741,000 in the fiscal year 1935, which, from a revenue standpoint, is not considered important.

The largest source of income is the automobile tax, which yielded $50,000,000, plus an extra $26,000,000 from tires and tubes. Perfumes, tooth-paste and similar toiletries returned $12,000,000, refrigerators $6,000,000, sports goods $4,000,000, and radios $3,000,000.

Most consumers are unaware of these taxes because they are added to the purchase price by the dealer, thus becoming indirect or concealed taxes.

CHESTERFIELD TO START FALL RADIO PROGRAMS SEPT. 30

The popular Andre Kostelanetz dance program sponsored by Chesterfield cigarettes over the Columbia network will open their fall season on Sept. 30 with the return of Nino Martini as star of the Wednesday evening broadcasts. Kay Thompson, Ray Heatherton and the Rhythm Singers will continue to hold the spotlight on Fridays, with a new broadcasting time of 8:30 EST, and a rebroadcast of the entire show from New York at 11:30 for listeners in the West. The Martini programs on Wednesday evenings will also feature a new Chesterfield chorus of 18 mixed voices which Kostelanetz has spent many weeks selecting and rehearsing. They plan to vary the brilliant dance arrangements of Kostelanetz with the pick of light music from musical comedies, operettas and popular movies. With the same background of Kostelanetz dance music on Friday evenings, the Kay Thompson-Ray Heatherton combination accompanied by the Rhythm Singers will continue to present their interpretation of popular songs and vocal novelties. This program was one of the outstanding bits of the summer season, twice being honored by nationally prominent magazines in the form of medal awards as a dance program "refreshingly different."

WARD'S OPEN HOUSE ATTENDED BY 200

The local Montgomery Ward store's "open house" Friday night attracted a crowd of approximately 200 persons who viewed new fall merchandise prominently displayed throughout the store. Attention of the visitors was directed to Ward's new movie dial radio. B. Howell, head of the radio department explained the advantages of the set, pointing out that the new movie dial is a Ward patent and an exclusive feature. The dial makes tuning easier since it projects call letters and kilocycles on a large screen. New lines of furniture were displayed in that department, with Department Manager Raleigh Duff explaining new style trends. Prizes were given to visitors, awards going to Miss Sylvia Pond, Mrs. J. A. Cooper, and Mrs. Pascal Buckner.

THE WORLD WITH A FENCE

A New Novel by Marian Sims

Chapter 31 BRIDESMAID

"You wouldn't tell me we were out of gas?" Carol asked.

"I would if I could get by with it," Porter put an arm around her and drew her towards him; put his free hand under her chin. "I've been wanting to do this for two months."

Her first impulse was to refuse him. She hadn't kissed a man since Denis, almost a year ago, but she had wanted a great many times to be kissed. Not by anyone she knew; merely an unfocused desire to feel a man's arms holding her, and a man's mouth on hers.

She supposed every girl felt that, but she resented the hunger nevertheless. Kisses were not significant any more—she was modern enough to feel that—but none of the men who had attempted it had appealed to her. And so she had put them off with a casual laugh.

But tonight the hunger was keener, so she let him kiss her. When his lips touched hers she stiffened. "Not like that, please."

"Sorry," he said huskily, and tried again. This time the kiss was light and slow and expert. "Is that better?"

"Much." The hunger was intensified for the moment, so she said quietly: "Let's go home now."

He hesitated as if in protest, and then acquiesced. "Okay." He drove to the entrance and got out to open her door. "Is it too late for me to come up for a while?"

"I'm afraid it is. Don't forget I'm one of the toilers of the world."

"I won't. Well—goodnight. I'll call you tomorrow or next day."

She said: "Please do," and left him.

Early in October there was an ecstatic letter from Ellen. She was to be married on the last Saturday in October, and she was counting on Carol for maid of honor; she had selected Saturday because Carol would be better able to get away from the office then.

She put the letter aside and smiled ruefully. Ellen, bless her, was running true to her own enviable type. Ellen would insist upon—and revel in—every one of the traditional, faintly ludicrous gestures. And a period dress, to be bought, of course, from Carol's own salary! But she would have to go, unless Blake could spare her; that was a ray of hope.

She spoke to him about it the next morning, still smiling ruefully. "If you think I oughtn't to take the time, I hope you'll say so. It won't break me up."

He chuckled and she knew he understood—all the things she hadn't said.

"Of course you can take the time," he said.

"Not yet, I'm not very hungry after this, but I have to keep my strength up. Let's go upstairs and get a bite."

Cornelia glanced at her watch. "Okay. Let's." (Copyright, 1936, by Marian Sims)

But Carol finds, tomorrow, she cannot escape Blake's attention. Raymond L. Hughes of Midland was in Big Spring Friday morning.

CRANE DEEP TEST GETS SHOW; HALF-MILE EXTENSION IS SEEN FOR WINKLER HENDERSON POOL

46 Locations Staked And 47 Completions Recorded In Area; Wildcats Located In Coke And Pecos Counties

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 26.—Showing of oil from the Simpson, middle Ordovician, in a second deep test in western Crane county—Gulf No. 2 Waddell—and an indicated half mile northwest extension to the Henderson pool in northern Winkler county, effected by R. H. Henderson and others No. 1 Daugherty were among principal West Texas oil developments this week.

Locations staked lacked only one of equaling the number of completions, the ratio being 46 to 47. Ward county led in locations with 12, Winkler listed eight, Crane, Pecos and Upton counties five each, Jones county four, Ector county one, Howard two and Fisher, Gaines and Yocum counties one each. There were 12 completions in Winkler county, 11 in Ward, seven in Upton, six in Ector, three each in Crane and Pecos counties, two in Howard and one each in Andrews and Jones counties. Heavy rains slowed up operations in most of the Basin.

Among interesting wildcat staked was that by E. O. Ogden of Wichita, Kan., and associates on the E. C. Rawlings ranch in Coke county, four miles north of Bronco and 390 feet out of the southwest corner of section 291-1A-H&T.C. Ogden has contracted to drill 4,000 feet unless production is obtained shallow. Cellar and pits were being dug and materials moved in.

Pecos Wildcat. Pecos Wildcat is being drilled by Bahan & Rhodes of Abilene, where digging pits and laying water lines and preparing to move in a rotary to drill No. 1 H. E. Bonebrake, Pecos county wildcat, 20 miles north of Fort Stockton, 900 feet from the north line and 2,310 feet from the east line of section 111-S-H&G.N. The test, four miles southwest of the Pecos Valley pool, is scheduled to be drilled 2,500 feet unless, at a lesser depth, production is secured or sulphur water is struck in the line represented by the Shipley play in southern Ward county.

Gulf No. 2 Waddell in the Sand Hills district of Crane county showed 200 feet of mud and oil and below it 400 feet of water on a 15-minute drill stem test from 6,113 to 6,281 feet, the total depth. It cored ahead to 6,246 feet and recovered 10 feet, the top four feet of which was shale, the next six feet sandy lime grading into lime. A Schlumberger electrical oil well survey was scheduled to be made.

To some the oil showing appeared as good as or better than that obtained by Gulf No. 1 Waddell, 1.2 miles to the southwest, which initially yielded around 75 barrels of 24.7 gravity oil daily on the pump after shooting the Simpson twice. No. 1 Waddell was the first producer from the Ellenberger in West Texas outside the Big Lake field in Reagan county, where high gravity crude, commanding a premium by reason of its high lubricating content, is produced mainly from the Ellenberger, lower Ordovician, at depths ranging from 8,334 to 9,020 feet.

8,424-Barrel Flow. Gulf No. 2 Waddell, 1,980 feet from the south and west lines of section 16-B21-pal, was credited with topping the Simpson at 6,093 feet, 3,384 feet below sea level, and 85 feet lower than in No. 1 Waddell. Gulf No. 2 Tubb was completed at 4,332 feet as the largest of eight wells from the deep Permian line in western Crane county, flowing 1,604 barrels of oil in four hours, at a rate of 8,424 barrels daily, with 4,380,000 cubic feet of gas. It was treated with 5,000 gallons of acid. Location is 440 feet out of the northeast corner of section 12-127-pal.

Humble No. 3 Tubb, treated with 5,000 gallons of acid, with the total depth 4,410 feet, flowed 1,280 barrels of oil in six hours, at a rate of 5,120 barrels daily. It is 440 feet out of the southwest corner of section 10-127-pal.

Moore Bros. No. 1 T. C. Barnsley estate, seeking Ordovician production in the southwest quarter of section 42-42-pal, 3 1/2 miles southeast of Gulf No. 1 Waddell, had drilled to 8,637 feet in gray lime. Bailing of water down 2,060 feet from the top indicated a shutoff had been obtained by undercasing 6 5/8-inch casing from 5,533 to 5,594 feet.

Gulf No. 2 McNight, northeast of the Waddell pool and in the northeast quarter of section 9-B21-pal, obtained an increase of oil to 2 1/2 barrels hourly from 3,113-17 feet and drilled ahead. It still was carrying 1 1/2 barrels of water hourly.

Extension. J. H. Henderson and others No. 1 Daugherty, northwest extension to the Henderson pool in northern Winkler county, topped the main pay at 3,945 feet, drilled to 3,965 feet and appeared good for several hundred barrels daily while flowing into the pits. Testing awaited completion of storage. The well is 1,600 feet from the north and east lines of section 33-74-pal.

E. M. Wahlenmaier No. 1-D Leck, drilled in early this month, made a natural flow of 2,391 barrels on a 24-hour proration gauge through 2 1/2-inch tubing, bottomed at 3,412 feet. It is in the southwest corner of the north half of the southwest quarter of section 3-26-pal.

Fields & Cherry No. 1 Lum Daugherty, Winkler wildcat near the Texas-New Mexico line and in the southwest quarter of section 3-C23-pal, was credited with topping the lime at 2,760 feet, 176 feet above sea level. It had a showing of gas at 2,945 feet and drilled ahead at 2,955 in lime.

McCurdy & McCurdy No. 2 W. A. McCutchen in the Keyes pool, in the southwest quarter of section 19-B3-pal, flowed 1,473 barrels of oil in 24 hours through 3-inch tubing after being shot with 200 quarts.

In the Sayre pool in northern Winkler, Empire No. 5-D Daugherty, in the southwest quarter of section 11-36-pal, flowed 296 barrels of oil daily at 3,030 feet after being shot. Texas-Pacific No. 14 Daugherty, in the northeast quarter of section 2-26-pal, flowed 978 barrels daily at 2,935 feet after shooting. Magnolia No. 34 Walton, in the northwest quarter of section 33-77-pal, was shot and flowed 706 barrels of oil in 24 hours, bottomed at 2,997 feet.

Bert Fields and others No. 1 Pure-Cowden, indicating a 1 1/4-mile extension of the Emperor pool north and slightly west, produced 507 barrels of oil with an estimated 10 to 12 million cubic feet of gas

Completion Indicated In Hawley Field

Estimated 40 Barrels Production Encountered In Tannahill Sand

ABILENE, Sept. 26.—First completion in the Hawley field for two months was indicated this week with the Brown-Daniger and Owens-Snebold No. 2 Dorsey estimated at 40 barrels from the Lower Tannahill sand, highest of the five producing horizons.

The test is on the north edge of the field as a direct offset to the Sinclair-Prairie No. 1-A King, and is in the southwest corner of section 20, Bueno survey No. 196. Sand was drilled from 1,948 to 1,953 feet. A mile north of Hawley, the Thomas D. Humphrey No. 1 W. F. Rushing, one of the deepest tests drilled in the area, was abandoned at a total depth of 2,733 feet in sand with no showings of oil. It is in section 11, Martinez survey No. 194.

Alliance Oil company of Wichita Falls No. 1 Gular trust estate east of the town, was drilling about 1,764 feet. It logged Dothan time at 1,620 to 1,648 feet. Location is in section 43, block 15, T&P survey.

In 24 hours through open tubing and casing, with the total depth 2,000 feet. It flowed 20 barrels of oil hourly before being shot. It is 2,310 feet from the south and east lines of section 26-B5-pal.

Richardson Oil, Inc. No. 5 Hathaway in the northwest extension to the Grandfalls district, was one of the largest wells completed in Ward county this week. It topped pay at 2,445 feet, drilled to 2,624 and was shot with 135 quarts and flowed 2,171 barrels of oil with three million cubic feet of gas in 24 hours. Location is in the north quarter of section 37-34-H&T.C.

Humble No. 1 C. H. Eubanks Gaines wildcat seven miles northwest of the county's only producer, plugged to abandon after showing only drilling water while plugging back from 1,192 feet. Shooting in two of stuck drill pipe junked the hole, which was in the southwest corner of section 6-Ax-pal.

Rains Delay Operations In This Section

Carter Test Ready To Start Bailing; Although Is Due To Deepen

Oil tests in this area almost without exception were experiencing water troubles the past week, but this time it came from the heavens and not the hole.

Very little drilling was possible in this area due to an abnormal rainfall which cost one driller his car in the Colorado river in an attempt to get to the Moore Bros. No. 1 Clayton & Johnson in southwestern Borden county and stuck scores of others in the mud.

Floyd C. Dodson and R. A. Duffey No. 1 J. G. Carter estate, wildcat in north central Glasscock with good chances of proving the discovery well for another production pool, was ready to start bailing to test whether plugging back from 2,699 feet to 2,664 1/2 feet had shut off half a barrel of sulphur water hourly. Seven hundred and fifty pounds of steel wool had been driven into the hole. Part of the last increase of oil in the hole, coming from 2,658-67 feet, was thought to have been shut off. With water shut out, 6 5/8-inch casing will be run and cemented at around 2,623 feet, and an acid treatment will follow. Location is 8-33-2s, T&P.

Other Jones county tests marked time with routine drilling reports after resuming from a brief shut-down for rains last week.

In Shackelford county, the Hix & Company No. 1 A. J. Swenson, six miles northeast of Lueders in semi-wildcat territory north of the Bluff Creek and Mills-Vickers areas, struck a good showing of oil from sand at 1,543-43 feet and was preparing to deepen. It is in section 306, ETRR.

In Fisher county, the Forest Development Corp. No. 1 A. M. Dry, three miles west of Nolan, was preparing to run six-inch to shut off water at 4,250 feet.

promise of making Dawson County's first commercial producer, looked good last week as drilling to 4,931 feet in lime. It was reported to have swabbed 16 barrels of oil in 19 hours with water amounting to five gallons per hour. After standing for 18 hours, the oil rose 850 feet in the hole from 400 feet to where it had been swabbed. Operators plan to deepen and acidize, but a quantity of steel wool is on hand for rapid plugging operations if water is encountered. The test is located 16 miles northwest of Lamesa in 46-M, EL&TR-RR survey.

Six and five-eighths inch casing had been cemented in the Carter No. 2 Post estate, test in 6-5 K. A. Cox survey, Garza county, and drilling was halted Friday at 2,362 feet in lime owing to heavy rains. The casing shut off a heavy suit water flow encountered soon after the lime was topped at 2,310 feet.

Moore Bros. No. 1 Clayton, 2 Johnson wildcat in 70-32-4n, T&P, Borden county, did not make a foot of hole during the week due to incessant rain. It is bottomed at 2,375 feet in anhydrite.

Test To Be Shot. Continental No. 2-A Clay, 139-29, W&NW, Howard county, deepened from the 1,800-foot sand pay, was bottomed at 2,212 feet in lime Friday with 1,800 feet of oil in the hole. It was preparing to shoot with 250 quarts.

Tools were being moved in on Continental No. 2-A Eason, 1,540 feet from the north and 440 feet from the west lines of 7-32-2s, T&P. Rotary will be used.

Other Continental tests in the Howard-Glasscock field were drilling as follows: No. 6 Hart Phillips 24-33-2s, T&P, at 991 in redbeds; No. 10 Eason, 6-32-2s, T&P, 1,180 feet in shell; No. 11 Eason, 6-32-2s, T&P, at 1,175 in sandy lime; No. 13 Bell-Overton, 5-32-2s, T&P, 2,370 feet in lime where 6 5/8-inch casing was cemented; No. 14 Bell-Overton, 532-2s, T&P, at 2,366 feet where 6 5/8-inch casing was cemented; No. 13 S-Settles, 159-29, W&NW, shallow test, was testing at 1,313 feet in sand; No. 14 S-Settles, 159-29, W&NW, at 740 feet in shale.

valuations 24 per cent and hike the county tax rate on a par with the state was passed on to you in this column. The effect, based on a $4-million dollar valuation, would be a reduction in values to 30.12 million dollars and a saving in state taxes of $21,900, a loss of $3,000 county taxes. On the face of it, this would not appear a bad move, but one of our more alert friends smells a rat in the woodpile. Cut valuations by 24 per cent, this friend says, and you will virtually close the doors of every common school district in the county. Under law they are not allowed to levy but $1, and most of them are jam against the limit now. That 24 per cent cut in valuations would rob common school districts of at least $30,000 revenue and possibly a third more than that.

An agreement has been reached. It has been reliably learned, where by the county and Midway school district settles with Cosden for $17,900 on more than $24,000 back taxes. This means $17,500 pouring into the county tills which is not now there. But it also means the establishing of a dangerous precedent. Others would have just as much right to demand adjustments on back taxes.

Big Spring folks exhibited a commendable bit of loyalty in turning out in the rain Friday for the laying of a cornerstone for the federal post office building. The ideal back of it all, post office department representatives said, is to render better service. The building will help Big Spring receive improved postal service. In the same direction, a rural route was revised to give people of the Hyman community six day service, which is just as important to them in southwestern Mitchell county as the pretty building is to Big Spring.

France. "Certain preventative measures" protecting the consumer against impaired buying power, the premier said, "would be undertaken." The monetary program, he said,

"was not brusquely imposed," but was the result of "deliberate initiative started last June which I hope will lead to international pacification." Those who would devalue the franc today were assured conditional support from the French communists, previously opponents of a cheapened currency. Political observers reported the communist support was contingent upon compensations for government employees, pensioners, and others.

Holland Goes Off Gold Standard

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 26 (AP)—The government of the Netherlands, which with France and Switzerland, along to the gold standard after other major powers had quit it, announced tonight it could no longer maintain its "present monetary policy." The decision of France and Switzerland to devalue their monetary units caused a change in the Dutch government position, an official statement said. Earlier the government had announced the Netherlands would not change its monetary policy despite the French action.

American and Spanish envoys were dickering for an agreement during an armistice in the war between the two countries indulged in a supposedly modern practice of "going behind the news." Indicating that the United States would be opposed to outright purchase of the Philippine Islands, the reporter produced a two-dollar word in saying that any such demand by Spain would "be euphemistically described as a partial indemnity for going beyond the evident meaning of the protocol." From Manila Admiral Dewey loudly maintained that the U. S. was justified in keeping two battleships in the harbor during the armistice by actions of the Spanish.

"Little Corinne" had returned to Kansas City and the event was occasion for a story of her having pawned a valuable sunburst diamond piece for $3,000 the year before when the "American Beauty" proved a failure while showing in that place. "I could take it out tomorrow if I wanted to," she said to a World reporter.

Not worried by world affairs, the policemen of the city were preparing for their annual ball and Elbert Hubbard was writing the editor to thank him for a dollar bill in payment for a travel sketch penned when on route home from England.

Ruiferg had taken a 17-0 walloping from Union and the sports gossip came from the barkeep. A special etching on golfing was silhouetted and gave the effect of an elf slapping a toad atool while a looked on and a score others showed no intention of dodging.

The editorial page showed concern over two attacks on white women by blacks and the World expressed the opinion that it was unfortunate that the law, in specifying the death penalty, did not fix a penalty commensurate with the crime.

Very proud indeed was the World of its rotogravure section. There were presented several pictures of figures in Kansas City society and of a host of the city's children. A style picture left no doubt that the hour-glass figure was much in vogue.

What must have been the predecessor of the current comic page was the World's "funnygraphs." Present day funny-paper addicts would consider the thrusts a bit painful. To illustrate: A butterfly said to a frog, "I hear we will die tonight." Answered the frog: "I feel like I might croak tonight myself."

The paper is crammed with patent medicine advertisements ranging from a sure cure for intestinal troubles to a new and infallible remedy for "consumption, catarrh and bronchitis."

Looks Toward Nazis' Return To The League

GENEVA, Sept. 26. (UP)—Foreign Minister Anthony Eden of Great Britain has begun paving the way for Germany's return to the league of nations.

Speaking before the assembly, he suggested the covenant be re-written to divorce it from the Versailles treaty, so hateful to the reich. Germany long has demanded that the league covenant be separated entirely from the peace treaties.

The young British statesman even implied his support of revising the whole Versailles treaty, declaring: "Human life is not static, but a changing thing."

Eden offered still another olive branch to Germany, which has insisted it must have colonies in order to obtain raw material.

Great Britain, he said, would suggest an "impartial expert inquiry under the auspices of the league," with the idea of assuring all nations access to the supplies of nature.

These remarks followed a plea for European nations to forget their scisms over forms of government such as fascism and communism and to unite in preventing war.

He lamented the race in armaments, saying: "Great Britain regrets spending huge sums for arms, but we shall persist in it until the nations of the world reach an international agreement for the limitation and reduction of armaments."

"Blues" Advance In So. Texas Maneuvers

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 26 (UP)—Two sections of the United States army maneuvered with warlike caution across the south Texas prairies today in realistic exercises.

The "blues" advanced forces along a 25-mile front between Christine and Falls City as a result of an ammunition shortage inflicted on the "blacks" yesterday by a bombing raid of "blue" aircraft at Corpus Christi.

Planes swooped over the South Texas seaport, theoretically "bombing" docks and setting fire to the waterfront, damaging numerous ships in the harbor.

"Blue" aircraft and artillery kept up a bombardment today of retiring "black" columns retreating with difficulty.

"Blues" officers learned from captured prisoners and spies that three "black" divisions were being moved to northeastern United States to aid as "black" campaign in that area. Their exact position was unknown. It also was learned that a "maroon" force was approaching the Pacific coast and that a "brown" force was headed for the Panama Canal zone.

STAR REPORTER OF RURAL NEWS GETS FAN MAIL

BLUE EARTH, Minn. (UP)—Big cities and fast trains are fine things for babies, according to Mrs. Susan Frawley Eisele, who is back on her husband's farm near here after a visit to New York and Washington, where she spent two weeks as winner of the Country Home magazine's annual award for the best country newspaper correspondent.

She reports that Albert Aloys Jr., 8 weeks old, whom she took with her on her first journey East, gained two and a half pounds during the trip, and seemed to thrive on big hotels, express trains and city air. On returning, Mrs. Eisele found a mass of fan mail. "My mail is delightful," she said. "I have had two offers of marriage already, and two persons want me to help them sell their farms. I have been invited to visit a lot of folks all over the country, and have been threatened with visits from as many more. And dozens of letters have come asking me for advice and the like."

Riefeling Automobile Company

St. Louis, Missouri

Dear Sirs:

I am so well pleased with the 1936 Ford Coupe I purchased from you that I am taking the time to tell you of some of the results I have obtained from Ford cars.

In 1934 I purchased a Ford Coupe from your Company. I drove that car 36,000 miles in about fifteen months. I was very much satisfied with its economy and performance, and wish to say that I did not have any motor work done in that time.

I traded the 1934 Ford Coupe for a 1935 Ford Coupe. I found there were added improvements on the 1935 and it was a much better car than the 1934. I drove the 1935 coupe better than 44,000 miles with no repairs, except small incidentals. I was so well satisfied with the 1934 and 1935 Ford Coupes that I decided to buy a 1936. So far the '36 is far superior in every detail to either of the other two cars that I purchased from you, and my gasoline mileage averages 19.2 miles to the gallon.

I could not realize that there were such vast improvements in the various Ford cars, but I suppose manufacture will continue to improve, and there will be something better for 1937. I have driven various makes of automobiles and have never gotten the economy, satisfaction and reliability out of any of them that I have out of the Ford cars.

Yours very truly,
