EAST HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 26. (UP)—Before November ends. Lieut-Commander Frank Hawks expects to smash the world's land airplane speed record here with his new mystery ship, Time Files which he believes will attain a speed clone to 400 miles an hour. Hawks gave the sleek, snow-white, completely streamlined plane its first workout here Oct. 15 and said he was well pleased with results.

"It's a swell job," he said, "and there is no doubt in my mind that it will do between 350 and 400 miles an hour."

If it does, Time Flies stands a good chance of exceeding the present world rpeed mark of 352.32 miles an hour established by Howard Hughes at Santa Ana, Calif., a

Time Files, in truth, is a mystery ship. Hawks had trouble exwhen he landed the plane here for the first time. The pilot's seat can be raised and lowered by a handoperated hydraulic jack, and the mechanism proved so mysterious to Hawks he had trouble getting out for a while.

In flight, Hawks can lower the seat, thus automatically dropping the top window light to enclose the pilot's compartment. When this is done, the plane is completely streamlined, one of the few speed couft, if not the only one, which has been so constructed.

Designed and built by Hawki imself at Springfield, Mass., Time lies is believed to have a cruising speed of about 330 to 340 miles an hour. "That is the speed," said Hawks, "at which it is most economical to operate. But in the first test flights I am going to fly at minimum speeds. That's all I am interested in now."

"The plane feels very stable or the ground," Hawks said after landing it for the first time. "It eels just like a transport ship. It has a three degree twist in the wings, and good lateral control.

"I won't open up the throttle for while," he continued, "but when do, just watch it go. I believe I'll nake a try at the record before winter comes, maybe before the Time Flies has a Pratt and Whit-administration.

She blames the women.

The depression has made them work-conscious, she said. This is how she explains her theory:

"Where women formerly were content to stay in the home, they are now potential job-holders, and register for employment or relief to supplement the lowered salaries which their husbands are receiving.

"All employable members of the family are potential job-holders."

For the past five years, Mrs. Mo-Ewan said, virtually every woman graduated from an institution of higher education has registered for employment, whereas formerly a large part of them were absorbed into homes.

"This condition alone," she said,
"increases the relief rolls and unemployed registration. Never before in the history of the country have we had such a complete record of applicants for jobs. Consequently, it is difficult to make a true statement that unemployment has increased during the past year.

Mavs No Set-Up SWEETWATER, Oct. 29 (Spl.)-The Eastland Mavericks, who come to Sweetwater Friday night for a district game with the Mustangs are no "push overs" even if they have won only one game this sea

Eastland has seven lettermen nost of whom have considerable weight to go with their experience. They are Garrison, 160, end; Trantham, 205, tackle; Van Geem, 67; R. Taylor, 170, center; J. Taylor, 160, all-district guard in 1935; and H. Taylor, 160, halfback.

Most of the other Maverick start ers have had previous experience Among these are Hill, 160, fullback Gilbreath, 185, tackle; and Cook, Samuels, 143, quarterback, is the lightest man on the team. But days. They figure to cop. I suspect that Fordham will reak out anywhere, anytime.

Ponies Getting Ready

With these things in mind, Coaches Ed Hennig and Laurance Priddy have started work on getting the Mustangs prepared for the Maverick invasion. The Pony mentors are working on the theory that the Eastlanders are touchdown hungry, and are also willing and ready with these ideas in mind, the Mustang coaches and players are prepared to meet a stubborn fight-ing eleven here Friday night.

Increase Of 15 Per Cent Over Last Year Shown In Three States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29-Retail ceted by reports from 1,055 inde-endent stores in Toxas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, increased about 15 percent in dollar volume for September 1936 as compared with September 1935. Without adjust-ment for the extra working day in September of this year, there was an increase of 20 percent.

This preliminary estimate is based on figures collected by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of comnierce, in cooperation-with the busity of Texas. It covers the larger independent stores, in 21 kinds of business, 8 of which, due to an insufficient number of reports, are included in miscellaneous or group

Without adjustment for the num ber of working days the greatest increase was shown for New Mex-ico where reported sales for 59 stores were 26 percent above Sep-tember a year ago. The sales of 760 Texas merchants showed a 21 percent increase and 236 firms in Oklahoma recorded a gain of about

There naturally was a for-tune in the book, but the publisher promptly notified the authorities and the diary was returned intact to its owner.

Throne Binds Empire But there is more than respec nd reverence for royalty in this attitude. It is a truism in England that the throne is the symbol which solds the empire together; that if the throne goes, the empire dis-solves. to regard the king's friendship with Mrs. Simpson as his private affair (though many Britons say it affair (though many Britons say it is getting uncomfortably close to being a matter of state), and England never intrudes on royal privacy. So far as Edward is concerned, his adoring subjects gave him plenty of leeway when be was Prince of Wales—"Prince Charming," they called him. Perhaps the question may arise now as to whether as king-emperor, he can do things he did as heir.

If he appeared in a cafe to dance—and he often did—nobody paid the slightest attention to him or his lady. They got bumped by other dancers, the same as anybody else. He used to like to go back of the scenes at musical shows, and he wasn't the Prince of Wales there. If he got in the way, the ladies of the chorus used to push him about like an ordinary mortal. Let the prince desert his role of plain Mr. David Windsor, however, and he would be surrounded immediately by a cheering crowd which would fight to get near him.

If the British press picks up the Simpson story, it will be because it feels compelled to do so in defense of the throne. But it will take a lot of pushing to force Lon-don's Street of Ink to abandon its age-old policy regarding royalty.
