TWO INJURED IN CAR WRECK

Bosworth Car Turns Turtle On Lubbock Road; Bosworth and Nowlin Hurt

While driving to Lubbock Monday night to be at the bedside of Dean Nowlin, who was being carried to the Lubbock Sanitarium for an operation, R. Bosworth's car turned over and was completely wrecked at a turn in the road about fifteen miles north of Tahoka. Mr. Bosworth was driving, and his daughter Miss Levis and J. K. Nowlin were in the car with him. All received what were thought to be only slight injuries at the time but on Tuesday it developed that both Mr. Bosworth and Mr. Nowlin had been more severely injured than was at first thought. Their injuries however consisted only of bruises about the head and body and no bones were broken. Miss Levis was scarcely injured at all.

W. G. Briley and others were in a car some distance in front of the Bosworth car, taking Dean Nowlin, who was suffering from appendicitis, to the sanitarium. Mr. Bosworth was driving at a pretty rapid clip in an effort to overtake the Briley car. His lights were not focused as well as they should have been, Mr. Bosworth stated to the News man, and he could not see very far down the road in front of him but thought it was still about a mile away, when to his consternation he suddenly realized that he was just then on the curve. "I knew I was up against a serious proposition," Mr. Bosworth stated, "but I resolved to keep in the road and stay out of the ditch if possible. I swerved my car to the left and threw on the brakes but the car went up on two wheels and in an instant it reversed itself on the road and turned over. It was literally torn all to pieces. I realized that I was not hurt but I imagined that both the other occupants of the car were killed. I got from under the wreck and saw Mr. Nowlin lying there almost motionless. I grabbed him and Levis grabbed him about the same time and we helped him up, and he said he was not hurt."

The car was a Chevrolet sedan. Mr. Bosworth stated that he never saw a car more completely wrecked than this one was, and he thinks it almost miraculous that all members of the party were neither killed nor seriously injured.

LOCKS CASHIER IN VAULT

The First National Bank of Claude was robbed of approximately $5,000 in currency at the noon hour Saturday when an unmasked and well-dressed bandit made Clifford Walker, cashier "stick 'em up," and then locked him in the vault after he had scooped up all the loose currency in the cashier's cage.

At a late hour last night the lone bandit had not been captured, according to a telephone message from the Armstrong county sheriff's office. Throughout the afternoon posses from Armstrong, Potter and adjoining counties scoured the country in quest of the yegg, who was seen to leave Claude going northward toward Panhandle.

No precise description of the bank robber was given. He was represented to be a small man about thirty years of age, smooth-shaven and nattily attired. He went about his task of holding up the cashier and robbing the institution in a cool and determined manner, which would indicate that he was a professional bank robber and "stick-up" man.

Drove A Ford Car

A few minutes after the robbery occurred Cashier Clifford Walker was released from the vault in which he had been imprisoned, by the action of the time clock. A man who came into the bank about the time the bandit left saw him leave on the north road, it was reported here. The number of his car, a new Ford, was 923,000. The bandit appeared not to be the least excited.

FIRE DAMAGES HOLLOWAY GIN

Damage Amounts To $2,000; Fire-Unable To Use City Fire Truck

Fire broke out in the cleaner of the Holloway Gin Tuesday morning and did damage possibly to the amount of $2,000 before it could be extinguished. It is thought that the fire resulted from a match which had been accidentally dropped into the bale of cotton which was being ginned at the time. The gin was put entirely out of commission for the time being but it was thought that it would be ready to resume activities again today (Thursday).

Immediately upon discovery of the fire an alarm was turned in, but the fire fighting equipment of the city never reached the scene. When the boys undertook to sound the fire siren, it refused to function. Some of the boys then attempted to crank up the truck and found that the gasoline can was empty. It was then remembered that there was insufficient hose to reach from the nearest fireplug to the gin and that the chemical apparatus for fighting fire was not "loaded" and that therefore no good could be done even if the boys should succeed in getting the old truck down to the gin. So, the boys just quit. The fire was extinguished by the employees and other volunteer fire fighters in the vicinity.

Aged Father Of O. B. Adami Hurt

O. B. Adami and family left Tuesday for Winters, where they were called by the serious condition of Mr. Adami's father, who was run down by an automobile on the streets of Winters last Saturday. One of his arms was broken and it was thought that his skull was fractured. Being 80 years of age, the injuries are more likely to prove fatal than if he had been a younger man, and his condition Tuesday was said to be very precarious.

According to meager facts gathered by the News, the aged man started to walk across one of the main business streets in Winters when a car driven by a negro ran over him and inflicted the injuries stated. We have no information as to the culpability or lack of it on the part of the negro driver in causing the injury.

IMPROVED KITCHEN CONTEST

Dear Club Women:
Four of our Club women have signed up for the Kitchen improvement work for 1925, but we should be glad to have that many in every one of our eleven women's clubs. Remember that we want all names just as soon as possible. See me at your Club Meeting or write me and tell me what you want to do with your kitchen. I'll be glad to help you with your problems whether you expect to be in the Contest or not.

Millie M. Halsey,
County Demonstration Agent

F. H. Hancock and family are expected here the latter part of this week. They are moving out from Winters, having purchased a tract of land out west of New Home. They are improving same and expect to make it their home. Mr. Hancock is a brother-in-law of our fellow citizen, Judge H. W. Calaway.

Misses Leota Knight and Inez Edwards left Tuesday night for Abilene, to attend the Home Coming festivities at Simmons College and to witness the football game Thursday between the Simmons and Howard Payne teams.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Today is Thanksgiving Day, set aside according to custom by the President of our nation and the Governor of our state as a day on which the people are supposed to assemble and return thanks to Almighty God for the blessings which He has given during the past year.

In churches in almost every city and town and in many of the rural districts throughout this nation, people will assemble to day and worship.

In Tahoka it is not so. No public assembly in Tahoka today to thank and worship God. The banks are closed, most of the stores are closed, the school is closed, and the churches are closed. All the gasoline stations are open and doing a good business.

Tahoka Looks Good Visitors Here Say

Lon Porter of the Plains Lumber Company of Slaton and R. H. Marshall, a cotton farmer and dairyman of Lamesa, visited friends in the city Sunday, and they declared that the people of Lynn County had much to be thankful for, according to Prof. A. B. Sanders, who showed them over the town a bit while they were here. The crops here are much better than either in the vicinity of Slaton or Lamesa, according to these gentlemen. Mr. Porter declared that people near Slaton who had counted on getting from 20 to 25 bales of cotton are gathering from one to five bales. Mr. Marshall claimed that the freeze had damaged the crop in Lamesa's trade territory at least forty per cent.

When the visitors were shown the High School building they asked "When are you folks going to build a new high school?" That was too hard a question for Prof. Sanders to answer. However, he thinks that it has become evident to every one who passes through our fair city that the time has arrived when, to keep pace with the growth and development of the town, we need to provide a modern school building. So say we all.

SPECIAL SESSION OF LEGISLATURE PROBABLE

As direct consequence of the state of affairs revealed by Attorney General Moody's suit against the American Road Company, forty-four members of the legislature have presented a petition to Governor Ferguson requesting that he convene the legislature in special session at an early date to consider changes in the highway law and other matters. Speaker Lee Satterwhite has notified the Governor that unless she heeds this request, he will himself call the body together, having been petitioned to do so by 52 members. He has given the governor until December 10 to act. It seems very probably therefore that a special session will be called. Just what a special session can and will accomplish is very problematical.

J. O. King of Dixie called at the News office today to renew his subscription, and he says the damage by the freeze in his community was terrific. Cotton picking will soon be only a memory in his community.

EMILY WATERMAN, ENTERTAINER

Miss Emily Waterman has long been recognized as one of the platform's few really great readers. Much of the program which she will give on our Lyceum course is screamingly funny, and keeps her audience in a state of laughter, but there is also a serious trend in her work that will appeal to everyone.

New Wilson Road Is Now Open

County commissioner W. J. Faires states that the Tahoka-Wilson highway has been opened and grading on same has been completed, and it is now being used by the public. It will not be in satisfactory condition however until it rains so as to settle the loose soil on top. When a good rain does come and top soil settles, this will be a most excellent road and will shorten the distance between Wilson and Tahoka about three miles. The opening of this road will prove to be a great convenience to many, many Lynn County people.

COUNTY GINS 29,558 BALES

Nearly 8,000 Ginned Here Up Until Thursday Noon; 8,850 Weighed At Yard

Approximately 29,000 bales of cotton had been ginned in Lynn county this season prior to 11 o'clock Thursday morning. We have only the yard receipts at O'Donnell and Wilson, which run slightly ahead of the gin receipts. But making due deductions for this, it is evident that the ginnings have almost reached the 29,000 mark. The reports as gathered by the News are as follows:

O'Donnell (Yard)	10,275
Tahoka, (gins)	7,914
Wilson, (yard)	2,150
Grassland,	3,692
Draw	1,837
Lynn	1,230
New Home	1,210
Newmoore, approximately,	750
Gordon, approximately,	500
Total	29,558

The yard receipts at Tahoka amount to 8,850 bales. The round bales ginned at Allen's gin do not go through the yard and are not included in the above number.

Campaign For Park System Is Revived

Last week, at the annual meeting of the Federal Clubs, held in Austin, they voted to take the Park Program Bill under their care, and use their influence on behalf of its passage, when the Legislature meets. This guarantees the success of the Park Bill.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution, at their annual meeting, at Mineral Wells, endorsing the Park system, and about fifty smaller organizations have passed similar resolutions, since the Legislature adjourned.

There will probably be a Regional Park Conference held in Jan., at some convenient point in West Texas as West half of Oklahoma, all of New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado, and probably another one at Texarkana or Paris, for the East half of Texas, half of Oklahoma, all of Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana.

These conferences will be attended by the officials of the National Conference on State Parks, and Governors of the different States, together with the Park Boards, and the Park Associations.

The conference will be for the expressed purpose of discussing the best methods of securing, improving and maintaining State Parks, which will be of vital interest to all States, all voters, all tourists and everybody else.

BIG SUBJECT—GOOD BUSINESS
Yours very truly,
Texas State Parks Board,
D. E. Colp, Chairman

DITCHING MACHINE CAME IN MONDAY

The big ditching machine belonging to the San Antonio Construction Company who have the contract to put in the sewerage system for this city, arrived by the afternoon train Monday, and work on putting in our $50,000 sewerage system is expected to be started in the near future.

Every citizen, including the city council are hoping and doing everything possible to help along with this work in order to have the system at least working in the business section before fly time rolls around again. If we fail to do so, we are likely to have a seige of sickness, such as typhoid, or something of that order, that will do us great damage.—Terry County Herald.

MISS HALSEY WRITES WOMEN

Should Have Reports In At Once; Hallmark Girl Does Fine Work

Dear Club Members:
I have received a few of your reports. I must have them all before I can make my own report, so please mail yours at once if you have not done so.

Some of you Club girls have been discouraged in your Club work this year because you were busy in the fields during vacation and missed a few meetings. Of course you cannot get your certificate unless you complete the year's work, but missing a few Club meetings should be no reason for quitting and just losing out altogether.

Suppose you lived where the other girls were not interested and had to do your entire year's Club work alone. That is what one of our second year Club members has done this year.

Nellie Hallmark of the Dixie Community works in the field all the time their crop is being planted, cultivated and gathered, helps with the housework, and this year has helped take care of a young baby, yet she has found time to complete her year's club work in a very satisfactory manner.

Nellie is a garden club member and her report shows that this year she grew three kinds of vegetables in her Spring Garden and two kinds in her Fall garden. She estimates that her garden was worth $18.10. She also raised six turkeys which have not been sold, therefore the profit from these cannot be given here. Nellie canned 3 1/2 quarts of fruit, 39 qts. vegetables, 7 qts. preserves, and 30 qts. of pickles and relishes. The value of her canning according to our A. & M. Club price list is $23.21. Nellie has also done her required Club cooking this year.

In her sewing she took part in the County Clothing Contest making the Party Costume. Her Club sewing includes 4 dresses, 5 pieces underwear, curtains for her windows and a scarf, (Italian hemstitching) for her dresser. This Club sewing is valued at $33.00. She also made a silk mohair dress but failed to give value of that.

Besides the things made for her room Nellie has kept the yards clean at her home and has made them very attractive with flowers and vines. You will see that this feature of her work also took time.

Though everyone had lots to do Nellie found time to bring her complete exhibit and report of her work to the Fair in Tahoka, and was awarded first place on her year's work. Part of her work was shown at the Slaton Fair and also a part at the Lubbock Fair, where she won some prizes. Her cash prizes this year being $8.00, making the cash value of her Club work $74.31. Nellie says she means to use her prize money to carry on her Club work another year.

The fact that this Club Member took time to make her report, and that she has already been in to plan for her Club work for 1926 makes me think that some of you other girls are going to have to work to keep up next year. What about it?

Yours sincerely,
Millie M. Halsey
County Home Demonstration Agent.

HOW TO SHOP IS DEMONSTRATED HERE

Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, State Clothing Specialist of the Extension Service of A. & M. College of Texas was here last Wednesday.

Mrs. Barnes gave the Lynn County Club Women a Demonstration on "How To Shop." She discussed with them the various materials of which clothing is made, explaining and showing how the materials often are adulterated, tests for detecting adulterations, mis branding of materials, etc.

Five Home Demonstration Clubs were represented.

Cecil Blackman, formerly of Gerald Texas, but who has been employed during the fall at one of the gins here, is reported to be seriously sick with typhoid fever. He is boarding with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Barnes. This is the first and only case of typhoid we have heard of in Tahoka in a long, long time.

WHAT'S DOING IN WEST TEXAS

West Texas Chamber of Commerce Lampasas—The Heart of Texas Band Association met recently in Lampasas with an estimated visiting attendance of 2,000 people. Seven towns were represented with their bands, all arriving before the noon hour. A barbecue was served to the visiting crowd by the Lampasas municipal band. Each band rendered an individual concert consisting of three or four numbers, after which a massed concert was given under the leadership of T. L. Callaway of Brady, with more than seventy-five musicians participating. The association will hold their next meeting in Mason in March.

Slaton—More than one hundred business men and their wives attended the annual meeting of the Slaton Chamber of Commerce recently held at the high school auditorium. Many interesting and valuable talks were made also the election of six additional directors to the Board.

Midland—President R. Q. Lee, of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be the guest of the Midland Chamber of Commerce on the night of November 23rd. Farmers have been especially invited to hear Mr. Lee's diversification address. Mrs. Lee, who has a special message for the ladies, and E. H. Whitehead, publicity manager of the West Texas Chamber will accompany of Mr. Lee.

San Angelo—A Contract for the construction of the seven-story annex to the St. Angelus Hotel has been awarded here. There will be eighty-four bedrooms, each with private bath, making a total of 209 rooms for the Hotel. The annex, when completed, will cost around $125,000.

Sonora—A semi-annual rodeo on December 24-25-26 is now being planned by W. R. Barnes of the Sonora Park Association. Some of the best rodeo performers in the country have signified their intention of being on hand for this event which will include wild cow milking, goat roping, steer bulldogging, riding outlaw horses and many other forms of amusement that will be arranged.

Clyde—A farmer living near Clyde gathered 211 bushels of Porto Rico Yams from one acre of land. The land was fertilized some but the potato plant received no special cultivation. With yams selling around $1.00 per bushel the crop is somewhat a profitable one.

Childress—Alderman Jno. R. Scott is advocating another municipal bond issue at Childress for additional sewerage and paving. Childress' growth is so rapid that more than 300 new homes need sewerage connections.

Goree—The Knox County Commissioners have again taken charge of the highways of Knox County and are using county machinery on state highways.

Big Lake—Motor trains, carrying passengers, mail and express, replaced steam passenger trains on the Orient Railway between San Angelo and Fort Stockton beginning November 16. Also new fast motor car services was re-arranged between San Angelo and Big Lake and Best in the heart of the Reagan County oil fields.

Bledsoe—Cochran County News is the name of the newest paper on the West Plains and the Editor is J. Rochstein.

Slaton—$100,000 paving bonds were voted here in the special election of November 17. This means approximately $300,000 new paving for the city of Slaton.

San Angelo—Definite action on the proposed 112, 200-acre irrigation project in Coke County, recently inspected by A. Lincoln Fellows, Chief, Federal Reclamation and Irrigation Bureau Denver, has been delayed until further consideration. Estimated cost is above two and three quarter million dollars.

If the counties along the Glacier to Gulf Motorway could get together and place this highway in fine shape it would be worth as much as another railroad to every town thru which it passes. If it could be placed in as good condition as the Bankhead Highway the increased traffic would be most surprising as it is the best all-year highway between joints in the state of Colorado and San Antonio and points on the Gulf Coast and there is a tremendous traffic between these points. It would pay the interested counties to join together to work for the needed improvement of this highway.—Big Spring Herald.

R. S. Gregg out on Route B, near Grassland, visited the News office Monday and had his name placed on our subscription list. Mr. Gregg had been reading the News theretofore and told us he thought it one of the best country papers he ever saw. We appreciate the compliment and shall attempt to make it continue to merit the commendation of all good citizens.

Politics is beginning to simmer down in Dawson county. Two candidates announced for sheriff last week.

HEAVY COTTON LOSSES DUE TO IMPROPER GINNING

Improper ginning of cotton often lowers the grade of the product one to two grades with resultant loss of from $5 to $10 a bale, the United States Department of Agriculture has found in a study of ginning methods. Careless handling, poor cleaning and ginning, insufficient and improper wrapping, indifferent storage, resulting in "country damage," all combine, says the department, to reduce the market value of this important and valuable crop.

The department believes that it is possible to eliminate a part of the loss to the farmer by bringing to his attention the losses which occur from the time the cotton arrives at the gin until it reaches the mill, a large part of the expense of which is borne indirectly by him. To correct this situation at least partially, the following recommendations are made:

"By concerted action farmers should be able to establish better methods of ginning, maintain pure planting seed, and obtain more uniform and better handling of their cotton this enabling them to market crops to better advantage. It is to be hoped that gin manufacturers will develop some device that will assure accurate method of keeping separate the products from each wagon load of seed cotton.

"Public ginners may know the very best technic of ginning cotton, and yet be unable to put it into practice because of the pressure and heed less demands of their patrons. Ginners should not only know their machinery but also have a knowledge of the theory of ginning so that they may recognize and properly appraise the claims of rival manufacturers of the machinery they buy and use.

"Cotton growers should have a knowledge of the technic of ginning since ginning is the process to which cotton must be subjected in order to prepare it for market. Such knowledge will not only enable the growers to recognize the damage that careless ginners may be doing their crop, but will enable them to cooperate more fully with the progressive ginners to the end that every bale of cotton ginned in the South may be in its most attractive form and represent the best grade it is possible to make of the growers product, and therefore be at its greatest value."

Detailed results of the department's study have been published in Farmers' Bulletin No. 1465, copies of which may be obtained free, as long as the supply lasts, upon request to the United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

"Sleep Out Doors" Says Health Expert

Austine, Texas.—D. E. Breed, Executive Secretary, Texas Public Health Association, urges everyone to sleep out doors and receive the benefits that are to be derived from breathing fresh air.

Night air, in spite of the theories of our grandparents, is just as healthful as day air. It is even more purifying, for it is less laden with dust and humidity. Old air, moreover, according to recent experiments, has found to be even more health-giving than warm air.

There are four factors that make outdoor air a healthful tonic, according to Mr. Breed. It must be at the proper temperature, not too high nor too low. There must be the proper balance of humidity. The air must be in motion and it must have variability, or change. Within the closed room there can never be the proper combination of these four factors. Ventilation specialists who have been working on this matter for years have concluded that there is no artificial device which can combine the right variability, motion, temperature and humidity. The best air to breathe at all times is fresh, outdoor air.

For those that do not have a sleeping porch the most practical way to bring in the fresh air is through the windows, opened top and bottom. Cross ventilation is thereby obtained and this keeps the air in motion. The Tuberculosis Christmas Seals are largely responsible for the increased recognition of the value of fresh air.

MAD DOG RUNS AMUCK

Quite a little excitement was caused Monday when it was reported that a mad dog was on the rampage in the residential part of town. City Marshal Wimberly was called and when he arrived he unlimbered his forty-something and opened fire on the brute which seemed to make him

INTENSE PAIN

Lady, Also Nervous and Weak, Relieved by Cardui.

"I was ill and had to stay in bed under treatment for about two weeks without any improvement in my condition, which was serious," says Mrs. J. T. Abercrombie, R. F. D. 7, Brookville, Ind. "I had intense pain in my side. I was so nervous and weak and just out of heart. . . . One bottle of Cardui, I felt like getting up. My nerves seemed steadier and I didn't feel so weak. I kept up taking Cardui and was soon feeling like my old self. . . . After taking one bottle of Cardui until when I get nervous and weak I take it. I took it before my children were born. It strengthened me and helped my nerves. . . . I took a cold and . . . my back felt so weak and I had such pulling pains. I took Cardui and didn't have any more trouble. . . . I fell and broke my arm. The fall shook me up and made me very nervous. I told them Cardui would help that, and it did." At all drug stores.

all the madder. It had been so long since the law had had any target practice that all the bullets went wild. Finally the dog was cornered in a box at the residence of J. N. Schooler and while Mr. Wimberly held him down with a hoe and he was beaten to death with a club—and everybody returned to town and told his story of a mad dog scare that happened back in the seventies, or maybe it was the eighties. —O'Donnell Index.

About Those Road Contracts

Attorney General Dan Moody won a sweeping victory in his suit to cancel the road contracts made by the State Highway Commission with the American Road Company. He procured judgment against the Company for $600,000 and for cancellation of the Company's right to do business in Texas. It was admitted by the State however that the sum of $314,000 was due the Company for completed work. The Company confessed that its prices were excessive and that it rightfully owed the State the sum of $600,000. Deducting the sum of $314,000 due to the Company, it refunded the difference, $286,000, to the State and agreed to wind up its affairs and quit business immediately.

As a defense and in explanation of the exorbitant prices agreed upon between it and the State Highway Commission, the Company claimed that it understood that it was obligated to apply to the roads a second coat of asphalt in the event the same was needed, though no writer stipulation to that effect was contained in the contracts. One member of the Company explained that the reason no such stipulation was in the written contract was that he was a special friend of Frank Lanham chairman of the Commission, and that they had a gentleman's agreement to that effect. The Company further claimed that on account of the continued dry weather, they were enabled to get the surfacing work done at a much smaller figure than could be anticipated at the time the contracts were let. And therefore their profits were greater than had been expected. The public will take these explanations with a good grain of salt.

In view of the evidence adduced and the confession of the officials of the Company, we believe that there should be some searching grand jury investigations. It is true that the Travis county grand jury has been investigating but as yet no bills have been returned. It may be that no crime has been committed by any official, but the circumstances are terribly suspicious. If any person has been guilty of crime in connection with the awarding of these contracts, that fact should be ascertained if possible by the proper tribunal and the severest punishment for the offense should be meted out to the offender.

Whether crime has been committed or not, we believe that the members of the state highway commission should be called upon to resign. The facts revealed show that they have been inexcusably derelict of duty and careless of the interest of the public in awarding these contracts. In the light of the evidence, we believe that Mrs. Ferguson should demand their resignations. Thus far she has shown no inclination to do this. In fact, she has defended them and has sought to prevent the cancellation of these contracts. We think it most unfortunate for her and for the public welfare that she has sought to obstruct the investigations and prosecution of the suits instituted by the attorney general. She could have taken whatever wind there was out of his balloon won the deepest confidence of the people of Texas, if she had joined with the attorney general in making a most thorough and searching investigation and in demanding that any and all guilty parties, if any, should be brought to justice. She could even now partially redeem herself by calling upon the members of the highway commission to resign. We believe that Mrs. Ferguson is absolutely innocent of any wrongdoing in connection with the awarding of these contracts. Since the contracts were awarded by her appointees, she doubtless felt that any attack made upon the contracts was an attack upon her administration. She therefore sought to uphold the contracts and to justify her appointees. It would have been much wiser and better on her part to have demanded a strict accounting of their conduct by her appointees and to have called for their resignations in the event they were found negligent of their duty or careless of the public welfare, as the evidence shows they have been.

Attorney General Dan Moody has won a sweeping victory and he is the hero of the hour. He may be the next governor of Texas.

An editorial appears in this paper in which we stated that we believed the people ought to demand the resignation of the members of the state highway commission. This editorial was written and put in type on Monday. On that same day, two of the commissioners, Lanham and Burkett, tendered their resignations to the governor and same were promptly accepted. It is probable that the governor made it known to these gentlemen that their resignations were desired. It is to be hoped that their successors will be men of such experience and outstanding integrity as to command the immediate and utmost confidence of the people.

That there are many Mexican cotton pickers in the county was demonstrated last Saturday afternoon when they came to town to get their mail and do a little trading. Almost the entire afternoon the post office lobby was crowded with the dusky natives of the republic across the Rio Grande or of the borderland between here and the river. That these people of brown skin and little learning have loved ones from whom they are eager to receive occasional messages; that they love and are loved; gives rise to the hope that some day they may be brought to a high state of civilization. The ordinary Mexican is not dull of intellect. Many of them are really bright. It has been demonstrated over and over again that the Mexican child, when given proper opportunity, learns rapidly. Like the negro race, the Mexican is gradually coming up from darkness. With a stable and more just government, in Mexico than the Mexicans have ever before enjoyed, we wish to repeat that the greatest need of Mexico today is the spelling book and the Bible. Education and the light of Christianity will lift that nation out of the abyss of darkness and confusion as nothing else can do. America ought to exert every reasonable effort to carry the light of education and Protestant Christianity to the unfortunate but promising hosts of humanity that have their abode in the republic to the south of us. The missionaries and the school teachers have a golden opportunity indeed in Mexico.

Many New York and other eastern Democrats are planning for the nomination by the next Democratic convention of Gov. Al Smith for President. The Democrats could not make a more fatal mistake. If Al Smith should be nominated he would probably carry New York and most of the eastern and some of the northern states, but he would be the worst beaten candidate nevertheless that any great party has put forth within a generation, except when the Republicans split and defeated Taft. In our opinion, he could not carry half the Southern states. If the Democrats wish to break through the South, the best way to do it is to nominate Al Smith. Whatever we may believe about religious liberty and tolerance, the dry Protestant South is not going to vote for a wet Catholic for President.

Although Lynn county has suffered less severely from worms and the freeze than other counties on the south plains, yet many of our farmers have been hard hit nevertheless. Occasionally a man can be pointed out whose crop was very late but which promised a late bumper yield, but the freeze caught what the worms left and he has practically nothing to show for his year's work. We deeply sympathize with these fellows and wish that we could help them, but we know that if they will stay by their stuff they will probably recoup next year what they lost this year.

Tahoka boasts of being a clean, beautiful, progressive little city; and so she is. But there is one respect in which she is falling down on the job. She is not providing herself with adequate fire fighting facilities. Her fire fighting equipment is practically nothing. Some of these days a bad fire will break out and he fire boys and the citizenship will be all but helpless. We know nothing about the causes that have produced this condition, but we do know that this condition should not be allowed to continue long, if it can possibly be amended.

Last Saturday was a great day for the merchants of Tahoka. The weather had been favorable for cotton picking during the entire week and on Saturday afternoon the town was crowded with farmers and their families as well as many cotton pickers who are now in the country. The stores were jammed with shoppers and the merchants did an almost record-breaking business.

TIGHT FEELING

Stomach Troubles Relieved by the Aid of Black-Draught.

Telling how he obtained relief from very disagreeable symptoms of stomach trouble, Mr. Charles T. Wintz, of R. F. D. 4, Huntington, W. Va., made the following statement:

"I began taking Black-Draught about fifteen years ago. I would have gas on my stomach that just pressed and seemed to shorten my breath; and I would have all kinds of feeling. My head would ache and I was in a very bad fix."

"I had tried remedies that didn't seem to do me any good. I saw Black-Draught advertised and sent for it."

"After taking a few doses, I knew it was helping me. It seemed to break up the gas, and the tight, bloated feeling disappeared, and I was like a new man. I would not be without Black-Draught. I can eat anything I want to. It gets dizziness in the head, Black-Draught relieves it."

Love and Hate.

"The war to abolish war" failed to function according to the prophecy of its proponents. Force was never permanently put down by force. Love is the only compelling power that ever brought peace to nations or individuals. Nineteen centuries ago the man of Galilee came preaching peace through love—a lesson the world refuses to learn. The principle proclaimed by the "Prince of Peace" is the only philosophy that will ever bring permanent peace to the nations of earth.—Rogers News.

Love is the mightiest force in the universe. We ought to employ it more than we do. Hate is one of the most blighting forces that moves and dominates men. We ought to fight against it if our own hearts more than we do. If we loved more and hated less, there would be less criticism of our enemies, more sympathy for them despite their faults. Love is said to be blind. So is hate. Love is blind to the faults in its object, hate is blind to the virtues. Much of the bitter denunciation of the present governor is due to hate. No doubt she and her husband deserve some criticism, but there has been much intemperate and unjust criticism; most of it made by those who are supposed to be the proponents and embodiment of the doctrine of love. Yet there is a place for the exercise of hate and employment of force in the affairs of men. The Man of Galilee has been forgotten that he also had a stern side. With withering scorn he denounced the Pharisees of his day as hypocrites, whited sepulchers, a generation of vipers. On one occasion this Prince of Peace said, "Think not that I came to send peace on the earth; I came not to send peace, but a sword." We may not be able to put down force permanently by the employment of force, but sometimes the employment of force is the only alternative. Germany undertook to conquer and rule by force. It was the exercise of force on her part that sent the Lusitania and a number of American vessels to the bottom of the sea, with their cargoes of human freight. It was by the exercise of force that she overran Belgium and planted her armies on the banks of the Marne. Such force could not be met by love. It could be met only by force. When one sees a big bully imposing on a small boy, it would be folly for him to merely stand by and preach to the bully the doctrine of love. The only effective way to deal with that bully is to knock him out of the ring by force or to call the sheriff. So, among the nations of mankind. There are bullies among the nations. They must be dealt with as bullies. America did a righteous act when she entered the World War. She did a great service for humanity and for God in sending her boys to Flanders field and to the banks of the Rhine. At the close of the war Woodrow Wilson sought to have the nations adopt a plan of settling their differences without a resort to bombs and bullets. But hate interfered and kept his own country out of the plan which he devised. This time it was not hate on the part of Germany but hate on the part of many at the kindred vices of envy and jealousy took possession of their hearts, blinded their judgments, dulled their patriotism, shriveled their souls, and made them contemptible even in the day of their success. Let Americans quit harboring hate, let them cultivate the principle of love in their own hearts, let them exercise the spirit of love in politics and governmental affairs, and let them proclaim and practice the doctrine of love among the nations of the earth, and they will thus hasten the day when there shall be "peace on earth, good will among men."

GET ON THE JOB, BOY

Get on the job, and master all the new things that mechanical genius has given to the world, as it's not going to be long until just the common, ordinary work hand is going to be laid on the shelf. It's just a matter of time until even the farm hand will have to be the master of electricity, the gasoline motor, put up and tear down a McCormick binder, understand all the intricacies of the caterpillar tractor. Yes, the old Georgia plow stock, the bull-cog plow, walking harrow and walking cotton planter is doomed. O yes, you have got to learn a new trick in this age; how to harness an electric thunderbolt and hitch it to the new machine; and so much brawn and muscular strength as of yore, but brain power, boy, mix with gray matter with your daily endeavors; eliminate sweat and toil and worry—think! think! think! and hereby lasso the forces of nature and make them your servant, to do your bidding. Speed is the motto of this age, break your mother's apron string; get out of the chimney corner and quit your making peg shoes, whittling out briar root pipes, havy-horse ax-handles and hand-made scythe blades; but rather get astride the mechanical bird and play tag with the stars; give the River Styx a dare, get in the iron-clad pilot house of a merchant freighter, open up new markets and blaze out new ocean lanes; live in the realm of investigation; think out a new machine, hitch it to a bunch of gang plows and break up the plantation in a day; shoot holes through mountains, bridge oceans and tie conti-ments together; don't sit down and cry about the drought and short crops, but occupy the office of rain maker, dam the rivers, stop the flood tides, irrigate the deserts and make them blossom like the Valley of the Nile. Hurry up boy, and get on the job, it's your choosing whether you live in a hovel or castle, get a move on yourself, else the other fellow will beat you on the job; opportunities are falling fast, never in history was there such a demand for men, cunning fingers. All the nations of the earth are looking for a man who can kill the tubercular and cancer germs, therefore, build you up a laboratory for somewhere, imprisoned in Nature there's a healing lotion, go find it boy and fame will write immortality on your brow. We said hurry up boy don't you get it into your head that all the big jobs have been taken; all the big fortunes have been made, and all the new discoveries have been worked to a finish, my, my, boy rub your eyes and focus your vision, the seas have not been fathomed, neither has the earth been scratched; radio, telephone, airplane, wireless telegraph, electricity are just some crude tools that the gods have lent us with which to unlock the door to the temple of real knowledge, and then, O God, wonder of wonders. The State and the Nation needs a man who can solve this political riddle, and say boy, God is looking for a preacher who can preach His gospel in its purity, keep his fingers off of dirty gold; but rather let the grace of God be your weapon for the salvation of men, instead of politics and statutory laws. Lots of big jobs waiting for you, boy. Get you a sledge hammer and batter the door down.—Albany News.

NOW WILL THEY PAY

A fastidious newly-married lady kneads bread with her gloves on. The incident leads the editor of the Lynn County News to draw a parallel or two. For instance, he needs bread with his shoes on, he needs bread with his pants on, he needs bread with his shirt on, and unless some of the delinquent subscribers of his "old rag of freedom" pony up before long, he will need bread without a darn thing on—and Taboka is no garden of Eden in the winter time.

Contract has been let by the commissioners' courts of Floyd and Crosey counties for the building of a good road across the Hank Smith Blanco Canyno, which will shorten the distance between the two towns seven miles.

Grassland News

The farmers are getting along nicely gathering their cotton. With a couple of weeks more of pretty weather, most everybody will be through.

The singing at Grassland last Sunday was largely attended and several good singers were present.

Our school is going on nicely with a good attendance. Prof. Carter and family have moved to our city. They come from Bell county. We are glad to welcome them.

Brother Weldon filled his regular appointment at Central last Sunday. He says he is well pleased with the fine attendance, especially at the B. Y. P. U. service.

Mr. A. A. Lawson, who fell some time ago and broke his hip, is still unable to be out.

There will be a pie supper at the school house next Friday night. Ladies, bring your pies, for the men are going to be there with the money.

Our school dads are fixing to build two more rooms on to the house occupied by the teachers.

Couldn't Be Shocked

Jimmie Wilkinson, editor-in-chief of F. O. B. pictures, outside of business hours is a wireless fiend. When it comes to radios he knows all there is to know, which explains how, when one of those rare occurrences, a thunder storm, threatened Hollywood, he went out and lowered his aerial and buried one end in the ground.

"But my heavens!" exclaimed Ted Cheeseman next day, "weren't you afraid the lightning would strike you while you were doing all that?"

"Of course not," retorted Jimmie. "Knowing that silk is a wonderful non conductor I did all the work wearing my silk pajamas and socks. An outfit like that may be shocking under certain circumstances but not while fixing a radio."—Los Angeles Times.

Tenants Removed House

Mrs. Ida Ragsdale of Memphis, Tenn. recently ousted some tenants from property she owned because they failed to pay rent, and was astonished when she went to look over the property afterward to find the tenants in moving had lifted the house bodily and placed it on an adjoining piece of land. The ouster proceedings were instituted. Mrs. Ragsdale says, after the tenants had failed to pay their rent over a considerable time.

RED CROSS AID TO VETS MOUNTING

Heavier Demands for War Service Laid to New Legislation Granting Wide Benefits.

ACTIVE FORCES AIDED ALSO

Duty to Ex-Service and Service Men First Responsibility of the Red Cross.

A marked increase in the service given by the American Red Cross to ex-service men, through Chapters, hospitals, Government and Red Cross offices during the past year, and which volume is expected to be maintained during most of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, is shown in the reports of the war service activities of the organization, just completed.

Service to the disabled and to men now in active service continued to be one of the primary obligations of the Red Cross. The increased activities in this regard were attributed largely to the legislation giving new benefits to ex-service men.

The keystone of the Red Cross service lies in the Home Service work of the chapters to veterans and men still in service. At the close of the fiscal year June 30, 1925, 2,591 Chapters were active in this work and had expended approximately $1,237,000.

Included in their work was assistance to ex-service men in making out adjusted compensation papers, in the handling of claims reopened, or made possible under liberalized terms of the World War Veterans' Act of 1924; and in many other ways.

An unusual amount of legislation passed by Congress and State bodies has necessitated the issue of much new material in the past year. Legislation was passed during the year liberalizing conditions applying to hospitalization, compensation and other benefits under the Veterans' Bureau; this in turn has entailed reopening of many claims formerly disallowed, filing of many new ones, and many applications for hospitalization. The Claims Service at National Headquarters this year handled 17,596 in comparison with 12,610 cases the previous year.

Increased service to men in hospitals was noted, as well in the number of hospitalizations in which service was maintained by the organization. Due to new legislation an increase of over 6,000 patients were admitted for hospitalization, a new peak approximating that of March 1922. Since a large number of this group includes patients not eligible for compensation, the solution of their personal and family problems has involved careful study by the National Organization.

There are 30,000 disabled ex-service men in Government hospitals every day of the year, and their need has directly led to a revival of the best-known and perhaps most popular activity of the Red Cross sponsored in war—a new campaign for knitted "Red Cross sweaters." These articles are among the few not furnished by the Government.

For the men still on active duty in the Army, Navy and Marines, the Red Cross during the year maintained Field Directors at all important stations, camps, and hospitals of these armed forces of the country.

A monthly average of $6,331 service and ex-service men were aided by the Red Cross during the year.

The men in service, and the man who has served his country are among the primary responsibilities for which the American Red Cross is chartered by Congress. Nevertheless it has many other obligations and it is on this basis that an appeal will be made for a larger enrollment than ever during the Annual Red Cross Campaign, November 11, to November 24.

SCIENCE IN EVERYDAY LIFE

During the time that man has been permitted to inhabit the globe he has gotten his knowledge from three distinct sources. In the first stages of his existence it seems that the Creator took note of the fact that he needed information. Realizing that there was little chance for him to gather this information of his own violation he was provided with the same by revelation. As you remember, history tells that when Moses groped in the dark and sought for knowledge, it was revealed to him on tables of stone, and as Jacob slept he beheld angles descending and ascending into Heaven. Thus was revealed the relation of God to man.

Later in the line of human endeavor we find the old Greek as he gazes upon the glowing sun and wonders how it all is. Again we see the would be philosopher as he looks about him and is amazed at the universe and how it works. With no better method of relief we find him explaining things from the mythical view. At that time it was accepted and was the general knowledge of the people. Thus we find the middle ages laboring under untruths as a result of the mystic knowledge.

The eighteenth and nineteenth centuries find themselves the proud possessors of a knowledge that will stand the test. The modern age is distinctly and completely a scientific age. This knowledge which is based on science will stand the test and is making its influence felt in the life of every individual. As you speak to your neighbor over the telephone, as you flash a message over the telegraph, as you tune in on your radio, as you step on the starter of your car, you are commanding science to do your work for you. Science responds and does the work in a more efficient manner than you are able to without its aid.

If some one were to ask you "Do you understand all that?" You would likely say that you had a comprehensive knowledge of it and understood to your own satisfaction how it all worked. If that be your answer, then this world and all its modern movements is no mystery to you. It should be no mystery to any person living up to his opportunity.

What about the children? Do they have a chance to get the proper training along this line? Do they understand the science of life? Do they understand the science of living? Do they understand the relation of the pure sciences to every-day life. If not why not? Where should they get such training? All will readily agree that it should be in the public school. Do we have the proper materials and equipment to give them this training? Do we have the proper amount of time spent on the study of pure and applied sciences? A visit to the laboratories of the classes in the natural sciences will speak for itself. Since it seems to be the general consensus of opinion that Tab's will have to build a new high school soon; let us prepare to give more attention to the things that will directly affect the lives of the students rather than so much to higher mathematics and the scanning of poetry. For in these we have a consideration of the whole "round of life" and we will be able to give the children a "sanifying sense of reality."

James H. and J. D. Evans of Belton and J. T. Williams and A. Z. McDougal of Lubbock were here Monday as guests of their friend Van Bates. They confided to the News man that Van was going to take them out hunting. Van explained, however, that they expected to hunt only field larks. We have not learned what sort of success they had.

Interesting News From South Ward

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cossey and family are in our community now from Oklahoma. They are on their way to Mexico and are staying a few weeks with Mrs. Cossey's brother, Mr. W. P. Inman.

Miss Lois Crowley of Post City is the guest of Miss Oleta Snyder this week.

Mrs. J. W. Johnson entertained the young folks with a tacky party Saturday night. Mrs. Garland Pennington and Wilson Parmer won prizes for being the tackiest ones present. Every one reported a very enjoyable evening.

A little accident happened in our community Monday which came near proving serious. While coming down a hill north of his home, Roy Willford ran over a dog which belongs to W. P. Inman, causing the car to turn over. Roy escaped unhurt but the dog was seriously injured. However it is expected to recover. The windshield was broken from the car and the top pretty badly damaged. Otherwise nothing was hurt.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Inman and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cossey motored to Slaton Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson of Redwine were South Ward visitors Sunday.

Sunday School and church were well attended Sunday. Brother Damonds of Abilene, who, with his family, is visiting his brother, Mr. George Damonds of this community, preached for us Sunday night. He brought us a fine message, which was appreciated by all present. The health of the community is good, as far as we know. Sunbeam.

NEGRO NEAR DEATH AFTER BATTLE WITH WIFE

A negro man, who formerly was "handy man" in the cleaning process of the Lubbock county courthouse, is in a local hospital at the point of death as a result of a knife slashing battle engaged in by himself and wife at Slaton late Saturday night. Attending physicians say he has only a fighting chance to live.

The wife of the injured negro is being held in the Lubbock county jail, herself somewhat bruised and lacerated as a result of the scrap. Several stitches were taken to close up a slash on her arm. She will be held here pending further developments in the negro man's condition, and may be called upon to face a murder charge, according to announcement at the sheriff's office.

The negro man was severely slashed across the stomach, the knife penetrating well through the skin in two or three places. He also suffered a severe laceration on the shoulder. The seriousness of his condition was enhanced by the lack of medical attention after he was hurt, for it was practically eight hours before a doctor was summoned. He was brought to the hospital here early Sunday morning. —Lubbock Journal.

Mrs. G. E. Lockhart of Lubbock visited friends and attended church in the city Sunday.

Uncle Jim Raps Preachers; Editor To Their Defence

Well, I will write some more for the Lynn County News. I expect some one to chew the rag over what I will write.

There are two things I don't believe in. One is a set salary for preachers, and the other is putting a handle to preachers' names, such as Rev., D. D. L. L. D. Such fellows do not look to me any better than the humblest preacher that walks the land. I fail to find in all the Bible where any of the authors of the books of the Bible had the handle to their names. They even go so far as to call them Doctor So-and-So. Back in the days of the apostles, it was Matthew, Mark, Luke, Paul and so on. No handle to their names. This modern day, if the announcement is made that some man with the handle to his name is to preach at a certain time, people will scramble to hear him, when a humble preacher can hardly get an audience. Those men of the Bible will live in the minds of the people when the fellow with the handle to his name will be forgotten.

Now, as for the preacher having a set salary, say, some of you preachers please tell me where I can find in the Bible where a preacher has the authority to have a set salary to preach the gospel. They will tell the world salvation is free, which it is, free without money and without price, but when a man or woman connects themselves with a denominational church, then it's the money and the price. They even assess the membership so much each. Will some one tell me, from the authority of God's word, where they have the right to do such?

In the good old days gone by, the preacher considered himself the servant of the people. This modern day, from their acts, a great many of them want the people to be their servants. They want their children educated without work. No preacher's boy or girl is any better than mine. Let them work for what they get. I've quit paying these $1.00 preachers if I know it.

Uncle Jim

Editor's note—Uncle Jim is a good man. He is a devout Christian gentle man. He is devoted to the work of the Master. He thinks he is doing God's service. But he is wrong. He is living in the past. He thinks we ought to do things today just as they were done fifty years ago, or be even more conservative than were the people of that day.

We do not agree with Uncle Jim. Like him, we are not very strong for high sounding titles for preachers. But we know of no divine law against such. It is true that in apostolic days, the preachers were not called Rev. or Doctor So-and-So. But neither did they put handles to laymen's names. We see nothing in the Bible about Mr. Luke or Mr. Paul or Gvo. Felix of Prof. Gamliel or Col. Cornelius. These "handles" are of modern invention or development, but we see nothing particularly harmful in them. Certainly Uncle Jim would not object to calling his neighbor Mr. Jones simply because the title "Mr." is not found in the Bible. If Mr. Jones had lived in apostolic days and the Bible had made mention of him, he would have been called simply "John" or "James" or "Paul" or "Jeremiah," as the case might be.

As for getting an audience, the title of "Rev." or "Doctor" doesn't help a man to get an audience these days. No preacher can get much of an audience and hold it unless he can greatly entertain or instruct or inspire those who listen. Neither the "humble" preacher nor the Doctor of Divinity can get and retain large audiences unless he has something to say and can say it in a forceful manner. The ignoramus is just as much out of place in the pulpit, as a rule, as he is in the court house before a jury, on the political stump, in the school room, at the sick bedside, or elsewhere.

Now, as to set salaries. Uncle Jim wants some preacher to tell him where "set salaries" are authorized in the Bible. We might ask Uncle Jim where Sunday School Superintendents, song leaders, church pews, cane bottom chairs, pulpit stands, or a dozen other things now in common use in our churches are authorized in the Bible. God Almighty expected his people to have common sense and to exercise it in carrying on his work. Now, we maintain that fixing a salary for the preacher is the wise and sensible thing for any church to do. Preachers' salaries should not be fixed at so high a figure that it will attract unscrupulous or insincere men into the ministry just to get the salary attached. Some few men doubtless do enter the ministry because they think this will be an easy way to earn a livelihood, or part of their livelihood. But we are convinced that there are few such. Most of this type are not pastors with "set salaries" but so-called evangelists of the theatrical, acrobatic type, who draw great crowds and collect considerable coin by making monkeys of themselves in the pulpit. The pastor needs to devote all his time to his task of preaching the gospel and advancing the Kingdom of Christ. If he does so intelligently, he has little time to get out and earn a livelihood by manual labor, as our grandfathers in the ministry did a half century ago. Every church should enable its pastor to do this by paying him such a salary that he can live decently and meet his obligations from month to month or time to time as they come due. Our observation is that churches that do not pay "set" salaries frequently do not pay any salary at all to speak of. Like Uncle Jim, they do not believe in set salaries or any other kind, and their preacher has to hustle on the outside for a living or go hungry.

CURB AND GUTTER WORK NEARING COMPLETION

Resident Engineer L. H. Male reports that the curb and gutter work will be completed by the last of the week. The drainage ditches have been dug to carry the flood water to the northwest of town.

The grading of the streets in the residential section is being pushed rapidly and it is said that some good work is being done. With a little rain and dragging the streets will be in as good condition as it is possible to make them without paving or hard surfacing.

Now, that the city has spent a large sum of money on curbs and gutters in the business part of town, the work should not stop until the streets are paved. Without paving the streets the gutters will soon be filled with drifting sand and the work that has been done will be of no value.

O'Donnell is deserving of the best and some means must be provided for paving the streets.—O'Donnell Index.

Grassland School Opens For Year

Grassland school opened Monday morning, November 16, with a goodly number present. The school met Friday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a literary society. The following officers were elected: Miss Crawford, Pres; Miss Aken, Sec'y and Treas.; Mr. Carter, Sergeant-at Arms; Frank Gregg and Elmer Dean, Asst. Sergeants-at Arms; Mrs. Carter, Chm. of Program Committee; Ruth McCord, Ebbie D. Bearden, Eula Mae Gregg, Members of Program Committee.

We cordially invite every one to the program and pie supper Friday night, November 27, and the other programs that we will have every other Friday night.

Lubbock Attorney Highjacker Victim

Judge Tom Garrard, of the local law firm of Lockhart and Garrard, underwent an ordeal at the hands of hijackers Tuesday night shortly past 7 o'clock when his watch, pocket knife and less than $1 in change was taken from him on 13th street, just north of the central ward school building.

Attorney Garrard was returning to town, he told the Daily Journal, and at the alley between avenues Q and O, was accosted by an unknown man who flashed a pistol and ordered "stick 'em up."

He immediately reported the act to local officials, who took bloodhounds to the scene in an effort to apprehend the marauder. Two suspects were picked up and were being held in the city jail Wednesday morning pending investigation of the affair. The hi-jacker was less than middle age, the victim said, and apparently was a professional at the game, for he was exceptionally deliberate in all his actions. Mr. Garrard said he believed he could readily identify the hijacker.

Mr. Garrard was called to the police station in the city hall Wednesday afternoon and after careful examination of the two men held, expressed doubt that neither of the men the one wanted. He then was carried to the county jail, where a negro man, who was taken into custody shortly before noon, was questioned in connection with the affair. The negro, according to the attorney is believed to be the one wanted, but no positive accusations would be made against him until further investigations.

The citizens of Slaton last week voted a $100,000 bond issue with which to pave the streets of the city. It is announced that seventeen blocks will be paved.

Says Cotton Burs Worth $10 A Ton

Tyler, Texas, Nov. 10.—Dabney White of this city is sending the following to Texas ginners:

A million dollars worth of cotton burs are now being destroyed in the Staked Plains and the Panhandle country. It is costing many ginners many dollars extra to destroy these burs.

I have had the Government to test the value of these burs for you and they find that they are worth considerably over $10 per ton for feed or for fertilizer, almost twice as much as cottonseed hulls. To get this value from them they should be ground. I find that you can grind these burs into meal for about $1 per ton. The grinding machinery will cost you about $150. You can use a tractor or connect to your power plant. Your customers can well afford to pay you $2 or $3 per ton for grinding these burs. They make a splendid feed mixed with cottonseed meal and ground maize heads—50 per cent burs, 25 per cent cotton seed meal and ground maize heads—Get rid of these burs without burning them on your yard. We lost a $20,000 gin by fire from a bur-pile wire recently. Your insurance company will cancel your policy if they catch your burning burs in piles on your gin premises. No trouble to answer questions.

Citizens are agitating a campaign for a paving bond election. The election will probably be called at an early date.

ROBBERS LODGED IN DAWSON COUNTY JAIL

Last may the Depot was broken into here and some cigarettes stolen. In a few nights following James McCord wholesale grocery was broken into and again it was cigarettes.

Sheriff Dillard has finally located the thief and his accomplice at Tahoka and things will pick up from now out for them.

One is in jail here and the other is perhaps also as they were to get him Monday of this week.

This ranch consisted originally of 126 sections, or more than 80,000 acres. Twenty sections of this land lying north of the Tahoka-Brownfield highway and west of the Tahoka-Lubbock highway and adjoining the townsite of Tahoka has been placed on the market. A part of this land has been sold and converted into farms and as fine cotton as can be found on the south plains may be found today on these lands. We are selling these lands out in quarter and half sections. This is your chance to get a home. Lynn county produced more than 38,000 bales of cotton last year. It is conservatively estimated that it will produce 50,000 bales this year. Fine land, fine water, fine people; complete crop failures almost unknown.
