Merchants Plan Bigger 2nd Monday

On June 9th Double Number of Premiums, Women Offered Equal Number—Auctioneer Free Trading From 8 to 12

Yep, we told you last week we would have another second Monday next month, and it is sure there; the first Monday is the 2nd day and is appointed and set aside as clean-up day. June 9th is therefore the second Monday, and if you think we won't have a better and bigger crowd here the 9th of June than we had the 12th of May, you come and bring all your family and we will show you.

This time, there will be a premium for which a woman may compete, for each one that the men compete for. And there will be twice as many premiums this time as there were before.

Trades Day morning from eight o'clock until noon will be devoted exclusively to trading. Bring in your trading stock early in the morning, or what will be better, come in Saturday and rest up and groom your trading stock, then by Monday they will be in shape to almost trade themselves. If you have anything, merchandise, implements, tools, or stock, new or second hand, in good shape or bad, that you want to dispose of, an experienced and competent auctioneer will be furnished you absolutely free at any time between the hours of eight and twelve o'clock in the morning on Trades Day.

Watch this paper for the announcements and list of premiums, and remember our slogan, there is, "Nothing Short About Tahoka But It's Past."

J. Y. Everett, of Tredway, came in Tuesday with several wagon loads of wool which he loaded on the car here Wednesday. The car which contained 17,810 pounds of wool was hauled out by the local Thursday morning train its way to San Angelo. Tahoka is shipping everything now from cream by the five gallon can to wool by the car load. Come to Tahoka and have a share in the general prosperity.

Saturday a week ago the citizens of Brownfield voted against a special school tax 29 to 14. This action will (according to the Herald) greatly cripple the school there next term. They will have only money enough to pay a principle $75 a month and assistants $50 a month each and have only a seven months term, and it requires three first grade teachers and an eight months term to hold the position of first grade high school.

ANOTHER REAL-LIFE ROMANCE BROUGHT TO LIGHT

Married in Lubbock, Sunday May the 18th, at six o'clock in the afternoon, W. J. Montgomery, of Tahoka, and Miss Essie Bellah, of Rising Star.

The above are the facts in the case, but there is considerable of a story attached to the facts as is the case in many instances. Will and Miss Essie were childhood playmates, having been acquainted ever since Miss Essie's second year. The wedding was but the culmination of a romance of long standing, for they have been lovers always and have been engaged to be married for twelve years.

When Will Montgomery got into his buggy Saturday morning and drove away toward the north no one suspected that he was bidding farewell to his life of happy bachelorhood, but such was the case. He drove through Lubbock to Hale Center where Miss Essie was visiting a couple of her brothers. Sunday afternoon the young couple left for the south and when they arrived at Abernathy, Will phoned to his friend, Ab. Rankin, of Lubbock, to have the preacher and county clerk spotted so there would be no loss of time. Mr. Rankin was as good as his word or even a little better, as he got the preacher, Rev. W. M. Lane, Methodist pastor at Lubbock, and the clerk stationed at his house and went out to meet Will and his lady-love a couple of miles from town and escorted them to the Rankin residence where the happy couple were married sitting in their buggy. After the ceremony was over, music, ice cream and cake were had then Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery left on their way to Tahoka.

Will and his wife moved to their home one mile west of Tahoka the first of the week, and if Miss Essie is as good a cook as Will is farmer, it will be one of the model homes of the South Plains.

Farming in The Saddle

M. M. Anthony, of seven miles south, called at the News office Tuesday afternoon and while here made the remark that this was the only country he ever lived in where it was possible to farm successfully on horse back. He said that last year he very seldom walked out side of the yard at home. He would drive his plow up to the gate, get into the seat, plow all day and drive home at night without being at all tired, the same with the cultivator, and even when he had to run a harrow he rode horse-back and drove the harrow team. He uses the hoe but little, so all his work is done either in the saddle or implement seat. Come to Lynn county to farm, where you can work in the field all day and feel fresh enough to go hunting after work hours.

Rev. A. D. Jamison, the Methodist pastor at Brownfield, took the train here Wednesday morning on his way to Georgetown, where he will attend the bible school this summer.

Prof. and Mrs. E. A. White went down to Lamesa Monday evening returning Tuesday morning. Mrs. White and the children boarded the train at Tahoka and the professor joined them at Skeen after his school closed Monday and dropped off at the same place Tuesday morning in time to open school.

Crops and Houses Damaged by Hail

Eastern Portion of County Swept by Wind, Rain and Hail Monday Cotton Heaviest Loser Windows Smashed

Monday evening about seven o'clock a severe wind and hail storm came the southwest which while it did but little damage here in town, did considerable damage just east of us beginning right at the east edge of the town section and covering quite a large scope of country. Nearly every place the rain did more good than the wind and hail did damage, but in a few places there was more damage done than benefit. Guy King, of 4 1/2 miles east of Tahoka, had six large window lights broken out by the hail, some of which were broken in spite of the fact that they were covered by screen wire. He also had 40 acres of cotton up to a fine stand that had four leaves on nearly all of it completely destroyed by hail. His feed crops were not much damaged however.

Rube Lewis, of seven miles southeast of Tahoka, was out in the field plowing with four mules hitched to a planter when the storm came up and he had a very narrow escape from a serious accident. He held the mules and crouched down behind the planter thus shielding his head but his right arm was exposed to the full violence of the hail, many of which he says were the size of a teacup. Tuesday morning he came to town with his arm in a sling and both the arm and hand were badly swollen from the effects of the severe drubbing they had received.

J. V. Dyer, of four miles east of Tahoka, lost 14 window lights from the hail, also his entire cotton crop. The feed not suffering much damage.

G. W. Samford, one half mile east of the railroad lost 35 acres of cotton and all of his fruit garden and feed crop, some of which he finished planting Monday. This feed he planted down in the furrow and the wind, rain and hail swept the ground level covering the seed so deep that he does not think it will ever come up. He also lost six window lights, all of which were exposed, and had several lights, protected by a porch roof, cracked by hail striking the porch and bouncing up and hitting the lights hard enough to crack them but not hard enough to shatter them.

J. B. Reece, of 3 1/2 miles east of Tahoka, lost 30 acres of cotton and had six window lights shattered, which were protected by screen wire.

Dr. Ben R. King, of Fort Worth, was at the B. H. Black place, 6 miles south, which he recently purchased. He reports that although they had a piece of linoleum tacked over the glass in the front door the hail came right thru. Every window light which was exposed was broken.

M. M. Anthony, of seven miles south of Tahoka, reported that the hail completely unroofed his barn and half of his house. He said hail stones fell as large as cocoa nuts, some them striking the hard ground and bouncing a hundred feet. Tuesday morning he found three chickens killed by the hail and a mare with her eye knocked out, which he supposed was done by the hail also. Mr. Anthony said there was

I take this method of thanking you for your support and patronage while I lived in Tahoka, and to say that Dr. E. E. Callaway who is taking my place there is a good and dependable Physician and Surgeon and a man of high moral character. I hope you will support him as you did me.

more water on the road from the Jim Cowan place, five miles south of Tahoka, to the corner of the town section than he ever saw there before.

C. J. Campbell, of seven miles south-east of Tahoka, had a calf, some pigs and chickens killed by the hail, also the roof of his house was so badly damaged that he had to take out five bundles of shingles to repair it.

Joe Sanders was in Tahoka Tuesday after 1500 shingles to repair the hail damage.

J. S. Barnes was in town Tuesday after shingles and reported the loss of chickens and a couple of pigs by the hail.

Reports however came from many places where they had a splendid rain and no damage by either hail or wind to amount to anything. As near as we have been able to estimate about a third of Lynn county received a good rain, all the way from a half an inch to an inch and a half. Here in Tahoka the government rain gauge read 38 hundredths of an inch and the wind was so strong it is likely this was a short measure. During the month of March we had 1.12 inches of rain; in April 1.86 and for May up to date we have had 1.23 inches or nearly four and a quarter inches since the fourth of March, 1913. Grass is green, cattle are doing splendidly and everything is flourishing.

J. S. Barnes, of 5 miles east of Tahoka, was insured in the Saint Paul Fire & Marine Insurance Co., so will suffer no loss from the damage done to his house by the hail Monday. A. B. Ellis, Agent, Tahoka. 38-1t

J. E. Ketter, the Main street merchant, left on the Wednesday morning train enroute to Coleman on a business trip.

NOTICE.—No hunting allowed with guns or dogs in the Brownfield ranch. 11-tf RAY BROWNFIELD.

We call attention to a local in this paper advertising cotton seed for sale. Mr. Anthony says that he planted seed of cotton last year on the 6th day of June and on the 10th day of September Brown Bishop picked 300 pounds of cotton in this planting.

Joe Baldrige came in on the train Wednesday evening from Post City where he had been with his wife who was operated on for appendicitis. He reports Mrs. Baldrige as doing splendidly, and expects her to be able to return home in about a couple of weeks.

A. R. Groves, of Lubbock county, plowed up a complete human skeleton on his farm a few days ago. Mr. Groves has lived on this farm about 20 years so the body must have been buried there many years ago. When the bones were moved they crumbled into dust.

Monday June 2nd Clean-Up Day

The Above Date Has Been Set Aside For the Purpose of Cleaning Up the Town, Everybody Is Expected to Help

It was decided some time ago by the powers that be, that Tahoka should have a general clean up day, and the day was set, and the rain came and while there was no flood, the people could not clean up on that day, so cleaning up has been put off and has not been done even to this good hour.

Dr. L. E. Turrentine, who was appointed county health officer at the meeting of the commissioners' court last week, makes the request thru all the citizens of Tahoka get together and clean up the town, and in order that every one may perform the good work on the same day and be an inspiration to each other, Monday the 2nd day of June has been selected and designated as Clean Up Day.

Let every man, woman and child in Tahoka and vicinity put in just as much of the First Monday in June cleaning up their premises; the streets and alleys adjacent, and if they have time and strength, clean up where there is no one living near to do so.

Tahoka is a city of comfortable homes, prettily painted houses, neatly fenced yards, with trees, shrubbery and flowers therein; Now let us go even further and make it a city of clean streets, alleys and vacant lots. Let's live up to our slogan, "Nothing Short About Tahoka But It's Past."

Last week we failed to notice that Prof. Walker managed a deal in which 800 acres of land seven miles northeast of Tahoka, known as the Marchbanks place, changed hands for a consideration of $9.50 per acre. Also a section of land 14 miles northwest of Tahoka at $8.50 per acre.

J. H. Edwards and family, G. W. Small, Jr. and family, W. R. Majors and family and J. E. Stokes and wife left in autos Thursday of last week for the Concho river on a fishing trip. All the party except Mr. Majors and family returned Tuesday afternoon and report a splendid time and lots of fish caught.

Rev. W. H. Terry, of Big Springs, came in on the north bound train Saturday morning and preached a couple of very interesting and instructive sermons Sunday. He left Monday morning accompanied by Rev. J. P. Callaway for Plainview, where they will both take part in the commencement exercises of Seth-Ward College.

GETTING UP STEAM

Do you know what we need in booming this town?

WE NEED STEAM.

We should organize all the men into a GREAT ENGINE OF PROGRESS and then get enough steam in our boilers to make the thing go.

The locomotive has transformed the world, has peopled the wilderness, built great cities, carried civilization to the ends of the earth, made trade boom all around the planet.

It has done these things because it has POWER, because it MOVES. It is an iron and steel harness placed on the force of steam. It is organized to go in definite directions and perform definite tasks.

We need to HARNESS HUMAN STEAM, to give it the same definite directions and tasks to perform.

To build a human engine that will pull this town up the road of progress we must all work together. We must organize so that each man will have his allotted part of the load; then we must get up the steam of energy, pull open the throttle and move things.

Toot-toot! All aboard the boosting train!

Now, all together! I'll pull for new people, new business!

Start Your Liver Don't Stop Work

Dodson's Liver Tone Acts Mildly, but Surely. Liven's Up the Liver and You Stay On Your Feet.

It is the experience of calomel users that if they take enough of the drug to have the desired effect, it seriously interferes with their work the day after. But this is the least important item, for calomel is often a dangerous drug and acts on the system violently.

Don't take chances with calomel. Get a bottle of the pleasant, safe and perfectly harmless Dodson's Liver Tone, guaranteed to take the effect of calomel. Instead of making feel worse the next day, it makes you feel better—and you actually are better, for no remedy in the whole world liven's up the liver, regulates the bowels and really rejuvenates the system any better than this one.

You are the sole judge of its merits. Thomas Bros. Drug Co. is fully authorized to hand you back your money without question if it fails to please you—and relieve you.

measures because while progressive they are not radical; they are democratic for they are in the interest of reform and sound government; they are socialistic as they have been referred to the people for action. They are all endorsed by the legislature. Vote for them if you can, vote against them if you like, but however you vote, for or against, vote. Governmental matters like these, are too expensive and vital to be treated carelessly and indifferently.

A DEBATE.

The church at Tahoka, Texas, has asked me to represent them in a debate with Rev. W. A. Jarrell, a Missionary Baptist, of Dallas, Texas, to begin on Tuesday after the third Sunday in June and continue six days. Dr. Jarrell has the reputation of being the ablest preacher and debator of that denomination in Texas. He is the author of several works, which I have.—J. S. N.

Mrs. Toney Chisum took the train Thursday morning for Post City where she will visit friends for a few days.

J. K. Jamison, who has been visiting his son, Rev. A. D. Jamison at Brownfield, and his sister, Mrs. A. D. Shook, of Tahoka, took the north bound train Wednesday morning enroute for Mattador, where he will visit another son for a few days, before returning to his home in Oklahoma.

Miss Lavina McCarley, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. W. B. Slaton, of North Tahoka, a month or more; left in an auto for Post City Sunday in response to a telegram telling that their brother, Fred McCarley had died in El Paso. No particulars of the sad occurrence were given.

Invitations were out Monday for a dining at the Ramsey home in North Tahoka, with a hayride afterward. The occasion was in celebration of the 21st birthday of Russell Ramsey. On account of the rain Monday afternoon the proceedings were postponed until Tuesday when every one enjoyed themselves to the utmost.

STRONG FIGURE OF SPEECH

Colored Deacon's Prayer Lacked Nothing in Force Because Couched in Primitive Language.

One of the English instructors at the University of Kansas makes a hobby of forceful and picturesque language. Primitive people, he contends, because of their scant supply of words, are forced to use figures of speech to express themselves and, consequently, use much more picturesque language than the educated classes, which have an extensive vocabulary from which to pick and choose.

"I had been invited to deliver an address at the dedication of a colored church in Richmond," says the minister, "and at its conclusion, in recognition of the tireless efforts of an aged colored deacon to collect funds for the new edifice, I invited him to offer prayer. He included me in his supplication something like this:

"Gib this pore brudder de eye of de eagle, dat he spy out sin afar off. Glue his hands to de gospel plow. Tie his tongue to de line of truth. Nail his years to de gospel pole. Bow his head way down between his knees, O Lord, and fix his knees way down in some lonely, dark and narrow valley, where prayer is much wanted to be made. 'Noint him with de kerosene ile of salvation, and set him afire!'"—Kansas City Star.

HERS WAS THE RULING SPIRIT

Jim Baggs Had the Physical Strength, but Little Woman the Dominating Brain.

He gave palpable evidence of weighing at least 240, and he towered six feet four inches into the air. He looked as if the champion heavyweight of the prize ring might go down before him like a reed before the wind. By his side stood a little woman of five feet ten and possible ninety pounds in weight. She had the meek look of a woman who had borne much. While they waited for their car on a corner a passerby heard the giant say:

"Can't you let me have a quarter, Jennie?"

Jennie's voice cut the air like a blade as she said:

"Now, see here, Jim Baggs, didn't I tell you before we left home that ten cents was all I intended you should have to spend? I sure did, an' I should think you had been married to me long enough to know that when I say a thing I mean it! I think I see you havin' a whole quarter to fool away on seegers an' such stuff! Now you make any more fuss and you'll stay at home the next time I come to town!"—Judge.

ABSENT-MINDED.

Following a meeting of a woman's club recently, several young North side matrons were discussing their husbands.

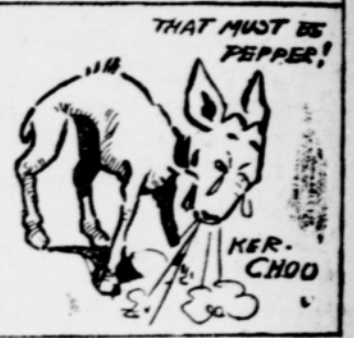

"Jack is so absent-minded," said one, "that I frequently have to find his hat for him."

"That's nothing," said another, "the other day I noticed Harry looking through the city directory for the definition of a word."—Youngstown Telegram.

HAD RIGHT TO BE JUBILANT

Waiter's Little Lapse From Duty Really Excusable When He Stated the Reason.

Stuart C. Leake, the railroad man, dropped into a cafe in Philadelphia one day for lunch, and signified by voice and gesture that he was in a terrific hurry to be served. A waiter named Reno, whom Leake knew, paid no attention to the guest, but consumed at least five minutes dancing in a demented manner around a stock ticker in the corner.

"Why on earth didn't you come here to this table when I called you?" asked Leake.

"I was detained by a little private business," said the waiter mysteriously.

"But I insist on knowing," Leake came back at him. "I don't see how a waiter can hold his job and behave the way you do. If you don't step sharp now, you'll get no tip."

This seemed to bring the waiter to his senses.

"Well, Mr. Leake," he said, with great humility, "I was celebrating a little. I just saw by the stock ticker that I had made a thousand dollars on the short side of the market. What'll you have, sir?"—Popular Magazine.

DEPICTS A PERFECT WOMAN

Doubtful, However, if Many Measure Up to Proportions Prescribed by Writer.

A perfectly proportioned woman should average 5 feet 5 inches to 5 feet 7 inches in height, and she should weigh from 125 to 140 pounds, according to height. A plumb line dropped from a point marked by the tip of her nose should meet at a point one inch in front of her great toe. Her shoulders and hips should strike a straight line drawn up and down. Her waist should taper gradually to a size on a line drawn from the outer third of the collarbones to the hips. Her bust should measure from 28 to 36 inches, her hips from 6 to 10 inches more than this, and her waist from 24 inches to 28 inches. Her neck and thigh should be of about the same circumference. The upper arm and calf of the leg should measure the same. The length of her legs should be half as long as her height. She should measure from her waist to her feet about a foot more than from her waist to the crown of her head. Around the neck she should measure from 12 to 14 inches. Her head should be erect and on a line with the central plane of her body, and her feet should be of a size and shape to conform with her hands—that is the shoe will be a trifle larger than one-half the size of the glove she wears. Thus, if a girl wears a 6 glove she should wear a 3 1/2 or 4 size shoe.—Exchange.

MAKING A RAISE.

"Doctor, I want to become so I can raise a great weight. Can you get me that way?"

"Guess so; but your physique is rather slight at present."

"I know it is. I thought maybe I could raise a little at first, and work up."

"Yes; we'll have to go at it gradually; take a long course of treatment."

"All right, doctor. What shall I raise to start with?"

"Better raise $200, I guess."

HAD ONE.

Prepare for Future.
It is imperative that we provide some means of saving the dairy herd over the season of falling pastures, instead of vainly regretting that it has occurred.
The dairyman who depends upon the pasture during the summer and the winter to feed his cows is treading on treacherous ground.

Crutty to the Cows.
The milker who will thump a cow for squirming under the attack of flies ought to be hoisted out of the barn on the toe of the dairyman's boot.
Why should the hired man be expected to work ten hours or more in the harvest field and then while out and dirty tackle the milking job?

VALUE OF BLANKETING COWS

Practice Adopted in Australia Found to Give Excellent Results During Cold Weather.

For some years past a number of dairymen in Australia have adopted the practice of blanketing cows during wet and cold weather. The results in every case are spoken of as being highly satisfactory. When cows are kept warm the food they consume instead of being utilized to maintain daily heat, is largely devoted to the production of milk, and in this way the dairyman realizes a large profit on the very small outlay required to provide blankets for his cattle in cold weather.

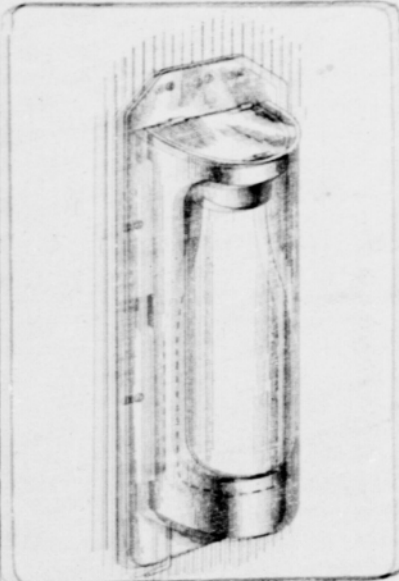

Men who have studied the subject closely say that the effect of covers on cows is very remarkable. The quiet cows become more quiet and contented, while those that are shy or nervous have their nerves soothed, and submit to being handled without fear. This is no fad of one or two men, but has become so common that the manufacturers have placed several kinds of blankets as coverings on the markets, with a view of supplying the demand that has arisen.

It is said, however, that a homemade blanket, made from old wheat bags, serves the purpose as well as anything. After they have been worn for a short time they become thoroughly waterproof.

SAFETY HOLDER FOR BOTTLES

Authorized Person by Use of Key Can Open Lock and Remove Jar From Receptacle.

In describing an invention of G. F. Barr of Manhattan, N. Y., for holding milk bottles and other receptacles, the Scientific American says:
In the present invention is an improved safety holder for milk bottles, jars and the like receptacles, intended to be attached to a suitable support and to receive and retain a bottle against unauthorized removal.

Holder for Bottles.

An authorized person, by use of a key, can readily open the lock and swing the cover open for removal of the receptacle from the casing, as pictured in the perspective view, of the safety holder for a milk bottle, locked in position in the holder.

WOMAN RECLUSED DEAD AT 72

Scared as Child, She Lived in Woods in Hunt After Entire Life.

Waynesburg, Pa.—After passing practically her entire life in the woods Mrs. Lucinda Lewis, aged 72, died at the home of her nephew in Richhill township. When a small child she was frightened away from home by her parents, telling her that certain visitors would cut off her ears if she was not good.

The child went to the woods, where she would spend the entire day, and sometimes would come home at night and sleep with the other children, leaving in the morning before daylight. Later she stayed away the entire time, sleeping in a rude hut she built and appearing at home only to get food supplies.

For the last 23 years she came to the old home each night, and would crawl under the house and sleep. She became ill a few days ago and was carried into the house and placed in bed. Her relatives are well to do.

Profit of Gov.

The milk production alone does not what insures the profit of the cow. It is the difference between the cost of feed and the returns which the milk brings.

WHEN FIRESHIPs WERE USED

In Sea Fights They Were Decried and Did Effective Service at Siege of Tyre.

London.—Nothing in the narrative of many old sea fights appeals more strongly to the modern imagination than the doings of the fireships.
The idea of using incendiary vessels for the destruction of a hostile fleet was of great antiquity. They are said to have been employed at the siege of Tyre in 332 B. C., and again by the Rhodians about a century and a half later. By the English, however, they were first used in 1570 and two centuries later had come to be looked upon as a legitimate naval weapon, their attacks being regarded and dreaded in much the same way as are those of the torpedo craft and submarines at the present time.

The explosion vessels, or "infernales," invented by the Italian engineer Gianbelli, were the most formidable. The designer procured two vessels of about 80 tons each and laid along their bottom a foundation of brickwork. Upon this he erected a marble chamber with five foot walls containing 3,000 tons of gunpowder, while on top of this chamber was a six foot layer of gravelstones placed edge-wise. A marble roof rose over these, and upon it was piled a quantity of round shot, chain shot, millstones, blocks of stone, iron shot, millstones, anything heavy which would cause the explosion to take a lateral effect. The effect of this floating volcano was appalling, for the masses of stone and shot, disintegrated and flung skywards by the explosive, fell and destroyed any vessels, buildings or men in the vicinity.

Three years later the Spanish armada before Cadiz was attacked by fireships prepared by the English. Eight vessels were selected, and so great was the haste that not even their guns or stores were removed. They were ignited and launched, and with the wind and tide in their favor advanced straight for the center of the anchored armada. Ship fouled ship amid the cries of terror and the crash of falling spars and though the Spanish fleet succeeded in getting to sea the fireships struck completely disorganized and demoralized them, and helped largely to make the eventual battle of Gravelines the success it was.

The most recent, and at the same time one of the most interesting, fireship exploits which ever took place was that carried out against the French fleet at Banque Roads in 1809, by Lord Cochrane. His explosion vessel intended to destroy the boom, by which the French fleet was a truly awful contrivance. Cochrane picked the vessel and lit the train at the last moment and on the evidence of a French captain whose ship was close by it did its work well, for the air was filled with shells, grenades and blazing debris, while the explosion tore a huge rent in the boom.

STREET THROUGH 3 STATES

Boston's Principal Thoroughfare May Be Longest in the World—Will Total 350 Miles.

Boston.—Forty years ago Cyrus Washburn, of Italian furniture fame, earnestly and energetically advocated a plan to extend Washington street a dozen miles northward from Boston to the town of Wakefield. With Mr. Washburn's passing the scheme was lost sight of, but recently it has been revived, as the nucleus of a plan to lengthen Washington street so that it will reach from the New Hampshire line, north of Lowell, through Massachusetts and Rhode Island and across the Connecticut border to New London.

If the plan is carried out, Washington street will be approximately 150 miles long, one of the longest thoroughfares under a single name in the world, and a very effective memorial to the name and fame of the father of this country.

The present Washington street is the longest street east of the Hudson river, and one of the longest in the United States. Its 55 1/2 miles of road way, reaching from the Charles river on the north to nearly the center of Providence, provides a long drive, attractive scenery and historic houses.

Cruise's Problem.

Robinson Cruise went and looked at the footprint in the sand. "Of course," said he to himself, "this is Cruise's last Friday, is somewhere near."

"Taken his knee-knit to perplexity. "But what is the matter with me going to do to keep the reader's attention for the next four days?"
"He began kicking sand into the footprint."
"For this," he murmured, "this is Monday, all day!"

NEW POT FOR TRANSPLANTING

Made in Two Sections, Which Are Easily Separated and Damage to Flowers Eliminated.

A simple and effective pot for flowers and shrubbery that requires transplanting has been patented by an Idaho man. Of course, it costs more than the ordinary pot, but that is equalized by the fact that it lasts much longer and damage to transplanted flowers is eliminated. This new pot consists of two parts of steel metal, with dovetailing hinge eyes. Rods run through the hinge eyes on both sides and hold the pot together. When a plant is to be transferred from the pot to the ground a hole is dug in the latter and the pot inserted. The two rods are then withdrawn and the top section of the pot fell away from the dirt surrounding the roots. The earth can then be packed back into the cavity and the flower transplanted without the slightest trouble or danger to the roots.

TO HIDE CHEAP WOODWORK

Proper Treatment With Paint Will Turn the Hideous into the Dainty and Beautiful.

When the woodwork in the parlor or lounge seems so cheap and hideous as to be absolutely loathsome, which often appears to be the case, stain it black. This will hide the defects and give a great deal of style to the rooms if used with red or green or orange or blue paper, but will not look so well with delicate shades. White enamel paint always gives a dainty effect, but it is quite expensive to put on, and cannot be done by an amateur, while a spot of stain can be made with black paint, diluted one-third with turpentine, that is easily applied by the inexperienced and will give a very much more stylish tone to the room than a poor imitation oak or mahogany. The same treatment may be used to rejuvenate an old Morris chair, that is comfortable but whose yellow varnished arms have become too hideous to be endured. Old wood picture frames will be improved by the same treatment. But if these are really mahogany or real walnut do not paint them, merely sandpaper them and stain with a stain that can be purchased at the paint store.

More Treasures Leave England.

One of the best preserved masterpieces of Elizabethan interior decoration in England is deemed to be dismantled in order to adorn the mansion of some American magnate. A West End firm has acquired, lock, stock and barrel, the Elizabethan building with its Queen Anne additions, known as Rotherwas, the seat of the Bodenham family, situated about two and a half miles from Hereford. The mansion had descended in unbroken line from George Bodenham, who lived in the reign of Henry I. to Count Lubinski, Bodenham, who died last year. The superb painting—Elizabethan, Jacobean and Queen Anne—of thirteen of the apartments is now to be taken to New York. Rotherwas is mentioned in Tom Swadlow's book—London Globe.

To Cure a Stiff Shoulder.

If you have had a stiff shoulder and want to regain the full range of movement, the following simple plan has been recommended. Stand close to the wall and put your fingers on it, then creep up the wall with your fingers as high as you can. At first the stiffness will prevent you going very high. Make a pencil mark to show the level you reach. Each day you ought to get a little higher, but on no account lower, you ever fall short of the mark of the previous day, or the spell is broken. When you have reached as high with the injured arm as you can, with the sound one you are cured—From the Family Doctor.

MAINTENANCE OF GOOD ROADS

People in Many States Are Filled With Enthusiasm for Improvement of Public Highways.

The present year promises to be the greatest in the history of the movement for the improvement of the public roads of the United States, according to the reports received from all parts of the country by the United States department of agriculture. A joint committee of congress is engaged in an investigation of the feasibility of federal aid in the construction, improvement and maintenance of public highways, and a number of the state legislatures are considering good road legislation. In connection with the general impetus that the good road movement has recently had in all parts of the country, the director of the office of public highways says:

"Too much stress cannot be laid upon the importance of maintenance in connection with the work of improving the roads. The people in nearly all the states are filled with enthusiasm for road improvement and are spending enormous sums of money in the construction of superb roads, and yet almost without exception they are making little provision to care for the roads after they are built. This is true not only in the various countries, but under many of our state highway departments.

"To maintain the roads in good condition year after year requires a considerable annual outlay, but this outlay is infinitely less than the loss which must fall upon the people eventually if they allow their roads to go to utter ruin. The thing for all advocates of good roads to do is to urge continuous, systematic maintenance, and the entire state, every year of an amount per mile, estimated by the engineer in charge to be sufficient for the proper maintenance of the road—a course which must insure for economy and efficiency.

REALLY NO MYSTERY AT ALL

Horrible Hits on Night Dishes for Dyspeptic and Woman Who Was Reducing Weight.

When the Lawtons had lived in Wilcox Park about a month, they were invited to a succession of little dinners at the houses of their new neighbors. Mr. Lawton was on a dyspeptic diet, and Mrs. Lawton was endeavoring to reduce her weight.
"I suppose we shall have to eat all sorts of things we don't wish, or else seem rude," said Mrs. Lawton, mournfully, as they set out for the first dinner.
"To their growing surprise, the bills of fare placed before them at each dinner, although not remarkably varied, were all composed of such dishes as they could both enjoy.

"I don't see how you all hit on just the right thing, when Mr. Lawton and I really are such difficult guests," said Mrs. Lawton in a burst of confidence one afternoon when the neighbors were taking tea with her.

The ladies looked at each other, and then one of them spoke.
"You know Mary Sloan, who comes to wash for you 'twice a morning?" she said. "Well, I have her Mondays, and Mrs. Green has her Wednesdays, and she cooks for Mrs. Porter Thursdays, and scrubs for Miss Homer Fridays, so you see—"

Her voice trailed off into silence, but Mrs. Lawton no longer wondered, and so.

One Black Sheep Needed.

A revival of religion was in progress in a town where Peter, Paul and John were coal dealers. John was the first to come under the influence of very eloquent preaching. He was honest and sincere about it and joined the church. A week later Paul was influenced to abandon the world and the flesh, and he, too, became an enthusiastic supporter of the good work. Peter, however, held aloof from the meetings. None of the invitations of neighbors or brothers seemed to have any effect. Finally the elderman called and made a personal appeal. Peter was rough and ignorant and a little inclined to pugnacity, but honest and frank in speech if not in act. He finally clinched his negative arguments with one clergyman when in reply to a question he said: "John has become a Christian and Paul has become a Christian and if I join your church who then, because the parson will weigh the coal?"

Commissioners' Court Proceedings

(Delayed)

Monday morning the Commissioners' Court met in regular quarterly session with all members present as follows: J. L. Stokes, county judge; W. T. Petty, commissioner precinct 1; W. A. Waller, precinct 2; H. T. Gooch, precinct 3; O. L. Miller, precinct 4; J. W. Elliott, clerk and J. H. Edards, sheriff.

The only thing of importance done by the court on Monday was the appointing of Dr. L. E. Turentine as County Health Officer, to act in that capacity the ensuing two years.

Tuesday it was ordered that the Delinquent Tax Rolls for the year 1912 be published in the Lynn County News for three consecutive weeks. $74.30 was ordered paid, as Lynn Counties pro rata part of the expense of having the Lynn-Dawson county line surveyed, as soon as a certificate is received from the General Land office that said line is correct. The quarterly reports of the Sheriff, Clerk and Treasurer were approved and court adjourned till Wednesday morning.

Wednesday the treasurer was ordered to transfer $400 from the General Fund to the Jurv fund. The bond of C. H. Doak, of O'Donnell, as constable of precinct 3 was approved, and the various accounts were allowed and ordered paid. And in the afternoon the court took the oath as a Board of Equalization, after having appropriated $500 to fix the streets on the north and west side of the square, text of which order appears as follows:

"There came on to be considered the repairing the street on the west side of the public square, beginning at the northeast corner of block No. 7, in the town of Tahoka. Thence south to the north west corner of block 37, the same being Sweet street. And Porterfield street beginning at the northwest corner of block No. 26, and to run west to intersect Sweet street, and it is ordered by the court that $500 or as much thereof as is necessary to put said streets in good condition, and C. W. Small, Jr., be employed to superintend said work at $2 per day and the clerk this court is hereby ordered to issue warrants on the Road and Bridge fund upon approval of said G. W. Small, Jr."

J. T. Bullock, Orville Moody, J. T. Woodridge, and N. H. Wright, of Dallas, were among the number that attended the trades day blow out at Tahoka last Monday.

T. M. Bartley, representative from this district, was here Monday. He has moved back to Tahoka from Austin and will remain in his district till the special session of the legislature in July, when he will return to the capitol city to look after the affairs of the people in his official way.

During Monday night some time some one sent a bullet thru the front plate glass in the Wells Fargo Express office which left quite a hole in its path. It seems to be quite a mystery as no one is found who heard a shot fired, and the occurrence cannot be accounted for in a feasible manner.

Couldn't Walk!

"I used to be troubled with a weakness peculiar to women," writes Mrs. Anna Jones, of Kenny, Ill. "For nearly a year, I could not walk, without holding my sides. I tried several different doctors, but I grew worse. Finally, our druggist advised Cardui for my complaint. I was so thin, my weight was 115. Now, I weigh 163, and I am never sick. I ride horseback as good as ever. I am in fine health at 52 years."
