Farm Agent Warns On Infestation Of Army Worm; Formula Is Given For Effective Combative Poison

Presence of the army worm in northern Texas fields has provoked a warning from County Agent O. P. Griffin for local producers to be on the lookout for the appearance of the early season destructive creature.

The worm, which gains its name by traveling in large groups, is characterized by distinct yellow stripes down each side, stay in the ground during the day and feeds at night like cutworms. It is particularly destructive to young cotton.

In order to combat the worm, should it appear in this section,

Griffin lists the following information from R. R. Reppert, extension service entomologist:

"Department entomologists find that the most effective and practical way to control the army worm is to broadcast poison bran thinly over the infested field. The poison bait recommended by the department is made by the following formula:

Bran or cottonseed hulls, 100 lbs. Powdered white arsenic, 5 lbs. or Sodium arsenite solution, 1 gal. Blackstrap molasses, 2 gals. Water, 12 gals.

The bran bait is nearly as effective if molasses is omitted. Molasses MUST be used with the cottonseed hulls bait, however.

To use the bait, the bran or cottonseed hulls is spread on a smooth floor or in a wagon box. The arsenical and molasses are stirred into it by little into small portions of water until they are thoroughly mixed and dissolved. This liquid is poured over the bran or hulls then the rest of the water is added and the whole mass is mixed thoroughly with shovels or hoes until all the bran or hulls is evenly moistened.

The department recommends application at the rate of about 20 to 25 lbs. of wet bait per acre. Large acreages can be covered rapidly by spreading the poison bait in swaths 20 to 30 feet wide from an end gate seeder.

The bait may be spread also by hand either by walking over the field or from the rear of a wagon. The best time to spread bait for ARMY WORMS is late in the afternoon just before the worms begin to crawl up the plants from their daytime hiding places in the plant crowns.

Poison bait broadcast thinly on the ground in accordance with the department's directions is harmless to pasturing livestock, poultry and birds. The only danger in using this bait is through leaving it in lumps or piles or standing in containers where animals can reach it.

Observe that the concentration of poison in the mixture, the amount to be used per acre and the time of application differs from similar recommendations where grasshoppers are to be controlled.

Old-Age Insurance Claims Being Paid Off At Rate Of Two A Minute

EL PASO, May 12—Lump-sum claims for federal old-age insurance are now being approved by the Social Security board at the rate of one every 30 seconds of each working day, according to David S. Pruitt, manager of the El Paso office of the board.

During the first 19 days in April, claims were certified for payment by the Washington offices of the board at the rate of approximately 740 per day, of which 436 were death claims. The remaining 304 were filed by workers reaching the age of 65.

"The average lump-sum payment at the present time for the country as a whole," Pruitt said, "is approximately $35. The size of these payments is increasing steadily, since they are based on total wages received from covered employment since January 1, 1937."

A lump-sum benefit payment represents 3 1/2 per cent of total wages received from covered employment since January 1, 1937, and up to attainment of age 65 or death. Pruitt said all office managers have been instructed to explain to wage earners the lump-sum claim procedure and to assist those who are eligible to file applications for these benefits.

"The procedure," he said, "is very simple. The claimant is usually requested to file one brief form at the nearest field office of the board. Ordinarily, the only information required is the claimant's name and address, the name and address of his employer, date and place of birth, his social security account number, and the amount of wages received."

Special Program Is Featured By Circle Of Garden City

GARDEN CITY, May 12—"Mother's Day" was the theme of a program of the Garden City Cumberland Presbyterian missionary society Tuesday afternoon when members met at the home of Mrs. S. E. Cox.

Mrs. Stephen C. Currie had charge of the program and talked briefly on "Mother's Day." Mrs. J. B. Ratliff read a poem, "O Mother, Dear," and Mrs. Dell Long presented a discussion on "The Song My Mother Sang." Each person present named the song she had heard her mother sing, and a verse was sung of each.

Mrs. Steve Calverly talked on "Beautiful Motherhood," and Mrs. Currie and Mrs. Joe H. Calverly sang, "O Motherhood, the Beautiful." The Rev. H. H. Hunter was the principal speaker of the afternoon, bringing an inspiring message to the group. "The Mothers of China Are Looking to Us Today," was the topic selected by Mrs. John H. Cox and the three oldest mothers present, Mrs. S. R. Cox, Mrs. J. P. Glenn and Mrs. Mollie Long, sang "Amazing Grace."

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. H. H. Hunter, president, during which time an offering of $11.35 was taken to be sent to mission fields of China. The pastor is to lead the study on "Lost, A Human Soul" at the next meeting May 24.

Colors of pink, green and yellow were used in appointments and refreshments were served to Mrs. Steve Calverly, Mrs. Joe H. Calverly, Mrs. J. B. Ratliff, Mrs. Jim Will Cox, Mrs. Mollie Long, Mrs. John H. Cox, the Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Hunter, Mrs. Dell Long, Mrs. Stephen C. Currie and visitors Mrs. J. L. Dickerson, Mrs. Lou Medlin and Mrs. J. WOODS COMBED FOR MISSING CHILD

BRADFORD, Pa., May 12 (AP)—Volunteers, answering a call for 1,000 able-bodied men, set out today soon after the break of another cold northern-Pennsylvania dawn to beat through heavy woods in a final search for little Marjory West.

A reward of $300 for information leading to discovery of the blue-eyed, Auburn-haired child "dead or alive" spurred the volunteers to press foot by foot through the wild, heavily forested country 16 miles south of this oil producing field.

The Bradford American Legion post 108 offered the reward last night, four days after little Marjory, four-year-old daughter of an oil field worker, wandered away from a family picnic to pick flowers on a mountain side.

The club met informally last week with Mrs. W. H. Ward. Mrs. Ed Carpenter was a guest. No formal program was observed.

Army Planes On Wartime Basis As Mythical Troops 'Invade' East

By DEVON FRANCIS AP Aviation Editor

NEW YORK, May 12—Thousands of theoretical enemy infantrymen landed by parachute between midnight and dawn today at two points on the Atlantic seaboard as the war game of the general headquarters air force, assigned to guard the United States from invasion, got under way.

There, he informed his men, the imaginary infantrymen were hard at work establishing landing fields for the hundreds of planes expected to be launched from Black aircraft carriers with more troops. Simultaneously, the fast-striking enemy theoretically bombed the airports at Providence, R. I. and Boston.

If the housewife of today doesn't have all the modern conveniences of electric refrigerator, vacuum cleaner, mixer, dish washer, stove, small appliances such as percolator, iron, toaster, grill and radio, she feels like she is practically roughing it, or worse.

While all of the aforementioned items are convenient and designed to save labor and time, how is a modern wife to employ her free hours? Electricians have spent innumerable years in perfecting devices to conserve a woman's time while nobody sat Calbertson has done anything about helping her spend it.

Appliance houses are paid to save time and not spend it—and a neat job they've done of it too—but it's the sporting world and field of fine arts who have shirked their duty.

Now it would seem the top has been reached—the introduction of a five card suit. I shudder to think of what bridge will dare when a button is pressed in the kitchen and a complete dinner appears in the dining room.

A MOVE TO AID KING COTTON

Last year's cotton crop was the biggest ever harvested—15,750,000 bales. By the time the 1938 crop is in the bale a surplus equal to two years' normal consumption will be weighing down the market.

Cotton is grown widely in 18 states—but its ups and downs are reflected in the standard of living in America. Shown from Mammoth, chussets, oranges from California, automobiles from Michigan; flour from Minnesota—the money derived from cotton by the growers in this great Southern area where it is the principal crop buys a large part of the total production of these and all other commodities.

Following a series of conferences, a system of plan to help move the cotton surplus has been planned for the week beginning May 30. Groundwork is being done in the meantime to stimulate the sale of cotton goods and allied products.

Promotional effort of all kinds will be given to making the drive a success. Advertising of all kinds, every possible medium, will be used to move cotton products in great quantities.

Well, I had just about reached the end of my freshman year, so far as my education on this subject was concerned, when the president brought in the judiciary bill. For about six months thereafter nobody had time to think about the reorganization bill.

THE NEW DEAL AND THE PRESS

From the top to the bottom of the administration, that is to say from the president and Secretary of State down to the lowest official, the press is being treated as an enemy.

There is no doubt that irritation has reached a point where men in very high places are prepared to countenance reprisals that would, if successful, establish very dangerous precedents.

It is in general true that the New Deal has an unfavorable press for most of its major reforms, and that it is sincerely convinced that it does not receive fair treatment.

But why was it that this partisan propaganda was so effective? That is the question the New Dealers should turn over in their minds.

But what happened to me must have happened to many other writers and editors who supported the first bill forward in January a year ago. It was a complicated and technical subject, especially the vital part dealing with the auditing.

Well, I had just about reached the end of my freshman year, so far as my education on this subject was concerned, when the president brought in the judiciary bill.

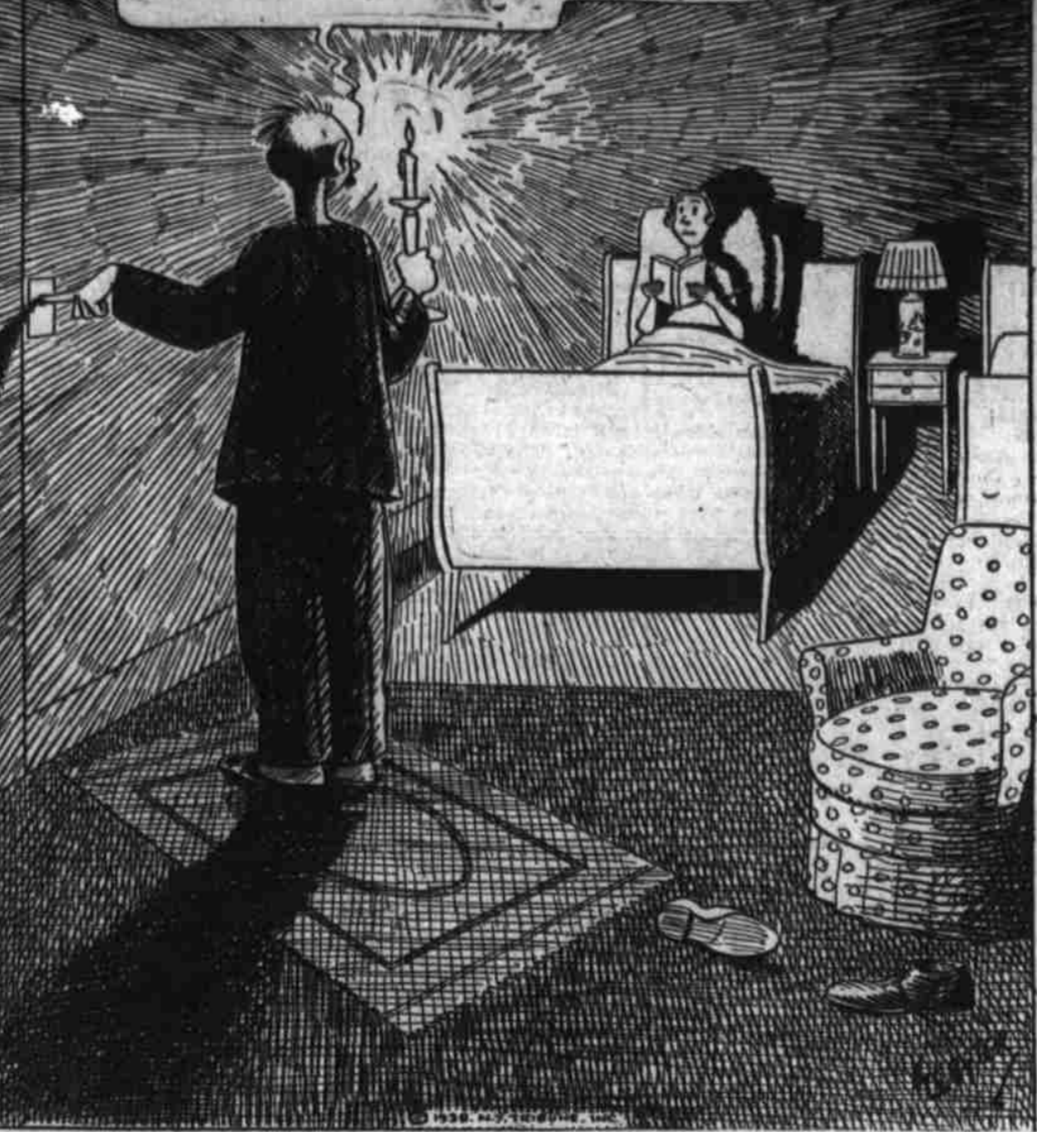

But while this was happening we were also supposed to understand and to interpret fairly a thirty-thousand-word bill regulating agriculture, a most complicated dispute about capital gains and undistributed profits taxes, the impending reversal of policy on gold, bank reserves, and budget balancing, the wages and hours bill, a housing bill, and the problem of the railroads.

If any New Deal official doubts that this is a main cause of the difficulty, let him ask himself how many New Deal measures he could explain. Can Mr. Eccles explain the navy bill? Can Mr. Morgenthau explain the railroad problem? Can Mr. Eekels explain the farm bill?

But the trouble has not been merely that there were so many measures that nobody could understand them all. It has been that the administration rarely takes the trouble to explain itself fully even to the most careful inquirer. If I remember rightly, there was one speech made in the senate at the end of the debate which correctly explained the function of the new auditing-general. On the undistributed profits tax there has never been available at the treasury a report giving the actual basis and the reasoning behind this proposal.

Man About Manhattan

NEW YORK — This correspondent knows a man who has stolen thousands of pounds of sugar in recent years. He takes it from restaurants, scooping up handfuls of the little paper-covered squares and cramming them into his pockets.

Donald Crisp, long an actor but once a top director, is being importuned to direct 'The Sea Wolf' but he may not do it. Says the director today, what with supervisory casting duties and the business office to harp on shooting schedules, doesn't have the free creative hand he once did.

Overheard on street car, sweet young thing speaking: 'I heard on the radio last night that darling Tyrone Power is going to marry Janet Gaynor—and ain't it awful, she must be at least 30!'

Speaking of New York vignettes, I was in a cafe the other morning about 2 having some milk toast. At the tables were perhaps a dozen men and women, talking, having a little refreshment.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD — When Director Lloyd Bacon sold his San Fernando valley 'ranch home' he sold it all, house and land and everything in it.

The present occupants, slightly publicized of late are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Bernstein, and the legal owner is Jackie Coogan Production, Inc.

At the bar in the house are rows of beer mugs monogrammed 'L. B.'

'For Lillian Bernstein,' Jackie Coogan's mother told a visitor. 'But Jackie Coogan's stepfather interposed slightly: 'For Lloyd Bacon, she had to marry me so she could use all the things!'

The courts are determining whether the Bernsteins, who have by force of circumstances been cast as 'heavies' in the kid's accounting suit, are deserving of the comment and implications that have piled up on them.

'However this thing turns out,' he said, 'in five or ten years it won't make much difference, and the public will have forgotten about it. But then there'll be Jackie, who loves his mother, and his mother, who loves Jackie—and many things have been said that can't be taken back entirely.'

That brought to mind the only occasion on which I ever saw the present Coogan manage together at home in precourt days. It was on an interview with Jackie two years ago, just before he came of age.

Definite understandings and court provisions concerning the earnings of acting minors, now being advocated, would have prevented the Coogan unpleasantness and likewise, perhaps, the family bitterness engendered in the Bartholomew, Martha Rays, and other recent affairs.

Even without court influence, the cases of Madge Evans and her mother, and of Anne Shirley and her mother, prove that money doesn't necessarily bring grief in family affairs.

Donald Crisp, long an actor but once a top director, is being importuned to direct 'The Sea Wolf' but he may not do it.

Probably the weirdest trial on record was that of the chef who was being sued, along with a hotel, by a grievous customer who ate chicken a la king and got a bone in his throat. It caused him extreme anguish and cost him a sizeable doctor's fee.

Wage & Hour Bill Scored

Lumbermen's Chief Assails Proposal In Talk Here

B. L. Forrest, president of the Texas Lumbermen's association, denounced the wage and hour bill now pending in congress before the bi-monthly meeting of the Central West Texas Lumbermen's association here Saturday evening.

The measure, declared Forrest, would have a more far reaching adverse effect than anything before the public today. He saw in it a continuation of government fight on business and called on people of this area to help defeat the measure by a barrage of letters and telegrams.

Open season on business has been going on in Washington too long, asserted the speaker, who added that it was time for a curb of these activities.

Forrest referred to the staggering increase in government cost, pointing out that it rose from 693 billions in 1910 to eight billions last year. The national debt, he said, rose from one and a half billion to 36 billion in the same period, increasing the per capita debt from $12.99 to $281.63.

Paul Bryan of Hamlin, president of the district association, presided. He introduced J. K. Brady, Stamford, who served as toastmaster. E. W. Spence, city manager, extended welcome on behalf of the city while J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager, spoke on behalf of his institution. John A. Couch, Haskell, responded.

Entertainment, arranged by Edith Gay, featured the program. Jean Kuykendall sang and then did an 'Eleanor Powell' dance number. Iris Louise George favored with a piano selection and Paul McCrary followed with a vocal solo, Jane Marie Tingle, in a song and dance routine, and Jack Kraus, Abilene, at the accordion, rounded out the program.

Registered for the affair were Paul McHargue and John M. Huth, of Midland; R. F. Fee, R. H. D. Laney, and R. E. Oxford of Colorado; I. C. Cline and Van Boston of Westbrook; D. S. Day, W. T. Globe, and S. L. Forrest of Lamesa; J. Hunter Lamb, J. R. Fielder, W. L. Curtis, W. B. Miltstead, Alvin Hickland, Ross Jessup and R. G. Lee of Abilene; Marvin Alston, W. L. Stubbs, P. L. Wallace, C. L. Wilson, and J. M. Hoochendorf of Beards; and Paul Bryan of Hamlin; Garland Davis of Winert; John A. Couch and D. H. Persons of Haskell; J. K. Brady of Stamford; J. J. Randalls of Snyder; J. A. Thompson of Sylvester; Joe Rucks and J. E. Terrell of Odessa; Fred Robertson and J. M. George of Seagraves; and H. R. Hoochendorf, Leon Henderson, W. B. Crook, C. I. Ashcraft, S. P. Jones, L. W. Croft, Carroll George, Arthur Woodall, Herman Appleton, Phillip T. Gaston, J. H. Greene and E. V. Spence, Big Spring.

Ask Continuation Of Underground Water Survey

A request to have the underground water survey of Howard county continued was being drafted Friday morning by City Manager E. V. Spence.

The city manager said that he had learned that the report on the first section of work done by the U. S. geological survey here last autumn and during the early spring of this year was due to be filed within two weeks.

His request, he said, would be in the hands of Texas senators and representatives before that time. The underground water survey was undertaken here last year, with the city cooperating to the extent of $2,500, in the hope of locating a beautiful, good water supply for Big Spring.

While details of the report could not be learned until it is released by U.S.G.S., it was understood that the survey did not uncover any big supply, although it was in promising territory when the survey was halted two months ago.

Further Oil Shutdown?

Close-In May Be Extended To Two Days, Officials Hint

AUSTIN, May 16 (AP)—A possibility that Texas' 80,000 oil wells might be shut down on Saturday as well as Sundays to bring supplies on a line with demand appeared today.

C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railroad commission which regulates production of crude oil, said he would be 'mercifully' considering extending the closing of wells on Saturdays.

Terrell said an 'extremely acute' situation faced operators because gasoline stocks were excessive and storage of crude oil stocks jumped 880,000 barrels in one week.

The additional closing of wells probably will be discussed May 17 at a statewide hearing for taking testimony on which to base a new prorator order.

GARAGE IS DAMAGED

Burning grass Friday afternoon fired the side of a garage wall at 410 Rummels street, necessitating a run by the fire department. Very little damage resulted from the blaze that was brought under control by the time the firemen arrived. Earlier in the week a small fire, the third in two years, occurred in the roof of the old frame structure north of the Petro-Station building. Firemen believed a cigarette tossed out of the building.

Some Supporters Urging FD To Take The Stump In Campaigns

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—Some of President Roosevelt's supporters in congress proposed today that he stump the country this summer...

They cited the renomination last Tuesday of Senator Pepper (D-Pa.) as evidence that the power of the White House is still great...

Early in the Florida democratic primary James Roosevelt, the president's son and secretary, said Pepper should be returned to the senate...

Administration supporters have contended Pepper's victory demonstrates that Mr. Roosevelt still strikes a hold course by carrying his policies directly to the country...

Advisers of this procedure, chief among whom is Senator Norris (Ind-Neb.), argued also that prompt action would minimize changes of a complete split...

Reports have been circulating for several weeks that Mr. Roosevelt might tour the country this summer...

Political interests would not have to be the announced purpose. Any national tour would give him opportunity to express favor for his chosen candidates...

Senator Norris said the president "can either take the stump by radio—and tell the people that those who have opposed him ought to be defeated or he can be partisan and say that all democrats ought to be re-elected."

Should Mr. Roosevelt follow the latter method, he said, he would face defeat on major issues in the next congress.
