BOOSTERS TO MEET

The Bulldog Booster meeting will be held Monday night at the school cafeteria, beginning at 7:00. All members are urged to attend.

Winter Causes Mail Delivery Problems

During the winter months ahead, some of our rural roads probably will become temporarily impassable because of rain, snow, and ice. In order to present delay in mail deliveries by the Tahoka rural mail carriers, Postmaster Charles Townes has requested the usual cooperation of our county commissioners and our rural patrons in keeping roads passable and approaches to mailboxes cleared during the winter months.

The rural carriers will make every reasonable effort to serve the greatest number of patrons possible during severe weather, using alternate roads or retraces when necessary. They are not required, however, to provide service on foot when roads are impassable.

County commissioners and highway officials are responsible for keeping roads passable and in good repair. Rural patrons are responsible for keeping approaches to boxes clear of snow, and all other obstructions, which may make delivery of mail difficult or at times impossible. Failure of patrons to open approaches to boxes promptly after heavy snows may temporarily prevent carriers from making deliveries.

If excessive and extended detours are necessary, patrons may be asked to temporarily relocate their boxes to the new line of travel, arrange to receive their mail through another patron's box, or make other suitable arrangements for handling their mail until travel on the blocked roads can be resumed.

Jr. High Teams Win At O'Donnell

Local Junior High teams closed out their gridiron season Tuesday night at O'Donnell, with both teams bringing home wins. The 7th Grade score was 12-6 and the 8th Grade score was 33-8.

Lee Green and Jerry Don Davis shared TD honors for the 7th Graders. Green intercepted a pass and scampered 70 yards for the six points. Davis scored the final with no extras on the board. Halftime score was 6-0.

Lupe Rangel led the scoring for Tahoka's 8th Graders, tallying 17 points. Clifford Laws shared honors with two for 12 points. John Thomas did the kicking chores, booting through three extra points.

Bulldogs Tie Morton, 8-8; Meet Mustangs Friday Night

Tahoka Bulldogs were knocked out of district honors Friday night, in the tie with Morton Indians in play there. The teams battled it out in wet, cold weather. Final score was 8-8 with the Indians leading in penetrations, 4-1.

Morton tallied the first score on a safety, early in the first period. Jody Edwards was tackled in the endzone while attempting a punt. The score was 2-0 until the second quarter when the Bulldogs pulled into the lead.

Tahoka racked up their six on a pass play from Charlie Brown to Greg Thomas, scoring from 15 yards out. The two-extra run by Tim Walker put the Bulldogs ahead 8-2.

The score remained 8-2 throughout the third and fourth periods, until the final seconds, when Alex Soliz hit the end-zone for the Indian TD, with no time showing on the clock. The extra was ruled void, leaving the teams in a 8-8 deadlock.

Tahoka will meet Denver City tomorrow night at the Mustang home field. Game time is 7:00 for this final district tilt and all fans are urged to make the trip and support the Bulldogs.

"COME INTO MY PARLOR" says Alex Soliz, No. 21, to Tahoka's Charlie Brown, as he prepares to sidestep the Morton Indian, between him and six points. Redwine Photo

50,390 Bales Ginned In Lynn County Area

County gins are running at top production, with several running night and day. As of 5:00 p. m. Tuesday, 50,390 bales had been ginned in Lynn County. This report was compiled from production of 25 area gins.

Ginners reported that production was behind schedule at times last week, but the harvest stop, due to the snow helped in catching up with loaded trailers in the yards.

It has been predicted that this will be a record crop for Lynn County, despite the early season hardships suffered. Several farmers have crops into the fourth planting, due to hail, wind, sandstorm and water damage.

Early September estimates for the county was 127,000 bales. This was revised in October, to 130,000 bales for the 1968 crop. The bale count to date, is 16,541 bales ahead of the total count on November 25, 1967, which was 33,849.

Tahoka's four gins tallied 8,723 bales to date. Other gin totals are: 4,885, Wilson; 6,545, New Home; 20,800, O'Donnell; 5,622, Grassland; 1,500, West Point; 4,900 Wells; 1,250, New Moore; and the two Southland gins, 1,065. This represents just above 30% of the total production estimate.

Highway Patrol Checks County Auto Accidents

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated two accidents on rural highways in Lynn County during the month of October, according to Lt. James Mason, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $865.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first ten months of 1968 shows a total of 50 accidents resulting in five persons killed, 34 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $52,188.00.

November and December are noted to be dangerous months in traffic and especially for pedestrians. Much is heard about the drinking driver and his responsibility for many serious accidents. Seldom is it known that many pedestrians have met their death on the streets and highways because they had been drinking to the extent that they were unaware of the danger they faced as they staggered along the road.

The sergeant stated the familiar saying, "If you drink," might be changed to apply to the drinking pedestrian, "If you drink, don't walk - in traffic!"

Quail Crop Abundant

Local hunters will have no trouble finding big coveys of quail this year if they have patience and work hunting areas to the best advantage. Quail season opened last Saturday and already reports of easy bag limits have reached this writer. One thing, however, has been noted by local hunters. The quail don't seem to be as large as in previous years.

This could be due to over population, scarcity of food supplies, or the results of late spring hatches. The latter seems to be ruled out however by the fact that all birds seem to be equal in size. It would take a game biologist to tell for sure why the birds are smaller this year.

Texas Parks and Wildlife

Game Management officers have been working the county heavily since before the season opened, so it would be wise to take the necessary steps to keep yourself within the limits of the law, which is what a true sportsman will do without being reminded.

Hill Country Deer Plentiful - But Hard to Find

Deer season in most of the state opened last Saturday and hunters will not have an easy time bagging that big buck until Mother Nature takes care of the dense cover which affords deer ample protection from most hunters. Reports from the hill country indicate deer are fat and in good condition after having plenty of acorns and browse during the summer and autumn months.

The dense cover will help keep deer populations high until frost, according to Outdoor Times writer, Dan Klepper. Klepper, a veteran hunter from San Antonio, suggests "rattling" for your deer. Rattling, an art calling for the skilled act of crashing two sets of antlers together to lure a fight hungry buck into gun range, is practiced by many hill country hunters. Rattling works well if the bucks are rutting. The object is to sound like two bucks fighting, probably for the attention of a doe nearby. A buck, upon hearing the sounds of battle ring out across the woods, will move in to try and capture the doe for himself. So the experts say.

I plan to try rattling someday if I ever kill a buck with horns big enough to rattle.

Services Held For Mrs. Terry

Mrs. E. B. Terry, 77, died at 9:30 a. m. Friday in Medical Arts Hospital, Lamesa, after an extended illness.

She was born December 20, 1890 in Ada, Okla., and married E. B. Terry on February 10, 1912 in Gainesville. They moved to Lynn County in 1921 from Clyde.

Mrs. Terry was a member of the United Methodist Church.

Services were held Saturday at 4:00 p. m. in the Sweet Street Baptist Church with Rev. R. W. Blackmon and Rev. Allen Watkins, both of Lamesa and Rev. Shelby Bishop of Tahoka officiating. Burial was in the Tahoka Cemetery with White Funeral Home in charge of arrangements.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Irene Spears of Ruidoso, N. M.; two sons, Doyle E. and C. B. Chang, both of Lamesa; two brothers, Earl Philpot of California and Ralph Philpot of Ada, Okla.; seven grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Grandsons served as pallbearers.

Two Injured In Car-Pickup Wreck

A car-pickup collision at the intersection of a county road and U. S. 87 at Woodrow Thursday left two men in fair condition in the Methodist Hospital, Lubbock. Injured were Ducey Riddle, 26, of Tahoka and 16-year old Gary Wayne Tate of Lubbock. Hospital spokesmen said both suffered facial and body lacerations. Highway patrolmen said the pickup, driven by Tate, was traveling east on the county road while Riddle was headed south on U. S. 87. The crash occurred shortly after 5 p. m.

Cotton, Your Livelihood

The first column in this series, was concerned with producing better quality cotton, through proper moisture content at harvest time. However, this alone will not give you the yield, seed and fiber quality you desire, but it is one of the most important factors at harvest.

Proper defoliation is another factor, determining the yield and seed quality, bringing top dollar for your crop. Defoliant treatment time should be determined and proper application will make the difference in the outcome at harvest time.

It is a known fact that defoliants work best at high temperatures, daytime in the 80's, nighttime above 60 degrees, on mature plants having at least 65% of the bolls open. Too a moderate supply of soil moisture should be available.

According to Fred Elliott, Texas A and M Extension cotton specialist, "premature defoliation can reduce yields, and lower quality of seed and fiber in late bolls."

He suggests, to determine optimum treatment time, that the youngest bolls be examined. "If bolls can be easily cut with a knife or are soft to thumb pressure, or if seed are light in color, the cotton is not mature enough for defoliation."

Proper plant coverage is all important. Care should be taken to insure complete coverage of the plant, yet at the same time, over-lapping swaths or double coverage can be just as harmful. Double coverage and over-lapping can cause saturation of the top leaves, leaving the undergrowth of the plant with limited coverage, yet causing the upper leaves to desiccate but not fall off. Too, if cotton is extremely rank, make a second application about a week after the first to defoliate the lower leaves. Cotton has several uses and by-products, and it has been reported that cottonseed may be used in food staples in the future, such as meat, bacon, and bread. A French agronomist says that the time may be near when "it will be more advantageous to process cottonseed essentially as a source of protein destined for human food, with oil taking a secondary place." The idea may not be so far out, as edible cottonseed flour concentrate already has been developed in the United States, and a pilot plant in India is expected to start producing several hundred pounds of cottonseed flour daily.

Chevrolet's got a big surprise for the guy who'd buy a sports car if only it had more room. It's the Impala SS 427.

Like all Impalas, it comes with a 119-inch wheelbase, Astro Ventilation and full door-glass styling. Like all Chevy Sportsters, it comes with a beefed-up suspension and grabby red-stripe wide oval tires. Under the hood, it's more of the same. We tucked in a 427-cubic-inch 390-horsepower Turbo-Jet V8.

That means it's the kind of car you can take for a workout even if you're just going to work.

There's driving excitement in these other packages too: Corvette

Stingray, Chevelle SS 396, Camaro SS, Camaro Z 28 and Nova SS.

Vaaarrroooooomm!

Listen for it at your Chevy dealer's Sports Shop.

The unusual cranberry fruit comes into season in time for versatile holiday use. Cranberries are easy to cook because there is nothing to peel and there are no seeds or pits, says Linda.

Cranberry sauce, which contains vitamins A and C, is good with meats and poultry. To make it, first wash and sort berries. Then combine 2 cups of water and 2 cups of sugar, heat to a boil and add 1 pound of cranberries. Then cook over low heat until berries pop - usually 15 minutes.

The sauce can be used whole or strained through a food mill or strainer.

Linda suggests freezing the berries in the bag or box in which they are purchased. Simply put the unopened container into the freezer. Since they go in the freezer dry, they are easy to separate while still frozen.

They need not be thawed before cooking, says Linda. Just a brief rinse in water and they are ready to go into a pie, fruit cake or this recipe for Cranberry Crunch.

Cranberry Crunch
1 cup uncooked rolled oats
1/2 cup flour

1 cup brown sugar
1/3 cup butter or margarine
one pound cranberry sauce (jellied or whole)

Mix oats, flour and brown sugar. Cut in butter until crumbly. Place half of this mixture in an 8" x 8" greased baking dish. Cover with cranberry sauce. Top with the remaining half of the oat mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Serve hot in squares topped with vanilla ice cream. Serves 6 to 8.

The variety section of the County Cotton Program was evaluated during September and early October and was completed during October.

The County Program states: Cotton is the major source of income for 800 cotton producers, farming 180,000 acres of cotton. With declining acreage, declining price and competition of synthetic fibers the need for higher production of quality cotton is necessary to the future of cotton. Cotton diseases and insects affect both the quality and production.

Nematodes reduce yields in sandy soils. Labor shortages create the need of chemical weed control. Losses occur from field to gin from poor harvesting and handling practices. Poor uniformity from seed saved by producers. These problems reduce production, quality and income of cotton producers. Varieties planted during 1968 were improved varieties that produce 1 inch and longer staple length with 80 and above P.S.I. with mike averaging 4.4 during harvest in October.

Varieties planted in 1959 were short staple, low P.S.I. Information used in evaluation is courtesy of Plains Cotton Growers publication (report on production and quality 1959-64.) The 1959 crop staple length averaged 30.2 or slightly above 15/16 inch. P.S.I. averaged 76 and micronaire averaged 3.7. The information provided shows that all cotton produced in 1959 was short staple cotton with P.S.I. lower than the strength desired by cotton trade. Micronaire is determined by weather usually and is good when maturity is good.

Response to the questionnaire mailed to cotton producers was very good. Three hundred sixty eight were returned, this reported 46% of 84,596 acres amounting to 59.7% of the total crop.

From the evaluation that 42% of farmers have followed program recommendations made available by result demonstrations on research information.
