Know Your GROCERIES

DID you know that the speed with which a bread dough rises depends to a great extent upon the kind of flour that is used?

Did you know that the way coffee is roasted is as important in producing fine uniform flavor as careful blending?

Did you know that some shortenings can impart a delicious delicate flavor to the foods in which they are used?

As a matter of fact there is some very important information to be had regarding the groceries you use day after day. It is information that will guide you in improving the taste-appeal of the food you prepare. And by using this information in buying groceries, you will realize that there's genuine, tangible economy in paying for quality.

The storekeeper hasn't the time to tell you about the different characteristics of staples such as flour, sugar, spices, and butter. Or cereals. Or coffee. Or beverages. But you can find these facts yourself—right in your newspaper—in the advertisements.

Take time to read these advertisements. They are written in an interesting manner and the important technical points are clearly portrayed. What's more, the facts are easy to remember and when you go to market you will be able to buy with authority — get the most for your money—enjoy the utmost at your table.

Chapter 32 THE MEETING

Waki appeared the next morning, face wreathed in smiles. He had delivered the letter through Hasuya, and the Gentleman Attorney had hurried over to talk to him.

"I tell him something," Waki said earnestly. "I tell him, man McSwain he make bother, he send him Kanaka boy aia same watch, aia same hide in bush, I sink Gentleman Attorney he very much excite. He say, I come two clock before."

Ma'an informed Lon that night that she intended driving to town with Waki the following day to show for shrubs.

"You're an optimist," Lon informed her. "Do you think his first chariot will make the hill grade?"

Ma'an wondered that afternoon if it would. It seemed doubtful until a powerful car pulled up behind and offered to help it over the hump, much to Waki's embarrassment.

During the drive into the city Ma'an was conscious of a truck which trailed them at a conservative distance, and which parked across the street when they pulled up before the florist's.

Waki and one of the clerks she attended her way through the shrub-house gardens until she had lost sight of the waiting truck, then by a rear entrance approached the florist's office.

"Well young lady, what kind of a mess are you in now?"

The florist's attorney rose as she entered.

"A m-dandy," she admitted, and plunged into a detailed account of everything that had happened since the day she had gone to Reno to see Silver Hodon.

"Why in the name of Heaven didn't you bring that letter to me?" he interrupted as she told of finding the letter in her pocket and learning of the un-read card which connected McSwain with the briber of William Brown.

"McSwain's in so deep he has to take the same road out he took in," her friend informed her, then, "go on."

Marian continued with her account of their connection with the McSwains. When she told of confronting him with her knowledge of the letter, the District Attorney stood up. "Good Heavens," he said shaking his head. "I don't know who you're brave or fool's."

"Fool's," Marian informed him, "but at the time I was so angry at him I didn't realize what I was doing."

"Little Red Pepper," remarked the attorney. However he did not the shrubs they were to take back with them, then went with him to the car and told him where to place them, conscious she was being watched from the truck down the street.

She told Waki where to drive and fortunately for them they were caught and held in a traffic jam on the corner, until she had seen what her friend had wanted her to see.

There was a high school there, the building and grounds covering two blocks. Classes had just been dismissed and the streets were thronged with girls. On the parade grounds the khaki clad boys of the U. S. Army were drilling.

At their head was a slim, sun-browned boy in officer's uniform. He looked like Lon must have looked at that age. She saw him wheel at that age. She saw him wheel at that age. She saw him wheel at that age.

"Howdy, Miss Marian," he called. She recognized him now. He had been captain of a Boy Scout troop she had accompanied to summer camp for a story and she had been adopted by his group of boys. She responded to the salute, found it ruined by the sudden forward lurch of the Waki car, and half laughing, half crying, took one backward glance at the school grounds.

Of course the District Attorney could do nothing else. She could do nothing else.

"I'll fight," she thought, as the car continued its lurching progress. "I'll reach Hamlin somehow."

"It wouldn't be honorable," she conceded in a faltering voice.

"And you'd sooner let your husband go to the penitentiary, either for cashing a check, or as the case now stands, taking the fall for the Madden Construction company when I insist upon a State inspection."

"What do you mean?" she asked, startled.

"I mean that I shall demand an inspection before the city accepts the East Texas High school. I firmly believe that McSwain intends to hold that check as a threat over your husband, forcing him to take the responsibility of the school's construction. When it is discovered that faulty material is used, your husband will be held responsible."

"You would do that?" she asked. "Can I do anything else, knowing what I know?" she countered kindly. "Marian, on your way home, do this. Drive by Telephone and find, arrive there at three o'clock, you'll just have time. Get in touch with me later on and tell me what you intend to do."

He shook hands with her, gave her a sturdy pat on the shoulder, then went back to wait until she and her shadow had left. Marian joined Waki in the garage, found he had accumulated

Jacqueline Faw Receives Music Scholarship As High Ranking Pupil In Local Class

Jacqueline Faw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Faw, who has been awarded four months free tuition in music for her high average as a pupil. So far as the public eye is concerned, all is serene among these gentlemen. Those on the inside say they don't stroke an altogether even or good grandstand has been passed.

New and more permanent legislation involving public works, relief and federal financing must be made by Congress in January. Each of the four men mentioned is concerned over the particular role he will play under the new spotlight. Personally they have nothing but kind words to say about each other. It's their eager subordinates who manage to get in a few fast licks every time the referee isn't looking.

Momentous decisions are in the making at Warm Springs, Ga. Before President Roosevelt will return to Washington he will have the essentials of his new legislative program well in mind. The seclusion of the "White House" is affording him, as usual, an opportunity to concentrate on major problems affecting all of us.

Whirligig (CONTINUED FROM PAGE 3) Considerable sotto-voce criticism from administration circles last session of the manner in which he and Rainey almost let the House get away from them on several occasions.

NEW YORK By James McMullin Foul—Already the serpent of suspicion has entered the Washington-Wall Street Eden. Conservative skeptics are beginning to wonder when the government is on the level in its apparent intention of giving business the breaks.

Combine—McCormack of Mass. is still in his 40's. He has been in the House since the 70th Congress, before which he served 3 years in the Massachusetts Assembly and 4 years in the state Senate. During the last two years in the Bay State Senate he was Democratic Floor Leader.

Effort—But responsible New York leaders fully realize that concrete progress is the only effective antidote to distasteful Congressional prescriptions. They don't kid themselves that they swing enough weight on Capitol Hill to choke off obnoxious legislation with lobbying but-ter.

There's a slant on rates that will develop as the argument progresses. Part of Consolidated's high charges for domestic electricity aim at protecting the company's heavy investment in obsolete gas equipment. That would be easy to justify once it's out in the open.

Steel—Capital and labor in the steel industry are girding themselves for a finish fight second only in importance to the forthcoming struggle in the automobile business. The Steel Labor Relations Board bit off more than it could chew when it undertook to adjust irreconcilable differences peacefully. Its intervention has actually intensified bitterness. Some steel men privately charge it with fomenting discord instead of curing it.

Bird—Momentous decisions are in the making at Warm Springs, Ga. Before President Roosevelt will return to Washington he will have the essentials of his new legislative program well in mind. The seclusion of the "White House" is affording him, as usual, an opportunity to concentrate on major problems affecting all of us.

Credit—Bankers hear that the Federal Reserve Board—under the leadership of Marriner Eccles—is preparing to push credit inflation more strenuously than ever. While the Board has followed the administration's lead in the past year and a half it has been somewhat lacking in aggressiveness.

Trustee—This year—this shouldn't be taken too literally—is popular in anti-New Deal circles. It runs that trustees for the estate of a member of the President's family wrote FDR to ask his advice on investment policy. They are supposed to have received a curt reply that the responsibility was theirs. Thereupon they are supposed to have written him again as follows: "We have sold all securities and transferred the proceeds to government bonds. We respectfully advise you that you are now the trustee."

Rates—Consolidated Gas drew a lot of sympathy from big time conservatives as the chief butt of the New York Power Authority's blast on electric rates. No one is talking for publication of rates outside as well as within the utility field—are privately yardstick business is going to go. Once the principle is established that a federal commission is a qualified judge—without argument—of proper prices to consumers, the true value of plants and a fair rate of return thereon is no longer where it will lead. While the power authority is theoretically a state organization it ties in too close to the federal administration for comfort.

Attachment Writ Served Against Roosevelt Junior BOSTON (AP)—James Allen, clerk of the United States district court, Tuesday issued a writ of attachment for $25,000 against Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., son of the president and a sophomore at Harvard university. Arthur P. Digan, counsel for the plaintiff, Mrs. Daniel P. O'Leary, 60, said the writ was obtained in connection with an automobile accident on March 24 in which Mrs. O'Leary was struck by a car operated by young Roosevelt. Digan explained that the writ was a preliminary step prior to a declaration asking $25,000 on behalf of Mrs. O'Leary.

BOOK REVIEW OF HISTORY OF PRESBYTERIANISM IS GIVEN BY CHURCH AUXILIARY

Five Odessa Women Motor To Big Spring To Hear Review And Visit; All Day Session At Church

Mrs. Ellen Gould gave an interesting and informative book review for the members of the Presbyterian Auxiliary Monday afternoon, reviewing the home mission book, which was a history of Presbyterianism.

Five Presbyterian women from Odessa drove over to hear the review.

The Auxiliary held an all-day meeting at the church, with a covered dish luncheon served at noon.

During the program the high points of the book were illustrated by a four-scene playlet performed by Mr. Thorne, Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Foster, also by a negro spiritual beautifully sung by Mrs. L. S. McDowell.

The five Odessa visitors were:

Two Howard Wells Flow 129 Barrels

Wallace 2 Bell Gets Pay; Sinclair 2 Jones Acidizes

Howard county last week completed two producers, The California Co.'s No. 2 Bell and Fred Hyer No. 1 Clay, and listed another in the making, R. J. Wallace's No. 2 Bell. Three locations were staked.

California No. 2 Bell, larger of the two completed wells, flowed 102 barrels of oil in 24 hours after being shot with 200 quarts from 2,570 to 2,780 feet. It acidized when 2,740 feet deep and drilled to 2,840 feet prior to shooting. Location is 2,135 feet from the north line and 465 feet from the west line of section 12, block 30, township 1 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey.

California No. 3 Bell, deepening from 2,714 feet after setting a packer at 2,655 feet and acidizing had showings of oil and gas from 2,773-90 and from 2,802-33 feet and shut down for orders at 2,876 feet. It was estimated good for 20 barrels daily.

Sinclair-Prairie No. 2 Percy Jones, in the northwest quarter of section 9, block 30, swabbed 25 barrels of oil in 12 hours after being treated with 1,000 gallons of acid under a 57-barrel oil load with pressure of 950 pounds. It continued testing, bottomed at 2,779 feet. Before the acid was run the well made 35 barrels in a day. Bond Drilling Co. No. 5 Denman, in the northeast quarter of section 10, block 30, had drilled to 645 feet in redrock.

R. J. Wallace No. 2 Bell, in the northwest quarter of section 20, block 30, obtained its best pay from 2,533-40 feet, drilled to 2,543 feet in lime and swabbed 29 barrels daily. It ran 1,900 gallons of acid and was awaiting results. Sinclair-Prairie No. 2-B Davis recovered a bit at 2,690 feet, had an increase in oil and gas from 2,695 to 2,700 feet and swabbed 20 barrels of oil daily as it drilled to 2,810 feet in lime. Ungren & Frazier No. 2 Hall, in the southwest quarter of section 2, block 30, deepened from 1,468 to 1,597 feet in lime, underreamed 8 1/4 inch casing to the bottom and cemented it there.

Iron Mountain Oil Co. No. 1 Reed, three-quarters of a mile north of production in the Denman area, in eastern Howard county, struck oil at 2,641 feet that rose 1,200 feet, according to a report late in the week. The test is in the southwest corner of section 46, block 30, township 1 north, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey. H. P. Singlet, trustee, No. 1 W. L. Foster, in the southwest quarter of section 43, block 29, township 1 north, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, had drilled to 300 feet in redrock.

Illinois No. 2-B Davis, in the northwest quarter of section 2, block 30, township 1 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, had drilled to 1,775 feet in lime. Phillips Petroleum Co. was digging cellar and moving in materials for No. 2 Lane, 330 feet out of the southeast corner of section 2, block 30. The California Co. staked No. 2 Dodge 455 feet from the south line and 1,980 feet from the west line of section 1, block 30, and began digging cellar. F-H-E Oil Co. No. 2 Dodge, in the northeast quarter of section 15, block 30, township 1 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, had reached 1,065 feet in red shale.

Fred Hyer No. 1 Clay pumped 27 barrels daily upon completion at 1,862 feet in sand following two 20-quart shots. Location is 2,310 feet from the north line and 330 feet from the east line of section 126, block 29, W. & N. W. Ry. Co. survey. Merrick & Lamb No. 20 Clay, in the southeast quarter of section 126, had drilled to 1,205 feet in redrock. Eastland No. 4 Chalk, 2,310 feet from the south and west lines of section 125, block 29, spudded Nov. 13.

Humble No. 8 Settles, in the southwest corner of section 131, block 29, was rigging up a National machine for completion from 2,042 feet in lime and anhydrite. Humble staked a location for No. 9 Settles, 330 feet from the south line and 1,314 feet from the west line of section 131, block 29, W. & N. W. Ry. Co. survey. Continental No. 13 Settles, in the northeast quarter of section 133, block 29, had reached 1,360 feet in shale. Mixon & Richards No. 1 Cappe-Lee, in the southwest quarter of section 17, block 29, had drilled to 2,325 feet in brown lime. Ward Oil Co. No. 16-A Roberts, in the southeast quarter of section 137, block 29, shut down for orders at 2,599 feet with no oil in the hole. A slight showing of oil was logged from 2,450-90 feet.

Taylor-Link No. 3 T-P Land Trust, in the southwest quarter of section 3, block 33, township 2 south, T. & P. Ry. Co. survey, underreamed 10-inch casing to 1,002 feet in shale, the total depth, and was balling for a water shut-off.

PRESIDENT LEAVES FOR HOLIDAY IN SOUTHLAND

More than a score of outstanding Texas citizens already have been urged upon the incoming governor, for member and chairman of the highway commission. Recommendations range all the way from E. B. Perkins of McKinney to J. D. Hammond of Amarillo, 500 miles across the country. There have been many to urge the reappointment of Judge W. R. Ely of Abilene; and nearly every city and section has its favorite son for this key post in the Centennial administration.

Mr. Alfred has told numerous delegations that the decision will wait much later than the present, and probably until after the first of January.

He is assumed to have decided upon the selection of a tax commissioner, but to have deferred consideration of virtually all other appointees until Christmas or later.

Keen interest exists now as to the selection of the secretary of state, who will come from among Alfred's more intimate friends. It is believed he will name a young man, and that he will not undertake to follow what promises to become the custom of awarding this office to a woman, Mrs. Ferguson, who appointed Mrs. Emma Grigsby McHenry as secretary of state in her first term, turned back to the selection of a man in her second, naming the incumbent, Judge W. W. Heath of Navasota. Gov. Dan Moody and Gov. Ross S. Sterling appointed Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum of Austin to the office.

Under the new law, whose period of grace for tax penalty relief lasts only until March 15, remission will be mandatory on the cities, but there will be many other claims for what money the taxpayer has then.

If cities are able now to waive the penalties and interest, they can secure the payment of more money in taxes than would be paid.

Water Retards Glascock Duo

Noble 4 Pure-Lee To Plug Back To Pay Above 2,270

Deepening to 2475 feet, unchanged, after yielding both oil and water during three days' pumping at 2400 feet, Noble & Co. No. 4 Pure-Lee in Glascock county's farthest western producing area began plugging back last week to a point above the first water at 2318 feet. The water increased to 1200 feet from 2395 to 2400.

The well pumped 15 barrels of oil hourly at 2270 feet after being treated with 2000 gallons of acid and it will be produced from that horizon after plugging back. Location is 900 feet out of the northwest corner of section 20, block 33, township 3 south, T&P Ry. Co.

The Political Anvil

Miller Ainsworth, state commander of the American Legion, has stated his qualifications in the American Legion national convention resolution for cash payment of the bonus, which he says made the proposal much milder than the usual statement that "the Legion demanded cash payment of the bonus."

From the long resolution, adopted at Miami, he quoted one "whereas" clause which recited the bonus certificates are now a debt and that their payment will create no additional debt, but merely re-exist government obligations. It recited cash payment would be a relief and recovery move. The resolution further said: "Resolved, that since the government of the United States is now definitely committed to the policy of spending additional sums of money for the purpose of hastening recovery from the present economic crisis, the American Legion recommends the immediate payment in cash at face value of the adjusted service certificates, with cancellation of interest accrued and refund of interest paid, as a most effective means to that end." (Relief.)

This citation from the words of the convention itself was given to show there was no unqualified "demand" for payment of the bonus; no effort to send the government further in debt, and no proposal for the cash payment except as part of a "national relief program."

Speaker Coke Stevenson is, he said in Austin just after the special session closed, "looking for No. 100."

He has 99 members of the coming 44th legislature pledged to vote for his election as the first second-term speaker in half a century, and said he is trying to gain one more, to have a two-thirds majority of the membership.

Mr. Stevenson added that he had 99 pledges, but Rep. Bodo Holekamp, an independent and one of them, lost to Alfred Petch, democratic nominee. But he gained one new pledge out of the proceedings of the recent session, and still had his net total unchanged.

The speaker is elected by majority vote of the house on the first day of its regular term, which will be Jan. 8.

A gospel minister may be the office secretary of the incoming governor, James V. Alfred.

Unofficial reports intimate that the Rev. Pat Moreland of Wichita Falls may get that important post in the new administration.

Mr. Alfred was not in Austin.
