SHOOTING AT LUBBOCK SATURDAY NIGHT

Lubbock, June 17.—Alvie Hooper, automobile salesman of this city, was killed, and John T. Halbert, 45, constable, was seriously, possibly fatally wounded at 1 o'clock this morning in a street duel across from the First Methodist Church. Halbert was shot first, having been wounded in the abdomen, after which he pulled his six-shooter and fired five shots into Hooper's body. Hooper fell dead. Halbert ran to the Lubbock Sanitarium, falling upon the lawn of the institution. Halbert made a statement at the hospital saying that he saw Hooper, who was a dark complexioned man, walking down the street with two women, and that he followed them for a distance, after which he started to turn to town. He said he took Hooper for a negro. He had walked four feet, he said, when Hooper caught with him and inquired if he were a man who had been following him. "I might be," replied Halbert. Hooper then shot him, says the doctor, in the chest. Halbert has a wife and several children, while Hooper leaves a wife, who was with him when Halbert accused them this morning. Halbert, Hooper and a friend Mrs. J. Brown, were going home from the hospital when the officer met them. The woman first brushed past them and then passed around twice more. After reaching their home Hooper turned on the porch and then Halbert, of. Not knowing the identity of the man who had followed them, Hooper obtained a weapon and started after him. Halbert used .38 caliber pistols. Hooper's father formerly was sheriff of Hale County. The only explanation of the tragedy available is that both men made mistake in identity. Both Hooper and Halbert have been regarded as long time. Hooper came here recently from Plainview. Bradley went to Lubbock Saturday to have his tonsils removed.

BAPTIST REVIVAL CLOSED SUNDAY

He is a forceful speaker, confining himself to the Bible and not resorting to scathing criticisms. S. B. Hatchett, local choir leader in the Baptist Church, lead the song service and otherwise assisted in the meeting. The splendid music rendered by the choir and the special duets and quartets was a splendid asset to the success of the revival. It is expected that another revival will be held by the church before the close of the summer.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the season was that of Miss Lola Donaldson to Mr. George Aubrey Thomas, Sunday morning at the home of the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. Jno. D. Donaldson, in the presence of a few friends and relatives.

The impressive ring ceremony was performed by Rev. E. E. Robinson, of Lubbock, presiding elder assisted by Rev. J. T. Howell, pastor of the local Methodist church.

The Revival Meeting under the auspices of the Methodist Church will begin next Sunday, June 24th, at 11 a. m. in the school auditorium.

Brother Wells is a very fine soloist, as well as director of music, and his work with the young people and children is of a very high quality. He was a member of the A. E. F., and contributed much to the morale, and the morals, of his company. To know him is to love him.

We want to make these services of religious value to all Christians, without regard to denominational lines, and invite your hearty co-operation and punctual attendance.

We are especially anxious that every unsaved person who possibly can will attend, and give us an opportunity to help you to the saving grace of God's Son, and your only Savior.

This will positively not be a Methodist Meeting, but one enterprised and conducted solely for the glory of God. Come thou with us, and we will try to help you.

J. T. HOWELL, Pastor.

Messrs. C. E. Brown and J. B. Nance returned the latter part of last week from Big Lake, Reagan county, Texas, where they went to investigate the big oil well brought in that place. They reported the oil spouting over the derrick. Mr. Nance has been working on a proposition to drill for oil in Lynn county, and if the people of this vicinity will get in behind him, he will bring about the opportunity for securing a company to drill a test well in this county. It is believed by many geologist that have visited this section that there is oil in abundance in Lynn county.

J. B. Nance is in Plainview this week.

LADY GOT SO WEAK COULD SCARCELY STAND

After Suffering From Many Female Troubles This Lady Heard of Cardui and Took It, She Says, "Until I Was Well."

"SOME TIME AGO," says Mrs. Buena McFarland, of R. F. D. 2, Bostic, N. C., "I suffered a great deal with weakness common to women. I had bearing-down pains, my sides and back hurt, and my limbs drew. I would get so weak in my knees I could scarcely stand. "I was very nervous, and could not rest. I didn't feel like eating. I grew thin, and did not have ambition for anything. "I had been trying other remedies . . . but did not get any better. "Some one told us of Cardui, and what it was recommended for. I also took a Ladies Birthday Almanac and read of a case something like mine. I told my husband to get it and I would try it. "I saw a great improvement after the first bottle (of Cardui), so I kept it up until I was well. Now I am the picture of health." Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others. Cardui has stood the test of extensive use, for more than forty years, in the treatment of troubles common to women. Try it.

Since Tahoka is not a candidate for the Tech. college, she might give the old town a thorough cleaning and invite the locating committee over for a ride on the bricks, and incidentally take a squint at the coming town of the South Plains.

We note in the Post paper that a picnic will be staged at Two-Draw Lake July 4th, and all of Garza County is invited. We presume others are not wanted to partake of the feast on this date. Lynn County people take notice!

An editorial in the Lamesa Reporter states that Dawson county cannot boast of her roads south, but to the Lynn county line north the roads are as fine as any in Texas. So far so good, but how about the roads after you cross over in Lynn, Brother? You leave the impression that Lynn county roads are not so good, or maybe not worth a whoop. We have it straight from the secretary of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce that he burned out a bearing on his car traveling from Tahoka to O'Donnell. This speaks a good for Lynn county roads, eh?

The Ross-Good murder trial at Lubbock is attracting statewide attention this week. Five jurors had been sequestered late Tuesday afternoon. Officers and big cowmen are in attendance from all over the west. A motion was made by the defence attorneys for a continuance of the trial because of the absence of five or six witnesses. The motion was overruled by District Judge Clark M. Mullican, and the absent witnesses fined $500.00 each. The absent witnesses were ordered by the court to appear at once. Judge G. E. Lockhart, local attorney, is one of the lawyers employed by the defenses. The trial of Tom Ross will likely consume all of this week, and the trial of Milt Good the whole of next week.

Few Lynn County citizens realize the importance of the deposits of Potash, magnesia and salt contained in the lakes of our county. The possibilities of this proposition are practically unlimited, and its probabilities as for yielding stable and large income from operation are superior to that of any industrial undertaking that can be mentioned. There is a market for over one million tons of potash in the United States every year. This fact alone practically assures a permanent and increasing volume of business to the company that develops the field. Potash experts state that if the potash beds come up to their expectations it will be worth more to the United States than her silver and gold mines and of greater value to Texas than all her oil fields. They also claim that if the deposit is only five feet in thickness, acreage in the West Texas fields would be worth many thousands of dollars. Lynn County will soon see the day when the lakes of this county will be developed thereby creating a new source of revenue other than farming and stock raising.

THE HOME PAPER

The local paper deserves better support than they receive in many communities. Some have not succeeded because of the policy or lack of policy of their management, but our experience convinces us that a great majority of the papers devoted to the interests of the home community deserves the hearty support of the citizenship. The metropolitan daily will deliver to your door step the news of the world seen through the spectacles of the city editor, but it is the editor of the country weekly who is able to reflect the sentiment of the local group. He alone is the interpreter of events as they affect small town and the country immediately surrounding it. He alone is able to put the throb of real feeling into the obituaries of the men and women he has spent his life and with whom he has worked for the improvement and advancement of the old home town. These local papers deserve better support than they generally get. Many of them have had hard sledding during the past number of high-paper price years since the war period and they have a perfect right to come to their citizens of their locality asking real business support. Give it to them. If the local paper has the proper kind of support and encouragement it can do more for the welfare of its town and country side than any other factor. Support means more than really subscribing. Patronize the advertising columns. Send in the news happenings. Help the local paper and it will help you.—Contributed.

Our boys just went up to Tahoka and cleaned them to the tune of 10 to 1. Haynes, how about it? Your team interested our boys last year. Has Tahoka just taken out on everything. Stir them up boy and get them over the paved street idea being all there is to do. We want to see Tahoka grow enough at least to annex on our north to Lamesa and we don't want to build all the way up there.—Lamesa Reporter.

Listen at this! Smith, of the Reporter, is getting to be some wind-jammer, in fact he always has been afflicted with the disease, and his friends are finding it out on him. Even when he produces an article in the Reporter that there may be something to it, his readers hesitate when reading his "bull". In the first place, the score was 9 to 1, Smith, whereas you had it 10;—one too many. In the second place, Smith, Lamesa has not won all of the ball games played with Tahoka this year. Smoke that in your old jane, will you? In the third place, you're dreaming when you think Tahoka needs stirring up and all we have is the paved street idea. Now, we know you hate to admit that we have it on your burge in the way of streets, for, say, tell the world, Tahoka has 20 odd blocks of paving and many miles of sidewalk. As to our growing enough for you to annex on the north, Smith, had you thought about there being another cracking good town between Tahoka and Lamesa, which you will do well to imitate. Besides, Smith, we're as close now as we ever care to be to the wind-jammer editor of the Reporter and fans are scarce up this way.

The Farmers' Short Course

By Phebe K. Warner

First of all, what is the Farmers' Short Course. It is a whole year's scientific research and information boiled down into one short week of college training. It is more than that. It is the knowledge of all the past years on the different phases of farm life and farm work and farm management condensed and assorted until any farmer in the State can go to this short course and find just what he has been looking for in the way of scientific knowledge for his farm specialty.

Are you a hog man? Are you a cattle man? Are you a dairyman? Are you a poultry expert? Are you a cotton farmer? Are you a sorghum grain farmer? Are you a wheat, oats and corn farmer? Are you a wet or are you a dry farmer? Are you a good farmer or are you a poor farmer? No matter what kind of a farmer you are if you want to be a better farmer the place for you to go is to the Farmers' Short Course wherever it is held in your State once a year and get some new information and some new inspiration for your life work.

If the farmers ever get into their heads that they are the biggest and the most important folks in all the world, that they are the most essential folks to the nation, that they are the foundation and the source of all other lines of business maybe they will then feel the need of knowing better how to manage their business. There are just two things that ails the average farmer. Either he has so little faith in himself that he thinks he can not learn anything new or he thinks he already knows it ALL. Now don't get huffy, Mr. Farmer. Study that statement. And you will find it is the truth. You need not try to apply it to your own condition if it is pleasant but try it on your neighbors. But there is a third class of farmers in our country. It is this class that do have faith in themselves, that do believe there are a thousand new and better ways to do the same old things, that do believe in progress, and that do not know it all. And that is the class that try to go to the Farmers' Short Course. And it is upon this small class comparatively speaking that the whole business of the advancement of agriculture and stock raising depends. But there is more hope for the man who does not know how to farm, and knows he does not know how and even thinks he can not learn than there is for the class who think they know it all and do not know that they do not.

So if you want to meet the real fellows who are trying to put farming on a level with every other professional business, if you want to meet the men who are proud of their business as farmers and are trying every way they can to raise the standard of their business, and who are actually enjoying the profession of farming go to your Farmers' Short Course. There's where you will find them collected just as you would find a bunch of Methodist preachers at a Methodist conference. Why? Because it is their professional conference. The Farmers' Short Course is to the live, progressive farmer just what a conference is to a lot of ministers, or a medical convention to a lot of doctors or a bankers' meeting to a lot of bankers.

And why not? Why should there not be conferences to inspire and encourage and educate those men upon whose business the church, the school, the medical profession, the banks and the bankers and the whole nation depend for their existence? Without the farmer and his work and his products, none of us could live. We would all be out of a job in less than a month. The Farmers' Short Course is destined to create more than self respect on the part of the farmer for himself. It is destined to make the farmer more content with his calling. It has a tendency to place farming on a more dignified scale along with the other self respecting professions. Yes, PROFESSIONS! That is just what we mean. We may not know what a profession is. But we do know that farming should rank with science, because it is science. We know it should rank with education, because it is education. We know it should rank with medicine, because it is the source of health or it may be the cause of disease. We know it should rank with religion, because the farmer is the one human being who must work hand in hand and day by day with God and Nature if the world is to be fed and clothed. There is no other business that is so utterly dependent on the forces of Nature as farming, because every other business is dependent on the products of the farmer. And it is a real scientist who knows and understands how to use the forces of Nature to produce the most business for other men and women.

And another phase of the Farmers' Short Course is at that time the experts from all over the land are gathered at our Agricultural Colleges to give of their richest experiences to those who attend. You spend only a few dollars to attend the course for a week but you get what others have spent thousands of dollars to learn and years of hard work. You get the benefit of years of study in a single hour. And you might learn one thing at that Short Course that would make or save for you a thousand times what it cost you to get it.

The Farmers' Short Course for Texas will be held this year the last week in July at the A. & M. College at College Station. If you can not go yourself, send your boy. He is likely to live longer and use his knowledge longer than you would. But you need the rest and recreation and inspiration the Short Course will mean worse than your boy needs it. He has time ahead. But it would help the boy to respect his father's business more to attend the Short Course if you can not go. And if no one in your county thinks they can spare the time, then get together and send somebody as a delegate from your county. And let your county get the benefit of what it pays taxes to support. It will cost your county just as much taxes to provide the Short Course for all the other counties as if you got the good of it yourselves. So get busy everybody and send somebody from YOUR county to the Farmers' Short Course wherever and whenever it is in your State.

If we encourage diversification of crops, raising of more live stock and patronizing home industries, we will have greater prosperity. Lynn county needs more cattle, hogs and sheep.

Victor Told Mussolini a Joke

Ordinarily the lens catches Premier Mussolini "on parade," looking as stern and "old Roman" as he possibly can, but this time King Victor Emmanuel, his mustache uplifted by a broad and most unregal grin, must have told a good one just as the camera snapped, for the apostle of Fascismo is smiling most humorously.

NEW DORMITORY AT SIMMONS COLLEGE

Abilene, Texas, June 18.—Construction of a dormitory to cost $110,000 exclusive of furnishings, was ordered at a meeting here Monday of the trustees of Simmons College. Plans and specifications are now being prepared and as soon as completed contract for the building will be let.

The dormitory, which will be for young men, will take the place of one destroyed by fire last year. It will be fireproof throughout. Judge C. M. Caldwell, president of the board of trustees, was empowered to appoint a building committee to see that the construction is not allowed to lag.

President J. D. Sandefer told the board that prospects are that the enrollment at Simmons this fall will be far greater than ever, and the new building is imperative.

ANNOUNCEMENT

I wish to announce to the public that I have purchased the equipment of Dr. W. F. Hughes, the chiropractor including the vapor bath and electrical equipment; that I have rented his residence, where I shall maintain my office; and that I have to offer to those suffering from disease of any kind not only the baths, electricity, massage and manipulation used by the chiropractor with such success, but also medicines in cases where medicine would be effective.

I have been a practicing physician for forty years, being trained in the eclectic schools, making a special study of non-surgical treatment of female troubles and of confinement cases. I have had years of successful general practice, both in acute cases and chronic diseases. Calls made day or night. Phone 200.
