

Atlantic Powers Reach Agreement On Defense Plan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Twelve determined western nations shouldered their mutual military responsibilities today under the Atlantic Pact.

The foreign ministers of the Atlantic Alliance countries, meeting for the first time as a council, ordered immediate steps taken to draft "unified defense plans" for the entire North Atlantic area.

The United States was assigned a central and dominant role.

Two Killed As F-51 Fighter Rams Bomber

IRVING, Tex., Sept. 17 (AP)—An F-51 National Guard fighter plane crashed broadside into a Navy torpedo bomber in the air near here today, killing both pilots.

The Navy plane, a TBM Avenger, was flying formation with two other Avengers at 2,000 feet. The National Guard plane plowed into the Avenger's rear fuselage, chewing up the plane from the rear cockpit back. Both are single engine planes.

The national guard pilot was James Lewis Turner, Jr., 27, of Irving. The Navy man was Leroy Bates of Pasadena, Tex.

An eye-witness, air force reserve Capt. E. D. Weber of Irving, said the F-51 turned into the formation of Avengers, hitting the right wing man.

Weber said he saw a parachute trail from the damaged Avenger when it was just above tree-top level. But the chute never blossomed open. The pilot apparently had leaped too late.

His body was found beside the crashed plane. The F-51 crashed in a cow pasture about 50 feet from Highway 183. It exploded and burned. The pilot never got out of the cockpit.

Pieces of the chewed up Avenger were scattered over the flat countryside for a quarter of a mile.

MARTIN ENROUTE TO DALLAS

Local Bank Robber To Get New Inning

William Larry Martin, 30, who made off with slightly more than $2,000 in an abortive robbery of the State National bank in December 1947, is to have another inning in court.

He is being brought back to Dallas so his sentence can be legalized.

Martin was convicted in federal district court in May 1948. He pleaded not guilty and insanity to the charge he had taken the money from T. S. Currie, Jr. at point of a gun.

Martin was arrested shortly afterwards on Lovers Lane road east of here in possession of all the money.

A jury found Martin sane and guilty and Judge T. Whitfield Davidson pronounced sentence. Martin's court-appointed counsel, Mike McKool, was out of the courtroom when sentence was pronounced. Martin filed from Leavenworth to set aside judgement.

Judge Davidson denied the motion and Martin appealed. The Fifth federal circuit court of appeals in New Orleans ruled recently that the court could "permit him to be heard in person and by witnesses as to the truth of the matters which he relies on."

Martin has been in Leavenworth since May 1948, serving on a 15-year term.

In his trial he testified that while in combat in Europe he was brutally beaten by men he thought to be Russians or Poles. One put a pistol to his head, but it did not fire, he said. As a result of the beating, he had not since been mentally responsible and was subject to fits, Martin testified.

Prior to this alleged experience, Martin had been convicted of murder in California in 1938 and sentenced to die. His sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. In 1944 he was released to enter the Army.

In his hold up here, Martin sought to escape in a taxi he had commandeered. He attempted suicide at capture and in jail here.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

With Joe Pickle

The tempo is quickening. Two weeks from today the long-planned Centennial celebration will be underway. Meanwhile, a jamboree heralding the event drew a big downtown crowd late Saturday afternoon.

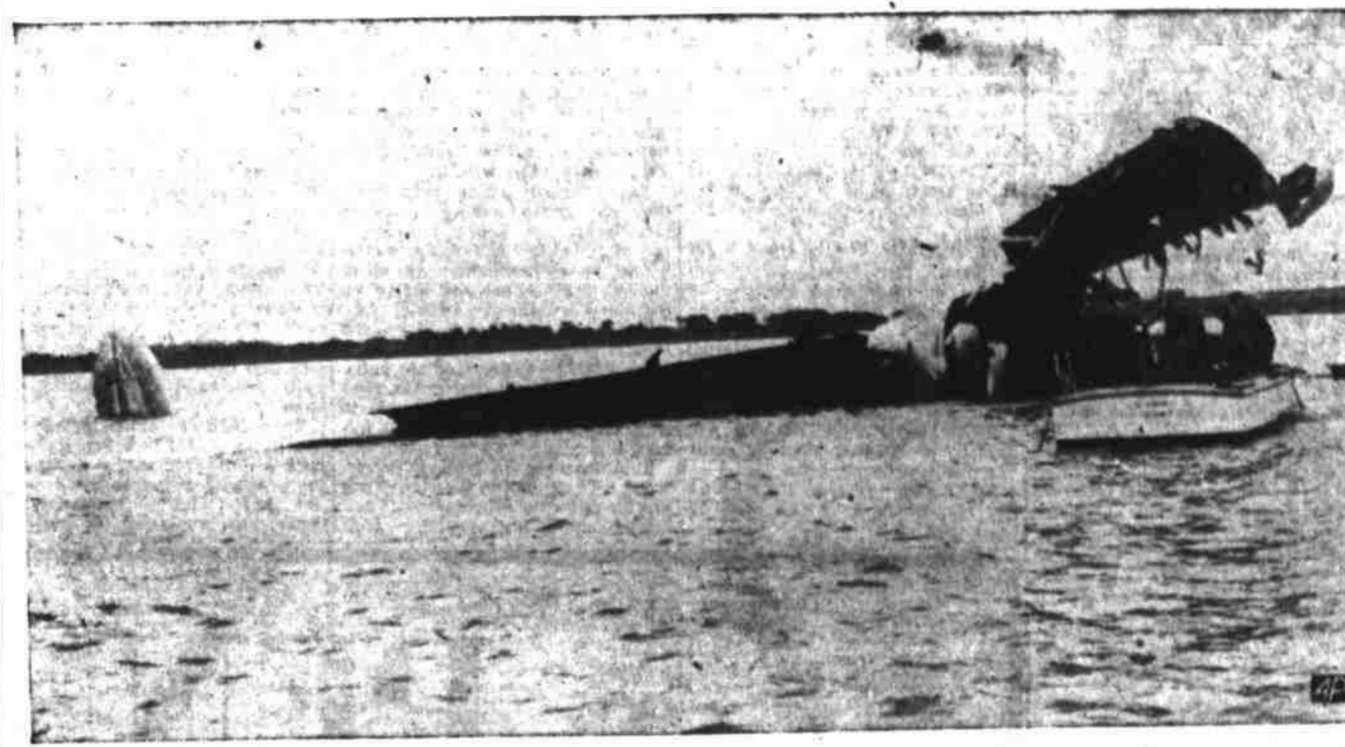

The whole affair is shaping up as numbers, who have worked night and day for three months but more have known it would all along. That is to say it will be far bigger than the casual observer ever dreamed it would be.

Activities for the week included pushing many phases into high gear—such as the Centennial rehearsals, issuance of more wood en nickels to meet the demand and announcement of an expense-paid excursion to the State Fair for the Centennial Queen, confirmation that at least three groups of military planes would be here growing response to the homecoming day invitation appeals, flowing of water through the spring again on a test run Saturday, crystallizing of Howard County Fair plans, and many others.

All this intense activity has about overshadowed everything else.

200 DIE AS FIRE SWEEPS CANADIAN CRUISE SHIP

WATERY GRAVE—Wreckage of a giant B-36 bomber lies in the murky waters of Lake Worth adjoining Carswell Air Force base in Fort Worth, Tex., after the plane crashed into the water on a take-off attempt. Five crew members are known to have died in the crash and bodies of three of them remained in the submerged hull. (AP Wirephoto)

Most Of Victims Are Americans

TORONTO, Ont., Sept. 17 (AP)—Nearly 200 shipboard holiday-makers, most of them Americans, died in a raging night-time fire that swept flames and panic through the Canadian pleasure cruiser Noronic in a few scant minutes early today.

Awakened by screams and smoke, more than 400 others scrambled or jumped to safety through the flames that turned the 36-year-old Great Lakes queen into a blackened sunken hulk at her dock here.

Mayor Miram McCallum estimated the death toll at "close to 200." But an exact count was unlikely for days. Many of the survivors scattered after the tragedy. Some of the victims were believed trapped in the twisted ship that sank onto the harbor bottom in 28 feet of water.

At mid-afternoon police said 190 bodies had been recovered, but only 117 had been gathered in an emergency morgue tonight and authorities withdrew the earlier estimate.

The Canadian press—from uncoordinated reports by police, the Red Cross and hospitals—estimated that about 90 besides the 117 known dead were unaccounted for. Canada Steamship Lines, owner of the 6,905-ton cruise ship, said 511 passengers boarded the ship at Detroit and Cleveland. Steamship officials said all the dead were passengers. The 170 crewmen all got to safety after fighting the flames that apparently started near the ship's cocktail bar just before the first alarm was sounded at 2:30 a. m.

Toronto officials said mass funerals would probably be necessary for many of the victims. They were to be buried in a common grave in the city's St. Michael's cemetery. It was the worst Great Lakes fire in more than a century.

Mayor McCallum said it was "definite" that the crew attempted to fight the fire before calling the city fire department.

Lifeguards on rowboats sought bodies of persons who had slipped down ropes or jumped overboard in terror.

A check was difficult because many survivors had gone to hotels, hospitals and homes.

The 36-year-old 5,905-ton steamer had settled to the bottom of the slip on Lake Ontario. The deck where the fire started was under water.

The Noronic docked here at 4 p. m. Friday on what was to have been a gay holiday cruise to the Thousand Islands after stops at Detroit and Cleveland.

Aboard were 170 crewmen and 512 passengers. The unusually large list had boarded the ship for her last cruise of the year.

At 2:38 a. m. Dan Harper, a pier watchman, turned in the first alarm when he saw a glimmer of fire near the stern. In two minutes, he said, the whole ship started afire.

Fireman said the fire has started from an unknown cause in stateroom 462, two cabins aft of the cocktail bar just below the main deck.

Mildred Briggs of Detroit, a survivor, said the flames spread as if in a match box.

"The fire just welled up along the corridors and spread faster than any fire I've ever seen," she said.

Many passengers thought the first cries of alarm were from parties having a good time.

But as fire and smoke gushed the passageways filled with stampeding people.

"There was a mob of men and women surging back and forth," said another survivor, Alberta Agla of Detroit. "Men were pushing women around and many were in a panic."

Bodies Of Three B-36 Crewmen Still In Lake

FORT WORTH, Sept. 17 (AP)—Bodies of three of the five men who died when a B-36 plunged into Lake Worth remained tonight in the submerged hull of the giant bomber.

M. R. Best of Arlington, Navy-trained diver who has worked two days among the jagged wreckage 25 feet or more under water, came ashore late today with his hands cut and bleeding.

"I'll have to rest and try it again in the morning," he told Lt. Col. Marvin Hammack, who is directing the salvage work.

Best said Dave Overbrook, also trained in diving, will go down with him tomorrow to try to free the bodies of the airman who were trapped in the ship's crash on a lake off from Carswell Air Force Base Thursday night.

Tech. Sgt. William G. Seymour of Fort Worth died in the Carswell Air Force Base Hospital shortly after the crash, the first fatal accident involving a B-36. Yesterday the body of Maj. Joseph L. Leaming, Jr., of Dayton, O., was brought to the surface.

EXTRA HISTORICAL ITEMS WANTED FOR CENTENNIAL WINDOW DISPLAYS

Additional historical items are needed for the decoration of downtown show windows in the Historical Window display for the Big Spring Centennial, Mrs. Harold Canning, committee chairman, announced.

Among the articles wanted are old fashioned children's clothing, china wash basins and pitchers, Mrs. Canning said. Any heirloom or relic can be used in the displays.

Some 35 stores have announced intentions of exhibiting historical windows, Mrs. Canning said. Approximately 20 additional firms are expected to decorate windows, she stated. Persons with articles that may be used in the displays are urged to contact Centennial officials at the Settles. Phone number is 2800.

NATIONAL COAL STRIKE LOOMS

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17 (AP)—The crisis in American industry suddenly switched from basic metal to basic fuel today. A nationwide walkout in the coal fields next week is a virtual certainty.

Most of the nation's 480,000 miners appeared ready to quit due to suspension of pension and other benefit payments. Work stoppages already are under way in the West. Some United Mine Workers locals in the East and Midwest voted against reporting for work Monday.

No-work sentiment spread rapidly over the far flung coal fields—both bituminous and anthracite.

"There'll be darned few miners in the pits Monday," one union official said.

There was no word on this from UMW chieftain John L. Lewis, who sent a telegram suspending payments under UMW's controversial welfare fund.

Fouling by telegram between the CIO union steelworkers and the steel industry quieted with government intervention in an effort to stave off a country-wide strike of a million workers Sept. 25.

Management and union will sit down with mediation officials in Washington Monday to discuss the pension and insurance war which has snagged contract negotiations. This brightens hopes for a peaceful settlement.

The union has insisted on industry's acceptance of a presidential board's insurance-pension peace recommendations before resumption of bargaining. Industry objects to financing the benefit programs and wants to negotiate without committing itself. The strike truce expires Sept. 25.

The union accepted the mediation service invite and steel is expected to be on hand also.

Trainmen Will Make MOPAC Peace Proposal

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 17 (AP)—A spokesman for the four striking brotherhoods said tonight a counter-proposal for possible settlement of the Missouri Pacific strike was being written.

Ray E. Davidson said the committee of union officers had been studying a company proposal all day. No decision was reached on what form the union reply would take or when it would be completed.

The union-counter proposal will not be made public until it is presented to the railroad, perhaps not until Monday.

In the company plan, trustee Guy Thompson suggested both parties unite in calling on President Truman to appoint a board of three to dispose of all claims that cannot be settled by negotiation between the company and unions.

Brotherhood leaders rejected a similar proposal before the strike started.

A condition of the proposal was that the strike must end at once.

The walkout of 5,000 operating employees was in its ninth day. The loss in wages to those employees and another 20,000 laid off during the strike was estimated at $4 million.

TESCO Employees Hold Annual Meet At Colorado City

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 17—Texas Electric Service company employees of the Sweetwater and Big Spring districts staged their annual get-together this evening—and used the occasion to "show off" progress to date on TESCO's new steam-electric generating plant at the Morgan lake site southwest of Colorado City.

Approximately 500 persons gathered at the lake site for a barbecue supper and then for a program that featured an address by Congressman George Mahon. In addition to TESCO personnel from a half-dozen or so towns in the districts, there were guests from Lorraine, Sweetwater, Roscoe, Colorado City, Snyder, Big Spring and Lamesa.

One feature of the evening's program was presentation of a watch and a 25-year pin to Miss Pearl Hembie, an office employee at Sweetwater, who qualified for the company's Quarter-Century club. The presentation was made by J. B. Thomas, Fort Worth, president of Texas Electric, who earlier had made a talk outlining the company's growth and its plan to add greater power supply units to serve its far-flung territory. He displayed charts and models of new generating stations.

Thomas introduced to the staff members of the company's executive staff from Fort Worth A. L. McSpadden, Colorado City—TESCO manager, was master of ceremonies, and preliminary music was furnished by the Harry Logsdon string band of Colorado City. The barbecue supper was served by the Sweetwater Chuck Wagon Gang.

ACCUSED MASON SLAYER TALKS Smithwick Says All He's Asking Is A Fair Trial

By MARTHA COLE

BELTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—Sam Smithwick, former Jim Wells County deputy sheriff charged with slaying a newspaperman broke his long silence today. He said in his first interview.

"All I want is a fair trial. That's all I want just a fair trial." His trial is to open here Oct. 24. The case was transferred from Alice, on a charge of venue. Smithwick is charged with murdering W. H. Bill Masze, crusading radio commentator and veteran newspaperman July 29. Masze was shot to death as he sat in his automobile on the industrial outskirts of Alice. He had criticized the deputy sheriff as his final broadcast.

Smithwick a prisoner in the Bell County jail, said he wants to go back home to Alice.

"I've got nothing to be afraid of down here," he said.

"I came up here because my

Students Will Run City, County On Youth Day Here

Big Spring high school students to be elected from economics, civics and government classes, will operate city and county governments Friday, Oct. 7, as a part of the Youth Day program of the Big Spring Centennial.

Junior officials will be installed in all city and county offices at 10 a. m. and will govern throughout the day. The installation ceremony will be held on the reviewing stand at the east side of the courthouse square.

A downtown Youth Parade will be held at 2:30 p. m. and will include mass representation of all schools in the city. The Coahoma high school band will be presented in concert at 11 a. m.

At 7 p. m. more than 3,000 school children will participate in a program of school activities at the high school stadium. The program will be designed to demonstrate the activities of each class in the various schools.

Youth Day activities will be concluded with the football game between the Big Spring B team and Coahoma high school players at 8:15 p. m. in Steer stadium.

THEY'RE 'IN OUR IMAGE'

Bible Characters Made Real In Texas Publisher's Book

By William C. Bernard
Associated Press Staff
SAN ANGELO, Sept. 17.—Bible stories are as thrilling as the daily newspaper, and Bible characters are real, vital people. The Great Book is aglow—and its narratives are beautiful.

EDITOR AND ARTIST—Houston Harte (left), Texas publisher, and artist Guy Rowe, (right) have collaborated to produce "In Our Image," a highly illustrated collection of Old Testament stories, which will be introduced in Texas September 18. The pictures are from portraits executed by Rowe.

From his youth, Houston Harte, Texas editor and publisher, had no belief. He was a Bible reader, but laid no claim to Bible scholarship. Young people told him: "There is so much of the Bible, it's hard to find anything."

The comic strips in his newspapers were much easier to read—and better illustrated, too, they said. Harte had a challenging idea. "I took a Bible and a pencil," he says. "I marked some of the great stories. And I wondered how many of the millions of Bibles really are read."

In effect, Harte edited out "the begats," genealogy and other extraneous material not germane to the stories or the philosophy of the Bible. From this slender beginning in an editor's home has come what the Oxford University Press says is a modern masterpiece. And the Oxford press has been making beautiful books for 500 years.

The volume, "In Our Image," which goes to the public late in September is a strikingly illustrated book of great Bible narratives. The publishing project involves an outlay of $250,000, including 22 color plates made in England at a cost of $50,000.

Kent Cooper, in a stirring foreword, calls the idea for the book a stroke of genius. "I credited two things with keeping some people from reading the Bible," Harte said. "The way it was printed—usually in small type and with meaningless headings and numbered verses—and the general material not absolutely essential to the narratives."

At first Harte planned to run illustrated Bible narratives on the church pages of his newspaper, the San Angelo Standard and San Angelo Times. But he was disappointed when he found what illustrations were available.

"The pictures of Biblical characters didn't look real. Robed and surrounded by renaissance trappings, they seemed like creatures of another world. I realized I wanted the great individuals of the Bible printed in vivid color and as human beings—today—believed they looked. Then I knew my project would have to be a book."

He hoped to draw material from both the Old and New Testaments. "Having evolved his plan," Kent Cooper relates, "Houston Harte presented it to Henry Z. Walck, president of Oxford University Press, and to Guy Rowe, a great character portraitist. That was in June, 1945. Both artist and publisher reacted enthusiastically. It was decided that the proposal, as first conceived by Mr. Harte, was too big for one volume. Material there was too much to be illustrated. It would be better to do one volume for the Old Testament and one for the New. Work would start on the Old Testament at once. On November 24, 1945, the contract was signed and the book got under way."

The immediate problem was to select twenty-five stories. Oxford University Press, working with Houston Harte, set up a committee of eight clergymen, all noted for their vital interest in Biblical narrative. Each clergyman was requested to submit a list of fifty Biblical stories he felt should go into the book. Then the eight lists were correlated. "It was found that twenty-six stories were high on the list of each selector. These became the textual material. They could be ideally illustrated by thirty-two portraits. Houston Harte went to work on the text and Guy Rowe on the pictures. This was in the fall of 1945. The artist had contemplated taking three years for the job, but he did not complete his task until the spring of 1948."

"Many Biblical portraits of the past contain not only the faces of the renaissance, but the habiliments of the 14th century Italy, as well," Harte says. "We know the Jews of the Old Testament time were a hardy race. These nomadic tribes which roamed the deserts of the Middle East in the days of Abraham or David were a pastoral people. Any true portraitist should depict them as a part of the era in which they lived."

"In searching for a portrait painter of ability and imagination I found in Guy Rowe not only these qualifications, but a painstaking researcher as well. His best work had been done in mixing highly contrasting colors of the brightest hue. I believe all Bible readers will get from Guy Rowe's portraits a new understanding of the men who led God's Chosen People."

Rowe, unfamiliar with the Bible, worked with burning intensity. For months he studied the Old Testament, familiarizing himself with the characters he wanted to portray. For his portrait of Noah, he spent three weeks at the New York Public Library, reading every word available on Noah and his times. Then, for days, in public buildings and on beaches, he sketched men he thought might resemble Noah. The resulting portrait shows Noah and his wife as two far-vested pioneers, surveying a strange and lonely landscape after the flood. The ark has come to rest on a mountainside in the background. In all the portraits, painted in four colors and black, Rowe makes good use of such symbolism.

In a New York cafeteria, he encountered a man who seemed to fit his idea of Elijah. Returning to the restaurant the next day at noon, he found the same man again. For three weeks the artist studied every line and plane in his subject's face. Never once did they speak. The stranger's features became Elijah.

Rowe knew he had to picture Amos as a humanitarian. So he collected photographs of great humanitarians of our time and discovered many had certain features in common. He included these in his painting of Amos.

Cooper says of the portraits: "They are today's faces, but they are also yesterday's and tomorrow's. There is about them a universality that is found only in great art. Rarely has an artist, and perhaps never before, had a Biblical artist, been able to bring to his public such extravagant use of brilliant color. This is Rowe's great talent. It is illustrated in every one of his portraits."

Dr. Ansley C. Moore, Presbyterian minister of Pittsburgh, said: "For those long tired of much medieval religious art with its big-legged babies, its languid women, its fussy men and its utter unreality, here is a refreshing answer. Not only are the Old Testament stories thrilling—told in the language of the King James Version—but the art is exciting, too. Looking at these paintings was a spiritual experience for me."

Rowe, a nominal Christian when he started his task, became so engrossed in the Scriptures that he has become, he says, "a real Christian." He hopes to devote the remainder of his life to religious art. Of the narratives, Harte said:

SWELL JOB IN WRONG HOUSE

KANKAKEE, Ill., Sept. 17. (AP)—Mrs. Hazel Lane built a fire in the furnace to take the chill out of the house and then left for work. When she returned home the fire was out. So was the furnace. The entire heating plant, with its pipes and other connections had disappeared from the basement. But the mystery was quickly solved. A furnace company said its workmen had been sent to the home of Mrs. Harry Lane, Mrs. Hazel Lane's neighbor, to dismantle the heating plant. They got in the wrong Lane basement.

MAN LEGALLY DEAD TURNS UP

WAPAKONNETT, O., Sept. 17. (AP)—Charles McFarland of Uniontown, Pa., declared legally dead last March, turned up here very much alive this week. McFarland, 66, walked into probate court to claim a share in the $5,000 estate of his brother, Henry J. McFarland, who died last November. An Auglaize County court order declared the 66-year-old steam shovel operator dead because he had not been heard from in seven years. McFarland immediately started proceedings to set aside the death declaration. "He also had a happy reunion with his sister, Mrs. Howard Williamson of Dayton, when he came into the courtroom here. Said she 'Why Brother Charles, where have you been all these years?'"

Ship-To-Shore Telephone Service Has World's Largest Party Line

By ALBERT S. FULLING
AP Newsfeatures
NEW YORK — Take two radio telephone channels, add 2,345 nautical subscribers, and you have the largest party line in the world. Rugged tugboats and sleek crafts share the kilocycles of the New York Telephone Company's station WOX in the New York-New Jersey-Connecticut area.

The coastal harbor service inaugurated in 1936 with six Pennsylvania Railroad tugboats, has grown to a point where the telephone company today asks all calls be kept to a minimum. There are 17 such radio-telephone stations along the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Coasts and 10 along the Mississippi and Ohio rivers and Great Lakes. Of these, 18 are operated by the Bell system and the others are independently run. The Bell stations alone handle about 300,000 such calls a year.

Use of the airways for such jovial items as group singing brings no pleasure to the phone company—nor to a waiting caller. Fortunately, the phone company says, all of the subscribers are not active on the same wave lengths. Some 400 to 1,200 persons use the service every month with a total of some 6,000 to 10,000 monthly calls. From 85 to 90 per cent of the traffic is with commercial vessels in New York harbor and adjacent waters.

The summer months, however, bring a peak load to the New York marine operator on Sun-days. Then the channels are cluttered with rudders and engine trouble. The marine operators, hand-picked girls from the telephone company's long lines service, like tugboat and ship captains. The girls say the salty skippers are the most polite of all callers. It's easy to place a call—either from land or water. If abroad ship, the skipper calls the New York marine operator. He gives the telephone number wanted ashore, and the marine operator relays the call on land lines to any point in the country. A landlubber calling a vessel in the harbor coastal area asks for the long distance operator who connects him with the marine operator who in turn calls the ship by radio and completes the call. Marine operators in the harbor coastal service are located at intervals along the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coasts of the United States. The subscribers include 1,537 pleasure craft, 601 commercial vessels, 84 government boats and 33 aircraft. Total subscribers for the nation as a whole, number at least 12,000. Government vessels of the Navy's Atlantic fleet equipped for phone service permit outgoing calls by personnel only, under supervision of the Navy welfare officer board. A sailor can call his girl friend or his family when needed, but they can't place a call to him, under Navy regulations. Many a vessel in distress has called the marine operator for assistance and has been connected with the Coast Guard. Emergency calls are handled on a toll-free basis. The distress calls include requests for ambulance service at a dock for an emergency appendectomy, vessels running out of gasoline, boats aground, reports of sunken barges, fires, or broken

Commemorating . . .
54 YEARS OF CHIROPRACTIC PROGRESS
The 54th Anniversary of the discovery of Chiropractic by Dr. D. D. Palmer at Davenport, Iowa, was internationally commemorated by the profession on Sunday, Sept. 18.
On that date in 1895, Dr. D. D. Palmer (pictured at left) took the first step in the discovery of a new health science by adjusting the sub-luxated vertebra in the spine of deaf Harvey Lillard and restoring his hearing. Thus was founded this principle of spinal adjustments to correct the cause of disease by releasing nerve interference.
This health service has become known and respected throughout the world, but in the beginning Dr. Palmer had an uphill struggle to establish it upon a firm and secure basis. However, by his firm resolution to stand by his principle, he accomplished his purpose in life by establishing a new natural way to health which is today honored and revered by thousands as a blessing to humanity.

REGENTS APPROVE PLANS

UT Medical Branch Regulations Okayed

AUSTIN, Sept. 17 (AP)—Regulations for the University of Texas' newly-acquired Southwestern Medical Branch at Dallas and construction plans for three new buildings elsewhere were given approval by the board of regents here.

The regulations were approved as set up during the summer by a special regent committee.

A $500,000 budget for the branch and a salary schedule comparable to that at the Galveston branch were also approved. The Southwestern Medical Foundation has authorized however to augment certain salaries at the Dallas branch.

The architect was authorized to proceed on working plans for a $3 million cancer research hospital to be built at the Texas Medical Center at Galveston and for a $1,500,000 new laboratory building at Galveston. Kenneth Frenzelheim of Houston was named associate architect.

Chauncey D. Leake, vice president and medical dean at the Galveston Medical Branch, reported that service to Texas' indigent sick at Galveston has doubled since the service was first offered six years ago.

There have been 3,784 patients from 184 counties for the fiscal year ending Aug. 31, he said. In the comparable period in 1943, there were 1,277 patients from 124 counties.

In addition to hospital care last year, some additional 20,000 persons were given treatment by out-patient clinics and the diagnostic clinic, Dr. Leake said.

FOUR WIVES—FIVE YEARS

TORONTO, Canada, Sept. 17 (AP)—John (Blackie) Costello, 25, who has acquired four wives since 1944, drew a five-year jail sentence Friday for bigamy.

Three of his mates were in court when sentence was pronounced.

His first wife, pretty brunette Jean Frances Costello, testified she married Costello in 1944 after a two-week courtship. She wants a divorce.

His third wife, Mrs. John Romaniuk, said she went through a marriage ceremony with Costello early this year after knowing him less than a week.

Wife No. 4, Sonia Sofia Itchuk, said she still loves Costello.

His second wife didn't show up in court.

Alice Jurors Take Recess

ALICE, Sept. 17 (AP)—The grand jury investigation into last year's beated U. S. senatorial primary will not go back to work until Tuesday.

The specially picked jurors heard a group of witnesses Friday, then recessed until Thursday.

Judge Paul Martineau told the jury he would not be here Tuesday but would be readily available if they called him. His home is in Corpus Christi.

The grand jury has been digging for more than a week into the Aug. 26, 1948 Texas Democratic Primary election here. In that election Lyndon Johnson, now U. S. Senator, won the nomination over former Governor Coke Stevenson. Stevenson charged that votes were fraudulently added at precinct 13 in Alice after the polls closed.

Summoned as witnesses Tuesday are Clarence Mattheus, who appeared earlier before the grand jury, and Hector Cerda.

Son Of Communist Flees Soviet Zone

AHLEN, Germany, Sept. 17 (AP)—Joseph Reimann, 23, son of west Germany's Communist leader, who fled the Soviet Zone, says he freed himself because of his father's freedom is different from his father's.

"I've fed up with uniforms and barbed wire," said young Reimann, who had served as a member of the Soviet-support Volkspolizei (People's Police) after his release as a Russian war prisoner.

His father, Max Reimann, said he was astonished by his son's action. He said his comment on it: "A British statement on Reimann's escape quoted him as saying 'I wanted to escape from the terror in the East Zone and especially from the East Zone police'."

LOVE LOSES IN TWO-YEAR FIGHT WITH WIFE'S ALLERGY FOR MATE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17 (AP)—Love conquers all but allergy.

That is the tragic story of Mrs. Joyce G. Holdridge, 27, who had to give up the husband she loved because, actually, she couldn't stand him.

Her two-year marriage to Nolan H. Holdridge, 26, San Francisco watchmaker, was annulled Friday after she testified.

"I spent most of my time in hospitals. My condition was finally diagnosed as neurodermatitis due to my being allergic to my husband. I was told that there was no cure as long as I continued associating with my husband.

"Whenever I was with him, I would break out in a rash from head to toe. This would clear up 24 hours after I left him. . . but it would recur even at the mention of his name."

She had absolutely no complaint about her husband's conduct.

The court, which earlier had denied her a divorce decree because she could not prove "cruelty" with-in the meaning of the law, commended Mrs. Holdridge's refusal to "trump up charges."

In granting the annulment, Superior Judge Ray Brockmann said: "Courts may be forced to recognize what medical science has discovered—that such allergies as Mrs. Holdridge complains of are a fact and not a caprice."

Mrs. Holdridge showed no sign of her allergy in court.

Her husband had remained 400 miles away in San Francisco.

Saving America Money for Over Three-Quarters of a Century!

MUCH TOO BIG, SAYS CHEADLE

English Find American Papers Unwieldy, Difficult To Read

FORT WORTH, Sept. 17. A — "English newspapers are miracles of condensation. Big city papers in America are unwieldy and difficult to read."

That's the opinion of Eric Wallers, general manager of the largest group of newspapers in Britain. He began his career as an editorial messenger boy at 15. At 41, he guides the Kemsley Newspapers, 30 morning, evening and Sunday papers with a total circulation of 31 million.

"It is next to impossible for an Englishman to read an American newspaper," said he. "We can never find what we want. In British newspapers, we can pinpoint a particular news item or feature in a second."

English papers are strictly limited by newspaper rationing. Sunday papers have one Sunday and eight the next. Daily papers have six pages. Before an easing of newspaper restrictions early this year, daily papers had four pages and Sunday papers six.

"I doubt that we will go back to big papers," Chedale said. He visited Fort Worth this week on a "Discovery of America" air tour with 49 other journalists from 14 European countries. He was interviewed while he stood on the 730-foot wing of a B-36 bomber at Carswell Air Base, a vantage point for an air show.

He was a tall fellow, soft-spoken and serious, with a face bright red from the American sun. "I bought a Sunday Los Angeles Times the other day and it had 204 pages. That's about the same amount of newspaper in an English paper over in five months of Sunday. It is a mathematical impossibility to read all of a newspaper that size.

English people really read their newspapers and are prone to write letters to them. Letters from the public make up one of the best features. We acknowledge every letter we get.

"English papers try to give complete, fair and accurate coverage of international and home news in as little space as possible. Condensation has become a really fine art. The skill of the sub-editor (copy editor) has become of paramount importance.

"We still have as many reporters as we used to have. The average reporter has become used to saying a lot in a small space. We cover all the events. At an event of importance we have to have a man there, though he may write only eight lines.

"Many American papers use the 'rewrite' system for speed. A reporter telephones in the details and a rewrite man puts the story together. The English reporter almost always writes his own story, though he may later dictate it over a telephone. I think it is better and more accurate. A reporter has pride in the stuff he has written.

"Some of our reporters are equipped with walkie-talkie radio sets. They transmit stories by walkie-talkie to one of our mobile radio units. The mobile unit transmits the stories to the Kemsley head office in London, which in turn relays it to Kemsley newspapers over Britain. All our papers are linked together by their own leased wire system.

"When an aircraft hit a mountain in Scotland, a reporter with a walkie-talkie climbed the mountain and gave out the story

In a matter of seconds, all the Kemsley papers had the news. "We also transmit pictures by radio from our mobile units. At a big sporting event, such as the Derby, the story and photos are sent from a mobile unit simultaneously.

In addition to international and empire news, the Kemsley newspapers maintain first-class coverage of home news. The newspaper and their editors play prominent parts in the life of the town. The editors reflect civic enterprise — as Mr. Amon Carter does here in Fort Worth.

Cheadle had toured the plant of only one American newspaper, the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. "I was greatly impressed. It is a fine, very efficient plant. I particularly liked the library—user here, I think you call it the morgue."

English reporters work a five-day, 40-hour week. "But a reporter isn't a factory hand—he doesn't watch the clock," Cheadle said. He didn't think too much of English journalism schools.

"This is how a good reporter is made," he said. "He starts on a local weekly where he covers funerals and weddings and learns to get the mayor's name right. Then he goes to a provincial evening paper. After that, if he's good, he graduates to a big paper on Fleet Street in London."

One Fleet Street paper, the Sunday News of the world, has a circulation of 8 million.

"There are indications more space is becoming available to our advertisers," said Cheadle. "For a long time, no advertiser could get an ad larger than four across two columns, or two across ad, four inches deep. It took months to get a classified ad into one of our papers—except births, marriages and deaths. Now it takes more than a week in a big London newspaper; a half-page ad costs $8,000 to $10,000."

GANGLAND VICTIM — Phil (Little Farwell) Cohen, above, 43, former member of Murder, Inc., was found shot to death on road in Valley Stream, L. I. N. Y. Police said Cohen was a victim of gangland vengeance. It was his testimony that helped send Louis (Leopke) Buchalter and two others to the electric chair. (AP Wirephoto)

NOT AS BAD AS COULD BE

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17. — This could happen if you walked out to Arden Road today: You stop at 402 and ask the lady of the house if this is the house where Mrs. House lives. That's right, she says. Then you go to 400 and ask the lady of that house if this is the house where Mrs. House lives. That's right, she says. Dizzy? Think of the problem it poses for Postman J. L. Cunningham, particularly considering the ladies in both houses are named Mrs. C. W. House. They are not related.

Oh, well, says Cunningham. "It's not as bad as it could be. Just suppose they lived at opposite ends of the street."

Senate Approves $100 Boost In Duty-Free Goods

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. — A $100 boost in the amount of duty-free goods a U. S. tourist may bring back from abroad has been approved by the Senate.

The increase still is subject to action by a Senate-House conference committee. A tax bill passed yesterday by the Senate was sent to the conference group. Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the Senate finance committee said the bill would correct a number of hardships in the present federal tax laws.

The $200 exemption would replace the $100 exemption approved by Congress in 1937. It would be applicable, as at present, to a resident once every 30 days, provided he remained out of the country at least 48 hours.

Man Rescued By Outcry And Family

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Sept. 17. — Ray Tafel, 37, had only time for a frantic cry before the collapsing sand walls of a nine-foot hole he was digging buried him today. That's what he—and his family—saw his life.

Tafel's wife, Effie, 36, phoned police and then rushed to the hole and began claying through the sand. A foot from the surface she reached her husband's head. Effie kept her hand over her husband's face and the eight children wept a fearful vigil at the hole until police and firemen arrived. Tafel was freed within 30 minutes.

Cisco Farmer Is Killed In Crash

CISCO, Sept. 17. — John Robert Snoddy, 75, pioneer Cisco farmer injured Thursday in a car collision died today.

Mrs. Snoddy, 71, whose right leg was broken, is recovering. The Snoddy's car collided with one driven by George McGee, 21, their neighbor, as the Snoddy's were turning onto the highway from their home seven miles south of here. Highway Patrolmen said the accident was unavoidable.

Pipeline Authorized

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. — The Arkansas-Louisiana Gas Co. was authorized yesterday to build 2 miles of 20-inch pipeline from Harrison county, Texas, to Columbia County, Ark. The line will have a capacity of 200,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas daily.

Double Death Investigated

ODESSA, Sept. 17. (SC)—Local officers are investigating what is believed to be the murder and suicide of a 25-year-old Latin-American and his wife here Friday night.

Victor Rodriguez, Jr., and his wife, Francisca, also about 25, were found dead of gunshot wounds at their home by neighborhood children late last night.

Investigating officers said the man apparently killed his wife with eight shots from a .38 automatic and then turned the gun on himself about six o'clock yesterday afternoon. A ten-month-old baby was found in the house crying but unharmed.

The bodies were discovered when the children entered the house to investigate the crying of the Rodriguez infant. Deputy Sheriff Don Harbert, Police Chief Curtis McElroy and City Officer Jim Mellivain were called to the scene and found a radio playing loudly inside the house. They said the noise from the radio probably drowned out the shots.

The men were told by neighbors that Rodriguez' parents had left Odessa earlier in the afternoon en route to Barstow, Calif., with six of the couple's children.

ARREST PRISON GUARD

Colorado Pen Dope Ring Is Smashed

CANON CITY, Colo., Sept. 17. — One prison guard was in jail today and two convicts were in solitary confinement as the result of what Warden Roy Best described as "smashing of a ring which was supplying inmates with benzodrine, bullets and narcotics."

Best said arrest of another person who was doing most of the "outside work" for the ring is expected soon.

The warden said much of the dope, benzodrine and money supplied inmates by the ring was in canned goods sent to prisoners.

Some of these cans contained a score of benzodrine inhalators used by prisoners to induce a "jag" similar to alcohol.

At least 30 rifle shells were found buried in apples sent from Prison Ranch No. 5 to Prison Ranch No. 1. Best said he had not yet figured all the details concerning this movement of ammunition.

The arrested prison guard is Herbert Martin, 46, who has been working for Best since 1942. He was placed in Fremont County Jail and booked for investigation. Prison authorities accused him of carrying benzodrine around in his clothing, selling it to prisoners.

The convicts in solitary confinement are Lindy Goodwin, 22, sentenced in 1946 for arson, burglary and larceny; and 46-year-old William Rains, admitted in 1947 to begin sentence for forgery.

Best said the investigation, sparked by discovery of narcotics inside the prison walls, revealed that 1. Sections of a benzodrine-soaked wick from an inhalator were selling for $1.50 each.

2. This made each inhalator worth from $25 and up.

3. Goodwin admitted receiving some 30 cans, each containing 20 of the benzodrine inhalators during the past year.

4. Prisoners are allowed to receive standard-brand canned goods from friends and relatives. Some one outside the place was "faking cans and disguising them with labels from standard brands."

5. Two $50 bills were found in one can of shoestring potatoes.

Pioneer Airlines Is Going Ahead With Moving Plans

HOUSTON, Sept. 17. — The president of Pioneer Air Lines today said the plan to move the company's headquarters from Houston to Dallas "has gone too far to back up."

Robert J. Smith so advised the Houston Chronicle by telephone after Houston city officials began organizing to try to halt the transfer and loss of the company's annual payroll of $1,250,000.

Earlier a Texas Air National Guard official indicated willingness to grant any reasonable extension of its eviction notice to Pioneer which has been using a Texas State Armory Board hangar at the Houston Municipal Airport.

The eviction notice, originally effective earlier this summer, led to the announcement yesterday of the planned transfer.

Torrential Rain Falls In Mexico

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, Sept. 17. — Police reports on Tuesday's torrential rain said today two women and one boy were drowned and many houses damaged.

During three hours, rain fell so heavily some streets were flooded to a depth of five feet. After a long drought the single storm about equaled a year's rainfall with widespread minor damage.

Presidential Tenure Amendment Making Little Progress In U. S.

By The Associated Press
The proposed constitutional amendment to limit future U. S. presidents to two terms gained little ground this year.

It was approved by North Dakota and South Dakota. That raised the total of states that have ratified it to 23. It must have the approval of 13 more before it can go into effect.

A survey Saturday—Constitution Day—showed the proposition had lost much of its early momentum.

Congress started the proposed 22nd amendment on the round of state legislatures in March, 1947. It gave the states seven years, or until March, 1954, to make up their minds about it. If 36 states accept it before the deadline, it will become law.

The amendment was ratified in 1947 by 18 states—Maine, Michigan, Iowa, Kansas, New Hampshire, Oregon, Illinois, Delaware, Vermont, California, New Jersey, Wisconsin, Ohio, Colorado, Pennsylvania, Nebraska, Missouri, and Connecticut.

New York, Virginia and Mississippi followed suit in 1948. But only the two Dakotas approved the amendment in 1949.

This was a rough year for the proposal. Resolutions to ratify were defeated or sidetracked in Utah, Nevada, Idaho, Minnesota, Maryland, Massachusetts, Indiana, Montana, North Carolina, New Mexico, Washington, Wyoming and Alabama.

Comparatively few legislatures meet in the even-numbered years. So it looks as though it will be 1951 before the amendment will have a mathematical chance of getting an okay from 13 more states.

Dallas Man Cleared In Robbery-Slaying

DALLAS, Sept. 17 (AP)—Martin Davilla Salazar was acquitted today of murder in the $1 robbery-slaying of Thomas Gentry Taylor, 60, of McKinney.

The verdict was reported by a criminal district court jury which received the case last night.

Salazar, 30, war veteran and father of two, had watched the week-long trial without expression. He broke into a beaming grin and embraced his wife when the verdict Taylor was brutally beaten to death in a Dallas alley in 1947 with a car crankcase. Umberto R. Valierro, 22, already had been convicted of murder in the case and sentenced to die. Valierro testified this week Salazar held Taylor while Valierro beat him. Salazar denied this.

T&P Tracks Cleared Of Derailed Cars

LONGVIEW, Sept. 17 (AP)—Early today a large force of workers cleared 2 derailed freight cars from the Texas & Pacific tracks a mile west of here.

The cars—15 of them loaded with petroleum products, gasoline and explosives—derailed Friday as the train was pulling into Longview from Dallas.

No one was hurt and there was no fire.

DEMONSTRATE NEW PRINTING MACHINE — Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of Carnegie Institution of Washington operates a new photographic type composing machine which publishers and scientists predict may revolutionize printing. Looking on is Dr. Samuel H. Caldwell of Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who did some of the research. The machine is being shown here in Cambridge, Mass. At right is the electric "brain" that justifies or makes even the lines of type. A photo darkroom, also part of the machine, is not shown. (AP Wirephoto)

New Printing Machine Slated To Cut Costs Of Publishing

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter
BOSTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—A new machine with an electric brain and a flashing photo beam promises to chop down the costs of printing the newspapers, books and magazines you read.

It sets type clearly, accurately and quickly on film, without using any metal. Anyone who can type can run it for it has a standard typewriter keyboard. Whatever you type comes out with perfectly spaced margins, arranged by the electric brain or memory.

Each letter is projected onto film through a photo-electric gun, juggling like a heart to record just what you've written. You push buttons to get whatever style of type you want, or whatever size from headline to small print at any moment. You can see your whole line of words and correct any errors before you push the button to photograph it.

Leading publishers and scientists unveiled the new machine Thursday and called it the most significant advance in the art of printing in 75 years.

It promises to bring huge savings in the cost of printing and make possible printing of more newspapers, books, magazines and scientific journals, they said.

Present linotype machines set type from molten metal, and have a top speed of about seven or eight newspaper column lines a minute. This machine sets 12 lines a minute, by photographing six letters a second. It could set 20 a minute. If anyone could type that fast, it saves through faster production and can bring other savings, too, avoiding some stages of printing with metal type.

The strips or rolls of film that come from the machine have to be reproduced on metal. This can be done by making offset plates or photo-engravings for regular printing methods. And scientists predicted ways will be found to make up new kinds of photo-engravings cheaply and in perhaps a few minutes time.

The machine is the result of cooperative work of two French inventors, Rene A. Hugonot and Louis Moyroud, of the Lithomat Corp. of Cambridge, and Dr. Vannevar Bush, president of the Carnegie Institution, and his associates.

As yet the photo-composing machine has no official name. One working model has been made. One finished machine will look like a big stenographer desk. They may be ready in 18 months. Costs are not yet known.

The machine is the first project of the newly-formed Graphic Arts Research Foundation, Inc., supported by 129 leading concerns to promote research toward new and better processes in printing and the graphic arts.

On the board of directors are Dr. Bush, Dr. Samuel H. Caldwell, director of the center of analysis, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Robert Choate, publisher of the Boston Herald-Traveler Corp.; William W. Grath, Jr., president of the Lithomat Corp., and Henry Laughlin, president of Houghton Mifflin Co.

Dr. Bush declared many present methods of printing are obsolete, and that changes will come fast in this field. Movable type may be on the way out, he said, and "someday we may do printing without any metal at all."

Scientific research is hampered now by the high costs of printing reports on discoveries, so that news of them hasn't spread as it should, he said. The new machine can help overcome this bottleneck, he added.

It's even possible Dr. Bush said, that someday news stories may be sent out over wires to newspapers and received in type in their offices in the style and size of type that each individual one wants.

Retired Realtor Climbs 67 Highest Mountains In U.S.

By JACK QUIGLI
AP Staff Writer
SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Sept. 16 — John D. Graham, a retired real estate man, says he is the first person to climb the 67 highest peaks in the United States.

Graham, an athletic 53, claimed the record this summer after scaling a one-week expedition.

His goal for 15 years, Graham said, had been to conquer every U. S. mountain higher than 14,000 feet. His figures list 67 such pinacles (the World Almanac lists 62).

He has clambered up all 14,000 footers in Colorado, California and Washington, Graham said, the only states in which the giants are located.

He tackled his first mountain during a Colorado vacation in 1935. It was small, but the experience was a challenge.

"It gave me an unusual feeling to be able to see such great distances and such inspiring scenery," he said.

Originally from New York City, Graham had a chance to hike to his heart's content when he moved to Colorado. He said that while he lived in Colorado Springs and Denver before World War II he became the eighth person to climb all 52 of the 14,000 foot peaks in that state.

"Mountain climbing finally gets to be a competition and a challenge," he said. "It's the same feeling of accomplishment you notice after a good score in golf which can really throw out the obstacles."

His toughest ascent, Graham said, was his last—North Palisade, a 14,254-footer near Big Pine, Calif. He made it in July, before winter snow and ice had fully melted.

Approaching with his party from the north, he crossed the Palisade Glacier, the most southerly active glacier in North America. They crossed the Bergschlund, a crevasse in the snowfield at the head of the glacier, on an ice bridge. Using ropes and ice axes most of the way, it took them 10 hours to reach the summit.

The descent on the south side was slower. It was getting dark when Graham paused on a narrow cliff-side ledge to fasten a rope. A second later he heard a roar and an avalanche of rock and snow tore down the mountain directly in front of him. A huge boulder whizzed by his head. The pause had saved his life.

The party reached bottom after dark. It was a two-hour hike to their wilderness camp. With no sleep for two nights and no food the last day the party worked out

Texan Held After Wife Is Knifed

FARGO N. D., Sept. 17 (AP)—Officers found Mrs. Juan Flores walking along with a hunting knife buried to the hilt in her back.

She apparently was headed for a hospital. Her 23-year-old husband, of Crystal City, Tex., was jailed on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon.

Juan rushed into the police station Friday and said: "I've just killed my wife." He said he knifed her. Squad cars and ambulances were dispatched, and police found Mrs. Flores. She was taken to the hospital.

Officer Leo Hanson said Flores told him his wife left him three weeks ago and he was trying unsuccessfully to get her back.

Cab-Driver Dies In Car-Truck Collision

GLADEWATER, Sept. 17 (AP)—A Longview cab driver burned to death last night in a car-truck collision five miles west of here on U. S. Highway 80.

He was Bobby Charles McAlpine, 31, driver for Yellow Cab.

Highway Patrolman Pat Stier of Gladewater said McAlpine apparently applied his brakes on the wet and slippery road, went into a spin, and crashed into the front end of an empty trailer truck driven by Robert Clifford Jackson of Garland.

Given Audience

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy, Sept. 17 (AP)—Prize Fighter Jersey Joe Walcott was among a group received in public audience here today by Pope Pius XII.

Fair Board Will Check Progress

With the Howard County Fair, day meeting to lend assistance to plans.

Catalogue for the Fair is now on the press. It will be distributed as rapidly as available. Supplies will be stocked at the county agent's office and home demonstration agent's office. County Judge J. E. Brown said Saturday he had no objection when Miss Christie's successor as home demonstration agent would report, but he hoped it would be in time for her to assist in Fair arrangements.

Highway Projects In Howard County Making Headway

Work on highway projects in Howard county is progressing satisfactorily.

The Gall road extension, bringing eight and a half miles of new paving into play, has been topped and pronounced complete. Approximately one mile of the new pavement is on the south end of the road, connecting with the Snyder (state highway 350). The remainder is on the north end.

Surveys are to be run soon on extending the road to the north Howard county line, a distance of approximately two miles hence. Surveys are due also on a tie-in from end of existing Coahoma-Vincent pavement and the Snyder highway.

Practically all the base material is in place on the northeast 12 miles of the Snyder highway in Howard county. Schedule calls for topping within another month.

knocked to the floor. The screaming filled the air. There was too much panic that I don't know how these people found a way to safety. I slid down a rope."

Many rushed out in their nightclothes. One man got ashore naked.

Henry Maurer of Mentor, O., said he and his wife Elmina were sound asleep when someone pounded the door. When they reached the outside rail his wife started down a rope ladder "but it became horribly twisted from so many trying to get on it. She got tangled and tripped, falling down on a rope to her side and got her free and her both managed to get to the dock."

Despite the confusion hundreds got to safety by jumping to the dock sliding down ropes or leaping into the water.

Peter Sake of Hull, Que. said about 100 reached safety by crawling onto the Cayuga—another Canada Steamship Lines vessel which was tied up close to the Noronic—until the Cayuga also caught fire and had to be pulled away.

But the scores were trapped in their bunks, especially some of those late to awaken and in the corridors or lounges.

Eighteen fire engines and two fireboats went to the scene at the foot of Lay Street. It was five hours before the flames were quenched for a search for survivors in the smoke and steam the firemen began with blow torches, shovels and pikepoles the task of finding the victims and bringing them out.

Burned and broken bodies were wrapped in tarpaulins and carried out.

The ship with her name almost at first level went down at the stern. Then settled by the bow. Her bridge and other parts of the wooden superstructure of her two upper decks were gone. Her forward cross next was singed but her two masts were standing.

Some passengers said they heard an alarm sounded. Other said the ship's fire bell was rung continuously.

The ship's master, Capt. William Taylor of Sarrat, Ont. at first manned a hose, and then raced along the ship, smashing in doors and windows to awaken the passengers.

He leaped over the bow as the flames closed in on him.

The only Great Lakes ship fire in which more lives were lost was 1847 when the steamship Phoenix burned in Lake Michigan with 247 dead.

EVANGELIST—The Rev. E. L. Jones, pastor of the Bryan Street Baptist Church in Lamesa, will be visiting evangelist at a revival starting today at the State Street Church in Big Spring. Services will be held on week days at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. through Sept. 26. Rev. Jones attended Jacksonville Baptist college and has been in Lamesa for the past six years. The Rev. L. B. Culbertson, O'Donnell, will direct singing for the revival. The Rev. Everett M. Ward is host pastor.

Vets Insurance Dividend Rates Are Announced

Veterans who are awaiting special dividends on their National Service Life Insurance policies had the first indication Saturday of the amount they may expect to receive.

The Veterans Administration announced that dividends will be paid on both term and converted insurance policies for periods that such policies were in force prior to July anniversary dates of 1948.

Rate announced were as follows: fifty-five cents a month for $1,000 of insurance for veterans of 40 years old and under; fifty-two cents a month for those 41 to 45; thirty-seven cents for those 46 to 50; 21 cents for those 51 to 54; and 20 cents per $1,000 for those 55 years old and above.

The maximum payment to any individual will be $528. In computing the maximum, the Veterans Administration said that the dividend was based on a $10,000 policy in force for 96 months (the longest possible period) on a veteran aged 40 or less.

The proposed scale does not apply to insurance on a permanent plan which has been surrendered for a reduced paid-up amount. Such cases will be handled separately, the VA said.

No payments will be made for periods of lapse. The VA reminded, but veterans who have dropped their NSLI policies may expect dividends for the period prior to 1948 when their policies were in force.

No further information has been received concerning dates that dividends will be distributed.

Dies In Alps

VIENNA, Austria, Sept. 17 (AP)—Michael Edison Sloger, 18-year-old grandson of Thomas A. Edison, fell to his death in the Austrian Alps Sunday.

THE WEEK

One of the biggest stories in the making is the cotton harvest. Some observers say it is coming in faster at this stage of the harvest than ever before. Saturday the Farm Bureau announced that it would pick up 1,200 bales at El Paso on Monday for transport here for the harvest. The yield promises to be one of the biggest on record for the county.

Big Spring high school gridlers bounced back Friday in taking a 20-6 decision at Cisco. The squad is showing lots of hustle and is deserving of a capacity house when it opens here for the first home game Friday evening.

Howard County Junior college registration jumped to a respectable 420 last week. Some staff members had predicted as much as 400. The response is far better than officials had hoped for after only three years of operation.

Rain put a crimp in the schedule for the Longhorn league play-offs last week. Fans were rewarded with a thriller when the curtain finally was lifted Friday. Meanwhile, ranges and farms had soaked in beneficial moisture, measured at 1.62 inches for the week by the U. S. weather bureau.

Poinc claimed a victim last week in D. D. Douglass for years an active worker in many civic causes. The malady has never reached sizeable proportions at any stage during the summer but it has consistently contributed one or two cases a week. The season's total record to be one of the county's highest.

The Farm Bureau district meeting here last week attracted 400 delegates. This is a record for one of those gatherings here. Rep. George Mahon warned that some means of dealing with surpluses must be found and urged producers to take the lead. Walter Hammond, homespun but shrewd head of the Texas Federation of Farm Bureaus, hit another lick for agricultural subsidies. Every industry receives some sort of a subsidy, he contended, the difference being that farmers get theirs in the open.

HCJC Enrollment For Fall Term Hits 420 Mark

Enrollment for the fall semester at Howard county Junior college had reached 420 Saturday.

E. C. Dodd, president of the college, said the heavy enrollment had required some additions to the faculty, and registration had ceased in one class.

Over 100 students had enrolled in leathercraft classes of the industrial education department. No other students will be permitted to enroll in those classes for this semester, Dodd said.

Three part-time instructors have been added to the college's night school faculty. Paul Hackett and Mrs. Ruby Blankenship are teaching social studies on a part-time basis, while Trinidad Cano is teaching mathematics under a similar arrangement.

A special class for elementary school Spanish teachers will be organized at the college next Saturday, Dodd announced. The class probably will meet regularly on Saturdays.

Instructor for the education-Spanish course will be Mrs. C. H. Neely of Garden City.

Kiwanis, Rotary Teams To Battle

Underprivileged children are due to benefit from gate receipts when two baseball teams composed of local "stars" tangle on the Steer park diamond Monday night.

Principals in the debate will be members of the Big Spring Rotary and Kiwanis clubs. Each aggregation has promised to field a team "too good for today's professional ranks."

Game time is set for 8 p. m. Ira L. Thurman will captain the Rotarians, while the Kiwanis clubs has saddled W. D. Berry with the field pilot's chores.

Two Re-Elected As Farm Loan Directors

Walter Robinson and Arthur Stallings, whose terms expired this year, were re-elected to the directorate of the Big Spring National Farm Association Saturday.

Ira Driver, secretary-treasurer, and other officers were returned for another year.

City Aviation Hit By Centennialitis

Big Spring aviation was breaking out in a rash of Centennialitis during the past week. Jack Cook, chairman of the chamber of commerce aviation committee and manager of the Munny port, said confirmation had been received on three separate flights. They will be here on Oct. 5 Military Day of the Centennial week.

Included will be 12 T-6s from Barksdale Field. These planes will give an exhibition of precision formation flying. During the day, two B-36s, the mammoth six-motored bombers based at Fort Worth, will fly low over Big Spring. There also will be a formation of P-40 jet fighters.

Cook said that efforts were being pushed to secure a B-45 jet and a couple of B-50 bombers for ground observation.

Fully 50 planes are expected for the fly-in breakfast for Oct. 5, Good Neighbor Day. Letters of invitation and publicity have gone out to a wide area. Preliminary response indicates that there will be a good turnout for the occasion.

New scheduling, effective Sept. 26, has been announced by Continental Air Lines on its flight to El Paso, Albuquerque, Oklahoma City, Tulsa and Denver.

H. G. Hassan, station manager, said the 10:01 a. m. departure will provide one plane service to Albuquerque arriving at 12:24 p. m. with intermediate stops at Midland-Odessa, Hobbs and Roswell. Connections to the west can be made on other airlines. The same 10:01 a. m. flight makes connection at Midland-Odessa for Oklahoma City for arrival at 1:41 p. m. Arrival in Tulsa is 2:39 p. m. This new arrangement gives CAL an hour and two-minute edge to Tulsa, said Hassan.

Terminal building at the Munny port is progressing rapidly. Indication are that it may be ready for occupancy by mid-November. Meanwhile, it is getting much favorable comment from air travelers.

Big Spring aviation enthusiasts were pleased with the response to the Texas Aviation association air tour. Weather cut the flight appreciably when it landed here last week, but 30 towns were represented.

Cook said that he hoped the tour would stop here again next year. He lauded Ray Bahnam Commerce, president, for a good job in promoting aviation.

Ellis A. Hall, Abilene, has permanently based his C-60, Lockheed Lodestar, at the Munny hangar. It is approximately a 20-place craft. Hall is an independent oil operator.

Local fliers assisted in the search for three missing P-51 National Guard planes missed after squally weather over Guadalupe Pass. One flier was found dead in his crashed plane Saturday. Another had landed safely on a highway near Big Lake, and the third had made it safely into Biggs Field.

Cook will be joined by Dennis Humphreys, San Angelo airport manager, in flying in a Cessna 170 to the airport management conference in Norman, Okla., on Oct. 13-14-15. This year the University of Oklahoma is joining with Southern Flight magazine as co-sponsor. The magazine was a co-sponsor last year when the party was held at College Station.

Mrs. A. S. Henderson, 44, Odessa, died in a hospital here at 5 p. m. Saturday.

Rites were to be held at 4 p. m. today at the McDaniel-Bouillon chapel with the Rev. Lloyd Thompson, First Christian pastor, officiating. The remains will be shipped at 10:40 p. m. today to Braham, Okla., for interment.

Mrs. Henderson had been hospitalized here for the past five weeks with a severe and progressive illness.

Since 1944 she had made her home with her husband on a lease eight miles northwest of Odessa. Mr. Henderson is an employee of the M. J. DeLaney Oil company.

Besides her husband, she leaves one daughter, Marilyn, Odessa.

MAXIMUM OF $528 SET Area Vets To Get Insurance Money

West Texas veterans are getting ready to take their share of the National Life Insurance dividends. Under the deceptively simple formula announced by the Veterans Administration at Washington, a minority of them may get a maximum of $528 each. For the younger ex-G.I's, the dividend rate is 35 cents a month for each $1,000 of insurance. For those over 40 when the policy was issued, there is a descending scale, with a minimum rate of 20 cents a month for each $1,000 taken out by a man of 55 or over. The top checks go to the 40-or-under policyholders who (A) took out the maximum amount of insurance—$10,000—in 1940, when it first became available and (B) retained it in full force for the 90 months that followed. The $2,800 million special dividend to be paid in the first six months of 1950 covers all National Service Life Insurance policies through their anniversary date in 1948. The Veterans Administration had planned to make the dividend formula public next Sunday. There was a mix up over release time, however, so that the announcement was moved up. The formula: For those age 40 or younger at issue, multiply 35 cents times each $1,000 times each month the policy was in effect before its 1948 anniversary date; age 41, 52 cents; 42, 49 cents; 43, 46 cents; 44, 43 cents; 45, 40 cents; 46, 37 cents; 47, 34 cents; 48, 31 cents; 49, 28 cents; 50, 25 cents; 51, 24 cents; 52, 23 cents; 53, 22 cents; 54, 21 cents; 55 and over, 20 cents. VA officials warned that in many cases the formula is not as simple to apply as it appears. The reason is that many veterans changed the face value of their policies several times and many allowed them to lapse several times. VA has the exact dates of these changes but few veterans are believed to have kept accurate records. The dividend will be paid at the same rate on both term and converted policies. It is not subject to income tax. Veterans must apply for it.

CLERK AWOL FROM NOW ON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. (AP)—"I'll be AWOL from now on," said a note found today in the cash register in the Bolling Field Officers' billet. AWOL with the 19-year-old private, who had clerked there until today, was $175. Investigating officers said the note was in the clerk's handwriting.

Proposes Removal Of U. S. Headquarters To Western State

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. (AP)—A study of establishing two U. S. capital cities—or removal of the nation's headquarters to the West—has been proposed by Rep. Patman of Texas. The House Rules Committee would look into the idea under a resolution he offered Friday. Special consideration, Patman said, should be given to a site west of the Colorado area, because the east is vulnerable "in an atomic age."

14 Diarrhea Cases Reported In County

Communicable diseases reported by the Big Spring-Howard County Health unit for the week ending Saturday included 14 cases of diarrhea, two of pneumonia, and two of polio. Polio victims were Leon Moser Jr. and Darrell D. Douglass, who succumbed Thursday. The 10-month old Moser had in the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Moser, 110 N. W. 4th street. He is under treatment in an Abilene hospital.

Russia Arming, Says Committee

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. (AP)—Two Senate committees reported today that Russia has more than 5,000,000 men under arms and is stepping up her military might. This estimate of the Soviet military strength was given by the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services Committees in a formal report on the administration's proposed $1,314,000,000 foreign arms aid bill. The report accused the Soviet Union of carrying out "apparently a deliberate" policy of increasing its military strength. Russia increased her military budget for 1949 over 1948 by 18 percent and her ground forces "are estimated to be in better condition than at any time since the war," the report said. The Senators said the Soviet force in Germany has been boosted from 70,000 to 100,000 men with "increased security measures along its borders (of Russia) and the borders of its satellites."

Stock Market Rolling Despite Labor Troubles

NEW YORK, Sept. 17. (AP)—The stock market took a bright view this week of chances for industrial peace. Optimism sent prices bounding upward early in the week to within shaving distance of a 1948 peak. Optimism persisted later despite mounting tension in the steel and soft coal industries. At the close Friday the market seemed to have little basis for taking anything but a bleak view of the strike outlook in steel and coal. Nevertheless, when differences had widened to the breaking point, the market managed to turn in a modest gain Friday. Railway shares did better than most other groups. A coal strike, though, would chop deeply into the earnings of some of the nation's big carrier systems. The net result of the week's business in stocks was an addition of around $1 billion to the market value of all shares. A wide variety of issues sold at the year's best prices. The general price level was only a shade under the 1949 high. Volume topped 1 million shares every day, in the week. Turnover for the five days was the largest for any week of the year. To many it seemed clear the market was still rolling ahead on its summer rally. And to more than a few it seemed likely the rally would keep on rolling—despite the labor news.

ENROUTE HOME ON HORSEBACK

PITTSBURG, Calif., Sept. 17. (AP)—Two discharged Air Force veterans of Japan and the Philippines decided to hoof it home Friday—and they didn't mean walk. Dick Stewart, 19, and Eddie Cascio, 18, are heading for Monroe, La., on horseback. Each put up $100 for Jimmy, a brown gelding, and Lady, a sorrel mare. They plan to ride the 2,200 miles in 20 mile a day installments. That's 110 days.

Jurist Says He Was Justified In Shooting His Wife's Boy Friend

ATLANTA, Sept. 17. (AP)—Judge Robert Carpenter told a jury trying him for attempted murder that he wanted to "get my hands on" John Lockwood when he saw the attorney drive up with "Mrs. Carpenter all cuddled up against him." The 44-year-old civil court jurist hadn't intended to shoot, he testified Friday, but did so when he said Lockwood reached with his right arm as to draw a weapon. And, he tearfully told the jurors, "gentlemen, if ever a man was justified, I believe I was." Only a few hours before, he said, his pretty 29-year-old step daughter, Barbara, had told him weepingly of being forced to leave a bedroom where the attorney was visiting her drunk mother. He added he received an anonymous telephone call reporting that Lockwood, his erstwhile friend, and Mrs. Carpenter had just left a tourist court together. Lockwood, attorney for Mrs. Carpenter in a divorce suit, testified earlier they had been out looking for the judge and "another woman" in the tourist court. It was then past midnight on July 21 and the jurist said he took his revolver and drove rapidly to his wife's apartment. What he saw infuriated him, he continued, but he waited until the attorney left, then drove alongside him and shouted, "Lockwood, I want to see you!" In the shooting that followed, when, eaping from his car and fleeing, he fell into a 30-foot-deep building excavation. In two hours of eloquent testimony, Judge Carpenter pictured himself as an indulgent husband and father and the innocent victim of a double cross in love and business. Golden blonde Miss Carpenter preceded him to testify that Lockwood, a former Philadelphia lawyer, had wormed himself into her mother's confidence and affection. She also described the bedroom scene with the attorney and said she had been forced to move from her mother's home because "all she could talk about was what 'John said.'"

Broncs, Colts To Continue Playoff Set In San Angelo

Louis Gonzales Is Due To Toil For Locals Today

The Big Spring Broncs and San Angelo Colts switch their scene of action to Guinn stadium in San Angelo today as they continue their Longhorn baseball league Shaughnessy playoff series.

Game time in the Concho City is set for 3 p. m. Manager Pat Stacey is expected to send Louis Gonzales, a right-hander to the mound. However, the Broncs manager will have Big Pancho Perez, Ernie Mayorquin and Eddie Noriega at his disposal if he should decide that Gonzales is not ready.

Either Jimmy Baker, a lefty, or Durward Cox, a classy right-hander, probably will toil for the Colts.

The two teams are due to remain in San Angelo for three games and then return to Big Spring for two, if the series requires that many games.

Big Spring went two up in its Longhorn baseball league playoff series with San Angelo when the Broncs rolled to a 3-1 victory behind the hurrying of Lefty Julio Ramos before a paid turnout of 1,840 fans here Saturday night. Ramos was touched for eight hits but scattered them most effectively. He missed his shutout when Sam Harshaney brought home Ken Cluley with a third inning single. Cluley had doubled down the third base line after two were out.

Ramos himself put the Steeds ahead in the second when he drove home Al Valdes from first base with a double that took a wicked hop over Left Fielder Chet Karger's head and rolled to the wall. Julio was snugged at third when he tried to stretch the safety, however.

After Angelo had tied the count, Ray Vasquez stalked to the dish in the fourth and rocketed one of Sam Hunter's pitches out of the lot, providing all the cushion Ramos needed.

The Big Springers added a tally for insurance in the sixth when Carlos Pascual tripled and came home on Vasquez's one-baser.

Ramos retired the last ten men to face him in order, fanning six of them, including Pinch Hitter Bill Tiernan.

CLEANING THE SACKS—Felix Gomez became the last Bronc in the regular lineup to get a hit when he bunted safely in the fifth. Pascual was chased in the eighth when he argued heatedly with Base Umpire George Thomas following his dash to second base. Thomas ruled he had been tagged out by Second Sacker Jake McClain. Harshaney set up a howl on a called third strike in the first frame. Ramos fanned McClain and Hunter three times each.

Hunter tried to sacrifice on the third strike in the sixth and the Broncs turned it into a double play when the batter missed the ball. Courtesy Runner Bill Guthrie having been trapped off second, Jorge Lopez made a praiseworthy catch of Smithhart's fly ball in the fourth. Smithhart was injured while running to first in the sixth and had to be replaced in the lineup. He turned his ankle while crossing the bag.

Sul Ross Clips Sam Houston

ALPINE, Sept. 17.—High scoring Ted Scow scrambled for two touchdowns tonight at Sul Ross State Teachers' school as Sam Houston State gridders 31-20. His scoring was matched by Sam Houston's tailback Jack Kype who also crossed the goal line twice.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

So expertly played was Friday's night baseball game between Big Spring and San Angelo that mistakes, which occur in every game, crystallized in the minds of the spectators, who will probably speculate for a long time to come over what "might have happened." Manager Pat Stacey made a tactical mistake when he decided to hit away with a mate (Ace Mendez) on third after one was down in the sixth. A squeeze play would have brought the runner home. Of course, Patrick had no way of knowing one run would have been so important, so swung on a fat 3-0 pitch and poked it directly to Shortstop Red Cowley. Stacey made no mistake later, however when the chips were down and the Broncs needed runs. Jorge Lopez and Pat ran together in trying to field Jake McClain's high popper in the second and the blow went for two bases. A buddy should have called for one or the other to take the ball. Bert Garcia, at this time just about the best pitcher in all Class D, made only one miscalculation in delivering something like 200 pitches, yet it almost cost him the decision. He was ahead on McClain in the ninth, then brought the ball inside and Jake crashed it out of the lot. McClain's weakness is an outside pitch. Sam Harshaney, the Angelo skipper, had a chance to play for one run by resorting to the sacrifice and a squeeze play in the seventh but he had Hal Jackson swinging from the heels, and Hal skied to right. Some of the observers blamed Center Fielder Ken Cluley for failing to trap Stacey's ninth inning hit that opened the door for Big Spring. The ball went through Cluley for two bases and the Irishman scored directly on a blow by Carlos Pascual. Had the air not been so damp, Jorge Lopez would have had two home runs. He twice sent Chet Karger against the wall with thundering drives.

Sunday Ball Rostered On Way Out

Had the Broncs and the Colts been delayed much longer in opening their series, they could have decided the outcome with a game of football. The Colts would have had the weight advantage in such a fracas but might have had trouble catching Big Spring's speed merchants, Felix Gomez and Ace Mendez, both of whom would make nice breakaway backs. Leon Brinkopf, the former Odessaan who spent the past baseball season with Des Moines in the Class A Western league, wound up hitting .228. He'll probably be back there next year, however. Reports persist that the Longhorn league won't be playing Sunday baseball next season. The local club will probably fight any such move to abolish games on the Sabbath here, because the contests usually draw well. Sunday turnouts at both Sweetwater and Ballinger slumped, however, and the clubs were playing Sunday night games at season's end. Eddie Hammond, the Longhorn league umpire, will probably work here until early next year, then join Lefty Craig's umpiring school as an instructor. He's apt to be back in the league next year, with a raise in salary. The Florida International league is another circuit which wants to put a limit on the number of Cuban boys playing on a team, despite the fact that Havana is a member of the league. Havana has won circuit honors there every year and other managers complain they can't compete against them. Tommy Kirk, outfielder for Lincoln, Neb., is a former pupilist who's been given a substantial offer to fight Don Lee of Omaha this spring. Kirk may stick with baseball, however.

Heavy Title Fight All But Secret

Baseball fans discovered that Hector Bonet, the first sacker, was quite a catcher when the Big Spring professionals played an exhibition game with the Big Spring Tigers recently. Dallas' Eagles set a new Texas league attendance record this year but they didn't outdraw Birmingham, Ala., just about the best baseball city in the south. The Texas league did more gate business than the Southern Association, as a whole, however. Jackie Blair, a former Texas Golden Gloves boxer, is fighting with success around Hollywood. He recently KO'ed one Rudy Vasquez of Los Angeles in the American Legion stadium there. Sherman-Denison of the Big State baseball league, sister club of the Broncs, drew 79,474 paid admissions this year and still lost money. San Angelo high school's football team will probably sever athletic relationships with Denison. Coach Red Ramsey hints he didn't get a fair

Texas Routs Red Raiders With Surprising Ease

AUSTIN, Sept. 17.—The University of Texas Longhorns stomped Texas Tech's Red Raiders, 43-0, before 28,000 football fans here in Memorial Stadium today. Though the decision may not be indicative of the Longhorns' power against Southwest Conference foes which it will start taking on four weeks hence, it did show two things Texas has plenty of speed, and its passing should be better than last year. The Longhorns opened their 1949 season by scoring one touchdown in each of the first two quarters, and two in both the third and fourth periods. In the last two periods the Longhorns were using a number of third and fourth stringers.

Tech's deepest penetration was the Texas 20-yard line late in the second quarter and the Raiders were thrown back to the 30 as that period ended. Fullback Lewis Levine of Harington starting for Texas in place of Ray Borneman broke the scoring ice with a 7-yard cross back at left tackle 4 minutes and ten seconds deep in the first quarter. It was the climax of a 47-yard drive which took only five plays—all running. Right Half Randall Clay kicked the first of his three successful conversions. Ike Stover fumbled as he attempted to punt from Tech's two yard line on the last play of the period. On the first play of the second quarter substitute right half Bubba Shands blasted through the middle for Texas. He fumbled, but left end Ren Procter fell on the ball for the tally. Calvin Stevenson, Tech left half, was trapped behind his goal line when he received a bad snap from center and could not get off a punt. Substitute Center Joe Arnold dropped him to get credit for a two-point safety. Quarterback Paul Campbell, splitting time with starter Bobby Coy Lee, got the punting range in the third period. He hit Procter for 32. Clay hit 12 and then tried a payoff pitch to sophomore Byron Townsend substitute left half Townsend caught the ball on the 15, shook a tankler, and pounded across the double at the stadium up. The play went for 28 yards. A Tech fumble on its 27 set up the real Longhorn score. Borneman finally blasting through right tackle from the 4. Tech blocked June Davis' try for point. Texas' last two scores came on a 20-yard right end pass by sophomore Bobby Dillon and a brilliant 53-yard off-tackle dash by sophomore Carl (Red) Mayer, who followed good blocking.

Davis Leads HSU To 13-6 Victory

ARILENE, Sept. 17.—Wilton (Hook) Davis raced 62 yards for a third quarter touchdown here tonight which provided a 13-7 win for Hardin-Simmons university over North Texas State.

Outside of Davis and his understudy, Harold Taylor, the Cowboys and Eagles played mostly even-steven. The Denton, Tex. team featured scathbacks Ned McNeill, Frank Smith and Loyd Lowe who fitted through the heavier H-SU defenders for a touchdown early in the second period and threatened twice in the last half.

Hardin-Simmons scored midway of the first quarter after a 50-yard drive. John Ford opened the march with a 14-yard toss to Bob McChesney. Ray Troutman and little Nolan Harvey alternated in carrying the ball with Harvey going over for the four yard stripe. Cliff Swain converted. McNeill scored the eagle touchdown early in the second period.

Hogs Look Good In Long Drill

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 17.—The Arkansas Razorbacks sprung 14 touchdowns from their new T formation today in a 29-hour scrimmage under game conditions.

The first three elevens, pitted against the next three, scored 13 of the TD's. Notable was the full speed running of first-string fullback Leon (Muscles) Campbell, who wears a special truss because of a recurring hernia. He scored two touchdowns, one on a 60-yard broken field jaunt. Arkansas will open the season against North Texas State at Little Rock next Saturday night.

TOPS — If the word of Coach Frank Howard means anything, Fred Cone (above) of Clemson will be one of the best fullbacks in the country this fall. He's supposed to help replace the great Bobby Gage.

Grid Campaign Rolls Next Week

By The Associated Press. The Southwest Conference football campaign opens full blast next Saturday with five night games—the most the circuit ever played in one week. The only conference member playing in the afternoon is Texas which goes to Philadelphia to meet Temple.

Defending Champion Southern Methodist starts the campaign with tough Wake Forest in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas. Baylor entertains South Carolina at Waco. Rice plays Clemons at Houston. Texas Christian marches against Oklahoma A&M at Fort Worth. Texas A&M and Arkansas are the only schools playing teams in their territory. The Aggies meet Texas Tech at San Antonio. Arkansas takes on North Texas State at Little Rock.

In Golf Upset

ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 17.—Mrs. Mark A. Porter of Ardmore, Pa., won the 49th Women's National Golf Championship today by defeating Dorothy Kjelty of Long Beach, Calif. in the 36 hole final at the Merion Golf Club, 3 and 2.

Hawks Lose Grid Opener To Odessa JC, 19 To 8

ODESSA, Sept. 17.—The Odessa Junior college Wranglers shackled the Howard County Junior college Jayhawks 19-8 here Saturday night in the first football game ever played by either school. Loy Mead, elusive Wrangler back, scored all three of his team's touchdowns and led the Odessans to comfortable margin in game statistics. The Jayhawks fought back after they were down, 6-12 early in the second quarter, but they could not overtake the Wranglers. Big Delmar Turner blocked a punt by Wilson Hall midway of the second period and the ball bounced out of bounds across the end zone for a safety. A few moments later Dewey Stevenson tossed a pass that was intercepted by Poots Mathis, but it set up a Jayhawk touchdown. Mathis took the ball from the air on the Wrangler one-yard line, ran about two yards and pitched sussed and the Hawks took over on a lateral to Mead. A fumble re-intercepted by Stevenson going over for a touchdown on the next play. Mead took a pitch-out on the Jayhawk 11 yard line and scampered over for the first Odessa score in the first quarter, and then counted again off the same play early in the second. In the fourth quarter Burr Reynolds passed to Clinton Hill on the Jayhawk 15 and Mead took a lateral to score again. Harold Dodier converted after the third Odessa touchdown.

Wildcats Trample Texas A&M, 35-0

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 17.—Iron-fisted Villanova slashed a 35-0 defeat on Texas A and M tonight—the worst licking an Aggie football team has suffered in 18 years. The great Wildcat line hammered the Cadets unmercifully and the driving Villanova backs made mince meat of the Aggie guards and tackles. A and M fumbled to set up three of the touchdowns, interfered with a pass on another and an Aggie back deflected a pass to help Villanova to the fifth score. But it was a combination of Aggie mistakes and a fine football team from Pennsylvania that ground A and M into its most one-sided defeat since 1931 when Arkansas strangled the Aggies 44-0. Villanova, with big Ralph Pasqueriello, Joe Rogers and Peter D'Alonso pounding the Aggie middle and skirting the ends against stubborn but futile resistance, whipped A and M to the complete satisfaction of a crowd of 25,000 that sat in stifling heat. Scoring the Villanova touchdowns were Al Schmid, Pasqueriello, Joe Rippe, Dan Brewer and Neil O'Boyle. Tom Clavin kicked all extra points after touchdowns.

McCarthy Plans Charity Game

HOUSTON, Sept. 17. (U)—Contracts have been signed for the 1949 champion of the All-America Professional Football Conference to play a charity game here December 17.

O. O. Kessing, conference commissioner, and Houston oilman, Glenn McCarthy said the championship team will meet a group of all-star players selected from the other six teams of the conference.

Plans for the game were announced two weeks ago but it had not been determined which teams would play.

All proceeds from the game, except expenses, will go to the Damon Runyan Infantile Paralysis Fund, the Shrine Crippled Children Fund, the National Kids Foundation, and Holly Hall, Houston home for aged women.

The game is being sponsored by Shamrock Bowl, Inc., sports promotion organization formed by McCarthy.

Arcaro Guides Winner Home

NEW YORK, Sept. 17. (U)—Miss Aequeduct won the $71,700 Beldame Handicap today at Aqueduct defeating Harmonica in a stretch drive in the mile and one eighth classic for fillies and mares.

Plunder was third in the photo finish. The stewards ordered the official signal held up while they examined pictures of the race for a possible foul.

Eighteen horses started in the rich event, run before a crowd of 31,171 persons on the final day of the Aqueduct meeting.

Jockey Eddie Arcaro was aboard Miss Request, owned by Mrs. Ben F. Whitaker.

After examining the pictures, the stewards took down the number of Harmonica, and moved Plunder to second, and Mother to third.

CLYDE, Sept. 17.—Fumbles cost the Coahoma Bulldogs dearly as they lost a 19-13 decision to the Clyde Bulldogs here Friday night. The game was played on a muddy field.

Ed Robertson's team from Howard county bobbed ten times and failed to recover on nine occasions. The score was tied at 13-all at half time.

Frogs Masters All The Way

By SKIPPER PATRICK LAWRENCE, Kan. Sept. 17.—Lindy Berry's spotty but timely passing and a methodical ground attack rolled the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs to a 28-0 victory over the Kansas Jayhawks in a season football opener for both teams today.

Some 32,000 fans, a record opening home attendance for Kansas football, sat under overcast skies and watched Berry, 175-pound from Wichita Falls, Tex., engineer the Frogs to a 21-0 halftime lead.

Frog Captain Berry scored TCU's first and last touchdowns. He was over from the five yard line after eight minutes to play and ran back an intercepted pass forty-four yards in the final period.

In between Berry's touchdowns, TCU scored with Rookie Quarterback Don Wilde going 26-yards and Sophomore Fullback,ohn Morton cracking over from the one-foot line. Both came in the second quarter.

After each touchdown, squatty Homer (The Top) Luttker placed-kicked squarely between the bars. Berry finished his day's work with nine completions in 19 passing attempts for 129 yards.

Only once did the Jayhawks get in scoring territory. That threat wilted on the twenty-three after a double penalty had nullified a Kansas touchdown.

Dick Gilman one of the nation's leaders in touchdowns passed a year ago, had one ruled completed to Halfback Pud French over the TCU goal line when interference was ruled but a Jayhawk was caught offside on the play.

TCU also had a clear cut victory in the statistical chart. The Frogs made 20 first downs to 8, outpassed the Jayhawks 184 yards to 90, and had a ground advantage of 219 yards to 113.

PITTSBURGH Sept. 17. (U)—Pittsburgh jolted Brooklyn's nonant hopes again today with a five-run splash in the seventh inning that brought the Pirates a 7-2 victory over the Dodgers. Wally Westlake tripled with the bases loaded to feature the big seventh.

Little Curry Dickson handcuffed the Dodgers with five hits while his mates led off on two of Brooklyn's three hurlers for 13.

It was the second straight triumph for the Pirates over Brooklyn. They shelled the runner-up club 9-3 last night.

The score was tied at 2-2 when Pittsburgh went to work in the seventh on Erv Palica, who relieved Jack Banja in the fourth.

Stan Kojek's single, Tom Saffell's walk and a late hunt by Johnny Hopp led the bases for Westlake. He cleared the sacks with a three-bagger to the exit gate in right center. Moutz Basgall's single scored Westlake, and Basgall's error home on Clyde McCullough's triple.

Stanford Rolls Over San Jose At Palo Alto

PALO ALTO, Calif., Sept. 17. (U)—The offensive-minded Stanford Indians scored almost as they pleased against outclassed San Jose State at Stanford stadium today, rolling up an imposing 49-0 score in their season opener before 27,000 persons.

Sweetening heat which seemed to wilt the San Jose players as the game progressed seemingly had little effect on the hard-running Indians.

Varchie Schwartz' red-shirted team, liberally sprinkled with flashy players from last year's freshman squad, opened the scoring with sophomore left half Harry Hugasian breaking through tackle for seven yards to climax a 61-yard Indian drive.

San Jose's experienced line held the Indians until the second quarter when Stanford pushed 49 yards for a second touchdown. Emery Mitchell hammering over from the three.

In the third quarter the Indians accounted for two more touchdowns and a field goal.

Stanford ran in its' clear drive to the fourth term going into the fourth quarter and, with increasing ease, piled up three more touchdowns.

Cal Bears Win Over Gael 11

BERKELEY, Calif., Sept. 17. (U)—California's Bears roared into the 1949 football season today with a smashing, impressive 21 to 7 victory over the University of Santa Clara Broncos.

A crowd of 62,000 perspiring in summer-like weather saw Coach Lynn Waldorf's revamped Bears decisively outplay a good Santa Clara club.

The coast conference co-champions and Rose Bowl losers made their initial bid for the title with a combination of powerhouse football and sharp passing attack.

The Bears, after yielding a touchdown in the first period, came back with a charge that netted them two scores in the second quarter.

They made it a convincing decision with another touchdown in the last period.

W&M Hard Pressed By Houston, 14-13

HOUSTON, Sept. 17. (U)—Flying Jack Cloud scored two first-half touchdowns tonight and then his William and Mary Indians had to battle furiously to gain a 14-13 victory over the University of Houston.

Joe Page Halts Uprising As Yanks Clip Detroit

NEW YORK, Sept. 17. (U)—Joe Page, the peerless relief pitcher making his 53rd appearance of the season, saved another game for New York Yankees today as the Detroit Tigers were set down, 5-4.

George Vico and pinch-hitter Paul Campbell hit home runs on successive pitches in the seventh to knock Fred Sanford from the mound. Page yielded a run in the eighth when Pat Mullin tripled and came home after Hoot Evers' long fly, but he saved the day in the ninth by forcing Johnny Lipon to hit into a double play that ended the game.

With both New York and the Boston winning, the Yankees held their two and one half game lead in the American League, but time is running out on the Red Sox.

The defeat was the fourth in a row for the Tigers after they had won 10 straight.

Young Art Houtteman was the losing Tiger pitcher, and Sanford was the winner, but it was Page who got the glory. Of his 53 games—more than one in every three—the Yankees have played—New York has won 38, lost 14, and tied 1.

Teufel Is Dropped

PITTSBURGH Sept. 17. (U)—The National Football League's Pittsburgh Steelers released George Teufel, former backfield ace at Lock Haven, Pa., State Teachers College today. Seven more players must be paroled from the Steelers roster by Sept. 25 to reach the league limit of 32.

Bert Garcia Shades Shelton In 2-1 Duel

Contest Goes 11 Innings

Series Bert Garcia bested R. (Left) Shelton as Big Spring edged San Angelo, 2-1, before 60 fans in the three-delayed gorm baseball league playoff here Friday night.

The game went two extra innings before Pat Stasey spiked the ball with the rattle that sounded the leadoff man in the Big Spring half of the 11th, gone to bed by Carlos Pascual, waited while Shelton gave Bert Garcia an intentional pass and returned home when Ray Stasey hit a slow roller to Shelton's left.

McClain apparently won game for Angelo when he pitched to the left fielder in the sixth and Shelton had pitched one-hit ball up to that point and seemed to have a sharp single out of the box.

Spring got only two men as third base until the ninth. Mendez doubled in the sixth and died there when Stasey pitched out and Pascual popped McClain.

McClain got the first hit of the game when he skied high to short. Jorge Lopez and Stasey could not get it and the left fielder. That was in the fourth round. After advancing to second on a grounder by Hal Jackson, he succumbed when Ted Williams struck out.

Garcia allowed but four hits to the Steeds got to Shelton for Bert Garcia 12 men and issued two fouls. He also earned his win by starting a twin killing in the third what was intended to be a sacrifice. He retired Adams in order in both the tenth and frames.

AMBLINGS—The crowd, biggest of the season, was also the best. Shelton used up 23 hits in the first inning, yet pitched only one man to get on. The first ball Garcia threw was a steaming fast ball thrown Miles Smithhart. Garcia was back on the pitching hand by a strike off the bat of Chet Karger.

McClain Nudged by Tribe, 4-3

ERMON, Sept. 17.—A three-run burst in the eighth gave Midland a 4-3 win and a 2-1 edge in series with Vernon in the Longhorn League play-offs tonight.

Ermon weakened in the eighth by nursing a 3-1 lead. Midland edged away the game before Ermon could put out the fire. Two teams will be idle Sunday and will resume the series Monday.

McMurry Edges Tulsa U., 27-26

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 17.—The University of Tulsa outlasted spirited Little McMurry College of Texas tonight in a see-saw football opener for both teams, 27-26.

The Golden Hurricane winning its first game since the opening of last year's disastrous season, was forced to come from behind with two fourth-quarter touchdowns. They were both set up by Senior Quarterback Len Makowski's sterling punt returns.

Tulsa was trailing, 14-19, in the finale when Makowski took a quick kick from the Indians' Brad Rowland and ran 38 yards to the McMurray 14 yard line. He passed from there to End Fred Smith for the six points.

Soon afterwards, Makowski grabbed Rowland's 52-yard punt on Tulsa's 25 and ran 71 yards to the McMurray four where Halfback Paul Barry plunged over.

With only five minutes remaining, the speedy Rowland faked a kick and tore 71 yards untouched for his second tally of the night.

in the first but recovered... In the eighth, he again had to take time out when Miles Smithhart greeted him with a head in the crowd-backed as Bert tried to reach third base. The blow, of course, was unintentional. Karger twice robbed Lopez by snagging long files. Lopez was hitting in hard luck all night. He drove out a towering fly to right center in the sixth but Squillante had moved out of position and was waiting for it. Sam Harshaney swung on a 3-0 pitch in the fourth, fouling it off. Stasey also tried to cross up the opposition by hitting a 3-and-0 pitch in the sixth but dispatched it directly to Red Cowley at short. Garcia got Karger on strikes four times. Stasey tore into a change-up in the fourth but Ken Culey drifted back to the center field wall to take it. Shelton hit in front of the plate with runners on in the fifth but didn't run and Al Valdes tagged him out. McClain's home run hit a light pole back of

AMERICAN GOLF PROS RETAIN RYDER CUP BY 7 TO 5 COUNT

GANTON, Eng., Sept. 17.—The United States Ryder Cup team rallied to win six out of eight singles matches from the British today and retain the international golf trophy by a point score of 7 to 5, the British won three of yesterday's four Scotch fourfours.

Somewhat stunned by their opening setback, the Americans had been given little chance to keep the cup, but they came back with blazing golf today to pull out the victory. The U. S. has held the trophy since 1935.

The only Americans to lose today were Johnny Palmer of Badin, N. C., and Bob Hamilton, of Landover, Md. Palmer bowed to Jim Adams of the British forces 2 and 1, and Hamilton was trounced by little Dai Rees of Wales 6 and 4.

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Little Rock set up the spectacular American rally by crushing Max Faulkner, 4 and 7, in the first match to finish.

Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., defeated Art Lees, 7 and 6; Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., downed Charlie Ward, 6 and 5; Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago defeated Fred Daly, 4 and 3; Chick Harbert of Detroit beat Sam King, 4 and 3; and Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, N. C., defeated Dick Burton, former British Open champion, 3 and 2.

Stanton Buffs Defeat Wave Reserves, 19-0

STANTON, Sept. 17.—Stanton's Buffaloes turned in a highly applauded performance before the home fans Friday night by thumping the Monarchs B aggregation 19-0 in their season's opener.

The Buffs marched to their first touchdown in the second quarter, and then pushed over two more in the final stanza for good measure.

Scoring plays featured end runs by Earl and Gerald Koonce, two squadsmen from last year's Stanton eleven.

Neil Stovall accepted a pass and dashed over the double stripes for the other Buff six-pointer.

An attempted place kick failed after the first and third touchdowns, but the extra point was rushed over after the second counter.

The Buffs crossed the goal line on two other occasions, but the plays were called back due to penalties.

The game was the first on a 10-game schedule for the Buffs. They are booked to entertain the Monarch, N. M., aggregation here next Friday night.

Cardinals Lose To Boston, 4-2

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 17.—Bill Voiselle had full control of the situation except for a homer and double by Ron Northey as the Boston Braves took the St. Louis Cardinals into camp 4 to 2 today. The defeat left the Redbirds two and a half games ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers who also lost.

Forsan-Mertzon Tilt Called Off

MERTZON, Sept. 17.—The Forsan-Mertzon six-man football game scheduled to be played here Friday afternoon, was called off due to the recent death of a Mertzion player, Dale Hegwood.

Efforts will be made to pit the two sextets later in the season but Coach Frank Honeycutt of the Buffs expressed doubt that Mertzion could be worked into his teams schedule. Forsan will be idle next weekend but Mertzion has a game with Water Valley.

AMOS JONES STARS Steers Rally To Defeat Cisco Loboes, 20-6

CISCO, Sept. 17.—A Big Spring high school football team that was slow to get started finally generated enough power to defeat the Cisco Loboes, 20-6, before some 2,500 fans here Friday night.

The Loboes fought the heavier Longhorns on even terms through the first two quarters but Amos Jones sparked a drive that enabled the Steers to crash through for two touchdowns in the final period.

Carl Coleman's Steers recovered a fumble on Cisco's 13-yard stripe to set up the first Big Spring six-pointer. On the first play, Aubrey Armistead faded down behind the

Centennial Queen Coupons May Be Traded For Tickets

Advance ticket coupons, sold by Centennial Queen nominees, may be exchanged for Centurama tickets Sept. 21, Centennial association officials announced Saturday.

Payment of a federal amusement tax of 20 cents can be made on the exchange of coupons for each ticket. Coupons are being sold by Centennial Queen nominees as a means of compiling votes in the Queen contest.

Reduced prices for tickets to the Centurama will continue through Sept. 26 when the contest closes. Under the present set-up Queen nominees are selling the coupons three for $2. After the contest closes, tickets will cost $1 each.

Votes in the Queen contest will be counted for the week at 6 p.m. Monday. Special awards, including two permanent waves and other beauty treatments, will be made to the three girls compiling the greatest number of votes since last Monday.

Ant Eater Employed In Cleaning Pipe

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., (AP) — The usual tools were useless to clear a length of 9-inch pipe clogged with dirt by rains. But the job got done in 15 minutes when a spiny ant eater, usually misallied the Echidna, was persuaded to enter the pipe. It is one of the world's voracious mammals, the other being the Platypus. These two are the world's most primitive furred animals. With its steely claws the spiny ant-eater can burrow with remarkable speed—even straight down, in hard earth.

Australians Have New Secret Service

CANBERRA, (AP) — Australia's new secret service is operating. Its head, Judge Geoffrey S. Reed, has reported to the government that the service is established and functioning as part of Australia's defenses.

The official title of the new service is the Australian Security Intelligence Organization. Its job is to protect Australia from attempted sabotage, espionage, and subversive activities. It has secret "field men" in Government Departments and industrial and defense works to report suspicious activities.

1,200 BRACEROS COMING

Cotton Pickers In Demand As Fields Of County Turn White

Side show barkers and gadget salesmen could have attracted crowds in Big Spring Saturday by merely yelling "cotton pickers."

Anxious farmers who have been watching their fields turn fluffy white were passing up no possibilities for engaging harvest crews, and there was encouraging news for those affiliated with the Howard County Farm Bureau.

Dale Puckett, president of the bureau, announced that 1,200 Braceros probably would be ready for assignment here by the middle of next week. The bureau has contracts approved for 2,000, and another contract probably will be negotiated if demands justify such action.

Puckett said the bureau was informed Saturday morning that 1,200 native Mexican workers would be available Monday in El Paso. Farmers who had placed orders for workers with the bureau immediately began completing formal contracts.

Possibly 150 cotton farmers from Howard and neighboring counties assembled in the district court room to hear information about contract procedures.

In addition to farmers who will obtain Braceros through the bureau here, others from a wide area came to obtain information about contracts with the Mexican government for harvest laborers.

The Howard Farm Bureau obtained clearance Friday for furnishing Mexican laborers to farmers in Glasscock county. Several cotton growers from St. Lawrence community were seeking contracts with the bureau, but normal regulations prohibited such a plan because Glasscock is in another Texas Employment Commission district and a different immigration district. However, C. H. DeVaney, state director for the bureau, said the organization obtained special authority to furnish Glasscock county farmers with Mexican laborers.

Definite date of arrival for the first group of Braceros was not known Saturday. Puckett said he had been instructed to report at the district center in El Paso Monday and that he hoped the processing could be completed Tuesday. In that case the laborers probably would be here by Wednesday.

The bureau hopes that 800 more laborers will be assigned here soon to fulfill the approved contract for 2,000.

The Farm Bureau is handling the contracts with the Mexican government, and individual farmers, in turn, are making contracts with the bureau.

Among other things, the farmers' contracts provide that insurance covering occupational risks and compensation be carried on each worker; that adequate lodgings of average type furnished; domestic agricultural workers be furnished, as well as fuel and water; that transportation to and from the contracting center in Big Spring be provided; and that each worker be furnished employment for at least three-fourths of the working days during the period of his employment.

Farmers also agree in the contract to pay $2 per hundred pounds for picking cotton and $1.50 per hundred pounds for pulling bolls.

The contract states that "a work day" shall consist of eight hours and a work week shall consist of 48 hours.

However, in order to comply with the clause requiring employment three-fourths of the time, farmers have been advised that any type of regular farm work qualifies.

"If had weather prevents work in the cotton fields, the laborers may be assigned to other jobs, such as fence-building," Puckett explained. For that type of work wages must be 40-cents per hour, or the prevailing hourly scale in the area, whichever is greater.

Big Spring Baptist Association Reports Large Membership Gains

Baptists of the Big Spring association, attached to 38 churches, showed substantial membership gains and baptisms last year.

Association digests, completed at the annual associational meeting in Stanton and at Midway (Midland - Odessa airport area) showed:

During the year ending Aug. 31 the churches reported a total of 858 baptisms, according to digests furnished by the Rev. Mark Reeves, Coahoma, secretary.

Total membership was listed at 15,805, an increase of 1447. Sunday School enrollment was 11,605, a gain of 692. Training union increased 546 to reach 3,506. The WMU figure was substantially the same at 1,797 while the Brotherhood was fixed at 690, a gain of 108.

All but two of the churches had Vacation Bible schools during the summer with an aggregate enrollment of 3,709, a gain of 1,064 over the previous year. Total gifts were pegged at $556,521, of which $112,548 went to mission causes. Property valuations of the churches figured $1,806,293.

Thirty-five churches reported at the opening session Wednesday in Stanton's Baptist church with Rev. Cecil Rhodes, pastor of the West Side Baptist church in Big Spring, presiding. Among speakers outside of the association who appeared were E. G. Gregory, superintendent of the Mexican orphanage, and Andrew Allen, Dallas, executive secretary of the Sunday school work for the Texas General convention.

New officers include Rev. Arthur DeLoach, Odessa, succeeding Rev. Rhodes as moderator; Rev. Montee Teeters, Greenwood, is vice-moderator; Rev. Mark Reeves, Coahoma, clerk; J. C. Hudman, Midland, treasurer.

Departmental leaders named were D. C. Hamilton, training union; Ennis Hill, Goldsmith, Sunday school; Wayne K. Williams, Big Spring, Brotherhood; Mrs. Mark Reeves, Coahoma, W.M.U.; J. B. Langston, Big Spring, church music; Rev. James Parks, Big Spring, evangelism; Rev. Jimmie Dolan, Odessa, cooperative program; Rev. A. L. Byrd, Forsan, program chairman for workers' conferences.

Next annual meeting will be Sept. 11-12, 1950, meeting the first day at the First Baptist in Big Spring and the second day at the Calvary church in Midland.

No Refunds In Sheriff's Sales, Attorney Rules

AUSTIN, Sept. 17. (AP)—Purchasers of lots at tax foreclosure sales in Odessa who paid more than necessary to satisfy the court judgments are not entitled to recover the excess funds, the attorney general held today.

Such excess funds do not belong to the purchaser but the original owner against whom the judgment was rendered, wrote Asst. Atty. Gen. L. P. Lollar. The original owner has three years from the date of sale in which to reclaim the property.

If the original owner does not claim and receive the excess funds the money is subject to being turned over to the state.

County Attorney W. O. Shafer of Odessa requested the opinion.

He said parties who purchased town lots at the sheriff's sales under tax foreclosure judgments were contemplating suits against the state, Ector County, Ector County Independent School District, and the City of Odessa—some of the parties to the foreclosure suits.

The purchasers, said Shafer, hoped to recover from the district clerk the amounts they paid in excess of the taxes involved.

DES MOINES, (AP) — Although Canada thistle is resistant to 2,4-D, the weed can be eradicated with repeated applications, an Iowa state extension professor says.

A. L. Bakke, research professor in the botany and plant pathology sections of the Iowa Agriculture Experiment Station, says an application of 2,4-D when the thistles are in the bud stage and most susceptible, will destroy the tops and many of the roots.

He says mowing at the bud stage, followed by two applications of 2,4-D the next year, has reduced old stands of thistle by more than 90 per cent. If the farmer desires to complete the job in one year, says Bakke, and soil sterilization isn't important, sodium chlorate can be used. Bakke recommends its application at the rate of four pounds per square rod.

Nuptial Rites Are Solemnized For Carolyn Hill And B. Dan Henshaw

MRS. BILLY DAN HENSHAW

Nettie Carolyn Hill and Billy Dan Henshaw were united in marriage in an informal ceremony in the East Fourth Baptist church Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Hill, 40 Dallas Street. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Wilda Henshaw, 403 South knots. She wore a fresh flower halo hat of Peruvian lilies.

In carrying out the bridal tradition, she wore a gold bracelet belonging to Mrs. C. E. Gressett, as something old. Something new was a string of bronze pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. She wore a pair of earrings belonging to Barbara Lytle as something borrowed and a blue garter. She had a penny in her shoe for luck.

Olene Leonard served as maid of honor. Miss Leonard chose a dress of palomino satin designed with full skirt, plunging neckline and a row of miniature buttons down the front of the bodice and at the sleeve points. Her accessories were palomino and she carried a colonial bouquet of bronze and yellow china mums tied with Autuma rainbow satin streamers.

Tommy Ann Hill, aunt of the bride, of Weyland, and Gailya Joyce Lilley, cousin of the bride, of Dimmitt, acted as bridesmaids. Miss Hill was attired in a grey satin ensemble with black accessories and Miss Lilley chose a dress of aqua satin and black accessories. The dresses were identical in pattern, with high upstanding collars, elbow length sleeves and bustle back. They carried colonial bouquets of bronze and yellow mums.

Shirley Jo Riddle, cousin of the bride and Billie Doris McClain of Midland lighted the candles prior to the ceremony. Miss McClain chose a dress of grey satin and Miss Riddle was attired in aqua satin. Both dresses were fashioned as the other attendants. They wore wristlet corsages of bronze feathered china mums.

Jack Kidwell of Midland was best man. Other attendants of the bridegroom included Berton Cain and Earl Ward, both of Midland. Duane Leonard and Charles Gressett acted as ushers. Mrs. Hill, mother of the bride, was attired in a navy blue suit with navy accessories. Her corsage was of yellow marigolds. Mrs. Henshaw, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a wine suit with black accessories. She wore a corsage of yellow marigolds.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the parlor of the church. Those in the receiving line included the bride and bridegroom, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hill, the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Henshaw; members of the bridal party and Mrs. W. A. Page. Those in the houseparty were Mrs. Garland Sanders and Mrs. G. B. Riddle, aunt of the bride, who attended the punch service. Mrs. C. E. Gressett presided at the guest register with Mrs. Harvey Cooper, aunt of bride, of So nora.

MRS. JOEL PRAGER

Tiras-Prager Nuptial Rites Are Revealed

Announcement is made here of the marriage of Nell Tiras and Joel Prager in the chapel of Temple Beth-El in Fort Worth Sunday September 4.
 The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon W. Tiras, 1919 S. Henderson, Fort Worth. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Prager, 3754 Trail Lake Drive, Fort Worth.
 Rabbi Milton Rosenbaum served as officiant. The couple pledged their troth beneath an arch of greenery and white gladioli. The altar was lighted with white cathedral tapers. Other arrangements of palms and white mums decorated the sanctuary. Lighted white candles marked the aisle.
 Basia Sheinberg, pianist, played the nuptial music and accompanied Vivian Johnson who sang "At Dawning" and "Because" by d'Hardelot.
 Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a lily-white satin gown designed with a Chantilly lace peplum and a ruffle of the same lace around a sweet-heart neckline. Her Swiss illusion veil, embroidered with lace flowerettes, fell from a seed pearl and crystal tiara. She carried two white orchids on a white Bible.
 Selma Tiras served her sister as maid of honor. Miss Tiras chose a dress of Paris pink faille with cap sleeves and bouffant skirt. Her gloves and headpiece were in matching colors. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet centered with a purple throated orchid.
 A J. Prager of Big Spring, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Neal Nerman, Irvin Nerman of Dallas, Herbert Bennett of Houston and Donald Prager of Fort Worth.
 Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Temple parlor. The pink and white color theme was used in the decor. A buffet supper was served to the guests.
 The bride is a graduate of Texas State College For Women and the bridegroom is a graduate of Texas A&M, College Station.
 For travelling, Mrs. Prager chose a skipper blue charmeuse gabardine suit, with navy and white accessories.
 Following a wedding trip to Mexico City, Taxco and Acapulco, Mexico, the couple will be at home in Dallas.

RIBBON RAMBLINGS
 By Mildred Young

Making people laugh is a big business in America. It's an unanswerable question as to whether or not the business is a large one because people want to laugh or need to laugh. But the fact is that they do and that they have their favorite comedians.
 According to nation-wide polls, Bob Hope is the top choice for entertainment for men and women. In answer to the question, "Of all the comedians you have heard or seen perform on the stage, on the radio or television, or in the movies, which do you think is the funniest?" Hope outdistances his closest rival 2 to 1. Next comes Milton Berle, Jack Benny, Red Skelton and Fibber McGee and Molly—all close on the heels of each other. Next in the running were Abbott and Costello, Fred Allen, Amos and Andy, Arthur Godfrey, Eddie Cantor, Jimmy Durante, Danny Kaye, Marx Brothers, Henry Morgan and Charlie Chaplin.
 The memory of some voters, however, of the antics of Buster Keaton, Harold Lloyd and Fatty Arbuckle is still good enough for these stars of yesteryear to be mentioned. Will Rogers was named by several voters.
 Among the men interviewed, the top ten funniest comedians are Hope, Berle, Benny, Skelton, Fibber McGee and Molly, Abbott and Costello, Allen, Durante, Amos and Andy and Cantor.
 The women's choices—Hope, Skelton, Benny, Berle, Abbott and Costello, Fibber McGee and Molly, Godfrey, Amos and Andy, Allen and Cantor.
 Names most prominently mentioned in the survey, after the top fifteen, include Bergen and McCarthy, Lum and Abner, Burns and Allen, Clifton Webb, Will Rogers, Judy Canova, W. C. Fields, Dennis Day, Luigi J. Carroll, Nash, Olsen and Johnson, Joan Davis, Bing Crosby, Laurel and Hardy, Rochester, Phil Harris, William Bendix and Joe E. Brown.
 In addition, the following comedians received prominent mention: Al Jolson, Jack Carson, Tom Howard, Harold Lloyd, Henry Aldrich, Archie (Duffy's Tavern), Ed Wynn, Wallace Beery, Hugh Herbert, the Great Gildersleeve, Garry Moore, the Three Stooges, Gaby Hayes, Danny Thomas and Eve Arden.
 Others included: Beulah (Hattie McDaniel), Bobby Clark, Marjorie Main, Bob Burns, Smiley Burnette, Ray Bolger, Fannie Brice, Abe Burrows, Bea Lillie, Marie Wilson (My Friend Irma), Leon Errol, Spike Jones, Frank Morgan, Victor Moore, Wheeler and Woolsey, Barry Fitzgerald and Zazu Pitts.

Stories of Famous Hymns

Nearer, My God, to Thee

by HORACE B. POWELL

Nearer, my God, to Thee,
Nearer to Thee!
E'en though it be a cross
That reaches me;
Still all my song shall be,
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
Nearer to Thee!

Though like a wanderer,
The sun goes down,
Darkness be over me,
My rest a stone,
Yet in my dream I'd be
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
Nearer to Thee!

Then, with my waking thoughts
Bright with Thy praise,
Out of my stony griefs
Bethel I'll raise;
So by my woes to be
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
Nearer to Thee!

Or if, on joyful wing
Cleaving the sky,
Sun, moon and stars forgot,
Upward I fly,
Still all my song shall be,
Nearer, my God, to Thee,
Nearer to Thee!

The Old Testament story of Jacob's dream, which tells how the Hebrew patriarch saw angels passing up and down a ladder stretched from earth to heaven, inspired Sarah Flower Adams to write "Nearer, My God, to Thee," in 1840.

The Bible description, found in the twenty-eighth chapter of Genesis, says:

"And Jacob went out from Beersheba, and went toward Haran. And he lighted upon a certain place, and tarried there all night, because the sun was set; and he took of the stones of that place, and put them for his pillows, and lay down in that place to sleep. And he dreamed, and beheld a ladder set up on the earth, and the top of it reached to heaven; and he beheld the angels of God ascending and descending upon it. And Jacob rose up early in the morning, and set it up for a pillar, and poured oil upon the top of it. And he called the name of that place Bethel."

After nearly 100 years, this remarkable hymn is still gaining in popularity. Many a Christian, on heaven's threshold, has found comfort in its sentiments just before slipping away to join the beckoning angels of which it sings.

When the steamship Titanic was sinking after colliding with an iceberg in mid-ocean one April night in 1912, and many of the passengers realized there was no hope of rescue, the ship's band began to play "Nearer, My God, to Thee". Hundreds knelt in prayer, and many were still praying when, a little later, the ship went down carrying 1,513 men and women to eternity.

The hymn was played many times in France over the graves of American soldiers in the World War. In Palestine, it is customary for tourists from Christian lands to pause and sing "Nearer, My Bags of money! Stacks of silver, nickel and copper coins! Neatly-bound packages of crisp new currency! This is a common sight in the vaults of banks and the financial institutions of the world.

Money plays a big part in life. It represents human labor and material production and is the medium through which man exchanges his toil for food and other necessities and comforts of life.

It is important to know how to handle money wisely and well. Some people squander it to their sorrow; others worship it as their supreme aim in life. These attitudes are both unsound and dangerous.

Worship should be reserved for God alone, and right living should be the supreme aim of one's life. Money is a useful instrument in the material world, but it is secondary to man's spiritual welfare.

The Bible teaches us to be diligent and thrifty; it also teaches us to love God and cherish our religious faith above all the world's wealth and glory.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Student Notebooks Resembling Leather Are Subject To Tax

If they look like leather, ring binders or student notebooks closed with zippers or other fasteners are subject to a retail dealers' excise tax.

This is the rule of the thumb handed down by the bureau of internal revenue.

They are taxable if made from a plastic or other material which imitates, resembles or looks like leather in any form.

They are not taxable if made from material or plastic which does not resemble leather. For example, a zipper ring binder or notebook made from luggage ducking and coated with clear plastic would not be subject to the 20 per cent tax on the selling price.

When taxes are applicable, they are to be collected by the dealer from the person buying the article subject to tax.

Synthetic Rubber Industry of Texas Safe, Says Solon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (Sp) — Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas says that a new plan to import natural rubber from Malaya and other rubber producing areas will not hurt Texas' synthetic rubber industry.

The United States, Great Britain and Canada announced Tuesday that the U. S. plans to import natural rubber and stockpile it.

Thursday in a telegram to Rep. J. M. Tombs in Beaumont, Johnson said he had been assured by State Department officials that there was no intention "to hamper the U. S. Synthetic rubber program."

Carr Recovers From Collision Injuries

GARDEN CITY, Sept. 17—Warren "Scouter" Carr, son of Judge and Mrs. Gene Carr, apparently has recovered from effects of injuries sustained in a collision a week ago.

He was knocked unconscious in a head-on collision near Coahoma early last Sunday morning. Carr was returning home from Colorado City at the time a Latin-American, attempting to pass a truck, met the Carr pick-up truck almost head-on. Carr was treated at a hospital in Big Spring and dismissed shortly afterwards. Damage to the pick-up was estimated at $1,000.

Baptist GA Meets In A. Wade Home; Students Leave To Enter College

GARDEN CITY, Sept. 17 (Sp) —Girls Auxiliary of the Baptist church met in the home of Mrs. A. Wade Tuesday afternoon.

During the business session the organization was named the Lois Glass GA, in honor of a Baptist missionary in China. Matthew 4:15 was selected as the pass word. Betty Wade was chosen as mascot. Mrs. A. Wade closed the meeting with a prayer.

Refreshments were served to Martha and Mary Helen Gillespie, Emma and Bette Stephens, Georgia Lee Rich, Lynda Kay Parsons, Sandra Wilkerson, Fred Christie, Phyllis Durrant, Kenney Sue and Connie Scudday, Helen Cunningham, Marjorie Self, Mrs. A. Wade and Mrs. O. L. Rich.

Local young people left this week to enroll in various colleges with the largest number going to Texas Tech at Lubbock.

Helen Hightower, Frances and Donald Cox left Monday for Texas Tech. The two girls will be freshmen and Donald will be a junior. Basil Keithley re-entered Texas Tech Thursday as a sophomore. Jerry Currie will also attend Tech this year.

Leonard Bryans will be a senior at Tech this year as will be Darwood Ratliff.

William Weymand will be a sophomore at Texas Tech.

Anita and Harry Love are going back to Sul Ross at Alpine as a sophomore and a junior.

James Richard Currie will enter Texas University later in the year. At the present time he is touring Europe.

Tommy Morgan is attending Howard County Junior College and drives back and forth from Garden City each day.

Don Ameche, Hollywood movie actor, has been a guest at the Steve Currie Ranch. Mr. Currie has been connected with Ameche in some oil lease business.

Mrs. Mary Lou Snodgrass of Midland is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lou Ratliff.

Bevin's Tooth Is Prized Exhibit

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (Sp) —The Armed Forces Institute of Pathology has another prized exhibit to go along with George Washington's false teeth.

The new item is an eye tooth extracted from the jaw of British Foreign Minister Bevin. It is unusual not for its source alone, but because it has two roots instead of the customary one. Bevin had a Washington dentist pull it last Thursday, after its aching had troubled him during financial talks here.

And do the armed forces prize it? Well, in order to get a picture of the new exhibit, Associated Press Photographer Bill Chaplin had to go through channels that involved a guard at the institute, a sergeant-recruiter, an Army colonel, a general, a major, a Navy commander and the custodian of the tooth, a lieutenant colonel.

Oh yes, the State Department had to give clearance too.

AA Monthly Meeting Scheduled Today

New Workers, More Workers Are Enjoying Centennial Activities

Admittedly we're all creatures of habit, and that controlling factor enters the thinking process when there occurs the task of selecting personnel for a civic or public undertaking.

To put it another way, the same old bunch gets called in nearly every time there's a promotional or a solicitation job to be put over.

And what is one of the most encouraging aspects of the whole Big Spring Centennial celebration is the fact that interest in, and a willingness to work for, that undertaking has gone far beyond the scope of the old civic wheelhorses.

It is apparent that the Centennial is getting broader volunteer help than any undertaking has in this community, at least for many a year, since the town got beyond the village stage.

The response to such good-natured stunts as beard-growing and cosmetic-spurning is not the whole of it, by any means. There are literally scores of men and women, and young boys and girls, devoting full energies to their assigned task for the week's celebration.

Those who are rehearsing parts in the Centurama cast are making a big sacrifice, and they will continue to do so until the last light is dimmed on the last show. And if there are some episodes not yet filled with players, we believe the pageant master can rest assured they will be.

Then there are many men and women who have worked on financial aspects of the Centennial, on various special events, such as planning and building parade floats, arranging for bands, for speakers, for transportation, for exhibits, and for countless other items that will go into the week-long program. The young people are doing much in the way of volunteer clerical help and program specialties.

There is no adequate way to enumerate the long list.

Oh, yes, there are some in the city who haven't turned a hand yet. They're looking askance on the whole thing. Others doubtless would make a contribution if they get a special personal appeal.

The whole spirit behind the show, however, is for spontaneous, volunteer labor, and if you haven't volunteered your services yet, you ought to call the Centennial office and do so.

A lot of people are working together now who barely had a nodding acquaintance before. They're enjoying one another, and enjoying their work. All of this is going to result in better community spirit, not come to light before. And if the Centennial makes for civic unity, which it is doing, it will have justified itself, regardless of any other result.

Today And Tomorrow—Walter Lippmann

Framework Of U.S. Economic Policies Proves Straitjacket

What the three governments have agreed to do, after the Washington talks, is, of course, very small indeed as compared with the many very big subjects they have decided, as they put in in their communique, to review, to consider, to discuss, to study, to investigate, and to examine.

The big subjects are, no doubt, so big that it is hard to know exactly what to do about most of them. But that was not the only or the whole reason why the biggest subjects were not acted upon. They are also too hot to handle, or at least were thought to be, by Secretary Snyder, who has a tired and irritable Congress to worry about, and by Sir Stafford Cripps and Mr. Bevin, who have an election, a party record, a restless Commonwealth and a very much threatened sterling area to think about.

That was why Mr. Snyder laid it down at the outset that he would take only "steps...within the framework of our existing foreign economic policies." That meant that he would take only steps which did not require the nerve-racking effort to persuade Congress to pass new laws or to appropriate new money. This Administration ruling that Congress was not now to be brought into the world wide crisis meant that the world wide crisis could not now be dealt with.

But the evident truth is that the situation cannot be handled "within the framework of our existing foreign economic policies." Even the palliative measures agreed to, notably the permission to use E.C.A. dollars to buy Canadian wheat, made the existing framework crack. For if that agreement is within the letter, it is not, as a chorus or Senators are saying, plainly within the spirit of the existing law.

The Administration knows, of course, that the existing framework of our foreign economic policies is going to have to be enlarged and reconstructed. That will have to be done if the crisis is to be liquidated in an orderly fashion, and it will certainly have to be done if the crisis gets out of hand, and the precarious structure of the world economy breaks down. So the President will be wise to grasp the nettle now, and make it plain to Congress and the people that this country cannot stand pat and let the crisis of the sterling area become a convulsion in Europe and in Asia.

There is no better place to begin than by meeting squarely the issue raised by Senator Wherry. He may be right that under the law the Administration cannot authorize Great Britain to use E.C.A. dollars to buy wheat in Canada, now that wheat has been declared to be in surplus in the United States. But if Senator Wherry is right about the law then the law should be amended. It will take an effort to persuade Congress to amend the law. But the effort will pay handsome dividends. It will open the way to that fundamental revision of the Marshall plan, which was desirable from the beginning and is now demonstrably necessary if its objectives are ever to be attained.

Without realizing it, perhaps, men like Senator Wherry have compelled this country to compel the European countries to submit to that very planning and regimentation of their foreign trade which these Senators spend their leisure moments denouncing as Socialism, Communism and all the rest.

Within that framework of our existing foreign economic policies—and within the blind dogmas and prejudices which created that framework—there can be no true recovery in Europe and no progress towards a free economy in the world. For the framework is a straitjacket.

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK. — MEN WHO BUY and sell diamonds may get ulcers—but the lads who dig them don't.

The gems are whacked out of the good earth of Africa by black-skinned native boys. "Cancer is extremely rare among them, and ulcers are absolutely unknown," said Mrs. Gladys Babson Hannaford, who has made a career lecturing on diamonds.

Mrs. Hannaford returned recently from a trip through the glitter mines of the dark Continent. She is one of the first women to inspect the coastal diamond fields north of the Orange River in south-west Africa.

Rumors have spread around the world that these fields are so fabulously rich that a man can slip ashore at night from a motor boat, scoop up a gallon of rough diamonds—and speed away a millionaire. Owners even are reported to have hired camel patrols to guard the beach at night against nocturnal raiders.

MRS. HANNAFORD SAYS THIS IS ALL utterly ridiculous.

"They could have a camel patrol because camels get rheumatism that close to the sea," she said.

"The fields are rich, but the native diggers would feel lucky if they collected a gallon of diamonds in a year. And it's an expensive operation requiring much equipment. The diamonds are found inland in a layer 20 to 30 feet under the sand covering a prehistoric beach."

Operations center near Orange Mouth, a village of 500 Europeans and 1,500 natives. It is 200 miles to the nearest railroad, and the desolate area is so wind-swept that gardens near the river must be surrounded with walls to keep the vegetables from being blown out of the ground.

One mine has a compound in which dwell 1,700 native boys, some of whom hike 300 miles for their jobs. They get from $1 to $2.50 a day, plus living quarters, and a bonus ranging up to $300 for each diamond they find.

THEY AREN'T ALLOWED TO BRING into the compound anything that can't be easily searched. One boy insisted on bringing in a flashy new bicycle, even though warned he wouldn't be able to take it out when he left.

"He charged 20 cents each to teach the other boys to ride," laughed Mrs. Hannaford. "In a week he had paid for the bike."

"After that he charged them 20 cents a ride. He left a wealthy man, and sold his bike for more than he paid for it."

Like many others he probably went home and bought a wife.

"The current market quotation," said Mrs. Hannaford, "is 10 crows for an ordinary girl. But a village belle might cost 15 crows."

Vegetarians Seeking Wildlife Protection

SINGAPORE. — The Malayan Vegetarian Society seeks to save this land's wild animal life by controlling exports. The society said it had been told that a large number of monkeys exported from Malaya died on ships carrying them. Also, the group said, the one-horned rhinoceros is now practically extinct because of hunting and exports.

Volcanic Island Grows

AUCKLAND New Zealand. — Seen and unseen volcanoes play strange tricks in the South Pacific. The latest stunt doubled the size of Matthew Island, a tiny spot on the Pacific 200 miles east of New Caledonia.

The change in Matthew Island was found by the New Zealand naval frigate Pukaki. Until recently, Matthew Island was 30 acres of land with a single volcanic peak. Now it has a second volcanic peak, 500 feet high, beside the first. It is 1200 yards long today and 800 yards across the widest spot.

The sides fall steeply to the sea. Crew of the Pukaki saw wisps of steam and smoke coming up from the rock, but there was no sign of volcanic action from the new peak. Matthew Island was discovered in 1788. No people live there, but countless sea birds make their homes on the island.

U. S., Russian Experts In Race For Modernization Of Undersea Weapons

WASHINGTON. — In all the bitter row between the Army and the Navy, the admirals have failed to let the public know about one naval activity for which they deserve great credit — submarines.

Perhaps this is because the cramped and grimy life of a submarine crew looks gold and glamor. Also there are no admirals commanding submarines, their place is on battle-ships. But at any rate, American submarines have made amazing progress, and undoubtedly will be the most important arm of the Navy in the future.

The end of the war saw German submarines with new breathing devices for underwater operations plus a rubber coat which prevented radar detection. If the war had lasted much longer, the new German subs would have wrecked havoc on American shipping once again.

Mr. Durn kept boxes out in the hallway to receive the books, and looking tirelessly with no help from others he finally collected and shipped to the Philippines 10 other (350,000) books. Mr. Durn's project was all his own. No sponsors, no organized drive, no money to help him—when makes him, in this column's eyes, a real Servant of Brotherhood.

PRODUCERS, EXHIBITORS Also Have Their Woes

HOLLYWOOD. — You get problems? Listen to those of moviemakers and exhibitors. Shooting on a picture starts. Then producer, Done Scharly told the convention of Theater Owners of America.

"There's a weather. There's sickness accidents, calamities of all kinds. There's the time the film isn't in the camera—the time the camera breaks down—the time the lights go out."

"There's the time the visitor trips over the cable—the time the makeup needs repairing or the bathos falls off, or the strap on the evening dress slips a little too low. There's the business of looking at rushes and discovering that the scene that sounded so wonderful in the story conference doesn't play at all. Those are the dog days. You find you are wrong. You've got to go back (rewrite), and get it on the set again."

Then there are pressure groups. Scharly said:

"We are constantly badgered by the people who are against drinking, for drinking, the people who are against smoking, the people who are for smoking, the politicians, architects, automobile manufacturers, the model owners, the dog lovers of America, the people who are for short skirts."

"If we could manage to be everything to everybody, we would be releasing blank film with nothing but silence on the sound track."

More than 500 theater owners and wives are going home or maybe sightseeing in Hollywood today after the four-day convention. Before they left, I button-holed some around the Ambassador hotel to ask "What's your biggest problem as an exhibitor?" James Zarfaledes, Salulpa, Okla.:

"Shortage of pictures. We change program three times a week. Our population is 18,000—too small for us to run a picture a week or two."

Clarence H. Chidley, Casper, Wyo.:

"The excise tax is 20 per cent federal levy on admissions. In a small town it's just plain murder because of the low gross. We'd gladly give the government our profit and keep the tax."

Toward the conclusion of the investigation launched by Hickenlooper's virulent indictment of Lilienthal, it proved impossible to get a quorum of the committee together. The evidence has petered out, the newspapers grew indifferent, and committee members did not even bother to put in an appearance. After five attempts to stage a formal conclusion, Chairman McMahon declared the hearings closed and ordered the staff to work on a report of them.

Present plans are that the report shall go much further than an exposition of the Hickenlooper charges and answers to them. Senator McMahon has a Messianic zeal about the great new force with which the human race can now so easily destroy itself. His fear has been that this democracy would talk too much about it but it would not take the time and pains to understand the Pandora box it has opened.

A full review of atomic policy as contained in the McMahon act, which puts atomic energy under civilian control, is now contemplated. The goals for peace-attainment, will be described.

The most vexing problem of all in atomic energy is security—which was the real heart of the Hickenlooper charges.

lessness, security procedures, etc. The portion of the report that deals with this aspect will doubtless be the most controversial.

Actually there is considerable atomic isolation in Congress for which Hickenlooper is spokesman. The degree to which Senator Vandenberg sympathizes with it is a question; it is believed that an off-hand anti-Lilienthal comment by Vandenberg set off Hickenlooper. The hearings disclosed also that this group has a fellow-traveler on the commission itself: Admiral Lewis Strauss.

In a rather confused episode recently, Hickenlooper was reported to have told an American Legion convention session that the military should have greater control over atomic energy. Senator McMahon promptly trampled the principle of civilian control and Senator Hickenlooper formally stated that he had been misquoted, that he too was for civilian control.

Capital Report—Doris Fleeson

Report Will Clear Lilienthal Of 'Incredible Mismanagement'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15. — The report of the congressional joint committee on atomic energy regarding the operations and management of the atomic energy committee will completely clear AFC chairman Lilienthal and his colleagues of Senator Hickenlooper's charges of "incredible mismanagement."

Mistakes will be admitted and suggestions made for improved security and other procedures. Faults about which evidence was developed will not be glossed over. But the conclusions will stand out as a vindication of the commission.

Those familiar with the report as it is now being written do not expect Senator Hickenlooper, ranking Republican and for two years the committee chairman, to sign it. The question is how many of his colleagues he can get to join him in a minority report.

Toward the conclusion of the investigation launched by Hickenlooper's virulent indictment of Lilienthal, it proved impossible to get a quorum of the committee together. The evidence has petered out, the newspapers grew indifferent, and committee members did not even bother to put in an appearance. After five attempts to stage a formal conclusion, Chairman McMahon declared the hearings closed and ordered the staff to work on a report of them.

Present plans are that the report shall go much further than an exposition of the Hickenlooper charges and answers to them. Around The Rim—The Herald Staff

A New Book Attempts To Stir Closer Attention To The Bible

On another page of today's Herald you will find an Associated Press story about a new book that is soon to be nationally distributed.

Although I have not had the opportunity of seeing the book itself, I have seen considerable explanatory material about it, have talked with people who have seen it, and know something of the story behind it.

It strikes me that it is something highly distinctive in the field of religious literature, and yet is the development of an idea that should have been thought of long ago.

Reference is being made to a publication called "In Our Image," a collection of narratives about Biblical characters, all of them Old Testament notables.

The story of these men, such as Abraham, Jacob, Moses, Samson, David, Solomon, Job, Daniel and Elijah there are 25 character studies, has not been "modernized." Each story is told in the beautiful King James version.

What has happened is that the book's creator, Houston Harte of San Angelo, took all Biblical references to each of these men, stripped them of the distractions, the less interesting genealogical references, verses, chapter numbers and the like. What he pieced together, without any change at all, is a more or less "modern" type of the story that brings home with full clarity the stories of the famous Biblical personalities.

Harte's approach was that of an editor who has a tremendous story to tell, and limited space in which to tell it. Some of the non-essentials must go, but the real meat of the narrative, the full color of the characterization, must remain.

An yet, his approach was not one of attempting to "edit the Bible," but with an attitude of reference in presenting these stories in such fashion that more people would read them and understand them better, and, having done that, be prompted to read further into their own Bibles for all other details they may desire.

It has been a long and exacting job. Harte started it more than four years ago. The assignment of illustrating the stories in proper manner was a major one, and the San Angelo newspaper publisher, finally found Guy Rowe, a Time magazine cover illustrator, to paint these characters as art and the Howe portraits, one newspaper, he declared "already are worth a fortune."

The binding, the typography and the art alone, I have reason to know, are enough to make the work a treasure for any library and to make it a collector's item. But what has impressed me more is the idea behind the production—and that is to present Biblical passages so interestingly and engagingly that once a reader has started, he will want to become more familiar with his Bible. No better mission could be undertaken by a human being in this distressed world today than to generate a mass interest in reading the Holy Word by which we ought to be living every day.—ROB WHIPKEY

The Nation Today—By James Marlow

Government To Encourage Use Of Beneficial Iodized Salt

By FRANK CAREY

(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON, — THE GOVERNMENT wants every salt shaker in the nation filled with "iodized salt."

That ordinary table salt with a little iodine added to it.

Government and other authorities have just announced a new program to encourage its use. They contend this will give the average person enough iodine to:

1. Help prevent one of the commonest forms of goiter.
2. Help fortify the people's health generally—because iodine is an essential food element and some folks don't get enough of it from their regular food.

IODIZED SALT IS NOT NEW AS EARLY as 1831 its use was suggested to prevent goiter. Over the years various health groups have advocated its use. Now the government, the medical profession, public health authorities and the salt industry have joined to attempt to get everyone to use it.

Dr. W. H. Sebrell of the National Institutes of Health (NIH) says in an article in "public health reports":

"Many people who take vitamin tablets and are careful about getting an adequate supply of vitamins neglect the iodized salt which will insure a health minimum of iodine for the normal person."

Sebrell is director of NIH's institute of experimental biology and medicine.

HE SAYS THAT IT HAS BEEN SHOWN many times in this country and abroad that "iodine deficiency is easily corrected and better health achieved through the daily, routine use of a table salt to which tiny amounts of iodine have been added by the manufacturer."

This salt is just as pure as ordinary salt, he says, just as cheap and tastes no different.

(Caution: Iodized salt is not suggested as the answer to all nutritional needs. You have to have other essential elements in your food—iron, calcium, copper, and many others. Iodized salt is a handy way of getting enough iodine, but only iodine.)

WHY IS IODINE SO ESSENTIAL ANYWAY?

In your neck is a gland called the thyroid. It produces a "hormone"—or chemical messenger—that is carried by the blood stream.

THIS HORMONE CONTROLS THE rate of heat production in your body. It aids in stimulating the normal growth of bones, hair, and skin. It helps the normal development of the brain, helps stimulate sexual development at the age of puberty. It helps in the maintenance of a normal pregnancy, and it aids in the production of an adequate milk supply for nursing mothers.

If the gland doesn't get enough iodine it doesn't function properly.

One possible result of such iodine-starvation is the disease called "simple goiter." One form of "toxic (poisonous) goiter" may result as a complication of simple goiter.

Simple goiter is an enlargement of the thyroid gland. The gland, in trying to produce hormone without sufficient iodine, literally overstrains itself and gets large.

Mexico Willing To Trade With Italy

MEXICO CITY, (AP)—Mexico would be glad to trade more goods with Italy. She might even take in a full complement of dustries from Italy, machinery, materials and workers with the know-how. One of these barter deals — Mexican sugar for Italian rayon yarn — has been successfully concluded. It was for a value of "several million dollars." Both sides were satisfied but the deal will not be renewed. Mexico now produces all the rayon she needs and Italy has found a cheaper place to buy sugar. Barter deals are not as easy to arrange as they seem. Two countries must first find products they can export and which the other needs. Then they have to agree on the value of these goods for trading purposes.

Carson-Day-Morgan In Ritz Comedy

A threesome which is establishing itself as an adept group at light comedy is the star combine for another new musical-gaiety piece which appears at the Ritz theater today and Monday. "It's A Great Feeling" is the picture, and the players are funnymen Jack Carson, attractive Doris Day and handsome Dennis Morgan.

In addition to these, "It's A Great Feeling" set about introducing, for brief appearances, nine other top names in Hollywood. These guest stars include Gary Cooper, Joan Crawford, Sydney Greenstreet, Errol Flynn, Patricia Neal, Eleanor Parker, Ronald Reagan, Edward G. Robinson and Jane Wyman.

But to get back to the principals who usually do alright in the field of song and dance, fun and romance, "It's A Great Feeling" tells the story of Doris Day as a pretty waitress in a major Hollywood studio who wants to become a star. She appeals to Jack Carson, a director whom no star wants, and the eventual race to stardom is on. The picture Carson must direct in order to keep from going to the poorhouse has Dennis Morgan for its star but no fem-

Navy Transfers Crommelin For His Criticism

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—The Navy has now lowered the boom, but somewhat gently, on its Capt. John G. Crommelin. See Matthews, announcing that Crommelin's public and vigorous criticism of service unification "obviously disqualified him for continuing to work for the high-level joint chiefs of staff, plucked him out of that job. He was sent to duty with the Navy's air warfare division which is an important cog in the Navy's operating organization—but doesn't deal in high policy-making like the joint chiefs of staff. For a time Thursday it looked as though the aviator-captain would do even better than weather the storm which his protest against Pentagon treatment of the Navy stirred up last Saturday. The word was passed to reporters during the morning that yes, Crommelin was being transferred from his job in the joint chiefs group. But reporters were told he was being sent to a position just vacated by a rear admiral, director of naval aviation personnel. Then sometime between morning and late afternoon Matthews presumably told whoever had arranged the new assignment for Crommelin to withdraw the order because he had other ideas about the captain's next assignment. At a White House news conference, President Truman said he thought Matthews was handling the case capably and that it would remain in Matthews' hands.

Arctic Voyage Was Successful, Says Donald MacMillan

BOOTHBAY HARBOR, Me., Sept. 17 (AP)—Donald B. MacMillan's 28th Arctic voyage was a success, he says, in spite of the "worst weather" he ever had. The 74-year-old explorer, accompanied by his wife and 15 student-scientists, returned home in the Schooner Bowdoin Thursday. They had voyaged 8,000 miles—many of them in rain and high wind and seas. In the holds were the pelts of four polar bears which will be mounted as a family group for the new Arctic museum of Bowdoin College. Bowdoin, MacMillan's alma mater, sponsored this year's expedition. One of the two adult bears was shot by Horace A. Hildreth Jr., son of the former Maine governor who assumed the presidency of Bowdoin University at Lewisburg, Pa., Thursday. Specimens of the rare Kumlien gull, plant samples and fossils that MacMillan said dated from the Cambrian period of the Paleozoic Lower Savage Island, Baffinland.

Betty Grable In Musical Comedy At The State

The shapely lady, Betty Grable, brightens the screen at the State theatre today and Monday as she appears in another of the Technicolor musical comedies which have made her one of cinema's queens. This one is called "The Beautiful Blonde From Bashful Bend" and bears heavily on farce. It was written, directed and produced by Preston Sturges, noted for his deft comedy touch.

Mixing elements of a musical western and a comedy in generous portions, the film casts Betty as a temperamental, trigger-happy heroine who gets herself in and out of trouble of all kinds with the greatest ease. Betty "sells" two songs in the patented Grable manner and displayed those famed Grable wams in gorgeous outfits especially created for the picture. Cast as a cafe entertainer who, because of her proficiency with six-shooters, has to switch her identity to that of an innocent school teacher, Betty manages to elude the long arm of the law. But the cause of the school-marm doesn't last and Betty ends up in the thick of one of the most suspenseful—and hilarious—gunfights ever brought to the screen. The cast of "The Beautiful Blonde From Bashful Bend" is headed by Cesar Romero, Rudy Vallee and Olga San Juan and includes Sterling Holloway, Errol Flynn, Porter Hall and Paul Bren-

U. S. Called Land Of Gum-Chewing, Sex In Automobiles

BUCHAREST, Romania, Sept. 17 (AP)—America is a land of gum-chewing and sex in automobiles, where the B-36 bomber is the dove of peace and the atom bomb is the olive branch, Ilya Ehrenburg, Russian publicist and novelist, said Friday. Writing in the Cominform journal, Ehrenburg, who has made several trips to the United States, gave this picture of life there: "Vulgarity and arrogance, robots and chewing gum, sex in an automobile, a Negro soaked in gasoline, supermen who crush skulls, frame-up of Communists, hypocrisy and savagery, greed, falsehood and fear. They have a dove of peace—the B-36—and the olive branch—the atom bomb. "I don't know of any other country in the world where individuality is so crushed and obliterated as in the United States."

Joan Crawford In Terrace Feature

Latest dramatic production of Joan Crawford, "Flamingo Road," is the featured offering at the Terrace Drive-in theatre tonight and Monday night. Zachary Scott and Sydney Greenstreet have chief supporting roles. In "Flamingo Road" Joan plays a carnival girl who goes up the social ladder to riches, told against a background of corrupt politics. Besides the above trip of personalities, this drama also presents a newcomer, David Brian, on the screen. Formerly a musical comedy artist and a member of the Coast Guard during the war, advance reports indicate that Brian is one of the most interesting new faces to come forward on the Hollywood scene in years. His rise from obscurity to a role in the Warner production demonstrates a real Hollywood "success" story. It is also interesting to note that the same quartet which made "Mildred Pierce" such an outstanding film three years ago, is also identified with "Flamingo Road." This includes the star, Joan Crawford, the director, Curtis Scott and Jerry Wald. Joan won the Academy Award for her performance that year. The supporting cast of "Flamingo Road" includes Gladys George, former silent star, Alice White, Gertrude Michael, Iris Adrian, Fred Clark and others.

German Republic Will Be Anti-Red

BONN, Germany, Sept. 17. (U. S. P. M.)—The West German Republic today appears on the way to becoming one of the most strongly anti-communist powers in western Europe. The leading parties are pledged to carry out Christian principles in government. Its strongest political group says its aim is to "stem the rising tide of materialism embodied in Russian communism."

The new government, headed by Dr. Konrad Adenauer, as chancellor, and President Theodor Heuss, is expected to be influenced by the fact that they are backed by millions of voters who are regular churchgoers and who have seen communism at work in the eastern part of Germany, and oppose it. The coalition parties are dedicated to principles of freedom and liberty for the individual. They favor an economy of free enterprise.

They stand for a federated western Europe and want Germany to be a member of such a union. The party that leads the government coalition is the Christian Democratic Union (CDU). Its policies will dominate all fields of government.

To solve the political, social and economic problems of a modern state it advocates:

"In place of principles arising from materialism, the principles of Christian ethics must prevail. They must be dominant in the reconstruction of the state. They must prevail in the rights and duties of the individual for economic and social life, for our civilization and for the relations of nations with one another. The Christian well-being (way of life) alone guarantees . . . a true and genuine democracy."

In its economic policy, the new government will oppose out-and-out socialism. It believes in free enterprise — but free enterprise that does not strangle the little man. The CDU's attitude has been evolved largely from the "Christian socialism" of a German bishop named Ketteler. The party states:

"The capitalistic economic system does not do justice to the vital interests of the German people . . . The new structure of German industry must be founded on the principle that the time of the unlimited mastery of private capitalism is gone. We must, however, prevent private capitalism from being replaced by state capitalism which is even more dangerous for the political and economic freedom of the individual."

This means that in large West German industries, public agencies as well as co-operatives, workers councils may be expected to share in their management. Until the end of the war, these industries were monopolies.

On the other hand, direct compulsion or forced planning in the West German economy probably will be avoided.

HOGS GETTING NORMAL AGAIN

PLAINVIEW, Neb., Sept. 17. (U. S. P. M.)—William Bohl broke up a raucous ring in his own feed lots this week.

When his hogs began to grow this and wobble uncertainly about the feed lot, Bohl launched a one man investigation. At the back of the feed lot he found the hogs jumping in the air to get at the last few leaves near the top of a lush stand of marijuana plants.

After destroying the plants Bohl said today his hogs were "getting back to normal."

Truman Plans To Take Rest At Month's End

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. (U. S. P. M.)—President Truman plans to take a "quickie" vacation back home at the end of September.

Mr. Truman has given the go-ahead for a flight to Kansas City Sept. 29 for a four-day stay. The main purpose of the trip is to attend a dinner the night of Sept. 29 for William M. Boyle, Jr., the new chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Boyle, a former Kansas City police official, is to be honored on that occasion by Democrats and other home town folk.

Mr. Truman plans to remain over in Kansas City and his nearby home town of Independence until Sunday, Oct. 2 and then fly back to Washington.

Alida said the President has abandoned all plans for a longer vacation until after Congress adjourns. A stay of from 10 days to two weeks at the winter White House at Key West, Fla., is on the schedule for mid-November.

A New York trip about Oct. 25 is also likely. Mr. Truman is expected to participate in the dedication of the cornerstone of the new United Nations headquarters.

Prospects are, too, that he will make a speech in New York in support of former Gov. Herbert Lehman, the Democratic candidate against Sen. Dulles (R-NY) in the special Senate race this fall.

BOSSY MAKES BAD VACATION COMPANION

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 17. (U. S. P. M.)—Don't take 14 cows as companions on your vacation!

That advice comes from John Hannah, agricultural agent for Kent and Washington Counties Rhode Island. He speaks from experience.

It all came about when Hannah learned Austin Levy, owner of Rhode Island Textile Mills and Agricultural Enterprises in the Bahamas Islands, planned to ship the 14 cows to the Bahamas.

"By taking care of the animals on the trip during my annual leave I thought I would have a wonderful opportunity to see Florida and the Bahamas," Hannah said.

The five-day rail trip here wasn't bad although he had to milk the cows twice a day and keep them in water.

"The catch came," he continued, "when we arrived in Jacksonville a week ago Saturday. Due to some mixup in schedules the ship on which I was to sail with the cows wasn't here."

"One thing about a cow is that it has to be milked. So if we get away this Saturday I will have been doing my milking in Jacksonville twice a day for two weeks. This didn't give me a chance to see Florida."

Hannah still is looking forward to seeing the Bahamas—after he gets those cows off his hands.
