NUMBER 12

The 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Simpson, living four miles south of Tahoka, died of diphtheria Tuesday morning after an illness of about four days. Burial was held at Southland on Wednesday afternoon. Rev. J. F. Curry, assisted by W. L. Stewart of Wilson, conducted the funeral services. The family joins the many friends in expressions of deep sympathy.

Richey, president of the Lynn County Singing Convention, requests us to announce that the Convention will meet Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Central Baptist Church in the eastern part of the county. A large crowd is expected and good singing promised. Everybody is cordially invited.

The Slatonite

The Slaton Slatonite comes to our exchange table this week under a new organization though largely the same line up. Since Mr. Donald died there has been a certain amount of speculation among the newspaper men as to what would become of the plant and the business. This week contains an announcement that will be of interest to the people of this part of the plains, in as much as it will guarantee that the Slatonite will be well taken care of by the successors of Mr. Donald. The announcement states that Mrs. Donald, the wife of the deceased, will not relinquish her ownership of the plant, but will continue as owner and publisher, while Miss Clef Watson, who has been associated with the paper for a number of years will be editor, and R. B. Haynes, who has successfully guided the destinies of the Lynn County News for the past few years, will have charge of the mechanical and business management of the publication, which will mean that the people of Slaton and the South Plains will be given a high class publication, and one worthy of their continued worthy patronage.

The Avalanche is glad indeed to note the splendid lineup of the Slatonite, and we are glad to have the paper continue on our exchange list, and shall ever consider it one of our most valuable exchanges.—Lubbock Avalanche.

Canyon, Texas, Nov. 19.—Miss Epie Irons, a student in the West Texas State Teachers College, won third prize in the annual contest of the Poetry Society of Texas, which was held recently. Miss Irons' poem "The Potential King" was considered a charming bit of work by the judges.

Lester Evans Hurt in Auto Accident

Just as we go to press we learn that a car driven by Lester Evans collided with a car driven by some gentleman living at Draw, whose name we failed to learn, on Thursday night in the Grassland community. Mr. Evans was seriously injured and his car was almost utterly demolished. We failed to learn whether the other gentleman was hurt.

Music Makers

Quartet

A program brimful of music, made with instruments, and made with voices, is that presented by the Music Makers, a quartet of young college men who will appear on Friday evening, at the H. S. Auditorium. The instruments used are trombone, cornet, saxophone, together with banjo and guitar for some novelty.

The outstanding features of the Music Makers' program is the true artistry of their instrumental numbers, and especially in the brass quartet arrangement of trombones and cornets. The playing demonstrates a highly developed technique and the real mastery of the instruments.

Their vocal numbers are highly entertaining, being full of punch and snap, and while their selections do not embrace the strong classical features of the instrumental program, it is a popular and much appreciated part of the entertainment.

In addition to the brass quartet and the vocal quartet, there are novelty features including humorous readings and dialogue, and a dramatic skit dealing with American college types.

Texas Cotton Statistics

The United States Department of Commerce, through the Bureau of the Census, announces that prior to November 1, 1923, 3,503,199 bales of cotton had been ginned in Texas as against 2,847,427 bales ginned prior to the same date in 1922.

According to this report Ellis county leads the state, with 105,059 bales ginned. Williamson follows as a close second, with 102,730. Other counties are reported as follows: McLennan, 92,662; Nueces 91,278; Collin 84,819; Navarro 83,344; Hill 82,831; Bell 66,730; Hunt 66,576; Fannin 59,449; Falls 58,139; Grayson 52,256; and Dallas 50,722.

In West Texas, Jones county reports 72,055; Rennells 38,264; Taylor 34,120; Fisher 22,775; Coleman 21,853; Mitchell 20,453; Haskell 16,659; Seurry 16,103.

Owing to the fact that cotton is much later in west Texas than other parts of the state and owing to the further fact that a much smaller portion of the land in West Texas is in cultivation, the amount of cotton ginned in this section appears to be small compared with the black land counties of north and central Texas. As a matter of fact, however, the production per acre in West Texas counties would probably compare most favorably with the production per acre in any other portion of the state.

Christmas is coming. We see evidences of it in some of the store windows.

play and tuneful music, and is received with enthusiasm wherever the company has appeared.

The Music Makers are well named. They are players, singers and funsters besides. Their entertainment will be one of the most popular on the local program course.

Red Cross Drive Begins Monday

Rural Schools to Hold Contest. Funds to be Divided Between Local and National Organization.

The annual Red Cross membership drive to be made throughout Lynn county by the local Chapter will begin next Monday, November 26, ending on Saturday, December 1.

All the rural schools of the county will engage in a membership contest. The school which secures the largest number of members will be awarded a prize of $25.00 to be used by the winning school for some local school improvement. It is expected that this contest will be quite spirited and interesting.

In the towns of Tahoka, O'Donnell, and Wilson, an individual contest will be held, the person securing the largest number of members being awarded a prize.

One-fourth of the funds collected in this campaign will go into the building fund of the American legion to be used in the construction of a legion hall. One-fourth will be retained by the local Red Cross Chapter to be disbursed by it during the ensuing year for charity and benevolent purposes within the county. The remaining one-fourth will be sent to the headquarters of the American Red Cross to be expended by the national organization.

Something of the wide scope and tremendous amount of charity work done by that organization may be seen from the report which the organization has made.

From July 1, 1917, to June 30, 1923, the American Red Cross spent nationally and through its chapters more than $163,000,000 in service to the men who wore the American uniform in the world war and to their families. During the last fiscal year, $7,000,000 was spent in this work.

Last year the Red Cross spent $525,000 for relief in 110 disasters. Since 1881 the Red Cross has administered more than $20,000,000 in disasters.

Conservation of human life is provided for through Red Cross First Aid to the injured. Since this service was begun 175,000 persons have completed the Red Cross First Aid Course; of these 9,500 completed it last year.

To reduce the loss of life by drowning the American Red Cross has enrolled 30,300 trained volunteer lifesavers, of whom 11,000 are men, 7,000 women, and 12,300 from the ranks of the Junior American Red Cross.

A reserve nursing corps of 40,000 graduate nurses, available in emergency to the Army, Navy, U. S. Public Health Service, and Veterans' Bureau, is maintained by the Red Cross.

During the past year 30,441 certificates were issued to students completing the Red Cross Course in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick.

Red Cross Nutrition Service teaches the benefits of meals balanced to meet each one's needs.

In last year's Red Cross work fell the relief of nearly 1,000,000 refugees thrown into Greece by the debacle in Asia Minor. This operation cost $2,610,000.

In renewing your membership and contributing your dollar, you will be assisting in all this most commendable work.

TWO ANTELOP HERDS

ROAM JIM HOGG RANGE

Jim Hogg county, perhaps, can claim the only remaining antelope to be found in southwest Texas. One herd of 16 or 20 ranges near Hebbanville on the Hellen and Yeager ranches, while the other herd, somewhat larger, is on the W. W. Jones Wilbur Allen and Jonas Weil ranches in the southern part of the county.

While protected by law and by the ranchmen, as far as the latter are able to protect them, yet occasionally some hunter kills one of them as they are as gentle as range cattle and easily shot.

The advent of the farmer into this section also is interfering with these beautiful animals, and the time is not far distant when, like buffalo that once roamed over these prairies, they, too, will have passed.

J. C. Holland, the hustling sewing machine man from Sweetwater, who travels all over these south plains in the interest of his house, was a pleasant caller in the News office Monday. He says this is the coming country. Isn't that the truth?

More Than 13,000 Bales of Cotton Ginned in Lynn County

More than 13,000 bales of cotton had been ginned in Lynn county when reports were made to us Thursday afternoon. As reported to us over the telephone, the number of bales ginned by the various gins were as follows: TAHOKA:

Allen's	1827
Planters'	973
West Texas	754
Fulier's	783
Total in Tahoka	4337
Draw	1243
New Home	1142
WILSON:

Planters'	643
McCormack's	1095
Total at Wilson	1738
O'Donnell: approximately	4650
Total in the county	13,110

It will be interesting to note that on the corresponding date last year, 13,324 bales had been ginned.

Prices this week have ranged as high as 34 cents.

Petition Commissioners to order Bond Election

Would Pave Bankhead Highway With Concrete and Improve Principal Lateral Roads; State Aid Is Assured.

Colorado, Texas, Nov. 16.—Petitions asking Commissioners' Court to order an election to determine whether county shall be authorized to issue bonds in the sum of $650,000 with which to pave the Bankhead Highway across the county with concrete and improve and maintain the principal roads of the county are being circulated this week by a citizen committee named in Colorado Friday afternoon at a mass meeting attended by some thirty representative citizens of the county.

The county mass meeting was convened at the Chamber of Commerce at three o'clock and Dr. P. C. Coleman, president of the local Chamber of Commerce, was named as presiding officer. Following considerable discussion as to the needs of the county, it was unanimously determined that a campaign to vote bonds in the sum designated be inaugurated, $325,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary, being set aside for the purpose of paving the highway and the remainder to be proportioned to the four commissioners' precincts in proportion that the taxable values bear, based on 1923 renditions. Expenditure of all funds for lateral road improvement is to be under jurisdiction of the county commissioners and a citizens committee of one citizen from each precinct, who will act with the commissioner in an advisory capacity.

In order to ascertain what the Highway Department would do, in case the county voted bonds with which to permanently improve its designated highway, County Judge J. C. Hall wired Captain J. D. Fautleroy, State Highway engineer Saturday morning and late the same day received the following reply:

"In case Mitchell county votes sufficient bonds to provide high type of surfacing on Highway One, feel sure Commission will give you maximum amount of aid, which is $800,000."

West Side Cafe Changes Hands

Mrs. R. J. Roberts, familiarly known as Aunt Becky, has sold her restaurant, known as the West Side Cafe, situated on the west side of the public square, together with the building and lot which it occupies, to C. C. Hankin and R. G. Roy, who recently removed here with their families from Blum, Hill county.

We did not learn the future plans of Mrs. Roberts but understand that she is to remain in Tahoka.

The creation of the Star Car is the most important and brilliant accomplishment of any individual identified with the automobile industry since its inception.

Smartness in looks, standardized and modern design and thoroughness of construction, in a low priced car are unheard of until the Star was created by W. C. Doak, the pioneer builder of automobiles and identified with the introduction and success of the country's leading cars.

The Star Car marks the most advanced step since the production of the automobile, for it provides for the first time a quality automobile, standardized in construction and operation for a modest sum of money.

Judge I. P. Metcalf again tied the nuptial knot. This time it was Mr. Jesse Roy Perringer and Miss Mignon Alma Tucker, two young people living a few miles east of town, who were the contracting parties. The wedding occurred Tuesday evening at the residence of the accommodating Justice, after which the young couple went on their way rejoicing.

TWIN ROADS INTO A CRATER

One of the World's Most Interesting Highways Leads to Long Extinct Mexican Volcano.

Of the many spiral roads built for ascending steep mountain summits one of the most interesting is that which has recently been completed to the crater of the extinct volcano Macuntepec in the vicinity of Jalapa, a city of the state of Vera Cruz, Mexico, seventy miles by rail from the port of Vera Cruz, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. Jalapa is picturesquely situated on the slope of the sierra which separates the central plateau of Mexico from the gulf coast, at an elevation of 4,300 feet. To the south of it the peak of Ocuil de Perote rises to a height of 13,419 feet and still farther south that of Orizaba, 18,700 feet, the highest peak in Mexico and the second highest in North America.

The new road starts at a point on the national highway to Mexico City that is about a mile and a quarter from the center of Jalapa. For a distance of about half a mile to a gate at the entrance of the hill the road is on private property, and here it is about 13 feet wide with a 6 per cent grade. From the hill entrance to its summit the road is 11 1/2 feet wide with a maximum grade of 4 per cent, excepting in a few spots where an increased grade of 6 per cent was necessary. This part of the road is all on sidehill cuts, excepting a short stretch of about 328 feet at the end of the first complete circuit of the hill, where it was possible to build the road on the surface without any cutting.

For reasons of safety it was decided to make two one-way roads, one for ascending and the other for descending.

The descending road starts with a grade of 8 per cent and nearly parallels the last part of the ascending road until it strikes the crater, the edge of which it follows until it reaches the point where the ascending road enters the crater, the whole being a distance of 1,950 feet, the last 280 of which is in the crater with a 10 per cent grade.

Bulldogs Visit Big Spring on Nov. 23.

On Friday, Nov. 23, the Tahoka Bulldogs will face one of the strongest teams in the state. The Big Spring Athletic Officials attracted by the splendid showing of the Tahoka Grid-ders, against the different teams, made Coach Peoples an unusually attractive offer, which he accepted. This will be the strongest team the Tahoka Eleven has yet faced. The Big Spring bunch has debated Sweetwater and other strong teams. A victory or a credible showing will place the Bulldogs among the strongest teams in the state.

Basket Ball News.

The Basket Ball girls have bought new goals, and are preparing for some hard work. The letters are here now, therefore will work all the harder to obtain a letter.

Seniors.

Our class is doing fine. At present we are busily engaged reviewing for the monthly exams. We intend overcoming all the cloudy doubts assembled in our minds as to how we will master the said exams. Of course, we do not want to come out sighing, "We forgot, we forgot"—so we are going to study.

The Home Economics class has devoted the week to planning and preparing various delicious salads.

Our Civic instructor surprised us Tuesday with a nice quiz on a lesson which seemed to be lacking somewhere.

The Physics class is now studying the different forms of mechanical power, which is very interesting.

We had an exceptionally, unusual, beneficial and amusing lesson in English Monday. We exercised our artistic talents in drawing and painting illustrations suiting each thought in Bryant's nature poems. It is whispered that the tots in the primary grades could have done the poem more justice than we with our crude, un-beautiful illustrations.

The four o'clock Solid Geometry class has not met this week, and we are left to believe they are sticking to their resolution.

It is rumored that four of our leading classmates now write certain sentences, whose nature we are left to guess, for pastime. We wonder, but are silent as they do not divulge their secret.

The Seniors showed their interest and appreciation in both the Lyceum number and Mr. Caveness' talk, of last week by assuming their usual places in the Auditorium during the program last Wednesday night.

We are glad to welcome our classmate and friend, Frank Larkin, back to school after his week's convalescence.

Junior Class.

The Juniors are progressing nicely this week in all of their work. We are becoming rather artistic, as we have illustrated "The Cloud" by drawing and painting pictures to represent each stanza.

We have put forth an unusual amount of energy in the study of Geometry, as this is the week that "Determines our Destiny" for the month of November.

Our room is now beautifully decorated with ferns, begonias, and various other plants.

Sophomore Class.

The Sophomores had to illustrate "The Bugle Song" by Tennyson last week. Quite a few of the drawings were very good. Lois and Annette made the highest grades, and when Mr. Caveness saw them, he was so delighted with the one belonging to Lois that he asked if he might keep it. The one Annette drew has been framed and hung on the wall in our room.

The sewing class is progressing rapidly. They will have one more dress to make, and then their work for this term will have been completed.

WHEN DOES!

Goddard sit at his own desk? (when the teachers dismiss him elsewhere.)
Ruth stop chewing gum? (when she is asked to put it either in the wastebasket or the stove.)
Josie stop talking to Margaret? (when Margaret is absent.)

The Bee of Business begin to hum in the ninth grade room? (about two days before examinations.)

Freshman Class

On account of the cold weather on Friday, our picnic was a failure.

Mrs. Tunnell was agreeably surprised Tuesday with a fruit shower. She invited the class to a feast in her room after school.

A meeting of the class officers was called Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Tunnell intends that we learn something about the dictionary. We were informed that we could copy ten pages if we met in her room after school. Everyone is trying not to have to stay in.

Pie Supper at Magnolia

The Parents and Teachers' Association of Magnolia will have a pie supper at the school building on Friday night, November 30, for the benefit of the school. Pies will be auctioned off, and the person getting the lucky number will get a Friendship quilt. A nice box of candy will be awarded to the prettiest girl, and another to the ugliest boy. A fish pond for the children will be provided. Let all the children come and bring their nickles and dimes. A Spanish Orchestra will furnish music for the occasion. Great fun for all.

W. M. U. Reception at Grassland

A reception for the W. M. U. was held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Walker at Grassland last Tuesday afternoon. After quilting two quilts, a plate lunch was served to the eighteen guests present, and a miscellany shower was given to Mrs. Blair. All had a good time.

Methodist Ladies Bazaar

The Woman's Missionary Society, of the Methodist Church, expects to hold a bazaar and food sale Saturday, Dec-15th. Fuller announcement will be made later.

SOUTHWESTERN DIVISION ORIGINATES SYSTEM

Red Cross in Seven States Has Traveling Nutrition Teachers.

The Southwestern Division, American Red Cross, has originated a new form of nutrition instruction which is being copied by other divisions throughout the United States. The Southwestern Division embraces the states of Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

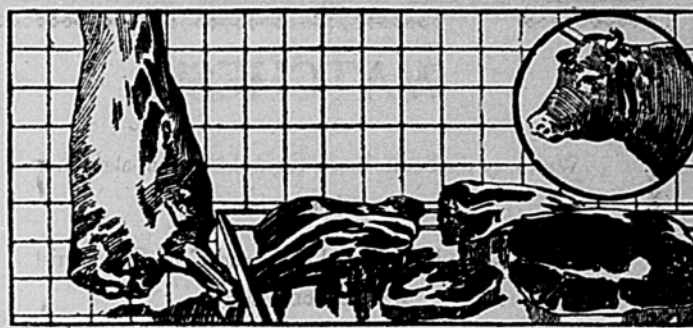

This plan is that of the itinerant nutrition worker. Three years ago two such workers were put into the field by the division. Last year the number was increased to seven and now there are twenty, with a constantly growing demand for more.

The itinerant nutrition worker is the worker who goes from chapter to chapter instructing classes in nutrition, talking to schools on proper food values, addressing Mothers' Clubs and other organizations on the importance of proper diet to correct the results of malnutrition among American children.

Here is the way the itinerant worker organizes her work, according to the Director of Nutrition Service in St. Louis: Under the advice of local physicians who made a school examination, she plans a program for the children suffering from malnutrition. This program consists of instruction to all school children, with special instruction to underweights under the advice of physicians, to mothers of children of pre-school age where these mothers are made to realize the relation of food to growth, to health, to bone development, teeth development and the relation of food to blood, even to heart action. In this mothers are shown pictures of animal experimentation, where growth is stunted from the absence of enough milk in diet, where legs become paralyzed when certain foods containing essential vitamins are kept from diet. Mothers also are given pre-natal instruction in relation of food to the development of the unborn child.

Home visits play a large part in the reaching of mothers and children. The itinerant worker remains in a chapter from two to six months in order to reach the entire community with this instruction. She also instructs local teachers in elementary nutrition and plans with them on how to carry on the work after she has gone. The following year she returns for another short period, checking up on the results of her former visit and then opening new classes.

In the states of the Southwestern Division the itinerant workers serve eleven chapters in Arkansas, three in Kansas, twelve in Missouri, six in Oklahoma and twenty-two in Texas.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual, firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of the News, will be gladly corrected when called to the attention of the editor.

Coolidge and Johnson on the Republican ticket and Underwood and McAdoo on the Democratic ticket promise to make national politics rather warm next year. And there will be others.

If any person in Lynn county happens to be opposed to spending money to build good roads, let him take just one trip down through Garza county following a wet spell. If he is not converted to the good roads idea, he is a hopeless case.

We clip this week from a comment on the Democratic material in sight for the presidency. It won't matter so much this election as the Republican party will succeed itself according to custom, but Mr. McAdoo is a Wilsonian Democrat. All our present centralization of power came under the administration of Mr. Wilson.

He swiped so much of the Socialists platform that he nearly put them out of business. Mr. McAdoo was a party to it all and why should he make a change now? He ought to however, if a thinking man realize that the Republican party went in to power again on the unpopularity of this very policy. As long as the Democratic party shall adhere to the Wilson policy the people of the United States will vote against that party. They got enough of the policy and they will have to live long enough to forget its results before they can ever be gotten to stand for a second, such administration.—Lamesa Reporter.

Strange talk for a Democrat to indulge in, Brother Smith. Just mention "Centralization of Power" to some folks and they go into spasms instantly. Just raise the cry of "States' Rights," whatever the occasion or the provocation, or the lack of provocation, and their hats are high in the air immediately.

Pray tell us, Brother Smith, what "centralization of power" President Wilson brought about that is dangerous to our liberties or that is even distasteful to us southern Democrats? This editor can think of no piece of legislation enacted during the Wilson administration that ragerously or unduly centralized power in Washington. If so, what were southern Democrats doing that they permitted such legislation to be enacted? If we remember correctly, the Texas delegation and practically all southern Democrats in Congress, with a few notable exceptions, stood squarely behind the President in practically all his "policies." A few of them voted against national woman suffrage; and a few, very few, also voted against national prohibition. These are about the only pieces of legislation that Wilson's bitterest enemies can charge with being in violation of the principle of "states' rights" and tending to a "centralization of power" at Washington, and we would call Brother Smith's attention to the fact that Republicans and Democrats alike passed the latter measure over President Wilson's veto. If the national prohibition law tends to centralize power in Washington, then President Wilson is not responsible for it, but good prohibitionists like brother Smith and this editor, who supported national prohibition, are responsible. If national woman suffrage is the example of "centralization of power" that Brother Smith alludes to, does he mean to tell us that he favors the repeal of this law? If not, what are you kicking about, Brother Smith? What law enacted during the Wilson administration is so offensive to you?

One great need of this country is that people should keep their poise. We have too many lop-sided folks. We have too many people possessed of zeal without knowledge. They are the folks that are likely at any time to go off at a tangent, to become worked up over some imaginary danger, to follow off after any "ism" that is shrewdly presented to their tongue, spelling off some kind of an agenda at so much per word, working himself up into a great frenzy as he does so, and there are plenty of people who will fall for his "dope." This year it may be one kind of an "ism," next year it may be another, but whatever the "ism" and whoever the speller may be, he can always count on these same people to take the cork under. And he gets away with their coin. So it has ever been, and so perhaps it will ever be. The human race is just built that way. The only remedy for this kind of thing is poise and common sense; and some of us do not possess any too much of either.

The fact of the business is that this "Centralization of Power" dummy is merely a scarecrow being used by the politicians for purely political purposes, and some good men like Brother Smith fall for it. Get over your grouch, brother Smith, and come back into the fold of the Wilson Democracy, where you belong.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

According to fixed custom, Thursday, November 29, has been proclaimed a day of national Thanksgiving. We are wondering if the day will be properly observed in Tahoka. We are not informed as to what the custom has been here, but we believe that in all the churches, or in one great gathering in some church in the city, there ought to be a great Thanksgiving service. Of all the people in the world, Americans have greatest reason to be thankful. Of all the people in America, we feel that Texans have greatest reason to be thankful. And of all the people in Texas, why should anybody be more thankful than the people of Lynn county? Let us gather together on this day, and out of hearts of genuine gratitude to Him who dispenses all blessings, let us acknowledge to Him the fact that we recognize Him as the Giver of every good and perfect gift and pour out to Him the thanks of our hearts for the multitude of blessings that have been granted unto us during the past twelve months. And let every man and woman, boy and girl, saint and sinner, attend this service, or these services if there is more than one. Let us make Thanksgiving Day a great day, a holy day, a helpful day, in Tahoka and all the surrounding country. What about it, folks?

ILLUMINATIVE.

Electra Star: Driving into the dazzling lights of an oncoming car is dangerous business—dangerous alike to the dazzler and the dazzled. And it is so unnecessary. To dim the lights of a car is so simple and easy a task that it seems that the danger involved by not doing so would compel the motorist approaching another car at night to take the simple precaution against the possibility of accident to his own car as well as the cars of others.

The motorist with bright lights—some who are proud of their illumination drive with four lights blazing—seems to have an idea that the more brilliant his lamps are the more important he is. When a person buys a car that can be lit up like a light-house he sometimes thinks it is a treat to the people to see how he can blaze. No car should be permitted to run at night with more than two lights burning, not counting the tail light. Nor should one be permitted that carries an illumination like a town afire. The State has attempted to regulate these matters and failed, therefore it may have to be made a social matter. Let us make the dazzling gink an outcast, a pariah, an dazdled atom in the social universe. Let's not invite him to any party, let's not send him any campaign literature, let's not solicit him in money-raising enterprises, let's not look at him when he whizzes by in his torch-bearing chariot. The driver who is indifferent to the rights of others on the road ought to be turned out of the church and expelled from the Democratic party. He should be made to herd in with some party not particular as to the quality of its membership. Finally, the ruthless driver should have his car taken away from him and kept out of his sight until he reaches the age of discretion. Some drivers never reach that age, therefore their cars should be permanently divorced from them, like a good wife released from bondage to a homisidal Bluebeard.—State Press in Dallas News.

Lynch Davidson has announced his candidacy for the governorship next year. Lynch Davidson has grown rich in the lumber business, and he promises Texas a business administration. We are wondering if the men who have lumber to buy next year will feel like throwing up their hats for any lumber king. We doubt it.

Box Supper

Box Supper given at the New Hope Baptist church in the Redwine community last Saturday night is reported to have been a great success. The purpose of the supper was to raise money with which to finish paying for the piano. C. A. Briant of Tahoka auctioned off the boxes, the total proceeds of the sales amounting to $205.07, which more than paid the balance due on the piano.

Some spirited contests were had. A box of candy was auctioned off for the prettiest girl. Miss Dovie Henry won the contest. A cake was offered for the ugliest man, and Dan Strather proved to be the popular candidate in this contest.

A large crowd was present and participated in the festivities of the occasion.

J. M. Scott, who recently removed into the New Home community from Anderson county, was in the News office Tuesday and says that he is well pleased with this country. He says the boll weevil have about put the farmers out of business down in East Texas and that many farmers there are anxious to come west. Some of them are not financially able to do so. Fortunate is the man who can acquire a home in Lynn county.

Roy Dubbins of Roscoe was here Saturday visiting his sister, Mrs. G. M. Stewart, and took occasion to drop into the News office. The editor happened to be out, but the office force learned that he agrees with everybody else who sees Tahoka and Lynn county—a nice little city in the heart of a great country.

A. J. Stricklin, editor of the Terry County Herald, and his good wife were Tahoka visitors Saturday and made a pleasant call at the News office.

Rev. J. F. Curry, Rev. and Mrs. J. M. Doshier, Mrs. G. E. Lockhart, and Mrs. J. H. Edwards, attended the Baptist General Convention of Texas in session at Galveston last week. All the party returning Monday afternoon except Rev. and Mrs. Doshier, who stopped over in Waco a day and arrived home Tuesday afternoon. All report a great convention and a most glorious time.

W. M. Lee and S. D. Sanders attended Federal court at Amarillo as jurors last week. Mr. Lee reports that every contested case tried resulted in a "hung jury." There were many pleas of guilty for bootlegging, however, most of them from the oil fields of Stephens county.

Rev. W. L. Stewart of Wilson, an old-time friend of the editor, dropped into our sanctum Monday just to pass a pleasant hour and to see that we keep things going alright in the News office. Brother Stewart has several pastorates on the south plains and he too thinks this a wonderful country. Tahoka, he believes, has a very bright future.

"Men are every now and then put, by the complexity of human affairs, into strange situations; but justice is the same, let the judge be in what situation he will."—Speech on "Candor With America."

We think at once of that ruler of ancient Sparta, who announced that the next man who violated a certain law should be put to death, and the first violator to be brought before him was his only son. The people pleaded with him not to break his own heart by sentencing his son, for the ruler was much loved and respected by his countrymen. He felt, however, as did Burke that "justice is the same, let the judge be in whatever situation he will." He reasoned that if the offender had not been his son, he would have been the son of some one else who would have loved him just as dearly, and that, therefore, the question of affection could not be considered.

Modern judges are rarely called upon to sentence their own sons; but they are frequently called upon to sentence their own ambitions. Our present system of electing judges makes it highly improbable that a judge who offends an important pe-tical bias or a strong organization will ever advance far in his profession. Some years ago, for example, there was a great scandal in one of our states about the spending of state money. The so-called graft cases were tried before a judge who refused to be influenced by anything except the evidence, and the millionaire grafters were found guilty. Those who did not escape by suicide were sent to the penitentiary. These men were friends of the strongest political boss then living. When that judge was nominated for a place in the Supreme court of his state he was defeated for election, although all the state, with the exception of two cities, voted for him.

When a judge lets himself be influenced by the strange situation in which he finds himself, we may be pretty sure to hear of the tyranny of the law rather than of the justice of the law. Bacon, an eminent authority on the subject of judicature, if ever there were one, says: "One foul sentence doth more hurt than many foul examples. For these do but corrupt the stream; the other corrupteth the fountain."

And again: "A judge ought to prepare his way to a just sentence, as God teach to prepare his way, by praising valleys and taking down hills; so when there appeareth on either side an high hand, violent prosecution, cunning advantage taken, combination, power, great counsel, then is the virtue of a judge seen, to make inequality equal; that he may plant his judgment as upon an even ground."

JUNIOR RED CROSS BROADENS SCOPE OF SCHOOL WORK

School Children of America Establish Correspondence With Schools in Other Countries.

An opportunity to greatly broaden and enlarge the scope of work of the school children of America which was opened by the action of the last annual convention of the National Educational Association in San Francisco, is being developed by the Junior Red Cross of America. A resolution endorsing in very positive terms the international school correspondence of the Junior American Red Cross and urging schools in this country to develop this correspondence as far as and as thoroughly as possible, was passed by the Association, and educators of America now are co-operating in the work.

A number of schools in America on their own initiative already have organized chapters of the Junior Red Cross and established correspondence with schools in Albania, Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, France, Holland, Hungary, Italy, Japan-Slavia, Poland, Rumania, Scotland, Switzerland, South Africa and New Zealand. In some cases, they are getting most interesting replies. In a few instances such as Alaska, Hawaii, the Philippines, Porto Rico and the Virgin Islands, all of which are American dependencies, there is an exchange of correspondence material which is very helpful in widening the letters going to the foreign children.

This work, so far, has been carried on chiefly in the primary and intermediate grades of the public, parochial and private schools where Junior Red Cross chapters have been organized, but all grades may participate in the preparation of the material, according to the instructions sent out by the Junior Red Cross Service in Washington, and they include class letters, illustrated or not, snapshots and post-cards; maps, drawings, photographs, descriptions of interiors of homes and schools, types of dress, games, industries and industrial processes, cutouts, hand work—in fact, almost anything that one set of children is interested in, because it is regarded as a certainty that if children of one nation find something interesting, children of another nation, because they are children, will be interested in that same thing.

Portfolios are a good part of the correspondence and such portfolios give motive for study and description of America and American life on the part of the senders while they stimulate the recipients to a like interest in the affairs and happenings in their own country. The benefit thereof is manifold. Children who have geography find their interest in this dry study awakened by wanting to know just where their letters are going. History, also disinterested study, is made a pleasant pastime for the same reason, and languages become absorbingly interesting because the American children want to know something about the difference in the words which they use and those which their correspondents across the sea use to mean the same thing.

Educationally, all this is of high value, in the opinion of American educators. Internationally, it is of still greater value, in the opinion of those who are promoting the undertaking, because it definitely promotes international understanding and friendship and leads, therefore, into international peace. To the school, the teacher and the community, it presents a new line of endeavor and a new opportunity for broadening the viewpoint. On the whole, educators all over the country believe that it is the longest step forward for international understanding which has been taken in many years.

BABIES GET $2.00 PRIZE WHILE PIGS BRING $40
Babies amount to little in some parts of the United States according to the following report of a Red Cross public health nurse which has been presented to the Director of Nursing Service of the Southwestern Division:
"I was invited to be a judge at a baby show held at one of the county fairs. My chairman went with me and I think we both got the surprise of our lives, something I shall never forget. We arrived at noon. After dinner we were taken to the fair grounds, and eventually introduced to an elderly gentleman (probation officer) who directed us to what was called Floral Hall. Then we discovered that our booth was in an annex. We were invited into a room, which was dusty and full of cobwebs, had a broken window, one long bench with its legs directed east and west, an old scale with the glass broken off, a shopping basket about a foot and a half long which caught every baby in the nape of the neck and one tiny teddy bear blanket. That was the equipment for the baby show. I sent in a hurry call to a doctor's office for some sheets, which helped a little. We weighed 35 children and awarded ribbons, and after looking through the catalogue, discovered that $2.00 was to be the first prize for the babies, while $40.00 was the first prize for the pigs."

IMPROVED UNGRICH INTERNATIONAL Sunday School Lesson

By REV. P. R. FLETCHER, D. D., Professor of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, 1212 Moody Boulevard, Chicago, Ill.

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 25

CHRISTIANS CALLED TO BE MISSIONARIES

LESSON TEXT—John 17:18. MATTHEW 28:19-20. ACTS 1:8. GOLDEN TEXT—Go ye therefore and teach all nations.—MATTHEW 28:19. PRIMARY TOPIC—Telling Everyone About Jesus. INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—Our Missionary Work. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Working Together With Christ. TALKING POINTS AND ADULT TOPIC—WANT-WIDE WITNESSING FOR CHRIST.

I. Sent by Christ (John 17:18). Christ was sent into the world to save it. Just as He was sent, so He sends us. Just as He was obedient to His Father's command, so we should be to His command. That this might be possible Christ set apart himself, and that the disciples might be sent through the truth of God's Word. That which fits the one called to represent Christ is the knowledge of God's holy Word.

II. The Great Commission (Matt. 28:19-20). At an appointed meeting place in Galilee on a mountain side, Jesus appeared before the disciples and gave this great commission.

1. His Claim of Authority (v. 18). He does not claim to be merely the King of the Jews, but King of Kings and Lord of Lords. He stands clothed with the authority and power of the universe. Before there will be any great conquest about evangelizing the world there must be an understanding of the power and might of Jesus Christ as Lord. The Lord must and shall be obeyed.

2. The Obligation Imposed (v. 19, 20). They are to make disciples of all nations. The obligation of the Christian is not merely to preach the gospel to the Jews, but to all the nations. Those who accept Christ as Savior and Lord are to be baptized in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost. By this means they openly acknowledge their allegiance to Jesus Christ as their divine Lord. To secure public approval of loyalty to Christ is important. It strengthens the character of the confessor. They are also to be instructed to render obedience to all the commandments and requirements of the divine Lord.

3. The Divine Presence Promised (v. 20). To assure the disciples of the success of their undertaking, Jesus guarantees His presence at all times and under all circumstances. That which gives courage and encouragement to the missionary today is the assurance of the unfailing promise of the Lord Jesus Christ.

III. The Missionary Program (Acts 1:8). It is essential that the missionary program be understood. The work incumbent upon the church is to witness of Christ's gracious salvation to all the nations. After this is done there will follow the preaching of the gospel of the kingdom by converted Israelites. This was not clear to the disciples, therefore they put the question, "What then at this time restore the kingdom of Israel?" They were right in thinking that the kingdom will be restored. The Davidic kingdom shall be established, but not till after the gospel of the grace of God is preached and the body of Christ is completed. Its realization is certain, but the time is unknown. Times and seasons are in the hands of God. The program which the disciples are to carry out in this present time is witnessing for Christ.

1. In Jerusalem (v. 8). This was done by the Twelve immediately following Pentecost.

2. In Judea and Samaria (v. 8). This was done by the disciples after the hands of the persecutors were laid on them. Not only the Twelve but many others took part in this.

3. Unto the Uttermost Parts of the Earth. Beginning with the first foreign missionary enterprise this work has been carried on with varying degrees of success. . . . the present time.

BIRD ENTOMBED BY MARTINS

Sparrow That Had Grabbed Martin's Nest Is Made the Victim of Dire Revenge.

An English ornithologist, G. Garrett, makes a specialty of observing the manners and methods followed by birds. He recently recalled the story of a sparrow which, finding a newly built martin's nest, took "possession" in the absence of the owner. The martin, seeing the usurper, called for help and soon a thousand martins came, at "full speed," to attack the sparrow; but the latter was invulnerable. After a quarter of an hour's conflict all the martins disappeared. The sparrow thought he had got the better, and the spectators judged that the martins had abandoned their undertaking.

Not in the least! They immediately returned to the charge, and, each of them having procured a little of the tempered earth with which they make their nests, they all at once fell upon the sparrow and inclosed him in the nest to perish there, although they could not drive him out.

CITIZENS AID IN CHILD WELFARE AND FLOOD RELIEF

Red Cross Rendered Much Volunteer Assistance in Southwestern Division.

Volunteer work in the Southwestern Division, American Red Cross, has been unusually active during the last year, according to reports which have come into the division office in St. Louis recently. The volunteer committee of the Port Arthur, Texas, chapter is regarded as one of the mainstays of the service which the chapter at Port Arthur renders the community. Through this committee garments are collected, sorted and kept in order to be used whenever needed. In Independence, Kansas, the volunteer committee of the Red Cross chapter has conducted better baby contests and children's clinics with marked success.

Volunteers in the six towns of Texas County, Oklahoma, also have been holding child welfare clinics and conferences and have been able to accomplish much good towards the better health of the community by calling the parents' attention to slight physical defects of their children, which corrected now amount to nothing but which if permitted to run on might become serious for the child.

In Little Rock, Arkansas, dancers have been able to play an important part in reconstructing the impaired brains and nerves of the patients in the U. S. Veterans' Hospital No. 78 in that city, by teaching men to dance and thus assisting the other occupational therapy work in stimulating the dormant mental faculties of the veterans.

Volunteer members of three chapters in the Southwestern Division also have had ample opportunity to demonstrate their enthusiasm in the administering of flood relief during the last summer and fall. Thirty-four hundred dollars was raised by the Winfield, Kansas, chapter to take care of the recent victims of the floods of the Walnut and Arkansas rivers. At Ft. Smith, Arkansas, the Sebastian County chapter handled the acute needs of the refugees of the floods of last June in the district between the Arkansas and Poteau rivers, and at Tulsa, Oklahoma, volunteer Red Cross workers conducted relief headquarters where 148 persons were fed, clothed and furnished with sleeping quarters for six days until the water subsided sufficiently for them to return to their homes.

RED CROSS SERVES AT INTERNATIONAL AIR MEET

Ambulances, Nurses and Physicians on Duty for First-Aid Work.

That the Red Cross never overlooks an opportunity for service was evidenced in the recent International Air Meet in St. Louis when aviators from all over the world, representing both military and civic organizations, competed for world famous trophies. With a daily attendance of close to 100,000 in the way of spectators, and a literal army of flyers, mechanics, attendants, laborers and the necessary personnel of such a gigantic undertaking, there was real work to be done by the Red Cross.

A first-aid station was established on the field under the direction of one of the Field Directors of the Southwestern Division of the Red Cross, and ambulances with nurses and physicians were on duty all day. A territory of 178 acres had to be covered and ambulances had to be ready on instant call in case of an accident to the flyers, so that a real field service was maintained, with first-aid dressing station and similar activities.

The canteen was under the direction of the Women's Overseas League of St. Louis, and while the service of the first-aid station and its personnel was given free to the public, the canteen charged for its service and the money thus raised was used for the disabled members of the league.

The St. Louis Chapter of the American Red Cross also furnished motor cars and other transportation to bring the World War veterans from local hospitals to the field to witness the flying.

Although the percentage of accidents and other casualties was remarkably small there were enough of them to keep the Red Cross workers constantly busy for the entire week of the meet, and to gain the thanks not only of the individuals who were given attention but of the officials of the meet and the representatives of the United States and other governments taking part in the contest.

ARKANSANS ESTABLISH CORRECT WEIGHT RECORD

More than 1,500 men, women and children had been weighed and measured for health at the Red Cross booth at the Washington County fair held at Fayetteville, Arkansas. Best records for proper weight for age and height were found between the ages of 20 and 30, and astonishingly few were found to be over or under weight.

Washington County people made a remarkable showing in the matter of health as indicated by weight and measurement, according to experts who have looked over the records. Children between the ages of 8 and 9 were especially satisfactory in their weight and measurement. All persons showing defects in weight were given information as how to correct them.

GOLDEN DAYS OF JEW'S HARP

Old Musical Instrument Was at One Time Played by the Virtuoso Before Kings.

That simple and striking little melodic instrument, the Jew's harp, is seldom seen today. It consists of a small iron frame to be held between the teeth, and a spring to be vibrated by the forefinger. The thing looks like a patent folding corkscrew. But the range, power, purity and beauty of tone that a skilled player can extract from this miserable wisp of metal seem almost miraculous. He does it by modifying the size of his oral cavity to produce the various upper harmonics of the low fundamental tone given off by the vibrating spring.

This instrument has a variety of names, such as buzzing iron and mouth drum. The word Jew's harp itself is supposed to be a corruption of "Jaw's harp." I suppose if the thing were still on the map today we might be calling it jazz harp.

Though, along with the tin whistle, it is now looked upon a little better than a child's toy, the Jew's harp has enjoyed its vogue.

A century ago it was regarded as a highbrow instrument, fit for the virtuoso capable of performing the most exalted music to the most exalted audience, says Robert Schaffer.

This surprising little musical corkscrew has even attained the dignity of a biographical literature. In the New York public library I stumbled upon a fascinating and amusing book called "A Sketch of the Life of C. Eulenstein, the Celebrated Performer on the Jew's Harp."

Alas, the constant vibration of the "buzzing iron" had affected the teeth of our artist so unfavorably that they began to break off in rapid succession! The climax of his fame and misfortune came at a concert at Clifton where, as he played the top note of his most prodigious fantasia, his one remaining tooth broke off with a loud report, thus breaking off as well his career as the world's greatest Jew's harpist.

Soon after this the Jew's harp fell from its proud eminence.—Culler's Weekly.

Dwellers on Roof of World.

Man's loftiest abode is the empire of Ladakh, a kingdom sealed by the snows of the high Himalayas. "Midway between Chinese Tibet, Russian Turkestan and British India, a half a thousand miles behind the world's tallest barrier, occupying the loftiest inhabited and cultivated areas in the world, lies the mystic, subjugated empire of Ladakh. Ladakh boasts the only celestial abode of temporal man. Its population of good-humored, prosperous people thrives between altitudes of 12,000 and 15,000 feet, while many migratory tribes shift between 15,000 and 18,000. Her elaborately-colored and grotesque-figured mountains attain the ethereal height of 28,000 feet, the plateaus of which constitute the peak of worldly habitation."—Travel Magazine.

Prize Ruffian.

A most remarkable example of a dictator-tyrant was Juan Rosas, who, for 17 years, from 1835 to 1852, ruled the Argentine republic as an unchallenged despot. Rosas was born in 1793, and began life as a gaucho. He seized supreme power in 1835, and is credited with having put 25,000 people to death. The "Nero of South America" was ably backed up by his seconds-in-command, Oribe and Urquiza, two most consummate scoundrels. Rosas took refuge in the British legation and, for some reason, he was shipped to England on H. M. S. Locust. He settled down at Southampton where he died in 1877, after 25 years' peaceful residence. He was a peculiarly bloodthirsty scoundrel.

He Didn't Stay Dead.

A newspaper editor had spread himself considerably in a touching obituary extolling the virtues of a popular but none too saintly townsman who was reported dead.

Later the report was found to be false. So the next issue of the paper bore the statement of correction:

"We learned after going to press that Mr. Jones was well and alive as usual. It is therefore with great pleasure that we renounce what we said about him in our obituary yesterday."—Everybody's.

Depends on Direction.

The pale-looking passenger had shown signs of nervousness throughout the voyage.

Approaching the captain one day he asked: "How far are we from land, captain?"

"Oh, about three miles," replied that official.

"Only three miles?" said the passenger. "Then it's funny we can't see it."

"Oh," returned the skipper, "that's because the water isn't clear enough."

At Last!

"My dear," said the old man tenderly, "today is our diamond wedding and I have a little surprise for you!"

"Yes?" said the silver-haired wife. He took her hand in his.

"You see this engagement ring I gave you seventy-six years ago?"

"Yes?" said the expectant old lady.

"Well, I paid the final installment on it today and I am proud to announce that it is now altogether yours!"

Now Senate Lacks Octogenarian.

The death of Senator William P. Dillingham of Vermont removes from the senate rolls the last octogenarian. And on March 4, when congress adjourned, there were three.

Senator Page, also of Vermont, who was eighty last January, retired on that date.

Knute Nelson of Minnesota, three weeks younger than Page, died in May on his way from Washington to his home.

And Dillingham, midway in his eightieth year, died early in July.

Removal of these octogenarians from the senate leaves Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, now one month past seventy-nine, the oldest member. Next comes LeBaron Colt of Rhode Island, seventy-seven; then Albert B. Cummins of Iowa, a youngster of seventy-three, third; Lodge of Massachusetts, three months younger than Cummins, fourth.

Denmark's Alphabetical War.

There is a battle of the big and little letters now raging in Denmark. The Danish language, like the German, has hitherto adhered to the Middle-age practice of spelling its nouns with capital letters, but a progressive movement of growing strength demands the substitution of the little letters in conformity with English, French and other languages. The demand has aroused the fury of the conservative elements.

Now Minister of Education Appel has determined to introduce the small-letter practice in the schools. As in the Bolshevik reform of the Russian orthography and the Bulgarian changes, the big letter and the small letter have become symbols of political opinion.

TRANSFUSE OWN BLOOD TO 2

Eastern Physicians Save the Lives of Two Patients by Novel Operations.

Lives of two patients who would otherwise have succumbed from internal hemorrhage were saved by draining off their own blood and reinjecting it, in a rare operation, made at the New Haven hospital, according to a dispatch to the New York World.

One of the remarkable transfusion operations was performed on a woman by the staff in obstetrics. The other was by the surgical staff, upon a man apparently mortally injured in an automobile accident.

The woman, according to the announcement, suffered from a severe abdominal hemorrhage from which patients rarely recover. Quick work was required by the obstetrical staff. The hospital blood expert was summoned the blood drawn from the abdominal cavity, the wounded vessels tied and the blood almost immediately filtered and re injected into the dying woman's veins. The effect was almost instantaneous.

An hour afterward the male victim of the automobile accident was brought to the hospital in an ambulance with a punctured liver, resulting in abdominal hemorrhage. An operation was decided upon. The wound in the liver was mended by the use of rubber, a familiar operation.

The blood was then drawn from the abdominal cavity and re injected to the man's veins after filtration. In both cases the citrate method was used, that is, citrate was added to the blood to prevent coagulation.

The Canary's Airing. George, age five, is a pretty sharp wagger and picks up much of the that goes the rounds. He was interested last summer in his brother's canary and when the bird came out on the porch on the warm days often stood beside the cage and asked various questions as to habits generally. One of his questions was, "Why do you put the outdoors?" He appeared satisfied when told that it was to give the fresh air.

Several days ago George dropped into neighbor's house. Spying the bird he said he guessed it was too hot to put the singer outside now, when told that his guess was correct for a minute, and then well, I suppose you'll give him again next summer."

Sufficient Reason. I wonder why she is so fond of the blue?—Good reason. She looks any sport costume.

Somewhat Mixed. The justice of the peace in a town in Ohio, in pursuance of his duties, had to hear and judge the cases that were brought before him and also to perform occasional marriage ceremonies. He found it difficult to disassociate the various functions of his office.

Everything had gone smoothly until he had asked one bride: "Do you take this man to be your husband?" The bride nodded emphatically. "And you, accused," said the justice, turning to the bridegroom, "what have you to say in your defense?"

Japanese Editors Poorly Paid. Japanese newspaper men work for small salaries, but efforts are being made by prosperous newspapers in Osaka to elevate the standard.

The Osaka Mainichi, which has a daily circulation of about 800,000, has made substantial increase in its existing scale of salaries. Together with a bonus distributed twice a year, actual pay is two to three times the specified salary.

MY WAS IN A BAD FIX FROM NERVOUS INDIGESTION

Miss.—"I had, for a year or more, nervous indigestion, or some form of trouble," says Mrs. Alonzo Clayton, this city. "The trouble at that time seemed to me. I would suffer until I got so that I wanted to get down on the floor. I felt like I could tear my hair out, and night after night, I would lie in bed, and nothing for a laxative, and I kept up nightly. My side ached. I looked awful. My skin was cracked and spotted. I would have to get up and wash my hands and arms, and the flesh would peel off. I had to get a Birthday Almanac, and my husband would try to read it to me, which I did. I took a few doses. I felt much better. My husband made a good, warm drink for me. I took it that way. Soon I found that nervous, tight feeling was going, as was the pain in my side. I found I did not have to take it every night. Soon, after a few weeks, I could leave it off for a week or so, and I did not suffer with constipation. . . I gained flesh. I have a good color, and believe it was a stubborn liver, and that Black-Draught did the work.

"I went to my mother's (Mrs. Deeters) one day, and she wasn't well at all. . . I told her we'd try Black-Draught. We did, and now she keeps it to take after eating. It certainly helped her, and we neither will be without it in our homes. It is so simple, and the dose can be regulated as the case may be. We use small doses after meals for indigestion, and larger doses for headache or bad liver."

Ford Trucks Are Bought On Performance Records

If you were to ask a hundred—or a thousand—Ford truck owners why they use Ford trucks, in preference to all others, they would likely say, "Because the Ford stands up."

They know that under the endless grind of daily service the Ford stays on the job month in and month out, with very little mechanical care, and with practically no expense for repairs or replacements.

They would emphasize the work this truck does, not its initial cost.

Ford Trucks can be bought through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.

O'DONNELL NEWS

(From the O'Donnell Index.)

The first run by the new Miller-Bowlin gin was made Thursday morning, when two bales were turned out. Messrs. Miller and Bowlin are home men and are experienced in the gin business. They intend to install another battery of saws in time for next season, when it will more than tax the capacity of the three gins now in operation in O'Donnell to take care of the crop.

The contract for the erection of a modern brick home for the First State Bank of O'Donnell has been let by the directors of this thriving institution and the work on the foundation will be under way as soon as the material can be placed on the ground. The building will be of brick and made as near fire-proof as is possible, 25 by 60 feet in dimensions, and will occupy the lot on the corner of Main and Depot streets, and will be one story in height. To keep pace with the growing demands of O'Donnell and its trade territory, the directors for the bank have voted to increase the capital stock of the institution from its already capitalization of $10,000 to $21,000, all the stock having already been subscribed by home people.

G. W. Lightfoot, who ranches near Pride, twelve miles west of town, was here Wednesday on business. He says that new people are coming in every day and that during the past two weeks he has sold about $48,000 worth of good Lynn county soil to real dirt farmers, who will put in crops next year.

J. R. Sanders arrived with his family and car of furniture first of the week from Knox City. After meeting with many vexations and disappointing delays in the erection of his theatre, the inside work is nearing completion. The building will practically be finished and ready for business next week.

TAHOKA,

DON'T FORGET THE ORPHANS.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 22.—Charles L. Sanger, State Chairman for Near East Relief, incorporated by special act of Congress for the relief of starving and homeless children of the Near East, announced at State Headquarters here today the appointment of Harry T. McBroom, as State Director of the work. Mr. McBroom will take up his duties in the State immediately.

"With the need so poignant for funds for purchasing food for the 60,000 orphaned children in the Near East orphanage, our workers in Texas are fortunate in having secured the services of Mr. McBroom to direct our efforts in this State," Mr. Sanger said.

Mr. McBroom has filled the position of State Director for Alabama for the organization.

Mr. McBroom is not a stranger in this State, having formerly resided in Waco, where he spent his boyhood days. His family, however, moved to Mobile, Alabama, about eighteen years ago, where he was later married. His wife and five children accompany him to Texas where they will make their future home.

The state office of Near East Relief is located at 611 Slaughter Bldg., Dallas. The State Treasurer is C. W. Belew of the Mercantile Bank & Trust Company of this city.

GREAT INDUSTRIAL MOVEMENTS

Probably the greatest movements ever inaugurated in Our Country for stabilizing finance and utility properties are what are known as the establishment of labor banks and customer ownership of utilities.

In many of the large cities, large labor organizations have become controlling stockholders in national banks and members of unions not only own shares but are swelling the deposits into millions.

On the other line, the customer ownership of utilities, starting in June, 1914, has been extended to 1,500,000 citizen stockholders in electricity, telephone and gas corporations.

This large number of individuals not only share in the dividend and interest distribution of these large utility and public service organizations, but have invested $300,000,000 this year in new securities.

Customer ownership financing has been the salvation of these public industries, supplying the new capital necessary for extensions and improvements.

Some of the great railroad companies of Our Country like the Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Santa Fe have extended their lists of stockholders in the same direction, selling their common stock to the men and women on their payrolls on the installment plan.

By thus welding the interests of their employes, customers and the general public as a link in their financial existence, there is developing an asset of wonderful value, and a Reverse Action.

Little Esther was hardly more than a baby, but she objected when bedtime came around, as children will. Finally, father offered to lie down on the bed until she was asleep, and for a while everything was quiet.

The minutes passed—ten, fifteen, twenty, and mother, sitting in the parlor, wondered why father didn't return. She continued her sewing, however, and presently the silence was broken by the pft-pat of naked feet. Next moment Esther appeared in the doorway, her tiny fingers raised for silence.
