Plans have been completed for the 1966 Bailey County Junior Livestock show and dates set for March 10, 11 and 12. County Agent J. K. Adams announced Saturday.

Funds for premiums are provided by the United Fund, $30.25.

The show, as in past years, will be limited to 4-H and FFA boys and girls "who are supervised by the county agent or vocational agricultural teachers of Bailey county and attending school in Bailey County.

The junior show, one of the high spots of the 4-H and FFA year, is growing in numbers each year, and an outstanding show is assured for the 1966 event, sponsors said. Judging is slated for March 11, starting at 1:30 p.m.

Adams said 100 boys and girls will participate in the 1966 event, and he looks for 35 calves, 120 hogs and 15 lambs to compete.

Richland Hills P-TA will meet tomorrow at 4 p.m. in the cafeteria. Program will include a panel discussion under direction of Tomie Middlebrooks on the subject, "The P-TA Co-operators With Youth-Serving Groups". Members will be Alex Williams, Roy Dyer, Doris Green and Olin Burrows, according to Mrs. Neal Dillman, publicity director.

Schools will be dismissed "earlier than usual" next Friday afternoon to permit pupils and teachers to attend the Dumas - Muleshoe football game. Muleshoe's opening conference game, at 7:30 in Dumas.

Golfers who would like to know what their game looks like, what kind of ball to use, what clubs, etc., can find the answer to those questions tomorrow when an electronic "pro golf lab" is set up at the Muleshoe Country Club by Chuck Lewis of the pro golf association. Skippy Cates, Muleshoe pro, said all members are invited to use the services of the lab between 11 o'clock Monday morning and dark.

Because ballots have not yet arrived from the state's absentee balloting on 19 amendments to be placed before the voters Nov. 2, will not start until Tuesday, County officials said Saturday.

Meantime, interest in the election seemed to be "building up" one county official said, "and speakers were taking to the stump to talk for the amendments, especially those dealing with school issues."

Early Balloting Starts Tuesday

Additional Bailey County communities may be eligible for federal community improvement Home Administration under broadened FHA services, Clinton Kennedy, Bailey county FFA manager, said Saturday.

The service is similar to that provided Maple community this year, a $78,000 water works program, financed by FH, on a 40-year loan.

"If such communities as Encinas, Bula, Needmore or possibly Progress should want to put in water and sewer systems, FHA funds probably could make this possible," the FFA official here explained.

He said Needmore already has shown interest in such a program.

Kennedy said private investors will provide the bulk of the funds for the new FHA program on an insured basis through USDA's Farmers Home Administration. The new legislation was signed into law Oct. 7 by President Johnson.

L. J. Cappimann states FFA director pointed out these features of the new FHA law:

- authorizes an increase Farmers Home Administration from $200 to $450 million in the loans ability to insure loans in any one year for rural community facilities including water supply and waste disposal systems, and for the development and purchase of family farms.
- provides, for the first time, this type of credit for rural waste disposal systems.
- authorizes, for the first time, this type of credit for rural waste disposal systems.

- authorizes, for the first time, grants to supplement this type of credit for rural water and waste disposal systems. Grant authority may not exceed 50 percent of the construction of a project nor a total of $50 million a year.
- authorizes for the first time, grants totaling $5 million a year for comprehensive planning of water and sewage systems.
- increases from 2500 to 5500 the size of towns eligible for such assistance.
- increases from $1 to $4 million the maximum size of a loan or a combination loan and grant for water supply or waste disposal systems.

Feed Lot Plant Here To Expand; Commercial Sheep Units Added

ONCE A THOROUGHFARE — This calm scene is now a between-schools crossing and a parking place for buses, readying for the return trip. This picture was made on Ave F between senior and junior high schools, a two - block strip now closed from 8 until 4 o'clock each school day. Superintendent Neal Dillman says the plan, a safety measure for the 1100 boys and girls in the two schools, "is working out just fine." Junior high pupils cross the street many times each day - for band, chorus, cafeteria and athletics. (Journal Photo)

New Feed Lot Is First Sheep Plant In Area

Expansion of King Feed lots west of Muleshoe to include a 15,000-head lamb feed lot, was announced Saturday by H. D. King, who said the new unit, first of its kind in this immediate area, will be in operation before the end of the year.

The new units, which will accommodate 15,000 head of lambs at a time of 30,000 annually, will include eight sheds and a number of "shades," and will be marked by nearly a mile of feed troughs.

King pointed to the new units as an example of "Muleshoe's industrial expansion, being promoted at this time by a cr- minded community's eager to bring new industry to the Muleshoe region."

(A steering committee headed by James Cox, already has launched an industrial program for the Muleshoe area, and Harry W. Clark, executive director of the Texas Industrial Committee, appeared before the governing body to stress the need for industrial expansion.)

King said sheep-feeding units will provide an additional outlet for surplus grain and hay. "We found the sheep will eat 14,600,000 pounds of feed a year, and this will be made up mostly of area grain and hay," King explained.

The majority of the lambs will originate in Texas - principally in the San Angelo and Fort Stockton areas, "West Texas' most productive sheep area."

Some will be marketed in Texas as fat stock, but the majority will be sold in the north, and will be slaughtered mostly in Denver, the nation's sheep killing area.

King feed lots have been one of west Texas' biggest operations since 1960, feeding cattle exclusively for a mule packer. (See PLANT Page 5)

Four Breakfasts Set For Week As UF Opens All-Out Campaign For $13,500

Four breakfasts on a bang-bang schedule, will advance the Muleshoe Area United Fund campaign through its final "meeting stage" this week as the UF buckles down to the serious business of gathering $13,500.

Gil Lamb, campaign chairman, said the breakfasts will be held for these divisions: Advance, professional groups, commercial, schools and employees. One breakfast - that for rural workers - was held this past week at Corral Drive.

Two groups will meet at Paul's Restaurant, commercial division workers will meet at 6:30 for advance and professional workers. Johnny Shelton is chairman of the advance group, and Robert Alford heads the professional section. Solicitors for the two groups also will be on hand for the kick-off breakfast.

Tuesday morning, also at Paul's Restaurant, commercial division workers will meet at 6:30 with Loyd Murray as general chairman.

Then on Wednesday morning at 7 o'clock at the Dinner Bell Cafe, school division workers will get together with Neal Dillman as chairman. The final breakfast will be held at Paul's at 6:30 Thursday morning, the employees division with Kenneth Henry as chairman.

Lamb also will be present, and Mrs. Pat Bobo, vice-president of UF, will represent the officers.

First breakfast was held last Tuesday morning at the Corral when rural workers got together and outlined their campaign. Solicitors, Lamb says, already are at work in all the rural areas.

Atending that initial meeting were Mrs. David Stovall Jr., Bill St. Clair, Mrs. Bill Milby, Bernard Phelps, Mrs. Clifford Mardis, J. G. Arm, Mrs. Mack Hall, Ernest Martin, M. H. Laney, Mrs. Thurman White. (See UF Page 5)

Schools Study U.S. Aid, Delay Action

Because "of the tremendous paper work which must be done in order to qualify," Muleshoe schools have delayed action so far on Title I and Title II federal school funds, Neal Dillman, superintendent, said Saturday.

He made a short report on the program at this past week's board meeting, but said compliance rules had been amended "even before we could send in our original papers."

The superintendent said he did not know whether the school is entitled to participate in the particular programs mentioned. Minutes of the board meeting showed: "No action taken; tabled for future consideration."

Hereford school board, by a 4-1 vote, approved a motion to

County Communities May Get Water Works By New FHA Plan

Additional Bailey County communities may be eligible for federal community improvement Home Administration under broadened FHA services, Clinton Kennedy, Bailey county FFA manager, said Saturday.

Truck Backfires, Corn Field Burns

A truck, operating with a combine, backfired Thursday afternoon to set off a corn field blaze on the Bill Jim St. Clair farm near Clay's Corner, an unincorporated fire out.

Fire Chief Earl Ladd Sr. made no estimate of the damage, but he estimated the area covered by the blaze at 26 acres. The land was part of an 80-acre field of corn,

Loan Price Of 21 Cents, 12.5 Percent Acreage Reduction Feature New Cotton Bill

A mandatory cut of 12.5 percent in acreage and a 21-cent-per-pound loan price for the 1966 crop, plus a loan price of not more than 90 percent of the "estimated" world price for each of the remaining years, are two of the main features of the new cotton bill.

This was pointed out this week by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., in a 12-point summary of the cotton portion of the omnibus farm bill.

"As nearly as can be determined before the printed version of the complete bill is available, "the new cotton bill has 12 major points, says P. C. G., which farmers can "look for in 1966, 1967, 1968 and 1969."

Here are the points:

1. A loan price of 21 cents per pound on Middling-inch cotton at average location in 1966, and a loan price of no more than 80 percent of "estimated" world price for each of the remaining three years.

2. A mandatory 12.5 percent acreage reduction for any producer wishing to participate in the program.
2. Two kinds of direct compensatory payments:
  - A. Price support payments, in 1966, of 9.42 cents per pound on projected yield from domestic allotment (65 percent of effective allotment). After 1966 the amount of this payment will be set by the Secretary, but the combined loan value plus the price support payment must equal 65 percent of parity on 87.5 percent of effective allotment. Parity is now 41.76 cents per pound, and is not likely to go down. So, if the Secretary reduces the loan price he will be obligated to raise the support payment.

- B. Acreage diversion payments, in 1966, of 10.5 percent per pound on projected yield from diverted acres. After 1966 the diversion payment, too, will be set by the Secretary, but cannot be less than 25 percent of parity. Producers each year will be allowed to divert anywhere from the mandatory 12.5 percent up to 35 percent of effective allotment.
4. One half of direct payments may be made at the time the producer signs up to participate in the program. The other half will be made at the Secretary's discretion.
5. Projected yield will be determined by means of a moving average adjusted to reflect trends and uncontrollable circumstances, but it is not specified how many years will be used for this purpose. Presumably the Secretary can use two, three, four or five years.

6. Secretary will make 250,000 acres available for planting by farmers who want to divert plant allotments and forego loan and payments. All cotton grown will be required as under the

Freeman Sets Cotton Acreages

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sec. of Agriculture Orville Freeman said Thursday that the 1966 cotton crop planting allotment will be 16 million acres, the minimum permitted by law.

He also announced that a grower referendum has been scheduled for Nov. 23 in which farmers will vote on continuing market quotas to limit sale of the crop.

As he did last year, the secretary set up a reserve of 200,000 acres for the establishment of minimum farm allotments as provided by law.

Freeman expects, however, that considerably less than 16.2 million acres of cotton will be planted because of the prospect of a record cotton surplus at the end of the 1965 crop year and because of incentive payments to growers for reducing acreage.

Under the administration's farm bill awaiting President Johnson's signature, the department will likely be subject to ASC committee approval and the Secretary could impose restrictions through these committees.

7. Sale and transfer of allotments between growers will be permitted within the state. A two-thirds majority vote in a county referendum will be required, however, before allotments can move across county lines, and the Secretary is instructed insofar as possible to hold such referendums in connection with the annual cotton marketing referendum. No sale or transfer of allotments will be permitted between January 1 and June 1 of any year. No restrictions are in the bill itself on movement of allotments between farms of the same ownership. However, such movement of allotments between farms of the same ownership. However, such movement will likely be subject to ASC commission approval and the Secretary could impose restrictions through these committees.

8. Small farmers with allotments of 10 acres or less or with proven yields from total allotment of less than 3600 pounds of lint may plant their entire allotment and still qualify for the 21 cent loan, 9.42 cents per pound support payment on 65 percent of allotment and 10.5 cents per pound diversion payment on 35 percent. If these small farmers actually divert 25 percent of their allotments, they will be eligible for an additional diversion payment of 10.5 cents.
9. Cropland adjustment program provides the Secretary wide authority to retire whole farms from five to ten years. He is given $250 million for this purpose, with some restriction as to the percentage of cropland that can be retired within a county.
10. Cotton allotment holders can release 85 percent of their acreage to county committees and receive a land diversion payment from the other 15 percent without planting cotton at all.
11. No change in present release and reprocurement regulations as such. But sale and transfer of allotments, cropland adjustment and provision number 10 above will obviously curtail the number of acres released.
12. The Secretary will be prohibited from selling CCC stock cotton at less than 110 percent of the loan price except if he determines that production in any year will be less than offset, in which case he can sell CCC (See COTTON Page 5)

Miss Jan Landers Is New President

The official charter was received at the first official organizational meeting for the Modern Music Masters Chapter 819 held Saturday at the home of Bill Bradley and Leasel Richardson.

Three new officers were elected at the meeting. Jan Landers was elected president of Blackman, vice-president, Carola Bass, secretary; Ellen English, treasurer; Lindell Wilson, historian; David Dillman, sergeant at arms and Jan Everett, chaplain.

A formal initiation ceremony will be held Nov. 11.

It was decided the chapter would also sponsor a booth at the annual Halloween Carnival.

Modern Music Masters was established as a national honor music society in 1952, since the society has been widely accepted, chapters having been established in nearly every state. It is now beginning its second decade and lists tens of thousands of life members in over 700 chapters spread over four continents.

The chief aims of the society are to foster greater interest in band, orchestra, and choral performances, and to provide wider opportunities for personal musical expression and service to the school, church and community.

The selection of students for membership is strictly on a merit basis. Ability and scholarship in both music and academic subjects, and cooperation with teachers and fellow students, are basic requirements. An opportunity for students to

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE THIS SUNDAY

SEASONS CHANGE

For a time leaves are green, then in early fall they become brilliant with many colors. Finally they turn brown and fall from the trees, leaving them drab and lonely looking.

God never changes, he is an ever present help.

"For I am the Lord, I change not"
Attend church and learn more of God's wonderful and never changing love.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Freeman said details of these payments and other provisions of the impending new cotton program will be set after the legislation becomes law.

Marketing quotas, in effect for many years and never rejected, require the approval of at least two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum. For this year's crop, quotas were approved by 96.3 per cent. Quotas limit penalty-free sales to the quantity grown on an allotment.

The national allotment was apportioned among states, which in turn will divide them among counties and growers in each county.

The allotments for the 1966 and 1965 crops, respectively, by states included:

Texas 6,835,432 acres for 1966 and 6,835,945 for 1965. New Mexico 171,975 and 172,636; and Oklahoma 756,095 and 753,830.

Plan

The plant here feeds 15,000 head of cattle at a time, or 30,000 to 35,000 per year. The company figures that the cattle consumed 32,000,000 pounds of milo this year, all of it bought locally from the 1964 crop. The lots will continue to be a major outlet for area feed.

The new sheep lots will be located on the north side of the present King plant, and will be lighted.

The Kings have been vitally interested in the industrial expansion possibilities for Muleshoe and this area, it was pointed out, and the sheep feed lot project is an example of "putting our beliefs into action."
