Big Spring Area Blanketed By 2-Inch Snow Weather Cause Of Cancellation; To Play Saturday

First White Thanksgiving In Many Years

Two-Inch Snow Reported By Weather Bureau; Four In Some Places

Snow, gauged by the U. S. Weather Bureau at 2 inches, blanketed Big Spring and surrounding area Thursday morning and brought the first white Thanksgiving in years.

Nowhere in this immediate area was snow reported as heavy as here. Many residents in the southern part of the city said they measured 4 inches of snow on level places at 8 a. m.

The U. S. Experiment Farm supported the Weather Bureau total.

Precipitation to 9:30 a. m. amounted to .27 inches, .05 being rain which fell in a drizzle between midnight and 4 a. m. when it turned to snow. At that time there was still an inch and a half of snow on the ground at the bureau.

Garden City reported sleet on the house tops Thursday morning. Later in the morning it had turned into a steady drizzling rain.

Forsan turned out to camp in a 2 inch snow that slackened and held on the ground at 9 a. m.

Vincent was covered with a thin blanket of snow early in the morning but saw all signs disappear rapidly.

Ackerly had slightly more but it, too, was melting rapidly. Snow was falling there at sun up.

Most of the two inches or more here fell in two hours. Rev. and Mrs. R. E. Day started at 4:30 a. m. to Abilene but had to turn back after going a few blocks when the snow fall became so heavy the windshield wiper could not brush it aside.

Midland received about the same sort of a fall experienced in Big Spring. Wind had a very light fall.

Only heavy mists were reported at Sweetwater and Abilene.

Lubbock had a heavy snowfall at midnight Wednesday and flakes were still fluttering down. Unconfirmed reports received here Thursday morning indicated approximately 10 inches for that city.

Funeral Rites For J A Boykin Thursday At 4

Funeral services for James A. Boykin, who succumbed Wednesday at 11:20 a. m. to injuries received in an automobile accident fourteen miles south of Big Spring Sunday morning, will be held Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Baptist church, with Rev. R. E. Day, pastor, in charge. Mrs. Bruce Frazier will be in charge of the music for the services.

Interment will follow in New Mount Olive cemetery.

Weather Cause Of Cancellation; To Play Saturday

The Big Spring Steers and Colorado Wolves football game, scheduled for this afternoon at 2:30 at Steer Stadium, has been postponed until Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, it was decided Thursday morning by George Gentry of Big Spring High school and C. A. Wilkins, principal of the Colorado high. In a telephone conversation it was agreed to postpone the game on account of inclement weather.

The game, the last of the season on District 3 schedule for Big Spring, and Colorado, was the annual Thanksgiving grid contest. Officials said they believed attendance would have been very small had the game been played this afternoon, and postponement was agreed upon.

The game will be played, however, on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Steer Stadium.

FOUR MEN ROB FORSAN STORES VICTIMS BOUND

The sheriff's department Thursday morning was investigating leads which officers hoped would result in the arrest of four men who bound four men and women at Forsan Tuesday night and robbed them and burglarized a store.

A quartet of men bound J. W. Meyers, operator of the Crystal cafe, Forsan, 11:30 p. m. Tuesday, guarded Mrs. Meyers, and Mattie Schultz and Mrs. Meyers' father, R. D. Williams of Spur until they were ready to depart. They then held the other three victims.

Meyers resisted efforts of the men to rob him and they bound him with wire. The women, sleeping in a bedroom adjacent to the cafe, were aroused by the commotion and opened the door. They immediately slammed it shut when they sensed a robbery was in progress but the bandits forced it open before the women could latch it.

Two of the robbers were masked, two unmasked. One attempted to further conceal his identity by wrapping his feet with sackcloth. While part of the gang stood guard over the women and Williams, 60 year old man, the others insistently took $15 from the cash register of Meyers' place, ransacked the vending machines, and burglarized the Forsan Hardware, operated by W. H. Dunn, next door.

From the hardware they took a 22 target, 2 dozen pocket knives, 3 watches, a quantity of 30-30 and 22 cartridges, a flashlight and a set of tools.

Shortly before 2 a. m. Wednesday they methodically searched the feet of the women to the foot of the bed and tied their hands to the head with rope stolen from the hardware store.

Williams said he was "60 years old and never have gone through anything like this before. I'm ready to go home."

It was about an hour before the victims were able to wriggle loose and notify Sheriff Jess Staughter. Deputy Andrew Merrick, who answered the call, indicated he had some promising leads in the case which might aid materially in the investigation.

Sociability Is Observed By Kiwanians

Sociability Week was observed by Kiwanians in Big Spring the past week, and the program at Thursday's meeting at the Crawford hotel was in charge of Carl S. Blomquist, who awarded an electric clock to the Kiwanian who reported the largest number of visitations during the week. Houston Cowden was awarded the prize, after a check-up showed he had made thirty-one calls on members during the week.

Rev. A. T. Dyal, pastor of the Coahoma Presbyterian church, was principal speaker on the program. He chose a Thanksgiving topic for his address, "Why We Should Be Thankful," giving a wonderful message on thanksgiving.

E. W. Bethel led the club in three song numbers, "Home on the Range," "Old Spinning Wheel," and "Last Roundup."

The Kiwanis club is sponsoring a Girl Scout troop, having taken over the troop of Mrs. H. S. Faw. The club also sponsors Troop No. 3 Boy Scouts.

Plane Stolen From Airport

MANSFIELD, O. (UP)—An airplane thief was hunted here. Lester Leedy, mechanic at the municipal airport, said he went to the field to work on a ship brought there for repair and found it missing. Sheriff Walter Underwood learned a truck had been seen leaving the field with the plane aboard.

Wet Hamlet Very Dry Now

SWEET HOME, Ore. (UP)—This mountain hamlet, considered at one time the wettest spot in the county and the last to adopt local option nearly 30 years ago, was one of but 12 precincts in the county to return a dry majority in Linn County's balloting on local option. The measure failed throughout the county.

Herald - Steer Special To Leave Friday Night Dec. 7th For El Paso

Make your plans now to ride The Herald-Steer football train to El Paso on Friday night, December 7, arriving in El Paso on the morning of December 8, at 6:15, to see the Steers play El Paso High school for bi-district honors.

The Texas & Pacific Railway company has announced railroad rates and Pullman fares as follows:

Three dollars roundtrip El Paso and return, leaving Big Spring 9:15 p. m. Friday, December 7, returning leaving El Paso 9 o'clock on the evening of December 8. Three hundred cash fares are required to guarantee the train and the fares are good only in day coaches. The railway company has Pullman rates as follows:

Lower Berth $10.65 round trip for one person, including train fare. Two persons may occupy lower or upper berth, $9.15 for two persons (each).

Upper Berth $10.65 for one person, or $8.85 for two persons (each). A minimum of twenty-five persons is required for each Pullman (tourist) car.

Efforts are being made to raise cash subscriptions for transportation of the pep squad and band members, totaling approximately 100. George Gentry said Thursday morning a campaign will be waged beginning next week to secure the 300 reservations needed to assure the train, and also to raise enough money to pay expenses of the pep squad and band.

Much enthusiasm has been manifested by football fans of the city since rates were secured from the railroad company, and the low cost of the trip indicates a large crowd will take advantage of the offer and attend the Steer-Tiger clash at El Paso.

Plans are being formulated to stage a parade in El Paso immediately after arrival in the city.

Swimming Pool Bids Postponed 300 Needed To Assure Train; Plan Parade

Letting of bids for the swimming pool project, scheduled for Friday, November 30, has been postponed for at least two weeks, when it was discovered an error in publication of the legal notice had been made. Republication of the notice will be necessary and as soon as the legal representatives send in new notices, publication will be given, making the bidding legal.

Coach Othol Martin of the El Paso High School Tigers arrived in Big Spring Wednesday night with intentions of scouting the Steers in their game with Colorado Thursday, but after hearing of the postponement, Martin said he would probably return to El Paso today.

He was accompanied by Assistant Coach Ed Price and two players, Capt. Ted Thomas and Kenneth Hieneman, Hieneman, quarterback on the Tiger squad, is touted as one of the shiftest ball toters in the country.

The El Pasoans made the trip here by automobile. Martin said his squad had been crippled a little, but he thought all of his players would be in good shape in time for the bi-district game with Big Spring.

THE NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

News Behind the News gives the major pieces to the puzzle on page 1.

We Are Thankful-

We are thankful that—

We awoke manted under the heaviest snow in more than two seasons Thanksgiving morning. We are thankful because it was not only beautiful but means precious moisture to this drought area.

We live in a town which has undenied potentialities of becoming a bigger and better West Texas city by reason of its location in the center of a virtually untouched trade area.

We will before long have four modern, straightened, surfaced highways leading into this city.

We have five sources of income which are increasing in benefit each year.

We have become the center of federal operations in this area of West Texas.

We have received approximately a quarter of a million dollars in one way or another in the cattle buying program and operation of the federal meat cannery.

We have a beautiful city park, prospects of a natively beautiful Scenic Mountain park.

We have a winning football team with prospects of the first district and bi-district championship in the history of the school.

We have a new found unified, progressive spirit best exemplified by over-subscription of the Chamber of Commerce $9,000 budget for a Forward Movement.

We have experienced remarkably better business conditions despite the severest drought this county has experienced.

We have a modern airport and are a stop on a trans-continental air line.

We are located on the Broadway of America trans-continental highway and are a division point on the modern Texas and Pacific railroad.

We have one of the best oil fields in the state and possibilities of much more development, and that we have prospered largely because the oil industry has become more active in this area.

We are citizens of a city which has so much more to be thankful for than any of our neighbors.

CONDITIONS AND BLESSINGS
This is the season of the year
when many writers bring themselves to philosophize over the indomitable spirit of the stolid pilgrim fathers in conquering the unconquerable, yet showing enough good sense and humility to pay a profound tribute of thanks to a Mightier Power which saw them through trying privations.

Perhaps they paused to give thanks because they lived in an age which was apparently more religious than the one in which we now live. More likely is the supposition that they were driven, in their strife against unmerciful elements, the untamed wilderness, sickness, and even death to realize that man after all was not gifted with power to control his destinies alone.

It is the hereditary that governs
the degree to which we appreciate a blessing.

Today we are many years removed from the first Thanksgiving Day held on our shores by white men. Our modes and customs retain little of the pilgrim touch, but our human nature is the same.

With the worst of several years of pressing conditions behind us, should on this Thanksgiving day—any blessings which in more prosperous years would go by unrecognized. To a Tolerant Spirit which has permitted us to enjoy them, we should exercise

some of the good humility of our forebearers.

MORE COOPERATION
Big Spring has had many occasions in the past to express grate-tude to the Texas and Pacific Railway Company.

It was the railroad which transformed Big Spring from a buffalo hunters' camp and a watering hole into a thriving frontier city. Installation of shops made it a substantial industrial West Texas city.
Rebuilding of the shops into a modern plant here added impetus to Big Spring's boom era.

As small a thing as it might seem, the offering of a very reasonable rate for the El Paso football trip is another manifestation of the company's policy of cooperation instead of exploitation.
Many more will be able to follow the football team to the border city by virtue of the rates. That will mean many more friends for the company.

Too, it will mean that something new in the way of a community spirit is being further developed.
So a word of thanks to the T&P company. It not only helps itself, but gives Big Spring another timely "lift."

Report Shows Decline
AUSTIN—Employment and pay-showed a moderate decline from the month before but a slight increase over November last year,

according to the University of Tex-

Reports to the bureau from 1,698

cline of 2.7 per cent from October but an increase of nearly 1 per

LONDON (UP)—Winston Church-

He added that English defense forces were inadequate. The statement was made as Churchill opened defenses debate in parliament.
He urged the British to put themselves in a position of security.
He said:
"Germany is re-arming on land and sea, but the air re-arming is what concerns us. Germans are mostly friendly and there is no reason to think they will attack
us, but under the Nazi regime decision only a handful of men are required to launch an attack."

'Gift Of Gab'
At Ritz Today

What the public wants more than anything else at the present moment is plenty of laughter,
plenty of song, and plenty of variety and novelty, in contrast to reality and morbidity, according to Rian James, novelist, columnist, essayist and, more recently, associate producer in charge of Uni-versal's "Gift of Gab," at the Ritz theatre today only.

James has concentrated all his efforts in incorporating the above attributes in the production, a screenplay dealing with the rise of a Broadway auctioneer to be the nation's foremost radio and screen reporter. One of his feats has been the assembling of the largest cast of radio, screen and stage stars ever presented in a motion picture, thus taking care of the needed variety.

For music he has injected all songs, "Blue Sky Avenue," "I Ain't Gonna Sin No More," "Tomorrow, Who Cares," "Talking to Myself," "Somebody Looks Good to Me," and "Don't Let This Waltz Mean Goodbye," all by famous writers, including Con Conrad and Albert Von Tilzer.

"For variety, the writers, including myself, have created a
'show within a show,'" he explains.
"These writers, Jerry Wald, Phil G. Epstein, and Lou Breslow, have created characters who smile—who make the audience smile, too. And yet no suspense is lost."

"The 'show within a show' occurs when Universal stars stage a radio skit in a broadcasting station, when famous radio stars do their act, and when there is a radio wedding, with famous stage,
screen and radio stars in attendance.

"The thread of the story runs through these skits and radio interludes, and the action does not stop. The actual story features baseball and football games, riots,
a parachute jump, an airplane crash and other thrills. For humor, there are a number of comedians and 'stooges.' The story is ultra-modern and yet is a tale of success and happiness, rather than a morbid series of incidents ending in disaster."

James is so thoroughly sold on humor that he will not read a morbid book or see a depressing play.

The cast which he accumulated in the course of the picture is one of the most amazing on record. It includes Ruth Etting, Phil Baker,
Paul Lukas, Chester Morris, Ethel
Waters, Douglas Montgomery,
Roger Pryor, Blaine Barnes, Bela
Lugosi, Gene Austin, Karloff, Alice
White, Graham McNamee, Victor
Moore, June Knight, Andy Devine,
Helen Vinson, Hugh O'Connell,
Sterling Holloway, Henry Armetta, Wini Shaw, the Downey Sisters, the Beale Street Boys, Gus Arnheim
and his orchestra, Douglas Fowley,
the Three Stooges, Candy and Coco, James, Edwin Maxwell, and Alexander Woolcott.

BEARS AFTER Touted Owls

AUSTIN, (UP)—Southwest grid fans today have the opportunity to see for the last time a football star whose exploits are known where-ever Southwest conference football goes—Bohn Hilliard of the University of Texas.

For three years, this 185-pound halfback has brought sleepless nights to opposing coaches. Injured or hale, Hilliard's name was spread across the headlines. Either way, Hilliard made news.

Much of his three years of conference football was confined to bench warming because of the enthusiastic manner in which the opposition sought to stop the shifty Orange runner.

Once during the Southwest Conference season this year Hilliard brought his team within two minutes of the championship. It was agreed in Houston when Texas
"miracle man" headed a field goal to give his team a 8-7 lead over the powerful Rice eleven. It was the only play in which Hilliard took part that day, and any Texas fan will swear to you that had Hilliard stayed in the game until its end the winning pass from Bill Wallace to Ray Smith would never have been complete.

Discount the Oklahoma game,
and each of Texas' victories during the current season can be traced directly to the talented Hilliard.
Against Texas Tech, he broke thru Aggie and went 98 yards for the winning tally. Against Notre Dame
he went six yards for a touchdown and kicked the winning point.
T. C. U. saw Hilliard score one touchdown from the 26 yard line
and kick two extra points for a 20-19 victory.

Arkansas fans will tell you that Bohn Hilliard is the greatest football player ever to visit Fayetteville's hills. Last Friday Hilliard had a personal 19-12 triumph over a strong Razorback team. He made one touchdown, passed for another,
and kept the Fayetteville crowd
on edge until the game was over.

In 1932 Hilliard was chosen all-Southwest back. Last year injuries dogged him throughout the conference season, but he came back to help Texas salvage a little glory
with a 10-10 tie against Texas A & M at College Station.

This year injuries again hampered Hilliard's play. Several sports writers are honoring most valuable player honors, and the right to represent Texas in the East-West classic New Year's day. Whether he wins these awards or not, more than 30,000 southwest football followers will pack Memorial Stadium here Thursday to see Hilliard's farewell to college football.

WACO TEAM TO TRY
Deception On Loop
Leaders

WACO, (SpL)—By defeating the highly touted S.M.U. Mustangs last Saturday, the Baylor Bears thrust themselves into the conference arena as the possible donors of the title for this year. In case they are able to upset the powerful Rice Institute crew, they will give the title to Texas University, who is firmly entrenched in second place.

The Baylor coaches and players
both realize the tremendous power and deception which the Owls will throw on the field Saturday, but it has been proved by T. C. U. that the Feathered Tribe can be defeated.
The Baylor men do not underrate
the Rice team on account of that defeat, however. They realize that the boys from the Bay city will be in no mood to trifle, since the outcome of the Baylor-Rice tilt will decide whether Rice wins the championship of the Southwest conference.

Baylor was extremely fortunate in regard to injuries in last week's gruelling contest, not a man being seriously hurt. Lloyd Russell, the star of the game from every standpoint, proved himself completely recovered from his shoulder injury.
Russell, a 190 pound sophomore, ran, kicked and passed the ball to give an amazing exhibition of what an ideal backfield man should do.
Earl Wray, an elongated end, also starred on offense and defense alike. The Baylor line and secondary worked as a smoothly oiled unit to stop the vaunted attack of the Methodists. Practically every man on the team contributed a large share to the victory.

Baylor upheld the jinx which she has held over S.M.U. on Waco soil for many years. Another fine team from the Dallas school was swung into defeat by the inspired play of an underdog Baylor team.
The Rice-Baylor rivalry through the years has been overwhelmingly in favor of the Bruins, but there is grave danger of Rice winning the game this year, to cinch her first title in the history of the Southwest conference.

Water In Caddo Lake And Red River Brings To Light Hulks Of Boats Sunk Many Years Ago

SHREVEPORT, La. (UP)—Low water in the Red river and in Caddo lake near here, has brought to light the hulks of several river boats which were sunk years ago when river boats piled a profitable trade.

Since 1833 when Captain Henry Shreve landed his two boats, the Archimedes and the Jarvis, opposite the red bluffs where this city now stands, more than 200 steamboats have perished in the treacherous Red river which was long ago christened "The graveyard of steamboats."

One of the most famous of steamboat disasters here was the sinking of the Mittle Stephens, a gambling boat with a gay holiday crowd, on a cold February day in 1869.

Large for a river boat, the Mittle Stephens was a three decker and was handsomely fitted. She caught fire in Caddo lake and sank with 150 people on board. More than a hundred people lost their lives.

The hulk of the Mittle Stephens can still be seen when the lake is at low stage. Her machinery has been removed and the boiler and engine were for years used in a section gin near Belcher.

This year the river again started cutting through an old channel which had for many years been filled with silt and inhabitants were surprised to see emerge the hulk of an old boat.

It is thought that the boat is the Richmond which sank near here soon after the Civil War. A pulley which could still be used was recently taken from the wreck and it is said that other pieces of equipment are in a remarkably good state of preservation.

Tent Show In City For Week

Brunk's Comedians Start Stand In Big Spring Monday

Starting Monday in a big tent theatre on east Third street, Brunk's Comedians, offering a series of popular plays spiced with vaudeville, will devote a week to entertainment of the community public. This popular company has been seen in Big Spring before and many pleased patrons of prior engagements will be back in the tent next week. A fine band and orchestra adds to the performances each night. The opening play Monday will be "Human Buzzards" at popular prices.

Ted Edlin is the leading man this season. Edlin joined Brunk's following successes with the Fern Slough players. He is well known as a singer and composer also. Five acts of vaudeville will be presented on the opening night in connection with the play.

Sharp Rise Noted In Building Permits

AUSTIN—A sharp rise occurred in building permits in Texas during October, according to reports from 38 chamber of commerce secretaries throughout the State to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Compared with September, permits of $2,050,254 represented an increase of 69 per cent and with October last year an increase of 99 per cent.

Cities showing increases over the two months compared were: Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Brownsville, Brownwood, Corsicana, Dallas, Del Rio, Fort Worth, Houston, Jacksonville, Laredo, Longview, Lubbock, Palestine, Paris, Plainview, Port Arthur, San Antonio, Snyder, Sweetwater, Tyler and Waco.

Although in a number of instances the increase was small as was also the total amount involved, it appears to be significant that practically all sections of the State have participated in the forward movement, the bureau's report said.

Geologists Will Meet December 1

MIDLAND—Date for the next meeting of the West Texas Geological Society has been changed from December 8 to December 1, to accommodate the program of the guest speaker, Mr. Wallace E. Pratt. The meeting will be held at the San Angelo Hotel, San Angelo, at 8 p. m.

Original plans to elect officers at this meeting have been put aside inasmuch as it is thought probable the Thanksgiving vacations will not permit some of the members to attend. Tentative schedule calls for the election to be held at a meeting in Midland about December 18.

Mr. Pratt is a vice-president and director in charge of the Land and Geological Departments of the Humble Oil and Refining company, and his address is titled "This Oil Business." All who are interested in the subject are invited by the Society to attend the San Angelo meeting.

The Adirondack mountains cover 5,000 square miles in New York state.

Legion Auxiliary Puts On Program At CCC Camp

Members of the American Legion Auxiliary sponsored a short but peppy program of dance and music at the CCC camp Tuesday evening.

Mandolin and guitar duets were played by Leon Pitts and Robert King of the camp in addition to the other numbers. The auxiliary is planning to give the CCC boys a big Christmas program. The next meeting will be Dec. 11th and will be held at Mrs. J. T. Brooks.

Mrs. Woodie W. Smith Complimented With Farewell Banquet By Sunday School Class

Mrs. Woodie W. Smith, who with Mr. Smith, pastor of the East Fourth street Baptist church, is leaving Big Spring to reside in Fort Worth, was honored with a banquet and farewell party by the members of her Sunday school class, the Faithful class, Tuesday evening at the church basement.

Thanksgiving furnished the decorative motif. Pumpkins, apples and red chrysanthemums were artistically used as table decorations. In the room, shock feed and pumpkins further carried out the autumn theme. The table was laid for 45 guests.

Thanks were offered by Alger Smith. After the delicious turkey dinner was served, the guests spent the evening in a program of hymn-singing and of merry contests.

ROOSEVELT DETERMINES FEDERAL HOUSING POLICY WARM SPRINGS, (AP)—President Roosevelt has determined definitely upon a policy of federal obligation to help provide adequate low cost housing for people whose standards of living make building impossible. Extent of immediate federal participation in this sweeping program for slum clearance and rural home construction has not been determined.

The President stated bluntly the government does not consider itself obliged to ease the people who can not otherwise care for themselves. Details of the plan will be worked out in a few weeks.

CHAPTER 47 SILVER'S OFFER

Marian's chin came up in a characteristic gesture. "You needn't bother for me. If he loves you, you can have him. I don't want the dead love of any man."

Silver stood looking at her a moment as though some preconceived plan had been changed—very high and mighty aren't you," she challenged. "I suppose you think you can win Hamlin."

Marian didn't answer and her silence seemed to infuriate Silver. "Want them both, don't you? Well, maybe you'll condescend to bargain for Lon's freedom. He is under arrest at the city jail."

"I know it," remarked Marian calmly.

"You know it. How?" flashed Silver.

Marian's mind alert with fear, provided ready words. "I was talking to Bowen, the managing editor of the Dispatch, when you came in. He told me."

"Did he tell you where Lon was found and what he was doing?"

"No."

"He was in my father's office robbing his safe. One of the cleaning women saw him force his way in, and telephoned Dad."

"I thought you father was supposed to be in Northern California."

"Not after what I saw last night. Foxy, weren't you? Thought you were going to talk Hamlin into going to Cliff and discredit me as he'd come across with the information you lost in that letter."

Marian didn't answer.

"Well, can't you talk? What did you think of the way I snaked that letter from you?"

Marian smiled. "Clever," she conceded. "I'd like to have thought of something as smart, myself."

Silver relaxed. "If you'll look at things that way, we'll get along all right."

"Suppose you tell me what you want," suggested Marian. She had realized suddenly that all she had to do was to keep Silver talking until the District Attorney appeared.

"That night you came to see me in Nevada, and telephoned that lie to Cliff. I thought you had played me a lower trick, it turned out otherwise. It made me solid with him. He's making money now; money like his father made and left to him. That shanty Irish girl he married doesn't need much. She wouldn't know what to do with it if she had it, so he's giving me the allowance, call it alimony if you will, that he should have settled on me.

"If you go to him in an effort to break my father, he'll know the truth and my income will stop. I

HUEY LONG SWINGS A MEAN AXE

"I can listen much better if I'm sitting down," suggested Marian amiably. "You'll find cigarettes in that copper box to the left of the divan."

Silver looked at her a moment, then laughed. "Tan," she said, "I didn't think you had it in you. All right," she went to the divan, slipped out of her wrap, chose a cigarette, lighted it with deliberation.

"Queer isn't it, the way our lives have run along together. Remember the first day you came to school? You were ugly, skinny, freckled, lanky—" she inhaled and in the silence of that moment Marian heard Hero sniffling along the lower crack of the door.

"And you were beautiful," conceded Marian generously. "I was just thinking when you came in that you had worn a black velvet dress that day." She noticed Silver had placed the revolver beside her on the divan and it was slowly sliding to the edge of the cushion.

"You're not hard to look at now," Silver continued, "but this isn't getting down to business.

"That night you came up to Nevada on a news story, you stepped in and made my affairs your own. I was ready to bank on your honor. I showed you the letter Cliff had written me in order to convince you that I had a right to feel bitter towards him. I was sure you wouldn't use it in your newspaper, but I didn't expect you to steal it."

"I didn't steal it," interposed Marian and she didn't wish to implicate Hamlin she gave another explanation. "It was put into my pocket by someone who evidently thought it the same wad of notes I had used on the Brown bribery case. Lon brought them up with him because I had left them in his car when I left the court house early that evening."

"That makes a good story," agreed Silver, "but if you were so honorable, how did it chance that you took the trouble to go over the letter a second time and discover that page?"

"I chanced to reach into my pocket for change to tip a porter, found the notes, or what I thought were notes, decided to check them and dispose of the paper. In the bright light of the desk lamp I caught the name Maddern Construction Company at the top of the pad. I had spent the previous eight days covering the Brown bribery and the name was too fresh in my memory to let me pass it by without closer inspection. When I found

"No, they are waiting for him down there and he's waiting for me to telephone him your decision."

"My decision on what?"

"This. The future of the Hondons and the McWains depends upon you. Without the information Cliff holds you can't prosecute father. Cliff won't give that information unless you go to him and tell the truth of what happened that night in Nevada and at the hospital."

"I want you to sit down and write a letter to Cliff. I want you to tell him that you have been doing something you regret because you were jealous of me. I want you to tell him that your husband fell in love with me and in an effort to discredit me, you began spreading a story which a rejected suitor of mine, Max Hamlin, had put you up to; that it was you and not me, who had sent that message, to the hospital."

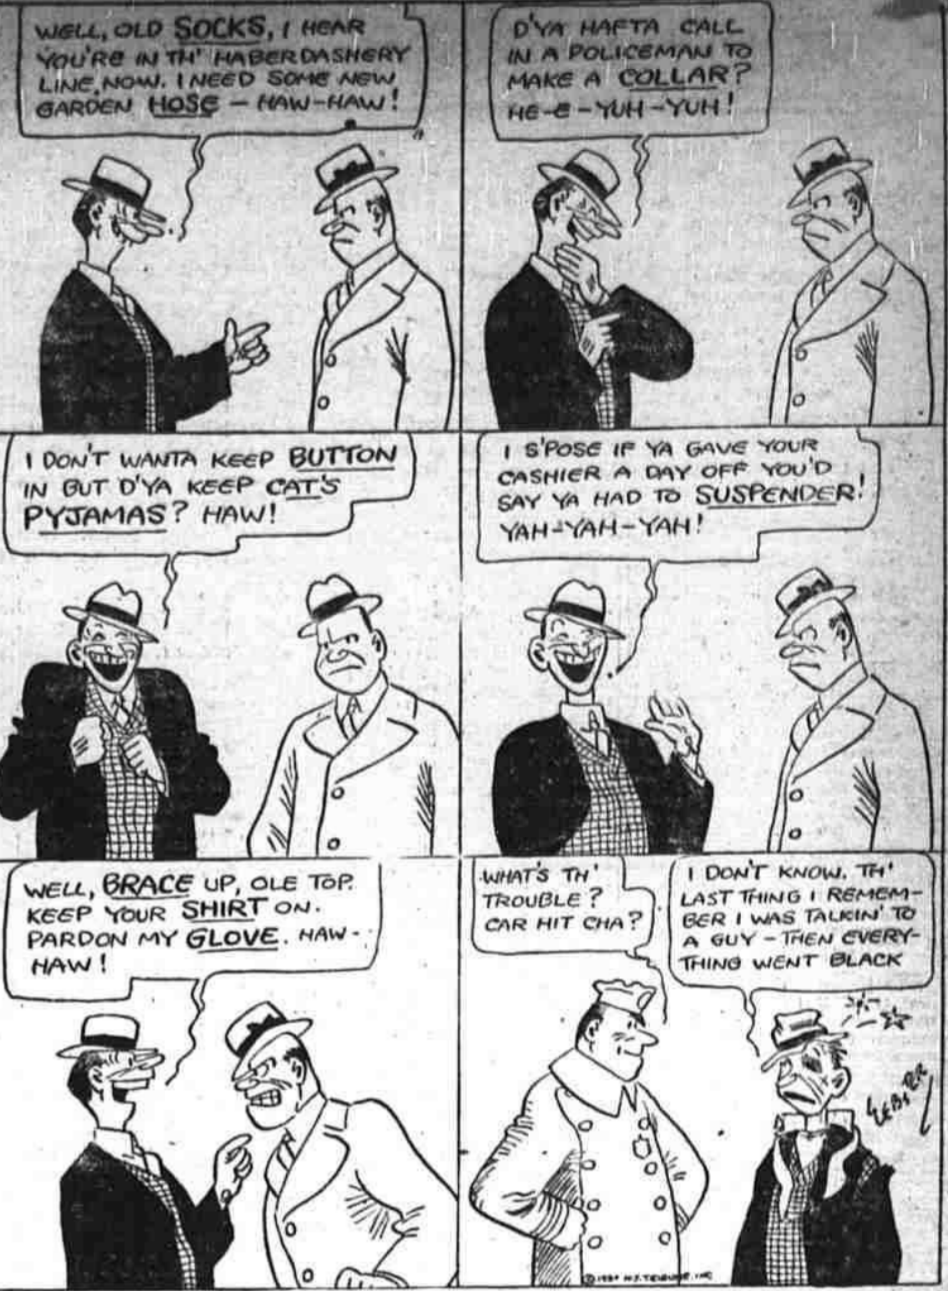

"I want you to tell him to believe no one who approaches him with this story, that you are sorry you did it. That I sent your husband back to you and you're trying to repay me for my kindness by retracting the story..." she lie you told."

"But supposing," Marian continued, "we have talked to the authorities and they intend starting an investigation of the East Brazos school."

"You haven't," said Silver with assurance, "we have had you both watched since the moment you left father know you had that letter. I can give you a detailed account of every move you've made."

"THE HOUSE OF ROTHSCHILD"
By George Arliss
Chapter II
In my previous discourse we learned that sending news over distance by signals, is mentioned in the Bible. The coming of modern telegraphy also is foreshadowed in the mythology of the ancients. Homer heralded it in his writings. He compares the flame which shone round the head of Achilles and spread its lustre all about, to the signals made in besieged cities, using columns of smoke by day, and beacon flames at night. Julius Africanus minutely explains a mode of spelling words by using fire, frequently resorted to by Roman generals. Livy in Vegetius, and Plutarch's Life of Sertorius also make mention of this device for signalling.

Varied Colors In '35 License Plates
AUSTIN - Texas motorists in 1935 will have a wide range of color combinations for license plates on their automobiles, trucks and other motor vehicles. Passenger cars, privately-owned, will have number plates with numbers white on red. Private trucks will have numbers, green on gray; farm trucks, black on orange; trailers will have numbers in orange on black background. Dealer's number plates will be black on green; motor-bus numbers, gray on green; "X" plates, or those of cities and the state, will be white on black, and "X" motorcycles, the same. Private motorcycle number plates will be black on orange, and side-car plates, orange on black.

HOW TO MAKE PUZZLES
more difficult
It's hard enough to find that gray piece shaped like a dog—without putting on smoked glasses! But people might as well do that as to crouch in a dimly-lighted corner, taxing their poor-obliging eyes. Adequate home lighting saves the wasteful outpouring of nervous energy that we expend in trying to see.

LIGHTING RULES TO KEEP IN MIND
1. Use lamp bulbs of the correct wattage. The least you should have is 40-watt MAZDA lamps for 3-socket lamps, 60-watt for 2-socket lamps, 100-watt for single-socket lamps.
2. Have all lamp bulbs shaded. For portables, a shade light in color, wide in spread, and open at the top.
3. Never read in glaring light, or in your own shadow.
4. Always use lamp bulbs of reputable make. Inferior ones burn out and blacken quickly.

STUDY LAMPS
When the Illuminating Engineering Society designed these Reading and Study Lamps, they took into consideration all of the things that are needed in lamps of this sort—illumination of glass, proper distribution of light of the right intensity and so on. These lamps meet the requirements and are as nearly perfect as science can make them. Order yours today—no more in and out of them ever. There are other styles and sizes of lamps that you want, too.

Cosden Cagers Continue As Unbeaten Unit
Oilers Experience Difficulty In Downing Dilts Bakers
The powerful Cosden Oilers remained undefeated today after their conquest of the Dilts' Bakers Wednesday night in the high school gym, ruining the Baker's perfect record with a close 35-27 victory. After the improved Diltsmen had taken a temporary 5-2 lead in the first few minutes of the game, the Oilers opened up to overcome the three point disadvantage and remained the leader throughout the tilt. "Jasper Jack" Smith stepped forth to lead the attack of the victors with six field goals and an extra point while Lloyd Forrester led the parade of the Bakers with 8 points. Both Henninger and J. Forrester called upon the services of all their players. Diddle Young, Dilts recruit from the CCC corps, gave promise of big things when he showed a burst of form throughout the game. Only two points separated the teams at the midway period, the score standing 16-14 in favor of the Oilers, but the Bakers failed to take advantage of the opportunity and the Cosdenites soon widened the lead. Union Service Held Wednesday
Rev. John C. Thoma, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, gave the address Wednesday evening for the Union Thanksgiving services held at the First Baptist church. The services were held at a church this year instead of the Municipal Auditorium because the ministers wanted to take up an offering for the music bought by the Community Chorus for the two sabbaths of the evening, also for a donation for a destitute family in town. Attendance was full. The Community Chorus under the direction of C. A. Bulot, with Miss Helen Daley at the piano, gave "The Heavens Are Telling" and "O Praise the Lord," the latter as an offertory. Rev. S. J. Shottlesworth, pastor of the First Christian church, presided over the meeting and announced the ministers. Rev. J. E. Peters, pastor of the Wesley Memorial Methodist church and Rev. H. C. Reddock gave the invocation and the benediction. Rev. Thoma spoke tellingly on "The Full Table of the Lord," and in the absence of Rev. Buchsacher also read the scripture for the evening.

Favors Given To Students Are Praised

1. When in the course of human events it becomes necessary for us to have new shoes we are very thankful for the family provider—the old "pat" himself.

2. If our rising hours are late and no one offers us a "lift," we are thankful for such teachers as Eristow, Butler, Currie, and other open-minded home room teachers who overlook tardiness.

3. For that passing grade in English we render great gratitude to dear teacher and his or her liberality.

4. We thank the one and only Eristow for giving us a football team that's not afraid of anything or anyone—except himself maybe.

5. "Many blessing on thee little lad who hath thy lesson prepared, for from thee we mayest get it all, and have our lesson too."

6. Our thanks are offered to you, oh! kindest of all kind people, but Miss Currie, why doesn't someone else let us sit in his car, too, for yours has hardy room for us all?

7. We are extremely thankful for a teacher, Mr. Houston, who speaks in words and phrases both understandable and varied.

8. We are thankful for the music both vocal and wind (y) instruments, which helps us to drop off to sleep any period of the day that we care to "get away from it all."

9. Our ability to take the jokes that come our way and sit beside us in class is a valuable asset for which we are duly grateful.

10. Above all—Thanks to him who fired up the boilers last week when we needed something warmer than Cleo's column to remove our chills.

Organization Of Student Council Completed At H. S.

Complete organization of the Student council was finished Tuesday morning during the home-room period.

Sam Flowers was elected vice-president and Frances Stamper and Marguerite Reed were elected Secretary and Treasurer respectively. Halbert Woodward had previously been elected president.

A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution for the body. The members of the committee are: Sam Flowers, Marguerite Reed, J. C. Rinker and Jamie Lee Hannah.

The next meeting of the council will be held Tuesday morning and the constitution will be adopted.

Basketball Grind To Be Started Soon

Coach Brown said Monday that the Steers would not start their hardwood grind until the gridiron meet defeat on the gridiron. A large amount of material is due this year with Bob Flowers, Ole Cordill, George Neel, Clinton Jones, Sam Flowers, Bobby Mills, Jack Wilson and others reporting for the squad. A fine team this year should sweep down all competition in this district.

The Steers plan to enter the annual Colorado tournament and should be favorites. Other teams that will probably be on their schedule are Sweetwater, San Angelo and Colorado. A definite schedule has not yet been arranged.

Colorado Clash To Be Played Here

The Steers will end their District three grid campaign, tomorrow when they clash with Colorado. Colorado is probably the weakest team in the circuit and should be easy to handle. Colorado has been handicapped this year because of the lack of material and also a change of coaches. For many years the Steers have won by wide margins over Colorado, except in 1930 when confidence got the best of the team and the Wolves smashed over a win.

The Steers will probably not have to use the first string over two quarters to run up a score so the substitutes might see action.

Rev. Woodie Smith Speaks In Assembly

Rev. Woodie R. Smith, pastor of the East 4th Baptist church, gave an interesting talk Wednesday morning in Chapel on "Don't Go Down Stream, But Go Up Stream."

Rev. Smith offered his adieu to the students of Big Spring high school, as he is moving away.

Football Banquet Is Postponed

It is customary to have the football banquet the first week after Thanksgiving but due to the fact that the "Steer warriors" have a fair chance for state honors they will not lay aside their armor until the season has been completed. Plans will be announced later.

Outstanding star for the visitors, while Hare, Neel, Cordill, Mills, and Sam Flowers turned in good gains for the locals.

The Steers made several touchdowns which were called back for penalties. Cordill broke through the forward wall for a tally but the official was too quick on the whistle and the play was called back to where they thought Cordill was stopped.

Bob Flowers, with a slight ankle injury, was in the game long enough to make six points. Neel made several spectacular runs realising thirty yards several times. Mills, playing end, made nice gains on an end-around play.

George Neel at last made a touchdown in fact two. In some of the games Neel has put the ball in scoring position but has never pushed over a tally.

"Bucket" Hare and Ole Cordill backfield aces of the Bovines, both ran over two touchdowns apiece.

Signs Are Created In Front Of Campus

Three signs, saying, "Please Do Not Park Between These Signs, by order of Chief of Police" have been placed in front of the senior high school building for the purpose of preventing accidents.

A new clearing will be made into 10th street so that cars can pass more easily; the fire plug can be reached more easily, and the high school building will be emptied quickly.

Few Attend State Teacher's Confab

Few members of the faculties of the local schools will attend the annual Thanksgiving convention of the Texas state teacher's convention. Mrs. V. L. Parrick was to be in the party as far as Madisonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Sellers, Clara Secrest, Marie Johnson, Nell Brown and Reta Debenport left this afternoon for San Antonio and Austin where they will attend the Texas A. and M. game.

Dr. Samuel Johnson, author of the first English Dictionary said in the preface to his work "To explain requires the use of terms less obscure than that which is to be explained and such terms cannot always be found." A good example of the impossibility was his definition of "network": "Anything reticulated or deconstructed, at equal distances, with interstices between the intersections."

"And as in races it is not the large stride or high lift that makes the speed, as in business, the keeping close to the matter, and not talking of it too much at once, procureth dispatch.—Bacon.

Steers Take McCamey In Game

Sunday School Class At Thanksgiving Fete
The girls of Mrs. Talley's Sunday school class were recently entertained with a Thanksgiving supper at the teacher's home.
Present were Christine Bird, Margary Barrington, Maybelle Ely, Marcela Martin, Alzema McIntosh and Norma Lee Adkins.

Another player a far-flung goal was expensed Friday afternoon when the Steers swept through a weak McCamey team for a 16 to 13 win. The locals held the upper hand all the time. Eristow used every man on the squad even Jimmy Ford, diminutive quarterback for the Devils saw service. After scoring early in the first quarter the Steers were never stopped and tallied in every quarter, running up 20 points in the final period.
