

Christmas Cheer Fund Gifts Asked

Will you help some underprivileged children have a share in Christmas delights?

You can, by making a small sum of money available to help complete a toy repair job that has been started by Big Spring firemen. The story is this:

Many generous people have contributed discarded toys, for distribution to the less fortunate at Christmas. Firemen are giving just as generously of their time, to get these items into usable shape. But in many instances, some parts have to be purchased. Take bicycles, just as an example. The firemen have eight of them — and won't they gladden some youngster's heart? But they need such things as tires, chains, seats, etc. If you can help provide these, either through cash or merchandise, you will be playing Santa Claus in a very special way.

Just make a check to "CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND" and send it to The Herald or give it to Fire Chief H. V. Crocker. Or, if you have merchandise, call the editor of The Herald or Crocker. All such gifts will be gratefully acknowledged.

Crocker said Saturday that so many organizations are arranging for food baskets this year, that firemen are devoting themselves principally to the toy project. But if funds for this amount to more than needed, you may rest assured that the money will be used for Christmas help to a family otherwise overlooked — or it will go into the firemen's Milk and Ice Fund for indigent children. Incidentally the milk bill for those youngsters who need it, is running more than $100 per month. A full accounting will be made public.

Reviewing The Big Spring Week

Santa Claus came to town during the week, but apparently not everyone was overcome by his western touch. Next year he'll probably leave off the horse and boots and make himself seen more widely. While the caroling was fine, it couldn't be seen like a parade, and it's a fair bet that the traditional parade may also be back next year.

Local people listened to Lubbock officials and civic leaders outline plans for a traffic commission. The increasing number of collisions in town — one day there were half a dozen — has given rise to considerable concern over lack of safety.

Hereford association breeders did all right last week in various sales. The Youngblood ranch at Lamesa had a champion at Abilene and Leland Wallace had reserve at Sweetwater.

So much steam was generated by the Highway Department expressway proposal to loop around the residential area north of the airport that sight was lost of other developments. One was delivery of deeds for widening Fourth Street; another was resurfacing Third Street.

Other road developments were the possibility of eliminating dips from Third Street; erection of two traffic lights, one at Third and State and another at the Webb AFB access road; and the calling of bids for Dec. 16-17 on the U. S. 80-87 loop via Webb AFB and the Vealmore to U. S. 87 connection.

Some enterprising person might get on the phone early today and invite Hermleigh and Melvin to play their regional title match here. We're not exactly at center, but we doubt any neutral site would make a more eager host.

Speaking of football, Lamesa did herself and District 3-AAA proud in the Breckenridge game Saturday. Except for some unbelievably

Ike Aboard U. S. Cruiser Bound For Wake Isle Meet With Dulles

By DON WHITEHEAD

ABOARD USS HELENA EN ROUTE TO HAWAII, Sunday, Dec. 7 (U-P)—The cruiser Helena, with President-elect Dwight Eisenhower aboard, steamed through boiling seas tonight for a rendezvous with Secretary of State-designate John Foster Dulles at Wake Island Monday.

Eisenhower and Dulles will hold a series of conferences aboard the Helena to mold the new administration's policy toward Korea and the entire Far East.

The Helena is returning Eisenhower from a history-making three-day visit to Korea which fulfilled the general's campaign promise to investigate the war first hand in an effort to find a new approach to an honorable peace.

The Helena moved eastward at 27 knots in heavy seas after having picked up Eisenhower at Guam yesterday. A severe tropical storm that has been building up between Wake and Guam appeared to be moderating.

Weather planes which flew from the two islands to check the storm reported it was blowing itself out. Ship's officers said the Helena would not change course.

Eisenhower took things easy Saturday. His quarters were equipped with a living room, dining room and bedroom—all the comforts of home.

Dulles will fly to Wake Island from the United States and will be transferred to the Helena by helicopter. Others who will be close to Eisenhower in the new administration will accompany Dulles, but it has not yet been disclosed aboard ship who they will be.

(Oregon Gov. Douglas McKay appeared a likely participant in the Wake conference. McKay, secretary of Interior-designate, left Salem, Ore., secretly by plane last night, and his secretary said he did not know McKay's destination.)

Dulles will come fresh from a series of meetings with U. S. Secretary of State Acheson and other top State Department officials, said presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty.

Hagerty told newsmen the Korean trip provided Eisenhower with a valuable store of information and suggestions on future courses in the explosive Far East.

From Eisenhower's statements during the presidential campaign, it appeared this program for dealing with the Korean War already has begun to evolve:

1. Strengthening of South Korea and withdrawal of U. S. troops from the front lines to replace Americans and thus reduce U. S. casualties.
2. Increased economic aid to South Korea to bolster its ability to continue the fight against the Communists.
3. Avoidance of any military action that might involve risks of another world conflict.
4. Move to strengthen the co-operation between the United Nations allies.

The Helena, returning from Korean duty, is expected to arrive at Pearl Harbor Thursday. There, the general may remain for a day or two as the guest of Admiral Arthur Radford, commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet.

The President-elect will fly home in the home Military Air Transport Service Constellation transport that brought him to Korea.

The big plane delivered Eisenhower at Guam from Korea early Saturday. Then it continued on to Hawaii to wait for Eisenhower and bring him home.

37 Persons Die In Cuban Plane Crash

By BERNARD BROWN

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Dec. 6 (U-P)—A trans-Atlantic Cuban airliner exploded soon after it took off for Havana before dawn today and carried all but four of the 41 persons aboard to death in shark-studded waters capped by burning gasoline.

Men, women and children—Spaniards, Cubans and Mexicans—were among the 37 who perished in the spectacular death dive five miles off this British colonial vacation resort.

U. S. Air Force and Coast Guard crash boats picked the four survivors from a choppy sea littered by debris—a pair of baby shoes, a briefcase, rubber fittings from the plane's seats.

One who lived through it was the Cuban steward, Orlando Lopez Suarez, 40. Thrown out before the plane hit the water, he helped keep a Cuban girl, Alicia Ebank, afloat for an hour until they were rescued by the Coast Guard.

The other survivors were Gloria Sotomayor, a Cuban, and Adelaida Arsenal, a Mexican.

All were hospitalized at the U. S. Air Force Base at Kindley.

The plane, a DC4, was operated by the Cubana Airlines, a subsidiary of Pan American. It carried a Cuban crew of eight and 33 passengers.

Westbound from Madrid, the plane arrived at Kindley Field from Santa Maria, Azores, at 3:30 a. m. It was due in Havana at 9:30 a. m.

The takeoff from Kindley Field at about 4:40 a. m. appeared normal.

The explosion, from an undetermined cause, came as the plane was moving out from the coastal shelf. It wheeled to the left and plunged into 60 feet of water.

A mass of gasoline spread over the ocean and went up in flames.

The control tower at Kindley saw the explosion and immediately alerted the Coast Guard.

Ten bodies were recovered before rising winds and 10-foot waves forced the bulk of the search fleet into port about noon. Among them was that of the pilot, Capt. Luis Sastra. The consensus was that no others would be found.

Sastra was considered one of Cuba's best pilots.

Capt. Rene de Ayala, second in command who also perished, was the brother of Cuba's ambassador to France, Hector de Ayala.

The accident was the line's first on the Madrid-Havana run, which began in April, 1948.

Call Issued For U. S. Air Raid Spotters

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (U-P)—President Truman, declaring Pearl Harbor "can happen again," today renewed his call for volunteer air raid spotters.

On the eve of the 11th anniversary of the surprise Japanese attack, Truman said:

"Because of the immense destructive power of the atomic bomb, we must maintain vigilance so that our cities and our industries will be less vulnerable to devastating attack."

Although Operation Skywatch—a 24-hour round-the-clock ground watch in 27 states along the country's Eastern, Western and Northern frontiers has been in effect since last July, the Air Force reported in August that one of its jet bombers simulated an atomic bomb attack on a large city without being detected.

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, chief of the Strategic Air Command, did not identify the city but he said a B47 "flew to the target, made a simulated bomb drop, and returned to its base" without being seen or heard by the nearly two million people in the target area.

Biggest Red Air Attack Hit As Ike Left Korea

Commie Blow Repulsed By UN Guns And Planes

By SAM SUMMERLIN

SEOUL, Sunday, Dec. 7 (U-P)—The Red Air Force let loose with its heaviest attack of the war Friday night just as President-elect Eisenhower's plane was leaving Korea.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said last night the raiders were repulsed by Allied night fighters and blistering anti-aircraft fire. Although some Communist bombs were dropped near an air base, damage if any was not reported.

Meager in detail, the Air Force announcement said 11 hostile aircraft roaring toward Seoul were spotted on Allied radar scopes in a three-hour period beginning at 7:05 p. m. (5:05 a. m. Friday, EST.)

The Eisenhower party did not leave Seoul until 8:31 p. m.

A Far East Air Force spokesman said "if the attack really was an attempt on the President-elect's life, and we are not sure that it was, it was completely turned back."

Night air strikes by Red planes have been rare. The Fifth Air Force announcement described the attack as "the largest enemy air attack of the Korean War."

The Eisenhower party had been informed, before its departure, that Communist night fliers had been spotted by radar.

The sketchy Air Force announcement didn't say how close the invading Red planes came to Seoul, but reported "the night fighters were protecting Seoul was never penetrated."

There was no report of any Red planes being shot down or damaged.

"All contacts with the enemy by night fighters were made under adverse weather conditions," the Air Force said. "The night was dark, with light snow and low cloud ceilings prevailing throughout the contact area."

An Air Force spokesman said the Communist planes were small propeller-driven craft and added:

"It is highly probable that these little planes did not come from Manchuria or deep in North Korea. Planes of that type can be hidden under any haystack, and their home base might have been in Korea near the spot where the attack took place."

"In that case they would not have had to fly through the effective air cover farther north."

Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air Force commander, said earlier that "not a single enemy airplane of any type was able to penetrate south of the Chongchun River," in Northwest Korea.

Meantime, the ground war continued light Saturday all along the 155-mile battle front. Small enemy groups continued to harass Pimpot Hill, strategic height on Sniper Ridge.

The Air Force said U. S. Sabre jets downed four Russian-built MIG jet fighters during the week-end Friday night. One Sabre jet was lost in a dog fight over MIG Alley during the three days Eisenhower was in Korea.

The Sabre jet was one of five Allied planes lost during the week. Three others were shot down by ground fire and a fourth — a Panther jet — was lost by "other causes," presumably mechanical trouble.

The Army said 15,000 Reds were killed, wounded or captured during November. That was only half the Red casualties during the previous month.

7 Industry Members Of Wage Board Quit

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (U-P)—All seven industry members of the Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) quit today with a blast at President Truman for what they called the "perpetration of a fraud upon the American people."

The row threatened to torpedo the government's whole wage control program.

The industry members, who constitute one-third of the wage board's makeup, said Truman's approval of a $1.50 daily wage increase for John L. Lewis' United Miners was a "special privilege" extended to a few and made "second class citizens of all others."

"As American citizens," they said, "we cannot subscribe to the theory that this sovereign government should sacrifice the public interest to industrial hooliganism."

The wage board had voted to hold the miners' pay increase to $1.50 a day, on the ground that the higher figure, to which the coal operators had agreed, would "irreparably" damage the entire anti-inflation program.

Truman overruled the board, saying its action would lead to a nationwide coal strike and confront the new Eisenhower administration with a national emergency on its first day in office.

In a letter to the President, the industry members said:

"We cannot escape the conclusion that political expediency was a factor in this action."

Asserting that the wage stabilization program is now "nothing but a sham and a mockery," the letter added:

"If your action means that the small and the weak are to be restricted by wage controls, while the big and the powerful are to be allowed whatever excessive increases result from the threat of a paralyzing strike, then there no longer exists the equality with which all law and all regulation should be applied in a republic."

Chest Lacks $700 Of Reaching Goal

With the spirit of generosity at its peak during the Yule season, Chairman Elmo Wasson hopes Big Springers and Howard Countians will remember the lagging Community Chest campaign and the worthwhile Christian work the Chest makes available on a year-round basis.

Wasson Saturday reminded that the Chest still needs $700 to carry out its commitments to the five participating agencies. He emphasized it is his hope that residents will open hearts and purse strings to that extent at least, although an additional $700 in contributions will leave the Community Chest without operating funds of any kind for the next year.

Funds saved from last year's campaign and the paring of 1952 drive expenses to the bone has put the Chest within sight of the total needed to fulfill pledges to the participating agencies — YMCA, Boy and Girl Scouts, a downtown servicemen's center, and Salvation Army.

Wasson and other Community Chest leaders again joined in an appeal for support of the agency and youth and welfare work it makes possible through the combined Red Feather drive each fall.

Many persons still haven't been contacted by representatives of the Chest but their contributions are hopefully solicited, Wasson declared. Donations may be handed or mailed to Wasson or turned in at The Herald office.

Contributions continue to trickle in, according to the chairman, and several new members have been signed for the 25 Club, a group of 25 donors.

IN TEXAS SCHOOLS

Negroes, Whites Share Classrooms

By BRUCE HENDERSON Associated Press Staff

On almost a dozen Texas campuses this year, Negroes are going to school with white students.

They share the same college classrooms and professors. And students of at least one school have elected a Negro to the student council.

This is something relatively new in Texas, a state with deep southern traditions. And these inroads into segregation have come mainly in the last two years.

A survey shows at least 11 institutions of higher education in Texas have opened their doors to Negroes, accepting them in either one or all departments.

Three other schools without Negroes indicated they would readily admit qualified Negro applicants.

Negro enrollment in the 11 schools totals 132 this year, a minute but significant percentage of the student population.

There are 51 Negroes at the University of Texas in Austin. St. Edwards University, also in Austin, has 12. Other schools and their Negro enrollment are St. Mary's University, San Antonio, 14; Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, 4; Amarillo College, Amarillo, 18; Brite College of the Bible, (part of Texas Christian University), Fort Worth, 3; Howard County Junior College, Big Spring, 8; Musical Arts Academy, Amarillo, 2; Wayland College, Plainview, 18; Del Mar College, Corpus Christi, 9, and Southern Methodist University, Dallas, 5.

Officials of Lutheran Concordia College, Austin, De Mazeno Scholasticate, San Antonio, and Southwestern Medical School, Dallas, branch of the University of Texas, indicated they would receive any qualified Negro applicant.

A U. S. Supreme Court ruling sparked the comparatively heavy enrollment at the University of Texas. The high court said Negroes must be admitted if they cannot find equal educational facilities in Negro institutions.

The ruling grew out of the Sweatt case. Heman Marion Sweatt, a letter carrier, waged a long and finally successful court fight to gain admission to the University Law School despite its segregation policy. Sweatt generally is credited with breaking down the university's segregation rules.

More than a year ago, however, Sweatt "busted out" of law school. He said he doubted he had been treated unfairly on "grades, that ill health hurt his chances. But Sweatt has interpreted the success of other Negroes in the Law School as proving segregation unnecessary.

Others of the 11 schools—all private or church-related institutions and locally operated junior colleges—rubbed out the color line voluntarily.

At SMU, for example, it was a matter of "meeting a practical need," according to President Umphrey Lee.

Lee explained SMU's Methodist postgraduate seminary is the only one of its kind in eight states. For that reason, Negro college graduates desiring to be ministers are allowed to enter the seminary if they can qualify. Lee said he knows of no move to admit Negroes to other schools or departments at SMU.

Dr. G. J. Beto, president of Lutheran Concordia, gave a more idealistic answer to his school's willingness to receive Negroes. "They (Negroes) pay taxes," he said, "they fight in wars; they are citizens. They should receive equal opportunity for higher education."

Gray St. Clair, dean of Del Mar College, says Negroes were admitted there for the first time this fall. "We felt they were entitled to enter, and, besides, it would have taken $300,000 to give them separate and adequate facilities," the dean explained.

St. Clair says the nine Negroes at Del Mar are getting along "just fine."

Here's an incident that occurred at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary shortly after Negroes were admitted to that Fort Worth school: A phase of religious training there is teaching social games suitable for church meetings. One game consisted of tying balloons to the ankles and bursting them against balloons tied to other persons.

But one of the Negro students, Leon F. Hardee, Waco, wasn't quite sure whether he should take part in this game.

His hesitancy was quickly dispelled. "Come on, Brother Hardee, get on our side," one of the white students called. "No you don't, Brother Hardee, you help us," said another.

They were vying for his participation.

W. A. Hunt, Howard County Junior College president, notes "a slight tendency on the part of the Negroes, themselves, to segregate" while in school even though no segregation is required there. Although this is decreasing, Hunt says, Negroes have made no attempt to mingle with whites equally at college socials, such as dances.

"One of our Negro students has been elected to the student council," Hunt reported. He terms this "evidence in itself of how well our white students have accepted the Negro."

Grades of Negroes in some schools were reported lower than those of whites—because of "poorer earlier opportunities," one educator said—while at other institutions Negroes' grades were not noticeably higher or lower.

Negroes are barred from the great majority of Texas colleges and universities. Forty-three other schools answering the survey haven't admitted Negroes. Most cited state law or school policy as reasons for maintaining the ban.

Lincoln Car Sets New World Speed Records In Race

In winning the first four places in the stock car division of the third annual Mexican Pan-American Road Race, November 19-23, the 1953 Lincoln not only established new world speed records for this type competition but also proved its durability and stamina under some of the worst road conditions in the world.

Roaring across the finish line at Juarez, Mexico, to complete five days of speed driving over a 1,938-mile course, Chuck Stevenson of Lynwood, California, racked up a new record of 90.93 miles per hour. His elapsed time was 21:15:38. During the final day's run of 231 miles from Chihuahua to Juarez, Stevenson averaged 115.40 mph, another new record.

Second place winner was Johnny Mantz, also driving a 1953 Lincoln. Mantz finished just 31 seconds behind Stevenson in 21:16:09. His average time was 90.89 miles per hour.

Walt Faulkner and Capt. Bob Korf, also driving 1953 Lincolns, finished in third and fourth positions. Faulkner's time was 21:20:27, and Korf's was 21:25:09.

All four drivers had held the top positions from the second day on. The winning Lincolns were stock cars, and were among the first of the new 1953 models to be produced. They were equipped with a new 205-hp overhead valve V-8 engine which is being introduced for 1953. All had automatic transmissions.

Patrolman Due Back On The Job Today

Police Patrolman Curley Brown, who has been on leave for the past six weeks, will be back on the job today.

Brown returned Saturday from Cisco. He has been under treatment for gonorrhea at a Cisco hospital.

Two Men In Custody

Two men were taken into custody by city police Friday night after they drove out of a service station without paying for $1.85 worth of gasoline they had ordered. The pair was transferred to county authorities Saturday on a charge of theft, the offense having occurred at the Reed Oil Station No. 2, outside the city limits.

Stassen's Aims Are Peace, Good Living Conditions

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 6 (AP) — Harold E. Stassen, picked by President-elect Eisenhower to administer America's foreign aid program, said today his prime objectives are "peace and good living conditions for all the world's peoples."

"We cannot, nor must we ever try, to trim our aid to needy nations just for the sake of cutting our own budget," the 45-year-old ex-governor of Minnesota told a reporter.

Stassen, currently cleaning up his work as president of the University of Pennsylvania before he assumes his new duties as Mutual Security administrator on Jan. 20, admitted he has "a few ideas" to "freshen up the Marshall Plan program," but he cautioned: "It is much too early to talk about that now. I haven't even taken over the job yet."

Stassen, twice an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, said he would "divorce myself from politics completely" in directing the Mutual Security Administration, now headed by Averell Harriman.

"Everyone knows my Republican status and that's enough," Stassen said. "But this job I am undertaking, a big challenge to me, involves the entire free world and a stronger, more united free world depends on its success."

How long will the U. S. have to keep supplying money to needy European and Asian countries?

"No one has a crystal ball," the handsome 6-foot-2 Stassen replied.

Three Businesses In Big Spring Raided; Nearly $40 Taken

Thieves and burglars raided three Big Spring businesses Friday night, taking nearly $40 in cash and other goods.

Pedro Fierro, operator of a cafe at 510 N. San Antonio, reported that about $20 in change was taken from his establishment. The money was stolen from a juke box in the cafe which was entered through a rear window.

The Gomez Cafe No. 3, 508 N. W. 4th, also was burglarized with $2 or $3 stolen from a juke box and some $15 taken from the cash register.

Other place raided was Hughes Tool Company, 507 W. 3rd. Police said an undetermined quantity of used oil field drilling bits was stolen from a fenced-in yard. Thieves burrowed under the fence to remove the tools, officers reported.

Collision Is Reported

Glen Carroll Hutcheson, 508 Virginia, and Billy Overton, Chalk, were operators of vehicles in collision at 15th and Main Saturday, police reported. No one was injured.

"No one can say when such aid can be stopped. The objective we have is a secure and peaceful world with good living standards for all the people. "And these are not easy things to win." Will more money be sought for use in Asia? "That is under careful study. Our entire foreign aid program is being reevaluated."

ROKs Eager To Take Over More Of Front

By O. H. P. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer
(Editor's Note: This is one of several interpretive articles by an Associated Press editor who was in Korea when the present war started. He now is a member of the Texas AP staff.)

What do the "ROKs" (Republic of Korea soldiers) think about proposals to replace United States front-line divisions with Republic of Korea troops?
They are eager to take over even more of the front—where ROK divisions already heavily outnumber all United Nations units.

President Syngman Rhee has told AP's Bill Shinn since President-elect Eisenhower's departure that he made no commitments in their talks during the three-day visit. But he said he made it clear to the general the ROK's want the stalemate ended as soon as possible—with victory—and would welcome a doubling of the present ROK Army. But continued U. S. aid is vital.

Rhee's position from the start has been: "Train us, arm us, supply us and we will do the fighting."
Why were original ROK troops such poor fighters?
The speed of the Red invasion behind tanks cut off the first ROK divisions rushed to defenses below the 38th Parallel. As survivors trickled back, these units were reformed. The ranks were filled with untrained youngsters. These were the troops that broke before the relentless Communist march southward in the following weeks—units the bulk of which consisted of men who had never before fired a rifle.

But even U.S.-trained Koreans knew nothing about anti-tank techniques nor did they have weapons capable of stopping the Soviet-built monsters. U. S. Marines will tell you the ROK Marines they trained later are unexcelled as fighters.
Would the ROK's accept Japanese troops with U. N. units fighting the Communists?
Not likely.
ROK leaders fear enslavement under Communism, but they recall life under the Japanese for 40 years and are afraid Japan still covets Korea.

How would the ROK's feel about Nationalist Chinese units in the U. N. lines?
Early in the War, Chiang Kai-shek offered 35,000 soldiers to the U. N. forces but the U. N. declined. The Koreans say they need training and arms rather than men.

In recent months the U. N. has stepped up its training program for Korean troops. In mid-November, Dr. C. Y. Yang, ambassador to the U. S. from Korea, told a Dallas audience 400,000 men of his country are fighting alongside U. N. troops and 750,000 more could be raised in a moment if the U. N. would give the word.

Naturally the South Koreans would prefer this manpower be used to win a decisive, final victory rather than to free American divisions to be sent home or elsewhere.

JAYCEES PLAN NEW DATES FOR SAFETY DRIVE

Cold, windy weather hindered the Jaycee-sponsored "Lite-A-Bumper" safety drive Saturday, but another two "Safety Days" are planned next week.

Although nearly 100 cars had the red reflecting tape placed on rear bumpers, windy weather caused some of the tape to tear before being placed on bumpers. This, plus chilly air made for some cold hands on the part of local Jaycees. In fact, some who had intended to aid the drive failed to show up in view of the cold weather.

However, public response seemed enthusiastic and Jaycees feel many more people would like to place the "Scotch-lite" tape on cars.

As a result, two more days have been set aside, Wednesday and Thursday Dec. 10-11, during the hours of 3:30 and 5:30 p. m., at the corner of Sixth and Main Streets.

Jaycees helping out in the drive Saturday were Ray Rhoads, president; Fred Greene, Oliver Cofer, Bill Cox, Commodore Ryan, Glen Gale, David Sims and Clifton Lawrence.

Former Resident Named Outstanding Inglewood Citizen

A former Big Spring resident has been chosen as the outstanding citizen of Inglewood, Calif. for 1952.

She is Dr. Ada L. Hatcher, who was specifically cited for her leadership in establishing a cancer detection clinic.
Almost single handedly she had established the clinic, then was chiefly responsible for it being later moved to the Centinela Hospital and converting it into a tumor examination board. Ultimately, it led to location of the district offices of the American Cancer Society in Inglewood.
Glowing tributes were paid to her work by community leaders. Dr. Hatcher, nee Ada Lingo, is a graduate of Big Spring High School and at one time was a member of the Herald staff. She wrote some light mystery fiction and later decided upon a medical career.

Thousands Of People Ignorant Of True Sex, Medical Men Say

(Editor's Note: An astonishing story was the disclosure in New York and Copenhagen this week that an American GI had undergone medical and surgical treatments to change into a girl. Alton Blakeslee, Associated Press science editor on assignment to cover the annual American Medical Association convention in Denver, interviewed medical and urologist specialists for this interesting story.)

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
DENVER, Dec. 6 (AP)—The American GI who changed in sex from man to woman does not walk alone in the mysteriousland of human sex.

There are perhaps thousands of Americans living in doubt or ignorance about their true sex. Some are men who really are women. Some are women who really are men. Some are living contented lives, often in marriage. Others live in a hell of mental torture and doubt and fear.

Actually, all humans begin life with double sex. Very early, before we are born, we become either clearly male or female.

But sometimes the mysterious controls over sex go awry, and a baby is born who sexually is part male, part female. These are called pseudo-hermaphrodites. And very rarely, individuals are born who are "true hermaphrodites," possessing the external and internal organs of both sexes.

One medical specialist, Dr. Elmer Hess of Erie, Pa., estimates there are 2,000 to 3,000 pseudo-hermaphrodites — on the borderline in sex—in this country.

A famous urologist, the late Dr. Hugh Young of Baltimore, once said perhaps one in every 1,000 persons is born a pseudo-hermaphrodite. If that figure is correct, some 150,000 Americans started life with doubt or error over their true sex.

Some take action early to have the question decided. Others may not act for years, perhaps not until doubts arise.

Today in Copenhagen, golden-haired Christine Jorgensen, 26, is living a new life as a woman. Only two years ago she was George Jorgensen Jr., a soldier serving at Fort Dix, N. J.

Medical and surgical treatments brought her transformation to a woman, correcting what Miss Jorgensen called a mistake by nature.

In reality, all humans remain somewhat bi-sexual. The male has some vestigial female sex organs, the female some vestigial male organs. Both men and women produce both male and female sex hormones. The male has a preponderance of male hormones, the female of female hormones.

In the early development of the unborn baby, things can go wrong if there is no clear-cut preponderance to make the baby clearly a male or a female. The child may have organs of both sexes.

The true hermaphrodite has a complete set of both organs, internal and external ones. But instead of two gonads or glands of one sex, he has one of each — one testis and one ovary.

There are only about 20-odd proven cases in the world of such complete sex mix-ups. Reviewing them once, Dr. Young said the emotions and sexual interest of these people almost always depended upon whether they had been reared as boy or girl.

One true hermaphrodite was said to have had sex relations with both sexes!

Far more common is the pseudo-hermaphrodite. This person has the sex glands of only one sex. That is, the two male glands, the testes which may be hidden or only partly formed, or the two female glands, the ovaries.

But the external organs are neither completely one way or the other. The development can be a compromise. Secondary sex characteristics, such as face hair or breasts or body contours, may be those of the opposite sex.

Whether such a person is truly male or female depends upon whether he has male sex glands or female. Sometimes an exploratory operation is needed to learn this.

The pseudo-hermaphrodite is usually really a male, Dr. Hess said. The external organs may greatly resemble those of a woman.
And the person who is really a female may have some external appearances of a man.
Surgery can correct this condition, in either way.
A person reared as a girl can therefore be changed into a man. Often the man is able to marry and have a satisfactory married life. He may be able to become a father.

Old Santa Claus Stopped In Stanton

Riding in his jingle-bells sleigh pulled by his reindeer Old Santa Claus visited Stanton Friday where he was seen by more than 2,000 children who received pre-Christmas gifts of apples and candy, while hundreds of them enjoyed the experience of having him take them up in his arms and ask them what they wanted for Christmas. The whole country, officially and otherwise, turned out to greet him.

STREET LIGHTS TURNED ON

Santa And His Reindeer Help To Open Martin Yule Season

STANTON, (SC) — Just about one of the happiest kids in all West Texas this Christmas season is a little four-year-old fellow who is a patient in the Martin County Memorial Hospital with both legs broken.

He is Wayne Bradshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Bradshaw of the Courtney Community. His legs were broken in an accident at home. It isn't usual to find a boy with both legs broken who is so happy, but then it isn't at all usual to find a four-year-old boy who has been visited by Santa Claus, and old Santa spent a whole half an hour with Wayne here Friday when the merry white-bearded fellow came to town with his reindeer, Dancer and Prancer and Donner and Blitzen, and his sleigh, to help open the Christmas season.

Wayne was just one, however, of more than 2,000 kids who got to see Santa and his reindeer and to receive bags of apples and candy passed out by Santa's helpers. All the schools in the county were dismissed Friday morning for the occasion of Santa's visit and the students from the country schools were brought to Stanton in their school buses so they could line up along the streets and see the parade led by Stanton's new fire truck, and with the Stanton High School Band furnishing the music from a truck well decorated in fancy Christmas style. A great many times along the route, every 30 or 40 feet almost, old Santa would stop those reindeer and reach down into the crowd and take a little boy or girl into his arms and have a talk with them and find out just exactly what they wanted for Christmas.

"Whoa! Hold up there! You're takin' me too fast. I want to stop and talk with these little children," Santa would shout and the reindeer would stop.

Charges Filed After Accident

Charges of falling to grant right-of-way were filed against a truck driver Saturday as a result of an accident on East Highway 80.

The mishap occurred about 3:30 p.m. Friday when a 1953 Buick and the truck collided near Copen refinery. The truck was traveling east, and the car was going west.

Harold Henry Lemmer, truck driver, started to turn into the refinery and was partially across the one-way strip going east according to investigating officers.

Roy E. Chastel, driver of the Buick, saw the truck and swerved to the right. However the bumper of the truck was damaged, and the left fender of the Buick was destroyed. The right fender of the Buick hit a stop sign and was damaged also.

No injuries were reported. Lemmer was driving an oil transport truck. Highway Patrolmen Amos Johnson and Jack Taylor investigated.

Applications For Employment Rise

The week showed an increase in new applications for employment, a new high for claims for unemployment compensation and a new low in the number of persons placed in jobs, according to Leon Kinney, manager of the Big Spring office of the Texas Employment Commission.

During the week 505 office visits were registered; 62 new applications for employment were made; 50 persons were referred to non-agricultural employment and of these 31 were placed in jobs, Kinney said.

During the week 42 claims were filed for unemployment compensation.

The Martin County Christmas season had been officially opened Thursday night when the Christmas lights were turned on in the streets, business places and homes.

Merchants have announced their stores will remain open late both Thursday night between now and Christmas, and a program of carol singing has been planned for 7 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 13, on the Bank Corner. The singers will assemble at the Baptist Church half an hour earlier and will then march to the down town location. Participating in this program will be singers from churches and schools all over the county.

Home decorations will be judged the evening of Dec. 22, it has been announced by O. B. Bryan, chairman of the committee of the Chamber of Commerce sponsoring the contest.

Business here, according to Mrs. Hila Weathers, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, "is much better than we have had any reason to expect in view of the drought, but then Martin County raised 15,000 bales of cotton this year."

Mrs. Weathers says Stanton merchants are very well pleased with their prospects for a good Christmas business and that gift buying has already gotten well underway in local stores.

W-T Chamber Directors Set Odessa Meeting

Two West Texas Chamber of Commerce directors from Big Spring and other representatives of the local Chamber expect to attend a WTCC district meeting in Odessa Tuesday, Dec. 16.

WTCC directors from Big Spring are G. H. Hayward and Douglas Orme. R. L. Beale, vice president of the local Chamber, plans to attend the meeting and other representatives may go from here, J. H. Greene, C-C manager reported Saturday.

The District 6 meeting of WTCC is slated for 10 a.m. at the Odessa Chamber of Commerce offices.

Approval of the 1953-54 program of services and activities, the year's budget, and election of a district vice president will be the major items listed for action.

President Armstrong and Fred H. Husbands, general manager, will discuss the program of work adopted by the executive board in a meeting in Ft. Worth Nov. 21.

Department managers of the WTCC staff also will attend. They are Alden L. Cathey, public relations and membership; Loran H. Walker, agriculture and livestock; Ralph E. Duncan, community services; Paul Marable, Jr., industrial development and water resources; Wendell Bedelchek, public information and tourist development; and James F. Melton, taxation and legislation.

Towns of district 6 that are affiliated with the WTCC are Andrews, Big Spring, Kermit, Lamesa, Midland, Odessa, Seminole, Stanton, and Seagraves.

Cab Drivers Fined In Justice Court

William E. Randell and James T. Randell, local cab drivers, were fined $14 each in Peace Justice W. O. Leonard's court Saturday after they pleaded guilty to charges of fraudulently taking gasoline.

Verne Graham of Reed Oil Company filed charges against the two men, claiming they had $1.53 worth of gasoline placed in their car and drove off without paying.

Police arrested the two near the Crawford Hotel after the incident Friday night.

Former Resident Is Dead After Accident

Aubrey W. McCluskey, 30, was killed Friday when his car crashed into the rear of a truck and then struck a telephone pole near Midland.

McCluskey formerly lived in Big Spring, but left here some two years ago when he moved to Arizona. At the time of his death he was living in Odessa.

Ike, Truman Note Date Of Pearl Harbor

By The Associated Press
"Remember Pearl Harbor." So went the battery of World War II. Today, 11 years after the surprise Japanese attack, Americans are still remembering. In a statement on the eve of the 11th anniversary, President Truman remembered — and warned that another surprise attack "can happen again." "Because of the immense destructive power of the atomic bomb we must maintain vigilance so that our cities and our industries will be less vulnerable to devastating attack," he said. The President called on Americans to join up as volunteer air raid spotters.

Solons Seek Cut In U. S. Staffs Abroad

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—The two top members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said today that U. S. diplomatic and Mutual Security staffs abroad are too big and should be reduced. They are Sen. Connally (D-Tex) and Sen. Wiley (R-Wis). Wiley, now serving as a delegate to the United Nations General Assembly, is in line to succeed Connally as chairman of the foreign relations group when the Texan retires from the Senate next month. Coincident with their statements a Senate-House committee reported there are 184,222 American civilians working for various federal agencies abroad. This is 9,186 fewer than four years ago.

only an undue expense; it also promotes inefficiency and overlapping and presents a temptation to extravagance which we cannot afford." Connally said he was "impressed with the high quality, earnestness and patriotism of our United States representatives abroad with whom I have talked during this visit." Wiley, in a statement issued at his office here, said he had observed a tendency toward "building up (American) diplomatic empires in certain countries." "Several foreign governments are aghast at the huge size of certain of our diplomatic and aid establishments," Wiley said. "I do not begrudge a single dime for an important post; but I am convinced that in some key spots, masses of employes are stepping all over themselves and there is wide room for economy."

New Inspection Law Is Planned

AUSTIN, Dec. 6 (AP)—Rep. D. H. Buchanan of Longview said today he will introduce a new auto safety inspection law in the next Legislature to "eliminate the objectionable features of the present law and still preserve the lifesaving value of regular inspections." The Inspection Act, enacted last year, had been under sharp attack from some lawmakers. Buchanan said the statute should be repealed but proposed that it be replaced by a "sensible, workable and effective inspection measure."

He said his proposal would allow automobile owners to get license plates without the necessity of first securing an inspection on their car and would nail down specific features of mechanical safety to be checked during inspections. Buchanan claimed the death rate on Texas highways has dropped drastically this year, primarily as the result of the safer operating condition of cars and trucks.

President-elect Eisenhower also noted the anniversary and said in a message, released in New York, that "never again must America be weak or unaware." He said: "Tonight, more than any other time of the year, Americans should remember the stern penalty for failure to be alert and strong, because on this night just 11 years ago, too many of us slept too soundly, and at dawn the enemy struck us a crippling blow at Pearl Harbor." At Davenport, Ia., National Commandant Edward F. Misewicz of the Navy Club of the U. S. A., took a similar viewpoint to Truman's. "We can't be smug—there could be another Pearl Harbor," he said in a prepared address.

Kansas To Head Oil Commission

WICHITA, Kan., Dec. 6 (AP)—Gov. Edward Arn of Kansas was elected chairman today of the Interstate Oil Compact Commission, 22-state co-operative in conservation measures. Arn—a Republican—succeeds Gov. Sid McMath of Arkansas, a Democrat.

Weldon Hart of Austin was elected first vice chairman to succeed Jeff Robertson, chairman of the Kansas Corporation Commission. George Brown, a Houston engineer, told the meeting of the industrial nations with countries less developed but rich in raw materials. "Free nations of the world face a prospect that is nothing less than dazzling" if they find that partnership, Brown said.

Negro Is Shot By Fort Worth Officer

FORT WORTH, Dec. 6 (AP)—A Negro, Euell Hudson, 50, was shot to death today by policeman R. F. Briggs after he threatened Briggs and his partner with an ax. Briggs and R. J. Lee answered a disturbance call at the home of Hudson's estranged wife before the shooting.

The United States consumed 476 million tons of bituminous coal in 1951, which was nearly 100 million tons more than in 1939.

Courthouse Work Near Second Floor

Construction work on the new Howard County Courthouse neared the second floor level this week, as workers completed most of the wooden forms and braces.

All forms for the posts leading to the second floor are up, and some of them already have the reinforcing steel in place. All that is lacking for is the pouring of cement.

Blood Donors Beginning To Lag Over State

By The Associated Press
Texas blood bank and Red Cross officials say they aren't getting enough donations. They say offerings of blood are far behind quotas. In some places, prizes and other inducements have been offered to pull volunteers to the blood donation centers. The blood program is sponsored by the Red Cross. It is intended mainly to supply transfusions for wounded servicemen in Korea. A survey Saturday showed donations running behind quotas in Orange, Dallas, Waco, Fort Worth, Denton, Sherman, Wichita Falls, Corsicana, San Antonio and San Angelo. Beaumont and El Paso reported the program improving after an apathetic start. Amarillo, Marshall and Texarkana reported success in getting residents to give blood. Why is the program lagging in many cities? "I call people every day, asking them to volunteer," said J. A. Summers, director of the Central Texas Blood Center at Waco. "They tell me they're too busy getting ready for Christmas." A Dallas Red Cross official said, "It's a sustained program. It gets sort of like a radio commercial—after you hear it so long, it begins to fall on deaf ears. People don't pay any more attention to it." The Dallas spokesman said the situation is generally the same all over the country, not just in Texas. Here is a summary: Orange—Getting people to volunteer is exasperating, one worker said. Some who sign up don't appear when the bloodmobile comes to town. Two $25 savings bonds have been offered to persons holding lucky cards at the blood center. Dallas—The program is progressing "very poorly." A Red Cross spokesman said Dallas County residents should donate 60 pints of blood a day. On one day recently, there wasn't a pint. The average daily donation is about 10 pints. Waco—Every Monday, Summers tries to get 111 pints of blood. Normally, he gets 40 to 60 pints. "People better hope somebody has time to give blood in case they wind up in a hospital during the Christmas season because of an accident," Summers said. "And a pint of blood might make a nice Christmas present for a GI in Korea." He plans to keep the Blood Center open Dec. 23-24 in hopes of stockpiling enough blood to take care of holiday accidents. The deplete the supply every year, he said. Fort Worth—Situation very poor. An active program is being started by business, industry, educational units and other organizations to establish a steady flow of donors. Monday and Friday are set aside for residents of Fort Worth at the North Texas National Defense Blood Center. Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, the center sends mobile units to West Texas and to Army bases, getting most of its blood from those sources. Sometimes football tickets have been used to attract donors. Wichita Falls—Mrs. Cliff Deaton, Wichita County Red Cross manager, said there is a constant lack of blood donors. The fall quota was 400 pints for Korea, and a big drive brought in less than 300 pints. Wichita County has a blood bank which supplies only Wichita County. It tries to keep a reserve of 75-100 pints. A recent rainy week ended caused accidents which required 138 pints of blood. Donor recruiters had to work constantly to keep the supply up. San Angelo—San Angelo has met its quota twice since November, 1951. Mrs. Maurine Prescott, executive secretary of the Concho County Red Cross chapter, said, "We have no difficulty making appointments for blood donations," she said, "but when it comes right down to giving it, they don't show up."

Paper Firm Formed By Houston Oil Co.

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—Formation of the East Texas Pulp & Paper Co. for building a pulp and paper mill in Evadale, Texas, was announced today by the Houston Oil Co. of Texas and Time Inc. The mill will draw a substantial part of its wood supply from lands owned by the Southwestern Settlement & Development Corp., a wholly-owned subsidiary of Houston Oil Co. Construction will start this spring. The Houston Oil Co. and Time Inc. own equal shares of the new company.

Pearson Urges Reds To Accept Proposal

By EDWARD CURTIS
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 6 (AP)—The president of the 80-nation U. N. General Assembly published tonight his personal appeal to Red China's Premier - Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai to end the Korean fighting on terms of India's peace plan.

The president, Canada's Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson, sent a similar message to North Korean authorities. They were in cables dispatched Friday, but not made public until tonight, transmitting the Indian resolution to the Communists. Fifty-four of the 80 nations endorsed the plan; Moscow and company was opposed.

The Red regimes have already turned down the proposals, but some sources, including India's V. K. Krishna Menon, hoped Pearson's personal appeal plus his explanations of what the plan actually does might open new avenues of approach.

Pearson's 800-word appeal was sent as U. S. President-elect Eisenhower was en route back to the United States after his three-day inspection trip in Korea.

The Indian plan, approved Wednesday, calls for no forced repatriation of Chinese and North Korean prisoners and no forced retention of them.

It sets up a commission composed of Sweden, Switzerland, Poland and Czechoslovakia to carry out repatriation and provides that POWs who refuse to return home will be cared for by the U. N. A fifth nation would be named as the commission's tie-breaking umpire.

Red China and North Korea have demanded that all war prisoners be returned, whether or not they want to go home.

"The India plan represents ideas put forward by many governments represented in the General Assembly whose unanimous desire is to bring peace to Korea," Pearson said in his message. "The resolution can make this desire effective because its acceptance will make it possible to achieve an armistice and a complete and immediate cessation of hostilities."

An Expert Tells About Possums In An Expert Way

(POSSUMS. By Carl G. Hartman. 103 illustrations, 174 pp., 8 1/2 x 11 in. University of Texas Press, Austin, $5.00)

Always, we of the Deep South have known that a combination of possum and sweet taters, prepared by a master makes a most delightful dish, and now we have had demonstrated to us the fact that a combination of possum and paper and ink, when prepared by a master of another kind makes a most delightful book.

And as possum and sweet taters is an unusual dish for most of us, just so is this book most unusual. It is even far more unusual than the other as a variation in the diet implied by food.

The author of POSSUMS is the man who holds the first Ph. D. degree ever granted by the University of Texas, and he is generally credited with knowing more about possums than any other man in the world. Sections of the book are devoted to the traditionally quaint customs of possum hunting; to recipes for cooking the possum, once he's caught; to the rhymes and folklore of the possum, and to possum tales and facts. Throughout, it is illustrated with picturesque photographs and informative drawings.

The common aspirin tablet weighs five grains, while the average new born possum weighs but from 1.5 grains to about three grains, in any event less than the aspirin tablet. The average litter of the tiny creatures is about 20 and at birth most of the score of them can be put in one standard size teaspoon. They're incubated in the mother's pouch on the belly and when from 45 to 70 days of age are furred over, able to run and climb, and are then ready to ride on her back with their tails wrapped around her tail as a sort of possum handhold.

Crewmen Injured When Tug Rammed

LAKE CHARLES, La., Dec. 6 (AP)—Three crew members of the tugboat Tont T. were seriously injured today when the craft was rammed by two oil barges and sunk in the International Canal near here.

Braxton Babin, 24, Orange, Tex., suffered cuts and a fractured ankle.

Raymond Henry, 42, Orange, captain of the tug, received severe cuts and a fractured right leg.

Authorities said the Tont T., pushing two oil barges, apparently was overtaken by another tug, which also was pushing two loaded oil barges. No one was injured in the second tug.

DALLAS, Dec. 6 (AP)—A burglar got caught today because he offered football fans a bargain.

Viruses Are Just Like Pretty Girls

GALVESTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—You can recognize a pretty girl by the way she's built. University of Texas scientists are learning to recognize viruses the same way.

They say it's a new system that may broaden the horizons of medical science. The Air Force is backing them.

The scientists now can spot several viruses—those that cause parrot fever and mumps, for example—and this takes a device more specialized than the hi-focals with which you size up the girl you pass on the street.

It is an infrared spectrophotometer. With it, men who know what to look for are learning to identify the chemical, as well as the physical, structures of viruses.

The project began as a small-scale laboratory study at the University of Texas Medical School here. Because of its promise, it has been expanded into a major project.

Corruption And Crime Wave Is Plaguing Soviet

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
Crime wave or purge?
If what the Soviet press says about its Communist officials in industry and trade is true, graft, embezzlement and corruption exist on a monumental scale in the USSR today. High-ranking Communist are up to their ears in the public trough. They're throwing a monkey-wrench into the Soviet system.

It seems likely the corruption affects every Soviet republic and every organization, including the secret police.

But the announced cleanup—dictated by Georgi M. Malenkov at the 19th All-Union Party Congress in October—has other aspects, too. The scent of a broad purge of party ranks is inescapable. It seems particularly fierce in the Ukraine, Azerbaijan, Uzbekistan, Kazakhstan and other Southern areas of the USSR.

The Dec. 1 edition of Pravda, strengthens the impression the current Kremlin campaign to clean up the party is aimed both at a fantastic wave of embezzlement and at laxity in party ranks.

Across the page are three columns written by V. Samyedov, secretary of the Azerbaijan Party Central Committee. This tells of the "stern punishment" of a number of party officials in Azerbaijan (adjacent to Iran) for unacceptable attitudes toward "self criticism and criticism from below." The article tells of the expulsion from party ranks and trial of a number of functionaries on vague charges concerning "big mistakes and criminal anti-state activities."

"Party organizations," declares Pravda, "are obliged to unmask and punish such leaders." It adds that the party must always keep in mind Malenkov's admonition of equal discipline for all party members, regardless of position.

There has been a wave of reports in the party press of crime, mostly embezzlement and swindling, in the Soviet Ukraine. Much of it may be connected with the never-say-die Ukrainian underground, which has worried Moscow ever since the Ukraine was absorbed three decades ago.

The tone of the Soviet press about crime—and such crime is nothing new—has taken on a note of frenzy. The strong political overtones of the accusations point to the drive on crime as a handy weapon to get rid of many party members now considered dangerous to the monolithic character of the Communist party.

Up to a relatively short time ago the Soviet press rarely printed crime news. Crime was a state secret. But now—since the October party congress and its strongly implied crackdown—the reports come daily.

In communism's double-talk, the crime is blamed on such things as "a formal-assive attitude" of officials, "failure to respond to signals," or "a formal-bureaucratic approach." It all adds up to the same thing: the party must get tougher. It was going soft.

Police officers stated that the faulty light had been reported three times Saturday evening.

Soil Conservation Fills Church Pews

FORT WORTH, Dec. 6 (AP)—Conservation practices increase farm production and often make farmers better church goers, a U. S. Soil Conservation Service official said today at the Texas Academy of Science.

"We have found that the well being of the soil has a direct bearing on the well-being of the people living on it," remarked H. B. Boswell of Temple, an assistant state conservationist.

B. W. Allred of Fort Worth, regional range conservationist, said that "of the 122 million acres of grazing land in Texas, only 3 per cent is still in excellent condition. He added that the work of the service and other agencies is in the 41 per cent poor condition and 40 per cent fair condition lands. Most of the poor ranges are in the Trans-Pecos and Edwards Plateau regions, Allred said.

Charges Prepared In Cement Thefts

The two made away with more than 1,800 sacks, a few hundred at a time, since Oct. 15.

Their method was to find workmen unloading a freight car of cement, then back up to the door of the car, let the workmen toss on the cement, and drive away.

No one ever thought to ask who they were until too late.

McLeroy and his 61 buddies left tonight for New York on the chartered plane. Each paid $250 round trip fare. Normal tourist fare on airlines is $455 round trip.

They'll have till Jan. 4 to start back to France.

Lawyer Prosecutes Colleague In Mixup

Weather In State Makes Compromise

By The Associated Press
Texas weather was a comedy of compromises Saturday.

It was sunny—but not too sunny. Cloudy but not too cloudy. Windy but not too windy. Cool but not too cold.

The sun shone, all right, but scattered high clouds sifted its rays. That kept temperatures down to the 50s in North Texas and the 60s in the south. Winds were brisk but not overly strong.

Not a drop of rain was recorded in Texas Saturday.

Similar weather was forecast Sunday. A few light sprinkles of rain here and there were expected.

Dies Is Opposed To Half-Hearted Probe

HOUSTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—Martin Dies, new congressman at-large, said today that he will not tolerate any "half-hearted" investigation of Communists and other subversive elements in the government by the incoming administration.

THE WEEK

bad breaks right at the end of the game, Lamesa would have upended the haughty Brecks.

Construction hit a brisk pace here in November, based on building permits. Totals stood at $714,000, which boosted the year's total to $5,660,000. Because December is normally a tapering off month, we'll have to push some to hit the $6 million mark for the year.

North Texas opera work shop members made their appearance here last week and one more scored a resounding hit. Star of the show was Big Spring's own Susan Houser. Increasing crowds came to hear these young musicians and next time the building might be packed.

Status of Big Spring bids to retain a Longhorn League franchise were in a sort of suspended animation at the end of the week. Pat Stasey, who is going to Roswell, N. M., has until Dec. 15 to move, and it may be nothing will happen until that time.

With Franklin Reynolds

While in Stanton a few days ago I dropped in at the Reporter office to see Jim Kelly, the veteran newspaperman.

Hanging on a hook on his line-type, within easy reach of his hand, was a sixshooter.

But it happened to be a pretty good size cap pistol, a good imitation of the real thing.

Jim keeps it hanging there to remind him of his early days in journalism when if an editor was going to both tell the truth and stay in business he had to keep some real sixshooters and Winchester around. Jim well remembers such days in Oklahoma, New Mexico and West Texas.

The Grub Line Rider came very near to getting into the beer business one day last week. A workman got the Grub Liner's home telephone wire crossed up with the line of the Lone Star Beer Co. People wanting the Grub Liner got beer and people wanting beer got the Grub Liner.

Then a lineman came along and got the wires uncrossed. If, in the meantime, the Grub Liner had had a couple of carloads of beer he could have done a right smart business, and maybe a little drinking.

Soil scientists with the Soil Conservation Service have been busy recently making analytical surveys of Dawson County farms.

Among those who have sought such SCS technical assistance are M. C. Lindsey, who lives near Sand; Melvin Booth in the Grandview area; E. Smith, whose farm joins Booth on the south, and Sybil Mitchell and John Middleton, north of Lamessa.

These soils surveys are comparable to a merchant taking inventory of his stock—they show the farmer what he has to work with, such as the type of soil, the slope of the land and the amount of erosion that has taken place.

Such surveys are available, without cost, to any West Texas farmer or rancher.

Jess Jenkins, SCS work unit conservationist at Lamessa, also reports that terracing contractors have been at work on the Dawson County farms of Walter Burkett and Clyde Edwards.

The contractor working on the Burkett home place will move his equipment to the Sybert place, also operated by Burkett, as soon as the home place job is finished. The Sybert place is located on top of a slope, and according to Jenkins, has prevented C. A. Woolsey and Arthur Little from terracing because of extra water from the Sybert farm. Sybert undertook to terrace it but the ground was too dry at the time. Jenkins says that when the job is finished on the Sybert place the same contractor will terrace the Woolsey and Little farms.

The 1953 edition of the San Antonio Livestock Exposition plans one of the largest sheep and goat shows in Texas history, according to Mark Browne, chairman of the livestock committee. Premiums total $6,830 in the breeding sheep and goat show, the open show, and the boys' fat lamb show.

In addition special awards will be made by the American Corriedale Association, the American Hampshire Sheep Association, the American Suffolk Society and the American Angora Goat Breeders Association.

The boys' fat lamb show will be supervised by Bill Oliver, vocational agriculture teacher from Tivy High School at Kerrville. He will be assisted by Bill Rector, county agricultural agent at Seguin. More than $1,000 in premiums is offered in the boys' show and last year the champion lamb sold for $1,000 in the auction.

The show will be held Feb. 20-March 1, and the closing date for livestock entries is December 15.

Martin Chamber To Again Sponsor Cub Scout Packs

STANTON, (SC) — The Martin County Chamber of Commerce has again agreed to sponsor all Martin County Cub Scout activities during the coming year. It has been announced following a meeting of the board of directors composed of S. W. Wheeler, president; Cecil Bridges, vice-president; James Jones, treasurer, and Directors Jack Bently, S. J. Foreman, James H. Jones, J. H. Pinkston, R. B. Whitaker and B. F. White.

Mrs. Hilda Weathers, manager, said the board also agreed to supplement the 4-H achievement award posted by the Martin County Commissioners Court, which has offered $50 to the 4-H boy, and $50 to the 4-H girl making the best achievement record in 1953. The Chamber of Commerce action provides an additional $25 for both the boy and girl.

County Agent Ray Hastings says this additional $75 award for each the boy and girl with the highest achievement records, can be calculated to stir even a greater interest in the 4-H programs.

YULE BASKET APPLICATIONS DUE DEC. 13

Persons interested in making applications for Christmas baskets at the Salvation Army headquarters must do so before Saturday, Dec. 13.

Anyone wishing to adopt a needy family for Christmas should also contact the Army personnel. The headquarters is at 600 West 4th, and phone is 454.

FATHER IS AN AIRMAN

One County-Born Baby Named Dwight David Since Election

One boy born in Howard County since the general election of Nov. 4 has been given the same first names of President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower.

He is Dwight David Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge Collins. The elder Collins is stationed at Webb Air Force base, and young Dwight D. was delivered at the base hospital.

The youngster was born Nov. 12, only eight days after the election. He has the distinction of being the only boy ever given a birth certificate in Howard County between election and inauguration who was named after the President-elect.

However there are probably many children named after presidents in the county. Time allowed only a check of the months immediately following each national election since 1900.

One notable example of children being named after a President was the birth of triplets to Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Shaw of Knott of Sept. 30, 1936. The called the boys Franklin, Delano, and Roosevelt Shaw. The Shaws' birth date was during Roosevelt's tenure of office, previous to re-election. There were no children issued birth certificates right after FDR's election and before his inauguration in 1941, 1940, 1938, or 1932.

Neither did Howard County have any boys named Harry or Truman in 1948 after the present President was elected and before he took office.

Herbert Clark Hoover, Calvin Coolidge, Warren Gamaliel Harding, Woodrow Wilson, William Howard Taft, and Teddy Roosevelt were without namesakes in Howard County right after their elections also. Records are not available earlier than 1900.

And the records in the County Clerk's office were not complete. Many of the children born before 1930 do not have their names listed. There are probably a few births in the county not registered also.

Quite a few children in the county are reported to have been named for the presidents during and after their tenure of office. Everyone in Big Spring is probably familiar with a Harry, Herbert, Calvin.

Woman Recovers From An Operation

Mrs. Cecil Thixton of Big Spring is recovering nicely from surgery performed at the New England Baptist Hospital, Boston, Mass., Tuesday, her husband reported Friday afternoon.

A berry aneurysm, which had resulted in cerebral hemorrhage on two occasions, was removed from the back portion of Mrs. Thixton's head. Thixton said she probably will be able to return home by the latter part of this week.

Franklin, Warren, Woodrow, William or Teddy.

Capt. Marshall A. Minner at the Webb Air Force base hospital delivered Dwight D. Collins. The elder Collins — Calvin Coolidge — is 24 years old according to his son's birth certificate.

That would make the elder Collins birth fall during the administration of Calvin Coolidge.

Cadet Makes Forced Landing At Webb AFB

A Webb Air Force Base aviation cadet, Robert D. Clark, of Lynwood, Cal., made a successful forced landing on the base Friday afternoon.

The cadet, who experienced engine trouble with his T-28 propeller-type trainer while performing training maneuvers south of the air base, managed to return to the base in the ailing plane and bring his ship in for a normal, wheels-up emergency landing.

Clark was not injured, and the T-28 received a minimum of damage.

Reports of a forced landing near Snyder Thursday in a T-33 jet trainer were unfounded, Webb officials reported.

Capt. Leo G. Bradford, base operations officer, said that a jet trainer which was low on fuel merely landed at the Snyder airport for refueling.

Cosden Spots 4 New Tests

Cosden Petroleum Corporation was in the process of completing one well Saturday and staked four other locations in the shallow Coronet-2900 field of northeast Howard County.

Cosden No. 1 Guy Guffee, 330 from the south and east lines of section 58-20, LaVaca, was pumping Saturday, but at noon the potential for this well had not been reported.

Cosden announced location for its No. 2 Guy Guffee, to be 330 from the south and 2,640 from the east line of section 58-20, LaVaca. Cosden No. 3 Guy Guffee will be 990 from the east and 330 from the north lines of the south half of the southeast quarter of section 58-20, LaVaca.

Cosden No. 4 Guy Guffee will be 330 from the west and 330 from the north line of the south half of the southeast quarter of section 58-20, LaVaca.

Cosden No. 1-F, Chester L. Jones was another location spotted. It is to be 330 from the west and 330 from the south line of the north half of the southwest quarter of section 59-20, LaVaca. All are in the vicinity of the shallow discovery of the area.

Rig had been moved over from Cosden No. 1 Kincald, in northwest Mitchell, to Cosden No. 1-D, Jones, 990 from the east and 330 from the south lines of the northeast quarter of section 59-20, LaVaca. This test will be taken from its present depth of 2,990 to a possible 5,000. Actually, it will be looking for possible shows around 4,700-4,800.

Cosden No. 1 Kincald, which has been having a look at samples in the 4,700-foot level, was swabbing some water and oil. Operator will finish its experiments with the well with swabbing unit.

Cosden No. 2-B Jones, 330 from the south and 990 from the east lines of the north-east quarter section 5-25, H&TC, drilled to 366 and set the surface string at that point.

Cosden No. 1-E Jones, 330 from the west and south lines of the northeast half of the southeast quarter of section 59-20, LaVaca, drilled to 3,690 and had a stuck drillpipe. This is a Coronet shallow failure which is to have a look at the 4,700-foot level.

Laughlin-Porter Drilling Co. and Texas Crude No. 1 Sam Fisherman, northwest Howard County exploration, continued making hole Saturday.

It was at 8,690 in shale, and so far the reef had not been sighted. At 8,490 the test had a drilling break but it turned out to be lime stringers. Location is 660 from the north and west lines of the east half of section 1-33-2n, T&P, five miles southwest of the Vealmoor pool.

Pan-American No. 1 M. L. Hamlin, 867 from the south and 467 from the east lines section 43-32-3n, T&P one location south of the Pan-American No. 1 Pauline Hamlin, a recent reef discovery, drilled past 2,332 in lime.

Pan-American No. 1 O. H. Petty, 661 from the south and 660 west from the northwest quarter section 44-32-3n, T&P, east offset to the discovery well, was at 415 in redbeds and was preparing to deepen at the end of the week.

Sterling Wildcat Pan-American No. 1 R. T. Foster, a 9,000-foot prospector in western Sterling County, had drilled below 7,940 in shale at the week's end. This venture is located C SE SE 17-13, SPRR, which puts it six miles west of the Marvin Wichita-Albany field.

Public elementary and high schools cost about six billion dollars in 1951 and private schools about one billion dollars.

General American of Texas No. 1 Atkins Unit, a one mile southwest outcrop to the Salt Creek Canyon reef pool in Kent County, prepared to reperforate after flowing some salt water in testing from 6,334-6,649.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 15 Sam R. Preston has been completed in the Driver Spraberry area of Midland County.

In 24 hours it flowed through 24-64 choke to make no water and 363.43 barrels of 37.8-gravity oil. The well had been treated with 15,000 gallons hydracraft and it had tubing pressure of 3,250-400. Top of pay was 7,052, total depth 7,277, the oil string at 7,052. Location is 660 from the south and 1,980 from the east lines of section 42-37-4s, T&P.

Explorer Set In SE Borden

Another wildcat oil test for southeastern Borden County was announced Saturday.

Lario Oil and Gas Company and associates will drill No. 1-D T. L. Griffin 467 from the south and east lines of section 62-25, H&TC, a mile and a half northwest of the Hobo Field production. Operations will start by Dec. 12.

This venture is one mile north of Stephens Petroleum No. 1 Bacon, which is a mile northwest outpost to the Hobo area. The Bacon well was last reported swabbing about two barrels of water and one of oil, but at one time, after testing perforations from 7,153-64, had flowed as much as 166 barrels of oil per day.

Others interested with Lario are A. N. Hendrickson and Roger S. Cummings, Midland, and Charles E. Long, Inc., Big Spring. Long will drill the wildcat and also will have an interest in it.

The deal was worked up by M. T. (Rosy) Stallier, Midland, who assembled 200 acres of leases and turned them to Lario and others to drill. Stallier retained an interest. The tract on which the test will be drilled is a farmout to Stallier from Standard of Texas and is in the east half of the southeast quarter of section 62-25, H&TC. Other acreage in the spread includes the east half of the southeast quarter of section 61-20, LaVaca, and the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 49-25, H&TC.

This venture is five miles west of a wildcat announced by Fullerton Oil Company the previous day on its T. L. Griffin lease. This 7,500-foot test is bidding as a link between the Von Roeder and the Reinecke pools. It is to be 460 from the south and 660 from the east lines of the northeast quarter of section 57-25, H&TC.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 3-C, Conrad will be a Von Roeder location 1,980 from the north and 660 from the east lines of section 56-25, H&TC. Contract depth is 6,900. This is on the southwest corner of the Von Roeder pool.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 9 W. Ed Murphy, 522.7 from the south and 1,980 from the east lines of section 69-25, H&TC, completed as another Von Roeder producer. It flowed 24 hours through 12-64 choke naturally to make no water and 288.53 barrels of 46.1-gravity oil. Casing pressure was 210, tubing pressure 650, gas-oil ratio 803-1; top pay 6,763, total depth 6,785, and the 5 1/2-in. at 6,763. This well is also on the southwest rim of the pool and is a north offset to Magnolia No. 1-C Conrad, which was a dry hole.

Additional feed stock for Cosden's BTX plant is to be received from the Wickett Refining Company.

Buck Kent was here last week to confer with R. L. Tollett, Cosden president, relative to offering the feed stock. Cosden can use several hundred barrels per day additional feed stock (raw gasoline) to bring it to capacity.

Demand for the BTX products have been so brisk that so far the unit has not been able to supply quite all the feed stock needed. The toluene, of high quality, has been snapped up by the government for the Joliet (Ill.) Ordnance Works to make TNT. The Federal Rubber Reserve is taking the benzene.

Cosden has been processing some feed stock for the Wickett plant which needs the sharply up-graded gasoline, which results from the platforming, for blending.

Location is in section 32-19, T&P, half a mile east and slightly south of the Payne-Johnson No. 1 Little, the White Flat discovery well.

Standard of Texas No. 2 Goldie West will be a wildcat test testing the 2,000-foot level 14 miles north of Snyder.

Location is 660 from the south and 1,980 from the west lines of section 288-2, H&TC, on an elevation of 2,340. Originally, this test was carried to the Ellenburger where it failed. The hole will be cleaned out to 2,000 and tests will be made at that point. The well was drilled in 1950.

Mishaps concerning two trailer houses were reported on area highways Friday afternoon. One was near Stanton and the other near Vincent.

A trailer belonging to the Rotary Drilling Company jack-knifed on Highway 80 about one mile east of Stanton Friday afternoon. The pick-up pulling the trailer was completely turned around and over. Though going east, both the trailer and pick-up were facing west after the incident.

The trailer top was pulled loose from the flooring, damaging most of the inside. The driver did not suffer serious injuries.

Another trailer apparently lost a wheel near the Vincent cut-off on the Snyder highway. It was travelling south, and no injuries were reported.

Mungerville Well Testing

Texas Crude No. 1-95 Classen, C NE SE 96-M, ELARR, was in process of completing as another Mungerville - Pennsylvanian producer in northwest Dawson County.

This test is bottomed at 8,605 and set the 7-in. at 8,385. Operator treated with 500 gallons of acid and the well is now flowing. Potential is due to be posted Monday.

Texas Crude No. 3-95 Classen, 330 from the south and east lines of the southwest quarter section 95-M, ELARR, drilled at 5,555 in lime and shale.

Texas Crude No. 1-97 S. E. Cone, C NW NW 97-M, ELARR, drilled to 4,747 and had a fishing job at that point.

From Idiot Sticks To Mucker, Pipeline Primer Has Answers

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN, Dec. 6 (AP)—A Connecticut housewife cooking breakfast with natural gas from Louisiana or Texas never heard of the crumb boss or an idiot stick.

She wouldn't know a mope pole from a mucker. She doesn't realize it took thousands of items of specialized equipment from turkey feathers to side-boom tractors to deliver the quick, clean fuel she taps with a twist of thumb and forefinger.

They all played a part in the drama of piping natural gas from the earth more than 2,000 miles away across swamps, over mountains and under swift treacherous rivers in an operation as thrills-packed as pioneer railroad building.

The gas it takes to fry two over easy or run a mammoth manufacturing plant or heat a Midwestern apartment hotel is delivered through a network of thousands of miles of underground lines. They are put together after months of meticulous advance planning and paper work with incredible skill, daring and hard work.

It is all cemented with a spirit demonstrating that every frustrating circumstance of stubborn terrain or weather can be overcome with the right equipment, know-how and determination.

These whys and hows of gas and oil pipe line building are vividly told in "A Primer of Pipe Line Construction" just published by the University of Texas Petroleum Extension Service. It was sponsored and financed by the Pipe Line Contractors Assn. and written and edited by John Woodruff, assistant director of the Petroleum Extension Service.

The object of the 100-page book is to inform the public, and especially non-technical employees of the gas and oil industry, on the fundamentals of pipe lining. At a dollar a copy, it sold out its first run of 10,000 and another edition is on the press.

The graphic ABC tells how petroleum products are moved into commerce through pipe lines. The language is simple and the pictures of relentless clearing, digging, welding, bending and cleaning up are first-class photography.

The primer includes a glossary of the colorful slang and technical lingo of the pipe liner. The crumb boss is superintendent of the 200 to 500 man crew spread out 10 to 20 miles along a line creeping across country from southwest to northeast about a mile a day in good going and sometimes a mere few yards through rivers and swamps and granite mountains.

An idiot stick is a hand shovel on a job where the major earth-moving operation is usually handled by bulldozers and monster mechanical clamshells. The presumption to the layman is that nobody but an idiot would use a shovel when a power tool would do.

HOWARD UP
Report Shows 537 Rigs Within Basin

Midland County jumped from fifth to second place in rotary drilling activity in the Permian Basin of West Texas, according to the November 25 rig count made by Reed Roller Bit Company.

Lea County, N. M., continued to lead all other counties in the entire Permian Basin, and Andrews County still topped the West Texas portion. Howard County showed almost 50 per cent gain.

Midland accounted for 27 of the 515 rotaries drilling in the territory covered by the Reed survey, November 19 there were 537 in the entire area and 23 in Midland County.

Lea led all other counties on the last tally with 124, nine less than was recorded November 16. Andrews County was listed with 35 units in operation November 25, a drop of two from the previous survey.

The Spraberry Trend's fields showed 54 active rotaries, a drop from 64.

Upton County, for several months the West Texas leader, dropped to 23 — a new low for 1952 in that county.

The 537 rotaries drilling November 25 in the Basin is short of the 744 going at the same time in 1951 when Spraberry exploration was at its peak.

The list of counties included in the Reed survey with the comparative figures for Nov. 10 shown in parentheses is:
Andrews 35 (37), Borden 6 (5), Cochran 15 (13), Coke 24 (26), Crockett 11(12), Crane 10 (12), Dawson 9 (10), Ector 21 (25), Gaines 23 (23), Glasscock 10 (13), HOWARD 27 (23), Martin 4 (5), Pecos 10 (15), Real 25 (29), Schellinger 8 (12), Scurry 12 (15), Terry 8 (9), Tom Green 7 (2), Upton 23 (21), Ward 8 (8), Yoakum 29 (15), Lea 124 (133).

Without pipe lines the wheels of the nation would cease to turn. Without pipe lines the planes of the nation would be grounded. If the pipe lines ceased to operate, millions would go without heat; power plants would shut down and millions would be in darkness.

Publication of the primer is a typical operation of the University of Texas' Petroleum Extension Division. Its function is to teach afield. It does no research.

"We attempt to interpret the research and pass the know-how along to the industry, to schools and to the public," Woodruff explained. Several universities have adopted the manual as a handbook in accounting so students could visualize a major contracting operation.

Most Of $410 In Fines Due From Road Violations

Traffic violations, not including overtime parking, accounted for but $18 of the $410 in fines assessed in Corporation Court in the past week.

Drunkness and disturbance charges resulted in the balance, or $392 in fines.

Seventeen persons were fined $248 as a result of intoxication complaints. Seven others were assessed a total of $144 as a result of disturbance complaints.

Forfeits, on failure to appear in court, amounted to $210. Three persons gave up deposits of $50 each when they neglected to answer gaming charges. Three forfeited a total of $50 as a result of drunkness, one forfeit of $10 was abandoned by a man charged with vagrancy.

Traffic fines included one for $5 for parking a stop sign, two for $5 for running in prohibited zones, and one for $5 for driving without license. The woman fined for no operator's license was ordered to secure driving permit and exhibit it in court as quickly as possible.

Transferred from Corporation Court to other authorities were two persons charged with carrying deadly weapons, two accused of one charged with driving while intoxicated, one charged with aggravated assault and one charged with disturbance.

McGranery Setting Records In Cleanup Of Justice Department

By JACK ADAMS
WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (U)—The big broom which James Patrick McGranery brought with him when he came to Washington last May to become attorney general has received quite a workout.

It has been wielded in many directions and is still going briskly after giving the Justice Department the busiest six months it ever had.

In that brief period, the department itself has been almost completely reorganized and some 18,000 federal indictments and criminal "informations," large and small, have been handled.

This, say justice veterans, is "probably a record," in which the sweeping job isn't yet done. There's more to come before the department is turned over next month to the new Republican Attorney General, Herbert Brownell of New York.

The 56-year-old McGranery, who took office as "cleanup man" amid some cries of "white wash," said the other day it is his intention to deliver to his successor "a well-organized law office," in which the country can have confidence.

He has, he said, adopted a time-schedule to accomplish just that. McGranery gave up a lifetime federal judgeship in Philadelphia last spring to come here in response to President Truman's call for help.

He took over a department which was then under a barrage of charges that it had dragged its feet in tax frauds and other criminal cases, side-tracked embarrassing prosecutions, and soft-pedaled information to which the public was rightfully entitled.

McGranery moved in two directions. He started reorganizing the department, and he started digging into the bottom of the files for old cases and sending them to grand juries. Some, he asserted, should have gone to juries years ago.

One of the first things McGranery did was to call into Washington all of the 94 district attorneys stationed throughout the United States, the territories and possessions, and publicly advise them he considered the job of federal prosecutor a full-time one.

He then asked for a list of the oldest cases pending without action in their files and a report on what outside law practice they were handling, if any. A number of the D. A.'s have since been let out, and others are reported "on the list" for separation.

Groups To Meet Here

Two nominating groups of the Buffalo Trail Council are due to convene here Monday evening. P. V. Thorson, Midland, area executive, said that those on the Silver Beaver and in council offices would be here at 6 p. m. Thorson concluded a district-by-district tour of the council Saturday, familiarizing new district officials with their responsibilities.

here, the new attorney general amazed a big segment of the top echelon of assistants by accepting the "courtesy resignations" which they had submitted when he took over the department. He then installed a new set of top assistants mostly young men, many without any previous identification with politics or with federal service.

This "new team," as McGranery calls it, has since kept a record number of cases rolling into the grand jury rooms.

More Junior High Students Pass Their Drivers' Tests

Fourteen out of 16 of the 60 Junior High School students enrolled in the drivers' training course taught by Jack Everett, successfully passed the driving test given by Felton Wilson, operators' license examiner.

Another 11 had successfully passed the driving test the week before and Everett said that for the next few weeks approximately 15 of the students will be given the test each week.

Those who passed this week were Troy Todd, Jack Cox, Gene Adams, Kenda McGibbon, Jimmy Montgomery, Kenneth Davidson, Henry Hicks, Patsy Davidson, Buddy Meeks, Lodeil Howell, Reba Riddle, Eugene Hall, James Harris and T. L. Kennedy.

These students had heretofore successfully passed the written examination required by the State Department of Public Safety and had been issued licenses which have restricted them to the operation of an automobile only when accompanied by a licensed operator over 14 years of age. As they successfully pass the driving test this restriction is lifted and they are given a regular operators' license.

The training is given by Everett in a car furnished by the Big Spring Motor Co., and equipped with dual clutch and brakes. Everett was one of the first drivers' training instructors in Texas when the course was introduced in 1948 after having been inaugurated in Pennsylvania 10 years before. The course has been widely approved by the National Safety Council and the safety councils of states and cities.

Browns Strong Favorites To Clinch Tie For Crown

Lions To Host Chicago Bears

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—Shooting for their seventh straight divisional title, the Cleveland Browns are strong favorites to defeat the Chicago Cardinals tomorrow and clinch at least a tie for the American Conference championship of the National Football League.

And the Browns can clinch the flag outright if they win and both New York and Philadelphia lose.

New York and Philadelphia each has a 6-4 record, while the Browns have a 7-3 mark. So a Cleveland victory, and losses by New York and Philly, would send the Browns into the championship play-off game and a chance to regain the title they lost last year.

After tomorrow, there'll be only one game left to play—so both New York and Philadelphia must win to stay in contention.

The injury-riddled Giants, butchered last week in Pittsburgh, 63-8, entertain the Washington Redskins, while Philadelphia plays host to Dallas.

Off the records, Philly has the better chance of winning. Its opponent, Dallas, has won only once in 10 starts. But then the Texans, having tasted victory in their last outing, and having found it to be sweet, could be back for more.

In the National Conference, meanwhile, the situation should be much clearer by midnight.

In this race, Detroit seems to have the edge. The Lions are tied with Los Angeles (each 7-3) for the top spot, but the schedule favors the Detroiters in the last two games.

Tomorrow the Lions play host to the Chicago Bears, a team with a mediocre 4-6 record but which has played some good football this season—especially two weeks ago when they upset the Lions, 24-20.

Low Angeles, the hottest club in the circuit with six straight wins, plays host to Rugged Green Bay which also has titled aspirations.

Green Bay (6-4) is tied for the runnerup slot in the National Conference with San Francisco, just a game behind Detroit and Los Angeles. San Francisco, which has cooled with the weather, entertains that red-hot Pittsburgh team which simply murdered the Giants last week.

Local Minister Banquet Speaker

When the annual football banquet was staged for the Colorado City High School football team Friday night, Dr. P. D. O'Brien (left, above) served as the principal speaker. He is shown with Coach Jerome Busekemper, Mrs. Busekemper and Lena Lindsey, president of the CHS band. O'Brien told the gathering that football can be compared to the game of life, pointing out that coaching, training and heading the rules of the game are important in both. The banquet honored the pep squad and the band, as well as the gridgers.

VOLS TO EARN $140,000 PLUS

Bowl 11's To Reap Record Rewards New Year's Day

By MERCER BAILEY

ATLANTA, Dec. 6 (AP)—A pot of gold worth more than half a million dollars is awaiting five South-eastern Conference football teams whose seasons were successes.

The money isn't really in a pot. It's in four bowls—the Sugar, Cotton, Orange and Gator.

Those New Year's Day extravaganzas picked Georgia Tech, Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama and Florida to help put on their sporting shows.

Not since 1947 have five SEC teams shared in the fame and fortune of bowldom—and the fortune passed out for the 1953 engagements will be a record since national television hookups will sweeten the kitty at three of the bowls—the Sugar, Cotton and Orange.

Exact amount each team receives won't be known until after the games, but discounting TV money, the estimate runs to a total of about $350,000.

New Orleans' Sugar Bowl will provide the biggest chunk of cash because it selected two Southeastern teams—Georgia Tech, unbeaten and untied and the nation's second-ranked grid power, and Mississippi, twice-tied but unbeaten and the nation's No. 7 team.

They figure to get about $135,000 each—plus extra thousands for television rights. The TV financial arrangements are in the process of completion. The 1952 Sugar Bowl teams got about $125,000 each last time.

Alabama's ninth-ranked Crimson Tide stands to be richer by a minimum of $110,000 after its Orange Bowl battle with Syracuse. Just how much the television rights will mean to each team still is unknown, but the minimum guarantee includes TV money. The 1952 figure was about $92,000 for each team.

Florida plays Tulsa in the Gator Bowl. If the Gator Bowl is filled—and with those teams it should be—the day's work will be worth $60,000 to each team. There won't be any television.

All that money isn't just so much gravy. Each SEC team must give the conference 25 per cent of the take to spread around among other members. And the expenses involved in a bowl trip run into the high finance level.

Christoval Grabs Regional Crown

STERLING CITY — Christoval won the Region II six-man football champion by belting the Fort Davis Indians, 80-52, here Friday night.

The Tribe came to life after trailing, 41-14, at half time but had much too far to go.

Jack Pardee led the unbeaten and untied champs of District Seven to victory.

Fort Davis led early in the half game, 8-6, but could do nothing about slowing the 200-pound Pardee. Pardee scored eight touchdowns for the Cougars and passed for another.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

No coach in the West Zone is taking Larry McCulloch's Odessa Junior College cage team for granted these days . . . Larry went out and got himself a basketball team that apparently can keep up with any club in the league . . . Addition of 2 Pampa lads, Tommy Smith and Duane Jeter, 'made' the Odessa team . . . Jeters eligibility may be questioned, though . . . He enrolled at OJC halfway through a semester and Coach Bob Carter of Amarillo, for one, has a reputation for making an issue of such practices . . . Gene Carpenter, whose height was listed at 6-feet-5-inches when he performed for the Big Spring High School basketball team last season, reportedly is now 6-7 and still growing . . . He's at Texas Tech . . . Two of his teammates, Paul Nolen and Duane Durham, are taller than he is . . . Burnell Stevens, who is a brother of HCJC's Don, led Lamesa in scoring in its losing basketball effort at Odessa last Tuesday night, getting 12 points for the 'Tornadoes' . . . The YMCA Basketball League race could be the best ever, since a number of talented players from West Air Base will be playing in the circuit for the first time . . . Three defeats, piled one on top the other, may influence Coach Pappy Waldorf of the University of California footballers to re-embrace the Single Wing again . . . The Williamson System is selecting all-state high school football team for each class . . . Three local players have been recommended to the syndicate.

Stubby Greer May Play For Roughs

A. C. Gonzales, who asked for and obtained permission from other Longhorn Baseball League directors to transfer his Sweetwater club to Pecos, is none too popular with other club owners . . . He's too unpredictable . . . He'd like to have transferred the team to his home town, Del Rio, but the other directors wouldn't hear of it . . . The announcement of the move caught Pecos people by surprise, by the way, because arrangements are far from complete there . . . Ray Winkler, the WT-NM ex-president, had designs on holding onto that job as well as the position of general manager of the Lubbock team, something un- heard of in organized baseball . . .

Potato Pascual Had His Reasons

Potato Pascual, who passed up a chance to make good in the major leagues, may have had his reasons . . . The ex-Big Spring star reportedly made $8,000 in three months of baseball in South America last year . . . Only recently, he pitched one hit in the strong Cuban Winter League . . . When he is billed to pitch in his home country, the crowds always gather, and he asks for and demands a good fee . . . Joe Cambria, the Washington scout who didn't like the idea of taking baseball out of Big Spring, is always good for a story . . . He told this one recently at the Minor League Convention at Phoenix, Arizona . . . Seems a Class B team in the mid-west sent a hurry-up call to Joe for one of Cambria's Cuban importees, a big outfielder 'for immediate use' . . . Joe rounded up the player and gave him the money for the trip . . . Conservative, as most Cubans are, the youngster bopped a bus and rode for two or three days in a cramped position before arriving at his destination . . . The manager of the club met the bus and his jaw must have sagged to his chest when the player got off, shuffling laboriously toward him . . . Seems the ride had served to swell his ankles to almost twice the normal size . . . For several days, he made his way about, like a cat in paper booties . . . The manager wired Joe in desperation, asking his advice as to what to do . . . Joe's suggestion was to hang the lad feet first, like a Christmas turkey, until the swelling went down . . . Tom Spidel and Eliazario Loya, Ysleta footballers who played against Big Spring the past season were named to the All-District 2-AAAA team.

Webb To Oppose Bergstrom Five

The Webb Air Base basketball team invades Austin Monday for the first of a two-game series with Bergstrom Air Base. The quietists play again Tuesday night.

Webb defeated Bergstrom twice recently in games played here. The Dusters played their next home game here Jan. 6, at which time they meet Perrin Air Base of Sherman.

Control Of Ball Helped Bovines Win SWC Title

DALLAS, Dec. 6 (AP)—Like to know why Texas won the Southwest Conference football championship without losing a game?

Sure, the Longhorns just out-scored the opposition, but the main reason was that they had the ball more than anybody else.

The Longhorns, in their six conference games, ran 397 rushing plays, which was 89 more than any other team in the conference. Rice was second with 308—and Rice finished second.

The final statistics, released by the conference today, also reveal that Texas used the forward pass more sparingly than anybody else but did all right with what it used. In 89 throws, the Longhorns completed 40 for an average of .449.

Texas also led the conference in both offense and defense, a fine combination for a championship hopes. On offense, the Longhorns were far ahead. They averaged 439.7 yards per game. The next best was Rice with 304.5. Defensively, Texas allowed the opposition only 78.3 yards on the ground and 112.8 passing for a total defense average of 191.1. That was far and away better than any other team. The next best was 253.2 allowed by Southern Methodist.

Billy Quinn, the great Texas sophomore, was the most effective ground gainer. He was second in total yards but No. 1 in average among regular ball carriers. Richard Ochoa of Texas led with 561 yards while Quinn was second with 535 but Ochoa averaged 4.5 and Quinn 5.5.

Among the regular passers—those who threw 50 or more—Ray Graves of Texas A&M had the best average. Graves tried 89 and completed 45 for 502 yards and an average of 5.6. McKeown of Texas Christian led the conference with 42 of 87 for 536 yards but his average was .483. T. Jones of Texas was second with 34 of 76 for 534 yards and an average of .447.

The man who did more each time he handled the ball was Jones, who had a total offense of 787 yards on 119 plays. He averaged 6.6 yards each time he handled the signal. McKeown had the most yards, rolling up 804 on 298 plays. But his average was only 2.7.

Cardinals Rout Sanderson, 44-0

SNYDER — Hermleigh moved into the finals of Region II-B football play by routing Sanderson, 44-0, here Friday night.

The Cardinals will meet the powerful Melvin Bulldogs next weekend for the regional crown. Time and site of the contest is still to be determined.

In handling the Eagles their fourth defeat of the 1952, the unbeaten and untied Red Birds dominated the game all the way.

Dickie Wall, Doug Chitsey and Jimmy Cooper each counted two touchdowns for the winners. Wendal Goodman, second stringer, accounted for the other one.

Hermleigh scored his first touchdown less than a minute after the game started, when Cooper went 33 yards unchecked on an end-around play.

Hermleigh rolled up 26 first downs to 13 for Sanderson and gained a total of 508 yards via rushing and passing to 199 for the War Birds.

Roman Zepeda and Juan Olivares were Sanderson's outstanding threats.

Hermleigh, the District 5-B champion, led at half time, 20-0.

Gibson Begins Snyder Tenure

SNYDER — Gene Gibson has begun his tenure here as head basketball coach at Snyder High School. He is being assisted by Hal Battle, who will handle the B team.

Snyder won its district championship last season but has moved up to District 1-AAA this year. It was a member of 5-AA last year.

Ned Underwood, 6-2 senior, is expected to lead the Tigers on the hardwoods. He has lettered two seasons. He led the team in scoring last season with 240 points in 31 games and was named to the all-district second team.

Joe Cargile 5-11; Bill Boyd, 6-1; and Deanie Floyd, 6-2, are seniors on the team, along with Underwood. Cargile scored 191 points last year.

Reagan White, 6-1; Joe Galyean, 5-9; Douglas Ayers, 5-9; Ray Courtney, 5-11; and Orville Watson 6-4, all up from the B team, will make bids for regular berths this season.

Gibson came here from Levertt's Chapel. He replaced Ernest Kinney, who went to Kermit. Gibson attended Texas Tech.

Snyder's B team last year boasted a 21-3 won-lost record over the season and was unbeaten in conference play.

Mustangs Launch Play On Tuesday

SWEETWATER — The Sweetwater Mustangs open their 1952-53 basketball game here Tuesday night in a practice game with San Angelo.

On Friday night, the Ponies play Midland here.

The Mustangs, coached by Benjie Rutherford, rate as favorite to cop the District 1-AAA flag.

GOOD HOME CARD ASSURED

Breck Voted Into 1-AAA By Executive Committee

Officials also approved Vernon as a 1-AAA member. Vernon is already in the league but, because of its distance from the other schools, had to apply for admission for the third and last time.

It is practically assured that Breckenridge will play in Big Spring in 1953, since the Steers played a practice game in Breckenridge this year.

Other Steer home games will be against Vernon, the conference's co-champion, and Plainview.

The Longhorns will take to the road to meet Lamesa, Snyder and Sweetwater.

Brownwood, a District 2-AAA power this year, will visit Big Spring next season for a non-conference game.

Coach Carl Coleman is working to complete Big Spring's 1953 lineup of games, both home and road contests. It is possible one of the El Paso area teams will be met here.

Breckenridge does not have sufficient enrollment to remain in AAA circles until it gets the approval of other schools within the district in which it wished to compete.

Supt. W. C. Blankenship of Big Spring presided at the meeting in Sweetwater, which was held at the high school.

IN DECATUR

Hawks Win Second From Tribe, 63-41

DECATUR — Howard County Junior College started on a flat wheel but wound up with a rush to defeat Decatur Baptist College, 63-41, for the second straight time here Friday night.

Bobby Williams of Dallas poured 23 points through the hoop in the game. Richard Gilmore of Forsan contributed eight points to the Big Springers' total. Clarence (Casey) Jones of Odessa 11.

The Hawks, who trailed the Indians by a point after one period of play, were in command at half time, 27-16, and had widened their lead to 43-26 at the end of the third round.

The Hawks boasted 61 points midway in the fourth period and Coach Harold Davis flooded the floor with substitutes.

HCJC's defense showed to better advantage than in the first game against Decatur. The Hawks allowed Decatur only six points the second quarter.

HCJC's reserves also won against the Decatur Bees. Final tab was 56-50. The Hawk B stringers led all the way, though only by a point at half time.

Johnny Randolph, freshman from Lamesa, hit for 12 points in that one. Rodney Cramer of Coahoma was even hotter. He had 16. Cecil Hoggard of Doynline, La., contributed nine to the HCJC effort.

Breck Moves Into S'finals Of Playoffs

SWEETWATER, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Breckenridge Buckaroos turned a late fourth-period break into a touchdown to eke out a 14-13 victory over the Lamesa Tornados in bi-district Class AAA schoolboy football today.

The defending state champion Bucks were outplayed all the way by the underdog Tornados but fought for and got the breaks when they paid off.

Lamesa drove inside Breckenridge's 20 yard line seven times

but managed to capitalize only twice.

Breckenridge trailed 13-7 with three minutes to play but made and used a good break to come through. In the final analysis it was the toe of Bobby Keith that spelled the difference as he calmly split the uprights for the winning point.

A tie would have spelled doom for the Bucks as Lamesa led in every phase of the statistics as well as in penetrations.

Breckenridge scored first, turning a pass interception into a first-quarter touchdown, and led 7-0 at halftime. Bill Denby intercepted a pass on the 37-yard line from Lamesa quarterback Johnny Jones and ran it back 27 yards to the Lamesa 11. He passed eight yards to Keith, then cracked the middle for three yards and the touchdown in two tries.

There were just 40 seconds left in the quarter when Keith converted his first of two extra points.

Lamesa came back strong in the second half to drive for two scores and a lead that all but stood up.

Jones passed to Sherron Dunn for seven yards and a touchdown to terminate a 47-yard drive late in the third period. Another pass by the same combination was good for 27 yards to the three in the fourth period to lead to Lamesa's second touchdown. Glenn Creechius, who was wide with his conversion attempt after the first touchdown, drove over from the three to put Lamesa out in front.

Leland Bartlett converted to make the score 13-7.

Breckenridge forced to punt late in the fourth period but Jimmy Robinson fumbled on the Lamesa 25 and Kenneth Ford, the Bucks' all-state quarterback, recovered on the 34. A 15-yard rushing penalty sent the Bucks to the 19; Denby moved the ball to the one in five plays and Keith punted the middle for the winning point.

Breckenridge intercepted a desperation Lamesa pass on the 33-yard line and was in possession as the game ended.

A crowd of about 4,500 saw the game.

Raiders Humble North Carolina State, 54 To 7

LUBBOCK, Dec. 6 (AP)—North Carolina State's Wolfpack absorbed the full wrath of a Texas Tech eleven that had won only two games this year and the Red Raiders coasted to a 54-7 victory in an intersectional game today.

The Raiders scored two touchdowns in each quarter and didn't allow the Wolfpack past Tech's 30-yard line until quarterback Eddie Frantz hit end Harry Lodge with a 25-yard scoring pass in the third.

Outside of that the Wolfpack never threatened, although rolling up yardage up to midfield. The Raiders scored on two of their first three plays from scrimmage.

Touchdowns were cheap. Fullback Sandy Welton raced 41 yards for the first tally, Halfback Bobby Cavazos scored on runs of 22 and 83 yards, quarterback Jerry Johnson twice went over on six yard sprints, halfback Doug Lewis ran a kickoff back 80 yards, end Vic Spooner took a 35-yard pass from John Mouchon for the seventh score and end R. D. Bradshaw raced 39 yards with an intercepted pass for the final tally.

The Raiders rolled to 516 yards, 344 on the ground and 172 through the air, while holding the Wolfpack to 298 yards total.

Coach DeWitt Weaver cleared his bench during the game and virtually everyone took part in the action.

Stamford Crushes Seminole 11, 35-0

SNYDER, Dec. 6 (AP)—Undeclared, united Stamford crushed Seminole 35-0 today to bound into the quarter-finals of the Class AA division of Texas schoolboy football.

Stamford scored in every period, the first touchdown coming on an 80-yard drive with Ken Lowe bashing over from the one.

Touchdown Setup

Fullback Leland Bartlett, left, tears through the Breckenridge secondary to set up Lamesa's first touchdown in the quarterfinal football game in Sweetwater Saturday afternoon. Bartlett's gallop was good for 16 yards and carried to the Buckaroo 18. Other Lamesa players shown are Tackle Des Phillips, in the background, Halfback Glenn Creechius (No. 82) and Guard Carl Todd, in front of the field. ### LITTLE SPORT

MAJOR SURPRISE Coyotes Routed By Ray Texans

CORPUS CHRISTI, Dec. 6 (AP)—Ray High of Corpus Christi shocked Wichita Falls, 38-14, today to bounce the Coyotes from the state's undefeated ranks and advanced into the state semifinals of Class AAAA.

The Texans take on Baytown next Saturday at Baytown in the state semifinals. Baytown beat the Texans last year in the semifinals at Corpus Christi 34-0.

Ray flooded across three touchdowns in the first half, more than the total 13 points scored against Wichita Falls all season, and then almost coasted the last two periods with a plentiful supply of reserves on the field.

The Texans rolled up 35 points before Wichita Falls scored a point, then the Coyotes pushed over two touchdowns in less than five minutes in the third quarter.

Pat Hoffman broke open the Texans scoring in the first period on a 60-yard runback of a punt, then scored again quickly after recovering a Coyote fumble on the Wichita 24. Fred Morgan rammed the right side down from the two for the touchdown.

Ray drove 38 yards in the second period for another score with Jerry Young going the last nine yards. In the third, Morgan roamed 14 yards on a 60-yard drive for another score. Morgan later in the period broke loose for 57 yards and a score.

Wichita Falls immediately drove 70 yards for a score with Kenneth Maroney making the last 14. Ray soon fumbled on the 18 and Wichita Falls went for another score, with Curtis Reeves cracking right guard from the one for the score.

With three minutes left Sonny Crisp hit end John Ray with a pass covering 42 yards for the final touchdown.

Houston Edges Past Wyoming

HOUSTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—Houston sputtered miserably for two quarters against an unfamiliar single wing offense today and then exploded for three last half touchdowns for a 20 to 0 victory over Wyoming.

The Missouri Valley champions, puzzled by their first look at a single wing in 23 games, cashed in on a fumble and blocked punt and drove 85 yards for its touchdowns.

Wyoming saw first half threats stopped on the Houston 8 and 1 and a final quarter drive die on the Cougar 19.

Halfbacks Ken Pridgeon and Wendell Collier plunged over from the 1 for two Houston touchdowns, while end Frank James recovered in the end zone for another after blocking a punt by Wyoming's Chuck Spaulding.

Houston thus finished its best season in seven years of football. Its eight victories were offset only by defeats from Mississippi and Texas A&M.

It was Spaulding's fumble on the Wyoming 9 that led to the first Houston touchdown early in the third quarter. End Ronald Folks recovered. Pridgeon went over.

A 25-yard pass from quarterback Newton Shows to end Vic Hampel started the 85-yard drive midway in the period. A 15-yard penalty against the Cowboys and carries by Collier and halfback Bobby Walker moved the rest of the distance, with Collier plunging over.

Pridgeon kicked out of bounds on the Wyoming 7 to set up the fourth quarter tally. Spaulding picked up 4 yards before James crashed through and blocked his fifth punt of the season.

AT PHOENIX SESSION Two-League Waiver Rule Is Tossed Into Frick's Lap

PHOENIX, Dec. 6 (AP)—Both major leagues passed the executive council's new bonus rule and voted to retain the present high school rule today. They tossed the controversial two-league waiver proposal into the lap of Commissioner Ford Frick for decision tomorrow.

Their action at tomorrow's joint session will become merely a formality.

They are split on the proposal to require waivers in both major leagues after July 15. The American turned thumbs down on the idea today after the National passed an amended version, with a June 15, deadline, at yesterday's session.

Under baseball rules, Frick casts the deciding vote when the two leagues disagree. At last year's joint meeting when the American favored the plan and the National was against it, Frick refused to break the deadlock. He indicated he would poll the clubs in the future.

The waiver rule is to stop big money deals in late season such as the New York Yankees have been making with National League clubs. Johnny Mize, Johnny Sain, Johnny Hopp and Ewell Blackwell, among others, came to the Yanks in $50,000 and $100,000 transactions after being waived out of the National although all were made after the June 15 trading deadline.

Current Major League rules ban deals after June 15 but leave the waiver loophole. If a player can be waived out of one league, he can be sold to the highest bidder in the other league.

The new bonus rule, passed unanimously by the minors, sets $4,000 and $2,000 limits on bonus and salary before a free agent becomes a "bonus player." Once a "bonus player" he cannot be moved up or down for two years, if signed by a major league club, or one year by a minor league club, and is subject to unrestricted draft.

To put teeth into the enforcement, the rule provides for a $2,000 fine for a major league club violating or $1,000 for a minor club. The individual club officials can be fined $500 and are subject to suspension.

BY SCORE OF 48-14

Temple Smashes Port Neches

TEMPLE, Dec. 6 (AP)—The Temple football juggernaut smashed Port Neches 48-14 today in a Class AAA bi-district high school game. The victory sent the "unbeaten Wildcats into the state semifinals against undefeated McAllen.

Temple drove for touchdowns in every quarter. The Wildcats scored once in the first and twice each in the other three quarters.

Port Neches—thoroughly outplayed—could tally only twice. And one of those was against Temple's second and third string defense in the last quarter.

Temple looked even more like the makings of the state AAA kingpin today following defending champion Breckenridge's hairline 14-13 win over Lamesa.

Whether McAllen is strong enough to stop full-running Temple in next week's semifinals is anybody's guess. But Temple is generally favored.

Temple scored its first tally late in the first quarter when ace quarterback Doyle Traylor passed to Allan Ernst in a touchdown pass that covered 82 yards.

Midway in the second period Wildcat Rogers Bruce returned a Port Neches punt from the Temple 30 for a touchdown. The tally was called back on a penalty.

Traylor smashed over from the 11 three plays later.

The Wildcats hit paydirt again the first time they got the ball in the third. Bruce plowed over from the 5.

Port Neches scored late in the third. The Indians' drive carried 87 yards, Billy Jo Choate racing for goal around right end from the 5.

Temple scored again two plays later on another pass, Traylor to Donnell Berry for 45 yards.

They took Traylor out shortly after that and Oran Buckalew replaced him. Buckalew engineered the final two Wildcat touchdowns. The first culminated a drive from the Port Neches 46. Buckalew passing 6 yards to end Roy Chapman for a score. The final Temple score followed another pass, Buckalew to Chapman, which carried to the Port Neches 20. Buckalew smashed over.

The Indian drive carried to the Temple 11 in the fourth and Choate scored from there against Temple second and third stringers.

Temple made 18 first downs to 0 for Port Neches.

Lubbock Drops Austin, 41-7

EL PASO, Dec. 6 (AP)—Lubbock's Westerners rolled on undefeated and untied into the semi-finals of Class AAAA schoolboy football playoff today with a crushing 41-7 victory over Austin of El Paso.

The Westerners scored in the first period on a 12-yard dash by Jimmy Welch with Dickie Lowrey converting.

With 10 seconds to go in the half Jimmy Haynie passed to Bennie McCollum for 19 yards and another touchdown. Lowrey converted again and the half ended 14-0.

In the third period Red Noland ran 35 yards for another touchdown and again Lowrey kicked the point.

In the fourth quarter David Bourland passed to Harrison Brock for 21 yards and the Austin touchdown with Fred Kris kicking the extra point. But Lubbock got three touchdowns. One was on a 27-yard run by Welch, the other on a 40-yard dash by Haynie and the third on a 60-yard punt return by Jimmy Berley. Lowrey kicked two of three extra points.

A crowd of 5,000 saw the game in which Lubbock romped to 437 yards on the ground and 107 in the air while Austin could get only 41 on the ground and 30 passing.

Diarrhea Paces Weekly List Of Area Diseases

Prevalence of diarrhea nearly tripled in the past week, with a total of 110 cases of the disease being diagnosed during the seven-day period ending Saturday, the Big Spring-Howard County Health Unit reported.

Reason for the steep increase in incidence of the disease is not known, health officials said.

Sanitarian Lige Fox pointed out the infection could result from a variety of conditions, including contaminated food, milk or water, and from careless habits of personal hygiene.

He said he is confident most of the victims of the disease use municipal water, which is not contaminated. Nor did the sanitarian know of any possible source of food or milk contamination.

Diarrhea is extremely infectious, Fox said, and strict rules of sanitation must be observed to prevent its spread.

The sanitarian said he will contact physicians this week with a proposal for conducting "case research" of some of the infections in an effort to determine its cause.

Almost three times as many cases of the disease were reported Saturday as for the previous week. Records show 110 infections as compared to 38 for a week ago.

Ninety cases of 10 other contagious diseases were shown on the weekly communicable infections report of the health unit. Most prevalent among these was gastroenteritis with 23 cases.

There were 20 infections of intestinal influenza, 18 of tonsillitis, nine of pneumonia, four of mumps, six of virus, four of pharyngitis, two of chicken pox, two of tuberculosis, and one case each of measles and gonorrhea.

No Empty Stockings On Christmas

Christmas is for everyone, young or old, rich or poor, regardless of race, color or creed. But for many families Christmas might not be so bright were it not for the generosity of the more fortunate.

Every year at the beginning of the holiday season, individuals, clubs, welfare agencies, churches and school organizations pitch into the task of making sure that Santa visits every home on Christmas Eve.

Pictured here are only five of the hundreds of groups in Big Spring who are making sure there are no empty stockings on Christmas.

Admiring Their Unusual Bouquet

Master Sgt. and Mrs. Rogers discuss their "West Texas" bouquet of practically indestructible blooms. As the picture reveals, the sergeant might be accused of going in for "loud" socks during his off-duty hours.

Newcomers Discover Lasting Native Flower

Master Sgt. and Mrs. Carl N. Rogers have already found at least three things they like about West Texas—the people, the climate and an odd half-weed, half-flower native to this section that, once cut, will live indefinitely. The Rogerses are newcomers living at 1205 Lamar while he is serving as sergeant major of the student squadron at Webb and also is managing the Cadet Club at the Settles Hotel. While en route to Big Spring, Jeannette Rogers saw lovely purple spikes of flowers growing beside the road in barren surroundings. Her husband stopped while she picked an armful for a bouquet. That was almost two months ago and they still show no signs of wilting and make a colorful bouquet for the new home into which they have just moved. Mrs. Rogers still doesn't know if they are flowers or weeds, but her husband supplies the information that, for all their beauty, they definitely are thorny. Rogers is a veteran of World War II, having spent two years in Africa and England. A native of Overton, in East Texas, he has 11 years service and intends to make it his career. Mrs. Rogers, a native of Dallas, worked in banks in Dallas and Overton before they were married in 1946 in Shreveport, La. With her banking experience he says he trusts her to manage the family finances, but insists that she can't balance the stubs. Stationed at Perrin Field, Sherman, before moving to Big Spring, neither of them had ever before been in West Texas, but vow that they are the friendliest they've met anywhere. The newcomers have no children, but they have a dog named Trouble which they insist was aptly named.

HI--TALK

By Margie McDougale

Football season is over and Basketball season has begun. Everyone is urged to come on out and back those Steers. This week got off to a lively start Monday with a talent show sponsored by the Student Council. Various talent of all kinds was entered. Doyle Maynard and a Charleston routine composed of Monohn Holley, Rosemary Lawson, Shirley McDaniel and Margie McDougale won first place. Second place honors were given to Bobby Suttles and Rheadim Meara, who did a song and dance routine and Patricia Stasey who did a tap number. Third prize was given to Linda McNew, who also did a tap routine. Some of the other talent shown in the show, a trio composed of Joyce Gound, Shirley Wheat and Frances McClain, sang "Birth of the Blues." The stage band directed by J. W. King offered several numbers and also played for the style show. Jody Miller did a tap routine to "Blue Hawaii." Lifeey Shipley and R. B. Hall sang "I'll Hold You In My Heart." The student Council announced that the show brought in approximately $125. The TSTA sponsored a "get-acquainted party" for the Big Spring faculties, administration, husbands, wives and guests in the senior high cafeteria Thursday evening. Mr. Plumley held try-outs Wednesday and Thursday for all those going to Odessa to try out for the all-state choir. ## NANCY LAYTON Designs A Holiday Party Frock With A Full Skirt

Date-Line... Christmas! Last call to get your bid in for the holiday dress you have been wanting to make all last month—a party frock designed by the knowing hand of Nancy Layton.

Truly famed for sophisticated sorcery, Miss Layton has been known in the custom design field for many moons. A Nancy dress is the ultimate "IT" for the 1952-53 season: your passport into the elegant salons of Paris, London, Rome, and New York.

Her line is uncluttered and effective; her choice of fabrics always superb. We have chosen style No. 1122 just for the love of it and we know you will share our unlimited enthusiasm.

The skirt is full and just begging for the rustle and bustle of petticoats. The blouse is another story... a bodice fitted to the natural contours, a low draped shawl collar to emphasize the bosomy look and an effective diagonal front drape as a new approach to an old subject.

The dress was originally designed in gleaming satin, this winter's fashion first. Other favorites, fabric-wise, are taffeta, brocade, and featherweight wool.

Size 12 requires 5 1/4 yds. of 39-inch material. Pattern is available in sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, and 18. To order pattern No. 1122, send $1.00 to Spadea Syndicate, Inc., Dept. 164, Box 535, General Post Office, New York 1, N. Y. For air mail handling, enclose 25 cents. To order our pattern booklet, volume No. VII, send an additional 15 cents.

All orders are filled promptly within one week. Watch this page of your newspaper next week for a new design by Fira Benenson. And keep looking for our brand new idea in American Designer's Patterns appearing SOON.

HELEN'S CHRISTMAS HINTS

GREETINGS... AND JINGLE BELLS... Here it is almost Christmas time again... with its merry mood for gift giving... its token of remembrance for folks and friends. The holiday season is a time of special menus, generous gift budgets and the bright gaiety of Yuletide decorations. It's a busy time for all, and I've been searching—and I believe I've found a number of things to make your shopping a little easier and a lot more fun. At any rate... here's a few that I thought you'd want to know about... so let's have a look at what's in Santa's bag this week.

DETAILED TO DELIGHT THE CONNOISSEUR... are the new occasional chairs just arrived at TOWN & COUNTRY HOME FURNISHINGS for Christmas shopping. Small in scale, with a contour shape design, they're a functional gift for any home to use singly or in groupings... and the best part of all—with Christmas making quite a dent in everyone's pocket book—their moderate price is welcome indeed. These beautifully designed chairs are available in armless style, or with smoothly crafted and finished lined oak arms, and the choice of upholstery is forest green, chateau, red or teal. Priced from $27.50, they're a happy gift of charm, perfectly proportioned for modern homes.

LAVISH LINGERIE... means Christmas delight for any woman... and whether she thinks presents should be practical or believes that gifts mean glamour, you'll find a slip at MI-LADY'S ACCESSORIES that would please the most particular woman. For pure luxury, it's filmy nylon tricot with delightful ripple flounces and delicate tracings of val lace inserts... pure and lovely froth... every blessed bit nylon. If it's simplicity she loves, you'll find the plain and tailored nylon tricot or nylon satin with just a bit of lace at top and hemline, or for her dark suits and dresses, why not choose one of the deep colored taffetas in navy, brown, red or green... any one is calculated to make her Christmas complete.

DECK THE HALLS WITH BOUGHS OF HOLLY... but be sure your favorite glamour gal is pretty as a picture when she graces the holiday scene. She will be in Shenanigans sweaters-blouses creation that's just arrived at ZACK'S OF MARGO'S. Designed to be the busiest beauty in her holiday wardrobe, it's fashioned of soft wool jersey with rhinestones and "just pretend" pearl beading at the throat, and scattered rhinestones sprinkled across the front. The sleeves are long and fitted; the colors—coral, olive green, mallard blue and gold; the price—just $14.95. The very essence of femininity, it adroitly combines superb ease with sharp, definite fashion flavor... the most specific requirements for a woman's gift.

GOT A NOSE FOR GOOD FOOD?... When the talk turns to cooking, it's a subject everyone enjoys... so this year why not give a Christmas gift that will mean wonderful meals day in and day out. I'm talking about the Sunbeam Deep Fryer at HESTER'S SUPPLY. Mother will discover speed, ease and perfection in deep-frying she's never known before, and the whole family will enjoy the most delicious, tender, golden-brown deep-fried foods they've ever tasted. This thermostatically controlled wonder also serves as a cooker for soups, roasts, stew, baked beans and other main dishes, to give new convenience and delicious results with all kinds of foods. Better whisper to St. Nick... you'll be glad you got it—and so lucky if you get it.

'T WAS THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS... and into the house... I crept with my gift, as quiet as a mouse... I came to the tree, all sparkling and bright... and deposited my package, in the still of the night. Then the next morning... the day of days... she'll find the present I got her at FAYE'S. Not flowers or greenery, but she will behold... a pottery planter, bright and bold. It's large and heavy... and the color's just right... because I got mine in charcoal and white. There are others to choose from in brown and green... the most wonderful assortment you've ever seen... so make your choice now, and be of good cheer, because Old St. Nicholas soon will be here.

HANG UP THE MISTLETOE... and hear those carols ring... bells on the bobtail making spirits bright with the singing of Christmas carols by such outstanding artists as Bing Crosby, Frankie Layne, Patti Page and the Mitchell Boychoir. This is just a peek at what's in store for you in the glorious selection of Christmas music albums that THE RECORD SHOP is receiving every day. Your favorite carols, popular Christmas songs and stories, and "The Christmas Carol" by Lionel Barrymore are all recorded for your listening pleasure on standard, 45 RPM and LP records. No music is so complete without their heart-warming influence throughout the Yuletide season.

TIE HIM UP FOR CHRISTMAS... with a Countess Mara tie from ELMO WASSON'S. Fashioned in luxurious pure silk in a marvelous assortment of unusual designs and colors, these ties are the perfect gift in neckwear. Such a style conscious collection of cravats you've never seen. Each one identified by the famous initials... collector's pieces to be cherished and worn with pride for very special occasions... strictly gentlemen's neckwear. Cologne is a woman's best friend when it comes to pleasing her men, and Lavensque is a Sante-wise choice for a gift that's emphatically feminine.

'T IS THE SEASON TO BE JOLLY... the season of gaiety, parties, dances... the season when the holiday bells take their place high on the entertainment calendar. Of course you'll want a shoe to match the excitement of this joyful season, and at MARGO'S you'll find "them golden slippers" (and silver too) that are fashion endorsed for dancing evenings. You'll love the "Hollywood Skoones", a delft little sandal that combines kid and mesh stripings for the prettiest frame a foot could have. These find their spot on your gift list for only $5.95. For $3.99 you'll choose the original metallic latex slipper by Gustave, that's hand crocheted from non-tarnishing gold or silver elastic thread... a welcome addition to any Christmas stockings.

Photographic Club Plans Christmas Party Wednesday

The Big Spring Amateur Photographic Society will combine a photographic exhibit with Christmas gaiety Wednesday night with a party at the Girl Scout Little House, 1407 Lancaster.

The festivities will start at 8 p.m. First on the program will be a group of colored slides made by members of the club.

Following this a collection of black and white prints called the "Masters Series," shipped here from Rochester, N. Y., will be exhibited. These pictures are composed of pictorial salon prints that have been accepted in many salons throughout the United States.

The "Masters Series" represents the favorite picture of each photographer, but does not necessarily represent his best work. The inception of the idea behind this collection is that perhaps other amateur photographers would be interested in "the story behind the picture."

In addition to this, the famous Brady Prints will also be on display. These pictures were made by the old cameraman, Mr. Brady, who portrayed many of the Civil War battles with his photographic technique. These are from a library in Binghamton, N. Y.

Many members of the club will also have prints of their own to exhibit.

Music and entertainment will be provided by the Sand Tunes, local barbershop quartet. Everyone who is interested in photography is invited to attend.

When a recipe calls for "sauteeing" it means that the food is to be cooked in a very small amount of fat over low heat.

DRESS PARADE

By Jen Wieser

Mrs. T. L. South showed up at a recent book review looking chic as a Powers model in a toast-colored knitted wool suit, in two pieces with an all-around pleated skirt. She topped her ensemble with a white wool stole and a white velour hat trimmed in crystal bugle beads. Her opera pumps and bag were brown kid, her gloves white, and her only jewelry was a wide jade bracelet and matching pendant necklace set with jade.

Mrs. Charles Tompkins was in vivid purple, with a black felt pill-box squarely atop her head. Mrs. P. D. O'Brien in a black crepe dress with tucked detail on the bodice, an accordion pleated skirt and a red carnation corsage. Mrs. Arnold Marshall in a winter white velour hat topping a wine gabardine suit. Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. in dark green velvet with matching hat. Mrs. Joe Pickle in a pale pink coat over a black dress. Mrs. J. D. Elliott looking trim in a gray suit. Mrs. James C. Jones in a beige felt with perky feather.

Face Framing Is Newest In Coiffures

"Face framing" with coiffures in, and the "animal kingdom" novelties are a thing of the past, says the Official Hair Fashion Committee of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association. Winter hair fashions move swiftly into a new era of elegance, that fastidious simplicity nicely appropriate to the coming season's more graceful costumes and to the personality and individual characteristics of the wearer.

The new season marks an end to the various animal tail arrangements in back and to the doggy cropped look. In its place, say the top coiffure designers of OHFC of NHCA, emphasis will be about the face, and the back hair will be simple and close to the head. Hair in front and at the sides will be a little fuller and longer, but the close, small head look stays in and keeps the hair in back as short as ever or even shorter than it has been.

A modified revival of the Gibson Girl Pompadour will be seen frequently, often with "lucky streaks" of lighter or brighter hair to "turn on the lights" and spark up the personality.

The graceful, full lines of the Gibson Girl Pompadour smoothly complement hats sitting back on the head by providing the flattering frame of hair so vital to facial beauty.

The lines of close fitting hats, hardening to the average woman's features, will be softened by the new and elegant swing of the hair which brings soft tendrils and curved waves toward the face where they suitably balance the features.

Queenly Look

The queenly look in Christmas gifts is expressed in this glittering rhinestone tiara, worn with matching necklace, bracelet and drop earrings.

A total of 94 per cent of the Christmas Seal Sale is used to support TB control programs in the state where the money is donated. The remaining six per cent is assigned to the National Tuberculosis Association for medical and social research and for service to state and local affiliates.

TB Seal Drive Lags; Chairman Makes Appeal

Mrs. Guilford Jones, general chairman of the TB Christmas Seal drive, expressed disappointment Saturday morning at the present results of the drive, now at about the halfway mark.

Reports from her various chairmen showed total receipts thus far ran to about $770, far below the Howard County goal of $2,000.

Of this amount about $500 had been turned in from the sale of Christmas seals and $270.50 from the sale of bonds to business firms. The bangles will be sold to school children for one cent each on the last day of school before the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Joyce Stanley, in charge of the bond division along with her assistant, Mrs. Clarence Percy Jr., reported the bond committee had contacted 68 firms to make up the total reported through Friday. Their workers said some firms still were to be contacted but the majority had been reached.

Mrs. Zollie Mae Rawlins, executive secretary of the Howard County TB association, said the citizens must cooperate to a great er extent if the drive is to reach its goal.

Members of the Junior Woman's Forum are volunteering their services to conduct the Seal sale, which will continue through Dec. 25.

"Research is basic to every phase of the fight against TB and to whatever progress we can expect in the future," Mrs. Rawlins said. "When we buy Christmas Seals we share in this important work."

Sister Recuperating

Mrs. Zollie Mae Rawlins has received word that her sister, Mrs. Austin Burch, is recuperating rapidly in Los Alamos, N. M., from a recent appendectomy. Mrs. Burch is the former Mary Elizabeth Dodge.

Family Favorite

Your Christmas present for the family will prove a unanimous success if you choose an urban-suburban serving cart. It features a locked compartment for storing and drop-leaves for extra space.

Junior Forum Has Program On Juvenile Delinquency

Mrs. Clarence Percy Jr. spoke on "The Causes of Juvenile Delinquency" when the Junior Woman's Forum met in the home of Mrs. Omar Jones Friday afternoon. Mrs. H. W. Kirby was co-hostess. Mrs. Percy told the group that there is no reason to believe that feeble-mindedness and poverty cause delinquency. The main causes, she said, were that the child was either neurotic, lacked a happy family life or had lack of companionship.

Following the talks, a round-table discussion on "Over-Privileged Children" was held.

Mrs. Clyde Thomas Jr. announced that the clothes collected among the members had been turned over to the Salvation Army. Mrs. Joyce Stanley reported on the TB Seal campaign.

Assure Delivery Of Cards By Addressing Properly

Back in the gas-light era, dispatching your Christmas cards was no small matter. Nothing easy like just addressing them and running them down to the nearest letter-box.

It was done the hard way in those days. Either you took them around on foot yourself or, if you had money to burn, you tied up the family coach during Christmas week by sending your uniformed footman around with your merry Yuletide greetings.

Today, we simply mail our cards. But even so, there are certain customs arising from good taste and good sense that govern the sending of these cards.

The matter of signature is one that's confusing to many people. The whole thing is relatively simple, once it's straightened out in your mind. Signatures should be informal, as: Bob, or Alice, or Alice and Bob for a married couple, followed by the last name.

With married couples, the person signing the card writes his or her name last, just as a matter of courtesy. If, however, there's a printed signature, the wife's name always comes first. The only exception to this is when a child's name is included. Then the card should read: Dick and Nancy and Tommy.

If there are several children, you may write: Best Wishes from the Jamesons.

Rules for business cards vary somewhat. Here, Mr. and Mrs. is permissible but you should be sure that the card is very formal in design and greeting. Preferably, the signature should be engraved or imprinted but it may be handwritten.

Don't hesitate over the use of white or colored ink. If it adds to the color scheme of your card, use it.

Now we come to the mailing. All cards should be mailed with first-class postage. This is both good taste and precaution. First-class mail insures that your cards will be sorted and delivered first. If they go astray for some reason, they will be forwarded or returned.

Don't forget to follow the advice of postal authorities to mail early. Christmas cards for out-of-state should be mailed by Dec. 15 at the latest. Cards for local delivery go at least a week before Christmas.

Be sure to put your return address on the envelope. But never, in your greetings, spell Christmas as "Xmas." Always give the name the reverence due it. And never, never abbreviate an address. "Cal." for California is often mistaken for "Col." for Colorado. To insure that your greetings arrive safely, be explicit!

Plaids Lose Top Rank In Fall Line-Up

Perennially-popular plaid are missing this season, from the top fashion headlines.

Shown in somewhat greater extent in the young collections of fashions for the grammar school into college groups, it is now regarded as a classic, rather than a top-ranking fashion leader.

Clan plaids, in separates or as accent pieces, will continue to hold their own with the campus crowds, from kindergarten to college, and many manufacturers will continue to fill this need with basics.

All wool skirts, flared or pleated—slim, tapered slacks—jackets in either cardigan or notched collar styles—vests and sweaters—all hold their own with consistent popularity, particularly when teamed with solids, in greys or the even-newer camel shades.

Fashion's newest trick for now is to belittle waistlines to mere nothings with fashion-new belts designed to whittle the middle!

The design of the Christmas Seal which is sold throughout the United States to raise money for the war of the voluntary associations on tuberculosis changes every year. This year it features a glowing candle against a green background and the red Double-Barred Cross, insignia of the world-wide fight against TB.

At Christmas Party

Mrs. Truman Parker receives her gift at the "White Reindeer" gift exchange which climaxed the Christmas party of the Webb AFB Officers' Wives Club Thursday afternoon. Each member brought a gift and numbers were drawn to see who would receive each package. The gifts ranged from a portable travel iron to a ceramic Dachshund salt and pepper shaker with the salt in the tail and the pepper in the head. Mrs. G. P. Howell, program chairman (rear), drew the numbers for the packages. The old gentleman was not identified.

Co-Operative Church Assembly Meet Is Set

By GEORGE W. CORNELL DENVER, Dec. 6 (AP)—A multi-denomination religious team goes to work tomorrow on the problems and plans of the nation's biggest co-operative church enterprise.

The sessions will set the stage for the opening two days hence of the general assembly of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.

More than 2,000 church leaders are expected here for the assembly, the council's top governing body.

It is meeting for the first time since 29 denominations two years ago formed the council by pooling their strength on a wide range of religious fronts.

How well, or badly, this vastest of American endeavors in joint church activity has worked out will be a keynote of the biennial assembly.

Delegates, representing 33 million Protestant and Eastern Orthodox church members—more than two-thirds of the total—will face such questions as these:

Has the council functioned smoothly? Is it succeeding in performing jobs the individual denominations could not do separately? Has it avoided becoming top-heavy with complicated administrative procedures?

Is it responsible to its constituent denominations and the grassroots church-goers?

A special committee of denominational representatives has made an intensive study of the council's operations during its formative years to determine if adjustments are needed.

Its recommendations will be submitted to the assembly, along with reports of the council's various divisions and departments.

As to just how expertly the council has done its job in its trail-blazing period, church leaders hold varying opinions.

Dr. Luther A. Weigle, dean of Yale University Divinity School who for 10 years headed a planning committee which mapped the founding of the council in Cleveland in 1950, said:

"There is much yet to be done, but the national council is well on its way. The adventure of faith has been justified by its work in these two years. Differing as we do in many details of heritage, custom and conviction, we are yet one in our allegiance to Jesus Christ, our divine Lord and Savior."

Buying The Place Is One Way To Keep Out Of The Penal Farm

HAZLEHURST, Miss. (AP) — Armon Whittington won't have to serve 90 days at the Copiah County penal farm after all.

He bought the place at auction. Whittington, sentenced to 75 days on the farm on a charge of possessing liquor in bone-dry Mississippi, appealed the conviction and sentence. Before his appeal came up the county governing board decided to sell the farm at auction.

Whittington was the high bidder yesterday.

The first Christmas Seal Sale in America was organized by Emily P. Bissell in Wilmington, Del., in 1907 to aid a few needy tuberculosis patients. With the backing of a newspaper, the Philadelphia North American, she raised $3,000, $3,000.

Big Spring Daily Herald

Sec. II Big Spring, Texas, Sunday, December 7, 1952 Sec. III

WAY BACK ON DEC. 7, 1941

All Hopes Were In Vain On 'Uneventful' Sunday

Rather a typical winter day in West Texas...temperatures from a low of 37 to a high of 55, with "considerable cloudiness"... People were following their pursuits—religious, social, business and civic—in more or less routine manner.

It was a winter Sunday. Big Springers no doubt spent the customary amount of time reading their Herald. What did they read?

In sports? Well, Texas University the day before had blasted Oregon, 71-7, while Southwest Conference Champion A&M was beating Washington State 7-0. In the Texas Intercollegiate League grid play-offs, Ysleta had ousted Sweetwater and Lubbock had bowed to Wichita Falls. Big Spring High School was looking to the basketball season, and there seemed to be a strong team shaping up, with such prospects as Peppy Blount, Horace Bostick, James Fallon, Billy Womack, James Tidwell, Wilbert Moore and Ernest Bostick. Jimmy Game-well, the Country Club pro, was planning on taking in a golf tournament at Harlingen. A WPA recreational program reported considerable activity. And Frank Powell and Elton Taylor, back from a hunting trip, had to fire five bullets into one deer before the animal would fall.

On the society pages as people read that Sunday? The First Baptist women's groups had completed a Week of Prayer, and there were a number of "personal" items, such as those reporting that Mrs. Shine Phillips had been to Dallas, and that Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Wood-all had spent a week in Dallas and Hillsboro. Dick Clifton had a cold-urn on high school student activities. Mary Anne Cox was elected president of the High Heel Slipper Club, succeeding Betty Bob Diltz. Employees of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company had held their annual Christmas dance and many groups were mapping Yuletide festivities. The girl's NYA project had just been closed down.

One of the big flourishes in that Sunday's Herald had to do with the formal opening of Radio Station KBST in new quarters at 702 Johnson Street. This event attracted about 2,000 persons during that "uneventful" Sunday. At the Ritz Theatre, Gary Cooper was starred in "Sergeant York." The Herald was publicizing the forthcoming lecture appearance of Jan Valtin, the fellow who was warning against both the Nazis and the Communists.

What else were people reading about. In that Sunday Herald? Well, the cotton crop of the year was reported as 42,000 bales ginned to date, and The Herald's editorial was in praise of County Agent O. P. Griffin, who had taken prompt steps to save the year's crop from insect infestation. The West Texas Chamber of Commerce had set a membership quota of $600 in Big Spring, and B. Reagan was to raise the money. The sale of Christmas Seals by the Tuberculosis Association had doubled those of any previous year... and Santa Claus had made his Big Spring appearance just two days before. In the parade, the Lamesa High School Band won a prize, as did the Mid-way school, and Mrs. Wm. R. D'wes' seventh graders. County Tax Collector John Walcott said collections were good. The Herald said that merchants reported Christmas buying brisk, and on the uptrend.

The newspaper reported that Dr. Frank L. Turner, president of McMurry College, would speak at the First Methodist Church that day... and Trinity Baptist was having an all day "Victory program."

Joe Pickle's column, "Reviewing The Big Spring Week" on that Sunday morning, was deploring a new wave of dog poisoning in the city. And there was a feature interview in The Herald with Dr. J. C. Utter, an old-time Big Spring who had been here in the '80's, and was back on a visit. Dr. Utter had been physician to the fabulous Earl of Ayleford, and recalled that he had a prodigious appetite, for both food and drink.

If you were interested in such things, you could have read in The Herald that day that Tommy Manville's Wife No. 5 was headed for Reno.

Pretty much run-of-the-mill stuff in the home town paper that day.

But there were portents of things to come. One story said that Secretary Frank Knox called for an enlargement of the Navy, and another said the Navy was lowering its standards of admission. Still another reported that ten Mitchell County men had received their summons to military service. Yes, there was trouble on the horizon.

The "banter" story on The Herald Page One that day reported that President Franklin D. Roosevelt had made an unprecedented move in addressing a personal note to Emperor Hirohito. This was in the hope that tension in the Far East would be eased.

The hope was in vain. For this "uneventful" winter Sunday was December 7, 1941. The Herald, with its morning issue for the day, reported pretty much "run-of-the-mill" stuff.

By mid-afternoon a world cataclysm had occurred at Pearl Harbor in the Hawaiian Islands. Do you recall December 7, 1941? The headlines, by the next day, were big and black and screamed of war. But that Sunday morning, who was to know what the day would bring?

A SHELF OF WESTERN BOOKS

With Franklin Reynolds

'Comancheros' New Chapter In Western History

(THE COMANCHEROS, by Paul I. Wellman, Oregon Cattle rancher, Doubleday & Co., New York, $2.75).

THE COMANCHEROS, by the author of "The Iron Mistress," "The Chain," "Death On The Prairie," "Death In The Desert," and other volumes of history and fiction, is, in itself, fictionalized history, or historical fiction, either of which it may be called, and with color and charm it presents a most interesting and entertaining, but little known, chapter of West Texas history that should have a strong appeal for readers in this area no matter whether they read for the unadulterated joy of reading, or whether they read for authentic historical information.

THE COMANCHEROS is the story of the Comancheros, those daring and dastardly characters who aided, abetted and encouraged Comanche depredations against settlers on the Texas Frontier by trading with these Indians and buying from them the cattle, horses, household plunder, and even the slaves, both Mexican and Anglo-Saxon, that fell into the hands of the Comanches and the even more cruel Kiowas.

There was much the Comancheros would not have stolen, there were many women and children they would not have enslaved, had there not been a ready sale for these at the Comanchero market place in Palo Duro Canyon, in the Texas Panhandle, where later Col. Charles Goodnight established his cattle empire under the famous JA brand. It is estimated that "not fewer than three hundred thousand cattle and a hundred thousand horses and mules" stolen from Texans by the Comanches, were bartered to the Comancheros for whiskey and powder and guns and food and trinkets and other things. This business was the first big commercial enterprise in West Texas. And all this livestock, all these precious family possessions passed into the hands of the Comancheros through the shedding of the blood of the settlers.

And, the Comancheros themselves, as Paul Regret, the Texas Ranger, first saw them in Wellman's finely-woven story:

"A dozen armed men surrounded the prisoners. It was Regret's first chance to see the breed of Comancheros, and what he saw was not pleasing. Mexican faces, Spanish faces, faces of French vidal poches, faces of American renegades, half-breed Indian faces, the sweepings and off-scourings of a hemisphere were here, without exception depraved, evil and cruel." Regret, once a New Orleans gentleman, was in the Comanchero camp, because at Washington-On-The-Brassos, President Sam Houston had offered him a choice between the gallows and a Ranger's commission. He had happened to be in Houston's power because of Eloise Graille, a beautiful young opera singer in New Orleans, and because of some dead men — men he had killed in duels.

By the mere fate of it being time for him and Tom Galling to ride out on a routine patrol, they drew the dangerous assignment of locating the Comanchero camp so it could be raided and destroyed. Once there, they and their company commander were identified, and with the power of life and death over them was another man who knew and loved, in another way, Eloise Graille.

As historical explanation and interpretation this book is significant. As a work of Wellman's creative genius it is exciting, fascinating and solidly entertaining. No shelf of West Texas books will be complete without it.

Big Bend Area Dramatized By Texas Writers

(BIG BEND: A Homesteader's Story, By J. O. Langford with Fred Gipson. Photographs by Henry B. du Pont and Joe W. Langford. Drawings by Hal Story. University of Texas Press, Austin, $3.50).

"Nothing down there but rattlesnakes and handit Mexicans. That damned country promises more and gives less than any place I ever saw. The Mexicans say that when God was making the world, he used up the best of the material before he got to the Big Bend country and just dumped the leftovers down there. There's nothing down there that don't have claws or thorns or a sting to it."

That's what J. O. Langford was told in the lobby of the Alpine Hotel, back there in 1909, when he, in miserable health, with a wife, and daughter a little more than a year old, was thinking of homesteading down on the Rio Grande at the foot of that magnificent land now included in the Big Bend National Park. Langford had very little money; another baby was expected soon, and because of the distressful condition of his health the former Mississippi salesman was continuously wondering what must inevitably happen to his family.

Today he lives in Kerrville, a man who won a new way of life and who regained his health and found happiness, confidence and some measure of financial success on three sections of that rugged land that apparently nobody else wanted, and if they did want their wives wouldn't let them claim it. BIG BEND is Langford's story written with the literary assistance of Fred Gipson, for merSan Angelo newspaperman, who returned to the old family farm in Mason County to establish himself as one of America's greatest story tellers. Those who have never been to the Big Bend should read this story, and those who have been there will enjoy and prize it even more. Take a map of Texas and find the town of Alpine. Follow a line south and east of there, down along Maravillas Creek to Hot Springs. That was the route followed by the Langford family in reaching the homestead none of them had ever seen.

"Ours must have seemed a strange procession as we headed south out of Alpine that May morning. Even in 1909, when animal-drawn vehicles were the customary mode of travel, I could see curiosity in the eyes of the early risers who watched us leave town.

"Out in front, astride a belted gray mare, rode the lanky Mexican boy, Enrique Diaz. Behind him and following the mare, plodged eight Mexican burros, drawing an ore wagon piled high with our household goods and all the provisions I could afford to buy. Chained to the ore wagon came our buckboard, with my wife Bessie and me sitting on the springs, and our eighteen-months-old daughter Lovie between us. Tex, our female collie dog, barked up the rear."

The journey consumed more than a week. In their rough but livable improvised home not too long afterward, Langford, armed with a well boiled pair of old scissors, officiated at the birth of his second child with his only medical assistance some instructions written in long hand by an old physician who wisely didn't trust the father's worried memory.

Finally, the Mexican revolutionists, just before our entry into World War I, made it wiser for the pioneer to take his family to El Paso. In the interim, however, Langford had constructed a rude bath house and the fame of the hot springs, now the name of the settlement, had been spread. People came from far and wide to take the baths at a dime a bath and to drink the water free. The short chapter descriptive of the simple Mexican funeral, with the giant of a man pounding the dirt down upon the body with a huge boulder none of the others could lift, is destined to take its place as a classic in the literature of all times. The story of the teacher who had never taught school before, and the children who had never attended school before, starting out together, reveals fine qualities of the Mexican character that but few Anglo-Saxons have ever been able to discover. In his descriptions of the skies and clouds over the Big Bend, Langford paints with words a picture that will remain in the memory of the reader for a long, long time, and all will be thrilled by the instinct of the two wild broncs that took a severe beating rather than commit suicide and destroy two men with themselves.

It's the sort of book that once you read it, you will want to read it again and tell your friends about it. It's a book that's going to be talked about and read in Texas, and by Texans elsewhere, for many years to come.

Own Story Told By 'Pistol Pete' Now At Age 92

(PISTOL PETE, By Frank "Pistol Pete" Eaton. Little, Brown and Company, Boston, $4.00)

The author of this autobiography is 92 years old. He still lives in Perkins, Oklahoma, where he earns his own living as a blacksmith and deputy sheriff. PISTOL PETE is the story of his life as a cowboy, scout, Indian fighter and friend of the Indians, deputy U.S. marshal, deputy sheriff, cattle association detective, and in general, a veteran of the old days in Oklahoma and Indian Territories and West Texas.

When Frank Eaton was only seven years old and the family lived in Kansas, six men called his father to the door one night and shot him to death.

"There was a burst of gunfire and my father fell to the floor with six bullets through him; I fell on his body screaming. One of the men got off his horse and pulled me away. He kicked me and hit me with his riding whip. Then he emptied his gun into my father's body. Then they galloped away. But I had seen their faces."

After the neighbors had turned away from the father's grave one of them put his hand on the boy's head and said: "My boy, may an old man's curse rest upon you, if you do not try to avenge your father!" The next day this man brought the boy a pistol and taught him to shoot.

"You must never stop until they are all accounted for," the man reminded him, and Frank Eaton didn't. He got five of them but another man beat him to the sixth. The boy had many friends (some of them in the shape of men who were enemies of his father's killers). And always these rough-and-ready characters impressed upon the youth the necessity for being

Books For Christmas

Shoppers find a wide selection in books—one of the "sure-fire" items for Christmas giving—this year. Probably more than ever before is there a long list of volumes by, for, and about Texans. Here, Big Springers are looking at suggestions from the Book Stall stock.

PLENTY OF THEM FOR TEXANS

Books Make The Suitable Gift For All Ages And All Tastes

You can't "miss" on a Christmas gift, if the gift is a book. They are welcomed by every age.

And books are available for every age and every taste. The selections to be had this year rank with the best, and perhaps more than ever there are volumes of particular interest to Texans because of authorship, locale of story, or treatment of plot. There's a regular outpouring of books for, by, or about Texans. The biggest of these, from point of size, is the big two-volume novel by Madison Cooper of Waco—"Sironia, Texas." It's the biggest American novel ever published, and as such is creating a lot of interest.

J. Frank Doble, our state's grand old man of regional literature, has a new book out on "The Mustangs," a story of the legendary wild horses which roamed the Southwest. J. Evetts Haley, a prime historian of our West Texas region, has two books available, "Life on the Texas Range" and "Fort Concho."

"Life on the Texas Range" is a perfect gift item for persons who like either Texas history, the Old West or good photography. It consists mainly of excellent pictures taken right on the ranches back before the turn of the century by Erwin Smith, cowboy photographer.

"Fort Concho," which just won a $1,000 award as the best book on Texas history for 1952, embraces many chapters on the section stretching from Fort Phantom Hill past San Angelo. It is written by West Texas' own J. Evetts Haley, illustrated by Jose Cisneros, and bound and produced by the famous book designer, Carl Hertzog of El Paso.

Tom Lea, author of "Brave Bulls" brings a new book about the El Paso border country, "Wounded Country" which will delight all Lea or Texas fans. For older girls or family reading there's Louisa Grace Erdman's "The Wind Blows Free," about pioneering on the plains of Texas.

"Giant," Edna Feber's hot-potato about our state, which has had readers up in arms, will make a lot of Texans chuckle or rage. For fans of John Steinbeck there's his "East of Eden," acclaimed by critics as his best since "Grapes of Wrath." Ernest Hemingway's "Old Man and the Sea" makes a nice gift for his followers.

Another best seller by Thomas Costain is "The Silver Chalice" which, along with the perennial favorite, "The Calm Mutiny" (in a big illustrated edition) will cram under a lot of trees this Yule. A top gift category is art books. You can take your pick of nearly a dozen dazzling titles — with "Treasury of Art Masterpieces" and individual artists' works vying for attention. These are high (around $12.50) but truly a luxurious gift for someone who "counts."

"A Man Called Peter" and "Mr. Jones Meets the Master," two fine religious books, will make perfect gifts for anyone, while Dr. Norman Vincent Peale's "Power of Positive Thinking" can be sent with the secure knowledge that the receiver will be grateful.

Bibles are perfect for Christmas giving—although the much heralded Revised Standard Bible will be in short supply this Christmas all over the United States. Bibles can be obtained in prices from one dollar to $35 or more. Especially nice for family giving is a big "old-fashioned" family Bible.

For the children there is a verti- cal wonderland of books this Christmas. The Better Homes & Gardens magazine has come out with a new No. 2 story book to match No. 1, collecting several top-notch children's stories under one cover.

One of the year's top children's books is a tender little story about a girl, a pig, a spider and a rat called "Charlotte's Web." The "Boy Scout Encyclopedia" contains in alphabetical order, everything there is to know about camping, and Boy Scout life.

Rudyard Kipling's "Just So Stories" are offered in a lavishly illustrated, low-priced edition, and, of course, several books of "series" for children are being offered. Mary Alice Jones' newest children's book is "Bible Stories," and of course, Bible story books are always tremendously popular with children.

The Giant Golden Book series, with books on every conceivable kind of topic, make nice, colorful gifts for children of all ages—when the kids can get them away from the grownups.

New Suburban Development To Be Opened Today

A new suburban development — Avion Village — is being opened formally today in the rapidly expanding area to the west.

One home, representative of the initial group of 48 homes to be constructed, has been completed and will be open for inspection starting at 1 p.m.

The project, handled under the direction of Sam Goldman, is located east of the stone gate entrance to Webb Air Force Base and extending eastward along the north line of the Air Base property. The Airport School is nearby.

Goldman emphasized that plans called for construction of full standard (title 203) FHA approved home which would be within the reach of the medium to low salaried men. Down payments will be small and the total outlay is to be in the neighborhood of $7,000, he said.

Associated in the venture are Cecil D. McDonald, who will be the contractor and who has done considerable residential construction in recent years; and Carl Strom, who will handle the financing on the project.

Streets will be paved and the properties will have all utilities, sewer, water, etc. Webb Lane will bound it on the south and the new highway connecting link between U.S. 80 and U.S. 87 will bound it on the north. There will be an area devoted to shopping center purposes at the AFB entrance point.

Initial development will be 48 units on the west end of the subdivision. When these are sold, another 54 will be authorized, said Goldman.

The project is, he pointed out, 100 per cent locally planned and operated. Plans and other details will be available at the completed home today and henceforth. Offices will be maintained in this house.

McMurry Band To Present Two Concerts Here

As a part of its initial tour of the year, the McMurry College Indian Band will give two concerts in Big Spring today and Monday.

The 85 musicians under the direction of Raymond T. Bynum will give the complete worship service at the First Methodist Church this evening. They will also give a program at the Big Spring High School Monday morning.

The McMurryans left the campus Saturday for a five-day tour of Mid-West Texas. They are scheduled to return Dec. 10.

Other performances scheduled for the tour include Seminole, Andrews, Littlefield, Sundown, Leveland, Abernathy, O'Donnell, Snyder.

The Big Spring performances will be homecoming for one Indian musician, Richard Deats, senior, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Deats, 400 Virginia.

Soloists to be featured in the secular program at the high school include Gary Zook, Florenceville, saxophonist; Shirley Ham, Andrews, vocal soloist; Servando Trevino, Santa Barbara, Chihuahua, Mexico, mirimba.

The complete worship services at the churches will be composed of anthems by the entire band, hymns by a chorus and oral reading of the scripture and prayers furnished by ministerial students in the band.

Dam Building Project Told

AUSTIN, Dec. 6 (AP)—A plan by which the state would charge fees for use of all public flowing waters would raise $2,057,000 a year to build dams and reservoirs, the Governor's Water Committee leaders were told yesterday.

The four key subcommittees of the water group met here to coordinate their recommendations before a full committee Dec. 18.

Victor Boulding, Houston attorney and chairman of the panel on state financing of water projects, said industry would pay most of the water fee bill—about $1,340,000. Domestic users would pay about $318,000; irrigators, $320,000; hydroelectric, $30,000.

The state would sell bonds and retire them through the fees, using revenue so derived to help finance the water projects in cooperation with the localities the projects would serve. Maximum fees would be 10 cents per acre per year for irrigation water, 5 cents per acre foot for hydroelectric power and 10 cents per acre foot for most other water rights.

Scene From Civic Drama Play

This is a scene from "Jenny Kissed Me," one of three Broadway hits which will be presented here this season by the Civic Drama Guild under sponsorship of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club. Kiwanis Club members will continue the sale of season tickets through Wednesday. The first play in the series, "Glad Tidings," will be presented at the Municipal Auditorium on Wednesday night.

Drama Series Opens Here On Wednesday

Wednesday is the deadline for purchasing season's tickets for the Civic Drama series being sponsored here for the third season by the Big Spring Kiwanis Club.

The first play on this season's schedule, "Glad Tidings," will be presented at the Municipal Auditorium Wednesday night.

All members of the Kiwanis Club are selling season tickets. Tickets also may be purchased at the Chamber of Commerce, where purchasers may select their reserved seats.

Single season tickets sell for $6.50 each, including tax, while the dual season tickets are $13 each. A season ticket entitles the purchaser to a reserved seat for all three performances.

The second play booked here this season, "The Fledermaus," is scheduled for March 4, while "Jenny Kissed Me," will conclude the series on May 6.

The plays, with all-professional casts from New York, are presented by the Civic Drama Guild. In all, they will present the series this year in some 200 cities from coast to coast.

"Glad Tidings," first on the series here, opened its Civic Drama Guild schedule Oct. 20 in Boise, Idaho. Another cast began a tour with "The Fledermaus" on the same date in Binghamton, N. Y., and "Jenny Kissed Me" started its Civic Drama Guild run on the same date in Dallas.

Each unit travels via motor vehicle, and a unit is composed not only of its cast of actors and actresses, but also the sets, lighting equipment, etc.

Jack Roden, president of the Kiwanis Club, said the local sponsoring organization hopes to sell enough season tickets this year to continue sponsorship of the Civic Drama Series on an annual basis.

Response last year was somewhat disappointing, due chiefly to the fact that all plays last year were booked for Saturdays. None of the series this season will be staged on Saturday, Roden emphasized.

VA Reorganization Recommendations Are Received At Hospital

A 10-volume copy of recommendations of private management consultants for reorganization of the Veterans Administration has been received at the local VA hospital.

Veterans Administrator Carl Gray already has approved some of the proposals and rejected others. The reorganization plan was suggested by the firm of Booz-Allen and Hamilton, Chicago, management consultants.

W. O. Underwood, manager of the local VA hospital, says few of the proposals pertained to management at the hospital level.

3 OUTSTANDING STAGE COMEDIES

DIRECT FROM BROADWAY WITH DISTINGUISHED NEW YORK CASTS

WEDNESDAY
December 10
"Glad Tidings"

Great comedy success direct from its 1951 Broadway engagement which starred Signe Hasso and Melvyn Douglas, Wendell Mayes and Phyllis Manning, experienced Civic Drama Guild favorites will undertake these roles on tour. This light hearted, humorous play of a modern generation family is the story of a father who finds he has an attractive ready made young daughter of whose existence he has been unaware for twenty years. The fact that this daughter is an offspring of his wife's first husband only tends to heighten the humorous aspects of the situation. However, the father likes it, the daughter likes it, and almost everyone likes it including the audience.

WEDNESDAY,
March 4, 1953
"The Fledermaus"

Streamlined musical comedy version of the operetta that was restaged by Ella Kazan for New York's famous Metropolitan Opera House in 1949 and has since been the most popular work in the Met's entire repertoire. Johann Strauss' most entrancing score is embodied in FLEDERMAUS—tunes that will forever be remembered and have already taken their place among the classics. The entire musical is permeated with the flavor of old Vienna and the famous Strauss waltzes. In addition to the delights of the songs and dances, FLEDERMAUS has an hilarious musical comedy book. As a practical joke upon his friend, Mr. Eisenstein, for spreading the rumor that he took the form of a "Fledermaus" (a bat), Dr. Falke supposedly confined Eisenstein to jail for two weeks leaving his wife with time hanging heavy on her hands. But not for long, for a lover appears and he, too, is led off to jail after being mistaken for Eisenstein. All of the characters later appear at a masquerade ball under assumed names. How Eisenstein, as a marquis, makes love to his own wife, thinking her a baroness, and the final outcome, are but a few of the rollicking funny incidents in this plot studded with laughs.

WEDNESDAY
May 6, 1953
"Jenny Kissed Me"

This sensational comedy hit was produced in New York in 1949 and has served as a Summer Theatre starring vehicle for Helen Hayes and her daughter, Mary. Action takes place in the Rectory of St. Matthew's Church and concerns the problems of Father Moynihan when he takes under his roof, Jenny, the niece of his housekeeper. She arrives straight from the farm—bespectacled, intelligent, stern of manner, and completely disinterested in boys. In the process of getting her a husband, Father Moynihan turns her into a glamorous "hep chick" and in so doing becomes the town's authority of fashions and manners. Love conquers all before the final curtain and a young college professor realizes that Jenny is just what the doctor ordered. It offers a relaxing and joyful evening in the theatre.

Use Crisp New Bills When Giving Money

BY ANNETTE GREEN

Gifts of money often form a part of the Christmas list. In addition to the members of your family, chances are you would also like to express your feelings of good will to the elevator man, cleaning woman, postman and others who serve you throughout the year.

The trouble with money-giving, for most of us, is that it usually presents the problem of how much and in what manner.

To make life less complicated during this busy time, here are some suggestions to guide you in planning.

Since checks are always difficult to cash, bills will be much more appreciated. It's a good idea to allow yourself some extra time to go to the bank and get some crisp new bills.

If you are planning to include coins, make sure they're nice and shiny. You can get new coins at the bank, or if you would rather, wash the soiled ones in a detergent. They will look as bright as when new.

One of the best ways of presenting money to the men on your list is in inexpensive plastic wallets.

The milkman offers you an ideal container. Just wash out a milk bottle, decorate it with some ribbon and Christmas trim, and tie the money to a candy-cane stick and stand it in the bottle. As far as the gift for the postman is concerned—get his address and mail it. The baby sitter or cleaning woman will appreciate their gifts in an attractive but inexpensive change purse.

One point to remember when you are trying to decide how much money to give these various people is that there is no prescribed amount that can be recommended for everybody.

Where you live, the size of your family, the service you receive—must all be taken into consideration. Most elevator men, for instance, consider five dollars a fine gift. But again you are the best judge of whether this figure should go up or down.

The superintendent of a building must be thought of separately.

The perfect sum for him seems to be a ten-dollar bill. If you like, you can combine five dollars with a box of his favorite cigars.

If you live in the suburbs, you and your neighbors might like to combine your contributions for the grocery clerk, policeman, garbage collector, etc. There should be no specified amount, however. Each family must give what it feels is suitable.

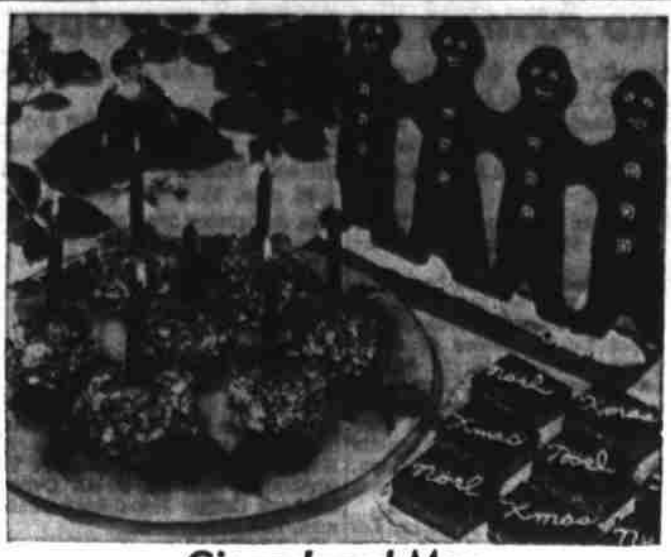

And there will no doubt be others who will want to remember at Christmas, like the woman who serves you in the bakery, the newsboy and perhaps a favorite waitress. The amounts involved would probably be so small, however, that a gift might be more appropriate.

Give a box of candy, or a small appointment book, or pencils imprinted with the recipient's name. If you are an expert cook, you might whip up some special holiday delicacy.

Never try to give more than you can afford. It is your thoughtfulness and consideration that is appreciated, and in these days of rising costs and shrinking dollars, every little bit helps.

Project Is A Flop

NEW YORK, Dec. 6 (AP)—The New York Times today said Argentina's atomic energy project has been abandoned, apparently as a flop; its workers dismissed, and Dr. Ronald Richter, the Austrian-born scientist who headed it, arrested three weeks ago.

Gingerbread Men

Giddy and affectionate gingerbread men stand guard over Christmas popcorn balls and Yuletide fruit bars.

Gingerbread Men Were First Gifts For These Tots On Christmas Morn

Our Uncle Dick was always Santa Claus. That was in the days of real candles burning on the tree (with buckets of water standing near by in case of trouble) and special gingerbread men with silly faces baked for each child in the family.

Uncle Dick was tall and heavy and sometimes laughed so violently Aunt Kitty would put her foot down. The women of the family would dress him up in a bright red suit with cotton trim and a cap with a bell on it and grandfather's rubber boots.

First, he would solemnly give each of us our gingerbread man which my mother had baked. Then he roared "Merry Christmas to all" and swung open his pillowcase bag and gave us our presents.

I can still actually remember how my mother's gingerbread men smelled and tasted. But the recipe in her racy note book is a little confused. Mother was more affectionate than literal. So I've asked Avanelle Day, a noted home economist, to put the family recipe into more reliable terms. Here it is:

Gingerbread Men
(12 gingerbread men, 6 1/2 inches tall)
Four cups sifted enriched flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 3/4 teaspoon salt, 3 teaspoons ginger, 1 cup shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup unsulphured molasses.
Sift together first 3 ingredients. Meit shortening in a saucepan large enough for mixing dough. Add sugar and molasses; mix well.

Gradually stir in the flour mixture. Roll dough 1/8-inch thick on lightly floured cookie sheet, having waxed paper between dough and rolling pin. (Do not use flour for rolling). Place a damp towel on table underneath cookie sheet to prevent pan from sliding.

Cut a pattern out of brown paper, having men stand singly or holding

Brush 'N Comb

A little girl will love this grown-up brush and comb set. The brush has half-flare bristles and is available in ruby, crystal or sapphire jewelite.

hands, whichever you prefer. Place it on the dough. Cut through the dough around the pattern with a pointed knife. Bake cookies with excess dough intact so that they will be more nicely shaped. Bake 12 minutes or until edges have slightly browned in a preheated, moderate oven (375 degrees F.). Quickly retrace lines with a pointed knife to separate gingerbread men from excess parts. Do Not Remove Cookies From Pan Until Cold.

Make faces on gingerbread men with icing. If these cookies are to stand upright, they must be reinforced with a piece of brown paper cut to size and shape of cookies and pasted to the backs with icing.

Attach an easel (1 inch by 4 inches), made of cardboard or from baked excess cookie dough, to the back of each cookie. Bake a cookie strip 3 inches by 13 inches on which to stand the gingerbread men; hold in place with icing. These gingerbread men are attractive to use as Christmas decorations on the buffet or table. To eat cookies, peel the paper from the backs.

Icing

One egg white, 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 teaspoon water, 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar. Beat the first three ingredients together until frothy. Gradually beat in confectioners' sugar until the mixture is stiff enough to stand in peaks. Mix frosting just before using and keep the bowl covered with damp cloth to prevent it from drying.

Pretty Nice

Pale pink basket weave wool is used for this warm and pretty peignoir for Christmas giving. Stand-up ruffle of cotton eyellet lace trims neck; the same lace is used for full sleeves, which are worn pushed up. Yoke and dropped shoulders are outlined in band of lace.

Harmless Cosmetics Delight The Kiddies

BY ALICIA HART

If you are looking for original gifts to delight the small fry in your family on Christmas morning, don't overlook the possibilities of children's toiletries.

Enchantingly packaged, these "grown-up" preparations will cause quite a stir. An added feature, which you needn't mention, is that they will also serve as an excellent introduction to good grooming habits.

For the little girl whose fragile beauty is apparent to all, choose a real jewel box lined with toiletries. One most appealing set, complete with brass lock and key and made of simulated shining gold-colored red leather and satin lining, features a wide assortment of preparations.

A powder mitt rests on a swinging tray, and in the compartment below are fragrant toilet water with a delicious woodland scent, a pure castile soap shampoo, and hand lotion that has a rich lanolin base to keep small hands pretty and smooth. All this beauty is economically priced, and the box can be used for the young lady's jewelry after the toiletries are used up.

Since every little girl loves her hair to look shining and smooth, a miniature brush and comb set will be a delightful Christmas find. Take your choice of ruby, crystal or sapphire jewelite. Brushes are available in a variety of styles, all of them patterned after regular-size sets.

And don't think the young man of the family has to be overlooked when it comes to cosmetics. Not at all. Some sure-fire Christmas toiletry gifts for young Hopalongs can be found in the guise of toys.

Especially designed for junior-grade cowboys is a cardboard replica of a ranch-type wagon with tiny cutout figures of a Wild West boy-and-girl pair driving from the spring seat. The set can be assembled easily by any youngsters and it really rolls to serve as a play cart after the toiletries are unloaded.

For cargo, you can choose silexum for the hair, shampoo, bubble bath and a novelty soap in any two, three or four-item combinations. The soap is a cowboy figure carved out of castile, and is guaranteed to take the reluctance out of daily scrubbing. The other good-groomers come in cowboy-decorated plastic bottles that hold no hazard for young hands.

The collections of children's toiletries are versatile and available in a wide price range. Like Christmas trees, candy canes and sugar plums, they are designed to excite the fancies of the young, and help them to remember the holiday season for a long, long time.

Easy Does It

On Christmas morning mother can tidy up the house with her new carpet sweeper. It comes in decorator colors, has thick rubber bumper to prevent furniture scratches. Miniature sweeper for daughter (left) really works just like the large one.

CHRISTMAS VARIETY

Traditional, Modern Observances Noted

PARIS—Approach of the Christmas season in Europe tends to stress a religious art issue in France.

In European churches, statues of the Holy Family usually are set up at Christmas time in a manger scene. These scenes are presented in the traditional art form.

Meanwhile some leading contemporary artists and some churchmen have combined to introduce a new type of religious art which contrasts sharply with the old.

The traditional form was worked out in centuries of painting and sculpture of religious subjects. Christ is almost always painted in white clothing and given a calm but sorrowing face. European in cast, Mary is dressed in blue, Joseph is dressed in brown. Of the group Joseph is the most nearly Middle-Eastern in appearance. The Christ child is often shown making symbolic signs as an infant.

The contemporary artists have made the greatest change in their pictures of Christ. Their work has been condemned by some bishops and approved by others. In some cases it has been ordered removed.

The changes in the pictures of Christ and in other forms of church decoration have brought blasts from some Christian writers. Monsignor Celso Costantini assailed the free-wheeling modern diversionists in the Vatican newspaper Osservatore Romano recently.

On the other hand Fr. M. A. Couturier comes to the defense of modern art. He says the work by Henri Matisse in the church he is decorating at Venice is superb.

This aging artist has taken over the whole decoration of the little church. His line drawings are in black and white. The walls are plain, unbroken expanses. In addition, the colored glass windows are so arranged that they cast their own special patterns on the walls.

Matisse is quoted as saying: "If I had not thought I had a mission, I would not have had the strength to do what I am doing."

He is eightyish and unable to spend much time on ladders. Seated in a chair, he often draws high on the wall with a brush or crayon fastened to a long pole.

Another church at Audincourt has been decorated by three of the most modern of moderns, (Mr.) Joan Miro, Fernand Leger and Jean Bazaine.

At Assy, Georges Roualt's painting of Christ has been the inspiration for a colored glass window by Paul Bony. It is harsh in line and design, but conveys the deep sadness of Christ's passion as do few other more formal, traditional portrayals of Christ. It is only one of Roualt's efforts to accomplish an aim he set for himself, to paint a Christ so moving that anyone seeing it could not help but believe.

It is pointed out that no one painted a portrait of Christ during His lifetime. Not until centuries after His birth did painters in Christian Europe begin to decorate churches with paintings of the Holy Family. There were conflicts as to whether Christ was blond or brunet although most often he was shown as a golden-haired figure. The same conflict as to hair coloring arose about Mary, the mother of Christ.

U. S. Ready To Buy Defense Products Of Foreign Nations

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 (AP)—The U. S. was embarked today on a record billion-dollar defense buying program abroad, earmarking almost one-fourth of the fund for its first such purchases of foreign aircraft.

After months of preparation, informed officials said, the first batch of these new orders will be signed with Britain in about a week.

These informants said the initial orders will involve some 90 million dollars and will cover production of Britain's famed Centurion tank, successfully battle-tested in Korea, for the North Atlantic Treaty countries.

Picking Them For The Family

Family Christmas gifts can be as versatile as you like. Mother will be especially pleased with a package of contour sheets (left), and a three-speed phonograph (right) will delight music lovers.

Mexicans Planning To Build 12 Oil Tankers

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 6 (AP)—Pemex, the government oil industry, yesterday announced plans to build 12 tankers, ranging from 8,000 to 10,000 tons, at a new shipyard in Veracruz next year.

The announcement came in the publication of the new $14,000,000 budget for 1953, also included were new pipelines, new wells and new refineries at Salina Cruz and Minatitlan.

ONE GIFT FOR ALL

Suggestions For A Family Are Offered

No matter how widely Christmas is shared with friends and acquaintances, when all is said and done, most people feel the holiday is principally a family affair. That is why so many gifts are designed to please everybody. If you are in the process of making up your Christmas list, here are a few suggestions that are destined to become family favorites.

Since eating is a popular household pastime, you can't go wrong with an urban-suburban serving cart. A cart-on-wheels, made of Northern maple, it features a permanent finish that is scratch, stain and moisture-resistant and needs no waxing.

The locked compartment is perfect for storing electrical equipment, and there are drop-leaves for extra space requirements.

Further along eating lines is a liquefier-blender which does many types of cooking chores from grinding to pulverizing. It is making its debut on the Christmas market with a new jar top marked with cup measurements.

The blender is tailor-made as a Christmas present for the family. It will be perfect for mother to use for every course of every meal; for dad to blend his special kind of salad dressing; and for the fountain at home for parties and between-meal snacks.

Mother will also welcome a Christmas package of contour sheets. In addition to the popular bottom contour sheets with their four boxed corners that hold the sheets taut and wrinkleproof, you will now be able to buy top contour sheets. With two boxed corners to fit the mattress at the foot of the bed, these top sheets can't pull off your feet. They will provide comfort, convenience and luxury for the entire family.

If yours is a music-loving household, treat them to a new three-speed phonograph. One of the most recent features a special center device that makes switching of record sizes simpler. The phonograph comes with or without a cover, and some models are combined with radios.

Of course, records always make a hit with the family, especially since you can get them for children as well as grown-ups. There are many new and beautiful presentations of Christmas music, too.

Better start eavesdropping on family conversations. It's the most reliable way to find out just what would make your favorite people the happiest at this wonderful holiday season.

Interplanetary Yule Is Due For Kiddies

It'll be a rocketing, space-belated, atom-powered Christmas for a good many Big Spring youngsters, judging from the display of toys in local stores. And Santa probably will have some playthings just like 'em.

Interplanetary travel and atomic warfare equipment seems to be displacing cowboy regalia and the more conventional toys in the realm of things junior's likely to have a yen for. Not that there aren't plenty of gun-and-holster sets, western suits, ropes, fire-trucks, and all the other things Santa can leave.

Santa probably will find a wider range of playthings to choose from this year than ever before, what with the addition of "atomic guns" and "space kits" to the usual line of toys.

The offering of atom-age gear probably is as varied as could be desired, too. Included are atomic ray guns which cast beams you can actually see—when the trigger is pulled. There also are atomic rifles, made especially for space travelers, and rockets that really soar.

One store is displaying a complete Space Academy kit, which includes flying saucers, rockets, spacemen (helmets and all) and a whole city of futuristic looking buildings, rocket and saucerlaunching ramps and other accessories.

Despite the emphasis on the "man from Mars" line of toys, all stores have plenty of the old fashioned playthings, such as dolls, trucks, playhouse-keeping equipment, etc. And some of the established lines boast some new twists this year.

For example, one store shows its first talking doll, which recites its prayers on being tucked into bed. There's also the "doll with the heart 'at" and the "Tonidoll" which likes to have its hair curled.

Then there's the bus station where the agent calls for passengers to climb aboard for nearly a score of stops down the line.

War material seems to be as popular as it ever was, with all types of tanks, trucks, halftracks, bulldozers and guns available.

Plastic seems to have proved its versatility in the toy field, too. Many of the wheeled goods, dishes, dolls, etc. are made of the material. Probably one of the most unique items is the plastic silverware which looks like it is made entirely of sterling.

Rounding out the toy displays are the ever-popular wagons, tricycles, bicycles, scooters, musical instruments, and a host of other items designed to make the youngsters' eyes bug on Christmas morning.

This does not mean that we can use magical powers, the formula is specific and conditioned. This calls for careful study as well as faith. "Commit thy way unto the Lord, trust also in Him, and He shall bring it to pass."

Proposal Overlooks The Crying Need For Trucking Route Now

The latest proposal of the State Highway Department regarding the approaches to Big Spring, namely that of looping around the present areas immediately west of the city, has stirred plenty of reaction. In fact, among some of the heavy investors along the present western route, the reaction has approximated consternation.

As we understand it, the department would establish a traffic circle near the present terminus of Third and Fourth Streets. Beyond that point, the highway would continue westward as a divided thoroughfare, then veer to the southwest and come back into the present route somewhere near the northwest corner of the Air Base. The present road would be continued as a business route.

In connection with the announcement, the department pointed to the ultimate goal of a belt around the city by 1965.

The objective of the proposal is understandable. Besides fitting into a major development program, the aim is to relieve congestion on this busy road. But looping piecemeal would not seem to be the most satisfactory answer. While it undoubtedly would help, the proposal for the west outlet might not solve the situation because of the heavy volume of traffic which would have to cross over (or swing around the circle) to get back to residential areas, the Air Base and tourist courts, etc. Within a decade, the loop would be looped and thus largely outmoded.

This being the case, the Highway Department would have gone to considerable expense to alleviate a situation partially and temporarily by the by-product of financial damage to property owners along the present route.

Off hand, it would seem to us that the more economical solution would be in development of a wide thoroughfare along the present line, with utilization of both Third and Fourth through the city, and the eventual beheading of the city. The department has stated its long range plans and thus has put on notice property owners that investments within the affected area should be predicted on the basis of limited time.

Meanwhile, the urgent and crying need is for an alternate route for heavy trucking around the city. Shall we await a rending collision and fearful fire at some busy downtown intersection before doing something about a thing which is a topic of common conversation?

Government Is Said Determining Factor In Relations With Labor

The theory of collective bargaining is that the employer and representatives of the employees sit down to bargain over wages, hours and other terms of employment until a meeting of the minds is reached. The "employer," in this sense, is the actual management of an enterprise; the "representatives of the workers" are labor union officials usually related to the particular enterprise or local labor union heads.

To many labor leaders, collective bargaining on this basis has been regarded as unsatisfactory because the local labor leaders are considered as capable of dealing with great matters; further, the trend in labor organizations has been, wherever possible, to deal with questions on an industry-wide basis rather than with particular enterprises.

The professionalization of labor union management has progressed since the NRA days, so that the local business manager of the union or a leader who has come up from the ranks is now being replaced or surrounded by men whose business in life is to work in labor unions and who regard such work as a profession. They approach labor problems not from the standpoint of the worker employed in a particular enterprise in a particular locality, but from the standpoint of over-all labor strategy in the effort to obtain a larger share of the economy for the worker.

The NRA was a device to abolish collective bargaining by substituting a government agency as a determining arbiter between a union and a trade association. After the NRA was declared unconstitutional, the policy of the administration was not to revert to collective bargaining but to find another device by which the government would remain as the controlling factor in labor relations. The Wagner Act was passed and the National Labor Relations Board was established.

The government, under this Board, became a strong factor in labor settlements. During the war, the Wage Board and a few other agencies of government assumed final powers in reference to wages, hours and working conditions. Some unions, such as John L. Lewis's United Mine Workers, resisted the government's policy of a Fascistic control over work.

The power of the government to setze plants, exercised 71 times during the Roosevelt and Truman regimes, gave the administration a weapon which eliminated collective bargaining, because precisely how can anyone bargain with the political power of the state?

As a matter of fact, the only industrialist who effectively challenged this power was Sewell Avery of Montgomery Ward and the only labor leader has been John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers. Generally, the administration has had its way in labor matters.

It can be said correctly that the C.I.O. has been a dominant element in the formulation of labor policies in the Truman Administration, but that is because Mr. Truman preferred it that way. The point is that the government is the determining factor in labor relations.

Within the government a number of labor experts have developed as a professional group with great authority and power. The original National Labor Board was a Communist infiltrated body, dominated by men out of the Harold Ware Cell. This is not true of the present NLRB which has settled down to an ordinary bureaucracy. A group of professors in universities have become acknowledged labor experts and are called in by various labor departments.

The Secretary of Labor has been reduced to a nonentity in the government labor set-up. The first Secretary of Labor was William B. Wilson, of the National Union of Miners. He was appointed by Woodrow Wilson. Presidents Harding, Coolidge and Hoover appointed James J. Davis of the Amalgamated Association Iron, Steel and Tin Workers of America Union. Hoover subsequently appointed William N. Doak, Editor of "Railroad Trainmen," and Franklin D. Roosevelt put in that office Frances Perkins, a social worker. It was during Mrs. Perkins' regime that Roosevelt organized various agencies which deprived the Department of its proper functions. Truman's first Secretary was a lame-duck Senator, L. B. Sullivan, who did not serve long; he then appointed a Boston politician with A. F. of L. affiliations, Maurice J. Tobin. The Department has been given to the American Federation of Labor, with the appointment of Martin P. Durkin of the Plumbers and Pipe-fitters.

Sunday Talk: Letter From Walker

A new letter has come from Mr. William S. Whitton. He writes:

"You have spoken about expert walkers, and I am reminded of an Englishman, George Littlewood. He appeared in Madison Square Garden, New York City, about 63 years ago. His first walk there lasted for four days, but then he had to stop because one of his toes cracked. He had walked more than 400 miles.

"They promoted another race a short time afterward, and this time he walked for six days, from midnight Sunday night to midnight the following Saturday night. He walked 623 and five-eighths miles during the 144 hours.

"A few years later I went to England and visited his house in Attlecliff. He was away from home, but I saw his big gold belt, studded with diamonds. It looked very similar to the belt which John L. Sullivan got when he won the prizefight title of the world.

"I think Littlewood's longest walk without a rest was 177 miles. In a race from Manchester to Sheffield he beat a man on horseback, walking about 40 miles.

"I spent 13 years in England, and did a lot of walking to see the country. I was able to walk about six miles an hour. "Forty-six years ago, in Canada, I was on the prairie and was very thirsty, but could not find a place to get a drink. Then I found a shoe, and got down to drink what looked like nice clean water. I spit it out again as quickly as I could. It was alkali and nearly poisoned me! The mountain waters are better because they are melted ice and snow.

"For three years I was on and around the Columbia icefields. In summer there are avalanches, and if you should happen to get under one, you may not get out. They start with a dribble of snow and ice, and sometimes finish with gravel. After the first dribble, there comes a roar which you can hear for miles. Then the noise tapers to silence."

"Thank you, Mr. Whitton, for those interesting notes. I am glad that you escaped the avalanches in the icefields of British Columbia. When you heard one start to "dribble," perhaps you did a bit more running than walking!

Ike Not Only Has Korean Problem, But Also One With Senator Taft

By FRED GREENE

President-elect Dwight Eisenhower saw heavy artillery of the United Nations in action this week during his tour of Korea, but if he thought he'd be free of noise upon his return, the general was sadly mistaken.

He stepped off his big Air Force Constellation this week end and was immediately rocked by the repercussions of Sen. Robert Taft's blasts at his Secretary of Labor-designate, Martin Durkin.

Taft, Ohio Republican and self-anointed Senate leader of his party, had had enough of the Ike appointments. He was fairly cooing with ire when Ike made his "incredible" (Taft's word) selection of Durkin.

Durkin is a Democrat. But that's not all. He's a Truman variety Democrat who voted for Adlai Stevenson. Furthermore, he violently opposed Sen. Taft's pet law, the Taft-Hartley labor law, and is president of an American Federation of Labor union.

Regardless of what Taft believes, it was obvious why the general selected Durkin. His cabinet choices previously included mostly big business men and Protestants. It became clear that a Jew or Catholic was sorely needed, plus a man in no way connected with big business. This is particularly true in the case of the Labor Department where men in some way connected with labor have been ruling the roost.

Taft, however, as author of the labor law bearing his name and as chairman of the powerful Senate Labor Committee, surely felt his recommendations or ideas would be acted upon.

Not only were his two selections ignored, but Taft was not advised of Durkin's impending appointment. Suffice to say, the senator was more than slightly agghast at Ike's action.

There are many things to consider in this Taft-Ike issue. Primarily, Ike should be allowed the traditional courtesy of no opposition by his own party of the Democrats on his cabinet choices. In the past, a presidential choice initially was approved automatically to give the new chief executive a chance to institute his program with men of his own choosing.

Secondly, Taft apparently has the impression that Ike's choices must in some way coincide with his selections. In other words, Taft, by submission of his own favorites for the cabinet leaves the impression that he's going to run the show from the Presidential seat.

Ike is far too strong a man to let this happen and presumably Ike figured that the sooner he put Taft in his place, the better. While Taft could conceivably stymie Ike's program, it would be better to take a chance that partisan politics would not replace sensible legislation and thus escape the criticisms of the campaign that Ike would be a captive (of Taft) candidate.

In any event, it would be highly advisable for Taft to note that Ike is President, not the lonely Ohio senator.

Taft appears to be setting himself up as the Republican chieftain without prior approval.

Leaving aside the question of how secret was the secret trip to Korea by Gen. Eisenhower, the fact remains he has gone, seen and returned.

Like Ike says, "We have no panacea, no trick ways of settling any problem."

Much can and will be done, the general remarked, to improve our position there.

Ike conferred with general and soldiers, as well as troops from all 7 of the United Nations with combat forces in the Korean zone. He had a solemn, though certainly enjoyable on occasion reunion with two old West Point classmates, Generals Mark Clark and James Van Fleet.

The trip was without incident all the way. He jeoped about and when he couldn't drive, he mounted hopped by light plane.

A major, immediate effect of the Eisenhower jaunt was the tremendous boost in morale for cold, wind-blown troops in the high mountain areas. To see the President of the United States jogging about dressed in a fur-hooded Air Force parka, field boots and wool olive drab trousers has a stimulating effect.

More than this, however, was that fact that the Ike trip was conclusive proof to fighting men that they were not forgotten.

OTHER NEWS IN THE SPOTLIGHT: Harry Truman had some more trouble this week. He over-rode his top controls officials on the Wage Stabilization Board and granted a full $1.90 daily wage boost to coal miners. This made several people angry and the initial impact was the resignation of Archibald Cox, top man on the board. Truman immediately appointed Charles C. Killingsworth to the post. More resignations were expected.

Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, fired nine American employees Friday for refusing to answer McCarran Committee questions about Communist affiliations and subversive connections. This brings to 18 the number dismissed for this reason.

Walter Reuther was appointed president of the CIO, replacing the late Phil Murray. Reuther's selection, however, was not without a stiff fight from now re-elected Vice President Allan Haywood.

Mrs. Harry Truman's mother, Mrs. David Wallace, died Friday at the age of 90. Death was said to be from infirmities of old age.

Adlai Stevenson and Harry Truman met to discuss Democratic party fortunes. They seek a victory in 1954, but not at the expense of disrupting the nation's progress.

Sinclair Weeks, Republican financial chairman, was named to head the Commerce Department. Winthrop Aldrich, banker, is the new ambassador to Great Britain, while Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge will head the American delegation to the United Nations, replacing fellow Republican Warren Austin.

The UN General Assembly overwhelmingly approved the Indian prisoner proposal as a means of settling the Korean War. Russia and Red China vehemently objected, of course, and this brands them as aggressors, according to most UN sources.

Rudolph Slansky and 10 other ex-Czechoslovakian Reds were hanged after their convictions by a Prague court of treason.

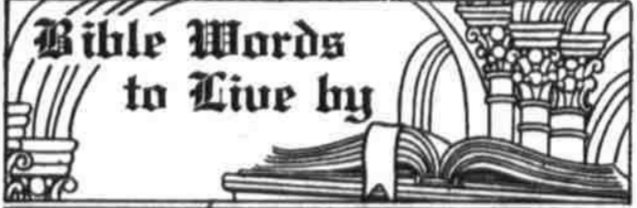

Secretary of State-designate John Foster Dulles conferred with the man he will replace, Dean Acheson, in an attempt to smooth the change-over.

Bacus Due To Attend Capitol VA Meeting

Hays Bacus, personnel officer at the Big Spring VA Hospital, will leave Monday for Washington, D. C., where he will participate in a conference on personnel administration.

All personnel officers of VA institutions in the South and Southwest will attend the conference, called by the VA Central Office.

Bacus is to return next Saturday.

My favorite Bible verse is the first part of the Twenty-Third Psalm:

"The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want."

It has been my favorite because of its strong declaration of God's existence, "The Lord is," bringing to mind the personal relationship between the Lord and my life. "The Lord is my shepherd" — the Psalm suggests the things for which one shall not want. One shall not seek for rest — mentally, emotionally, spiritually or physically, without finding it, for when we are tired He will lead us beside still waters and amid the green pastures. One shall not want for forgiveness, "For He restoreth my soul," nor can there be a want for guidance, "For He will lead me in paths of righteousness." And, too, one should never lack the ability to turn tragedy to triumph, "For when I walk through the valley of the shadow of death Thou art with me." Nor shall one want for an eternal abiding home, "For I shall abide in the house of the Lord forever."

This is my favorite verse because it has everything in it. It is all mine if I have the Shepherd, and none of mine without Him.

About Santa Claus, As Well As Several Other Important Issues

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Dear Mr. Editor:

I am a little girl eight years old. Some of my friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says I might write a letter to the newspaper to find out, but says that just as sure as I do, I will get in reply some sort of dismal effort to copy that piece on Santa Claus that an editor named Church wrote many years ago. Papa says that the Church article has been printed enough that I ought to be convinced about Santa Claus because editors a long time back were closer to the situation than they are today. Papa says that as long as I am going to write the editor, I might as well ask a bunch of other questions, too, and try to get some things settled once and for all. Tell me the answers to these questions.

Yours sincerely,
Virginia O'Scallion

Dear Virginia:

Your confidence in the newspapers gives us a feeling of great warmth, and we would like nothing better than to give you our own version of Editor Church's essay on Santa Claus. However, we are prompted to raise an eyebrow in the direction of your Papa, who seems to us to be a practical sort of man who expects his reading to be completely to the point. As for Santa Claus, Virginia, we thus refer you to Editor Church. But certainly, in deference to the loyalty of a young reader, we will attempt the answers to your other questions—or did your Papa make them up?

We note that you ask; among other things:

"Can a leopard change its spots?" This is debatable, Virginia. But we saw an ad in a flossy Christmas folder the other day, proclaiming the attractions of no less an item than a leopard-skin cummerbund, with leopard skin suspenders to match. It is our thought that if any self-respecting leopard saw one of these get-ups with his own eyes, he not only would change his spots, but would skin himself alive and throw his skin in the nearest swamp, just to keep this sort of thing from going any further. Leopard cummerbunds, indeed!

Another of your questions seems to be: "Can one judge a book by its cover?"

Let us look into the documentary record on this one. In April, 1967 one Professor Phineas T. Phogbottom undertook an experiment on this very issue. He retired to his own abundant library and spent many weeks going through the various volumes, taking careful notes in comparing the cover with the contents. He finally reached the conclusion, duly reported in his thesis, that one can't, truly, judge a book by its cover. It was later determined, however, that in the week before the Professor started his research, his six-year-old son had gotten into the library alone, ripped loose the backs from scores of volumes, and that an illiterate maid, in trying to clean up the mess, jammed sheets back into bindings indiscriminately, so the merit of Professor Phogbottom's findings is open to some question. This leaves us about where we were, doesn't it?

Your other question—and surely this must have been inspired by your Papa, is "Is it true that them as has, gits?"

Ah, Virginia, we must say yep. So, if you have Santa Claus in your heart all along, you will have him again this year. See?

Washington Calling—Marquis Childs

Behind Taft's Outburst Is His Double Vision Of Gov. Dewey

By THOMAS L. STOKES

(for Marguis Childs)

WASHINGTON.—It is entirely up to Senator Taft whether his attack on President-elect Eisenhower's choice of Martin Durkin for secretary of labor is the beginning of open warfare on the new administration or whether he is to let it drop as merely a sort of warning skirmish at what would become "some forgotten barricade."

This second course — ineffect, to fight and run away and fight again some other day — seems more likely. That is, unless the senator has burned out his foresight by the heat of his personal feelings.

For the Durkin case is a weak one for him, all circumstances considered. All the cards are in the new President's hands. The senator would play right into that hand if he sought, at the very outset of the new administration, to defeat a cabinet appointment.

On his side, General Eisenhower has the hallowed principle that a new President is entitled to pick his own cabinet. Those who will share the responsibility of government with him and to have its members confirmed by the Senate automatically, which is the invariable rule.

Beyond that, General Eisenhower's purposes in the Durkin selection would rally large public support behind him in a contest over confirmation if Senator Taft should decide to go to that length. In the Durkin designation, the President-elect brought union labor representation into a cabinet otherwise heavily weighted for business and industry, and also recognized Democrats who voted for him as well as Catholics.

It can be forecast with no risk that General Eisenhower would win in such a contest. That would deal a blow at Senator Taft's prestige at the very beginning of the new administration and certainly diminish the influence he has expected to wield, and which he could wield.

If he challenged the new administration on the Durkin appointment and lost, which would be the inevitable result, that would foredoom his chance to be Republican senator leader in title, if he still also harbors that ambition.

The new President, once openly challenged by Senator Taft, could do nothing else than bring all the power and prestige of his office to bear against the recalcitrant, else he, himself, would suffer forever after. The general may consider the senator's attack on the Durkin appointment enough reason to try to circumvent his election as Senate party leader. For that we must await developments.

A veritable phenomenon in this preliminary period to a new administration has been the way Senator Taft has set himself up to pass judgment on cabinet appointment, which is something new. That usually has been considered the inviolate personal and individual prerogative of a President-elect, and no President before has had that prerogative ratified by so great a body of voters.

General Eisenhower would be less than human if he has not been somewhat nettled already by Senator Taft's presumption.

He might be in a receptive mood for a knock-down-and-drag-out fight at the very start, if pressed further. Cautious advisors naturally would counsel against that, if it possibly could be avoided without loss of face, because a President has to live with Congress day after day, week after week month after month, year after year, or rather exist as best he can. And Senator Taft holds some very good cards there in the long-range game.

The Taft outburst, typical as it was of a bit premature in the particular circumstances, only confirmed the belief held since the Chicago convention by veteran observers of politics here that the Eisenhower-Taft story is likely to become one of the great human, personal stories in our politics. Senator Taft can hardly be other than Senator Taft, and that, itself, is sufficient guarantee of interesting days ahead.

It is really as much the Taft-Dewey story, at least in the background motivation for much that already has happened. For what irks the Senator above all is the influence in the new administration of Governor Thomas E. Dewey, who twice defeated him for the nomination — in 1944 and 1948. That was plain in the senator's statement on the Durkin choice in which he singled out Herbert Brownell for blame. Mr. Brownell, who is attorney general-designate in the Eisenhower administration, was Governor Dewey's man Friday in both the 1944 and 1948 conventions and was also most effective on Governor Dewey's behalf in putting over the Eisenhower nomination.

General Eisenhower and his advisors recognized the Taft antipathy toward Tom Dewey in making up the cabinet slate, insofar as they omitted the New York governor, himself. They kept him off, though it was generally recognized how great an asset he would have been in the cabinet because of his recognized abilities as administrator, as political craftsman, and as a political advisor.

But Senator Taft has double vision about Tom Dewey, seeing him everywhere, even though not present hereabouts in the flesh.

Farm Wildlife Is In Need Of Feed

COLDWATER, O. — The farm equipment division of the Avco Manufacturing Co. has been asking its customers to "cut corners" because its farm machinery makes it tough for wildlife to exist.

A company mailing piece says that the modern corn picker which scarcely misses an ear or kernel, leaves slim pickings for birds and animals. The company suggests that farmers cut diagonally across the back corner of each field when harvesting to leave a natural shelter and a little store of feed for wildlife.

Two Is Plenty

Gene Kelly interrupts a telephone conversation of Pier Angeli in the above scene from MGM's "The Devil Makes Three." The movie will show at the State Theatre today and Monday, and it concerns the revival of Nazism in post-war Germany. Kelly plays the part of an Army captain who is stationed in the occupied zone. Miss Angeli has the role of a German B-girl who is forced into her occupation by circumstances.

The Captain Speaks

Lloyd Bridges and Spencer Tracy are shown above as they encounter trouble aboard the Mayflower in a scene from MGM's "Plymouth Adventure." Tracy plays the part of the ship's captain in the movie, which will show at the Ritz Theatre today and Monday. Also starred are Gene Tierney, Van Johnson, Barry Jones, Leo Genn, and Dawn Addams. The movie concerns the voyage of America's first settlers across the Atlantic.

Dissension On 'Mayflower' Is Theme Of Movie At Ritz

Dissension among the passengers of the Mayflower on its historic voyage to America in 1620 is the theme of the movie, "Plymouth Adventure," which will show at the Ritz Theatre today and Monday. Top roles in the M-G-M production are held by Spencer Tracy, Van Johnson, Leo Genn, Gene Tierney, Barry Jones and Dawn Addams. All the famous names of the voyage are included in the movie. Van Johnson is cast as John Alden, and Miss Addams has the role of Pricilla Mullins. Tracy plays the Mayflower captain, Christopher Jones. Miss Tierney has the part of Dorothy Bradford, and Leo Genn plays William Bradford, a religious zealot. Although the movie is not meant to deal with the historic elements of the voyage, all the famous acts—including the signing of the Mayflower Compact—are included. Actually the drama deals with discord and dissension among the 135 passengers on the voyage. Several storm scenes are shown, and the hardships of the voyagers are clearly pictured. Two love affairs run throughout the movie. Tracy and Miss Tierney are attracted to each other despite the fact that Miss Tierney plays a married woman. An uncomplicated relationship springs up between Van Johnson and Miss Addams, and it is understood that Johnson plays a John who speaks for himself. The story begins with the Mayflower's departure from Plymouth, England, and it ends on a happy colony at Cape Cod known as New Plymouth. The voyage covers a period of 96 days. Tracy is shown as a hard-bitten captain who has no love for his "human" cargo at the beginning of the voyage. The struggles faced and courage displayed by the passengers changes his mind, however. Johnson plays a carpenter who saves the ship during one of the bad storms. Religious dissenters, farmers, tradesmen, bondsmen and fugitives are all among the passengers of the ship.

Martin, Lewis Again Star In 'Sailor Beware'

Another dose of Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis will be administered at the Terrace theatre Sunday and Monday with the presentation of "Sailor Beware." In addition to the comedy team, other stars include Corinne Calvet, Marion Marshall, Robert Strauss, Leli Erickson, and Don Wilson. Jerry plays his usual muddled-headed self in the movie, and Dean has his standard roving-eyed disposition — this time as a sea wolf. The two comics have a number of chances to "down the Navy" in the movie. Action starts upon enlistment and is carried through their assignment to a submarine and journey to Hawaii. This time Jerry has a girl — played by Miss Marshall. His fumbling attempts to woo the pretty WAVE furnish many of the show's laughs. Other humorous spots come when Jerry becomes kisser-in-chief for a TV contest and his masquerade as a hula dancer in Hawaii. The Martin-and-Lewis night club routines are also included in "Sailor Beware," and are made even more interesting by Miss Calvet.

Murder Mystery Is Due At The State

An edge-of-the-seat murder mystery will be shown at the State Theatre Friday and Saturday. It is "The Hour of 13," starring Peter Lawford and Dawn Addams. An M-G-M production, the movie was filmed in its entirety in London. It is the story of a maniacal murderer of policemen. Lawford plays the part of a gentleman crook—a jewel thief. He falls in love with Miss Addams, who is the daughter of the commissioner of Scotland Yard. On one of his thieving escapades, he leaves a clue behind which points to him as the maniacal murderer, known as the Terror. The only way he can clear himself is to find the real murderer. After a gun battle taking place on a moving elevator he finally gets his man. Michael Hordern plays the police commissioner, and the murderer is not revealed until the latter part of the show.

Cities which are occupied by almost half the population of the United States contain only half of 1 per cent of the nation's land.

Calm Discussion

Robert Mitchum and Ann Blyth are shown above in a quiet moment before a battle scene in the picture, "One Minute To Zero." The movie plays at the Jet Drive-In Theatre today and Monday. It is about an Army big-wig's service in Korea and the decisions he must make to keep from having his men killed on the field of battle. Mitchum plays an Army colonel, and Miss Blyth is shown as a United Nations field worker.

Tale Of Marriage

Judy Holliday curbs her impetuous husband, Aldo Ray, in this scene from Columbia's "The Marrying Kind," which shows at the Ritz Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday. The two combine to make a top-notch comedy team in the movie. Miss Holliday plays a New York secretary who meets and marries Ray, a New York postal worker. From "I Do," the two head directly to "Drop Dead," but they finally patch up their differences. The picture is loaded with comical digs and quips.

STORY OF JIM BOWIE

Ladd, Mayo Star In Film On Knife

The story of the bowie knife will be screened at the Ritz Theatre Thursday through Saturday in the production "The Iron Mistress." Alan Ladd and Virginia Mayo play the lead roles in the movie. Ladd will be seen as Jim Bowie, the inventor of the knife. Miss Mayo plays an unscrupulous society beauty.

As the fights become more sure, he develops a weapon of his own—the Bowie knife. He calls the knife his "Iron Mistress." Appearing in the movie are Joseph Calleia, Phyllis Kirk, Al Kjelien, Douglas Dick and Ne Young. It is a Warner Brothers production.

Time of the story is the early 1800's. It deals almost entirely with Bowie's life, opening when he first comes from the bayou country of Louisiana to New Orleans.

At New Orleans he meets and falls in love with a Creole Belle—Miss Mayo. The backwoods lad is soon turned into a polished gentleman who fights with knife and fist to compete with the town's cutthroats.

Cattle Barons Fight

"Untamed Frontier," starring Joseph Cotten, Shelley Winters and Scott Brady, will play at the Terrace Theatre Thursday and Friday nights.

Ann Sheridan, John Lund Star In Comedy

"Just Across The Street," which shows at the Terrace Drive-In Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday nights, is loaded with laughs; plenty as the boss and his secretary get together.

The boss — plumber — is John Lund. Ann Sheridan is the secretary. The movie is a comedy buff around an up-and-coming young business man.

Miss Sheridan has to pose as a rich man's daughter in order to hold her job as secretary. Also in the production is Robert Keith, Natalie Schafer, Cecil Kellaway, and Alan Mowbray.

West Germany Is Site Of Film About Neo-Nazis

Nazi resurrection in post-war Germany is the theme of the movie to be shown at the State theatre today and Monday. It is "The Devil Makes Three," starring Gene Kelly and Pier Angeli. The story concerns an American captain who returns to Munich after the war to seek a German family who aided him in escaping from the Nazis. The captain — Kelly — becomes the central figure in an investigation to find the leader of a Nazi resurrection movement. He is seen in a straight drama role in the movie, minus his dancing shoes. Miss Angeli, foreign actress who has received quite a lot of publicity in the last year, plays a Munich B-girl whose name is Willie. Kelly and Miss Angeli fall in love. Since Miss Angeli is a connection with the underground ring, the U. S. Criminal Investigation Division uses Kelly as a connection through which to investigate. Action is centered in cheap cafes of Munich, on Hitler's famous Autobahn, and Berchtesgaden. The movie was filmed in the actual locations. Richard Rober plays Colonel Terry, head of the CID.

Mexican Troubles Of Tourist Filmed

"One Big Affair," which shows at the State Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday, concerns the romantic adventures of a school teacher-tourist. The school teacher is Evelyn Keyes, and she is touring in Mexico City and Acapulco. Dennis O'Keefe, playing the part of a divorce lawyer, has the masculine lead. Also starred in the production are Mary Anderson and Connie Gilchrist. "One Big Affair" was produced by United Artists.

by L. C. C. C.

"It says here that children are what parents make them, Otis ... do you suppose WE'RE going through a phase?..."

"I am wishing to denounce comrade boss for giving me day off to get married..."

"Your HO-HO-HO sounds a bit hollow ... I take it you have children of your own..."

"...Don't know how long my shins will hold up, Max... kids think I'm standing on stilts!..."

WE MUST BE DOING 18 KNOTS! ISN'T THAT PRETTY FAST IN THIS FOG, STEVENSON?

SURE, IT'S FAST, MR. PICKETT, BUT YOU WANT FAST SERVICE! DON'T WORRY—BY BOUNCING OUR WHISTLE OFF THE SOUNDING BOARDS THAT LINE THE RIVER BANK, WE KNOW JUST WHERE WE ARE!

BUT THE APACHE'S WHISTLE SERVES ANOTHER PURPOSE! TO THE SLEEK DELTA QUEEN, LAYING IN WAITING IN A TRIBUTARY OFF THE MAIN CHANNEL, IT IS A SIGNAL!

THE MARROTH PADDLE WHEELS BEGIN CHURNING THE WATER TO FOAM... THE QUEEN MOVES AHEAD, TAKING UP THE SLACK IN THE HUGE ANCHOR CHAIN AND TRAILS BEHIND...

...AND A GROTESQUE MONSTER RISES FROM THE SHALLOW DEPTHS OF THE CHANNEL!

THE APACHE HELMSMAN SEES, TOO LATE!

TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

THE TWO ANTAGONISTS FOUGHT SAVAGELY, BUT FINALLY THE BEAST FAILED TO COVER--AND TARZAN CAUGHT HIM IN A PARALYZING, BONE-CRUSHING GRIP!

THE JUNGLE LORD PAUSED BY THE QUIVERING CAR-CASS AND UTTERED ONE LOUD BELLOW OF VICTORY--

THEN, BEFORE THE APES CAME TO THEIR SENSES, HE SPED TO THE ASTONISHED ACTRESS!

TARZAN SCALED THE WALL WITH IRENE, BUT A BACKWARD GLANCE CAUSED HIM ALARM--
